4	149	153	147	00
	955	992	952	00

Democratic.

Wards	Magraw	Sanborn	Dudley	Scat
1	532	525	525	00
2	511	503	502	00
3	336	232	232	00
4	263	260	261	00
	1642	1520	1520	00

CITY OFFICERS.

Ward One.

Republican		Democratic
MODERATOR.
Charles W Shannon	318	John S Whidden	518
CLERK.
James A N Rugg	319	Joseph F Sullivan	520
SELECTMEN.
John E Milligan	318	Charlie M Newton	527
Thomas E Martin	319	William Morrissey	519
Albert M Pray	319	Charles A Garland	525
INSPECTORS OF CHECKLISTS.
Clem M Watermouse	316	James Quinn	517
Washington Stott	317	Wm E Littlefield	559

Ward Two.

MODERATOR.
Chas E Batchelder	000	Richard T Call	000
CLERK.
Sam'l H Kingsbury	000	Walter H Page	000
SELECTMEN.
Wm G Billings	000	John Furber	000
Lewis G Davis	000	Orwin Griffin	000
Alfred Staves	000	Benj Russell	000
INSPECTORS OF CHECKLISTS.
Daniel L Randall	000	Charles H Downs	000
Henry O Batten	000	Timothy Kelly	000

Ward Three.

MODERATOR.
Frank P Rand	88	Ira G Eastman	232
CLERK.
George P Webber	89	Daniel D Waldron	231
SELECTMEN.
Ira Brown	87	James G Locke	233
Benj O Ham	87	Frank G Sherburne	233
Edward A Clough	88	John Jones	233
INSPECTOR OF CHECKLISTS.
Ceylon Spinney	88	Daniel J Ayers	232

Ward Four.

MODERATOR.
Andrew M Gardner	149	Horace W Gray	264
CLERK.
Caleb N Lord	149	Charles H Senter	266
SELECTMEN.
Joshua Stackpole	149	Willard M Gray	264
Simon H Jenness	149	Herman A Brackett	264
John W Davis	149	Albert E Grover	263
INSPECTOR OF CHECKLISTS.
Oliver H Locke	149	George Adams	263

Telegraphic Notes.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

DEMOINES, IOWA, Nov. 7th.—The following are elected congressmen: Second district, Walter L. Hayes, Dem. by about 8000 plurality, third district, David B. Henderson, Dem., 1600, fourth dist. J. K. Sweeney rep. 900, Fifth district Daniel Karr rept. 1100. seventh district D. B. Conger, rep. 2300, ninth district, J. R. Reed rep. 2500, tenth dist. J. P. Dollinger rep. 4800, eleventh dist. J. L. Struble rep.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—256 precincts in Chicago, out of 341, give Harrison 41,- cratic governor, 48,049. In 1884 the city complete gave Blaine 51,420, Cleveland 48,530.

ROCKFORD, ILL.—Hitt, republican, has been re-elected to Congress.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 6.—Only a few townships are reported. They show democratic gains over 1884, when Cleveland carried the state by 6500.

WHEELING, W. VA. Nov. 6th.—Berkely county gives an entire republican ticket majority of 100 gain of 177 over 1874. Grafton gives a republican majority of 250. Gain over 1884 of about 100.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 6th.—123 townships in Minnesota give for governor Wilson, dem., 1899, Morrison, rep., 1927. For Cleveland 2269, Harrison 3377.

OMAHA, NEB., Nov. 6th.—Twenty-three precincts give Harrison 2309, Cleveland 1643, Fisk 205; same in 1884 Blaine 2181, Cleveland 1328.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 7th.—Rhode Island gives Harrison over 4000 majority. Close computation of the votes is as follows:

Harrison, 21,968,
Cleveland 17, 496,
Fisk 1276.

The vote of Providence: Harrison 6988, Cleveland 6495, Fisk 489.

The Congressional delegation is re-elected as follows: First District Henry J. Spooner, rep., by a majority of 1386; second Dist. Warren L. Arnold, rep., majority 2310.

Rye.—Dem. 170, rep. 99; dem. maj. 71, a rep gain of 27. For sheriff, Coffin, dem. ran 10 ahead of his ticket; Magraw, for county commissioner, 1; Charles H. Rand, representative; Charles J. Brown, delegate to constitutional convention. The prohibition ticket had two straight votes.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 6th.—The pay of the principal keeper at Isles of Shoals light house has been decreased from $820 to $760. The pay of the assistant keeper at that station has been raised from $420 to $480. This was done on the recommendation of a commission consisting of a member of the Light House Board and two Light House Inspectors (officers of the navy) appointed to equalize and harmonize the pay of the light house keepers throughout the country, and on which the pay of most light keepers on the Atlantic coast is slightly changed.

Foreign.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LONDON, Nov. 6th.—Birmingham Post announces that Chamberlaim is en route to America, and will marry Miss Endicott a few days after his arrival; he will then pass a few weeks visiting friends in America, and will return to England about Christmas.

KITTERY, ME., Nov. 6th.

The pleasant weather the past week has aided the farmers very much in harvesting the remnant of their ungathered crops. It is said that the apple crop this year is the largest ever raised in this section, and the fruit is of unusually good quality.

Messr. Charles Langton of west Kittery and Charles Whitton of Wolfeboro, N. H., leave for Canada this week to buy cattle and lambs for the local market.

Jethro H. Sweet has moved into his new store—or the old one, which has been fixed up as good as new since the fire some months ago. Things look neat and tasteful.

Charles Scriggins, formerly of Kittery but for the last twenty-five years a resident of Covington, Ky., died Oct. 25th, after a long sickness, aged about forty-four years. He was a son of the late John Scriggins of North Kittery, and left here at the commencement of the war as a member of Co G, 27th Maine volunteers, and did not return until about two years ago, when he made a short visit here among relatives and friends. The deceased was a man of pleasant temperament, and generally liked by all; he leaves a wife and four daughters.

The Good Templars of North Kittery are arranging for a harvest supper in the near future.

Miss Lizzie Gerry of the Point starts next week for Manchester, Conn., to pass a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. William F. Bartlett.

Stephen Muchemore is this week moving into the Keen house, opposite Kittery depot. This makes it much more convenient for him, as he will be employed with Mr. John P. Sweetser in Portsmouth during the winter.

At a regular meeting of Morrill Lodge, No. 165, I. O. G. T., of Spruce creek, North Kittery, held Friday evening, the following officers were installed by Lodge Deputy John J. Lambert:

C. T., Gowen W. Brooks;
V. T., Lizzie Caban;
R. S., Mary E. Gerry;
F. S., Lizzie Thomas;
Treas., Samuel Caban;
Chap., Margery Fernald;
Mar., Scot Deninburg;
I. G., Lizzie Manson;
O. G., Wallace Manson.

Mr. John Rogers is having all the business he can attend to at his cider mill; he has ground up over 800 bushels of apples, and has many more to grind.

The Wentworth Cadets, an auxiliary to the Ladies' Republican Club, and composed of the young lads of the village, dressed in a handsome uniform, went to the Point on Saturday evening and had a supper at Thomas Billings'; there are about forty of them in the company, and they have a drum corps; they look very fine when marching.

Mr. James Philbrick, who is at work in Franklin Falls, N. H., arrived home on Monday to vote for Harrison and Morton and protection. SUE ROSA.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Sold only in cans, full weight.

CLEVELAND BROTHERS, ALBANY, N. Y.

GOLD MEDAL, PARIS, 1878.

BAKER'S Breakfast Cocoa.

Warranted absolutely pure Cocoa, from which the excess of Oil has been removed. It has three times the strength of Cocoa mixed with Starch, Arrowroot or Sugar, and is therefore for more economical, costing less than one cent a cup. It is delicious, nourishing, strengthening, easily digested, and admirably adapted for invalids as well as for persons in health.

Sold by Grocers everywhere.

W. BAKER & CO., Dorchester, Mass.

Our latest great bargain, Gentleman's Scarlet Shirts and Drawers at seventy-four cents. They are regular $1.00 quality. LEWIS E. STAPLES, 7 Market St.

"Marching Through Georgia" was one of the tunes which saluted the captain of one of the democratic marching clubs on Monday evening; he knew about marching through Georgia — having been chased out of the state at the head of his company during "the unpleasantness" of 1861—'65.

The engagement is announced of Mr. E. C. Nickerson of this city to Miss Edith M. Tapley of Metheun, Mass.

The fishing schooner Goldsmith Maid, Capt. Aleck Hines commanding, returning from the Middle banks with 30,000 lbs of fresh fish, was run down and sunk in Boston harbor on the night of the 5th inst. by the steamer Glaucus. Two of the schooner's men, who were asleep below, were drowned; the others escaped in their own boat.

A counterfeit silver certificate has recently been detected. The workmanship is very good, but the paper is of much coarser fibre than the genuine bills, and a slip of the engraving tool through the cut of President Grant is particularly noticeable.

Twenty privates of the United States Marine Corps, with two musicians, two corporals and two sergeants, were on Monday sent from the marine barracks at the navy yard to the U. S. S. Kearsarge, as the marine guard of that ship under command of First Lieut. Littleton W. T. Waller.

Mr. Harry W. Gardner, late mate of the brick schooner Chilion, came home on the 6th inst to vote, and will not rejoin the vessel this season. We are sorry to say that he voted the straight democratic ticket; so active and "square" going a man and so good a seaman should be a republican. Mr. Gardner is open for an engagement in this city during the winter.

The burglars who have been operating throughout York county, having favored Biddeford, Saco, Eliot, Springvale, Biddeford Pool and other places with their presence, visited Old Orchard on Saturday morning of last week, and burglarized the railroad station there. They particularly affect railroad stations for their operations. On this occasion they drilled three holes through the safe, filled it with powder, blew the safe and the office to pieces, and after stealing about $500 in money and stamps, retired. When leaving the building they were seen by J. I. Mackey, who lives opposite the post office, and was awakened by the exptosion, but though he fired several shots from a revolver at them, they declined to stop.

Charles Prince, a Saco butcher, has a novel way of feeding his horse mornings, in order to save half an hour's sleep. He has an alarm clock set beside the grain box in the stable, and at half-past three o'clock every morning when the alarm goes off its action unfastens a drop, and the required amount of grain falls into the horse's feed box.

Walter O. Shute of Newmarket, one of the Shute brothers who have for many years owned an island, and during that portion of the year when the river and bay are open occupy a well built and neat looking house thereon, one day recently killed eighteen black ducks at a single shot on Great bay. This was the largest number of ducks ever killed at one shot on the bay, so far as the record goes, although Mr. Shute once killed twenty teal at one shot on the bay, some years ago. The Shute brothers have for a long time been noted as the most successful gunners in this region, and the spelling of the name might very properly be changed a little.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER Co. 106 Wall Street, New York.

Situation Wanted.

A YOUNG MAN from the country, of good habits, would like to secure employment in a private family, or with a business firm. Enquire at this office.

To Let.

THE middle Tenement, No. 23, in the Kenney Block on Pleasant Street. Apply to J. P. HART.

NOTICE.

IF you want PURE CIDER VINEGAR of the best quality, we are headquarters for the same. J. R. YEATON & CO. 55 Congress street.

BABY CARRIAGE FOR SALE.

A BABY CARRIAGE of modern patter straw, hood top, in perfect order, for sale Inquire at this office

Dwelling House for Sale.

THE residence of the late Mrs. Daniel Libbey, No. 126 State Street, can be purchased on application to JOHN SISE, JOSEPH SISE, } Executors

WASHING AND IRONING

DONE TO ORDER; clothes called for and delivered, when desired. House Cleaning attended to. Also a few Boarders can be accommodated, at No. 4 Hancock Street. MRS. KENISTON.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

The three-story (above the grade floor)

BRICK STORE BUILDING

NO. 16 BOW STREET,

Running back over the wharf to the river, occupied for a long time by the late Charles Robinson as a wholesale corn and flour store. Sold to close up an estate. Enquire of J. P. MORSE, Real Estate Broker.

MUSIC HALL, PORTSMOUTH.

JOHN O. AYERS.....MANAGER.

ONE WEEK, COMMENCING

Monday, Nov. 12th.

Popular Family Matinees Wednesday, Friday and Saturday at 2:30 P. M.

EQUESCURRICULUM!

Beautifully Trained

30 HORSES, PONIES & MULES. 30

Under the Management of JNO. C. PATRICK.

The Only School of Educated Horses in the World.

The Equine Wonders of the 19th Century.

The Fun Provoking Mule, DENVER | The Mathematical Wonder, MATTIE

A Superb Mounted Military Band and Complete Orchestra.

OUR PRICES, 25, 35 AND 50 CENTS.

Sale of Seats opens at Goodrich's Book Store, Thursday Morning, Nov. 8th.

NOTICE.—Children under 12 years of age can secure a Reserved Seat at the Matinee for 25c.

ED. H. NEIL, Gen. Agt. E. S. DAVIDSON. Adv. Agt.

JOHN H. BROUHTON,

No. 69 Daniel St., Portsmouth, N. H.

— DEALER IN —

EASTERN AND WESTERN

LUMBER!

Shingles, Clapboards and Laths.

— ALSO —

Best Newark Hydraulic Cement, Best Extra and No. 1 Lime

FOR SALE AT LOWEST PRICES.

FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

RED FIRE!

QUALITY GUARANTEED.

ANDREW P. PRESTON,

Apothecary, - Portsmouth, N. H.

A PERFECT BLEND

MOCHA AND JAVA COFFEE

FULL WEIGHT, 2 POUND CANS, PRICE 70 CENTS.

CHARLES E. LAICHTON & SON,

Exchange Building, Opp. Post-Office.

FALL AND WINTER OF 1888-89.

Our Assortment of Tailoring Goods is superior in many respects to any of previous years, embracing a Full Line of Goods suitable for

Fall and Winter Overcoatings.

Aslo, a Fine Assortment of the Best

IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC GOODS FOR SUITINGS,

Consisting of Stripes, Checks, Plain and Fancy Woollens and Worsteds in Great Variety.

CHECKS AND STRIPES FOR TROWSERS.

FANCY PATTERNS FOR VESTING.

Prices Reasonable for Fine Work.

WM. P. WALKER, - - MERCHANT TAILOR,

NO. 8 MARKET SQUARE.

THE BEST BONDS ARE POLICIES

— IN THE —

Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York

THE LARGEST, CHEAPEST AND BEST IN THE WORLD.

Assets - - over $120,000,000.

RICHARD A. MCCURDY, - PRESIDENT.

PROTECTION FOR THE AGED!

At Age of 75 $1000 will purchase an Annuity of $159.06, and other ages in proportion.

Those Desiring Reliable Insurance Should Apply to the Undersigned,

C. M. GIGNOUX, - - GENERAL AGENT,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

ILSLEY & MOORE,

Fire Life and Accident Insurance Agents and Brokers No. 3 Pleasant St., Portsmouth N. H.

NOTICE:—The undersigned gives notice to all whom it may concern, that he has purchased from the senior member of the old firm of MORSE & ILSLEY, all rights to the Fire Insurance Business heretofore carried on by that firm, and is duly authorized by all the Companies represented by them to have and hold all their records. WINGATE N. ILSLEY.

Facilities for placing the largest lines of Fire Insurance in the best Companies.

Agents for the Equitable Life Ins. Society of the U. S. New England Mutual Life Ins. Co. of Boston, Mass., and the Fidelity & Casualty Ins Co., of New York. sept

Look in at Conn's

— AND SEE THE —

BUTTER!

From the very best Dairies in Vermont and New York. Creameries are of no account compared with these Dairies. Also,

Cheese Pork, Lard, Hams, Beans Etc.

No Oleo or Second-Hand Stuff kept.

☞ The very best quality of LARD bought by the car-load, which I am selling less than the Boston prices.

THE OLDEST AND ONLY Republican Morning Paper IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

IF YOU WANT TO BUY OR SELL ANYTHING ADVERTISE IN THE Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 24, 1862.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., THURSDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 8, 1888.

$5 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE. TWO CENTS PER COPY.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

THURSDAY, NOV. 8, 1888.

The News!

ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES.

WE GIVE THE FIGURES!

New York 11,121.

Massachusetts 27,593.

Nebraska 35,000.

Indiana 4,000 to 6,000.

New Hampshire 2250.

Connecticut Goes Democratic by 350.

California Probably Democratic.

NEW YORK.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The following County returns are furnished by Associated Press: Green county gives Cleveland plurality of 42, Miller plurality of 72; Tioga county gives Harrison 4853, Cleveland 3615, Miller 4834, Hill 3620; Essex county (except Newcomb,) gives Cleveland 2949, Harrison 5071, Fisk 68, Hill 2658, Miller 4917, Jones 77; Genesee county gives Harrison plurality of 1318, Miller 1146; Washingtsn county gives Cleveland 4301, Harrison 8019, Fisk 338, Hill 4285, Miller 7998, Jones 333. Clinton county (with three districts missing) gives Harrison 1544 pluralty, Miller 1463. Steuben county gives Harrison 11614, Cleveland 9158, Fisk 1106, Miller 11359, Hill 9421, Jones 1100. Putnam county gives Harrison 583 majority, Miller 646. Delaware county (complete except Hancock) gives Cleveland 5251, Harrison 6512, Fisk 657, Hill 5130, Miller 6591, Jones 662. In Otsego county Harrison has 1000 majority, Miller 950, Chenango county, one town semi-official. gives Harrison 1158 majority, Miller 1155. Westchester county gives Cleveland majority of 1125, Hill's majority 213. Stahlnecker (dem.) for Congress 745. Richmond county gives Cleveland 5487, Harrison 3794, Hill 5480, Miller 4250; Covert (dem) for Congress carried county by 137 majority over Cromwell rep. Yates county gives 1269 plurality for Harrison and 1112 for Miller. Ontario county gives Harrison 1206 plurality, Miller 1072. Seneca county, all but one district, gives Cleveland 81 plurality, Miller 74. District not heard from. It gave Cleveland 58 majority in 1884. Lewis county all but two districts, gives Harrison 500 majority, Miller 485 majority. Catterangus county, one district estimated gives Harrison plurality of 2370. Miller runs from 100 to 200 behind Harrison. Sullivan county gives Harrison 90 majority, Hill 33. Orange gives Miller 424 majority. Montgomery county gives Cleveland 5667, Harrison 6365, Hill 6285, Miller 5749. Franklin county complete gives Harrison 2728 plurality, Miller 2613. Delaware county gives Cleveland 5332, Harrison 6602, Fisk 677, Hill 5222, Miller 6685, Jones 693. Livingston county gives Harrison plurality of 1528, Miller 1280, Greene county complete gives Cleveland 4494, Harrison 4460, Fisk 284. Unofficial returns for Ulster county are Harrison 10770, Cleveland 10401, Miller 10408, Hill 9982. In Steuben county Harrison's plurality is 2475, Miller's 1938. Schuyler county (corrected) gives Harrison 2704, Cleveland 1975, Fisk 219, Miller 2632. Orleans county, official, gives Harrison 4277. Herkimer, revised, gives Harrison 1068 plurality and Miller 1088 plurality. Rockland county complete gives Cleveland 3939, Harrison 3012, Fisk 328, Hill 3841 and Miller 3101. St. Lawrence county revised gives Harrison 14233, Cleveland 6392, Miller 13879, Hill 6353. Fulton county gives 5208, Cleveland 3899, Fisk 369, Miller 5079, Hill 3909, Jones 426 and one district to hear from. Harrison's probable plurality is 1407, Miller's 1188. Greene county gives Hill 4436, Miller 4511, Jones 261.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7th.—Senator Quay authorizes the following statement: The Republicans on Tuesday carried by increased majorities all the states carried for Blaine in 1884, and in addition have New York by plurality of 15,000, Indiana by plurality from 4,000 to 6,000; West Virginia is in doubt. Gen. Harrison's election is assured.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7th. — An official all counties in the state as far as returned show plurality for Cleveland of 78,856, and for Harrison of 90,147, giving Harrison a plurality in state of 11,191.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 7th.—Revision of returns gives in this city Harrison 23,321, Cleveland 21,810. In towns, Harrison 8093, Cleveland 7805. Total city and county vote, Harrison 31,414, Cleveland 29,615; Harrison's plusality, 1799.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8th, 3 a. m.—The Sun says that Harrison has 11,762 plurality and Hill 18,952. It says the next House of Representatives will be so evenly divided between two parties that an official count will be necessary to decide which is in majority. Its figures show that Indiana gives Harrison a plurality of about 2,000.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle

BOSTON, Nov. 7th.—All but two towns in this state gave Harrison 183447, Cleveland 151990, Fisk 8642 Same towns in 1884 gave Blaine 146.613, Cleveland 122,294, Butler 24.376, St. John 9916. Gubernatorial vote is Ames 180,339, Russell 152,846, Earle 9170. Republican plurality 27,593. Five missing towns probable increase republican plurality by about 50 votes.

NEBRASKA.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LINCOLN, NEB. Nov. 7th.—Latest estimates from returns received by the State Journal give Nebraska to Harrison by between 30,000 and 35,000. For governor, Thayer, rep., 25,000 majority.

CONNECTICUT.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 7th.—Republicans celebrated the national victory by a salute of 100 guns this afternoon, and monster procession this evening. The characteristics were music, fireworks and general hullabaloo.

HARTFORD, CONN., Nov. 7th.—The Courant's returns make total vote Connecticut 153,670 for President. Cleveland 74,854, Harrison 74,520, Prohibition 4101, Labor ticket 191. This makes Cleveland's plurality only 334. Change of 168 votes would have given the state to Harrison.

HARTFORD, Nov. 7th.—Returns from every town in Connecticut show total vote for governor 153,542 of which Bukeley rep. has 73,666, Morris dem., 7503, Morris lacks 1741 of majority and Bulkeley will be elected by republican legislature.

HARTFORD, CONN, Nov. 7th.—The state goes for Cleveland by about 350. For Congress, two republicans, two democrats. The republicans paraded the streets this afternoon in rejoicing over the presidential result. There is a jubilee meeting to night at Allyn Hall.

INDIANA.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 7th.—Full returns from 27 counties out of 92 show net republican gain of 2355. Daily evening News today says the Republican committee claims to have returns from thirty counties either official or verified showing that Harrison would carry the state by 5,000 plurality. Gov. Gray for dems, claims state by 6000. Secretary Sheerin of national democratic committee claims state by 3000 to 6000. 86 out of 90 precincts in Marion county give Harrison 16051, Cleveland 16228. Remaining four precincts are democratic. Cleveland's plurality will be about 3000. Blaine carried Marion county by plurality of 126.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 7th.—Complete returns from second ward of this city, Harrison's ward, gave him 1050, Cleveland 350. The same ward in 1884 gave Blaine 729, Cleveland 229, net republication gain 200. Third precinct, second ward, Gen. Harrison's precinct, gives Harrison 345, Cleveland 84. It gave Blaine 236, Cleveland 66; net rep. gain 91.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 7.—Eight hundred precincts in Indiana give Harrison 123,140, Cleveland 120,719. The same in '84 gave Blaine 116,534, and Cleveland 114,554.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 7, 2 A. M.—Democrats admit that Harrison has the state.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Harrison has the State by about 2250.

GOODELL 750 PLURALITY.

Nute Has 500 Majority in First District.—Moore 1000 in Second District.

REPUBLICANS HAVE 33 MAJORITY IN LEGISLATURE ON JOINT BALLOT.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CONCORD, Nov. 7th,—Nute, rep., is elected to Congress over McKinney, dem., in first district, by about 500. Oren C. Moore, rep., over Mann., dem., in second district, by about 1000. Republicans elected 13 senators, democrats 8. No choice in three districts. As the republicans have a majority of about 25 in house, republicans will be elected. This will give them 33 majority on joint ballot, being same as in 1886.

CONCORD, Nov. 7th.—Returns from all but 24 towns and wards in State give Harrison 43,169, Cleveland 40,421, Fiske 15,521, Goodell, rep., for governor, 42,198, Amsden, dem., 41,104, Carr, pro., 1524. Harrison's plurality will be about 2250, Goodell's about 750, leaving no choice, a majority being required. As the legislature is republican, Goodell will be elected. Vote is the largest ever cast in the state, aggregating nearly 90,000.

MAINE.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

BATH, ME., Nov. 7th.—There was enthusiastic rejoicing by the republicans in Bath to-night. All campaign companies parading with bands, many houses illuminated, bells ringing and salutes fired. A congratulatory meeting was held in the city hall, and five hunred citizens are parading with brooms and flags.

DELAWARE.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WILMINGTON, DEL., Nov. 7th.—Republicans have carried Kent and Sussex counties for first time in history of party and thereby secured majority two in the legislature, and election republican senator to succeed Saulsbury.

WEST VIRGINIA.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WHEELING, W. VA., Nov. 7th.—Republicans have the legislature, and one congressman. This will give them a United States senator, a gain. Governorship is doubtful.

COLORADO.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

DENVER, COL., Nov. 7th.—Returns from 34 counties in Colorado out of 43 give Harrison nearly 12,000 majority, and Cooper, rep., for governor, between 8000 and 10,000 majority.

DENVER, COL., Nov. 7th.—Returns received indicate election rep. ticket by 8,000 to 12,000.

ILLINOIS.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7th.—Fifer is elected governor by 7,000 over Palmer, dem.

LOUISIANA.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 7th.—The state will give Cleveland 30,000 majority. Coleman, rep. is elected to Congress in second district.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7th.—The plurality for Harrison in the state is 72.948.

KENTUCKY.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Nov. 7th.—Cleveland's majority nearly 40,000. Democrats have gained one congressman in the state.

MISSOURI.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 7th.—Cleveland will have plurality of 30,000.

KANSAS.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

TOPEKA, KAN. Nov. 7th.—Harrison has 70,000 over Cleveland.

OREGON.

PORTLAND, OREGON, Nov. 7th.—Heavy vote polled. Enough returns in to justify estimate 7000 to 8000 majority for Harrison.

MICHIGAN.

DETROIT, Nov. 7th.—Returns indicate an election of eight republicans, two democrats. Republican gain of two.

TENNESSEE.

CHATTANOGA, TENN., Nov. 7th.—H. Clay Evans, rep. defeats Bates, dem. in 3d district.

FLORIDA.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., Nov. 7th.—State estimated democratic by 6,700.

California Probably Democratic.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7th.—Four hundred and forty-five precincts in California out of a total of 1560, outside San Francisco city, give Harrison 27,499, Cleveland 25,544. No comparison by precincts possible, owing to large number of new precincts. Democrats claim majority for Cleveland of about 9,000, and republicans concede the state.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7th.—Out of 1590 precincts outside of San Francisco 612 precincts give Harrison 47004, Cleveland 41,215.

Belva Lockwood Gets 2 Votes.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CAMDEN, ME., Nov. 7th.—Lincoonville vote, Democratic 129, Republican 115, Labor 6, Prohibition 2, Belva Lockwood two.

Rejoicing In Bangor.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

BANGOR, ME., Nov. 7th.—The streets of Bangor never witnessed such wild scenes of enthusiasm since the days of war, as were enacted this afternoon and evening. In the afternoon the bells were rung, steam whistles blown, and the guns fired. In the evening the principal thoroughfare were thronged with republicans Hundreds of horns were blown, bells rung, and everything that would make noise was brought into service. Hugh bonfires were lighted in the streets. A public meeting was held in city hall. The Republicans are jubilant over the vote of this city Tuesday, when they gave a plurality of 605, a gain of 333 over the September plurality, and 207 over 1884. Thursday night the republicans meet to celebrate with a grand torchlight parade by campaign companies, and a grand illumination.

An Interview with Senator Frye.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LEWISTON, ME., Nov. 7th.—In an interview with a Journal representative to-day Senator Frye said: "This election is, I think, the most important since that which resulted in the making Abraham Lincoln president. I could only regard the re-election of Mr. Cleveland as a terrible menace to the best interests of our marvellous industry and of our working men and women. He seemed to me to have entirely surrendered himself to the South. Therefore the prospect that he is defeated, his policy rejected, is exceedingly grateful. Again, his re-election almost certainly involved a surrender of both houses to the democrats, thus giving to him with his stubborn will and his unscrupulous use of his executive power, entire control. With Harrison's election, the entire North must feel immensely relieved. I know him well, and am confident that his administration of affairs will be conservative, dignified and very able."

Death of Prominent Maine Democrat.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

BETHEL, ME., Nov. 7.—Hon. David Hammons, a member of the thirtieth Congress, a prominent Democrat and the oldest member of the Oxford County bar, died this afternoon, aged 80.

Fatal Accident.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WOODSVILLE, N. H., Nov. 7th.—Fremont Hunard instantly killed at Groton today by bursting of a cannon.

Foreign.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LONDON, Nov. 8th.—The Times says; "Though we believe President Cleveland's internal policy and administration more remarkable for capacity and uprightness than anything to which republicans can point in recent years, we cannot profess regret at event which may be regarded as appropriate penalty for his discreditable subservance to meanest influences of American politics and incapable neglect of doctrines of international incourse. We are sincerely sorry change of Government involves retirement of Minister Phelps, who has performed duties with marked ability and adroitness, and won our esteem and friendship."

POSITIVELY

No Cure, No Pay!

CONSTITUTIONAL COUGH SYRUP

--- TRY IT! ---

The proprietor of this remedy has such confidence in its curative powers that he makes the following

Generous Offer!

Any person buying a bottle is given the privilege of returning it and receiving their MONEY BACK, if after using two-thirds of its contents, they have derived no benefit from it.

PRICE 25 AND 50 CENTS.

— SOLD BY —

David Kimball & Co., 36 Market Street.

J. L.

GLACE FRUITS,
NEW PRUNES,
NEW FIGS,
NEW JELLIES AND JAMS.

OLD RICE POPPING CORN.

DESSICATED COCOANUT

In Strips for Frosting Cake.

Fresh Ground Spices

Of Extra Fine Flavor and Strength.

HYGIENIC COFFEE,

A Healthful and Refreshing Drink, especially for those who cannot drink Genuine Coffee.

JOHN LAIGHTON,

No. 1 Market Square.

GRANITE STATE Fire Insurance Company,

OF PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

PAID-UP CAPITAL, - $200,000

OFFICERS:

President, FRANK JONES.
Vice President, JOHN W. SANBORN
Secretary, ALFRED F. HOWARD.
Treasurer, JOHN LAIGHTON
Executive Committee, FRANK JONES JOHN W. SANBORN, CHARLES A. SINCLAIR, EDWIN WALLACE and E. H. WINCHESTER

S. Philbrick & Co.,

— MANUFACTURERS OF —

Marble and Granite Work

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

GRANITE POLISHING A SPECIALTY.

OFFICE AND WORKS,

No. 2 Water Street, Portsmouth

NEW JEWELRY

— AND —

SILVER GOODS

— AT —

HUTCHINSON'S.

BOOK BINDING

Of Every Desciption,

— DONE AT —

NO. 5 CONGRESS STREET,

(OVER FAY'S STORE.)

Magazines and other Periodicals Bound in Styles to Suit Patrons; Especial Attention given to

REBINDING OLD BOOKS!

For Libraries or Individuals; in short, any work of the kind promptly attended to, and satisfaction guaranteed. ☞ Prices reasonable.

JOHN D. RANDALL.

"1888" OPENING OF "1888"

FALL AND WINTER DRY GOODS

At the Well-Known Store,

NOS. 30 and 32 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH,

Ayers & Locke, Proprietors,

Can be found the Largest Assortment of

SEASONABLE DRY GOODS MERCHANDISE.

LARGEST ASSORTMENT OF OUTSIDE GARMENTS.

For Ladies, Misses and Children,

New Goods of this Season's Manufacture.

All are Invited to Examine

OUR STOCK OF CLOAKS!

Before Purchasing Elsewhere.

Silk and Gloria RAIN UMBRELLAS! Ladies' Gossamers.

THE F. P. ROBINSON CO. BLACK STOCKINGS.

"CLEANFAST" NONE ARE GENUINE WITHOUT THIS TRADE MARK ON EACH PAIR

Mohair and Gingham RAIN UMBRELLAS! Children's Gossamers.

Largest Assortment of Dress Goods in Portsmouth.

In fact, the Best Assortment in their Line of everything pertaining to a

FIRST-CLASS STOCK OF DRY GOODS.

NEW CARPETS! NEW CARPETS!
HOUSEKEEPING GOODS! &C.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS IN OUR UNDEWEARR DEPARTMENT.

Small Wares, Trimmings, Ribbons, Gloves
Yarns, Knitting Silks, &c.
Corsets, Bustles, &c.

Largest Assortment of Fall and Winter Skirts in all the Desirable Fabrics Which they are desirous of exchanging for Cash on a basis for values that will compare favorably with Boston and New York prices.

AYERS & LOCKE.

LOOK AT THIS

Heavy, Substantial Cooking Range,

"THE ALMONER."

Plain for $16.00, Worth $25.00

To anyone in need of a First-Class Range. Examine this before purchasing elsewhere.

— ALSO A FULL LINE OF —

MAGEE FURNACES, RANGES & STOVES.

Plumbing, Gas Fitting, Tin and Sheet Iron Work of All Kinds.

C. W. TAYLOR.

42 & 44 MARKET STREET.

DR. S. F. HAM,

Of Hotel Bristol, Boston, will receive patients

Monday and Tuesday

FROM MAY 1st TO NOV. 1st,

And the remainder of the year every Monday.

Office and Residence, 13 COURT ST, Portsmouth, N. H.

NOTICE!

FALL

— AND —

WINTER

STYLES

NOW READY!

— AT —

MRS. TEBBETTS',

NO. 14 MARKET STREET.

COMFORT

— FOR —

COLD AND TENDER FEET!

Persons troubled with cold or tender feet will find warmth and ease in the use of

DOLGE'S ALL WOOL FELT

Slippers and Shoes

For which the undersigned is agent in this City and Vicinity.

--- AT THE STORE ---

No. 34 Market Street

Can be found a Full Line of these Goods, in many patterns of Slippers, Shoes and Boots, and several colors, for house, office or street wear,

Of Men and Boys, Women and Girls.

☞ Please examine our Stock.

J. C. CARR.

The Portsmouth Daily Chronicle,

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 2, 1852.

Published every morning, except Sunday, at No. 7 Exchange Building, Pleasant Street.

By mail, postage prepaid, $5 a year. Single Copies, Two Cents.

THE CHRONICLE is served to subscribers in Portsmouth, Kittery, Dover, Rochester and Farmington at 50 Cents per month, hours in advance of any other paper containing the Associated Press Despatches.

The New Hampshire Gazette,

ESTABLISHED OCT. 7, 1756.

The Oldest Newspaper in America. Published every Thursday.

Terms, $1.50 a year in advance.

[Entered at the Post Office at Portsmouth as second class matter.]

W. SCOTT SMITH,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

☞ Rates of advertising made known on application.

Agents for the Daily Chronicle:

MOSES BROS.....PORTSMOUTH.
ROBERTS & AVERY.....FARMINGTON
WORCESTER & GREENFIELD..ROCHESTER
BROWNE BROS.....DOVER.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1888.

What the Election Means.

The country has spoken in tones which cannot be misunderstood in any part of this broad land. The administration of President Cleveland has had the seal of condemnation put upon it, and has been repudiated by the people as unworthy of their confidence and support. There can be no question but his re-election would have brought disaster to many of the industrial interests of the country, supported as he would have been by a democratic congress in the determination to force practical free trade upon the Nation. The significance of the verdict given by the American people on Tuesday cannot be too greatly over estimated. It means the return to power of the Republican party, the judicious administration of laws, the protection of the American workingman in the struggle to maintain his home and good wages from the encroachment of cheap foreign labor, and the extension of justice to the people of Dakotah and Washington Territories in their demand to be admitted as States in the Union. The election of Gen. Harrison with a working majority in the House of Representatives, as our latest despatches indicate, means something more than merely a few years of power for the Republican party. With the admission of two territories, with four senators and not less than five members of Congress to which they would be entitled by their population, the political danger which has threatened the country by reason of a solid South and a few sympathizers in the north, will be averted for many years to come. The Democratic party cannot hope now to again acquire power, for the next quarter of a century. This is a condition and not a theory, and as such it must be recognized. The loyal North which has shown great patience in submitting to the insults of the Southern brigadiers and their free trade President, at last resolved that the end must come, and come it has. With decent political management, and a proper regard for the great industrial interests of the north, the Democratic party might have acquired a new lease of power. They became blinded by power and now must go to the rear for many, many years, if not forever.

A Prophet Without Honor in His Own City.

The mercenary character of the New York Times which has performed so much washing about during the recently closed campaign, is known to every intelligent reader of public journals. The Times is owned and managed solely in the interest of free trade. As a journal advacating a pet measure of President Cleveland, it essayed to fill the role of leader to the democracy of New York, even as a small dog occasionally trots ahead of its master as if he was a leader instead of a follower. The distinctive trait of the Times, like the land lubber at sea, being in everybody's mess and nobody's watch, and being sure death to the candidate it supports, was never better illustrated than in the results in New York on Tuesday. The Times advocated the election of Abram S. Hewitt for mayor. That made a sure walk-over for Grant, the Tammany candidate. The Times advocated the claims of Warner Miller as governor. Well may the Ex-Senator seek to be saved from such friends, when he knows that the incubus of the Times support always results in the election of the candidate it opposes. The Times was loudly for Grover Cleveland and tariff reform, nay for out and out free trade, and of course opposed to Harrison, but while Cleveland sits and sulks at the result of the battle, Harrison is the recipient of countless despatches of heartfelt congratulations from all sections of this great and glorious country which has chosen for its president, and a majority of the popular branch in the legislative department of its government, men who have due regard for the industries of the country, the welfare of the workingmen, and the rights of its citizens on land and sea. The present cheap and inefficient government with its one-horse and narrow-gauge policy, let us rejoice is to be succeeded in less than four months by an administration on the broad views, clean record, American ideas and with a determination to guard well the rights, the interests and the prosperity of the people who spoke in such unmistakable tones on Tuesday, their determination to rid the White House of the man who has been superstitious enough to believe that good luck would pull him through despite his free trade heresies and his pension vetoes. Yes, let us rejoice and be exceeding glad. The day of redemption draws nigh. The Republicans are long can again have a justifiable pride in their country.

From the result in New York we may conclude that Gov. Hill knows more about politics than does Grover Cleveland. However, the latter has acquired a large share of political information since Tuesday.

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

Special correspondence of the Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6th, 1888.

The old time maxim that "politics makes strange bed-fellows" has been so completely verified as to be accepted by the present generation in the light of a truism, and this fact suggests a thought concerning a more modern invention of politicians which poses under the caption of "Civil Service Reform" and has found many earnest supporters among the adherents of all parties and professions. In fact that legend is conspicuously displayed on the banners of the present administration, and has been set up as a landmark to guide the footsteps of those who "hanker" after political preferment.

Supposed to be wholly impartial in its workings, and purely disinterested in its selection of candidates for official distinction, the majority of the successful competitors happen, through force of circumstances beyond the power of a non-partisan observor to discover, to belong to the faith and household of Democracy, and ordinary statistice reveal the fact that many curious specimens of the genus homo have been brought to light to dazzle with their intelligence the rest of mankind.

An amusing instance has recently come to my knowledge which may not prove uninteresting to the manifold readers of the CHRONICLE, and which may serve as an illustration of the material fact being incorporated into the body politic under the workings of the Civil Service idea.

A young man recently imported from the wilds of the southern states, was, after successful competitive examination, appointed to a position in one of the Executive Departments and given charge of certain business relating to the purchase of supplies, such as are necessary to furnish various offices and bureaus and maintain cleanliness and comfort.

A dealer in a distant city was requested to supply a quantity of goods in his line of business and to state an account therefor on blank vouchers, copies of which were transmitted to him with instructions that a rule of the Department required said vouchers to be rendered in duplicate and signed by the dealer in acknowledgment of full payment of his account, for which a check would subsequently be transmitted to him. This particular dealer being somewhat ignorant in regard to Departmental business complied with the directions given him, forwarded the goods ordered, and returned the vouchers by mail duly receipted, but took the precaution to prefix the words "pro forma" to his signature, probably not understanding why the government required him to receipt in advance for money which he had not received, although it should here be stated that such is the universal custom in all Departmental routine involving purchases. The Civil Service young man on receipt of the vouchers was non-plussed by the "pro forma" part of the dealer's signature, and, without seeking other information than his own knowledge afforded, addressed the man a formal letter signed by one of the heads of authority, asking him whether "pro forma" was a member of his business firm, and advising him that if such were the case it would be necessary to furnish the Department with a power of attorney from "Mr. Forma" authorizing him to receipt for and receive moneys due said firm. This may have all the appearance of a huge joke to many of your readers, but the incident as I have endeavored to give it is, nevertheless, a cold, cold fact. The dealer in supplies was astounded, and not regarding the matter in the light of seriousness sent the Government a sarcastic answer defining the status of "pro forma", and kindly inquired if the fool-killer had been seen in the vicinity of Washington within a short time.

Another aspirant for office while undergoing examination at the Civil Service headquarters in this city was asked, among a series of printed questions, to define the "differential calculus" in all its various ramifications, and wrote in answer that while he had never been afflicted with "calculus" to his knowledge, yet had symptoms of "Bright's disease" when a lad, although in a mild form. The record does not afford me any evidence that this applicant "pulled through" but it should be said to his credit that his sincerity entitled him to some sort of recognition from an administration prone to overlook the shortcomings of an erring brother whose politics is of the right kind, and it may be that he is to-day serving his country in a capacity commensurate to his deserts.

A striking illustration of the manner in which the tenets of Civil Service are being observed at this time is displayed in the utter stagnation of all Government business in Washington, caused by the exodus of clerks and officials towards their various voting precincts. All the Cabinet officers and a large majority of the Bureau chiefs, heads and sub-heads of offices are on the stump, or otherwise engaged in putting in their "fine work" in close districts, while those that remain keep things moving at low pressure and employ their time in figuring on the result of the election.

The bulletin boards of the leading papers are surrounded by anxious crowds and the night will be far spent ere the last straggler makes his homeward way elated or depressed according as his hopes have been realized or dispelled. Both parties are equally confident of success at the polls, while the friends of Harrison and Morton appear to possess the best end of the election. With a republican president, backed by a republican congress, the onward march of progress in this country which was so deplorably interrupted four years ago will be resumed, and the busy hum of protected industry will again resound throughout the length and breadth of our land.

Speed the day, for these be troublous times indeed. QUANTICO.

There is not very much to know about western mortgages; and the little is easy to learn.

A pamphlet published by the Kansas City Investment Company, makes it so clear that one who reads perhaps knows quite as much of the business as the average man who goes a thousand miles to see for himself.

Read first and then go; which is better yet.

The pamphlet is sent free to all who ask for it.

THE KANSAS CITY INVESTMENT COMPANY, Kansas City, Missouri; or Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

$100,000

Janesville, Wis., Water Co.

First Mortgage 6% Bonds.

DUE AUGUST 1, 1907.

Secured by a Sinking Fund. Descriptive Circulars furnished on application.

Brewster, Cobb & Estabrook,

35 Congress St., Boston.

AT

No. 63 Pleasant St

May be now as full and carefully selected a stock of

FINE FANCY AND STAPLE

GROCERIES.

—ALSO—

BOOTS & SHOES

As at any Store east of Boston.

—VERMONT AND CREAMERY—

BUTTER & CHEESE.

Lard Sugar,
Molasses Syrup Oils.
Beans Peas Pickles Crackers.
Salt Pork Salt Fish. Sage Maccaroni.

-COFFEES-

Old Government Java and Rio, ground as sold.

-TEAS-

Best Qualities Formosa and Japan.

—A FULL LINE—

CANNED AND SHELF GOODS.

Pure Spices, Raisins, Currants Cocoa, Chocolate, Candied Lemon Peel, and all other Fine Groceries.

TOBACCO AND CIGARS.

Brooms, Brushes, Pails, Crockery and Glassware, and a Large

Assortment of Miscellaneous Articles.

Boots and Shoes!

Men's Calf Button Boots,
Men's Calf Balmoral Boots.
Men's Calf French Ties,
Ladies' Kid Button Boots.
Misses' and Children's, Youth's and Boys',
All Sizes and Kinds.

We make the best selections possible, paying Cash; and for Cash will sell as low as the lowest.

☞ Orders filled with care and delivered free to any part of the city.

JOHN J. LASKEY,

NO. 63 PLEASANT STREET.

THE JOB PRINTING

Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD I. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line. Give him a trial and you will be more than pleased.

IF YOU WANT

To Save Two Dollars

ON EVERY BARREL OF FLOUR, USE

Horsford's Bread Preparation.

It costs less than one cent to raise a pound of flour with Horsford's, while with common baking powders the cost is two cents.

EASTERN OFFICE OF

Kansas City Investment Co.,

OVER FIRST NATIONAL BANK, PORTSMOUTH.

CITY MORTGAGES, FARM MORTGAGES,
DEBENTURE BONDS, REAL ESTATE N[illegible]
☞ INTEREST PAYABLE HERE AT MATURITY. ☜

W. G. MYERS V. P.

FLORENCE SILK MITTENS. The engraving shows the latest style, made from Florence Knitting Silk, in perfect fitting shapes and lined throughout wrist and back with Silk; they make a most durable and fashionable article for ladies' wear. Observe the trade "Florence" on each box as sold by dealers.

"Florence Home Needle Work" 1888

is now ready. Contains 96 pages with nearly 250 illustrations. The subjects are Damask Stitches—Tapestry and Italian Embroidery—Drawn Work, Darning—Crochet &c. It teaches ladies how to make SOLID SILK BRAID for trimming their garments in latest fashion. Book mailed to any address on receipt of six cents. NONOTUCK SILK CO., Florence, Mass.

STEPHEN D. SCRIGGINS,

Carriage Painter,

NO. 16 Vaughan Street, Portsmouth, N. H.

Having spacious and good accommodations and long and large experience he solicits patronage in his line.

Embalmer and Funeral Director

NO. 60 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH

SAMUEL S. FLETCHER

(SUCCESSOR TO FLETCHER & TANTON.

COFFINS, ROBES & CASKETS

Always on hand, or made to order

Orders by night may be left at No. 42 Daniel St or with A. L. Rice, No. 15 Hill St. or O. W. Ham No 12 Russell St.

ADAMSON'S BOTANIC COUGH BALSAM

More than twenty years ago Adamson's Botanic Balsam was introduced generally throughout New England as a remedy for Coughs, Colds and Pulmonary complaints. Since its introduction it has constantly won its way into public favor, until now it is the universal decision that ADAMSON'S BOTANIC BALSAM is the best remedy for curing Coughs, Colds and Asthma.

Made only by F. W. KINSMAN & CO., (Established 1850). Druggists and Dispensing Chemists, 343 4th ave., corner 25th st., N. Y. FOR SALE AT ALL DRUG STORES.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE GREAT

German Remedy.

TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spells depend on SULPHUR BITTERS it will cure you.

$1,000 will be paid for a case where SULPHUR BITTERS will not assist or cure. It never fails.

Do you suffer with chattired and all gone feeling; if so, use SULPHUR BITTERS; it will cure you.

Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see its impurities burst ing through the skin in Pimples, Blotches, and Sores. Rely on SULPHUR BITTERS and health will follow.

Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops, clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not then be weak and sickly.

SULPHUR BITTERS will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.

If you do not wish to suffer from Rheumatism, use a bottle of SULPHUR BITTERS; it never fails to cure.

SULPHUR BITTERS will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.

SULPHUR BITTERS will make your blood pure, rich and strong, and your flesh hard.

Ladies in delicate health, who are all run down, should use SULPHUR BITTERS.

Try SULPHUR BITTERS to-night, and you will sleep well and feel better for it.

Do you want the best Medical Work published? Send 3 2-cent stamps to A. P. ORDWAY & Co Boston, Mass., and receive a copy, free.

Insurance Notice.

THE OLD INSURANCE AGENCY,

AT THE OLD STAND,

No. 13 Pleasant Street,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

JOSEPH P. MORSE,

REVERSING THE TELESCOPE.

Are the Inhabitants of Other Worlds Taking a Sly Peep at Us?

Scientific people and those attracted by the results of their labors and discoveries, have doubtless been deeply interested in the discussion of the proposition that has come from California looking to the construction of a forty inch telescope for the deeper and clearer study of the wonders of the heavens above us. The announcement, on the highest authority in this country, that there are no insurmountable obstacles in the way of producing even a sixty inch lens, provided there are no limitations of time or money, must stimulate the imagination to an excited pitch over the dazzling prospects of the new fields of science to be worked by such powerful means. And if, with achievement, prophecy should grow bolder and ambition prepare the way for larger things, why would it be necessary to stop at the largest limitations yet dreamed of?

Much as the telescope has already shown us of the worlds beyond, it has only intensified the eagerness of enthusiasts to extend its wonderful power and lead them still further into the fascinations of those undiscovered countries. In spite of all the study of centuries, our knowledge of the heavenly bodies is as yet only elementary and largely inferential. The time may not be far distant when we shall be able to confirm or reject on the basis of ocular proof many of the theories now wholly or in part accepted. Supposing, as many have dared to suppose, that some of the other planets are capable of supporting intelligent forms of life, we have certainly not yet advanced so far as to threaten the privacy of the beings who are our planetary neighbors.

But can we feel sure that we are equally secure? In our abounding human egotism we flatter ourselves that we stand at the head of all physical and moral life. We maintain, without any annoying contradiction, that we are superior to all other material orders of being with which we have ever compared ourselves. The growth of the telescope may yet bring a severe shock to our self complacency and upset all preconceived ideas that the universe was made exclusively for the benefit of that inflated form of life called man. Judging of the unknown simply by the limitations of the known, it is not for us to say that one of our ends is not to furnish objects of speculative wonder and scientific research to beings of richer endowments and more wonderful development than ourselves.

Probably many of our readers are familiar with Fitz James O'Brien's story of the mad microscopist, who, with a diamond lens of unequaled power, went on an exploring expedition through a drop of water with marvelous results. There were valleys and mountains and rich fields, and resplendent perspective everywhere. Yet all this was but the habitat. He looked for forms of life, and his search was rewarded by the appearance of a sylph of radiant beauty, in human shape, "Its adorable beauty lifted it illimitable heights beyond the loveliest daughters of Adam." He became frantically in love with the enchanting animalcule. He wasted days and nights studying her grace of form and action and drinking in her beauty, until the drop of water evaporated, when she shriveled and died, leaving him stricken with grief and despair.

How do we know but many a Brobdignagian telescopist has his animalcule, and piercing through the rifts of the dense cloud layers that envelop his remote sphere languishes over the exquisite, but elusive, charms of some fair daughter of Eve to the neglect of his own family, the hurt of his standing in society and his reputation for sound sense? Or, perhaps, some entertaining specialist is recording our social and political habits for the benefit of his fellows, as Sir John Lubbock describes those of the ants. With the little peep that we have into the infinity of power that knowledge brings, it is not safe to adopt the ostrich theory—that we can be seen no further than we can see.—Robert G. Fitch in Boston Globe.

Phases of Chinese Life.

An official report upon the Chinese quarters of San Francisco, made about two years ago by a committee of the board of supervisors, after several months of careful survey and investigation, presented probably in a clearer light than ever before the true phases of Chinese colonial life. Thirteen Joss houses were found; Christian churches were turned into Chinese lodging houses and brothels. Missionary work, in nearly forty years of effort and labor, had not brought a dozen converts into the field who could be properly vouched for as such. In the contest between idolatry and Christianity, the former was in full and undisputed possession of the field.—Forum.

THE ONLY DYES

Brilliant Durable Economical

Are Diamond Dyes. They excel all others in Strength, Purity and Fastness. None others are just as good. Beware of imitations—they are made of cheap and inferior materials and give poor, weak, crocky colors.

36 colors; 10 cents each.

Send postal for Dye Book, Sample Card, directions for coloring Photos., making the finest Ink or Mining (10 cts. a quart), etc. Sold by Druggists or by

WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.

For Gilding or Bronzing Fancy Articles, USE

DIAMOND PAINTS.

Gold, Silver, Bronze, Copper. Only 10 Cents.

Paine's { CELERY COMPOUND

CURES	PROOFS
Neuralgia	"Paine's Celery Compound cured my nervous sick headache." Mrs. L. A. BRENTNER, San Jacinto, Cal.
Nervous Prostration	"After using six bottles of Paine's Celery Compound, I am cured of rheumatism." SAMUEL HUTCHINSON, South Cornish, N. H.
Rheumatism	"It has done me more good for kidney disease than any other medicine." GEO. ABBOTT, Sioux City, Iowa.
Kidney Diseases AND All Liver Disorders	"Paine's Celery Compound has been of great benefit for torpid liver, indigestion, and biliousness." ELIZABETH C. UDELL, Quechee, Vt.

Defenders of American Industry.

We are uncompromisingly in favor of the American system of protection; we protest against its destruction as proposed by the president and his party. They serve the interests of Europe; we will support the interests of America. We accept the issue, and confidently appeal to the people for their judgement. The protective system must be maintained. Its abandonment has always been followed by general disaster to all interests except those of the usurer and the sheriff.—Republican National Platform, 1888.

"American wages for American workmen."—Republican motto.

We are astonished at parties who introduce new remedies for coughs when they should know the people will have Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

"Kings are like stars, they rise and set." They have headaches, cuts, and hurts like meaner men, and are just as sure to call for Salvation Oil.

Our manufactures require the systematic and fostering care of the government. * * Equally important it is to provide at home a market for our raw materials.—James Monroe.

An extensive domestic market for the surplus produce of the soil is of the first consequence. It is, of all things, that which most effectually conduces to a flourishing state of agriculture.—Alexander Hamilton.

Be Your Own Doctor.

It won't cost you half as much. Do not delay. Send three 2-cent stamps for postage, and we will send you Dr. Kaufmann's great work, fine colored plates from life, on disease, its causes, and home cure. Address A. P. Ordway, & Co., Boston, Mass.

We must now place our manufactures by the side of the agriculturist. * * Experience has taught me that manufactures are now as necessary to our independence as to our comfort.—Thomas Jefferson.

"For twenty years I have suffered with a severe bronchial cough, never lying down without a severe attack of the same. After much pursuasion, I was induced to try Adamson's Balsam, and its good effects for six months are certainly marvellous. Please use this truthful testimony for the advantage of all sufferers like myself.

Mrs. Wm. Alden, Duxbury, Mass., Feb. 21, 1887.

When our manfactures are grown to a certain proportion, as they will under the fostering care of the government, * * the farmer will find a ready market for his surplus produce; and, what is of almost equal consequence, a certain and cheap supply for all his wants.—John C. Calhoun.

One Fact

Is worth a column of rhetoric, said an American statesman. It is a fact, established by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from impure state or low condition of the blood. It also overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

The issue of Protection is incalculably stronger and greater than any man, as it concerns the prosperity of the present and of the generations yet to come.—James G. Blaine.

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam, for Coughs and Colds, does it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles at 50c and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

To-Night and To-Morrow Night,

And each day and night during this week you can get at all druggists Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, acknowledged to be the most successful remedy ever sold for the cure of Coughs, Croup, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption. Get a bottle to-day and keep it always in the house, so you can check your cold at once. Price 50c and $1.00. Sample bottles free.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. nov.wed,fri,o1ai

PHILOSOPHY OF MARRIAGE

giving a clear synopsis of the impediments to marriage, exhausted vitality, etc., etc., can be had from all news agents or forwarded (direct from the author, Dr. F. J. JORDAN, 9 Boylston St., Boston, on receipt of 25 cents. eoc to8

HUNT'S REMEDY

RELIEVES the Kidneys;
REVIVES the Liver;
SOLD UNIVERSALLY.

sod&g

AN EXTRA LOT OF SPONGES, CHAMOIS SKINS AND WHIPS.

At Reasonable Prices at

John S. Tilton's

Harness and Trunk Repairer

NO. 18 CONGRESS STREE

GRATEFUL---COMFORTING.

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame.—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in half-pound tins, by Grocers, labelled thus:

JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England.

f1ec5

WE WANT A GOOD ENERGETIC SALESMAN in every town and city TO SOLICIT ORDERS FOR FRAMING PICTURES, BEST OUTFIT IN THE WORLD and a permanent situation. Address H. B. WARDWELL, Lewiston, Me.

POSITIVELY CLOSING WEEKS

GRAND CYCLORAMA

BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG,

341 Tremont St., Boston.

Don't fail to see this great battle scene at once.

A new subject now being painted will take its place in this building January 1st.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, the great Medical Work of the age on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline, Errors of Youth, and the untold miseries consequent thereon, 300 pages 8 vo., 125 prescriptions for all diseases. Cloth, full gilt, only $1.00, by mail, sealed. Illustrative sample free to all young and middle-aged men. Send now. The Gold and Jewelled Medal awarded to the author by the National Medical Association. Address P.O. Box 1895, Boston, Mass., or Dr. W. H. PARKER, graduate of Harvard Medical College, 25 years' practice in Boston, who may be consulted confidentially. Office, No. 4 Bulfinch St. Specialty, Diseases of Man. ☞ Cut this out. You may never see it again.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS AND PIANOS

The entire organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin organs have always maintained their superiority and are the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin Co. now exhibit a demonstration of the unequaled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all of the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with the best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues, 122 to 8000, free.

Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos, that they are superior to all others. They regard the high excellence achieved by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but still claim superiority. This they attribute, mainly to the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1882, and now known as the Mason & Hamlin Piano Stringer, by the use of which the use of which greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity for standing in tune and other important advantages.

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians, and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

Pianos and Organs sold for cash or easy payments; also rented.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.
BOSTON. NEW YORK. CHICAGO.

tnov24

MARVELOUS MEMORY DISCOVERY.

Any book learned in one reading
Mind wandering cured.
Speaking without notes.
Piracy condemned by Supreme Court.

Great inducements to correspondence classes. Prospectus, with opinions of Dr. Wm. A. Hammond, the world famed Specialist in Mind diseases, Daniel Greenleaf Thompson, the great Psychologist, J. M. Buckley, D. D., Editor of the Christian Advocate, Richard Proctor, the Scientist, Hons. Judge Gibson, Judah P. Benjamin, and others, sent post free by

Prof. A. LOISETTE, 237 Fifth Ave., New York.

THE WITTICY, PERTINENT JUVENILES

QUEER PEOPLE Palmer Cox

$1.50

oct15

The WONDERFUL LUBURG CHAIR

Combining a Parlor, Library, Smoking, Reclining, or Invalid CHAIR, LOUNGE, BED, Easy Chair and COUCH. Price $7.00 up. We make the largest variety of Adjustable, Reclining, Physicians' and Surgeons' Operating, Invalid Rolling, Rocking, Office, Library, Fancy Carpet Folding, Reed and Rattan CHAIRS and ROCKERS BICYCLES, TRICYCLES, VELOCIPEDES and SELF PROPELLERS.

ALL KINDS OF APPLIANCES FOR INVALIDS.

BABY COACHES

Over 100 different designs.

Our Patent Automatic Brake on all Carriages, free. We have discontinued wholesaling; by placing your orders direct with the makers you can save several profits. Our selling prices and special Bargains will astonish you. Goods sold under a guarantee and delivered free to any point in the United States. ☞ Send stamp for Catalogue, and state class of goods you wish it for.

LUBURG MFG. CO.

145 North Eighth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

TRAVELLER'S GUIDE.

TRAINS LEAVE

Portsmouth for Boston, 4.05, 7.25, 8.20, 11.05 a. m., 2.55, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4.00 p. m.

Boston for Portsmouth, 7.30, 9.06, 10.50 a. m., 12.30, 3.30, 4.45, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.30 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

Portsmouth for Portland, 9.55, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m.

Portland for Portsmouth, 7.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.05, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 9.00 a. m.

Portsmouth for Dover, 4.00, 9.45 a. m., 12.25, 2.38, 5.22 p. m.

Dover for Portsmouth, 6.55, 10.20 a. m., 1.35, 4.30, 6.40 p. m.

Portsmouth for York Beach, 8.30, 11.10 a. m., 3.35 p. m.

York Beach for Portsmouth, 6.40, 10.00 a. m., 1.40 p. m.

Portsmouth for Concord, 7.35 a. m., 1.00, 5.15 p. m.

Concord for Portsmouth, 7.20, 10.20 a. m., 3.25 p. m.

Portsmouth for Manchester, 7.35 a. m., 1.00, 5.15 p. m.

Manchester for Portsmouth, 8.15, 11.15 a. m., 4.25 p. m.

TRAINS ARRIVE

In Boston from Portsmouth, 6.20, 9.10, 10.55 a. m., 1.15, 4.45, 7.10, 9.30 p. m. Sundays, 6.20 a. m., 6.30 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Boston, 9.45, 10.45 a. m., 12.20, 2.55, 5.20, 6.45, 8.57 p. m. Sundays, 10.40 a. m., 8.57 p. m.

In Portland from Portsmouth, 12.00 m., 12.35, 4.40, 11.00 p. m. Sundays, 11.00 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Portland, 8.55, 10.44 a. m., 2.20, 7.15 p. m. Sundays, 8.55 a. m.

In Dover from Portsmouth, 5.40, 10.10 a. m., 12.50, 3.03, 5.47 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Dover, 7.20, 10.44 a. m., 2.20, 4.55, 7.15 p. m.

In Concord from Portsmouth, 10.20 a. m., 3.12, 9.25 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Concord, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

In Manchester from Portsmouth, 9.42 a. m., 2.30, 7.20 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Manchester, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

KITTERY AND PORTSMOUTH.

STEAMER MYSTIC.

Leave Bartlett's wharf, Kittery, 6.35, 7.50, 8.45, 10.30, 11.45 a. m., 2.00, 3.15, 4.45, 6.00 p. m. Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 6.30, Saturday evening, 6.30, 8.00.

Leave Broughton's wharf, foot Daniel street, Portsmouth, 7.30, 8.00, 9.30, 11.00 a. m., 12.45, 2.00, 4.00, 5.15, 6.15 p. m., Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7.00, Saturday evenings, 7.30, 9.00.

☞ Fare five cents each way.

Common Sense

Should be used in attempting to cure that very disagreeable disease, catarrh. As catarrh originates in impurities in the blood, local applications can do no permanent good. The common-sense method of treatment is to purify the blood, and for this purpose there is no preparation superior to Hood's Sarsaparilla. That this peculiar medicine does indeed cure catarrh is shown by the many testimonials from people who have found relief upon using it when all others had failed. A book containing statements of cures sent on receipt of two cent stamp, by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Grover Cleveland has done more to advance the cause of free trade than any Prime Minister of England has done.—London Spectator.

A FAIR SAMPLE OF
40 SWORN CASES
OF THE VALUE OF

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND

THE RADICAL BLOOD PURIFIER.

DIPHTHERIA. SCROFULA.

Miss Lena Judkins, a daughter (17 years old) of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Judkins, 37 Boston St., Lynn, CURED by Dr. Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of very severe case of Scrofula, with Malignant Ulcers of eight years' standing, after 11 Physicians had failed. Almost a miracle. Now in perfect health. Sworn to before HARMON HALL, Justice of the Peace.

SCROFULOUS HUMOR.

Miss Mary Etta Leighton, a daughter (16 yrs. old) of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison G. Leighton, 16 Bickford Court, Lynn, CURED by Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of a deep seated Scrofulous Humor, with discharging eruptions, which had baffled eight physicians and the combined forces of two prominent hospitals. Perfectly cured, and without a blemish. Sworn to before CALVIN B. TUTTLE, Justice of the Peace.

Send for circular of 40 Sworn cases. They are solid facts and carry conviction.

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND.

is absolutely the greatest known Remedy for the Radical cure of Scrofula, Cancerous Humors, Diphtheritic or Mineral Blood-Poisoning, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Dropsy and Liver Complaint.

$1. per Bottle (6 for 5). At Druggists.
Lougee Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

DAY'S HORSE POWDER

Prevents Lung Fever and cures Distemper, Heaves, Fevers, &c., &c.
1 pound in each package.
Sold by all dealers.

DR. BULL'S BABY SYRUP

Facilitates Teething! Sold at druggists
Price 25 Cts. Regulates the Bowels!

25¢ A BOTTLE
BULL'S PAIN SALVATION OIL

BULL'S COUGH SYRUP
For the cure of Coughs, Colds, Croup, Incipient Consumption
Asthma, Whooping Cough, and for the relief of Consumptive persons
PRICE 25 CTS.
For Sale by all druggists.

SMOKE LANGE'S CUBEB CIGARETTES for Catarrh! Price 10 Cts. At all druggists.

A PROPHECY.

Seven unblown lilies by a ragged wall,
Seven unblown lilies, sleek and slim and tall;
Seven lilies by the rain
Bowed and blushed and bent again;
Now 'twere well to test, may be,
My great gift of prophecy!

Three shall bloom for love, and three shall bloom for death,
One shall bloom for hope until its dying breath;
Buds of hope grow on apace,
Buds of death bend low each face,
Hope that all so lonely grows,
You may be for me, who knows?

Seven full blown lilies by a ragged wall,
Seven full blown lilies, sleek and slim and tall;
Seven lilies in the sun,
Gleaming there, like silk new spun;
Gleaming, glowing, unaware
Death of them must have a share.

And yet as I watch them, ah! what sweet surprise
Comes up, all unbid, to look out of my eyes!
My love stands there, tall and grave,
Where the shining lilies wave;
Plucks them, one and two and all,
Leaves forlorn the ragged wall.

Lo! he comes apace and lays them at my feet;
Lo! he whispers: "Love, this is offering meet!"
Yet what of my gifts so dear,
Wisdom of an old time seer?
All that splendor bloomed for me;
To the winds my prophecy!

—J. Gertrude Menard in Boston Traveller.

Peculiar Kind of Dissipation.

It is not generally known that there is a peculiar kind of dissipation known as the "ginger vice." The victim is as much a slave to his appetite as the opium eater or whisky drinker, and it is even more insidious than either of these practices, inasmuch as it seems so harmless. It is really one of the most injurious of such practices, in time destroying the coating of the stomach and dooming the victim to a slow and agonizing death. The essence of ginger contains 100 per cent. of alcohol, while whisky has only 50 per cent. This is why ginger is a favorite beverage with topers whose stomachs are no longer capable of intoxication from whisky. The habit is well known to the drug trade, and, sad to say, many women are addicted to it. Every mother should be careful how she administers ginger.—Rural New Yorker.

Life of a Hindoo Wife.

Not only is our bride thus turned into a drudge, often unmercifully overworked, but from the day she gives up her childhood to the day of her death—it may be for sixty years—she is secluded, and sees nothing of the world outside the walls of her family inclosure. It should always, therefore, be borne in mind, when trying to realize Indian female life, what a very important thing the domestic economy is to a woman; how largely the petty affairs of the household loom upon her horizon. Her happiness or misery, indeed, entirely depend on the manner in which the affairs of the family are conducted. Now, considering that the female mind has for centuries been mainly directed to this all important matter, it is not astonishing to find that such questions as the proper method of eating and drinking, and of domestic propriety generally—the intercourse, that is, which is permissible and right between the various members of the household, male and female—have long been regulated with the utmost minuteness.

To us who roam the world at will, and whose interests are often fixed far more outside than inside our homes, it may seem remarkable that such infinitesimal restrictions and numberless customs as are found in full swing in an orthodox Hindoo household should be remembered and carried out with the exactitude demanded of the womenkind; but if we consider that these make up their whole life, and that they are called upon to pay attention to nothing else, their capacity for recollecting when to veil and unveil, whom to address and avoid, when they must run away, and when they may speak, ceases to be extraordinary.—Capt. R. C. Temple in Journal of the Society of Arts.

The Cemeteries of China.

But as soon as China was reached the silent cities of the dead came again to the fore, with greater prominence than ever. One stands on the walls of Canton, near the Five Storied Pagoda, and sees the hills to the north all covered with graves. It is the same near any Chinese city. The living occupy the city, and the level ground, the dead the hills. No corpse is allowed to be buried within the walls of a Chinese city, and without the vast cemeteries cover the hills, with no fence or other limitation about them. The Chinese family which can afford it builds a "horseshoe grave," or bricked vault on the hillside, with the end built up in the horseshoe form. Poorer people stick their dead in shallow graves, on which a small tablet of wood or stone is put. In some districts of Quang-tung, near the headwaters of the Pe-Kiang river, the cemeteries consist of big jars set in niches of the rocky cliff of the Ma-ling mountains. As you pass along the foot trails you see the steep rocks above thickly studded with these big earthern jars, in each of which is a human body in a sitting position.

In the rich alluvial plains, where no uncultivable hills are available for burying the dead, a graveyard resembles much a white ant village in Africa. The graves are sugar loaf mounds, thickly clustered together. While John Chinaman pays great respect to the dead, he takes care that they do not appropriate much ground that is of value to the living. The cemetery of a Chinese village among the rich rice fields covers little ground in proportion to the number of graves. It seemed to me that bodies must have been placed one on top of another or stood upright, so thick were the tapering mounds.—Thomas Stevens in Chicago Tribune.

Reaching to Remote Antiquity.

A few weeks since we alluded to the very interesting discovery of several thousand small tablets used by the Babylonian school children about 4,000 years ago. A more important study has recently been made among the ruins of an ancient city in upper Egypt, on the banks of the Nile. This discovery consists of a large number of tablets which gives us what certainly seems to be an authentic history of Egypt, or of some parts of it, from a date much earlier than that at which its present authenticated history begins, and which indicate an active correspondence between the most remote nations of the civilized east at least 1,200 years before the Exodus, a discovery which leads Professor Sayce, the distinguished English archæologist, to express the opinion that there may yet be similar "finds" in Palestine.

That country patiently awaits the spade of the excavator, and he thinks it quite probable that under the ruins of cities like Tyre and Byblos, the old Gibul of the Jews (Ez. xxvii, 9), and Kirjathsepher (the City of Letters), there may yet be found archæological treasures in the form of books on clay, giving as an authentic history, supplementing, if not ante-dating what we at present possess. Whether the recent discovery is to affect Old Testament criticism remains to be seen.—The Evangelist.

Getting Something for Nothing.

It is always impossible to get something for nothing honestly. It is always impossible to give something for nothing beneficently. This is as true in other realms as in the commercial. It is violated by other methods than those of the gambler. The man who gives a dime or a dollar to a beggar for nothing does nothing to alleviate poverty. He increases it. This is the lesson which the laggard brained world has been so long in learning. But we have learned it at last. This lazy kind of charity is not charity at all. This careless benevolence is not benevolence at all. He who makes the beggar earn the dime or the dollar, before or after, by service first rendered or by industry to be awakened and set in motion, does a charity. But he who gives and neither demands a compensating energy before nor arouses a compensating energy after gives nothing. He has only helped a man to violate the universal and inexorable moral law against all effort, however disguised, to get something for nothing.—Christian Union.

Reading Matter for Children.

When the child can read with understanding, he should have free access to all pure literature within the range of his capacity. He should be encouraged to read in the hearing of others those things that give him mental pleasure. Ease of manner and expression, flexibility of voice and agreeable intonation will come through a full understanding of what is read, and all will improve as his own mind fills up with new thoughts.—American Magazine Book Review.

The Dingo and the Kangaroo.

We had just rolled up our blankets, after camping out, preparatory to making up the fire and putting the billies on to boil, when we heard the heavy thud of a kangaroo leaping rapidly in a neighboring scrub. "It was the work of a moment," as the old fashioned novelists used to say, to get out our revolvers on the chance of a shot, but we paused to watch an interesting sight. A dingo was stealing swiftly along the edge of the scrub, parallel to the course of the kangaroo, and in ordinary circumstances a leaden messenger would have been promptly sent after him, with all the more probability of stopping him, as he paused occasionally to listen; but possible kangaroo steak was just then uppermost in our minds. In a minute or two the kangaroo suddenly broke from the open country, and the dingo, for whom he was evidently unprepared, made a splendid dash and pinned the marsupial by the shoulder. Almost instantly afterward a second dingo, who had no doubt been driving the game toward his companion, rushed out of the scrub and took the kangaroo on the opposite side. In spite of the poor beast's violent bounds hither and thither, he soon rolled over, and in an astonishingly short time the dingoes had put an end to his struggles.

"A fresh feed for certain now," whispered the stockman, and we began crawling on our hands and knees toward the spot, about 100 yards away, for a shot at the dingoes, who had been too much occupied in the excitement of the chase to notice us. The slightest noise, the chance breaking of a dead twig, or perhaps the motion of a tall blade of grass, sufficed to alarm them, and though the revolver bullets cut up the earth close to them, both went away uncathed. The kangaroo was quite dead. How they had mauled him in those two or three minutes! His chest was torn open under the foreleg, and his neck bitten through and through. These wild dogs seem to know instinctively where the great arteries are situated, and, unlike our domestic hounds, understand perfectly well how to kill a kangaroo without incurring the risk of a fatal stroke from its powerful hind legs, armed with those formidable chisel like nails. Some fresh cut steaks off the loin put us in good trim for the day's work.—Chambers' Journal.

Chilcat Woman of Alaska.

The civilized woman when she wants to be wooed attempts to make herself as attractive as possible. So does the Chilcat woman, but she has a different idea of what is attractiveness. One evening, after all the fishing canoes came in, I saw a young squaw, robed from head to foot in a deep red blanket, sitting stolidly on the end of a great spruce log a few rods away from the cannery and at a short distance from where the fishing canoes were moored, and where the fires of the Chilcat fishermen had been lighted. When, out of curiosity at her singular costume and position, I approached her, I found that she had blackened her face until it was blacker than that of the ordinary negro minstrel.

There was not a trace of her native duskiness, but the artificial black shone as if it were composed and put on from an article of good French blacking. In addition to that a long silver pin was stuck in her under lip and extended out from the chin a couple of inches, while a heavy silver ring hung from her nostrils and a host of massive silver bracelets adorned her wrists. She was simply a belle of the woods and of Chilcat Inlet endeavoring to make known to the young bucks around that she was in the matrimonial market according to native custom here. After sitting for an hour or more and not attracting any more attention than that prompted by my own curiosity, she left her twilight wooing place, shook out the folds of her red blanket, and walked with an air of indifference to an old tent on the beach, which appeared to be her habitation, and disappeared.—Sitka (Alaska) Cor. New York Times.

The Earth Slowly Changing.

In the universe everything is changing and everything is in motion, for motion itself is the first condition of vitality. The firm ground, long thought to be immovable, is subject to incessant motion; the very mountains rise or sink. Not only do the winds and ocean currents circulate round the planet, but the continents themselves, with their summits and valleys, are changing their places and slowly traveling round the circle of the globe. In order to explain all these geological phenomena it is no longer necessary to imagine alterations in the earth's axis, ruptures of the solid crust or gigantic subterranean downfalls. This not the mode in which nature generally proceeds; she is more calm and more regular in her operations, and, chary of her might, brings about changes of the grandest character without even the knowledge of the beings that she nourishes. She upheaves mountains and dries up seas without disturbing the flight of the gnat. Some revolution which appears to us to have been produced by a mighty cataclysm has, perhaps, taken thousands of years to accomplish.—Science.

Ideas Which Seem to Be Indigenous to All Countries—Examples.

Examples of ideas which seem to be indigenous to all countries occur to the mind in bewildering redundancy. "One swallow does not make a spring" we find alike in English, German and Russian. In the sunny south it takes the form, "One flower does not make a garland." In Italy we find "He who grasps all, less gets," in France, "He who embraces too much binds badly," and in our own country, "Grasp all, lose all." Our "Birds of a feather flock together" is represented by the Italian "Every like covers its like;" the Greek, "A comrade loves a comrade;" the French, "Qui se ressemble, s'assemble." Plato declared more than 2,000 years ago that "A beginning is half of all," and he has found an echo in our "What's begun is half done," and in the Italian, "Who commences well is at the half of the task."

There is true Oriental ring about such proverbs as "Among the sandal trees are deadly serpents," "Rivers have lotuses, but also alligators." It is needless to suggest the western correlatives. "By a number of straws twisted together elephants can be bound," is again only the Indian form of the Scotch, "Many a little makes a mickle."

The Greeks, wishing to cast doubts upon a man's probity, declared him to be "A sheep with a fox's tail," which answers to our "Wolf in sheep's clothing," and the French, "Il fait is bon apotre." The familiar "Finis coronet opus" has passed by literal translation into French and Russian. "All's well that ends well," bears a strong likeness to the German "Ende gut Alles gut." There is a lengthy Oriental provob, "Let a cur's tail be warmed, pressed out straight and swathed with bandages; if released after twelve years it will nevertheless return to its natural shape." It is easy to trace the similarity of idea our "You cannot make a silk purse out of a sow's ear." "Man proposes, God disposes," appears in the German, while in Russian it takes the form, "God makes the crooked arrow straight." "Charity begins at home" in Russian assumes the more graphic and suggestive form, "One's own shirt is nearest to one's body."

We discourage carrying "coals to Newcastle," the French deprecate taking "water to the river." We "drink as we brew," or would if we could; the French "sleep on the bed as they have made it." The old Athenian was as much concerned to see a bull in the city as we are when that quadruped appears in a china shop. With us "still water runs deep;" in Russia they "swarm with devils," a much more vigorous figure.—The Examiner.

Concerning Consanguineous Marriages.

Dr. Shuttleworth some time ago communicated to the British Medical association the results of the inquiries which he had made into the influence of consanguineous marriages on offspring. For want of a uniform basis of comparison positively accurate conclusions are hard to reach. His opinion on the subject, generally expressed, is that "first cousin marriages are to some extent favorable to the production of idiot children." Extending his inquiries to the life histories of the parents, he found that in the greater number of cases causes of idiocy could be discovered in addition to or independently of consanguinity.

This is in harmony with the conclusion published by Dr. C. F. Withington, that morbid inheritance rather than specific degenerative tendency will account for all the infirmities met with in the offspring of cousins. We may therefore assume that "the great danger in the intermarriage of cousins lies in the circumstance that when there is a neurotic inheritance, there are two certain morbid factors to contend with rather than a possible one." On the whole, "the balance of evidence would appear to be in favor of the conclusion that where a close scrutiny fails to discover any heritable weakness, neurotic or otherwise, consanguineous marriage per se is not necessarily a thing to be prohibited.—Popular Science Monthly.

The Huckleberry and Blueberry.

They are the only ones of the popular berries, says a contemporary, that have not been improved by cultivation. Middle aged men can recall the time when the strawberry and blackberry were rather poor, commonplace fruit, but they have been cultivated, grown from seed, and the result is the toothsome berries which now adorn our tables. But the huckleberry we eat now is the same which tickled the palates of our great grandfathers. Word has gone forth to improve this berry, to grow it in gardens from seed, and select the variety which gives the best result.

It is not generally known, but nearly all our edible plants and fruits were originally weeds, or so inferior kind as to be scarcely fit for human uses. But for countless generations man has been improving his environment, but more especially the grains and fruit upon which he now lives. The human palate itself must have been greatly improved in sensibility, owing to the difference between what fruits and vegetables were and what they are. There are those who think that this process is to go on, and that other weeds will be turned into useful plants, and that by scientific methods the quantity of food will be at length so great that no human being will ever die of starvation.—Scientific American.

Sugar Instead of Kerosene.

It was in Boston and not long ago that the mistress of a house, not much given to going into the kitchen, entered one day unexpectedly, just in time to catch her kitchen maid in the act of emptying a scoopful of granulated white sugar into the fire. Sugar succeeding inflammable, and its application made the fire flash up in excellent shape. The head of the house had noticed that he was called upon to pay for a great many barrels of sugar, and his wife had wondered at the family's enormous consumption of that article; but she did not wonder any more, especially as the girl, under pressure, confessed that she had regularly been using the sugar to quicken the fire. "Shure, mum," she said, "we must have the fire, an' the coal burns that slow that me heart is broke waitin' upon it!"—Boston Transcript.

Her Grief Too New.

Servant (to widow only recently bereaved)—There is an old clothes man at the door, mum, 'what wants to know have you got any cast off garments to sell?

Widow (with a burst of grief)—Ah, no, Bridget, not now, not now. Tell him to call a few days later.—Philip H. Welch in The Epoch.

MAKE HENS LAY
NOTHING ON EARTH WILL MAKE HENS LAY LIKE SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER.
WE SEND BY MAIL A LARGE 2¼ POUND CAN FOR $1.20, TWO $
SMALL PACKS 50 CTS POST PAID.

Sheridan's Condition Powder

is absolutely pure and highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other kind. Strictly! Will prevent and cure all diseases of hens, to be given in the food, once daily, in small doses. Testimonials and free by mail. Ask your druggist, grocer, general store, or feed dealer for it. If you can't get it, send

POST OFFICE RULES.

MAILS CLOSE

	A. M.		P. M.
Boston, N. Y., south, west,	8:00	10:20	2:20	4:50	6:45
Boston and way stations,		10:20	2:20		6:45
Portland,	9:25		4:50		6:45
Portland and way stations,	9:25		4:50
East (beyond Portland)	9:25				6:45
Great Falls, Rochester, Wolfeboro Union Milton,	9:25				4:50
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,	9:25
Concord & Manchester,	7:40	10:20			4:50
Concord, Manchester and north,	7:40		4:50
Exeter and B. & M. way, west of Newmarket,	7:40		4:50
Dover,	9:25		2:20	4:50	6:45
Somersworth, Conway,	9:25				6:45
York and Cape Neddick,		9:20
Newcastle,		10:20
Newington,		10:20
Boston, N. Y. and south, Sunday,					1:00

MAILS ARRIVE.

	A. M.		P. M.
Boston, south and west,	10:05	3:10	5:40	7:00	9:00
New York,	10:05		5:40	7:00
Boston and way stations,	10:05		5:40
Portland and east,	7:20	11:00	3:00
Great Falls, Rochester, Union, Milton,	8:30	11:00
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,		11:00
Concord, Manchester and north,		10:30		6:30
Dover,	7:30	10:30		3:00	5:40
Newcastle,		9:30
Newington,		9:30
York and Cape Neddick,		11:00
B. & M. R. R., west of Newmarket,		10:30		6:30

S. J. GERRISH, P. M.

MINATURE ALMANAC NOV. 8.

SUN RISES	6:35	MOON SETS	7:3 P. M
SUN SETS	4:31	FULL SEA	12:30 A. M
LENGTH OF DAY	10:6		12:45 P. M

PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Open Monday, Tuesday, Friday and Saturday evenings from 7:30 to 9:00 P. M., and Wednesday and Saturday afternoons from 3:30 to 6:00 o'clock

Weather Indications.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

Indications: Fair, slight rise in temperature, easterly winds.

The demand for yesterday's CHRONICLE was convincing proof that the citizens of Portsmouth appreciate our efforts to give them a live newspaper. It was with difficulty that the supply could be kept up with the demand. It was yet dark when our nimble newsboys were crying the CHRONICLE all over the city, and our carriers delivering the paper to the city subscribers. "It goes like hot cakes," was the forcible and expressive remark of one small ten-year-old boy as he rushed into the office for the third time to get fifty copies. The circulation of yesterday's CHRONICLE was phenomenal. With nearly six columns of telegraphic news of the election brought down to an early hour, later than contained in the Boston papers, we feel that we can point with pride to yesterday's paper. We were enabled to thus give to Portsmouth a good, newsy paper, and which was fully appreciated, as is shown by the number of new subscribers. An Extra CHRONICLE which was put on the street soon after eight o'clock, with the news brought down to within a few minutes of publication, had a large sale, and kept our press running to its full capacity. We modestly accept the compliments bestowed, and promise to keep up the good work.

HOW THE NEWS WAS RECEIVED.

Tuesday night was jubilee time for the republicans of Portsmouth and vicinity. The democratic victory in the city did not dishearten them in the least, as they realized that the campaign had been fought against hopeless odds. Democratic local success was assured from the first, and when the democracy resorted to improper manupulation of the checklists, and the use of the most potent means at hand to influence such voters as lacked stamina requisite to stand firmly out against intimidation or financial persuasion, to vote for Cleveland, the case became more and more hopeless. The action of Hon. Ezra H. Winchester in pronouncing against proposed intimidation of employes at the Machine Company's works, and the manly attitude of Hon. Alonzo Nute, now Congressman-elect, assuring employment to such unfortunates as might be discharged for voting as they wished, were the only encouraging incentives at the close of the canvass, other than the innate zeal which possessed the indomitable phalanx who were in the thick and thin of the fight. No money was used for the purchase of votes for Harrison, but unless rumor is very wild, it was liberally used on the other side. Aside from this, it is a notorious fact that fully thirty per cent of the Cleveland votes came from unwilling hands, while, if the election of Harrison and Morton had been as evident to the rank and file of the free trade camp as it was to the supporters of Harrison, the vote for the President-elect in Portsmouth would have been increased by hundreds. Portsmouth republicans never had more desperate oyponents, and the record shows the stuff they are made of. The returns show that no small percentage of the Harrison votes came from the Independent Democratic organizations, which quietly did most effective work before the voting began, and followed it up with systematic success at the polls. Besides, there were many democrats who did not care to vote against their party, and resolutely refrained from endorsing Cleveland, on account of his free trade tendencies. In some cases, they left the city to escape the persistency of the leaders.

The early evening brought very few returns, and those mostly from unimportant towns in this state and Massachusetts. Seemingly, the democrats were content with their local victory, and escaped from sight shortly after the close of the polls. Meanwhile, the republicans crowded the streets, and massed on Islington near Fleet street, and at Franklin hall, the headquarters of the Winchester Guards, where special arrangements had been made to receive returns and have them thrown on a screen by means of a stereopticon. The anxious hours wore into another day, which found many hundreds of the DAILY CHRONICLE and sole control, were the first that brought satisfaction to the waiting crowd, who very soon ascertained the source of the exhilarating news and in satiately called for more. The scene was one that enlivened the hearts of all doubters. We do not remember a campaign in which republicans here showed such confidence of success prior to the receipt of returns, as was exhibited Tuesday night. Every one anticipated good news and so appreciated it most fully, when it came.

The earlier reports from New York city were coolly scanned and discussed until it was found that the Cleveland majority was considerably lower than had been expected. Brooklyn's decrease also warmed the Republican heart, and when the upper counties of the state began to pile in their quotas of gains, men grew frantic, and cheers and handshaking became the rule. The CHRONICLE's information that Chairman Quay had estimated the Cleveland plurality at 75,000 below Harlem bridge, in New York, and Harrison's lead above the bridge at 90,000 or more, and that Mr. Quay had wired Gen. Harrison that his plurality in the state could not possibly fall below 12,000, furnished the signal for an outburst of enthusiastic hilarity that was heard many blocks away. On top of this came a New York special to the effect that the Sun and the Times conceded the electoral vote of that state to Harrison and Morton. Then those who had "ears to hear" found use for them.

No band or drum corps being available, a fifer and drummer were secured, re-enforced by a volunteer base drummer who had borrowed the instrument for the occasion, and several hundred enthusiastic republicans, marshalled by Major G. A. Brown, of the Winchester Battalion, were soon marching the streets. As they passed down Pleasant street they greeted the CHRONICLE with cheers, a compliment which is hereby fraternally acknowledged. The gloomy resorts of the Cleveland forces were not forgotten, and the dark alcoves of the deserted headquarters echoed back the inquiries as to what was the matter with Benjamin Harrison. The processionists, who confidently asserted that "He's all right," were recruited in numbers by accessions from republicans who had sought repose before the good news came, and the triumphant army marched all over the city, cheering and singing to their hearts' content. Daylight came before the concluding strains of "Marching Through Georgia" and "Rally 'Round the Flag" were hushed.

One of the leaders in the march was Mr. Elvin Newton, whose signal efforts at polling every vote possible for Harrison and Morton during the day had made him prominent, and now suggested that if the procession would halt, he would secure the Portsmouth band. Mr. Newton was rejoicing over the possession of a well-filled pocket-book, to which various inconsiderate Cleveland followers had inponsiderately contributed in their eagerness to wager on their faith. The crowd lingered, the band came, and with it a supply of new brooms enveloped in flag bandanas. At shoulder arms, the procession took up its line of march and wore away the time until the dinner hour, saluting prominent citizens, and residences where impromptu decorations were improvised. The citizens of Portsmouth were very cognizant before the parade ended that Harrison was, indeed, "all right." An amusing incident was a triple countermarch opposite the Portsmouth Shoe Factory, where attempts to induce the voters to cast ballots against the cause they loved, had been made previous to election day.

Another jubilant procession marched about town Wednesday evening. Congress street below Middle was ablaze with red flame at seven o'clock, and a parade was started, headed by the Portsmouth Band and Winchester Guards, who turned out in full ranks. A large delegation from Kittery had arrived to help in any celebration that might be decided upon. The broom brigade of several hundred persons quickly fell into line, and accompanied the Guards about town. Many residences were illuminated. The enthusiasm of the paraders did not wane till a late hour. A hayrack and ancient vehicles filled with tin horn bands contributed greatly to the general amusement. Bonfires blazed in all directions.

PORTSMOUTH REPUBLICAN CLUB.

The members of the Republican Club of this city are requested to meet at headquarters this (Thursday) evening at 7:30, to consider important business.

PER ORDER.

A SMALL RIOT.

Last evening a crowd of Portsmouth democrats were engaged in celebrating by a parade the "victory" of their party, and were evidently intent on quarrelling with the republican paraders. They finally succeeded, for when the republican procession was on Deer street, the others waited until the Winchester Guards had passed, and then drew across the street ahead of the rest of the paraders. This of course made trouble; the Winchesters turned back to the aid of their assailed friends, and torches, tin horns and broomhandles were freely used until the police quelled the disturbance. Several persons are reported to have received cuts and bruises, but the most serious thing about the affair was the display of democratic intolerance and lawlessness.

The democratic loss of the presidency, and of their majority in the national house of representatives, was not sufficient to quell their joy at having saved Portsmouth, and some of them had a parade in honor of the victory last evening, number of voters were at the Direct Cable station during the evening to hear reports from the election.

Many of our citizens saw a meteor shoot across the sky from east to west about seven o'clock last evening, and pronounced it the most brilliant one they ever saw.

A dinner to the old folks of the Congregational society is to be given on the 14th inst. in the afternoon, to which former pastors of the church have been invited.

An entertainment is on the tapis for the purpose of raising funds to furnish suitable fixtures for the stage of the town hall.

The frame of the Christian church is up and the sides boarded in, and appearances indicate that the edifice when completed, will be an ornament to Rye Center.

NAT.

DIED.

SCRIGGINS. In Covington, Ky., Oct. 25th, Mr. Charles Scriggins, aged about 45 years, formerly of Kittery, Me.

MARINE CHRONICLE.

PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

ARRIVED Nov. 6th.

Sch G W Raitt, Coleman, Boston.

SAILED Nov. 6th.

Sch Eva B Douglass, Lotts, Baltimore, to load for this port.

Sch Delaware, Hutchins, Ellsworth.

Sch Trion, Amee, Boston.

Sch Lillie, Perkins, Boston.

Sloop Screamer, Littlefield, Rockport.

ARRIVED Nov. 7th.

Sch Laurence Haines, Lewis, New York, with 487 tons coal to J Albert Walker.

Sch Charles E Balch, Anderson, Baltimore, with 1341 tons coal to J Albert Walker.

Sch Priscilla Scribner, Scribner, Philadelphia, with 701 tons coal to J Albert Walker.

Sch Fannie Hodgkins, Kimball, New York, (will dlsg at Dover.)

Sch Homer Kimball, ——, New York, coal.

SAILED Nov. 7th.

Sch Clara B Kennard, Freeman, Boston.

Sch Minnesota, Smith, east.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO. 106 Wall Street, New York.

Situation Wanted.

A YOUNG MAN from the country, of good habits, would like to secure employment in a private family, or with a business firm.

Enquire at this office.

To Let.

THE middle Tenement, No. 23, in the Kenney Block on Pleasant Street. Apply to

J. P. HART.

NOTICE.

IF you want PURE CIDER VINEGAR of the best quality, we are headquarters for the same.

J. E. YEATON & CO.
55 Congress street.

Dwelling House for Sale.

THE residence of the late Mrs. Daniel Libbey, No. 126 State Street, can be purchased on application to

JOHN SISE,
JOSEPH SISE, } Executors

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

The three-story (above the grade floor)

BRICK STORE BUILDING

NO. 16 BOW STREET,

Running back over the wharf to the river, occupied for a long time by the late Charles Robinson as a wholesale corn and flour store. Sold to close up an estate Enquire of

J. P. MORSE, Real Estate Broker.

JOHN H. BROUHTON,

No. 66 Daniel St., Portsmouth, N. H.

— DEALER IN —

EASTERN AND WESTERN

LUMBER!

Shingles,
Clapboards
and Laths.

— ALSO —

Best Newark Hydraulic Cement,
Best Extra and No. 1 Lime

FOR SALE AT LOWEST PRICES.

JOSIAH F. ADAMS

Embalmer and Funeral Director,

WAREROOMS: NO. 5 DANIEL ST.

Coffins, Caskets and Robes Always on Hand. Hearse and Carriages Furnished. Cemetery Lots Cared For, &c.

☞ Orders by day or night left at No. 27 Washington St., or with Mr. Robert King, No. 5 Hill St., will receive prompt attention.

Furnaces,

Ranges & Stoves.

We are now ready to show the Finest Line of

RANGES AND PARLOR STOVES

Ever offered in this city, at Prices within the reach of all. Call and See Them Before Buying, it will Pay You.

LAMPS!

LAMPS!

Our Stock of Lamps is Complete, the

Lux Dux, Rochester, Banner, Duplex,

All First-Class, and will be Sold at the Lowest Prices.

PLUMBING, GAS PIPING, COPPER AND SHEET IRON WORK, AT

John P. Sweetser's,

46 MARKET STREET.

MUSIC HALL, PORTSMOUTH.

JOHN O. AYERS.....MANAGER.

ONE WEEK, COMMENCING

Monday, Nov. 12th.

Popular Family Matinees Wednesday, Friday and Saturday at 2:30 P. M.

EQUESCURRICULUM!

Beautifully Trained

30 HORSES, PONIES & MULES. 30

Under the Management of JNO. C. PATRICK.

The Only School of Educated Horses in the World.

The Equine Wonders of the 19th Century.

The Fun Provoking Mule, DENVER

The Mathematical Wonder, MATTIE

A Superb Mounted Military Band and Complete Orchestra.

OUR PRICES, 25, 35 AND 50 CENTS.

Sale of Seats opens at Goodrich's Book Store, Thursday Morning, Nov. 8th.

NOTICE.—Children under 12 years of age can secure a Reserved Seat at the Matinee for 25c.

ED. H. NEIL, Gen. Agt. E. S. DAVIDSON, Adv. Agt.

For One Week Longer, Only,

COMMENCING NOV. 1st,

WILL SELL

Rubber Water Bottles

AT THESE PRICES;

ONE QUART PLAIN	$1.00
ONE QUART COVERED	1.14
TWO QUART PLAIN	1.14
TWO QUART COVERED	1.23
THREE QUART PLAIN	1.23
THREE QUART COVERED	1.32

William D. Grace,

APOTHECARY,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

BABY CARRIAGE FOR SALE.

A BABY CARRIAGE of modern patter straw, hood top, in perfect order, for sale

Enquire at this office

FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

RED FIRE!

QUALITY GUARANTEED.

ANDREW P. PRESTON,

Apothecary, - Portsmouth, N. H.

'A PERFECT BLEND

MOCHA AND JAVA COFFEE

FULL WEIGHT, 2 POUND CANS, PRICE 70 CENTS.

CHARLES E. LAIGHTON & SON,

Exchange Building, Opp. Post-Office.

FALL AND WINTER OF 1888-89.

Our Assortment of Tailoring Goods is superior in many respects to any of previous years, embracing a Full Line of Goods suitable for

Fall and Winter Overcoatings.

Aslo, a Fine Assortment of the Best

IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC GOODS FOR SUITINGS,

Consisting of Stripes, Checks, Plain and Fancy Woollens and Worsteds in Great Variety.

CHECKS AND STRIPES FOR TROWSERS.

FANCY PATTERNS FOR VESTING.

Prices Reasonable for Fine Work.

WM. P. WALKER, - - MERCHANT TAILOR,

NO. 8 MARKET SQUARE.

THE BEST BONDS ARE POLICIES

— IN THE —

Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York

THE LARGEST, CHEAPEST AND BEST IN THE WORLD.

Assets - - over $120,000,000.

RICHARD A. MCCURDY, - PRESIDENT.

PROTECTION FOR THE AGED!

At Age of 75 $1000 will purchase an Annuity of $159.06, and other ages in proportion.

Those Desiring Reliable Insurance Should Apply to the Undersigned,

C. M. GIGNOUX, - - GENERAL AGENT,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

ILSLEY & MOORE,

Fire Life and Accident Insurance Agents and Brokers No. 3 Pleasant St., Portsmouth N. H.

NOTICE:—The undersigned gives notice to all whom it may concern, that he has purchased from the sole member of the old firm of MORSE & ILSLEY, all rights to the Fire Insurance Business heretofore carried on by that firm, and is duly authorized by all the Companies represented by them to have and hold all their records.

WINGATE N. ILSLEY.

Facilities for placing the largest lines of Fire Insurance in the best Companies.

Agents for the Equitable Life Ins. Society of the U. S. New England Mutual Life Ins. Co. of Boston, Mass., and the Fidelity & Casualty Ins Co., of New York. sept

Look in at Conn's

— AND SEE THE —

BUTTER!

From the very best Dairies in Vermont and New York. Creameries are of no account compared with these Dairies. Also,

Cheese Pork. Lard. Hams, Beans Etc

No Oleo or Second-Hand Stuff kept.

☞ The very best quality of LARD bought by the car-load, which I am selling less than the Boston prices.

BRAKE THEIR VICTORY.

A meeting of republicans was largely attended last evening at the headquarters on Congress street, to consider the question of having a grand demonstration in honor of the election of Harrison and Morton. The matter met with great favor from those present. Mr. Joseph R. Curtis was called to the chair, and Mr. Joseph A. Randall was chosen secretary. It was decided to have a grand procession on next Monday night; to invite republican campaign organizations from neighboring towns and cities to participate, also the Independent Democratic club of this city; and to invite Hon. David H. Goodell, Governor-elect, M. Alonzo Nute, Congressman-elect, and all other successful republican candidates to be present.

The following gentlemen comprise the executive committee, having full charge: Elvin S. Newton, Hiram C. Locke, John E. Rider, Fred Duncan, Simon R. Marsten, John H. Locke, Joseph R. Curtis, Joseph A. Randall, James M. Salter, Oliver H. Cook, H. P. Kent, and W. H. Moore.

Col. Simon R. Marston was chosen chief marshal, and all the necessary business was done looking toward a fitting and glorious celebration of the success of the republican national ticket as achieved at the polls on Tuesday last.

The executive committee invite ladies of republican sympathy to furnish doughnuts and sandwiches for collation, and it is desired of all republicans who can, that they provide themselves with a torch, flag, or broom, and turn out on the occasion.

PERSONAL.

Mr. John C. Stevens of Washington street, employed as a watchman at the navy yard, and who has been reported as very dangerously ill, was on the mending hand Wednesday.

Mr. A. Coburn Hoyt and family have moved from Christian Shore to their winter residence on State street.

AROUND HOME.

Pears' Soap is an elegant toilet adjunct.

"Paint the town red:"—at Preston's you can find a guaranteed article of Red Fire.

Our latest great bargain, Gentleman's Scarlet Shirts and Drawers at seventy-four cents. They are regular $1.00 quality. LEWIS E. STAPLES, 7 Market St.

Eliot, once as reliably democratic as Rye or Newington, not long ago, either, gave Harrison 206 and Cleveland 165. Kittery's vote was, rep. 433, dem. 189, prohib. 1.

Messrs. Henry Rogers and George W. Palfrey fired a salute of one hundred guns from the tan-yard wharf, commencing at eleven o'clock Wednesday night, in honor of the Republican national victory.

The employes of the CHRONICLE, though pretty well tired out with the extra work of election night, and busy on Thursday's paper, managed to leave their frames long enough to show some red and green fires when the jubilant republicans paraded past the office on Wednesday evening.

Sheriff Coffin and County Solicitor Emery, who lead their ticket, in this vicinity, claim to be re-elected beyound a doubt. The democrats also claim the success of the remainder of their county ticket, with the possible exception of one candidate for county commissioner, Mr. Joseph A. Randall of this city, one of the republican nominess where election is a probability if he does as well, relatively, in the upper portion of the county, as he did in this city.

Two of our police had occason to arrest a drunken man yesterday afternoon on Congress street, and their treatment of the unfortunate fellow, as described by witnesses, bordered on brutality. The prisoner was so overcome by liquor that he had little control of himself, and in their endeavor to keep him up and bear him along, kicked and struck him repeatedly and with such force as to arouse the indignation of those who saw the outrage. Not content with the abuse they administered to the person of the individual they were arresting, they shocked the ears of all hearers by their profane and abusive expressions.

ITEMS FROM RYE.

RYE, Nov. 7th.

Election passed off very quiety. The meeting was called to order at one o'clock, and G. H. Jenness was chosen moderator without opposition. This is the sixth consecutive time he has filled that position at presidential elections, and we trust that he may officiate as many times more, with the same ability and impartiality he has invariably shown while occupying the chair heretofore. The candidates nominated at the democratic caucus, for supervisors, representative, and delegate, were all chosen unanimously,—Charles A. Walker, Richard P. Goss and S. W. Foss for the former, Charles H. Rand for representative, and Charles J. Brown for delegate to the convention ot revise the constitution.

The counting of the ballots for electors and state officers was something of a surprise to both parties, as neither thought that the republicans would make such a net gain. Cleveland got 170, Harrison 99—against 187 and 71 in 1884, a gain of twenty-five for the republicans.

The balance of the tickets was the same, with the exception that Coffin got ten republican vote, and Sinclair ran three behind his ticket. The prohibition party got two votes, and Chapman, their

THE OLDEST AND ONLY Republican Morning Paper IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

IF YOU WANT TO BUY OR SELL ANYTHING ADVERTISE IN THE Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 24, 1852. | PORTSMOUTH, N. H., FRIDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 9, 1888. | $5 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE. TWO CENTS PER COPY.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

FRIDAY, NOV. 9, 1888.

The News!

ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES.

NO LET UP IN THE GOOD NEWS.

West Virginia Conceded to Harrison. A Republican Legislature.

The Next House is Republican by 21 Majority.

INDIANA SAFE.

Washington Territory Comes in Out of the Rain. Her Sheep Interests Did It.

READ AND BE HAPPY!

West Virginia Conceded to the Republicans. A Republican Legislature.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WHEELING, W. VA., Nov. 8th.—Despatches to-night from the capital of the state announce that Democratic state treasurer Thompson concedes West Virginia to the republicans by from 400 to 700 majority. The republican state committee here claim the state by a much larger majority. They claim at least three and probably four congressmen, and claim majorities for electoral ticket and in the legislature. The republican enthusiasm in the city to-night is unprecedented.

Harrison's Plurality in Indiana About 2000.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 8.—Returns from 80 counties in Indiana (partly official) shows Harrison's plurality to be 1936. The counties to be heard from gave Blaine a plurality of 134 in 1884.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8th.—Late this afternoon Edward McPherson said: "All information obtainable up to afternoon justifies me in expressing the opinion that the next house will consist of 173 Republicans and 152 Democrats. There is possibility that Republican majority will be reduced by later advices to 19 or 20, but I have made liberal allowances in my calculations for all Democratic claims." Representative Breckenridge of Kentucky, Democratic member of Ways and Means Committee, expressed the opinion that the Republican majority in next house will be very slender and is confident it cannot exceed 10 in any event. According to his calculation the Republicans must show a gain of 19 Republicans to secure majority. And he does not believe they have much exceeded that figure.

Serious Illness of Ex-Senator Barnum.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 8.—W. H. Barnum of the Democratic National committee is seriously ill, at his home at Lime Rock. He was taken sick a week ago in New York and returned home on Monday. His illness assumed a dangerous character. Tonight his condition is slightly improved. The trouble is caused by over-work resulting in nervous prostration.

Democrats Gain Two Congressmen In Indiana.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 8t.—From nearly complete returns from all the congressional districts it is believed the Indiana delegation in Congress will stand: Democrats 8, Republicans 5, an increase of 2 for the Democrats.

Maine's Majority.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

AUGUSTA, ME., Nov. 8.—Chairman Manley sent the following telegram from here today, to Gen. Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis, Ind.: The Republicans of Maine send their sincere congratulations and Maine gives you its electoral vote by twenty-five thousand plurality.

(Signed) I. H. MANLEY.

Tried To Make it Unanimous.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, VT., Nov. 8.—224 towns give Harrison 43,490, Cleveland 16,159, Fisk 1337, scattering 34; same in 1884 gave Blaine 37,723, Cleveland 16,423, St. John 1730, Butler 690. Harrison's majority over all 25,760. Republican gain over 1884, 7080.

CONVENTION SECRETS.

An Interesting Talk with Mr. Depew.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8th.—The Commercial Advertiser publishes a statement by Chauncey M. Depew, in which is given an account of the inside workings of the Chicago convention which led to the nomination of Gen. Harrison. "After the first day's balloting," said Mr. Depew, "it was apparent that the west was so much opposed to the candidacy of a railroad president, that there was no show for me—so I determined to withdraw. The important question was whom should the New York delegation support? Their preferences were numerous; some insisted on voting for Blaine; and others wanted to break for Sherman, Gresham and other candidates. As chairman of the delegation, I called a conference of the four delegates-at-large, who controlled in a measure the course of the delegation. They met, Senator Hiscock, Hon. Thomas C. Platt and Warner Miller, and myself. I spoke first and proposed that Harrison should be supported as he was the most available man, on his record as a soldier, and his record in the Senate, and I confess I urged his adoption by us on sentimental grounds; he was grandson of old Tippecanoe, but other delegates-at-large did not look at matters through my spectacles, Mr. Platt favored another man. Senator Hiscock had a different choice. Warner Miller wanted a third man, still we were all willing to surrender our preferences in favor of others for the good of the party. No, I won't tell you the preferences of the other delegates. I only say I alone favored Harrison. A long discussion ensued. I did my share of the talking, you may be sure, and the result of it was that four of us agreed on Harrison. Then I called a meeting of the New York delegation; all were present. I told them of the action of the delegation-at-large and asked their opinion. Fifty-eight agreed with us, twenty-four differed, and no amount of persuasion could convince them that Harrison was the man to win. Here was a snag of large size. New York wanted the honor of naming the President, still it could not be the deciding factor in the conventions unless, after my withdrawal, it would go solidly for some other candidate. What did I do? Well I thought the matter over for hours and then invited the delegation to dinner, but did not try to convince recalcitrants. I simply gave them good things to eat, good drink to enlighten their understanding, and behold the result. By the time the dinner was ended, every mother's son of them was shouting for Harrison. This result was largely due to speeches by Senator Hiscock, Warner Miller, Ex-Senator Platt and Senator Fassett, who after the first conference heartily supported Harrison. The rest is ancient history. New York voted for Harrison, he was nominated by acclamation. Dinner satisfied New York's vote." "What's the matter with a good dinner as a political factor?" asked Mr. Depew, laughing heartily.

Speculations About President Harrison's Cabinet.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8. — Ex-Assistant secretary of treasury Chas. E. Coon thinks Sherman will be secretary of state, Warner Miller secretary of the treasury, Blaine minister to England. Mail and Express rep. thinks Gen. Alger will be Secretary of War, though Gen. James H. Wilson of Delaware has a chance, John C. New Post Master General, Senator Frye Secretary of the Navy. Mr. Michener of Indiana Attorney General, Senator Allison or Warner Miller secretary of the Interior. Blaine will succeed Frye in the Senate and Reed of Maine will be speaker.

The Republicans Carry Oregon by 8,000

And Washington Territory by 5,000.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

PORTLAND, OREGON, Nov. 8th.—More than three-fourths of full returns received from Oregon. Vote increased nearly ten per cent over that of last June. Republican majority is increased in just about same proportion. The vote of State nearly 66,000. The Republican majority is fully 8000. In Washington Territory, Allen, rep., is elected to Congress by not less than 5000 majority. This shows Republican gain of over 7000 since 1886. Legislature in both branches is Republican.

PENSACOLA, FLA. Nov. 8. — Florida gone democratic by over 13,000 majority and elects both democratic congressmen.

NEW YORK, Nov 8.—There were about 151,000 votes cast in this city for and 50,000 against the constitutional amendment for Governor to increase the facilities of the court of appeals.

DES MOINES, IOWA, Nov. 8.—Sixty-one counties complete give Harrison net gain of 10,583, or plurality so far of 26,000. Remaining 36 counties will probably raise the plurality to 34,000.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 —The contest in the fifth congressional district of Maryland is not yet settled. The Sun figures Compton (Dem.) elected by three. The American is equally positive that Mudd (Rep.) has received a plurality of one. It looks as though final settlement will have to be made by congress.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8 —Count completed in 140 precincts in this city out of a total of 176, gives Cleveland 26,086, and Harrison 26 116.

DENVER, COL., Nov. 8.—State returns show, with the exception of three members of the legislature, that the entire Republican ticket is elected by a majority of 8000 to 10,000.

ATLANTA, GA., Nov. 8th.—The returns of recent gubernatorial election were opened before legislature to-day. Gov. Gordan received 122,785 with not more than 400 against him.

Telegrams to Gen. Harrison.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 8.—Gen. Harrison began to receive congratulory telegrams from New York and east early as 9 o'clock election night, when the first meagre returns indicated his probable election. From that time to the present writing, telegrams and letters of congratulation have poured in from every city in the Union, being fully 5000. Among them are the following:

NEW YORK, Nov. 8—The national committee is closing its headquarters and its last act is to congratulate you and the country upon your election.

M. S. QUAY.

AUGUSTA, ME., Nov. 8.—Accept my sincere congratulations on your splended victory. Your election opens a patriotic epoch in the history of the country.

JAMES G. BLAINE.

WASHINGTON, D C., Nov. 8th.—Please accept congratulations of the candidate of the "Equal right party" on your election.. BELVA LOCKWOOD.

LEWISTON, ME., Nov. 8th—I congratulate country on its deliverance, and you as its deliverer. WM. P. FRYE.

MANSFIELD, OHIO, Nov 8.—Accept my hearty congratulations.

JOHN SHERMAN.

DETROIT, MICH., Nov. 8.—Accept my heart felt congratulations upon your great victory. Michigan has given you nearly or quite twenty thousand plurality. "God bless you." R. A. ALGER.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Accept cordial congratulations. New York is supremely happy. Republicans are jubilant and democrats shedding their tears.

CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW.

CANTON, OHIO, Nov. 8.—Accept heartiest congratulations.

WM M. MCKINLEY, JR.

They Will Have a Jubilee.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—A jubilee meeting under the auspicies of the Home Market club will be held at the Hotel Vendome in this city next Thursday evening. Invitation was sent today to Levi P. Morton, Gen. Russell, Alger, Warner Miller, James G. Blaine, M. S. Quay, Chauncey M. Depew, Thomas B. Reed and other prominent Republicans in New England. Gen. Alger has already accepted the invitation.

They Did Not Want Witnesses.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

RICHMOND, VA, Nov. 8th.—United States Commissioner Plesants has arrested the city board of commissioners of election of Richmond for refusing to allow the United States supervisors to be present at the count of the vote to-day.

Celebration of Washington's Inauguration.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Hon. Chauncy M. Depew has consented to deliver the oration on the occasion of the centennial celebration of Washington's inauguration, April 30th next. Dr. Storrs will offer prayer and John G. Whittier will read a poem. Arch-Bishop Corrigan will pronounce the benediction. President Cleveland, who will come over the route taken by Gen. Washington, arriving by boat from Elizabethtown, N J., will speak. Foreign dignitaries and American notables will take part, and there will be a grand parade. Special religious service will be held in St. Paul's church, which Gen. Washington used to attend, at 9 a. m, Bishop Potter and Rev. Morgan Dix officiating. It is suggested that Thanksgiving services be held in churches throughout the state and nation at the same time.

To Kill the Rats.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

SACO, ME., Nov. 8.—More than $1500 worth of liquors, seized by Biddeford and Saco sheriffs since June, were spilled in the sewer of the jail yard, today.

Died Suddenly.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

PORTLAND, ME., Nov. 8.—Albert A. Doe, a prominent citizen of Winterport, fell from a cart this afternoon and died instantly. Cause, heart disease.

Anna Wants an Extra $5000.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov 8.—Anna M. Dickinson has begun a suit in the supreme court against the Republican national committee to recover $1250 for services during the campaign. She claims she was engaged in September to deliver 30 lectures in the west, and was to receive $122 for each lecture and expenses. She has received the $3750, but claims it was also agreed in the event of Harrison's election she was to receive $5000. The complaint was served on Senator Quay and his fellow committeemen, tonight.

A Warning to Drunken Husbands.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

DRESDEN, ONT., Nov. 8th.—Mrs. Scott of Dawn township, driven insane by her husband, who habitually came home drunk and abused her, beat him to death while he lay in bed in a drunken supor.

Telegraphic Notes.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

New Haven, Ct., Nov. 8.—At a meeting of the Yale corporation today William W. Farnam of this city was elected Treasurer of the University.

CANAJOHARIE, N. Y., Nov. 8.—Sanford and Done's great carpet mills, Amsterdam, which shut down lately, will run full time.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 8.—The steamship Oteri from Truxilo brought to this city to-day the captain, H. Gaul, and crew of the barkentine Isaac Dodge of Newcastle, Maine, which went ashore on Serrano Reef on the Mosquito coast, Oct. 23d. The vessel was valued at $24,000. She was a total loss, and was bound from Colon to Ship Island in ballast.

LOS ANGELOS, CAL., Nov. 8.—A large hotel at Long Beach, on the coast, twenty miles from this city, was burned last night with nearly all costly furniture. Loss $90,000; insurance $45,000.

FOREIGN.

Comments of the London Globe on the Presidential Election.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—The Globe says: President Cleveland has not gained anything by fussing with the fisheries question or by his brusque, rude treatment of Sackville. It is satisfactory to find even in America that a weather-cock policy is not always profitable. His defeat is a heavy blow to Democrats. It may help to compensate Blaine for his previous failure, as he will probably become Secretary of State. Blaine may not be able to revive his remarkable foreign policy, which helped to create distrust and promote his defeat, but his alliance or understanding with the Irish element may not tend to soften his conduct in international affairs.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—The Parnell commission spent the whole day hearing witnesses of outrages. Lord Harrington objected to the interpreter prompting the Irish witnesses. The justice cautioned the interpreter. The police testified that a large force was occupied in protecting boycotted and threatened tenants.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Sold only in cans, full weight.

CLEVELAND BROTHERS, ALBANY, N. Y.

POSITIVELY

No Cure, No Pay!

CONSTITUTIONAL COUGH SYRUP

--- TRY IT! ---

The proprietor of this remedy has such confidence in its curative powers that he makes the following

Generous Offer!

Any person buying a bottle is given the privilege of returning it and receiving their MONEY BACK, if after using two-thirds of its contents, they have derived no benefit from it.

PRICE 25 AND 50 CENTS.

— SOLD BY —

David Kimball & Co., 36 Market Street.

J. L.

GLACE FRUITS,

NEW PRUNES,

NEW FIGS,

NEW JELLIES AND JAMS,

OLD RICE POPPING CORN.

DESSICATED COCOANUT

In Strips for Frosting Cake.

Fresh Ground Spices

Of Extra Fine Flavor and Strength.

HYGIENIC COFFEE,

A Healthful and Refreshing Drink, especially for those who cannot drink Genuine Coffee.

JOHN LAIGHTON,

No. 1 Market Square.

25 CORDS

DRY PINE LIMBS!

At $3.50 Per Cord.

☞ The Very Best of Fuel at a Low Price.

O. F. PHILBRICK & CO.,

COAL AND WOOD DEALERS,

4 Water Street.

WOOD AND COAL!

A Good Assortment of all kinds of Wood and Coal.

Kindling Wood Split to Order.

— ALSO —

Akron Drain and Sewer Pipe.

NO. 13 GREEN STREET,

DANIEL LITTLEFIEL

"1888" OPENING OF "1888"

FALL AND WINTER DRY GOODS

At the Well-Known Store,

NOS. 30 and 32 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH.

Ayers & Locke, Proprietors,

Can be found the Largest Assortment of

SEASONABLE DRY GOODS MERCHANDISE.

LARGEST ASSORTMENT OF OUTSIDE GARMENTS.

For Ladies, Misses and Children,

New Goods of this Season's Manufacture.

All are Invited to Examine

OUR STOCK OF CLOAKS!

Before Purchasing Elsewhere.

Silk and Gloria RAIN UMBRELLAS! Ladies' Gossamers.

THE F. P. ROBINSON CO. BLACK STOCKINGS.

"CLEANFAST" NONE ARE GENUINE WITHOUT THIS TRADE MARK ON EACH PAIR

Mohair and Gingham RAIN UMBRELLAS! Children's Gossamers.

Largest Assortment of Dress Goods in Portsmouth.

In fact, the Best Assortment in their Line of everything pertaining to a

FIRST-CLASS STOCK OF DRY GOODS.

NEW CARPETS! NEW CARPETS!

HOUSEKEEPING GOODS! &C.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS IN OUR UNDEWEARR DEPARTMENT.

Small Wares, Trimmings, Ribbons, Gloves Yarns, Knitting Silks, &c. Corsets, Bustles, &c.

Largest Assortment of Fall and Winter Skirts in all the Desirable Fabrics

Which they are desirous of exchanging for Cash on a basis for you that will compare favorably with Boston and New York prices.

AYERS & LOCKE.

LOOK AT THIS

Heavy, Substantial Cooking Range,

"THE ALMONER."

Plain for $16.00, Worth $25.00

To anyone in need of a First-Class Range. Examine this before purchasing elsewhere.

— ALSO A FULL LINE OF —

MAGEE FURNACES, RANGES & STOVES.

Plumbing, Gas Fitting, Tin and Sheet Iron Work of All Kinds.

C. W. TAYLOR.

42 & 44 MARKET STREET.

C-O-A-L-!

All Kinds and Sizes Delivered Well Screened.

E. F. SISE & CO.

First Quality Wood:

Liverpool and Turks Island

Salt in Bulk and Sacks. Salt in Boxes. Boston and Portland Brands.

TELEPHONE.

NOTICE!

FALL

— AND —

WINTER

STYLES

NOW READY!

— AT —

MRS. TEBBETTS',

NO. 14 MARKET STREET.

COMFORT

— FOR —

COLD AND TENDER FEET!

Persons troubled with cold or tender feet will find warmth and ease in the use of

DOLGE'S ALL WOOL FELT

Slipners and Shoes

For which the undersigned is agent in this City and Vicinity.

--- AT THE STORE ---

No. 34 Market Street

Can be found a Full Line of these Goods, in many patterns of Slippers, Shoes and Boots, and several colors, for house, office or street wear.

Of Men and Boys, Women and Girls.

☞ Please examine our Stock.

J. C. CARR.

The Portsmouth Daily Chronicle,

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 2, 1862.

Published every morning, [except Sunday, at No. 7 Exchange Building, Pleasant Street.

By mail, postage prepaid, $5 a year. Single Copies, Two Cents.

THE CHRONICLE is served to subscribers in Portsmouth, Kittery, Dover, Rochester and Farmington at 50 Cents per month, hours in advance of any other paper containing the Associated Press Despatches.

The New Hampshire Gazette,

ESTABLISHED OCT. 7, 1756.

The Oldest Newspaper in America. Published every Thursday.

Terms, $1.50 a year in advance.

[Entered at the Post Office at Portsmouth as second class matter.]

W. SCOTT SMITH,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

☞ Rates of advertising made known on application.

Agents for the Daily Chronicle:

MOSES BROS.....PORTSMOUTH.
ROBERTS & AVERY.....FARMINGTON
WORCESTER & GREENFIELD..ROCHESTER
BROWNE BROS.....DOVER.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1888.

The Supreme Court.

It is a matter of congratulation that the election of Gen. Harrison will prevent the Supreme Court of the United States from being compesed of Democrats holding to the theory of State rights, and the unconstitutionality of the several amendments to the constitution, made just after the close of the war. There was grave danger that the political complexion of the court would be changed during the next four years, in consequence of the retirement of two Republican Justices, on account of age. The appointment of Democrats to succeed them would have changed the court from Republican to Democratic. President Cleveland has within the past year placed two Democrats upon the bench, Chief Justice Fuller and Justice Lamar. Unless death should intervene, and create a vacancy before March next, the majority of the court will continue to be composed of men who believe in the principles of the Republican party.

The free trade journals having finished their job, now say that Gen. Harrison is a clean man, and will make an excellent president.

The grimmest joke of the day is the statement in a Democratic paper that President Cleveland has stated that he thought Gov. Hill had been true to him in the campaign!

It is amusing to meet men who voted for Cleveland, and hear them say they do not care a nickel because he was beaten. Grover never had a firm hold on the democratic heart, and in defeat there are few or none to love or sympathize with him.

There are fifty odd thousand democratic office holders in the United States who are counting the days from now in. til the inauguration of Gen. Harrison. It will take all the salary attached to their offices from now until March to reimburse many of these officials for the money contributed to the Democratic National Committee.

Our Democratic contemporaries have given up alluding to Gen. Harrison as "the grandson of his grandfather," that keen piece of wit at his expense having failed to change votes enough to prevent his election. We were never able to see what there was disreputable in being the grandson of a president of the United States, and son of a member of Congress, provided the officials were honorable and upright in public and private life, as those indicated above were, and as their worthy descendant has been and will continue to be.

The control of the next House of Representatives will enable the Republicans to revise the tariff on an intelligent and just basis, having due regard to all American interests. Our democratic friends who have evinced so much uneasiness about "war taxes," will find that the Republicans in the 51st Congress will not seek to avoid full responsibility for legislation, which will cut down the revenue of the government, without disturbing our manufacturing interests. The Mills bill is a thing of the past, and will not show its head again. For this let us be thankful.

A feeling of uneasiness prevails among the Republican clerks in the several executive departments who have thus far managed to retain their places, that the administration will now proceed to decapitate many of them, in order to appoint democrats and bring them within the operation of the civil service rules before Gen. Harrison is inaugurated. We do not believe this scheme can be worked to advantage, and if it is attempted the country will not sanction so open a violation of the spirit of the civil service law. The several executive departments have been filled with democrats from the south during the past three years, and we incline to the opinion that many of these will find it to their advantage to be looking for some other employment after the 4th of next March.

HUNTERS OF CAUTCHOUC.

The Risks Run by Men in Quest of the Milky Sap.

The Yularoes, or rubber hunters of Costa Rica are the most irresponsible and ignorant of creatures, whose first object, when out on an expedition, is to secure as much caoutchouc as possible, and next to damage the prospects of other Yularoes, regardless of the future. A thrifty tree at its first cutting ought to yield not less than fifty pounds of rubber; but the hunters of today find few so profitable, unless they penetrate far into the virgin forests, and are fortunate enough to discover an entirely new district. In the sections already worked most of the trees have been tapped several times, and many of them were spoiled at the outset by having been cut too young because its greedy discoverer feared that if the prize were left to attain perfection another might secure it. Were the matter regulated by judicious laws, so that only mature trees might be tapped, and those not to an extent to cause death, the production of caoutchouc would soon be a source of wealth to the republic. The Costa Rican government begins to be alive to this fact, and has recently offered extensive grants of land to any who will devote themselves to the culture of rubber trees.

Among the inhabitants of Central America the Yularoes form a distinct class, by all odds the lowest in the country, unless it may be the Caribs of Guatemala or the pearl divers of the western coast. They are mostly half breeds or negroes, for white men seldom engage in it, though the business might be made extremely profitable. A Yularo can be distinguished at a glance from natives of other "professions" as easily as a cowboy in genteel society or a miller fresh from his mill, not only by his general air of dare devil don't-care-itiveness, but by the thick coating of caoutchouc that covers his clothing from head to foot. This extra coating accumulates gradually by contact with the rubber trees, without intention on the part of the wearer, and in time renders his garments absolutely waterproof and almost indestructible.

The hunters are fitted out by the shrewd traders of Parismina, much as American miners used to be supplied with "grub stake" in their search for precious metals. Each Yularo is provided with a gun, a quantity of ammunition, a boat and a sufficient supply of salt, flour and pork to sustain him from two to six months. All this is charged to his account at the highest market price, and in return he stipulates to sell to this same accommodating dealer, at some fixed sum per pound, all the caoutchouc he may collect during his trip.

A journey to the woods may occupy weeks or months, according to the will of the Yularo, after which he returns to the village, not to leave it again till the last cent is spent which he has earned, or can beg, steal or borrow, and all the credit exhausted that he can obtain by promises upon the next expedition. It is not strange, however, that they are reluctant to return to such dangerous exiles, for under every leaf of the tropical forest some venomous creature is lurking, and eternal vigilance is the price of safety. The hunter's life is little above that of the wild beast's, whose howls make night hideous around him, and he is constantly exposed to a thousand perils, seen and unseen. Not only are there hungry jaguars and pumas, wild bears and other powerful animals, but, more to be dreaded, are the deadly reptiles, some of them no longer than your hand. There are tiny lizards, the exact color of the leaves under which they hide, whose bite is fatal; innumerable bugs, beetles and insects, many of them more dangerous than the rattler of our northern wilds, which at least gives some warning of his intention to strike, while even more to be feared than the monstrous crocodiles of the lagoons and the enormous serpents of hugging proclivities, are the fevers that nightly stalk abroad, with the noxious vapor of the terra caliente.

Aside from the scant rations he brings, the Yularo's food consists mainly of wild hogs, or such other animals as he may be able to kill, eked out by tortillas, and, as an occasional luxury, a dish of red beans stewed in fat. Monkeys are considered the choicest of morceaux, particularly the large red species, which are as highly relished by the hunters as are raccoons by southern darkies, or Thanksgiving turkeys by New Englanders.

The Yularo has no other implement than a short rope of cactus fiber, of his own twisting, and a huge machete—the latter a rude sort of sword or knife which every Central American who is engaged in any out door occupation carries upon all occasions. The hunter ties one end of the rope around his waist, throws the other over the lower branches and scrambles up the tree, machete in hand. Having reached a convenient limb he secures himself by means of the rope and proceeds to make an incision in the tree, from which—gradually letting himself downward—he cuts a deep channel through the thick bark, around the trunk to the ground. In most cases the careless fellow cuts much deeper than is necessary, thereby ruining the future usefulness of the tree, for if a penknife, or even a pin, be thrust into a thrifty young tree the "milk" spurts out in copious flow.

The yellowish white juice resembles good, rich cream more nearly than anything else. If the tree is fully grown and has never before been tapped the sap will flow from the incision in streams, and, running down the channel, is received into a pit dug at the roots. The fluid is generally coagulated with the sap of a wild vine somewhat resembling the grape, which overgrows all these tangled forests, and acts the part of rennet to cheese curd, or "mother" pulque to maguey juice, for after its addition the milk is soon hardened into solid cakes of India rubber all ready for transportation.—Cor. Philadelphia Record.

Fighting for His Honor.

No man ever worries or thinks about his reputation or character until he knows he ought to lose both. The man with no good character is most ready to fight for his honor. A wild man in a barroom shouts loud, and says he is a gentleman. He fears people will not quickly notice what sort of a gentleman he is.—New Orleans Picayune.

The Hawaiians Disappearing

The native Hawaiians are said to be disappearing very rapidly, and it will not be long before the race is extinct. Their language is still quite generally spoken, but as English is the language of the court the native dialect is bound to fall into decadence.—New York Evening World.

Extenuating Circumstances.

Magistrate (to woman)—You admit that you hit your husband with a stove lid, and yet you claim there are extenuating circumstances governing the case.

Woman—Yes, sah, dey was a extenuatin' sarcumstance. De stove lid warm'd hot.—New York Sun.

COULEUR DE ROSE.

I want more lives in which to love
This world so full of beauty,
I want more days to use the ways
I know of doing duty
I ask no greater joy than this
(So much I am life's lover),
When I reach age, to turn the page,
And read earth's story over!
(Oh, love, stay near.)

Oh, rapture—promise of the May,
Oh, June, fulfilling after!
If autumn sighs when summer dies,
'Tis drowned in winter's laughter
O, maiden dawns—O, wifely noons,
O, alras sweet, sweet nights,
I'd want no heaven could earth be given
Again with its delights
(If love stayed near)

There are such glories for the eye,
Such pleasures for the ear;
The senses reel with all they feel,
And see, and taste, and hear.
There are such ways of doing good,
Such ways of being kind;
And treed that's cast on waters, fast
Comes home again, I find.
(Oh, love, stay near.)

There are such royal souls to know,
There is so much to learn.
While secrets rest in Nature's breast,
And unnamed stars still burn.
God toiled six days to make this earth,
I think the good folks say;
Six lives we need to give full meed
Of praise—one for each day.
(If love stay near.)

But oh! if Love fled far away
Or veiled his face from me,
One life too much, why then were such
A life as this would be.
With sullen May, and blighted June,
Blurred dawn and haggard night,
This drear old world in space were whirled
If love left not his light.
(Oh, love, stay near.)

—Ella Wheeler Wilcox in Once a Week.

The sand blast is now utilized for cleaning dingy stone walls of buildings.

There is not very much to know about western mortgages; and the little is easy to learn.

A pamphlet published by the Kansas City Investment Company, makes it so clear that one who reads perhaps knows quite as much of the business as the average man who goes a thousand miles to see for himself.

Read first and then go; which is better yet.

The pamphlet is sent free to all who ask for it.

THE KANSAS CITY INVESTMENT COMPANY, Kansas City, Missouri; or Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

$100,000 Janesville, Wis., Water Co.

First Mortgage 6% Bonds.

DUE AUGUST 1, 1907.

Secured by a Sinking Fund. Descriptive Circulars furnished on application.

Brewster, Cobb & Estabrook,

35 Congress St., Boston.

AT

No. 63 Pleasant St

may be seen as full and carefully selected a stock of

FINE FANCY AND STAPLE

GROCERIES.

—ALSO—

BOOTS & SHOES

As at any Store east of Boston.

—VERMONT AND CREAMERY—

BUTTER & CHEESE.

Lard Sugar,
Molasses Syrup Oils.
Beans Peas Pickles Crackers.
Salt Pork Salt Fish, Sage Maccaroni.

-COFFEES-

Old Government Java and Rio, ground as sold

-TEAS-

Best Qualities Formosa and Japan.

—A FULL LINE—

CANNED AND SHELF GOODS.

Pure Spices, Raisins, Currants, Cotton, Cocoa, Chocolate, Candied Lemon Peel, and all other Fine Groceries

TOBACCO AND CIGARS.

Brooms, Brushes, Pails, Crockery and Glassware, and a Large

Assortment of Miscellaneous Articles.

Boots and Shoes!

Men's Calf Button Boots,
Men's Calf Balmoral Boots.
Men's Calf French Ties,
Ladies' Kid Button Boots.
Misses' and Children's, Youth's and Boys',
All Sizes and Kinds.

We make the best selections possible, paying Cash; and for Cash will sell as low as the lowest.

☞ Orders filled with care and delivered free to any part of the city.

JOHN J. LASKEY,

NO. 63 PLEASANT STREET.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

THE GOVERNMENT TESTS ESTABLISH ITS ABSOLUTE SUPERIORITY.

Prof. H. A. Mott was employed by the U. S. Government to analyze the various baking powders of the market, to determine which was the best and most economical for government use. After a careful and thorough examination, he affirms it as his judgment that the Royal is undoubtedly the purest and most reliable baking powder made. Prof. Mott, in his report, says:

"The Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure, for I have so found it in many tests made both for that company and the U. S. Government.

"I will go still further and state that, because of the facilities that company have for obtaining perfectly pure cream of tartar, and for other reasons dependent upon the proper proportions of the same, and the method of its preparation, the Royal Baking Powder is undoubtedly the purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public.

DR. HENRY A. MOTT, PH. D."

Late U. S. Government Chemist.

EASTERN OFFICE OF

Kansas City Investment Co.,

OVER FIRST NATIONAL BANK, PORTSMOUTH.

CITY MORTGAGES, FARM MORTGAGES,
DEBENTURE BONDS, REAL ESTATE
☞ INTEREST PAYABLE HERE AT MATURITY. ☜

W. G. MYERS V.

Embalmer and Funeral Director

No. 60 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH

SAMUEL S. FLETCHER

(SUCCESSOR TO FLETCHER & TANTON.)

COFFINS, ROBES & CASKETS

Always on hand, or made to order

Orders by night may be left at No. 42 Daniel St or with A. L. Rice, No. 15 Hill St. or G. W. Ham No 12 Russell St.

ADAMSON'S BOTANIC COUGH BALSAM

More than twenty years ago Adamson's Botanic Balsam was introduced generally throughout New England as a remedy for Coughs, Colds and Pulmonary complaints. Since its introduction it has constantly won its way into public favor, until now it is the universal decision that ADAMSON'S BOTANIC BALSAM is the best remedy for curing Coughs, Colds and Asthma.

Made only by F. W. KINSMAN & CO., (Established 1850). Druggists and Dispensing Chemists, 343 4th ave., corner 25th st., N.Y. FOR SALE AT ALL DRUG STORES.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE GREAT

German Remedy.

TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spells depend on SULPHUR BITTERS it will cure you.

$1,000 will be paid for a case where SULPHUR BITTERS will not assist or cure. It never fails.

Do you suffer with that tired and all gone feeling; if so, use SULPHUR BITTERS; it will cure you.

Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Blotches and Sores. Rely on SULPHUR BITTERS, and health will follow.

Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops; clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not then be weak and sickly.

SULPHUR BITTERS will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.

If you do not wish to suffer from Rheumatism, use a bottle of SULPHUR BITTERS it never fails to cure.

SULPHUR BITTERS will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.

SULPHUR BITTERS will make your blood pure, rich and strong, and your flesh hard.

Ladies in delicate health, who are all run down, should use SULPHUR BITTERS.

Try SULPHUR BITTERS to-night, and you will sleep well and feel better for it.

Do you want the best Medical Work published? Send 3 2-cent stamps to A. P. ORDWAY & Co Boston, Mass., and receive a copy, free.

Insurance Notice.

THE OLD INSURANCE AGENCY,

AT THE OLD STAND,

No. 13 Pleasant Street,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

JOSEPH P. MORSE,

Wonders of the Dead Sea.

One of the most interesting lakes or inland seas in the world is the Dead sea, which has no visible outlet. It is not mere fancy that has clothed the Dead sea in gloom. The desolate shores, with scarcely a green thing in sight, and scattered over with black stones and ragged driftwood, form a fitting frame for the dark, sluggish waters, covered with a perpetual mist, and breaking in slow, heavy, sepulchral toned waves upon the beach. It seems as if the smoke of the wicked cities was yet ascending up to heaven, and as if the moan of their fearful sorrow would never leave that God smitten valley. It is a strange thing to see those waves, not dancing along and sparkling in the sun, as other waves do, but moving with measured melancholy, and sending to the ear, as they break languidly upon the rock, only doleful sounds. This is, no doubt, owing to the great heaviness of the water, a fact well known and which we amply verified in the usual way, for, on attempting to swim, we went floating about like empty casks.

This experiment was more satisfactory in its progress than in its results, which were a very unctuous skin and a most pestiferous stinging of every nerve, as if we had been beaten with nettles. Nor was the water we took into our mouth a whit less vile than the most nauseous drugs of the apothecary. That fish cannot live in this strong solution of bitumen and salt is too obvious to need proof; but to say that birds cannot fly over it and live is one of the exaggerations of travelers, who perhaps were not, like ourselves, so fortunate as to see a flock of ducks reposing on the water in apparently good health. And yet this was all the life we did see. The whole valley was one seething caldron, under more than a tropical sun.—Missionary Herald.

A Costa Rican Delicacy.

Aside from the scant rations he brings, the Yularo's food consists mainly of wild hogs, or such other animals as he may be able to kill, eked out by tortillas, and as an occasional luxury a dish of red beans stewed in fat. Monkeys are considered the choicest of morceaux, particularly the large red species, which are as highly relished by the hunters as are raccoons by southern darkies or Thanksgiving turkeys by New Englanders. Indeed, in many parts of Spanish America monkey meat is eaten by both natives and foreigners, whose gastronomic tastes are harder to please than those of the hungry Yularoes. I can, myself, testify to the fact that a well broiled slice of young ape, though a trifle tough and strong, is not more unpalatable than bear steak or buffalo meat, which it greatly resembles. If one could overcome the cannibalistic ideas engendered by Darwinian nonsense, and not feel as if feeding upon black baby, monkey flesh would be decidedly preferable to pork as an article of diet.—Cor. Philadelphia Record.

Cheap Grades of Candy.

Our business is injured to a great degree by the plan adopted some time ago by retail grocers in giving away candy to children who come to their stores for small articles needed in the household. The most of these grocers buy a very cheap grade of candy, painted up with poisonous coloring. These are dealt out to children whenever an article is purchased, no matter how much or how little the purchase may be. It frequently happens that a child, who has become smart, will make two or three trips to the store when the errand could have been performed at one time. This is done to get a double dose of the poison. Or the child will leave home with instructions to purchase two or three articles, and visit as many different stores, getting "taffy on a stick" or some other such stuff at each one of them. Pure and healthy candy cannot be made and sold for this purpose at 10 and 15 cents a pound, and this is what most of the stuff costs.—Candy Merchant in Globe-Democrat.

And now they say that Tom Hood first planned the phonograph; as witness this, from his "Comic Annual" for 1889: "In this century of inventions, when a self acting drawing paper has been discovered for copying visible objects, who knows but that a future Niepce, or Daguerre, or Herschel, or Fox Talbot, may find out some sort of Boswellish writing paper to repeat whatever it hears!"—New York Tribune.

THE ONLY

Brilliant Durable Economical DYES

Are Diamond Dyes. They excel all others in Strength, Purity and Fastness. None others are just as good. Beware of imitations—they are made of cheap and inferior materials and give poor, weak, crocky colors.

36 colors; 10 cents each.

Send postal for Dye Book, Sample Card, directions for coloring Photos., making the finest Ink or Mucilage (10 cts. a quart), etc. Sold by Druggists or by

WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.

For Gilding or Bronzing Fancy Articles, USE

DIAMOND PAINTS.

Gold, Silver, Bronze, Copper. Only 10 Cents.

Paine's CELERY COMPOUND

CURES	PROOFS
Neuralgia	"Paine's Celery Compound cured my nervous sick headaches." Mrs. L. A. Brentner, San Jacinto, Cal.
Nervous Prostration	"After using six bottles of Paine's Celery Compound, I am cured of rheumatism." Samuel Hutchinson, South Cornish, N. H.
Rheumatism
Kidney Diseases AND All Liver Disorders	"It has done me more good for kidney disease than any other medicine." Geo. Abbott, Sioux City, Iowa. "Paine's Celery Compound has been of great benefit for torpid liver, indigestion, and biliousness." Elizabeth C. Udall, Quechee, Vt.

We are astonished at parties who introduce new remedies for coughs when they should know the people will have Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

"Kings are like stars, they rise and set." They have headaches, cuts, and hurts like meaner men, and are just as sure to call for Salvation Oil.

Be Your Own Doctor.

It won't cost you half as much. Do not delay. Send three 2-cent stamps for postage, and we will send you Dr. Kaufmann's great work, fine colored plates from life, on disease, its causes, and home cure. Address S. P. Ordway, & Co., Boston, Mass.

"For twenty years I have suffered with a severe bronchial cough, never lying down without a severe attack of the same. After much pursuasion, I was induced to try Adamson's Balsam, and its good effects for six months are certainly marvellous. Please use this truthful testimony for the advantage of all sufferers like myself.
Mrs. Wm. Alden, Duxbury, Mass., Feb. 21, 1887.

One Fact

Is worth a column of rhetoric, said an American statesman. It is a fact, established by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from impure state or low condition of the blood. It also overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam, for Coughs and Colds, does it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles at 50c and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

To-Night and To-Morrow Night,

And each day and night during this week you can get at all druggists Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, acknowledged to be the most successful remedy ever sold for the cure of Coughs, Croup, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption. Get a bottle to-day and keep it always in the house, so you can check your cold at once. Price 50c and $1.00. Sample bottles free.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world Price 25 cents a bottle giving a clear synopsis of the impediments to marriage, exhausted vitality, etc., etc., can be had from all news agents or forwarded direct from the author, Dr. F. J. JORDAN, 25 Bowlder St., Boston, on receipt of 25 cents.

PHILOSOPHY OF MARRIAGE

HUNT'S REMEDY

RELIEVES the Kidneys;
REVIVES the Liver;
SOLD UNIVERSALLY.

AN EXTRA LOT OF SPONGES, CHAMOIS SKINS AND WHIPS,

At Reasonable Prices at

John S. Tilton's

Harness and Trunk Repairer

NO. 18 CONGRESS STREET

STEPHEN D. SCRIGGINS,

Carriage Painter.

NO. 16 Vaughan Street, Portsmouth, N. H.

Having spacious and good accommodations and long and large experience he solicits patronage in his line.

$500 OFFERED

for an incurable case of Catarrh in the Head by the proprietors of

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY.

Symptoms of Catarrh.—Headache, obstruction of nose, discharges falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; eyes weak, ringing in ears, deafness, difficulty of clearing throat, expectoration of offensive matter; breath offensive; smell and taste impaired, and general debility. Only a few of these symptoms likely to be present at once. Thousands of cases result in consumption, and end in the grave.

By its mild, soothing, and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Remedy cures the worst cases. 50c.

Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

FOR SALE BY DRUGGISTS.

The Original LITTLE LIVER PILLS. Purely Vegetable & Harmless.

Unequaled as a Liver Pill. Smallest, cheapest, easiest to take. One Pellet a Dose. Cure Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the stomach and bowels. 25 cts. by druggists.

THE JOB PRINTING

Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD I. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line. Give him a trial and you will be more than pleased.

GRATEFUL---COMFORTING.

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame.—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in half-pound tins, by Grocers, labelled thus:

JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England.

1ec5

WE WANT A GOOD ENERGETIC SALESMAN in every town and city TO SOLICIT ORDERS FOR FRAMING PICTURES. BEST OUTFIT IN THE WORLD and a permanent situation. Address H. B. WARDWELL, Lewiston, Me.

POSITIVELY CLOSING WEEKS

GRAND CYCLORAMA

BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG,

541 Tremont St., Boston.

Don't fail to see this great battle scene at once.

A new subject now being painted will take its place in this building January 1st.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

KNOW THYSELF

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, the great Medical Work of the age on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline, Errors of Youth, and the untold miseries consequent thereon, 300 pages 8 vo., 125 prescriptions for all diseases. Cloth, full gilt, only $1.00, by mail, sealed. Illustrative sample free to all young and middle-aged men. Send now. The Gold and Jewelled Medal awarded to the author by the National Medical Association. Address P.O. Box 1895, Boston, Mass., or W. H. PARKER, graduate of Harvard Medical College, 25 years' practice in Boston, who may be consulted confidentially. Office, No. 4 Bulfinch St. Specialty, Diseases of Man. ☞ Cut this out. You may never see it again.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS

The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin still do the demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all of the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

MASON & HAMLIN PIANOS

Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos, that they are superior to all others. They recognize the high excellence achieved by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but still claim superiority. This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1882, and now known as the "MASON & HAMLIN PIANO STRINGS," by the use of which greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity for standing in tune and other important advantages.

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians, and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

Pianos and Organs sold for cash or easy payments; also rented.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO. BOSTON. NEW YORK. CHICAGO.

tnov24

MARVELOUS MEMORY DISCOVERY.

Any book learned in one reading
Mind wandering cured.
Speaking without notes.
Piracy condemned by Supreme Court.

Great inducements to correspondence classes

Prospectus, with opinions of Dr. Wm. A. Hammond, the world famed Specialist in Mind diseases, Daniel Greenleaf Thompson, the great Psychologist, J. M. Buckley, D. D., Editor of the Christian Advocate, Richard Proctor, the Scientist, Hons. Judge Gibson, Judah P. Benjamin, and others, sent post free by Prof. A. LOISETTE, 237 Fifth Ave., New York.

The WITTIEST, PREPTIEST JUVENILES

QUEER PEOPLE Palmer Cox

HANDY JOSLINS $1.00 WINGS AND STINGS $1.00 PAWS & CLAWS $1.00

(Pioneer of the King and the Horse.)

Prospectus, containing stories and extracts from the above, sent free by the Publisher of the Illustrated Humorists, Critics and Cartoons, D. D. Lecompte, Hartford, Conn. Or by the Author, Palmer Cox, Brooklyn, N. Y. Agents wanted. Address, Boston.

ov15

The WONDERFUL LUBURG CHAIR

Combining 5 Parlor, Library, Smoking, Reclining, or Invalid CHAIR, LOUNGE, BED, Easy Rocker and COUCH. Price $7.00 up. We make the great variety of Adjustable, Reclining, Physicians' and Surgeons' Operating, Invalid Reclining, Rocking, Nursing, Library, Fancy Carpet Folding, Reed and Rattan CHAIRS and ROCKERS, TRICYCLES, VELOCIPEDES and SELF PROPELLERS.

ALL KINDS OF APPLIANCES FOR INVALIDS.

BABY COACHES

Over 100 different designs.

Our Fatest Automatic Brake on all Carriages, free. We have discontinued Wholesaling; by placing your order direct with the makers you can save several profits. Our starting prices and special Bargains will astonish you. Goods sent under a guarantee and delivered free to any point in United States. ☞ Send stamp for Catalogue, and state class of goods you wish it for.

LUBURG MFG. CO.

145 North Eighth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

TRAVELLER'S GUIDE.

TRAINS LEAVE

Portsmouth for Boston, 4.05, 7.25, 8.20, 11.05 a. m., 2.55, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4.00 p. m.

Boston for Portsmouth, 7 30, 9.00, 10.00 a. m., 12.30, 3.20, 4.40, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.20 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

Portsmouth for Portland, 9.55, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 5.20, p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m.

Portland for Portsmouth, 7.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.00, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 2.00 a. m.

Portsmouth for Dover, 4.05, 9.45 a. m., 12.25, 2.38, 5.22 p. m.

Dover for Portsmouth, 6.55, 10.20 a. m., 1.55, 4.30, 6.40 p. m.

Portsmouth for York Beach, 8.35, 11.10 a. m. 3.35 p. m.

York Beach for Portsmouth, 6.40, 10.00 a. m., 1.40 p. m.

Portsmouth for Concord, 7.35 a. m., 1.00, 5.15 p. m.

Concord for Portsmouth, 7.20, 10.20 a. m., 3.20 p. m.

Portsmouth for Manchester, 7.35 a. m., 1.00, 5.15 p. m.

Manchester for Portsmouth, 8.15, 11.15 a. m., 4.15 p. m.

TRAINS ARRIVE

In Boston from Portsmouth, 6.20, 9.10, 10.25 a. m., 1.15, 4.45, 7.10, 9.20 p. m. Sundays, 6.20 a. m., 6.30 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Boston, 9.45, 10.45 a. m., 12.20, 2.35, 5.20, 6.45, 8.37 p. m. Sundays, 10.40 a. m., 8.37 p. m.

In Portland from Portsmouth, 12.00 m., 12.35, 4.40, 11.00 p. m. Sundays, 11.00 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Portland, 8.35, 10.44 a. m., 2.20, 7.15 p. m. Sundays, 3.55 a. m.

In Dover from Portsmouth, 5.40, 10.10 a. m., 12.50, 3.03, 5.47 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Dover, 7.20, 10.44 a. m., 2.20, 4.55, 7.15 p. m.

In Concord from Portsmouth, 10.20 a. m., 3.12, 8.25 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Concord, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

In Manchester from Portsmouth, 9.42 a. m., 2.20, 7.20 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Manchester, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

KITTERY AND PORTSMOUTH.

STEAMER MYSTIC.

Leave Bartlett's wharf, Kittery, 6.35, 7.50, 8.45, 10.30, 11.45 a. m., 2.00, 3.15, 4.45, 6.00 p. m. Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 6.30, Saturday evening, 6.30, 8.00.

Leave Broughton's wharf, foot Daniel street, Portsmouth, 7.30, 8.00, 9.30, 11.00 a. m., 12.45, 3.00, 4.30, 5.15, 6.15 p. m., Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7.30, Saturday evenings, 7.30, 9.00.

☞ Fare five cents each way.

Common Sense

Should be used in attempting to cure that very disagreeable disease, catarrh. As catarrh originates in impurities in the blood, local applications can do no permanent good. The common-sense method of treatment is to purify the blood, and for this purpose there is no preparation superior to Hood's Sarsaparilla. That this peculiar medicine does indeed cure catarrh is shown by the many testimonials from people who have found relief upon taking it when all others had failed. A book containing statements of cures sent on receipt of two cent stamp, by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Grover Cleveland has done more to advance the cause of free trade than any Prime Minister of England has done.—London Spectator.

A FAIR SAMPLE OF 40 SWORN CASES OF THE VALUE OF

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND

THE RADICAL BLOOD PURIFIER.

DIPHTHERIA. SCROFULA.

Miss Lena Judkins, a daughter (17 years old) of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Judkins, 677 Boston St., Lynn, CURED by Dr. Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of very severe case of Scrofula, with Malignant Ulcers of eight years' standing, after 11 Physicians had failed. Almost a miracle. Now in perfect health. Sworn to before HARMON HALL, Justice of the Peace.

SCROFULOUS HUMOR.

Miss Mary Etta Leighton, a daughter (16 yrs. old) of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison G. Leighton, 16 Bickford Court, Lynn, CURED by Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of a deep seated Scrofulous Humor, with discharging eruptions, which had baffled eight physicians and the combined forces of two prominent hospitals. Perfectly cured and without a blemish. Sworn to before CALVIN B. TUTTLE, Justice of the Peace.

Send for circular of 40 Sworn cases. They are solid facts and carry conviction.

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND.

is absolutely the greatest known Remedy for the Radical cure of Scrofula, Cancerous Humors, Diphtheritic or Mineral Blood-Poisoning, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Dropsy and Liver Complaint.

$1. per Bottle (6 for $5). At Druggists.

Lougee Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

DAY'S HORSE POWDER

Prevents Lung Fever and cures Distemper, Heaves, Fevers, &c. 1 pound in each package. Sold by all dealers.

DR. BULL'S BABY SYRUP

Facilitates Teething! Price 25 Cts. Sold at druggists. Regulates the Bowels!

25¢ A BOTTLE SALVATION OIL KILLS PAIN

BULL'S COUGH SYRUP

For the cure of Coughs, Colds, Croup, Incipient Consumption, Asthma, Whooping Cough, and for the relief of Consumptive persons. PRICES 25 CTS. For sale by all druggists.

SMOKE LANGE'S CUBEB CIGARETTES for Catarrh. Price 10 Cts. At all druggists.

A VOLCANIC ERUPTION.

Episode in the Island of Volcano—Showers of Red Hot Stones.

On the 8d inst. we had an outburst in the crater, with stones, flames, thunder (regular lightnings). It was strong enough to throw stones of considerable size to the sides of the mountain. We had often seen such eruptions during twelve to thirteen years I have been on the island, and I hoped it would end like former eruptions. Toward evening, however, the rushes of smoke, steam and ashes (which used to be projected into the air to about twice the height of the mountain) had completely ceased. As the night approached the leading fumarole (which was very active, giving off an offensive smell for months before the event) had begun to show a clear high flame, much paler than the flames produced by the burning of wood, and somewhat greenish or bluish. This phenomenon, together with the sudden stopping of the smoke, was not evidently a good omen. Consequently I spent all the night dressed on a sofa in the dressing room. Toward morning I was overpowered by sleep and went to the little bedroom which looks toward the mountain, rested on the bed, and soon was evidently sound asleep. Soon afterward I was awakened by a tremendous din, which can hardly be described.

As I jumped up from my bed I felt stones falling on the roof as hail—such cannonading going on. I understood what was the matter, and ran to the opposite room, where I had made my children sleep that night. They were also up in consequence of an indescribable noise of thunder, rush of gases, flames, falling of huge bowlders, rocks, etc. I took them to the drawing room, but as soon as the door was opened a big stone, red hot (all these stones were quite red with heat), fell through the roof, ceiling and floor a few yards from us, smashing all, setting fire to everything. Now I took my children back to the bedroom which looks on to the veranda, and tried to gain the terrace by that side. The house doors were shivering and shaking, so that it was a difficult matter to open them. At last I succeeded, but before we were out in the veranda another stone fell at our feet, was smashed to fragments, and burned the feet and legs of my boys.

Now we passed through the veranda, regained the house at the top of the stairs; here another stone fell very near us (none of these stones were less than two feet in diameter). This last stone (which is the fourth that struck the house) has nearly blocked our way out in the rubbish it brought from the roof. We passed through over the heap of rubbish and were now out in the open to the north of the house. By this time (not many minutes after all) the whole place was lighted up; woods, grass, buildings, hedges—all was on fire; the huge bowlders and stones were literally raining everywhere about us—what confusion! Natali, the faithful boy, had by this time come to the help of my little boys. We all began to run to Vulcanello and away from the dreadful thundering mountain. Toward noon boats of rescue reached us from Lipari, and we thus ended one of the most eventful days of our life.

On revisiting the spot I saw the whole plains below the mountain, to the distance of one and a half miles, especially the neighborhood of the house and the men's habitations, literally covered with bowlders and rocks of all sizes, which have embedded themselves in the ground to various depths. The most huge of them is near the well of the house, which is not less than ten yards in diameter, or better, length, and in some ten and eleven feet deep in the ground. This is about three-quarters of a mile from the crater. Another of nearly equal dimensions is on the shore near the Quarantana, at the end of the bay of the Levante. Rocks of one yard in diameter are as plentiful as can be as far as the middle of Vulcanello, near the Punto Samossa. No doubt many of these bowlders are from ten to fifteen yards across, and are projected far as the sea, but often fall back in the crater itself. This state is continuing incessantly and uninterruptedly, causing further damage and frightening everybody.—Lipari Cor. Pall Mall Gazette.

Contents of a North Carolina Mound.

Mr. J. M. Spainhour has described, in the Elisha Mitchel Scientific society, some relics that were discovered in the excavation of a mound in Caldwell county, N. C. Within the mound was found a skeleton lying upon its face, with the head resting in a large sea shell, the inner surface of which was carved with hieroglyphics. Around the neck were large beads made of sea shells. The arms were extended and bent at the elbows, so as to bring the hands within about a foot of the head. Around each wrist was a bracelet, composed of copper and shell beads, alternating. The copper beads appeared to have been hammered into thin sheets and rolled around the string, a part of which was preserved. Near the right hand was an iron implement like a chisel or punch, not sharp pointed, but smaller at the end away from the handle. The left hand was resting on the convex surface of a sea shell, the concave surface of which contained about a hundred small beads. The shell was carved with hieroglyphics.—Popular Science Monthly.

A Somewhat Ancient Toad.

Local antiquarians and zoologists in England are enchanted at present with a live toad found in the course of railway excavations at Greenock. The toad is certainly from 20,000 to 30,000 years old, as the stratum clay in which it was found certainly dates from the glacial period. Its mouth is sealed up; it breathes slightly through the nostrils, and though the eyes are quite expressive it does not seem to see.—Public Opinion.

The Treatment of Sleeplessness.

Recipes for sleeplessness continue to present themselves. A correspondent of The Lancet has found the following to be an effectual remedy in his own case: After taking a deep inspiration he holds his breath till discomfort is felt, then repeats the process a second and a third time. As a rule this is enough to procure sleep. A slight degree of asphyxia is thus relied on as a soporific agent, but the theoretical correctness of this method is somewhat open to question. Certainly there is proof to show that the daily expenditure of oxygen is most active during the waking period, and that nightly sleep appears to coincide with a period of deficient tissue oxygenation. It is at least as probable, however, that other influences are associated with the production and timely recurrence of sleep besides that just referred to. This plan, moreover, however effectual and beneficial in the case of its author, is not without its disadvantages. The tendency of deficient oxygenation is to increase blood pressure and slow the heart's action. With a normal organ, as an occasional occurrence, this might not be of much consequence. If however, the impeded heart should also be enfeebled by disease, the experiment might be repeated once too often.

Another constant in the struggle with insomnia lays down a series of rules, for the most part very sensible, to which he pins his faith. Considering that the chief causes of sleeplessness are worry and the want of a due amount of exercise and fresh air, he advises his fellow sufferers to observe the ordinary rules of hygiene relating to such matters, to take food and drink in moderation and to avoid of an evening the use of tea, coffee and tobacco. In dealing with severe nervous irritation from mental or physical work, he has found a daily rest an almost essential prelude to sleep at night. Thus he treats of sleeplessness rather as a tendency requiring constitutional remedies than a symptom of mere brain excitation. There is much to be said for his theory and means of treatment.—Therapeutic Gazette.

Various Hints Concerning Diet.

Children, especially young girls, are rarely properly dieted. There is almost universally a repugnance to meat and a hysterical liking for sweets or acids, that is unhealthy. When nerves cry for food, they are given a stone, and rebel in consequence. A plentiful supply of meat should be eaten at least once daily, and this at breakfast, when the body needs bolstering for the day's work, and when the digestive tract is empty. Taken then, with moderate exercise, such food is promptly assimilated and goes where it does most good, directly into the blood.

I heartily approve of late suppers, and am convinced that the human animal, like others, sleeps best upon a stomach filled with light, digestible food. Of course there are idiosyncrasies; there are many kinds of people, and the kind of food proper for one would not suit another; yet there need be no departure from the rule. An elderly lady came to me not long ago and said that it was no manner of use; she could not sleep if she ate anything before she went to bed.

"What had you for supper last night, madam?" I asked.

"Oatmeal porridge, doctor."

"Well, you could not have had anything better calculated to keep you awake. In the first place, oatmeal, no matter how prepared, is devoid of nutrition to any one save the very strongest and hardest working of men. It demands for conversion into chyle an amount of nerve power that no invalid owns and few well people can give; in every other instance remaining unchanged in the bowels until ejected as a foreign substance. Do not touch it again. Try instead a broiled bird or lamb chop, with a bit of toast."

And the change was all she needed to make her sleep peaceful.—William F. Hutchinson, M. D., in American Magazine.

The Recall of the Hawks.

The recall was interesting and forms one of the most wonderful features in hawking. It was achieved by the falconer calling out several times with a loud, far reaching cry, "coombabee! coombabee!" an evident corruption of "come (or coome) my bird." The falconer's voice at once arrested attention as being, from long practice, what authorities declare it ought to be, "full, clear and loud" if not "tremulous;" whence he was designated as "the sonorous falconer." These qualities were more than once required that day when the hawk flew afar; but Peter's voice never failed to reach her and secure her return.

The cry varied with different men and in different places, being with some a long drawn "hol hol" and with others "hool ha-ha-ha!" all, however, being known as the "hollowing" of the falconer. In this first encounter the recall was quite successful, for, in spite of her disappointment and hovering watchfully for the reappearance of the lost quarry, the hawk at once obediently returned to the falconer's wrist. She was then smartly hooded and set upon the cage, for both the falconer and the laird successfully achieved this rather difficult feat. There she took her place in silence, and apparently without discomposure, among her fellows, who had been not the slightest excitement during this clamorous passage of arms.—Good Words.

A Novel Photographic Apparatus.

Photographers are interested just now over a newly patented camera. Detectives as well as photographers are interested in the invention, for no doubt it will prove a very effective weapon in the hands of a person who may want at some time to obtain an instantaneous photo of some face or scene. The new invention, that promises to produce almost a revolution in the art of photography, is based upon the dry process system; that is, of the gelatino-bromide sensitive plates, on which impressions can be readily made instantaneously.

As it weighs eight, this novel apparatus weighs less than two pounds and is only six and one-half inches long and three and three-quarter inches high. It can be carried conveniently in an overcoat pocket as well as in a valise, and another thing in its favor is that it is ready for use at any time. The plates of the apparatus are in a continuous roll, admitting of a hundred negatives.—New York World.

Boston Library's Literary Curiosities.

Under the glass showcases of the Boston public library—supposed to be the most complete collection of books in this country—are exposed to view many literary curiosities of a most interesting description. For instance, there is a copy of The Nuremburg Chronicle, published fifty years after the invention of printing, with wood cuts, and dated 1493. Near by is the epistle of St. Jerome in black letter, dated 1518, with Martin Luther's autograph on the fly leaf. The title page of a little volume in the handwriting of David Garrick has this inscription: "A Dialogue Between an Actor and a Critic, by way of Prologue to the English Opera Called Tempest." An old shaped book is the "Indian Primer, or the First Book by which Children may Know Truly to Read the Indian Language; and Milk for Babes." One B. Green, of Boston, printed this in 1720. Here is also the first ballot cast in South Carolina by a colored man. It originally belonged to William Lloyd Garrison.

Likewise on exhibition is the smallest complete book ever printed. It is a copy of Dante's "Divina Commedia," struck off from the smallest type ever cast. Two sheets of paper, cut into sixteen parts, were enough to contain the whole 14,223 verses. The leaves measure two inches in length by one and a half in width. The type was cast in 1850, but the compositors and proofreaders employed on the work repeatedly abandoned it, on account of the eye strain, and it was not completed until 1875. The type was too small to "distribute," and so, after using, it was melted and cast over again. Another interesting volume is "The Indian Bible, Translated by the Apostle John Eliot." It was printed in 1663 at Cambridge, in Matick dialect, a portion of the type being set by "praying Indians." A book dated 1573, by Latin John, the famous negro scholar and poet, is so rare that the British museum has no copy of it. Juan Latino—as his name properly was—is celebrated as one of the most learned men of the Sixteenth century. He was professor of Greek and Latin in the cathedral school of Grenada, an accomplished swordsman, a beau, a wit and musician—in short, a sort of Admiral Crichton in burnt cork, as it were. He fell in love with one of the beauties of Grenada, and they were married by the bishop of the cathedral, Don John of Austria acting as best man.—Rene Bache in New Orleans Picayune.

His Bodily Presence Was Weak.

I remember a case where a small city congregation that had among its members scarcely a man that was even fairly well educated, heard a man preach several Sabbaths. He was a graduate of a New England college and of one of the best of our theological seminaries, a man of good address, scholarly and gentlemanly in his pulpit manners, a careful, thoughtful sermonizer and a fluent speaker. He was disliked; and when some of the chief men were questioned as to the cause of dissatisfaction, they replied, "He doesn't have a commanding presence."

The readers of this letter will recall one of old of whom it was said that his bodily presence was weak and his speech contemptible; but they will be forced to admit that Paul was, after all, something of a preacher. This congregation in search of a "commanding presence" were a feeble folk, numerically and financially; and though the Lord's people, however poor and weak, ought, theoretically, to have the very best in the way of spiritual food, yet as things are in the church, as well as in the world, it is a question whether they were wholly wise in looking for perfection in the Lord's vessel, and whether they were not too slow in appreciating the Lord's grace contained in it; and although ministers ought not to be rated by the amount of salary that they receive, still this incident will remind many of the man who said, concerning an underpaid servant girl, "You can't expect all the Christian virtues for $2 a week."—The Century.

After the Yellow Fever.

As soon as the epidemic is over the first step would be to have a thorough and systematic house to house investigation, and all places carefully noted where cases occurred. In these houses the mattresses, blankets, carpets and woolen materials should be burned. The linen and cotton goods could be effectually disinfected by thoroughly boiling in a compound prepared for this purpose. By this means, I think, the city could be freed from the microbes and another visitation next season fully prevented.

To do this would cost a great deal, and that is one reason why the government could do it far more effectually than any committee or other authority. It certainly would cost from $100,000 to $175,000, and perhaps more, including, of course, payments for goods destroyed to those who could not afford to lose them.

It will take fully two months to do all this, but something energetic must be done, for it will not do to have a second epidemic. A season like this costs this country an immense amount of money, and no expense should be spared in stamping it out.—Dr. Porter in New York World.

Millionaire Flood's Gold.

Flood's estate is valued by good judges at $15,000,000. At the height of the bonanza excitement, when shares on the leading mines brought $900 and paid $50 a month dividend, Flood's wealth was rated at $40,000,000, but then came the great shrinkage in Comstock values, which cut down the fortune of all the mining millionaires fully one-half, and Flood's losses by the Nevada bank wheat deal were fully $5,000,000. The property will probably be equally divided between the wife, son and daughter. The latter was always Flood's favorite, and at one time she possessed in her own right $5,000,000 in real estate and government bonds. She gave much of this to help her father out of his embarrassment a year ago, but still owns about $2,000,000. Young Flood is shrewd, but has no stability, and the old man never trusted him in any large deals.—San Francisco Alta.

Breaking Up a Popular Delusion.

The Thirteen club, of New York city, may be set down as a practically useful affair in the way of breaking up a tendency to superstition. Where the inheritance of sacred days and days of evil omen comes from, with the belief in certain numbers as fortunate and others as associated with danger, does not so much concern us as how to get rid of the notion. One of the judges of New York state, and we believe two or three elsewhere, no longer sentence criminals to be hanged on Friday. The Thirteen club was a deliberate attempt to break the popular delusion that a gathering of thirteen implies disaster to one or more of the party. This club lately enjoyed its seventy-ninth dinner in a Chinese restaurant. A Mongolian meal was served and eaten with chop sticks.—Globe-Democrat.

Picture of "Eleanor Kirk."

The popular authoress and newspaper writer, Eleanor Kirk, is of medium height, somewhat stout, but very quick in her movements. Her face in its profile reminds one strongly of Henry Ward Beecher—a resemblance which is increased by her snow white hair. Her correspondents frequently address her as "Miss Kirk," but she is really Mrs. E. M. Ames, and has been a widow for many years. According to Oriental ethics, she should be a happy woman, for she has been the "mother of sons," four of whom give her the maternal title in which her woman's heart rejoices, and her one daughter is never long absent from her side.—Current Literature.

Overstocked with Mediocres.

When any profession or calling is overstocked it means, generally, that there's too large an amount of mediocrity in such profession or calling. Or, in other words, there are too many who can do the same thing equally well. There is always a place for the better worker, the man or woman whose individuality and originality can strike out in some new path and make an improvement on the old method, providing such worker has force enough to keep on pushing his or her talent to the front and not use that same force up in dwelling on discouragements.—Prentice Mulford in New York Star.

Only Honor and Titles.

The profession of a teacher may lead to a great deal of the self satisfaction that comes from lives spent in the improvement of the minds and morals of the young, but it leads to very little else. In nearly every other walk of life riches reward success, but in the profession of teaching there is nothing to expect but honor and titles. I have known but few teachers who became wealthy, and their riches were acquired in business not connected with their vocation.—Superintendent Long in Globe-Democrat.

MAKE HENS LAY

WE SEND BY MAIL A LARGE 2¼ POUND CAN FOR $1.20, TWO SMALL PACKS 50 CTS POST PAID.

NOTHING ON EARTH WILL MAKE HENS LAY LIKE SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER.

Sheridan's Condition Powder

is absolutely pure and highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other kind. Strictly medicinal; to be given in the food, once daily, in small doses. Prevents and cures all diseases of hens. Worth its weight in gold when hens are moulting, and to keep them healthy. Testimonials sent free by mail. Ask your druggist, grocer, general store, or feed dealer for it. If you can't get it, send 25 cts. for one pkg., or 5 pkgs. for $1 by mail as follows: A new and elegantly illustrated copy of the FARMERS POULTRY RAISING GUIDE (price 25 cts.), telling how to make money with a few hens, and two small packages of Powder for 50 cents; or, one large 2½ pound can and Guide, $1.20. Sample package of Powder, 25 cents, free for $1.00. Six cans, express prepaid, for $5.00. Send stamps or cash. L. S. JOHNSON & CO., 23 Custom-House St., Providence, R. I.

Mr. Cleveland has taken his stand on free trade, " " and on that broad question Mr. Cleveland's candidature naturally and necessarily carries English sympathy.—London Globe.

Upon the success of our manufactures, as the handmaid of agriculture and commerce, depends in a great measure the independence of our country, and none can feel more sensibly than I do the necessity of encouraging them.—Andrew Jackson.

TRADE S.S.S. MARK. FOR THE BLOOD

SWIFT'S SPECIFIC

Is entirely a vegetable preparation containing no Mercury, Potash, Arsenic, or other poisonous substances.

SWIFT'S SPECIFIC

Has cured hundreds of cases of Epithelioma or Cancer of the Skin, thousands of cases of Eczema, Blood Humors and Skin Diseases, and hundreds of thousands of cases of Scrofula, Blood Poison and Blood Taint.

SWIFT'S SPECIFIC

Has relieved thousands of cases of Mercurial Poisoning, Rheumatism and Stiffness of the Joints.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., June 27, 1888—Swift's Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Gentlemen: In the early part of the present year, a bad case of blood poison appeared upon me. I began taking S. S. S. under advice of another, and to-day I feel greatly improved. I am still taking the medicine and shall continue to do so until I am perfectly well. I believe it will effect a perfect cure. Yours truly, DOC. P. HOWARD, 111 West Sixth St.

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 1, 1888—The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Gentlemen: I was a great sufferer from muscular rheumatism for two years. I could get no permanent relief from any medicine prescribed by my physician. I took over a dozen bottles of your S. S. S., and now I am as well as I ever was in my life. I am sure your medicine cured me, and I would recommend it to any one suffering from any blood disease. Yours truly, O. E. HOGAN, Conductor C. & G. R. R.

WACO, TEXAS, May 9, 1888—Gentlemen: The wife of one of my customers was severely afflicted with a loathsome skin disease, that covered her whole body. She was confined to her bed for several years by this affliction, and could not help herself at all. She could not sleep from a violent itching and stinging of the skin. The disease baffled the skill of the physicians who treated it. Her husband began finally giving his wife Swift's Specific, and she commenced to improve almost immediately, and in a few weeks she was apparently well. She is now a hearty fine-looking lady, with no trace of the affliction left. Yours very truly, J. E. SEARS, Wholesale Druggist, Austin Avenue.

Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free. The Swift Specific Co., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga.; New York, 159 Broadway.

CAUTION

Beware of Fraud, as my name and the price are stamped on the bottom of all my advertised shoes before leaving the factory, which protects the wearers against high prices and inferior goods. If a dealer offers W. L. Douglas shoes at a reduced price, or says he has them without my name and price stamped on the bottom, put him down as a fraud.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE. FOR GENTLEMEN.

The only calf $3 SEAMLESS Shoe smooth inside, NO TACKS or WAX THREAD to hurt the feet, easy as hand-sewed and WILL NOT RIP.

W. L. DOUGLAS $4 SHOE, the original and only hand-sewed welt $4 shoe. Equals custom-made shoes costing from $6 to $8.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.50 POLICE SHOE. Railroad Men and Letter Carriers all wear them. Smooth inside as a Hand-Sewed Shoe. No Tacks or Wax Thread to hurt the feet.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.50 SHOE is unexcelled for heavy wear. Best Calf Shoe for the price.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.25 WORKINGMAN'S SHOE is the best in the world for rough wear; one pair ought to wear a man a year.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2 SHOE FOR BOYS is the best School Shoe in the world.

W. L. DOUGLAS $1.75 YOUTH'S School Shoe gives the small Boys a chance to wear the best shoe in the world.

All made in Congress, Button and Lace. If not sold by your dealer, write

W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

— FOR SALE BY —

OREN BRAGDON & SON, NO. 24 MARKET STREET

INGALLS' MANDRAKE COMPOUND

Among the various organs of our system, none perform a more essential part than the Liver and Kidneys, and so many people are afflicted with diseases of these organs, causing the Blood to become impure, that it is our first duty to assist them in their work. This is done in a thorough manner by Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, which is purely Vegetable, and is worthy of a fair trial.

Ingalls' Mandrake Compound is sold by all Druggists.

PREPARED ONLY BY THE INGALLS MEDICAL CO LOWELL, MASS., U.S.A.

Price, $1.00; Six Bottles for $5.00

— FOR SALE BY —

A. P. PRESTON

UNPRECEDENTED ATTRACTION!

OVER A MILLION DISTRIBUTED

L. S. L.

Louisiana State Lottery Company.

Incorporated by the Legislature in 1868, for Educational and Charitable purposes, and its franchise made a part of the present State Constitution, in 1879, by an overwhelming popular vote.

Its GRAND EXTRAORDINARY DRAWINGS take place Semi-Annually, (June and December), and its GRAND SINGLE NUMBER DRAWINGS take place on each of the other ten months in the year, and are all drawn in public, at the Academy of Music, New Orleans, La.

"We do hereby certify that we supervise the arrangements for all the Monthly and Quarterly Drawings of The Louisiana State Lottery Company, and in person manage and control the drawings themselves, and that the same are conducted with honesty, fairness, and in good faith toward all parties; and we authorize the Company to use this certificate, with fac-similes of our signatures attached, in its advertisement."

G. T. Beauregard, J. A. Early, Commissioners.

We the undersigned Banks and Bankers will pay all Prizes drawn in The Louisiana State Lotteries which may be presented at our counters.

R. M. WALMSLEY, Pres. Louisiana Nat. Bk.
PIERRE LANAUX, Pres. State Nat'l Bank.
A. BALDWIN, Pres. New Orleans Nat'l Bk.
CARL KOHN, Pres. Union National Bank.

GRAND MONTHLY DRAWING,

In the Academy of Music, New Orleans,

Tuesday, November 13, 1888.

CAPITAL PRIZE, $300,000.

100,000 Tickets at Twenty Dollars each. Halves $10; Quarters $5; Tenths $2; Twentieths $1.

LIST OF PRIZES.

1 PRIZE OF	$300,000 is	$300,000
1 PRIZE OF	100,000 is	100,000
1 PRIZE OF	50,000 is	50,000
1 PRIZE OF	25,000 is	25,000
2 PRIZES OF	10,000 are	20,000
5 PRIZES OF	5,000 are	25,000
25 PRIZES OF	1,000 are	25,000
100 PRIZES OF	500 are	50,000
200 PRIZES OF	300 are	60,000
500 PRIZES OF	200 are	100,000

APPROXIMATION PRIZES.

100 Prizes of	$500 are	50,000
100 do.	300 are	30,000
100 do.	200 are	20,000

TERMINAL PRIZES.

999 do.	100 are	99,900
999 do.	100 are	99,900
3,134 Prizes, amounting to		$1,054,800

NOTE.—Tickets drawing Capital Prizes are not entitled to terminal Prizes.

☞ FOR CLUB RATES, or any further information desired, write legibly to the undersigned, giving full name, post office, county, express office, State and number. More rapid return mail delivery will be assured by your enclosing an Envelope bearing your full address.

Send POSTAL NOTES, Express Money Orders, or New York Exchange in ordinary letter. Currency by Express (at our expense) addressed to

M. A. DAUPHIN, New Orleans, La.,

or M. A. DAUPHIN, Washington, D. C.

Address Registered Letters to NEW ORLEANS NATIONAL BANK, New Orleans, La.

REMEMBER That the presence of Generals Beauregard and Early, who are in charge of the drawings, is a guarantee of absolute fairness and integrity, that the chances are all equal, and that no one can possibly divine what number will draw a Prize.

"REMEMBER, also, that the payment of all Prizes is GUARANTEED BY FOUR NATIONAL BANKS of New Orleans, and the Tickets signed by the President of an institution, whose charter rights are recognized in the highest Courts; therefore, beware of any imitations or anonymous schemes."

EDWARD D. COFFIN,

SHERIFF ROCKINGHAM CO. AND U. S. DEPUTY MARSHAL.

Office at No. 3 Market Square, And at the Jail.

Will be at Hadley & Moore's Ins. Office at 9 A. M. and 4 o'clock P. M.

(TELEPHONE AT THE JAIL).

Cure Your Corns,

BY USING SCHLOTTERBECK'S CORN, WART AND BUNION SOLVENT

A CURE IS GUARANTEED.

EAT QUAKER MILLS ROLLED WHITE OATS FOR BREAKFAST.

TRADE MARK.

SOLD BY ALL GROCERS.

Quaker Mill Co., Ravenna, Ohio.

In Our Popular Brand

FINZER'S OLD HONESTY

Old Honesty Will be found a Combination not always to be had.

A FINE QUALITY OF PLUG TOBACCO AT A REASONABLE PRICE

FINZER'S OLD HONESTY. LOOK FOR THIS ON EACH PLUG

OLD HONESTY Plug CHEWING Tobacco is made from the BEST BURLEY LEAF! for CHEWING ONLY! and not for Smoking.

IF YOU ARE LOOKING FOR A FIRST-CLASS ARTICLE IN

CHEWING TOBACCO

DON'T FAIL TO GIVE

OLD HONESTY

A FAIR TRIAL.

ASK YOUR DEALER FOR IT DON'T TAKE ANY OTHER

JNO. FINZER & BROS., LOUISVILLE, KY.

TRANSPORTAION

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

Eastern Division.

TRAINS LEAVE PORTSMOUTH FOR BOSTON, 4.05, 7.25, 8.20, 11.05 a. m., 2.55, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4.00 p. m. Returning, 7.30, 9.00, 10.00 a. m. 12.30, 3.20, 4.40, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.20 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

PORTLAND, 3.55, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m. Returning, 7.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.00, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 2.00 a. m.

RANGOR, St. John and Halifax, 10.55 a. m., 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.00 p. m.

GREAT FALLS AND WOLFEBORO JUNC., 9.55 a. m., 2.45, 5.20 p. m.

WOLFEBORO, 9.55, a. m., 5.20 p. m.

NORTH CONWAY, 9.55 a. m., 2.45 p. m.

DOVER, 4.50, 9.45, a. m., 12.25, 2.38, 5.22 p. m.

YORK HARBOR AND BEACH R. R.

YORK BEACH AND WAY STATIONS, (via York Harbor and Beach R. R.) 8.30, 11.10 a. m., 5.35 p. m. Returning, leave York Beach 6.40, 10.00 a. m., 1.40, p. m. Connecting with trains leaving Portsmouth for Boston.

JAS. T. FURBER, D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l Manager. Gen'l Passenger Agent.

Concord & Portsmouth Railroad.

PASSENGER TRAINS leave Eastern Railroad Station for Newmarket Junction, Manchester, Concord and upper railroads, as follows:

UP TRAINS.

Leave	A. M.	P. M.	P. M.
Portsmouth	7.35	1.05	5.15
Greenland	8.05	1.30	5.40
Newmarket Junction	8.25	1.50	5.56
East Epping
Epping	8.43	2.12	6.14
West Epping	8.49		6.21
Raymond	9.05	2.35	6.37
Candia	9.13	2.43	6.45
Auburn	9.22		6.57
Manchester	9.30	2.50	7.05
Arrive Manchester	9.42	3.20	7.25
" Concord	10.30	3.12	8.25

DOWN TRAINS.

Leave	A. M.	A. M.	P. M.
Concord	7.30	10.20	3.20
Manchester	8.15	11.15	4.05
Massabesic	8.27	11.25	4.20
Auburn	8.33		4.44
Candia	8.44	11.46	4.54
Raymond	8.56	11.58	5.06
West Epping	9.13	P. M.	5.28
Epping	9.20	12.08	5.37
East Epping		12.14
Newmarket Junction	9.46	12.34	6.03
Greenland	10.01	12.36	6.20
Arrive Portsmouth	10.10	12.45	6.30

☞ Trains connect at Newmarket Junction with trains of the Boston & Maine Railroad for Exeter, Haverhill, Lawrence and Boston; and for Dover, Great Falls and Portland; at Concord with trains to and from all the upper Railroads.

H. E. CHAMBERLIN, Supt.

C. E. BOYNTON,

Manufacturer and Wholesale Dealer in

Soda Water, Root, Tonic, Vanilla, Orange and Strawberry Beer, Crab Apple Lemonette, Cream Ginger and Ginger Ale.

EXTRACT OF NERVE FOOD!

For Brain and Nervous Exhaustion. Good for the Appetite.

Soda Water in Syphons for Hotel and Family Use. Fountains Charged at Short Notice.

Bottler of Eldredge and Milwaukee Lager, Porter and Refined Cider.

☞ The Summer Beverages manufactured and bottled by me having been before the public of this city and vicinity for the past seventeen years, need no endorsement as being of the very highest standard.

E. C. BLAISDELL, D. M. D.,

(SUCCESSOR TO DR. F. J. BONNEY.)

Dental Rooms 1 1-2 Market Street.

Ray State, Haynes Excelsior and Wm. B. Tilton Gold Medal GUITARS, $10 to $40. MUSIC BOXES, 50 cents to $300. Solo Eb CORNET, $10. Haynes VIOLINS, Orchestra, $25; Solo, $35. Special Snare DRUMS, $6. Crosby FIFES, $2. Drum Corps and Bands. Send for Estimates. Catalogues free. J. C. HAYNES & Co., 33 Court St., Boston, Mass.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

POST OFFICE RULES.

MAILS CLOSE

	A. M.			P. M.
Boston, N. Y., south, west,	6:50	10:20	2:20	4:20	6:45
Boston and way stations,		10:20	2:20		6:45
Portland,	9:25		4:20		6:45
Portland and way stations,	9:25		4:20
East [beyond Portland]	9:25				6:45
Great Falls, Rochester, Wolfeboro' Union Milton, R. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,	9:25				4:20
Concord & Manchester,	7:40	10:20			4:20
Concord, Manchester and north,	7:40		4:20
Exeter and B. & M. way, west of Newmarket,	7:40		4:20
Dover,	9:25		2:20	4:20	6:45
North Conway,	9:25				6:45
York and Cape Neddick,		9:25
Newcastle,		10:20
Newington,		10:20
Boston, N. Y. and south, Sunday,						1:00

MAILS ARRIVE.

	A. M.		P. M.
Boston, south and west,	10:05	2:20	5:40	7:00	9:00
New York,	10:05		5:40	7:00
Boston and way stations,	10:05		5:40
Portland and east,	7:20	11:00	3:20
Great Falls, Rochester, Union, Milton,	8:20	11:00
R. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,		11:00
Concord, Manchester and north,		10:20	6:20
Dover,	7:30	10:20	3:30	5:40
Newcastle,		9:20
Newington,		9:20
York and Cape Neddick,		11:00
E. & M. R. R., west of Newmarket,		10:20	6:20

S. J. GERRISH, P. M.

MINATURE ALMANAC NOV. 9.

SUN RISES.....6:28
SUN SETS.....4:28
LENGTH OF DAY.. 10:0

MOON SETS 10:10 P. M
FULL SEA { 3:45 A. M / 3:30 P. M

PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Open Monday, Tuesday, Friday and Saturday evenings from 7:30 to 9:00 P. M., and Wednesday and Saturday afternoons from 3:00 to 6:00 o'clock

Weather Indications.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

Indications for Friday: Threatening weather and rain, slightly warmer, followed by colder on Saturday, wind shifting to southerly, brisk to high on the coast.

THE CELEBRATION NEXT MONDAY.

Much enthusiasm is being manifested over the republican celebration which is to take place next Monday night. Invitations have been sent to the campaign organizations at Newburyport, Salem, Manchester, Rochester, Dover, Rye, Farmington and other places, and it is anticipated that large numbers of uniformed men will come from abroad. The sub-committee having in charge the matter of fireworks, propose to arrange for a display that will eclipse anything in that line attempted here for a long time. It is expected that the Flambeau Club of Derry will be in the procession. This feature will be a novel one here, and will add greatly to the brilliancy of the occasion.

The following gentlemen have been added to the executive committee, and assigned to the reception of invited guests: Charles E. Batchelder, Esq., Hon. E. H. Winchester, T. Salter Tredick, Esq., Hon. John H. Broughton, John Sise, Esq., Lewis E. Smith, Esq., and Howe Call, Esq.

The route of the procession will be announced to-morrow morning, when we shall probably know something definitely as to the number of out of town companies that will participate, and then the executive committe will have something to say to the ladies, through the press, regarding provisions for collation.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board or Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, Nov. 8th, Mayor Hodgdon in the chair;

Absent, Ald. Urch.

Bills to the amount of $840, approved by the committee on claims, were ordered to be paid.

An ordinance authorizing the issue of city bonds to the amount of $50,000, to provide for the taking up of $50,000 of outstanding six per cent bonds which fall due Jan. 1st, 1889, was received from the Common Council, and referred to the committee on finance, with permission to report at once. The committe reporting favorably, the ordinance was passed under suspension of the rules.

Adjourned for two weeks.

In Common Council, President Sullivan in the chair:

An ordinance authorizing the refunding of $50,000 of six per cent bonds falling due next year, at a lower rate of interest, was passed and sent up.

Adjourned to the call of the mayor.

SUICIDE.

John K. A. Hanson of this city, for about three years past an inmate of the insane hospital at Brentwood, was found dead in his room on the morning of the 7th inst., having strangled himself with a line which he had made by twisting up threads pulled from his clothing. He was in a nearly upright position, with one end of the line about his neck, and the other fast to a window bar. He was formerly a city crier and bill poster, and served in the army during the late war. He was well known in this city for his eccentricities, but we never heard of his harming any person, or trying to.

ONE OF THE THINGS NO FELLOW CAN FIND OUT.

The returns on the county ticket of Rockingham county usually move so slowly that in a general election the people of the county expect to know who are chosen in Oregon before they find out whom they have themselves elected. This year offers no exception to the rule. One of the candidates on the ticket came into the CHRONICLE office late on Thursday afternoon, and asked if we could tell him whether he was defeated or elected, as he had not been able to find out himself; we could not aid him. An Exeter despatch of the 8th said that from all that could be learned there the democrats have re-elected the sheriff, and possibly the solicitor, the rest of the officers-elect being those on the republican ticket.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY VOTE.

For President.

	Harrison.	Cleveland.	Scat.
Atkinson,	81	60	5
Auburn,	87	112	8
Brentwood,	136	70	5
Candia,	178	211	0
Chester,	154	135	5
Danville,	119	61	0
Deerfield,	231	200	6
Derry,	301	250	10
Epping,	191	271	9
East Kingston,	87	77	7
Exeter,	613	306	16
Fremont,	96	67	5
Greenland,	69	108	4
Hampstead,	147	81	22
Hampton,	305	153	12
Hampton Falls,	109	43	10
Kensington,	69	84	2
Kingston,	147	200	14
Londonderry,	238	117	5
Newcastle,	77	88	4
Newington,	33	65	1
Newmarket,	234	296	0
Newton,	152	173	1
North Hampton,	92	131	5
Northwood,	160	188	16
Nottingham,	175	134	0
Plaistow,	123	86	0
Portsmouth (ag.)	972	1510	7
Ward 1,	326	513	2
Ward 2,	405	505	0
Ward 3,	91	229	5
Ward 4,	150	263	0
Raymond,	107	230	8
Rye,	99	170	2
Salem,	209	276	1
Sandown,	57	87	0
Seabrook,	165	250	5
South Hampton,	63	42	4
South Newmarket,	163	85	1
Stratham,	90	101	4
Windham,	111	49	0
	6451	6553	191

For Governor.

	Goodell.	Amaden.	Scat.
Atkinson,	82	60	5
Auburn,	86	113	8
Brentwood,	139	70	4
Candia,	175	214	0
Chester,	154	136	5
Danville,	119	61	0
Deerfield,	230	200	6
Derry,	404	249	8
Epping,	190	268	12
East Kingston,	56	76	0
Exeter,	613	307	14
Fremont,	95	68	5
Greenland,	68	106	3
Hampstead,	147	81	22
Hampton,	203	153	12
Hampton Falls,	109	43	10
Kensington,	68	85	2
Kingston,	148	200	14
Londonderry,	236	118	4
Newcastle,	75	89	4
Newington,	31	67	1
Newmarket,	236	298	4
Newton,	152	171	1
North Hampton,	92	131	6
Northwood,	200	187	10
Nottingham,	176	133	0
Plaistow,	123	86	0
Portsmouth (ag.)	952	1536	1
Ward 1,	316	524	1
Ward 2,	401	511	0
Ward 3,	86	237	0
Ward 4,	148	264	0
Raymond,	107	230	8
Rye,	99	170	2
Salem,	213	272	10
Sandown,	57	87	0
Seabrook,	164	251	5
South Hampton,	64	42	4
South Newmarket,	163	85	11
Stratham,	90	101	4
Windham,	113	46	0
	6429	6500	205

REPRESENTATIVES-ELECT.

The following are the Rockingham county members of the next State legislature, according to the returns as received. From this list it appears that the delegation is Democratic two to one—twenty-eight to fourteen:

Atkinson—Edward N. Greenough, d.
Auburn—Benjamin Eaton, d.
Brentwood—George Rowe, r.
Chester—Clark B. Hall, d.
Danville—James Darbe, r.
Deerfield—John J. Cilley, r.
Derry—Gilman A. Wheeler, r; Arthur Learned, r.
Epping—John Q. Pike, d.
Exeter—Gilmon Marston, George L. Tisley, William H. Fellows, all r.
Fremont—John Martin, r.
Greenland—William H. Packer, d.
Hampton Falls—George C. Healey, r.
Hampstead—Daniel H. Emerson, r.
Hampton—H. M. Lane, r.
Kensington—Joseph N. Austin, d.
Kingston—David O. Brewer, d.
Londonderry—Samuel P. Robie, r.
Newcastle—Oliver J. Randall, d.
Newmarket—William G. Folsom, d; George H. Hodgdon, d.
Newington—Nehemiah Pickering, d.
Newton—James B. Kimball, d.
North Hampton—David J. Lamprey, dem.
Nottingham—William F. Holmes, r.
Plaistow—Benjamin G. Flanders, r.
Portsmouth—Ward one, Henry R. Stoddard, Samuel P. Treadwell, Daniel Casey; ward two, Heman F. Eldredge, George E. Hodgdon, John Conlon; ward three, Timothy F. Cronin; ward four, Howell C. Russell, all d.
Raymond—Olney T. Brown, d.
Rye—Charlet H. Rand, d.
Salem—Milton G. Woodbury, d; Oliver G. Woodbury, d.
Sandown—Elisha B. Hoyt, d.
Seabrook—William D. Eaton, d.
South Newmarket—J. Neal, r.
Stratham—Frank H. Scammon, d.
Windham—Hiram R. Reynolds, r.

WHY THEY STOPPED.

A few republicans on Tuesday evening about nine o'clock commenced to fire a salute from a small cannon, on a piece of land on Christian Shore outside the compact part of the city, which they had permission to occupy. They had fired five or six rounds when a navy yard ironplater named Goodrich appeared, and demanded that the firing instantly cease, on pain of his displeasure, which he would manifest in the most violent manner. Finding that the firing would proceed in spite of all this, he then stated that a lady living in a house not a long distance away was very ill, and that the noise disturbed her greatly. On this reason being advanced, the firing ceased.

INDEPENDENTS—NOTICE.

The Independent Democrats, and those who have been known as having been associated with them actively or sympathetically during the recent political campaign, are requested to meet at their club room in the old custom house building this (Friday) evening at eight o'clock to express their satisfaction at the result of the election, of so much importance in a National point of view. The meetings may be continued until after the inauguration of Harrison and Morton as president and vice president of the United States. Per order of the club.

NATHANIEL K. RAYNES.

In spite of the sprinkling of rain, and the fact that election is over, a party of about twenty youngsters who did not allow any such trifles to dampen their ardor had a "Mother Hubbard" parade through the principal streets in the centre of the city on Thursday evening. The leader was a boy ten or twelve years old, apparently the elder of the party, and the heights sloped down to the end of the procession, which was brought up by three or four little fellows who appeared to be about six years old, and who, to judge from their habiliments had escaped from bed to take part in the glorious pageant. The youngsters had two or three torches and a drum, marched very well, cheered when they felt like it, which was much oftener than some of their elders feel like doing just at present, and also did some singing. It was quite a pretty display, if not very extensive, and attracted a good deal of admiration.

The building on Hanover street owned by Mr. R. H. Beacham, formerly occupied as a hack office by Nathan Jones, has been sawed off all around under the roof, and the roof will be raised so as to add eight or nine feet to the height of the upper story, previously too low to be of any value whatever except as a dark clutter-hole. Windows will be put in and the story as improved will be utilized as a paint shop.

The Times on the 5th of March last remarked: "One year from to-day we will publish Cleveland's second inaugural address." But it forgot to add, "should he deliver one." We doubt if the promised address is published on the day named.

John Donovan, a freight brakeman on the Boston & Maine railroad, had both legs cut off in the railroad yard at Portland on the night of the 16th inst., by a shifting engine backing down upon him.

Ex-Gov. Charles H. Bell, Hon. John L. Cyman and Mr. John H. Brown, are Exeter's members-elect of the convention to consider the revision of the constitution.

Pears' Soap is an elegant toilet adjunct.

Mrs. Tebbets will open on Saturday, Nov. 10th, a large assortment of Trimmed Hats and Bonnets, which will be offered at very low prices.

The First Universalist church in Lynn, Mass., was the scene of a brilliant marriage on the evening of the 7th inst., when Miss Fanny Martin, daughter of E. F. Martin, and J. W. Hitchings, of the firm of L. S. Johnson & Co., shoe manufacturers, were united in wedlock. The nuptials were solemnized by Rev. J. M. Pullman, and a large congregation of the first families of the city were present. The bride was very prettily attired. At the close of the ceremony a reception took place at the house of the bride, where a wedding lunch was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Hitchings left for an extended wedding tour.

ACROSS THE RIVER.

The Eliot Library Association will have a course of lectures during the winter. They will also hold a meeting, and possibly more than one, devoted to discussion of the history of the town, and possibly the readidg of one or more papers thereon.

A party of rejoicing republicans from Kittery Point arrived at the navy yard village on Wednesday evening, the 7th inst., with a dory mounted on wheels, and containing persons dressed to represent the President and Mrs. Cleveland, engaged in fishing over the side of the boat. The establishment and escort paraded through the village, causing a good deal of mirth and very little annoyance, there not being many democrats in the town to be vexed, notwithstanding the old-time talk of the democracy to the effect that Kittery would be as reliably democratic as Eliot, were it not for the republicans having control of the navy yard patronage. Come to think of it, the town is now just about as reliably democratic as Eliot; the latter town gave its vote for Harrison and Morton on the 6th inst., the first time, we belive, that it ever gave a majority vote to a republican presidential candidate.

Mr. Patch, the well known builder at Kittery Point, will at once erect for Manning Emery, Esq., of Cambridge, Mass., a summer cottage to be located just west of the Kittery Point bridge.

At the recent annual meeting of the Eliot Library Association the following were elected officers for the ensuing year:

President, M. F. Keefe;
Vice President, F. A. Staples;
Secretary and Treasurer, Miss S. J. Farmer;
Executive Committee, Frank Wooster, Edward Bartlett, Timothy Dame, Samuel Dixon, E. G. Hammond, Abram Hill and Rev. James Lade.

Capt. "Rashe" Trefethen, the well known and popular skipper of the steamer Mystic, who is and always has been about as ardent a republican as can be found on either side of the Piscataqua river, is wearing a new felt hat since election, and values it at $125, he having expended that amount during the campaign, and only got this hat to show for it; but then the sweet peace of a contented mind which steals o'er him as he reads the election news is more than sufficient compensation.

The jib-and-mainsail yacht—that is now the fashionable name for a sloop—Em-Ell-Eye, lately enrolled in the South Boston Yacht club's fleet, has been sold to parties in Wilmington, N. C., and been shipped to that point by rail, she not being as big as the Volunteer, her length over all being a little under twenty feet. The Em-Ell-Eye was built by Mr. Henry T. Hutchings of South Boston, formerly of this city, and has been sailed by him in all her races, in which she has made the wonderful record of nineteen consecutive victories.

The bandana is under some circumstances a useful article, but certainly no very lofty sentiment can attach to it. It is not likely ever again to be elevated to the dignity of a battle flag for nearly half a great nation.

Frank Brown of Manchester, who accidentally shot Herman Relmann on the 4th inst., has been held on a charge of manslaughter.

Charles Dearborn, aged twenty-six years, driver of a grocery team in Raymond, was found under his overturned team, dead, on the 13th.

BORN.

SHAW. In Aurora, Ill., Nov. 6th, to Hon. James Shaw, a girl.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity trength and wholesomeness. More economical han the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in tompetition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO. 106 Wall Street, New York.

Situation Wanted.

A YOUNG MAN from the country, of good habits, would like to secure employment in a private family, or with a business firm. Enquire at this office.

To Let.

THE middle Tenement, No. 23, in the Kenney Block on Pleasant Street. Apply to J. P. HART.

NOTICE.

IF you want PURE CIDER VINEGAR of the best quality, we are headquarters for the same. J. R. YEATON & CO. 55 Congress street.

Dwelling House for Sale.

THE residence of the late Mrs. Daniel Libbey, No. 126 State Street, can be purchased on application to JOHN SISE, JOSEPH SISE, } Executors

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

The three-story (above the grade floor)

BRICK STORE BUILDING

NO. 16 BOW STREET,

Running back over the wharf to the river, occupied for a long time by the late Charles Robinson as a wholesale corn and flour store. Sold to close up an estate. Enquire of J. P. MORSE, Real Estate Broker.

Now is the Time to Look Over Your Wardrobe and See What You Need for Winter, and

SIMPSON'S CORNER STORE

Is the place where you can find everything you need in Gentlemen's Wear, at Remarkably Low Prices, for Cash.

— WE HAVE A FULL LINE OF —

OVERCOATS!

Ranging in Prices from $5 to $25.

— A NEW LOT OF —

ULSTERS!

From $6 to $20.

— A FINE ASSORTMENT OF —

UNDERWEAR,

Including the Celebrated CAMEL'S HAIR for the Health.

Cardigan Jackets,

Blue and Fancy Over-Shirts,

(In these Goods we can Fit the Largest Man.)

— A FINE ASSORTMENT OF —

FURNISHING GOODS,

☞ Headquarters for OIL and RUBBER CLOTHING, Wholesale and Retail.

Come and See for Yourselves at the Old Stand,

Corner Market and Bow Streets,

CHARLES E. SIMPSON.

Furnaces, Ranges & Stoves.

We are now ready to show the Finest Line of

RANGES AND PARLOR STOVES

Ever offered in this city, at Prices within the reach of all. Call and See Them Before Buying, it will Pay You.

LAMPS!

LAMPS!

Our Stock of Lamps is Complete, the

Lux Dux, Rochester, Banner, Duplex,

All First-Class, and will be Sold at the Lowest Prices.

PLUMBING, GAS PIPING, COPPER AND SHEET IRON WORK, AT

John P. Sweetser's,

46 MARKET STREET.

MUSIC HALL, PORTSMOUTH.

JOHN O. AYERS.....MANAGER.

ONE WEEK, COMMENCING

Monday, Nov. 12th.

Popular Family Matinees Wednesday, Friday and Saturday at 2:30 P. M.

EQUESCURRICULUM!

Beautifully Trained

30 HORSES, PONIES & MULES. 30

Under the Management of JNO. C. PATRICK.

The Only School of Educated Horses in the World.

The Equine Wonders of the 19th Century.

The Fun Provoking Mule, DENVER | The Mathematical Wonder, MATTIE

A Superb Mounted Military Band and Complete Orchestra.

OUR PRICES, 25, 35 AND 50 CENTS.

Sale of Seats opens at Goodrich's Book Store, Thursday Morning, Nov. 8th.

NOTICE.—Children under 12 years of age can secure a Reserved Seat at the Matinee for 25c.

ED. H. NEIL, Gen. Agt. E. S. DAVIDSON, Adv. Agt.

For One Week Longer, Only,

COMMENCING NOV. 1st,

WILL SELL

Rubber Water Bottles

AT THESE PRICES:

ONE QUART PLAIN - $1.00
ONE QUART COVERED - 1.14
TWO QUART PLAIN - 1.14
TWO QUART COVERED - 1.23
THREE QUART PLAIN - 1.23
THREE QUART COVERED - 1.32

William D. Grace,

APOTHECARY,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

BABY CARRIAGE FOR SALE.

A BABY CARRIAGE of modern patter straw, hood top, in perfect order, for sale Enquire at this office

FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

RED FIRE!

QUALITY GUARANTEED.

ANDREW P. PRESTON,

Apothecary, - Portsmouth, N. H.

A PERFECT BLEND

MOCHA AND JAVA COFFEE

FULL WEIGHT, 2 POUND CANS, PRICE 70 CENTS.

CHARLES E. LAICHTON & SON,

Exchange Building, Opp. Post-Office.

FALL AND WINTER OF 1888-89.

Our Assortment of Tailoring Goods is superior in many respects to any of previous years, embracing a Full Line of Goods suitable for

Fall and Winter Overcoatings.

Aslo, a Fine Assortment of the Best

IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC GOODS FOR SUITINGS,

Consisting of Stripes, Checks, Plain and Fancy Woollens and Worsteds in Great Variety.

CHECKS AND STRIPES FOR TROWSERS.

FANCY PATTERNS FOR VESTING.

Prices Reasonable for Fine Work.

WM. P. WALKER, - - MERCHANT TAILOR,

NO. 8 MARKET SQUARE.

THE BEST BONDS ARE POLICIES

— IN THE —

Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York

THE LARGEST, CHEAPEST AND BEST IN THE WORLD.

Assets - - over $120,000,000.

RICHARD A. McCURDY, - PRESIDENT.

PROTECTION FOR THE AGED!

At Age of 75 $1000 will purchase an Annuity of $159.06, and other ages in proportion.

Those Desiring Reliable Insurance Should Apply to the Undersigned,

C. M. GIGNOUX, - - GENERAL AGENT,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

ILSLEY & MOORE,

Fire Life and Accident Insurance Agents and Brokers No. 3 Pleasant St., Portsmouth N. H.

NOTICE:—The undersigned gives notice to all whom it may concern, that he has purchased from the senior member of the old firm of MORSE & ILSLEY, all rights to the Fire Insurance Business heretofore carried on by that firm, and is duly authorised by all the Companies represented by them to have and hold all their records. WINGATE N. ILSLEY.

Facilities for placing the largest lines of Fire Insurance in the best Companies.

Agents for the Equitable Life Ins. Society of the U. S. New England Mutual Life Ins. Co. of Boston, Mass., and the Fidelity & Casualty Ins Co., of New York. sept

Look in at Conn's

— AND SEE THE —

BUTTER!

From the very best Dairies in Vermont and New York. Creameries are of no account compared with these Dairies. Also,

Cheese Pork, Lard, Hams, Beans Etc

No Oleo or Second-Hand Stuff kept.

☞ The very best quality of LARD bought by the car-load, which I am selling less than the Boston prices.

THE OLDEST AND ONLY Republican Morning Paper IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

IF YOU WANT TO BUY OR SELL ANYTHING AD VERTISE IN THE Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 24, 1852.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., SATURDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 10, 1888.

$5 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE. TWO CENTS PER COPY.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

SATURDAY, NOV. 10, 1888.

The News!

ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES.

Terrible Mine Explosion in Kansas.

160 MINERS KILLED.

KANSAS CITY, MO., Nov. 9.—A Journal special from Pittsburg, Kansas, says: The most dreadful disaster in the history of Kansas occurred at 5 o'clock this evening, when the men were preparing to leave off work at Shaft No. 2, at Frontenac, a suburb of Pittsburg, a terrible explosion shook the earth for a great distance, and completely shattered the shaft. About 160 men were within the mine at the time of the explosion, being 112 feet below the surface it is almost certain that all are dead. At this writing, the only exceptions were two men who were in a car coming up and being near the top of the shaft they managed to escape. Pittsburg in in the centre of the coal mines of southeastern Kansas and is about 100 miles south of Kansas City on the Fort Scott and Gulf road.

West Virginia.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WHELING, W. VA., Nov. 9.—Forty counties polling 115,468 votes for president in 1884 show net republican gain of 4046. The remaining 14 counties polling 16,689 votes will at the same ratio give republican gain of 790, making total net gain in the state of 4745 which would give the republicans 642 majority. Indications are that Atchison, Flick and Smith, republicans are elected respectively in the first, second and fourth congressional district.

WHEELING, W. VA., Nov. 9.—The excitement over the result of Tuesday's election still continues. Both parties figuring on slow coming returns and claiming the state. A large democratic gain is reported in Logan county this evening, but as the Logan court house is 70 miles from the telegraph station and is a large and sparsely settled country the rep. discredit and the dem. claim. If the republican ratio of gain is continued in the 14 countries to hear from it will give them a plurality of 1000 in the state.

Harrison's Plurality Increasing in California.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9th.—The entire vote of the city except nine precints, and 1123 out of 1590 interior precincts, gives Harrison 112,576, Cleveland 104,615, Fisk 4059, and Curtis 1030. Congressmen McKenna, Vandever and Morrow, republicans, are considered re-elected in 3d, 4th and 6th districts, and Riggs, democrat, in the second. The first and fifth districts still in doubt.

Harrison's Plurality in Indiana Estimated at 2500.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Nov. 9th.—Official returns from all precincts show that Harrison carried the city of Indianapolis by a plurality of 156, the vote being Harrison 13,326, Cleveland 13,170. Blaine carried the city by 625 plurality. Official returns for Marion county, including Indianapolis, give total vote 35,112, against 29,265 in 1884. Cleveland 17,517, Harrison 17,139, Fisk 399, Streeter 57; Cleveland's plurality 378, against 226 plurality for Blaine in 1884. It is pretty definitely settled that Harrison's plurality in Indiana will be about 2500. The entire Republican ticket is elected, from governor down to reporter of the Supreme Court.

Taking Time by the Forelock.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Preparations for the inauguration of Gen. Harrison have already begun. The Republican League club of this city tonight had a meeting any appointed a committee of which Gen. Edward F. Beale is chairman, to confer with the leading Republicans and take the necessary steps toward making the inauguration a success.

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 9.—In North Carolina democrats elect their congressional candidates except in the fifth, ninth and probably in the second, which is still in doubt.

Ex-Senator Barnum Improving.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 9.—Reports from Lime Rock to-day show slight improvement in W. H. Barnum's condition. His physician is of the opinion that a few weeks will bring him around all right.

Could Not Pass on the Same Track.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

PUEBLO, COL., Nov. 9.—Early this morning, a freight train on the Rio Grande railroad near Trinidad, was derailed by a broken wheel. Train behind crashed into the wreck before a flagman could be sent back, and a fireman named Bradshaw was killed, and both trains were badly smashed.

He Goes to Prison.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CLEVELAND, OHIO, Nov. 9.—J. H. Broggins, one time associate editor of the Cleveland Leader, surrendered himself to the Sheriff this afternoon, and confessed that he forged Ex-Mayor Rose's name to notes aggregating $6000 to $7000. Several banks suffer.

Under Stress of Weather.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

BOOTHBAY, ME., Nov. 9.—Schooner Sambel Cook, Robinson master, from Calais for Lynn, reports sprung aleak near Fox island—leaking badly. Schooner Princess, from Port Gilbert, N. S., for Gloucester, broke main boom in Bay of Funday; will repair here.

Henry Watterson's Screed. He Lashes and Then Extols Cleveland.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Nov. 9th.—Henry Watterson will say in the Courier-Journal tomorrow: "Mr. Cleveland goes down among his people because of friends he chilled into indifference or converted into enemies, partly through overconfidence in the star of his destiny and partly through lack of those amenities which go so far to make men strong or weak, on an occasion of emergency. When the trial came there was literally no one among professional politicians to make the priests fight his fight, and no one among great capitalists to advance considerable sums of money; no one among leaders inspired by sublime energy of personal devotion, and no enthusiasm among masses other than that brought out by cold issue, by tax reform, or started spasmodically by figure of an old Roman flashing fitfully through confusion and tumult of fray. To all approaches for help which the president thought he had no right to give, his one answer was that this was not the administration's but the people's battle. When he was asked directly from national Democratic headquarters whether he was for us or against us he smiled and considered that which was only half just as all tribute to his integrity, as indeed it was, thought at the expense of his wisdom. It is true to say of him he did not raise his hand to help himself from beginning to end of the campaign; that he did not encourage anybody else to help him, and that in many cases he did not permit his official subordinates to help him. This was magnificent, but in was notpolitics undoubtedly, and all that had preceeded it made difference in the vote of the State of New York. It cost us and him loss of it.

It is as discouraging as it is useless to recur to the general tenor of the Republican campaign. In argument and oratory it was weak enough, but in solid and working machineries of party organization, in material resources and in veteran skill it was admirable. All its accidents made for the Democrats, all its signs and portents presaged Democratic victary, but at the right time and in the right quarter a money devil so efficiently served by genius and so vividly typefied in the person of that Prince among robber barons, Senator Mathew Stanley Quay fired and pointed his heaviest gun and there was no resisting the volleys of boodle they belched forth.

This is a most omnious feature of political situation. It intimates that we have reached a period in our career as a nation where corrupt energies are more than a match for public opinion unsupoprted by live appliances. President Cleveland deserved better of the people. An honester man never occupied the White House nor yet one who rendered the country a greater, purer service. Loyalty, courage, integrity, devotion to duty, rugged, self-reliant spirit, and stern, unflagging faith in truth, were his, and he, surely, can afford to step down and out with sense that he was true to his convictions and made no concessions to party claims or selfish interests of any kind No one who has ever encountered him will refuse him respect, which his conscientious and fearless discharge of public obligations challenges of all men, friend and foe alive.

INDIANAPOLIS Nov. 9.—In eighth districts E. V. Brookshire dem., defeats James T. Johnston rep. for congress by 65 majority. This is democratic gain.

A Big Fire in Rochester, New York, with Loss of Life.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 9th.—Regarding to-day's fire it is thought five or more bodies are in the ruins, including one or more girls. Loss on buildings, $65,000; insurance, $40,000. Loss on lantern plant, $175,000; insurance, $179,000. Scenes at fire were heartrending. Among those present after fire were three priests, in their surplices, who administered spiritual comfort to those in dying condition. Building was seven stories, with two basements. Fire broke out at 7:35 o'clock. About 40 people were at work, mostly on the third floor. The smoke being very dense, men could not reach the fire escapes, and were forced to jump from the third story windows. Fourteen jumped on the west side of the building and were frightfully injured, six dying within an hour. Four others will die before morning.

Rejoicing at Dover.

Special to the Daily Chronicle.

DOVER, Nov. 9, 1888.—At this hour, 10 o'clock, the streets are filled with satisfied Republicans thronging along homeward after witnessing one of the most brilliant demonstrations ever seen in Dover. The entire populace seems to have turned out as spectators, and each side street in the vicinity of the parading hosts has been choked with pedestrians.

At 8 o'clock, the procession formed on Central avenue, the right resting on the bridge, and the line of march was taken up Washington street, Lexington, Silver, Atkinson, St. Thomas, Locust, Sawyers, Central ave., Ham, Broadway, St. John, Chapel, Second, First, Central avenue to Central Square. The entire route was studded with illuminations, the buildings not lighted profusely for the occasion being exceptions to the general rule. The local organizations were reinforced by delegations from adjoining towns, and Dover seemed for three hours given up to hilarityd an rejoicing. The illuminations were in many instances more extensive and numerous than those of the parade previous to election in which the Winchester Guards and the Independent Democratic Club of Portsmouth, and the Wentworth Cadets of Kittery took so prominent a part. The march was confined to the central portions of this city, the streets being in a very muddy condition, and the trains were reached by visiting organizations fully two hours earlier than before.

From the beginning to the end of the parade, the streets were filled with a tumultuous assemblage whose individual members seemed bent on making all the din that lungs and horns could produce. Red fire and blue lights marked the progress of the parade, and in the general exhibition of enthusiasm, the spectators of all sorts of political preferences gave vent to their appreciation of the splendor and brilliancy of the scene.

The closing exhibition of fireworks was very fine. Our whole people seemed to have been infected with the spirit of the occasion, and but few sad faces were seen among the recent Cleveland adherents. The bells rang merrily and the thunder of guns added to the impressiveness of the occasion. A broom brigade vociferously lent additional interest, and taking transparencies convulsed the watchful spectators.

Our organizations have been invited to be present and join in the great parade at Portsmouth next Monday evening, and there is general disposition and desire to attend, and to-night's parade is looked upon as a mere prelude to or rehearsal of the fun to come if released from the previous engagement to go to Farmington.

Fire At Damariscotta.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

DAMARISCOTTA, ME. Nov. 9th. A fire at Damariscotta Mills early this morning destroyed the store and contents, belonging to and occupied by R. P. Boynton. Cause unknown; loss about $1000.

Heavy Snow Storm in Missouri and Kansas.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

KANSAS CITY, MO., Nov. 9. The heaviest snow storm ever known at this season began at three o'clock this morning and is still raging with unabated violence. Reports from Kansas show that this storm is general all over the state.

A Pipe Mill Shuts Down.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

READING, PA., Nov. 9.—The new pipe mill of the Reading Iron works, recently erected at a cost of $100,000, shut down to-day, owing to a lack of orders, for an indefinite time. Some 300 men and boys are thrown out of employment.

NASHVILLE, ILL., Nov. 9th.—Farmer, for Congress in 18th district, has majority of 17 over John Baker, dem.

Republican Monument.

OHIO.
IOWA.
MAINE.
KANSAS.
NEVADA.
ILLINOIS.
OREGON.
INDIANA.
MICHIGAN.
VERMONT.
COLORADO.
NEW YORK.
NEBRASKA.
WISCONSIN.
CALIFORNIA.
MINNESOTA.
RHODE ISLAND.
MASSACHUSETTS.
WEST VIRGINIA.
PENNSYLVANIA.
NEW HAMPSHIRE.
PROTECTION AND EQUAL RIGHTS.

ELECTORS ELECTED.

For Harrison.

California	8
Colorado	3
Illinois	22
Indiana	15
Iowa	13
Kansas	9
Maine	6
Massachusetts	14
Michigan	13
Minnesota	7
Nebraska	5
Nevada	3
New Hampshire	4
New York	36
Ohio	23
Oregon	3
Pennsylvania	30
Rhode Island	4
Vermont	4
Wisconsin	11
West Virginia	6
Total	239

For Cleveland.

Alabama	10
Arkansas	7
Connecticut	6
Delaware	3
Florida	4
Georgia	12
Kentucky	13
Louisiana	8
Maryland	8
Mississippi	9
Missouri	16
New Jersey	9
North Carolina	11
South Carolina	9
Tennessee	12
Texas	13
Virginia	12
Total	162

Telegraphic Notes.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

UTICA, N. Y., Nov. 9th.—The following despatch was received by Warner Miller, at his home in Herkimer, N. Y.:

INDIANAPOLIS, IND, Nov. 9th, 1888.—I am greatly grieved at your defeat. If the intrepid leader fell outside the breastworks, the column, inspired by his courage, went on to victory.

BENJAMIN HARRISON.

STAMFORD, CONN., Nov. 9.—By the falling of a mason's scaffold in Weed building to-day four men were thrown to the ground, two instantly killed and three severely injured. The boss mason was under the scaffold and escaped with slight injury.

BOSTON, Nov. 9th.—At the Howard Athenaeum this evening, Duncan C. Ross and H. M. Dufur of Marlboro wrestled for $250 a side and the championship of America. Ross won, taking second, fourth and fifth falls.

The New England Base Ball League's annual meeting was held tonight, and awarded the pennant to the Lowells. It was voted to continue the organization.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Notices have been posted in the extensive carpet mills of E. S. Higgins & Co. at West Forty-third street and Eleventh avenue, of a reduction of the present working force, of one-half, from and after Monday next, which means that 6000 hands, male and female, will be thrown out of work.

CHEYENNE, WYO., Nov. 9th.—Joseph M. Carr, rep., re-elected to Congress by 2,700 majority over Caleb P. Organ, dem.

FALL RITER, MASS., Nov. 9.—The Fall River Iron works company, now owned by the American Printing company, propose to erect four new print cloth mills each of the capacity of 46500 spindles, making an aggregate of 186,000 spindles, which will supply cloth for the American Printing company. The work on the first mill will begin at once.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 9.—At 3:30 this afternoon an unknown man jumped into the river from Prospect Park at Niagara Falls, and was carried over the falls.

RHINECLIFFE, N. Y., Nov. 9.—Vice-President Elect Morton received a large number of congratulatory telegrams, among those sending them being James G. Blaine, Matt S. Quay, Patrick Ford, E. Douglass, and the president of Middlebury college in Vermont.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., Nov. 9th.—30 new cases, 6 deaths. Total cases, 4436; total deaths, 379.

FOREIGN.

Lord Salisbury's Address to Parliament. He Makes a Thrust at the American People.

LONDON, Nov. 9th.—The usual banquet to the Cabinet ministers was given at Guild Hall this evening. Lord Salisbury delivered a long speech and denied that the government had yielded to its opponents, on a question of policy. They were never more resolute or confident in advancing the policy which they honestly believed they could successfully execute. England had perhaps noticed that popular institutions existed to the westward, (laughter.) Events in America would belong more to the history of electioneering than to the history of politics. (Laughter and cheers.) If there was any complaint against Washington statesmen it did not involve the two nations. (Cheers.) Washington statesmen had not apparently commended themselves to the approval of the American people.

The Premier commended the Shah's policy in opening the only navigable river in Persia to all nations. In Egypt he said the Government had done much to restore financial equilibrium, but the security of the frontier had not yet been established. The Government did not stir from their previously expressed policy, but the responsibility regarding Egypt was due to action of previous Government. In regard to the peace of Europe it appeared all the rulers had intense desire to maintain peace. He trusted they would continue in their present attitude. The only danger might be outburst of the people of some country who might disregard wise counsel of those in power. Year after year saw larger armaments and vaster services for defensive purposes. If the process continued where would it end?" He had heard on good authority that five great powers maintained twelve millions of armed men. He did not suggest that that fact ought to diminish the confidence of the public in maintenance of peace, but he thought that under such preparation, the English Government must not remain unready. (Cheers.) In England's commercial community it was felt that the Government's power of protection was insufficient. The terror that would result would cause greater loss than any expenditure necessary to maintain confidence. But European nations must view their armaments without misgiving England only sought to protect her stores and her commerce.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—In the House of Commons today Mr. Conybeare asked whether it was true that another woman had been murdered in London, and if Gen. Warren, the chief of the Metropolitan police, ought not to be superceded by an officer accustomed to investigate crimes. The question was greeted by cries of "Oh, oh." The speaker called order, order, and said notice must be given of the question in the usual way. Conybeare replied: "I have given private notice." Speaker: "Notice must be made in writing." Connyngham Graham then asked whether Gen. Warren had already resigned, to which Smith, the Government leader, replied "No."

The Latest London Murder.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LONDON, Nov. 9th.—The murdered woman told her companion last evening that she was without money and would commit suicide if she did not obtain a supply. It has been learned that a man, respectably dressed, accosted his victim and offered her money. They went to lodgings on second floor of a Dorset street house. No noise was heard during the night, and nothing was known of the murder until the landlady went to the room early this morning to ask for her rent. The first thing she saw on entering the room were the woman's breasts and viscera lying on a table. Dorset street is short, narrow, and situated close to Mitre square and Handbury street.

Twenty Miners Drowned.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

VIENNA, Nov. 9.—The Salgstarja coal mine in Hungary has been flooded with water and twenty miners drowned.

Snow at Quebec.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

QUEBEC, Nov. 8.—Six inches of snow fell to-day, and it is still falling.

Two Vessels Sunk.—Loss of Life Probable.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—A telegram from Havre states that the Cunard line steamer Nantes collided thirty-six miles off the Lizard with the German ship Theodore Rugel, from Hamburg. Both vessels sank. A portion of the ship's crew landed at Trowville; the fate of the rest and of the steamer's crew is unknown. The Nantes was an iron screw steamer of 949 net tons, bark rigged, and built in 1883.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—A house collapsed on Litchfield street today, killing six persons and injuring twenty.

"1888" OPENING OF "1888"

FALL AND WINTER DRY GOODS

At the Well-Known Store,

NOS. 30 and 32 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH.

Ayers & Locke, Proprietors,

Can be found the Largest Assortment of

SEASONABLE DRY GOODS MERCHANDISE.

LARGEST ASSORTMENT OF OUTSIDE GARMENTS.

For Ladies, Misses and Children,

New Goods of this Season's Manufacture.

All are Invited to Examine

OUR STOCK OF CLOAKS!

Before Purchasing Elsewhere.

Silk and Gloria RAIN UMBRELLAS! Ladies' Gossamers.

THE F. P. ROBINSON CO. BLACK STOCKINGS.

Mohair and Gingham RAIN UMBRELLAS! Children's Gossamers.

Largest Assortment of Dress Goods in Portsmouth.

In fact, the Best Assortment in their Line of everything pertaining to a

FIRST-CLASS STOCK OF DRY GOODS.

NEW CARPETS! NEW CARPETS!

HOUSEKEEPING GOODS! &C.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS IN OUR UNDEWEARR DEPARTMENT,

Small Wares, Trimmings, Ribbons, Gloves

Yarns, Knitting Silks, &c.

Corsets, Bustles, &c.

Largest Assortment of Fall and Winter Skirts in all the Desirable Fabrics

Which they are desirous of exchanging for Cash on a basis for goods that will compare favorably with Boston and New York prices.

AYERS & LOCKE.

France to Vote on the Adoption of a New Constitution.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

PARIS, Nov. 9.—The commune has adopted the laborderes proposal to submit the new constitution of France to popular vote.

A Battle—3000 Killed.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle

CAIRO, EGYPT, Nov. 9.—Seventy thousand followers of the Mahdi attacked Wadai, west of Dar Foos. The garrison repulsed the assailants and killed three thousand, but the Mahdi's re-attacked and captured the town. The Sultan of Wadai has fled to Ghiri.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—The Parnell Commission today continued to hear evidence in regard to outrages.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—The procession today on induction into office of the new Lord Mayor was devoid of the usual pageantry and was tame generally.

ATCHISON, KAN, Nov. 9.—The most phenomenal snow storm that ever occurred in northern Kansas began this morning and continued furiously all day. Trains are all delayed and telegraph wires prostrated in all directions. There is one line to Kansas city. In Atchison over 200 telegraph lines were broken and so tangled with electric light wires that the electric light works have been suspended to prevent accidents. The snow storm is heaviest here than at any season of the year since 1878. The extent of the damage cannot be ascertained owing to the suspension of telegraphic communication.

NEW YORK, Nov 9.—The anti-saloon Republican national committee will meet at No. 1 Broadway Wednesday, November 21 at 10 A. M., to decide upon a line of policy to be pursued hereafter.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., Nov. 9.—Chairman Mosely of the Republican state executive committee announces today that he will contest the election of the congressmen in the first, fourth, sixth, and seventh districts. He asserts he can prove fraud at the polls and will be able to seat the Republicans.

LOOK AT THIS

Heavy, Substantial Cooking Range,

"THE ALMONER."

Plain for $16.00, Worth $25.00

To anyone in need of a First-Class Range. Examine this before purchasing elsewhere.

ALSO A FULL LINE OF

MAGEE FURNACES, RANGES & STOVES.

Plumbing, Gas Fitting, Tin and Sheet Iron Work of All Kinds.

C. W. TAYLOR.

42 & 44 MARKET STREET.

C-O-A-L-!

All Kinds and Sizes Delivered Well Screened.

E. F. SISE & CO.

First Quality Wood!

Liverpool and Turks Island SALT.

In Bulk and Sacks. Salt in Boxes. Boston and Portland Brands.

TELEPHONE.

The Portsmouth Daily Chronicle,

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 2, 1852.

Published every morning, except Sunday, at No. 7 Exchange Building, Pleasant Street.

By mail, postage prepaid, $5 a year. Single Copies, Two Cents.

THE CHRONICLE is served to subscribers in Portsmouth, Kittery, Dover, Rochester and Farmington at 50 Cents per month, hours in advance of any other paper containing the Associated Press Despatches.

The New Hampshire Gazette,

ESTABLISHED OCT. 7, 1756.

The Oldest Newspaper in America. Published every Thursday.

Terms, $1.50 a year in advance.

[Entered at the Post Office at Portsmouth as second class matter.]

W. SCOTT SMITH,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

☞ Rates of advertising made known on application.

Agents for the Daily Chronicle:

MOSES BROS.....PORTSMOUTH.
ROBERTS & AVERY.....FARMINGTON
WORCESTER & GREENFIELD..ROCHESTER
BROWNE BROS.....DOVER.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1888.

"If This be Treason, Make the Most of it."

The Democratic newspapers are liberal in their abuse of the Messrs. Busiel of Laconia, who while having been members of the Democratic party, have viewed with alarm the impending ruin to that industry which forms an important share of the prosperity of Laconia, by the proposed free trade legislation of the Democracy aided by Mr. Cleveland's message. It was with the Busiels a mere question of blindly following their party into the ditch, or of caring for themselves and their employees by doing what thousands of Democrats who are engaged in manufacturing did, namely, voting for Harrison and prosperity. Democrats engaged in business, as for example, the saloon Democrats in New York state voted, to "protect their business." The great Democratic manufacturers at the West end of our city not only vote to protect their interests but seek to have every man in their employ to follow suit.

That the Busiels, engaged in a lawful business, should dare to advocate protection to their interests and vote in favor of having hosiery made in New Hampshire instead of in England, seems a reason for indignant Democratic editors to call them traitors. If the Busiels had given their suffrage and influence for Cleveland and free trade, and the election had been in favor of this unfortunate combination, the hosiery interests at Laconia and everywhere else in the state would have been as badly side-tracked as is the demoralized party whose organs now abuse the Laconia gentlemen for having gumption enough to know their own interests, and to carry their business ideas into practical execution.

Vandever of California, Republican, whose seat in the 50th Congress is contested, and whom the Democrats intended to throw out in case the election of president went to the house, in order that the Republicans should not have a majority of the Representatives of the states, is re-elected by a handsome majority to the new House.

The surprises of the election include the capture of the Delaware and West Virginia legislatures by the Republicans, and the consequent gain of the two United States Senators. The new Senate of 76 members will include 40 Republicans.

The election of the Republican candidate for delegate from Washington Territory by 5000 majority, shows what a Republican state it will be when admitted by the new congress.

Postmaster General Dickinson's influence in Michigan seems to be slight. He may now give his attention for a hundred days to the demoralized postal service.

Col. Swords, sergeant-at-arms of the Republican national committee, won $48,000 on the election.

The South has lost its Democratic solidity.

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8th, 1888.

If it be true that all signs fail in fair weather, the context might apply with equal force to symptoms which are thrown to the surface in bad weather, for in some of the doubtful western states we are advised that the atmospheric conditions were favorable to Democratic success at the polls, but this is evidently an "off year" for signs, as the returns now in hand confirm the news which reached us before midnight Tuesday and enable us to throw up our hats and raise our voices in loud acclaim for the victory which the Republican party—that glorious champion of protection—achieved; a victory which will be felt and appreciated in every city and hamlet in the land. We Republicans may be pardoned for indulging an inclination to "whoop things up" just now, since there is everything to be proud of and nothing to regret in the campaign which from first to last was carried forward with so much enthusiasm and in a manner so free from acrimony or mud-slinging as to command the admiration of both friend and foe. The party is largely indebted for their satisfactory conduct of its affairs to the strategic ability of Chairman Quay committee, as well as the wise and judicious public utterances of our successful standard bearers, Harrison and Morton, who have more than fulfilled the expectations of the Chicago Convention in placing them in nomination for the suffrages of the American people.

THE DEMOCRATS FEEL VERY SORE.

There are many soreheads at the national capital to-day (and they are all democrats, by the way,) to whom the returns bring naught of cheer or gladness, for they had staked everything on Cleveland, who to them was a second Moses, but who instead has proven himself a veritable and first-class Jonah. They gathered by thousands in the streets on which transparencies were to be displayed from their political headquarters, and waited patiently and long for some encouraging bulletins. But they lingered in vain, for, aside from an occasional quotation from Cleveland's official manifestoes, such as "public office is a public trust," etc., interspersed by illustrations of a humorous character, the news was overwhelmingly favorable to Harrison. Republicans stayed to shout and to exchange congratulations with the neighbors, while our woe-stricken democratic brethren adjourned to convenient places in search of something more tangible and encouraging than the bulletins afforded them. They are particularly depressed by the returns from New York state, and are loud and bitter in denouncing Hill and Mayor Hewitt, to whom they attribute the Waterloo which has snowed them in and caused the loss of many indiscreet ante-election wagers based largely on "straight tips" received from knowing friends in the city of New York.

People in this section of the country are given to making large bets on any event, whether of local or of national import, and to such an extent has the practice been carried that Congress felt compelled by public opinion to pass a law prohibiting the continuance of pool-rooms or betting places in the cities of Washington and Georgetown. Still, bets are laid between individuals without interference of the authorities, and it is safe to say that many thousands of dollars were laid on the result of the election in this city alone, in some cases involving the risk of the better's worldly goods and chattels. The amateur sport also comes in for a large share of loss, and has learned a lesson which may last him for some time to come. He will not buy Sunday suits of clothing for the winter, will wear his hair long, or close clipped, as the case may be, for four years, and perform as many acts of menial service as his wagers call for. Icicles are said to be very poor articles of diet for winter consumption, but they will constitute a staple sampler of food for a majority of the unfortunates during the months of hibernation, and equalize the benefit of Providence towards the poor man who gets his ice in winter free of cost, while his rich brother has to pay for that useful commodity during the summer.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF THE ELECTION.

If the recent election proves anything, and there are those who incline to the belief that it means a good deal, the question of protection to American industries has been decided affirmatively, and however much other nations may favor opening their ports and markets to free and unrestricted commercial intercourse, that sort of policy will not be adopted on this side of the water. We can produce or manufacture everything requisite to health and comfort on the American continent, while such luxuries as may be required from abroad, and they are chiefly ornamental, deserve no protection under our laws, since they are principally used and imported to please a class of our citizens abundantly able to pay any tax which they may deem necessary and proper.

A revision of the tariff in some manner is undoubtedly a necessity, a matter which will very likely receive attention during the next session of Congress when the senate bill comes up for action, and it is a source of congratulation to republicans that whatever shall be accomplished in that direction will be with a view to further the interests of our people from the standpoint of republican ideas in accordance with the platform of principles as endorsed by a majority of voters in the late election.

A post-election joke which has just been perpetrated is so good and so much here, and I give it as related to me this morning. An anti-administration democrat met a republican friend in front of the Treasury department yesterday, and stopped to compare notes as to the result. The democrat wondered at the delay in obtaining any definite information regarding the vote of New York state, and asked his friend what he thought about Senator Gorman (of Maryland), holding back the figures and thus keeping the public in suspense. "Why," he said, "the rumor is current that Gorman has telegraphed to President Cleveland to be of good cheer, as New York state would give him not less than 1,400 majority and then throw its electoral vote in his favor instead of Harrison's as claimed by the republicans. I do not understand it myself," continued the democrat, "and would like to know what you think about it."

"Well", replied the republican, "in my opinion Gorman is a hog, and don't know when he is beaten. He must want the earth; at any rate he seems to be inclined to Gorman-dize the whole democratic party, judging from the claim set forth by him." Not a bad joke when one comes to think about it. QUANTICO.

The west is a wonderful borrower; but it pledges good security.

Lending here involves no thought, no care, no doubt, when you choose your lender wisely. There is no occasion to guess.

We send a pamphlet.

THE KANSAS CITY INVESTMENT COMPANY, Kansas City, Missouri; or, Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

$100,000
Janesville, Wis., Water Co.
First Mortgage 6% Bonds.
DUE AUGUST 1, 1907.
Secured by a Sinking Fund. Descriptive Circulars furnished on application.
Brewster, Cobb & Estabrook,
35 Congress St., Boston.

BURNETT'S
PERFECTLY PURE HIGHLY CONCENTRATED
Standard Flavoring
EXTRACTS
The superiority of these Extracts consist in their Perfect Purity and Great Strength.

AT
No. 63 Pleasant St
May be our as full and carefully selected a stock of
FINE FANCY AND STAPLE
GROCERIES.
—ALSO—
BOOTS & SHOES
As at any Store east of Boston.
—VERMONT AND CREAMERY—
BUTTER & CHEESE.
Lard Sugar,
Molasses Syrup Oils.
Beans Peas Pickles Crackers.
Salt Pork Salt Fish, Sage Maccaroni.
-COFFEES-
Old Government Java and Rio, ground as sold
-TEAS-
Best Qualities Formosa and Japan.
—A FULL LINE—
CANNED AND SHELF GOODS.
Pure Spices, Raisins, Currants Cut Lemon, Cocoa, Chocolate, Candied Lemon Peel, and all other Fine Groceries
TOBACCO AND CIGARS.
Brooms, Brushes, Pails, Crockery and Glassware, and a Large
Assortment of Miscellaneous Articles.
Boots and Shoes
Men's Calf Button Boots,
Men's Calf Balmoral Boots.
Men's Calf French Ties,
Ladies' Kid Button Boots.
Misses' and Children's, Youth's and Boys',
All Sizes and Kinds.
We make the best selections possible, paying Cash; and for Cash will sell as low as the lowest ☞ Orders filled with care and delivered free in any part of the city.
JOHN J. LASKEY,
NO. 63 PLEASANT STREET.

WHAT IS SCROFULA
It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors;" which fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.
How Can It Be CURED
By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.
"Every spring my wife and children have been troubled with scrofula, sores breaking out on them in various places. My little boy, three years old, has been a terrible sufferer. Last spring he was one mass of sores from head to feet. I was advised to use Hood's Sarsaparilla, and we have all taken it. The result is that all have been cured of the scrofula, my little boy being entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy." W. B. ATHERTON, Passaic City, N.J.
Hood's Sarsaparilla
Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.
100 Doses One Dollar

PEARLINE is a great Blessing
to the Woman, mistress or servant, who wants to keep things clean. It washes clothes, dishes, glassware; cleans paint, varnish, carpets, oil-cloth, floors, better than anything known, that is harmless to fabric or hands. It makes a saving of clothes and time that pays. Think of the guarantee we give you of its merits. Fifteen millions of packages are consumed annually. Think of your clothes and hands after a day of rubbing the dirt out on a washboard. (Pearline does away with that.) Think of the ease of washing clothes by the modern labor-saving method, which you will find on every package of Pearline. Think of the perfect cleanliness insured by the use of Pearline and you'll surely become a friend to Pearline. Certainly Pearline will be a true friend to you if you'll let it. Beware of the many imitations sold by means of prizes or peddling. There is only one Pearline and that is manufactured only by JAMES PYLE, New York. Sold Everywhere.

EASTERN OFFICE OF
Kansas City Investment Co.,
OVER FIRST NATIONAL BANK, PORTSMOUTH.
CITY MORTGAGES, FARM MORTGAGES,
DEBENTURE BONDS, REAL ESTATE NOTES
☞ INTEREST PAYABLE HERE AT MATURITY. ☜
W. G. MYERS V.

Embalmer and Funeral Director
NO. 60 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH
SAMUEL S. FLETCHER
(SUCCESSOR TO FLETCHER & TANTON.
COFFINS, ROBES & CASKETS
Always on hand, or made to order
Orders by night may be left at No. 42 Daniel St or with A. L. Rice, No. 15 Hill St. or O. W. Ham No 12 Russell St.

Insurance Notice.
THE OLD INSURANCE AGENCY,
AT THE OLD STAND,
No. 13 Pleasant Street,
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.
JOSEPH P. MORSE,

25 CORDS
DRY PINE LIMBS!
At $3.50 Per Cord.
☞ The Very Best of Fuel at a Low Price.
O. F. PHILBRICK & CO.,
COAL AND WOOD DEALERS,
4 Water Street.

WOOD AND COAL!
A Good Assortment of all kinds of Wood and Coal.
Kindling Wood Split to Order.
—ALSO—
Akron Drain and Sewer Pipe.
NO. 13 GREEN STREET,
DANIEL LITTLEFIEL

NEW JEWELRY
—AND—
SILVER GOODS
—AT—
HUTCHINSON'S.

BOOK BINDING
Of Every Desciption,
—DONE AT—
NO. 5 CONGRESS STREET,
(OVER FAY'S STORE.)
Magazines and other Periodicals Bound in Styles to Suit Patrons; Especial Attention given to
REBINDING OLD BOOKS!
For Libraries or Individuals; in short, any work of the kind promptly attended to, and satisfaction guaranteed. ☞ Prices reasonable.
JOHN D. RANDALL.

DR. S. F. HAM,
Of Hotel Bristol, Boston, will receive patients
Monday and Tuesday
FROM MAY 1st TO NOV. 1st,
And the remainder of the year every Monday.
Office and Residence, 13 COURT ST., Portsmouth N. H.

Now is the Time to Look Over Your Wardrobe and See What You Need for Winter, and
SIMPSON'S CORNER STORE
Is the place where you can find everything you need in Gentlemen's Wear, at Remarkably Low Prices, for Cash.
—WE HAVE A FULL LINE OF—
OVERCOATS!
Ranging in Prices from $5 to $25.
—A NEW LOT OF—
ULSTERS!
From $6 to $20.
—A FINE ASSORTMENT OF—
UNDERWEAR,
Including the Celebrated CAMEL'S HAIR for the Health.
Cardigan Jackets,
Blue and Fancy Over-Shirts.
(In these Goods we can Fit the Largest Man.)
—A FINE ASSORTMENT OF—
FURNISHING GOODS.
☞ Headquarters for OIL and RUBBER CLOTHING, Wholesale and Retail.
Come and See for Yourselves at the Old Stand,
Corner Market and Bow Streets,
CHARLES E. SIMPSON.

S. Philbrick & Co.,
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Marble and Granite Work
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.
GRANITE POLISHING A SPECIALTY.
OFFICE AND WORKS,
No. 2 Water Street, Portsmouth

GRANITE STATE
Fire Insurance Company,
OF PORTSMOUTH, N. H.
PAID-UP CAPITAL, - $200,000
OFFICERS:
President, FRANK JONES.
Vice President, JOHN W. SANBORN
Secretary, ALFRED F. HOWARD
Treasurer, JOHN LAIGHTON
Executive Committee, FRANK JONES JOHN W. SANBORN, CHARLES A. SINCLAIR, EDWIN WALLACE and E. H. WINCHESTER

JOSIAH F. ADAMS
Embalmer and Funeral Director,
WAREROOMS: NO. 5 DANIEL ST.
Coffins, Caskets and Robes Always on Hand. Hearse and Carriages Furnished. Cemetery Lots Cared For, &c.
☞ Orders by day or night left at No. 27 Washington St., or with Mr. Robert King, No. 6 Hill St., will receive prompt attention.

THE ONLY
Brilliant Durable Economical
DYES
Are Diamond Dyes. They excel all others in Strength, Purity and Fastness. None others are just as good. Beware of imitations—they are made of cheap and inferior materials and give poor, weak, crocky colors.
36 colors; 10 cents each.
Send postal for Dye Book, Sample Card, directions for coloring Photos., making the finest Ink or bluing (10 cts. a quart), etc. Sold by Druggists or by
WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.
For Gilding or Bronzing Fancy Articles, USE
DIAMOND PAINTS.
Gold, Silver, Bronze, Copper. Only 10 Cents.

Paine's CELERY COMPOUND

CURES	PROOFS
Neuralgia	"Paine's Celery Compound cured my nervous sick headaches." Mrs. L. A. BENTNER, San Jacinto, Cal.
Nervous Prostration	"After using six bottles of Paine's Celery Compound, I am cured of rheumatism." SAMUEL HUTCHISON, South Cornish, N. H
Rheumatism
Kidney Diseases	"It has done me more good for kidney disease than any other medicine." GEO. ABBOTT, Sioux City, Iowa.
AND All Liver Disorders	"Paine's Celery Compound has been of great benefit for torpid liver, indigestion, and biliousness." ELIZABETH C. UDALL, Quechee, Vt.

We are astonished at parties who introduce new remedies for coughs when they should know the people will have Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

"Kings are like stars, they rise and set." They have headaches, cuts, and hurts like meaner men, and are just as sure to call for Salvation Oil.

—The sugar trust is to be attacked in the courts. Of course it takes "sand" to do this.

Be Your Own Doctor.

It won't cost you half as much. Do not delay. Send three 2-cent stamps for postage, and we will send you Dr. Kaufmann's great work, fine colored plates from life, on disease, its causes, and home cure. Address F. P. Ordway, & Co., Boston, Mass.

—Children shrink from being washed. The same may be said of socks.

"For twenty years I have suffered with a severe bronchial cough, never lying down without a severe attack of the same. After much pursuasion, I was induced to try Adamson's Balsam, and its good effects for six months are certainly marvellous. Please use this truthful testimony for the advantage of all sufferers like myself.
Mrs. Wm. Alden, Duxbury, Mass., Feb. 21, 1887.

—The average pullet takes her eggsit in the spring.

One Fact

Is worth a column of rhetoric, said an American statesman. It is a fact, established by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from impure state or low condition of the blood. It also overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam, for Coughs and Colds, does it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles at 50c and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

To-Night and To-Morrow Night,

And each day and night during this week you can get at all druggists Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, acknowledged to be the most successful remedy ever sold for the cure of Coughs, Croup, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption. Get a bottle to-day and keep it always in the house, so you can check your cold at once. Price 50c and $1.00. Sample bottles free.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. mon.wed.fri.oual

HUNT'S REMEDY
RELIEVES the Kidneys;
REVIVES the Liver;
SOLD UNIVERSALLY.
sod&g

AN EXTRA LOT OF
SPONGES, CHAMOIS SKINS AND WHIPS,
At Reasonable Prices at
John S. Tilton's
Harness and Trunk Repairer
NO. 18 CONGRESS STREE

STEPHEN D. SCRIGGINS,
Carriage Painter,
NO. 16 Vaughan Street, Portsmouth, N. H.
Having spacious and good accommodations and long and large experience he solicits patronage in his line.

$500 OFFERED for an incurable case of Catarrh in the Head by the proprietors of
DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY.
Symptoms of Catarrh.—Headache, obstruction of nose, discharges falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; eyes weak, ringing in ears, deafness, difficulty of clearing throat, expectoration of offensive matter; breath offensive; smell and taste impaired, and general debility. Only a few of these symptoms likely to be present at once. Thousands of cases result in consumption, and end in the grave.
By its mild, soothing, and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Remedy cures the worst cases. 50c.

Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
The Original LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
Purely Vegetable & Harmless.
Unequaled as a Liver Pill. Smallest, cheapest, easiest to take. One Pellet a Dose. Cure Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the stomach and bowels. 25 cts. by druggists.

THE JOB PRINTING
Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD I. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line. Give him a trial and you will be more than pleased.

GRATEFUL---COMFORTING.
EPPS'S COCOA.
BREAKFAST.
"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame.—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in half pound tins, by Grocers, labelled thus:
JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England.
1ee5

WE WANT A GOOD ENERGETIC SALESMAN in every town and city TO SOLICIT ORDERS FOR FRAMING PICTURES. BEST OUTFIT IN THE WORLD and a permanent situation. Address H. B. WADDWELL, Lewiston, Me.

POSITIVELY CLOSING WEEKS
GRAND CYCLORAMA
BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG,
541 Tremont St., Boston.
Don't fail to see this great battle scene at once.
A new subject now being painted will take its place in this building January 1st.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, the great Medical Work of the age on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline, Errors of Youth, and the untold miseries consequent thereon. 300 pages 8 vo., 125 prescriptions for all diseases. Cloth, full gilt, only $1.00, by mail, sealed. Illustrative sample free to all young and middle-aged men. Send now. The Gold and Jewelled Medal awarded to the author by the National Medical Association. Address P.O. Box 1895, Boston, Mass., or Dr. W. H. PARKER, graduate of Harvard Medical College, 25 years' practice in Boston, who may be consulted confidentially. Office, No. 4 Bulfinch St. Specialty, Diseases of Man. 6
Cut this out. You may never see it again.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS
The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.
Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequaled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all of the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of Europe and America, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues FREE TO ALL, free.
Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos, that they are superior to all others. They recognize the high excellence achieved by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but still claim superiority. This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1882, and now known as the "MASON & HAMLIN PIANO STRINGER," by the use of which is secured the greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity for standing in tune and other important advantages.
A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians, and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.
Pianos and Organs sold for cash or easy payments; also rented.
MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.
BOSTON. NEW YORK. CHICAGO.
tnov24

MARVELOUS MEMORY DISCOVERY.
Any book learned in one reading
Mind wandering cured.
Speaking without notes.
Piracy condemned by Supreme Court.
Great inducements to correspondence classes
Prospectus, with opinions of Dr. Wm. A. Hammond, the world famed Specialist in Mind Diseases, Daniel Greenleaf Thompson, the great Psychologist, J. M. Buckley, D. D., Editor of the Christian Advocate, Richard Proctor, the Scientist, Hons. Judge Gibson, Judah P. Benjamin, and others, sent post free by
Prof. A. LOISETTE, 237 Fifth Ave., New York.

The WITTIEST, PRETTIEST JUVENILES
QUEER PEOPLE Palmer Cox
Illustrated Boards $1.00 Wings & Stings Cloth $1.00 PAWS & CLAWS $1.00
My Mind.
(Elopement of the Frog and the Mouse.)
Howard Crosby.
ALBERT MARSHALL, Publisher, Boston.
ov15

The WONDERFUL LUBURG CHAIR
Combines a Parlor, Library, Smoking, Reclining, or Invalid Chair, Lounge, Bed, or COUCH. Price $7.00 up. We make the largest variety of Adjustable, Reclining, Physicians' and Surgeons' Operating, Invalid Rolling, Hammock, Office, Library, Easy Carpet Folding, Bed and Rattan CHAIRS and ROCKERS BICYCLES, TRICYCLES, VELOCIPEDES and SELF PROPELLERS. ALL KINDS OF APPLIANCES FOR INVALIDS.
BABY COACHES
Over 100 different designs.
Our Patent Automatic Brake on all Carriages, free. We have discontinued wholesaling; by placing your orders direct with the makers you can save several profits. Our sliding prices and special Bargains will astonish you. Goods sent under a guarantee and delivered free to any point in Boston. ☞ Send stamp for Catalogue, and state class of goods you wish it for.
LUBURG MFG. CO.
145 North Eighth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

TRAINS LEAVE

Portsmouth for Boston, 4 35, 7 25, 8 20, 11 05 a. m., 2 55, 5 00, 7 40 p. m. Sundays, 4 05 a. m., 4 00 p. m.

Boston for Portsmouth, 7 45, 9 00, 10 00 a. m., 12 30, 3 30, 4 40, 7 00 p. m. Sundays, 8 30 a. m., 7 00 p. m.

Portsmouth for Portland, 9 55, 10 55 a. m., 2 45, 9 25 p. m. Sundays, 9 27 p. m.

Portland for Portsmouth, 7 00, 9 00 a. m., 1 05, 6 00 p. m. Sundays, 9 00 a. m.

Portsmouth for Dover, 4 50, 9 45 a. m., 12 25, 3 38, 5 22 p. m.

Dover for Portsmouth, 6 55, 10 20 a. m., 1 55, 4 30, 6 40 p. m.

Portsmouth for York Beach, 3 30, 11 10 a. m. 3 30 p. m.

York Beach for Portsmouth, 6 40, 10 00 a. m., 1 40 p. m.

Portsmouth for Concord, 7 55 a. m., 1 00, 5 15 p. m.

Concord for Portsmouth, 7 20, 10 20 a. m., 3 20 p. m.

Portsmouth for Manchester, 7 55 a. m., 1 00, 5 15 p. m.

Manchester for Portsmouth, 8 15, 11 15 a. m., 4 35 p. m.

TRAINS ARRIVE

In Boston from Portsmouth, 6 20, 9 10, 10 25 a. m., 1 15, 4 15, 7 10, 9 30 p. m. Sundays, 6 30 a. m., 6 30 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Boston, 9 45, 10 45 a. m., 12 20, 3 35, 5 20, 6 45, 8 27 p. m. Sundays, 10 40 a. m., 8 27 p. m.

In Portland from Portsmouth, 12 00 m., 12 35, 4 40, 11 00 p. m. Sundays, 11 00 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Portland, 8 55, 10 44 a. m., 2 20, 7 15 p. m. Sundays, 8 55 a. m.

In Dover from Portsmouth, 5 40, 10 10 a. m., 12 50, 3 03, 5 47 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Dover, 7 20, 10 44 a. m., 2 20, 4 55, 7 15 p. m.

In Concord from Portsmouth, 10 30 a. m., 3 13, 8 25 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Concord, 10 10 a. m., 12 45, 6 10 p. m.

In Manchester from Portsmouth, 9 42 a. m., 2 30, 7 20 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Manchester, 10 10 a. m., 12 45, 6 10 p. m.

KITTERY AND PORTSMOUTH.

STEAMER MYSTIC.

Leave Bartlett's wharf, Kittery, 6 55, 7 50, 8 45, 10 30, 11 45 a. m., 2 30, 3 15, 4 45, 6 00 p. m. Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 6 30, Saturday evening, 6 30, 8 00.

Leave Broughton's wharf, foot Daniel street, Portsmouth, 7 30, 8 00, 9 20, 11 00 a. m., 12 45, 3 00, 4 00, 5 15, 6 15 p. m., Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7 30, Saturday evenings, 7 30, 9 00.

☞ Fare five cents each way.

Common Sense

Should be used in attempting to cure that very disagreeable disease, catarrh. As catarrh originates in impurities in the blood, local applications can do no permanent good. The common-sense method of treatment is to purify the blood, and for this purpose there is no preparation superior to Hood's Sarsaparilla. That this peculiar medicine does indeed cure catarrh is shown by the many testimonials from people who have found relief upon using it when all others had failed. A book containing statements of cures sent on receipt of two cent stamp, by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Grover Cleveland has done more to advance the cause of free trade than any Prime Minister of England has done.—London Spectator.

A FAIR SAMPLE OF
40 SWORN CASES
OF THE VALUE OF

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND

THE RADICAL BLOOD PURIFIER.

DIPHTHERIA. SCROFULA.

Miss Lena Judkins, a daughter (17 years old) of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Judkins, 677 Boston St., Lynn, CURED by Dr. Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of very severe case of Scrofula, with Malignant Ulcers of eight years' standing, after 11 Physicians had failed. Almost a miracle. Now in perfect health. Sworn to before
HARMON HALL, Justice of the Peace.

SCROFULOUS HUMOR.

Miss Mary Etta Leighton, a daughter (16 yrs. old) of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison G. Leighton, 16 Bickford Court, Lynn, CURED by Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of a deep seated Scrofulous Humor, with discharging eruptions, which had baffled eight physicians and the combined forces of two prominent hospitals. Perfectly cured and without a blemish. Sworn to before
CALVIN B. TUTTLE, Justice of the Peace.

Send for circular of 40 Sworn cases. They are solid facts and carry conviction.

DR. LOUGEE'S
VITALIZING COMPOUND,
is absolutely the greatest known Remedy for the Radical cure of Scrofula, Cancerous Humors, Diphtheritic or Mineral Blood-Poisoning, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Dropsy and Liver Complaint.

$1. per Bottle (6 for 5). At Druggists.
Lougee Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Laxador An infallible regulator of the Human System.
Cures Liver Complaint, Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Giddiness, &c. Laxador Cures Bilious Affections &c. Laxador Price 25 Cts. Laxador
Sold by druggists.

The Leading Perfume.
DREXEL'S BELL COLOGNE
Fragrant! Lasting!
PRICE 25 CENTS. AT ALL DEALERS.

Dr BULL'S COUGH SYRUP
CURES COUGHS & COLDS FOR 25 ¢

SALVATION OIL
Price only 25 cts. Sold by all druggists.
Will relieve Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Swellings, Bruises, Lumbago, Sprains, Headache, Toothache, Sores, Burns, Wounds, Cuts, Scalds, Backache, Gout, or any bodily pain or ailment.

CHEW LANGE'S PLUGS, The Great Tobacco Antidote!—Price 10 Cts. At all druggists.

A CHAPTER ON DREAMS.

Little Do We Know of Them—Dyspepsia a Prime Factor.

Many have discoursed learnedly upon dreams, propounding wise theories and making plausible suggestions, yet no one has ever arrived at any real solution of the matter. It is only a barrier of cloud that bars the way to knowledge thereof, yet no fortress wall could be more impregnable. It is but a step from our noisy, busy world to the vague and vast territory where,

> Hollow as a breathing spell,
> Dreamland lies forlorn of light—

but no man may set up milestones along that trackless waste. We only know that, when all things lapse to "a sleep and a forgetting" the imagination becomes a fly-by-night, and the wits speed over land and sea like wild birds set free from the cage.

There are few créatures exempt from these nocturnal journeyings, however brief and circumscribed they may be. The dog "hunts in dreams," the cat fights its battles over again, and the bird sings in its sleep, while even the most commonplace person can usually give some crude account of his experiences in slumber. Certain dreams are common to all people—falling from a precipice, down, down, to some unfathomed gulf—striving to walk upon a floor that sinks horribly beneath the feet—endeavoring, in urgent haste, to put on garments that drop off, turn wrong side out, and develop other impish propensities—riding in a coach which suddenly crumbles to pieces, and leaves one staring in the road. So to speak, it is a marked peculiarity of dreams that "the bottom drops out of everything."

So rebellious are dreams, and so erratic in their course, that they cannot be compelled by any effort of will; wild fire could be more easily chained. We may long ardently to see once more, in "the wilderness of sleep," some beloved and vanished face; yet this poor solace may be denied, while alien images crowd into the brain. Upon this subject Hazlitt wrote, "I never dream of the face of any one I am particularly attached to; I have thought almost to agony of the same person for years, nearly without ceasing, so as to have her face always before me, and to be haunted by a perpetual consciousness of disappointed passion, yet I never in all that time dreamt of that person more than once or twice, and then not vividly." Nor can the last impression received by the mind before slumber overwhelms it be calculated upon; for we may read of Mother Blood's execution, and dream, immediately afterward, of a cabbage garden; or, transversely, we may be cradled by the most soothing, placid meditations, yet the weird magician, who bears the branch of poppies, will beckon us to follow through seas of gore.

Experiment has proved that dreams may be influenced, if not controlled, through the inlets of the senses; the thunder of drays upon the cobblestones suggests a tempest to the dreamer, and the fumes of sulphur or the pleasant odors of aromatic water near his nostrils transport him to strage countries. For this reason the noises of awakening life give color and movement to the visions that "hang upon the edge of day," rendering them more real and vivid than those which come at dead of night.

It is one of the peculiarities of dreams to seem to be tending toward some stupenduous climax, and then to turn away with utter irrelevance. The dreamer remains imperturbable in the face of the most astounding transformations; if animals, and even inanimate objects, become gifted with speech, he is not surprised; yet he is likely to startled and terrified by the most trifling things. If he dreams of being pursued, it is not by a lion or tiger, but, perhaps, let us say, by an indistinct yellow blur, hovering near the ground like a will-o'-the-wisp—unspeakably sinister to his fancy—darting from thickets, and gliding in and out among the trees.

It is somewhat disenchanting to realize that dyspepsia is one of the prime factors in dream making. It matters little whether the conscience be clear, if the digestion be not in equally good case. Most people have experienced the excitation, the supersensitiveness of every faculty, brought about by a febrile condition of the blood—the lightness of head and limb, extending, as one fancies, even to the loss of gravity—the strange, unfamiliar aspect assumed by well known objects about the room; for fever, like indigestion, is a fertile breeder of phantasms.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

How to Save Clippings.

After trying many ways of preserving scraps and clippings of transient value, which are wanted for reference in writing any article, I have adopted this plan: Instead of putting them away in envelopes or boxes, where it would be hard to find them, I simply put them in order, with a letter clip at the top to hold them together. I can immediately refer to any one of them, and when I have finished with them I throw the worthless ones in the scrap basket and paste the others in my book.—"C. E. E." in The Writer.

The Paris Exhibition Train.

An endless railway train, consisting of 400 platform cars, is to be one of the attractions at the Paris exhibition. The line will be sunk so that the platforms will be on a level with the surface, and the train will run slowly enough to permit most people to step on and off while it is in motion; but for the accommodation of elderly people a stop of fifteen seconds every minute will be made. The motive power will be electricity.—New York Sun.

Blue Lines Bad for the Eyes.

For some time past the school authorities have recognized the injurious effect on the vision of the use of writing paper ruled with blue lines. The grand ducal school committee at Mayence is the first in Germany that has taken positive steps in banishing this paper from the public schools. From and after the 1st of January no ruled paper is to be allowed with lines other than black.—Paris American Register.

A Curious Coincidence.

Fond Mother—My dear, are you feeling any better?

Dolly—I dunno; am the jell all gone?

Fond Mother—Yes, my dear.

Dolly—Well, I guess I am well enough to get up now.—Pictorial West.

Whale, Swordfish and Thrasher.

Mr. George Roy, officer of the watch on board the Maggie C. Moore, is our authority for the following remarkable incident which occurred about 700 miles north northwest of Cape Flattery. He states that the attention of the crew was simultaneously directed or attracted to the existence of blood floating on the adjacent sea. Speculation was rife as to the immediate origin of so strange a spectacle, and a careful watch was kept to ascertain it.

Eventually it was found that a whale was blowing and spouting on the lee side of the schooner, where the blood was first noticed, and a partial solution of the phenomenon was gained when a swordfish darted up close, and following that terror of the seas came the enemy of whaledom, the thrasher (or killer, as the fish is sometimes designated). The thrasher sprang from the water some ten feet into the air, and with a penetrating crash alighted upon the whale. A fierce conflict ensued, and the result was that the whale appeared to be exhausted from the attack the thrasher made upon him. Recovering himself, however, the whale, after several efforts, succeeded in diving below and came up on the starboard side of the schooner. The crew then took their whaling iron and struck at the thrasher, but unfortunately did not hit on a vital part. The thrasher, following the whale, made another savage attack on his victim, and hit for a second time within the sight of the crew. The whale appeared at this juncture to be in extremities, and the swordfish, retaining the position, made a further attack at the common enemy and stabbed the Jonah swallowing monster.

All was now over; the whale's remaining strength was gone, and he was compelled to succumb to his fate with the grace of a doubly assailed warrior of the deep. After death he floundered "topsy turvy," and the thrasher was observed to be luxuriating on the choicest parts of the conquered dead. This is no mythical story of the sea, but an incident of peculiar interest to those who realize the hostility existing between the thrasher and the whale and the characteristics of the swordfish. The latter knows no danger. He does not discern between a floating hull and a buoyant whale. His sword is bound to penetrate either at all hazards and risks to himself, and in this respect he is similar to some misguided non-amphibious creatures.—Victoria Standard.

Is the Route Practicable?

Notwithstanding the emphatic warnings of all experienced Arctic navigators, and the difficulties encountered on the Alert expeditions, the projected route from England through Hudson strait to Fort Churchill continues to be discussed in England and Canada; and quite recently the establishment of a line of steamers on this route was advocated by no less an authority than Commodore A. H. Markham, in a lecture delivered before the Royal Geographical society. As he failed, however, to disprove any of the objections raised against the practicability of this route, which are chiefly founded on the always imminent danger of Fox channel ice, his remarks fail to convince us.

There is no doubt that powerful but small steamers can accomplish the journey annually with comparative safety, but this is far from being sufficient to make the Hudson Strait a practicable trade route. The premium on this route would have to be enormously high on account of the great number of dangers to navigation, and at all seasons the steamers would be liable to long delays. Sir Charles Tupper, who was present at this discussion, did not take as favorable a view as Markham, while Dr. Rae condemned the plan as wholly untenable. It seems somewhat surprising to see it again revived after its impracticability appeared to have been proved by the results of the Canadian Hudson Bay expeditions.—Science.

Music of Central Africans.

What a pity it is that the travelers who penetrate into the heart of Africa are not, as a rule, musical enough to notate the songs which are so interesting among those little known but very interesting and musical tribes. So far as we know Schweinfurth has been the only musical traveler who had gone far into the dark continent, and many of his musical memoranda were destroyed by fire before he emerged from Africa. There is much that may be discovered in ethnology by tracing the melodies of a primitive people, and many points connected with the rise of music may be inferentially determined by this means.

Besides this, the Central Africans are known to be very fond of music. Every traveler to that country carries a long music box or two as propitiary presents to hostile kings; the jewsharp has a home in Central Africa and is greatly prized there, and Sir Samuel Baker says that a man traveling through Africa with a hand organ would be as safe as one having a guard of soldiers with him. Perhaps Africa may yet give a composer or two to the music of the future.—Musical Herald.

Mexican Demand for Candy.

"Mexico clamors for candy," said a manufacturer of long experience. "They'll eat anything sweet down in that land. They like it better if it is hot, with wintergreen, peppermint or something that burns as it goes down. The States are not supplying the Mexican demand for sweetmeats, and are missing a good trade by not trying to do it. Germany or some other foreign power will step in and get a hold there. It will serve us right. We are neglecting our interests in that section.

"Speaking of peppermints, I can show you an Italian preparation that's got more penetration to the square inch than anything else I ever saw. It sells at $8 a pound. Here is some," and the speaker produced a small box filled with tiny square wafers about half the size of a six months' old baby's thumb nail. "They are made in Italy," he explained, "and are the celebrated essence of peppermint."—Chicago Herald.

Wheat as a Food.

Dr. Calvin Cutter, the physiologist, who has made a careful study of this matter, says: "The history of the Roman empire in the time of Julius Cæsar shows that wheat as an article of food, combined with fresh outdoor air life, is capable of producing and sustaining the highest type of physical manhood the world ever saw. The empire was built up and maintained by soldiers whose main article of food was wheat. There is every probability that the present prevalence of late erupting and easily decaying teeth is due, for one cause, to the use of flour (white) as food. In 880 of the school children in Woburn, Lexington and Bedford, Mass., in 1874, under 12 years of age, two-thirds had decayed teeth. (See Reports State Health Board of Massachusetts, 1875.) There is every probability that grayness or premature baldness is partly due to the present exclusive and universal use of white flour." Then the doctor proceeds to give scientific reasons why this is the case.

Rev. J. F. Clymer, Auburn, N. Y., thinks that one reason why children fed chiefly on white bread are so often hungry, and demand so much food between meals, is because their bodies are insufficiently nourished. "Their bones and nerves do not receive the nitrates and phosphates they need and are suffering from hunger."—Susanna W. Dodds, M. D., in Demorest's Monthly.

The sand blast is now utilized for cleansing dingy stone walls of buildings.

TYRANNIES OF RELATIONSHIP.

Granting Favors Because "He Is One of the Family"—In Hot Water.

No despotism equals the tyranny coming of relationship. Thousands endure it, yet scarcely think of it as a tyranny, much less an injustice. Thousands inflict it unconsciously and think they are perfectly right in doing so.

The son, the nephew, the cousin, is given a situation in the business, whatever it may be, simply because he is a relative. He does not, he dare not push out in the world and seek a place as a stranger and on his own merits. He leans on the relative, the uncle, the cousin, who has force, energy and enterprise, and has thereby built up a business to give him a situation. He may have no particular liking or interest in the business. It is only for him a means for drawing a salary. He expects in such situation more favors than would be granted a stranger, because he is "one of the family." He may not ask openly for such favors, but there are other and quite as efficacious ways of asking and begging for favors as by word of mouth.

If the dependent relative in the situation, through recklessness, has lost or squandered money; if he has in some way "put himself in a hole," he has generally some soft hearted relative in the family to go to and unload his misery on, who in turn unloads it on somebody else, and on it progresses until it reaches the head, and the head, though vexed and out of patience, feels he cannot cast off and treat the dependent relative as he would an entire stranger, and the result is that the pocketbook is reluctantly opened again, since "something must be done for the relative who is in the business, because he is a relative."

There are no end of losses great and small, in business, coming of relatives placed in positions for which they are not adapted, and in which they expect and often are granted indulgences not given to one not of kin. Were they treated according to their real worth and merit they might not be retained a week. But they are relatives. As relatives it is difficult to discharge them. There is more than one string to the bow of the dependent relative.

It would not be to the family credit to have him seen a beggar on the street. Or, if turned adrift because of his incompetency, he might do something dreadful to himself. Relatives of this sort are always threatening to do something dreadful to themselves when in the hot water wherein they so frequently contrive to immerse themselves. They sometimes feel also that the family will see them through, and when their spasms of despair and ominous self threatenings are the strongest there is a certain under current of thought telling them that the family will stand anything rather than face the notoriety of the dependent relative's dreadful act.

That person is indeed fortunate who, through his or her innate force, energy and variety of resources, is able to go among entire strangers and prove his ability to do some one thing well, possibly better than any one else, and who, through his real value, is placed above the necessity of asking for place and favor on the ground of relationship.—Prentice Mulford in New York Star.

The Spanish Bull Fighter's Peril.

The bull fighter had been listening with some marks of impatience to the final words of the impresario, and as soon as he had a chance he explained:

"There is another thing, senors, which has often led our lads to mishaps in the ring, and that is the woman. Mind you, when our banderileros are about to risk their lives at perhaps the most dangerous moment, a single side glance at the tendido, or gallery, where their sweethearts are sitting, has cost many a brave fellow his life. It is the same with our greatest toreros, and they seldom go at the bull without having mentally, if not publicly, offered him up to some lovely face up there in the boxes or in the galleries, and woe beside them if they cast their eyes towards their queen of the ring to see if she really is gazing at them when they pull away the muleta and raise the hilt of their blade so as to lower the point towards the place, behind the terrible horns, where they must strike home and surely, if they would see the animal drop at their feet. Then, again, we are often disturbed by the impatience and often unfair cries and criticisms of the aficionados or amateurs, who thus exasperate our hot blood, so that we recklessly go at the bull, in order to wring from them that roar of applause and vivas that a genuine torero strives for at every combat, just as if each bull fight, corrida de toros, were his maiden effort to gain honor in his dangerous career."—Cor. Philadelphia Times.

From the Great Pipestone Quarry.

There is much to indicate that the Indians for many generations have highly prized the pipestone for the manufacture of their pipes, and that it has been extensively used by the red man for pipe sculpture throughout North America. Chips of the stone, beads, arrow points, hatchets and pipes of this material have been taken from graves, mounds and wells, even plowed up from fields, in the various states, from Massachusetts to Georgia. The Dakota Indians employ seventy-five different patterns in as many materials, but the calumet is the one venerated. Mr. Edwin A. Barber says: "The fact that this stone has been taken from Indian graves in the state of New York, and that others were found on an ancient site of a village in Georgia, at opposite points, 1,200 miles from the pipestone quarry in Minnesota, reveals the great extent of intercommunication which formerly existed among this North American people. There is certainly strong presumptive evidence that the stone of the Coteau des Prairies has been used for centuries, and perhaps a much longer time."—Helen Strong Thompson in American Magazine.

What Constitutes a Blonde?

Few people understand what constitutes a blonde. Every lady with light hair is not a blonde. The word we get from the French. The adverb blonde, on the authority of Clark, the eminent philologist, is defined as meaning fair, light or flaxen, referring to any object, whereas Simmonds describes a blonde as being "a woman of fair complexion." These definitions are given in Worcester's dictionary. If you will give the matter a moment's thought, you will recall how many ladies have light hair and dark complexions. I venture to say that in all the galaxy of beauty at the Veiled Prophets' ball there were not fifty ladies who came up to the strict requirements of flaxen hair and absolutely fair complexion.—George H. Small in Globe-Democrat.

MAKE HENS LAY
NOTHING ON EARTH WILL MAKE HENS LAY LIKE SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER.
WE SEND BY MAIL A LARGE 2¼ POUND CAN FOR $1.20, TWO SMALL PACKS 50 CTS POST PAID.

Sheridan's Condition Powder

Is absolutely pure and highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other kind. Strengthens the whole system, prevents and cures all diseases of farm stock. Worth its weight in gold when hens are moulting, and to keep them healthy. Testimonials sent free by mail. Ask your druggist, grocer, general store, or feed dealer for it. If you can't get it, accept no substitute. Take no other kind. We will send, prepaid, by mail, as follows:—A new, small, elegantly illustrated copy of the "FARMERS' POULTRY RAISING GUIDE" (price 25 cents, tells how to make money with a few hens), and two small packages of Powder for 50 cents, one large package, one pound can and Guide, $1.20. Sample package of Powder, 25 cents, five for $1.00. Six for $5.00, express prepaid, for $5.00. Send stamps or cash. L. S. JOHNSON & CO., 22 Custom-House St., Boston, Mass.

Mr. Cleveland has taken his stand on free trade. * * * and on that broad question Mr Cleveland's candidature naturally and necessarily carries English sympathy.—London Globe.

Upon the success of our manufactures, as the handmaid of agriculture and commerce, depends in a great measure the independence of our country, and none can feel more sensibly than I do the necessity of encouraging them.—Andrew Jackson.

TRADE S.S.S. MARK

SWIFT'S SPECIFIC

Is entirely a vegetable preparation containing no Mercury, Potash, Arsenic, or other poisonous substances.

SWIFT'S SPECIFIC

Has cured hundreds of cases of Epithelioma or Cancer of the Skin, thousands of cases of Eczema, Blood Humors and Skin Diseases, and hundreds of thousands of cases of Scrofula, Blood Poison and Blood Taint.

SWIFT'S SPECIFIC

Has relieved thousands of cases of Mercurial Poisoning, Rheumatism and Stiffness of the Joints.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., June 27, 1888—Swift's Specific Co., ATLANTA, Ga.—Gentlemen: In the early part of the present year, a bad case of blood poison appeared upon me. I began taking S. S. S. under advice of another, and to-day I feel greatly improved. I am still taking the medicine and shall continue to do so until I am perfectly well. I believe it will effect a perfect cure. Yours truly,
DOC. P. HOWARD,
111 West Sixth St.

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 1, 1888—The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Gentlemen: I was a great sufferer from muscular rheumatism for two years. I could get no permanent relief from any medicine prescribed by my physician. I took over a dozen bottles of your S. S. S., and now I am as well as I ever was in my life. I am sure your medicine cured me, and I would recommend it to any one suffering from any blood disease. Yours truly,
O. E. HUGHES,
Conductor C. & G. R. R.

WACO, TEXAS, May 9, 1888—Gentlemen: The wife of one of my customers was terribly afflicted with a loathsome skin disease, that covered her whole body. She was confined to her bed for several years by this affliction, and could not help herself at all. She could not sleep from a violent itching and stinging of the skin. The disease baffled the skill of the physicians who treated it. Her husband began finally giving his wife Swift's Specific, and she commenced to improve almost immediately, and in a few weeks she was apparently well. She is now a hearty fine-looking lady, with no trace of the affliction left. Yours very truly, J. R. SEANS,
Wholesale Druggist, Austin Avenue.

Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Drawer 3 Atlanta, Ga.; New York, 756 Broadway.

CAUTION

Beware of Fraud, as my name and the price are stamped on the bottom of all my advertised shoes before leaving the factory, which protect the wearers against high prices and inferior goods. If a dealer offers W. L. Douglas shoes at a reduced price, or says he has them without my name and price stamped on the bottom, put him down as a fraud

W. L. DOUGLAS
$3 SHOE. FOR GENTLEMEN.

The only calf $3 SEAMLESS Shoe smooth inside. NO TACKS or WAX THREAD to hurt the feet, easy as hand-sewed and WILL NOT RIP.
W. L. DOUGLAS $4 SHOE, the original and only hand-sewed welt $4 shoe. Equals custom-made shoes costing from $6 to $8.
W. L. DOUGLAS $3.50 POLICE SHOE. Railroad Men and Letter Carriers all wear them. Smooth inside as a Hand-Sewed Shoe. No Tacks or Wax Thread to hurt the feet.
W. L. DOUGLAS $2.50 SHOE is unexcelled for heavy wear. Best Calf Shoe for the price.
W. L. DOUGLAS $2.25 WORKINGMAN'S SHOE is the best in the world for rough wear; one pair ought to wear a man a year.
W. L. DOUGLAS $2 SHOE FOR BOYS is the best School Shoe in the world.
W. L. DOUGLAS $1.75 YOUTH'S School Shoe gives the small Boys a chance to wear the best shoes in the world.
All made in Congress, Button and Lace. If not sold by your dealer, write
W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

FOR SALE BY
OREN BRAGDON & SON,
NO. 24 MARKET STREET.

EAT QUAKER MILLS TRADE MARK. ROLLED WHITE OATS FOR BREAKFAST.
SOLD BY ALL GROCERS.
Quaker Mill Co., Ravenna, Ohio.

Cure Your Corns,
BY USING
SCHLOTTERBECK'S
CORN, WART AND BUNION SOLVENT
A CURE IS GUARANTEED.

UNPRECEDENTED ATTRACTION!
OVER A MILLION DISTRIBUTED
L. S. L.
Louisiana State Lottery Company.

Incorporated by the Legislature in 1868, for Educational and Charitable purposes, and its franchise made a part of the present State Constitution, in 1879, by an overwhelming popular vote.

Its GRAND EXTRAORDINARY DRAWINGS take place Semi-Annually, (June and December), and its GRAND SINGLE NUMBER DRAWINGS take place on each of the other ten months in the year, and are all drawn in public, at the Academy of Music, New Orleans, La.

"We do hereby certify that we supervise the arrangements for all the Monthly and Quarterly Drawings of The Louisiana State Lottery Company, and in person manage and control the drawings themselves, and that the same are conducted with honesty, fairness, and in good faith toward all parties, and we authorize the Company to use this certificate, with fac-similes of our signatures attached, in its advertisement."

G. T. Beauregard
J. A. Early
Commissioners.

We the undersigned Banks and Bankers will pay all Prizes drawn in The Louisiana State Lotteries which may be presented at our counters.

R. M. WALMSLEY, Pres. Louisiana Nat. Bk.
PIERRE LANAUX, Pres. State Nat'l Bank.
A. BALDWIN, Pres. New Orleans Nat'l Bk.
CARL KOHN, Pres. Union National Bank.

GRAND MONTHLY DRAWING,
In the Academy of Music, New Orleans,
Tuesday, November 13, 1888.

CAPITAL PRIZE, $300,000.
100,000 Tickets at Twenty Dollars each. Halves $10; Quarters $5; Tenths $2; Twentieths $1.

LIST OF PRIZES.

1 PRIZE OF	$300,000 is	$300,000
1 PRIZE OF	100,000 is	100,000
1 PRIZE OF	50,000 is	50,000
1 PRIZE OF	25,000 is	25,000
2 PRIZES OF	10,000 are	20,000
5 PRIZES OF	5,000 are	25,000
25 PRIZES OF	1,000 are	25,000
100 PRIZES OF	500 are	50,000
200 PRIZES OF	300 are	60,000
500 PRIZES OF	200 are	100,000

APPROXIMATION PRIZES.

100 Prizes of	$500 are	50,000
100 do.	300 are	30,000
100 do.	200 are	20,000

TERMINAL PRIZES.

999 do.	100 are	99,900
999 do.	100 are	99,900
3,134 Prizes, amounting to		$1,054,800

NOTE.—Tickets drawing Capital Prizes are not entitled to terminal Prizes.

☞ FOR CLUB RATES, or any further information desired write legibly to the undersigned, clearly stating your residence, with State, County, Street and Number. More rapid return mail delivery will be assured by your enclosing an Envelope bearing your full address.

Send POSTAL NOTES, Express Money Orders, or New York Exchange in ordinary letter. Currency by Express (at our expense) may be addressed to
M. A. DAUPHIN,
New Orleans, La.,
or M. A. DAUPHIN,
Washington, D. C.

Address Registered Letters to
NEW ORLEANS NATIONAL BANK,
New Orleans, La.

REMEMBER That the presence of Generals Beauregard and Early, who are in charge of the drawings, is a guarantee of absolute fairness and integrity, that the chances are all equal, and that no one can possibly divine what number will draw a Prize.

"REMEMBER, also, that the payment of all Prizes is GUARANTEED BY FOUR NATIONAL BANKS of New Orleans, and the Tickets are signed by the President of an Institution whose chartered rights are recognized in twenty-eight States; therefore, beware of any imitations or anonymous schemes."

EDWARD D. COFFIN,
SHERIFF ROCKINGHAM CO. AND U. S. DEPUTY MARSHAL.
Office at No. 3 Market Square, And at the Jail.
Will be at Haley & Moore's Ins. Office at 9 A. M and 4 o'clock P. M.
(TELEPHONE AT THE JAIL).

INGALLS. MANDRAKE COMPOUND TRADE MARK.
MANDRAKE CompounD

Among the various organs of our system, none perform a more essential part than the Liver and Kidneys, and so many people are afflicted with diseases of these organs, causing the Blood to become impure, that it is our first duty to assist them in their work. This is done in a thorough manner by Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, which is purely Vegetable, and is worthy of a fair trial.

Ingalls' Mandrake Compound is sold by all Druggists.

PREPARED ONLY BY
THE INGALLS MEDICAL CO
LOWELL, MASS., U.S.A.
Price, $1.00; Six Bottles for $5.00
FOR SALE BY
A. P. PRESTON

BE HONEST and chew FINZER'S OLD HONESTY CHEWING TOBACCO which is ONLY for Chewing and NOT for Smoking.
The BEST chewing tobacco CANNOT be good for Smoking.
OLD HONESTY is the BEST AND CHEAPEST TOBACCO made.
Insist on having the GENUINE with the red H tin tag, made only by,
John Finzer & Bros., Louisville, Ky.

TRANSPORTAION

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

Eastern Division.

TRAINS LEAVE PORTSMOUTH FOR

BOSTON, 4.05, 7.25, 8.20, 11.05 a. m., 2.55, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4.00 p. m. Returning, 7.30, 9.00, 10.00 a. m. 12.30, 3.20, 4.40, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.30 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

PORTLAND, 9.55, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 5.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m. Returning, 7.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.05, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 9.00 a. m.

DOVER, 4.50, 9.45, a. m., 12.25, 3.38, 5.22 p. m.

YORK HARBOR AND BEACH R. R.

YORK BEACH AND WAY STATIONS, (via York Harbor and Beach R. R.) 8.30, 11.10 a. m., 3.30 p. m. Returning, leave York Beach 6.40, 10.00 a. m., 1.40, p. m. Connecting with trains leaving Portsmouth for Boston.

JAS. T. FURBER, Gen'l Manager. D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l Passenger Agent.

Concord & Portsmouth Railroad.

PASSENGER TRAINS leave Exeter for Portsmouth, Stations in Newfield, Junction, Manchester, Concord and intermediate stations, as follows:

UP TRAINS.

Leave	A. M.	P. M.	P. M.
Portsmouth	7.35	1.00	5.15
Greenland	7.45	1.08	5.25
Newmarket Junction	8.05	1.21	5.45
East Epping		1.31
Epping	8.43	1.37	6.21
West Epping	8.49		6.27
Raymond	9.00	1.52	6.38
Candia	9.13	2.05	6.51
Auburn	9.22		6.57
Massabesic	9.30	2.20	7.06
Arrive Manchester	9.42	2.35	7.18
" Concord	10.30	3.12	8.00

DOWN TRAINS.

Leave	A. M.	P. M.	P. M.
Concord	7.30	10.20	3.05
Manchester	8.15	11.00	3.50
Massabesic	8.27	11.28	4.02
Auburn	8.35		4.11
Candia	8.44	11.46	4.24
Raymond	9.05	11.56	5.15
West Epping	9.13	P. M.	5.25
Epping	9.20	12.26	5.37
East Epping		12.14
Newmarket Junction	9.46	12.34	6.48
Greenland	10.01	12.36	6.00
Arrive Portsmouth	10.10	12.45	6.10

☞ Trains connect at Newmarket Junction with trains of the Boston & Maine Railroad for Exeter, Haverhill, Lawrence and Boston; and for Dover, Great Falls and Portland; at Concord with trains to and from all the upper Railroads.

H. E. CRAMER, Jr., Supt.

C. E. BOYNTON,
Manufacturer and Wholesale Dealer in
Soda Water, Root, Tonic, Vanilla, Orange and Strawberry Beer, Crab Apple Lemonette, Cream Ginger and Ginger Ale.

EXTRACT OF NERVE FOOD!
For Brain and Nervous Exhaustion. Good for the Appetite.

Soda Water in Syphons for Hotel and Family Use. Fountains Charged at Short Notice.

Bottler of Eldredge and Milwaukee Lager, Porter and Refined Cider.

☞ The Summer Beverages manufactured and bottled by me having been before the public of this city and vicinity for the past seventeen years, need no endorsement as being of the very highest standard.

E. C. BLAISDELL, D. M. D.,
(SUCCESSOR TO DR. F. J. BONNEY,)
Dental Rooms 1 1-2 Market Street.

Ray State, Haynes Excelsior and Wm. B. Tilton Gold Medal GUITARS, $10 to $40. ZITHERS, 50 cents to $300. Solo BANJO, $10. Haynes VIOLINS, Orchestra, $25; Solo, $35. Special Snare DRUMS, $6. Crosby FIFES, $3. Drum Corps and Band Band for Estimates. Catalogues free. J. C. HAYNES & Co., 33 Court St., Boston, Mass.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

POST OFFICE RULES.

MAILS CLOSE

	A. M.		P. M.
Boston, N. Y., south, west,	8:00	10:20	2:20	4:50	6:45
Boston and way stations,		10:20	2:20		6:45
Portland,	9:25		4:50		6:45
Portland and way stations,	9:25		4:50
Eastern [beyond Portland]	9:25				6:45
Great Falls, Rochester, Wolfeboro' Union Milton,	9:25				4:50
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,	9:25
Concord & Manchester,	7:40	10:20			4:50
Concord, Manchester and North,	7:40		4:50
Exeter and B. & M. way, west of Newmarket,	7:40		4:50
Dover,	9:25		2:20	4:50	6:45
North Conway,	9:25				6:45
York and Cape Neddick,		9:30
Newcastle,		10:20
Newington,		10:20
Boston, N. Y. and south, Sunday,					1:00

MAILS ARRIVE.

	A. M.		P. M.
Boston, south and west,	10:05	8:20	5:40	7:00	12:00
New York,	10:00		5:40	7:00
Boston and way stations,	10:00		5:40
Portland and east,	7:20	11:00	3:00
Great Falls, Rochester, Union, Milton,	8:30	11:00
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.		11:00
Concord, Manchester and north,	10:20		6:20
Dover,	7:20	10:20	3:00	5:40
Newcastle,		9:20
Newington,		9:20
York and Cape Neddick,		11:00
B. & M. R. R., west of Newmarket,		10:20		6:20

S. J. GERRISH, P. M.

MINATURE ALMANAC NOV. 10.

SUN RISES	6:28	MOON SETS	10:10 P. M
SUN SETS	4:28	FULL SEA	3:45 A. M
LENGTH OF DAY	10:0		3:30 P. M

PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Open Monday, Tuesday, Friday and Saturday evenings from 7:30 to 9:00 P. M., and Wednesday and Saturday afternoons from 3:00 to 6:00 o'clock

Weather Indications.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

For New England, Saturday, threatening weather and rain, easterly winds, stationary temperature. Cautionary signals displayed at all stations on Atlantic coast from Norfolk to Eastport, except at Wood's Hole section and Narraganset section.

The Republican ladies who propose to send in bags of provisions for the procession on Monday evening, are requested to send their contributions to the building between the Journal and Times offices, on State street, Saturday or Monday, where they can obtain bags and such information as they may wish regarding the matter.

THE CELEBRATION NEXT MONDAY.

The arrangements for the parade on Monday night are being rapidly perfected. Mayor Hodgdon has profferred the services of a corps of police for escort duty. It is well understood that since the attack on the broom brigade night before last, those who intend to march on Monday night, have been expected to defend themselves. Mayor Hodgdon's prompt action will probably result in a peaceful parade. Illuminations will be general, and the display of fireworks will be the finest exhibition of the kind ever seen here. Visiting delegations are to be furnished with a collation.

The following named gentlemen have been added to the executive committee: Chas. N. Osgood, Michael E. Long, Thomas Entwistle, Hon. Thomas E. O. Marvin, John D. Randall, Col. Wm. H. Sise, Wm. Watkins and H. W. Oxford.

At the meeting of the committe on invitations, last evening, Secretary Horace P. Kent was authorized to extend invitations to all organizations from other cities and towns, likely to accept and attend.

The members of the band of the Winchester Guards are to appear in the procession with a rooster on each of their hats, similar to those worn by the San Francisco delegation to the Chicago convention.

The following general order was issued on Friday by the chief marshal of the procession:

The route of the procession on Monday evening, the 12th inst., will be as follows:

It will form on Congress and Pleasant streets, and move through Market, Hanover, High, Deer, Vaughan and New Vaughan, Maplewood avenue to Dennett street, countermarch through Maplewood avenue to Vaughan, through Vaughan to Deer, through Deer, Bridge, Islington, Rockingham, Mcdonough, Cabot, Islington, Cass and Middle to residence of Hon. C. E. Batchelder, countermarch to Wibird, through Wibird, Union, State, Cabot, Middle, Court, Pleasant, South, South School, Water and State streets, to the place where the collation will be served. As the latter has not been fully determined upon, it will be announced later. This route will be subject to such additions as circumstances may dictate.

All friends of the Republican cause are requested to illuminate to the best of their ability.

S. R. MARSTON, Chief Marshal.
M. T. BETTON, Chief of Staff.

REPUBLICAN CAVALCADE..

All persons wishing to join the cavalcade for parade on Monday evening will please report at the Republican Headquarters this (Saturday) evening in uniform—white tall hat, with, red bandanna handkerchief; red, white and blue sash of cambric, from shoulder to side; white gloves. W. G. MASON, captain.

THE INDEPENDENT DEMOCRATS.

The Independent Democratic club had a well attended meeting in their club room on Friday evening, Chairman Cook, Treasurer Watkins and Secretary Raynes being in their places. A number of democrats who were not members of the club, but who voted for Harrison and Morton, dropped in during the evening in response to a general invitation, and exchanged congratulations over the result of the election. It was voted to accept the invitation of the gentlemen having in charge the republican celebration on in the same as a club. Voted to meet at the club room at 7:30 o'clock sharp, Monday evening, for that purpose.

OUTWARD BOUND.

The U. S. S. Kearsarge on Friday took aboard her powder, having received peremptory orders to go to sea on Saturday, the 10th. She received orders more than a week before to sail on that date, and proceed to Port-au-Prince, Hayti, to protect American interests there, but the order was countermanded on account of the reported arrival of the U. S. S. Boston at Kingston, Jamaica, the latter vessel being ordered by cable to proceed to Hayti. But the Boston had sailed before the despatch reached Kingston, and arrived at New York on the 8th. This caused the renewal of the Kearsarge's original orders, and go to sea she must, whether she can or not. Her officers and crew would have liked to have had a couple of weeks more time to get their gear stowed away and their private stores aboard, and the decks partially cleared up, but growling is of no use in such a case, and she is to go down river at ten o'clock this forenoon.

ELECTION BETS.

Among the election bets reported in this city is one between a confident member of the Nonpareil club and an equally confident republican, in which each engaged, unless his candidate for president should be elected, to wheel the other—the other betting man, not the other candidate for president—from Market square to the Creek and back. In another case, a democrat agreed that should Harrison defeat the man of destiny, he would don the uniform of one of the democratic campaign companies, and haul his political opponent, arrayed in the uniform of the Winchester Guards and seated in a buggy, from the Parade to the Plains and back; and vice versa. This kind of bet seems wrong-ended; it is the successful voter who should wheel his defeated antagonist about town; this would tend to comfort the latter, and in case he made any derogatory remarks to the team, the latter could make an effective political retort. It is bad enough to be cast down by the defeat of one's cherished hopes and bright anticipations, without being made to take part in the exultation of the man who aided in compassing that defeat. Considerable money changed hands in this city, or will so change, on the result of the presidential contest; and it is stated that one democratic employe on the navy yard, who was so enthusiastic that he knew Mr. Cleveland would not be beaten, after betting all of his money as a proof of the sincerity of his belief, wagered all his furniture — a very reckless and foolish proceeding.

PERSONAL.

Mr. W. K. Hill, manager of the Rockingham house, left this city Friday evening for a trip to New York and three weeks absence. During Mr. Hill's absence Mr. C. C. Brown, the very popular clerk, will look after the house and the comfort of the guests.

Mr. Wm. H. Field, agent in this city for the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, left on Thursday with his wife to visit his home in Harrison, Maine.

AN OLD MEMENTO.

J. Wiley Coleman of this city, has in his possession a drawing executed by himself, in India ink, showing the solar eclipse of the moon in its different stages, and giving other points of valuable information concerning it. The drawing was completed Feb. 20th, 1840, while Mr. Coleman was attending the Male High school, John T. Tasker being the principal at the time. It is enclosed in a neat frame made by himself and is held by him as a very valuable memento of his school days. Out of a class of fifteen who completed a similar drawing this is the only one now in existence.

MARITIME NOTES.

A five-masted schooner of 1800 tons register is being built at Waldoboro', Me.; 150 men are at work upon her, to have her completed before the river freezes over. She is to be named the "Governor Ames;" is 232 feet on the keel, fifty feet beam and twenty-one feet depth of hold, and is expected to carry 3000 tons of coal on a deep-load draught of twenty feet, her light draught being but nine feet. The Messrs. Ames of Easton, Mass., are among her owners; and it is reported, Mr. J. Albert Walker and Hon. Frank Jones of this city. Her masts are designated as fore, main, mizzen, jigger and spanker masts, the first three being the old-time names for the masts of a ship or a three-masted schooner, the "jigger" and "spanker" masts being new-fangled names the invention of which has been necessitated by the addition of more masts, making a vessel look like a forest gone adrift. Her lower masts are each 115 feet in length, and her topmasts fifty-six feet; and she will spread 7000 yards of canvass.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

Services will be conducted on Sunday in the Advent chapel on Hanover street by Elder. Wm H. Lannin of Maine. Morning service of prayer and praise at 10:30; sunday School at 12; preaching at 2:45 and 7:30 P. M. Afternoon subject, "Christ the promised seed;" evening subject, "Whole heartedness." Praise service in the evening will precede the sermon.

Services at the Court street Christian church Sunday afternoon and evening; preaching by the pastor, Rev. J. A. Hiner. All are invited.

Spiritual meeting, Sunday, Nov. 11th. Miss M. T. Shelhamer, test medium of the Banner of Light Free Circle room, 2:30 and 7:30 P. M. All are invited.

The Republican committee of ward four are requested to meet at No. 11 South street this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. Fay is to have the railing in front of his store windows re-plated. Workmen from the machine shop were engaged Thursday afternoon in removing them for that purpose.

In the garden of Mrs. A. M. Hoyt, on Pleasant street, a pear tree distinguished itself on Sunday, Nov. 4th, by putting forth a single handsome blossom.

Regular meeting of the Portsmouth Athletic club is called for Monday evening next at 7:30.

It is reported that one of Portsmouth's young men will leave this city early in December, for Paris, where he will represent a New York firm at the great exposition to be held there early in 1889.

James Wholley, of Brewster street, died very suddenly last Thursday night, shortly before midnight, while sitting in a chair conversing with his family. He was a native of Ireland, and a veteran of the late war, having honorably served a three years term.

ACROSS THE RIVER.

We understand that the Cleveland fishing party of Kittery Point will be in the Republican procession here on Monday evening.

Benjamin Bridges has raised a Harrison & Morton flag on Center hill at York Harbor, the first one ever raised there, and the only one there. The Republicans will celebrate the great victory next Saturday, when they will have a procession and fireworks.

The republicans of Kittery celebrated the glorious victory gained in the election of Benjamin Harrison and Levi P. Morton, by firing one hundred guns on Friday evening under the direction of Mr. Daniel Perry; fifty were fired from the hill in Love lane, and fifty on Bridge hill, near the Kittery Point bridge. The guns used were the brass field-pieces belonging to the state of Maine, long stored in Armory hall, and not previously used for some years.

ATTENTION G. A. R.

The comrades of Storer Post, No. 1, are requested to assemble at G. A. R. hall Sunday, the 11th instant, at 1 o'clock P. M., to attend the funeral of our late comrade, James Whooly.

Per Order of the Commander.
M. M. COLLIS, Adjt.

The New Hampshire's Record.

The last report of the New Hampshire Fire Insurance company shows an increase in each of the factors contributing to the solidity of a fire insurance company. The semi-annual statement exhibits an increase in capital, assets and surplus, which now stand as follows: Capital, $600,000; assets, $1,403,210.41; net surplus, $267,379.32. The company holds United States government bonds of a market value of $312,000. Since the organization of the company it has shown each year a gain in assets and surplus.

Year.	Assets.	Net Surplus.	Capital.
1870	$154,868.24	$8,029.69	$100,000
1875	429,362.00	77,123.08	250,000
1880	585,324.20	171,249.88	250,000
1883	1,101,451.02	219,938.34	500,000
1888	1,403,210.41	267,379.32	$600,000

Its agent in this city, C. A. Hazlett, has promptly paid all its losses in this vicinity for the past sixteen years.

To-day, Saturday, two notable bargains will be offered by Lewis E. Staples, namely, Ladies' White Ribbed Jersey Vests 25 cents, and White Blankets at 50 cents per pair. The sale is only for to-day.

WANTED. Any person having from twenty-five to fifty Chinese lanterns which they will sell cheap, may address, H, CHRONICLE office.

Pears' Soap is an elegant toilet adjunct.

MARRIED.

PEVEAR—FISHER. In Hampton Falls, Nov. 8th, by Rev. Charles H. Bailey, Samuel L. Pevear of Hampton Falls, and Mary E. Fisher of South Boston, Mass.

MARINE CHRONICLE.

PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

ARRIVED Nov. 8th.

Sch Lizzie Guptill, Pinkham, Rockland, with lime to J Albert Walker.

SAILED Nov. 8th.

Sch Zimri S Wallingford, Willetts, Philadelphia.

Sch Wm H Allison, Kenniston, New York.

IN LOWER HARBOR Nov. 8th.

Schs Herald, Veazier, Rockland for Boston; Saint Leon, Perkins, Penobscot for Boston; Phebe Ann, Hurd, Bangor for Boston.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Sold only in cans, full weight.

CLEVELAND BROTHERS, ALBANY, N. Y.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity trength and wholesomeness. More economical han the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO. 106 Wall Street, New York.

Situation Wanted.

A YOUNG MAN from the country, of good habits, would like to secure employment in a private family, or with a business firm.
Enquire at this office.

To Let.

THE middle Tenement, No. 23, in the Kenney Block on Pleasant Street. Apply to
J. P. HART.

Dwelling House for Sale.

THE residence of the late Mrs. Daniel Libbey, No. 126 State Street, can be purchased on application to
JOHN SISE, JOSEPH SISE, } Executors

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

The three-story (above the grade floor)

BRICK STORE BUILDING

NO. 15 BOW STREET,

Running back over the wharf to the river, occupied for a long time by the late Charles Robinson as a wholesale corn and flour store. Sold to close up an estate. Enquire of
J. P. MORSE, Real Estate Broker.

JOHN H. BROUGHTON,

No. 68 Daniel St., Portsmouth, N. H.

— DEALER IN —

EASTERN AND WESTERN

LUMBER!

Shingles,
Clapboards
and Laths.

— ALSO —

Best Newark Hydraulic Cement,
Best Extra and No. 1 Lime
FOR SALE AT LOWEST PRICES.

COAL! COAL!

Finest Grades, well prepared for Domestic Purposes, constantly Arriving and for Sale at Lowest Prices.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

J. ALBERT WALKER

Portsmouth Coal Pockets.

J. L.

GLACE FRUITS,
NEW PRUNES,
NEW FIGS,
NEW JELLIES AND JAMS.

OLD RICE POPPING CORN.

DESSICATED COCOANUT

In Strips for Frosting Cake.

Fresh Ground Spices

Of Extra Fine Flavor and Strength.

HYGIENIC COFFEE,

A Healthful and Refreshing Drink, especially for those who cannot drink Genuine Coffee.

JOHN LAIGHTON,

No. 1 Market Square.

NOTICE.

IF you want PURE CIDER VINEGAR of the best quality, we are headquarters for the same. J. R. YEATON & CO.
55 Congress street.

Furnaces, Ranges & Stoves.

We are now ready to show the Finest Line of

RANGES AND PARLOR STOVES

Ever offered in this city, at Prices within the reach of all. Call And See Them Before Buying, it will Pay You.

LAMPS!
LAMPS!

Our Stock of Lamps is Complete, the

Lux Dux, Rochester, Banner, Duplex,

All First-Class, and will be Sold at the Lowest Prices.

PLUMBING, GAS PIPING, COPPER AND SHEET IRONWORK, AT

John P. Sweetser's,

46 MARKET STREET.

MUSIC HALL, PORTSMOUTH.

JOHN O. AYERS.....MANAGER.

ONE WEEK, COMMENCING

Monday, Nov. 12th.

Popular Family Matinees Wednesday, Friday and Saturday at 2:30 P. M.

EQUESCURRICULUM!

Beautifully Trained

30 HORSES, PONIES & MULES. 30

Under the Management of JNO. C. PATRICK.

The Only School of Educated Horses in the World.

The Equine Wonders of the 19th Century.

The Fun Provoking Mule, DENVER | The Mathematical Wonder, MATTIE

A Superb Mounted Military Band and Complete Orchestra.

OUR PRICES, 25, 35 AND 50 CENTS.

Sale of Seats opens at Goodrich's Book Store, Thursday Morning, Nov. 8th.

NOTICE.—Children under 12 years of age can secure a Reserved Seat at the Matinee for 25c.

ED. H. NEIL, Gen, Agt. E. S. DAVIDSON. Adv. Agt.

For One Week Longer, Only,

COMMENCING NOV. 1st,

WILL SELL

Rubber Water Bottles

AT THESE PRICES:

ONE QUART PLAIN	$1.00
ONE QUART COVERED	1.14
TWO QUART PLAIN	1.14
TWO QUART COVERED	1.23
THREE QUART PLAIN	1.23
THREE QUART COVERED	1.32

William D. Grace,

APOTHECARY,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

BABY CARRIAGE FOR SALE.

A BABY CARRIAGE of modern patter straw, hood top, in perfect order, for sale Enquire at this office

FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

RED FIRE!

QUALITY GUARANTEED.

ANDREW P. PRESTON,
Apothecary, - Portsmouth, N. H.

A PERFECT BLEND

MOCHA AND JAVA COFFEE

FULL WEIGHT, 2 POUND CANS, PRICE 70 CENTS

CHARLES E. LAIGHTON & SON,

Exchange Building, Opp. Post-Office.

FALL AND WINTER OF 1888-89.

Our Assortment of Tailoring Goods is superior in many respects to any of previous years, embracing a Full Line of Goods suitable for

Fall and Winter Overcoatings.

Aslo, a Fine Assortment of the Best

IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC GOODS FOR SUITINGS,

Consisting of Stripes, Checks, Plain and Fancy Woollens and Worsteds in Great Variety.

CHECKS AND STRIPES FOR TROWSERS.
FANCY PATTERNS FOR VESTING.

Prices Reasonable for Fine Work.

WM. P. WALKER, - - MERCHANT TAILOR,

NO. 8 MARKET SQUARE.

THE BEST BONDS ARE POLICIES

— IN THE —

Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York

THE LARGEST, CHEAPEST AND BEST IN THE WORLD.

Assets - - over $120,000,000.

RICHARD A. MCCURDY, - PRESIDENT.

PROTECTION FOR THE AGED!

At Age of 75 $1000 will purchase an Annuity of $159.06, and other ages in proportion.

Those Desiring Reliable Insurance Should Apply to the Undersigned,

C. M. GIGNOUX, - - GENERAL AGENT,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

ILSLEY & MOORE,

Fire Life and Accident Insurance Agents and Brokers No. 3 Pleasant St., Portsmouth N. H.

NOTICE:—The undersigned gives notice to all whom it may concern, that he has purchased from the senior member of the old firm of MORSE & ILSLEY, all rights to the Fire Insurance Business heretofore carried on by that firm, and is duly authorized by all the Companies represented by them to have and hold all their records. WINGATE N. ILSLEY.

Facilities for placing the largest lines of Fire Insurance in the best Companies.

Agents for the Equitable Life Ins. Society of the U. S. New England Mutual Life Ins. Co. of Boston, Mass., and the Fidelity & Casualty Ins Co., of New York. sept

Look in at Conn's

— AND SEE THE —

BUTTER!

From the very best Dairies in Vermont and New York. Creameries are of no account compared with these Dairies. Also,

Cheese Pork, Lard, Hams, Beans Etc

No Olco or Second-Hand Stuff kept.

☞ The very best quality of LARD bought by the car-load, which I am selling less than the Boston prices.

THE OLDEST AND ONLY Republican Morning Paper IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

IF YOU WANT TO BUY OR SELL ANYTHING AD VERTISE IN THE Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 24, 1852. | PORTSMOUTH, N. H., MONDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 12, 1888. | $5 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE. TWO CENTS PER COPY.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

MONDAY, NOV. 12, 1888.

The News!

ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES.

Horrors of a Mine Explosion.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

PITTSBURG, KANSAS, Nov. 11.—Many of the scenes following the mine explosion, which killed nearly a hundred men Friday, were harrowing. Partly clad women, with babies clasped to their breasts, came through darkness to the shaft, while others, mad in their despair, tore their hair and garments and tried to dash headlong into the mine. One poor woman, whose husband and two sons were in the pit, became raving mad. At one time the crush of women and children at the shaft was so great that it was feared that violence would be necessary in order to clear a way for reserves. The poor creatures fought each other in their despair. As night wore on, the work of recovering bodies continued until the floor of the engine house was strewn with mangled men. Then the bodies were placed in rows upon the ground, where snow and rain beat upon them. Most of the victims were shockingly mutilated; some were so disfigured as to be unrecognizable, and all were covered with blood and dust. Many were almost stripped of their clothes. There was nothing left of the first man brought up from the dreadful hole but a bleeding trunk; head, arms and legs had been blown off.

Many of the searchers fainted at their work; others, stimulated by brandy and the entreaties of frantic women, held at their terrible task all through the night. Some of the victims were not disfigured. They were in the chamber least affected by the shock, and died of suffocation. There are still about fifty bodies in the lower levels. Some of the victims were found buried beneath immense weights of slack, while others were discovered in groups and in all kinds of positions. Two men who have not been identified were so tightly locked in each other's arms that they were torn apart with difficulty.

Out of 164 who descended into the mine only fourteen have been taken out alive, and the greater part of them are terribly and fatally burned.

Wonderful Escape.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

KANSAS CITY, MO., Nov. 11.—The Times special tonight from Pittsburg says: Searching parties at Frontenance mine worked without cessation all night and today, but only three additional bodies were taken out. At 5 o'clock, the relief squad, who were working at the foot of the main shaft, were astounded to see an apparitton approaching them. The mysterious visitor staggered up to them, dimly seen by the uncertain light of their lamps, and greeted them with: "Here, fellows, let me have a light." It was Henry Burns, who had for 30 hours been counted among the lost. He was quickly taken to the surface, and there told the story of one of the most remarkable escapes from death on record.

He was slightly delirious, but said: "I was working in the first room, first north entry, east side, when there was a roar and shock. I at first thought I had been asleep, and in fact was so bewildered that I did not know whether I was in this world or the next. Managing to make a light with my only remaining match, I found my watch had stopped at five o'clock, but I didn't know whether it was morning or evening. I was suffering infernal agonies from inhaling after damp, but was otherwise unhurt, and proceed to make my way to the foot of the shaft. I do not know how long the journey lasted."

After being removed to the open air he became more nervous and delirious, and could not be made to understand the full significance of what he had undergone. He could not realize that two nights and a day had passed since he had lost consciousness, and insisted that people were joking when they told him it was Sunday forenoon. He will be all right in a few days.

ODD WAY TO CELEBRATE.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Hugh McKeevers, a quarry man at Verplanks, last night celebrated Harrison's election by exploding dynamite cartridges at a safe distance from the house. When it began to rain hard McKeevers entered the house, having a cartridge in his possession. He touched the fuse to the fire in his pipe, and attempted to throw the cartridge out of doors, but it struck against the wood work and fell into the room. McKeevers ran into the adjoining room, where two children, Hugh, aged 13, and Lizzie, aged 11, were sleeping, threw himself on the bed, and covered his head with the bed clothing. When the cartridge exploded it tore out the front and rear of the house, demoralized the doors and windows, and badly wrecked the furniture. The bed on which McKeevers and the children lay was blown through the side of the house, but none of them were seriously hurt. The house was completely wrecked.

NEW HAMPSHIRE'S VOTE.

Harrison's Plurality 2284, Goodell's (for Governor) 709.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CONCORD, Nov. 11.—Complete returns from all towns and wards in the state give Harrison 45,728; Cleveland 43,444; Fisk 1570. Harrison's plurality 2284. For governor, Goodell, rep., 44,897; Amsden, dem., 44,188; Carr, pro., 1576. No choice. For congress in the 1st district, Nute, rep., 21,753; McKinney, dem., 21,471; Knowles, pro., 681; Nute's plurality, 282. In the 2d district, Moore, rep., 23,530; Mann, dem., 22,518; Fletcher, pro., 878; Moore's plurality 1012. The republicans elect councillors in two districts, the democrats in one, and there is no choice in the remaining two.

LACONIA, N. H., Nov. 11.—At daybreak this morning a life-sized figure was discovered suspended from the Democratic flag line stretched across Bank square, attached to which was a placard bearing the words: "So die all traitors." The affair created a profound sensation, and was the topic of universal discussion among all classes during the day.

Sheriff William K. Norton, democrat, is re-elected in Merrimac county. The vote was Norton 6148, Frank S. Dodge, 5990; Norton's plurality 158. The democrats elected the county treasurer, also, and two of the three commissioners. The republicans chose the solicitor, register, and one commissioner. The prohibitionists threw 339 votes in the county.

Sad Suicide.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., Nov. 11.—Sarah B. Farrer, of Keene, N. H., a member of the freshman class at Smith college, Northampton, jumped from the new Massachusetts Central railroad bridge into the Connecticut river this afternoon and was drowned. She was out for a walk, apparently, taking the popular route towards Hadley. People noticed that she was alone, and acting strangely, but no serious thought was taken of the matter until she began to walk on the railroad bridge, about two miles from college. She walked nearly to the middle span, and before spectators could reach her she poised on the outer rail, and deliberately jumped into the river, 60 feet below. The body was recovered late this evening. No definite reason is assigned for the act. Her father died in the spring, however, and it is suggested that grief crazed her. She was an attractive young woman, 19 years old and a general favorite in her class.

The Yellow Fever in Florida.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

GAINESVILLE, FLA., Nov. 11.—Six new cases of yellow fever and one death are reported here.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., Nov. 11.—No frost last night as anticipated. The government medical bureau disbanded today, only Dr. Porter and a few nurses remaining. Macon and Augusta will both admit Jacksonville passengers bound north. A large special excursion party in locked cars will leave Tuesday morning. Dr. Sheftall of Savannah, volunteer fever physician, just returned home to that city, in an interview in the News says: Yellow fever will probably continue in Florada all winter. He stands alone in this opinion. All other experts say that a killing frost and thorough disinfection will result in the complete disappearance of the disease.

Mixed.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., Nov. 11th.—The official returns of Duval county are to be canvassed to-morrow, and will show a Republican majority of 1285 on presidential vote, 813 on county ticket. Officers will be half white and half colored.

The Ocean too Narrow.

Fog and High Speed.

Too Close a Shave. Steamship Cut In Two.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11th.—The Cunard steamer Umbria, Capt. McMecken, which sailed hence for Liverpool yesterday, returned at 1:18 this afternoon. During a dense fog she came into collision with the French steamer Iberia, Capt. Lagols, from Bussorah Sept. 20th, for New York, striking her bow on. The Umbria's stem was started and holes stove in her starboard bow. Twelve or fifteen of the Iberia's crew were picked up by the Umbria and brought to this port. Pilot Sails of steamer Nasmyth, reports his pilot boat, Calvin H. Colt, No. 13, put salvage crew of three men on board steamer Iberia this morning. The Iberia lies three miles off shore directly opposite the Long Beach Hotel. She is lying in an easy position, and can be towed off by slipping cable, with aid of tugs. Has about fourteen feet of her stern cut clear off; otherwise is in good condition. The cargo was examined in the hold, and found in splendid condition.

The collision occurred only a short distance outside of Sandy Hook, and from all reports received it was caused by the Umbria going at too great a rate of speed in the bay. The Umbria reached Sandy Hook at 12:15, and discharged her pilot. The weather was growing thicker all the time. By one o'clock it was so foggy that her engines were slowed down to less than half-speed. Shortly after this the whistle of a steamer was heard on the starboard bow. Capt. McMecken, of the Cunarder, answered back, and continued under way, going through the water as he says, at little more than steerage way. At this time they were shut in by fog. They could not see through it any further than the length of the vessel. Suddenly through the haze a steamer loomed up into view, not more than a hundred yards away. She was headed north and was just beginning to cross the course of the big Cunarder.

Capt. McMecken says he ordered the engines to stop and later, one minute or so, he gave the signal to go astern. The Umbria, however, continued to keep what headway she had, and presently both vessels collided. The big bow of the Cunarder struck the Iberia about twenty feet from the stern, and carved her way through it as if it were made of paper. The stern section of the Iberia floated past the Umbria's starboard side, and the main portion of the hulk grated past on the port side. As soon as the vessells were cleared of each other, boats were lowered from the Umbria and despatched to the disabled vessel. First officer Guilot, of the Iberia, and a few seamen then came to the Umbria, and told Capt. McMeckan the extent of the injuries to the Iberia. Both vessels were then pointed shoreward, and the Umbria stood by the Iberia until they reached a point about four miles off Long Beach. There the latter vessel was anchored, and the captain and crew, numbering 30 men, were transferred to the Cunard steamer.

The Cunarder remained by the Iberia all night and until noon of today. Capt. McMecken then headed to this port. Repairs will be completed by noon tomorrow. The Iberia belonged to the Fabre line, and was bound hither from the Persian gulf. The cargo consisted of dried fruits, coffee, hides, etc.

The passengers in the Umbria flatly contradict what the Umbria's officers say regarding the speed of the vessel. At the time of the collision, some say, she was going at almost full speed.

An hour before the collision, the Umbria had narrowly escaped another accident. The French steamer LaNormandie, also bound out, was running about parallel with the Umbria, and the two could hear each other's whistles at intervals. Suddenly La-Normandie's whistle sounded nearer, and in a few seconds she came in sight just before the Umbria's bow. There were cries of alarm, but the pilots in both steamers gave the proper turn to their wheels, and the vessels swung away, and in a moment were out of sight. Ex-Mayor Thacher of Albany says the shock when the Umbria struck did not seem at all severe. In spite of the terrible damage to the Iberia the discipline on the Umbria was perfect. Officers and men seemed to know exactly what to do, and their coolness inspired confidence among the passengers. The crew of the Iberia seemed terribly afraid they would be abandoned. Their frantic cries were plainly heard on the Umbria It took several hours to bring them all aboard the Umbria.

Capt. Langloes of the Iberia this evening said the Umbria was running about 17 miles an hour, and came upon the Iberia without warning, cutting her clear through, so that about one-third of the Iberia was cut off, drifted away and sank, while the forward part was kept afloat by air tight compartments. Two anchors were thrown out to keep the wreck from drifting away. It has probably sunk by this time. Wreckers have been engaged to recover the cargo, if possible. The breaking down of the Iberia's machinery occurred Oct. 17, and delayed her two days.

The Iberia was a steamer of about 1006 tons, and belonged in Marseilles. She carried no passengers. The officers were French and the crew Arabs, Greeks and other nationalities. The Umbria had on board 215 cabin, 67 intermediate, and 429 steerage passengers. There was great excitement among them, but good management on the part of the officers prevented any serious panic. Among those on board were Thomas Baring, banker, Edward Cooper, Earl of Norbury, Hon Boyd Winchester, U. S. Minister to Switzerland, and a host of others equally well known. The Umbria's damaged bulkhead will be repaired at once, and she will probably resume her voyage to-morrow or Tuesday. Her agents say she could have proceeded safely, but the captain acted with wise precaution in returning.

The Rochester Fire.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

ROCHESTER, N. Y. Nov. 11. — Two bodies were found today in the ruins of the steam-gauge and lantern works. There were at work when the fire broke out 78 men; of these 11 are known to be dead, and 37 missing. All hope of their being alive is given up. Twenty were more or less injured, and 12 escaped unhurt.

FOREIGN.

Senor Castillo Mobbed on Arriving Home.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

MADRID, SPAIN, Nov. 11.—In anticipation of the arrival of Senor Canovas Del-Castillo from Seville, a strong force of police and military were posted this morning along the streets through which the conservative leader was expected to pass on his way from the railway station to his residence. Thousands of Republicans collected at the station at an early hour, and the arrival of Senor Canovas was the signal for a hostile outburst. The mob surrounded and followed his carriage, hooting and throwing stones. The windows of the carriage were broken by flying missiles, and Senora Canovas, who accompanied her husband, was struck by a stone, but was not seriously injured. When the carriage reached the Prado, gendarmes surrounded it in order to protect the occupants from violence. Similar scenes of disorder occurred outside the residence of Senor Canovas, and finally in order to escape from the mob he drove to the house of Marquis Sotomayor, his brother-in-law. The crowd continued the demonstration in front of the Conservative Club and conservative journals. At the Epoca building, the mob again became violent and every window in the place was smashed. Throughout the disturbance there was no collision between the people and the police, nor was there any fighting. The agitation abated at mid-day, but thre was a renewal of the demonstration at 4 o'clock this afternoon, and the Conservative club was obliged to close its doors. A republican journal, the Paiz, appeared this evening with a manifesto from republican students in which they expressed sympathy with the action of their comrades at Seville and elsewhere. The Epoch, in the meantime had published an extra headed "In open revolution," in which the scenes of the morning were described. The uproar continued until 10 o'clock, when the crowds gradually dispersed. During the excitement copies of different conservative journals were burned in the public squares.

A Belief That Stanley is Dead.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle

BERLIN, Nov. 11th.—The Sweedish explorer Evestmark has received a letter from a friend on the Congo expressing the confident belief that Stanley is dead.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—The Economist contests Gladstone's statement that Home Rule is so rooted in the minds of the people that it will survive his leadership with undiminished vigor. "After the death of Gladstone," it says, "Home Rule will have to stand on its own merits. Gladstone's present colleagues being all inferior, nobody is able to predict who his successor will be. His equals have abandoned him."

PANAMA, Nov. 11.—A recent fire at Vielta, Colombia, destroyed a number of houses; many children perished. Heavy loss of cattle and produce are reported at Carthagena, from drought and forest fires.

They "Extracted" the Silver.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

BRIDGEPORT, CONN., Nov. 11.—Miles A. French and his wife Nellie were arrested last night by one of Pinkerton's detectives. French has been employed three years by the Bridgeport copper company to extract silver from copper ore. For some time past there has been stealing of the silver thus obtained, and the company had no means of knowing the exact amount of silver taken from each ton of ore, which French well knew and they trusted his honesty. When a ton would exceed the average he would appropriate the excess. He soon began to spend money freely, and lived far beyond his salary, which caused his firm to investigate. This resulted in his arrest. He or his wife, or both made frequent trips to Boston, Providence and New York, where they met agents and disposed of the plunder. When arrested last night they had about $1200 worth of silver in bars. It is thought French has stolen from $10,000 to $15,000 in this manner.

Iron Workers Resume.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

READING, PA., Nov. 11. — The large No. 2 blast furnace of the Croon Iron Co., which has been idle since January, will go into operation tomorrow with full force.

Sorry We Hung Them.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Three thousand socialists met in Hyde Park yesterday to observe the anniversary of the execution of the Chicago anarchists, and to denounce the suppression of free speech in Trefalgar square.

Employees' Wages Raised.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

SHARON, PA., Nov. 11th.—The managers of Spearman, Douglass, and Mable & Clair furnaces, have raised the wages of their employees 15 cents per day. The prospects are that all furnaces will be in blast all winter. The Henderson furnace will resume next week, after a long idleness.

A Family Perish in the Flames.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

UTICA, N. Y., Nov. 11th.—Frederick Knorr, his wife and his 11-year-old daughter Anna, perished in their burning dwelling at Vernon Centre at noon to-day. Knorr was a laborer, 35 years old. Origin of fire unknown.

It Pleases the Vatican.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

ROME, Nov. 12.—The Vatican authorities express satisfaction with the election of Harrison, at whose hands the Catholic interests of America are not expected to suffer.

Mrs. Gould Growing Weaker.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11th.—Late to-night the physician of Mrs. Gould said her condition was somewhat improved, but there is too great a loss of vitality for her to recover.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 11.—A bulletin from W. H. Barnum's residence at Lime Rock at 9 o'clock this evening reports the senator's condition as practically unchanged. He regained consciousness and recognized the various members of his family gathered around his bedside. He is still in a very critical condition, and the chances of recovering slight.

RAYMOND'S VACATION EXCURSIONS.

ALL TRAVELLING EXPENSES INCLUDED.

A WINTER — IN — CALIFORNIA.

The second, third and fourth parties of the season will leave Boston in December and January, in special trains of magnificent vestibuled palace cars, with palace dining-cars attached, for Pasadena, Los Angeles, and other points in Southern California. The dates and routes are as follows:

Thursday, December 6, via Buffalo, Chicago, Kansas City, Santa Fe, Albuquerque, San Bernardino, etc.

Monday, January 7, via Buffalo, Detroit, Cincinnati, Mammoth Cave, New Orleans, Galveston, San Antonio, etc.

Thursday, January 10, via Buffalo, Chicago, Kansas City, Santa Fe, Albuquerque, San Bernardino, etc.

Sixteen Returning Parties, under special escort, over Five Different Routes. Return tickets also good on all Trains. Independent tickets, covering every expense both ways, and giving entire freedom to the passenger while in California, and also in making the journey homeward. Hotel coupons supplied for long or short sojourns at all the Leading Pacific Coast Resorts.

Dates of other California Excursions.—February 7, 11, and 25; March 7 and 11.

Dates of Mexico Excursions.—January 14, February 11, and March 11.

Dates of Washington Excursions (the only ones the present season).—January 15 and February 16.

W. RAYMOND. I. A. WHITCOMB.

☞ Send for descriptive circular, designating whether book relating to California, Mexico, or Washington tours is desired.

W. RAYMOND,
298 Washington St. (opposite School St.),
BOSTON, MASS. n014

"1888" OPENING OF "1888"

FALL AND WINTER DRY GOODS

At the Well-Known Store,

NOS. 30 and 32 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH.

Ayers & Locke, Proprietors,

Can be found the Largest Assortment of

SEASONABLE DRY GOODS MERCHANDISE.

LARGEST ASSORTMENT OF OUTSIDE GARMENTS.

For Ladies, Misses and Children,

New Goods of this Season's Manufacture.

All are Invited to Examine

OUR STOCK OF CLOAKS!

Before Purchasing Elsewhere.

Silk and Gloria RAIN UMBRELLAS! Ladies' Gossamers.

THE F. P. ROBINSON CO. BLACK STOCKINGS.

"CLEAN FAST" NONE ARE GENUINE WITHOUT THIS TRADE MARK ON EACH PAIR.

Mohair and Gingham RAIN UMBRELLAS! Children's Gossamers.

Largest Assortment of Dress Goods in Portsmouth.

In fact, the Best Assortment in their Line of everything pertaining to a

FIRST-CLASS STOCK OF DRY GOODS.

NEW CARPETS! NEW CARPETS!

HOUSEKEEPING GOODS! &C.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS IN OUR UNDEWEARR DEPARTMENT.

Small Wares, Trimmings, Ribbons, Gloves Yarns, Knitting Silks, &c. Corsets, Bustles, &c.

Largest Assortment of Fall and Winter Skirts in all the Desirable Fabrics

Which they are desirous of exchanging for Cash on a basis for value that will compare favorably with Boston and New York prices.

AYERS & LOCKE.

COMFORT — FOR — COLD AND TENDER FEET!

Persons troubled with cold or tender feet will find warmth and ease in the use of

DOLGE'S ALL WOOL FELT Slippers and Shoes

For which the undersigned is agent in this City and Vicinity.

--- AT THE STORE ---

No. 34 Market Street

Can be found a Full Line of these Goods, in many patterns of Slippers, Shoes and Boots, and several colors, for house, office or street wear,

Of Men and Boys, Women and Girls,

☞ Please examine our Stock.

J. C. CARR.

JOHN H. BROUHTON,

No. 68 Daniel St., Portsmouth, N. H.

— DEALER IN —

EASTERN AND WESTERN LUMBER!

Shingles, Clapboards and Laths.

— ALSO —

Best Newark Hydraulic Cement,

Best Extra and No. 1 Lime

FOR SALE AT LOWEST PRICES.

LOOK AT THIS

Heavy, Substantial Cooking Range,

"THE ALMONER."

Plain for $16.00, Worth $25.00

To anyone in need of a First-Class Range. Examine this before purchasing elsewhere.

— ALSO A FULL LINE OF —

MAGEE FURNACES, RANGES & STOVES.

Plumbing, Gas Fitting, Tin and Sheet Iron Work of All Kinds.

C. W. TAYLOR.

42 & 44 MARKET STREET.

C-O-A-L-!

All Kinds and Sizes Delivered Well Screened.

E. F. SISE & CO.

First Quality Wood!

Liverpool and Turks Island

S-A-L-T

In Bulk and Sacks. Suitin Boxes. Boston and Portland Brands.

TELEPHONE.

The Portsmouth Daily Chronicle,

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 2, 1883.

Published every morning, except Sunday, at No. 7 Exchange Building, Pleasant Street.

By mail, postage prepaid, $5 a year. Single Copies, Two Cents.

THE CHRONICLE is served to subscribers in Portsmouth, Kittery, Dover, Rochester and Farmington at 50 Cents per month, hours in advance of any other paper containing the Associated Press Despatches.

The New Hampshire Gazette,

ESTABLISHED OCT. 7, 1756.

The Oldest Newspaper in America. Published every Thursday.

Terms, $1.50 a year in advance.

[Entered at the Post Office at Portsmouth as second class matter.]

W. SCOTT SMITH,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

☞ Rates of advertising made known on application.

Agents for the Daily Chronicle:

MOSES BROS.....PORTSMOUTH.
ROBERTS & AVERY.....FARMINGTON
WORCESTER & GREENFIELD..ROCHESTER
BROWNE BROS.....DOVER.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1888.

Their Advice Not Needed.

We are pained to learn that some of our Democratic cotemporaries are afflicted with spasmodic anxiety regarding the course of the incoming administration in filling the federal offices throughout the country, and are not backward in tendering their advice as to how this should be done. Have patience, gentlemen, and all this will be attended to in good order. It is a question which alone concerns the Republicans, and it is, to use a mild expression, unbecoming in Democratic editors to attempt to enter our camp uninvited, and offer to participate in our councils unasked.

The Republican party in its struggle for political supremacy was actuated and controlled by higher motives than merely securing the offices. The fight was for a principle which affected the well being of every man, woman and child in the country, and what we have to be thankful for, and for which we rejoice is, that the campaign was carried on by the Republicans manfully and aggresively to uphold and maintain this principle, and that victory perched upon our banners. At the proper time, our Democratic friends may be assured, the new administration will give due consideration to the replacing of the Democratic office-holders who have openly violated every principle of civil service reform, even as enunciated by their own President, and the substitution of good men holding to and believing in Republican principles. But all this will be done in order and with no undue haste.

Of course we can understand how it is that the mass of the voters in the Democratic party regard an election solely from the standpoint of a spoilsman, who has an eye solely to the offices, and cares nothing for the principles which may be involved. They apparently, have yet to learn that the Republicans went into the late contest to battle for a principle far-reaching in its influence, and which affected the very foundation stone of the party itself. It won on that one issue alone, and the quicker the Democratic leaders understand this and set about abandoning their false and dangerous doctrines, the sooner they will be in a position to command the respect and confidence of the better element of their own party.

Dismissals at the Navy Yards.

The exigencies of the Government which required a large number of men to be employed at the Brooklyn and the Portsmouth Navy Yards, fortunately have passed, and on Friday two hundred Democrats marched out of the former yard, and on Saturday fifty or more from the yard here, to face the rigors of a cold winter in some other employment.

The exigency which the Acting Secretary of the Navy deemed a sufficient reason to employ men just before the election, was not a war with England, by reason of the firm stand taken by the President in his relations with Great Britain, not any particular interest in Haytian matters, but the more important crisis of the election. We mention this merely as a matter of record. We do not complain. We only suggest to our Democratic friends of the press who have had so much to say about Cleveland and reform, and who have at times gone into journalistic hysterics when the sincerity of their leader in declaring that a "public office is a public trust," was called into question, that they would do well to keep quiet in the future and not refer to the subject.

The indications are that the contest for the speakership will be between Reed of Maine and McKinley of Ohio. It will be a very pretty fight. Both men are leaders, have the capacity to fill the speaker's chair with ability and honor to themselves, and each has a host of ardent supporters. Mr. Carlisle, if he retains his seat, will cut a less prominent figure in national politics than he has during the past four years, and will have to be on his mettle to keep pace with the real Democratic leader, Hon. Samuel J. Randall.

It will be an interesting sight when Congress convenes three weeks from today, to see the faces of the members on the Democratic side of the House. They will have to endure no end of chaffing from their Republican colleagues, and the spectators in the galleries the coming session will not witness so much bluster as has characterized the action of many Democratic members, notably those from the South, for two or three years past.

It is pleasant to note that our political opponents are not feeling very happy over the prospective admission of North and South Dacotah, Montana, and Washington Territories as States, with eight Republican Senators. The Democrats have our sympathy, but the Republicans will get there all the same, and can afford to be in good humor for some years to come.

Roger Q. Mills, who has been re-elected to Congress from a Texas district, declares himself still for tariff reduction. This may please, but it will not be in the line of his desires, viz., for the purpose of destroying the industries of the North. Some attention to the enormous sugar duties is likely to engage the attention of the new Congress.

The Portsmouth Democratic committee on Saturday hauled down their campaign flag and closed their office for good. If they had never opened any headquarters at all they would be many thousand dollars better off and be spared the humiliation of not having accomplished anything.

CABLING BY CIPHER.

How Cipher Codes Are Made and Why They Are Used by Brokers.

The people who use the cables most are, first, merchants engaged in the import and export trade, who employ it for the exchanges of prices and offers, a single transaction often requiring many messages. Second, the stock brokers and dealers here and in Europe, especially the arbitrage brokers, whose business consists in taking advantage of the difference between the price of the same stock at a given time on the New York and London exchanges. For instance, if a stock drops suddenly in New York, by quick work a purchase can be made here and the stock resold in London before the change has lowered the price there. Each of the corresponding brokers realizes a profit wholly due to the close cable connection which enabled them to take advantage of a situation which could exist but a few minutes. A third great class of the cabling public includes the news agencies, the companies sending press reports, commercial reports and market quotations night and day the year round. The class of least importance to the companies is that using the cable only occasionally for private and non-commercial messages.

Cabling by cipher, which is the method most commercial houses employ for the sake of economy as well as of privacy, has become a science. The preparation of many of the cipher codes is most ingenious, and cipher messages demand the utmost skill and care on the part of the operators. A cipher word may stand for as many as six figures, and each one of these figures may stand for a sentence or a price, and its correctness be of the highest importance. The day of the week, the place of a word in a sentence, may each have a special significance, and the wrong use of a single figure may transpose the entire significance of every subsequent character in the message. Cable codes may be made up from words of any language to be found in standard dictionaries of that language, but the companies' rules provide that they shall not exceed ten letters in length and shall not be proper names. Some cable codes use as many as 100,000 words, in different languages, meaning nothing except through the combination figures they stand for. Vastly simpler figures are used for domestic telegraphing, wherein each word stands for a whole sentence. Cheap cable rates tend greatly to do away with the use of cipher messages.

In the making of cable codes exceedingly elaborate tables are required, containing combinations of figures and sentences of the most complicated sort. There are many different systems, but all require great study to make and a great deal of expert skill to use. The danger of mistake is considerable, and anything that would tend to simplify codes is desirable. The most potent influences would be low rates. For while most cipher codes were originally used for the sake of privacy, this is now deemed less important than the economy of brief messages. This is really the chief object of cipher cabling.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Pay of European Legislators.

Some curious statistics have been published concerning the salaries given to members of parliament in various foreign nations. To begin with France, the senators and deputies receive the same remuneration—namely, £1 a day. In Belgium each member of the chamber of representatives gets £17 a month. In Denmark the members of the landsthing are paid about 15s. a day. In Portugal the peers and commons are given the same sum, which is £67 a year. In Sweden the members of the diet receive £66 for a session of four months, but they have to refund a fine of 12s. for every day's absence. That is not a bad idea. In Switzerland the members of the national council get 10s. per diem, and those of the council of state from 6s. to 10s. In Norway the members of the stoltking receive 14s. a day during the session, which lasts about six weeks. In Italy the senators and deputies are not paid, but they are allowed traveling expenses and certain privileges. In Spain the members of the cortes are also unpaid, but enjoy many advantages and immunities. In Greece the senators get £20 a month and the deputies £10. In Germany the representatives receive an average of 10s. a day. In Austria the pay is the same as in France, £1 a day. England is the only country where members of parliament are not only unpaid, but have no right to privileges.—Pall Mall Gazette.

"Labby" on Tennis.

Labouchere, after studying the forms of the English women who play tennis, submits it as his modest opinion that "the ladies who play, more especially the practiced players, are all as crooked as rams' horns." He finds, he says, "that the right shoulder of the average female athlete, however otherwise charming, is about two inches broader than the left; that the body inclines preposterously and to my sympathetic mind most painfully to the right side; that the right arm and fist are those of a blacksmith, while the left arm resembles the drumstick of the chicken of a German table d'hote."

The west is a wonderful borrower; but it pledges good security.

Lending here involves no thought, no care, no doubt, when you choose your lender wisely. There is no occasion to guess.

We send a pamphlet.

THE KANSAS CITY INVESTMENT COMPANY, Kansas City, Missouri; or Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

$100,000 Janesville, Wis., Water Co.

First Mortgage 6% Bonds.

DUE AUGUST 1, 1907.

Secured by a Sinking Fund. Descriptive Circulars furnished on application.

Brewster, Cobb & Estabrook,

35 Congress St., Boston.

BURNETT'S PERFECTLY PURE HIGHLY CONCENTRATED Standard Flavoring EXTRACTS

The superiority of these Extracts consist in their

Perfect Purity and Great Strength.

AT

No. 63 Pleasant St

May be out as full and carefully selected a stock of

FINE FANCY AND STAPLE

GROCERIES.

—ALSO—

BOOTS & SHOES

As at any Store east of Boston.

—VERMONT AND CREAMERY—

BUTTER & CHEESE.

Lard Sugar,
Molasses Syrup Oils.
Beans Peas Pickles Crackers.
Salt Pork Salt Fish. Sage Maccaroni.

-COFFEES-

Old Government Java and Rio, ground as sold

-TEAS-

Best Qualities Formosa and Japan.

— A FULL LINE —

CANNED AND SHELF GOODS.

Pure Spices, Raisins, Currants, Oatmeal, Cocoa, Chocolate, Candied Lemon Peel, and all other Fine Groceries

TOBACCO AND CIGARS.

Brooms, Brushes, Pails, Crockery and Glassware, and a Large

Assortment of Miscellaneous Articles.

Boots and Shoes!

Men's Calf Button Boots,
Men's Calf Balmoral Boots.
Men's Calf French Ties,
Ladies' Kid Button Boots.
Misses' and Children's, Youth's and Boys'.
All Sizes and Kinds.

We make the best selections possible, paying Cash; and for Cash will sell as low as the lowest ☞ Orders filled with care and delivered free in any part of the city.

JOHN J. LASKEY,

NO. 63 PLEASANT STREET.

WHAT IS SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms legs, or feet; which developes ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors;" which fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Every spring my wife and children have been troubled with scrofula, sores breaking out on them in various places. My little boy, three years old, has been a terrible sufferer. Last spring he was one mass of sores from head to feet. I was advised to use Hood's Sarsaparilla, and we have all taken it. The result is that all have been cured of the scrofula, my little boy being entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy." W. B. ATHERTON, Passaic City, N. J.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

IF YOU WANT
To Save Two Dollars
ON EVERY BARREL OF FLOUR, USE
Horsford's Bread Preparation.

It costs less than one cent to raise a pound of flour with Horsford's, while with common baking powders the cost is two cents.

EASTERN OFFICE OF
Kansas City Investment Co.,
OVER FIRST NATIONAL BANK, PORTSMOUTH.

CITY MORTGAGES, FARM MORTGAGES, DEBENTURE BONDS, REAL ESTATE NOTES

☞ INTEREST PAYABLE HERE AT MATURITY. ☜

W. G. MYERS V.

"Florence Home Needle Work" 1888

is now ready. Contains 96 pages with nearly 250 illustrations. The subjects are Damask Stitches—Tapestry and Italian Embroidery—Drawn Work, Darning—Crochet &c. It teaches ladies how to make

Solid Silk Braid

for trimming their garments in latest fashion. Book mailed to any address on receipt of six cents. NONOTUCK SILK CO., Florence, Mass.

Embalmer and Funeral Director
NO. 60 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH
SAMUEL S. FLETCHER
(SUCCESSOR TO FLETCHER & TANTON.)
COFFINS, ROBES & CASKETS
Always on hand, or made to order
Orders by night may be left at No. 42 Daniel St or with A. L. Rice, No. 15 Hill St. or O. W. Ham No 12 Russell St.

Insurance Notice.
THE OLD INSURANCE AGENCY,
AT THE OLD STAND,
No. 13 Pleasant Street,
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.
JOSEPH P. MORSE,

25 CORDS
DRY PINE LIMBS!
At $3.50 Per Cord.
☞ The Very Best of Fuel at a Low Price.
O. F. PHILBRICK & CO.,
COAL AND WOOD DEALERS,
4 Water Street.

WOOD AND COAL!
A Good Assortment of all kinds of Wood and Coal.
Kindling Wood Split to Order.
— ALSO —
Akron Drain and Sewer Pipe.
NO. 13 GREEN STREET,
DANIEL LITTLEFIEL

NEW JEWELRY
— AND —
SILVER GOODS
— AT —
HUTCHINSON'S.

COLD WEATHER MUSIC BOOKS.

The chill November winds, the whirling withered leaves that tap against the window pane, harmonize well with the sweet music and the cheerful songs that are to make winter homes attractive. With your fuel, bring in a goodly quantity of our bright

New Music Books.

These new books are every day more in favor:
Classical Pianist, Piano Classics, Song Classics, Song Classics for Low Voices, Classic Tenor Songs, Classic Baritone and Bass Songs. Each $1.
Praise in Song (40 cts., $4 20 per doz.) is the best new Sacred Music Book for Home and Vestry singing.
Let the Children sing from Menard's Songs for Kindergarten and Primary Schools (30 cts.) or Jenk's Songs and Games for Little Ones ($3) or Children's School Songs (35 cts., $3 60 per doz.) All have very sweet child's songs.
Give your aid in getting up a rousing good evening singing Class to use Song Harmony (60 cts., $6 per doz.) Full of most interesting music, sacred and secular. Song Manual, Book 2 (50 cts., $4 80 per doz.) is also a good collection, mostly secular.
Tell the Temperance People that no better Temperance Song Book has appeared than Bells of Victory (35 cts., $3 60 per doz.)
Xmas is coming. Send for lists of Christmas Cantatas and Carols.
ANY BOOK MAILED FOR RETAIL PRICE.
Oliver Ditson & Co., Boston.

Now is the Time to Look Over Your Wardrobe and See What You Need for Winter, and
SIMPSON'S CORNER STORE
Is the place where you can find everything you need in Gentlemen's Wear, at Remarkably Low Prices, for Cash.
— WE HAVE A FULL LINE OF —
OVERCOATS!
Ranging in Prices from $5 to $25.
— A NEW LOT OF —
ULSTERS!
From $6 to $20.
— A FINE ASSORTMENT OF —
UNDERWEAR,
Including the Celebrated CAMEL'S HAIR for the Health.
Cardigan Jackets,
Blue and Fancy Over-Shirts.
(In these Goods we can Fit the Largest Man.)
— A FINE ASSORTMENT OF —
FURNISHING GOODS.
☞ Headquarters for OIL and RUBBER CLOTHING, Wholesale and Retail.
Come and See for Yourselves at the Old Stand,
Corner Market and Bow Streets,
CHARLES E. SIMPSON.

S. Philbrick & Co.,
— MANUFACTURERS OF —
Marble and Granite Work
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.
GRANITE POLISHING A SPECIALTY.
OFFICE AND WORKS,
No. 2 Water Street, Portsmouth

GRANITE STATE Fire Insurance Company,
OF PORTSMOUTH, N. H.
PAID-UP CAPITAL, - $200,000
OFFICERS:
President, FRANK JONES.
Vice President, JOHN W. SANBORN
Secretary, ALFRED F. HOWARD
Treasurer, JOHN LAIGHTON
Executive Committee, FRANK JONES, JOHN W. SANBORN, CHARLES A. SINCLAIR, EDWIN WALLACE and E. H. WINCHESTER

JOSIAH F. ADAMS
Embalmer and Funeral Director,
WAREROOMS: NO. 5 DANIEL ST.
Coffins, Caskets and Robes Always on Hand. Hearse and Carriages Furnished. Cemetery Lots Cared For, &c.
☞ Orders by day or night left at No. 27 Washington St., or with Mr. Robert King, No. 6 Hill St., will receive prompt attention.

THE ONLY
Brilliant Durable Economical DYES
Are Diamond Dyes. They excel all others in Strength, Purity and Fastness. None others are just as good. Beware of imitations—they are made of cheap and inferior materials and give poor, weak, crocky colors.
36 colors; 10 cents each.
Send postal for Dye Book, Sample Card, directions for coloring Photos., making the finest Ink or Bluing (10 cts. a quart), etc. Sold by Druggists or by
WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.
For Gilding or Bronzing Fancy Articles, USE
DIAMOND PAINTS.
Gold, Silver, Bronze, Copper. Only 10 Cents.

Paine's CELERY COMPOUND

CURES	PROOFS
Neuralgia	"Paine's Celery Compound cured my nervous sick headaches." Mrs. L. A. BEAUPRES, San Jacinto, Cal.
Nervous Prostration	"After using six bottles of Paine's Celery Compound, I am cured of rheumatism." SAMUEL HUTCHINSON, South Cornish, N. H
Rheumatism
Kidney Diseases AND All Liver Disorders	"It has done me more good for kidney disease than any other medicine." GEO. ABBOTT, Sioux City, Iowa. "Paine's Celery Compound has been of great benefit for torpid liver, indigestion, and biliousness." ELIZABETH C. UDALL, Quechee, Vt.

We are astonished at parties who introduce new remedies for coughs when they should know the people will have Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

"Kings are like stars, they rise and set." They have headaches, cuts, and hurts like meaner men, and are just as sure to call for Salvation Oil.

—The sugar trust is to be attacked in the courts. Of course it takes "sand" to do this.

Be Your Own Doctor.

It won't cost you half as much. Do not delay. Send three 2-cent stamps for postage, and we will send you Dr. Kaufmann's great work, fine colored plates from life, on disease, its causes, and home cure. Address A. P. Ordway, & Co., Boston, Mass.

—Children shrink from being washed. The same may be said of socks.

"For twenty years I have suffered with a severe bronchial cough, never lying down without a severe attack of the same. After much pursuasion, I was induced to try Adamson's Balsam, and its good effects for six months are certainly marvellous. Please use this truthful testimony for the advantage of all sufferers like myself.
Mrs. Wm. Alden, Duxbury, Mass., Feb. 21, 1887.

—The average pullet takes her eggsit in the spring.

One Fact

Is worth a column of rhetoric, said an American statesman. It is a fact, established by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from impure state or low condition of the blood. It also overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam, for Coughs and Colds, does it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles at 50c and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

To-Night and To-Morrow Night,

And each day and night during this week you can get at all druggists Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, acknowledged to be the most successful remedy ever sold for the cure of Coughs, Croup, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption. Get a bottle today and keep it always in the house, so you can check your cold at once. Price 50c and $1.00. Sample bottles free.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. mon.wed.fri.o(ja)

HUNT'S REMEDY
RELIEVES the Kidneys;
REVIVES the Liver;
SOLD UNIVERSALLY.
eod&g

AN EXTRA LOT OF
SPONGES, CHAMOIS SKINS AND WHIPS,
At Reasonable Prices at
John S. Tilton's
Harness and Trunk Repairer
NO. 18 CONGRESS STREE

STEPHEN D. SCRIGGINS,
Carriage Painter,
NO. 16 Vaughan Street, Portsmouth, N. H.
Having spacious and good accommodations and long and large experience he solicits a share of patronage in this line.

$500 OFFERED for an incurable case of Catarrh in the Head by the proprietors of
DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY.
Symptoms of Catarrh.—Headache, obstruction of nose, discharges falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; eyes weak, ringing in ears, deafness, difficulty of clearing throat, expectoration of offensive matter; breath offensive; smell and taste impaired, and general debility. Only a few of these symptoms likely to be present at once. Thousands of cases result in consumption, and end in the grave.
By its mild, soothing, and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Remedy cures the worst cases. 50c.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets The Original LITTLE LIVER PILLS. Purely Vegetable & Harmless.
Unequaled as a Liver Pill. Smallest, cheapest, easiest to take. One Pellet a Dose. Cure Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the stomach and bowels. 25 cts. by druggists.

THE JOB PRINTING
Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD I. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line. Give him a trial and you will be more than pleased.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.
EPPS'S COCOA.
BREAKFAST.
"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack whenever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in half-pound tins, by Grocers, labelled thus:
JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England.
dec5

WE WANT A GOOD ENERGETIC SALESMAN in every town and city TO SOLICIT ORDERS FOR FRAMING PICTURES. BEST OUTFIT IN THE WORLD and a permanent situation. Address H. H. WALDWELL, Lewiston, Me.

POSITIVELY CLOSING WEEKS
GRAND CYCLORAMA
BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG,
941 Tremont St., Boston.
Don't fail to see this great battle scene at once.
A new subject now being painted will take its place in this building January 1st.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE
KNOW THYSELF
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, the great Medical Work of the age on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline, Errors of Youth, and the untold misery consequent thereon, 300 pages 8 vo., 125 prescriptions for all diseases. Cloth, full gilt, only $1.00, by mail, sealed. Illustrative sample free to all young and middle-aged men. Send now. The Gold and Jewelled Medal awarded to the author by the National Medical Association. Address P.O. Box 1895, Boston, Mass., or Dr. W. H. PARKER, graduate of Harvard Medical College, 25 years' practice in Boston, who may be consulted confidentially. Office, No. 4 Bulfinch St. Specialty, Diseases of Man. ☞ Cut this out. You may never see it again.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS PIANOS
The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.
Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all of the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, they have competed with the best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues $22 to $900, free.
Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos, that they are superior to all others. They recognize the high excellence achieved by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but still claim superiority. This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1882, and now known as the "MASON & HAMLIN PIANO STRINGER," by the use of which the greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity for standing in tune and other important advantages.
GRAND & UPRIGHT
A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians, and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.
Pianos and Organs sold for cash or easy payments; also rented.
MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.
BOSTON. NEW YORK. CHICAGO.
nov24

MARVELOUS MEMORY DISCOVERY.
Any book learned in one reading
Mind wandering cured.
Speaking without notes.
Piracy condemned by Supreme Court.
Great inducements to correspondence classes
Prospectus, with opinions of Dr. Wm. A. Hammond, the world famed Specialist in Mind Diseases, Daniel Greenleaf Thompson, the great Psychologist, J. M. Buckley, D. D., Editor of the Christian Advocate, Richard Proctor, the Scientist, Hons. Judge Gibson, Judah P. Benjamin, and others, sent post free by
Prof. A. LOISETTE, 237 Fifth Ave., New York.

The WITTIEST, PRETTIEST JUVENILES
QUEER PEOPLE Palmer Cox
GIANTS & DWARFS $1.00 WINGS & STINGS 75c. PAWS & CLAWS $1.00
By Mail.
(Elopement of the Frog and the Mouse.) full of the oddest pranks, charming stories and laugh-provoking illustrations by the Prince of juvenile artists. Selling immensely. Critics say of it: "It are any little of its kind with delight—Jos. Cullen Ely. Fisk. "Don't send me another for I can't sell Palmer Cox fast."—R. H. Caswell, D. D. "Incomparably the best of Brownies"—Mrs. Mary E. Cox. "Children's eyes dance at Cox's Brownies"—Mrs. Howard Crocker.
AGENTS WANTED.
A. L. GUERNSEY, 36 Franklin St., Boston
ov15

The WONDERFUL LUBURG CHAIR
Combining a Parlor, Library, Smoking, Reclining, or Invalid Chair, LOUNGE, BED, and or COUCH. Price $7.00 up. We make the largest variety of Adjustable, Reclining, Physicians' Chairs, Easy Rockers, Operating, Invalid Rolling, Hammock, Office, Library, Fancy Carpet Rolling, Reed and Rattan CHAIRS and ROCKERS, BICYCLES, TRICYCLES, VELOCIPEDES and SELF PROPELLERS.
ALL KINDS OF APPLIANCES FOR INVALIDS.
BABY COACHES
Over 100 different designs.
Our Patent Automatic Brake on all Carriages. Prices. We have discontinued wholesaling; by placing your orders direct with the makers you can save several profits. Our Catalog price and special Bargains will astonish you. Goods sold under a guarantee and delivered free to any point in United States. ☞ Send stamp for Catalogue, and state class of goods you wish it for.
LUBURG MFG. CO.
145 North Eighth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

TRAVELLER'S GUIDE.

TRAINS LEAVE

Portsmouth for Boston, 4.05, 7.25, 8.20, 11.00 a. m., 2.55, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4.00 p. m.

Boston for Portsmouth, 7.30, 9.00, 10.00 a. m., 12.30, 3.30, 4.40, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.30 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

Portsmouth for Portland, 9.55, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m.

Portland for Portsmouth, 8.00, 9.30 a. m., 1.05, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 2.00 p. m.

Portsmouth for Dover, 4.10, 9.45 a. m., 12.25, 2.36, 5.22 p. m.

Dover for Portsmouth, 6.55, 10.20 a. m., 1.55, 4.30, 6.40 p. m.

Portsmouth for York Beach, 8.30, 11.10 a. m. 3.35 p. m.

York Beach for Portsmouth, 8.40, 10.00 a. m., 1.40 p. m.

Portsmouth for Concord, 7.55 a. m., 1.00, 5.15 p. m.

Concord for Portsmouth, 7.20, 10.20 a. m., 2.20 p. m.

Portsmouth for Manchester, 7.55 a. m., 1.00, 5.15 p. m.

Manchester for Portsmouth, 8.15, 11.15 a. m., 4.35 p. m.

TRAINS ARRIVE

In Boston from Portsmouth, 6.20, 9.10, 10.35 a. m., 1.15, 4.45, 7.10, 9.20 p. m. Sundays, 6.20 a. m., 6.30 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Boston, 9.45, 10.45 a. m., 12.20, 2.35, 5.20, 6.45, 8.27 p. m. Sundays, 10.40 a. m., 8.27 p. m.

In Portland from Portsmouth, 12.00 m., 12.35, 4.40, 11.00 p. m. Sundays, 11.00 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Portland, 8.35, 10.44 a. m., 2.20, 7.15 p. m. Sundays, 8.35 a. m.

In Dover from Portsmouth, 8.40, 10.10 a. m., 12.50, 3.05, 5.47 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Dover, 7.20, 10.44 a. m., 2.20, 4.55, 7.15 p. m.

In Concord from Portsmouth, 10.30 a. m., 3.12, 8.25 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Concord, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

In Manchester from Portsmouth, 9.42 a. m., 2.30, 7.20 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Manchester, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

KITTERY AND PORTSMOUTH.

STEAMER MYSTIC.

Leave Bartlett's wharf, Kittery, 6.35, 7.50, 8.45, 10.0, 11.45 a. m., 2.00, 3.15, 4.45, 6.00 p. m. Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 6.30, Saturday evening, 6.30, 8.00.

Leave Broughton's wharf, foot Daniel street, Portsmouth, 7.30, 8.00, 9.30, 11.00 a. m., 12.45, 3.00, 4.30, 5.15, 6.35 p. m., Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7.30, Saturday evenings, 7.30, 9.00.

☞ Fare five cents each way.

Common Sense

Should be used in attempting to cure that very disagreeable disease, catarrh. As catarrh originates in impurities in the blood, local applications can do no permanent good. The common-sense method of treatment is to purify the blood, and for this purpose there is no preparation superior to Hood's Sarsaparilla. That this peculiar medicine does indeed cure catarrh is shown by the many testimonials from people who have found relief upon using it when all others had failed. A book containing statements of cures sent on receipt of two cent stamp, by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Grover Cleveland has done more to advance the cause of free trade than any Prime Minister of England has done.—London Spectator.

A FAIR SAMPLE OF
40 SWORN CASES
OF THE VALUE OF

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND

THE RADICAL BLOOD PURIFIER.

DIPHTHERIA. SCROFULA.

Miss Lena Judkins, a daughter (17 years old) of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Judkins, 677 Boston St., Lynn, CURED by Dr. Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of very severe case of Scrofula, with Malignant Ulcers of eight years' standing, after 11 Physicians had failed. Almost a miracle. Now in perfect health. Sworn to before
HARMON HALE, Justice of the Peace.

SCROFULOUS HUMOR.

Miss Mary Etta Leighton, a daughter (16 yrs. old) of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison G. Leighton, 16 Bickford Court, Lynn, CURED by Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of a deep seated Scrofulous Humor, with discharging eruptions, which had baffled eight physicians and the combined forces of two prominent hospitals. Perfectly cured and without a blemish. Sworn to before
CALVIN B. TUTTLE, Justice of the Peace.

Send for circular of 40 Sworn cases. They are solid facts and carry conviction.

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND,

is absolutely the greatest known Remedy for the Radical cure of Scrofula, Cancerous Humors, Diphtheritic or Mineral Blood Poisoning, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Dropsy and Liver Complaint.

$1. per Bottle (6 for 5). At Druggists.

Lougee Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Laxador An infallible regulator of the Human System. Cures Liver Complaint, Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Giddiness, &c. Sold by druggists. Laxador Cures Bilious Affections &c. Laxador Price 25 Cts. Laxador

The Leading Perfume.
DREXEL'S BELL COLOGNE
Fragrant! Lasting!
PRICE 25 CENTS. AT ALL DEALERS.

Dr. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP
CURES COUGHS & COLDS FOR 25 C

SALVATION OIL
Price only 25 cts. Sold by all druggists.
Will relieve Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Swellings, Bruises, Lumbago, Sprains, Headache, Toothache, Sores, Burns, Wounds, Cuts, Scalds, Backache, Gout, or any bodily pain or ailment.

CHEW LANGE'S PLUGS. The Great Tobacco Antidote!—Price 10 Cts. At all druggists.

THE BREVITY OF LOVE.

Love is the silent star of gray-clad hours,
That melts in windless flame of vermeil day;
It is the rose above the hidden thorn,
Whose crimson leaves the wild winds sweep away.

It is a golden land that dawns and fades,
Above the blinding incense of our years,
Nor sinks to earth but that the heart must feel,
"Twas but a mirage pictured in our tears.
'Tis fleeting as the borealis ray
That sweep the northern heavens with their fire,
That flash their light in million eyes afar,
And in that brief tempestuous flame expire.
It is the silken breeze of youth and hope,
That, as it sighs across the star strewn floor,
Scarce seems to stir the petals of the rose,
Or move the sails that stretch toward the shore;
But soon the winds become an angry gale,
And care and sorrow speak above the storm,
While lurid gleams from far off alien skies,
With fires of fate the morning's sky deform;
And hope, that kept the glory of the view,
Unheeding heard, nor saw with blinded eye,
Is pierced with pangs that make the ranks among,
Clasps love—and in each other's arms they die.
—Minnie Frances Murphy.

A VERY SINGULAR RIVER.

An Anomaly in Nature—But Little Changed Since the Day of Its Birth.

As I said, I know know not what to call this Saguenay. Rivers have banks, but it has none; for lofty and precipitous cliffs, mountains of rock, precipices that rise 1,000 feet sheer upward from the tide and beetling crags—these cannot, without misuse of language, be called river banks. Nor is it fit to call it a stream, for a stream is a line of flowing water smaller than a river; and the Saguenay is one from and a half to two miles wide, and from 400 to 1,000 feet in depth, and all this monstrous depth of water is in motion. Nor is it an outlet merely, for into it flows the surplus water of Lake St. John. But this lake is shallow, not deep, and but little more than half the length of the Saguenay, and hence its flowage, large as it is, is but a tithe, nay, only a hundredth part of what the latter holds and pours into the St. Lawrence daily. Hence, if we call the Saguenay a river, it is not because that word describes it or is a proper title to it, but because of its strange characteristics. It stands an anomaly in nature, and there is no better name to give it than to call it a river.

Its waters are colored, nor is their color like to any other river I have ever seen. They have been called black by many writers who have written of them, but they are not black, but rather a transparent brown, like as common water is when looked at through a smoked glass. I say transparent, for they are very pure and clear, and, dark as they are, the eye sees deeply and easily into them. A white stone or piece of tin can be perceived at a great depth—as deeply down as they might be in the waters of the Horicon, which I have often thought were the purest and the cleanest in the world. Moreover, the sunbeams penetrate its dark brown currents easily, and the long lanes of light shot into the brown depths by the solar rays look as the sunlight looks when shining through the stained windows of great cathedrals.

Whence its waters get this strange quality, this indescribably gloomy and sinister tinge, none can say, and savants do not even pretend to guess, for all the currents which flow into it are mountain streams and crystalline, and the contributions of the sea which the tidal lift pours into it are clear and blue of tint. Nor can it come from any coloring matter released by nature's chemistry acting upon its rocky walls and bottom, for the nature of these is known, and plain granite quartz and gneiss are the dominant structures. But whatever be the cause of it, the color of its waters is, as I have described, a brown, with almost a purple tinge, and has to the eye, seen from a distance, a most grewsome look, gloomy and sinister, as if it came from some other world than ours, whose waters, unless discolored from causes discoverable to us, are pure and sparkling.

Imagine, now, a vast volume of this strange looking water, two miles in width, 1,000 feet in depth, pouring out between a monstrous opening between contiguous mountains, made by some mighty throe of nature, travailing in agony, to bring forth an awful birth; an opening which is not simply a rent made through a lofty range, but as if a long, high ridge of primeval rock—rock old as the beginning of the world—running north and south, had been split apart along its entire length of forty miles, exactly in the center, and the two halves wedged violently apart until the jagged, precipitous, cavernous sides stood two miles asunder, and through this tremendous opening, through the very center of this huge ridge of rock, a vast, deep, almost fathomless volume of gloomy colored water began to flow, and you have in your mind a fairly good picture of what the Saguenay was at its birth, and what it is today.

For of all rivers on the globe this, from necessity, has changed the least. Here and there the frost and heat, the snows and rains of 10,000 years have worn down the sharp edges and rounded the flinty verge of overhanging precipices; here and there the wash and wear of centuries have deposited so much of soil that trees can find a foothold, but save this all is today on either hand, as you sail up its darkling tide, as it was when first born in nature's darkest hour and sternest agony, its gloomy currents began to boil and whirl and flow. Every other river on the face of the earth has changed its banks and bed, but this strange river has changed not at all, and cannot change until the end of time.—W. H. H. Murray in New York World.

Our Exact Geographical Center.

An army officer now in Chicago asked the other day: "Do you know where the exact geographical center of the United States is? Never thought anything about it, probably? Well, it's marked by a grave—that of Maj. Ogden, of the United States army, who died at Fort Riley, in Kansas, in 1855, during the cholera epidemic of that year. Maj. Ogden's remains were afterward removed to Fort Leavenworth and buried in the National cemetery there, but his monument still stands on a knoll a little to the northeast of the post—Fort Riley—and it lifts its head toward the clouds in the exact geographical center of the United States. This isn't a conceit; it's a fact, though probably of the hundreds of men now at the fort not one in a hundred ever stops to think about it. Fort Riley is a few miles east of Junction City, Kan., and is one of the most important cavalry posts in the country."—Chicago Tribune.

About Sea Captains.

A recently returned European tells the following story of Capt. Cook, the commander of the Umbria, now the fastest Cunarder. The captain was taking a midday observation while the sun was somewhat hidden by mist. As he was putting down his instrument a passenger said to him: "The fog prevented you from getting an observation, didn't it, captain?" "It did not prevent you from making your observation," said the captain, as he went toward the chart room. The anecdote will be appreciated by those who have crossed the ocean with Capt. Cook. A thorough seaman, attentive to duty night and day, he is not known to travelers as a social captain. There is a wide difference these sea dogs in this respect.—Chicago Times.

The only chair of sanitary engineering said to exist is at the Imperial University of Japan. It is under royal patronage.

Sailors Not Often Overworked.

Perhaps here it would be well to say a few words about sailors and contradict some of the romance and false sentiment that is connected with them by people and writers who know absolutely nothing about them. We had an extraordinarily fine crew, which I studied closely all the way, and came to this conclusion: First, that Jack is not really vicious at heart, but at the same time he is a perfect child and easily influenced by any character of strong will that he comes in contact with, so that one man who so desires can spoil and make discontented a whole crew, no matter how well they may be treated by the officers. Second, they are so much like children that they even have to be told when to go to bed and when to get up. The least little thing will upset them, and I have known of a whole crew coming forward crying and complaining because the cook had spoiled their soup. Third, that they do not have to work as hard, and that as a rule they are much better sed than the class of common laborers.

It is all nonsense to imagine that a sailor is an overworked man, for he is not. Jack's day is divided into watches of four hours each, four on and four off. Nor does this mean that they are all, especially in pleasant weather, obliged to keep awake during the hours at night when on watch, only that they must be dressed and around. They generally have one or two men, chosen by lot, who keep awake and instantly arouse the others if any order is given. Then they are so trained by habit that they wake up instantly whenever an order is given, and then go to sleep the minute it is executed. Of course, in stormy weather this is different, but in storms—and I have seen some pretty severe ones, including a cyclone in the Pacific—there is not nearly so much to do as one would imagine.—Samuel F. Farrar in Chicago Journal.

Are There Unknown Senses?

Sound is the sensation produced on us when the vibrations of the air strike on the drum of our ear. When they are few, the sound is deep; as they increase in number it becomes shriller and shriller, but when they reach forty thousand in a second they cease to be audible. Light is the effect produced on us when waves of light strike on the eye. When four hundred millions of millions of vibrations of ether strike the retina in a second, they produce red, and as the number increases the color passes into orange, then yellow, green, blue and violet. But between forty thousand vibrations in a second and four hundred millions of millions we have no organ of sense capable of receiving the impression. Yet between these limits any number of sensations may exist. We have five senses, and sometimes fancy that no others are possible. But it is obvious that we can not measure the infinite by our own narrow limitations.

Moreover, looking at the question from the other side, we find in animals complex organs of sense, richly supplied with nerves, but the function of which we are as yet powerless to explain. There may be fifty other senses as different from ours as sound is from sight, and even within the boundaries of our own senses there may be endless sounds which we cannot hear and colors as different as red from green of which we have no conception. These and a thousand other questions remain for solution. The familiar world which surrounds us may be a totally different place to other animals. To them it may be full of music which we cannot hear, of color which we cannot see, of sensations which we cannot conceive.—Sir John Lubbock in Popular Science Monthly.

Paris in the Sixteenth Century.

Some curious documents just found in the archives of the Paris prefecture of police throw an interesting and instructive light on the manner in which the streets of Paris were guarded during the night in the Sixteenth century. To begin with, there were stringent rules to the effect that each house should have only one door and should be regularly inhabited. This being the case, it was a comparatively easy task to order that the dwellers in the different houses should in turn keep an eye on what was going on in their respective streets. They were not compelled to tramp up and down the pavement like the modern policeman; the authorities were satisfied if they looked through their windows and watched all that was going on below. If the slightest cry were raised they opened their windows and rang their bells until their neighbors followed suit. The alarm spread from street to street, and soon all the bells in Paris were ringing, the windows were lit up, and the inhabitants, armed to the teeth, sallied forth, barring the road to the malefactors, who were almost always arrested.

I need hardly explain that the Paris of those days was liliputian in comparison with what it is now; but what an uncomfortable way they had of keeping the peace in the Sixteenth century! The remedy was positively worse than the disease, for it was hard that the inhabitants of one street should be awakened out of their first sleep because the dwellers in a remote avenue imagined that something wrong was going on. One would fancy that in some quarter or another some noise at least must have been made every night. The slumbers of the Parisians generally must often have been woefully curtailed, not to speak of the volunteer watchman for whom "all night sittings" were a stern reality.—Home Journal.

Poisons in Food.

We are hearing a good deal of late about poisons in food containing protein compounds, such as the casein of milk and the myosin of lean meat and fish. The protein compounds are prone to decay—that is, to be decomposed by the action of the ferments called bacteria or microbes. In certain forms of decomposition substances of a more or less poisonous nature, called ptomaines, are formed from protein. It appears to be in this way that poisonous compounds are formed in cheese, meats, etc. While the true digestive ferments, such as the ptyalin of saliva and pepsin of gastric juice, are very different from the ferments just spoken of, yet microbes exist in the digestive apparatus of even the healthiest people, and within a short time past it has been found that poisonous compounds, formed probably by the action of microbes, often occur within our bodies.

The natural inference—it is not positively proved, I think—is that there may be cases in which the protein of certain kinds of food is thus transformed into injurious substances while passing through the alimentary canal. Perhaps this is the reason why certain persons cannot endure milk without pain or nausea, and it is not impossible that many of the cases in which one kind of food or another causes sickness may, in the light of future research, be attributed to such fermentations within the body.—W. O. Atwater in The Century.

A Sleepy Headed Duke.

The Duke of Edinburgh is getting up a reputation as the champion sleeper and also as the champion boor among all the royal personages of Europe. Last spring this sleepy headed admiral laid such stress upon the enjoyment of his slumbers at Cannes, on the occasion of Queen Victoria's visit to that place, that he refused to allow the British fleet under his command to return the royal salute of the French squadron to his mother until he had slept all he wanted to, which did not come to pass until several hours after the time that official courtesy demanded an acknowledgment in kind of the noisy welcome of the French guns. Of course, the French admiral and the French people were furious over this marked discourtesy.

But the Duke of Edinburgh sleeps in spite of everything. For example, it is reported that recently the British Mediterranean fleet arrived at an Algerian port and the French officials went on board the flagship to pay their respects to the duke as the commander of the squadron, But Edinburgh was at his usual business. He was so fast asleep that his valet refused to arouse him, and the insulted Frenchmen hurried ashore without a chance to pay their respects. The matfress of this boorish duke must certainly be stuffed with poppies.—New York Graphic.

Demand for Water Wheels.

"The day of the water wheel is over," said a large manufacturer. "I don't know of any business that has suffered so much as ours from new inventions. The many excellent portable and gas engines that have been put on the market within the last few years have almost entirely superseded the cumbersome water wheel. There will undoubtedly always be a certain demand for wheels where they have been already in operation and where the water supply is good, but new factories find it cheaper to run by steam than to build mill dams. The new order of things no longer leaves the manufacturer at the mercy of the elements. Fortunes have been lost on forfeited contracts by mills having to close down in the busy season on account of long continued drought. The water wheel trade is now largely confined to foreign markets and new countries. They disappear as population increases and gas is introduced."—New York Evening Sun.

Chili's Orphan Asylum.

In the orphan asylum at Santiago there are said to be 2,000 children of unknown parentage, supported by the church, and this in a city of 200,000 people. There is a convenient mode for the disposition of foundlings. In the rear wall surrounding the place is an aperture, with a wooden box or cradle which swings out and in. A mother goes there at night, places the little one in the cradle, swings it inside, and the nuns on guard, hearing a bell that rings automatically, take the infant to the nursery. However this plan may be regarded by stern moralists, it is certainly an improvement on infanticide—a crime almost unknown in Chili.—Harper's Magazine.

Newspaper Statistics.

A compilation made from the American Newspaper Directory for 1887 shows that the total number of periodical publications issued in the United States and Canada is 15,420, 14,706 in the United States and 714 in Canada. The first ten states in the order of number of publications is as follows: New York, 1,591; Illinois, 1,149; Pennsylvania, 1,138; Ohio, 933; Iowa, 731; Kansas, 684; Missouri, 678; Michigan, 594; Massachusetts, 586; Indiana, 583. These are the only states which have each over 500 publications credited to it. South Carolina, Vermont, the District of Columbia, Rhode Island, Delaware and Nevada have each less than 100, the extremes being ninety-six for the first named and thirty for the last.

Of the total number 11,614 are weeklies, 1,739 monthlies, 1,397 dailies, 230 semi-monthlies, 183 semi-weeklies, 107 quarterlies, 71 bi-weeklies, 47 tri-weeklies and 30 bi-monthlies. The total circulation is 90,165,250 copies, nearly 60 per cent. being of weekly publications, 20 per cent. of monthlies and nearly 16 per cent. of dailies, leaving 4 per cent. to represent publications of all other classes. The average circulation of the dailies is 3,416, and of the weeklies, 1,545. In point of circulation New York leads with one-fourth of the total, followed by Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio, Massachusetts, Canada, Missouri, Michigan, California, Iowa, Maine, Indiana and Wisconsin in the order named, each state having periodicals with an aggregate circulation of 500,000 or more. The lowest in the scale is Nevada, all the periodicals published within the limits of that state having an aggregate circulation of 12,500.

The total number of papers issued in a whole year is estimated at 2,547,653,000, 1,489,020,000 being dailies, 933,205,000 weeklies, 72,699,000 monthlies and only about 50,000,000 for all other classes of publications.—Detroit Free Press.

Poverty Abroad.

Senator Frye, of Maine, who has just returned from Europe, gives, in an interview, his impressions of the condition of the masses of the people abroad: "The people in Europe live on the poorest food, and mighty little of it. I found that laborers in Glasgow work for 2s. 6d. a day—sixty-two cents. I was charmed with Edinburgh, but when I saw women drunk, fighting in her beautiful streets, the modern Athens lost her charms. I cannot convey to you the picture of the degradation and want throughout Great Britain caused by drink.

"Speaking of wages, I found girls in factories in Venice working with great skill for from five to twelve cents a day, the most experienced getting twelve cents a day, out of which they have to live. But how they live is a wonder. Their chief diet is macaroni. Farm hands all over Europe, women, earn twenty cents a day. Women do most of the field work. I saw no improved machinery on the farms of the continent. I have seen twenty women in one field at work, not a single man in sight. The plain people have meat to eat but once a week on the continent. The condition of American wage earners is incomparably better than that of the working people in Europe. It is the difference between comfort and competence and discomfort and insufficient food and clothing."—Frank Leslie's.

Scottish Boys Not Profane.

It is said that boys in Scotland are not in the habit of using profane words. When a gang of Scottish boys in one of Mr. Black's novels suspended one of their number over a stream with the threat that he would be dropped therein if he did not "say a swear," the worst thing he could think of was "deevil." But that was considered so bad that he was promptly released.—New York Tribune.

MAKE HENS LAY
NOTHING ON EARTH WILL MAKE HENS LAY LIKE SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER.
WE SEND BY MAIL A LARGE 2¼ POUND CAN FOR $1.20, TWO $1. SMALL PACKS 50 CTS. POST PAID.

Sheridan's Condition Powder

is absolutely pure and highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other kind. Strictly a medicine, to be given in the food, once daily, in small doses. Prevents and cures all diseases of hens. Worth its weight in gold when hens are moulting, and to keep them healthy. Testimonials sent free by mail. Ask your druggist, grocer, general store, or feed dealer for it. If you can't get it, send once to us. Take no other kind. We will send postpaid by mail as follows: A new, novel, elegantly illustrated copy of the "FARMERS' POULTRY RAISING GUIDE" (price 25 cents) telling how to make money with a few hens, and two small packages of Powder for 25 cents; or, one large 2¼ pound can and Guide, $1.20. Sample package of Powder, 25 cents, five for $1.00. Six large cans, express prepaid, for $5.00. Send stamps or cash. L. S. JOHNSON & CO., 22 Custom-House Street, Boston Mass.

CAUTION

Beware of Fraud, as my name and the price are stamped on the bottom of all my advertised shoes before leaving the factory, which protect the wearers against high prices and inferior goods. If a dealer offers W. L. Douglas shoes at a reduced price, or says he has them without my name and price stamped on the bottom, put him down as a fraud.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE. FOR GENTLEMEN.

The only calf $3 SEAMLESS Shoe smooth inside, NO TACKS or WAX THREAD to hurt the feet, easy as hand-sewed and WILL NOT RIP. W. L. DOUGLAS $4 SHOE, the original and only hand-sewed welt $4 shoe. Equals custom-made shoes costing from $6 to $8.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.50 POLICE SHOE. Railroad Men and Letter Carriers all wear them. Smooth inside as a Hand-Sewed Shoe. No Tacks or Wax Thread to hurt the feet.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.50 SHOE is unexcelled for heavy wear. Best Calf Shoe for the price.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.25 WORKINGMAN'S SHOE is the best in the world for rough wear; one pair ought to wear a man a year.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2 SHOE FOR BOYS is the best School Shoe in the world.

W. L. DOUGLAS $1.75 YOUTH'S School Shoe gives the small Boys a chance to wear the best shoes in the world.

All made in Congress, Button and Lace. If not sold by your dealer, write

W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

FOR SALE BY

OREN BRAGDON & SON,
NO. 24 MARKET STREET.

INGALLS MANDRAKE COMPOUND

MANDRAKE CompounD

Among the various organs of our system, none perform a more essential part than the Liver and Kidneys, and so many people are afflicted with diseases of these organs, causing the Blood to become impure, that it is our first duty to assist them in their work. This is done in a thorough manner by Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, which is purely Vegetable, and is worthy of a fair trial.

Ingalls' Mandrake Compound is sold by all Druggists.

PREPARED ONLY BY
THE INGALLS MEDICAL CO
LOWELL, MASS., U.S.A.
Price, $1.00; Six Bottles for $5.00.

FOR SALE BY

A. P. PRESTON

EDWARD D. COFFIN,
SHERIFF ROCKINGHAM CO. AND U. S. DEPUTY MARSHAL.
Office at No. 3 Market Square, And at the Jail.
Will be at Tisley & Moore's Ins. Office at 9 A. M and 4 o'clock P M
(TELEPHONE AT THE JAIL).

ADAMSON'S BOTANIC COUGH BALSAM

More than twenty years ago Adamson's Botanic Balsam was introduced generally throughout New England as a remedy for Coughs, Colds and Pulmonary complaints. Since its introduction it has constantly won its way into public favor, until now it is the universal decision that "ADAMSON'S BOTANIC BALSAM is the best remedy for curing Coughs, Colds and Asthma.

Made only by
F. W. KINSMAN & CO.,
Established 1850.
Druggists and Dispensing Chemists,
843 4th ave. corner 50th st., N. Y.
FOR SALE AT ALL DRUG STORES.

DR. S. F. HAM,
Of Hotel Bristol, Boston, will receive patients
Monday and Tuesday
FROM MAY 1st TO NOV. 1st,
And the remainder of the year every Monday.
Office and Residence, 13 CURT ST., Portsmouth, N. H.

PRECEDENTED ATTRACTION!
OVER A MILLION DISTRIBUTED

L. S. L.

Louisiana State Lottery Company.

Incorporated by the Legislature in 1868, for Educational and Charitable purposes, and its franchise made a part of the present State Constitution, in 1879, by an overwhelming popular vote.

Its GRAND EXTRAORDINARY DRAWINGS take place Semi-Annually, (June and December), and its GRAND SINGLE NUMBER DRAWINGS take place every month of the other ten months in the year, and are all drawn in public, at the Academy of Music, New Orleans, La.

"We do hereby certify that we supervise the arrangements for all the Monthly and Quarterly Drawings of The Louisiana State Lottery Company, and in person manage and control the drawings themselves, and that the same are conducted with honesty, fairness, and in good faith toward all parties, and we authorize the Company to use this certificate, with fac-similes of our signatures attached, in its advertisement."

G. T. Beauregard
J. A. Early
Commissioners.

We the undersigned Banks and Bankers will pay all Prizes drawn in The Louisiana State Lotteries which may be presented at our counters.

R. M. WALMSLEY, Pres. Louisiana Nat. Bk.
PIERRE LANAUX, Pres. State Nat'l Bank.
A. BALDWIN, Pres. New Orleans Nat'l Bk.
CARL KOHN, Pres. Union National Bank.

GRAND MONTHLY DRAWING,
In the Academy of Music, New Orleans,
Tuesday, November 13, 1888.

CAPITAL PRIZE, $300,000.

100,000 Tickets at Twenty Dollars each. Halves $10; Quarters $5; Tenths $2; Twentieths $1.

LIST OF PRIZES.

1 PRIZE OF	$300,000 is	$300,000
1 PRIZE OF	100,000 is	100,000
1 PRIZE OF	50,000 is	50,000
1 PRIZE OF	25,000 is	25,000
2 PRIZES OF	10,000 are	20,000
5 PRIZES OF	5,000 are	25,000
25 PRIZES OF	1,000 are	25,000
100 PRIZES OF	500 are	50,000
200 PRIZES OF	300 are	60,000
500 PRIZES OF	200 are	100,000
APPROXIMATION PRIZES.
100 Prizes of	500 are	50,000
100 do.	300 are	30,000
100 do.	200 are	20,000
TERMINAL PRIZES.
999 do.	300 are	99,900
999 do.	100 are	99,900
1,154 Prizes, amounting to		$1,054,800

NOTE.—Tickets drawing Capital Prizes are not entitled to terminal Prizes.

☞ FOR CLUB RATES, or any further information desired, write legibly to the undersigned, clearly stating your residence, with State, County, Street and number. More rapid return mail delivery will be assured by your inclosing an Envelope bearing your full address.

Send POSTAL NOTES, Express Money Orders, or New York Exchange in ordinary letter. Currency by Express (at our expense) addressed to

M. A. DAUPHIN,
New Orleans, La.,
or M. A. DAUPHIN,
Washington, D. C.

Address Registered Letters to
NEW ORLEANS NATIONAL BANK,
New Orleans, La.

REMEMBER That the presence of Generals Beauregard and Early, who are in charge of the drawings, is a guaranty of absolute fairness and integrity, that the chances are all equal, and that no one can possibly divine what number will draw a Prize.

"REMEMBER, also, that the payment of all Prizes is GUARANTEED BY FOUR NATIONAL BANKS of New Orleans, and the Tickets are signed by the President of an Institution whose chartered rights are recognized in the highest Courts; therefore, beware of any imitations or anonymous schemes."

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE GREAT German Remedy.

TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spells depend on SULPHUR BITTERS it will cure you.

Do you suffer with that tired and all gone feeling? If so, use SULPHUR BITTERS; it will cure you.

Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops; clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not then be weak and sickly.

If you do not wish to suffer from Rheumatism, use a bottle of SULPHUR BITTERS it never fails to cure.

Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.

Ladies in delicate health, who are all run down, should use SULPHUR BITTERS.

$1,000 will be paid for a case where SULPHUR BITTERS will not assist or cure. It never fails.

Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see its impurities burst ing through the skin in Pimples, Blotches and Sores. Rely on SULPHUR BITTERS, and health will follow.

SULPHUR BITTERS will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.

SULPHUR BITTERS will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

SULPHUR BITTERS will make your blood pure, rich and strong, and your flesh hard.

Try SULPHUR BITTERS to-night, and you will sleep well and feel better for it.

Do you want the best Medical Work published? Send 3 2-cent stamps to A. P. ORDWAY & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive a copy, free.

Cure Your Corns,
BY USING
SCHLOTTERBECK'S
CORN, WART AND BUNION SOLVENT
A CURE IS GUARANTEED

Be HONEST and chew FINZER'S OLD HONESTY CHEWING TOBACCO

which is ONLY for Chewing and NOT for Smoking.

The BEST chewing tobacco CANNOT be good for Smoking.

OLD HONESTY is the BEST AND CHEAPEST TOBACCO made.

Insist on having the GENUINE with the red H tin tag, made only by.
John Finzer & Bros., Louisville, Ky.

TRANSPORTAION'

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

Eastern Division.

TRAINS LEAVE PORTSMOUTH FOR

Boston, 4.05, 7.25, 8.20, 11.05 a. m., 2.55, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4.00 p. m. Returning, 7.30, 9.00, 10.00 a. m. 12.30, 3.30, 4.40, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.30 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

Portland, 9.55, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m. Returning, 2.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.00, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 2.00 a. m.

Bangor, St. John and Halifax, 10.55 a. m. 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.00 p. m.

Great Falls and Wolfeboro Junc., 9.55 a. m., 2.45, 5.30 p. m.

Wolfeboro, 9.55, a. m., 5.30 p. m.

North Conway, 9.55 a. m., 2.45, p. m.

Dover, 4.50, 9.45, a. m., 12.25, 2.36, 5.22 p. m.

YORK HARBOR AND BEACH R. R.

York Beach and Way Stations, (via York Harbor and Beach R. R.) 8.30, 11.10 a. m., 3.35 p. m. Returning, leave York Beach 8.40, 10.00 a. m., 1.40, p. m. Connecting with trains leaving Portsmouth for Boston.

Jas. T. Furber, Gen'l Manager. D. J. Flanders, Gen'l Passenger Agent.

Concord & Portsmouth Railroad.

PASSENGER Trains leave Eastern Railroad Station for Market Junction, Manchester, Concord and up country Railroads, as follows:

UP TRAINS.

Leave	A. M.	P. M.	P. M.
Portsmouth	7.55	1.00	5.15
Greenland	8.06	1.09	5.24
Newmarket Junction	8.25	1.21	5.36
East Epping		1.31
Epping	8.43	1.37	5.50
West Epping	8.49		5.57
Raymond	9.00	1.55	6.25
Candia	9.13	2.05	6.44
Auburn	9.22		6.57
Massabesic	9.30	2.20	7.06
Arrive Manchester	9.42	2.35	7.20
" Concord	10.30	3.12	7.29

DOWN TRAINS.

Leave	A. M.	P. M.	P. M.
Concord	7.30	10.20	3.20
Manchester	8.15	11.15	4.25
Massabesic	8.27	11.28	4.38
Auburn	8.35		4.44
Candia	8.44	11.46	4.54
Raymond	9.05	11.56	5.15
West Epping	9.13	P. M.	5.26
Epping	9.20	12.08	5.32
East Epping		12.14
Newmarket Junction	9.46	12.24	5.46
Greenland	10.01	12.36	6.01
Arrive Portsmouth	10.10	12.45	6.10

☞ Trains connect at Newmarket Junction with trains of the Boston & Maine Railroad for Exeter, Haverhill, Lawrence and Boston; and for Dover, Great Falls and Portland; at Concord with trains to and from all the upper Railroads.

H. E. CRAMER, Supt.

C. E. BOYNTON,
Manufacturer and Wholesale Dealer in
Soda Water, Root, Tonic, Vanilla, Orange and Strawberry Beer, Crab Apple Lemonette, Cream Ginger and Ginger Ale.

EXTRACT OF NERVE FOOD!
For Brain and Nervous Exhaustion. Good for the Appetite.

Soda Water in Syphons for Hotel and Family Use. Fountains Charged at Short Notice.

Bottler of Eldredge and Milwaukee Lager, Porter and Refined Cider.

☞ The Summer Beverages manufactured and bottled by me having been before the public of this city and vicinity for the past seventeen years, need no endorsement as being of the very highest standard.

E. C. BLAISDELL, D. M. D.,
(SUCCESSOR TO DR. S. J. BONNEY.)
Dental Rooms 1 1-2 Market Street.

Bay State, Haynes Excelsior and Wm. B. Tilton Gold Medal GUITARS, $10 to $40. MUSIC BOXES, 50 cents to $300. Solo Bb CORNET, $10. Haynes VIOLINS, Orchestra, $25; Solo, $35. Special Snare DRUMS, $6. Crosby FIFES, $2. Drum Corps and Bands send for Estimates. Catalogues free. J. C. HAYNES & Co., 33 Court St., Boston, M

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

POST OFFICE RULES.

MAILS CLOSE

	A. M.			P. M.
Boston, N. Y., south, west,	8:00	10:20	2:20	4:50	6:45
Boston and way stations,		10:20	2:20		6:45
Portland,	9:25		4:50		6:45
Portland and way stations,	9:25		4:50
East [beyond Portland]	9:25				6:45
Great Falls, Rochester, Wolfeboro' Union Milton,	9:25				4:50
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,	9:25
Concord & Manchester,	7:40	10:20			4:50
Concord, Manchester and north,	7:40		4:50
Exeter and B. & M. way, west of Newmarket,	7:40		4:50
Dover,	9:25		2:20	4:50	6:45
North Conway,	9:25				6:45
York and Cape Neddick,		9:25
Newcastle,		10:20
Newington,		10:20
Boston, N. Y. and south, Sunday,					1:00

MAILS ARRIVE.

	A. M.		P. M.
Boston, south and west,	10:05	3:10	5:40	7:00
[illegible]				(9:00
New York,	10:05		5:40	7:00
Boston and way stations,	10:05		5:40
Portland and east,	7:30	11:00	3:20
Great Falls, Rochester, Union, Milton,	8:30	11:00
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,		11:00
Concord, Manchester and north,		10:30	6:20
Dover,	7:30	10:30	3:00	5:40
Newcastle,		9:30
Newington,		9:30
York and Cape Neddick,		11:00
B. & M. R. R., west of Newmarket,		10:30	6:20

S. J. GERRISH, P. M.

MINATURE ALMANAC NOV. 12.

SUN RISES	6:28	MOON SETS	10:10 P. M.
SUN SETS	4:28	FULL SEA	3:45 A. M
LENGTH OF DAY	10: 0		3:30 P. M

PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Open Monday, Tuesday, Friday and Saturday evenings from 7:30 to 9:00 P. M., and Wednesday and Saturday afternoons from 3:00 to 6:00 o'clock

Weather Indications.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

Fair, stationary temperature, westerly winds.

Cautionary signals displayed on New England coast, from Portland to Eastport.

THE CELEBRATION POSTPONED.

At a meeting of the executive committee held at the republican headquarters on Saturday evening, it was decided to postpone the celebration until Monday evening, Nov. 19th. This action seemed necessary as there are a number of celebrations which occur in this section of the state on this (Monday) evening, the time first named for the celebration here, and the responses to the invitations sent to out of town organizations, indicated that few if any of them would be able to come on that night. Many to whom invitations had been sent, had already made engagements for Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, and so [it was thought best to put it off one week, [when from all the advices at hand, it is expected that organizations from other places in this state, Maine and Massachusetts will participate in our jollification.

The committee on collation desire to notify the ladies of republican sympathy, and who contribute provisions, that they can obtain paper bags at the old auction rooms of Mr. Henry F. Wendell onState street.

It is desired that the food shall be put in the bags, one portion in each, and the bags will be distributed to the men in line. The portion should consist of a perhaps two sandwiches, two doughnuts, cracker and cheese and an apple.

The committee on fireworks have attended to their duties, and report that the goods have been bought. They will arrive in this city to-day, and will be stored at a proper place until the day of the celebration.

By vote Saturday evening the executive committee was enlarged by the addition of the following gentlemen: W. Scott Smith, J. H. Hutchinson, Dr. James R. May, John Knowlton, E. P. Kimball, Robert C. Pierce, J. W. Pierce, John Laighton, John Pickard, Washington Freeman, George A. Lyons, John P. Hart, Capt. Wm. L. Dwight, Capt. J. S. Pray, Wm. H. Hackett, Wallace Hackett, J. Albert Walker, John J. Pickering, Wm. H. Rollings, James R. Connell, Dr. S. J. Whittier, Lewis W. Brewster, Wm. A. Hodgdon. Arthur W. Walker, Willis G. Myers, Samuel Adams, Josiah F. Adams, Capt. Israel H. Washburne, Charles F. Wells, Fred B. Coleman, Wm. G. Billins, George W. Pendexter, George W. Marston, Charles H. Sides, C. Dwight Hanscom, Henry J. Eaton, Henry A. Yeaton, Samuel Hawkes, Capt. J. Gilman Moses, Henry M. Clark, Oliver J. Goldsmith, I. P. Miller, John H. Knox, John O'Connor, Geo. M. Ayers, John O. Ayers, Michael R. Perkins, George R. Raitt, John Harmon, Thomas Watkins, Wm. D. Grace, J. L. O. Coleman, James W. Emery, Wm. H. Smith, Freeman L. Garrett, Wingate N. Ilsley, Israel Marden.

The executive committee will meet on next Wednesday evening at the republican headquarters at 6:30 o'clock, and all gentlemen whose names have been published as on the committee are invited to attend and have a voice in the meeting.

CONGRESSMAN NUTE'S ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

Portsmouth Republicans suggested and advocated the nomination and election of Congressman-elect Alonzo Nute, and naturally feel proud of the splendid running qualities of their favorite, and his unexceptionable reputation as a Republican and a business man. In reply to a message sent Friday to Capt. Nute, comes the following response:

FARMINGTON, Nov. 9th, 1888.

My dear old Friend: Your note of congratulation at hand, for which please accept my most hearty thanks. Bless Almighty God, the G. O. P. is again on deck!

My everlasting gratitude and most cordial thanks for the magnificent support of old Portsmouth! Sinnerely,

A. NUTE.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

All the officers at the navy yard, with one or two exceptions, are delighted at the election of General Harrison, and none more so than Capt. James O'Kane, captain of the yard, who has just returned from his home in Indianapolis where he went to exercise his constitutional right, and vote for his friend and fellow townsman the President-elect.

The U. S. S. Kearsarge, Commander Allan D. Brown, left the navy yard Saturday morning, and the lower harbor yesterday afternoon, bound for Norfolk, where she will receive further orders.

Instructions were received Saturday from Washington to suspend work entirely on the training-ship Saratoga, and as far as possible on the Portsmouth. The Saratoga is to be given to the state of Pennsylvania for a school ship, and the Portsmouth is expected to take the boys now on the Constellation, on the latter's return from the West Indies next spring.

THE EQUESCURRICULUM.

The troupe of perfectly trained and intelligent horses composing Prof. Bristol's Equescurriculum are to appear at Music hall this week. The horses come so near to exhibiting human intelligence that it is no easy matter for one to rid himself of the idea that they are not indeed reasoning beings.

SOCIETY NEWS AND PERSONAL NOTES.

—The many friends of Doctor F. L. Benedict will be pleased, as well as surprised, to know that he has finally decided to be a bachelor no longer. His engagement to Miss Hamlin of New York city is announced, and we understand they are to be married next April. This is undoubtedly a case of love at first sight, for the genial doctor met his fiancee for the first time this summer while she was here on a short visit. Miss Hamlin, who is a handsome brunette, with an elegant figure, attracted much attention while at the Wentworth during the past summer, and she will undoubtedly become prominent in Portsmouth society. The wedding in all probability will be a quiet one, as Miss Hamlin is in deep mourning for her father who has recently died.

—Another equally important engagement is announced, that of Asst. Engr. Thos. F. Carter, U. S. N., who is on duty at the navy yard here, and Miss Breck, of Kentucky. Mr. Carter is well and favorably known to the people of Portsmouth, and his bride will receive a warm welcome by all his friends. The wedding will take place early in the winter at the home of Miss Breck in Kentucky, and as she is in mourning too, it will also be a very quiet one.

—Lieut. Richard Mitchell, who was ordered to the Kearsarge, is laid up at the Rockingham, he having been condemed by a medical survey. He is waiting orders from Washington to the Chelsea hospital, in accordance with the recommendation of the medical survey.

—Commander Frand Wildes, U. S. N., who expects to be relieved as navigation officer at the navy yard on the 15th inst., intends to spend the winter with his family at the Rockingham. Commander Miller will succeed Commander Wildes as navigation officer.

—Mrs. T. Salter Tredick gave a very pretty progressive euchre party, on last Thursday evening, to her niece, Miss Marion Fendall, to celebrate the latter's birthday. It was a complete success in every particular, and the prizes were unique and handsome.

—Mrs. Melcher has gone to New York for an extended visit, and her daughter, Miss Edith, who is now on a visit in Boston, expects to spend the month of December with her aunt in Orange, N. J.

—Miss Alice Thompson is expecting a visit from Mrs. Payson, nee Crocker, of Charleston, Mass., who is a great favorite in Portsmouth society.

—Mrs. Arthur W. Walker started for Ohio Saturday afternoon, having been called there on account of the sickness of her mother.

—Mr. W. H. Alexander, purchasing agent of the Concord railroad, is on an extended trip in the west, and will be absent during this month.

AROUND HOME.

Manchester republicans will celebrate their victory on Wednesday evening.

It is reported that a Market street fruit dealer won three hats and $500 in money, on the result of the presidential election.

The republicans of Kittery will celebrate the national victory next Thursday evening.

Mr. Emil C. Pfeiffer, lay reader, conducted the services at St. John's church on Sunday forenoon, and at Christ church Sunday afternoon, in the absence of the rector in New York.

On the 11th of November, 1887, one year ago last Sunday, there was a fall of mingled snow and rain which covered the ground to the depth of a couple of inches with a dirty-white slosh.

The vote for state senator in the Portsmouth district was Dimick, republican, 905; Conn, democrat, 1251; Conn's majority 346. The Newmarket district, which includes ward three in this city, chose Sinclair as senator.

The sad news of the death of Mrs. Admiral Taylor reached here on last Friday, and the Admiral accompanied by his daughter and other members of his family arrived here Saturday afternoon from Clifton Springs, N. Y., bringing Mrs. Taylor's remains with them. The funeral services will be held this afternoon at one o'clock at St. John's church.

Mr. Melvin Stimson of Kittery returned on Friday evening of last week from a western trip. He was in Indianapolis election day and reports lively times there that day, and just before and after it.

Although Saturday was a stormy day, L. E. Staples did a good business by selling those white blankets at 50 cts. per pair. The ladies seemed to appreciate them. You will find that his prices on the better quality of blankets are very low, if you examine them.

The locomotive Cocheco, drawing the ten o'clock A. M. train for Dover over the Portsmouth & Dover railroad on Saturday, broke down at Newington, and the engine Longfellow went out from this city, side-tracked the disabled machine, and took the train to Dover and back, arriving in this city about noon.

The treasurer of the Chase Home for Children would gratefully acknowledge the receipt of twenty-five dollars from the trustees of the South Parish charity fund.

JOHN S. RAND.

The Republicans of North Hampton propose to-morrow (Tuesday) night, weather permitting, to have a jollification, and celebrate as the sterling Republicans know how to do, the victory achieved by the election of Harrison and Morton. There will be a torchlight procession, marching from Boar's Head to the Centre, and then a supper at the Centennial.

A horse belonging to Comdr. Frank Wildes, U. S. N., for several past navigating officer at this navy yard, was sold by auction on Market square, Saturday forenoon at eleven o'clock, Dr. M. F. Wentworth buying him at $67. A phaeton was bought by H. R. Stoddard & Son for $41.

The Rivermouth Circle, C. L. S. C., will meet in the vestry of Trinity Methodist church this (Monday) evening.

The republicans of York, who proposed to have a celebration last Saturday night, postponed the affair to Thursday night, the 15th. The sum of three hundred dollars was raised in a short time, and a collation will be served in the town hall after the march, in which over 300 men are expected to join.

The schooner E. A. Creed, of this port, Raymond master, was last Friday proceeding from Boston to the Great Brewster, at the entrance to Boston harbor, to load a lot of old iron, when she struck on George's island, and filled. She was pulled off later in the day by the tug Vim, and beached on Lowell's island to prevent her sinking. The vessel when she struck was abandoned by the crew, but the captain remained on board. The tug received $100 for her services; more, we should think, than the old schooner is worth. She is under twenty tons register and is a very old craft; just how old, nobody knows. She was at one time a tender to the Oceanic hotel at Star island; and later for a long while was owned by the Laighton brothers, and took out fishing parties from either of the Shoals hotels during "the season;" then for several years she laid at Liberty bridge, with the tide flowing and ebbing in her, and then she was given to Capt. Raymond, who patched her up and took her to sea again.

The schooner Lizzie J. Call, of this port, Capt. John J. Call commanding, built on this river two years ago, went ashore on Sugar Loaf rock, at the entrance of the Kennebec river, one night last week, the wind blowing heavily at the time, and the captain himself being at the wheel. The vessel hung by the bow, in a bad position, her stern being in deep water, and it was feared she would become a total loss. The Popham beach life-saving crew were soon on hand, and rendered all the aid possible, but failed to get her off, and as the tide fell she began to take in water, necessitating hard work at pumping all night, to prevent her filling. A small tug failed to haul her afloat, but the following morning at eight o'clock two towboats at high tide pulled her off the rocks and towed her to a place of discharge; after putting out her cargo of coal she was towed to Bath to go in the dry dock.

The New Hampshire's Record.

The last report of the New Hampshire Fire Insurance company shows an increase in each of the factors contributing to the solidity of a fire insurance company. The semi-annual statement exhibits an increase in capital, assets and surplus, which now stand as follows: Capital, $600,000; assets, $1,403,210.41; net surplus, $267,379.32. The company holds United States government bonds of a market value of $312,000. Since the organization of the company it has shown each year a gain in assets and surplus.

Year.	Assets.	Net Surplus.	Capital.
1870	$134,588.24	$8,029.82	$100,000
1878	429,362.00	77,123.08	250,000
1880	565,224.20	111,340.88	250,000
1886	1,101,451.02	219,983.34	500,000
1888	1,403,210.41	267,379.32	$600,000

Its agent in this city, C. A. Hazlett, has promptly paid all its losses in this vicinity for the past sixteen years.

Messrs. Raymond & Whitcomb's Next Excursions to California.

The season of winter trips to California has opened in a way that renders it certain that there will be a large tide of fashionable tourist travel to the Pacific coast during the next four months. The new and truly magnificent facilities for travel provided by Messrs. Raymond & Whitcomb, including through trains of vestibuled Pullman palace cars, with Pullman palace dining cars, render the excursion a source of positive comfort and luxury. Never before could the transcontinental journey be made so easily and in such a delightful manner. There will be one excursion next month, the date of departure being Thursday, December 6, and two in January, leaving Boston Monday, January 7, and Thursday, January 10. All three parties will travel in elegant trains of vestibuled cars, meals being furnished in dining-cars. There is a choice of five different routes returning, with sixteen parties under special escort, and the return tickets are equally good for independent use on any train up to next July. Early in February a party of Raymond & Whitcomb excursionists will leave San Francisco for the Sandwich islands. There are to be three tours through Mexico (January 14, February 11, and March 11) and two trips to Washington, D. C., (January 18 and February 15.) Descriptive circulars of any of these excursions may be obtained of W. Raymond, 296 Washington street, opposite School street, Boston.

Pears' Soap is an elegant toilet adjunct.

MARRIED.

LARRABEE—HOFFMAN. In this city, Nov. 10th, by Samuel R. Gardner, Esq., Mr. Frank R. Larrabee and Miss Ida A. Hoffman, both of Portland, Maine.

RANDALL—AUSTIN. In Fitchburg, Mass, Nov. 7th, by Rev. F. O. Hall, George G. Randall of this city and Miss Cornelia F. Austin of South Newmarket, N. H.

DIED.

TAYLOR. Mary A. (Dimick) Taylor, wife of Rear Admiral Taylor, U. S. N., and daughter of the late Gen. Justin Dimick, U. S. A., died November 8th, at Clifton Springs, Ontario Co., N. Y. [Boston and New York papers please copy.]

☞ Funeral services at St. John's church, this city, this (Monday) afternoon at one o'clock.

MARINE CHRONICLE.

PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

ARRIVED Nov. 9th.

Stmr Lancaster, Robinson, Philadelphia, with 1660 tons coal to J Albert Walker.

Sch John J Hanson, Stevens, Philadelphia, coal.

IN LOWER HARBOR Nov. 7th.

Sch Saint John, Gilman, New York for Bangor

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity trength and wholesomeness. More economical han the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO. 106 Wall Street, New York.

J. L.

GLACE FRUITS,

NEW PRUNES,

NEW FIGS,

NEW JELLIES AND JAMS.

OLD RICE POPPING CORN.

DESSICATED COCOANUT

In Strips for Frosting Cake.

Fresh Ground Spices

Of Extra Fine Flavor and Strength.

HYGIENIC COFFEE,

A Healthful and Refreshing Drink, especially for those who cannot drink Genuine Coffee.

JOHN LAIGHTON,

No. 1 Market Square.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Sold only in cans, full weight.

CLEVELAND BROTHERS, ALBANY, N. Y.

POSITIVELY

No Cure, No Pay!

CONSTITUTIONAL COUGH SYRUP

--- TRY IT! ---

The proprietor of this remedy has such confidence in its curative powers that he makes the following

Generous Offer!

Any person buying a bottle is given the privilege of returning it and receiving their MONEY BACK, if after using two-thirds of its contents, they have derived no benefit from it.

PRICE 25 AND 50 CENTS.

— SOLD BY —

David Kimball & Co., 36 Market Street.

Furnaces,

Ranges & Stoves.

We are now ready to show the Finest Line of

RANGES AND PARLOR STOVES

Ever offered in this city, at Prices within the reach of all. Call and See Them Before Buying, it will Pay You.

LAMPS!

LAMPS!

Our Stock of Lamps is Complete, the

Lux Dux, Rochester, Banner, Duplex,

All First-Class, and will be Sold at the Lowest Prices.

PLUMBING, GAS PIPING, COPPER AND SHEET IRONWORK, AT

John P. Sweetser's,

46 MARKET STREET.

MUSIC HALL, PORTSMOUTH.

JOHN O. AYERS.....MANAGER.

ONE WEEK, COMMENCING

Monday, Nov. 12th.

Popular Family Matinees Wednesday, Friday and Saturday at 2:30 P. M.

EQUESCURRICULUM!

Beautifully Trained

30 HORSES, PONIES & MULES. 30

Under the Management of JNO. C. PATRICK.

The Only School of Educated Horses in the World.

The Equine Wonders of the 19th Century.

The Fun Provoking Mule, DENVER | The Mathematical Wonder, MATTIE

A Superb Mounted Military Band and Complete Orchestra.

OUR PRICES, 25, 35 AND 50 CENTS.

Sale of Seats opens at Goodrich's Book Store, Thursday Morning, Nov. 8th.

NOTICE.—Children under 13 years of age can secure a Reserved Seat at the Matinee for 25c.

ED. H. NEIL, Gen. Agt. E. S. DAVIDSON, Adv. Agt.

A LARGE LOT OF LEAF SAGE Just Received and for Sale by the Pound or less quantity. Come early before it is sold!

JAMES R. YEATON & CO., 55 Congress St.

Situation Wanted.

A YOUNG MAN from the country, of good habits, would like to secure employment in a private family, or with a business firm.

Enquire at this office.

To Let.

THE middle Tenement, No. 23, in the Kenney Block on Pleasant Street. Apply to

J. P. HART.

Dwelling House for Sale.

THE residence of the late Mrs. Daniel Libbey, No. 126 State Street, can be purchased on application to

JOHN SISE, JOSEPH SISE, } Executors

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

RED FIRE!

QUALITY GUARANTEED.

ANDREW P. PRESTON,

Apothecary, - Portsmouth, N. H.

A PERFECT BLEND

MOCHA AND JAVA COFFEE

FULL WEIGHT, 2 POUND CANS, PRICE 70 CENTS

CHARLES E. LAIGHTON & SON,

Exchange Building, Opp. Post-Office.

Marigold Ointment!

Remember is Warranted for External Piles, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Nettle Rash, Hives, and all Diseases of the Skin and Scalp, Old Sores, Chilblains, Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Chapped Hands, Cold Sores, Cracks in Hands and Lips, Ingrowing Nails, Inflamed Joints, and everything else for which an Ointment is required

Call for Circular and Sample Box Free.

— SOLE AGENT FOR ROCKINGHAM COUNTY —

William D. Grace, - - - Apothecary.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

FALL AND WINTER OF 1888-89.

Our Assortment of Tailoring Goods is superior in many respects to any of previous years, embracing a Full Line of Goods suitable for

Fall and Winter Overcoatings.

Aslo, a Fine Assortment of the Best

IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC GOODS FOR SUITINGS,

Consisting of Stripes, Checks, Plain and Fancy Woollens and Worsteds in Great Variety.

CHECKS AND STRIPES FOR TROWSERS.

FANCY PATTERNS FOR VESTING.

Prices Reasonable for Fine Work.

WM. P. WALKER, - - MERCHANT TAILOR,

NO. 8 MARKET SQUARE.

NOTICE!

FALL

— AND —

WINTER

STYLES

NOW READY!

— AT —

MRS. TEBBETTS',

NO. 14 MARKET STREET.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

The three-story (above the grade floor)

BRICK STORE BUILDING

NO. 16 BOW STREET,

Running back over the wharf to the river, occupied for a long time by the late Charles Robinson as a wholesale corn and flour store. Sold to close up an estate. Enquire of

J. P. MORSE, Real Estate Broker.

COAL!

COAL!

Finest Grades, well prepared for Domestic Purposes, constantly Arriving and for Sale at Lowest Prices.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

J. ALBERT WALKER

Portsmouth Coal Pockets.

BOOK BINDING

Of Every Desciption,

— DONE AT —

NO. 5 CONGRESS STREET,

(OVER FAY'S STORE.)

Magazines and other Periodicals Bound in Styles to Suit Patrons; Especial Attention given to

REBINDING OLD BOOKS!

For Libraries or Individuals; in short, any work of the kind promptly attended to, and satisfaction guaranteed. ☞ Prices reasonable.

JOHN D. RANDALL.

THE OLDEST AND ONLY Republican Morning Paper IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

TO BUY SELL ANYTHING AD VERTISE IN THE Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 23, 1862. | PORTSMOUTH, N. H., TUESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 13, 1888. | $6 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE. TWO CENTS PER COPY.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

TUESDAY, NOV. 13, 1888.

The News!

ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES.

. Blaine Speaks.

ssociated Press to Daily Chronicle.

USTA, ME., Nov. 12.—This even- e Republicans of Augusta and sur- ding towns celebrated the result of ection with a general illumination large torchlight procession, ending visit to Mr. Blaine, who from his or, in answer to repeated calls, he following brief speech:

llow Republicans of Kennebec nty, I thank you for the compliment your call, and join with you in hearty ongratulations and felicitations over the reat national achievement of last week. ave elected the Republican candi- presidency and vice presi- never did any party have n whom more implicit faith ced; faith in their principles; eir ability; faith in their zeal; heir honor; faith in them per- faith in them officially. It adds alue of our triumph that we have secured in General Harrison a presiden who comprehends the wants of the whole nation, and who by temperament and experience, embodies all the requirements for an executive position whose duties have become more engrossing and exact- by similar position in the

if the election of Harrison were merely the elevation inent citizens to the highest the republic, our rejoicing ld lack the deep significance which ds it. The president and vice presi- elect carry with them in their de- ed elevation the triumph of the pro- e policy in the United States, and the feature of the victory which he nation.

old Scotch divine prayed ferventhe Lord 'To give us good opinion ives.' The republicans of Ken- have a special right in this hour of to a good opinion of themselves. ed as a county in the last century, , whether as a part of Massa- or part of Maine, has never her loyalty to the policy of pro- Throughout the whole of her Kennebec never voted for a democratic candidate for the presidency. She has just given to General Harrison a majority of three thousand, and she gave about the same to the General Harrison of 1840. She has in the long interval varied little in the majorities which she has given for each whig and republican presidential candidate in succession. Whoever has faltered, either in Maine or in other states, the opponents of free trade and of the democratic party in Kennebec have always been firm, consistent and courageous. Defeat in state or nation has never dampened their ardor. It was only the signal to Kennebec for a more earnest struggle the next time.

"Many persons from inattention to the course of events, and some from mere cynicism, regard a presidential election as only a struggle for the spoils of office. Perhaps a close examination into the value of the 'spoils' would cause them to modify this opinion. We are now sixty-five millions of people, and we speak of the danger of having two hundred thousand office-holders under the national government. Quite true, we have 200,000 office-holders, but a vast number of those have salaries under $200 each, a great proportion under $1000 each, more than four-fifths of the whole number under $1,000 each, while the president does not have within his power of appointment two hundred civil officers with salaries exceeding $5000 per year. I doubt, indeed, if he has more than one hundred. Certainly 'spoils' cannot profoundly enlist the interests or call forth the efforts of a great people, among whom opportunities for business and for labor are greater than in any other nation of the world. It was something far deeper than 'spoils of office' that called the full republican strength to the polls, and no question but that of protection could have done it.

"But my friends, let us remember that wise monition of 'the old man eloquent' to triumph moderately. Republicans have always been more energetic in getting a victory at the polls than in boasting of it after it has been secured. It is well that it is so, for a victory would indeed be barren of good fruit and unworthy of respect if it did not bring benefit to all the people alike, regardless of geographical lines or party divisions. We have sharp rivalry as democrats or republicans in the earnest struggle of the campaign, but when the election is over we remember that we are all united in the enduring brotherhood of American citizenship,—citizenship of the east and the west, of the north and the south, citizenship of the great, undivided, indivisible republic."

Fire at Damariscotta.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

DAMARISCOTTA, ME., Nov. 12.—Unoccupied house here owned by Robinson Johnson of Randolph, Me., was burned this afternoon; a barn was saved. Insurance, $800 on house and barn.

Another Republican Congressman from Maryland.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

ANNAPOLIS, MD., Nov. 12.—It is understood here that Mudd, Republican candidate for congress in the fifth district, claims to be elected by six votes, and will get out a mandamus to compel Governor Jackson to issue a certificate of election to him. Compton, the Democratic candidate, is equally confident of his own election by a small majority.

The New Mexicans are Naturally Mixed.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle

SANTA FE., N. M., Nov. 12.—Returns are coming in very slowly and indicate that Anthony, Dem., is elected to congress over Otero, Rep., by a considerable majority. The legislature is close, council probably Democratic, and the house Republican.

A Boodle Alderman Will Remain at Sing Sing.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—In the case of ex-Alderman Jaehne of New York, now in Sing Sing, undergoing sentence for bribery, the Supreme court of the United States today affirmed the decision of the Circuit court. This compels Jaehne's retention in prison.

Axworthy Offers Restitution.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CLEVELAND, OHIO., Nov. 12th.—Thomas Axworthy, the defaulting city treasurer, who left town $480,000 short in accounts, and with $150,000 stolen money in his valise, wrote to Mayor Babcock from Montreal, Oct. 29th, offering to make all restitution he can to the city, and says: "I went east about Oct. 1st, to collect large sums loaned on call during the last four years, (at the suggestion of prominent Cleveland parties;) had been receiving interest regularly, but greatly to my surprise and horror, when I demanded the principal, I was answered 'We cannot pay it. In fact, it would have been impossible for us to have done so within four months after we had made the loans.' Investigation proved such to be the case, although I supposed the parties to be worth millions. There was a combination to ruin me, and it succeeded. I am properly, deservedly, perhaps, a sufferer and exile. As far as in my power lies, I desire to make amends by turning over my entire property, real and personal, for the benefit of the city or my bondsmen." Axworthy gives a list of his assets, which includes stocks, bonds, notes, houses, land and vessel property. He estimates their worth at $379,700, and says they will pay all his liabilities. He empowers the mayor to act as his attorney in transfer of all property.

West Virginia Election.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Nov. 12th.—The election returns come in very slowly. The Republicans claim Goff's election and two Congressmen, but corrected returns from Lincoln county give Jackson, dem., for Congress, 390 majority, which will elect him by a small majority. Fleming, the dem. candidate for governor, through his attorney in this city, notified commissioners of Kanawatoka county that he desires a recount. The Republican vote increased over 300 in this county, while the Democrats polled a slight increase over two years ago. Senator McKenna expresses the belief that the Legislature will be Democratic by two or three majority on joint ballot, and feels sanguine of his own return to the Senate. Gov. Wilson will contest the honors with him.

Ran Across a Track.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LIVERMORE FALLS, ME., Nov. 12—Just as a passenger train was coming into the depot here to-night, Frankie Creging, eleven years old, ran across the track in front of the engine, and was struck and thrown into the air, fracturing the skull severely and breaking his leg. His recovery is doubtful.

The World Loves a Lover.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—Joseph Chamberlain arrived in Washington this evening and was met at the station by Wm. C. Endicott, Jr., and driven to the residence of his prospective bride. Afterward he went to the Arlington hotel, where he will stop until his wedding day.

"Suicide is Confession."

An Assassin's Fate.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WENONA, ILL., Nov. 12.—Peter Howe, senior member of the banking firm of Howe & Son, and his wife, aged respectively 73 and 69 years, were brutally beaten to death with a car-coupling pin last night. They lived in a two-story frame building, about a half mile from the business portion of the town, the only other occupant of the house being a domestic, who discovered the bodies this morning. The bedroom presented a shocking appearance, the walls being smeared with blood. The victims lay on a coverlet. Irwin, Howe's son-in-law, suspected Charles Burkhart, a dissipated fellow, of committing the deed, and a watch was placed on the rooms where he lived with his wife, over a grocery store in the principal business block of the town. Burkhart was observed coming down from the Hall, apparently in agitation. He soon discovered that sentinels had been posted outside, and going into his bedroom, cut his throat with a razor. He was dead in five minutes. The cause of the terrible deed is attributed to petty spite on the part of Burkhart. The domestic, Sarah Richardson, is a handsome young lady of 19, and Burkhart's stepdaughter; she was often importuned to come and live with him, but she refused to do so, and he thought the Howes were at the bottom of her objections. He therefore concluded to murder them. Sometime during the early hours of the morning he left his apartments, procured a ladder and entered the second-story window, descending to the room where the crime was committed. The murdered man had amassed a fortune of $250,000, and was very charitable and philanthropic. Some time ago he endowed the Home Institute at New Iberia, La., and a Baptist Institute at Memphis, Tenn., the latter a college for the education of indigent persons of both races. His murdered wife was a sister of George Parks, a Magnolia (Ill.) millionaire.

The coroner this evening obtained a statement from the domestic, Sarah Richardson. She said her step-father, Burkhart, came to the house last night and did the fiendish work down stairs, then came to her room, told what he had done, and after an attempt to outrage her, left the house. She lay all night not daring to give an alarm lest he waylay and murder her. Apparently the assassin's motive, aside from revenge and liquor, was to enable the step-daughter to come into possession of some money promised her by the old people, provided she would stay with them during their life time.

A Republican Congress.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—Indications point to a Republican majority of from five to seven in the next house. It is still doubtful about West Virginia, and in California the democrats may have elected Thompson in the first district. This would reduce the majority to five. Democrats claim from three to four representatives in West Virginia. Breckenridge, of Kentucky, figures out a republican majority of one to three. There seems to be no room for doubt that the Republicans will organize the house Today's Evening Star, figuring on this basis, prints a table giving the republicans 166 and the democrats 159 in the 51st Congress.

The Record of the Drowned on George's Banks.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

GLOUCESTER, MASS., Nov, 12.—The number of vessels hailing from this port lost during the year is 14, against 13 in 1887. These vessels represented value of $63,000, on which there was insurance of $54,127, all in the Gloucester and Boston Marine company. Only two vessels were lost with all the crews, schooners Peter D. Smith and William Parsons 2d, each with twelve men, both being lost on Georges in December. Several men were lost from dories on the banks while attending trawls, which brings the total loss of life to 63 so far as there is any record; not more than half a dozen of the men were married, having about 16 fatherless children; the previous year there were 13 vessels lost, aggregating 843 tons, representing a value of $62,000, and insured for $51,445. The number of lives lost was 85.

Sudden Death.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CALAIS, ME., Nov. 12.—Archibald Holland, of an old established firm of lawyers, died very suddenly this morning of heart disease. He complained of feeling unwell, while returning home from church last night, grew worse rapidly, and never rallied. His age was seventy years.

The Bell Telephone Case Reversed.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12th.—The Supreme Court of the United States today rendered an opinion in favor of the Government, in the case of the United States against the American Bell Telephone Co., brought here on appeal from the decision of the Circuit Court of Massachusetts, sustaining the demurrer by Bell Company to Government's suit decision. The Court today reversed the judgment of the Circuit Court and removes the case to that Court for trial on its merits. Solicitor General Jenks, acting as attorney, brought suit in equity in the Circuit Court of Massachusetts, to have the Bell Co.'s patent cancelled and declared null and void on the ground that it was procured by fraud and that Bell was not the first inventor of the telephone. The Bell Company, through its attorneys, waived for a time any answer to the allegations in the Government's bill in equity, and filed a demurrer in which they asserted that the United States had no right, in absence of specific statute granting that power, to bring the suit to cancel patent for invention. They declared that such suit could only be brought by a private party and not by the Government. The Circuit Court sustained the Bell Company's demurrer and refused to entertain the Government's bill. From that decision the United States took an appeal to the Supreme Court, which today, through Justice Miller, reversed the decision of the lower court, in a long and elaborate opinion. Justice Miller first took the plea of multifarious, urged by the Bell Company, and said it could not hold good; that suit brought by the United States, although it sought to cancel two patents issued a year apart, really related to the same subject. As to Bell Company's contentions that the United States could not bring suit, and that no Circuit Court could entertain a suit to cancel a patent brought in the name of the Government, no matter whether fraud had been committed or not, Justice Miller said there was no question that an individual had the right to judicially seek redress for a wrong committed against him, and yet it was contended that the United States representative of 60,000,000 people could do nothing in their behalf. Justice Miller said further that such a state of things would be great anomaly in a system of Government like ours. The patent system, he said, was derived from the same clause in the constitution, as that relating to public lands of the Government. Although no express statute had been enacted it had repeatedly been held that the Court had a right to set aside land patents obtained by fraud, and the same thing was true of patents for invention. The contention that the Government should not take action because the remedy rested with private parties, he said did not hold good. One person might bring suit against the holder of a patent and obtain judgment in that peculiar case, and yet other parties who subsequently brought suit would be unable to bring proof. The Government alone had the power to bring suit which would finally settle the whole matter.

Justice Gray was not present at the argument, and took no part in the decision of the case.

Frost in Yellow Feverdom.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

DECATUR, ALA., Nov. 12.—There was a slight frost yesterday and a white frost this morning. Ice formed in many places. Two new yellow fever cases. Many refugees have returned.

Pennsylvania Makes It 79,729.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 12.—Official returns from every county in the state show a plurality for Harrison of 79,729. Blaine's plurality in 1884 was 81,019.

A Banquet of Republican Leaders.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—A banquet will be given at Delmonico's Wednesday evening, in which the participants will be the Republican speakers and leaders in the late presidential campaign. Chauncey M. Depew is to preside, and Col. Dudley Brest Foster of the Republican league, Whitelaw Reid and others are on the reception committee. Among the speakers announced are Col. Ingersoll, Col. Elliott S. Shepard, Robert P. Porter, Gen. George A. Sheriden, Rev. R. S. McArthur. Hon. L. P. Morton and Hon. Warner Miller, are expected.

Gen. Harrison's Inauguration

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12—A. S. Britton, a well known lawyer of this city, has been designated by the executive committee of the Republican national committee to take charge of the ceremonies attending the inauguration of President Harrison. He has been authorized, also, to appoint all necessary officers and committees to look after the work. Britton spoke this afternoon in favor of having the inauguration ball in the Pension-office building, where the last one was held.

A Crazed Mother's Act.

A Terrible Deed.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

PITTSBURG, KAN., Nov. 12th.—Marie Berthune, wife of Louis Berthune, one of the victims of the mine disaster, burned her cabin last night, and she and four of her five children perished. The oldest child, a girl of nine, escaped, though fearfully burned. She says her mother took the children yesterday to the morgue to see the mangled remains of their father, which had just been brought from the mine, and then went home. At night each of the little ones was sent to bed with a kiss, and after sitting by the stove for a while, the woman took a can of coal oil, poured it over herself and bed, and set it on fire. The little girl was awake, but had a struggle with her mother before she could get out of doors. The cabin burned like tinder, and soon nothing was left but glowing embers, from which were raked the charred bodies of the insane mother and her four children.

A Business Failure.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

BOSTON, MASS., Nov. 12.—The Hermon W. Ladd company of Boston and New York, manufacturers of spring and folding beds, being embarrassed to meet maturing payments has assigned to Geo. E. Smith, of Boston, with the view to a proper protection of all creditors.

The Chamberlain-Endicott Wedding.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, Nov, 12.—It is given out that the marriage of Miss Endicott to Joseph Chamberlain will be a very quiet one, and there will be no bridesmaids, or reception after the ceremony. Miss Endicott will wear a simple travelling costume. After spending a week in the North, the newly wedded pair will sail for Europe. This will be Mr. Chamberlain's third marriage.

A Doubtful Congressional District.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Nov. 12th.—Returns from two northern counties change plurality of vote in first congressional district from Dehaven, rep., to Thompson, dem. The latter now has a plurality of about 110, with one small county and parts of two counties to hear from.

More Fire Victims.

Special to the Daily Chronicle.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 12.—Four more victims of the late fire have been identified. Two more bodies were found, unrecognizable. The safe of the Lantern Co was taken out to-day; contents uninjured. The list of missing has only been reduced by the number of new bodies found.

Cleveland Catches Virginia.

RICHMOND, VA, Nov. 12.—Unofficial and estimated returns received by despatches from nearly all counties in the state tonight, foot up a majority for Cleveland of over 3500.

Train Will Not Arrive.

CHARLOTTE, S. C., Nov. 12.—A passenger train due here this evening from Atlanta was thrown from the track by a broken wheel near Terrea, Ga., at noon to-day. Every car rolled down the embankment and was burned, not so much as a plank of the whole train being left. Several passengers and the baggage expressman were badly hurt, but none fatally.

Telegraphic Notes.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

THOMASTON, ME., Nov. 12.—Inspectors are at the Maine state prison taking account of stock, preparatory to making the annual report at the close of the fiscal year.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., Nov. 12.—New cases to-day, 30; deaths, 3.

ATLANTA, GA, Nov. 12.—Official returns make Cleveland's majority in Georgia 601,003.

CHICAGO, ILL, Nov. 12.—A refined looking couple, who registered at the Farwell house last night as Chas. Paulson and wife, of Milwaukee, were found in their room today with the gas turned on. The man was dead; the woman cannot live. They are believed to have committed suicide.

Had Much to Live For.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. Nov. 12.—John C. Meyer, eldest son of the late millionaire Christopher Meyer, died at Atlantic City last night, aged 43. He was manager of the New Jersey Rubber Works, and leaves an estate valued at $2,000,000.

A Robber's Bank.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., Nov. 12.—Cora Ellis, who has been living at Covington, La., as wife of E. F. Bunch, the robber of the Northeastern railroad train on Nov. 3, was arrested here to-day, and $1300 of the money stolen was found sewed up in her clothes.

Trouble for the Edison Patents.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

OTTAWA, ONT., Nov. 12.—The Royal Electric company of Boston will apply tomorrow to the minister of agriculture for the invalidation of the Edison patents for incandescent electric lighting in Canada, held at present by the Edison Electric Light Co., of Montreal. Associated with petitioners are the Westinghouse Co., and the United States Electric Lighting Co., of Pittsburg, Pa. Cancellation is sought on the ground that Edison failed to comply with the Canadian patent regulations, which provide for the manufacture of the article in Canada, two years after the patent is awarded. Many expert witnesses will give testimony. The Bell telephone patents were cancelled a few years ago, for the same reason, Republican Jollifications.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CALAIS, ME, Nov. 12.—Republicans are giving vent to their enthusiasm tonight by one of the grandest celebrations ever seen here. A salute of 38 guns started the ball a rolling. It is estimated there are 500 torches in the procession, which headed by the Young Mens republican club, and includes many republicans of eastern Maine in the ranks. There has been a grand display of fireworks, illuminations and decorations on most extensive scale. They present a very beautiful appearance. A number of prominent republicans addressed an audience at St. Croix hall.

PORTLAND, ME., Nov. 12.—Portland is illuminated to-night from east to west, celebrating the election of Harrison. The procession was a mile and a half long and made up of seven or eight bands and many campaign companies, belonging here and in neighboring towns. There were many transparancies, with inscriptions. The Young Men's republican club turned out 400 men, each wearing a tall hat covered with brown paper bags labelled "Sackville." There was a big batallion, each man carrying a policeman's rattle. Citizens turned out by the hundreds and carried brooms and umbrellas. The illuminations in many cases were elaborate and costly. It was a very successful and creditable celebration.

SKOWHEGAN, ME., Nov. 12.—Republicans here celebrate tonight with processions, fireworks,, illuminations, firing of guns, ringing bells, etc.

CAMDEN, ME, Nov. 12.—Republicans lit up the town tonight, and had a big blow-out, marching with two bands of music through the principal streets, and escorted four Democrats who then paid election bets by marching in the procession.

Will Dance on Nothing.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

JEFFERSON CITY, MO., Nov. 12.—The Supreme court today affirmed the verdict of murder in the first degree against William Walker, chief of the notorious Bald Knob gang in southern Missouri. He will be hanged Dec. 28th.

FOREIGN.

Can't Take a Joke.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

OTAWA, ONT., Nov. 12.—Dr. Wiggin, the weather prophet, was indignant today; he received by mail a notification of his election as honorary member of the Ananias club of Boston, Mass.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—In the House of Commons this afternoon Mr. G. Matthews, the home secretary, announced the resignation of General Warren as chief of the metropolitan police. The announcement was greeted with cheers.

MONTREAL, ONT., Nov. 12.—Olivier Turgeon has just died at St. Charles Hospital, 112 years old.

"1888" OPENING OF "1888"

FALL AND WINTER DRY GOODS

At the Well-Known Store,

NOS. 30 and 32 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH.

Ayers & Locke, Proprietors,

Can be found the Largest Assortment of

SEASONABLE DRY GOODS MERCHANDISE.

LARGEST ASSORTMENT OF OUTSIDE GARMENTS.

For Ladies, Misses and Children,

New Goods of this Season's Manufacture.

All are Invited to Examine

OUR STOCK OF CLOAKS!

Before Purchasing Elsewhere.

Silk and Gloria RAIN UMBRELLAS! Ladies' Gossamers.

THE F. P. ROBINSON CO. BLACK STOCKINGS.

"CLEANFAST" NONE ARE GENUINE WITHOUT THIS TRADE MARK ON EACH PAIR

Mohair and Gingham RAIN UMBRELLAS! Children's Gossamers.

Largest Assortment of Dress Goods in Portsmouth.

In fact, the Best Assortment in their Line of everything pertaining to a

FIRST-CLASS STOCK OF DRY GOODS.

NEW CARPETS! NEW CARPETS!

HOUSEKEEPING GOODS! &C.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS IN OUR UNDEWEARR DEPARTMENT.

Small Wares, Trimmings, Ribbons, Gloves Yarns, Knitting Silks, &c. Corsets, Bustles, &c.

Largest Assortment of Fall and Winter Skirts in all the Desirable Fabrics

Which they are desirous of exchanging for Cash on a basis for goods that will compare favorably with Boston and New York prices.

AYERS & LOCKE.

The Portsmouth Daily Chronicle,

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 2, 1882.

Published every morning, except Sunday, at No. 7 Exchange Building, Pleasant Street.

By mail, postage prepaid, $5 a year. Single Copies, Two Cents.

THE CHRONICLE is served to subscribers in Portsmouth, Kittery, Dover, Rochester and Farmington at 50 Cents per month, hours in advance of any other paper containing the Associated Press Despatches.

The New Hampshire Gazette,

ESTABLISHED OCT. 7, 1756.

The Oldest Newspaper in America. Published every Thursday.

Terms, $1.50 a year in advance.

[Entered at the Post Office at Portsmouth as second class matter.]

W. SCOTT SMITH,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

☞ Rates of advertising made known on application.

Agents for the Daily Chronicle:

MOSES BROS.....PORTSMOUTH.
ROBERTS & AVERY.....FARMINGTON
WORCESTER & GREENFIELD..ROCHESTER
BROWNE BROS.....DOVER.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1888.

Turn on the Lights.

Word reaches us from Washington that Secretary Whitney is likely to go to congress next month and ask for a large deficiency appropriation to carry on the Navy Department until the end of the present fiscal year, the 30th of June next. He must have more money, or work at the several navy yards will have to be completely shut down, and the entire working force suspended until next year's appropriations are made and become available. There was never a more shameful abuse of political power, or disregard of the law, or prostitution of the public funds to political purposes, than has characterized the administration of the Navy Department under Secretary Whitney. A professed reformer, he is a spoilsman of the spoilsmen, and he has taken the millions of money appropriated by congress for meeting the legitimate needs of the navy during the present year, and used it to pack the navy yards with workmen to secure their votes for his political master, Grover Cleveland. We are advised privately from a trustworthy source that Mr. Whitney has expended already ninety-five per cent of the appropriations made for construction and repairs during the present year, and that only about five per cent remains which can be used for repairing our entire navy between now and the first of next July. This being true we can well understand how it is that naval vessels are being sent to sea in a crippled condition instead of receiving necessary repairs, as was the case with the U. S. S. Kearsarge, which sailed from this port on Sunday without being in first-class sea condition. The funds being exhausted, our naval vessels if crippled must remain in such condition for eight months longer, unless congress comes to the relief by passing a deficiency bill. If this deficiency is asked, and it will be, the Senate should not give a dollar until the facts are ascertained regarding the misuse of the money entrusted this year to Mr. Whitney, and laid before the country so that it may be seen to what depths they went and what means were resorted to by the present administration to try and perpetuate themselves in power.

Mr. Sherman and a Political Union with Canada.

A private letter to the Editor of the CHRONICLE from one of the most prominent Republicans of New York expresses the opinion that Secretary Sherman will be called upon by Gen. Harrison to accept the Secretaryship of State in the next administration. It is the opinion of this gentleman that while Senator Sherman would greatly prefer to remain in the Senate he may waive his personal wishes and decide to enter the Cabinet because of the great interest he feels in the project of political union with Canada. As premier Mr. Sherman would be in a position to press actively this matter upon the attention of the Canadian Government, and to secure a proper and full consideration of the matter from that Government.

It is said in New York that the National Democratic Committee collected and spent during the campaign about two millions of dollars. They closed their headquarters on Friday last owing a printer's bill of $16,000, and a number of other bills aggregating about $50,000. During the campaign the Committee maintained about seventy-five weekly newspapers in the four doubtful States. New Hampshire was not considered one of the doubtful States.

There is no clearer-headed man in public affairs today than Senator Frye of Maine. He is quick to comprehend the needs of the people, and comprehending, he is not slow to act. He has nerve backed by common sense and therefore it is that he is one of the foremost men in the Senate, and ready at all times to advocate what he believes to be right. In an interview just published, Mr. Frye expresses the opinion that the Senate will promptly pass the Tariff bill when it reassembles next month, and that if it is not accepted by the House of Representatives, or if accepted and vetoed by the President, that there will be an extra session of Congress called soon after Gen. Harrison is inaugurated for legislation to reduce the revenue. That a tariff reduction bill based upon the Senate bill, and not the Mills bill, will become a law within the next few months Senator Frye considers a settled fact. He considers the verdict of the people at the late election as outspoken in favor of the Senate bill and against the doctrine of free trade concealed in the Mills bill.

The New York Sun is not content with being a witness to the terrible whipping which its candidate for President received on Tuesday of last week at the hands of the people, but is now engaged in the apparently pleasant task of rubbing Mr. Cleveland's wounds with pure salt. In yesterday's issue the Sun says, referring to Cleveland's free trade message:

Now that the crash has come, we invite our contemporaries to consider this, the simplest and most indisputable of present truths:

Mr. Cleveland had no more right to publish such a message than a minister called to a Christian pulpit would have to preach adultery.

To the democratic party, which had elected him, it was betrayal. To the great body of protection democrats it was political treachery, extreme and unprecedented. It was an attempt at what to them was a revolution.

To the Editor of the Daily Chronicle: It is with regret that I read in the papers of our city, and heard of it also on the streets, that an orderly parade of Republicans was attacked by a crowd of roughs on Deer street on Wednesday night, the 7th inst. This line of business is becoming too common here in a city that has until the past few years been looked upon as a model for order and cleanliness. It is only the outcome of the rowdyism of the curb-stone loafers on our public streets. Our city government ignores this. Repeatedly has their attention been called to it. What is the result, only the late attack on the Republican parade led by city officials, who are to govern the city for another year. God grant it be their last. Can it be that there are none in the city but such as they, to fill the important positions of law makers and tax makers? Has our old city, the home so loved by all sons of Portsmouth.—has she descended so low as this? In common with all respectable citizens, I hope not. Now that the sober second thought of the people has so plainly spoken all over our beloved land, let us hope that at our next city election the people will arise in their manhood and turn the rascals out. S.

Mrs. Harrison and Her Family.

A correspondent of the New York World reports an interview with Mrs. Harrison, from which the following is taken:

"Will you tell me of your girlhood days?"

"Yes, they were my happy ones," she said, feelingly. "I was born in Oxford, Ohio. My father, Dr. John W. Scott, was professor of the Miami University at the time of my birth, and was afterwards president of the female college in the same town, which position he held at the time of my marriage. I received my education at the seminary there and was a happy girl. We village girls were very simple in our wants then. We had driving and sleighing parties, but we did not dance. It was considered a great sin there, but we managed to have just as much fun without. We would put on our newly starched calico dresses and sunbonnets, and we were grand and content. Isn't it wonderful how the lives of girls have changed? Imagine any girl during her graduating year wearing a sunbonnet, yet we all did so and were proud of them when newly laundered."

"Where did you meet General Harrison?"

"At Oxford. He was a student at the university and I at the seminary. We were friends and we were graduated the same year. When he was twenty years old and I almost that we were married. So we started in life young and we have never been sorry."

"Are your parents living?"

"My father, who will be eighty-nine years old in January, is living in Washington with my widowed sister, Mrs. Russell Lord. I have also a brother living."

"What family have you?"

"I have a son in Montana. He is married to the daughter of Senator Saunders, the old war Governor. My son has a cattle ranch and is somewhat of a journalist. He has one child, Martiseer, a little daughter. I have a daughter, Mrs. Mary—we call her Mamie—McKee. She lives here with us, and her husband is a tradesmen in a boot and shoe house in this city. They were married when Mr. Harrison was in Washington, so we had them take charge of the house, and since our return they have lived with us. My daughter has two children, Benjamin Harrison McKee, eighteen years old, who is the ninth Benjamin Harrison directly down, and the baby, Mary Lodge McKee, who is but eight weeks old, but is a jolly, plump little fairy."

WHAT IS

SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms legs, or feet; which developes ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors;" which fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Every spring my wife and children have been troubled with scrofula, sores breaking out on them in various places. My little boy, three years old, has been a terrible sufferer. Last spring he was one mass of sores from head to feet. I was advised to use Hood's Sarsaparilla, and we have all taken it. The result is that all have been cured of the scrofula, my little boy being entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy." W. B. ATHERTON, Passaic City, N. J.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

A Watch for a Blind Man.

"This is one of the cutest things in the watch line that has yet appeared," said Jeweler Charles S. Crossman, holding up one of the new Swiss watches designed for the use of the blind. "The old raised figure watches were clumsy, and the blind people were constantly bending or breaking the watch hands by touching them. In this watch a small peg is set in the center of each figure. When the hour hand is approaching a certain hour the peg for that hour drops when the quarter before it is passed. The person feels the peg is down, and then counts back to twelve. He can thus tell the time within a few minutes, and by practice he can become so expert as to tell the time almost exactly. They have been in use about six months, and there is a steady and growing demand for them."—New York Evening Sun.

How to Eat Grapes.

People in grape raising countries eat grapes without chewing, skinning or seeding. The most agreeable way to eat the fruit is to bolt it as fast as it can be swallowed comfortably, pressing the grape between the teeth so as to open up the bulb enough to give the flavor.—Chicago Herald.

Dry rot in timber is said to be contagious, saws and other tools carrying it from the infected wood to sound timber.

The west is a wonderful borrower; but it pledges good security.

Lending here involves no thought, no care, no doubt, when you choose your lender wisely. There is no occasion to guess.

We send a pamphlet.

THE KANSAS CITY INVESTMENT COMPANY, Kansas City, Missouri; or Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

$100,000 Janesville, Wis., Water Co.

First Mortgage 6% Bonds.

DUE AUGUST 1, 1907.

Secured by a Sinking Fund. Descriptive Circulars furnished on application.

Brewster, Cobb & Estabrook,

35 Congress St., Boston.

BURNETT'S PERFECTLY PURE Standard HIGHLY CONCENTRATED Flavoring EXTRACTS

The superiority of these Extracts consist in their

Perfect Purity and Great Strength.

AT

No. 63 Pleasant St

May be our as full and carefully selected a stock of

FINE FANCY AND STAPLE

GROCERIES.

—ALSO—

BOOTS & SHOES

As at any Store east of Boston.

—VERMONT AND CREAMERY—

BUTTER & CHEESE.

Lard Sugar,
Molasses Syrup Oils.
Beans Peas Pickles Crackers.
Salt Pork Salt Fish, Sage Maccaroni.

-COFFEES-

Old Government Java and Rio, ground as ord.

-TEAS-

Best Qualities Formosa and Japan.

— A FULL LINE —

CANNED AND SHELF GOODS.

Pure Spices, Raisins, Currants, Citron, Cocoa, Chocolate, Candied Lemon Peel, and all other Fine Groceries

TOBACCO AND CIGARS.

Brooms, Brushes, Pails, Crockery and Glassware, and a Large

Assortment of Miscellaneous Articles.

Boots and Shoes!

Men's Calf Button Boots,
Men's Calf Balmoral Boots,
Men's Calf French Ties,
Ladies' Kid Button Boots.
Misses' and Children's, Youth's and Boys'.
All Sizes and Kinds.

We make the best selections possible, buying Cash; and for Cash will sell as low as the lowest

☞ Orders filled with care and delivered free to any part of the city.

JOHN J. LASKEY.

NO. 63 PLEASANT STREET.

IF YOU WANT
To Save Two Dollars
ON EVERY BARREL OF FLOUR, USE
Horsford's Bread Preparation.
It costs less than one cent to raise a pound of flour with Horsford's, while with common baking powders the cost is two cents.

EASTERN OFFICE OF
Kansas City Investment Co.,
OVER FIRST NATIONAL BANK, PORTSMOUTH.
CITY MORTGAGES, FARM MORTGAGES,
DEBENTURE BONDS, REAL ESTATE NOTES
☞ INTEREST PAYABLE HERE AT MATURITY. ☜
W. G. MYERS V.

"Florence Home Needle Work" 1888

is now ready. Contains 96 pages with nearly 250 illustrations. The subjects are Damask Stitches—Tapestry and Italian Embroidery—Drawn Work, Darning—Crochet &c. It teaches ladies how to make

Solid Silk Braid

for trimming their garments in latest fashion. Book mailed to any address on receipt of six cents.
NONOTUCK SILK CO., Florence, Mass.

Embalmer and Funeral Director
NO. 60 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH
SAMUEL S. FLETCHER
(SUCCESSOR TO FLETCHER & TANTON.)
COFFINS, ROBES & CASKETS
Always on hand or made to order
Orders by night may be left at No. 42 Daniel St or with A. L. Rice, No. 15 Hill St. or O. W. Ham No 12 Russell St.

Insurance Notice.
THE OLD INSURANCE AGENCY,
AT THE OLD STAND,
No. 13 Pleasant Street,
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.
JOSEPH P. MORSE.

25 CORDS
DRY PINE LIMBS!
At $3.50 Per Cord.
☞ The Very Best of Fuel at a Low Price.
O. F. PHILBRICK & CO.,
COAL AND WOOD DEALERS,
4 Water Street.

WOOD AND COAL!
A Good Assortment of all kinds of Wood and Coal.
Kindling Wood Split to Order.
— ALSO —
Akron Drain and Sewer Pipe.
NO. 13 GREEN STREET,
DANIEL LITTLEFIEL

NEW JEWELRY
— AND —
SILVER GOODS
— AT —
HUTCHINSON'S.

BOOK BINDING
Of Every Desciption,
— DONE AT —
NO. 5 CONGRESS STREET,
(OVER FAY'S STORE.)
Magazines and other Periodicals Bound in Styles to Suit Patrons; Especial Attention given to
REBINDING OLD BOOKS!
For Libraries or Individuals; in short, any work of the kind promptly attended to, and satisfaction guaranteed. ☞ Prices reasonable.
JOHN D. RANDALL.

AN EXTRA LOT OF
SPONGES, CHAMOIS SKINS AND WHIPS,
At Reasonable Prices at
John S. Tilton's
Harness and Trunk Repairer
NO. 18 CONGRESS STREE

Now is the Time to Look Over Your Wardrobe and See What You Need for Winter, and
SIMPSON'S CORNER STORE
Is the place where you can find everything you need in Gentlemen's Wear, at Remarkably Low Prices, for Cash.
— WE HAVE A FULL LINE OF —
OVERCOATS!
Ranging in Prices from $5 to $25.
— A NEW LOT OF —
ULSTERS!
From $6 to $20.
— A FINE ASSORTMENT OF —
UNDERWEAR,
Including the Celebrated CAMEL'S HAIR for the Health.
Cardigan Jackets,
Blue and Fancy Over-Shirts.
(In these Goods we can Fit the Largest Man.)
— A FINE ASSORTMENT OF —
FURNISHING GOODS.
☞ Headquarters for OIL and RUBBER CLOTHING, Wholesale and Retail.
Come and See for Yourselves at the Old Stand,
Corner Market and Bow Streets,
CHARLES E. SIMPSON.

S. Philbrick & Co.,
— MANUFACTURERS OF —
Marble and Granite Work
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.
GRANITE POLISHING A SPECIALTY.
OFFICE AND WORKS.
No. 2 Water Street, Portsmouth

GRANITE STATE Fire Insurance Company,
OF PORTSMOUTH, N. H.
PAID-UP CAPITAL, - $200,000
OFFICERS:
President, FRANK JONES.
Vice President, JOHN W. SANBORN
Secretary, ALFRED F. HOWARD
Treasurer, JOHN LAIGHTON
Executive Committee, FRANK JONES, JOHN W. SANBORN, CHARLES A. SINCLAIR, EDWIN WALLACE and E. W. WINCHESTER

JOSIAH F. ADAMS
Embalmer and Funeral Director,
WAREROOMS: NO. 5 DANIEL ST.
Coffins, Caskets and Robes Always on Hand. Hearse and Carriages Furnished. Cemetery Lots Cared For, &c.
☞ Orders by day or night left at No. 27 Washington St., or with Mr. Robert King, No. 6 Hill St., will receive prompt attention.

☞ THE ONLY
Brilliant Durable Economical DYES
Are Diamond Dyes. They excel all others in Strength, Purity and Fastness. None others are just as good. Beware of imitations—they are made of cheap and inferior materials and give poor, weak, crocky colors.
36 colors; 10 cents each.
Send postal for Dye Book, Sample Card, directions for coloring Photos., making the finest Ink or Mucilage (or cts. a quart), etc. Sold by Druggists or by
WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.
For Gilding or Bronzing Fancy Articles, USE
DIAMOND PAINTS.
Gold, Silver, Bronze, Copper. Only 10 Cents.

We are astonished at parties who introduce new remedies for coughs when they should know the people will have Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

"Kings are like stars, they rise and set." They have headaches, cuts, and hurts like meaner men, and are just as sure to call for Salvation Oil.

One Fact
Is worth a column of rhetoric, said an American statesman. It is a fact, established by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from impure state or low condition of the blood. It also overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

Be Your Own Doctor.
It won't cost you half as much. Do not delay. Send three 2-cent stamps for postage, and we will send you Dr. Kaufmann's great work, fine colored plates from life, on disease, its causes, and home cure. Address Dr. P. Ordway, & Co., Boston, Mass.

—Children shrink from being washed. The same may be said of socks.

"For twenty years I have suffered with a severe bronchial cough, never lying down without a severe attack of the same. After much pursuasion, I was induced to try Adamson's Balsam, and its good effects for six months are certainly marvellous. Please use this truthful testimony for the advantage of all sufferers like myself.
Mrs. Wm. Alden, Duxbury, Mass., Feb. 21, 1887.

—The average pullet takes her eggsit in the spring.

Trial proves that honesty is the best policy in medicine as well as in other things. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a genuine preparation, an unequalled blood purifier, decidedly superior to all others.

—Minister—"Bertie, do you know where the little boys go who catch fish on Sunday?" Bertie—"Yes, sir; most of them go down to Johnson's creek."

Hundreds of letters from those using Hall's Hair Vigor attest its value as a restorer of gray hair to its natural color. As a stimulant and tonic, preventing and curing baldness, and cleansing the scalp, its use cannot be too strongly recommended.

—"Physician, heal thyself!" is an injuction promulgated centuries ago, and now some of the older practitioners are pretty well heeled.

Catarrh originates in scrofulous taint. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and thus permanently cures catarrh.

—Political orator (furiously)—"Now, fellow-citizens, if this man is elected what will be the result?" A voice—"His opponent will be defeated."

To-Night and To-Morrow Night,
And each day and night during this week you can get at all druggists Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, acknowledged to be the most successful remedy ever sold for the cure of Coughs, Croup, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption. Get a bottle to-day and keep it always in the house, so you can check your cold at once. Price 50c and $1.00. Sample bottles free.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.
Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world Price 25 cents a bottle. mon.wed.fri.ddjal

Interested People.
Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam, for Coughs and Colds, does it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles at 50c and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

HUNT'S REMEDY
RELIEVES the Kidneys;
REVIVES the Liver;
SOLD UNIVERSALLY.
eod&g

NOTICE!
FALL
— AND — WINTER
STYLES
NOW READY!
— AT —
MRS. TEBBETTS',
NO. 14 MARKET STREET.

THIS PAPER is on file in Philadelphia at the Newspaper Advertising Agency of Messrs. N. W. AYER & SON, our authorized agents

Paine's CELERY COMPOUND

CURES	PROOFS
Neuralgia	"Paine's Celery Compound cured my nervous sick headaches." Mrs. L. A. BURNTNER, San Jacinto, Cal.
Nervous Prostration	"After using six bottles of Paine's Celery Compound, I am cured of rheumatism." SAMUEL HUTCHINSON, South Corinth, N. H.
Rheumatism	"It has done me more good for kidney disease than any other medicine." GEO. ABBOTT, Sioux City, Iowa.
Kidney Diseases AND All Liver Disorders	"Paine's Celery Compound has been of great benefit for torpid liver, indigestion, and biliousness." ELIZABETH C. UDALL, Quechee, Vt.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.
EPPS'S COCOA
BREAKFAST.
"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame.—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in half-pounds, by Grocers, labelled thus:
JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England.
4 4ec5

WE WANT A GOOD ENERGETIC SALESMAN in every town and city TO SOLICIT ORDERS FOR FRAMING PICTURES. BEST OUTFIT IN THE WORLD and a fortune to all who act. Address H. B. WARDWELL, Lewiston, Me.

POSITIVELY CLOSING WEEK.
GRAND CYCLORAMA
BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG
941 Tremont St., Boston.
Don't fail to see this great work of art.
scene at once.
A new subject now being painted will take place in this building January 1st.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, the great Medical Work of the age on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline, Errors of Youth, &c. 300 pages 8 vo. 125 engravings, full gilt, only $1 by mail, sealed. Illustrative sample free if stamp. Gold Medal awarded to the author by the National Medical Association. Address P.O. Box 1895, Boston, Mass., or Dr. W. H. PARKER, graduate of Harvard Medical College, 25 years' practice in Boston, who may be consulted confidentially. Office, 4 Bulfinch St. Specialty, Diseases of Man.
Cut this out. You may never see it again.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS AND PIANOS
The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.
Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of unequalled excellence of their organs, the highest awards at all the great World's Exhibitions, since the one in Paris, 1867, in which they were the only American organ makers to receive a medal of honor, compared with best makers of all nations. In these competitors, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues FREE. ORGANS $22 TO $900. PIANOS $150 TO $1000.
Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos, that they are superior to all others. They recognize the highest excellence achieved by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but still claim a superiority. This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1882, and now known as the "MASON & HAMLIN PIANO STRINGER," by which is secured the greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity and strength to withstand tuning and other important advantages.
A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians, and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.
Pianos and Organs sold for cash or easy payments; also rented.
MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.
BOSTON. NEW YORK. CHICAGO.
nov24

MARVELOUS
MEMORY DISCOVERY.
Any book learned in one reading
Mind wandering cured.
Speaking without notes.
Piracy condemned by Supreme Court.
Great inducements to correspondence classes
Prospectus, with opinions of Dr. Wm. A. Hammond, the world famed Specialist in Mind diseases, Daniel Greenleaf Thompson, the great Psychologist, J. M. Buckley, D. D., Editor of the Christian Advocate, Richard Proctor, the Scientist, Hons. Judge Gibson, Judah P. Benjamin, and others, sent post free by
Prof. A. LOISETTE, 237 Fifth Ave., New York.

The WITTIEST, PRETTIEST JUVENILE
QUEER PEOPLE
GIANTS & GOBLINS $1.00 — WINGS & STINGS 75c.
By Mail.

(Elopement of the Frog and the Mouse) Full of the oddest pranks, charming stories, laugh-provoking illustrations by the Prince of juvenile artists. Selling immensely. A gem of art. "It sets my little folks wild with delight." Hon. Clinton B. Fisk. "Don't send me another to get the children to bed."—R. H. Cornwell, D. D. "Wonderfully sweet and elegant"—E. Nt. S. S. Cox. "I buy as Keep and Uncle Remus."—Hon. Howard.
AGENTS WANTED.
S. L. GUERNSEY, 36 Bromfield St., Boston.
ov15

COAL! COAL!
Finest Grades, well prepared for Domestic Purposes, constantly Arriving and for Sale at Lowest Prices.
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.
J. ALBERT WALKER
Portsmouth Coal Pockets.

TRAVELLER'S GUIDE.

TRAINS LEAVE

Portsmouth for Boston, 4 55, 7 25, 8 20, 11 05 a. m., 2 55, 5 00, 7 40 p. m. Sundays, 4 05 a. m., 4 00 p. m.

Boston for Portsmouth, 7 30, 9 00, 10 00 a. m., 12 30, 3 30, 4 40, 7 00 p. m. Sundays, 8 00 a. m., 7 00 p. m.

Portsmouth for Portland, 9 55, 10 55 a. m., 2 45, 6 05, p. m. Sundays, 9 37 p. m.

Portland for Portsmouth, 8 00, 9 00 a. m., 1 05, 6 00 p. m. Sundays, 2 00 a. m.

Portsmouth for Dover, 4 09, 9 45 a. m., 12 25, 2 38, 5 22 p. m.

Dover for Portsmouth, 6 55, 10 20 a. m., 1 55, 4 20, 6 40 p. m.

Portsmouth for York Beach, 8 35, 11 10 a. m. 3 25 p. m.

York Beach for Portsmouth, 6 40, 10 00 a. m., 1 40 p. m.

Portsmouth for Concord, 7 55 a. m., 1 00, 5 18 p. m.

Concord for Portsmouth, 7 30, 10 20 a. m ,3 30 p. m.

Portsmouth for Manchester, 7 55 a. m , 1 00, 5 18 p. m.

Manchester for Portsmouth, 8 15, 11 15 a. m., 4 35 p. m.

TRAINS ARRIVE

In Boston from Portsmouth, 6 20, 9 10, 10 55 a m., 1 15, 4 45, 7 10, 9 30 p. m. Sundays, 6 20 a. m., 6 30 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Boston, 9 45, 10 45 a. m., 12 20, 2 35, 5 20, 6 45, 8 57 p. m. Sundays, 10 40 a. m., 8 57 p. m.

In Portland from Portsmouth, 12 00 m., 12 35, 4 40, 11 00 p. m. Sundays, 11 00 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Portland, 3 55, 10 44 a. m., 9 20, 7 15 p. m. Sundays, 8 55 a. m.

In Dover from Portsmouth, 8 40, 10 10 a. m., 12 50, 3 03, 5 47 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Dover, 7 05, 10 44 a. m., 2 20, 4 55, 7 15 p. m.

In Concord from Portsmouth, 10 20 a. m., 3 12, 9 25 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Concord, 10 10 a. m., 12 45, 6 10 p. m.

In Manchester from Portsmouth, 9 42 a. m ,2 30, 7 20 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Manchester, 10 10 a. m., 12 45, 6 10 p. m.

KITTERY AND PORTSMOUTH.

STEAMER MYSTIC.

Leave Hartlett's wharf, Kittery, 6 35, 7 50, 8 45, 10 0, 11 45 a. m., 2 00, 3 15, 4 45, 6 00 p. m. Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 6 30, Saturday evening, 6 30, 8 00.

Leave Broughton's wharf, foot Daniel street, Portsmouth, 7 30, 8 00, 9 30, 11 00 a.m., 12 45, 3 00, 4 30, 5 15, 6 15 p. m., Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7 30, Saturday evenings, 7 30, 9 00

☞ Fare five cents each way.

A FAIR SAMPLE OF 40 SWORN CASES OF THE VALUE OF

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND

THE RADICAL BLOOD PURIFIER.

DIPHTHERIA. SCROFULA.

Miss Lena Judkins, a daughter (17 years old) of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Judkins, 677 Boston St., Lynn, CURED by Dr. Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of very severe case of Scrofula, with Malignant Ulcers of eight years' standing, after 11 Physicians had failed. Almost a miracle. Now in perfect health. Sworn to before HARMON HALL, Justice of the Peace.

SCROFULOUS HUMOR.

Miss Mary Etta Leighton, a daughter (16 yrs. old) of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison G. Leighton, 16 Bickford Court, Lynn, CURED by Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of a deep seated Scrofulous Humor, with discharging eruptions, which had baffled eight physicians and the combined forces of two prominent hospitals. Perfectly cured and without a blemish. Sworn to before CALVIN B. TUTTLE, Justice of the Peace.

Send for circular of 40 Sworn cases. They are solid facts and carry conviction.

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND.

is absolutely the greatest known Remedy for the Radical cure of Scrofula, Cancerous Humors, Diphtheritic or Mineral Blood-Poisoning, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Dropsy and Liver Complaint.

$1. per Bottle (6 for $5). At Druggists.

Lougee Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

DAY'S HORSE POWDER

Prevents Lung Fever and cures Distemper, Heaves, Fevers, &c., &c. 1 pound in each package. Sold by all dealers.

DR. BULL'S BABY SYRUP

Facilitates Teething! Regulates the Bowels! Price 25 Cts. Sold at druggists

25¢ A BOTTLE

SALVATION OIL

KILLS PAIN

For the cure of BULL'S Coughs, Colds, Croup, Asthma, Whooping Cough, COUGH Incipient Consumption and for the relief of Consumptive persons SYRUP

PRICE 25 CTS. For Sale by all druggists

SMOKE LANGE'S CUBEB CIGARETTES for Catarrh! Price 10 Cts. At all druggists.

EDWARD D. COFFIN,

SHERIFF ROCKINGHAM CO. AND U. S. DEPUTY MARSHAL.

Office at No. 3 Market Square, And at the Jail.

Will be at Tisley & Moore's Ins. Office at 9 A. M and 4 o'clock P. M

(TELEPHONE AT THE JAIL).

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

LINGUAL ACQUIREMENTS IN TRADE.

Knowledge of Foreign Languages Needed in Commerce—The German Merchant.

Every large town in the midland region of America—in truth, every large town throughout the entire country—has a greater or less percentage of German citizens, varying from 10 to 40 per cent., and in many cities the school commissioners have made a concession to the German element by including the German language among the branches taught in the public schools. By this course the fact has been established that not only the children of German parents have derived a benefit, but that the studious boys and girls of other nationalities have profited by this opportunity for acquiring German. Experience has shown that this twofold acquisition of language, by practical use, is of very decided utility to the children who embrace it, and the latter make much more rapid progress than such as are taught by means of one language exclusively. In many countries they would esteem themselves peculiarly fortunate in possessing such an advantage—that is to say, a majority of the pupils bringing with them into the school at least a superficial knowledge of two languages. Such an opportunity would be sedulously cultivated, just as the French has been cultivated in the French and Wallon provinces for fully 200 years.

Not so, however, in our own country. Here, the German tongue has had to contend constantly against prejudice or direct hostility. If one takes into consideration the fact that a considerable proportion of the boys instructed in the two tongues later in life enter commercial vocations, this aversion to German will be regarded as unwise and suicidal. The German language is the second most widely spoken on the face of the globe, and a man who understands it well, together with the English, can today engage in business as a commercial traveler in any country that is not European. The trade, for example, of Mexico and Central America is in the hands of German firms, whose members were educated from their boyhood for their future profession, by being compelled to acquire Spanish, at the same time with their mother tongue, and often English and French besides. If an American commercial traveler should enter into conversation with such a merchant, in Guatemala or San Salvador, in his mother tongue, a bond of fellowship is at once established, which is very likely to bear fruits.

A nation that in our day wishes to enjoy consideration in the markets of the world must possess polyglot acquirements. For this reason Germans succeed in all parts of the world, whilst Englishmen or Frenchmen are complaining of stagnation in business. The German imperial government encourages these efforts in all directions, and last winter the permanent establishment of an oriental department in the Berlin university was decided upon, not less as a measure for the promotion of commerce than as a facility for learned investigation. The German trade's organ, Export, thus expresses itself upon this subject: "Today it is no longer sufficient to understand English and French; the period in which the German merchant supposed he had acquired a knowledge sufficient of foreign languages, in possessing these two, is long past." At present a large and active commerce throughout the whole globe has been established. The long locked up countries of Africa have been thrown open to the world—Asia is everywhere accessible. Now, for the first time, our minds fully realize how numerous is mankind—how multiform are nations and how many tongued likewise. Even in India, whose sovereignty resides in the hands of Great Britain, there is only a very small minority that can speak more than a word or two of English.

The merchant of modern times must, to be successful, understand foreign tongues—the more the better, and the school authorities, instead of acting as the dog in the manger, should afford to the rising generation every opportunity to acquire them, especially where this can be done at the expenditure of so little time and cost as is attached to the acquisition of German in most of our cities, by the system indicated.—Translated for Public Opinion from the Baltimore Correspondent.

An Opium Eater's Face.

The effect of the drug on the physique of a person varies somewhat. Sometimes he will become dreadfully emaciated, but if the appetite keeps good he will not decrease in weight. There is always, however, a peculiar color about an opium eater's face, and by that he can be known; the complexion assumes the color of old brass, having a peculiar death like hue, but it is seldom that the digestion is impaired.

Opium affects the spinal cord and brain principally. The nerve power of the opium eater is very much lessened without the opium, and it is very much increased with the drug until the end comes. The death of the opium eater is not marked by any particular scenes of horror. I have seen several opium eaters die a very pleasant death, and I do not know that I ever saw a very bad death among such patients.—E. N. Carpenter, M. D., in The Epoch.

Principles of Insurance.

It is surprising that the public know so little about insurance, when more people are interested in it than in anything else. There is scarcely a family in the land in which there is not one or more persons interested in either life, fire, marine, accident or live stock insurance—in fact, insurance is something that is of vital interest in every household; is more talked about and more thought of than anything else. Nevertheless the great mass of mankind are as ignorant of its principles as they are of the component parts of the sun.—Insurance Agent in Globe-Democrat.

Negroes' Poetical Superstition.

The country negroes in South Carolina, Georgia and portions of Florida have a very pretty and somewhat poetical superstition. During the stillness of the night, when the gentle swaying pine trees are singing their weird requiems, whole families will sit about their cabin doors and listen intently to this music of the forest. In its changing melody they hear the voices of dead friends predicting good or evil for the future or revealing secrets of the tomb.—Brooklyn Citizen.

A Sleepy Headed Duke.

The Duke of Edinburgh is getting up a reputation as the champion sleeper and also as the champion boor among all the royal personages of Europe. Last spring this sleepy headed admiral laid such stress upon the enjoyment of his slumbers at Cannes, on the occasion of Queen Victoria's visit to that place, that he refused to allow the British fleet under his command to return the royal salute of the French squadron to his mother until he had slept all he wanted to, which did not come to pass until several hours after the time that official courtesy demanded an acknowledgment in kind of the noisy welcome of the French guns. Of course, the French admiral and the French people were furious over this marked discourtesy.

But the Duke of Edinburgh sleeps in spite of everything. For example, it is reported that recently the British Mediterranean fleet arrived at an Algerian port and the French officials went on board the flagship to pay their respects to the duke as the commander of the squadron. But Edinburgh was at his usual business. He was so fast asleep that his valet refused to arouse him, and the insulted Frenchmen hurried ashore without a chance to pay their respects. The mattress of this boorish duke must certainly be stuffed with poppies.—New York Graphic.

Demand for Water Wheels.

"The day of the water wheel is over," said a large manufacturer. "I don't know of any business that has suffered so much as ours from new inventions. The many excellent portable and gas engines that have been put on the market within the last few years have almost entirely superseded the cumbersome water wheel. There will undoubtedly always be a certain demand for wheels where they have been already in operation and where the water supply is good, but new factories find it cheaper to run by steam than to build mill dams. The new order of things no longer leaves the manufacturer at the mercy of the elements. Fortunes have been lost on forfeited contracts by mills having to close down in the busy season on account of long continued drought. The water wheel trade is now largely confined to foreign markets and new countries. They disappear as population increases and gas is introduced."—New York Evening Sun.

Chili's Orphan Asylum.

In the orphan asylum at Santiago there are said to be 2,000 children of unknown parentage, supported by the church, and this in a city of 200,000 people. There is a convenient mode for the disposition of foundlings. In the rear wall surrounding the place is an aperture, with a wooden box or cradle which swings out and in. A mother goes there at night, places the little one in the cradle, swings it inside, and the nuns on guard, hearing a bell that rings automatically, take the infant to the nursery. However this plan may be regarded by stern moralists, it is certainly an improvement on infanticide—a crime almost unknown in Chili.—Harper's Magazine.

Food of the Faithful.

The Turkish cuisine must be tasted to be appreciated. The basis of all culinary operations in Stamboul is a certain kind of tallow extracted from the broad and thick extremity of the Caraman sheep. This tallow has an odor so potent that we would not use it even for candles. The Turks are essentially vegetarians. They eat beef very rarely, and never pork or veal. They indulge in ducks, lean fowls and finally sheep, the flesh of which they cut off in small pieces. These pieces are strung upon long spits, which are held and turned for some minutes over hot coals, where they are slowly roasted, retaining all their juices. This is what is called kebab, a healthful and nutritious food, which Europeans find delicious. Turkish pastry is quite varied, and would not be disagreeable if honey and sugar were not used so abundantly, and if the taste of tallow could be excluded. Baklava and ekmek kataif (thick cakes cooked in honey, perfumed with rosewater and covered with caimak, a kind of cream) in particular, recall very savory memories.

Pashas and rich Turks always have at their repasts a great number of dishes, which the servants bring in on brass platters and place on the mat on the floor or sometimes on small low tables, around which the guests squat themselves. They eat in silence and in a grave manner, and serve themselves generally with their fingers as well as with their forks, and with their teeth as well as with their knives. Nevertheless, they deign to use a spoon to convey to their mouths food that is not very solid, like stewed rice, malebi, a kind of cooked cream and mourt, thick and bitterish milk, of all of which they are very fond. Their drink consists of clear water, but this does not prevent them from imbibing before their repast a white liquor, raki, which is made of the gum of the mastic tree mixed with alcohol. It is an agreeable drink, but it is used like absinthe, the taste and properties of which it possesses. Its use, and even its abuse, does not bring remorse to the conscience of the Turks, for Mohammed has forbidden them to use wine, but he forgot, prophet though he was, to foresee the manufacture of raki, an invention more modern than his own.—American Analyst.

The Shakers of New Lebanon.

They are queer people to look at. If they were not pitiful they would seem ridiculous. The men, as a rule, are tall, thin, bent. They dress in conventional garments of dark colors, which fit them like the covers on bicycles; not as well, perhaps. They wear hats of different materials, but all have a very broad brim. The broadness of the brim seems to indicate devoutness, as the length of the finger nail in China indicates scholarly rank. When they go to church the men march together, two and two. They bend slightly, fix their eyes ahead of them, say never a word. A smile seems a sin. They pay great attention to dietetics, but are mostly poor subjects physically. Any student of religion from the standpoint of social utility would find them a valuable field of investigation, just as all abnormal cases throw light on the vexed problems of any science.

The women appear better. There is a peculiar cheerlessness and sweetness about them unless they are over 35, when, as a rule, they show physical decadence disproportionate to their years. They dress in deep Shaker bonnets of yellow straw and wear gray gowns without artificial aids to symmetry. The skirts fall away from the waist straight and simple. An invariable handkerchief about the neck covers the chest in prim simplicity. The dresses vary slightly in color, but are all in soft grays and browns. The effect of a small company of them marching to church is unique. They look exactly like the little women that come in toy boxes for toy villages. At times they seem like strange flocks of little human birds with the lavender and white plumage of the sea gull. The faces of the young women are bright and cheery and fresh. Those of the elders are drawn and unhappy.

Old Time Railroad Business.

No man will dispute the fact that the railroad business of the country has come down to cold facts. The romance that invested the old timers has departed, and sobriety and energy have taken the place of drunkenness and dare devilry. Why, in the old times, conductors on Texas runs used to turn in "cash fares" aggregating from 75 cents to $2, when the trip was worth in cold cash all the way from $75 to $200. A regular association operated on all the trunk lines, and at junction points the brakeman of one train would unblushingly lead a crowd of travelers to the conductor of another road, and after telling him they were "straight" he would return and divide their part of the through rate. In this way everything went on a mileage basis, each road kept its own fares, and there was no expensive pro rata adjustments at the end of the month. Spotting, checks on the lines, diagrams and berth checks have killed nearly all crooked work on the sleeping car systems, but the most effective remedy was adopted by the two great companies. They have so many men ready for service that they can change the runs often enough to prevent doubtful conductors or porters learning their run well enough to get ahead of the company.—Railroad Detective in Globe-Democrat.

Never Get Beyond Twenty-Two Inches.

Writing of waists, it has often occurred to me, when reading "dress exchange columns," that women, in mentioning the size of their waists, never seem to get beyond the regulation twenty-two inches. Occasionally, I notice some courageous individual announces that she measures twenty-three inches, but beyond that no one seems to dare go. Oftener than not we see eighteen, nineteen, twenty and twenty-one inches severally quoted as being the waist size. Now, one cannot help a feeling of certainty that in countless cases this does not represent nature's standard. It is too uniform by far, for the great mother delights in variety, never more openly expressed than in relation to the human form divine. Alas, the divinity of shape is often destroyed by foolish folks who think some reduction of size absolutely essential to beauty. I am sure any one who has noticed the fact I draw attention to will see that between twenty-three and twenty-eight inches is a great gulf fixed, and that very few unmarried women will confess to intermediate inches.—Cor. Fashion Journal.

The Air of "John Brown's Body."

You were pleased to publish, a few days ago, a communication from me on the subject of the genesis of the song of "John Brown." That of the air to which it is sung is also very interesting, and belongs to a complete history of the "Marseillase" of the emancipation. Though adapted to a Methodist hymn, it appears in the beginning to have been some kind of a voudoo song and may be possibly of purely negro origin. Lieut. Chandler, in an article on Sherman's march to the sea, says that during a halt at Shady Dale, in Georgia, the (Federal) band struck up "John Brown's body lies moldering in the grave." Great was the amazement of the soldiers to see a number of negro girls come out one by one from the deserted houses, and, forming a circle round the band, dance in a grave and dignified manner without smiling, as if in some kind of a magical or religious ceremony. The dance over they disappeared. The band played other airs, but the girls did not reappear; and their modest and earnest deportment on this occasion made an impression on the spectator. Inquiry of an old negro woman elicited the fact that the air was known as "the wedding tune," that it had no connection with hymns or songs, and that the colored girls all believed that they must dance whenever they heard it played or that they would never be married. The words and name of "John Brown's Body" were as yet unknown to every one then, in that obscure corner of the south, "I was convinced," says the writer, "that the tune was older where the words were unknown than where they were familiar."

I can only add that there are yet in existence in the United States several voudoo airs and dances, and that one of the most accomplished ladies whom I ever met had learned something of them. It is very probable, as I have already suggested, that in its origin "John Brown" belongs to this "mysterious music."—Charles G. Leland in St. James' Gazette.

Three Sorts of Love.

In one of his novels Tolstoi dismisses for the time being the love felt by a young man for a young girl, or vice versa—attachments which he says always fill him with dismay—and proceeds to divide love—by which he means love felt by a human creature for other human creatures—into three kinds—elegant love, devoted love, and active love. The first he defines as consisting in being enamored of the beauty of the sentiment which one experiences, and of a complacent satisfaction in the expression of it.

"In my country," he goes on, "people of a certain class, who love in this elegant fashion, are not content to speak of it to everybody; they always speak of it in French. It is an absurd and grotesque thing to say; but I am convinced that there have been, and are—in a certain circle—many persons, especially women, in whom the love they feel for friends, husband, and children would cease the moment it was forbidden to be expressed in French." Devoted love consists, on the other hand, in loving the operation of the sacrifice one makes in behalf of the beloved object, without troubling one's self in the least to ascertain whether the beloved object will find him or herself the better or worse for it. This sort of love is analyzed and illustrated with astonishing penetration; the truth with which the author points out the jealousy and the harassing nature of this love being at times almost painful. Thirdly, and finally, active love consists in a vehement desire to satisfy all the needs, wants, caprices, reasonable and unreasonable, of the beloved one.

Even the faults of the beloved are dear to those possessed by this love, inasmuch as they furnish further needs to be satisfied. "Such persons," he adds, "rarely express their love in words, and if they do so it is awkwardly and shyly expressed, for they are always afraid of not loving enough."—London Society.

What a Small Boy Can Do.

It appears impossible to predict what the average small boy will do under almost any given circumstances if he has an opportunity to work mischief. The following story from Pilot Point, Tex., serves to illustrate the point taken: Newton Tabor was digging a well. To blast out the rock he used dynamite inclosed in small metallic capsules. In the course of his operations he deposited an open box of these dangerous capsules at the root of a tree near where he was working. A ladder leaning against the tree reached up to a mocking bird's nest containing a young brood. His 10-year-old son Dick, with a couple of the capsules in his hand, ascended the ladder, and discovering the nest and being armed with distended mouths, boy like, dropped the capsules, one at a time, in one bird's mouth. They forthwith disappeared in the bird's craw. This rendered the bird uncomfortable, and in a struggle for relief it fell from the nest. Upon striking the ground an explosion occurred which tore up the earth, dumped a quantity of the loose dirt, and the fragments of rock piled around into the well and came near killing Mr. Tabor, who was working down below. The boy fell from the ladder and was badly hurt, suffering the fracture of some bones. This shows what a boy will do when he gets a chance. —New Orleans Picayune.

The main strength of American wrought iron is 45,900 pounds; English, 43,741.

MAKE HENS LAY

WE SEND BY MAIL A LARGE 2¼ POUND CAN FOR $1.20, TWO $ SMALL PACKS 50 CTS POST PAID. SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER. NOTHING ON EARTH WILL MAKE HENS LAY LIKE

Sheridan's Condition Powder

is absolutely pure and highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other kind. Strictly a medicine, to be given in the food, once daily, in small doses. Prevents and cures all diseases of hens. Worth its weight in gold when hens are moulting, and to keep them healthy. Testimonials sent free by mail. Ask your druggist, grocer, general store, or feed dealer for it. If you can't get it, send 1$ at once to us. Take no other kind. We will send postpaid by mail as follows:—A new, finely elegantly illustrated copy of the "PARMERS' POULTRY RAISING GUIDE" (price 25 cents; tells how to make money with a few hens), and two small packages of Powder for 60 cents; or, one large 2½ lb. can and Guide, $1.20. Sample package of Powder, 25 cents; five for $1.00. Six large cans, prepaid, for $5.00. Send stamps or cash. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., 22 Custom-House St., Boston.

Cure Your Corns,

BY USING SCHLOTTERBECK'S CORN, WART AND BUNION SOLVENT A CURE IS GUARANTEED.

THE JOB PRINTING

Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD L. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line. Give him a trial and you will be more than pleased.

CAUTION

Beware of Fraud, as my name and the price are stamped on the bottom of all my advertised shoes before leaving the factory, which protect the wearer against high prices and inferior goods. If a dealer offers W. L. Douglas shoes at a reduced price, or says he has them without my name and price stamped on the bottom, put him down as a fraud

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE. FOR GENTLEMEN.

The only calf $3 SEAMLESS Shoe smooth inside. NO TACKS or WAX THREAD to hurt the feet, easy as hand-sewed and WILL NOT RIP. W. L. DOUGLAS $4 SHOE, the original and only hand-sewed welt $4 shoe. Equals custom-made shoes costing from $6 to $8.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.50 POLICE SHOE. Railroad Men and Letter Carriers all wear them. Smooth inside as a Hand-Sewed Shoe. No Tacks or Wax Thread to hurt the feet.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.50 SHOE is unexcelled for heavy wear. Best Calf Shoe for the price.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.25 WORKINGMAN'S SHOE is the best in the world for rough wear; one pair ought to wear a man a year.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2 SHOE FOR BOYS is the best School Shoe in the world.

W. L. DOUGLAS $1.75 YOUTH'S School Shoe gives the small Boys a chance to wear the best shoes in the world.

All made in Congress, Button and Lace. If not sold by your dealer, write

W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

FOR SALE BY

OREN BRAGDON & SON, NO. 24 MARKET STREET

BILIOUSNESS.

This very common complaint, caused by a dormant or torpid liver, can be cured in a short time by using Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, as can also the various diseases arising from inactive liver or kidneys. These organs, if inactive, will allow impure blood to enter the heart, causing tightness about that organ and palpitation.

She suffered thirty years.

Mrs. Dudley Chandler, of Melrose, Mass., says; "I had suffered with Palpitation of the Heart more than thirty years before I found anything to give me essential relief. Last fall I tried Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, and, remarkable as it was, this Compound relieved me in two days, so that for several months afterwards I felt not the slightest touch of it, and am perfectly free from it now. Sometimes, before I took this Compound, the pulsations of my heart were so violent as to shake my whole body with rapid agitations, and at times I fainted and became entirely insensible. Now I am perfectly free from all this suffering. Consequently I can most sincerely and earnestly recommend this Compound to all like sufferers, as pre-eminently the best medicine I ever knew for Palpitation of the Heart."

This Compound is purely Vegetable, and strengthens and builds up the system while it eradicates disease.

Ingalls' Mandrake Compound is sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles for $5. Prepared only by the INGALLS MEDICAL CO., Lowell, Mass.

FOR SALE BY

A. P. PRESTON

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier KNOWN.

This Great German Medicine is the cheapest and best. 128 doses of SULPHUR BITTERS for $1.00, less than one cent a dose. It will cure the worst cases of skin disease, from a common pimple on the face to that awful disease Scrofula. SULPHUR BITTERS is the best medicine to use in all cases of such stubborn and deep seated diseases. Do not fail to get it of your druggist. Use it at once. BLUE PILLS and mercury, they are dead by. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made. Sulphur Bitters!

Is your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. The Invalid's Friend. Immediately. Is your tongue clean? Are you free from the thick mucus? Are your eyes clear? Are your ears free from discharges? Are your nerves quiet? Are you free from pimples? Are your bowels regular? Are your kidneys healthy? Are your limbs free from pain? Are your muscles firm? Are your nerves strong? Are you free from nervous twitchings? Are you free from nervous dreams? Are you free from nervous headache? Are you free from nervous debility? Are you free from the blues? Are you free from the effects of tobacco? Are you free from the effects of opium? Are you free from the effects of alcohol? Are you free from the effects of any poisonous medicine? Are your kidneys healthy? Are your bowels free from costiveness? Are your bowels free from diarrhœa? Are your bowels free from dysentery? Are your bowels free from cholera? Are your bowels free from cholera morbus? Are your bowels free from cholera infantum? Are your bowels free from colic? Are you free from boils? Are you free from blotches? Are you free from eruptions? Are you free from tetter? Are you free from ringworm? Are you free from scurvy? Are you free from itch? Are you free from scaly eruptions? Are you free from rheumatism? Are you free from gout? Are you free from neuralgia? Are you free from kidney complaints? Are you free from dropsy? Are you free from dyspepsia? Are you free from liver complaint? Are you free from piles? Are you free from constipation? Are you free from female complaints? Are you free from all impurities of the blood? If not, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you.

Don't Wait! Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is

Try a Bottle To-day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you.

Send 3 2 cent stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., for best medical work published.

RAYMOND'S VACATION EXCURSIONS.

ALL TRAVELLING EXPENSES INCLUDED.

A WINTER IN CALIFORNIA.

The second, third and fourth parties of the season will leave Boston in December and January, in special trains of magnificent vestibuled palace cars, with palace dining-cars attached, for Pasadena, Los Angeles, and other points in Southern California. The dates and routes are as follows:

Thursday, December 6, via Buffalo, Chicago Kansas City, Santa Fe, Albuquerque, San Bernardino, etc.

Monday, January 7, via Buffalo, Detroit, Cincinnati, Mammoth Cave, New Orleans, Galveston, San Antonio, etc.

Thursday, January 10, via Buffalo, Chicago, Kansas City, Santa Fe, Albuquerque, San Bernardino, etc.

Sixteen Returning Parties, under special escort, over Five Different Routes. Return tickets also good on all Trains. Independent tickets, covering every expense both ways, and giving entire freedom to the passenger while in California, and also in making the journey homeward. Hotel coupons supplied for long or short sojourns at all the Leading Pacific Coast Resorts.

Dates of other California Excursions.—February 7, 11, and 25; March 4 and 11.

Dates of Mexico Excursions.—January 14, February 11, and March 11.

Dates of Washington Excursions (the only ones the present season).—January 15 and February 15.

W. RAYMOND. I. A. WHITCOMB.

☞ Send for descriptive circular, designating whether book relating to California, Mexico, or Washington tours is desired.

W. RAYMOND,

296 Washington St. (opposite School St.), BOSTON, MASS. no14

COLD WEATHER MUSIC BOOKS.

The chill November winds, the whirling withered leaves that tap against the window pane, harmonize well with the sweet music and the cheerful songs that are to make winter homes at ease. With your fuel, bring in a goodly quantity of bright

New Music Books.

These new books are every day more in favor:

Classical Pianist, Piano Classics, Song Classics, Song Classics for Low Voices, Classic Tenor Songs, Classic Baritone and Bass Songs. Each $1.

Praise in Song (40 cts., $4.20 per doz.) is the best new Sacred Music Book for Home and Vestry singing.

Let the Children sing from Menard's Songs for Kindergarten and Primary Schools ($3 cts.) or Jenk's Songs and Games for Little Ones ($2) or Children's School Songs ($3 cts., $3 60 per doz.) All have very sweet child's songs.

Give your aid in getting up a rousing good evening singing Class to use Song Harmony (60 cts., $6 per doz.) Full of most interesting music, sacred and secular. Song Manual, Book II (50 cts., $4.80 per doz.) is also a good collection, mostly secular.

Tell the Temperance People that no better Temperance Song Book has appeared than Bells of Victory (35 cts., $3.60 per doz.)

Xmas is coming. Send for lists of Christmas Cantatas and Carols.

ANY BOOK MAILED FOR RETAIL PRICE.

Oliver Ditson & Co., Boston.

50 Changes The WONDERFUL LUBURG CHAIR

Combining Parlor, Library, Easy, Rocking, Reclining, Invalid CHAIR, Lounge, Bed, or COUCH. Price $7.00 up. We make the largest variety. Adjustable, Reclining, Parlor and Surgeons' Operating Invalid Rolling, Hammock, Office, Library

Fancy Carpet Folding, Reed and Rattan CHAIRS at ROCKERS, BICYCLES, TRICYCLES, TOCOPEDES and SELF PROPELLERS

ALL KINDS OF APPLIANCES FOR INVALIDS

BABY COACHES

Over 100 different designs.

Our Patent Automatic Brake on all Carriages, free. We have discontinued wholesaling; by placing your orders direct with the makers you can save several profits. Our selling prices and special Bargains will astonish you. Goods sold under a guarantee and delivered free to any point in United States. Send stamp for Catalogue, and state class of goods you wish it for

LUBURG MFG. CO.

145 North Eighth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

A MAN

UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THE COUNTRY WILL OBTAIN MUCH INFORMATION FROM A STUDY OF THIS MAP OF THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'y

Its main lines and branches include CHICAGO, PEORIA, MOLINE, ROCK ISLAND, DAVENPORT, DES MOINES, COUNCIL BLUFFS, MUSCATINE, KANSAS CITY, ST. JOSEPH, LEAVENWORTH, ATCHISON, CEDAR RAPIDS, WATERLOO, MINNEAPOLIS and ST. PAUL, and scores of intermediate cities. Choice of routes to and from the Pacific Coast. All transfers in Union depots. Fast trains, Day Coaches, elegant Dining Cars, magnificent Pullman Palace Sleepers, and (between Chicago, St. Joseph, Atchison and Kansas City) Reclining Chair Cars, free to holders of through first-class tickets.

Chicago, Kansas & Nebraska R'y "Great Rock Island Route."

Extends West and Southwest from Kansas City and St. Joseph to NELSON, NORTON, BELLE VILLE, TOPEKA, HERINGTON, WICHITA, HUTCHINSON, CALDWELL, and all points in KANSAS AND SOUTHERN NEBRASKA and beyond. Entire passenger equipment of the celebrated Pullman manufacture. All safety appliances and modern improvements.

The Famous Albert Lea Route

Is the favorite between Chicago, Rock Island, Atchison, Kansas City and Minneapolis and St. Paul. Its Watertown branch traverses the great "WHEAT AND DAIRY BELT" of Northern Iowa, Southwestern Minnesota, and East Central Dakota to Watertown, Spirit Lake, Sioux Falls and many other towns and cities.

The Short Line via Seneca and Kankakee offers superior facilities to travel to and from Indianapolis, Cincinnati and other Southern points.

For Tickets, Maps, Folders, or desired information, apply at any Coupon Ticket Office or address

E. ST. JOHN, Gen'l Manager. E. A. HOLBROOK, Gen'l Ticket & Pass Agt. CHICAGO, ILL.

Be HONEST and chew FINZER'S OLD HONESTY CHEWING TOBACCO which is ONLY for Chewing and NOT for Smoking. The BEST chewing tobacco CANNOT be good for Smoking. OLD HONESTY is the BEST AND CHEAPEST TOBACCO made. Insist on having the GENUINE with the red H tin tag, made only by, John Finzer & Bros., Louisville, Ky.

TRANSPORTAION'

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

Eastern Division.

TRAINS LEAVE PORTSMOUTH FOR Boston, 4 05, 7.25, 8.20, 11.05 a. m. 2.55, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m. 4.00 p. m. Returning, 7.50, 9.00, 10.00 a. m. 12.30, 3.30, 4.40, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.00 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

Portland, 9.55, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m. Returning, 2.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.00, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 2.00 a. m.

Bangor, St. John and Halifax, 10.55 a. m., 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.00 p. m.

Great Falls and Wolfeboro Junc., 9.55 a. m., 2.45, 5.30 p. m.

Wolfeboro, 9.55, a. m., 5.30 p. m.

North Conway, 9.55 a. m., 2.45 p. m.

Dover, 4.50, 9.45, a. m., 12.25, 2.38, 5.22 p. m.

YORK HARBOR AND BEACH R. R.

York Beach and Way Stations, (via York Harbor and Beach R. R.) 8.30, 11.10 a. m., 5.35 p. m. Returning, leave York Beach 6.40, 10.00 a. m., 1.40, p. m. Connecting with trains leaving Portsmouth for Boston.

Jas T. Furber, Gen'l Manager. D. J. Flanders, Gen'l Passenger Agt.

Concord & Portsmouth Railroad.

Passenger trains leave Eastern Railroad Station for Newmarket Junction, Manchester, Concord and upper Branches, as follows:

UP TRAINS.

Leave	M. P. M.	P. M.	P. M.
Portsmouth	7.55	1 00	5 15
Greenland	8.05	1 05	5 25
Newmarket Junction	8 25	1 25	5 40
East Epping		1 37
Epping	8 43	1 37	6 1
West Epping	8 49		6 17
Raymond	9 00	1 55	6 28
Candia	9 13	2 05	6 40
Auburn	9 22		6 57
Manchester	9 35	2 20	7 20
Arrive Manchester	9 42	2 30	7 26
" Concord	10 30	3 12	8 28

DOWN TRAINS.

Leave	A. M.	P. M.	P. M.
Concord	7.50	10 20	3.25
Manchester	8 15	11 15	4 25
Manchester	8 27	11 25	4 36
Auburn	8 35		4 44
Candia	8 44	11 40	4.54
Raymond	9 05	11 58	5 13
West Epping	9 13	P. M.	5 26
Epping	9 20	12 08	5 37
East Epping		12 14
Newmarket Junction	9.46	12 24	5 42
Greenland

POST OFFICE RULES.

MAILS CLOSE

	A.M.		P.M.
Boston, N. Y., south, west,	8:00	10:20	2:20	4:50	6:45
Boston and way stations,		10:20	2:20		6:45
Portland,	9:25		4:50		6:45
Portland and way stations,	9:25		4:50
East [beyond Portland]	9:25				6:45
Great Falls, Rochester, Wolfeboro' Union Milton,	9:25				4:50
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,	9:25
Concord & Manchester,	7:40	10:20			4:50
Concord, Manchester and north,	7:40		4:50
Exeter and B. & M. way, west of Newmarket,	7:40		4:50
Dover,	9:25		2:20	4:50	6:45
North Conway,	9:25				6:45
York and Cape Neddick,		9:25
Newcastle,		10:20
Newington,		10:20
Boston, N. Y. and south, Monday,					1:00

MAILS ARRIVE.

	A.M.		P.M.
Boston, south and west,	10:25	3:10	5:40	7:00
[illegible]				9:00
New York,	10:25		5:40	7:00
Boston and way stations,	10:25		5:40
Portland and east,	7:30	11:00	3:30
Great Falls, Rochester, Union, Milton,	8:30	11:00
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,		11:00
Concord, Manchester and north,	10:30		6:30
Dover,	7:00	10:30		3:00	5:40
Newcastle,		9:30
Newington,		9:30
York and Cape Neddick,		11:00
B. & M. R. R., west of Newmarket,	10:30		6:30

S. J. GERRISH, P. M.

MINATURE ALMANAC NOV. 13.

SUN RISES	6:24	MOON SETS	1:24 P. M
SUN SETS	4:24	FULL SEA	7:30 A. M
LENGTH OF DAY	9:58		8 P. M

PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Open Monday, Tuesday, Friday and Saturday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30 P. M., and Wednesday and Saturday afternoons from 2:00 to 6:00 o'clock

Weather Indications.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

For Maine, fair; slightly warmer in southern portions, stationary temperature in northern portion, northerly winds, shifting to easterly. For New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts, fair, slight rise in temperature, variable winds, shifting to easterly.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COUT.

Chief Justice Doe and Judge Carpenter are sitting at the supreme court which was adjourned over from Oct. 17th to Nov. 19th. The case of the State against James Palmer, for the murder of Henry T. Whitehouse on May 28th last, was called by assignment. The prosecution moved for a delay of twenty-four hours on account of the discovery of new evidence. The court granted the motion, and after cautioning the jurors to keep aloof from all conditions which might be construed, after the trial, as having influenced their decision, excused them until to-day at noon, when the empanneling of a trial jury will commence.

The prisoner, Palmer, was brought into court, and was apparently as comfortable, both mentally and physically, as any one in the court room. He was neatly attired, and had evidently given much attention to his personal appearance. He was allowed to greet and chat with friends who are witnesses in the case, and no person going into the court room would have looked upon James Palmer and pronounced him charged with a capital crime, so far as his behavior or appearance would indicate. He manifested a quiet interest in the proceedings, and looked over the faces of the men of whom twelve will be selecte to try him for his life, as any ordinary observer would do.

Attorney General Daniel Barnard of Franklin, and County Solicitor Samuel W. Emery of this city, are conducting the case for the State, and the prisoner is defended by Calvin Page of this city and Gen. Gilman Marston of Exeter.

Much interest is being manifested by the public at large, and the court room is likely to be taxed to its utmost capacity while the case is on.

ACCIDENTAL.

A heavy express wagon on the way to the railroad station from the post-office with the United States mails, Monday afternoon about five o'clock, turned from Fleet street into Congress just in time to collide with a much lighter wagon in which was a mason named Smith, belonging in the Brixham district of York. The York man immediately became aware that it was a very dangerous thing for the public to have anything to do with the mails as conducted by the present administration, his team and himself being at once reduced to chaos. His wagon was knocked over, and himself and various packages distributed in the gutter and on the pavement in front of Plummer's store; one axle of the wagon was sprung, one wheel "dished" the wrong way, the cross-bar broken, letting the shafts spread until a yoke of oxen could have got between them, and the sides of the wagon smashed; the harness also was broken in several places. The man got up with muddied clothing, a bruised shoulder, a dazed look on his face and the reins around his neck, the horse fortunately standing still as soon as the collision took place. After gathering himself together he stored the wreck of his team, including the horse, in McCue's stable, and went in search of the driver of the team which struck his.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

It is rumored in naval circles that Capt. Robert H. Bradford is going to Washington soon to endeavor to get the command of the Boston, or some one of the other ships soon to go into commission. His three years of duty at the Navy Yard here are about up, and rumor has it that he prefers sea duty to waiting orders.

Of the two hundred and eighty-odd men employed in the Department of Construction and Repair during the past month, over one hundred have been discharged, and the balance of them have been laid off, not a man in that department

It is to be hoped that the other departments will not have to treat their forces to the same kind of reform.

Now that the Kearsarge has gone, the attention of the Department of Steam Engineering will be directed to the U. S. tug Leyden, which is badly in need of repairs. She is to be inspected on Wednesday, in all probability, with a view to ascertaining the extent of repairs necessary, and work on her will be commenced immediately.

RYE REPUBLICANS TO CELEBRATE.

The Rye republicans will celebrate the election of Harrison and Morton on Thursday evening by a parade and a collation. Invitations have been extended to the republicans of Hampton and North Hampton to participate in the jollification. A general good time is expected.

POLICE COURT—BATCHELDER J.

MONDAY, Nov. 12th.

Albert Ham, John Foley, Michael Norton and Patrick Donovan, for drunkenness, will at once return to Brentwood to board at the county establishment there, which institution they all left the same day, Nov. 5th, after sojourns of different lengths. Ham and Foley were fined $5 each, and Norton and Donovan $3 each, the costs in each case being $5.76.

PERSONAL.

—Chief Justice Doe is a guest of Geo. W. Haven, Esq., Islington street.

—Judge A. P. Carpenter is a guest of the Rockinghan.

—Daniel Barnard, Attorney General, and Gilman Marston are also guests of the Rockingham.

—Wm. B. Ogden and wife, of New York, who have been passing some weeks with Mrs. Ogden's parents in this city, left for their home last Saturday.

—Mrs. Josiah W. Hussey of Hanover street started on Monday for Wakefield, this state, to visit relatives and friends there.

The republican campaign clubs of Kittery, with many other republicans of the town, will go to York by special train on Thursday evening, the 15th inst., to take part in the great republican hilariousness there that evening. They will take along with them the two guns recently used to fire salutes at the Foreside and the Point, and a competent party of skilled cannoneers to serve them. The train will return when the excursionists are ready for it, after the collation which is to follow the parade.

Teams were employed Monday in Goodwin park, in carting the top soil on the grounds, and grading up the surface lines around the monument.

The democratic campaign flags at Kittery have been taken in. Capt. Rashe Trefethen, of the steamer Mystic, offered to buy the handsome one that has been flying at the village, but the owners refused to part with it—probably because it is all that is left to them of the campaign and its hopes, with the possible exception of a dozen or so bandanas. We are aware that Horatio is "flush" just now, and has a new hat, on account of the political tidal wave of Nov. 6th; but just what such a tearing republican as he can want of a democratic flag is beyond our comprehension. Mr. Sam. G. Jackson, the local democratic leader, says there is no great loss without some small gain-some where,—the halliards will be very handy to tie his cow out with next summer.

The Cleveland and Thurman flag which during the campaign was flying across Congress street in front of Fay's store, was hauled in on Monday.

Had the republican parade taken place Monday evening as originally planned, it was intended by the employees of the Portsmouth Machine Co.'s works, to the number of about sixty, and of both political parties, to join in the procession. That would be proper, and graceful on the part of the democratic workingmen. On the morning of Nov. 6th Gen. Harrison was a private citizen, and candidate for the highest office on earth; today he is President-elect of the United States.

That enthusiastic republican, Mr. Hiram C. Locke, could not wait a week longer to show his enthusiasm, and so let off rockets and fireworks Monday evening, to show his pleasure at the results of the national election. About the same time Mr. H. Fisher Eldredge celebrated the democratic victory in this county by a liberal display of Roman candles on Congress street, near Vaughan.

Next Sunday the North Hampton Congregational society will celebrate the 150th anniversary of the formation of the parish, by a historical address by the pastor, Rev. T. V. Haines, in the morning, and by addresses by former pastors in the afternoon. Social reception in the vestry on Saturday evening.

Seldom have republicans been so fortunate in the matter of election wagers as in the recent campaign. We hear of one citizen whose winnings on wagers made after the polls closed, netted him a clear gain of $800; of another, who offered odds when it was announced that Harrison and Morton were the republican nominees, who is $500 better off for his aggressiveness; and of several who are "in" from $75 down to the standard "tall hat" each. Never since the rebellion closed was there more confidence in the result of a political battle than during this memorable one of 1888; nor was there lacking any disposition to take even bets offered.

Invitations have been sent to organizations in Dover, Rochester, Farmington, Saco, Exeter, Epping, Newburyport, North Hampton, Rye, Kittery, Kittery Point, Manchester and Newcastle, to take part in next Monday night's celebration. The following distinguished gentlemen have also been invited to be present as guests on the above-named occasion: Gov. Chas. H. Sawyer, United States Senators Chandler and Blair, Hon. Alonzo Nute and Hon. Orren C. Moore, congressmen-elect, Hon. Jacob H. Gallinger, the present congressman from the second district, Councillors-elect Chas. H. Horton of Dover and Wm. H. Pillsbury of Derry Depot, and Senator-elect E. G. Eastman of Exeter.

Work has been commenced toward the excavation of a cellar in the ledge near the old Gov. Wentworth house at Little Harbor, for a summer cottage to be erected there for Dr. Hall of Boston: the cottage is to be built by a Boston contractor, and finished in time for occupancy on the first of April next year.

While Portsmouth republicans have felt it necessary to postpone their celebration over the great victory of last week, their neighbors in the surrounding towns are venting their enthusiasm in a series of local jubilees that cannot be confined, and will not brook disappointment and postponement. The local celebration will gain largely in numbers from organizations belonging in Newburyport, Biddeford, Dover, Exeter, Rochester, Farmington and many smaller towns.

Hon. Frank Jones intends to erect a new coopers' shop near the scald shed at his brewery. The building will be of brick, and will be commenced in the early spring.

Frank W. Rice is having new stone steps and a granite curb placed in front of his new residence at the corner of Islington and Cabot streets.

The New Hampshire's Record.

The last report of the New Hampshire Fire Insurance company shows an increase in each of the factors contributing to the solidity of a fire insurance company. The semi-annual statement exhibits an increase in capital, assets and surplus, which now stand as follows: Capital, $600,000; assets, $1,403,210.41; net surplus, $267,379.32. The company holds United States government bonds of a market value of $312,000. Since the organization of the company it has shown each year a gain in assets and surplus.

Year.	Assets.	Net Surplus.	Capital.
1870	$134,686.24	$8,020.83	$100,000
1876	429,362.00	77,123 08	250,000
1880	585,324 20	111,249.88	250.000
1885	1,101,451.62	219,983.34	500 000
1888	1,403,210.41	267,379.32	$600,000

Its agent in this city, C. A. Hazlett, has promptly paid all its losses in this vicinity for the past sixteen years.

The Biddeford Journal says: "One wholesome effect of the result in New Hampshire is the relegation to private life of the Right Rev. Luther F. McKinney in the first district, by the election of Hon. Alonzo Nute, a sterling Republican. New Hampshire has pretty thoroughly purged her floor, this year."

Naval Intelligence.

Lieutenant Commander J. J. Bryce has been ordered to duty at the Washington navy yard.

Assistant Engineer F. H. Eldredge and Assistant Surgeon J. S. Sayre, have been ordered to examination for promotion.

Gunner George L. Albro is ordered to the St. Louis.

Lieutenant C. R. Mills is ordered to the Kearsarge.

Passed Assistant Engineer H. F. Hoffman has been detached from the Pinta, and ordered to duty in connection with the machinery of the Charleston, building at San Francisco.

Civil Engr. Henry S Craven has been detached from the Boston navy yard, and ordered to the naval hospital at Arkansas Hot Springs, for medical treatment.

Gunner M. K. Henderson has been ordered to the Wabash.

Surgeon Dwight Dickinson has been ordered to the naval hospital at Mare island, Cal.

Surgeon G. P. Bradley is detached from the naval hospital at New York, and ordered to hold himself in readiness for orders to the Iriquois.

Surgeon R. C. Persons is ordered from duty at Arkansas Hot Springs, to the naval hospital at New York.

Passed Asst. Surgeon Ernest Northfleet is ordered from the Mare island hospital to the Dolphin, and on meeting the Trenton to join that ship.

Carpenter A. C. Burroughs is ordered to duty at the Delaware iron works, Chester, Pa.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Sold only in cans, full weight.

CLEVELAND BROTHERS, ALBANY, N. Y.

illuminating purposes, will find a very neat, appropriate and attractive method that of lighting their rooms brilliantly, and then placing sheets of red, white and blue tissue paper on alternate panes of glass in the window frames.

The jewelry store of A. H. Barnes of West Buxton was broken into one night last week, the safe drilled into and blown open with gunpowder, and watches, jewelry and other articles to a considerable amount stolen. This was the tenth similar burglary and safe-blowing in York county this fall. The noise of the explosion was heard by a number of people, but none of them suspected the cause.

Rev. I. B. Mower of Kennebunkport, to whom a pastoral call was recently extended, by the Adams street Baptist church of Biddeford, has declined the call.

Ringing Noises

In the ears, sometimes a roaring buzzing sound are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smelling or hearing also result from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood. If you suffer from catarrh, try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the peculiar medicine.

Pears' Soap is an elegant toilet adjunct.

MARINE CHRONICLE.

PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

SAILED Nov. 11th.

Sch Maine, Shaw, Philadelphia.
Sch Helen E Russell, Turner, Portland.
Sch Blanche H King, Bennett, Newport News.
Sch Thomas W Haven, Morton, New York.
Sch Lizzie Guptill, Pinkham, Rockland.
Sch Warren B Potter, Andrews, south.
Sch Ximena, Pettigrew, east.
Sch Addie Jordan, Harriman, east.

ARRIVED Nov. 12th.

Sch Sadie A Kimball, Burns, Boston.
Sch Satellite, Davidson, Boston.
Sch G W Raitt, Coleman, Boston.
Sch Triton, Amee, Boston.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity trength and wholesomeness. More economical han the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER Co. 106 Wall Street, New York.

Colored Fire

— FOR —

CELEBRATION

NOV. 19, 1888,

— AT —

BENJ. GREEN'S,

APOTHECARY,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

Citizens' Excursion

— TO —

BOSTON!

Thursday, Nov. 15, '88.

Round Trip Tickets Good Going Nov. 15, and Returning not after Nov. 16, 1888, will be on sale at the following Stations and Rates:

Agamenticus	$2.10
Conway Junction	2.00
Eliot	1.90
Kittery	1.75
York Beach	2.35
Long Beach	2 25
York Harbor	2.15
Kittery Point	1.95
Kittery Navy Yard	1 70
Greenland	1.55
Portsmouth	1.70

JAS. T. FURBER, Gen'l Manager.
D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l Pass. Agent.

USE NETTEZZA!

FOR THE TEETH.

PREPARED BY E. C BLAISDELL, D. M. D.

Price 25 Cents.

— FOR SALE BY —

A. P. PRESTON, D. KIMBALL & CO., W. D. GRACE, F. B. COLEMAN AND BENJ. GREEN.

POSITIVELY

No Cure, No Pay!

CONSTITUTIONAL COUGH SYRUP

--- TRY IT! ---

The proprietor of this remedy has such confidence in its curative powers that he makes the following

Generous Offer!

Any person buying a bottle is given the privilege of returning it and receiving their MONEY BACK, if after using two-thirds of its contents, they have derived no benefit from it.

PRICE 25 AND 50 CENTS.

— SOLD BY —

David Kimball & Co., 36 Market Street.

Furnaces, Ranges & Stoves.

We are now ready to show the Finest Line of

RANGES AND PARLOR STOVES

Ever offered in this city, at Prices within the reach of all. Call and See Them Before Buying, it will Pay You.

LAMPS!

LAMPS!

Our Stock of Lamps is Complete, the

Lux Dux, Rochester, Banner, Duplex,

All First-Class, and will be Sold at the Lowest Prices.

PLUMBING, GAS PIPING, COPPER AND SHEET IRONWORK, AT

John P. Sweetser's,

46 MARKET STREET.

MUSIC HALL, PORTSMOUTH.

JOHN O. AYERS.....MANAGER.

ONE WEEK, COMMENCING

Monday, Nov. 12th.

Popular Family Matinees Wednesday, Friday and Saturday at 2:30 P. M.

EQUESCURRICULUM!

Beautifully Trained

30 HORSES, PONIES & MULES. 30

Under the Management of JNO. C. PATRICK.

The Only School of Educated Horses in the World.

The Equine Wonders of the 19th Century.

The Fun Provoking Mule, DENVER. The Mathematical Wonder, MATTIE

A Superb Mounted Military Band and Complete Orchestra.

OUR PRICES, 25, 35 AND 50 CENTS.

Sale of Seats opens at Goodrich's Book Store, Thursday Morning, Nov. 8th.

NOTICE.—Children under 12 years of age can secure a Reserved Seat at the Matinee for 25c.

ED. H. NEIL, Gen. Agt. E. S. DAVIDSON, Adv. Agt.

Situation Wanted.

A YOUNG MAN from the country, of good habits, would like to secure employment in a private family, or with a business firm. Enquire at this office.

To Let.

THE middle Tenement, No. 22, in the Kenney Block on Pleasant Street. Apply to J. P. HART.

Dwelling House for Sale.

THE residence of the late Mrs. Daniel Libbey, No. 126 State Street, can be purchased on application to

JOHN SISE, JOSEPH SISE, } Executors

DR. S. F. HAM,

Of Hotel Bristol, Boston, will receive patients

Monday and Tuesday

FROM MAY 1st TO NOV. 1st,

And the remainder of the year every Monday.

Office and Residence, 13 CHURCH ST, Portsmouth, N. H.

FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

RED FIRE!

QUALITY GUARANTEED.

ANDREW P. PRESTON,

Apothecary, - Portsmouth, N. H.

A PERFECT BLEND

MOCHA AND JAVA COFFEE

FULL WEIGHT, 2 POUND CANS, PRICE 70 CENTS

CHARLES E. LAIGHTON & SON,

Exchange Building, Opp. Post-Office.

Marigold Ointment!

Remember is Warranted for External Piles, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Nettle Rash, Hives, and all Diseases of the Skin and Scalp, Old Sores, Chilblains, Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Chapped Hands, Cold Sores, Cracks in Hands and Lips, Ingrowing Nails, Inflamed Joints, and everything else for which an Ointment is required

Call for Circular and Sample Box Free.

— SOLE AGENT FOR ROCKINGHAM COUNTY —

William D. Grace, - - - Apothecary.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

FALL AND WINTER OF 1888-89.

Our Assortment of Tailoring Goods is superior in many respects to any of previous years, embracing a Full Line of Goods suitable for

Fall and Winter Overcoatings.

Aslo, a Fine Assortment of the Best

IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC GOODS FOR SUITINGS,

Consisting of Stripes, Checks, Plain and Fancy Woollens and Worsteds in Great Variety

CHECKS AND STRIPES FOR TROWSERS.

FANCY PATTERNS FOR VESTING.

Prices Reasonable for Fine Work.

WM. P. WALKER, - - MERCHANT TAILOR,

NO. 8 MARKET SQUARE.

THE BEST BONDS ARE POLICIES

— IN THE —

Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York

THE LARGEST, CHEAPEST AND BEST IN THE WORLD.

Assets - - over $120,000,000.

RICHARD A. McCURDY, - PRESIDENT.

PROTECTION FOR THE AGED!

At Age of 75 $1000 will purchase an Annuity of $159.06, and other ages in proportion.

Those Desiring Reliable Insurance Should Apply to the Undersigned,

C. M. GIGNOUX, - - GENERAL AGENT,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE OLDEST AND ONLY Republican Morning Paper IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

IF YOU WANT TO BUY OR SELL ANYTHING ADVERTISE IN THE Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 24, 1852. | PORTSMOUTH, N. H., WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 14, 1888. | $6 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE. TWO CENTS PER COPY.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 14, 1888.

The News!

ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES.

Quicker Time Across the Continent.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CHICAGO, ILL., Nov. 13.—The railway lines between here and Council Bluffs have served notice on each other that they will not be bound by the present time agreement, after January 11th. The notice is said to be the forerunner of a revolution in the running time of trains between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. With the advent of fast trains west of Chicago, it is certain one of them will be made a solid limited train from New York to San Francisco, thus carrying out the European-Asiatic express project, which for a year or more has been periodically agitated. A "Golden Gate special" between Council Bluffs and San Francisco will be put on Dec. 5th, and will have the features of eastern limited trains, bath rooms, barber-shop, etc. It will make the run in 60 hours, 11 hours less than any time heretofore made. Only nine or ten stops will be made.

Grand Jury to Investigate Political Charges.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Nov. 13.—The federal grand jury met this afternoon and was given a comprehensive charge by Judge W. R. Woods. Speaking of violation of the election laws he said the press had charged that many were committed during the late election, and it is the jury's duty to investigate as to the truth. Especial attention was drawn to the fact that an attempt to bribe does not constitute any offense. It is not an offense to attempt to bribe, but it is an offense to advise another to attempt to bribe.

Very Modest Nuptials.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Nov. 12.—Joseph Chamberlain and Miss Mary Endicott will be married Thusday noon before the alter of St. John's church, the most fashionable Episcopal place of worship here. The wedding will be very quiet, neither bridesmaids nor best man will be present. There will be no guests, save a few near relatives of the bride and the President and Mrs. Cleveland, and some of the higher officials in Washington.

Frost Banishes Fear of Fever.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

DECATUR, ALA., Nov. 13.—Heavy frost for the past few mornings has dispelled all fears of yellow fever. Refugees are returning in large numbers. Business is being resumed.

Gorden's Re-Inauguration as Governor.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

ATLANTA, GA., Nov. 13.—Gov. Gordon was inaugurated for a second term at noon today. His inaugural address deals with the late election, and the effect it will have on the South and on individual states, taking the stand that he does not believe republican success means degrading of any southern state by the element of force bills.

$750,000 Gone Astray.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Gordon Corwith, metal broker, has been arrested in a suit brought by John H. Small, as assignee of a claim held by Nathaniel Corwith & Co., lead dealers, who allege that the broker has appropriated to his own use profits properly amounting to $750,000, while acting as broker for the firm.

An Ex-Mayor Dead.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

BIDDEFORD, ME., Nov. 13.—James R. Clark, who died in Boston this morning, formerly resided here. He was in the jewelry business several years with Hon. Charles A. Shaw, and was two years mayor of this city. The remains will be brought here for burial.

Postmaster Shaw's Successor.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

BIDDEFORD, ME., Nov. 13.—Postmaster Shaw's term will expire early next year, and already the contest for his office has begun. There are several candidates in the field ready to press their claims as soon as the administration changes. Postmaster McKenney of Saco has served but little over a year. Two petitions for appointment as his successor are now being circulated, and will be presented to President Harrison in March.

Singular Ballots in Carlisle's District.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, Nov. 13.—Investigation of the ballots in Boone, Campbell, Kenton, and Pendleton counties, in the sixth Kentucky district shows that 7,502 perforated tickets were cast for Carlisle. His majority in the entire district was 6051, so if no further search is made there are enough of those ballots to defeat him if it shall be declared upon contest that these are void.

The Yellow Fever.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

GAINESVILLE, FLA., Nov. 13.—Three new cases and one death.

He Will Take a Rest.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WATERBURY, CONN., Nov. 13.—Frank C. Smith, of New York, a graduate of Harvard law school, and prohibition stump speaker, was arrested today for false pretences, on a requisition signed by Governors Lounsbury and Hill. He is wanted here for passing a worthless check for $200.

Could Not Endure Cleveland's Defeat.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Thomas Botts, insurance broker, aged 35, shot himself through the head at the Hotel Royal this morning, and died within an hour. Disappointment over the election, and financial losses caused by it, led to the act.

Getting The Views of His Constituents.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

GLOUCESTER, MASS., Nov. 13.—Congressman Cogswell recently sent a communication to the Master Mariners' association, saying that as he was called to represent their district in the 51st Congress under a republican administration, and being desirous of putting himself in full accord and understanding with them, that he might serve their interests in all honorable ways, he has submitted a brief outline of his views on the fishery question as follows:

"First, every American fishing vessel and her crew should be secured by our government in all the commercial privileges, so called, which are now or may be hereafter accorded to every other American vessel and her crew. Second, our fishing industry should be protected by tariff legislation to every reasonable extent. It should be as highly protected (if not more so) as any other American industry. It being a pursuit of great hazard and of small renumeration at best, it will always need the fostering care and protection of our government. Third, because the American fishermen furnish the only nursery and training school for American naval seamen in case of war, they should be encouraged either by a direct bounty of some kind, or by an enrollment with compensation as the American militia of the sea; and further, for the purpose of gathering statistics and acquiring all possible information in regard to the pursuit of fishing, liberal appropriations should be made by Congress for the United States fish commission."

Upon receipt of the foregoing the association adopted resolutions that the association fully concurs with and heartily endorses the sentiments.

He Returns Home with His "Heart Bowed Down."

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

HAMBURG, Nov. 13.—A grand farewell was given today to Hon. Carl Schurz on the occasion of his departure for the United States. The Russian minister Von Nusserow, presidents of the senate, board of trade, and steamship lines, and many other distinguished persons accompanied Schurz to the steamer.

Shut Out of Jacksonville.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., Nov. 13.—Seven new cases and two deaths. Total cases to date, 4618; total deaths, 390. Weather mild and showery. A steamer of the Clyde line from New York, due at Mayport to-day, has a full passenger list of many returning Jacksonville refugees. Every precaution has been taken to exclude them from the city.

Tennessee's Vote.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., Nov. 13.—The total vote of Tennessee will be about 295,000, the largest by 85,000 ever cast. The Prohibition vote is 6000. Cleveland's plurality is about 7000. Taylor's, dem., plurality for governor, over Hawkins, rep., is about 15,000.

A Steam Barge Burned.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

MANISTEE, MICH., Nov. 13.—Steam barge H. S. Hubbell was burned off Point Au-Barque this morning, by the explosion of a kerosene lamp in the cook's galley. Steamer New Orleans picked up the crew.

Ten Days Longer.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WHEELING, W. VA., Nov. 13.—The canvass of votes in this state was begun yesterday, and will require ten days to determine the result.

Official Vote of Hamilton County, Ohio.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, Nov. 13.—Official returns of Hamilton county, including Cincinnati, show that the highest vote for Republican electors was 41,504, for Democratic, 37,683, making Harrison's plurality 3821. The prohibition electors received 465 votes; union labor, 675. Ryan, rep., for secretary of state, received 41,627; Young, dem., 37,473; prohibition, 494; union labor, 983. Ryan's plurality, 4,154.

Silver Dollars Missing.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—Crooked business has been discovered in connection with the transfer of silver dollars from the mint in New Orleans to Washington, for storage in the large new vault in the court yard of the treasury building, which has resulted in a loss of $1500. The treasury officials refuse to speak of the matter, and very little is known beyond the facts already stated. The silver was shipped by the Adams Express Co., and the loss will probably fall upon that company.

Evarts to be an Associate Justice.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13,—A Washington special to the Mail and Express says: There is a prospect of Hon. Warner Miller returning to the United States senate, in place of Senator Evarts, who is to be appointed to the supreme bench in place of Judge Blatchford, who is to be retired.

New President of the Century Club.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Daniel Greenleaf Thompson, the well known writer on economic questions, will succeed the late Cortlandt Palmer as president of the Nineteenth Century Club.

Trying to Steal a District.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle

BALTIMORE, MD., Nov. 13.—It is announced tonight that the friends of Hon. Isidore Rayner, who was defeated in the fifth congressional district by Henry Stockbridge, Jr., have discovered errors in the count which will overthrow Stockbridge's slim majority of 89. An appeal will be made for a recount.

Indiana's Official Vote.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Nov. 13.—Official returns of the vote for Governor were completed tonight Total gubernatorial vote 536,634, against 495,094 for Governor in 1884. Gen. Hovey, rep., 263,194; Watson, dem., 261,003; Hughes, pro., 9776; Milray, labor, 2661. Hovey's plurality, 2191, against 7892 for Gov. Gray, dem., in 1884.

Telegraphic Notes.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CALAIS, ME, Nov. 13.—The trial of W. J. Best, recently extradited from the United States, charged with assault and intent to kill Medley Balsam, of Campbello, N. B., some weeks ago, commenced at St. Andrews, N. B., today, Chief Justice Allen presiding; the jury was empanelled and testimony will commence tomorrow.

JAMESTOWN, DAK., Nov. 13.—An epidemic of scarlet fever is raging here. The churches, Sunday schools and public schools have been ordered closed during the prevalence of the disease. There have been a number of deaths already.

EASTON, PA., Nov. 13.—An excursion train occupied by the 5th Ward Guards of Newark, N. J., bound for Reading, was wrecked above South Easton about noon, on the Jersey Central railroad, by colliding with a locomotive standing at a tank taking water. Both engines were badly damaged and the track torn up. Three persons were severely injured.

BALTIMORE, MD., Nov. 13.—The directors of the Catholic university today elected Rev. P. J. Garrigan of Fitchburg, Mass., vice rector of the university. The Rector, Bishop Keane, was instructed to proceed at once to Rome and submit plans and statutes of the institution to the Pope for his approval. Bishop Keane will sail Saturday.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Nov. 13.—At the banquet of the Tippecanoe Club tonight, speeches were made by Senators Chandler and Blair, Ex-Governors Currier and Cheney, Hon. E. H. Burnham and others.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 13.—Methodist Bishops Merritt, Andrews, Vincee, Waldon, Mallalieu, Fitzgerald, Joyce, Newman and Goedsell were banqueted in Infantry hall this evening by the Methodists of this city; three hundred plates were laid.

DOVER.

DOVER, N. H., Nov. 13.

Pardon us; don't mention it, but we're here to stay.

As the time for the city election draws near, much talk is being made as to who our next mayor is to be. Mayor Lowell says "No" to another term, but bless you, there are lots of early birds after the little worm. Already no less than a baker's dozen have "consented." Theo. W. Woodman would like it; John M. Staples would not say us nay; Frank B. Williams and John J. Hanson we hear mentioned among the business people, and there are lots of others who have their finger in the pie. But remember, lads, there's only one plum.

Applications for the postmastership are very, very numerous. Petitions are floating around town as thick as snow flakes in winter. Whoop 'er up, boys; you can't all have it, but you can try.

Let us see. Ex-Postmaster Varney would like to get there once more; Mr. Clarance J. Hurd, junior member of the firm of J. H. Hurd & Son, shoe manufacturers, is also on the list; genial John Staples would not mind letting tailoring alone for four years, and looking out for Uncle Sam's business here; John W. Rines, Jas. F. Goodwin and other good republicans are also on the alert, and will make things lively.

And now what's the matter with Jonas D. Townsend, Jr, our popular Asst. P. M.? Oh! he's all right. Correct. No better candidate for the position has been mentioned. For eight years he has been at his post of duty every day. There is not a loop or a turn he does not know. Capable, obliging, and a good, upright republican, we say the plum is his.

The republican campaign clubs returned from Farmington about one o'clock this morning. They report a great blow-out up there, and tell wonderful stories of red paint, etc. Next Monday night they go to Portsmouth to whoop 'er up for the victory of Ben and Levi.

The new jail is nearly completed, and is a "daisy." The grounds around the buildings are being graded, and we shall soon see the only "revolving jail" in this part of the country going around at a 2:40 clip.

An addition is being put on to the American House.

The 15th New Hampshire Sunday School Convention opened in the Methodist church today, and will continue tomorrow and next day.

About 200 quarts of milk is shipped to Boston every morning by the 7:50 train.

Capt. Brown of the Rifles sports a new silk hat, the result of an election bet.

Capt. Symonds expects to complete the work of dredging the lower Cocheco in a few weeks.

Wm. Sterns, who has been very sick, is somewhat better today.

Printy, the tonsorial artist, is a good democrat, but he is happy over the election of Harrison, for one reason; ask him what it is.

A private letter received from John H. Ingraham, formerly of this city but now in Chicago, says the Capt. is doing well out there.

Sawyer Rifles meet to-morrow night. A good attendance is desired, as matters of importance will come before the company.

Strafford Guards have a dance in their Armory next Thursday evening.

Get the CHRONICLE at Browne Bros. every morning.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—At a meeting of the Parnell commission today the presiding justice, Hannen, intimated that the court's decision in the matter of the disclosure of documents was that all documents the Times possessed, including those thought spurious, should be disclosed. Sir Charles Russell, counsel for the Parnellites, stated that he had received several threatening letters. Justice Hannen remarked that he also, and probably others engaged in the case, had received similar letters. The intimidation of witnesses, he said, was so certain that precautions must be taken not to allow premature disclosure of their names. The taking of evidence in relation to the outrages was then proceeded with.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Another survivor from the Cunard line steamer Nantes, sank in the English channel by colliding with the German ship Theodore Ruger, has landed at Liverpool, and reports that 23 of the crew of the Nantes were drowned.

PARIS, Nov. 13.—The Chamber of Deputies today discussed the budget of the ministry of foreign affairs. Mr. Ferronarys, of the Right, declared that he saw nothing to criticize in the policy of M. Goblet for the past six months. M. Goblet stated that the situation could be faced with composure. France threatened no one with war, and was sufficiently strong to fear no provocation. The government could defend the dignity of the country without forgetting that peace was the chief interest. An amendment to abolish the embassy to the Vatican was rejected, 307 to 217. The foreign budget was approved. Budget for the ministry of the interior was adopted

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The police are confident they are on the track of the Whitechapel murderer. Two persons have been found who saw the man who accompanied the last victim to her house. Their descriptions tally.

BERLIN, Nov. 13.—The Castle Libenlverda, near Halle, was burned today. The physician, his wife, one child and two servants were burned to death.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—It is now learned that the collision between the Nantes and Theodore Ruger resulted in drowning 25 of the steamer's crew, and 12 of the crew of the German vessel.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—In the House of Commons this afternoon the home secretary, Matthews, stated that the resignation of Gen. Sir Charles Warren as chief of the Metropolitan police was solely due to his refusal to submit to the rule which forbids officials to publicly criticize government services.

In the discussion on the estimates in connection with the supreme court of judiciary, Lewis J. Jennings, conservative, moved to reduce the appropriation by a considerable sum. Lord Randolph Churchill approved the proposed reduction. He said the money that was squandered on the court of officials was a public scandal and national disgrace. Attorney General Webster promised that attention would be paid to the recommendations of the committee. Jennings' motion was rejected, 148 to 129.

J. L.

GLACE FRUITS,
NEW PRUNES,
NEW FIGS,
NEW JELLIES AND JAMS.

OLD RICE POPPING CORN.

DESSICATED COCOANUT
In Strips for Frosting Cake.

Fresh Ground Spices
Of Extra Fine Flavor and Strength.

HYGIENIC COFFEE,
A Healthful and Refreshing Drink, especially for those who cannot drink Genuine Coffee.

JOHN LAIGHTON,
No. 1 Market Square.

USE NETTEZZA!
FOR THE TEETH.
PREPARED BY E. C BLAISDELL, D. M. D.
Price 25 Cents.
—— FOR SALE BY ——
A. P. PRESTON, D. KIMBALL & CO., W. D. GRACE, F. B. COLEMAN AND BENJ. GREEN.

COLD WEATHER MUSIC BOOKS.

New Music Books.
These new books are every day more in favor:
Classical Pianist, Piano Classics, Song Classics, Song Classics for Low Voices, Classic Tenor Songs, Classic Baritone and Bass Songs. Each $1.
Praise in Song (40 cts., $4.20 per doz.) is the best new Sacred Music Book for Home and Vestry singing.
Let the Children sing from Menard's Songs for Kindergarten and Primary Schools (30 cts.) or Jenk's Songs and Games for Little Ones ($2) or Children's School Songs (35 cts, $3.60 per doz.) All have very sweet child's songs.
Give your aid in getting up a rousing good evening singing Class to use Song Harmony (60 cts., $6 per doz.) Full of most interesting music, sacred and secular. Song Manual, Book 3 (50 cts., $4.80 per doz.) is also a good collection, mostly secular.
Tell the Temperance People that no better Temperance Song Book has appeared than Bells of Victory (35 cts., $3.60 per doz.)
Xmas is coming. Send for lists of Christmas Cantatas and Carols.
ANY BOOK MAILED FOR RETAIL PRICE.
Oliver Ditson & Co., Boston.

"1888" OPENING OF "1888"
FALL AND WINTER DRY GOODS
At the Well-Known Store,
NOS. 30 and 32 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH.
Ayers & Locke, Proprietors,
Can be found the Largest Assortment of
SEASONABLE DRY GOODS MERCHANDISE.
LARGEST ASSORTMENT OF OUTSIDE GARMENTS.
For Ladies, Misses and Children.
New Goods of this Season's Manufacture.
All are Invited to Examine
OUR STOCK OF CLOAKS!
Before Purchasing Elsewhere.
Silk and Gloria RAIN UMBRELLAS! Ladies' Gossamers.
THE F. P. ROBINSON CO. BLACK STOCKINGS.
TRADE MARK. "CLEANFAST" NONE ARE GENUINE WITHOUT THIS TRADE MARK ON EACH PAIR.
Mohair and Gingham RAIN UMBRELLAS! Children's Gossamers.
Largest Assortment of Dress Goods in Portsmouth.
In fact, the Best Assortment in their Line of everything pertaining to a
FIRST-CLASS STOCK OF DRY GOODS.
NEW CARPETS! NEW CARPETS!
HOUSEKEEPING GOODS! &C.
SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS IN OUR UNDEWEARR DEPARTMENT.
Small Wares, Trimmings, Ribbons, Gloves.
Yarns, Knitting Silks, &c.
Corsets, Bustles, &c.
Largest Assortment of Fall and Winter Skirts in all the Desirable Fabrics
Which they are desirous of exchanging for Cash on a basis for value that will compare favorably with Boston and New York prices.
AYERS & LOCKE.

Furnaces, Ranges & Stoves.
We are now ready to show the Finest Line of
RANGES AND PARLOR STOVES
Ever offered in this city, at Prices within the reach of all. Call and See Them Before Buying, it will Pay You.
LAMPS! LAMPS!
Our Stock of Lamps is Complete, the
Lux Dux, Rochester, Banner, Duplex,
All First-Class, and will be Sold at the Lowest Prices.
PLUMBING, GAS PIPING, COPPER AND SHEET IRONWORK, AT
John P. Sweetser's,
46 MARKET STREET.

JOSIAH F. ADAMS
Embalmer and Funeral Director,
WAREROOMS: NO. 5 DANIEL ST.
Coffins, Caskets and Robes Always on Hand. Hearse and Carriages Furnished. Cemetery Lots Cared For, &c.
Orders by day or night left at No. 27 Washington St., or with Mr. Robert King, No. 6 Hill St., will receive prompt attention.

Now is the Time to Look Over Your Wardrobe and See What You Need for Winter, and
SIMPSON'S CORNER STORE
Is the place where you can find everything you need in Gentlemen's Wear, at Remarkably Low Prices, for Cash.
—— WE HAVE A FULL LINE OF ——
OVERCOATS!
Ranging in Prices from $5 to $25.
—— A NEW LOT OF ——
ULSTERS!
From $6 to $20.
—— A FINE ASSORTMENT OF ——
UNDERWEAR,
Including the Celebrated CAMEL'S HAIR for the Health.
Cardigan Jackets,
Blue and Fancy Over-Shirts.
(In these Goods we can Fit the Largest Men.)
—— A FINE ASSORTMENT OF ——
FURNISHING GOODS.
Headquarters for OIL and RUBBER CLOTHING, Wholesale and Retail.
Come and See for Yourselves at the Old Stand,
Corner Market and Bow Streets,
CHARLES E. SIMPSON.

Situation Wanted.
A YOUNG MAN from the country, of good habits, would like to secure employment in a private family, or with a business firm. Enquire at this office.

The Portsmouth Daily Chronicle,

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 2, 1852.

Published every morning, except Sunday, at No. 7 Exchange Building, Pleasant Street.

By mail, postage prepaid, $5 a year. Single Copies, Two Cents.

THE CHRONICLE is served to subscribers in Portsmouth, Kittery, Dover, Rochester and Farmington at 50 Cents per month, hours in advance of any other paper containing the Associated Press Despatches.

The New Hampshire Gazette,

ESTABLISHED OCT. 7, 1756.

The Oldest Newspaper in America. Published every Thursday.

Terms, $1.50 a year in advance.

[Entered at the Post Office at Portsmouth as second class matter.]

W. SCOTT SMITH,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

☞ Rates of advertising made known on application.

Agents for the Daily Chronicle:

MOSES BROS.....PORTSMOUTH.
ROBERTS & AVERY.....FARMINGTON
WORCESTER & GREENFIELD..ROCHESTER
BROWNE BROS.....DOVER.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1888.

Of No Further Use.

A quite large number of persons who at different times not long preceding election day had been sent to the county house of correction at Brentwood, for non-payment of fines and costs imposed for drunkenness and other petty offences, and none of whom had served their commitment out on the 6th of November, were in this city on that day, and all voted the straight ticket for Cleveland and reform, and the other democratic candidates.

It was an easy and economical plan that the democratic managers adopted to make sure of these men's votes on election day. It would have cost a good deal to have kept them out of the house of correction by continually paying their assessments for breaking the laws, and even then they might have been too drunk to vote, or missing, on election day; but it cost nothing to let them go to Brentwood, and comparatively little to pay the balance standing against them on the day before election, another great advantage being that they would be absolutely sober by that time, and could easily be taken proper care of for one night, and until they had "been through" after the opening of the polls next morning—when they could go, with the consciousness of having nobly done their duty, which of course was their only reward, and the only reward their self-respect would have allowed them to accept.

But having voted in favor of reform and a pure ballot, they are of no further use, and after being allowed a week's spree, are being rushed back to their regular quarters as rapidly as may be.

Reports from Washington indicate that the democratic leaders are doing their utmost to secure the control of the next House, and will not hesitate to resort to illegal methods to accomplish their plans. If it should appear that the republicans have apparently only two or three majority, then look out for democratic frauds and an attempt to steal the election of three or four democrats in Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia, and the securing of their certificates of election, so as to control the organization of the House. If full and complete returns give the republicans a safe majority without counting three or four districts which the democrats are claiming to be doubtful but which went republican beyond question, then the probability is that the scheme will fall through, and the certificates be given to the republican candidates in accordance with the votes cast. We shall not feel that we are out of the woods until we hear positively that there is a clear republican majority of the members elect outside of the districts which the democrats are prepared to deliberately steal, if by so doing the control of the House can be secured.

The Concord People and Patriot comes out in favor of the nomination of Rev. Mr. McKinney as the democratic candidate for Congress in the first district in 1890. Thanks. Nothing would more delight the republicans of this district than to have Mr. McKinney placed in nomination again. By all means let him run again, and we promise a republican majority of not less than one thousand.

The estimates for expenditures under the bureau of yards and docks at the Boston navy yard for the coming fiscal year call for an appropriation of $311,542.52, while those for the navy yard opposite this city are but $12,430, a few hundred dollars more than will be required for New London. This comes from having a democratic secretary of the navy, whose pleasures and politics have never afforded him time when he could visit our navy yard and learn of its needs and capacities. We think the figures will be raised, if the requirements of the yard are intelligently considered. The sum named for this yard calls for $6,360, before recommended, for increasing the water supply, and $6,080 for completion of the hydrant system. Only this, and nothing more.

Cleveland ran 744 votes behind the democratic gubernatorial ticket in this state, and Harrison ran 1831 ahead of the republican state ticket.

TREATMENT OF NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA

A Milk Diet Recommended at First. When Appetite Returns.

We should first recommend a milk diet—lukewarm milk, with or without crushed rusk. Unfortunately, through the habit of using highly seasoned dishes from youth up, we often find an aversion to milk. To cover its taste with sweet is not to the purpose, but we have at times added a small quantity of malt extract. The addition of cognac to the milk, as is used with phthisical patients, is equally imprudent. The best thing to give it an agreeable taste is a little table salt. Among other things we may add a little cocoa, deprived of oil, but with little sweetening, and some interruption, as in many cases an aversion for cocoa sets in. Tea is in some cases tolerated when cocoa causes loathing, but coffee has a dyspeptic effect. Tea has a tendency, especially if strong, to produce nervous palpitation of the heart, and, if left too long on the leaves, dyspepsia. If none of these beverages can be taken, we may at first use soup for breakfast. Amylaceous substances here especially find their place, and in the preparation of such among these as barley, oats, rice, etc., the precaution to have them long and thoroughly boiled should be given. For a second breakfast, some bouillon free from fat, with an egg; at noon, a plate of soup, with a corresponding portion of extract of meat. The last meal of the day ought to be taken at least two hours before going to bed, and should consist of beef tea, with eggs and stale white bread. Milk may at any time be taken in place of one of these meals; so may eggs beaten with a little salt and water.

According to physiological experiments on digestion, boiled albumen appears to be more easily and rapidly digested, but in reality raw albumen is more easily peptonized than the solidly cooked lumps of albumen, because the movements of the stomach separate it easily, and it is soon saturated with gastric juice.

If the appetite gradually returns, and the articles of food named are tolerated in larger quantities, we may intercalate another meal; the soup may also be prepared from scraped beef, and the latter eaten with it. Gradually a saucerful of the articles already mentioned may be taken every two or three hours. This amount will be sufficient for a long time.

If, under this regimen, gastric digestion takes a normal and rapid course, the sense of hunger may be felt oftener than every two or three hours, but the patient should not yield to his cravings. The time will then soon arrive when more consistent food can be taken, especially properly cooked meat. The opinion that so called white meat is especially well borne has not always been confirmed in practice. It may, perhaps, be the case with pigeon and chicken, etc., but the veal is certainly barely tolerated, owing, probably, to the large amount of gelatine it contains. As a rule, boiled meat is better tolerated than roast; and cold roast better than warm, and this is particularly true of game. With the latter, fat gravy, and the fat of pork especially, plays a very injurious part. Meat not too strongly salted is well borne, but the smoking process will spoil this advantage. The flesh of geese and ducks is difficult to digest.

Most patients will dislike to dispense with vegetables, but the very lightest of those only should be allowed until after improvement has made such progress; we may then allow carrots, spinach and tomatoes, lettuce and salads, and especially potato salad, should be strictly forbidden. If the patient chafes under the prohibition of all kinds of preserves, he may, when convalescent, partake of stewed cranberries, strained and sweetened. Dyspeptics cannot bear raw fruit at all.

In all cases where circumstances will not permit the diet which has been described, a milk diet will be the best thing. Or when place and time are favorable, Krukenberg's direction: "When you are hungry eat buttermilk, and when you are thirsty drink buttermilk," should be be observed. This milk, freed from the large mass of casein, is a real panacea, and a dietary course of it is easily carried out in the country during the summer season. But caution prescribes that it should not be taken simultaneously with other food, as the rule not to drink when you eat, and not to eat when you drink, is even more imperative for dyspeptics than for persons suffering from adiposity. Patients are most difficult to manage in regard to their diet after they begin to feel better; and when, in consequence of their long fasting and their necessarily reduced condition, a strong desire for food is manifested, an adequate addition of fat of the proper consistency will greatly lessen the danger of excess.—Ihring in Journal of Dietetics.

The Wall Does Stand.

In an age when skepticism is undermining all the cherished beliefs of our childhood, and when the seven wonders of the world are becoming for most of us as dubious as the seven champions of Christendom, it is pleasant to learn that the great wall of China at least stands solidly where it did. The Abbe Larrieu, having published a pamphlet to prove it a fiction, has been met by the counter assertions of Mr. W. G. Howell in The London Standard, who has seen the wall, and of Mr. William Simpson in The London Daily News, who has not only seen the wall, but has drawn, engraved, painted and exhibited it.—Chicago News.

The importance of purifying the blood cannot be overestimated, for without pure blood you cannot enjoy good health.

At this season nearly every one needs a good medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, and we ask you to try Hood's Peculiar Sarsaparilla. It strengthens and builds up the system, creates an appetite, and tones the digestion, while it eradicates disease. The peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation of the vegetable remedies used give to Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiar curative powers. No other medicine has such a record of wonderful cures. If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other instead. It is a Peculiar Medicine, and is worthy your confidence.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

To Itself

100 Doses One Dollar

The reason why small money-lenders do not, all of them, send their money west to be lent is because they do not know how to do so safely.

There is no more danger than in crossing the street, if you know your bank. But be careful about your lender.

Send for a primer on western lending; free.

THE KANSAS CITY INVESTMENT COMPANY, Kansas City, Missouri; or Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

$100,000 Janesville, Wis., Water Co.

First Mortgage 6% Bonds.

DUE AUGUST 1, 1907.

Secured by a Sinking Fund. Descriptive Circulars furnished on application.

Brewster, Cobb & Estabrook,

35 Congress St., Boston.

BURNETT'S PERFECTLY PURE HIGHLY CONCENTRATED Standard Flavoring EXTRACTS

The superiority of these Extracts consist in their

Perfect Purity and Great Strength.

COMFORT — FOR — COLD AND TENDER FEET!

Persons troubled with cold or tender feet will find warmth and ease in the use of

DOLGE'S ALL WOOL FELT Slippers and Shoes

For which the undersigned is agent in this City and Vicinity.

--- AT THE STORE ---

No. 34 Market Street

Can be found a Full Line of these Goods, in many patterns of Slippers, Shoes and Boots, and several colors, for house, office or street wear,

Of Men and Boys, Women and Girls.

☞ Please examine our Stock.

J. C. CARR.

JOHN H. BROUHTON,

No. 68 Daniel St., Portsmouth, N. H.

— DEALER IN —

EASTERN AND WESTERN LUMBER!

Shingles, Clapboards and Laths.

— ALSO —

Best Newark Hydraulic Cement, Best Extra and No. 1 Lime

FOR SALE AT LOWEST PRICES.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

The three-story (above the grade floor)

BRICK STORE BUILDING

NO. 18 BOW STREET,

Running back over the wharf to the river, occupied for a long time by the late Charles Robinson as a wholesale corn and flour store. Sold to close up an estate Enquire of

J. P. MORSE, Real Estate Broker.

Look in at Conn's

— AND SEE THE —

BUTTER!

From the very best Dairies in Vermont and New York. Creameries are of no account compared with these Dairies. Also,

Cheese Pork. Lard. Hams, Beans Etc

☞ Olco or Second-Hand Stuff kept.

☞ The very best quality of LARD bought by the car-load, which I am selling less than the Boston prices.

S. Philbrick & Co.,

— MANUFACTURERS OF —

Marble and Granite Work

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

GRANITE POLISHING A SPECIALTY.

OFFICE AND WORKS.

No. 2 Water Street, Portsmouth

IF YOU WANT To Save Two Dollars

ON EVERY BARREL OF FLOUR, USE

Horsford's Bread Preparation.

It costs less than one cent to raise a pound of flour with Horsford's, while with common baking powders the cost is two cents.

EASTERN OFFICE OF Kansas City Investment Co.,

OVER FIRST NATIONAL BANK, PORTSMOUTH.

CITY MORTGAGES, FARM MORTGAGES, DEBENTURE BONDS, REAL ESTATE NOTES

☞ INTEREST PAYABLE HERE AT MATURITY. ☜

W. G. MYERS V.

"Florence Home Needle Work" 1888

is now ready. Contains 96 pages with nearly 350 illustrations. The subjects are Damask Stitches —Tapestry and Italian Embroidery—Drawn Work, Darning—Crochet &c. It teaches ladies how to make

Solid Silk Braid

for trimming their garments in latest fashion. Book mailed to any address on receipt of six cents.

MONOTUCK SILK CO., Florence, Mass.

Insurance Notice.

THE OLD INSURANCE AGENCY,

AT THE OLD STAND,

No. 13 Pleasant Street,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

JOSEPH P. MORSE,

25 CORDS DRY PINE LIMBS!

At $3.50 Per Cord.

☞ The Very Best of Fuel at a Low Price.

O. F. PHILBRICK & CO.,

COAL AND WOOD DEALERS,

4 Water Street.

COAL! COAL!

Finest Grades, well prepared for Domestic Purposes, constantly Arriving and for Sale at Lowest Prices.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

J. ALBERT WALKER

Portsmouth Coal Pockets.

WOOD AND COAL!

A Good Assortment of all kinds of Wood and Coal.

Kindling Wood Split to Order.

— ALSO —

Akron Drain and Sewer Pipe.

NO. 13 GREEN STREET,

DANIEL LITTLEFIEL

NEW JEWELRY

— AND —

SILVER GOODS

— AT —

HUTCHINSON'S.

BOOK BINDING

Of Every Desciption,

— DONE AT —

NO. 5 CONGRESS STREET,

(OVER FAY'S STORE.)

Magazines and other Periodicals Bound in Styles to Suit Patrons; Especial Attention given to

REBINDING OLD BOOKS!

For Libraries or Individuals; in short, any work of the kind promptly attended to, and satisfaction guaranteed. ☞ Prices reasonable.

JOHN D. RANDALL.

STEPHEN D. SCRIGGINS,

Carriage Painter,

NO. 16 Vaughan Street, Portsmouth, N. H.

Having spacious and good accommodations and one and large experience he solicits patronage in his line.

PAST A PRECEDENT! OVER TWO MILLIONS DISTRIBUTED.

L. S. L.

Louisiana State Lottery Company.

Incorporated by the Legislature in 1868, for Educational and Charitable purposes, and its franchise made a part of the present State Constitution, in 1879, by an overwhelming popular vote.

Its GRAND EXTRAORDINARY DRAWINGS take place Semi-Annually, (June and December), and its GRAND SINGLE NUMBER DRAWINGS take place on each of the other ten months in the year, and are all drawn in public, at the Academy of Music, New Orleans, La.

"We do hereby certify that we supervise the arrangements for all the Monthly and Quarterly Drawings of The Louisiana State Lottery Company, and in person manage and control the drawings themselves, and that the same are conducted with honesty, fairness, and in good faith toward all parties, and we authorize the Company to use this certificate, with fac-similes of our signatures attached, in its advertisement."

G. T. Beauregard
J. A. Early
Commissioners.

We the undersigned Banks and Bankers will pay all Prizes drawn in The Louisiana State Lotteries which may be presented at our counters.

R. M. WALMSLEY, Pres. Louisiana Nat. Bk.
PIERRE LANAUX, Pres. State Nat'l Bank.
A. BALDWIN, Pres. New Orleans Nat'l Bk.
CARL KOHN, Pres. Union National Bank.

MAMMOTH DRAWING

In the Academy of Music, New Orleans, Tuesday, December 18, 1888.

CAPITAL PRIZE, $600,000.

LIST OF PRIZES.

1 PRIZE OF	$600,000 is	$600,000
1 PRIZE OF	200,000 is	200,000
1 PRIZE OF	100,000 is	100,000
1 PRIZE OF	50,000 is	50,000
2 PRIZES OF	25,000 is	50,000
5 PRIZES OF	10,000 are	50,000
10 PRIZES OF	5,000 are	50,000
25 PRIZES OF	2,000 are	50,000
100 PRIZES OF	500 are	50,000
200 PRIZES OF	400 are	80,000
500 PRIZES OF	200 are	100,000

APPROXIMATION PRIZES.

100 Prizes of $1,000 are		$100,000
100 Prizes of 800 are		80,000
100 Prizes of 400 are		40,000

THREE NUMBER TERMINALS.

99 Prizes of $800 are		$79,200
99 Prizes of 400 are		39,600

TWO NUMBER TERMINALS.

100 Prizes of $200 are		$180,000
900 Prizes of 200 are		180,000
3,146 Prizes amounting to		$2,118,800

☞ FOR CLUB RATES, or any further information desired, write legibly to the undersigned, clearly stating your residence, with State, County, Street and Number. More rapid return mail delivery will be assured by your enclosing an Envelope bearing your full address.

Send POSTAL NOTES, Express Money Orders, or New York Exchange in ordinary letter. Currency by Express (at our expense) addressed to M. A. DAUPHIN, New Orleans, La., or M. A. DAUPHIN, Washington, D. C.

Address Registered Letters to NEW ORLEANS NATIONAL BANK, New Orleans, La.

REMEMBER That the presence of Generals Beauregard and Early, who are in charge of the drawings, is a guarantee of absolute fairness and integrity, that the chances are all equal, and that no one can possibly divine what number will draw a Prize.

"REMEMBER, also, that the payment of all Prizes is GUARANTEED BY FOUR NATIONAL BANKS of New Orleans, and the Tickets are signed by the President of an institution, whose chartered rights are recognized in the highest Courts; therefore, beware of any imitations or anonymous schemes."

50 Styles The WONDERFUL LUBURG CHAIR

Combining a Parlor, Library, Smoking, Reclining, or Invalid CHAIR, LOUNGE, BED, LOUNGE and COUCH. Price $7.00 up. We make the largest variety of Adjustable, Reclining, Physicians' and Surgeons' Operating, Invalid Spiting, Hammock, Office, Library, Fancy Carpet Folding, Reed and Rattan CHAIRS and ROCKERS, BICYCLES, TRICYCLES, VELOCIPEDES and SELF PROPELLERS. ALL KINDS OF APPLIANCES FOR INVALIDS.

BABY COACHES

Over 100 different designs. Our Patent Automatic Brake on all Carriages, free. We have discontinued wholesaling; by placing your orders direct with the makers you can save several profits. Our shipping prices and special Bargains will astonish you. Goods sold under a guarantee and delivered free to any point in United States. ☞ Send stamp for Catalogue, and state class of goods you wish it for.

LUBURG MFG. CO.
145 North Eighth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

We are astonished at parties who introduce new remedies for coughs when they should know the people will have Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

"Kings are like stars, they rise and set." They have headaches, cuts, and hurts like meaner men, and are just as sure to call for Salvation Oil.

One Fact

Is worth a column of rhetoric, said an American statesman. It is a fact, established by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from impure state or low condition of the blood. It also overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

Be Your Own Doctor.

It won't cost you half as much. Do not delay. Send three 2-cent stamps for postage, and we will send you Dr. Kaufmann's great work, fine colored plates from life, on disease, its causes, and home cure. Address A. P. Ordway, & Co., Boston, Mass.

—Children shrink from being washed. The same may be said of socks.

"For twenty years I have suffered with a severe bronchial cough, never lying down without a severe attack of the same. After much pursuasion, I was induced to try Adamson's Balsam, and its good effects for six months are certainly marvellous. Please use this truthful testimony for the advantage of all sufferers like myself.
Mrs. Wm. Alden, Duxbury, Mass., Feb. 21, 1887.

—The average pullet takes her eggsit in the spring.

Trial proves that honesty is the best policy in medicine as well as in other things. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a genuine preparation, an unequalled blood purifier, decidedly superior to all others.

—Minister—"Bertie, do you know where the little boys go who catch fish on Sunday?" Bertie—"Yes, sir; most of them go down to Jonhson's creek."

Hundreds of letters from those using Hall's Hair Vigor attest its value as a restorer of gray hair to its natural color. As a stimulant and tonic, preventing and curing baldness, and cleansing the scalp, its use cannot be too strongly recommended.

—"Physician, heal thyself!" is an injuction promulgated centuries ago, and now some of the older practitioners are pretty well heeled.

Catarrh originates in scrofulous taint. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and thus permanently cures catarrh.

—Political orator (furiously)—"Now, fellow-citizens, if this man is elected what will be the result?" A voice—"His opponent will be defeated."

To-Night and To-Morrow Night,

And each day and night during this week you can get at all druggists Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, acknowledged to be the most successful remedy ever sold for the cure of Coughs, Croup, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption. Get a bottle to-day and keep it always in the house, so you can check your cold at once. Price 50c and $1.00. Sample bottles free.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. —mon.wed.fri.6jal

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam, for Coughs and Colds, does it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles at 50c and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

HUNT'S REMEDY

RELIEVES the Kidneys;
REVIVES the Liver;
SOLD UNIVERSALLY.

sod&g

NOTICE!

FALL — AND — WINTER STYLES NOW READY!

— AT —

MRS. TEBBETTS',

NO. 14 MARKET STREET.

GRANITE STATE Fire Insurance Company,

OF PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

PAID-UP CAPITAL, - $200,000

OFFICERS.

President, FRANK JONES.
Vice President, JOHN W. SANBORN.
Secretary, ALFRED F. HOWARD.
Treasurer, JOHN LAIGHTON.

Executive Committee, FRANK JONES, JOHN W. SANBORN, CHARLES A. SINCLAIE, EDWIN WALLACE and E. H. WINCHESTER.

RAYMOND'S VACATION EXCURSIONS.

ALL TRAVELLING EXPENSES INCLUDED.

A WINTER — IN — CALIFORNIA.

The second, third and fourth parties of the season will leave Boston in December and January, in special trains of magnificent vestibuled palace cars, with palace dining-cars attached, for Pasadena, Los Angeles, and other points in Southern California. The dates and routes are as follows:

Thursday, December 6, via Buffalo, Chicago, Kansas City, Santa Fe, Albuquerque, San Bernadino, etc.

Monday, January 7, via Buffalo, Detroit, Cincinnati, Mammoth Cave, New Orleans, Galveston, San Antonio, etc.

Thursday, January 10, via Buffalo, Chicago, Kansas City, Santa Fe, Albuquerque, San Bernadino, etc.

Sixteen Returning Parties, under special escort, over Five Different Routes. Return tickets also good on all Trains. Independent tickets, covering every expense both ways, and giving entire freedom to the passenger while in California, and also in making the journey homeward. Hotel coupons supplied for long or short sojourns at all the Leading Pacific Coast Resorts.

Dates of other California Excursions.—February 7, 11, and 25; March 7 and 11.

Dates of Mexico Excursions.—January 14, February 11, and March 11.

Dates of Washington Excursions (the only ones the present season).—January 18 and February 15.

W. RAYMOND. I. A. WHITCOMB.

☞ Send for descriptive circular, designating whether book relating to California, Mexico, or Washington tours is desired.

W. RAYMOND,
296 Washington St. (opposite School St.),
BOSTON, MASS. no14

GRATEFUL---COMFORTING.

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the normal functions of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in half pound tins by grocers, labelled thus:

JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England.

1 lec5

WE WANT A GOOD ENERGETIC SALESMAN in every town and city TO SOLICIT ORDERS FOR FRAMING PICTURES. BEST OUTFIT IN THE WORLD and a permanent situation. Address H. B. WARDWELL, Lewiston, Me.

POSITIVELY CLOSING WEEKS

GRAND CYCLORAMA

BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG,

641 Tremont St., Boston.

Don't fail to see this great battle scene at once.

A new subject now being painted will take its place in this building January 1st.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, the great Medical Work of the age on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline, Errors of Youth, and the untold miseries consequent thereon, 300 pages 8 vo., 125 prescriptions for all diseases. Cloth, full gilt, only $1.00, by mail, sealed. Illustrative sample free to all young and middle-aged men. Send now. The Gold and Jewelled Medal awarded to the author by the National Medical Association. Address P.O. Box 1895, Boston, Mass., or Dr. W. H. PARKER, graduate of Harvard Medical College, 25 years practice in Boston, who may be consulted confidentially. Office, No. 4 Bulfinch St. Specialty, Diseases of Man.

Cut this out. You may never see it again.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS

The cabinet organs produced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin are the best. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as a demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all of the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free. $22 TO $900.

PIANOS

Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos, that they are superior to all others. They recognize the high excellence achieved by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but still claim superiority. This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1882, and now known as the "MASON & HAMLIN PIANO STRINGER," by the use of which greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity for standing in tune and other important advantages.

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians, and others, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

Pianos and Organs sold for cash or easy payments; also rented.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.
BOSTON. NEW YORK. CHICAGO.
too24

MARVELOUS MEMORY DISCOVERY.

Any book learned in one reading
Mind wandering cured.
Speaking without notes.
Piracy condemned by Supreme Court.
Great inducements to correspondence classes

Prospectus, with opinions of Dr Wm. A. Hammond, the world famed Specialist in Mind diseases, Daniel Greenleaf Thompson, the great Psychologist, J. M. Buckley, D. D., Editor of the Christian Advocate, Richard Proctor, the Scientist, Hons. Judge Gibson, Judah P. Benjamin, and others, sent post free by

Prof. A. LOISETTE, 237 Fifth Ave., New York.

The WITTIEST, PRETTIEST JUVENILES

QUEER PEOPLE Palmer Cox

GIANT & GOBLINS $1.00 WINGS & STINGS 75c. PAWS & CLAWS $1.00

By Mail.

(Pleasant of the Frog and the Mouse.)

All of the oddest people, charming rhymes and laugh-provoking illustrations by the prince of juvenile artists. Sixty illustrations, with entertaining text of the highest order. Sixty laughs.

AGENTS WANTED.

A. L. BURT, 52 & 54 Duane St., New York.

ov15

Cure Your Corns,

[BY USING

SCHLOTTERBECK'S

CORN, WART AND BUNION SOLVENT

A CURE IS GUARANTEED.

TRAVELLER'S GUIDE.

TRAINS LEAVE

Portsmouth for Boston, 4.05, 7.25, 8.20, 11.05 a. m., 2.55, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4.00 p. m.

Boston for Portsmouth, 7.30, 9.00, 10.00 a. m., 12.30, 3.20, 4.40, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.20 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

Portsmouth for Portland, 9.55, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 9.05 p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m.

Portland for Portsmouth, 7.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.05, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 7.00 a. m.

Portsmouth for Dover, 4.05, 9.45 a. m., 12.25, 2.38, 5.22 p. m.

Dover for Portsmouth, 6.35, 10.20 a. m., 1.55, 4.30, 6.10 p. m.

Portsmouth for York Beach, 8.35, 11.10 a. m. 3.35 p. m.

York Beach for Portsmouth, 6.40, 10.00 a. m., 1.40 p. m.

Portsmouth for Concord, 7.55 a. m., 1.00, 5.15 p. m.

Concord for Portsmouth, 7.30, 10.20 a. m., 3.25 p. m.

Portsmouth for Manchester, 7.55 a. m., 1.00, 5.15 p. m.

Manchester for Portsmouth, 8.15, 11.15 a. m., 4.25 p. m.

TRAINS ARRIVE

In Boston from Portsmouth, 6.20, 9.10, 10.25 a. m., 1.15, 4.45, 7.15, 9.20 p. m. Sundays, 8.20 a. m., 6.30 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Boston, 9.45, 10.45 a. m., 12.20, 2.35, 5.20, 6.45, 9.37 p. m. Sundays, 10.40 a. m., 8.37 p. m.

In Portland from Portsmouth, 12.00 m., 12.35, 4.40, 11.00 p. m. Sundays, 11.00 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Portland, 3.55, 10.44 a. m., 2.20, 7.15 p. m. Sundays, 3.55 a. m.

In Dover from Portsmouth, 5.40, 10.19 a. m., 12.50, 3.03, 5.47 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Dover, 7.20, 10.44 a. m., 2.20, 4.55, 7.15 p. m.

In Concord from Portsmouth, 10.30 a. m., 3.13, 8.25 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Concord, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

In Manchester from Portsmouth, 9.42 a. m., 2.30, 7.20 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Manchester, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

KITTERY AND PORTSMOUTH.

STEAMER MYSTIC.

Leave Bartlett's wharf, Kittery, 6.35, 7.50, 8.45, 10.0, 11.45 a. m., 2.00, 3.15, 4.45, 6.00 p. m. Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 6.30, Saturday evening, 6.30, 8.00.

Leave Broughton's wharf, foot Daniel street, Portsmouth, 7.30, 8.00, 9.30, 11.00 a. m., 12.45, 3.00, 4.00, 5.15, 6.15 p. m., Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7.00, Saturday evenings, 7.00, 9.00.

☞ Fare five cents each way.

A FAIR SAMPLE OF
40 SWORN CASES
OF THE VALUE OF

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND

THE RADICAL BLOOD PURIFIER.

DIPHTHERIA. SCROFULA.

Miss Lena Judkins, a daughter (17 years old) of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Judkins, 677 Boston St., Lynn, CURED by Dr. Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of very severe case of Scrofula, with Malignant Ulcers of eight years' standing, after 11 Physicians had failed. Almost a miracle. Now in perfect health. Sworn to before HARMON HALL, Justice of the Peace.

SCROFULOUS HUMOR.

Miss Mary Etta Leighton, a daughter (16 yrs. old) of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison G. Leighton, 16 Bickford Court, Lynn, CURED by Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of a deep seated Scrofulous Humor, with discharging eruptions, which had baffled eight physicians and the combined forces of two prominent hospitals. Perfectly cured and without a blemish. Sworn to before CALVIN B. TUTTLE, Justice of the Peace.

Send for circular of 40 Sworn cases. They are solid facts and carry conviction.

DR. LOUGEE'S
VITALIZING COMPOUND.
is absolutely the greatest known Remedy for the Radical cure of Scrofula, Cancerous Humors, Diphtheritic or Mineral Blood-Poisoning, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Dropsy and Liver Complaint.

$1. per Bottle (6 for 5). At Druggists.
Lougee Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

DAY'S HORSE POWDER
Prevents Lung Fever and cures Distemper, Heaves, Fevers, &c., &c.
1 pound in each package. Sold by all dealers.

DR. BULL'S BABY SYRUP
Facilitates Teething! Sold at druggists
Price 25 Cts. Regulates the Bowels!

25¢ A BOTTLE
SALVATION OIL
KILLS PAIN

BULL'S COUGH SYRUP
For the cure of Coughs, Colds, Croup, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Incipient Consumption and for the relief of Consumptive persons.
PRICE 25 CTS. For Sale by all druggists.

SMOKE LANGE'S CUBEB CIGARETTES for Catarrh. Price 10 Cts. At all druggists.

EDWARD D. COFFIN,
SHERIFF ROCKINGHAM CO. AND U. S. DEPUTY MARSHAL.
Office at No. 3 Market Square, And at the Jail.
Will be at Ilsley & Moore's Ins. Office at 9 A. M. and 4 o'clock P. M.
(TELEPHONE AT THE JAIL).

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

THE YOUTH OF NATURE.

For, oh! is it you, is it you,
Moonlight, and shadow, and lake,
And mountains, that fill us with joy,
Or the poet who sings you so well?

. . . . . .

More than the singer are these

. . . . . .

Yourselves and your fellows ye know not; and me,
The nameless, the one, will ye know?
Will ye scan me, and read me, and tell
Of the thoughts that ferment in my breast,
My longing, my sadness, my joy?
Will ye claim for your great ones the gift
To have rendered the gleam of my skies,
To have echoed the moan of my seas,
Uttered the voice of my hills?
When your great ones depart, will ye say:
All things have suffered a loss,
Nature is hid in their grave?

Race after race, man after man,
Have thought that my secret was theirs,
Have dream'd that I lived but for them,
That they were my joy and joy:
They are dust, they are changed, they are gone!
I remain.

—Matthew Arnold.

Exercise in Your Office.

The restless discomfort which comes from long stooping over a desk or compressing one's liver for hours on the edge of a drawing board is apt to seek relief in skylarking or idleness, or if the conscientious clerk or draughtsman still sticks to his work it is with reluctant fingers and beclouded brain, and the "output" deteriorates both in quality and quantity. In such a case five or ten minutes' brisk use of the clubs or chest weights will accomplish more than an hour's skylarking or any amount of loafing. It has a wonderful good effect in quickening the stagnant circulation, and a clear head and strong hand take up the work with renewed vigor. It is surprising what a little vigorous exercise will accomplish if systematically taken. A few minutes once or twice a day, at most three times, will soon give most satisfactory results in health and efficiency.—Health.

A Violin Expert's Dream.

Let me tell you what I am thinking about—the phonograph, as it will be perfected one of these days. Say Hart of London has a Steiner or a Guarnerius for sale and somebody here wants to buy it. A dealer has been so far only able to show what it looked like. Tone, quality, escape description. What he will have to do now will be to have his violin record its own sounds on the phonograph. He sends you by mail the phonographic cylinder. You grind it off on a machine, and there you are. We shall then be able to compare tones, and there will come a better appreciation of what is musical coloring. It will be like a cook who manufactures of a certain dish and who sends you by mail a taste of his peculiar plat.—New York Times.

An Ingenious Poison Stopper.

An ingenious stopper has lately been patented for use in bottles containing poisons. The stopper is made of india rubber, and is surmounted by a perforated ball of india rubber brightly colored so as to render it distinctive in the light, and containing a bell which rattles when the bottle is moved, thus drawing attention to the character of the contents, even though it be impossible to see the label. Such a warning stopper would have rendered impossible many of the accidents which have from time to time taken place, notably one a few months ago, when a distinguished surgeon lost his life owing to a mistake as to a bottle containing poisonous medicine.—Cassell's Family Magazine.

Loss of Different Members.

A table prepared for a workingman's society in Leipsic represents that a loss of different members of the body reduces the capacity to gain a living in the following proportions: Loss of both arms, legs, hands or feet, 100 per cent.; loss of right hand, 40 per cent.; of right thumb, 33 1-3 per cent.; of one eye, 22 per cent.; of left thumb or right index finger, 14 per cent.; of any finger, 5 per cent.—Brooklyn Eagle.

European Troops in India.

The total number of European troops in English India in 1886 was 61,015, and the average death rate per 1,000 was 15.18. In the province of Bengal there were 39,000 men, and the death rate was 13.5. In the province of Madras 11,000, and the death rate 16.2. Province of Bombay 11,000, death rate 12.7. The number of native troops was 106,010, and the death rate was 19.46 per 1,000.—Chicago Herald.

Safes Made of Pasteboard.

"You'd be surprised," says a New York safe manufacturer, "at the number of sham, pasteboard safes in New York, and they're made so well that any ordinary person would be deceived. They have a business like appearance and give an office a thrifty look, all for $5 or $6, whereas the real article would cost something like $100.—Chicago Herald.

A Demand for Soap.

The Chinese are making such large demands upon soap that in time they may rank among the clean nations. The importation of foreign soap has increased 153 per cent. in five years and 860 per cent. more is wanted now than was sought after ten years ago.—Chicago Herald.

He Was a Terror.

A little Boston girl, after repeating the Lord's Prayer before retiring for the night, prayed for her father, mother, brothers, sisters and cousins. After repeating the name of the last cousin, she continued: "Isn't he a monster at the cookies?"—Boston Traveler.

Nothing suits my pride better than to see some proud man humble himself in my presence—to see him stoop to things of low degree.—Bar Homan.

The Street Gamblers of China.

One never failing source of amusement was watching the street gamblers. You see a man, generally the most innocent looking of Chinamen, if one Chinaman can be said to look in any way different from another, unless in size, walking along with what looks like a rather large umbrella. He stops in what he thinks to be a convenient place, always near a corner, sticks this machine on the ground, which in some ingenious way becomes a gambling table, marked into squares and spots. In an instant he is surrounded by a crowd of all ages, and the game goes merrily on.

Suddenly a cry of police goes up and in an instant man and table have mysteriously disappeared and the crowd has scattered. I believe the law is strict against gambling, but the police seem about as efficient to stop and prevent it as are the police of our country. I never could get to understand the game, but it seems to be run on the good old principle that the odds should be in favor of the bank, as the bank seemed always to win. After watching the game for several days, I came to the conclusion that the person who raised the cry of police must be a confederate, as it was always done when the stakes were quite large, that is, for that game, as only pieces of copper were placed on the board, and in his anxiety to get away the man would not wait to hand back to the players their money, but would disappear, money, table, and all.—Samuel F. Farrar in Chicago Journal.

The Detectives of Berlin.

The detectives of Berlin are the nearest approach in stolidity to those of London. There is really very little crime in the German empire, on account of the extraordinary sentences that are imposed and the strict military discipline that prevails throughout the empire, and which has its highest development in Berlin. On this account the most experienced and capable detectives are taken out of the criminal service as rapidly as possible, and promoted to the official department.

Their duties consist solely in watching socialism and guarding eminent Germans from bombs and dynamite. Bismarck, for instance, never travels without the protection of at least two of the crack officers of the detective corps, and, when he takes a ride in the park, or even ventures on a short official visit to one of the departments, a man precedes and follows him. The vigilance is severe and thorough. The emperor, I may remark in passing, is never guarded by detectives, but his personal staff hover about him in a fashion that renders any interference from Nihilists or Socialists well nigh impossible. As to the skill of the German detectives, it cannot, I think, be compared for a moment with that of the police of Paris or New York.—New York Cor. Globe-Democrat.

Peculiar Idea About Religion.

A student deeply versed in ecclesiastical matters recently advanced a very peculiar idea while conversing with a friend. He said that the established religion of a country owed its principal doctrines less to faith than to the conditions of its climate and surroundings. He cited the beautiful religion of the natives of India, who would not eat anything that had once lived, because, while all could take away life, only One could give it. He argued that a religious belief like that could only have its origin in an intensely hot climate like that of India, where animal food is not necessary to sustain life. Among the Laplanders such a religion could never obtain, because it was absolutely necessary for the inhabitants of so high a latitude to keep the warmth of the body up to a certain heat. Nothing but animal fat could do that.—New York Sun.

A Rope Walker's Coolness.

If I myself do not feel nervous, I am afraid the many persons I have carried on my back across the rope have felt a trifle perturbed, save when they have been professional assistants. In reality there is nothing in the world for them to be afraid of. All they have to do is to sit perfectly still, refrain from clutching me too tightly around the neck and leave the rest to me. When I am carrying any one over for the first time, I chat to him continuously on any indifferent subjects I can think about, and try in this manner to relieve his anxiety, and I always caution him against looking downward when in mid air. Somehow, though, he never seems quite happy, and I always detect a gasp of relief when the end of the rope and the platform are reached. More than once the victim has' devoutly exclaimed, "Never again!"—J. B. Blondin in Lippincott's.

Dissipation of Vital Energy.

Truly did Emerson designate dissipation as the greatest evil in life. He did not mean dissipation in the narrow and common sense of excess of drinking. He meant dissipation of all sorts—the dissipation of vital energy in the pursuit of trivial objects, social dissipation, waste of time, waste of money, waste in general. Social dissipation is one of the most harmful forms of dissipation, because it is so insidious, apparently so innocent. We are commanded to love our neighbors, but we are not commanded to call on them two or three times a week. The amount of time consumed in superfluous and purposeless social intercourse in this world is something positively appalling.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Citizen Train's Astonishing Discovery.

One reason why world is so upside down is from the astounding error in "Cosmic Chronology." If Jan. 1 Anno Domini was first day of First century, end of twelfth month, Dec. 31, at midnight, ended first hundred years. If correct, Jan. 1, 1800, was first day of Eighteenth century, and yet for eighty-eight years we have been calling it Nineteenth century, when that does not begin till Jan. 1, 1900.—George Francis Train in New York World.

Cable Roads Preparing for Frost.

The Cable Road company are already preparing for winter. When the road was built due allowance was made for the expansion and contraction of the ironwork itself caused by heat and cold, but the pressure on the rails caused by the same agencies seems to have been entirely forgotten. The first cold snap of winter brought any quantity of trouble to the company. It froze the rain and snow water which had been allowed to settle in the spaces between the paving stones lying between the rails and the iron forming the slot through which the grips pass.

The stones spread farther and farther apart, and, pressing against the ironwork, closed up the slot so effectually that the grips were gripped firmer than they ever grasped the cable, and the road was blocked completely until gangs of men tore up the pavement at various points and pried the slot open with crowbars.

The company are now busily engaged relaying the pavement between the tracks, leaving considerable space between the stones. These spaces are first filled with gravel and finally run as full of hot pitch as possible, in the hope that water will find no space to lodge and freeze in this winter.—New York Evening Sun.

Signs of Wind.

Father Dominick Navarette in the Seventeenth century discovered certain infallible signs of wind. One never failing token "was the running and fluttering about of little insects aboard the ship, and the more restless they are the higher the wind, and by observing what place they came from mariners shall know if it will be fair." Another sign, according to his reverence, is when pigs begin to run and tumble about a ship in a calm. Baumgarten, in his "Travels," says he was with a pilot who, by putting his finger in the mouth and then holding it up, "prognosticated to us that we should have wind very speedily, which, indeed, proved accordingly." All that the modern sailor can do by wetting his finger and lifting it is to feel if there be any movement in the air. The digit has long ceased to be a sibyl. Formerly the Brittany fishermen raised the wind at will by procuring the dust swept out of a certain church and blowing it in the direction from which they desired the breeze to come. Sardinian sailors also possessed the same useful art. To procure a fair wind they had nothing to do but to sweep a chapel after mass and blow the dust of it after departing ships.—London Telegraph.

A Sultan's Palace.

The sultan of Johore has a wonderful palace near Singapore. Its wealth and beauty rival the "Arabian Nights" tales in splendor; and he is always willing to show his marvels to the many strangers touching at his shores. He entertains his guests at meals with food served in golden vessels, which service cost $700,000. The regalia he wears is valued at $600,000, a sword Queen Victoria presented cost the neat sum of $50,000, and he delights to dazzle the eyes of his enchanted spectators with these wondrous visions of wealth.—The Argonaut.

THE TYPICAL FRENCH WOMAN.

Max O'Rell Writes Racily Concerning Her Home Life—Peasantry.

The French woman has a genius for cookery, and is thoroughly awake to the fact that it is good policy in married life to see that her husband dines well. The politics of matrimony is a science inborn in our women. Let a French woman be rich or poor—the mistress of a mansion in the Champs Elysees or of a poor fifth floor little flat at Montmartre or Batignolles—she has always the charm of femininity. She is always smart, always alert, and has a little fluttering, bustling way with her that is bound to keep awake your interest in all she does. She may be sometimes a little affected, but she is never vulgar. On Sundays and holidays she dresses still a little more elegantly than usual, but she never appears to be in Sunday clothes. The middle class French woman is ladylike, not only in her dress, but in her speech. You will never see her loaded with cheap jewelry, this great stamp of vulgarity, and when she speaks to you you cannot guess whether she is the wife of a gentleman or of a small tradesman.

I have often heard French women called frivolous. But this is the height of absurdity. If frivolity consists in trying to remain young and attractive as long as possible then the French bourgeois is frivolous. If, again, frivolity consists in making a home cheerful and gay and preventing a husband from being absorbed by the cares of business, then she is frivolous. If this woman were frivolous how could you explain the adoration for the mother which, even to the lowest of the low, you find in French children? How could this be unless she were the example of all domestic virtues? If a Frenchman of 40 would hesitate to take an important step in life without first consulting his mother, surely it must be that he recognizes in her a wise guide. It would be no mere naivete on my part to dwell longer on the absurd charge of frivolity. Take now the shopkeeping classes. There you will see the wife the active partner of her husband. Behold them both as the commercial traveler displays his goods on the counter. She is not a mere housekeeper, with or without wages; she is a partner, not merely a sleeping partner. This not only enables her, if she happens to become a widow, to carry on a business without her husband, but to be independent and bring up her children. She has not, to obtain her living on her husband's death, to become a working housekeeper or a nurse; she is the mistress of her own house as before, and now the head of the firm.

You cannot obtain a perfect notion of French industry unless you pay a visit to our peasantry. I must say that now the woman ceases to be attractive. She does not even attempt to look so. Sunburnt, hale and hearty, behold her, dear English tourist, that is the fortune of France. She does not wear fringes on her forehead. I will admit; she does not wear flounces on a second hand skirt, or a hat with flowers and feathers, and she totally ignores one franc diamonds. She has a coarse serge gown on and simple snowy cap. She is clean and tidy and the personification of industry. I do not doubt, however, that, thanks to the blessings of gratuitous and compulsory education, the time will soon come when she will want to imitate the ladies of the town in her habits and dress, and that her sons will despise the dear land where they were born and will all want to be clerks and swagger in town with high stand up collars, tight trousers and sticks. Thank goodness, this spectacle is not yet to be seen in France.

This good, hard working, thrifty woman is the backbone of the country. The amount of work she can get through is simply prodigious. You will always see her busy, either working in her field, selling the products of her little farm in the marketplace of the nearest town or engaged about her little household. She is not attractive, but she is the picture of health and contentment. Shares or bonds may go up or down without disturbing her peace; she holds none. She trusts her savings to nobody. Bankers, she thinks, company directors and stock brokers may be very respectable persons, but when the old stocking is swollen with five franc pieces she rounds off her little family domain and buys another field, something she is quite sure to find in its place when she wakes up in the morning.

Let me give you an example of her frugality, and allow me to take it from a personal recollection. My mother has a housemaid who has been with her twenty-five years. Not long ago, while in France, I took aside this old servant. "I know how devoted you have been to my mother," I said to her. "You are not strong, and I dare say you will not wish to go into service again, but make yourself easy about this. If anything should happen to my mother, I shall see that you are comfortable for the rest of your life. But," I said, inquiringly, "I have no doubt you have something of your own by this time?" Imagine my surprise when I heard her tell me she had saved over 10,000 francs (about $2,000), all well invested, including one share in the Suez Canal company.—Max O'Rell in Philadelphia Press.

A Haven for Weak Nerves.

Washington bids fair to become the haven for all persons of delicate nerves. The commissioners have issued orders strictly forbidding all sorts of noises. Dogs are not to bark, cocks are not to crow, whistles of shops and railway engines are not to sound, streetcar bells are not to jingle, hucksters are not to cry abroad in the streets of the city. Vehicles roll in silence over the smooth pavements.—Atlanta Constitution.

MAKE HENS LAY
WE SEND BY MAIL
NOTHING ON EARTH WILL MAKE HENS LAY LIKE SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER
A LARGE 2¼ POUND CAN FOR $1.20, TWO SMALL PACKS 50 CTS. POST PAID.

Sheridan's Condition Powder
is absolutely pure and highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other kind. Strictly a medicine, to be given in the food, once daily, in small doses. Prevents and cures all diseases of hens. Worth its weight in gold when hens are moulting, and to keep them healthy. Testimonials sent free by mail. Ask your druggist, grocer, general store, or feed dealer for it. If you can't get it, send at once to us. Take no other kind. We will send postpaid by mail as follows:—A new, enlarged, elegantly illustrated copy of the "AMERICAN POULTRY RAISING GUIDE" (price 25 cents) tells how to make money with a few hens, and two small packages of Powder for 60 cents; or, one large 2¼ pound can and Guide, $1.20. Sample package of Powder, 25 cents, five for $1.00. Six large cans, express prepaid, for $5.00. Send stamps or cash. L. S. JOHNSON & CO., 23 Custom-House St., Boston, Mass.

LACTATED FOOD
Possesses many Important Advantages over all other prepared Foods.
BABIES CRY FOR IT. INVALIDS RELISH IT.
Makes Plump, Laughing, Healthy Babies. Regulates the Stomach and Bowels.
Sold by Druggists. 35c., 50c., $1.00.
WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., BURLINGTON, VT.

Baby Portraits.
A Portfolio of beautiful baby portraits, printed on fine plate paper by patent photo process, sent free to Mother of any Baby born within a year. Every Mother wants these pictures; send at once. Give Baby's name and age.
WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.

It's Easy to Dye WITH DIAMOND DYES
Superior in Strength, Fastness, Beauty, and Simplicity.
Warranted to color more goods than any other dyes ever made, and to give more brilliant and durable colors. Ask for the Diamond, and take no other. 36 colors; 10 cents each.
WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.
For Gilding or Bronzing Fancy Articles, Use DIAMOND PAINTS.
Gold, Silver, Bronze, Copper. Only 10 Cents.

CAUTION
Beware of Fraud, as my name and the price are stamped on the bottom of all my advertised shoes before leaving the factory, which protect the wearers against high prices and inferior goods. If a dealer offers W. L. Douglas shoes at a reduced price, or says he has them without my name and price stamped on the bottom, put him down as a fraud

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE. FOR GENTLEMEN.
The only calf $3 SEAMLESS Shoe smooth inside. NO TACKS or WAX THREAD to hurt the feet, easy as hand-sewed and WILL NOT RIP.
W. L. DOUGLAS $4 SHOE, the original and only hand-sewed welt $4 shoe. Equals custom-made shoes costing from $6 to $8.
W. L. DOUGLAS $3.50 POLICE SHOE. Railroad Men and Letter Carriers all wear them. Smooth inside as a Hand-sewed Shoe. No Tacks or Wax Thread to hurt the feet.
W. L. DOUGLAS $2.50 SHOE is unexcelled for heavy wear. Best Calf Shoe for the price.
W. L. DOUGLAS $2.25 WORKINGMAN'S SHOE is the best in the world for rough wear; one pair ought to wear a man a year.
W. L. DOUGLAS $2 SHOE FOR BOYS is the best School Shoe in the world.
W. L. DOUGLAS $1.75 YOUTH'S School Shoe gives the small Boys a chance to wear the best shoes in the world.
All made in Congress, Button and Lace. If not sold by your dealer, write
W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.
FOR SALE BY
OREN BRAGDON & SON,
NO. 24 MARKET STREET

ADAMSON'S BOTANIC COUGH BALSAM
More than twenty years ago Adamson's Botanic Balsam was introduced generally throughout New England as a remedy for Coughs, Colds and Pulmonary complaints. Since its introduction it has constantly won its way into public favor, until now it is the universal decision that ADAMSON'S BOTANIC BALSAM is the best remedy for curing Coughs, Colds and Asthma.
Made only by F. W. KINSMAN & CO., (Established 1850.) Druggists and Dispensing Chemists, 343 4th ave., corner 26th st., N. Y.
FOR SALE AT ALL DRUG STORES.

EAT QUAKER MILLS TRADE MARK. ROLLED WHITE OATS FOR BREAKFAST.
SOLD BY ALL GROCERS.
Quaker Mill Co., Ravenna, Ohio.

AN EXTRA LOT OF SPONGES, CHAMOIS SKINS AND WHIPS.
At Reasonable Prices at
John S. Tilton's
Harness and Trunk Repairer
NO. 18 CONGRESS STREET

THIS PAPER is on file in Philadelphia at the Newspaper Advertising Agency of Messrs. N. W. AYER & SON, our authorized agents

AT
No. 63 Pleasant St
may be our as full and carefully selected a stock of
FINE FANCY AND STAPLE
GROCERIES.
—ALSO—
BOOTS & SHOES
As at any Store east of Boston.
—VERMONT AND CREAMERY—
BUTTER & CHEESE.
Lard Sugar,
Molasses Syrup Oils.
Beans Peas Pickles Crackers,
Salt Pork Salt Fish, Sage Maccaroni,
-COFFEES-
Best Government Java and Rio, ground as sold.
-TEAS-
Best Qualities Formosa and Japan.
—A FULL LINE—
CANNED AND SHELF GOODS.
Pure Spices, Raisins, Currants, Cinnamon, Cocoa, Chocolate, Candied Lemon Peel, and all other Fine Groceries
TOBACCO AND CIGARS.
Brooms, Brushes, Pails, Crockery and Glassware, and a Large
Assortment of Miscellaneous Articles.
Boots and Shoes
Men's Calf Button Boots,
Men's Calf Balmoral Boots.
Men's Calf French Ties,
Ladies' Kid Button Boots.
Misses' and Children's, Youth's and Boys',
All Sizes and Kinds.
We make the best selections possible, paying Cash; and for Cash will sell as low as the lowest.
☞ Orders filled with care and delivered free in any part of the city.
JOHN J. LASKEY,
NO. 63 PLEASANT STREET.

ILSLEY & MOORE,
Fire Life and Accident Insurance Agents and Brokers No. 3 Pleasant St., Portsmouth N. H.
NOTICE.—The undersigned gives notice to all whom it may concern, that he has purchased from the senior member of the old firm of MORSE & ILSLEY, all rights to the Fire Insurance Business heretofore carried on by that firm, and is duly authorized by all the Companies represented by them to have and hold all their records. WINGATE N. ILSLEY.
Facilities for placing the largest lines of Fire Insurance in the best Companies.
Agents for the Equitable Life Ins. Society of the U. S. New England Mutual Life Ins. Co. of Boston, Mass., and the Fidelity & Casualty Ins. Co. of New York.

THE JOB PRINTING
Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD I. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line. Give him a trial and you will be more than pleased.

Embalmer and Funeral Director
NO. 60 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH
SAMUEL S. FLETCHER
(SUCCESSOR TO FLETCHER & TANTON.)
COFFINS, ROBES & CASKETS
Orders by night may be left at No. 42 Daniel St. or with A. L. Rice, No. 15 Hill St. or O. W. Ham No 12 Russell St.

Be Honest and Chew FINZER'S OLD HONESTY CHEWING TOBACCO which is ONLY for Chewing and NOT for Smoking. The BEST chewing tobacco CANNOT be good for Smoking. OLD HONESTY is the BEST AND CHEAPEST TOBACCO made. Insist on having the GENUINE with the red H tin tag, made only by, John Finzer & Bros., Louisville, Ky.

TRANSPORTAION

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

Eastern Division.

TRAINS LEAVE PORTSMOUTH FOR BOSTON, 4.05, 7.25, 8.20, 11.05 a. m., 2.55, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4.00 p. m. Returning, 7.30, 9.00, 10.00 a. m., 12.30, 3.20, 4.40, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.20 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

PORTLAND, 9.55, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m. Returning, 7.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.05, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 7.00 a. m.

BANGOR, ST. JOHN AND HALIFAX, 10.55 a. m. 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.00 p. m.

GREAT FALLS AND WOLFEBORO JUNC., 9.55 a. m., 2.45, 5.30 p. m.

WOLFEBORO, 9.55, a. m., 5.30 p. m.

NORTH CONWAY, 9.55 a. m., 2.45 p. m.

DOVER, 4.50, 9.45, a. m., 12.25, 2.38, 5.22 p. m.

YORK HARBOR AND BEACH R. R.

YORK BEACH AND WAY STATIONS, (via York Harbor and Beach R. R.) 8.30, 11.10 a. m., 3.35 p. m. Returning, leave York Beach 6.40, 10.00 a. m., 1.40, p. m. Connecting with trains leaving Portsmouth for Boston.

JAS. T. FURBER, Gen'l Manager. D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l Passenger Agent.

Concord & Portsmouth Railroad.

PASSENGER TRAINS leave Eastern Railroad Station for Newmarket Junction, Manchester, Concord and upper stations, as follows:

UP TRAINS.

Leave	A. M.	P. M.	P. M.
Portsmouth	7.55	1.00	5.15
Greenland	8.05	1.09	5.24
Newmarket Junction	8.25	1.21	5.36
East Epping		1.31
Epping	8.43	1.37	6.1
West Epping	8.49		6.17
Raymond	9.00	1.53	6.32
Candia	9.13	2.05	6.44
Auburn	9.22		6.57
Massabesic	9.30	2.20	7.06
Arrive Manchester	9.42	2.30	7.20
" Concord	10.30	3.12	8.23

DOWN TRAINS.

Leave	A. M.	A. M.	P. M.
Concord	7.50	10.20	4.25
Manchester	8.15	11.15	5.20
Massabesic	8.27	11.25	5.30
Auburn	8.35		5.44
Candia	8.44	11.46	5.54
Raymond	9.05	11.56	6.12
West Epping	9.13	P. M.	6.20
Epping	9.20	12.08	6.27
East Epping		12.14
Newmarket Junction	9.46	12.24	6.48
Greenland	10.01	12.36	6.01
Arrive Portsmouth	10.10	12.45	6.10

☞ Trains connect at Newmarket Junction with trains of the Boston & Maine Railroad for Exeter, Haverhill, Lawrence and Boston; and for Dover, Great Falls and Portland; at Concord with trains to and from all the upper Railroads.

H. E. CHAMBERLIN, Supt.

C. E. BOYNTON,
Manufacturer and Wholesale Dealer in
Soda Water, Root, Tonic, Vanilla, Orange and Strawberry Beer, Crab Apple Lemonette, Cream Ginger and Ginger Ale.
EXTRACT OF NERVE FOOD!
For Brain and Nervous Exhaustion. Good for the Appetite.
Soda Water in Syphons for Hotel and Family Use. Fountains Charged at Short Notice.
Bottler of Eldredge and Milwaukee Lager, Porter and Refined Cider.
☞ The Summer Beverages manufactured and bottled by me having been before the public of this city and vicinity for the past seventeen years, need no endorsement as being of the very highest standard.

E. C. BLAISDELL, D. M. D.,
(SUCCESSOR TO DR. F. J. BONNEY,)
Dental Rooms 1 1-2 Market Street.

Bay State, Haynes Excelsior and Wm. B. Tilton Gold Medal GUITARS, $10 to $40. MUSIC BOXES, 50 cents to $300. Solo Bb CORNET, $10. Haynes VIOLINS, Orchestra, $25; Solo, $35. Special Snare DRUMS, $6. Crosby FIFES, $2. Drum Corps and Bands, send for Estimates. Catalogues free. J. C. HAYNES & Co., 33 Court St., Boston, Mass.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

POST OFFICE RULES.

MAILS CLOSE

	A. M.		P. M.
Boston, N. Y., south, west,	8:00	10:20	2:20	4:50	6:45
Boston and way stations,		10:20	2:20		6:45
Portland,	9:25		4:50		6:45
Portland and way stations,	9:25		4:50
East [beyond Portland]	9:25				6:45
Great Falls, Rochester, Wolfeboro' Union Milton,	9:25				4:50
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,	9:25
Concord & Manchester,	7:40	10:20			4:50
Concord, Manchester and north,	7:40		4:50
Exeter and S. & M. way, west of Newmarket,	7:40		4:50
Dover,	9:25		2:20	4:50	6:45
North Conway,	9:25				6:45
York and Cape Neddick,		9:25
Newcastle,		10:20
Newington,		10:20
Boston, N. Y. and south, Monday,					1:00

MAILS ARRIVE.

	A. M.		P. M.
Boston, south and west,	10:05	3:10	5:40	7:00	9:00
New York,	10:05		5:40	7:00
Boston and way stations,	10:05		5:40
Portland and east,	7:30	11:00		3:00
Great Falls, Rochester, Union, Milton,	8:30	11:00
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,		11:00
Concord, Manchester and north,		10:30		6:30
Dover,	7:30	10:30		3:00	5:40
Newcastle,		9:30
Newington,		9:30
York and Cape Neddick,		11:00
B. & M. R. R., west of Newmarket,		10:30		6:30

S. J. GERRISH, P. M.

MINATURE ALMANAC NOV. 14.

SUN RISES	6 35	MOON SETS	2 24 P. M
SUN SETS	4 23	FULL SEA	8 30 A. M.
LENGTH OF DAY	9 48		8 P. M.

PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Open Monday, Tuesday, Friday and Saturday evenings from 7 30 to 9:00 P. M., and Wednesday and Saturday afternoons from 3:00 to 6:00 o'clock

Weather Indications.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

Warmer, fair weather, southerly winds.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

On Tuesday at noon the jury was empanelled as follows:

Charles E. Gouch, Exeter;
Edgar F. Shannon, Atkinson;
George W. Dolber, Chester;
George E. Richardson, Candia;
Joseph Watson, Newmarket;
Charles S. Greeley, Londonderry;
John E. Webster, Derry;
Lucien E. Smith, Brentwood;
Eliphalet W. Philbrick, East Kingston;
George G. Tenney, Londonderry;
Samuel P. Eaton, South Hampton;
William H. Davis, Hampstead.

Twenty-one names were drawn from the box to get the jury; three challenges were made by the government and five by the defence.

The remainder of the jurors summoned for the beginning of the term were excused until next Monday, and those summoned for Monday last were dismissed from further service.

The court then announced a recess until three o'clock.

At the coming in of the court in the afternoon the jury was sworn. Samuel P. Eaton of South Hampton was appointed foreman, and the jury in charge of the sheriff, and accompanied by Messrs. Emery and Page, went to Noble's Island to view the locality where it is believed Whitehouse was murdered.

It was nearly four o'clock when they returned, and immediately thereafter Solicitor Emery began his opening address, which occupied upward of an hour. After explaining to the jury the different degrees of murder, and citing authorities, he said the State intended to submit evidence which would show this murder to have been deliberate and premeditated. He outlined the testimony to be introduced relating to the finding of the body of Whitehouse, the description of the wounds found thereon, the autopsy, the verdict of the coroner's jury, the finding of the hammer with which the blows are supposed to have been struck, etc. During this portion of the solicitor's remarks minute attention was paid by the prisoner to every word that fell from the lips of Mr. Emery, who recited the causes for the hatred which he expected to show the jury was held by Palmer for Whitehouse; the searching for articles missing from the Electric Light station, and that Palmer was charged with their theft; of the talk with Sheriff Coffin prior to the murder, wherein he stated that Whitehouse and Supt. Palmer of the Electric Light station were trying to ruin him; that two fellows had "blowed on him, and that he would fix them." He described the movements on Kittery bridge and at Kittery on the night of the murder, of a man in a long coat with collar turned up so as to hide his face, and whom the prosecution would endeavor to prove was the prisoner; the circumstances which led to his arrest, and his remarks to the sheriff at that time; the examination of Palmer's clothing, and the finding thereon of spots supposed to be blood. In short, they expected to prove to the jury beyond a reasonable doubt that Palmer held a hatred for Whitehouse, that he prepared himself, knowing that Whitehouse would go to Kittery on the night in question, that he went to the bridge to intercept him, that he did so, dealt the fatal blows, and rolled the body down the bank into the water, that the clothing of Palmer which showed the spots supposed to be blood had undergone a partial washing—all of which would tend to prove that the prisoner Palmer did deliberately and premeditatedly murder said Whitehouse.

At the conclusion of the opening of the case by the solicitor the court declared a recess until nine o'clock Wednesday morning.

Notes.

The prisoner, James Palmer, is guarded by and handcuffed to Deputy Sheriff H. W. Moon of Candia while being conveyed to and from the court.

The jury is under the charge of Deputy Sheriffs Towle and Harvey, and will be accompanied at the Langdon house by Deputy Sheriff Jenness.

Attorney General Barnes, Assist. Attorney General Pinsent, Solicitor Emery and Hon. Frank Jones are in attendance upon the court.

Judge Allen is expected to arrive in this city on Thursday morning.

Arrangements have been made whereby the jurors will be made as comfortable as the circumstances incident to a murder trial will permit.

One of the questions which were put to many of the jurors as their names were drawn Tuesday was: "Do you come to Portsmouth often?" Three men, who were drawn one after another, replied: "Not very often." When asked "How often?" they replied respectively that they had not been here for eighteen, eleven, and thirty years; and it is probable they have lived right in this county all their lives.

We cannot remember when so much interest has been manifested in any case that has been tried in this city of recent years, as there seems to be in this one. Surely not since the Magoon trial, and we doubt if there was as much then as there is now. There is always an attraction about a murder case, and from the fact that this is considered a particularly clean one, it proves to be no exception to the rule. A large portion of the spectators Tuesday were ladies.

Sheriff Coffin evidently, and rightly, believes in having the prisoner well guarded while in court, judging from the array of stalwart deputies who line the rear of the prisoner's dock.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

The entire force of the department of steam engineering at the navy yard was laid off on Tuesday at noon, for an indefinite period.

The United States tug Fortune arrived at the navy yard about noon on Tuesday, from Washington and intermediate naval stations, with stores for the yard. Of what use stores of any kind can be at the yard, after the bottom has dropped out, it is not easy to discern.

The unexpected instructions received at the navy yard on Tuesday morning from Washington, necessitating the furloughing of the entire force employed in the steam engineering department, will necessarily delay the work which was soon to have been begun on the tug Leyden, but as soon as it is ascertained at headquarters just how much money there is left from the wreck of the campaign, we may expect to see a small force at work in the steam engineering department, and in the department of construction and repair.

PERSONAL.

—Mr. Charles W. Coleman of this city is visiting friends in Lynn, Mass.

—Elbridge G. Pierce, Esq., today leaves for Marietta, Ga., to assume the superintendency of the North Georgia railway. The good wishes of a host of personal and political friends attend Col. Pierce to his new field of business.

—Invitations have been received in this city by friends of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Graves of South Boston, to be present at the fifth anniversary of their marriage, at their residence No. 684 1-2 Seventh street, on Thursday evening, Nov. 29th. Mrs. Graves is a native of this city.

MECHANICS' ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Mechanics' Association was held at their reading room on Tuesday evening, and the following officers elected for the ensuing year:

President, Charles H. Downs;
Vice President, Edward J. Moulton;
Treasurer, Lewis G. Davis;
Trustees, Oliver H. Locke, Marcellus Bufford, (others hold over;)
Secretary, Benjamin M. Parker;
Deputy Secretary, Joshua M. Vaughan;
Marshal, Col. Andrew J. Beck;
Deputy Marshal, Gardner J. Greenleaf;
Standard Bearer, J. Warren Davis;
Auditors, John Knowlton, Marcellus Bufford, William G. Billings.

The annual reports show that the association is in a flourishing financial condition, having paid off $500 of debt during the past year, the indebtedness now being $3,500. The number of members is seventy.

A BUILDING PURCHASED FOR THE Y. M. C. A.

A syndicate of our business men, interested in establishing the much-talked-of Young Men's Christian Association, have this week purchased the Congress street residence of the late Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett. The premises will be rented to the association for a sum returning ordinary interest on the purchase price. When the growth and vitality of the organization will warrant, it will be allowed to acquire the property in its own right, without profit to the friends who make the generous proposition.

Very slight internal changes will prepare the building for nearly all the demands likely to be made during the first year of the association's life. Plans are already on paper for probable future alterations which will provide an ample gymnasium, and hall for meetings and lectures. For the present the tender has been accepted of the occasional use of a commodious hall in a neighboring block. It is understood that the former owners made a considerable concession in their price, in view of the purpose for which the property was bought.

A general secretary is to be engaged as soon as the right man is found; and the definite work for young men, in accord with similar organizations all over the country, will soon be inaugurated. At the next session of the legislature articles of incorporation will be sought for the Young Men's Christian Association of Portsmouth, and it will thus be given a standing of permanency among our numerous institutions for good. We congratulate the young men of our city upon the advantages soon to be offered them for a nominal membership fee.

POLICE COURT—BATCHELDER J.

TUESDAY, Nov. 13th.

John Mahoney, drunk, fine $3, costs $5.76; county farm in default of payment.

William Clark, for vagrancy, was sentenced to pass ninety days at the county farm, and enough longer to board out $7.76, the costs in the case. This assures Mr. Clark comfortable lodgings, sufficiently warmed, and an abundance of wholesome food, well cooked, until well along in March. His look ahead is more cheering than is that of many of the worthy laboring men recently sent adrift from the navy yard.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT.

It affords us pleasure publicly to acknowledge the receipt of one hundred dollars from Robert Harris, Esq., this sum to be added to the permanent fund that is being raised by the Cottage Hospital. JOHN S. RAND, Treasurer.

MATTERS IN YORK.

YORK VILLAGE, ME., Nov. 12th.

A very great improvement has been made in the highway at York Village, by blasting away the ledge and widening the road at Jail hill.

Mr. T. M. Bragdon is to buy the grocery business of Mr. W. M. Walker, who, it is said, will furnish his store with dry goods.

Mr. J. O. Bartlett, harness maker, will soon build a shop at York Village, near Mr. W. T. Keene's blacksmith shop.

We are glad to hear that a singing class has been opened at York Village. There is good talent, but for some time past very little practice. There seems to be quite an interest in singing manifested now, and it is hoped it will continue.

There will be a torch-light procession at York on Thursday evening, together with some other celebrations in honor of the election. J. E.

During the parade of the Equescurriculum animals on Tuesday evening, the cavalcade was stampeded on Marke street by the firing of crackers, and five ponies ran up to Portsmouth bridge, and finding the gates closed took to the ties of the railroad bridge, but came back at the call of the trainer, who had raced after them on horseback. Three other horses, fastened together, ran up Deer and Vaughan streets to Maplewood avenue, and when stopped one of them was found to have broken an ankle.

The Winchester Cadets will go to Biddeford this evening to join in the republican celebration there, and are required to meet at the hall at seven o'clock. The fare for the round trip, for men in uniform, will be seventy cents each; for others, $1.20. Tickets can be had at the hall. Collation at the hotel in Biddeford for the Cadets.

Tickets for the matinee performances of Prof. Bristol's trained horses at Music hall can be secured at Goodrich's bookstore.

The north millpond was frozen over on Tuesday morning, and remained frozen over all day.

A private dancing school of thirty-two couples, under the management of Messrs. Stone, Wendell and Dimick, and taught by Prof. J. A. Flockton of Boston, will commence on Monday evening, Nov. 26th, at eight o'clock, in Good Templars' hall on Pleasant street.

The best seal skin plush cloak at $25 in the city, can be found at L. E. Staples', No. 7 Market street.

Albert M. Bragdon has bought the stock of groceries of W. M. Walker at York Village, and will move into the building opposite, now occupied by J. P. Bartlett and J. P. Putnam. Mr. Bartlett has a building completed for his occupancy near Willard Grant's, and Mr. Putnam is building a store on the parish lot near Will Keen's blacksmith shop. Mr. Walker is to continue his store for the sale of drugs, medicines, dry goods, and boots and shoes.

Improving Portsmouth Harbor.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13. Gen. Casey, chief of engineers, has submitted his annual report to the secretary of war. He says in reference to the harbor at Portsmouth:

"The project for improving this harbor was adopted in 1879, the object being to check the strong tidal currents in the harbor and to give a navigable depth over the ledge known as Gangway rock, opposite the navy yard.

To June 30, 1887, there had been expended the sum of $94,730.36.

In the last fiscal year there has been expended the sum of $11,874.58.

The results are the entire removal of Gangway rock to a depth of twenty feet at mean low water, the completion of the breakwater to stop the cross currents coming in from between Great and Goat islands, and a part of the ledge projecting from Badger's island.

There remains to complete the original project only the removal of the remaining ledge on the point projecting from Badger's island.

The officer in charge recommends that no further work be done upon that point, except so far as it may be considered desirable to remove the ledge to a depth not less than eighteen feet, in order that passing vessels may not be injured by being drifted upon the jagged rock.

The estimated amount required to complete the original project is $25,000, but this is not recommended."

Ringing Noises

In the ears, sometimes a roaring buzzing sound are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smelling or hearing also result from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood. If you suffer from catarrh, try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the peculiar medicine.

Pears' Soap is an elegant toilet adjunct.

DIED.

MOULTON. In York, Me., Nov. 12th, of consumption, Mrs. Julia D. Moulton, wife of Edward L. Moulton.

MARINE CHRONICLE.

PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

ARRIVED Nov. 13th.

Sch Wingaersheek, Adams, Plum Island, with sand to J H Broughton.

SAILED Nov. 13th.

Sch Fannie Hodgkins, Kimball, Boothbay.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER Co. 106 Wall Street, New York.

Colored Fire

— FOR —

CELEBRATION

NOV. 19, 1888,

— AT —

BENJ. GREEN'S,

APOTHECARY,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

To Let.

THE middle Tenement, No. 23, in the Kenney Block on Pleasant Street. Apply to J. P. HART.

Dwelling House for Sale.

THE residence of the late Mrs. Daniel Libbey, No. 126 State Street, can be purchased on application to

JOHN SISE, JOSEPH SISE, } Executors

DR. S. F. HAM,

Of Hotel Bristol, Boston, will receive patients

Monday and Tuesday

FROM MAY 1st TO NOV. 1st,

And the remainder of the year every Monday.

Office and Residence, 13 CHURCH ST., Portsmouth, N. H.

C-O-A-L-!

All Kinds and Sizes Delivered Well Screened.

E. F. SISE & CO.

First Quality Wood!

Liverpool and Turks Island

SALT

in Bulk and Sacks. Salt in Boxes. Boston and Portland Brands.

TELEPHONE.

POSITIVELY

No Cure, No Pay!

CONSTITUTIONAL COUGH SYRUP

--- TRY IT! ---

The proprietor of this remedy has such confidence in its curative powers that he makes the following

Generous Offer!

Any person buying a bottle is given the privilege of returning it and receiving their MONEY BACK, if after using two-thirds of its contents, they have derived no benefit from it.

PRICE 25 AND 50 CENTS.

— SOLD BY —

David Kimball & Co., 36 Market Street.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

Citizens' Excursion

— TO —

BOSTON!

Thursday, Nov. 15, '88.

Round Trip Tickets Good Going Nov. 15, and Returning not after Nov. 16, 1888, will be on sale at the following Stations and Rates:

Agamenticus	$2.10
Conway Junction	2.00
Eliot	1.90
Kittery	1.75
York Beach	2.35
Long Beach	2.25
York Harbor	2.15
Kittery Point	1.95
Kittery Navy Yard	1.70
Greenland	1.55
Portsmouth	1.70

JAS. T. FURBER, Gen'l Manager.
D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l Pass. Agent.

A LARGE LOT OF LEAF SAGE Just Received and for Sale by the Pound or less quantity. Come early before it is sold.
JAMES R. YEATON & CO., 55 Congress St.

LOOK AT THIS

Heavy, Substantial Cooking Range,

"THE ALMONER."

Plain for $16.00, Worth $25.00

To anyone in need of a First Class Range. Examine this before purchasing elsewhere.

— ALSO A FULL LINE OF —

MAGEE FURNACES, RANGES & STOVES.

Plumbing, Gas Fitting, Tin and Sheet Iron Work of All Kinds.

C. W. TAYLOR.

42 & 44 MARKET STREET.

MUSIC HALL, PORTSMOUTH.

JOHN O. AYERS.....MANAGER.

ONE WEEK, COMMENCING

Monday, Nov. 12th.

Popular Family Matinees Wednesday, Friday and Saturday at 2:30 P. M.

EQUESCURRICULUM!

Beautifully Trained

30 HORSES, PONIES & MULES 30

Under the Management of JNO. C. PATRICK.

The Only School of Educated Horses in the World.

The Equine Wonders of the 19th Century.

The Fun Provoking Mule,	The Mathematical Wonder,
DENVER	MATTIE

A Superb Mounted Military Band and Complete Orchestra.

OUR PRICES, 25, 35 AND 50 CENTS.

Sale of Seats opens at Goodrich's Book Store, Thursday Morning, Nov. 8th.

NOTICE.—Children under 12 years of age can secure a Reserved Seat at the Matinee for 25c.

ED. H. NEIL, Gen'l Agt. E. S. DAVIDSON, Adv. Agt.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Sold only in cans, full weight.

FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

RED FIRE!

QUALITY GUARANTEED.

ANDREW P. PRESTON,

Apothecary, - Portsmouth, N. H.

A PERFECT BLEND

MOCHA AND JAVA COFFEE

FULL WEIGHT, 2 POUND CANS, PRICE 70 CENTS

CHARLES E. LAICHTON & SON,

Exchange Building, Opp. Post-Office.

Marigold Ointment!

Remember is Warranted for External Piles, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Nettle Rash, Hives, and all Diseases of the Skin and Scalp, Old Sores, Chilblains, Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Chapped Hands, Cold Sores, Cracks in Hands and Lips, Ingrowing Nails, Inflamed Joints, and everything else for which an Ointment is required

Call for Circular and Sample Box Free.

— SOLE AGENT FOR ROCKINGHAM COUNTY —

William D. Grace, - - - Apothecary.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

FALL AND WINTER OF 1888-89.

Our Assortment of Tailoring Goods is superior in many respects to any of previous years, embracing a Full Line of Goods suitable for

Fall and Winter Overcoatings.

Aslo, a Fine Assortment of the Best

IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC GOODS FOR SUITINGS,

Consisting of Stripes, Checks, Plain and Fancy Woollens and Worsteds in Great Variety.

CHECKS AND STRIPES FOR TROWSERS.

FANCY PATTERNS FOR VESTING.

Prices Reasonable for Fine Work.

WM. P. WALKER, - - MERCHANT TAILOR,

NO. 8 MARKET SQUARE.

THE BEST BONDS ARE POLICIES

— IN THE —

Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York

THE LARGEST, CHEAPEST AND BEST IN THE WORLD.

Assets - - over $120,000,000.

RICHARD A. MCCURDY, - PRESIDENT.

PROTECTION FOR THE AGED!

At Age of 75 $1000 will purchase an Annuity of $159.06, and other ages in proportion.

Those Desiring Reliable Insurance Should Apply to the Undersigned,

C. M. GIGNOUX, - - GENERAL AGENT,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE OLDEST AND ONLY Republican Morning Paper IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

IF YOU WANT TO BUY OR SELL ANYTHING ADVERTISE IN THE Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 23, 1862.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., THURSDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 15, 1888.

$6 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE. TWO CENTS PER COPY.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

THURSDAY, NOV. 15, 1888.

The News!

ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES.

The Winchester Guards at Saco

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

SACO, ME., Nov. 14.—Biddeford and Saco republicans closed the campaign with a big celebration tonight. Delegations were present from Hollis, Waterboro, Scarboro, and Portsmouth. In addition to uniformed companies a large number of citizens joined the parade, carrying transparencies, torches and banners, ringing bells and blowing horns. Portsmouth's 125 men made a fine showing in the ranks. There were many brilliant illuminations in both cities.

Justice to Widows and Orphans.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 14.—The Supreme Court of the United States, though Chief Justice Fuller, has rendered an opinion of universal interest to holders of life insurance policies. In the case Thomas L. Hume, of the District of Columbia, who died insolvent, but left $35,000 life insurance policies payable to his widow and children, the administrator and creditors sought to force the application of the proceeds of the policies to the payment of debts. The court holds that the benificiaries are entitled to the pe oceeds of the policies.

Vessel Sunk.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The propellor Enola, the finest boat of the Clyde line between New York and Philadelphia, was sunk night before last in Raritan river. Her cargo, mostly wool, is a total loss; the vessel struck a sunken obstruction.

The Imaginary War Over.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CHARLESTOWN, S. C., Nov. 14.—All is quiet at Beaufort; no further fear of disturbance.

A Keene Bookkeeper Missing.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

KEENE, N. H., Nov. 14.—Sumner C. Foster, bookkeeper for the Impervious Package company, has been missing since November 6th He went to Charlestown, N. H., to vote, and returned on Tuesday afternoon. On stepping off the train he remarked to an acquaintance that he thought he would go to Boston. Nothing further has been seen of him. No cause is known for his disappearance.

A Deficiency in the Postal Service.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The annual report of the third assistant postmaster general shows a deficiency of $5,430,827, owing mainly to the great extension of the free delivery service, and increase of railway mail and transportation.

Ready to Treat Mad Dog Subjects.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

PARIS, Nov. 14.—The Pasteur Institute was formally opened to-day. M. Pasteur received an ovation from the people.

Strike of Railroad Employees.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Nov. 14.—This afternoon the drivers and conductors on the main line of the Northward avenue struck, and those of North Second street branch quit, and the entire system of the road is now blocked; about 500 men are out.

Change of Division Commanders.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 14.—Gen. Schofield is relieved of the command of the division of the Atlantic, and ordered to the command of the army. Gen. Howard is assigned to the division of the Atlantic. Gen. Miles takes Gen. Howard's place in command of the division of the Pacific. Col. Grierson, of the Tenth Cavalry, is placed in command of the department of Arizona, and Col. Carr, of the Sixth Cavalry, in command of the department of New Mexico.

The Indian Must Go.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

DURANGO, COL., Nov. 14.—Yesterday one-fourth of the tribe of Southern Utes signed a treaty providing for their removal to the new reservation in Utah; member of the commission says he anticipates no trouble in receiving signatures of three-fourths of the tribe, which will be sufficient to remove them. This will open several hundred thousand acres of the best farming lands in Colorado.

Mayor O'Brien Re-Nominated.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

BOSTON, Nov. 14.—The democratic city committee tonight renominated Mayor O'Brien.

Forced His Attentions on Mary Anderson.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—James M. Dougherty, an awkward-looking countryman from the vicinity of Salem, N. Y., was arrested today for annoying Miss Mary Anderson by persistent attentions. Dougherty seems weak-minded, and says he first saw and fell in love with the actress six years ago. He tried to obtain an interview and failed, but followed her to New York and then to England.

Minister Phelps Given a Banquet.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

GLASGOW, Nov. 14.—The corporation of Glasgow gave a banquet this evening to Mr. Phelps, the American minister. Mr. Phelps was received with great applause.

A Big Strike in Pittsburg.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

PITTSBURG, PA., Nov. 14.—Twenty-five hundred employees of Jones & Laughlin, American Iron Works, declared a strike today against the proposed change in the hours of labor.

California Republicans Gain a Congressman.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Nov. 13.—Official returns from the first congressional district are not yet received. Thompson, dem., now concedes the election of Dehaven, republican. If Dehaven is elected California's congressional representation stands five reps', to one dem., one republican gain.

Somebody's Surplus Reduced.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Nov. 14.—It is estimated that about $200,000 changed hands in this city on the election. One of the best posted betting men here estimates that not less than $1,000,000 was wagered on the State.

Banquetting the "Spell-Binders."

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The speakers and managers whose exertions helped win the recent republican national victory, and who are now dubbed "The Spell Binders," participated in a banquet at Delmonico's this evening, in which nearly every republican of note in this vincinity was present, and many from other localities were represented by letters or telegrams of regret. Among the latter was President-elect Harrison and Vice-President elect Morton, Col. Elliott F. Shepard, John S. Wise of Virginia, Col. R. G. Ingersoll, Col. George A. Sheridan and Robert P. Porter responded to toasts.

Protection Protects.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

BETHLEHEM, PA., Nov. 14.—The railway department of the Bethlehem Iron Co's mill started up today, after seveal weeks' idleness. The converting department resumed work yesterday. The whole mill is now in full operation.

Extensive Resumption of the Iron Industry.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

READING, PA., Nov. 14.—As a result of the improvement in the iron trade, the Reading Railroad company today issued orders for resumption of work at its large furnace at Bechtelsville; other company furnaces will also resume. Glendale rolling mill resumed today.

The Florida Vote.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., Nov. 14.—The official returns of this county, (Duval) canvassed today, show a majority for Harrison of 1313; for Shipman, rep. for governor, 1226; for Goodrich, rep. for congressman from the second district, 1282. Total registration in county over 7000; total vote, 4110. The democratic candidates polled votes ranging from 1400 to 1900. Five of the leading county officers will be filled by negroes.

PARIS, Nov. 14.—Chamber of Deputies committee on the revision of the constitution has adopted a resolution in favor of abolishing the senate and presidency.

LISBON, PORTUGAL, Nov. 14.—Tagus, Douro and Lizio rivers have overflowed their banks, flooding surrounding counties and doing extensive damage.

DOVER.

WEDNESDAY, Nov. 14th.

Well, here we are again; going to be here every morning, too; so let all Doverites keep a sharp eye on us, and we'll tell you all about what the good people are doing around.

Let's see; we were speaking of the post-office yesterday. Well, you know "it never rains but it pours". (candidates we mean.) Since then the name of Dr. C. A. Fairbanks has been mentioned as a probable candidate for that office. We have not yet seen the genial doctor, but presume "he's all right."

The latest candidate we hear mentioned for mayor is Mr. B. Frank Nealley, the dry goods merchant. Mr. Nealley is a life-long resident of Dover, and well acquainted with public affairs.

A new, highly-polished brass railing is being put around the entrance to the police station, and the dandy "coppers" will now have a chance to exercise their muscle these cold mornings by keeping it bright and shining.

By the way, we've got a fairly good looking station now; the tramping fraternity pronounce it simply immense. But it cost us a good penny, don't you know.

The remains of Geo. H. Pinkham, who died Monday night at the insane asylum, were brought here to-day for burial. He was a member of the Grand Army and Knights of Pythias.

The news of the resignation of Maj. W. H. Cheever, inspector of rifle practice in the N. H. N. G., is received with much regret by the military boys in this city, among whom he was very popular.

Mr. S. Levi, postmaster at Newburyport, was in town to-day visiting his old friend, Mr. Wm. Sterns.

Mr. John H. Moulton has so far recovered from his recent illness as to ride out. His many friends were glad to see him around again to-day.

And now the ladies are going to vote. A number have already registered, and many more are going to. At the last municipal election only four of them exercised their right, but the craze has struck them, and now they're in for it.

The N. H. Sunday School Teachers' convention opened at the Methodist church last evening. There was a large attendance, and the meeting was a very interesting one. The opening address was made by Rev. Geo. E. Hall of this city.

The noise made by the republicans at Great Falls last night during the demonstation, was plainly heard here.

Aaron Pinkham is spoken of as a probable candidate for mayor among the democrats in this city.

Wallace Bruce of New York lectured at the Opera house to-night on "Native mettle."

A big crowd will go from here to Portsmouth next Monday night.

John F. Greene is being boomed for councilman from ward two.

The rooms over Bacon's jewelry store are being fitted up, and will be occupied by Dr. Watson.

Mr. Louis Goldsmidth is conducting very successful classes in French and German at the academy.

Mr. A. Morrill, father of Geo. F. Morrill, whose home is in Amesbury, Mass., is visiting his son here. Mr Morrill is ninety one years of age, and is yet hale and hearty.

Sullivan & Littlefield have a new idea in advertising. Their large greyhound now goes about the streets with a handsome blanket on, and with the name of the firm embroidered on each side.

Prof. A F. Morse is to open a class in bookkeeping soon in Walker hall

The streets have been crowded to day, owing to the pleasant weather.

Postmaster Nason's term of office does not expire until one year from next April. He has some time to stay yet.

Fred H. Tibbetts died at his home on Dover street this morning of typhoid fever, aged about twenty-one years. He was a shoemaker by trade, and well and favorably known among his associates. He was a member of the Dover Cornet band.

Ward four caucus to-morrow night.

K. of P. and G. A. R. will attend the funeral of Bro. Geo. H. Pinkham in a body. MACDUFFEE.

Telegraphic Notes.

SEARSPORT, Me., Nov. 14.—Capt. Joseph Park, aged 73, one of Searsport's wealthiest and most prominent sea captains, dropped dead this afternoon.

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 19.—Dartmouth beat Williams today at football, 36 to 6

CHICAGO, ILL., Nov. 14.—The annual meeting of the National Board of Trade convened this afternoon, and will continue in session tomorrow and Friday.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., Nov. 14.—New cases of fever, 34, deaths 2.

General Harrison announces that he would very much like to acknowledge every communication sent him, but there are now 7000 unanswered epistles on his hands. A few hasty office seekers will probably wait for the letter that will never come.

Our local contemporaries, the Times and the Penny Post, both state that there will be an "annual" eclipse of the sun on June 28th, 1889. This is a new kind of an eclipse. Possibly they intended to say "annular." Annual or annular, it makes no difference to the people of this region, as whichever it is, it will be invisible here. There will be a total eclipse of the sun on Jan. 1st, but that too will not be visible in this part of the world.

J. L.

GLACE FRUITS,
NEW PRUNES,
NEW FIGS,
NEW JELLIES AND JAMS.

OLD RICE POPPING CORN.

DESSICATED COCOANUT

In Strips for Frosting Cake.

Fresh Ground Spices

Of Extra Fine Flavor and Strength.

HYGIENIC COFFEE,

A Healthful and Refreshing Drink, especially for those who cannot drink Genuine Coffee.

JOHN LAIGHTON,

No. 1 Market Square.

GRANITE STATE Fire Insurance Company,

OF PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

PAID-UP CAPITAL, - $200,000

OFFICERS:

President, FRANK JONES.
Vice President, JOHN W. SANBORN.
Secretary, ALFRED F. HOWARD.
Treasurer, JOHN LAIGHTON.
Executive Committee, FRANK JONES, JOHN W. SANBORN, CHARLES A. SINCLAIR, EDWIN WALLACE and E. H. WINCHESTER.

COLD WEATHER MUSIC BOOKS.

New Music Books.

These new books are every day more in favor:
Classical Pianist, Piano Classics, Song Classics, Song Classics for Low Voices, Classic Tenor Songs, Classic Baritone and Bass Songs. Each $1.
Praise in Song (40 cts., $4.20 per doz.) is the best new Sacred Music Book for Home and Vestry singing.
Let the Children sing from Menard's Songs for Kindergarten and Primary Schools (30 cts.) or Jenk's Songs and Games for Little Ones ($2) or Children's School Songs (35 cts., $3.60 per doz.) All have very sweet child's songs.
Give your aid in getting up a rousing good evening singing Class to use Song Harmony (60 cts., $6 per doz.) Full of most interesting music, sacred and secular. Song Manual, Book 3 (50 cts., $4.80 per doz.) is also a good collection, mostly secular.
Tell the Temperance People that no better Temperance Song Book has appeared than Bells of Victory (35 cts., $3.60 per doz.)
Xmas is coming. Send for lists of Christmas Cantatas and Carols.

ANY BOOK MAILED FOR RETAIL PRICE.

Oliver Ditson & Co., Boston.

ADAMSON'S BOTANIC COUGH BALSAM

More than twenty years ago Adamson's Botanic Balsam was introduced generally throughout New England as a remedy for Coughs, Colds and Pulmonary complaints. Since its introduction it has constantly won its way into public favor, until now it is the universal decision that ADAMSON'S BOTANIC BALSAM is the best remedy for curing Coughs, Colds and Asthma.

Made only by F. W. KINSMAN & CO., (Established 1850.) Druggists and Dispensing Chemists, 849 4th ave., corner 26th st., N. Y.

POSITIVELY

No Cure, No Pay!

CONSTITUTIONAL COUGH SYRUP

--- TRY IT! ---

The proprietor of this remedy has such confidence in its curative powers that he makes the following

Generous Offer!

Any person buying a bottle is given the privilege of returning it and receiving their MONEY BACK, if after using two-thirds of its contents, they have derived no benefit from it.

PRICE 25 AND 50 CENTS.

— SOLD BY —

David Kimball & Co., 36 Market Street.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

Citizens' Excursion

— TO —

BOSTON!

Thursday, Nov. 15, '88.

Round Trip Tickets Good Going Nov. 15, and Returning not after Nov. 16, 1888, will be on sale at the following Stations and Rates:

Agamenticus	$2.10
Conway Junction	2.00
Eliot	1.90
Kittery	1.75
York Beach	2.35
Long Beach	2.25
York Harbor	2.15
Kittery Point	1.95
Kittery Navy Yard	1.70
Greenland	1.55
Portsmouth	1.70

JAS. T. FURBER, Gen'l Manager.
D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l Pass. Agent.

LOOK AT THIS

Heavy, Substantial Cooking Range,

"THE ALMONER."

Plain for $16.00, Worth $25.00

To anyone in need of a First Class Range. Examine this before purchasing elsewhere.

— ALSO A FULL LINE OF —

MAGEE FURNACES, RANGES & STOVES.

Plumbing, Gas Fitting, Tin and Sheet Iron Work of All Kinds.

C. W. TAYLOR.

42 & 44 MARKET STREET.

DR. S. F. HAM,

Of Hotel Bristol, Boston, will receive patients

Monday and Tuesday

FROM MAY 1st TO NOV. 1st,

And the remainder of the year every Monday.

Office and Residence, 13 COURT ST, Portsmouth, N. H.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

The three-story (above the grade floor)

BRICK STORE BUILDING

NO. 16 BOW STREET,

Running back over the wharf to the river, occupied for a long time by the late Charles Robinson as a wholesale corn and flour store. Sold to close up an estate Enquire of

J. P. MORSE, Real Estate Broker.

USE NETTEZZA!

FOR THE TEETH.

PREPARED BY E. C BLAISDELL, D. M. D.

Price 25 Cents.

— FOR SALE BY —

A. P. PRESTON, D. KIMBALL & CO., W. D. GRACE, F. B. COLEMAN AND BEN'L GREEN.

"1888" OPENING OF "1888"

FALL AND WINTER DRY GOODS

At the Well-Known Store,

NOS. 30 and 32 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH.

Ayers & Locke, Proprietors,

Can be found the Largest Assortment of

SEASONABLE DRY GOODS MERCHANDISE.

LARGEST ASSORTMENT OF OUTSIDE GARMENTS.

For Ladies, Misses and Children,

New Goods of this Season's Manufacture.

All are Invited to Examine

OUR STOCK OF CLOAKS!

Before Purchasing Elsewhere.

Silk and Gloria RAIN UMBRELLAS! Ladies' Gossamers.

THE F. P. ROBINSON CO. BLACK STOCKINGS.

TRADE MARK

TRADE MARK.

"CLEANFAST" NONE ARE GENUINE WITHOUT THIS TRADE MARK ON EACH PAIR

Mohair and Gingham RAIN UMBRELLAS! Children's Gossamers.

Largest Assortment of Dress Goods in Portsmouth.

In fact, the Best Assortment in their Line of everything pertaining to a

FIRST-CLASS STOCK OF DRY GOODS.

NEW CARPETS! NEW CARPETS!

HOUSEKEEPING GOODS!, &C.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS IN OUR UNDEWEARR DEPARTMENT.

Small Wares, Trimmings, Ribbons, Gloves Yarns, Knitting Silks, &c. Corsets, Bustles, &c.

Largest Assortment of Fall and Winter Skirts in all the Desirable Fabrics

Which they are desirous of exchanging for Cash on a basis for value that will compare favorably with Boston and New York prices.

AYERS & LOCKE.

Furnaces, Ranges & Stoves.

We are now ready to show the Finest Line of

RANGES AND PARLOR STOVES

Ever offered in this city, at Prices within the reach of all. Call and See Them Before Buying, it will Pay You.

LAMPS! LAMPS!

Our Stock of Lamps is Complete, the

Lux Dux, Rochester, Banner, Duplex,

All First-Class, and will be Sold at the Lowest Prices.

PLUMBING, GAS PIPING, COPPER AND SHEET IRONWORK, AT

John P. Sweetser's,

46 MARKET STREET.

JOSIAH F. ADAMS

Embalmer and Funeral Director,

WAREROOMS: NO. 5 DANIEL ST.

Coffins, Caskets and Robes Always on Hand. Hearse and Carriages Furnished. Cemetery Lots Cared For, &c.

☞ Orders by day or night left at No. 27 Washington St., or with Mr. Robert King, No. 6 Hill St., will receive prompt attention.

Now is the Time to Look Over Your Wardrobe and See What You Need for Winter, and

SIMPSON'S CORNER STORE

Is the place where you can find everything you need in Gentlemen's Wear, at Remarkably Low Prices, for Cash.

— WE HAVE A FULL LINE OF —

OVERCOATS!

Ranging in Prices from $5 to $25.

— A NEW LOT OF —

ULSTERS!

From $6 to $20.

— A FINE ASSORTMENT OF —

UNDERWEAR,

Including the Celebrated CAMEL'S HAIR for the Health.

Cardigan Jackets, Blue and Fancy Over-Shirts.

(In these Goods we can Fit the Largest Man.)

— A FINE ASSORTMENT OF —

FURNISHING GOODS.

☞ Headquarters for OIL and RUBBER CLOTHING, Wholesale and Retail.

Come and See for Yourselves at the Old Stand,

Corner Market and Bow Streets,

CHARLES E. SIMPSON.

Situation Wanted.

A YOUNG MAN from the country, of good habits, would like to secure employment in a private family, or with a business firm.

The Portsmouth Daily Chronicle,

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 2, 1862.

Published every morning, except Sunday, at No. 7 Exchange Building, Pleasant Street.

By mail, postage prepaid, $5 a year. Single Copies, Two Cents.

THE CHRONICLE is served to subscribers in Portsmouth, Kittery, Dover, Rochester and Farmington at 50 Cents per month, hours in advance of any other paper containing the Associated Press Despatches.

The New Hampshire Gazette,

ESTABLISHED OCT. 7, 1756.

The Oldest Newspaper in America. Published every Thursday.

Terms, $1.50 a year in advance.

[Entered at the Post Office at Portsmouth as second class matter.]

W. SCOTT SMITH,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

☞ Rates of advertising made known on application.

Agents for the Daily Chronicle:

MOSES BROS.....PORTSMOUTH.
ROBERTS & AVERY.....FARMINGTON
WORCESTER & GREENFIELD..ROCHESTER
BROWNE BROS.....DOVER.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1888.

The people of New Hampshire have a right to be proud of the contrast between the manner in which the criminal laws are administered in this State and in some others, particularly in the matter of the selecting of jurors. In some States, the one thing needful in a juror to sit on trial on a capital case is that he be ignorant and stupid, and possess no general information. A man of intelligence, who reads the papers and keeps up with the events of the day, is not wanted and will not be accepted, no matter how high his character is; to have read of a crime which perhaps has been reported in almost every newspaper in the country is an absolute disqualification as a juror. It is no uncommon thing for four or five hundred jurors to be called without twelve men sufficiently ignorant to answer the purpose being found, and talesmen by the hundred have to be brought in to fill the quota. In this state the courts hold to no such idiotic notion or rule of prodecure. An educated, intelligent, well informed man is considered to be just as good for jury service, provided he is of good reputation, as the veriest numbskull; upright intelligence is even preferred to stolid ignorance. An example of this facility in the selection of jurors was given in this city this week, when a jury of twelve men was chosen from a total list of sixty-four, to try a man on the charge of murder, only one hour being consumed in so doing, and but twenty names being drawn from the box. In New York city, in a "boodle" trial, or in Chicago in a murder trial, it would have taken two weeks to secure a jury, and when secured they would very likely have been a disgrace to the court they sat in.

President Cleveland is reported as being much surprised to learn that nearly all the republican office holders whose services have been considered necessary to enable the business of the government to be transacted in a proper way, voted against him. This he cannot understand, but it is simple enough. The fact that there was a great principle at issue in the last campaign put all republican office holders on their metal, and they well knew that if Cleveland was re-elected their tenure of office would be very brief, and therefore the only thing to be done was to vote their honest sentiments. The mere holding of an office under a democratic administration did not destroy their right to entertain and give expression to their political opinions on election day. We fail to see why the President should be surprised. It would have been surprising if these republicans had voted in any other way.

Although the returns in West Virginia show that Gen. Goff has a clean majority of all the votes cast at the recent election, there is little or no doubt but he will be counted out. The election machinery of the state is in the hands of the democrats, and they will not let the little matter of fifty or sixty votes prevent them from changing the returns from some of the democratic counties, so as to change the result. It may yet be necessary for Congress to look into this election, as it will certainly do if the republican members elect are deprived of their certificates of election through the manipulations of the returns by the democratic election officers. A free vote and an honest count must and will prevail.

The friends of Governor Hill in New York give formal notice that he will be a candidate for the Presidency in 1892, and they cite in support of his popularity the fact that he received about thirty thousand more votes in New York than did the President. They do not tell the whole story, however, and forget to mention another fact, that but for the united support of the bar room element, which was fighting its hardest to prevent the election of a candidate pledged to controlling and limiting the sale of rum, Gov. Hill would have been overwhelmingly beaten. The republicans of New York lost the State on the gubernatorial ticket because they took high moral ground on the liquor question.

The New York Press is urging the appointment of Whiteland Reid, editor of the Tribune, to a foreign mission under President Harrison. Mr. Reid has made the Tribune a great success, and a recognition of his services to the party will meet with the approval of republicans everywhere.

A CHANGE IN VENEERING.

A Machine That Makes a Straight Grain Appear Variegated.

A recent product of inventive talent is working a big change in the manufacture of veneering. The manufacture of veneering is a pretty big business in this part of the world, too, for there are twenty-three factories in New York and Brooklyn, and a stack of logs big enough to blockade Broadway three deep or more is shaved up every day into ribbons that are sometimes seven feet wide and a thousand long, and most beautifully figured from end to end. The object in making veneering, of course, is to give a piece of furniture or a hallway or a panel the beauty of expensive woods with variegated grain without the cost of using the expensive wood for the entire article. The more wavy and variegated the grain of a log is, the more it twists and curls and run hither and yon, the more valuable it is for veneering. For this reason no end of stumps have been cut up into ribbons, not to mention knots and burls.

However, the supply of logs with an intricate grain and even of good stumps—for not every stump can be used for veneering—is limited. The agents of the veneer making firms have penetrated even the least accessible forests of the country in search of suitable timber, and the competition for trees of a twist grain has brought the price up so high as to make profits unreasonably low. Trees have been known to bring as high as $500 each, though it makes the veneer man groan to pay half that sum.

Meantime, while the buying agents have been camping out in all sorts of uncomfortable wildernesses looking for fancy timber, a few men have been trying to devise plans by which fancy grained veneering can be made from plain grained wood. They do not think they have obtained perfection yet in the matter. What they have done is to make the product of a log of plain grain sell for just four and a half times as much as it did, say a year ago.

To understand the new process one must first know what the old one was. That was simple enough. A log seven feet long or less and of almost any diameter above seven inches, exclusive of sap, had its bark chipped off with an adze, and was then steamed over night in a tank made for the purpose. In the morning it was ready to be fastened into a big lathe and a knife blade as long as the longest log used—seven feet—was kept pressed against the log so as to cut off a shaving or ribbon about one-thirtieth of an inch thick as the log revolved toward it. Two men rolled up the ribbon and carried it away as it was turned out. Of course the knife had to be set parallel with the axis of the log or the wood would not all be cut up, and so if the grain of the wood were straight, the ribbon could not have a variegated appearance; even had the long, straight knife cut the grain at an angle the product would have had no value over the plain grain, but it was in considering the possibilities of cutting at an angle that the new process was hit upon.

The inventor noticed that the growth of no two different years in a tree had exactly the same color and grain, even when the log was perfectly straight grained.

Suppose a knife were made that would strip off a ribbon that dipped in and out through the growth of say two years on a log. Certainly the ribbon would have two kinds of grain and two kinds of color. To get the ribbon the inventor made a knife with a wavy edge. The waves were a quarter of an inch high. However, this did not produce a sufficient variety in the grain of the ribbon to suit the inventor, and he added to it by giving the knife an oscillating movement in the direction of the length of the log by a cam of a half inch stroke. Now, as the log revolved against the knife a ribbon was cut which contained continuous waves that zigzagged up and down in the direction of the length of the log, and exposed a grain not only variegated in color by the varying depths to which the knife cut, but which was at the same time very wavy, if not curly in appearance. The variations in the color even of a plain black walnut log were remarkable and beautiful.

There was one objection to the veneering, and that was it did not lie down flat on the surface to which it was to be glued. This was remedied, however, by stacking up the ribbon in a hydraulic press that squeezed it with a pressure of forty tons to the square inch. It came out of that press flat.

At present three kinds of knives are used in these machines. There is no telling what new forms of knives will be invented. The machine itself is but little more expensive than the old style, but a knife costs several times as much. Besides, when a knife gets dull, a man has to labor over it with emery wheels for just a month to get it in order again.—New York Sun.

The Oath of Hippocrates.

A correspondent sends us the Hippocratic oath, apropos of recent strictures on Dr. Mackenzie's publication:

"* * * Whatever in connection with my professional practice, or not in connection with it, I see or hear in the life of men, which ought not to be spoken of abroad, I will not divulge, as reckoning that all such should be kept secret.

"While I continue to keep this oath unviolated, may it be granted to me to enjoy life and the practice of the art respected by all men, in all times!

"But should I trespass and violate this oath, may the reverse be my lot!"—New York Post.

The Cat Hard to Train.

A successful cat trainer says that next to the goat, which is the most obstinate animal in the world to instill an idea into, the cat is the most difficult animal to train. They never take any interest or pride in their work, like the horse or dog, and they have not a particle of affection. Old tabbies who are the pets of the social corner would probably object to this criticism.—Boston True Flag.

The Origin of Names.

Many explanations have been given of the origin of the present ugly name of "Rotten Row," the fashionable drive in Hyde park, but this is the most likely one: it was once the Route de Roi. So of Charing Cross, where a fine monument stands with too little space about it to see it to advantage. It was erected, so it is said, to Queen Leanor, and she was known as Chere Leine—hence Charing Cross.—"M. P." in Home Journal.

Dry rot in timber is said to be contagious, saws and other tools carrying it from the infected wood to sound timber.

very consoling result of the late democratic defeat, and that is that Minister Phelps will lose his situation as minister to England in about four months. The Sun has been sour on Minister Phelps ever since he was appointed by President Cleveland, and has persistently affirmed that he did not represent the democratic party, and that his selection for the most important diplomatic position under the government was an inexcusable political blunder.

The vote of the first and second congression districts of New Hampshire at the late election was as follows:

1st district—Nute, republican, 21,753, McKinney, democrat, 21,471, Knowles, prohibitionist, 681; Nute's plurality, 282.

2d district—Moore, republican, 23,537, Mann, democrat, 22,531, Fletcher, prohibitionist, 878; Moore's plurality, 1006.

Both districts were carried by the democratic papers, before the election, by round majorities.

The reason why small money-lenders do not, all of them, send their money west to be lent is because they do not know how to do so safely.

There is no more danger than in crossing the street, if you know your bank. But be careful about your lender.

Send for a primer on western lending; free.

THE KANSAS CITY INVESTMENT COMPANY, Kansas City, Missouri; or Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

$100,000 Janesville, Wis., Water Co.

First Mortgage 6% Bonds.

DUE AUGUST 1, 1907.

Secured by a Sinking Fund. Descriptive Circulars furnished on application.

Brewster, Cobb & Estabrook,

36 Congress St., Boston.

BURNETT'S PERFECTLY PURE Standard HIGHLY CONCENTRATED Flavoring EXTRACTS

The superiority of these Extracts consist in their

Perfect Purity and Great Strength.

JOHN H. BROUHTON,

No. 68 Daniel St., Portsmouth, N. H.

— DEALER IN —

EASTERN AND WESTERN

LUMBER!

Shingles, Clapboards and Laths.

— ALSO —

Best Newark Hydraulic Cement, Best Extra and No. 1 Lime

FOR SALE AT LOWEST PRICES.

NOTICE!

FALL

— AND —

WINTER STYLES

NOW READY!

— AT —

MRS. TEBBETTS',

NO. 14 MARKET STREET.

ILSLEY & MOORE,

Fire Life and Accident Insurance Agents and Brokers No. 3 Pleasant St., Portsmouth N. H.

NOTICE:—The undersigned gives notice to all whom it may concern, that he has purchased from the senior member of the old firm of MORSE & ILSLEY, all rights to the Fire Insurance Business heretofore carried on by that firm, and is duly authorized by all the Companies represented by them to have and hold all their records. WINGATE N. ILSLEY.

Facilities for placing the largest lines of Fire Insurance in the best Companies.

Agents for the Equitable Life Ins. Society of the U. S. New England Mutual Life Ins. Co. of Boston, Mass., and the Fidelity & Casualty Ins. Co., of New York. sept

IF YOU WANT

To Save Two Dollars

ON EVERY BARREL OF FLOUR, USE

Horsford's Bread Preparation.

It costs less than one cent to raise a pound of flour with Horsford's, while with common baking powders the cost is two cents.

EASTERN OFFICE OF Kansas City Investment Co.,

OVER FIRST NATIONAL BANK, PORTSMOUTH.

CITY MORTGAGES, FARM MORTGAGES, DEBENTURE BONDS, REAL ESTATE NOTES

☞ INTEREST PAYABLE HERE AT MATURITY. ☜

W. G. MYERS V. P.

"Florence Home Needle Work" 1888

is now ready. Contains 96 pages with nearly 250 illustrations. The subjects are Damask Stitches Tapestry and Italian Embroidery—Drawn Work, Darning—Crochet &c. It teaches ladies how to make

Solid Silk Braid

for trimming their garments in latest fashion. Book mailed to any address on receipt of six cents.

NONOTUCK SILK CO., Florence, Mass.

Insurance Notice.

THE OLD INSURANCE AGENCY, AT THE OLD STAND,

No. 13 Pleasant Street, PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

JOSEPH P. MORSE.

25 CORDS

DRY PINE LIMBS!

At $3.50 Per Cord.

☞ The Very Best of Fuel at a Low Price.

O. F. PHILBRICK & CO.,

COAL AND WOOD DEALERS,

4 Water Street.

COAL! COAL!

Finest Grades, well prepared for Domestic Purposes, constantly Arriving and for Sale at Lowest Prices.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

J. ALBERT WALKER

Portsmouth Coal Pockets.

WOOD AND COAL!

A Good Assortment of all kinds of Wood and Coal.

Kindling Wood Split to Order.

— ALSO —

Akron Drain and Sewer Pipe.

NO. 13 GREEN STREET,

DANIEL LITTLEFIEL

BOOK BINDING

Of Every Desciption,

— DONE AT —

NO. 5 CONGRESS STREET,

(OVER FAY'S STORE.)

Magazines and other Periodicals Bound in Styles to Suit Patrons; Especial Attention given to

REBINDING OLD BOOKS!

For Libraries or Individuals; in short, any work of the kind promptly attended to, and satisfaction guaranteed. ☞ Prices reasonable.

JOHN D. RANDALL.

STEPHEN D. SCRIGGINS,

Carriage Painter,

NO. 16 Vaughan Street, Portsmouth, N. H.

Having spacious and good accommodations and long and large experience he solicits patronage in his line.

Look in at Conn's

— AND SEE THE —

BUTTER!

From the very best Dairies in Vermont and New York. Creameries are of no account compared with these Dairies. Also,

Cheese Pork, Lard, Hams, Beans Etc

No Oleo or Second-Hand Stuff kept.

☞ The very best quality of LARD bought by the car-load, which I am selling less than the Boston prices.

AT

No. 63 Pleasant St

may be now found a full and carefully selected stock of

FINE FANCY AND STAPLE

GROCERIES.

— ALSO —

BOOTS & SHOES

As cheap as any Store east of Boston.

— VERMONT AND CREAMERY —

BUTTER & CHEESE.

Lard Sugar, Molasses Syrup Oils. Beans Peas Pickles Crackers. Salt Pork Salt Fish, Sage Maccaroni.

-COFFEES-

Old Government Java and Rio, ground as sold.

-TEAS-

Best Qualities Formosa and Japan.

— A FULL LINE —

CANNED AND SHELF GOODS.

Pure Spices, Raisins, Currants Oatmeal, Cocoa, Chocolate, Candied Lemon Peel, and all other Fine Groceries

TOBACCO AND CIGARS.

Brooms, Brushes, Pails, Crockery and Glassware, and a Large Assortment of Miscellaneous Articles.

Boots and Shoes!

Men's Calf Button Boots, Men's Calf Balmoral Boots. Men's Calf French Ties, Ladies' Kid Button Boots. Misses' and Children's, Youth's and Boys'. All Sizes and Kinds.

We make the best selections possible, paying Cash; and for Cash will sell as low as the lowest.

☞ Orders filled with care and delivered free to any part of the city.

JOHN J. LASKEY,

NO. 63 PLEASANT STREET.

50 Cents The WONDERFUL LUBURG CHAIR

Combining a Parlor, Library, Smoking, Reclining, or Invalid CHAIR, LOUNGE, SOFA, or COUCH. Price $7.00 up. We make the largest variety of Adjustable, Reclining, Physicians' and Surgeons' Operating, Invalid Rolling, Nursing, Office, Library, Fancy Carpet Folding, Rocking and Rattan CHAIRS and ROCKERS, BICYCLES, TRICYCLES, VELOCIPEDES and SELF PROPELLERS. ALL KINDS OF APPLIANCES FOR INVALIDS.

BABY COACHES

Over 100 different designs. Our Patent Automatic Brake on all Carriages, free. We have discontinued Wholesaling; by placing your orders direct with the makers you can save several profits. Our stocking prices and special Bargains will astonish you. Goods sold under a guarantee and delivered free to any point in the United States. ☞ Send stamp for Catalogue, and state class of goods you wish to buy.

LUBURG MFG. CO. 145 North Eighth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

AN EXTRA LOT OF SPONGES, CHAMOIS SKINS AND WHIPS.

At Reasonable Prices at

John S. Tilton's

Harness and Trunk Repairer

NO. 18 CONGRESS STREE

troduce new remedies for coughs when they should know the people will have Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

"Kings are like stars, they rise and set." They have headaches, cuts, and hurts like meaner men, and are just as [illegible] for Salvation Oil.

—Political orator (furiously)—"Now, fellow-citizens, if this man is elected what will be the result?" A voice—"His opponent will be defeated."

"For twenty years I have suffered with a severe bronchial cough, never lying down without a severe attack of the same. After much pursuasion, I was induced to try Adamson's Balsam, and its good effects for six months are certainly marvellous. Please use this truthful testimony for the advantage of all sufferers like myself.

Mrs. Wm. Alden, Duxbury, Mass., Feb. 21, 1887.

—Children shrink from being washed. The same may be said of socks.

Be Your Own Doctor.

It won't cost you half as much. Do not delay. Send three 2-cent stamps for postage, and we will send you Dr. Kaufmann's great work, fine colored plates from life, on disease, its causes, and home cure. Address S. P. Ordway, & Co., Boston, Mass.

—The average pullet takes her eggsit in the spring.

Ringing Noises

In the ears, sometimes a roaring buzzing sound are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smelling or hearing also result from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood. If you suffer from catarrh, try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the peculiar medicine.

Gunner George L. Albro is ordered to the St. Louis.

Trial proves that honesty is the best policy in medicine as well as in other things. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a genuine preparation, an unequalled blood purifier, decidedly superior to all others.

—Minister—"Bertie, do you know where the little boys go who catch fish on Sunday?" Bertie—"Yes, sir; most of them go down to Jonhson's creek."

Hundreds of letters from those using Hall's Hair Vigor attest its value as a restorer of gray hair to its natural color. As a stimulant and tonic, preventing and curing baldness, and cleansing the scalp, its use cannot be too strongly recommended.

—"Physician, heal thyself!" is an injuction promulgated centuries ago, and now some of the older practitioners are pretty well heeled.

Catarrh originates in scrofulous taint. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and thus permanently cures catarrh.

To-Night and To-Morrow Night,

And each day and night during this week you can get at all druggists Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, acknowledged to be the most successful remedy ever sold for the cure of Coughs, Croup, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption. Get a bottle to-day and keep it always in the house, so you can check your cold at once. Price 50c and $1.00. Sample bottles free.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. mon.wed.fri.eoiai

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam, for Coughs and Colds, does it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles at 50c and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

HUNT'S REMEDY

RELIEVES the Kidneys; REVIVES the Liver; SOLD UNIVERSALLY. eod&g

COMFORT

— FOR —

COLD AND TENDER FEET!

Persons troubled with cold or tender feet will find warmth and ease in the use of

DOLGE'S ALL WOOL FELT

Slipners and Shoes

For which the undersigned is agent in this City and Vicinity.

--- AT THE STORE ---

No. 34 Market Street

Can be found a Full Line of these Goods, in many patterns of Slippers, Shoes and Boots, and several colors, for house, office or street wear.

Of Men and Boys, Women and Girls.

☞ Please examine our Stock.

J. C. CARR.

C-O-A-L-!

All Kinds and Sizes Delivered Well Screened.

E. F. SISE & CO.

First Quality Wood:

Liverpool and Turks Island

S-A-L-T-,

In Bulk and Sacks. Salt in Boxes. Boston and Portland Brands.

TELEPHONE.

Dwelling House for Sale.

THE residence of the late Mrs. Daniel Libbey, No. 136 State Street, can be purchased on application to

JOHN SISE, JOSEPH SISE, } Executors

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame.—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in half-pound tins, by Grocers, labelled thus

JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England.

WE WANT A GOOD ENERGETIC SALESMAN in every town and city TO SOLICIT ORDERS FOR FRAMING PICTURES. BEST OUTFIT IN THE WORLD and a permanent situation. Address H. B. WARDWELL, Lewiston, Me.

POSITIVELY CLOSING WEEKS

GRAND CYCLORAMA

BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG,

641 Tremont St., Boston.

Don't fail to see this great battle scene at once.

A new subject now being painted will take its place in this building January 1st.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, the great Medical Work of the age on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline, Errors of Youth, and the untold miseries consequent thereon. 300 pages 8 vo., 125 prescriptions for all diseases. Cloth, full gilt, only $1.00, by mail, sealed. Illustrative sample free to all young and middle-aged men. Send now. The Gold and Jeweled Medal awarded to the author by the National Medical Association. Address P.O. Box 1895, Boston, Mass., or Dr. W. H. PARKER, graduate of Harvard Medical College, 38 years' practice in Boston, who may be consulted confidentially. Office, No. 4 Bulfinch St. Specialty, Diseases of Man. ☞ Cut this out. You may never see it again.

PIANO-FORTE ORGANS

Mason & Hamlin organs introduced in its present form in 1861 the Cabinet Organ in 1861 Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world. Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all of the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, they have been the competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues $22 TO $900. free.

Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their piano, that they are superior to all others. They recognize the high excellence achieved by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but claim superiority. This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1882, and now known as the "Mason & Hamlin Piano Stringer," by the use of which they secure the greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity for standing in tune and other important advantages.

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians, and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

Pianos and Organs sold for cash or easy payments; also rented.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO. BOSTON. NEW YORK. CHICAGO.

MARVELOUS MEMORY DISCOVERY.

Any book learned in one reading. Mind wandering cured. Speaking without notes. Piracy condemned by Supreme Court. Great inducements to correspondence classes. Prospectus, with opinions of Dr. Wm. A. Hammond, the world famed Specialist in Mind diseases, Daniel Greenleaf Thompson, the great Psychologist, J. M. Buckley, D. D., Editor of the Christian Advocate, Richard Proctor, the Scientist, Hons. Judge Gibson, Judah P. Benjamin, and others, sent post free by Prof. A. LOISETTE, 237 Fifth Ave., New York.

The WITTIEST, PRETTIEST JUVENILES

QUEER PEOPLE

By Nan. Palmer Cox

HANDS & HOBBIES $1.00 WINGS & STINGS 75c. PAWS & CLAWS $1.00

(Elopement of the Frog and the Mouse.) Full of the oddest pranks, charming stories and much-provoking illustrations by the Prince of juvenile artists. Selling immensely. Critics say of it: "It will see my little folks wild with delight."—Hon. Clinton B. Fisk. "Don't wait an another for I can't get the children to bed."—R. H. Conwell, D. D. "Incomparably neat and elegant."—Hon. S. S. Cox. "Fascinating as Æsop and Uncle Remus."—Hon. Howard Crosby. AGENTS WANTED. L. GUERNSEY, 36 Bromfield St. Boston. ov15

HOOD'S COMPOUND EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA TRADE MARK

The importance of purifying the blood cannot be overestimated, for without pure blood you cannot enjoy good health.

At this season nearly every one needs a good medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, and we ask you to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. It strengthens and builds up the system, creates an appetite, and tones the digestion, while it eradicates disease. The peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation of the vegetable remedies used give to Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiar curative powers. No other medicine has such a record of wonderful cures. If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other instead. It is a Peculiar Medicine, and is worthy your confidence. Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Peculiar To Itself

100 Doses One Dollar

Cure Your Corns,

BY USING SCHLOTTERBECK'S CORN, WART AND BUNION SOLVENT

A CURE IS GUARANTEED.

TRAINS LEAVE

Portsmouth for Boston, 4 05, 7 25, 8 20, 11 05 a. m., 2 55, 5 00, 7 40 p. m. Sundays, 4 05 a. m., 4 00 p. m.

Boston for Portsmouth, 7 30, 9 00, 10 00 a. m., 12 30, 3 30, 4 40, 7 00 p. m. Sundays, 8 30 a. m., 7 00 p. m.

Portsmouth for Portland, 9 55, 10 45 a. m., 2 45, 9 20, p. m. Sundays, 9 27 p. m.

Portland for Portsmouth, 2 00, 9 00 a. m., 1 05, 6 00 p. m. Sundays, 2 00 a. m.

Portsmouth for Dover, 4 50, 9 45 a. m., 12 25, 2 38, 5 22 p. m.

Dover for Portsmouth, 6 55, 10 20 a. m., 1 55, 4 30, 6 40 p. m.

Portsmouth for York Beach, 8 30, 11 10 a. m. 3 35 p. m.

York Beach for Portsmouth, 6 40, 10 00 a. m., 1 40 p. m.

Portsmouth for Concord, 7 55 a. m., 1 00, 5 15 p. m.

Concord for Portsmouth, 7 30, 10 20 a. m., 3 35 p. m.

Portsmouth for Manchester, 7 55 a. m., 1 00, 5 15 p. m.

Manchester for Portsmouth, 8 15, 11 35 a. m., 4 25 p. m.

TRAINS ARRIVE

In Boston from Portsmouth, 6 20, 9 10, 10 35 a. m., 1 15, 4 45, 7 10, 9 20 p. m. Sundays, 6 20 a. m., 6 30 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Boston, 9 45, 10 45 a. m., 12 20, 2 35, 5 20, 6 45, 8 37 p. m. Sundays, 10 40 a. m., 8 37 p. m.

In Portland from Portsmouth, 12 00 m., 12 35, 4 45, 11 00 p. m. Sundays, 11 00 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Portland, 3 55, 10 44 a. m., 2 20, 7 15 p. m. Sundays, 3 55 a. m.

In Dover from Portsmouth, 5 40, 10 10 a. m., 12 50, 3 03, 5 47 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Dover, 7 20, 10 44 a. m., 2 20, 4 55, 7 15 p. m.

In Concord from Portsmouth, 10 20 a. m., 3 12, 8 25 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Concord, 10 10 a. m., 12 45, 6 10 p. m.

In Manchester from Portsmouth, 9 42 a. m., 2 20, 7 20 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Manchester, 10 10 a. m., 12 45, 6 10 p. m.

KITTERY AND PORTSMOUTH.

STEAMER MYSTIC.

Leave Hartlett's wharf, Kittery, 6 35, 7 50, 8 45, 10 0, 11 45 a. m., 2 00, 3 15, 4 45, 6 00 p. m. Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 6 30, Saturday evening, 8 30, 8 00.

Leave Broughton's wharf, foot Daniel street, Portsmouth, 7 30, 8 00, 9 30, 11 00 a. m., 12 45, 3 00, 4 30, 5 15, 6 15 p. m., Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7 30, Saturday evenings, 7 30, 9 00

☞ Fare five cents each way.

A FAIR SAMPLE OF
40 SWORN CASES
OF THE VALUE OF

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND

THE RADICAL BLOOD PURIFIER.

DIPHTHERIA. SCROFULA.

Miss Lena Judkins, a daughter (17 years old) of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Judkins, 677 Boston St., Lynn, CURED by Dr. Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of very severe case of Scrofula, with Malignant Ulcers of eight years' standing, after 11 Physicians had failed. Almost a miracle. Now in perfect health. Sworn to before HARMON HALL, Justice of the Peace.

SCROFULOUS HUMOR.

Miss Mary Etta Leighton, a daughter (16 yrs. old) of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison G. Leighton, 16 Sickford Court, Lynn, CURED by Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of a deep seated Scrofulous Humor, with Discharging eruptions, which had baffled eight physicians and the combined forces of two prominent hospitals. Perfectly cured and without a blemish. Sworn to before CALVIN B. TUTTLE, Justice of the Peace.

Send for circular of 40 Sworn cases. They are solid facts and carry conviction.

DR. LOUGEE'S
VITALIZING COMPOUND,

is absolutely the greatest known Remedy for the Radical cure of Scrofula, Cancerous Humors, Diphtheritic or Mineral Blood-Poisoning, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Dropsy and Liver Complaint.

$1. per Bottle (6 for $5). At Druggists.
Lougee Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

DAY'S HORSE POWDER

Prevents Lung Fever and cures Distemper, Heaves, Fevers, &c., &c.
1 pound in each package. Sold by all dealers.

DR. BULL'S BABY SYRUP

Facilitates Teething! Sold at druggists
Price 25 Cts. Regulates the Bowels!

25¢ A BOTTLE
SALVATION OIL
KILLS PAIN

BULL'S COUGH SYRUP

For the cure of Coughs, Colds, Croup, Incipient Consumption, Asthma, Whooping Cough, and for the relief of Consumptive persons.
PRICE 25 CTS.
For Sale by all druggists.

SMOKE LANGE'S CUBEB CIGARETTES for Catarrh. Price 10 Cts. At all druggists.

EDWARD D. COFFIN,

SHERIFF ROCKINGHAM CO. AND U. S. DEPUTY MARSHAL

Office at No. 3 Market Square, And at the Jail.

Will be at Tisley & Moore's Ins. Office at 9 A. M and 4 o'clock P. M.

(TELEPHONE AT THE JAIL).

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

PAUL H. HAYNE.

A murmur as of far off muffled bells,
Goes faintly soughing through the shivering pines:
The thrill as of a thousand kissed farewells
Stirs into life the drooping vines;
The trailing muscadine
Forget to take their autumn splendor on,
And wring their hands with gesture of despair
Athwart the spicy air,
Because the voice that sang to them is gone.

The clouds dissolve themselves in pallid mist
That clings like cere cloths in the southern trees;
All gladness dies, by solemn memories whist;
The patter of the rain amid the trees
Is like the moan of seas
After the wreck. And all this silence shed
O'er nature, like a diapason pause,
Has come to pass, because
The poet who has led the choir is dead!
—Margaret J. Preston.

AN INQUISITIVE AMERICAN.

His Visit to the Palace Which Baron Rothschild Was Building.

An American, sight seeing in Europe, gives his mind to his work, which is to do the places of interest. In order to gratify his curiosity, he sometimes disregards the proprieties, and accosts the first man he meets, if he thinks him capable of serving as a guide book. One of these American tourists, while in London, heard of the famous place which Baron Rothschild was building. He went to see it, and was fortunate enough to meet the master builder, who showed him over the building. After he had finished the inspection, he addressed a portly old gentleman, whom he saw watching the workmen, with "Good morning, sir." The man bowed politely, without speaking.

"I'm a stranger," the American continued, thinking he might be speaking to the contractor; "I've been looking over this building, and I should like to ask you for some information."

"I shall be happy to oblige you," said the old gentleman, and he told the American many interesting facts about the building.

"I suppose you have seen Rothschild, sir?" said the American.

"Which one?"

"The old cock."

"I see the old cock every day," answered the old man, eying the American.

"I should like to have a look at him! People say he is a gay old chap and lives high. I wish I had him in my power, I'd not let him up till he had shelled out a pile of his money."

The American rattled on, and the old gentleman laughed heartily. When there was a pause he remarked, "Baron Rothschild had to work for his money, and deserves to enjoy it."

"Maybe so," said the American, "but I reckon he did a heap of squeezing to get it."

The old man's face flushed, as he said, stiffly, "I never heard the honesty of the house called in question."

"Didn't you? Well, to tell the truth, neither have I. But I wouldn't be surprised if I'm right, after all."

The old man's face grew black, and he bit his lip, but he said nothing.

"People tell me," continued the American, "that the Rothschilds have made two fortunes. Now, I'd like to learn the way the thing was done."

"I can tell you," replied the old man, smiling. "People say the house of Rothschild made one fortune by being careful to mind their own business, and the other by letting that of others alone. Good morning, sir."

And the old gentleman left the American staring at him, and went to the other end of the building.

"Can you tell me the name of that old gentleman?" asked the American of a handsome young man who was looking at the building.

"That is Baron Rothschild."

"Then I've got myself into a scrape!" exclaimed the mortified American, and told the young man what had occurred

"That was awkward," the young man remarked, after a hearty laugh.

"He's a crusty old chap, he's as cross as a bear," continued the vexed American.

"Oh, that is only his way; he is a kind hearted man, but a little eccentric," said the young man.

"Do you know Baron Rothschild?" inquired the American.

"I have met him several times, and I have an appointment to wait on him today."

"Then I wish you'd say to him that I did not know to whom I was talking this morning, or I would not have said so much; and that he need not have been so huffish about it."

"I will do so; he will be the first to laugh at the adventure, when he hears your explanation. Good morning."

Just then a workman passed, and the American asked him the name of the young gentleman.

"That was one of the younger Rothschilds," said the workman. The American was afraid to speak to a stranger for a week, for fear he might be a Rothschild.—Youth's Companion.

An Exhibition of Postage Stamps.

An international exhibition of postage stamps is now in progress at Anvers, says a foreign exchange. One exhibitor, a Mr. De Beer, has alone sent thither 1,000,000 stamps. Among the varieties to be seen at the exhibition is the oldest postage stamp in existence, belonging to the Eighteenth century, and a postal card that made the tour of the world in ninety days. The latter belongs to a Haarlem schoolmaster, who would not part with it at any price.

It seems that there are no less than 600,000 postage stamp collectors in the world, 375,000 of whom are Americans, 200,000 are Europeans and 25,000 belong to other parts of the world.—Scientific American.

Eating Whale Meat.

The season of eating whale meat is probably over until late in August, when whaling begins again. That is a dish that is peculiar to itself and beyond description. In some respects its flavor is similar to venison, but the meat is almost black and not as appetizing in appearance. It is made up into "whale meat balls" by being chopped fine and mixed with a little salt pork, then flavored with sage, savory and pepper. Steaks are sometimes cut off for broiling, or stews may be made. The black skin of the whale is also eaten sometimes by pickling it in vinegar. For this pieces from the lip are usually reserved.—Cor. Chicago Times

Woman's Seclusion in India.

I had not been long in India when a native lady who owned large estates sent to beg my husband to pay her a visit, as she was anxious that he should take charge of her property, which was much embarrassed, and wished to discuss the matter with him. We dismounted from our elephants in the court yard of her house, and were conducted by a magnificent major domo and a crowd of smaller satellites to a carpeted veranda, where chairs were placed ready for us. The steward then approached, holding in the palms of his joined hands some gold coins, which we touched instead of royally taking, as was the generous lady was to be seen, and I was amazed and even startled to hear my husband, still looking straight before him, begin speaking as if he saw some one.

It gave me quite a shock, but as he showed no other sign of sudden insanity, I looked around for some explanation, and then discovered that our chairs were placed near a kind of screen called a chik, made of thin strips of bamboo, which completely prevents any one from outside seeing in, although a person within the room can see out, and behind this sheltering mantle of invisibility sat the lady and her women. The conversation was long, and almost wholly unintelligible to me, but I gathered that my husband, having reason to be displeased with the lady's conduct, declined to accept her hospitality in any way, which, judging from certain eloquent sounds that issued from behind the screen, drew from her tears and lamentation.—Cornhill Magazine.

The Whistle of the Elk.

The whistle of the elk is a sound, which many have tried to describe, yet I doubt if any one who may have read all the descriptions of it ever written would recognize it on a first hearing. It is a most strange, weird, peculiar sound, baffling all efforts of the most skillful word painter. It is only uttered by the male, and there is the same variety in the sound made by different stags as in different human voices. Usually the cry begins and ends with a sort of grunt, somewhat like the bellow of a domestic cow cut short, but the interlude is a long drawn, melodious, flute like sound that rises and falls with a rhythmical cadence, floating on the still evening air, by which it is often wafted with singular distinctness to great distances. By other individuals, or even by the same individual at various times, either the first or last of these abrupt sounds is omitted, and only the other, in connection with the long drawn, silver toned strain, is given.

The stag utters this call only in the love making season, and for the purpose of ascertaining the whereabouts of his dusky mate, who responds by a short and utterly unmusical sound, similar to that with which the male begins or ends his call.—G. O. Shields in Harper's Magazine.

A Primitive Telephone Line.

A correspondent at Lake Megantic sends the particulars of a telephone line that has at least the advantage of simplicity and freedom from paying tribute to a telephone company. The correspondent says:

"In Moose River, Me., they have a telephone working between the Newton house and a store about half a mile distant. The receiver and transmitter are all one. They have a hole cut in the wall and within have placed a small frame covered with sheepskin. To this the wire is attached. The wire is suspended with tarred rope. Any one wanting to speak through the telephone simply raps on the frame. The rapping can be heard ten or twelve feet from the receiver at the other end of the wire. It has been in operation about two weeks now and gives good satisfaction. The natives are delighted to get talking through it."—Detroit Free Press.

The Railroad Brakeman's Slang.

The brakeman gives the prevailing tone to the "society" of despatchers' lobbies and other lounging places which he frequents. He originates whatever slang may be deemed necessary to give spice to the talk of the caboose and round house. He calls a gravel train a "dust express," and refers to the pump for compressing air for the power brakes as a "wind jammer." The fireman's prosaic labors are lightened by being poetically mentioned as the handling of black diamonds, and the mortification of being called into the superintendent's office to explain some dereliction of duty is disguised by referring to the épisode as "dancing on the carpet."—B. B. Adams, Jr., in Scribner's Magazine.

Leave Your Windows Open.

All the higher organisms plead hard for pure, fresh air. It keeps off disease. Don't close windows too soon. Keep them open a little, or much, night and day, as long as possible. When you use double windows don't have the outer or storm window fastened on the frame and depend only on the almost useless little slit of an opening in the frame of the sash, misnamed a "ventilator," for your life giving oxygen. Have the window hung with hinges so that it can be opened wide, as well as the inner one, and have both opened freely and often to "flush" the room. Even in rooms with provision for ventilation, this flushing is desirable.—The Prophylactic.

The Native Spaniard's "Outfit."

It is wonderful the number of articles a Spaniard needs for even a short journey. The list is never complete without a garlic pot, full; cigarettes, ad infinitum; a guitar, rosary, panniers, pomegranates, knives, etc.—all these a Spaniard deems necessary to take with him even for a journey from one village to another. They seem to have meat, and wine generally well supplied; more so than one would think from their lazy appearance in the fields, sometimes letting the patient burro drag the plow without help or guidance.—W. Parker Boddish in Demorest's Monthly.

HOMES OF THE JAPANESE.

No Windows Nor Regular Doors—Walls and Floors—The "Go Down."

Japanese houses consist often of only one story, and very seldom of more than two. They do not, of course, resemble one another exactly, any more than English houses do; but it may be said of them generally that they have no windows in our sense of the word, and sometimes no regular doors, but they are always provided with a veranda before the lower story, and, when they have a second story, with a balcony.

As to solidity, it is a fact that the Japanese do not even aim at making their houses substantial, as English houses are, or as, even when constructed by a "jerry builder," they profess to be. The outer walls of an English houses are always intended to be fixtures, and so far durable that when once put up they cannot be pulled down without sending for workmen; but among the Japanese two or more of the sides are not permanent walls, but are closed with sliding screens, which can be set up and taken down at the pleasure of the inmates. On a hot day, or when thorough ventilation is required, the whole side of a room can be opened to the outer air.

Of course, people who are not particular about having a permanent movable partitions between one part of the house and another. Although in England rooms are occasionally parted from one another by a curtain, or by folding doors, yet, as a general rule, they are separated by walls, which, however flimsy their construction may be, are fixtures, and cannot be taken away and replaced at will. But in Japan one room is commonly parted from the next merely by a screen—a framework of wood covered with paper, which runs in a shallow groove on the floor and a deeper groove on the ceiling, a plan which gives the inhabitants the power of adding to or decreasing the number of their apartments at their pleasure. Baron Nordenskjold, the famous Arctic traveler, has recorded the surprise with which he woke up one morning at a Japanese inn in quite a small room, having gone to bed over night in a very large one.

It has been suggested that the reason why the Japanese do not build their houses more solidly is that, in a land like theirs of continual earthquakes, it is not worth while spending a long time on rearing up a building which may be tumbled down again at any moment. But it is doubtful whether this explanation is a true one, for earthquakes violent enough to destroy a really strong building do not happen very often at any one place, and, besides, the Japanese do erect durable houses, which the English call "go downs," for the protection of their property from loss or accident. The most common accident is by fire, to which the inflammable Japanese houses fall an easy prey, and by which large parts of the towns are continually being burnt down. On the approach of a conflagration the prudent Japanese, as far as possible, pulls his house down and takes away not only its contents, but large parts of itself, to the "go down," which is a building thickly coated with fire proof clay, very strong and substantial, but very seldom used as a home.

The floors of Japanese rooms are invariably carpeted with rush mats of very careful construction, some two or three inches thick and about six feet long by three broad. As these mats are all of one pattern, the size of a room can be determined by the number of mats it contains, and it is described as a six mat or twelve mat room, as the case may be. Since the commonest rooms are either of six or of eight mats, and since an eight mat mat room is only about twelve feet by twelve in extent, it will be seen that the rooms of a Japanese house, like the Japanese house itself, are generally small. The Japanese fireplace is generally a portable brazier, made of bronze, porcelain or wood, lined with clay, in which not coal, but charcoal ashes are burned. Sometimes, however, there is a clay lined hole in the floor, containing a fire of the same kind.—Cassell's Family Magazine.

Tricks of Female Smugglers.

"Yes," the inspector said, "I do know something of smugglers' tricks—especially female smugglers, who, I must say, carry on their nefarious business with the most charming effrontery. Of course, there are smugglers of both sexes, but for cunning, boldness and determination the women cannot be approached. Do you know that women are born cheats? Oh, well, I mean in this direction. A woman's dress affords her more facilities for hiding small but costly articles, and it is far less easy to detect them than men, and, as the elder Weller would say, almost impossible to 'circumvent.' It takes an experienced searcher to say whether a woman has got anything concealed about her person, and, as we cannot search everybody, some of the clever ones manage to get through without detection."—Brooklyn Eagle.

How Guiana Indians Count.

The Indians of Guiana have a curious system of numeration. They count by the hand and its four fingers. Thus, when they reach five, instead of saying so, they call it a hand, six is therefore "a hand and first finger," seven "a hand and second finger," ten is "two hands," but twenty, instead of being "four hands," is a "man." Forty is "two men," and thus they go on by twenties. Forty-six is expressed as "two men, a hand and first finger."—New York Telegram.

Steel and Wrought Iron.

A metallurgist gives as a reason why steel will not weld as readily as wrought iron that it is not partially composed of cinder, as seems to be the case with wrought iron, which assists in forming a fusible alloy with the scale of oxidation formed on the surface of the iron in the furnace.—Boston Budget.

Natural Gas That Kills.

There is a peculiar spring near Ashland, Ore., that emits gas that is sure death to all animated nature. At one time it was frequented by the Indians as the great medicinal depository, where all diseases, no matter how complicated, were cured. Lizards, snakes and frogs die almost immediately when placed in contact with this peculiar gas. There is a spring at Soda Springs, I. T., from which the water has ceased to run, but which emits a stream of carbonic acid gas, and all about its orifice lie continually the bodies of birds which have been killed by the fumes.—New York Telegram.

Air from Steam Radiators.

In speaking of artificial heat The Manufacturer and Builder says that it is a mistake to suppose that steam heat is any "moister" or in any way different from other kinds. Air warmed by passing over a steam radiator is in no way different from that warmed by a stove or hot air furnace. In fact, the air is more likely to be impure in a room heated by a hot air furnace, from which a current of fresh air is constantly flowing.—Rural New Yorker.

Glycerine for Edged Tools.

Carpenters and other tool users who keep up with the times are now using a mixture of glycerine instead of oil for sharpening their edged tools. Oil, as is well known, thickens and smears the stone. The glycerine may be mixed with spirits in greater or less proportion, according as the tools to be sharpened are fine or coarse. For the average blade two parts of glycerine to one of spirits will suffice.—Chicago News.

Writing with a Quill.

Nearly everybody in England writes with a quill. You find them put for public use in courts, in banks, in telegraph offices and postoffices—in fact, everywhere where people must write. If a man prefers to use a pen or a pencil he must carry it with him.—The Argonaut.

MAKE HENS LAY

WE SEND BY MAIL A LARGE 2¼ POUND CAN FOR $1.20, TWO SMALL PACKS 50 CTS POST PAID.

NOTHING ON EARTH WILL MAKE HENS LAY LIKE SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER.

Sheridan's Condition Powder

is absolutely pure and highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other kind. Strictly a medicine, to be given in the food, once daily, in small doses. Prevents and cures all diseases of hens. Worth its weight in gold when hens are moulting, and to keep them healthy. Testimonials sent free by mail. Ask Your druggist, grocer, general store, or feed dealer for it. If you can't get it, send once to us. Take no other kind. We will send, postpaid, by mail, as follows:—A New and Elegantly illustrated copy of the "FARMERS' POULTRY RAISING GUIDE" (price 25 cents, tells how to make money with a few hens), and two small packages of Powder for 60 cents; or, one large 1½ pound can and Guide, $1.20. Sample package of Powder, 25 cents, five for $1.00. Six large cans, express prepaid, for $5.00. Send stamps or cash. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., 22 Custom-House Street, Boston, Mass.

LACTATED FOOD

Possesses many Important Advantages over all other prepared Foods.

BABIES CRY FOR IT. INVALIDS RELISH IT.

Makes Plump, Laughing, Healthy Babies. Regulates the Stomach and Bowels. Sold by Druggists. 35c., 50c., $1.00.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., BURLINGTON, VT.

Baby Portraits.

A Portfolio of beautiful baby portraits, printed on fine plate paper by patent photo process, sent free to Mother of any Baby born within a year. Every Mother wants these pictures; send at once. Give Baby's name and age.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Props., Burlington, Vt.

It's Easy to Dye with

DIAMOND DYES

Superior in Strength, Fastness, Beauty, and Simplicity.

Warranted to color more goods than any other dyes ever made, and to give more brilliant and durable colors. Ask for the Diamond, and take no other. 36 colors; 10 cents each.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.

For Gilding or Bronzing Fancy Articles, USE DIAMOND PAINTS.

Gold, Silver, Bronze, Copper. Only 10 Cents.

Dr. O. C. GAGE AND Associate Physicians

26 WEST 31st ST., N. Y., and CONCORD, N. H.

Six Acknowledged Experts in the Treatment and Cure of all Long Standing and Difficult Diseases which require Skill and Experience. They have treated more than twenty thousand patients in Vermont and New Hampshire alone, and their cures, by the use of Nature's stand unparalleled in medical science.

Harmless Vegetable Remedies

Think, investigate and act for yourself! If you require medical aid consult them in all confidence, and avail yourself of the best medical skill of the day, which has been perfected by years of study and experience exclusively among the most complicated and deep-seated diseases of every character.

Consultation free, and terms for treatment always reasonable. They make visits regularly, and positively remain only the days advertised.

CURES UNEQUALLED BY ANY LIVING PHYSICIANS.

WE WILL PAY ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS REWARD

To any Person who finds the following Statements of Cures to be untrue:

Mrs. Orrin Webber, Bedford, N. H., a cripple and on crutches 14 years with terrible ulcers on her limbs; soundly cured.—Geo. H. Stevens, North Lyndeboro, N. H., cured of terrible burning and itching humor which covered the entire body.—Mrs. Wm. E. Russ, North Hartland, Vt., given up by counsel, with a large ovarian tumor, heart disease and dropsy; per tectly cured and tumor disappeared. Doctor did not see her.—Mary Smith, East Candia, N. H., Mrs. Mary Urann, Pittsville, N. H., also cured of ovarian tumors.—Grace Julian, Concord, N. H., was cured of ovarian and female difficulties after she had been made worse by the usual treatments.—C. L. Batham, North Monroe, N. H., helpless with spinal disease, involving liver, kidneys and bladder; perfectly cured and the Doctor did not see him.—Miss L. O. Turner, Berlin, Vt., had spinal disease and could not walk; caused by injury 7 years ago; cured and the Doctor did not see her.—Thomas Cochrane, 238 W. 30th St., N. Y., son was helpless with spinal disease; cured, and is sound and well. "I know this to be true, Rev. J. H. Kerr, Pastor 4th Presbt. Church, 34th St., N. Y."—Miss M. A. Barnes, Walpole, N. H., so deaf she could scarcely hear a word; radically cured.—Isaac Buttrick, Londonderry, N. H., son cured of discharging ears and deafness.

Mrs. A. L. Gelly, West Andover, N. H., given up in the last stage of consumption; is now well.—Mr. L. A. Sawyer, Keene, N. H., terrible bleeding from lungs; cured.—Amos Young, Derry Depot, N. H., catarrh had eaten a hole through roof of mouth; cured.—Miss Lizzie Williams, 76 Bodwell st., Manchester, N. H., blindness cured.—Dr. Levi B. Hodge, Waterford, Vt., kidney disease with frightful hemorrhoids; given up by counsel; cured, and the the Doctor did not see him.—Thomas Tuke, Lowell Burt, Littleton, N. H., and hundreds of other cases, cured of nervous debility in its various stages.—Mrs. J. E. Fields, Milford, N. H., cured of a complication of female difficulties after she had doctored 3 years with others.—Son of W. B. Hill, Pittsfield, N. H., was a most terrible case of heart disease, dropsy and epileptic fits; got well, went to work and has not had a fit for two years.—G. Ambrose, No. Londonderry, N. H., cured of cancer. C. C. Hall, Bosquet, N. H., cured of cancer. Alvin Bruce, Williamsville, Vt., cured of cancer.—Rev. A. G. Fargo, Hamilton, N. Y., son cured of lameness.—C. D. Marshall, Acworth, N. H., son cured of epileptic fits.—Mrs. J. S. Haley, 99 Putnam Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., cured of Bright's disease and dropsy.—Albert Clark, Andover, N. H., had case of chronic Rheumatism; treated at hospital with no good results; can now do a good day's work.

Remember our Appointments:

Exeter, Gorham Hall, Monday, Nov 16th.
Farmington, Wilson House, Tuesday, Nov. 27th.
Rochester, Dodge's Hotel, Wednesday, Nov. 28th.
Great Falls Hotel, Thursday, Nov 29th.
Dover, American House, Friday, Nov 30th.
Portsmouth, Rockingham House, Saturday, Dec. 1st.

Specialists for Chronic Diseases.

CAUTION

Beware of Fraud, as my name and the price are stamped on the bottom of all my advertised shoes before leaving the factory, which protect the wearers against high prices and inferior goods. If a dealer offers W. L. Douglas shoes at a reduced price, or says he has them without my name and price stamped on the bottom, put him down as a fraud

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE. FOR GENTLEMEN.

The only calf $3 SEAMLESS Shoe smooth inside. NO TACKS or WAX THREAD to hurt the feet, easy as hand-sewed and WILL NOT RIP. W. L. DOUGLAS $4 SHOE, the original and only hand-sewed welt $4 shoe. Equals a custom-made shoes costing from $4 to $6.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.50 POLICE SHOE. Railroad Men and Letter Carriers all wear them. Smooth inside as a hand-sewed shoe. No Tacks or Wax Thread to hurt the feet.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.50 SHOE is unexcelled for heavy wear. Best Calf Shoe for the money.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.25 WORKINGMAN'S SHOE is the best in the world for rough wear; one pair ought to wear a man a year.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2 SHOE FOR BOYS is the best School Shoe in the world.

W. L. DOUGLAS $1.75 YOUTH'S School Shoe gives the small boys a chance to wear the best shoes in the world.

All made in Congress, Button and Lace. If not sold by your dealer, write

W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

FOR SALE BY

OREN BRAGDON & SON, NO. 24 MARKET STREET.

S. Philbrick & Co.,

MANUFACTURERS OF

Marble and Granite Work

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION

GRANITE POLISHING A SPECIALTY.

OFFICE AND WORKS,

No. 2 Water Street, Portsmouth

THE JOB PRINTING

Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD L. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line. Give him a trial and you will be more than pleased.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier KNOWN.

This Great German Medicine is the cheapest and best. 128 doses of SULPHUR BITTERS for $1.00, less than one cent a dose. It will cure the worst cases of skin disease, from a common pimple on the face to that awful disease Scrofula. SULPHUR BITTERS is the best medicine to use in all cases of such stubborn and deep seated diseases. Do not ever take or mercury, they are dead. If you have your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the best medicine ever made.

BLUE PILLS

Is your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately. Nothing like the SULPHUR BITTERS for your Liver.

Don't Wait!

Your Kidneys are out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use

Sulphur Bitters!

Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is

The Invalid's Friend.

The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you.

Send 3 3-cent stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., for best medical work published.

Embalmer and Funeral Director

No. 60 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH

SAMUEL S. FLETCHER

(SUCCESSOR TO FLETCHER & TARTON.)

COFFINS, ROBES & CASKETS

Always on hand, or made to order.

Orders by night may be left at No. 42 Daniel St., or with A. L. Rice, No. 15 Hill St., or O. S. Haskell Russell St.

BE HONEST and chew

FINZER'S OLD HONESTY

CHEWING TOBACCO

which is ONLY for Chewing and NOT for Smoking.

The BEST chewing tobacco CANNOT be good for Smoking.

OLD HONESTY is the BEST AND CHEAPEST Tobacco made.

Insist on having the GENUINE with the red H tin tag, made only by, John Finzer & Bros., Louisville, Ky.

TRANSPORTAION

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

Eastern Division.

TRAINS LEAVE PORTSMOUTH FOR

BOSTON, 4 05, 7.25, 8.20, 11.05 a. m., 2.55, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4.00 p. m. Returning, 7.30, 9.00, 10.00 a. m. 12.30, 3.30, 4.40, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.30 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

PORTLAND, 9.55, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.27 p. m. Returning, 2.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.05, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 2.00 a. m.

RANGOR, ST. JOHN AND HALIFAX, 10.55 a. m. 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.00 p. m.

GREAT FALLS AND WOLFEBORO JUNC., 9.55 a. m., 2.45, 5.30 p. m.

WOLFEBORO, 9.55, a. m., 5.30 p. m.

NORTH CONWAY, 9.55 a. m., 2.45 p. m.

DOVER, 4.50, 9.45, a. m., 12.25, 2.38, 5.22 p. m.

YORK HARBOR AND BEACH R. R.

YORK BEACH AND WAY STATIONS, (via York Harbor and Beach R. R.) 8.30, 11.10 a. m., 5.35 p. m. Returning, leave York (leave 6.40, 10.00 a. m., 1.40, p. m. Connecting with trains leaving Portsmouth for Boston.

JAS. FORMER, Gen'l Manager. D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l Passenger Agt.

Concord & Portsmouth Railroad.

PASSENGER TRAINS leave Eastern Railroad Station for Newmarket Junction, Manchester, Concord and points on branch railroads, as follows:

UP TRAINS.

Leave	A. M.	P. M.	P. M.
Portsmouth	7.55	1.05	5.15
Greenland	8.05	1.09	5.24
Newmarket Junction	8.25	1.21	5.36
East Kingston		1.31
Epping	8.43	1.37	6.11
West Epping	8.49		6.17
Raymond	8.60	1.53	6.29
Candia	9.13	2.05	6.46
Auburn	9.22		6.57
Massabesic	9.30	2.21	7.06
Arrive Manchester	9.45	2.36	7.20
" Concord	10.30	3.12	8.25

DOWN TRAINS.

Leave	A. M.	A. M.	P. M.
Concord	7.20	10.20	3.25
Manchester	8.15	11.15	4.25
Massabesic	8.27	11.28	4.36
Auburn	8.35		4.44
Candia	8.44	11.46	4.54
Raymond	9.06	11.56	5.13
West Epping	9.18	P. M.	5.26
Epping	9.20	12.08	5.27
East Epping		12.14
Newmarket Junction	9.46	12.32	5.42
Greenland	10.01	12.36	6.01
Arrive Portsmouth	10.10	12.45	6.10

☞ Trains connect at Newmarket Junction with trains of the Boston & Maine Railroad for Exeter, Haverhill, Lawrence and points east, and for Dover, Great Falls and Portland, at Concord with trains to and from all the upper Railroads.

H. E. CHAMBERLIN, Supt.

C. E. BOYNTON.

Manufacturer and Wholesale Dealer in

Soda Water, Root, Tonic, Vanilla, Orange and Strawberry Beer, Crab Apple Lemonette, Cream Ginger and Ginger Ale.

EXTRACT OF NERVE FOOD!

For Brain and Nervous Exhaustion. Good for the Appetite.

Soda Water in Syphons for Hotel and Family Use. Fountains Charged at Short Notice.

Bottler of Eldredge and Milwaukee Lager, Porter and Refined Cider.

☞ The Summer "Average manufactured and bottled by me having been before the public of this City and vicinity for the past seventeen years, need no endorsement as being of the very highest standard.

E. G. BLAISDELL, D. M. D.,

(SUCCESSOR TO DR. F. J. BONNEY,)

Dental Rooms 1 1-2 Market Street.

Bay State, Haynes Excelsior and Wm. B. Tilton Gold Medal GUITARS, $10 to $40. MUSIC BOXES, 50 cents to $300. Solo Bb CORNET, $10. Haynes VIOLINS, Orchestra, $25; Solo, $35. Special Snare DRUMS, $6. Crosby FIFES, $2. Drum Corps and Bands send for Estimate. Catalogues free. J. C. HAYNES & Co., 33 Court St., Boston, Mass.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

POST OFFICE RULES.

MAILS CLOSE

	A. M.			P. M.
Boston, N. Y., south, west, &	6:00	10:20	2:30	4:30	6:45
Boston and way stations,		10:20	2:30		6:45
Portland,	9:25		4:00		6:45
Portland and way stations,	9:25		4:00
East [beyond Portland]	9:25				6:45
Great Falls, Rochester, Wolfeboro' Union Milton,	9:25				4:00
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,	9:25
Concord & Manchester,	7:40	10:20			4:00
Concord, Manchester and North,	7:40		4:00
Exeter and B. & M. way, west of Newmarket,	7:40		4:00
Dover,	9:25		2:30	4:30	6:45
North Conway,	9:25				6:45
York and Cape Neddick,		9:25
Newcastle,		10:20
Newington,		10:20
Weston, N. Y. and south, Sunday,						1:00

MAILS ARRIVE.

	A. M.		P. M.
Boston, south and west,	10:05	3:10	5:40	7:00 [9:00]
New York,	10:05		5:40	7:00
Boston and way stations,	10:05		5:40
Portland and east,	7:20	11:00	3:20
Great Falls, Rochester, Union, Milton,	8:20	11:30
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,		11:00
Concord, Manchester and north,		10:20		6:20
Dover,	7:20	10:20		3:00	5:40
Newcastle,		9:20
Newington,		9:20
York and Cape Neddick,		11:00
B. & M. R. R., west of Newmarket,		10:20		6:20

S. J. GERRISH, P. M.

MINATURE ALMANAC NOV. 15.

SUN RISES	6:36	MOON SETS	3:25 P. M
SUN SETS	4:22	FULL SEA	9:15 A. M
LENGTH OF DAY	9:46		9:45 P. M

Weather Indications.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

Fair, Thursday, followed by rain on Thursday night or Friday, southwesterly winds, becoming northerly; slightly colder.

Cautionary signals are displayed on the Atlantic coast from Boston to Eastport, and storm signals at Wood's Hole, Wood's Hole section and Narragansett section.

The Trial of James Palmer,

For The Murder of Henry T. Whitehouse.

WEDNESDAY, Nov. 14th.

The interest in the trial of James Palmer for murder, does not abate in the least, and at nine o'clock Wednesday morning, the hour of opening court, every seat was occupied, and "standing room only" was the order of the day and is likely to be until the case is closed. One of the features of the trial, which is unusual in Portsmouth, is the large number of ladies who attend. They appear to be very much interested, and follow the proceedings closely.

Palmer entered the court in the custody of Deputy Sheriff Moore, and instead of being placed in the prisoner's dock, was permitted to take a chair near his counsel within the bar. He exhibited the same cool unconcern that has characterized his bearing ever since his arrest, although he pays close attention to every word or movement that is a part of the proceedings against him. He smiles with the rest when anything occurs to cause a ripple of merriment, and chats pleasantly with any of his relatives who are near him, during any lull in the examination of witnesses. His appearance is neat in the extreme. Near him sit his brother and brother's wife, and behind him Deputy Sheriff Moore, while his counsel are directly in front of him.

The first witness called was Alfred C. Hoyt of this city, who testified that he is a practical surveyor, and had drawn a map of the northerly part of Portsmouth and Noble's island, which was produced in court. He explained the localities to the jury, and pointed out the points of importance in the trial; told how the tide ebbs and flows in the basin, and gave a general description of the vicinity of the murder, with all of which our readers are familiar. He said the distance from Palmer's house on Stark street to stage on Noble's island was about a mile and one-sixth; from there to Portsmouth bridge about 407 feet; end to end of the bridge is 1760 feet, and from the Kittery end of the bridge to Butler's crossing it is 2200 feet. Cross-examined by Mr. Marason, he said that he did not measure the distance from the Creek bridge to Palmer's house, but by scale of the map should judge it to be about 3000 feet. To Mr. Emery he said that was simply an estimate.

Charles H. Kent testified that he lived at Freeman's point; that he worked at the Portsmouth shoe factory on the 28th day of May, and came to the city that morning by way of the Portsmouth & Dover railroad track and Noble's island. Saw the body of a man on the rocks about twenty feet from the blacksmith shop, lying on its back; sent his brother-in-law, Mr. Hammond, for the police. Cross-examination developed nothing important.

Albert H. Hammond said he lived at Freeman's point; came to town May 28th in company with Kent, the previous witness, of whose evidence his was corroborative.

Andrew B. Sherburne, M. D., has been a practicing physician for seventeen years, assisted at autopsy on the body of Whitehouse. Made diagram of the wounds at time, which he explained in detail to the jury. The public have already had the description of the wounds and it is not necessary to repeat it. Dr. Sherburne said the cuts in the throat were necessarily fatal. The cross-examination [illegible] practicing physician twenty-six years; testimony corroborative of Dr. Sherburne; described various wounds found on head and face of Whitehouse, and said they could have been caused by a hammer produced in court.

At the close of Dr. Whittier's evidence the court took a recess until two o'clock, and when the session was resumed in the afternoon the room was packed with people, including many ladies.

Fred S. Palmer, sworn; came to Portsmouth on Sept. 17th, 1887, as superintendent of the Portsmouth Electric Light Co.; had under him James Palmer, the defendant, as chief engineer, Henry T. Whitehouse assistant engineer, and Dennis Reagan fireman; saw body at Noble's island, and recognized it as that of Whitehouse; told of duties of men at light station, and of Palmer leaving the service on Feb. 5th, 1888, in consequence of some trouble; after he had gone, found one engine disabled; made Palmer, who injured it, repair the damage; missed tools from station, and accused Palmer of stealing them; he denied it, but on being threatened with a search warrant confessed that he was the thief; went to his house with sheriff and Whitehouse in May; saw Mrs. Rutter, defendant's mother, and examined his tool box; saw a hammer, and am positive it is the one produced in court; Whitehouse was active in the search, and identified the tools stolen from the station; witness told of Whitehouse visiting young lady in Kittery on Sunday nights, reporting for duty at station at midnight, and of Palmer's knowledge of these facts when he worked at the light station; reached Noble's island at 8:15 A. M., May 28th; saw the hammer then, and previously at Palmer's house; Palmer's duty at station required a very sharp knife, similar to one shown by witness.

Cross-examined by Gen. Marston: I think Palmer was working at Shoe factory when I searched his house; did not know of his talk with sheriff until a few days ago; both Palmer and Whitehouse were discharged at one time, but I took Whitehouse back.

By Chief Justice Doe: Saw hammer like one in court at Noble's island; think this is the same one; am satisfied and confident it is the same.

Dennis Reagan sworn: Was at the light station when present superintendent took charge; confirmed latter's testimony as to damaged machinery, etc.; recognized hammer as one claimed by James Palmer; had seen defendant have a knife similar to one produced in court, the night before he left.

Edward D. Coffin, sheriff of Rockingham county, testified to visiting Palmer's house, etc., as related by previous witnesses; met Palmer the next Friday night at depot; he said the superintendent and Whitehouse were trying to ruin him; witness advised him to leave town; related circumstances of Palmer's arrest after the murder, of finding trowsers and long ulster with bottoms wringing wet, and prisoner's mother saying the coat had not been used for three or four weeks.

Patrick E. Morey testified to meeting Palmer on Islington street at 10:35 o'clock on the night of the murder.

Henry G. Sainney, sworn: Lives in Eliot; was in Portsmouth night of murder; started home at eleven o'clock from Noble's island; night overcast; went to shore looking for boat; came to platform near blacksmith shop, saw man approaching, waited for him, and when he came along joined him; went over bridge and as far as Butler's Crossing with him, where I turned off and he turned back; he wore a long ulster with collar turned up, and a soft felt hat pulled down over his face; he did not swing his left arm, but carried that hand in his pocket; his right arm was swinging; could not tell color of coat, but called it a plaid.

Cross examined by Mr. Page, but nothing further elicited.

Adjourned to nine o'clock Thursday morning.

Notes.

The afternoon proceedings were interrupted for a few minutes by the advent of Miss Fernald, the young lady to whom Henry Whitehouse was engaged. She has never fully recovered from the shock she received at the time of his death, and was so overcome today at the thought of being connected with the trial that she burst into tears, and had to be led to one of the ante-rooms, and did not enter the court room again.

Some two months ago one of Sheriff Coffin's boarders requested to be put in the same cell with Palmer, and the request was granted. In a few days, the prisoner who had so successfully sought Palmer's company, sent for the sheriff and requested to be allowed to go back to his old quarters. He was taken out and questioned as to his change of mind, and said he was afraid of his life; that Palmer had a razor, and he was afraid he would kill him. Palmer's cell was searched and not only a razor but a gun wrench found secreted therein. How he obtained these implements is not known.

THE NORTH HAMPTON CELEBRATION.

The republican demonstration at North Hampton on Tuesday evening, the 13th, was a grand success. The procession, under the marshalship of Wm. J. Breed, consisted of companies from Rye, Hampton and North Hampton, with about 250 torches, and was accompanied by the Newburyport National band and the Rye band. In the procession were coaches and barges tastefully trimmed with flags and bunting. The houses of republicans and of many democrats along the line of march, from Little Boar's Head to North Hampton Centre, were brilliantly illuminated. A fine show of fireworks was given along the line [illegible] per was furnished to over 600, and a choice selection of patriotic music was finely rendered by a male quartette.

SOCIETY NEWS AND PERSONAL NOTES.

—The Misses Ball gave a very delightful card party at their residence yesterday afternoon, in honor of Miss Jackson, who is visiting her uncle, Commodore Bradford, at the navy yard. Among those who were there were Mrs. Wallace Hackett, Mrs. Decatur, Mrs. Gooding, Miss Treadwell, Miss Carrie Treadwell, Miss Thompson, Miss Bradford and Miss Neal.

—The usual monotonous life on the navy yard was pleasantly interrupted on Tuesday evening, the 13th, by a charming little euchre party given by Capt. and Mrs. Chas. J. Barclay. These little parties go far toward making the social circle on the yard a most pleasant one, and the fortunate few are greatly to be envied.

—A juvenile dancing school was inaugurated here yesterday, and a class of twelve children took their first lesson in the terpsichorean art. Miss Williams of Boston, who is considered the dancing teacher of that city, has been secured as instructress. She is also to instruct the young ladies at Miss Morgan's seminary.

—Commander Merrill Miller, U. S. N., who is to relieve Comdr. Wildes as navigation officer at the navy yard, arrived in town yesterday, and is at the Rockingham.

—The marriage of Lyman H. Staples of Eliot, Me., and Miss Emma Pickering of Newington, is announced to take place at Thanksgiving.

—There will be a rehearsal by the ladies taking part in the Pirates of Penzance to-morrow afternoon at 2:30, at Rechabite hall.

—Lieut. O. E. Lasher, commanding the United States tug Fortune, expects to get away from the yard early this morning.

AFFAIRS IN KITTERY.

NORTH KITTERY, ME., Nov, 13.

Quarterly meeting of the Christian churches of this vicinity will be held in Kittery, commencing on the 22d and holding over the 25th.

Mrs. Dr. Johnson of Boston is having a summer cottage built at the Lower Foreside, on a lot bought of Geo. Whitham; the foundation is now being put in.

Frank Littlefield and Noah Grant are making some road repairs in the Foreside district, and not before they were needed.

Dr. M. F. Wentworth, chairman of the board of inspectors of the Maine state prison, left town this morning for Thomaston, where the board meet this week to take account of stock, preparatory to making their annual report.

William L. Fernald of Spruce Creek has raised over three hundred chickens this season, most of them for the market; he had also entered quite extensively into market gardening.

Willard E. Paul is reported to be very sick at the home of his father, Mr. Warrington Paul.

The roads about town are in a fearfully bad condition—Worse than for years—and are not improving any.

Mr. Rufus Remick and little daughter of Malden, Mass., arrived in town Saturday for a brief visit among relatives.

Mr. George E. Cole of Malden, Mass., was in town Sunday on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Woodbury Cole.

Mr. George A. Lambert is expecting to go to Florida this winter, but is waiting now for the yellow fever to subside.

York District Lodge, I. O. G. T., meets with Old York Lodge of York, on Wednesday, the 14th inst. A large delegation is expected from Kittery.

Miss Millie Damon closed a successful term of school in district No. 1 on Friday last. In the afternoon exercises consisting of reading, declamations, recitations and music were given after which the scholars presented Miss Damon with a handsome book of quotations.

Miss Sarah Neal Harris will give the second recital of her class on Thursday evening, in Tirfethen hall.

Mr. E. E. Shapleigh finished his school in York on Friday last, and commenced his winter term at the Point on Monday.

Miss Lizzie Berry left her home at Kittery Point Monday to visit her sister, Mrs. W. E. Bartlett in Manchester, Conn. She is a bright little girl about ten years old, and made the journey alone from Portsmouth.

Mr. E. R. Phillips will be ordained pastor of the First Christian church at Kittery Point on Wednesday, the 21st inst. SUB ROSA.

"REFORM IS NECESSARY."

A letter from our Kittery Point correspondent, mailed at that place on Tuesday, the 13th inst., as the postmark shows, was received at this office on the 14th some time after the GAZETTE had gone to press, and consequently did not get into the issue of this week. On the envelope was the stamp of the Kittery Depot office of the date Nov. 14th, and the word "missent" written thereon. We are getting quite accustomed to seeing this word "missent" on our mail matter; this is the second time within two months that we have found it on the regular weekly letter of our Kittery Point correspondent. We should think that even in the present demoralized condition of the mail service twelve hours should suffice for the transportation of a letter from the Point to this city, a distance of less than two miles as the crow flies; but it evidently does not. Our suburban contributors, if living more than one and a half miles from our office, should entrust their favors to the perils of the United States mails not later than Monday afternoon, when intended for publication [illegible] will kindly heed this request, there is almost an even chance that we may receive their communications in season for publication at the proper time.

PAYING ELECTION BETS.

Mr. Fred E. Hasty will be shaved three times a week for the next six months by Mr. Will. C. Randall at twenty cents per shave, on account of overconfidence in "Cleveland's luck." Had the luck panned out as hoped for, he would have been shaved for nothing.

On Wednesday evening of this week, promptly at six o'clock, Mr. Christopher P. Gilligan, clad in the uniform of the Ward One Cadets, and harnessed to a gig in which was seated Mr. James W. Marden, carrying the American flag, started from Market square, preceded by the Winchester Cadet drum corps and accompanied by numrous spectators, and went to the Plains, going by way of Islington road, and returning by way of Middle road. The procession arrived back at half past seven o'clock.

UNLUCKY PONY.

The Indian pony Petoskey, which had an ankle broken in the stampede of the Equescurriculum cavalcade on Tuesday evening of this week by the firing of crackers on Market street, was so badly injured as to render it necessary to kill him. The animal was one of the most intelligent and best trained in Prof. Bristol's equine company, and the loss is a heavy one to him; it is said an offer of $1000 for the pony was recently refused. Prof. Bristol bought him five years ago from an Indian chief, and says he can hardly be replaced. A suit against the city for a large sum is suggested as a possibility, the animals having been frightened by fireworks, the firing of which in the streets is illegal, and the city therefore possibly responsible for any damages which may occur from their firing not being prevented by the authorities.

A large number of our citizens will go to York to-night to attend the Republican celebration. A good time is anticipated.

Excursion to Boston to-day. Fare for the round trip $1.70. Tickets good to go on any train to-day, and returning on the 16th

The Winchester Cadets in good force went to Biddeford on Wednesday evening.

The show of trained horses and ponies at Music hall is as entertaining as it is astonishing.

There were lying at or near Appledore wharf on the afternoon of the 14th inst. six steamboats, namely: The Oceanic and Ann, hauled up for the winter; the tugs Cocheco and Clara Batemen; the Kittery Point Transportation line steamer Valora, and the ocean towboat B. W. Morse, said to be the largest and most powerful tug in the world, and certainly the most powerful one on this side of the Atlantic. The latter was at E. F. Sise & Co.'s coal wharf, and came here to tow around to Norfolk, Va., two coal barges from this port, picking up two more at Cape Ann on the way.

The Winchester Cadets arrived home from Biddeford and Saco at two o'clock this morning.

Pears' Soap is an elegant toilet adjunct.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Sold only in cans. full weight.

CLEVELAND BROTHERS, ALBANY, N. Y.

Colored Fire

— FOR —

CELEBRATION

NOV. 19, 1888,

— AT —

BENJ. GREEN'S,

APOTHECARY,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

A LARGE LOT OF LEAF SAGE Just Received at Benj. Green's Apothecary.

MARRIED.

CLOUGH—WOODSOM. In this city, Nov. 14th, by Rev. J. A. Hainer, Horace W. Clough and Emma G. Woodsom, both of this city.

MARINE CHRONICLE.

PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

ARRIVED Nov. 13th.

Sch Angie L Green, McKiwell, Philadelphia, with 692 tons coal to J Albert Walker.

Sch Erastus Wiman, Bennett, Baltimore, with 969 tons coal to J Albert Walker.

Sch Grace K Green, Seaward, Philadelphia, with 682 tons coal to J Albert Walker.

Sch James Ives, Blake, Philadelphia, with 968 tons coal to J Albert Walker.

Sch Mattie Holmes, Alley, New York, with coal to O F Philbrick & Co.

Sch B Frank Nealley, Oliver, Philadelphia, (will dlsg at Dover.)

Sch Lillie, Perkins, Boston.

IN LOWER HARBOR Nov. 13th.

Sch Frank, Philbrick, York for Boston.

ARRIVED Nov 14th.

Sch Nathan Lawrence, ——, Baltimore, with 1148 tons coal to J Albert Walker.

Sch Seth W Smith, Martin, Weehawken, with coal to O F Philbrick & Co.

Sch Mary Willey, Williams, Bangor, with lumber to John H Broughton.

Sch Thomas B Garland, Crosby, Philadelphia, (will dlsg at Dover.)

SAILED Nov. 14th.

Stmr Lancaster, Robinson, Philadelphia.

Sch G W Raitt, Coleman, Boston.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity trength and wholesomeness. More economical han the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powder. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall Street, New York.

SEND FOR

Miller's Gamecock,

THE KING OF ALL WHISKIES.

JOHN MILLER & CO.,

298 and 300 Hanover St., Boston,

Sole Proprietors.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST.

eod1dec15

WANTED SALESMEN to sell Nursery Stock. All Goods Warranted FIRST-CLASS. Permanent, pleasant, profitable positions for the right men. Good salaries and expenses paid weekly. Liberal inducements to beginners. No previous experience necessary. Outfit free. Write for terms, giving age. CHARLES H. CHASE, Nurseryman, Rochester, N. Y. Mention this Paper. *tho21

MUSIC HALL, PORTSMOUTH.

JOHN O. AYERS.....MANAGER.

ONE WEEK, COMMENCING

Monday, Nov. 12th.

Popular Family Matinees Wednesday, Friday and Saturday at 2:30 P. M.

EQUESCURRICULUM !

Beautifully Trained

30 HORSES, PONIES & MULES. 30

Under the Management of JNO. C. PATRICK.

The Only School of Educated Horses in the World.

The Equine Wonders of the 19th Century.

The Fun Provoking Mule, DENVER | The Mathematical Wonder, MATTIE

A Superb Mounted Military Band and Complete Orchestra.

OUR PRICES, 25, 35 AND 50 CENTS.

Sale of Seats opens at Goodrich's Book Store, Thursday Morning, Nov. 8th.

NOTICE.—Children under 12 years of age can secure a Reserved Seat at the Matinee for 25c.

ED. H. NEIL, Gen. Agt. E. S. DAVIDSON, Adv. Agt.

NEW JEWELRY

— AND —

SILVER GOODS

— AT —

HUTCHINGS'S

FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

RED FIRE !

QUALITY GUARANTEED.

ANDREW P. PRESTON,

Apothecary, - Portsmouth, N. H.

A PERFECT BLEND

MOCHA AND JAVA COFFEE

FULL WEIGHT, 2 POUND CANS, PRICE 70 CENTS

CHARLES E. LAICHTON & SON,

Exchange Building, Opp. Post-Office.

Marigold Ointment !

Remember is Warranted for External Piles, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Nettle Rash, Hives, and all Diseases of the Skin and Scalp, Old Sores, Chilblains, Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Chapped Hands, Cold Sores, Cracks in Hands and Lips, Ingrowing Nails, Inflamed Joints, and everything else for which an Ointment is required

Call for Circular and Sample Box Free.

— SOLE AGENT FOR ROCKINGHAM COUNTY —

William D. Grace, - - - Apothecary.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

FALL AND WINTER OF 1888-89.

Our Assortment of Tailoring Goods is superior in many respects to any of previous years, embracing a Full Line of Goods suitable for

Fall and Winter Overcoatings.

Also, a Fine Assortment of the Best

IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC GOODS FOR SUITINGS,

Consisting of Stripes, Checks, Plain and Fancy Woollens and Worsteds in Great Variety.

CHECKS AND STRIPES FOR TROWSERS.

FANCY PATTERNS FOR VESTINGS.

Prices Reasonable for Fine Work.

WM. P. WALKER, - - MERCHANT TAILOR,

NO. 8 MARKET SQUARE.

THE BEST BONDS ARE POLICIES

— IN THE —

Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York

THE LARGEST, CHEAPEST AND BEST IN THE WORLD.

Assets - - over $120,000,000.

RICHARD A. MCCURDY, - PRESIDENT.

PROTECTION FOR THE AGED!

At Age of 78 $1000 will purchase an Annuity of $159.06, and other ages in proportion.

Those Desiring Reliable Insurance Should Apply to the Undersigned,

C. M. GIGNOUX, - - GENERAL AGENT,

OLDEST AND BEST Republican Morning Paper IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 24, 1862.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., FRIDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 16, 1888.

$5 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE. TWO CENTS PER COPY.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1888.

The News!

ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES.

The Congressional Steal.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 15.—Secretary Thompson, of the democratic congressional committee, told an Evening Star reporter, this evening, that he thought the democrats would certainly have a majority of one to three in the next house. They had, according to his information, elected Fisher in Michigan, Simmons in North Carolina, and not less than three members in West Virginia. He thought, also, that a democrat had been elected in Taulbee's district in Kentucky, by an increased majority.

They Want His Place for Three Months.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Albert Saxon, a $2000 custom house clerk, was examined by the collector to-day on charges that he had come on duty intoxicated; had slandered President Cleveland's domestic relations; had expressed pleasure at the attempted assassination of Surveyor Beatrie; and had otherwise acted in a manner unbecoming a customs officer. Saxton made a general denial, and said he did not remember making the statements referred to. He had tasted liquor only on a physician's advice. The testimony will be forwarded to Washington. Saxton is a republican "hold over."

Strike of Natural Gas and Workmen.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

PITTSBURG, PA., Nov. 15.—At Jones and Laughling American Iron Works, the workmen struck to-day against a change made in the working hours on account of a scarcity of natural gass during the day time.

Lillie Hoyle's Murder Unavenged.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WORCESTER, MASS., Nov. 15.—Thomam B. McQuaid and Dixon R. Cowie, in jail under indictment for the murder of Lillie A. Hoyle at Webster, will be discharged on Saturday. Alice Hoyle, upon whose confession the defendants were arrested and indicted, has pronounced her confession a lie from beginning to end, and tells another story, which she has since recanted, and which the investigation shows also to be false. The district attorney admits the government has no case against the prisoners.

A Newspaper Man's Last Boat Ride.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

EASTPORT, ME., Nov. 15 — H. F. Wilder, proprietor of the Eastport Messenger, left Lubec for Eastport yesterday in a boat. The boat and Wilder's hat were picked up today five miles from shore. Wilder was 30 years old, and leaves a wife and child.

The Sum and Substance Of It.

[Special to the Chronicle.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 15.—The alleged possibility of a change of New York from Harrison to Cleveland is an Indiana invention, and is looked upon here as an absurd attempt to draw Chairman Quay from his conduct of the contest for the House of Representatives of the new Congress, by making it appear that there may be a necessity for his return to New York. The democratic eaders simply desire to turn his attention from their nefarious attempts to secure a majority in the new House.

Virginia.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

RICHMOND, VA., Nov. 15.—Official returns from the state, with the exception of four counties, which will not affect the general result, give Cleveland a majority of 1587.

The Bald Knobbers Again at Work.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle

KANSAS CITY, MO. Nov. 15.—The bodies of five witnesses whose testimony convicted Walker, the Bald Knob leader, of murder, were found hung to a tree on Bara Creek this morning. The entire district is again terrorized.

A Wealthy Murderer.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 15.—Solon G. Jenkins shot and killed his father-in-law, Stephen Anthony, in Wallingford this evening, as he was entering his house to supper. He then shot off one of his own ears, either by attempting suicide, or accidentally firing the pistol. He is a wealthy drunkard, and his wife has been under her father's care for some time.

West Virginia Republican.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle

WHEELING, W. VA., Nov. 15.—Despatches this evening to the republican state committee lead Chairman Cowden to revise his figures and increase Goff's majority for governor from 76 to 302. The recount in Fayette county gave him an increase of 100, and official returns from McDowall make other difference. Owing to the recount, these figures are still subject to revision. Later returns give McGinnis, rep., for Congress in third district, 35 majority.

A North Carolina Bank Closes.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 15.—Blackwell's bank, at Durham, which has been in financial straits for some time, closed its doors to-day, and made an assignment. A number of business houses are involved in the wreck. Failures are reported, as follows: Bank of Durham; State bank, owned by W. S. Blackwell, liabilities estimated at $400,000, estimated assets upward of $800,000; E. J. Parrish, warehouse man and manufacturer of smoking tobacco, liabilities $100,000, estimated assets $300,000; J. W. Blackwell, coal dealer, contractor, etc., liabilities $110,000; W. F. Ellis, drygoods, $33,000; Muse & Shaw, drygoods $10,000; Robbins & Stone, drygoods, $8,000. It is believed in every instance that the assets will more than cover the liabilities. The institution had a very heavy line of discounts, at the north, which they could not get renewed.

A Street Car War in Brooklyn.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

BROOKLYN, N. Y, Nov. 15.—A horse car was started on the Lee Avenue line to-day at 10:38, from Prospect Park. Twelve mounted policemen and a patrol wagon containing nine officers, escorted it. At Myrtle avenue; a large gang of strikers had congregated on the track and refused to get out of the way. They were dispersed several times, but followed the car, throwing stones and other missiles. At Flushing, a wagon was put on the track in such a position that it could not be easily removed. The crowd increased and the car and police received a perfect bombardment of stones. Sergeant Stutton was hit in the face severely, and the car driver was injured.

At Gwinett, the street switch was demolished, and the attempt to run the car further was abandoned. Seven or eight strikers were arrested.

A car which was started from the company's stables about the same time, was assaulted on Park avenue, the assailants were charged by a police force of 25 mounted men under Inspector Reilly, who used clubs right and left, their horses trampling down the ranks of the strikers. Some of the force were injured by stones, and the squad arrested six of the mob. Another car from the stables, later, was allowed to pass without much opposition, the rioters being engaged in rolling boulders on the track. The police charged upon them and the car proceeded.

At a conference between the strikers' committee and the directors tonight, the strike was declared off, pending arbitration by state beard.

Telegraphic Notes.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

MONTPELIER, VT., Nov. 15. — The great social event of the legislative session, the ladies' reception, was held at the capitol this evening. The rooms were thronged with the talent and beauty of the state.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Dougharty, the crazy admirer of Maay Anderson, was committed today to the care of the commissioners of charities and correction, and will be confined until the commission decides upon his case.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Nov. 15.—Denny Brouthers, of the Detroit base ball club, signed today with the Bostons at $5000 per annum. He declared he did not care what the Detroit manager would say, he should go where he could make the most money.

BOSTON, MASS., Nov. 15.—The Home Market Club celebrated the election victory by a banquet at Mechanics' hall this evening. Gen. Alger of Micigan, Senator Chandler of New Hampshire, Hon. John D. Long, Elliot F. Shepard, Warner Miller, Senator Hoar, Gen. Banks, Congressmen-elect Wallace, Chandler, Walker, Greenhalge, and many others, were present. The mention of James G. Blaine's name in Gen. Alger's speech was the signal for tremendous cheering.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 15.—The Chamberlain-Endicott wedding and reception took place today, at Secretary Endicott's residence, and the parties left for New York this afternoon, and will return within a week. They are to sail for Europe on the 26th.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., Nov. 15.—Sixteen new cases, 4 ths.

DOVER.

THURSDAY, Nov. 15th.

The Sawyer Rifles are advocating the idea of a grand military ball on New Year's eve in the City Opera house. Invitations will be extended to all the prominent military men in the state, together with the governor and staff.

The funeral of the late George H. Plakham took place this afternoon from the Advent church, and was largely attended. The Knights of Pythias and Grand Army attended in large numbers. The remains were laid to rest in Pine Hill cemetery.

There is trouble in the Italian camp. Rumor has it that the men have not been paid off for some time, and are very destitute. Fears were entertained this afternoon of a serious outbreak, but all has been quiet so far.

A large addition is being made to Bacon's jewelry store, running back some forty feet on Waldron street.

The new iron archway over the Central avenue entrance to Pine Hill cemetery has been placed in position, and adds much to the appearance of the grounds.

Col Jas. I. Christie left yesterday for St. Louis, Mo.

The new store being built north of the American house will be fitted up as an art store.

The Strafford Guards are making big preparations for their annual ball Thanksgiving eve.

Maj. J. S. Abbott has been awarded the contract to build the Hill street extension.

In consequence of the death of Fred N. Tibbetts, the flags on the Martin French & Co.'s shoe shops were at half-mast to-day.

Caucus in ward four to-night to nominate candidates to be supported at the coming city election.

Councilman Merrill of ward one expects to fill an alderman's chair the coming year.

The Hayden Quartette of Boston are to give a concert in the Opera house next Tuesday evening.

Jolly Four have a dance in the American house to-morrow night.

Ex-Alderman Landecker is quite sick.

Much interest is taken here in the murder trial at Portsmouth. MAC.

ITEMS FROM RYE.

RYE, Nov. 15th.

The Old Folks' dinner at the town hall on Wednesday afternoon, the 14th, was a very enjoyable occasion to all who participated. It was gotten up by members of the Congregational society, but many members of the Christian society, and in fact all the old people in town, were invited, and many were there. The oldest persons present were:

Mrs. Amos S. Jenness,	aged 89	yrs.
E. W. Lang,	" 86	"
Capt. Wm. Goss,	" 85	"
Mrs. Reuben Marden,	" 85	"
Mrs. John Philbrick,	" 80	"
Samuel F. Berry,	" 80	"
Mrs. E. W. Lang,	" 78	"
William Trefethen,	" 78	"
Thomas Green,	" 77	"
Mrs John Knowles,	" 77	"
Mrs. Wm. Trefethen,	" 75	"
Jonathan Locke,	" 75	"
Mrs. Jonathan Locke,	" 72	"
Mrs. Charles Sleeper,	" 72	"
Joseph J. Drake,	" 71	"
Nathaniel Marden	" 71	"
Joseph D. Jenness,	" 70	"
Dr. Warren Parsons,	" 70	"

Mr. Holmes, the present pastor of the church, who has taken a great interest in the affair, and who first suggested it, wrote to all the former pastors of the church now living, inviting them to be present on the occasion, and in response, Rev. Willis A. Hadley, now colleague of Rev. Dr. Fiske of Belleville church, Newburyport, was present, and letters were read from Rev. I T. Otis of Exeter and Rev. J. K. Aldrich of Hyannis, Mass. Rev. Dr. Robie of Greenland was present, and Rev. L. W. Phillips, pastor of the Christian church in that town, sent a letter regretting that he could not be. About one hundred assembled, and at the proper time sat down to a bill of fare which included fish chowder, "old-fashioned boiled dinner," roast turkey and chicken, chicken pie, baked pork and beans, cold corned beef and roast pork, vegetables and sauces in variety, seven kinds of pie and seven of pudding and cake, fruit, coffee, tea, etc. This list of good things proves beyond a reasonable doubt that the reputation of Rye for getting up a dinner or supper has not deteriorated even if a presidential election has recently taken place. Mr. Hadley in his very entertaining remarks suggested that to ask anybody to speak after such a feast would be cruelty. After all had satisfied the "inner man" (and woman) there was a good supply left. The after-dinner exercises consisted of the singing of some of the old tunes, remarks by Messrs. Holmes, Robie and Hadley, and the reading of letters from Messrs. Phillips, Otis and Aldrich; and at an early hour, so that the old folks could get safely home before dark, the meeting dissolved. It was in all respects a very pleasant and satisfactory occasion to all who had the good fortune to be present.

The democratic campaign flag at the Centre was taken down last Saturday morning; the storm of the preceding night almost made a wreck of it.

The Harrison Guards went to North Hampton on Tuesday night, accompanied by Spear's band. On Thursday they go to Hampton, postponing their celebration here to Wednesday night, the 21st inst.

Apples are being transported in considerable quantities to Greenland depot, the price received being from $1 00 to $1.25 per barrel.

A singing school is to commence on Friday night at the Town hall, and an entertainment is to be given by the pupils of the West school at the same place on Saturday night. NAT

The Latest Election Returns.

Our latest despatches this morning show the defeat of Fisher, democrat, for congressman in Michigan. The democrats were claiming Fisher's election and a majority of one to three in the House, in consequence.

Goff's (republican) majority for governor of West Virginia is 302, instead of 76, as at first reported. McGinnis, republican, is elected to congress in the third district.

Michigan and West Virginia upset the democratic claim of a majority in the new house.

Found Drowned.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

GREAT FALLS, N H., Nov 15.—On Nov. 6th, Robert L Knight of Milton, N. H, left home to come to this town. He bought two tickets, one probably being for the return trip, but did not return. He was last seen alive here between the bridge and freight house, near the river bank, on the evening of the 6th, badly intoxicated. The river was dragged this afternoon, and the body found. It is quite evident that he accidentally fell into the river, and was drowned.

Another Republican Congressman.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

DETROIT, MICH., Nov. 15.—The Official canvass gives Wheeler, rep., a plurality of 115 over Fisher, dem.

FOREIGN.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

Gladstone's Bold Advance.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LONDON, Nov 15.—In House of Commons today, Gladstone gave notice that on Monday he would move an alternative measure to that of the Government, to the effect that the house proceed to deal with the question of arrears, and apply to Ireland the principles adopted with such great advantage in the case of the Scotch crofters.

Illness of John Bright

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

BIRMINGHAM, ENG, Nov. 15 —John Bright has had a serious relapse. His sons arrived from London to-day.

Dr. Drummond, from Liverpool takes a hopeful view of the case.

PARIS, Nov. 15 —The manufacture of the Lebel rifle by the government works is suspended because of the burning of the works at Chatterault. Loss $1,000,000 francs; no casualties.

CITY OF PORTSMOUTH.

PROPOSALS FOR LOAN.

THE City of Portsmouth, N. H., will issue bonds of the par value of about $40,000 dated January 1, 1889, payable January 1, 1909, with interest at four per cent payable semi-annually.

Proposals will be received for the purchase of said bonds, until Saturday, December 1st, at 12 o'clock m. GEORGE E. HODGDON, Mayor.

no16tdec1

RAYMOND'S VACATION EXCURSIONS.

All Travelling Expenses Included.

A party will leave Boston Monday, January 14, 1889, for a

Grand Tour of 82 Days,

THROUGH THE SOUTHERN STATES,

MEXICO,

AND

CALIFORNIA.

The outward route is via Buffalo, Suspension Bridge, Detroit, Toledo, Cincinnati, New Orleans, etc.

The entire round of travel through the South and Mexico to be made in a Special Train of Magnificent Vestibuled Pullman Palace Cars, inclusive of Pullman Palace Dining-Car. All the leading cities and places of historic and picturesque interest to be visited, including Guadalajara and the City of Mexico (where ten days will be passed). A Six Days' Trip over the Mexican Railway. Also a Complete Round of California, with special trains returning through the grand scenic sections of Utah, Colorado, etc. The time in California will be extended at pleasure, with seven different dates of return under special escort. The tickets also good on any train until July.

Second and Last Tour through the Southern States, Mexico and California.—February 11.

Grand Tour of 47 Days through the Southern States and Mexico (omitting California).—March 11.

California Excursions.—December 6; January 7 and 10; February 7, 11, and 25; March 7 and 11.

Washington Excursions (the only ones this season).—January 18 and February 15.

W. RAYMOND. I. A. WHITCOMB.

☞ Send for descriptive circulars, designating the tour desired

W. RAYMOND,

298 Washington St. (opposite School St.), BOSTON, MASS. no18

POSITIVELY

No Cure, No Pay!

CONSTITUTIONAL COUGH SYRUP

--- TRY IT! ---

The proprietor of this remedy has such confidence in its curative powers that he makes the following

Generous Offer!

Any person buying a bottle is given the privilege of returning it and receiving their MONEY BACK, if after using two-thirds of its contents, they have derived no benefit from it.

PRICE 25 AND 50 CENTS.

— SOLD BY —

David Kimball & Co., 36 Market Street.

LOOK AT THIS

Heavy, Substantial Cooking Range,

"THE ALMONER."

Plain for $16.00, Worth $25.00

To anyone in need of a First Class Range. Examine this before purchasing elsewhere.

— ALSO A FULL LINE OF —

MAGEE FURNACES, RANGES & STOVES.

Plumbing, Gas Fitting, Tin and Sheet Iron Work of All Kinds.

C. W. TAYLOR.

42 & 44 MARKET STREET.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

The three-story (above the grade floor)

BRICK STORE BUILDING

NO. 16 BOW STREET,

running back over the wharf to the river, occupied for a long time by the late Charles Robinson as a wholesale corn and flour store. Sold to close up an estate. Enquire of

J. P. MORSE, Real Estate Broker.

USE NETTEZZA!

FOR THE TEETH.

PREPARED BY E. C BLAISDELL, D. M. D.

Price 25 Cents.

— FOR SALE BY —

A. P. PRESTON, D. KIMBALL & CO., W. D. GRACE, F. B. COLEMAN AND BENJ. GREEN.

GRANITE STATE Fire Insurance Company,

OF PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

PAID-UP CAPITAL, - $200,000

OFFICERS:

President, FRANK JONES.

Vice President, JOHN W. SANBORN.

Secretary, ALFRED F. HOWARD.

Treasurer, JOHN LAIGHTON.

Executive Committee, FRANK JONES, JOHN W. SANBORN, CHARLES A. SINCLAIR, EDWIN WALLACE and E. H. WINCHESTER.

WANTED SALESMEN to sell Nursery Stock. All Goods Warranted FIRST-CLASS Permanent, pleasant, profitable positions for the right men. Good salaries and expenses paid weekly. Liberal inducements to beginners. No previous experience necessary. Outfit free. Write for terms, giving age. CHARLES H. CHASE, Nurseryman, Rochester, N. Y. Mention this Paper. *tno21

DR. S. F. HAM,

Of Hotel Bristol, Boston, will receive patients

Monday and Tuesday

FROM MAY 1st TO NOV. 1st,

And the remainder of the year every Monday.

Office and Residence, 13 COURT ST, Portsmouth N. H.

"1888" OPENING OF "1888"

FALL AND WINTER DRY GOODS

At the Well-Known Store,

NOS. 30 and 32 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH.

Ayers & Locke, Proprietors,

Can be found the Largest Assortment of

SEASONABLE DRY GOODS MERCHANDISE.

LARGEST ASSORTMENT OF OUTSIDE GARMENTS.

For Ladies, Misses and Children,

New Goods of this Season's Manufacture.

All are Invited to Examine

OUR STOCK OF CLOAKS!

Before Purchasing Elsewhere.

Silk and Gloria RAIN UMBRELLAS! Ladies' Gossamers.

THE F. P. ROBINSON CO. BLACK STOCKINGS.

TRADE MARK. TRADE MARK.

"CLEANFAST" NONE ARE GENUINE WITHOUT THIS TRADE MARK ON EACH PAIR

Mohair and Gingham RAIN UMBRELLAS! Children's Gossamers.

Largest Assortment of Dress Goods in Portsmouth.

In fact, the Best Assortment in their Line of everything pertaining to a

FIRST-CLASS STOCK OF DRY GOODS.

NEW CARPETS! NEW CARPETS!

HOUSEKEEPING GOODS! &C.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS IN OUR UNDEWEARR DEPARTMENT.

Small Wares, Trimmings, Ribbons, Gloves Yarns, Knitting Silks, &c. Corsets, Bustles, &c.

Largest Assortment of Fall and Winter Skirts in all the Desirable Fabrics

Which they are desirous of exchanging for Cash on a basis for values that will compare favorably with Boston and New York prices.

AYERS & LOCKE.

Furnaces, Ranges & Stoves.

We are now ready to show the Finest Line of

RANGES AND PARLOR STOVES

Ever offered in this city, at Prices within the reach of all. Call and See Them Before Buying, it will Pay You.

LAMPS! LAMPS!

Our Stock of Lamps is Complete, the

Lux Dux, Rochester, Banner, Duplex,

All First-Class, and will be Sold at the Lowest Prices.

PLUMBING, GAS PIPING, COPPER AND SHEET IRONWORK, AT

John P. Sweetser's,

46 MARKET STREET.

JOSIAH F. ADAMS

Embalmer and Funeral Director,

WAREROOMS: NO. 5 DANIEL ST.

Coffins, Caskets and Robes Always on Hand. Hearse and Carriages Furnished. Cemetery Lots Cared For, &c.

☞ Orders by day or night left at No. 27 Washington St., or with Mr. Robert King, No. 6 Hill St., will receive prompt attention.

Now is the Time to Look Over Your Wardrobe and See What You Need for Winter, and

SIMPSON'S CORNER STORE

Is the place where you can find everything you need in Gentlemen's Wear, at Remarkably Low Prices, for Cash.

— WE HAVE A FULL LINE OF —

OVERCOATS!

Ranging in Prices from $5 to $25.

— A NEW LOT OF —

ULSTERS!

From $6 to $20.

— A FINE ASSORTMENT OF —

UNDERWEAR,

Including the Celebrated CAMEL'S HAIR for the Health.

Cardigan Jackets, Blue and Fancy Over-Shirts.

(In these Goods we can Fit the Largest Man.)

— A FINE ASSORTMENT OF —

FURNISHING GOODS.

☞ Headquarters for OIL and RUBBER CLOTHING, Wholesale and Retail.

Come and See for Yourselves at the Old Stand,

Corner Market and Bow Streets,

CHARLES E. SIMPSON.

Situation Wanted.

A YOUNG MAN from the country, of good habits, would like to secure employment in a private family, or with a business firm. Enquire at this office.

The Portsmouth Daily Chronicle,

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 9, 1852.

Published every morning, except Sunday, at No. 7 Exchange Building, Pleasant Street.

By mail, postage prepaid, $5 a year. Single Copies, Two Cents.

THE CHRONICLE is served to subscribers in Portsmouth, Kittery, Dover, Rochester and Farmington $1 50 Cents per month, hours in advance of any other paper containing the Associated Press Despatches.

The New Hampshire Gazette,

ESTABLISHED OCT. 7, 1756.

The Oldest Newspaper in America. Published every Thursday.

Terms, $1.50 a year in advance.

[Entered at the Post Office at Portsmouth as second class matter.]

W. SCOTT SMITH,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

☞ Rates of advertising made known on application.

Agents for the Daily Chronicle:

MOSES BROS.....PORTSMOUTH.
ROBERTS & AVERY.....FARMINGTON
WORCESTER & GREENFIELD..ROCHESTER
BROWNE BROS.....DOVER.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

FRIDAY, NOV. 16, 1888.

An editorial in the CHRONICLE recently directed attention to the danger that the democrats would attempt to steal the control of the organization of the new house. The sign that just this was in contemplation was plainly visible to any one familiar with the practices of the democratic party in the past. The warning then sounded has, we observe, been taken up by the Tribune in New York, which has a long despatch from Washington foreshadowing the course outlined in the CHRONICLE. In the close districts, where on the face of the returns the republican candidates have a clean majority, the democratic election officers will find a plausible excuse to ignore certain votes and issue certificates of election to the democratic candidates. This being accomplished, the clerk of the House, Mr. Clark, a bourbon democrat, will place the names of the democrats on the rolls, and thus enable them to claim the right to organize the House. If this is done there will be trouble, for the country will not sanction such a high-handed measure. The republicans will not tamely submit to be cheated out of the fruits of their hard-earned victory, and there will be music in the air about that time, which will bode no good for those concerned in this desperate scheme. The democratic party, with a taste of four years of government pap, longs to hold on just a little longer, and not give up the ghost. The country has spoken; the party must go, however unwillingly.

Peru seems to have learned little from the terrible thrashing she received from Chili some years ago, or else she thinks it quite safe to snub and insult the United States. The American consulate at Arequipa was recently forcibly closed by Peruvian officials, and the Peruvian government refuses to apologize. This country has been about the only friend Peru had in the world, and now for her to kick us, just because Mr. Bayard is at the head of our State department, is not only ungrateful, but most consummately mean. Besides that, it is foolish on Peru's part, for even our navy could whip hers. She hasn't any.

The New York Sun alludes to President Cleveland's free trade message to Congress last December as a "colossal mistake," and says "that the chief source of danger at present is in the unnecessary internal revenue taxation." The Sun is right, and if the democratic party had heeded its advice and that of Mr. Samuel J. Randall, instead of going off on a tangent on the free trade issue, the republican party would have a harder fight on its hands than it did have, and to our mind the result would have been very doubtful.

The Portland Advertiser says that in view of Canada's increase of the export duty on lumber to a practically prohibitory point, free lumber would not have been much of a boon to American builders after all. The reason given for this move is an excellent; one it is for the protection of the Dominion pineries. Our neighbor takes warning from the experience of the United States, and moves before it is to late. Evidently the only way to obtain free lumber is to annex Canada.

A man who has practiced medicine for 40 years, ought to know salt from sugar; read what he says.

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 10, 1887.

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years, and would say that for all my practice and experience, have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.

Yours Truly,
L. L. GORSUCH, M. D.,
Office, 215 Summit St.

We will give $100 for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure. Taken internally.

F. J. Cheney & Co., Props., Toledo, O.
☞ Sold by Druggists, 75c.

The best seal skin plush cloak at $25 in the city, can be found at L. E. Staples', No. 7 Market street.

A BIRTHPLACE OF GIANTS.

Men and Women Ten Feet High and Weighing a Ton—An Artist.

There is a gateway under a tenement house on Forsyth street, near Houston, that leads into the interior of a block where there used to be a graveyard. Five storied houses have taken the place of the graves and the grass, and an electric light company's wires are strung over one side of the block so thickly that the clothes lines have to be run in other directions. In the hollow made by the tenements there is a series of buildings that have grown into one by the accretions of years. These buildings are inhabited by a curious race. There are men of all lengths and weights, from four or five feet to ten and fifteen, and as heavy as a ton. There are women, too, some white, clean and well formed, with shapely limbs, and cloaks and tunics like those of Mrs. Cæsar and other ladies who set the fashions some years ago. In some rooms of the main building families and their animals have been living together in harmony for months. There are children with wings like Cupids and dancing girls whose skirts are always at the same angle, Dianas with the same number of arrows in their quivers from one week's end to another, and Mercurys always balancing on the same big toe and never toppling over.

One room with an extra high ceiling is inhabited by giants. Not a man in the room is under ten feet, and some of the women are as tall. They are a muscular race, and the smaller men who come and go in the room take great pride in the swelling muscles, the sturdy bones, the clenched fists and well poised heads of the giants. The people who inhabit other rooms in this inner building are not so big, but they are equally comely. None of these men or women ever voluntarily stray out of the building and over to the Bowery, that is only a few steps away. At times the men and women are changed from one building to another, but they do not go of their own accord. At long intervals they go from their huge rooms out under the tenement houses and into the world, where they perch on various pedestals, roofs and arches, and see their old home no more.

Adjoining the large house where these men and women live from their infancy up is a smaller building, where they are made from zinc, copper, bronze and other materials, and in the lofts over the statue factory are rooms full of drawings and models, and further up ordinary live men at work tacking together the legs, chests, arms, heads and accouterments of these bronze giants, that are soon to go out in the world and be perched on high to be gazed at of men. Thousands of pounds of copper, brass and zinc go in under the tenement house every year and come out fine looking statues and beautiful animals. The next object that is expected to come forth is a $7,000 bronze buffalo, who will sit on the banks of the Missouri at Council Bluffs and view the river and a railroad.

In one of the rooms is the group of three figures that the Arion society will put on its new building up town. H. Baerer was the sculptor. From his designs the molds were made, and the figures are now almost finished, and stand twice as high as a tall man. The figures represent Prince Carnival having a good time with his family. He has a mustache, a goatee, a cloak and a doublet that does not hide his shapely legs. No matter how cold it will be when he is perched near the roof and the snow freezes on him, he will not have any thicker stockings than when he emerged from the hot sand. Prince Carnival is made of zinc, and he, his family and friends are worth about $4,800. With him goes a zinc valet, a zinc harp, a zinc harpster, and some pretty zinc girls, all of whom are to sit on various parts of the new Arion building.

It takes several months to turn out a zinc or bronze man or woman, and about the same time for a horse or angel. The time varies according to the material and degree of finish required. There must be drawings first and then a model. Molds are made from the model and the various parts are then cast. The casts are polished and fastened together. The joints are soldered, the tack holes covered over, and the job is done. Copper costs least, zinc more and bronze most. A bronze statue costs more because it is hardest to make and hardest to put together. The material also costs more, as the best grades of copper, tin, zinc and lead must be used. Zinc statues can be soldered together, while bronze legs and arms are tacked on after being fitted into the body like sections of stovepipe. A good sized bronze man weighs over a ton, while a copper man would be a light weight. He is malleable and would give indents where a bronze man would stand it or crack.

The men who make statues are well paid. The superintendent of castings is a well known Frenchman and makes upward of $5,000 a year. He does his work by contract, and the amount he makes varies according to his success in making a good casting the first time. He has a long training at the business and is a true artist. The other men are paid from $25 to $50 a week, the burnishers and assistants getting less. The men who put the castings together have to be careful to make the joints even and not noticeable, but the main success of a statue rests with the superintendent of the casting. Almost all the workmen are foreign. The proprietor is a German, the casters Frenchmen, the designers Germans and Frenchmen and the molders and fitters Germans.—New York Sun.

Medical Humor.

The celebrated physician, Ricord, was one day walking along the boulevard in Paris, when he met an old gentleman who was very rich, but who was at the same time noted for his extreme stinginess. The old man, who was somewhat of a hypochrondriac, imagined that he could get some medical advice from Ricord without paying for it.

"Doctor, I am feeling very poorly."

"Where do you suffer most?"

"In my stomach, doctor."

"Ah, that's bad. Please shut your eyes. That's right. Now put out your tongue, so I can examine it closely."

The invalid did as he was told. After he had waited patiently for about ten minutes he opened his eyes, and found himself surrounded by a crowd, who supposed that he was crazy. Dr. Ricord in the meantime, had disappeared.—Texas Siftings.

The Most High Church in Europe.

The very highest church in Europe is the pilgrimage chapel of St. Maria de Ziteit, above Salux, in the canton of Graubunden. It lies 2,484 meters above the sea level—nearly 8,000 feet high above the forest, near the limits of perpetual snow. It is only open during the summer time of that region—or, as the folks thereabouts reckon, from St. John the Baptist's Day to St. Michael's Day—and is used only by the Alp herds, who remain there through the summer with their cows and goats, and occasionally by hunters in search of the chamois and marmot. All the inhabitants of Salux climb up thither on Midsummer Day to assist at the first mass and hear the first sermon of the year, and there is also a crowded congregation on Michaelmas Day, at the last service of the year. From time to time a few stray pilgrims from the Graubunden Oberland and the Tyrol find their way there. The second highest church probably in Europe, that of Montstein, also open only in the summer, belongs to Graubunden. At our visit the hale old preacher had five foreign tourists for his congregation.—Bundner Tagblatt.

The Cat's Quiet Nerves.

Life has always something in reserve for the cat. She is a mine of resources, and in consequence she is ever serene and hopeful. She can endure all night exposures, the fatigue of the hunt, the unevenness of her diet. Eight extra lives, each one compounded of similar exposures and fatigues and irregularities, are hers. How do I explain this? It is all due to her attitude toward the world, to the composed state of her nerves, and this to her peculiarly blissful accomplishment, her purr. Herein is she strong against the onslaughts of time and the ingenuity of the small boy. She drinks, camel like, when fountains offer, slips with a quiet thrust of her claw through grasping fingers, nerved alike for deprivation and sudden attack by the quiet hour purred away by the kitchen fire. —G. O. Shields in Harper's Magazine.

The reason why small money-lenders do not, all of them, send their money west to be lent is because they do not know how to do so safely.

There is no more danger than in crossing the street, if you know your bank. But be careful about your lender.

Send for a primer on western lending; free.

THE KANSAS CITY INVESTMENT COMPANY, Kansas City, Missouri; or Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

$100,000
Janesville, Wis., Water Co.
First Mortgage 6% Bonds.
DUE AUGUST 1, 1907.
Secured by a Sinking Fund. Descriptive Circulars furnished on application.
Brewster, Cobb & Estabrook,
35 Congress St., Boston.

BURNETT'S
PERFECTLY PURE HIGHLY CONCENTRATED
Standard Flavoring
EXTRACTS
The superiority of these Extracts consist in their
Perfect Purity and Great Strength.

JOHN H. BROUHTON,
No. 68 Daniel St., Portsmouth, N. H.
— DEALER IN —
EASTERN AND WESTERN
LUMBER!
Shingles, Clapboards and Laths.
— ALSO —
Best Newark Hydraulic Cement,
Best Extra and No. 1 Lime
FOR SALE AT LOWEST PRICES.

NOTICE!
FALL
— AND — WINTER
STYLES
NOW READY!
— AT —
MRS. TEBBETTS',
NO. 14 MARKET STREET.

ILSLEY & MOORE,
Fire Life and Accident Insurance Agents and Brokers No. 3 Pleasant St., Portsmouth N. H.

NOTICE:—The undersigned gives notice to all whom it may concern, that he has purchased from the senior member of the old firm of MORSE & ILSLEY, all rights to the Fire Insurance Business heretofore carried on by that firm, and is duly authorized by all the Companies represented by them to have and hold all their records. WINGATE N. ILSLEY.

Facilities for placing the largest lines of Fire Insurance in the best Companies.

Agents for the Equitable Life Ins. Society of the U. S. New England Mutual Life Ins. Co. of Boston, Mass., and the Fidelity & Casualty Ins Co., of New York. sept

We are astonished at parties who introduce new remedies for coughs when they should know the people will have Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

"Kings are like stars, they rise and set." They have headaches, cuts, and hurts like meaner men, and are just as sure to call for Salvation Oil.

—Political orator (furiously)—"Now, fellow-citizens, if this man is elected what will be the result?" A voice—"His opponent will be defeated."

"For twenty years I have suffered with a severe bronchial cough, never lying down without a severe attack of the same. After much pursuasion, I was induced to try Adamson's Balsam, and its good effects for six months are certainly marvellous. Please use this truthful testimony for the advantage of all sufferers like myself.

Mrs. Wm. Alden, Duxbury, Mass., Feb. 21, 1887.

—Children shrink from being washed. The same may be said of so ks.

Be Your Own Doctor.

It won't cost you half as much. Do not delay. Send three 2-cent stamps for postage, and we will send you Dr. Kaufmann's great work, fine colored plates from life, on disease, its causes, and home cure. Address A. P. Ordway, & Co., Boston, Mass.

—The average pullet takes her eggsit in the spring.

Ringing Noises

In the ears, sometimes a roaring buzzing sound are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smelling or hearing also result from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood. If you suffer from catarrh, try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the peculiar medicine.

Gunner George L. Albro is ordered to the St. Louis.

Trial proves that honesty is the best policy in medicine as well as in other things. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a genuine preparation, an unequalled blood purifier, decidedly superior to all others.

—Minister—"Bertie, do you know where the little boys go who catch fish on Sunday?" Bertie—"Yes, sir; most of them go down to Jonhson's creek."

Hundreds of letters from those using Hall's Hair Vigor attest its value as a restorer of gray hair to its natural color. As a stimulant and tonic, preventing and curing baldness, and cleansing the scalp, its use cannot be too strongly recommended.

—"Physician, heal thyself!" is an injuction promulgated centuries ago, and now some of the older practitioners are pretty well healed.

Catarrh originates in scrofulous taint. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and thus permanently cures catarrh.

To-Night and To-Morrow Night,

And each day and night during this week you can get at all druggists Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, acknowledged to be the most successful remedy ever sold for the cure of Coughs, Croup, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption. Get a bottle to-day and keep it always in the house, so you can check your cold at once. Price 50c and $1.00. Sample bottles free.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world Price 25 cents a bottle —mon.wed.fri.eu1

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam, for Coughs and Colds, does it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles at 50c and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

HUNT'S REMEDY
RELIEVES the Kidneys;
REVIVES the Liver;
SOLD UNIVERSALLY.
eod&g

COMFORT
— FOR —
COLD AND TENDER FEET!
Persons troubled with cold or tender feet will find warmth and ease in the use of
DOLGE'S ALL WOOL FELT
Slipners and Shoes
For which the undersigned is agent in this City and Vicinity.
--- AT THE STORE ---
No. 34 Market Street
Can be found a Full Line of these Goods, in many patterns of Slippers, Shoes and Boots, and several colors, for house, office or street wear,
Of Men and Boys, Women and Girls.
☞ Please examine our Stock.
J. C. CARR.

C-O-A-L-!
All Kinds and Sizes Delivered Well Screened.
E. F. SISE & CO.
First Quality Wood:
Liverpool and Turks Island
S-A-L-T-
In Bulk and Sacks. Salt in Boxes. Boston and Portland Brands.
TELEPHONE.

Dwelling House for Sale.
THE residence of the late Mrs. Daniel Libbey, No. 136 State Street, can be purchased on application to
JOHN SISE,
JOSEPH SISE, } Executors

EASTERN OFFICE OF
Kansas City Investment Co.,
OVER FIRST NATIONAL BANK, PORTSMOUTH.
CITY MORTGAGES, FARM MORTGAGES,
DEBENTURE BONDS, REAL ESTATE NOTES.
☞ INTEREST PAYABLE HERE AT MATURITY. ☜
W. G. MYERS V.

"Florence Home Needle Work" 1888
is now ready. Contains 96 pages with nearly 250 illustrations. The subjects are Damask Stitches —Tapestry and Italian Embroidery—Drawn Work, Darning—Crochet &c. It teaches ladies how to make Solid Silk Braid
for trimming their garments in latest fashion. Book mailed to any address on receipt of six cents. MONOTUCK SILK CO., Florence, Mass.

Insurance Notice.
THE OLD INSURANCE AGENCY,
AT THE OLD STAND,
No. 13 Pleasant Street,
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.
JOSEPH P. MORSE.

25 CORDS
DRY PINE LIMBS!
At $3.50 Per Cord.
☞ The Very Best of Fuel at a Low Price.
O. F. PHILBRICK & CO.,
COAL AND WOOD DEALERS,
4 Water Street.

COAL! COAL!
Finest Grades, well prepared for Domestic Purposes, constantly Arriving and for Sale at Lowest Prices.
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.
J. ALBERT WALKER
Portsmouth Coal Pockets.

WOOD AND COAL!
A Good Assortment of all kinds of Wood and Coal.
Kindling Wood Split to Order.
— ALSO —
Akron Drain and Sewer Pipe.
NO. 13 GREEN STREET,
DANIEL LITTLEFIEL

BOOK BINDING
Of Every Desciption,
— DONE AT —
NO. 5 CONGRESS STREET,
(OVER FAY'S STORE.)
Magazines and other Periodicals Bound in Styles to Suit Patrons; Especial Attention given to
REBINDING OLD BOOKS!
For Libraries or Individuals; in short, any work of the kind promptly attended to, and satisfaction guaranteed. ☞ Prices reasonable.
JOHN D. RANDALL.

STEPHEN D. SCRIGGINS,
Carriage Painter,
NO. 16 Vaughan Street, Portsmouth, N. H.
Having spacious and good accommodations and long and large experience he solicits patronage in his line.

Look in at Conn's
— AND SEE THE —
BUTTER!
From the very best Dairies in Vermont and New York. Creameries are of no account compared with these Dairies. Also,
Cheese Pork. Lard. Hams, Beans Etc
No Oleo or Second-Hand Stuff kept.
☞ The very best quality of LARD bought by the car-load, which I am selling less than the Boston prices.

AT
No. 63 Pleasant St
May be seen as full and carefully selected a stock of
FINE FANCY AND STAPLE
GROCERIES.
—ALSO—
BOOTS & SHOES
As at any Store east of Boston.
—VERMONT AND CREAMERY—
BUTTER & CHEESE.
Lard Sugar,
Molasses Syrup Oils.
Beans Peas Pickles Crackers.
Salt Pork Salt Fish, Sage Maccaroni.
-COFFEES-
Old Government Java and Rio, ground as sold
-TEAS-
Best Qualities Formosa and Japan.
— A FULL LINE —
CANNED AND SHELF GOODS.
Pure Spices, Raisins, Currants Cut Rum, Cocoa, Chocolate, Candied Lemon Peel, and all other Fine Groceries
TOBACCO AND CIGARS.
Brooms, Brushes, Pails, Crockery and Glassware, and a Large
Assortment of Miscellaneous Articles.
Boots and Shoes!
Men's Calf Button Boots,
Men's Calf Balmoral Boots.
Men's Calf French Ties,
Ladies' Kid Button Boots.
Misses' and Children's, Youth's and Boys',
All Sizes and Kinds.
We make the best selections possible, paying Cash; and for Cash will sell as low as the lowest
☞ Orders filled with care and delivered free to any part of the city.
JOHN J. LASKEY,
NO. 63 PLEASANT STREET.

50 Changes The WONDERFUL LUBURG CHAIR
Combining a Parlor, Library, Smoking, Reclining, or Invalid CHAIR, LOUNGE, BED, $7.00 and CHAIR, Price or COUCH. We make the largest variety of Adjustable, Reclining, Physicians' and Surgeons' Operating, Invalid Rolling, Kneeling, Office, Library, Fancy Carpet Folding, Rose and Rattan CHAIRS and ROCKERS BICYCLES, TRICYCLES, VELOCIPEDES and SELF PROPELLERS.
ALL KINDS OF APPLIANCES FOR INVALIDS.
BABY COACHES
Over 100 different designs.
Our Patent Automatic Brake on all Carriages, free. We have discontinued wholesaling, by placing your orders direct with the makers you can save several profits. Our slashing prices and special Bargains will astonish you. Goods sold under a guarantee and delivered free to any point in United States. ☞ Send stamp for Catalogue, and state class of goods you wish to see.
LUBURG MFG. CO.
145 North Eighth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

AN EXTRA LOT OF
SPONGES, CHAMOIS SKINS AND WHIPS,
At Reasonable Prices at
John S. Tilton's
Harness and Trunk Repairer
NO. 18 CONGRESS STREE

GRATEFUL---COMFORTING.
EPPS'S COCOA.
BREAKFAST.
"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack whoever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame.—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in half-pound tins, by Grocers, labelled thus:
JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England.
1ec5

WE WANT A GOOD ENERGETIC SALESMAN in every town and city TO SOLICIT ORDERS FOR FRAMING PICTURES. BEST OUTFIT IN THE WORLD and a permanent situation. Address H. B. WARDWELL, Lewiston, Me.

POSITIVELY CLOSING WEEKS
GRAND CYCLORAMA
BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG,
541 Tremont St., Boston.
Don't fail to see this great battle scene at once.
A new subject now being painted will take its place in this building January 1st.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, the great Medical Work of the age on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline, Errors of Youth, and the untold miseries consequent thereon, 300 pages 8 vo., 125 prescriptions for all diseases. Cloth, full gilt, only $1.00, by mail, sealed. Illustrative sample free to all young and middle-aged men. Send now. The Gold and Jewelled Medal awarded to the author by the National Medical Association. Address P.O. Box 1895, Boston, Mass., or Dr. W. H. PARKER, graduate of Harvard Medical College, 25 years' practice in Boston, who may be consulted confidentially. Office, No. [illegible] St. Specialty, Diseases of Man. ☞ [illegible] East. You may never see it again.

MASON & HAMLIN
[illegible] in its present form by Mason [illegible] other makers followed in the [illegible] instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin [illegible] always maintained their superiority [illegible] world.
Mason & Hamlin [illegible] invention of the unequalled [illegible], the fact that at all of the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makes [illegible] received all countries, they have invariably taken the highest ORGANS [illegible] honors. Illustrated catalogues [illegible] TO $500, free.
Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos, that they are superior to all others. They recognize the high excellence achieved by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but still claim superiority. This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1882, and now known as the "MASON & HAMLIN PIANO STRINGER," by the use of which is secured the greatest possible purity and PIANOS the use of which refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity for standing in tune and other important advantages.
A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians, and others, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.
Pianos and Organs sold for cash or easy payments; also rented.
MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.
BOSTON. NEW YORK. CHICAGO.
1eow24

MARVELOUS MEMORY
DISCOVERY.
Any book learned in one reading
Mind wandering cured.
Speaking without notes.
Piracy condemned by Supreme Court.
Great inducements to correspondence classes
Prospectus, with opinions of Dr. Wm. A. Hammond, the world famed Specialist in Mind diseases, Daniel Greenleaf Thompson, the great Psychologist, J. M. Buckley, D. D., Editor of the Christian Advocate, Richard Proctor, the Scientist, Hons. Judge Gibson, Judah P. Benjamin, and others, sent post free by
Prof. A. LOISETTE, 237 Fifth Ave., New York.

The WITTIEST, PRETTIEST JUVENILES
QUEER PEOPLE
GIANT & DWARF CLANS $1.00 — Palmer Cox $1.00
By Mail.
(Elopement of the Frog and the Mouse.)
Full of the oddest [illegible] charming stories and [illegible] illustrations by the Prince of Juvenile artists. Selling immensely. Critics say of it: "[illegible] with delight—Hon. [illegible] H. Fish. "[illegible] another for fear I get the children to bed"—R. J. Cornell, D. D. "Incomparably clever and charming"—Rev. G. R. Cox. "Fascinating as Zaeep and [illegible]"—Rev. Howard Crosby.
AGENTS WANTED.
A. L. GUERNSEY, 21 Greenwich St. Boston
ov15

HOOD'S
COMPOUND EXTRACT
SARSAPARILLA
TRADE MARK
The importance of purifying the blood cannot be overestimated, for without pure blood you cannot enjoy good health.
At this season nearly every one needs a good medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, and we ask you to try Hood's Peculiar Sarsaparilla. It strengthens and builds up the system, creates an appetite, and tones the digestion, while it eradicates disease. The peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation of the vegetable remedies used give to Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiar curative powers. No To Itself other medicine has such a record of wonderful cures. If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other instead. It is a Peculiar Medicine, and is worthy your confidence.
Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.
100 Doses One Dollar

Cure Your Corns,
BY USING
SCHLOTTERBECK'S
CORN, WART AND BUNION SOLVENT
A CURE IS GUARANTEED.

TRAVELLER'S GUIDE.

TRAINS LEAVE

Portsmouth for Boston, 4 05, 7 25, 8 20, 11 05 a. m., 2 35, 5 30, 7 40 p. m. Sundays, 4 05 a. m., 4 00 p. m.

Boston for Portsmouth, 7 30, 9 00, 10 00 a. m., 12 45, 3 30, 4 40, 7 00 p. m. Sundays, 8 30 a. m., 7 00 p. m.

Portsmouth for Portland, 9 45, 10 55 a. m., 2 45, 6 05, p. m. Sundays, 9 07 p. m.

Portland for Portsmouth, 7 00, 9 00 a. m., 1 05, 6 00 p. m. Sundays, 2 00 a. m.

Portsmouth for Dover, 4 20, 9 45 a. m., 12 05, 2 38, 5 22 p. m.

Dover for Portsmouth, 6 35, 10 20 a. m., 1 25, 4 30, 6 40 p. m.

Portsmouth for York Beach, 8 30, 11 10 a. m. 3 33 p. m.

York Beach for Portsmouth, 6.40, 10.00 a. m., 1.40 p. m.

Portsmouth for Concord, 7 55 a. m., 1.00, 5 15 p. m.

Concord for Portsmouth, 7.20, 10 20 a. m., 3 25 p. m.

Portsmouth for Manchester, 7 55 a. m., 1 00, 5 15 p. m.

Manchester for Portsmouth, 8 15, 11 15 a. m., 4 25 p. m.

TRAINS ARRIVE

In Boston from Portsmouth, 6 20, 9 10, 10 25 a m., 1 15, 4 45, 7 10, 9 30 p. m. Sundays, 6 20 a. m., 6 30 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Boston, 9 45, 10 45 a. m., 12 20, 2 05, 5 20, 6 45, 8 27 p. m. Sundays, 10 40 a. m., 8 07 p. m.

In Portland from Portsmouth, 12 00 m., 12 55, 4 40, 11 00 p. m. Sundays, 11 00 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Portland, 3 55, 10 44 a. m., 2 20, 7 15 p. m. Sundays, 3 25 a. m.

In Dover from Portsmouth, 5 40, 10 10 a. m., 12 50, 3 33, 5 47 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Dover, 7 20, 10 44 a. m., 2 20, 4 35, 7 15 p. m.

In Concord from Portsmouth, 10 30 a. m., 3 13, 6 25 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Concord, 10 10 a. m., 12 45, 6 10 p. m.

In Manchester from Portsmouth, 9 42 a. m., 2 30, 7 20 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Manchester, 10 10 a. m., 12 45, 6 10 p. m.

KITTERY AND PORTSMOUTH.

STEAMER MYSTIC.

Leave Bartlett's wharf, Kittery, 6 35, 7 50, 8 45, 10 0, 11 45 a. m., 2 00, 3 15, 4 45, 6 00 p. m. Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 6 30, Saturday evening, 6 30, 8 00.

Leave Broughton's wharf, foot Daniel street, Portsmouth, 7 30, 8 00, 9 30, 11 00 a. m., 12 45, 3 00, 4 00, 5 15, 6 15 p. m., Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7 30, Saturday evenings, 7 30, 9 00.

☞ Fare five cents each way.

A FAIR SAMPLE OF
40 SWORN CASES
OF THE VALUE OF

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND

THE RADICAL BLOOD PURIFIER.

DIPHTHERIA. SCROFULA.

Miss Lena Judkins, a daughter (17 years old) of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Judkins, 677 Boston St., Lynn, CURED by Dr. Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of very severe case of Scrofula, with Malignant Ulcers of eight years' standing, after 11 Physicians had failed. Almost a miracle. Now in perfect health. Sworn to before HARMON HALL, Justice of the Peace.

SCROFULOUS HUMOR.

Miss Mary Etta Leighton, a daughter (16 yrs. old) of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison G. Leighton, 16 Bickford Court, Lynn, CURED by Dr. Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of a deep seated Scrofulous Humor, with discharging eruptions, which had baffled eight physicians and the combined forces of two prominent hospitals. Perfectly cured and without a blemish. Sworn to before CALVIN B. TUTTLE, Justice of the Peace.

Send for circular of 40 Sworn cases. They are solid facts and carry conviction.

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND.

is absolutely the greatest known Remedy for the Radical cure of Scrofula, Cancerous Humors, Diphtheritic or Mineral Blood-Poisoning, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Dropsy and Liver Complaint.

$1. per Bottle (6 for 5). At Druggists.

Lougee Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

DAY'S HORSE POWDER

Prevents Lung Fever and cures Distemper, Heaves, Fevers, &c., &c. 1 pound in each package. Sold by all dealers.

DR. BULL'S BABY SYRUP

Facilitates Teething! Sold at druggists. Price 25 Cts. Regulates the Bowels!

25¢ A BOTTLE
SALVATION OIL
KILLS PAIN

BULL'S For the cure of Coughs, Colds, Croup, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Incipient Consumption and for the relief of Consumptive persons. COUGH SYRUP. PRICE 25 CTS. For Sale by all druggists.

SMOKE LANGE'S CUBEB CIGARETTES for Catarrh! Price 10 Cts. At all druggists.

EDWARD D. COFFIN,

SHERIFF ROCKINGHAM CO. AND U. S. DEPUTY MARSHAL.

Office at No. 3 Market Square, And at the Jail.

Will be at Fisley & Moore's Ins. Office at 9 A. M and 4 o'clock P. M.

(TELEPHONE AT THE JAIL).

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

THE FLYING MACHINE PROBLEM.

Lesson Taught by the Bird—Three Indisputable Facts.

The reason of this wonderful effectiveness of the animal machine is obvious. See how this machine has been gradually perfected throughout infinite ages, especially in birds. During the whole geological history of the earth this machine has been steadily improving in structure of skeleton, energy of muscle and rapidity of combustion of fuel, by struggle for life and survival of only the swiftest, the most energetic and the hottest blooded, until an almost incredible intensity is reached in birds. Moreover, in them everything is sacrificed to the supreme necessity of flight. Viscera, skeleton, legs, head, all are made as small and light as possible to make room for the great pectoral muscles working the wings. Add to this the exquisite structure of the wings and feathers, adapting them for the greatest effectiveness, and we must admit that a bird is an incomparable model of a flying machine.

No machine that we may hope to devise, for the same weight of machine, fuel and directing brain, is half so effective. And yet this machine thus perfected through infinite ages by a ruthless process of natural selection, reaches its limit of weight at about fifty pounds! I said, "weight of machine, fuel and directing brain." Here is another prodigious advantage of the natural over the artificial machine. The flying animal is its own engineer, the flying machine must carry its engineer. The directing engineer in the former (the brain) is perhaps an ounce, in the latter it is 150 pounds. The limit of the flying animal is fifty pounds. The smallest possible weight of a flying machine, with its necessary fuel and engineer, even without freight or passengers, could not be less than 800 or 400 pounds.

Now, to complete the argument, put these three indisputable facts together: 1. There is a low limit of weight, certainly not much beyond fifty pounds, beyond which it is impossible for an animal to fly. Nature has reached this limit, and with her utmost effort has failed to pass it. 2. The animal machine is far more effective than any we may hope to make; therefore the limit of the weight of a successful flying machine cannot be more than fifty pounds. 3. The weight of any machine constructed for flying, including fuel and engineer, can not be less than three or four hundred pounds. Is it not demonstrated that a true flying machine, self raising, self sustaining, self propelling, is physically impossible? Professor Joseph Le Conte in Popular Science Monthly.

Driving Away Malicious Spirits.

Whenever we are to ascend a dangerous rapid—and nearly all are so considered by the native itinerary, and probably are at certain seasons of the year—a boatman brings out an old rusty four barreled blunderbuss, rams the barrels full of powder, picks in fuses and stations himself at the side of the boat for the most serious business connected with the ascent. As the boat strikes the first fierce breakers, one barrel is discharged into the water; the gun is then dropped upon the deck, and the sailor tugs for a while at the ropes; when we have swung around and plowed and plunged sufficiently with little progress, he drops his work, whatever it may be, fires another fuse and explodes the half ounce of powder into the foam; the third and fourth chambers are likewise emptied if the business is continued long enough.

This may seem a curious and useless custom to those unacquainted with the Chinese ideas of demonology, but once having mastered this branch of their intricate religious system, it will appear to be the most natural and necessary proceeding. Malicious spirits are in and around all dangerous places, and ready to do all manner of mischief. They can be frightened by terrific sounds; ergo, in passing all such spots the Chinaman naturally yells, beats a gong, explodes firecrackers or powder in any form. At worship, at weddings, funerals, in times of severe sickness, the greater the noise the more likely the demons are to hide themselves. The water is crowded with such demons, and they are either frightened or propitiated by the boatmen.—"Western China."

Scenery in Central Africa.

Day after day you may wander through these forests with nothing except the climate to remind you where you are. The beasts, to be sure, are different, but unless you watch for them you will seldom see any; the birds are different, but you rarely hear them; and as for the rocks, they are our own familiar gneisses and granites, with honest basalt dikes boring through them, and leopard skin lichens staining their weathered sides. Thousands and thousands of miles then, of vast thin forest, shadeless, trackless, voiceless—forest in mountain and forest in plain—this is east central Africa.

Once a week you will see a palm; once in three months the monkey will cross your path; the flowers, on the whole, are few; the trees are poor, and, to be honest, though the endless forest clad mountains have a sublimity of their own, and though there are tropical bits along some of the mountain streams of exquisite beauty, nowhere is there anything in grace and sweetness and strength to compare with a Highland glen.—"Tropical Africa."

The German Emperor's Childhood.

The German emperor was a bumptious and overbearing child, and never endured being beaten in any game. If he could not get his own way he would first sulk, and then try and take advantage of his position as a "royal child." But this never allowed. The rule in the nursery was strict equality, and the nurses had stringent orders to enforce it. He has a cold, proud manner, which made him anything but popular with his other playmates. It was quite the reverse with Prince Henry and the little Princess Sophie, who were beloved by all.—New York Tribune.

A SOUDANESE THREAT.

The Africans Propose to Turn the Nile from Its Course.

The warlike Soudanese, who have so stoutly resisted the introduction of civilization into their land, are now found, according to Sir Samuel Baker, to be masters of the situation to a degree for which even the fall of Khartoum has not prepared the outside world. They hold the key of the Nile, and prudent and thoughtful men who know the geography of the Soudan and the resources and recklessness of the natives believe that that they are capable of turning that great river out of its present course and bringing irretrievable ruin upon Egypt. It appears that in the inaccessible fastnesses of the desert, where the bayonets of Europe cannot reach, there is a spot where even savage African engineering will suffice to find the Nile a short cut to the sea, and they have already threatened their enemies with this disaster.

If the work is done a fertile land nearly equal in extent to the states of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan will be changed into a desert and a population of millions will be blotted out of a country that is the oldest in history. No such gigantic menace has ever before been held out in the annals of the world, and never before has it been so possible that a grave threat would be fatally carried out.

It is a figure of speech when we talk about the nations changing the map of Europe; the wild spearsmen of the Soudan have it in the hollow of their hands to alter in fact and deed the map of Africa. They can, if they please, we are told, spread the Sahara like a great yellow pall fully across the continent from sea to sea. They can build a rampart of sand against progress that progress cannot cross. Such tremendous power, such a mischievous possibility, gives an interest to the Egyptian problem that brings it home to every nation. The pyramids have stood since the morning of time; empires and dynasties have risen and have fallen, and they have not been stirred. Yet the ignorant savages in the desert are their masters and can bring the sand upon them to bury them as the temple of Jupiter Ammon and the Sphinx itself were buried. If the savage wills the sacrifice, a flood as fatal as that in which Pharaoh perished can sweep Egypt out of existence, slowly, perhaps, but surely. It is the land of tombs and memories, the world's graveyard; perhaps it is time that it should be interred itself. Civilization waits upon the Soudanese. It is for them to say.—Chicago News.

Subjects for Industrial Training.

Mrs. Laura Osborne Talbot thus described to the American association her experiences of the effects of a little industrial teaching upon thrifty vagrant boys whom she, with some other ladies, induced to attend for three years an industrial school at Howard university one morning in the week: "We were limited in every way, but we found these children of the lowest kind were delighted to work with tools, and some of them have set up little carpenter shops of their own, and support themselves in that way. The moral uplifting was the best result of all, and it is not likely that these boys will become members of our criminal class.

"Each boy as he entered the class was taught in the tailor shop to mend his clothes, and in the shoe shop to mend his shoes. One lame colored boy from the orphan asylum became so skillful in shoemaking that he could not only make his own shoes, but could cut up the larger, half worn shoes and make them over for baby feet. All of this I term the best kind of economy, especially in a city like Washington."—Popular Science Monthly.

"Greenland's Icy Mountains."

"I heard an odd story the other day about Bishop Heber's beautiful hymn, 'From Greenland's Icy Mountains,'" said a well known Cincinnatian. "What is it?" "It relates to the music for the hymn. You remember that Bishop Heber wrote it while in Ceylon in 1824. About a year later it reached America, and a lady in Charleston, S. C., was struck with its beauty.

"She could find, however, no tune that seemed to suit it. She remembered a young bank clerk, Lowell Mason, afterward so celebrated, who was just a few steps down the street, and who had a reputation as a musical genius. So she sent her son to ask him to write a tune that would go with the hymn. In just half an hour the boy came back with the music, and the melody dashed off in such haste is to this day sung with that song."—Cincinnati Star.

The Increase of Baldness.

It is curious how caducity has increased, and the prevalence of it taken away the old reproach. All the arguments are against its existence, and all the facts prove that the arguments are misleading. People lead healthier lives now than they used to do, and yet they are balder. People lead longer lives, and yet they grow bald earlier, and, moreover, it is the healthiest people who are often the baldest. Indeed, it almost becomes a question whether in these days baldness is evidence to a very reliable extent either of age or of delicacy. Of the decay of vital power it is certainly no conclusive proof. Consumptive patients and persons suffering from lingering disease are not, as a rule, bald, and more frequently than otherwise seem to put a great deal of strength into their hair.—London Globe.

'POSSUM AND 'TATER.

Georgia Gourmets Who Revel in the Chief Delight of the Year.

Did you see that suspicious looking animal hanging out in front of a Marietta street restaurant the other day? Of course you saw it if you passed that way. Of course you knew, even if it didn't have any hair on it, and even if it was butchered and ready for the oven, that it was a 'possum. But did you know that the 'possum market in Atlanta was not to be "sneezed at"? Did you know that "'possum and 'taters" was one of the swell dishes at the restaurants? Well, if you didn't, read along a little further and I'll give you some facts about the 'possum crop which will astonish you as they did me.

This file tailed country marvel has been a part of the south as long as there has been any south, and, like the rabbit, he is very prolific, and seems to increase instead of diminish as the years roll on. He is very fond of persimmons, from which the name of opossum is derived. He was nearly always caught up a persimmon tree, and years ago was known as the animal of the persimmon, which was gradually contracted into o'possum.

It is useless to say that the 'possum is a nocturnal animal, and is caught by means of dogs who tree him in some small tree which is easily cut down. Strange as it may sound old 'possum hunters will tell you that the bigger a 'possum is the smaller the tree in which he is caught, and it is only the young 'possums, that climb a very large tree when pursued by the dogs.

Three or four years ago our commission merchants began buying a few 'possums from the country and selling them to a few select customers in Atlanta. Before that time a 'possum now and then found its way into the city through the agency of some great 'possum warrior, who always found a ready sale for this toothsome animal. Everything has changed since then, and the 'possum has, through no efforts of his own, arisen to a very important place in the commercial world. One commission merchant informed me that he handled 300 'possums a month, and at Folsom's restaurant 100 of these animals are butchered every month and served out to those who are fond of them, and that means nearly every southern raised man.

The majority of the 'possums sold in Atlanta come from the country merchants, and a large percentage of this number come from up on the Marietta and North Georgia railroad, a section of the country which is regarded as the finest in the world for grapes, rye, 'possums and corn liquor. A number of countrymen living in Fulton county catch many 'possums during the season, and sometimes they bring them in by the wagon load, as they would bring in a load of chickens.

'Possums are sold at various prices, governed according to the size of the animal. The kittens bring from 20 to 40 cents, while the full grown range from 40 cents to $1. The 'possum is ripe by the 1st of September, and he is pulled until the 1st of March. The average sum paid for 'possums a month during the season will amount to something over $500, making the 'possum crop worth about $4,000 to Atlanta.

A dish of 'possum and taters at the restaurant will cost you 30 cents, but if you want a 'possum supper it will cost you from $1.50 to $2. A 'possum supper consists of a whole 'possum, baked with sweet potatoes, and then there's corn bread and coffee thrown in as extras, for 'possum and taters, to be enjoyed, must be eaten with corn bread. There's a very remarkable thing about 'possum meat. It is as greasy as the meat of a hog; but, unlike that, it can be eaten with safety by persons with the weakest digestion. It won't fill you up like pork or other meat, but you can eat a very large quantity of it and feel no bad effects from so doing.

'Possums are caught in a mile and a half of Atlanta, and, as I said before, they are as numerous and prolific as rabbits. My brother, in coming home very late one bright, moonshiny night last winter met a very large and very fat old 'possum on Wheat street, and after a little persuasion the 'possum was induced to accompany him home. The next day that 'possum was the leading attraction at the dinner table.

If you have never tasted 'possum meat you have lived in vain; if you have never inhaled the delicious fragrance arising from a dish of 'possum and 'taters, life has been but a mockery to you, and if you do not get you a 'possum and bake him with sweet potatoes for your dinner to-morrow you'll regret it even to the end of your life.—Atlanta Journal.

Nero as an Orator.

Nero, the Roman emperor, is, perhaps, best known by his celebrated performance on the lyre during the burning of his capital, although this legendary episode is not mentioned by such historians as Tacitus. M. Holleaux, formerly of the French school of Athens, who is making excavations "à la Schliemann" in Beotia for the French government has found a stone in the sanctuary of Apollo Ptoios, or the "Apollo of the Infernal Regions," which presents the Roman tyrant in another light.

The stone has engraved upon it what M. Holleaux calls "a genuine speech of Nero's," that is to say, one which was not composed for him, but uttered probably ex tempore when giving liberty to the Greeks. Nero plumed himself, of course, on his versatility, and believed that he was an "all round" genius, able to compose, to make speeches, to act and to sing. The discovery of M. Holleaux may, perhaps, prove that the tyrant was a real artist in words at least, for, according to the learned excavator, the fragments of oratory found on the stone were couched in strong, sonorous and emphatic Greek.—Paris Cor. London Telegraph.

An American Compound.

"Cheesine" is a compound which has emerged from a bankruptcy suit in Manchester. It is said to come from America, and it is sold in large quantities in England.

The Locomotive Engineer's Anxiety.

The passenger runner's greatest concern is to "make time." Some trains are scheduled so that the engineman must keep his engine up to its very highest efficiency over every furlong of its journey in order to arrive at destination on time. A little carelessness in firing, in letting cold water into the boiler irregularly, or in slackening more than is necessary where the right to the track is in doubt for a few rods; these and a score of similar circumstances may make five minutes' delay in the arrival at the terminus and necessitate an embarrassing interview with the train master. A trip on a crowded line may involve watching for danger signals every quarter of a mile and the maintenance of such high speed that they must be obeyed the instant they are espied in order to avoid the possibility of collision.

The passenger runner finds himself now and then with a disabled engine on his hands, and two or three hundred passengers standing around apparently ready to eat him up if he does not remedy the difficulty in short order. Often in such cases he is in doubt himself whether the repairs necessary to enable his engine to proceed will occupy fifteen minutes or an hour. This, with the knotty question of where the nearest relief engine is, causes the brow to knit and the sweat to start, and to the young runner proves an experience which he long remembers.—B. B. Adams, Jr., in Scribner's Magazine.

The Young Emperor of Germany.

The emperor, during these maneuvers, has handled his troops without the slightest extraneous assistance that I could see, giving his orders quickly and sharply, and, as the events proved, with no reason to recall his words. I speak only of what appears on the outside, and cannot say that he does not most anxiously consult every source of strategic knowledge on the eve of his sham battles. Of course he knows the immense importance of impressing an army with the fact that its chief is a clear thinker, reaching his conclusions rapidly and applying them with immediate effect; and while all the world is recording his every motion in a spirit of not altogether friendly criticism, it is likely that he is going to furnish them the picture of a nominal military chief whose steps are only taken while leaning on the arm of an older servant!—Poultney Bigelow in Army and Navy Gazette.

MAKE HENS LAY

NOTHING ON EARTH WILL MAKE HENS LAY LIKE SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER.

WE SEND BY MAIL A LARGE 2¼ POUND CAN FOR $1.20, TWO SMALL PACKS 50 CTS POST PAID.

Sheridan's Condition Powder

is absolutely pure and highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other kind. Strictly a medicine, to be given in the food, once daily, in small doses. Prevents and cures all diseases of hens. Worth its weight in gold when hens are moulting, and to keep them healthy. Testimonials sent free by mail. Ask your druggist, grocer, general store, or feed dealer for it. If they can't supply you, send to us. Take no other. Kind "Sick Hens" know the difference. Sold everywhere. Elegantly illustrated copy of the "FARMERS' POULTRY RAISING GUIDE" (price 25 cents) tells how to make money with a few hens, and two small packages of Powder for 80 cents; or, one large 2¼ pound can and Guide, $1.30. Sample package of Powder, 25 cents, five for $1.00. Six large cans express prepaid, for $5.00. Send stamps or cash. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., 22 Custom-House St., Boston, Mass.

LACTATED FOOD

Possesses many Important Advantages over all other prepared Foods.

BABIES CRY FOR IT. INVALIDS RELISH IT.

Makes Plump, Laughing, Healthy Babies. Regulates the Stomach and Bowels.

Sold by Druggists. 35c., 50c., $1.00.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., BURLINGTON, VT.

Baby Portraits.

A Portfolio of beautiful baby portraits, printed on fine plate paper by patent photo process, sent free to Mother of any Baby born within a year. Every Mother wants these pictures; send at once. Give Baby's name and age.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Props., Burlington, Vt.

It's Easy to Dye WITH DIAMOND DYES

Superior IN Strength, Fastness, Beauty, AND Simplicity.

Warranted to color more goods than any other dyes ever made, and to give more brilliant and durable colors. Ask for the Diamond, and take no other. 36 colors; 10 cents each.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.

For Gilding or Bronzing Fancy Articles, USE DIAMOND PAINTS. Gold, Silver, Bronze, Copper. Only 10 Cents.

Dr. O. C. GAGE AND Associate Physicians —OF— 26 WEST 31st ST., N. Y., and CONCORD, N. H.

Six Acknowledged Experts in the Treatment and Cure of all Long Standing and Difficult Diseases which require Skill and Experience. They have treated more than twenty thousand patients in Vermont and New Hampshire alone, and their cures, by the use of Nature's Harmless Vegetable Remedies stand unparalleled in medical science. Think, investigate and act for yourself! If you require medical aid consult them in all confidence, and avail yourself of the best medical skill of the day, which has been perfected by years of study and experience exclusively among the most complicated and deep-seated diseases of every character.

Consultation free, and terms for treatment always reasonable. They make visits regularly, and positively remain only the days advertised.

CURES UNEQUALLED BY ANY LIVING PHYSICIANS.

WE WILL PAY ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS REWARD

To any Person who finds the following Statements of Cures to be untrue:

Mrs. Orrin Webber, Bedford, N. H., a cripple and on crutches 14 years with terrible ulcers on her limbs; soundly cured.—Geo. H. Stagpus, North Lyndeboro, N. H., cured of terrible burning and itching humor which covered the entire body.—Mrs. Wm. E. Russ, North Hartland, Vt., given up by counsel, with a large ovarian tumor, heart diseases and dropsy; perfectly cured and tumor disappeared. Doctor did not see here.—Mary Smith, East Candia, N. H., Mrs. Mary Urann, Fisherville, N. H., also cured of ovarian tumors.—Oliver Peiren, Concord, N. H., was cured of ovarian and female difficulties after she had been made worse by the usual treatment.—C. L. Buffum, North Monroe, N. H., helpless with spinal disease, involving liver, kidneys and bladder perfectly cured and the Doctor did not see him.—Miss L. J. Turner, Berlin, Vt., had spinal disease and could not walk; caused by injury 7 years ago; cured and the Doctor did not see her.—Thomas Cochrane, 23 W. 36th St., N. Y., son was helpless with spinal disease; is cured, and is sound and well. "I know this to be true. Rev. J. H. Kerr, Pastor 4th Presbt. Church, 34th St., N. Y."—Miss M. A. Barnes, Sharon, N. H., who could scarcely hear a word; radically cured.—Isaac Buttrick, Londonderry, N. H., son cured of discharging ears and deafness.

Mrs. A. L. Colby, West Andover, N. H., given up in the last stage of consumption; is now well.—Mr. L. A. Sawyer, Keene, N. H., terrible bleeding from lungs; cured.—Amos Young, Derry Depot, N. H., catarrh had eaten a hole through roof of mouth; cured.—Miss Clara Williams, 76 Bodoett st., Manchester, N. H., blindness cured.—Dr. Levi B. Dodge, Waterford, Vt., kidney disease with frightful hemorrhages; given up by counsel; cured, and the Doctor did not see him.—Thomas Fake, Leif Burr, Littleton, N. H., and hundreds of other cases, cured of nervous debility in its various stages.—Mrs. J. E. Fields, Milford, N. H., cured of a complication of female difficulties after she had doctored 9 years with others.—Son of W. B. Hill, Pittsfield, N. H., was a most terrible case of hereditary disease, dropsy and epileptic fits; got well, went to work and has not had a fit for two years.—G. Ambrose, No. Londonderry, N. H., cured of cancer.—C. C. Hall, Rosewan, N. H., cured of cancer.—Alvin Bruce, Williamsville, Vt., cured of cancer.—Rev. A. G. Fargo, Hamilton, N. Y., son cured of lameness.—C. B. Marshall, Nashua, N. H., son cured of epileptic fits.—Mrs. J. S. Haley, 693 Putnam Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., cured of Bright's disease and dropsy.—Albert Clark, Underhill, Vt., bad case of chronic Rheumatism; treated at hospital with no good results; can now do a good day's work.

Remember our Appointments:

Exeter, Gorham Hall, Monday, Nov 16th.
Farmington, Wilson House, Tuesday, Nov. 27th.
Rochester, Dodge's Hotel, Wednesday, Nov. 28th.
Great Falls Hotel, Thursday, Nov. 29th.
Dover, American House, Friday, Nov. 30th.
Portsmouth, Rockingham Hotel, Saturday, Dec. 1st.

Specialists for Ch

CAUTION

Beware of Fraud, as my name and the price are stamped on the bottom of all my advertised shoes before leaving the factory, which protect the wearer against high prices and inferior goods. If a dealer offers W. L. Douglas shoes at a reduced price, or says he has them without my name and price stamped on the bottom, put him down as a fraud.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE FOR GENTLEMEN.

The only calf $3 SEAMLESS Shoe smooth inside. NO TACKS or WAX THREAD to hurt the feet, easier and better than HAND-SEWED. W. L. DOUGLAS $4 SHOE, the original and only hand-sewed welt $4 shoe. Equals custom-made shoes costing from $6 to $8.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.50 POLICE SHOE. Railroad Men and other workers all wear them. Smooth inside as a Hand-Sewed Shoe. No Tacks or Wax Thread to hurt the feet.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.50 SHOE is unexcelled for heavy wear. Best Calf Shoe for the price.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.25 WORKINGMAN'S SHOE is the best in the world for rough wear; one pair caught to wear a man a year.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2 SHOE FOR BOYS is the best School Shoe in the world.

W. L. DOUGLAS $1.75 YOUTH'S School Shoe gives the small Boys a chance to wear the best shoes in the world.

All made in Congress, Button and Lace. If not sold by your dealer, write

W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

— FOR SALE BY —

OREN BRAGDON & SON, NO. 24 MARKET STREET.

S. Philbrick & Co.,

— MANUFACTURERS OF —

Marble and Granite Work

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

GRANITE POLISHING A SPECIALTY.

OFFICE AND WORKS,

No. 2 Water Street, Portsmouth

THE JOB PRINTING

Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD I. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well selected stock of all materials required in his line. Give him a trial and you will be more than pleased.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier KNOWN.

This Great German Medicine is the cheapest and best. 128 doses of SULPHUR BITTERS for $1.00, less than one cent a dose. It will cure the worst cases of skin disease, from a common pimple on the face to that awful disease Scrofula. SULPHUR BITTERS is the best medicine to use in all cases of such stubborn and deep seated diseases. Do not ever take BLUE PILLS or mercury, they are dead-ly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS and the purest and best medicine ever made.

Is your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is you Urine Thick, Ropy, Cloudy, or Scanty? Is your Food Sour and Undigested? Do you Belch? Is your Stomach Sick, Nervous, Dyspeptic? Do you Have Headache? Do you Have Pain in the Back? Do your Kidneys are out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. Your Kidneys are sick, no matter what ails you, use Sulphur Bitters and you will be well.

Don't Wait!

Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is

The Invalid's Friend.

The young, the aged and infirm are soon made well by the use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow, but get a bottle of Sulphur Bitters to-day.

Try a Bottle To-day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you.

Send 3 2-cent stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., for best medical work published.

Embalmer and Funeral Director

NO. 60 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH

SAMUEL S. FLETCHER

(SUCCESSOR TO FLETCHER & TANTON.)

COFFINS, ROBES & CASKETS

Always on hand and made to order.

Orders by night may be left at No. 68 Daniel St. or with Jas. Elliot, No. 15 Hill St. or G. N. Hanson, 5 Nold Russell St.

Be HONEST and chew FINZER'S OLD HONESTY CHEWING TOBACCO which is ONLY for Chewing and NOT for Smoking. The BEST chewing tobacco CANNOT be good for Smoking. OLD HONESTY is the BEST AND CHEAPEST Tobacco made. Insist on having the GENUINE with the red H in tag, made only by, John Finzer & Bros., Louisville, Ky.

TRANSPORTATION

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

Eastern Division.

TRAINS LEAVE PORTSMOUTH FOR BOSTON, 4.05, 7.25, 8.20, 11.0 a. m., 2.35, 5.30, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4 00 p. m. Returning, 7.30, 9.00, 10.00 a. m., 12.45, 3.20, 4.40, 7.00 p. m; Sundays, 8.30 a. m., 7 00 p. m.

PORTLAND, 9.55, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m. Returning, 7.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.05, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 2.00 a. m.

BANGOR, ST. JOHN AND HALIFAX, 10.55 a. m., 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.00 p. m.

GREAT FALLS AND WOLFEBORO JUNC., 9.55 a. m., 2.45, 5.30 p. m.

WOLFEBORO, 9.55, a. m., 5.30 p. m.

NORTH CONWAY, 9.55 a. m., 2.45 p. m.

DOVER, 4.50, 9.45, a. m., 12.35, 2.38, 5.22 p. m.

YORK HARBOR AND BEACH R. R.

YORK BEACH AND WAY STATIONS, (via York Harbor and Beach R. R.) 8.30, 11.10 a. m., 5.35 p. m. Returning, leave York Beach 6.40, 10.00 a. m., 1.40, p. m. Connecting with trains leaving Portsmouth for Boston.

JAS. T. FURBER, Gen'l Manager. D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l Passenger Agt.

Concord & Portsmouth Railroad.

PASSENGER TRAINS leave Eastern Railroad Station for the above Junction, Manchester, Concord and upper Stations, as follows:

UP TRAINS.
Leave	A. M.	P. M.	P. M.
Portsmouth	7.55	1.00	5.15
Greenland	8.05	1.09	5.24
Newmarket Junction	8.25	1.21	5.36
East Epping		1.31
Epping	8.40	1.37	6.12
West Epping	8.49		6.17
Raymond	9.00	1.58	6.26
Candia	9.13	2.05	6.46
Auburn	9.22		6.57
Massabesic	9.30	2.24	7.04
Arrive Manchester	9.42	2.34	7.20
" Concord	10.30	3.12	8.25

DOWN TRAINS.
Leave	A. M.	P. M.	P. M.
Concord	7.30	12.20	4.35
Manchester	8.15	11.15	5.25
Massabesic	8.27	11.25	5.35
Auburn	8.35		5.44
Candia	8.44	11.46	5.54
Raymond	9.05	11.58	6.13
West Epping	9.13	P. M.	6.22
Epping	9.20	12.06	6.27
East Epping		12.14
Newmarket Junction	9.36	12.24	6.46
Greenland	10.01	12.36	6.59
Arrive Portsmouth	10.10	12.45	8.10

☞ Trains connect at Newmarket Junction with trains of the Boston & Maine Railroad for Exeter, Haverhill, Lawrence and Boston, and for Dover, Great Falls and Portland. At Concord with trains to and from all the upper stations.

E. E. CHAMBERLIN, Supt.

C. E. BOYNTON,

Manufacturer and Wholesale Dealer in

Soda Water, Root, Tonic, Vanilla, Orange and Strawberry Beer, Crab Apple Lemonette, Cream Ginger and Ginger Ale.

EXTRACT OF NERVE FOOD!

For Brain and Nervous Exhaustion. Good for the Appetite.

Soda Water in Syphons for Hotel and Family Use. Fountains Charged at Short Notice.

Bottler of Eldredge and Milwaukee Lager, Porter and Refined Cider.

☞ The Summer Beverages manufactured and bottled by me having been before the public of this city and vicinity for the past seventeen years, need no embroisement as being of the very highest standard.

E. C. BLAISDELL, D. M. D.,

(SUCCESSOR TO DR. F. J. BONNEY.)

Dental Rooms 1 1-2 Market Street.

Bay State, Haynes Excelsior and Wm. B. Tilton Gold Medal GUITARS, $10 to $40. MUSIC BOXES, 50 cents to $300. Solo Bb CORNET, $10. Haynes VIOLINS, Orchestra, $25; Solo, $35. Special Snare DRUMS, $6. Crosby FIFES, $2. Drum Corps and Bands send for Estimates. Catalogues free. J. C. HAYNES & Co., 33 Court St., Boston, Mass.

POST OFFICE RULES.

MAILS CLOSE

	A.M.		P.M.
Boston, N. Y., south, west, &	8:00	10:20	2:20	4:50	6:45
Boston and way stations,		10:20	2:20		6:45
Portland,	9:25		4:50		6:45
Portland and way stations,	9:25		4:50
East [beyond Portland]	9:25				6:45
Great Falls, Rochester, Wolfeboro' Union Milton,	9:25				4:50
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,	9:25
Concord & Manchester,	7:40	10:20			4:50
Concord, Manchester and north,	7:40		4:50
Exeter and B. & M. way, west of Newmarket,	7:40		4:50
Dover,	9:25		2:20	4:50	6:45
North Conway,	9:25				6:45
York and Cape Neddick,		9:25
Newcastle,		10:20
Newington,		10:20
Boston, N. Y. and south, Sunday,					1:00

MAILS ARRIVE.

	A.M.		P.M.
Boston, south and west,		10:05	3:10	5:40	7:00 (9:00
New York,		10:05		5:40	7:00
Boston and way stations,		10:05		5:40
Portland and east,	7:30	11:00		3:00
Great Falls, Rochester, Milton,	8:30	11:00
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,		11:00
Concord, Manchester and north,		10:30		6:30
Dover,	7:30	10:30		3:00	5:40
Newcastle,		9:30
Newington,		9:30
York and Cape Neddick,		11:00
B. & M. R. R., west of Newmarket,		10:30		6:30

S. J. GERRISH, P. M.

MINATURE ALMANAC NOV. 16.

SUN RISES	6:30	MOON SETS	3:25 P. M
SUN SETS	4:22	FULL SEA	9:18 A. M
LENGTH OF DAY	9:46		9:45 P. M

FRIDAY, NOV. 16, 1888.

Weather Indications.

Not going to be any weather, probably; none sent us, at all events

The Trial of James Palmer,

For The Murder of Henry T. Whitehouse.

Damaging Evidence of the Experts.

THURSDAY MORNING, Nov. 15.

The interest in the Palmer trial did not abate, and the court room filled rapidly after the opening of the doors.

Sheriff Coffin was the first witness, and on being cross-examined by Gen. Marston, said he did not see Palmer on the Saturday previous to the murder, nor did he see Palmer's mother near the depot at any time of the week previous. He described the articles taken from Palmer's residence. They were identified by Whitehouse. Related his action day and evening of the murder, visiting Palmer's house with Officer Hurley, the finding of the clothes, etc. Also as to inquest, custody of Palmer's clothing, incidents connected with Palmer's stay in jail, etc.

Walter Raitt, brakeman on the Boston & Maine railroad, was night watchman at the station last May. One night saw Palmer there; asked him if he was still at the light station. He said no; that there was trouble about stolen tools, "them fellows" had "blown" on him, and he would fix them for it.

John Newick, a brewer for the Eldredge Brewing Co., testified as to the accuracy of the brewery tower clock on the night of the murder.

Wm. G. Sullivan testified to meeting Ed. H. Kimball and Wm. E. Jackson at Deer and Vaughan streets at 11:30 P. M., May 27th.

Edward H. Kimball, of Kittery, was in Portsmouth night of May 27th; went home same night, with Wm. E. Jackson. Met Sullivan at corner of Deer and Vaughan streets; asked him the time. Went over the toll bridge. After passing the gate, met a man with a long coat, with high collar turned up, coming toward Portsmouth; did not notice his hat nor see his face, and neither spoke. About one hundred yards further on met Whitehouse, and spoke to him; he was walking faster than the other man. Heard no outcry afterward.

Cross-examination was not important.

Wm. E. Jackson gave testimony similar to that of Kimball.

A. Coburn Hoyt, recalled, testified that there is a short route from the Creek bridge to Palmer's house,—1805 feet; measured it the previous day.

George S. Kirvin, a shoe factory hand, was in Kittery on the night of May 27th; started home at 11:50; met two men on York railroad track; came across bridge about 12:05; saw a man on Dover track, running toward Portsmouth, but who stopped in a shadow on being seen; man had on a long coat, and followed witness into the city.

Melville Staples testified as to surroundings of body on morning of murder, and to finding of hammer some distance from high-water mark.

Isaac Furber recognized the hammer in court as the one found at Noble's island; also testifiedas to blood spots, and to the finding of a white handkerchief with blue check border on the beach, with spatters of blood on it.

Henry Wendell testified that marks on the hammer handle were private cost marks; had sold hammer handles like it to Electric Light Co. James Palmer and other employes had purchased goods of him for the light company.

Freeman H. Peverly; am assistant marshal of Portsmouth; went to Noble's island morning of 28th May, at 7:30. Took possession of hammer, went to the jail, saw defendant, and showed him said it looked very much like his; did not tell him where hammer was found. Saw body lying on rocks at Noble's island. Hat found afterward. Have walked from Creek bridge to Palmer's house in five minutes. This is the hammer.

Cross-examined by Mr. Page. Was the first officer to go to the island. Carried hammer in my pocket on way to jail. Saw Palmer there; did not notice his dress. Gave hat to Sheriff Coffin; got it at house on Noble's island. First saw suit of clothes and overcoat at council room, lying on table.

The court here took a recess until three o'clock P. M., and on resuming Fred S. Palmer was recalled.

Mr. Palmer was shown ulster, and identified it as one seen at electric light station last winter, worn by prisoner.

Daniel J. Hurley, assistant marshal of Portsmouth, testified as to visiting Palmer's house with sheriff in afternoon, getting suit of clothes, and in the evening, when ulster was got; ulster was damp, as if it had been sponged. Next morning, Mr. Peverly pointed out blood spots on both legs of pants, below the knee; ulster, that was wet the night before, was now dry and stiff; thought it was blood; saw spots on lining of ulster. On August 20th, walked with Mr. Peverly from Creek bridge through Bartlett, Pine and Stark streets, to Palmer's home, in five minutes; from there through Stark, Woodbury, Dennet and North streets, Maplewood avenue, Green and Vaughan streets and railroad track, to Market street, in seventeen minutes.

Cross-examined by Mr. Page. Tried the ulster on Palmer at inquest, and asked him to walk to the corner of the room; did not tell him to walk fast and slow; put a hat on him; this was Tuesday. When we went to Palmer's house for the ulster, Mrs. Rutter went up stairs for it; Mr. Coffin followed her. Coming down stairs, Mr. Coffin handed me the coat. I laid it on table. Looked coat over. Mrs. Rutter said, "Don't see any blood on that, do you?" I said we were not looking for blood. She exclaimed, "Thank God! It's not my Jimmy." I did not say "There is no blood on it." Did not tell prisoner to confess and throw himself on mercy of court; did not say "You're a d——d poor article" to him.

Frank A. Moulton, employed at the Jones brewery, testified to Palmer being at one time employed there; crossed Portsmouth bridge about quarter to twelve, night of murder; weather overcast; saw no one on bridge.

John McCrary, boss in shoe factory, testified to Palmer's arrest.

Dennis Reagan, recalled; was shown the ulster, and recognized it as Palmer's. By Mr. Page: He wore it last winter.

E. Percy Lawrence, tailor, identified the trowsers as a pair made by him for Palmer; were marked on watch pocket.

Sheriff Coffin, recalled: Made a diagram of Mrs. Rutter's house; produced and explained to jury. Think Dr. Angell took the hat. The handkerchief was destroyed with Whitehouse's clothing, supposing it belonged to him. Did not examine the shirt Palmer wore to jail, and which his mother said was the same he wore the night of the murder.

Dr. S. C. Whittier, recalled: Have seen ulster, at Council room; gave it in charge of city marshal, to guard carefully; cut it; gave pieces to Prof. Angell; also pieces of the pants.

Cross-examined by Mr. Page. Have no doubt the body had been in water. Can't say as to its floating. No watch on body. Found pair of gloves in pocket; guard of watch chain. Handkerchief was found on beach. May be some blood on coat now; don't know. Did not see body at Noble's island.

Prof. Edwin R. Angell testified: Live at Derry; am chemist. Had considerable experience; collegiate education; made chemistry a special study; was in Portsmouth 29th of May; saw the ulster and trousers at council room; took pieces to examine to determine what the stain was; Dr. Whittier and myself cut them to get pieces which had suitable stains on them. Took pieces away; applied tests to ascertain if stains were blood, on 30th May; have memoranda; at that time made chemical, spectroscopic, and microscopic tests; Prof. Angell explained the process employed under each test to the court and jury, and said the stains were blood; repeated chemical tests, and made others; the stains are blood; also made tests with my own blood and results were identical; know Dr. Davenport of Boston; he is Massachusetts state chemist; he examined some of the stains at his laboratory in Boston; result the same as mine; know Dr. Edward S. Wood of Cambridge; he is a chemist; he had pieces and applied tests 26th June; with similar results; tested lining of ulster; had salt in it; piece from skirt had more than piece from back of coat.

Cross-examined by Mr. Page. Coat was nearly dry when cut; took pieces to Derry next day; result of tests show stains to be of blood; may have been of human blood, or blood of guinea pig or possum; tests make it certain the stains were of human blood, barring that of animals named; salt would be absorbed by cloth in this locality; would probably find salt in your (Mr. Page's) coat; salt is found in perspiration; could taste the salt that came from the pieces of the lining; measuring is the best test; have applied it; blood corpuscles in my observation measure form one twenty-seven hundredth to one thirty-nine hundredth of an inch in diameter; measured six hundred and three; five hundred and fifty measured one-3283d, and fifty-three measured one-3282nd of an inch; the result is consistent with human blood; if not human it can be of possum or guinea pig; best authorities cannot claim beyond peradventure.

Prof. Edward S. Wood testified: Live at Cambridge; business at Boston; professor of chemistry at Harvard University for eleven years; made chemistry a specialty; have made examinations in chemistry; have made examinations of blood; have made tests with blood; have made tests with blood and results identical; know Dr. Davenport; he is Massachusetts state chemist; I have

THE OLDEST AND ONLY Republican Morning Paper IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

IF YOU WANT TO BUY OR SELL ANYTHING ADVERTISE IN THE Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 24, 1852. | PORTSMOUTH, N. H., SATURDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 17, 1888. | $5 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE. TWO CENTS PER COPY.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1888.

The News!

ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES.

Is This Sober Second Thought, Or a Case of Sour Grapes!

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 16.—This evening's Star says a number of the wise heads of the democratic party are counselling against any effort to hold a small majority in the House. It is understood that Senators Beck and Gorman think the party will be better off in the minority, and with the entire responsibility upon republicans during the next Congress; and that the democrats will have a much better chance in the Congressional campaign two years from now. The idea of organizing against the admission of new states into the union, they are said to regard as unpopular, and likely to be hurtful, and it would be better for the democrats themselves to undertake the admission of some territorities this winter. It is said the president has expressed the opinion that it would be unfortunate for the democrats to hold the house. It is probable that the Star's figures, based on returns several days ago, will turn out to be correct. The republicans will have four representatives in California, three in Connecticut, all but two in Michigan, one in West Virginia and three in North Carolina. Taulbee's district in Kentucky may have gone republican. This would make a republican majority of about seven.

Made a Target of Himself.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CAMDEN, ME., Nov. 16. — Clinton Thomas, a farm boy living with G. W. Young at Lincolnville, while gunning this afternoon fatally shot himself. His age was eighteen. His parents are not living.

A Cashier's Sudden Death.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Henry P. Marshal, cashier of the Seaman's bank, dropped dead in the bank this afternoon.

The Usual Cannon Tragedy.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WATERBURY, Conn., Nov. 15.—Frank Murphy, injured by an exploding cannon at a Harrison celebration at Roxbury, is dead. Another young man, William Merwin, is dying.

A First-Class Idiot.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WATERBURY, Conn., Nov. 16.—Frank C. Smith, the forger, was taken to New York today. He is charged with forging the name of Rev. M. Pratt, a Brooklyn minister, and is wanted in New York for the same offence. It has leaked out that Smith has been forging checks on the treasurer of the prohibitionist national committee for various amounts.

A Fall in Cattle.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

ELDORADO, KANSAS, Nov. 16. — A loaded cattle train of 25 cars on the Missouri Pacific railroad, went through Walnut river bridge last night. An engine and ten cars were completely wrecked; 100 cattle were killed and many crippled. Engineer Spencer was fatally injured.

Merely a Yarn.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LAFAYETTE, IND., Nov. 16. — S. C. Sherrin, secretary of the democratic national committee, is here today, and denounces as false the story telegraphed yesterday that he had been summoned to New York to see about a mistake in the count. He regards Harrison's election as settled.

Reducing Coal Production.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

PITTSBURG, PA., Nov. 16 —The River coal operators have called a meeting for next Tuesday to consider the advisability of restricting the production by shutting down all mines along the Monongahela river. No doubt all operators will agree to suspend indefinitely, as the selling price of coal is low at Cincinnati and southern ports. The suspension will throw 6000 men out of employment.

Too Slow With His Gun.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

HARTFORD, CONN., Nov. 16. — Dr. Birdsall, editor of the Hartford Telegram, was cowhided tonight by Allen Willey and L. P. Smith of the Sunday Globe, in return for a long article in Telegram accusing the Globe of blackmailing operations. The punishment was inflicted with rawhide, chiefly about the head and face. After the assaulters left, Birdsall drew a pistol and fired in their direction.

Got There Again.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 16 —Senator Quay said this afternoon that the republicans would certainly have control of the next house by a majority of five, and the majority might be nine.

A Road Agent Caught.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

BIDDEFORD, ME.—A man is under arrest at Kezar Falls, whom it is believed is concerned in recent burglaries in York county. He called at a store in the village, and bought some crackers of the store keeper. Suspicion was aroused and the fellow was shadowed. He crossed a field and was joined by five or six others. The neighbors gave chase and captured one, whom they are now holding. He confessed they had intended to rob the Parsonsfield and Kezar Falls stage.

Telegraphic Notes.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 16.—The agent of the express company has paid the government $1400 in standard silver dollars, recently lost while being shipped from the United States mint at New Orleans to the treasury at Washington.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 16.—Representative Butterworth is now spoken of as a candidate for the speakership.

DETROIT, MICH., Nov. 16.—At the last session of the woman's congress this morning, Mrs. Julia Ward Howe was re-elected president.

JACKSONVILLE FLA., Nov. 16. — Fifteen new cases, no deaths. Great rejoicing at the fact of no death; such announcement has not been made since October 18th.

BOSTON, Nov. 16.—Mrs. J. P. Lovell, wife of a member of the firm of John P. Lovell Arms Co. of this city, well known in northern New England, made her debut as a prima donna in Association hall this evening before a large audience.

STONY FORD, N. Y., Nov. 16.—William Russell Allen of Pittsfield, Mass., to-day bought of Charles Backman ten head of gilt-edged trotting stock for $144,100. This is the largest sale ever made to one man.

FERNANDINA, FLA., Nov. 16th.—Nine new cases, one death. Dr. Hardee reports from Chester, three whites and a number of colored patients. Weather warm, sultry and unfavorable.

ST. JOHNSBURY, Vt. Nov. 16.—Thomas Ward has been sentenced to eight years in state prison for arson; he was charged with burning Harvy Foster's barn in Walden three years ago, and was convicted last December.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Dougherty, Mary Anderson's, worshipper, has been committed to the insane asylum.

KEENE, N. H., Nov. 16.—Rev. Benjamin Morrill, Congregational clergyman at Swansey, died suddenly of heart disease this morning, aged 53 years.

MONTPELIER, VT., Nov. 16.—There was a great celebration of Harrison's election here, tonight.

BOSTON, Nov. 16. — The republicans tonight nominated Hon. Thomas N. Hart, last year's candidate, for mayor.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—A young woman named Flora Schmidt, who arrived from Havana yesterday by steamer Manhattan, was taken to quarantine hospital today from a lodging house. in the last stages of yellow fever.

FOREIGN.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

GUAYAQUILL, PERU., Nov. 16.—Heavy shock of earthquake here at 2:35 P. M. People panic stricken.

BERLIN, Nov. 16 —Ex-Empress Victoria and daughter will start for England on Sunday.

ZANZIBAR, AFRICA, Nov. 16.—Belgian steamer Brazo has been seized off here by a British gunboat, with 400 slaves on board, for Congo. The manager of the slaving is a former Belgian consul.

PARIS, Nov. 15.—Fifteen workmen in the Noyant quarries at Legree have been buried by a landslide.

PARIS, Nov. 15.—In the Chamber of Deputies today, M. Basley moved to suspend the duty on imported cereals and flour. The minister of agriculture declared that if the food supply was threatened, the fact was due not to failure of crops, but to the operations of a speculating syndicate, acting especially abroad. In spite of the government's opposition, the Chamber passed the bill.

DOVER.

FRIDAY, Nov. 16th.

Wonder who the lucky man will be to fill Mail Agent Ryan's shoes, on the Alton Bay & Dover route, when the proper time arrives? Ned has been uniformly kind and obliging to all, and we shall be sorry to see him go.

The cash system has been introduced into Meserve's millinery store. Miss Grace La F. Meserve in the acting cashier.

The next attraction at the Opera house is the Ada Gilman Comedy Co., Nov. 22d. Manager Demeritt has a long and fine list of attractions following.

Central avenue bridge was very slippery this morning. A horse driven by Mr. Clark slipped and fell, but suffered no damage. Later on a horse driven by Irwin Cressey fell, breaking a shaft and a portion of the harness.

The [illegible] town seems to be the police station investigation. Things look rather dubious for Mr. Walker, one of the committee on lands and buildings, under whose direction the expenditures have been made. The original appropriation of $2000 was used up and $3000 more voted, and now the bills foot up something like $7000.

A great wail also goes up over the rather æsthetic looking brass railing put up at the entrance of "Hotel de Fogerty."

Well, it does look rather out of place, but Mr. Walker looks placid and asks "What are you going to do about it?"

There is a good chance to let the tramps who stop over night at the station exercise their muscle in keeping the railing in a proper state of brightness. Small boys might also be allowed to do the "horizontal bar act" thereon.

Mr. James Kay Applebee will begin a course of Shakesperean readings at the Unitarian vestry next Monday evening.

Although the date for inspection has not been set yet, the Strafford Guards and Sawyor Rifles are putting in some hard work, and mean to keep up their high standing.

It is astonishing to know the number of ladies' cloaks sold in this city. Sterns & Co. already report the sale of nearly 2000, they having a special room for the same.

Wm. Woodman, wearing a broad smile and a chrysanthemum blossom in his button hole, left for New York this morning.

Mr. Joseph Blackburn is teaching a very successful class in short hand at the Y. M. C. A. rooms.

The funeral of the late Fred H. Tibbetts will take place from his late home on Dover street, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. J. S. Wood, pressman at the Dover Republican office, went to his home in Biddeford to-day, where his mother lies dangerously ill.

Mr. H. W. Bingetto, superintendent of the Electric Light Co., is having the store formerly occupied by Geo. Dunn on Third street fitted up into an office. The office will be finely arranged, and contain all the modern electrical appliances.

Mr. John F. Small, conductor on the York Harbor & Beach R R., was in town this afternoon.

The Dover Clerks have in view another grand ball the coming winter.

The Jolly Four have a dance to-night in American hall.

We can't whistle—but you know—it rains. MAC.

Scissors — AND — Pocket Knives.

PRYOR & MATTHEWS, 16 Market St.

MUSIC HALL, PORTSMOUTH.

STAR LECTURE COURSE.

Nov. 20th,

CAMBRIDGE ORCHESTRA, (15 PIECES,)

PROF. W. E. THOMAS, Director;
MISS NELLIE SALOME THOMAS, Soprano Soloist;
MR. J. FRANCIS GILDER, Pianist.

Tickets: 75, 50 and 35 cents. For Sale at Goodrich's Saturday morning.

WANTED SALESMEN to sell Nursery Stock. All Goods Warranted FIRST-CLASS Permanent, pleasant, profitable positions for the right men. Good salaries and expenses paid weekly. Liberal inducements to beginners. No previous experience necessary. Outfit free. Write for terms, giving age. CHARLES H. CHASE, Nurseryman, Rochester, N. Y. Mention this Paper. *1m011

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "One Hundred Doses One Dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's. Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered." Peculiar in its "good name at home,"—there is now more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly. Do not be induced to buy other preparations, but be sure to get the Peculiar Medicine,

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Hood's Sarsaparilla — Is Peculiar to Itself

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

CITY OF PORTSMOUTH.

PROPOSALS FOR LOAN.

THE City of Portsmouth, N. H., will issue bonds of the par value of about $40,000 dated January 1, 1889, payable January 1, 1909, with interest at four per cent payable semi-annually.

Proposals will be received for the purchase of said bonds, until Saturday, December 1st, at 12 o'clo k m. GEORGE E. HODGDGS, Mayor.

no16tdecl

RAYMOND'S VACATION EXCURSIONS.

All Travelling Expenses Included.

A party will leave Boston Monday, January 14, 1889, for a

Grand Tour of 82 Days,

THROUGH THE SOUTHERN STATES, MEXICO, AND — CALIFORNIA.

The outward route is via Buffalo, Suspension Bridge, Detroit, Toledo, Cincinnati, New Orleans, etc.

The entire round of travel through the South and Mexico to be made in a Special Train of Magnificent Vestibuled Pullman Palace Cars, inclusive of Pullman Palace Dining-Car. All the leading cities and places of historic and picture-que interest to be visited, including Guadalajara and the City of Mexico (where ten days will be passed). A Six Days' Trip over the Mexican Railway. Also a Complete Round of California, with special trains returning through the grand scenic sections of Utah, Colorado, etc. The time in California will be extended at pleasure, with seven different dates of return under special escort. The tickets also good on any train until July.

Second and Last Tour through the Southern States, Mexico and California.—February 11.

Grand Tour of 47 Days through the Southern States and Mexico (omitting California).—March 11.

California Excursions.—December 6; January 7 and 10; February 7, 11, and 25; March 7 and 11.

Washington Excursions (the only ones this season).—January 18 and February 15.

W. RAYMOND. I. A. WHITCOMB.

☞ Send for descriptive circulars, designating the tour desired

W. RAYMOND,
296 Washington St. (opposite School St.),
BOSTON, MASS. 5019

J. L.

GLACE FRUITS,
NEW PRUNES,
NEW FIGS,
NEW JELLIES AND JAMS.

OLD RICE POPPING CORN.

DESSICATED COCOANUT

In Strips for Frosting Cake.

Fresh Ground Spices

Of Extra Fine Flavor and Strength.

HYGIENIC COFFEE,

A Healthful and Refreshing Drink, especially for those who cannot drink Genuine Coffee.

JOHN LAIGHTON,

No. 1 Market Square.

POSITIVELY

No Cure, No Pay!

CONSTITUTIONAL COUGH SYRUP

--- TRY IT! ---

The proprietor of this remedy has such confidence in its curative powers that he makes the following

Generous Offer!

Any person buying a bottle is given the privilege of returning it and receiving their MONEY BACK, if after using two-thirds of its contents, they have derived no benefit from it.

PRICE 25 AND 50 CENTS.

— SOLD BY —

David Kimball & Co., 36 Market Street.

LOOK AT THIS

Heavy, Substantial Cooking Range,

"THE ALMONER."

Plain for $16.00, Worth $25.00

To anyone in need of a First Class Range. Examine this before purchasing elsewhere.

— ALSO A FULL LINE OF —

MAGEE FURNACES, RANGES & STOVES.

Plumbing, Gas Fitting, Tin and Sheet Iron Work of All Kinds.

C. W. TAYLOR.

42 & 44 MARKET STREET.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

The three-story (above the grade floor)

BRICK STORE BUILDING

NO. 18 BOW STREET,

Running back over the wharf to the river, occupied for a long time by the late Charles Robinson as a wholesale corn and flour store. Sold to close up an estate Enquire of

J. P. MOSES, Real Estate Broker.

USE NETTEZZA!

FOR THE TEETH.

PREPARED BY E. C BLAISDELL, D. M. D.

Price 25 Cents.

— FOR SALE BY —

A. P. PRESTON, D. KIMBALL & CO., W. D. GRACE, F. B. COLEMAN AND BENJ. GREEN.

GRANITE STATE Fire Insurance Company,

OF PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

PAID-UP CAPITAL, - $200,000

OFFICERS:

President, FRANK JONES.
Vice President, JOHN W. SANBORN.
Secretary, ALFRED F. HOWARD.
Treasurer, JOHN LAIGHTON.
Executive Committee, FRANK JONES, JOHN W. SANBORN, CHARLES A. SINCLAIR, EDWIN WALLACE and E. W. WINCHESTER.

NEW JEWELRY — AND — SILVER GOODS — AT — HUTCHINSON'S.

"1888" OPENING OF "1888"

FALL AND WINTER DRY GOODS

At the Well-Known Store,

NOS. 30 and 32 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH.

Ayers & Locke, Proprietors,

Can be found the Largest Assortment of

SEASONABLE DRY GOODS MERCHANDISE.

LARGEST ASSORTMENT OF OUTSIDE GARMENTS.

For Ladies, Misses and Children,

New Goods of this Season's Manufacture.

All are Invited to Examine

OUR STOCK OF CLOAKS!

Before Purchasing Elsewhere.

Silk and Gloria RAIN UMBRELLAS! Ladies' Gossamers.

THE F. P. ROBINSON CO. BLACK STOCKINGS.

Mohair and Gingham RAIN UMBRELLAS! Children's Gossamers.

Largest Assortment of Dress Goods in Portsmouth.

In fact, the Best Assortment in their Line of everything pertaining to a

FIRST-CLASS STOCK OF DRY GOODS.

NEW CARPETS! NEW CARPETS! HOUSEKEEPING GOODS! &C.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS IN OUR UNDEWEARR DEPARTMENT.

Small Wares, Trimmings, Ribbons, Gloves. Yarns, Knitting Silks, &c. Corsets, Bustles, &c.

Largest Assortment of Fall and Winter Skirts in all the Desirable Fabrics

Which they are desirous of exchanging for Cash on a basis for a price that will compare favorably with Boston and New York prices.

AYERS & LOCKE.

Furnaces, Ranges & Stoves.

We are now ready to show the Finest Line of

RANGES AND PARLOR STOVES

Ever offered in this city, at Prices within the reach of all. Call and See Them Before Buying, it will Pay You.

LAMPS! LAMPS!

Our Stock of Lamps is Complete, the

Lux Dux, Rochester, Banner, Duplex,

All First-Class, and will be Sold at the Lowest Prices.

PLUMBING, GAS PIPING, COPPER AND SHEET IRONWORK, AT

John P. Sweetser's,

46 MARKET STREET.

JOSIAH F. ADAMS

Embalmer and Funeral Director,

WAREROOMS: NO. 5 DANIEL ST.

Coffins, Caskets and Robes Always on Hand. Hearse and Carriages Furnished. Cemetery Lots Cared For, &c.

☞ Orders by day or night left at No. 27 Washington St., or with Mr. Robert King, No. 6 Hill St., will receive prompt attention.

Now is the Time to Look Over Your Wardrobe and See What You Need for Winter, and

SIMPSON'S CORNER STORE

Is the place where you can find everything you need in Gentlemen's Wear, at Remarkably Low Prices, for Cash.

— WE HAVE A FULL LINE OF —

OVERCOATS!

Ranging in Prices from $5 to $25.

— A NEW LOT OF —

ULSTERS!

From $6 to $30.

— A FINE ASSORTMENT OF —

UNDERWEAR,

Including the Celebrated CAMEL'S HAIR for the Health.

Cardigan Jackets, Blue and Fancy Over-Shirts.

(In these Goods we can Fit the Largest Man.)

— A FINE ASSORTMENT OF —

FURNISHING GOODS.

☞ Headquarters for OIL and RUBBER CLOTHING, Wholesale and Retail.

Come and See for Yourselves at the Old Stand,

Corner Market and Bow Streets,

CHARLES E. SIMPSON.

Situation Wanted.

A YOUNG MAN from the country, of good habits, would like to secure employment in a private family, or with a business firm. Enquire at this office.

The Portsmouth Daily Chronicle,

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 2, 1852.

Published every morning, except Sunday, at No. 7 Exchange Building, Pleasant Street.

By mail, postage prepaid, $5 a year. Single Copies, Two Cents.

THE CHRONICLE is served to subscribers in Portsmouth, Kittery, Dover, Rochester and Farmington at 50 Cents per month, hours in advance of any other paper containing the Associated Press Despatches.

The New Hampshire Gazette,

ESTABLISHED OCT. 7, 1756.

The Oldest Newspaper in America. Published every Thursday.

Terms, $1.50 a year in advance.

[Entered at the Post Office at Portsmouth as second class matter.]

W. SCOTT SMITH,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

Rates of advertising made known on application.

Agents for the Daily Chronicle:

MOSES BROS.....PORTSMOUTH.
ROBERTS & AVERY.....FARMINGTON
WORCESTER & GREENFIELD..ROCHESTER
BROWNE BROS.....DOVER.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

SATURDAY, NOV. 17, 1888.

All Hands Go Down With The Ship.

The dazed democracy have been in a state of mind since the defeat of Cleveland, over the loss of control of the new Congress, and at first thought were inclined to grasp after the House without regard to the recorded will of the people. U. S. Senator Quay has been watching their movements in his own quiet way, and announces that all their dolls are stuffed with sawdust, whereupon up rise Clerk Clark's superior officers in command of the ex-Cleveland cohorts, and advise all attempts to thwart the will of the people to be abandoned for the good of the party. It is hinted, too, that President Cleveland, who has hitherto been impervious to any sensation other than selfishness, assents to the abandonment of these preposterous claims, and in true realization of the "misery loves company" theory, shows a willingness to have the whole ship's company sail up Salt river with him on March 4th. Why should the common sailors be allowed a raft, while the skipper goes down with the craft they set sail in so insuspiciously?

The "trusts" are receiving annoyance. The sugar trust, of which that prominent democrat, Mr. Havemeyer, is the head, is having trouble in New York, where legal proceedings are under way; and the Chicago dressed beef trust it appears is not to have hereafter the plain sailing it has hitherto enjoyed. A convention is to be held in St. Louis next week, the proceedings of which will be of national interest. It is a meeting of representatives of the cattle interests, to confer with a committee of the United States Congress appointed to investigate the question of the country's beef supply. The object of the cattle men is to defeat the dressed beef monopoly, and re-establish competition in the sale of cattle and beef in the open market. It has long been notorious that while a general decline has taken place in the prices of other necessaries, beef has been maintained at almost war figures. This could not be accounted for on the ground of insufficient supply, for it is well known that the production of beef cattle, stimulated by the opening of new grazing regions, was never so large as in the past ten years. The abundance, however, has not benefitted the consumer in the least. Between him and the producer stands a combination which, having gained control of the market, is in a position to exact a double profit. On one side it forces the producer to sell to it cheaply, and on the other it compels the consumer to pay roundly. The cattle raisers, tired of doing an unprofitable business, now propose to find means of getting their goods to market in some other way than through the medium of the Chicago combination. They will have the sympathy of quite a number of millions of people who have a personal interest in the matter.

Since Mr. Cleveland's Waterloo some of the democratic statesmen have discovered that the electoral college is a fossil, a cumbersome relic of a bygone age, out of date and a nuisance generally, and should be abolished, leaving the election of president and vice president to the popular vote of the country. This would simplify matters very much, no doubt, and there would never be any chance for a disputed election, such as occurred in the Hayes-Tilden contest. The returns from one of the lower wards of New York city would suffice to snow under the republican vote of the whole state outside of that city, and one back town in Louisiana or Texas, with a few hundred inhabitants all told, men, women and children, would make a fair balance for Maine, Vermont, Kansas and Pennsylvania. Better still, the addition of one cipher by some democratic returning officer, making a majority of 100,000 into 1,000,000, would decide everything and save all trouble. But probably this plan will not be adopted just now.

Reports read at the general assembly of Knights of Labor in Indianapolis show an empty treasury and a decrease of 300,000 in membership. The order is plainly going to pieces. Internal dissensions and an ill-judged policy are the chief causes.

The projectors of the Panama canal seem to be having almost as hard a time in France as they are upon the Isthmus. The company is trying to get from the French authorities permission to issue a lottery loan. Charges of bribery of some of the deputies have been made, and a general investigation of the methods of the management is likely to follow. Meanwhile the work upon the canal drags and the expenditures are rapidly mounting up. De Lesseps claims that the canal will be finished in 1890, but the general opinion in France is that under the most favorable circumstances it could not be completed before 1892.

The Portland Express remarks that Thomas L. Botts, a young insurance broker of New York, in spite of the warnings of his friends, bet a good deal more money than he could afford to lose upon the election, because he was "dead sure" that Cleveland would win. When he found that instead of ruining somebody else he had been ruined himself, he began drinking heavily, and finally committed suicide. It is a pity that the only moral which many men will be able to find in this story is this: "Be careful not to bet on the wrong side."

The New York Sun has taken pains to definitely announce that its editor, Chas. A. Dana, at the late election did actually vote for Grover Cleveland for President. Mr. Dana, by the way, is off to Europe to recuperate.

THE GLOWING COALS.

The glowing coals are redly bright,
And deepen the soft shades of night
That in the sheltering corners hide
The fitful forms, in haste to glide
From out the ruby rays of light.

And as I look they fade from sight;
Vague forms of thought, forgotten quite,
Instead seem hovering beside
The glowing coals.

And dreams of boyish fear and fright,
In Fancy's colored hues bedight,
Stream down the drowsy mental tide;
Till fact and fancy both subside,
And in one dull, deep flame, unite
The glowing coals.

—N. B. in Rochester Post-Express.

A Dinner at Teheran.

There are tiny lambs roasted whole, salmon which has been brought packed in ice upon the heads of runners from a distance of a hundred miles, appetizing kababs of lambs and venison, fowls and partridges (in silver bowls), stewed to rags and served with strange colored sauces of the richest kind; great heaps of boiled rice in steaming pyramids, white rice, green rice, colored by an artful admixture of herbs; rice boiled with saffron of a ruddy gold color; omelets and sweet dishes, innumerable little china cups of toothsome pickles, small china bowls containing various thick soups, but not a single joint to be seen. Everybody eats away as if he had never tasted food before. There are no forks, no spoons, no plates; but every man's hand appears to be dipping at once into the innumerable dishes.

Occasionally our host, with his mouth half full, grunts out an entreaty that we should taste some particular delicacy, and in twenty minutes all is over. Iced rosewater is poured upon the fingers of each guest from a silver ewer, and he wipes them upon a delicately embroidered napkin. About a tenth of what has been provided has been consumed by the party; the rest is removed and gobbled up with surprising celerity by the great tribe of hungry servants. Pipes are brought once more, but there is little or no conversation; the Persians say that "to talk after a good meal is the act of an ill bred man or a fool." And then we get up and bid our hospitable friend good night. And as we leave, we see that the mysterious covered tray is being taken to the banqueting room and we know that our fellow guests and our host will drink, smoke and gamble until an unholy hour in the morning.—Good Words.

Von Moltke at Gravelotte.

The French artillery and mitrailleuses responded vigorously to the Krupps, and with deadly effect, but as far as we could see the German left continued its advance and staff officers came up frequently to report that all was going on well at points hidden from our view. These reports were always made to the king first, and whenever anybody arrived with tidings of the fight we clustered around to hear the news, Gen. Von Moltke unfolding a map meanwhile and explaining the situation.

This done, the chief of the staff, while awaiting the next report, would either return to a seat that had been made for him with some knapsacks, or would occupy the time walking about, kicking clods of dirt or small stones here and there, his hands clasped behind his back, his face pale and thoughtful. He was then nearly 70 years old, but because of his emaciated figure, the deep wrinkles in his face, and crow's feet about his eyes, he looked even older, his appearance being suggestive of the practice of church asceticisms rather than of his well known ardent devotion to the military profession.—Gen. Sheridan in Scribner's Magazine.

Peculiarities of the Ainus.

Inasmuch as there are no family names, no village, tribal, or national rights to be respected, there is nothing approximating to father right or mother right. Or perhaps it would be more exact to say that, inasmuch as women are only recognized as servants throughout their whole lives, and as mothers as soon as they have reached the proper age, the personality of the whole family is sunk in that of the husband and father while he lives. When he dies he is at once and absolutely forgotten, and each surviving member of his family pursues an entirely separate course, in no way concerning himself about the others. If a man dies and leaves a family of infant children, the care of them devolves upon the mother until the oldest son reaches the age of about 18; then he becomes the head of the family. Female inheritance is utterly unknown, as would be expected in a society wherein women have no rights at all. If a man is so unfortunate as to leave no true heir, or so careless as not to have adopted one, his property goes to his next younger brother, or his nearest male relative, if he have no brothers either by birth or adoption.—J. K. Goodrich in Popular Science Monthly.

Pennsylvania takes second place. Kansas is the banner republican State, with 82,000 plurality. Texas probably remains the banner democratic State, with a lead anywhere from 100,000 to 150,000.

The reported deficiency of nearly five and one half millions in the postal service makes the time seem unpropitious for urging a reduction of letter postage.

The reason why small money-lenders do not, all of them, send their money west to be lent is because they do not know how to do so safely. There is no more danger than in crossing the street, if you know your bank. But be careful about your lender. Send for a primer on western lending; free.

THE KANSAS CITY INVESTMENT COMPANY, Kansas City, Missouri; or Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

$100,000 Janesville, Wis., Water Co.

First Mortgage 6% Bonds.

DUE AUGUST 1, 1907.

Secured by a Sinking Fund. Descriptive Circulars furnished on application.

Brewster, Cobb & Estabrook,

35 Congress St., Boston.

BURNETT'S PERFECTLY PURE Standard HIGHLY CONCENTRATED Flavoring EXTRACTS

The superiority of these Extracts consist in their

Perfect Purity and Great Strength.

JOHN H. BROUHTON,

No. 68 Daniel St., Portsmouth, N. H.

DEALER IN

EASTERN AND WESTERN

LUMBER!

Shingles, Clapboards and Laths.

ALSO

Best Newark Hydraulic Cement, Best Extra and No. 1 Lime

FOR SALE AT LOWEST PRICES.

NOTICE!

FALL

AND

WINTER STYLES NOW READY!

AT

MRS. TEBBETTS', NO. 14 MARKET STREET.

ILSLEY & MOORE,

Fire Life and Accident Insurance Agents and Brokers No. 3 Pleasant St.. Portsmouth N. H.

NOTICE:—The undersigned gives notice to all whom it may concern, that he has purchased from the senior member of the old firm of MORSE & ILSLEY, all rights to the Fire Insurance Business heretofore carried on by that firm, and is duly authorized by all the Companies represented by them to have and hold all their records. WINGATE N. ILSLEY.

Facilities for placing the largest lines of Fire Insurance in the best Companies.

Agents for the Equitable Life Ins. Society of the U. S. New England Mutual Life Ins. Co. of Boston, Mass., and the Fidelity & Casualty Ins. Co., of New York. 19-eod

SEND FOR

Miller's Gamecock,

THE KING OF ALL WHISKIES.

JOHN MILLER & CO.,

296 and 300 Hanover St., Boston, Sole Proprietors.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST. su8t&odis

IF YOU WANT To Save Two Dollars ON EVERY BARREL OF FLOUR, USE Horsford's Bread Preparation.

It costs less than one cent to raise a pound of flour with Horsford's, while with common baking powders the cost is two cents.

EASTERN OFFICE OF

Kansas City Investment Co.,

OVER FIRST NATIONAL BANK, PORTSMOUTH.

CITY MORTGAGES, FARM MORTGAGES, DEBENTURE BONDS, REAL ESTATE NOTES

INTEREST PAYABLE HERE AT MATURITY.

W. G. MYERS

"Florence Home Needle Work" 1888

is now ready. Contains 96 pages with nearly 350 illustrations. The subjects are Damask Stitches—Tapestry and Italian Embroidery—Drawn Work, Darning—Crochet &c. It teaches ladies how to make

Solid Silk Braid

for trimming their garments in latest fashion. Book mailed to any address on receipt of six cents. NONOTUCK SILK CO., Florence, Mass.

Insurance Notice.

THE OLD INSURANCE AGENCY, AT THE OLD STAND, No. 13 Pleasant Street, PORTSMOUTH, N. H. JOSEPH P. MORSE, 25 CORDS DRY PINE LIMBS! At $3.50 Per Cord.

The Very Best of Fuel at a Low Price.

O. F. PHILBRICK & CO., COAL AND WOOD DEALERS, 4 Water Street.

COAL! COAL!

Finest Grades, well prepared for Domestic Purposes, consisting of Anthracite and for Sale at Lowest Prices.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

J. ALBERT WALKER

Portsmouth Coal Pockets.

WOOD AND COAL!

A Good Assortment of all kinds of Wood and Coal.

Kindling Wood Split to Order.

ALSO

Akron Drain and Sewer Pipe.

NO. 13 GREEN STREET,

DANIEL LITTLEFIEL

BOOK BINDING

Of Every Desciption,

DONE AT

NO. 5 CONGRESS STREET, (OVER FAY'S STORE.)

Magazines and other Periodicals Bound in Styles to Suit Patrons; Especial Attention given to

REBINDING OLD BOOKS!

For Libraries or Individuals; in short, any work of the kind promptly attended to, and satisfaction guaranteed. Prices reasonable.

JOHN D. RANDALL.

STEPHEN D. SCRIGGINS,

Carriage Painter,

NO. 16 Vaughan Street, Portsmouth, N. H.

Having spacious and good accommodations and long and large experience he solicits patronage in his line.

Look in at Conn's

AND SEE THE

BUTTER!

From the very best Dairies in Vermont and New York. Creameries are of no account compared with these Dairies. Also,

Cheese Pork, Lard, Hams, Beans Etc

No Oleo or Second-Hand Stuff kept.

The very best quality of LARD bought by the car-load, which I am selling less than the Boston prices.

AT

No. 63 Pleasant St

May be found a full and carefully selected stock of

FINE FANCY AND STAPLE

GROCERIES.

ALSO

BOOTS & SHOES

As at any Store east of Boston.

VERMONT AND CREAMERY

BUTTER & CHEESE.

Lard Sugar, Molasses Syrup Oils. Beans Peas Pickles Crackers. Salt Pork Salt Fish, Sage Maccaroni.

-COFFEES-

Old Government Java and Rio, ground as sold.

-TEAS-

Best Qualities Formosa and Japan.

A FULL LINE

CANNED AND SHELF GOODS.

Pure Spices, Raisins, Currants, Cotton, Cocoa, Chocolate, Candied Lemon Peel, and all other Fine Groceries

TOBACCO AND CIGARS.

Brooms, Brushes, Pails, Crockery and Glassware, and a Large Assortment of Miscellaneous Articles.

Boots and Shoes!

Men's Calf Button Boots, Men's Calf Balmoral Boots. Men's Calf French Ties, Ladies' Kid Button Boots. Misses' and Children's, Youth's and Boys', All Sizes and Kinds.

We make the best selections possible, paying Cash; and for Cash will sell as low as the lowest

Orders filled with care and delivered free in any part of the city.

JOHN J. LASKEY, NO. 63 PLEASANT STREET.

The WONDERFUL LUBURG CHAIR

Combining a Parlor, Library, Smoking, Reclining, or Invalid CHAIR, LOUNGE, BED, or COUCH. Price $7.00 up. We make the largest variety of Adjustable, Reclining, Physicians' and Surgeons' Operating, Invalid Rolling, Hammock, Office, Library, Fancy Carpet Folding, Rest and Rattan CHAIRS and ROCKERS BICYCLES, TRICYCLES, VELOCIPEDES and SELF PROPELLERS. ALL KINDS OF APPLIANCES FOR INVALIDS.

BABY COACHES

Over 100 different designs. Our Patent Automatic Brake on all Carriages, free. We have discontinued wholesaling; by placing your orders direct with the makers you can save several profits. Our standing prices and special Bargains will astonish you. Goods sold under a guarantee and delivered free to any point in the United States. Send stamp for Catalogue, and state class of goods you wish to see.

LUBURG MFG. CO. 145 North Eighth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

AN EXTRA LOT OF SPONGES, CHAMOIS SKINS AND WHIPS, At Reasonable Prices at

John S. Tilton's

Harness and Trunk Repairer

NO. 18 CONGRESS STREE

We are astonished at parties who in[illegible] coughs when they should know the people will have Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

"Kings are like stars, they rise and set." They have headaches, cuts, and hurts like meaner men, and are just as sure to call for Salvation Oil.

—Political orator (furiously)—"Now, fellow-citizens, if this man is elected what will be the result?" A voice—"His opponent will be defeated."

"For twenty years I have suffered with a severe bronchial cough, never lying down without a severe attack of the same. After much persuasion, I was induced to try Adamson's Balsam, and its good effects for six months are certainly marvellous. Please use this truthful testimony for the advantage of all sufferers like myself.

Mrs. Wm. Alden, Duxbury, Mass., Feb. 21, 1887

—Children shrink from being washed. The same may be said of socks.

Be Your Own Doctor.

It won't cost you half as much. Do not delay. Send three 2-cent stamps for postage, and we will send you Dr. Kaufmann's great work, fine colored plates from life, on disease, its causes, and home cure. Address A. P. Ordway, & Co., Boston, Mass.

—The average pullet takes her eggs in the spring.

Ringing Noises

In the ears, sometimes a roaring buzzing sound are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smelling or hearing also result from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood. If you suffer from catarrh, try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the peculiar medicine.

Gunner George L. Albro is ordered to the St. Louis.

Trial proves that honesty is the best policy in medicine as well as in other things. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a genuine preparation, an unequalled blood purifier, decidedly superior to all others.

—Minister—"Bertie, do you know where the little boys go who catch fish on Sunday?" Bertie—"Yes, sir; most of them go down to Jonhson's creek."

Hundreds of letters from those using Hall's Hair Vigor attest its value as a restorer of gray hair to its natural color. As a stimulant and tonic, preventing and curing baldness, and cleansing the scalp, its use cannot be too strongly recommended.

—"Physician, heal thyself!" is an injunction promulgated centuries ago, and now some of the older practitioners are pretty well healed.

Catarrh originates in scrofulous taint. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and thus permanently cures catarrh.

To-Night and To-Morrow Night,

And each day and night during this week you can get at all druggists Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, acknowledged to be the most successful remedy ever sold for the cure of Coughs, Croup, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption. Get a bottle to-day and keep it always in the house, so you can check your cold at once. Price 50c and $1.00. Sample bottles free.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. mon.wed.fri.eod

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam, for Coughs and Colds, does it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles at 50c and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

HUNT'S REMEDY

RELIEVES the Kidneys; REVIVES the Liver; SOLD UNIVERSALLY. eod&g

COMFORT

FOR

COLD AND TENDER FEET!

Persons troubled with cold or tender feet will find warmth and ease in the use of

DOLGE'S ALL WOOL FELT

Slipners and Shoes

For which the undersigned is agent in this City and Vicinity.

AT THE STORE

No. 34 Market Street

Can be found a Full Line of these Goods, in many patterns of Slippers, Shoes and Boots, and several colors, for house, office or street wear.

Of Men and Boys, Women and Girls.

Please examine our Stock.

J. C. CARR.

C-O-A-L-!

All Kinds and Sizes Delivered Well Screened.

E. F. SISE & CO.

First Quality Wood:

Liverpool and Turks Island

S-A-L-T.

In Bulk and Sacks. Salt in Boxes. Boston and Portia Brands.

TELEPHONE.

Dwelling House for Sale.

THE residence of the late Mrs. Daniel Libbey, No. 142 State Street, can be purchased on application to JOHN SISE, JOSEPH SISE, Executors

GRATEFUL---COMFORTING.

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame.—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in half pound tins, by Grocers, labelled thus:

JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England.

WE WANT A GOOD ENERGETIC SALESMAN in every town and city TO SOLICIT ORDERS FOR FRAMING PICTURES. BEST OUTFIT IN THE WORLD and a permanent situation. Address H. B. WARDWELL, Lewiston, Me.

POSITIVELY CLOSING WEEKS

GRAND CYCLORAMA

BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG,

541 Tremont St., Boston.

Don't fail to see this great battle scene at once.

A new subject now being painted will take its place in this building January 1st.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, the great Medical Work of the age on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline, Errors of Youth, and the untold miseries consequent thereon, 300 pages 8 vo., 125 prescriptions for all diseases. Cloth, full gilt, only $1.00, by mail, sealed. Illustrative sample free to all young and middle-aged men. Send now. The Gold and Jeweled Medal awarded to the author by the National Medical Association. Address P.O. Box 1895, Boston, Mass., or Dr. W. H. PARKER, graduate of Harvard Medical College, 25 years' practice in Boston, who may be consulted confidentially. Office, No. 4 Bulfinch St. Specialty, Diseases of Man. Cut this out. You may never see it again.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS PIANOS

The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all of the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues, PRICES, TERMS, free.

Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos that they are superior to all others. They recognize the high excellence achieved by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but still claim superiority. This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1882, and now known as the "MASON & HAMLIN PIANO STRINGER," by the use of which they have secured the greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity for standing in tune and other important advantages.

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians, and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

Pianos and Organs sold for cash or easy payments; also rented.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO. BOSTON. NEW YORK. CHICAGO. thsu24

MARVELOUS MEMORY DISCOVERY.

Any book learned in one reading. Mind wandering cured. Speaking without notes. Piracy condemned by Supreme Court. Great inducements to correspondence classes. Prospectus, with opinions of Dr. Wm. A. Hammond, the world famed Specialist in Mind diseases, Daniel Greenleaf Thompson, the great Psychologist, J. M. Buckley, D. D., Editor of the Christian Advocate, Richard Proctor, the Scientist, Hons. Judge Gibson, Judah P. Benjamin, and others, sent post free by Prof. A. LOISETTE, 237 Fifth Ave., New York.

The WITTIEST, PRETTIEST JUVENILES

QUEER PEOPLE Palmer Cox

GIANTS & GOBLINS $1.00 WINGS & STINGS 75c. PAWS & CLAWS $1.00

by Mail.

Elopement of the Frog and the Mouse.) Full of the oddest pranks, charming stories and laugh-provoking illustrations by the Prince of juvenile artists. Selling immensely. Critics say of it: "[illegible]" Howard Crosby. ALL NEW WINGED. [illegible] St. Boston ov15

HOOD'S COMPOUND EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA TRADE MARK

The importance of purifying the blood cannot be overestimated, for without pure blood you cannot enjoy good health.

At this season nearly every one needs a good medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, and we ask you to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. It strengthens and builds up the system, creates an appetite, and tones the digestion, while it eradicates disease. The peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation of the vegetable remedies used give to Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiar curative powers. No other medicine has such a record of wonderful cures. If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other instead. It is a Peculiar Medicine, and is worthy your confidence.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Peculiar To Itself

100 Doses One Dollar

Cure Your Corns,

BY USING SCHLOTTERBECK'S CORN, WART AND BUNION SOLVENT

TRAVELLER'S GUIDE.

TRAINS LEAVE

Portsmouth for Boston, 4.05, 7.25, 8.20, 11.05 a. m., 2.55, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4.00 p. m.

Boston for Portsmouth, 7.3 , 9.00, 10.00 a. m., 12.30, 3.30, 4.40, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.00 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

Portsmouth for Portland, 9.55, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 9.20, p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m.

Portland for Portsmouth, 2.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.05, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 2.00 a. m.

Portsmouth for Dover, 4.20, 8.45 a. m., 12.25, 3.28, 5.22 p. m.

Dover for Portsmouth, 6.55, 10.20 a. m., 1.55, 4.30, 5.40 p. m.

Portsmouth for York Beach, 8.30, 11.10 a. m. 3.35 p. m.

York Beach for Portsmouth, 8.40, 10.00 a. m., 1.40 p. m.

Portsmouth for Concord, 7.55 a. m., 1.00, 5.15 p. m.

Concord for Portsmouth, 7.20, 10.20 a. m., 3.35 p. m.

Portsmouth for Manchester, 7.55 a. m., 1.00, 5.15 p. m.

Manchester for Portsmouth, 8.15, 11.15 a. m., 1.25 p. m.

TRAINS ARRIVE

In Boston from Portsmouth, 6.20, 9.10, 10.25 a. m., 1.15, 4.45, 7.10, 9.20 p. m. Sundays, 6.20 a. m., 6.30 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Boston, 9.45, 10.45 a. m., 12.20, 2.55, 5.20, 6.45, 8.37 p. m. Sundays, 10.40 a. m., 8.37 p. m.

In Portland from Portsmouth, 12.00 m., 12.55, 4.40, 11.00 p. m. Sundays, 11.00 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Portland, 8.55, 10.44 a. m., 2.20, 7.14 p. m. Sundays, 8.55 a. m.

In Dover from Portsmouth, 5.40, 10.10 a. m., 12.50, 3.03, 5.47 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Dover, 7.30, 10.44 a. m., 2.23, 4.35, 7.14 p. m.

In Concord from Portsmouth, 10.30 a. m., 3.12, 6.25 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Concord, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

In Manchester from Portsmouth, 9.42 a. m., 2.30, 7.20 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Manchester, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

KITTERY AND PORTSMOUTH.

STEAMER MYSTIC.

Leave Bartlett's wharf, Kittery, 6.35, 7.50, 8.45, 10.0, 11.45 a. m., 2.00, 3.15, 4.45, 6.00 p. m. Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 6.30, Saturday evening, 6.30, 8.00.

Leave Broughton's wharf, foot Daniel street, Portsmouth, 7.30, 8.00, 9.30, 11.00 a. m., 12.45, 3.00, 4.00, 5.15, 6.15 p. m., Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7.30, Saturday evenings, 7.30, 9.00.

☞ Fare five cents each way.

A FAIR SAMPLE OF
40 SWORN CASES
OF THE VALUE OF

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND

THE RADICAL BLOOD PURIFIER.

DIPHTHERIA. SCROFULA.

Miss Lena Judkins, a daughter (17 years old) of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Judkins, 677 Boston St., Lynn, CURED by Dr. Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of very severe case of Scrofula, with Malignant Ulcers of eight years' standing, after 11 Physicians had failed. Almost a miracle. Now in perfect health. Sworn to before HARMON HALL, Justice of the Peace.

SCROFULOUS HUMOR.

Miss Mary Etta Leighton, a daughter (16 yrs. old) of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison G. Leighton, 16 Bickford Court, Lynn, CURED by Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of a deep seated Scrofulous Humor, with discharging eruptions, which had baffled eight physicians and the combined forces of two prominent hospitals. Perfectly cured and without a blemish. Sworn to before CALVIN B. TUTTLE, Justice of the Peace.

Send for circular of 40 Sworn cases. They are solid facts and carry conviction.

DR. LOUGEE'S
VITALIZING COMPOUND.

is absolutely the greatest known Remedy for the Radical cure of Scrofula, Cancerous Humors, Diphtheritic or Mineral Blood-Poisoning, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Dropsy and Liver Complaint.

$1. per Bottle (6 for 5). At Druggists.
Lougee Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

DAY'S HORSE POWDER
Prevents Lung Fever and cures Distemper, Heaves, Fevers, &c., &c.
1 pound in each package. Sold by all dealers.

DR. BULL'S BABY SYRUP
Facilitates Teething! Sold at druggists
Price 25 Cts. Regulates the Bowels!

25¢ A BOTTLE
SALVATION OIL
KILLS PAIN

For the cure of BULL'S Coughs, Colds, Croup, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Incipient Consumption COUGH SYRUP
and for the relief of Consumptive persons.
PRICE 25 CTS.
For Sale by all druggists.

SMOKE LANGE'S CUBEB CIGARETTES for Catarrh! Price 10 Cts. At all druggists.

EDWARD D. COFFIN,
SHERIFF ROCKINGHAM CO. AND U. S. DEPUTY MARSHAL.
Office at No. 3 Market Square, And at the Jail.
Will be at Staley & Moore's Ins. Office at 9 A. M and 4 o'clock P. M.
(TELEPHONE AT THE JAIL).

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

THE PASSENGER TRAIN CONDUCTOR.

The Most Exacting Position in the Ranks of Railroad Employes.

The passenger train conductor has in many respects the most difficult position in the railroad ranks. He should be a first class freight conductor and a polished gentleman to boot. But in his long apprenticeship on a freight train he has very likely been learning how not to fulfill the additional requirements of a passenger conductorship. In that service he could be uncouth and even boorish and still fill his position tolerably well; now he feels the need of a life time of tuition in dealing with the diverse phases of human nature met with on a passenger train. He must now manage his train in a sort of automatic way, for he has his mind filled with the care of his passengers and the collection of tickets. He must be good at figures, keeping accounts, and handling money, though the freight train service has given him no experience in this line. Year by year the clerical work connected with the taking up of tickets and collecting of cash fares has been increased until now on many roads an expert bank clerk would be none too proficient for the duties imposed. The conductor who grumblingly averred that "it would take a Philadelphia lawyer with three heads" to fill his shoes was not far out of the way.

Every day, and perhaps a number of times a day, he must collect fares of fifty or a hundred persons in less time than he ought to have for ten. Of that large number a few will generally have a complaint to make or an objection to offer or an impudent assertion concerning a fault of the railroad company which the conductor cannot remedy and is not responsible for. A woman will object to paying half fare for a 10-year-old girl or to paying full rates for one of 15. A person whose income is ten times larger than he deserves will argue twenty minutes to avoid paying 10 cents more (in cash) than he would have been charged for a ticket. Passengers with legitimate questions to ask will couch them in vague and back handed terms, and those with useless ones will take inopportune times to propound them. These are not occasional but every day experiences. The very best and most intelligent people in the community (excepting those who travel much) are among those who oftenest leave their wits at home when they take a railroad trip.

All these people must be met in a conciliatory manner, but without varying the strict regulations in the least degree. The officers of the revenue department are inexorable masters, and passengers offended by alleged uncivil treatment are likely to make absurd complaints at the superintendent's office. A conductor dreads an investigation of this sort, however unreasonable the passengers' complaints may be, because it may tend to show that he lacked tact in handling the case. But after becoming habituated to this sort of dealings, there are still left the occasional disturbances which no amount of philosophy can make pleasant. These are the encounters with drunken and disorderly passengers. The conductor, starting at the forward end of his train, finds, perhaps, in the first car one or two "toughs" who refuse payment of fare and are spoiling for a fight.

Care must be taken with this sort of character not to punish him or use the least bit of unnecessary severity, for he will, when sobered off, quite likely be induced by a sharp lawyer to sue the railroad company for damages by assault. The conductor, however, if he be one who has (in his freight train experience) dealt with tramps is able to cope with his customer and confine him to the baggage car or put him off the train. But a tussle of this kind is, at best, far from soothing to the temper, and the very next car may contain the wife of a millionaire, who will expect the most genteel treatment and critically object to any behavior on the part of the conductor which is not fully up to the highest drawing room standard. Experiences of this kind, it can be readily imagined, are exceedingly trying. The conductor cannot give himself up completely to leaning gentility, for he still has need for his old severity.—B. B. Adams, Jr., in Scribner's Magazine.

The Onondaga Indian Tribe.

A good picture of the state of affairs reprobated by the recent Indian council is seen in the case of the Onondaga tribe. This tribe owns a reservation of 6,000 acres on the site of the old council fires of the Six Nations. These 6,000 acres are uniformly of the choicest farming lands, and include stone quarries of the finest gray limestone. But the Indians neither farm their lands nor work their quarries. There are twenty-six chiefs for 400 members of the tribe. The old Indian language is still in common use. The state of morals is absolutely indescribable in decent English. The tenure of land is tribal. The renunciation of Christianity is a requisite to election as a sachem; but nominal christianity is professed by about half the tribe. The Feast of the White Dog is celebrated with indecent ceremonies. The question of what to do with the Indians is now necessarily to be reconsidered. It is not enough to hold them on reservations and feed them.—Globe-Democrat.

How Japanese Rooms Are Lighted.

Light is admitted into Japanese rooms, not by glass windows, but by a kind of wooden gratings, over which a white paper is pasted on the outside. This paper diffuses the sunlight about the room very pleasantly, but it is not proof against rain; in rainy weather, therefore, the shutters have to be put up which are used to close the veranda and house in the night time, and which are the only doors in a Japanese house that it is thought necessary to furnish with a bolt. As the putting up and taking down of these shutters is a matter demanding some time, it is usual to have a small door made in them, which is called "the earthquake door," to provide means of quick escape in case of emergency.—Cassell's Family Magazine.

"Bullet Playing" in Scotland.

The Scotch miner has many ways of amusing himself. Quoits is a favorite game of his, so is a game called "rounders"—a sort of bastard cricket—and cricket itself is popular among the younger men, but with them football is the favorite pastime. Leaping, running, throwing the hammer, and tossing the caber are all practiced, and in some parts a game called "bullet playing" is in high favor. I have never seen this played except in the Lothians and Stirlingshire, and there it was at one time the crack amusement. Rather a peculiar amusement it is, too. It is played in this manner: A certain distance, say a mile out and a mile in, is fixed upon as the ground to be covered by the players, and the man who does so in the fewest number of throws is declared the winner. The bullet is a polished ball of hard whinstone, and weighs from ten to fourteen ounces, and this ball the player takes into his hand, and, running to a line drawn on the roadway, he swings his arm and throws with all his might. This is termed "hairching the bullet," and a good player can cover the mile in five or six throws.

The game is one mainly of strength, but a good deal of skill can be shown in it. Each player has a man in front to show where the bullets should be landed, and his business is to see that if his directions are followed the bullet of his player will have the best part of the road to run on. The game is always played on the best highway in the neighborhood, and the authorities object to it as being dangerous, although I never have heard of any accident arising therefrom. A bullet match is to the Scotch miner what a dog fight is to his Northumbrian or Staffordshire congener, or a prize fight to an East End Londoner. The fact that it is forbidden by law adds to its attractiveness, and it affords ample opportunities for betting. Bets are made on the throw, on the distance out, and on the complete match, and when two "dons" are played the excitement runs high. —Nineteenth Century

Invention of the Shot Tower.

There was once a mechanic at Bristol, England, who had a queer dream. Watts was his name, and he was by trade a shot maker. The making of the little leaden pellets was then a slow, laborious and, consequently, costly process. Watts had to take great bars of lead and pound them out into sheets of a thickness about equal to the diameter of the shot he desired to make. Then he cut the sheets into little cubes, which he placed in a revolving barrel or box and rolled until the edges wore off from the constant friction and the little cubes became spheroids.

Watts had often racked his brain trying to devise a better scheme, but in vain. Finally, after an evening spent with some jolly companions at the alehouse he went home and turned into bed. He soon fell into a deep slumber, but the liquor evidently did not agree with him for he had a bad dream. He thought he was out again with the "boys." They were all trying to find their way home when it began to rain shot. Beautiful globules of lead, polished and shining fell in a torrent and compelled him and his bibulous companions to draw their heavy limbs to a place of shelter.

In the morning, when Watts arose, he remembered the dream. He thought about it all day, and wondered what shape molten lead would take in falling a distance through the air. At last, when he could rest no longer, he carried a ladleful of the hot metal up into the steeple of the church of St. Mary, of Redcliffe, and dropped it into the moat below. Descending, he took from the bottom of the shallow pool several handfuls of perfect shot, far superior to any he had ever seen. Watts' fortune was made, for he had conceived the idea of the shot tower, which has ever since been the only means employed in the manufacture of the little missiles so much used in war and sport.—Chicago Mail.

Importance of Recording Deeds.

Due record of deeds is a matter of vast importance in transfers, even though a deed be "perfectly good without record against the grantor himself and his heirs," and although "a deed not recorded is just as good as if it had been recorded against any parties or the heirs of any parties who took the land from the grantor by a subsequent deed, even for a full price, if they had at the time notice or knowledge of the prior and unrecorded deed." Neglect of registration is a fruitful cause of expensive worry and litigation. Registered judgments, heirs unexpectedly turning up, mortgages whose satisfaction has not been recorded, rights of dower and courtesy, which old conveyancers would gladly abolish in order to facilitate transfers, are difficulties in the way of undisputed title. Equity ultimately decides in courts of law who is entitled to possession, but due precaution in search and record would, in most instances, nullify the need of resort to it. All titles are cleared by sale under judicial decree. —Richard Wheatley in Harper's Magazine.

Idaho Streams That Vanish.

One of the peculiar features of Idaho scenery is the frequent occurrence of dark rocky streams and channels of lava into which streams and rivers plunge and are apparently forever lost. These fissures are supposed to be old lava beds. The outside of the molten mass cooled and formed a roof, the fiery stream below became exhausted, leaving an empty chamber. A break in this roof having occurred, an opening was formed into which the river or stream now disappears, to reappear as a mysterious lake, basin or spring on some distant mountain or plain.

On the banks of the Snake river one of these streams reappears, gushing from a high cliff in a cataract to the waters below.—Scientific American.

Why Called "White House."

The White House at Washington derives its name from the fact that the Virginia freestone, of which it is built, was painted white to conceal the discolorations caused by smoke and water.—New York Evening World.

The Zinc Plate in Art.

The photo-lithographers are looking toward zincography as a refuge and substitute for the Bavarian lithographic stone and the wood cut, and experiments are being made in America, Germany and England, where pictorial periodicals and newspapers are published to get the effects of the lithographic pen. The difference between the processes of lithography and zincography, however, is so great that judgment cannot be passed as yet. The great ponderous soapstone reproduces colors drawn on it with a greasy pencil. The zinc can be etched with nitric or muriatic acid, and, with the aid of a powerful lens, photography called into aid with marvelous effect. The advantages of such a process may be summarized under two heads—economy and convenience—and for daily newspaper pictorial work, where rapidity must be combined with a certain amount of artistic excellence, there can be no doubt of the zinc plate superseding all other methods of reproducing pictures, and the wood cut is gradually fading away.

In the weeklies and monthlies, where the merzo tint can be successfully printed, the wood cut may endured for some time, but even now some of the photographic pen and ink "no drawing is immeasurably better than the black and white brush work on wood. The process of biting a plate with acid is of course, older than Rembrandt, but it has until the last few years been an expensive and laborious art. The hurry of the age demanded its improvement, and soon it will be possible to reproduce great pictures in a few hours, and transfers may be made with great facility and preserved for future use at the nominal expense of the cast of the zinc plates and the necessary storage room —Baltimore American.

FROM THE RIGI KULM.

A Marvelous Mountain Vision—Historic Ground—The Lion of Luzerne.

The Rigi is the chief ornament of Luzerne, or rather the chief attraction. It was not all I expected. I looked for some snow capped peak towering above the lower range of mountains, and was inclined to be disappointed when it resolved itself into a bulky mass of sere rock and green mountain side, with a water line of twenty-five miles in circumference and at least half a dozen peaks or crests, one of which—the furthest to the east—is the culminating point, and takes the name of Kulm. The next day when I mounted to this summit it was plain why the Rigi Kulm is the most celebrated mountain, probably, in the world, and why it commands, and will continue to command, the homage now paid it. It is not for itself, but what it reveals. It was a clear, warm day, and the ride up the inclined railway that now fastens itself to the sides of the Rigi was a constant delight. When finally the Kulm was reached, and in that marvelous blue my eyes looked on the panorama of 125 miles of Bernese Alps unrolled before them, scores and hundreds of white crested peaks, including the Oberland Titans, there was nothing to be done, as there if nothing else to be done now, than to stand in silent awe. Words would be useless, if not profane. It was one of the rare days vouchsafed travelers.

Not always is the Rigi so kind. Often its summit is wrapped in clouds, and nothing is to be seen. At other times, as on the following day, the clouds seem like a great sea, out of which rise the showy summits, like the peaks of drifting icebergs, and it appears almost possible to set sail over the tremulous bosom of vapor to reach the crags as they pierce through. On such a day the sight must be a grand one, as it was described afterward by a friend, who thus saw it, but when the sun is without abatement, and the sky without a fleck, to be for hours upon the Kulm, and look now upon the irregular line of Alpine peaks that define themselves in peerless white against the lambent blue, and then to rest the eye upon the varied landscape that spreads itself all about you, down, down, thousands of feet, as if it were a series of toy pictures such as you could arrange at will out of boxes of blocks you might buy at Charley Meyer's, was an experience never to be forgotten, and which can only be repeated at the same place and under the same circumstances.

Seven lakes—miniature lakes, they looked, as I recall them—were within view, nestling themselves in the little narrow vales that are the conspicuous and unique feature of a Swiss landscape. Over there is the lake on the banks of which the battle of Margarten, the Thermopylæ of Switzerland, was fought. There 1,200 of the hardy mountaineers successfully withstood the assaults of more than 20,000 Austrians. To the right was Lake Zug, where the landslide had occurred but a few days before, and through a strong glass the ruins of the quiy could be plainly seen. Off in the far distance Lake Sembach could be discerned, with its story of Winkelried's heroism. Immediately at your feet stretched the Lake of the Four Cantons, with its Tell chapel and the half dozen clustering villages and towns that line its banks, and, larger and prouder than all, Luzerne itself, which looks forward with hopeful anticipation, by means of the completion of a projected railway, to the time when it will command the position of the first city of Switzerland in the plans of all tourists.

But not alone the Rigi. Luzerne has another attraction. The place wherein the lion of Luzerne is to be seen is about the last a stranger would look for it. There are no indications of its whereabouts, and so far as I could observe no directions that would aid in its discovery. I started out after dinner to find it, and walked about as I understood the hotel porter to direct. Finally, I asked a small boy standing in a garden near the street, and by dint of much hard work made him understand what I wanted. He waved his hand in the direction, and that gesture I followed until I found the spot. It seems to be in a grotto at the back of a dozen door yards, that radiate from the monument, and shut it out from the public. The impression is that you are going through an alley into a back yard, where, in the face of the sandstone rock that rises about 150 feet, the lion is cut. In front of it is a mean, dirty, little circular pool, possibly forty or fifty feet in diameter, about and in which a duck and her small family quacked and played at will. An old fellow seeing a visitor to the lion, and possibly scenting a few centimes, turned on the water for a few minutes, and the jet rose to the height of fifty or sixty feet, with no other appreciable effect than to disturb both the pool and the goslings. There are a half dozen benches in front of the fountain on which you can sit and look at Thorwaldsen's great conception, while back of these benches are numerous shops in which all manner of trinkets and views are sold, and in one of which is shown the model of the lion made by the Danish sculptor, and from which the carving was done.

Despite the apparently mean and impertinent surroundings, the lion is yet a lion. No work of art I have yet seen so impresses me as the lion of Luzerne and the lions of Landseer, at the foot of the Nelson column in London. I went back again and again to sit in silent admiration of the wounded and dying animal that so heroically represents the spirit of the Helvetian guards that do for king, queen and duty. The more I looked, the more the wonder of the conception grew. There is an expression of majesty, of strength, of leonine courage, and yet such a suggestion of weakness and agony, that the impulse is to caress, and if possible soothe the dying beast. In the simple accessories of shield and fleur de lys, lying just outside the protection of the massive paw, the whole history of the fearful sacrifice is written—heroic, devoted, but futile. Twenty I have visited the room in which the Swiss guards were butchered at Versailles, and from which Marie Antoinette fled on that fearful night with her husband, only at last to end their days on the guillotine; and as the fury, and terror, and bloodshed of that time were rehearsed, the sculptured lion of Thorwaldsen, with all this history in its face, was ever before me. The lion of Luzerne is one of the few, the immortal things.—Switzerland Cor. Indianapolis Journal.

When de pea vine git too proud to lean on a stick tain't much service in de garden.—J. A. Macon.

MAKE HENS LAY
NOTHING ON EARTH WILL MAKE HENS LAY LIKE SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER.
WE SEND BY MAIL A LARGE 2¼ POUND CAN FOR $1.20, TWO SMALL PACKS 50 CTS POST PAID.

Sheridan's Condition Powder

is absolutely pure and highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other kind. Strictly a medicine, to be given in the food, once daily, in small doses. Prevents and cures all diseases of hens worth its weight in gold when hens are moulting, and to keep them healthy. Testimonials sent free to all. Ask your druggist, grocer, general store, or feed dealer for it. If you can't get it, send to us. Take no other kind. We will send postpaid by mail as follows:—1 new, enlarged, beautiful illustrated copy of the "FARMERS' POULTRY RAISING GUIDE" (price 25 cents) tells how to make money with a few hens, and two small packages of Powder for 80 cents; or, one large 2¼ pound can and Guide, $1.20. Sample package of Powder, 25 cents, five for $1.00. Six large cans, express paid, for $5.00. Send stamps or cash. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., 22 Custom-House St., Boston, Mass.

LACTATED FOOD
Possesses many Important Advantages over all other prepared Foods.
BABIES CRY FOR IT. INVALIDS RELISH IT.
Makes Plump, Laughing, Healthy Babies. Regulates the Stomach and Bowels.
Sold by Druggists. 35c., 50c., $1.00.
WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., BURLINGTON, VT.

Baby Portraits.
A Portfolio of beautiful baby portraits, printed on fine plate paper by patent photo process, sent free to Mother of any Baby born within a year. Every Mother wants these pictures; send at once. Give Baby's name and age.
WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Proprs., Burlington, Vt.

It's Easy to Dye WITH DIAMOND DYES
Superior in Strength, Fastness, Beauty, AND Simplicity.
Warranted to color more goods than any other dyes ever made, and to give more brilliant and durable colors. Ask for the Diamond, and take no other. 36 colors; 10 cents each.
WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.
For Gilding or Bronzing Fancy Articles, USE DIAMOND PAINTS.
Gold, Silver, Bronze, Copper. Only 10 Cents.

CAUTION
Beware of Fraud, as my name and the price are stamped on the bottom of all my advertised shoes before leaving the factory, which protect the wearers against high prices and inferior goods. If a dealer offers W. L. Douglas shoes at a reduced price, or says he has them without my name and price stamped on the bottom, put him down as a fraud

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE FOR GENTLEMEN.
The only calf $3 SEAMLESS Shoe smooth inside. NO TACKS or WAX THREAD to hurt the feet, easy as hand-sewed and WILL NOT RIP.
W. L. DOUGLAS $4 SHOE. The original and only hand-sewed welt $4 shoe. Equals custom-made shoes costing from $6 to $8.
W. L. DOUGLAS $3.50 POLICE SHOE. Railroad Men and Letter Carriers all wear them. Smooth inside as a Hand-Sewed Shoe. No Tacks to Wax Thread to hurt the feet.
W. L. DOUGLAS $2.50 SHOE is unexcelled for heavy wear. Best Calf Shoe for the price.
W. L. DOUGLAS $2.25 WORKINGMAN'S SHOE is the best in the world for rough wear; one pair will last a man a year.
W. L. DOUGLAS $2 SHOE FOR BOYS is the best School Shoe in the world.
W. L. DOUGLAS $1.75 YOUTH'S School Shoe gives the small Boys a chance to wear the best shoe in the world.
All made in Congress, Button and Lace. If not sold by your dealer, write
W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.
FOR SALE BY
OREN BRAGDON & SON, NO. 24 MARKET STREET.

S. Philbrick & Co.,
MANUFACTURERS OF
Marble and Granite Work
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.
GRANITE POLISHING A SPECIALTY.
OFFICE AND WORKS.
No 2 Water Street, Portsmouth

SULPHUR BITTERS
Don't Waste Your Money
The Greatest Blood Purifier KNOWN.
This Great German Medicine is the cheapest and best. 128 doses of SULPHUR BITTERS for $1.00, less than one cent a dose. It will cure the worst cases of skin disease, from a common pimple on the face to that awful disease Scrofula. SULPHUR BITTERS is the best medicine to use in all cases of such stubborn and deep seated diseases. Do not waste your money on worthless compounds, but if you are sick, or out of order, Use SULPHUR BITTERS. It will cure you, no matter what ails you, use SULPHUR BITTERS and be convinced that they are the purest and best medicine ever made.
BLUE PILLS or mercury, they are dead poison. Do not waste your money on them. Sulphur Bitters!
Is your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Do you feel as if you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, Don't wait until you are sick, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is a sure cure for all these symptoms of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately. Is your Urine thick, like milk, ropy, cloudy, or turbid? The Sulphur Bitters will cure you.
The Invalid's Friend.
The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by this medicine. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow.
Try a Bottle To-day!
Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you.
Sulphur Bitters
Send 3 2-cent stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., for best medical work published.

Embalmer and Funeral Director
No. 60 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH
SAMUEL S. FLETCHER
(SUCCESSOR TO FLETCHER & TANTON.)
COFFINS, ROBES & CASKETS
Always on hand or made to order
Orders by night may be left at No. 42 Daniel St or with A. L. Rice, No. 15 Hill St., or G. W. Ham No 12 Russell St.

PAST ALL PRECEDENT! OVER TWO MILLIONS DISTRIBUTED.
L. S. L.
Louisiana State Lottery Company.
Incorporated by the Legislature in 1868, for Educational and Charitable purposes, and its franchise made a part of the present State Constitution, in 1879, by an overwhelming popular vote.
Its GRAND EXTRAORDINARY DRAWINGS take place Semi-Annually, (June and December), and its GRAND SINGLE NUMBER DRAWINGS take place on each of the other ten months in the year, and are all drawn in public, at the Academy of Music, New Orleans, La.
"We do hereby certify that we supervise the arrangements for all the Monthly and Quarterly Drawings of The Louisiana State Lottery Company, and in person manage and control the drawings themselves, and that the same are conducted with honesty, fairness, and in good faith toward all parties, and we authorize the Company to use this certificate, with fac-similes of our signatures attached, in its advertisement."
G. T. Beauregard
J. A. Early
Commissioners.
We the undersigned Banks and Bankers will pay all Prizes drawn in The Louisiana State Lotteries which may be presented at our counters.
R. M. WALMSLEY, Pres. Louisiana Nat. Bk.
PIERRE LANAUX, Pres. State Nat'l Bank.
A. BALDWIN, Pres. New Orleans Nat'l Bk.
CARL KOHN, Pres. Union National Bank.

MAMMOTH DRAWING
In the Academy of Music, New Orleans,
Tuesday, December 18, 1888.
CAPITAL PRIZE, $600,000.

LIST OF PRIZES.

1 PRIZE OF $600,000 is	$600,000
1 PRIZE OF 200,000 is	200,000
1 PRIZE OF 100,000 is	100,000
1 PRIZE OF 50,000 is	50,000
2 PRIZES OF 25,000 is	50,000
5 PRIZES OF 10,000 are	50,000
12 PRIZES OF 5,000 are	60,000
25 PRIZES OF 2,000 are	50,000
100 PRIZES OF 500 are	50,000
200 PRIZES OF 400 are	80,000
500 PRIZES OF 200 are	100,000
APPROXIMATION PRIZES.
100 Prizes of $1,000 are	$100,000
100 Prizes of 800 are	80,000
100 Prizes of 400 are	40,000
THREE NUMBER TERMINALS.
99 Prizes of 800 are	$79,200
99 Prizes of 400 are	39,600
TWO NUMBER TERMINALS.
100 Prizes of $200 are	$180,000
900 Prizes of 200 are	180,000
3,146 Prizes amounting to	$2,118,800

☞ For Club Rates, or any further information desired, write legibly to the undersigned, clearly stating your residence, with State, County, Street and Number. More rapid return mail delivery will be assured by your enclosing an Envelope bearing your full address.
Send POSTAL NOTES, Express Money Orders, or New York Exchange in ordinary letter. Currency by Express (at our expense) addressed to
M. A. DAUPHIN, New Orleans, La.,
or M. A. DAUPHIN, Washington, D. C.
Address Registered Letters to
NEW ORLEANS NATIONAL BANK, New Orleans, La.
REMEMBER That the presence of Generals Beauregard and Early, who are in charge of the drawings, is a guarantee of absolute fairness and integrity, that the chances are all equal, and that no one can possibly divine what number will draw a Prize.
"REMEMBER, also, that the payment of all Prizes is GUARANTEED BY FOUR NATIONAL BANKS of New Orleans, and the Tickets are signed by the President of an Institution, whose chartered rights are recognized in the highest Courts; therefore, beware of any fraudulent or anonymous schemes."

COLD WEATHER MUSIC BOOKS.
New Music Books.
These new books are every day more in favor:
Classical Pianist, Piano Classics, Song Classics, Song Classics for Low Voices, Classic Tenor Songs, Classic Baritone and Bass Songs. Each $1.
Praise in Song (40 cts., $4.20 per doz.) is the best new Sacred Music Book for Home and Vestry singing.
Let the Children sing from Menard's Songs for Kindergarten and Primary Schools ($3 cts.) or Jenk's Songs and Games for Little Ones ($2) or Children's School Songs (35 cts., $3.60 per doz.) All have very sweet child's songs.
Give your aid in getting up a rousing good evening singing Class to use Song Harmony (60 cts., $6 per doz.) Full of most interesting music, sacred and secular. Song Manual, Book 3 (50 cts., $4.80 per doz.) is also a good collection, mostly secular.
Tell the Temperance People that no better Temperance Song Book has appeared than Bells of Victory (35 cts., $3.60 per doz.)
Xmas is coming. Send for lists of Christmas Cantatas and Carols.
ANY BOOK MAILED FOR RETAIL PRICE.
Oliver Ditson & Co., Boston.

Be HONEST and chew FINZER'S OLD HONESTY CHEWING TOBACCO which is ONLY for Chewing and NOT for Smoking. The BEST chewing tobacco CANNOT be good for Smoking. OLD HONESTY is the BEST AND CHEAPEST TOBACCO made. Insist on having the GENUINE with the red H tin Tag, made only by, John Finzer & Bros., Louisville, Ky.

TRANSPORTAION'

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

Eastern Division.

TRAINS LEAVE PORTSMOUTH FOR BOSTON, 4.05, 7.25, 8.20, 11.05 a. m., 2.55, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m. 4.00 p. m. Returning, 7.30, 9.00, 10.00 a. m., 12.30, 3.30, 4.40, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.00 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

PORTLAND, 9.55, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m. Returning, 2.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.05, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 2.00 a. m.

EASTON, ST. JOHN AND HALIFAX, 10.55 a. m. 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.00 p. m.

GREAT FALLS AND WOLFEBORO JUNC., 9.55 a. m., 2.45, 5.30 p. m.

WOLFEBORO, 9.55, a. m., 5.30 p. m.

NORTH CONWAY, 9.55 a. m., 2.45 p. m.

DOVER, 4.50, 9.45, a. m., 12.25, 2.38, 5.22 p. m.

YORK HARBOR AND BEACH R. R.

YORK BEACH AND WAY STATIONS, (via York Harbor and Beach R. R.) 8.30, 11.10 a. m., 3.35 p. m. Returning, leave York Beach 8.40, 10.00 a. m., 1.40, p. m. Connecting with trains leaving Portsmouth for Boston.

JAS. T. FURBER, Gen'l Manager. D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l Passenger Agent.

Concord & Portsmouth Railroad.

PASSENGER TRAINS leave Eastern Railroad Station for North Market Junction, Manchester, Concord and upper Railroads, as follows:

UP TRAINS.

Leave	M	P. M.	P. M
Portsmouth	7.55	1.00	5.15
Greenland	8.05	1.09	5.24
Newmarket Junction	8.25	1.21	5.50
East Epping		1.31
Epping	8.43	1.37	6.11
West Epping	8.49		6.17
Raymond	9.00	1.55	6.36
Candia	9.12	2.05	6.46
Auburn	9.22		6.57
Massabesic	9.30	2.20	7.06
Arrive Manchester	9.42	2.30	7.20
" Concord	10.30	3.12	8.25

DOWN TRAINS.

Leave	A. M.	P. M.	P. M
Concord	7.30	10.20	3.35
Manchester	8.18	11.15	4.23
Massabesic	8.27	11.25	4.36
Auburn	8.36		4.44
Candia	8.44	11.46	4.54
Raymond	9.05	11.56	5.13
West Epping	9.13	12.05	5.26
Epping	9.20	12.08	5.37
East Epping		12.14
Newmarket Junction	9.46	12.24	6.02
Greenland	10.01	12.36	6.21
Arrive Portsmouth	10.10	12.45	6.30

☞ Trains connect at Newmarket Junction with trains of the Boston & Maine Railroad for Exeter, Haverhill, Lawrence and Boston; and for Dover, Great Falls and Portland, at Concord with trains to and from all the upper Railroads.

H. E. CHAMBERLIN, Supt.

C. E. BOYNTON,
Manufacturer and Wholesale Dealer in
Soda Water, Root, Tonic, Vanilla, Orange and Strawberry Beer, Crab Apple Lemonette, Cream Ginger and Ginger Ale.
EXTRACT OF NERVE FOOD!
For Brain and Nervous Exhaustion. Good for the Appetite.
Soda Water in Syphons for Hotel and Family Use. Fountains Charged at Short Notice.
Bottler of Eldredge and Milwaukee Lager, Porter and Refined Cider.
☞ The Summer "averages manufactured and bottled by me having been before the public of this city and vicinity for the past seventeen years, need no endorsement as being of the very highest standard.

E. C. BLAISDELL, D. M. D.,
(SUCCESSOR TO DR. F. J. BONNEY,)
Dental Rooms 1 1-2 Market Street.

Bay State, Haynes Excelsior and Wm. B. Tilton Gold Medal GUITARS, $10 to $40. MUSIC BOXES, 50 cents to $300. Solo BB CORNET, $10. Haynes VIOLINS, Orchestra, $25; Solo, $35. Special Snare DRUMS, $6. Crosby FIFES, $2. Drum Corps and Bands send for Estimates. Catalogues free, J. C. HAYNES & CO., 33 Court St., Boston, Mass.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

POST OFFICE RULES.

MAILS CLOSE

	A. M.	P. M.
Boston, N. Y., south, west,	8:00 10:30	2:30	4:30 6:45
Boston and way stations,		10:30	2:30 6:45
Portland,	9:25	4:30	6:30
Portland (and way stations,	9:25	4:30
East (beyond Portland)	9:25		6:45
Great Falls, Rochester, Wolfeb'o' Union Milton,	9:25		4:30
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,	9:25
Concord & Manchester,	7:40	10:20	4:30
Concord, Manchester and north,	7:40	4:30
Exeter and B. & M. way, west of Newmarket,	7:40	4:30,
Dover,	9:25	2:30	4:30 6:45
North Conway,	9:25		6:45
York and Cape Neddick,		9:25
Newcastle,		10:30
Newington,		10:30
Boston, N. Y. and south, Sunday,			1:00

MAILS ARRIVE.

	A. M.	P. M.
Boston, south and west,	10:05	3:10	5:40	7:00 (9:00
New York,	10:05		5:40	7:00
Boston and way stations,	10:30		5:40
Portland and east,	7:30	11:00	2:00
Great Falls, Rochester, Union, Milton,	8:20	11:00
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,		11:00
Concord, Manchester and north,		10:20	6:20
Dover,	7:20	10:20	3:00	5:40
Newcastle,		9:20
Newington,		9:20
York and Cape Neddick,		11:00
B. & M. R. R., west of Newmarket,		10:20	6:20

S. J. GERRISH, P. M.

MINIATURE ALMANAC NOV. 17.

SUN RISES	6:36	MOON SETS	3:25 P. M.
SUN SETS	4:22	FULL SEA	9:15 A. M
LENGTH OF DAY	9:46		9:45 P. M

Weather Indications.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

Light rains, followed by fair weather and colder northwesterly winds.

The Trial of James Palmer,

For The Murder of Henry T. Whitehouse.

Nearing the End.

THE PRISONER'S STORY.

FRIDAY, Nov. 16th.

Prof. Angell, re-called. Pointed out places on coat and pants where blood spots had been cut out; said he cut out nearly all the spots, eight or nine pieces of the coat; there is one spot remaining; stain on the inside lining, which was cut out, was half as large as one's hand; showed piece from upper sleeve with clot of blood on it; piece from under side of left sleeve shows blood mark, very distinct and feels stiff; spots on pants seemed to be from spatters; showed photograph of blood corpuscles, magnified 510 diameters, also photos of human blood; soaked corpuscles do not show so distinct shape as in fresh blood; showed photos of human blood, marked, and pictures of animal blood.

Cross-examined by Mr. Page. Found no blood stains on coat and vest, which were examined carefully, at the time that the pieces were cut out, and again yesterday; explained the fluid in which corpuscles are held during photographing; could not photograph the fluid any more than air; did not examine hammer to find blood.

Burnett F. Davenport of Boston, testified that he is a physician whose specialty is medical chemistry; is an analyst of the Massachusetts Board of Health; had studied chemistry twenty years; last June received cloth from Prof. Angell said to have been cut from coat, coat lining, and pants of James Palmer, and made physical and chemical tests, similar in manner to those made by Prof. Wood; his own blood corresponded exactly with result of tests made of the stains on the pieces sent him; the average diameter of 100 corpuscles from the ulster was one-3266th of an inch.

Cross-examined by Mr. Page. Found no blood spots on undercoat or vest.

Fred S. Palmer, recalled by Mr. Page. In May last paid employees weekly, on Saturday; think Whitehouse had a watch; have not seen it since his death.

By Mr. Emery. Think Whitehouse was twenty-one years old, and 5 feet 6 inches tall, weighing 125 lbs., or more.

Dr. Whittier, recalled. Testified as to matters at inquest; his cautioning of Palmer, latter's statements, etc; [Palmer's written statement offered in evidence; Gen. Marston objected, and the matter was passed, to allow counsel for the defence to examine it.] The razor and wrench found in Palmer's possession at the jail were then produced, and the State then rested its case.

Mr. Page addressed the jury for the prisoner. He said there was no question that Whitehouse was murdered and robbed, and thrown overboard. But the prisoner was presumably innocent until proved guilty, and only circumstantial evidence had been offered to connect him with the crime. The State had attempted to prove a motive for the crime, a little simple thing of thieving, which Whitehouse was active in exposing. The two men were friends. There were no doubts of the stains on the clothing defendant's nose-bleeding. The two men were friends, and Palmer could not possibly have been at the scene of the murder at the time it was committed.

Henry G. McKenney was the first witness called. Testified to being with Palmer on the Sunday night of the murder, and to once seeing him have the nose-bleed.

Annie Mahoney testified to being in Palmer's company Sunday evening, with others, until about 10:30 o'clock.

Daniel McIntire, toll keeper at Portsmouth bridge, testified in regard to the class of people crossing the bridge at late hours of the night. He retired at eleven o'clock on the night of the murder, and heard no sound during the night.

Annie McEvoy testified that Palmer was at her house Sunday evening and left at eight o'clock.

Assistant Marshal Peverly gave evidence in regard to police regulations, etc.

George H. Emery, Palmer's brother-in-law, said he had walked from Palmer's house to Noble's Island in 23 1-2 minutes. Knew Palmer was subject to nose-bleed.

Dennis Ryan, recalled. Whitehouse carried a watch. Have not seen it since his death.

Thomas Mahoney, a shoe factory employee last May, testified to seeing Whitehouse one day in factory with Palmer; did not hear what was said.

Thomas Richardson of Manchester, on the previous day walked from Morning street to Palmer's residence in five minutes.

Willie E. Palmer, brother of prisoner, is employed at shoe factory; brother has had nose-bleed; saw Whitehouse once in factory, shortly before murder; know he carried a watch.

Mrs. Frances Rutter, mother of defendant, testified he came home by eleven o'clock Sunday night: arose and looked at clock; heard door squeak when he came in. He could not go out again without her knowing it; did not go out. Took care of his room next morning, saw nothing unusual. She used hammer the Saturday before murder, and left it on fence; when officers asked for it, it was gone. Testified as to giving clothing to officers; also to Palmer's having nose-bleed. Mrs. Rutter was very loth to acknowledge evidence said to have been given by her at the inquest.

Samuel S. Fletcher testified that he prepared Whitehouse's body for burial. There was a piece of watchchain attached to the vest, but no watch.

JAMES PALMER'S TESTIMONY.

James Palmer, the defendant, testified. First time I was ever arrested. Born in Portsmouth; twenty-six years old in November. Lived in Portsmouth ten or twelve years. Learned the horse-shoer's and blacksmith's trade. Worked one winter at Creek, one summer and one winter at Newmarket; also at East Weymouth for man named Barrett. Worked for L. W. Chase sinking artesian wells, three years and five months. Sank wells at East Weymouth, Methuen and Salem, N. H. Had chance to learn electric light business at Lawrence. Came to Portsmouth March 28, '87. Worked for Portsmouth Electric Light Co. at $17.50 per week, as engineer. Worked seven days a week, until one at night. Left there three months before was arrested. H. T. Whitehouse was my assistant when I left. He was twenty-one years old. Never had any trouble to speak of. Brought my tools from Lawrence. Took them to the light station here, near machine shop. Mother's house is over the pond from station (pointing.) New station had few tools. Two or three engineers there before me. Brought and took away their own tools. Everybody around station used my tools. I took away a piece of hose I knew belonged to the company, also a pair of plyers. Had three pair when I went there. Don't know whether the pair I took were mine or theirs. Same as my own. That's all I took belonging to the company. I took two incandescent lamps, that were given me by a man who came down to do some work for the Thompson-Houston Co. They were made up of Thompson & Houston, Brush, and Ball lamps. Had been burned. Munckey wrench belonged to me. Bought it at Lawrence. Had it four or five years. The No. 9 iron wire I got from some men who were running new line through town. The Portsmouth Electric Light Co. never bought any No. 9 iron wire. It was never at the station. Used it for clothes line. Had cans of sperm and lard oil, given me by drummer; samples. Don't know whether marked "sample" or not. I was an engineer, and he gave me samples of oil after I left the company. The soldering iron belonged to me. The hose belonged to the Light company. It was not used at station, and I took it home to use about my barn. Made no secret about taking it. Put it on my arm and walked away. Saw memorandum signed by Fred S. Palmer. Had two lanterns at the station. They were dirty, and gave them to Whitehouse. Don't know as taking the things had anything to do with my leaving. Supt. Palmer called me in and said company was not making money, and would have to curtail expenses, that we would have to go; that he should discharge Whitehouse. Told him I would not work for less than $17.50 per week. Said he knew good man at Bangor; told him to get him. Left Reagan and Whitehouse there when I left. Did not do anything to the engine. Did not strike key. Saw Supt. Palmer at Stoddard's stable; said he wanted me to fix the engine; went to the station and waited an hour for him; key was all right; showed it to him. It was a "hot box." Generally keep oil dropping all time; one side was dry and the other oily; Babbitt started, fixed it. Ran all the engines to his satisfaction; also showed him how to fix the daylight, Reagan coming on sometimes at 7:00 or 7:30, and I asked him to come on time. From starting up to nine at night is the hardest time. He said his hours were changed. First I knew of it. Went to Supt. Palmer and told him I needed Whitehouse at six. Never knew he was due there at midnight Sunday nights, or that we had changed.

Told mother I would go down to see Mr. Coffin; went down two or three nights before I saw him; Saturday night was down town with McKenney and saw Mr. Coffin; went up to him and spoke about things named in memorandum; he said "That's all right, that's all right. I'll see nothing comes to you." Did not see Coffin again till I was arrested; did not tell me to leave town; had nothing to leave town for; passed him Sunday; said "good evening"; Monday morning of murder he came to me at factory and said he wanted to see me; put on coat and followed him; did not know what he wanted; got in buggy and drove to jail: in the sitting room he asked: "Jimmy, do you know Whitehouse is killed?" I said "No. Is that what you want me for?" They then put me in the corridor of the jail, and I sat down and played cards with other persons; Peverly took hammer out of his pocket at jail and asked me if it was mine; I said it looked like it; my shirt was examined; did not have on cuffs; think I wore some Sunday; wore that shirt two weeks; two knives, watch and chain, were taken from me; gun wrench is mine; did not go through my pockets when I went to jail; was in cell and asked to have some one shave me; got the razor two months before he knew of it; got it from Gladden; Gladden was in this city day before yesterday; got out couple of days before election; (laughter;) nine different persons in cell with me; Gannon was in cell when hole was cut in netting; I did not do it; Gannon will tell who did it if brought here; Sunday got up and ate breakfast, went to McKenny's house, then to the roundhouse; In afternoon said to McKenny, "Let's go down to Sagamore; we'll get some money there;" had sharpened some steam drills for Mr. Seavey; he paid me $1.50; got back somewhere about three o'clock; mother out; got something to eat; she came in and said if I would wait she would get me something warm; did so; went to 35 McDonough street, where McKenny boarded: waited until he had his supper; went down town; met young lady, Miss Mahoney; walked back to Dover street with her; then we went down to Hancock street to Mrs. McEvoy's; called there; came out; met McKenny and Miss Broderick, and all took a walk round South road and Richards avenue; brought up at Downs' landing; went onto the beach; then came up to Gates street; left Miss Broderick there; after, three walked home; McKenny left us at Rockingham street; walked to Dover street with Miss Mahoney; left her at door in few minutes; bade her good-night, and passed on to Islington street; saw and met three gentlemen, near Mr. Hanscom's house; walked along with them; Moran and I walked together to Morning street; It was after half-past ten; saw the Eldredge clock; told him I was tired, had been to Sagamore that day; this was between twenty and twenty-five minutes of eleven; saw several—think they were coming from Sullivan's kitchen bar-room; sell beer down cellar; walked home; went in front door; carry night key; found lamp on table, burning; out every night; did not generally get home before ten or eleven; turned light up, opened dining room door and went through into kitchen, where got something to eat at closet; came out, shut door and walked through and up stairs, by front stairs; did not see mother; went into my room, took off watch and laid it on bureau, came out and went to the small room I keeping clothes in; kept clothes I wore Sunday there; hung up my clothes, and went to bed; just as was getting into bed heard clock strike eleven; came out of my room next time at 6:20 next morning.

Have seen the coat shown here. It is my coat. Did not have that coat on Sunday night. Wore stiff hat, same as I have here. Guess I have five or six hats. That's the only hat I had on Sunday night. Heard mother chopping or sawing wood Monday morning. Went to sleep again, and woke up at 6:20; got to work at seven o'clock as usual. Went to city room from jail Monday afternoon, I think. Was taken down six or seven times. I think the last day was Decoration day. Went to solicitor's office. Mr. Emery, Mr. Peverly and Judge Batchelder were there. Had no counsel or friend at the inquest, at any time. Testified there, answering every question put to me. My testimony was taken down. They put the ulster on me once, with a hat of City Marshal Rowe's. Told me to walk "across the room," "faster," and to "put hand in pocket." Did so. Thought coat was burned after they were through. Coffin said, "Guess you had better get counsel." I had none. Whitehouse carried watch when I was at the station. Did not know he was due at station at twelve o'clock. He had Tuesday nights off. I had Sunday nights. When I was off he was to get there at six in the evening.

By Mr. Page. "What do you know of Whitehouse's death?"

Ans. "I know they say I killed him."

Mr. Page. "Did you have anything to do with it?"

Ans. I had nothing to do with it—never had any trouble with him in my life. Told Mr. Fay it was not right to let Whitehouse go, as he had not been there long enough to learn the business and could not get a job elsewhere. Worked at brewery two or three months. Expected job to run the lights there. I was fireman there. Saw Whitehouse there twice. Showed him about. He appeared pleased. Next saw him at shoe factory. Came to where I was working. Said he had seen my brother come and see me. That was the last time I saw Henry T. Whitehouse. In winter I used to go home over the pond on the ice when I could. Would sometimes skate over. Been over when water was half-way up to my knees. Wore rubber boots. Purchased the ulster of E. S. Fay. Bought the suit of E. Percy Lawrence. Wore it every night and Sundays. Wore that ulster when I went over pond. Have had spells of nose-bleeding, ever since I was a child. Been in habit of going to dances. Sometimes would use handkerchief for nose-bleeding, or waste if I was at station. Used to have it quite often. Did not keep count of times. Wore shoes Sunday night, similar to those I have on now. Last saw them at city building. Did not brush them Monday morning. Had no occasion to wash the skirts of my ulster. Have no knowledge how it got wet. It was dry when I tried it on at city rooms. Had it on before and after it was cut.

At the conclusion of Palmer's testimony the court took a recess to nine o'clock Saturday morning.

Notes.

Every day brings a larger crowd, and the capacity of the court room is taxed to its utmost. Ladies go there and stand jammed against a railing or the wall, or on a narrow step clinging to a post, three and four hours at a time. The seats and aisles and filled, those standing in front obstructing the view of those in the seats, and it is a case of "all up" at once, and they stay up until a recess is called by the chief justice. Then the ladies, who have not kept quiet so long in their lives before, open their lips and begin to talk, and such a chatter as prevails for five or ten minutes would put a "tea fight" to shame.

Deputy Sheriff Holt is in charge of the inside door, and handles the crowd with ease, and is to be congratulated on the good order prevailing. Police Officer Quinn's burly form is a terror to the timid at the outside gate; he too is the right man in the right place.

George E. Durgin of Dover, clerk of the supreme court of Strafford county, William K. Norton of Concord, sheriff of Merrimack county, and Daniel F. Healey of Manchester, sheriff of Hillsborough county, were interested spectators at the Friday afternoon session.

We are indebted to Prof. Davenport for a description and view of the scale he uses in measuring those little things floating around in our blood which are only one thirty-two-hundredth part of an inch in diameter, and are called corpuscles. It measures to the fifty-thousandth part of an inch. To the naked eye the scale looks like a flake in the glass, which has to be held in a certain angle with the light before it can be discovered. The lines on the glass are made by the revolutions of a diamond point on the thread of an exceedingly fine screw.

Naturally the prisoner, James Palmer, comes in for a great share of the notice that is bestowed on the court and its subjects. It is not curiosity which causes everyone to keep their eyes turned toward him; it is not sympathy that arouses comment and prompts almost ceaseless talk, about him. It is his cool demeanor that excites the astonishment of all who look upon him for a second. There is nothing of bravado about him, but it is the absolute perfection of the part he is taking that makes him the wonder of the day. His bearing while on the stand is easier than that of any of the other witnesses who have been called. We venture the assertion that there is not another man in the city who can go on the stand, charged with murder, and appear so perfectly calm, be he guilty or innocent, as James Palmer.

KINDERGARTEN.

Miss Welch, a teacher of several years experience, proposes to open a school on Summer street about December first. Parents interested in the Kindergarten system can see Miss Welch on Tuesday morning, the 20th, at Mrs. Cedric Leighton's, State street.

Gentlemen who wish to procure saddles and bridles to use in the Cavalcade on Monday evening, should apply to Col. Marvin Saturday, that the desired number can be obtained by express from Boston, Monday.

This afternoon and evening offer the last chance to visit the Equescurriculum. Any boy or girl who does not see this entertainment will be cheated out of a real treat. Take the little ones there this afternoon. Tickets at Goodrich's.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Sold only in cans, full weight.

CLEVELAND BROTHERS, ALBANY, N. Y.

Elder D. M. Leavitt will preach in the Advent church on Sunday. The public is cordially invited.

Spiritual meeting at Rechabite hall on Sunday at 2:30 and 7:30 P. M. Miss S. Lizzie Ewer will speak under Inspiration, from subjects given by the audience; all are invited.

At the vesper service in the Unitarian church to-morrow, Rev. Alfred Gooding will give another lecture in his interesting and instructive series of discourses on the Epistle to the Galatians.

Rev. M. F. Johnson of Foxboro, Mass., will preach in the Middle street Baptist church tomorrow.

Services in the Court street Christian church on Sunday morning and evening; preaching by the pastor; morning subject, "Guilty, or not guilty?"; evening subject, "A child's influence." All are cordially invited to attend.

The members of the Independent Democratic club of Portsmouth are requested to meet at their room in the old custom house this (Saturday) evening at eight o'clock, for the transaction of such business as may be brought before them. Per order of the club.

NATHANIEL K. RAYNES, secretary.

Colored Fire at Benj. Green's, apothecary.

Every one interested in oil painting should enquire at Montgomery's for those large and beautiful sepia studies just received.

For Saturday sales. Gent's colored border handkerchiefs, three cents. Woven border, colors fast, Ladies' Jersey Ribbed vests, 25 cents. Cocheco prints, four and one half cents. Saturday only. Lewis F. Staples.

A driving snow storm set in at eleven o'clock last night, following a few hours of mist.

Canton Senter, Patriarchs Militant, gave the third annual assembly in their series on Friday evening, at Franklin hall.

All gentlemen who voted for General Harrison in 1840, and for the second General Harrison in 1888, are invited to ride in the procession Monday night; and to meet at the headquarters on Congress street this evening to organize.

Hood's Tooth Powder at Globe Grocery company.

MARRIED.

SMART—RAND. In North Hampton, Nov. 15th, by Rev. T. V. Haines, Mr. Christopher Smart of this city and Miss Bertha L. Rand of North Hampton.

QUIRK—MORRISSEY. In this city, Nov. 15th, by Rev. E. M. O'Callaghan, David Quirk and Bridget Morrissey.

DIED.

CATE. In this city, Nov. 11th, Mrs. Mary Cate, aged 45 years, wife of Joseph Cate.

MARINE CHRONICLE.

PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

SAILED Nov. 16th.

Sch Mattie Holmes, Alley, Bangor.
Sch Wingaersheek, Adams, Newburyport.
Sch Sadie A Kimball, Burns, Boston.
Sch Satellite, Davidson, Boston.
Sch Triton, Amee, Boston.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity trength and wholesomeness. More economical han the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in ompetition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO. 106 Wall Street, New York.

Colored Fire

FOR

CELEBRATION

NOV. 19, 1888,

AT

BENJ. GREEN'S,

APOTHECARY,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

A LARGE LOT OF LEAF SAGE Just Received and for Sale by the Pound or less quantity. Come early before it is sold.
JAMES R. YEATON & CO., 55 Congress St.

FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

RED FIRE!

QUALITY GUARANTEED.

ANDREW P. PRESTON,

Apothecary, - Portsmouth, N. H.

'A PERFECT BLEND

MOCHA AND JAVA COFFEE

FULL WEIGHT, 2 POUND CANS, PRICE 70 CENTS

CHARLES E. LAIGHTON & SON,

Exchange Building, Opp. Post-Office.

Marigold Ointment!

Remember is Warranted for External Piles, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Nettle Rash, Hives, and all Diseases of the Skin and Scalp, Old Sores, Chilblains, Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Chapped Hands, Cold Sores, Cracks in Hands and Lips, Ingrowing Nails, Inflamed Joints, and everything else for which an Ointment is required

Call for Circular and Sample Box Free.

SOLE AGENT FOR ROCKINGHAM COUNTY

William D. Grace, - - - Apothecary.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

FALL AND WINTER OF 1888-89.

Our Assortment of Tailoring Goods is superior in many respects to any of previous years, embracing a Full Line of Goods suitable for

Fall and Winter Overcoatings.

Aslo, a Fine Assortment of the Best

IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC GOODS FOR SUITINGS,

Consisting of Stripes, Checks, Plain and Fancy Woollens and Worsteds in Great Variety.

CHECKS AND STRIPES FOR TROWSERS.

FANCY PATTERNS FOR VESTING.

Prices Reasonable for Fine Work.

WM. P. WALKER, - - MERCHANT TAILOR,

NO. 8 MARKET SQUARE.

THE BEST BONDS ARE POLICIES

IN THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York

THE LARGEST, CHEAPEST AND BEST IN THE WORLD.

Assets - - over $120,000,000.

RICHARD A. MCCURDY, - PRESIDENT.

PROTECTION FOR THE AGED!

At Age of 75 $1000 will purchase an Annuity of $159.06, and other ages in proportion.

Those Desiring Reliable Insurance Should Apply to the Undersigned,

C. M. GIGNOUX, - - GENERAL AGENT,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE OLDEST AND ONLY Republican Morning Paper IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

IF YOU WANT TO BUY OR SELL ANYTHING ADVERTISE IN THE Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 24, 1862. | PORTSMOUTH, N. H., MONDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 19, 1888. | $6 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE. TWO CENTS PER COPY.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1888.

The News!

ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES.

The Count is Mightier Than the Vote.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WHEELING, W. VA., Nov. 18.—Chairman T. S. Riley of the democratic state committee says the official returns show that Fleming, dem., is elected governor by a small majority; rest of state ticket by larger majorities. Legislature on joint ballot, 46 dems., 34 reps., and one labor-union independent.

Now For War.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—The Haytian legation at Washington has received notice that the American steamer Haytian Republic has been condemned by the court at Port-au-Prince, for violating the blockade at St. Marc. The U. S. S. Boston has arrived at Port-au-Prince.

Bad Place to Sleep.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 18.—Michael Healey and Mrs. Mary Hyde were cut to pieces last night while drunk and asleep on the track of the West Shore railroad.

Sudden Death of Prelate Hendley.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LANCASTER, Nov. 18.—Rev. Charles J. Hendley, rector of St. Paul's church ann Grand Prelate of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of New Hampshire, was found dead in his chamber, at 9 o'clock this morning. The cause was doubtless apoplexy. The family are absent in Kansas.

Church Fire at Great Falls.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

GREAT FALLS, Nov. 18.—The High street Methodist church was damaged $3000 by fire this forenoon; it caught from an over-heated furnace.

The World Well Lost.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 18.—Joseph Chamberlain and bride are passing a portion of their honeymoon at Chevy Chase, Capt. and Mrs. Rodgers having placed their old country home at the disposal of the newly wedded couple. Chevy Chase is about as lonesome a place as could well have been settled on for the honeymoon, but the couple appear greatly to enjoy the solitude.

Corned Beef.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

ALBUQUERQUE, NEW MEXICO, Nov. 18.—The grass on the ranges in this region is shorter than for five years past, and a hard winter will cause a loss of millions of dollars ty the stock growers. All cattle shipped up to date have been corn fed. The supply of corn is running low.

His Title of No Use, Now.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LONDON, ENG., Nov. 18.—Wm. Reginald Courtenay, Earl of Devon, is dead, in his 82nd year.

Yellow Fever Redivivus.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle

GAINESVILLE, FLA., Nov. 18.—Surgeon Martin reports five new cases and one death. Money is badly needed.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., Nov. 18.—New cases, 12, with one death. Total cases to date, 4613; deaths, 393.

More Candidates for the Halter.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—About 125 men gathered this afternoon at Griff's hall and organized a society for the purpose of avenging the anarchists, and agitation among free-thinking laborers of Chicago. The new society was named Arbeiter Band. A committee of three was appointed to draft a constitution to be submitted at a meeting to be held next Sunday. The society appointed committees to hold agitation meetings, and work up organizations all over the city.

The C. B. & Q. Resuming Its Extension.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LINCOLN, NEB., Nov. 18—When the strike on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad occurred, all the engineers in the employ of the company surveying the extension of the line westward, were discharged, and the work of the extension suspended. The company has reinstated its corps of engineers, and preparations are in progress to extend the C. B. &. Q., lines 300 miles westward to Wyoming during next year, which will bring it nearly to National Park.

He Preferred Death to Embarrsasment.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Charles Eich, a German cook, was to have been married at 5 o'clock today to Eva Henreither, but failed to appear, and when the lady went to Eich's lodgings to learn what caused the delay, she found him dead by his own hand. Eich was out of work and money, and it is supposed that despondency over his prospects impelled him to suicide.

Took a Dose of Cold Lead.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

KANSAS CITY, MO., Nov. 18.—A desperado named Queen was shot and killed near Vinita, Indian Territory, Friday night, by district sheriff Carver and posse. Frank Barber, who was with Queen, had a horse shot under him, but escaped. Queen was in the Missouri Pacific robbery at Gibson, I. T., last spring, and was wanted in different parts of the southwest on several charges.

A Rough Passage.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Cunard steamer Etruria arrived to-day in a little over seven days, after worst passage she ever had. Was boarded by a huge wave last Tuesday, which killed George N. Arnold, a seaman, and badly hurt five others.

An Old Lady Murdered.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

BRAINTREE, Mass., Nov. 18.—Miss Mehitable White, aged 64, who carried on a large farm at the "Five Corners," was found in her barn to-day dead, having been brutally murdered. Suspicion rests on a hired man named John Thompson, who had only worked on the farm a week, and has disappeared. The house was ransacked.

Tramp Train-Robbers Caught.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

PALMER, MASS., Nov. 18.—Seven tramps arrested here last night have been identified as among those who attacked a Boston & Albany train at Indian Orchard yesterday. Three others will probably be caught in a few hours.

Wicked 'Frisco Scared.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Nov. 18.—A sharp shock of earthquake was felt here this afternoon; it lasted ten seconds, and many people rushed into the streets. It was felt throughout central California.

BELGRADE, SERVIA, Nov. 18.—At a recent sitting of the revision commission, King Milan declared that he would as little tolerate the Russian eagle at Constantinoble as the Austrian eagle at Jolonica.

BERLIN, Nov. 18,—Emperor Frederick's widow and daughter started for England to-day, and were escorted to the railway station by the emperor.

MARITIME NOTES.

The steamer Pinafore came in from Appledore island on Sunday with a number of workmen who have been engaged in the construction of the two new summer cottages there, work on which has been suspended for the winter, they being now in so advanced a state that it will be an easy matter to finish them in the spring in time for occupancy with the advent of hot weather.

The schooner Mary Willey, Capt. Zach. Williams, went down to the lower harbor on Friday, and sailed Saturday for Portland and Bangor. She took down east a quantity of apples, and on her return from Bangor will bring her last load of lumber for this season.

The schooner, Unison, Wright master, from Phippsburg, Me., for Boston with lumber, while going out of the river one day last week went ashore on the Black Jacks, but was got off, and returned to Phippsburg Centre to procure an anchor and chain.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

The foremen in the departments at the navy yard, after being laid off for a few days under the recent order suspending all work, were called on last week under an old law or regulation requiring them to be continued on duty. This is right; there should certainly be some one to look after the property on the yard, whether any work is being done there or not.

Seven machinists, a blacksmith and a helper were taken on in the department of steam engineering at the navy yard on Saturday, to work on the steam launch being built for the training station; also one man in the foundry, and one boiler maker to work on the tug Leyden. The launch is getting well along; her boiler and pumps are in, and her propeller on.

DOVER.

SATURDAY, Nov. 17th.

Ald. Walker is going to have an investigation made of the buying of Garrison Hill by the city. That's right; if everything isn't straight and above board, the citizens want to know it. The police station investigation will only result in showing a lavish use of money on a bad thing, and we'll have to make the best of it.

Everything looks favorable for a big turnout to Portsmouth on Monday night. The Harrison and Morton Guards, Union Jacks, Ben Levi Club, and Ward Four Coons, will be on hand with full ranks. Besides these, many citizens will go down and yell themselves hoarse, and take in the good time.

Trouble is still brewing in the Italian camp. They have received their pay in full, all but fifteen days, which the contractor has a right to keep back, but they cannot seem to understand this part of it, and blame Mr. Dacey. Those who are not working persist in following him around, and this noon while in Lawyer Whittemore's office a crowd of them gathered on the sidewalk to wait for him. Marshal Fogarty and officer Caverly, however, succeeded in keeping them quiet, and later the crowd left. More trouble is anticipated.

Water was let into the new pipes this morning from the Cocheco Mfg. Co.'s pipes, and the hydrant in front of Nealley's store tested. The pipe on the bridge was found to leak a little, but a good stream of water was forced through the hose. In this way the pipe will be tested all over the city.

Sawyer Post, No. 12, G. A. R., of this city, will hold a fair and levee at the Opera House, Dec. 11 12 and 13.

George Q. Dow, who has for a long while been salesman at Lothrop, Farnham & Co.'s, left yesterday for Minneapolis, where he will engage in business.

Local politics are getting to a boiling point. Candidates for city offices are thicker than "fiddlers in Boston." Ward one thinks either Ralph Hough or Freeman Babb will get there for alderman. Geo. H. Hanson and John F. Hasty would like to represent that ward in the council room. In ward two, Ed. S. Tash is spoken of for alderman, and Walter D. Foss and N. C. Wentworth for councilmen. Homer Caverly would like to fill an alderman's chair from ward four, and C. H. Prime and B. D. Stewart are on the list for councilmen. Wards two and five are quiet, but will be heard from in time.

Orlando Churbuck has resigned as president of the Dover Clerks, and W. J. Card has been elected in his stead. Frank S. Tompkins, treasurer, has also resigned, and Wm. E. Stone will hereafter handle the cash.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Asa Tuttle took place from her daughter's home on Court street, this afternoon. Interment in Pine Hill cemetery.

Josiah Hobbs, formerly in the Patent office at Washington, is in town visiting friends.

While Contractor Dacey was riding this noon near the American House, some of the Italians caught the reins and stopped the horse. But for the prompt appearance of the police, mischief would probably have been done.

Mr. and Mrs. Moses W. Sterns and Myer M. Sterns leave Monday for New York.

The Cocheco Rifle Club had their weekly target school at the city farm this afternoon.

There was a slight fall of snow last night—just enough for the boys to make a snow ball.

The Royal Templars will have an entertainment and supper at Pythian hall, next Monday night.

Mr. Wm. Stearns has so far recovered from his recent illness as to be able to sit up. MAC.

HEADQUARTERS DOVER BATTALION.

DOVER, N. H., Nov. 19, 1888.

The Dover Battalion is hereby ordered to report to the Colonel on Central square, Dover, this (Monday) evening at 7:30 o'clock, prepared to go to Portsmouth to attend their demonstration. Companies will report at their several armories at 7 o'clock. Special train will leave at 7:45.

All uniformed members of the several companies are earnestly requested to report; if however, any cannot, they are requested to bring their uniforms to their respective armories that they may be filled.

This is the closing demonstration of the campaign clubs, and we want to give Portsmouth a rousing send off.

"Rally 'round the flag boys,
Rally once again."

The Portsmouth committee hired the Dover Cornet Band by telephone, last evening, to furnish music for this Battalion. JOSEPH S. ABBOTT, Col.

OBITUARY.

In the usual place in our columns will be found the announcement of the death of Mr. Thomas Tredick, one of the old-time merchants of Portsmouth, who quietly passed away at his home on Sunday morning at the age of nearly eighty-nine years, he having been born in this city on the 20th of December, 1799. Mr. Tredick was engaged in the dry goods trade in this city from early manhood to the year 1877, with the exception of a few years spent in the same business at Dover, at Philadelphia, Pa., and the west. His father, Henry Tredick, and his grandfather, William Tredick, were Portsmouth merchants. He was the last of a family of thirteen children, nearly all of whom lived to be over seventy years of age.

Mr. Tredick leaves a widow and five sons. William S. and Appleton are located in the west; Thomas is of this city, Charles of Philadelphia, Pa., and C. Morris of Malden, Mass. All of them will reach home in time to attend the funeral, which will be held on Wednesday at No. 88 State street.

In order to better accommodate the public, the New York and New England Railroad have changed the time of the ten A. M. Boston and New York to twelve noon. Business men will appreciate this change, as it will allow them the forenoon for business and enable them to reach either city in ample time for dinner, theatres, etc. It should also be remembered that a sumptuous dinner is served on a dining car on this train, and elegant parlor cars and coaches run through without change.

Now is the Time to Look Over Your Wardrobe and See What You Need for Winter, and

SIMPSON'S CORNER STORE

Is the place where you can find everything you need in Gentlemen's Wear, at Remarkably Low Prices, for Cash.

— WE HAVE A FULL LINE OF —

OVERCOATS!

Ranging in Prices from $5 to $25.

— A NEW LOT OF —

ULSTERS!

From $6 to $20.

— A FINE ASSORTMENT OF —

FURNISHING GOODS.

☞ Headquarters for OIL and RUBBER CLOTHING, Wholesale and Retail.

Come and See for Yourselves at the Old Stand,

Corner Market and Bow Streets,

CHARLES E. SIMPSON.

J. L.

Thanksgiving, '88.

500 lbs. Layer Figs.
2,000 lbs. Malaga Grapes.
100 boxes Fancy New Raisins.
500 lbs. New Citron.
500 lbs. New Currants.
50 doz. boxes New Sardines.
New Nuts of all Kinds.
New Cider. Bottled Cider. Wines, etc.

The largest and best stock in the city.

JOHN LAIGHTON,

No. 1 Market Square.

Always on Time,
NEW YORK & NEW ENGLAND,
Trains for New York.

Leave Portsmouth, via Boston & Maine R. R. at 11:05 a. m. 7:40 p. m. Arrive at Boston 1:15, 9:30 p. m

Leave Boston, ¶12.00 noon, §*3.00, 11.30 p. m. Ar. New York, 6.30, *3.00 p. m., 6.35 a. m. Parlor and Sleeping Cars through without change.
¶Dining Car between Boston and Hartford.
§Dining Car between Boston and Wilmantic.
*2.00 p. m. runs daily, including Sundays.
Through tickets at offices, North and East.
Baggage checked through.
Ticket offices—332 Washington St, and Depot foot of Summer St, Boston.
eadtf17

WANTED SALESMEN to sell Nursery Stock. All Goods Warranted FIRST-CLASS. Permanent, pleasant, profitable positions for the right men. Good salaries and expenses paid weekly. Liberal inducements to beginners. No previous experience necessary. Outfit free. Write for terms, giving age. CHARLES H. CHASE, Nurseryman, Rochester, N. Y. Mention this Paper. *mo21

Marigold Ointment!

Remember is Warranted for External Piles, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Nettle Rash, Hives, and all Diseases of the Skin and Scalp, Old Sores, Chilblains, Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Chapped Hands, Cold Sores, Cracks in Hands and Lips, Ingrowing Nails, Inflamed Joints, and everything else for which an Ointment is required

Call for Circular and Sample Box Free.

— SOLE AGENT FOR ROCKINGHAM COUNTY —

William D. Grace, - - - Apothecary.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE BEST BONDS ARE POLICIES

— IN THE —

Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York

THE LARGEST, CHEAPEST AND BEST IN THE WORLD.

Assets - - over $120,000,000.

RICHARD A. MCCURDY, - PRESIDENT.

PROTECTION FOR THE AGED!

At Age of 75 $1000 will purchase an Annuity of $159.06, and other ages in proportion.

Those Desiring Reliable Insurance Should Apply to the Undersigned,

C. M. GIGNOUX, - - GENERAL AGENT,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

"1888" OPENING OF "1888"

FALL AND WINTER DRY GOODS

At the Well-Known Store,

NOS. 30 and 32 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH.

Ayers & Locke, Proprietors.

Can be found the Largest Assortment of

SEASONABLE DRY GOODS MERCHANDISE.

LARGEST ASSORTMENT OF OUTSIDE GARMENTS.

For Ladies, Misses and Children,

New Goods of this Season's Manufacture.

All are Invited to Examine

OUR STOCK OF CLOAKS!

Before Purchasing Elsewhere.

Silk and Gloria RAIN UMBRELLAS! Ladies' Gossamers.

THE F. P. ROBINSON CO. BLACK STOCKINGS.

"CLEANFAST" NONE ARE GENUINE WITHOUT THIS TRADE MARK ON EACH PAIR.

Mohair and Gingham RAIN UMBRELLAS! Children's Gossamers.

Largest Assortment of Dress Goods in Portsmouth.

In fact, the Best Assortment in their Line of everything pertaining to a

FIRST-CLASS STOCK OF DRY GOODS.

NEW CARPETS! NEW CARPETS!
HOUSEKEEPING GOODS! &C.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS IN OUR UNDEWEARR DEPARTMENT.

Small Wares, Trimmings, Ribbons, Gloves.
Yarns, Knitting Silks, &c.
Corsets, Bustles, &c.

Largest Assortment of Fall and Winter Skirts in all the Desirable Fabrics

Which they are desirous of exchanging for Cash on a basis for value that will compare favorably with Boston and New York prices.

AYERS & LOCKE.

Furnaces, Ranges & Stoves.

We are now ready to show the Finest Line of

RANGES AND PARLOR STOVES

Ever offered in this city, at Prices within the reach of all. Call and See Them Before Buying, it will Pay You.

LAMPS! LAMPS!

Our Stock of Lamps is Complete, the Lux Dux, Rochester, Banner, Duplex,

All First-Class, and will be Sold at the Lowest Prices.

PLUMBING, GAS PIPING, COPPER AND SHEET IRONWORK, AT

John P. Sweetser's,

46 MARKET STREET.

JOSIAH F. ADAMS

Embalmer and Funeral Director,

WAREROOMS: NO. 5 DANIEL ST.

Coffins, Caskets and Robes Always on Hand. Hearse and Carriages Furnished. Cemetery Lots Cared For, &c.

☞ Orders by day or night left at No. 25 Washington St., or with Mr. Robert King, No. 6 Hill St., will receive prompt attention.

LOOK AT THIS

Heavy, Substantial Cooking Range,

"THE ALMONER."

Plain for $16.00, Worth $25.00

To anyone in need of a First Class Range. Examine this before purchasing elsewhere.

— ALSO A FULL LINE OF —

MAGEE FURNACES, RANGES & STOVES.

Plumbing, Gas Fitting, Tin and Sheet Iron Work of All Kinds.

C. W. TAYLOR.

42 & 44 MARKET STREET.

USE NETTEZZA!

FOR THE TEETH.

PREPARED BY E. C. BLAISDELL, D. M. D.

Price 25 Cents.

— FOR SALE BY —

A. P. PRESTON, D. KIMBALL & CO., W. D. GRACE, F. B. COLEMAN AND BENJ. GREEN.

The Portsmouth Daily Chronicle,

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 2, 1852.

Published every morning, except Sunday, at No. 7 Exchange Building, Pleasant Street.

By mail, postage prepaid, $5 a year. Single Copies, Two Cents.

THE CHRONICLE is served to subscribers in Portsmouth, Kittery, Dover, Rochester and Farmington at 50 Cents per month, hours in advance of any other paper containing the Associated Press Despatches.

The New Hampshire Gazette,

ESTABLISHED OCT. 7, 1756.

The Oldest Newspaper in America. Published every Thursday.

Terms, $1.50 a year in advance.

[Entered at the Post Office at Portsmouth as second class matter.]

W. SCOTT SMITH,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

Rates of advertising made known on application.

Agents for the Daily Chronicle:

MOSES BROS.....PORTSMOUTH.
ROBERTS & AVERY.....FARMINGTON
WORCESTER & GREENFIELD..ROCHESTER
BROWNE BROS.....DOVER.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

MONDAY, NOV. 19, 1888.

What Will They Do With Him?

This is the question flying from mouth to mouth among our citizens, as the Palmer trial draws towards it end. Public interest is not on the wane, but is increasing as the time draws near when the jury shall come in, and declare their finding. Will it be, guilty of murder in the first degree? or guilty of murder in the second degree? or will they clear the accused? To discuss the outcome is idle, until after the arguments have been made and the judge has charged the the jury.

What General Grant said in 1876 is interesting just now: "Whenever the democratic party comes near to complete control of the country, it will break its back across the Alleghany mountains on the tariff question."

The Belfast Journal remarks: "It might be said that the election had knocked the Mugwumps silly—but come to think of it they were silly before."

We are astonished at parties who introduce new remedies for coughs when they should know the people will have Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

"Kings are like stars, they rise and set." They have headaches, cuts, and hurts like meaner men, and are just as sure to call for Salvation Oil.

—Political orator (furiously)—"Now, fellow-citizens, if this man is elected what will be the result?" A voice—"His opponent will be defeated."

"For twenty years I have suffered with a severe bronchial cough, never lying down without a severe attack of the same. After much pursuasion, I was induced to try Adamson's Balsam, and its good effects for six months are certainly marvellous. Please use this truthful testimony for the advantage of all sufferers like myself.
Mrs. Wm. Alden, Duxbury, Mass., Feb. 21, 1887.

—Children shrink from being washed. The same may be said of socks.

Be Your Own Doctor.

It won't cost you half as much. Do not delay. Send three 2-cent stamps for postage, and we will send you Dr. Kaufmann's great work, fine colored plates from life, on disease, its causes, and home cure. Address A. P. Ordway, & Co., Boston, Mass.

—The average pullet takes her eggsit in the spring.

Ringing Noises

In the ears, sometimes a roaring buzzing sound are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smelling or hearing also result from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood. If you suffer from catarrh, try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the peculiar medicine.

Gunner George L. Albro is ordered to the St. Louis.

Trial proves that honesty is the best policy in medicine as well as in other things. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a genuine preparation, an unequalled blood purifier, decidedly superior to all others.

—Minister—"Bertie, do you know where the little boys go who catch fish on Sunday?" Bertie—"Yes, sir; most of them go down to Jonhson's creek."

Hundreds of letters from those using Hall's Hair Vigor attest its value as a restorer of gray hair to its natural color. As a stimulant and tonic, preventing and curing baldness, and cleansing the scalp, its use cannot be too strongly recommended.

—"Physician, heal thyself!" is an injuction promulgated centuries ago, and now some of the older practitioners are pretty well heeled.

Catarrh originates in scrofulous taint. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and thus permanently cures catarrh.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. mon.wed.fri.&tu1

THE UBIQUITOUS HEBREW.

His Adaptability to All Climates and Conditions—Jews Found Everywhere.

It has been frequently remarked that the Jewish race has a wonderful power of adaptation to all climates. Jews are found in all parts of the globe, and seem to possess a remarkable facility for acclimatization, even under the most unfavorable circumstances. Mesopotamia is considered the mother country of the Abrahamic family, as well as the cradle of the human race. Some years ago a small colony of Jews were found in the ancient city of Sennar, in the south of Mesopotamia, and in the vicinity of ancient Babylon. Of the seventy families composing the colony one claimed to be descended from King Joschim, the rest from the house of Levi. A colony of Jews appear to have settled in China about the beginning of the Third century of the Christian era, under the dynasty of Han. In 1704 Father Gouzani, a Roman Catholic missionary, found seven families near Pekin.

In 1686 a Portuguese Jew of Amsterdam, named De Pavia, discovered a sect of Jews in Cochin China. According to a tradition preserved among them, they were descended from a tribe of Jews who had quitted Palestine on the destruction of the second temple. From their long residence in Cochin they had become completely bronzed. These are not the same as the Malabar Jews. The Jewish traveler Benjamin, sometimes called Benjamin the Second, discovered a colony of Jews, evidently of Persian origin, in Hindostan. They were known as "Babylonian Jews," on account of their having migrated from Babylonia. They observed the essential rites of Judaism, and strictly avoided intermarriage with other sects. In the beginning of the Seventeenth century a Jewish colony settled in Cayenne, in the West Indies, one of the most inhospitable climates in South America.

Cayenne was subsequently conquered by the French, who made it a penal settlement, and the Jewish colony was forced to retire to Surinam. Notwithstanding frequent persecutions, Jews are still found in Persia, more especially to the south of the Caspian sea, where the soil is very fertile, but the climate very unhealthy. The principal city is Balprosh, where about 150 Jewish families reside in almost complete isolation. They trade with their brethren in Great Tartary, and are engaged in the wool and silk trade or in the sale of citrons. They, too, trace their origin from the Babylonian captivity, for, according to a tradition still possessed among them, their ancestors settled in Persia in the time of Nebuchadnezzar, and did not respond to the appeal of Ezra to return to Palestine. Their mode of life resembles that of the Persians in general. They hold the beard in high esteem, and wear long flowing robes. They have several synagogues, and obtain scrolls of the law from Bagdad. The celebrated African traveler, Mungo Park, found a colony of Jewish families in the heart of Africa, about 800 miles from the coast. It is no doubt this peculiarity of the Jewish race which induced a French writer on "Medical Geography" to express the opinion that "it is questionable whether the crossing of human varieties confers on the issue constant advantages in relation to the species; for the Jewish race seems in a wonderful manner capable of adapting itself to every change of climate, while others are scarcely able to bear the least change."

The Jew is found in every part of the world; in Europe, from Norway to Gibraltar; in Africa, from Algiers to the Cape of Good Hope; in Asia, from Cochin to the Caucasus; from Jaffa to Pekin. He has peopled Australia, and has given proofs of his powers of acclimatization under the tropics, where people of European origin have constantly failed to perpetuate themselves.—Jewish World.

An Eccentric Drug.

Among the standard medicines quoted in the medical books of Nuremburg of 200 years ago are "portions of the embalmed bodies of man's flesh, brought from the neighborhood of Memphis, where there are many bodies that have been buried for more than 1,000 years, called mumia, which have been embalmed with costly salves and balsams, and smell strongly of myrrh, aloes and other fragrant things."

The learned doctors of France, Germany and Italy all made great use of this eccentric drug, and in the Seventeenth century grievous complaints arose of its adulteration. M. Poinet, chief apothecary to the French king, records that the king's physician went to Alexandria to judge for himself in this matter, and, having made friends with a Jewish dealer in mummies, was admitted to his storehouse, where he saw piles of bodies. He asked what kind of bodies were used and how they were prepared. The Jew informed him that he took such bodies as he could get, whether they died of some disease or some contagion. He embalmed them with the sweepings of various old drugs, myrrh, aloes, pitch and gum; wound them about with a cere cloth and then dried them in an oven, after which he sent them to Europe, and marveled to see the Christians were lovers of such filthiness. But even this revelation did not suffice to put mummy physic out of fashion, and we know that Francis I, of France, always carried with him a well filled medicine chest, of which this was the principal ingredient.

C-O-A-L-!

All Kinds and Sizes Delivered Well Screened.

E. F. SISE & CO.

First Quality Wood:

Liverpool and Turks Island

S-A-L-T.

In Bulk and Sacks. Salt in Boxes. Boston and Portia Brands.

TELEPHONE.

ILSLEY & MOORE,

Fire Life and Accident Insurance Agents and Brokers No. 3 Pleasant St., Portsmouth N. H.

NOTICE!—The undersigned gives notice to all whom it may concern, that he has purchased from the senior member of the old firm of MORSE & ILSLEY, all rights to the Fire Insurance Business not etofore carried on by that firm, and is duly authorized by all the Companies represented by them to have and hold all their records. WINGATE N. ILSLEY.

Facilities for placing the largest lines of Fire Insurance in the best Companies.

Agents for the Equitable Life Ins. Society of the U. S. New England Mutual Life Ins. Co. of Boston, Mass., and the Fidelity & Casualty Ins Co., of New York. sept

Edwin Forrest at Washington.

One night, during the war, Forrest was at Washington. The play was "Richelieu." President Lincoln, accompanied by Forney, Seward and several prominent members of the administration, was seated in a private box at the left of the stage. In political opinions Forrest was directly opposed to them. When the grand apostrophe to the pen occurred Mr. Forrest rose, solemnly and deliberately, facing the president's box. With pen held majestically aloft, his eyes flashing fire, the tones of that wonderful voice vibrating through the theatre, and speaking with unusual deliberation and emphasis, he gave such a rendering of Bulwer's lines as must have astonished the president.

Beneath the rule of men entirely great
The pen is mightier than the sword.
Take away the sword,
States can be saved without it.

He looked the whole party squarely in the face, as much as to say: "And that's my personal opinion, too." The shot hit its mark. There ensued some whispered remarks between Forney and Lincoln, and a deprecatory shake of the head on the part of the latter, accompanied by dubious elevation of the eyebrows, as much as to say: "Well, I never heard that passage read that way before."—Dr. Kane in Baltimore American.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

Distress After Eating

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." GEORGE A. PAGE, Watertown, Mass.

Sick Headache

Heart-burn

Sour Stomach

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

The reason why small money-lenders do not, all of them, send their money west to be lent is because they do not know how to do so safely.

There is no more danger than in crossing the street, if you know your bank. But be careful about your lender.

Send for a primer on western lending; free.

THE KANSAS CITY INVESTMENT COMPANY, Kansas City, Missouri; or Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

$100,000

Janesville, Wis., Water Co.

First Mortgage 6% Bonds.

DUE AUGUST 1, 1907.

Secured by a Sinking Fund. Descriptive Circulars furnished on application.

Brewster, Cobb & Estabrook,

35 Congress St., Boston.

BURNETT'S

PERFECTLY PURE HIGHLY CONCENTRATED

Standard Flavoring

EXTRACTS

The superiority of these Extracts consist in their

Perfect Purity and Great Strength.

JOHN H. BROUHTON,

No. 66 Daniel St., Portsmouth, N. H.

DEALER IN

EASTERN AND WESTERN

LUMBER!

Shingles, Clapboards and Laths.

ALSO

Best Newark Hydraulic Cement, Best Extra and No. 1 Lime

FOR SALE AT LOWEST PRICES.

E. C. BLAISDELL, D. M. D.,

(SUCCESSOR TO DR. F. J. BONNEY.)

Dental Rooms 1 1-2 Market Street.

Better Far

than the many Medals and Diplomas awarded to

Pearline

Washing Compound

by Expositions, State and County Fairs throughout this land, is the one great laurel it wears—Success. Many millions of packages are required every year to supply the demand created by intelligence. Give PEARLINE a fair trial—you don't have to be over-bright to see that it saves time and labor, and wear and tear of both body and clothes. It takes the drudgery out of washing and cleaning—does this work better than anything known, and withal is perfectly harmless. Every grocer sells PEARLINE. Beware of the many imitations which are pushed on the public by prizes and peddling—they're dangerous. JAMES PYLE, New York.

It Is the Original & Best. JAMES PYLE'S PEARLINE. For Cleaning House. For Washing Clothes. For Washing Dishes. For Saving Labor. For Saving Time & Money. It is Harmless.

EASTERN OFFICE OF

Kansas City Investment Co.,

OVER FIRST NATIONAL BANK, PORTSMOUTH.

CITY MORTGAGES, FARM MORTGAGES, DEBENTURE BONDS, REAL ESTATE NOTES

INTEREST PAYABLE HERE AT MATURITY.

W. G. MYERS V. P.

CORTICELLI Wash Silk.

The colors are warranted not to stain the most delicate fabric in washing with warm water and Castile soap. Sold in four distinct sizes:—G., extra coarse, called Rope;—BB, coarse, called Embroidery;—No. 500, medium, called Outline,—and a fine size called Floss. This last is sometimes known as Filo Floss, and is sold in the Corticelli brand on spools only. NONOTUCK SILK CO., Sole Makers, 19 Summer Street, Boston.

Insurance Notice.

THE OLD INSURANCE AGENCY,

AT THE OLD STAND,

No. 13 Pleasant Street,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

JOSEPH P. MORSE,

25 CORDS

DRY PINE LIMBS!

At $3.50 Per Cord.

The Very Best of Fuel at a Low Price.

O. F. PHILBRICK & CO.,

COAL AND WOOD DEALERS,

4 Water Street.

WOOD AND COAL!

A Good Assortment of all kinds of Wood and Coal.

Kindling Wood Split to Order.

ALSO

Akron Drain and Sewer Pipe.

NO. 13 GREEN STREET,

DANIEL LITTLEFIEL

STEPHEN D. SCRIGGINS,

Carriage Painter,

NO. 16 Vaughan Street, Portsmouth, N. H.

Having spacious and good accommodations and long and large experience he solicits patronage in his line.

Look in at Conn's

AND SEE THE

BUTTER!

From the very best Dairies in Vermont and New York. Creameries are of no account compared with these Dairies. Also,

Cheese Pork, Lard, Hams, Beans Etc

No Oleo or Second-Hand Stuff kept.

The very best quality of LARD bought by the car load, which I am selling less than the Boston prices.

DR. S. F. HAM,

Of Hotel Bristol, Boston, will receive patients

Monday and Tuesday

FROM MAY 1st TO NOV. 1st,

And the remainder of the year every Monday.

Office and Residence, 13 COURT ST, Portsmouth N. H.

CITY OF PORTSMOUTH.

PROPOSALS FOR LOAN.

THE City of Portsmouth, N. H., will issue bonds of the par value of about $40,000 dated January 1, 1889, payable January 1, 1909, with interest at four per cent payable semi-annually.

Proposals will be received for the purchase of said bonds, until Saturday, December 1st, at 12 o'clock m. GEORGE E. HODGDON, Mayor. no19dec1

AT

No. 63 Pleasant St

may be now as full and carefully selected a stock of

FINE FANCY AND STAPLE

GROCERIES.

ALSO

BOOTS & SHOES

As at any Store east of Boston.

VERMONT AND CREAMERY

BUTTER & CHEESE.

Lard Sugar, Molasses Syrup Oils. Beans Peas Pickles Crackers. Salt Pork Salt Fish, Sage Maccaroni.

-COFFEES-

Old Government Java and Rio, ground as sold

-TEAS-

Best Qualities Formosa and Japan.

A FULL LINE

CANNED AND SHELF GOODS.

Pure Spices, Raisins, Currants, Cotton, Cocoa, Chocolate, Candied Lemon Peel, and all other Fine Groceries

TOBACCO AND CIGARS.

Brooms, Brushes, Pails, Crockery and Glassware, and a Large

Assortment of Miscellaneous Articles.

Boots and Shoes!

Men's Calf Button Boots,
Men's Calf Balmoral Boots.
Men's Calf French Ties,
Ladies' Kid Button Boots.
Misses' and Children's, Youth's and Boys',
All Sizes and Kinds.

We make the best selections possible, paying Cash; and for Cash will sell as low as the lowest

Orders filled with care and delivered free to any part of the city.

JOHN J. LASKEY,

NO. 63 PLEASANT STREET.

BOOK BINDING

Of Every Desciption,

DONE AT

NO. 5 CONGRESS STREET,

(OVER FAY'S STORE.)

Magazines and other Periodicals Bound in Styles to Suit Patrons; Especial Attention given to

REBINDING OLD BOOKS!

For Libraries or Individuals; in short, any work of the kind promptly attended to, and satisfaction guaranteed. Prices reasonable.

JOHN D. RANDALL.

THIS PAPER is on file in Philadelphia at the Newspaper Advertising Agency of Messrs. N. W. AYER & SON, our authorized agents.

To-Night and To-Morrow Night,

And each day and night during this week you can get at all druggists Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, acknowledged to be the most successful remedy ever sold for the cure of Coughs, Croup, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption. Get a bottle to-day and keep it always in the house, so you can check your cough at the first symptom. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Sample bottle free.

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam, for Coughs and Colds, does it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles at 50c and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

HUNT'S REMEDY

RELIEVES the Kidneys;
REVIVES the Liver;
SOLD UNIVERSALLY.

COMFORT

FOR

COLD AND TENDER FEET!

Persons troubled with cold or tender feet will find warmth and ease in the use of

DOLGE'S ALL WOOL FELT

Slipners and Shoes

For which the undersigned is agent in this City and Vicinity.

AT THE STORE

No. 34 Market Street

Can be found a Full Line of these Goods, in many patterns of Slippers, Shoes and Boots, and several colors, for house, office or street wear,

Of Men and Boys, Women and Girls.

Please examine our Stock.

J. C. CARR.

CAUTION

Beware of Fraud, as my name and the price are stamped on the bottom of all my advertised shoes before leaving the factory, which protect the wearer against high prices and inferior goods. If a dealer offers W. L. Douglas shoes at a reduced price, or says he has them without my name and price stamped on the bottom, put him down as a fraud.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE. FOR GENTLEMEN.

The only calf $3 SEAMLESS Shoe smooth inside. NO TACKS or WAX THREAD to hurt the feet, and the best hand-sewed and WILL NOT RIP.

W. L. DOUGLAS $4 SHOE, the original and only hand-sewed welt $4 shoe. Equals custom-made shoes costing from $6 to $8.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.50 POLICE SHOE. Railroad Men and Letter Carriers all wear them. Smooth inside as a Hand-Sewed Shoe. No Tacks or Wax Thread to hurt the feet.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.50 SHOE is unexcelled for heavy wear. Best Calf Shoe for the price.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.25 WORKINGMAN'S SHOE is the best in the world for rough wear; one pair ought to wear a man a year.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2 SHOE FOR BOYS is the best School Shoe in the world.

W. L. DOUGLAS $1.75 YOUTH'S School Shoe gives the small Boys a chance to wear the best shoes in the world.

All made in Congress, Button and Lace. If not sold by your dealer, write

W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

FOR SALE BY

OREN BRAGDON & SON,

NO. 24 MARKET STREET

NOTICE!

FALL

AND WINTER

STYLES

NOW READY!

AT

MRS. TEBBETTS',

NO. 14 MARKET STREET.

EAT QUAKER MILLS TRADE MARK. ROLLED WHITE OATS FOR BREAKFAST. SOLD BY ALL GROCERS. Quaker Mill Co., Ravenna, Ohio.

GOLD MEDAL, PARIS, 1878.

BAKER'S

Breakfast Cocoa.

Warranted absolutely pure Cocoa, from which the excess of Oil has been removed. It has three times the strength of Cocoa mixed with Starch, Arrowroot or Sugar, and is therefore far more economical, costing less than one cent a cup. It is delicious, nourishing, strengthening, easily digested, and admirably adapted for invalids as well as for persons in health.

Sold by Grocers everywhere.

W. BAKER & CO., Dorchester, Mass.

RAYMOND'S VACATION EXCURSIONS.

All Travelling Expenses Included.

A party will leave Boston Monday, January 14, 1889, for a

Grand Tour of 82 Days,

THROUGH THE SOUTHERN STATES,

MEXICO,

AND

CALIFORNIA.

The outward route is via Buffalo, Suspension Bridge, Detroit, Toledo, Cincinnati, New Orleans, etc.

The entire round of travel through the South and Mexico will be made in a Special Train of Magnificent Vestibuled Pullman Palace Cars, inclusive of Pullman Palace Dining-Car. All the leading points and places of historic and picturesque interest to be visited, including Guadalajara and the City of Mexico (where ten days will be passed). A Six Days' Trip over the Mexican Railway. A two-weeks' Complete Round of California, with special trains returning through the grand scenic sections of Utah, Colorado, etc. The time in California will be extended at pleasure, with seven different dates of return under special escort. The tickets also good on any train until July.

Second and Last Tour through the Southern States, Mexico and California.—February 1.

Grand Tour of 47 Days through the Southern States and Mexico (omitting California).—March 12.

California Excursions.—December 6; January 7 and 10; February 7, 11, and 28; March 7 and 11.

Washington Excursions (the only ones this season).—January 15 and February 15.

W. RAYMOND. I. A. WHITCOMB.

Send for descriptive circulars, designating the tour desired.

W. RAYMOND,

296 Washington St. (opposite School St.), BOSTON, MASS. no19

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in half pound tins, by Grocers, labelled thus:

JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England.

WE WANT A GOOD ENERGETIC SALESMAN in every town and city TO SOLICIT ORDERS FOR FRAMING PICTURES. BEST OUTFIT IN THE WORLD and a permanent situation. Address H. B. WARDWELL, Lewiston, Me.

POSITIVELY CLOSING WEEKS

GRAND CYCLORAMA

BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG,

541 Tremont St., Boston.

Don't fail to see this great battle scene at once.

A new subject now being painted will take its place in this building January 1st.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, the great Medical Work of the age on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline, Errors of Youth, and the untold miseries consequent thereon, 300 pages 8 vo., 125 prescriptions for all diseases. Cloth, full gilt, only $1.00, by mail, sealed. Illustrative sample free to all young and middle-aged men. Send now. The Gold and Jewelled Medal awarded to the author by the National Medical Association. Address P.O. Box 1895, Boston, Mass., or Dr. W. H. PARKER, graduate of Harvard Medical College, 25 years' practice in Boston, who may be consulted confidentially. Office, No. 4 Bulfinch St. Specialty, Diseases of Man.

Cut this out. You may never see it again.

MARVELOUS MEMORY DISCOVERY.

Any book learned in one reading
Mind wandering cured.
Speaking without notes.
Piracy condemned by Supreme Court.
Great inducements to correspondence classes

Prospectus, with opinions of Dr. Wm. A. Hammond, the world famed Specialist in Mind diseases, Daniel Greenleaf Thompson, the great Psychologist, J. M. Buckley, D. D., Editor of the Christian Advocate, Richard Proctor, the Scientist, Hons. Judge Gibson, Judah P. Benjamin, and others, sent post free by

Prof. A. LOISETTE, 237 Fifth Ave., New York.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Grey Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

The three-story (above the grade floor)

BRICK STORE BUILDING

NO. 18 BOW STREET,

running back over the wharf to the river, occupied for a long time by the late Charles Robinson as a wholesale corn and flour store. Sold to close up an estate. Enquire of

J. P. MORSE, Real Estate Broker.

GRANITE STATE Fire Insurance Company,

OF PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

PAID-UP CAPITAL, - $200,000

OFFICERS:

President, FRANK JONES.
Vice President, JOHN W. SANBORN.
Secretary, ALFRED F. HOWARD.
Treasurer, JOHN LAIGHTON.
Executive Committee, FRANK JONES, JOHN W. SANBORN, CHARLES A. SINCLAIR, EDWIN WALLACE and E. N. WINCHESTER.

TRAVELLER'S GUIDE.

TRAINS LEAVE

Portsmouth for Boston, 4.05, 7.25, 9.20, 11.05 a. m., 2.55, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4.00 p. m.

Boston for Portsmouth, 7.30, 9.00, 10.40 a. m., 12.30, 3.20, 4.40, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.20 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

Portsmouth for Portland, 9.55, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m.

Portland for Portsmouth, 7.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.00, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 2.00 a. m.

Portsmouth for Dover, 4.20, 9.43 a. m., 12.23, 3.58, 5.22 p. m.

Dover for Portsmouth, 6.55, 10.20 a. m., 1.35, 4.50, 8.40 p. m.

Portsmouth for York Beach, 9.35, 11.10 a. m., 3.35 p. m.

York Beach for Portsmouth, 6.40, 10.00 a. m., 1.40 p. m.

Portsmouth for Concord, 7.35 a. m., 1.06, 5.15 p. m.

Concord for Portsmouth, 7.20, 10.20 a. m., 3.25 p. m.

Portsmouth for Manchester, 7.35 a. m., 1.06, 5.15 p. m.

Manchester for Portsmouth, 8.15, 11.15 a. m., 4.25 p. m.

TRAINS ARRIVE

In Boston from Portsmouth, 6.20, 9.10, 10.25 a. m., 1.15, 4.15, 7.10, 9.30 p. m. Sundays, 8.30 a. m., 6.30 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Boston, 9.45, 10.45 a. m., 12.2, 3.30, 5.30, 8.45, 9.37 p. m. Sundays, 10.40 a. m., 8.37 p. m.

In Portland from Portsmouth, 12.00 m., 12.35, 4.45, 11.00 p. m. Sundays, 11.00 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Portland, 8.35, 9.44 a. m., 9.20, 7.1 p. m. Sundays, 8.35 a. m.

In Dover from Portsmouth, 8.40, 10.16 a. m., 12.50, 3.35, 5.47 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Dover, 7.32, 10.14 a. m., 9.20, 4.55, 7.11 p. m.

In Concord from Portsmouth, 10.20 a. m., 3.12, 8.25 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Concord, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

In Manchester from Portsmouth, 9.12 a. m., 2.30, 7.20 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Manchester, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

KITTERY AND PORTSMOUTH.

STEAMER MYSTIC.

Leave Bartlett's wharf, Kittery, 6.35, 7.50, 8.45, 10.0, 11.45 a. m., 2.00, 3.15, 4.45, 6.00 p. m. Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 6.30, Saturday evening, 8.30, 8.00.

Leave Broughton's wharf, foot Daniel street, Portsmouth, 7.00, 8.00, 9.30, 11.00 a. m., 12.45, 2.00, 4.00, 5.15, 6.15 p. m., Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7.30, Saturday evenings, 7.30, 9.00

☞ Fare five cents each way.

A FAIR SAMPLE OF 40 SWORN CASES OF THE VALUE OF

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND

THE RADICAL BLOOD PURIFIER.

DIPHTHERIA. SCROFULA.

Miss Lena Judkins, a daughter (17 years old) of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Judkins, 67 Boston St., Lynn, CURED by Dr. Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of very severe case of Scrofula, with Malignant Ulcers of eight years' standing, after 11 Physicians had failed. Almost a miracle. Now in perfect health. Sworn to before HARMON HALL, Justice of the Peace.

SCROFULOUS HUMOR.

Miss Mary Etta Leighton, a daughter (16 yrs. old) of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison G. Leighton, 16 Bickford Court, Lynn, CURED by Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of a deep seated Scrofulous Humor, with discharging eruptions, which had baffled eight physicians and the combined forces of two prominent hospitals. Perfectly cured and without a blemish. Sworn to before CALVIN B. TUTTLE, Justice of the Peace.

Send for circular of 40 Sworn cases. They are solid facts and carry conviction.

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND.

is absolutely the greatest known Remedy for the Radical cure of Scrofula, Cancerous Humors, Diphthcritic or Mineral Blood-Poisoning, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Dropsy and Liver Complaint.

$1. per Bottle (6 for 5). At Druggists.

Lougee Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Laxador An infallible regulator of the Human System. Cures Liver Complaint, Laxador Cures Bilious Affections &c. Costiveness, Laxador Price 25 Cts. Dyspepsia, Giddiness, &c. Sold by druggists. Laxador

The Leading Perfume.

DREXEL'S BELL COLOGNE

Fragrant! Lasting!

PRICE 25 CENTS. AT ALL DEALERS.

DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP

CURES COUGHS & COLDS FOR 25 C

SALVATION OIL

Price only 25 cts. Sold by all druggists.

Will relieve Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Swellings, Bruises, Lumbago, Sprains, Headache, Toothache, Sores, Burns, Wounds, Cuts, Scalds, Backache, Gout, or any bodily pain or ailment.

CHEW LONG'S PLUGS, The Great Tobacco Antidote!—Price 10 Cts. At all druggists.

Cure Your Corns,

BY USING

SCHLOTTERBECK'S

CORN, WART AND BUNION SOLVENT

IT IS GUARANTEED.

Only $30, Haynes Excelsior and Wm. B. Tilton Gold Medal GUITARS, $10 to $40. MUSIC BOXES, 50 cents to $300. Solo Bb CORNET, $10. Haynes VIOLINS, Orchestra, $25; Solo, $35. Special Snare DRUMS, $6. Cowboy FIFES, $2. Drum Corps and Bands send for Estimates. Catalogues free. J. C. HAYNES & Co., 33 Court St., Boston, Mass.

CONQUEST.

And now that I have it, what is it worth,
The good that I strove for yesterday?
The wish has oftgrown it. Lay it away.
Ashes to ashes—earth to earth.

What is it worth, do I, scornful, say?
The power from the force of Patience wrought,
The clearer vision, the broader thought,
The purpose that thrills my soul today!

The victory that we shout is not
The noisiest triumph that is won.
Greater by far, when all is done,
The inward grace that came unsought.

I may miss the goal for which I run,
But what does it matter? I shall win
The strength of a braver aim, wherein
To-morrow's race shall be begun.

—Thomas H. Muzzey in Frank Leslie's.

LIGHT WEIGHT GOLD COINS.

Laws Which Prevent Them from Being Redeemed—One Man's Experience.

"When is $5 not $5?" was the conundrum hurled at the head of a reporter by Edwin L. Abbett. He is a well known attorney, active in politics and the brother of ex-Governor Leon Abbett, of New Jersey. When the reporter had confessed that he was ignorant enough to believe that $5 was always $5, he replied: "Not if it is light weight. Let me tell you a story of my experience with a $5 gold piece. Mind you, it was a gold piece—the coin of the realm. It had been given me by a client, with a number of other pieces and some paper money. I don't know at what bank he procured it, but I know that he went to some bank to get the cash for me and returned with this piece among others. The banks pay them out, but they don't take them in when they know it, as I found out later. There is a restaurant near my place of business where I have little business transactions occasionally with the proprietor or the man behind the counter. During the day this $5 gold piece went over that counter. The handsome young man with the white apron balanced it in his palm for a moment and then handed it back, saying: 'It's light weight, sir; we can't pass them.' I was staggered. I thought a $5 gold piece was good for something for its intrinsic value at least. But after satisfying myself that it was light weight, I put it back into my pocket and paid the bill out of other funds.

"It occurred to me that I ought to test the passing qualities of the coin once more, so I tried it at the cigar store on my way up Broadway. It was no go. Then I sallied into the Park National bank. I told the cashier frankly that I understood the coin to be light weight, and asked him to give me its value. 'We can't do anything with it,' said he. But he suggested that I might be relieved at the sub-treasury. By this time I was somewhat mad, and I determined to follow that $5 gold piece to some kind of a resting place if it took all day. At the treasury there was less encouragement than any place I had yet entered. They said they could not exchange it or redeem it or do anything with it. This struck me as a strange condition of things. As I went along Nassau street in a brown study my eye happened to light on the sign of an office on John street. There is an announcement there that old gold will be bought. I walked in and held out the coin. 'It's short weight,' was all I said. 'So I see,' said the man in attendance, as he held it in his hand. 'What can you do with it?' I asked. 'Melt it,' was his reply. He gave me $4.70 for it, the value of the gold.

"Curiosity possessed me to know what would be done with it. He said the gold would be used for manufacturing purposes. Then it struck me that there is somewhere on the statute books an iron clad law that no United States coin shall be melted up for manufacturing purposes under heavy penalties. I looked the law up. There it is, an old law, very old, but I believe still in force. If I am correct about it, do you see the situation? The government issues a gold coin. It says it shall be of such a weight, but it must necessarily get worn and abraded in constant circulation. Then it says it shall not be redeemable in any way, shall become a worthless in circulation because it is not redeemable, and yet shall not be converted into anything else. My gold piece bore date of 1847. I think on the whole I prefer greenbacks to coin, especially short weight coin."—New York Tribune.

Queer Names in Chili.

In Chili, as in all other Spanish-American countries, every man and woman is named after the saint whose anniversary is nearest the day on which they were born, and that saint is expected to look after the welfare of those christened in his or her honor. These names sound fine in Spanish, but when they come to be translated into unpoetic English, there is an oddity, and often something comical. About them. For example, the name of the recent president of Chili is Domingo Santa Maria, which being interpreted means "Sunday St. Mary." The name of the president of Ecuador is Jesus Mary Caamanyo (apple), and that of the governor of the province of Valparaiso is "Sunday Bull" (Domingo Torres). The use of the Saviour's name is common, even upon the signs of stores and saloons in cities, and in the nomenclature of the streets. I met a girl once whose name was Dolores Digerier (Sorrowful Stomach).—Harper's Magazine.

Survey and Census of India.

The results of the survey and last census of India are that the area of the peninsula of Hindostan is 1,382,624 square miles and the population 253,891,821. Although immense tracts of country are annually cultivated, according to the most recent survey 10,000,000 acres of land suitable for cultivation have not as yet been plowed. At the same time 120,000,000 of acres are returned as waste lands.—Edinburgh Scotsman.

A Darky Superstition About Alligators.

A stranger at Lake Como reports that he was pumping the old darky, Dave Washington, the other day, for information regarding alligators and their nests, when Dave gave him the following advice: "When you find a nest, mind you don't touch de middle egg. Dat ade king egg. If you touch it, it rings out loud like a bell, and de old 'gator'll come and git you sho!"—Savannah News.

The population of Great Britain is increasing at the rate of 1,000 a day.

A Donkey Ride to Abou Seer.

The donkey ride to Abou Seer is the hardest on the tour. It is through deep sand, and often the tiny donkeys sink until your feet so drag as to impede your progress. You cannot walk. In mercy to your donkey you wish you could. Your study of the poor animal convinces you that he has great patience. The driver is a model of forbearance; there is always, however, a perfect understanding between donkey and driver. Although the poor beast is continually goaded and his tail twisted to make him go, or else is pushed bodily to right and left, and even seized by the head and lifted to suit the inclination of the master—he bears it blandly and seems to feel that he must deserve it or he never would be so tortured. He is a fatalist, and believes that, after all, he is always a "good donkey" to his driver. For does he not hear his driver tell the howadji so, a hundred times each day?

There are nearly a thousand synonyms in Arabic for donkey, all tender and endearing. And then do I not know that when the noon muezzin sounds the donkey and driver retire to some quiet shade and have their loving make ups? I have watched the human member of the firm as he came with the meal of chopped straw for his pet. I never saw such mutual coddling and love signaling and tender understanding in all my experience. It is melting. The boy's face beams with smiles while he calls his donkey pet names in the softest tones; and the homely animal so shakes his head, snaps his eyes, and oscillates his neck as to heighten his humble physiognomy into a new expression.—Edward L. Wilson in Scribner's.

The "Office Boy" Question.

Our reformers would do well to take cognizance of the "office boy" question. It is no small one, either. It affects every branch of business. It is a difficult thing nowadays to get hold of a good office boy. Out of fifty applicants not more than three or four will be worth considering. The boys of today seem to lack ambition and make little effort to advance themselves. Most boys, even at the age of 14 or 15, begin life sadly provided in the way of education, being poor writers and spellers and knowing nothing of grammar. It is the lack of earnestness that is deplorable. They can keep posted on baseball, horse races and prize fights, but that's about all they care for.

Occasionally one meets with a bright boy, quick at figures and intelligent, but these boys develop tendencies which make it unsafe to trust them with money, so great are the temptations to a boy who has not been grounded right when he was at his mother's knee. This is especially so of city boys who are always the answerers of want advertisements. Country boys cannot afford to live in the city on $3 or $4 a week. Country boys are much more useful than city reared lads, because they have plenty of ambition. If they haven't at first, a few months in the city will arouse it. Alone in a big city a country boy will naturally be spurred on by his very lonesomeness. I do not think the fault is in the smallness of the wages paid, as a business man will pay extra for a good, No. 1 boy. I am afraid the cause lies deeper.—Business Man in Globe-Democrat.

Persian Women Out of Doors.

The veil, which is habitually worn out of doors even by the very poor in all great towns in Persia, though its use is unknown among the tribes who form at least a third of the whole population, is clung to by the women as a privilege; it is in fact a domino. The Persian woman out of doors is unrecognizable even by her husband. She sees without being seen, and in the veil it is impossible to detect the age of the wearer. As the Persian lady is nearly always married at 14, she begins to fade at 27 at latest, at 30 she appears 50, and there are only two dentists in the whole of Persia.

Polygamy is the luxury of the rich; with the upper and middle classes bigamy is the rule. A man's first alliance is a mariage de convenance, the second either a marriage for love or for the gratification of vanity. When your Persian brings home a second wife there is usually a scene which lasts for a week or two; there is a struggle for supremacy, but it is soon over. Both wives do their best to please the master of the house, but they do not attempt to poison each other, unless in very exceptional circumstances. But Persian ladies still believe in the efficacy of love philters, and many an abomination is secretly administered to unfortunate husbands. Happily, the love philter, though usually composed of horrible ingredients, is quite harmless.—St. James' Gazette.

Preparation of the Sardine.

To prepare the sardine in its perfection it should be boiled alive in oil, like an old martyr. If this cannot be done, then it should be cooked as soon after death as possible. It is alleged against some of the patent nets that the fish dies at once in their pockets and its quality is greatly deteriorated. The manner of cooking is simple. As soon as possible after the fish is caught it is dipped in a kettle of boiling olive oil. Care must be taken that the oil is not burned or used too many times over, and that the fish is not kept in it too long. The implement used is made of wire, in two parts, something like a toasting rake, with hinges, the fishes being laid on one side and the other being closed over them, keeping them in place.—San Francisco Chronicle.

The Thrasher and the Whale.

The passengers and crew of the steamer Takasago-maru, when on her last voyage from this port to Kobe, witnessed a sight often talked about but very rarely seen. It was the great sea fight between a thrasher (fox shark) and a whale. An eye witness states that the thrasher first leaped out of the water close under the bow of the steamer, and, rising fully thirty feet in the air, came down on the back of the whale with a sound that convinced one of the terrible force of the blow. Every time the whale appeared near the surface this scene was repeated, and it continued until the combatants were lost sight of fully two miles distant. Our informant states that the scene was most exciting.—Yokohama Gazette.

The popularity of lawn tennis is making the Egyptian women lopsided.

AMONG THE POLYNESIANS.

Their Habits and Customs—Brewing the National Drink—The Pai Maker.

While conversing with Surgeon H. W. Whitaker he said he joined his ship, the Mohican, at San Francisco, Cal., in May, 1885, and sailed in her through the Golden Gate the following month for an extensive cruise in the South Pacific, which lasted over three years. His supply of information shows that he has been a close observer of the customs and habits of the Polynesians; as a surgeon, he was brought more intimately in contact with them than others, and had the opportunity of becoming personally acquainted with many of their strange doings, and he says some of his best friends have been formed among those people. One of the most curious and interesting customs he told your correspondent of was that of kava drinking among the inhabitants of the Samoan group of islands. He spoke very highly of those people, and said they were the finest race of people he had seen, the men being of large and almost perfect physique, symmetrically proportioned, with straight, coarse black hair and a rich brownish color. He also said the women were even more attractive than the men, because of their mild manners, kind and happy dispositions.

The custom of making, and the formalities of drinking the kava, as related by the surgeon, was intensely interesting and will be news to all readers. Kava, he said, was a vegetable growth that grew in abundance on the islands belonging to the pepper family, and from the roots of this plant they made their national drink of kava, by first chewing the root until it was well masticated, then placing it in a wooden basin which they made for the purpose, and mixing it with water, it was ready to be served out. He said the first thought of this is always repulsive to a civilized white man, and he invariably refuses to drink of it when offered to him, but if he stays in the islands long his prejudice is sure to be overcome, and it is not a great while before he becomes a convert and is fond of the strange drink.

In describing the process of brewing the strange beverage he said a young girl, the most comely and attractive in a household or village, was the one selected to chew the root, which would first be thoroughly cleansed and broken into small pieces suitable for the size of the damsel's mouth. Before commencing to masticate she would invariably thoroughly wash out her mouth with water in presence of all the assembled guests, and would then fold her graceful person, a la Turk, upon a mat spread on the floor, and chew and chew, all in one mouthful, until a sufficient quantity would be ready. The hands, in the meantime, having been also washed, should receive the bolus, and with a graceful motion dash it into the bowl, made of wood, in the shape of a tin wash basin with four short feet, when the water would be added and the chewed root thoroughly mixed up with the hands and by a dexterous manner all the coarse particles removed. When the beer is adjudged to be completed by the fair one, three vigorous clappings of the hands all round signifies it is ready to be served. Strange to say, the most punctilious etiquette is observed in serving it, and for the want of which many an irreparable offense, in the estimation of the true Samoan, has been given. The honored guest always receives the first bowl, and, according to the dictation of an old chief, the head of the family or the master of ceremonies. The nut brown maiden, a blushing figure of symmetrical physical beauty, presides at the bowl, Phœbe like, dishing out the Samoan nectar.

A custom most closely related to this peculiar habit, continued the doctor, is that of pai eating by the natives of the Sandwich or Hawaiian Islands. Pai is strictly Hawaiian, he said, and is eaten by every man, woman and child, from King Kalakaua down, in those islands, and forms the mainstay of life for the common people. The habit is so universally established that the native Hawaiians are called and known by the name of "Pai-eaters."

There grows in all the Pacific islands a plant of the lily family, with large rich leaves and straight, bulbous root, which is full of farinaceous food material, which, together with bread fruit, forms the staple of life with the Polynesians, taking the place of bread and potatoes. It is from this root that pai is made. Pai making is as much of an institution and quite as great a necessity in the Sandwich Islands as bread making is in the United States.

The pai maker to his Majesty Kalakaua is regarded by him in favor next to his chamberlain, and is a personage much envied. It is prepared fresh every day by first roasting the taro roots, from which it is made, mashing and mixing it with a proper quantity of water, then carefully strained to free it from all lumps, after which it is set aside to ferment. When fermentation advances to the proper degree it is ready to be sold to the consumer. It is now either white, pinkish or blue in color, according to the kind of taro used in making, has the consistency of thick flour starch, looks like it, and, in fact, smells like it. It is served in Koawood bowls, highly polished and of different sizes, according to the tastes and capacity of the happy eater of pai.

The manner of eating pai is not, at first, so distasteful to the stranger as kava drinking, but to a perfectly refined taste, according to our acceptance of the word, the first repast of raw fish which is always eaten with pai is not happily calculated to sharpen the appetite. The bowl of pai is placed in front of the guest of the household after he has folded up his feet and legs and disposed of them as best he can, but not always to his comfort and satisfaction, unless he has learned the habit of resting in the native style, is supposed to eat by sticking one, two or three fingers in the pasty mass which is stirred in a circular motion until a ball of it adheres to the fingers, when they are removed, and by a strange, circular, twisting action given the hand to force the fingers full of pai from that in the ball, it is lifted and transferred to the mouth, where the fingers are sucked perfectly free and clean of the pai, and as they are withdrawn a noise is made which is unlike any other, and can only be made by this means.—Nashville Democrat.

Canadian Exaggeration.

The French Canadians are a peculiar people. They can make the best soup in the world. They can cheat you at bargaining so as to make you laugh. They lie picturesquely—I think that describes it. I know what it means, if you don't. You, too, will know when you have my experience. Why, a French Canadian carter or market man or shopkeeper lies refreshingly. There is a childish enthusiasm about it that captivates you. He is an artist at it. It's a born gift—a trace of the old Machiavellian blood, which in the Fifteenth century made the French diplomats the marvel of intriguing courts. He smiles as he lies. He lays his hand on his heart. He lifts his eyes upward. He embellishes his little lie with saintly allusions. He lies as if he beloved his own lie. He lies so that he honors his nation.—W. H. H. Murray in Chicago Herald.

The Cable Road company are already preparing for winter. When the road was built due allowance was made for the expansion and contraction of the ironwork itself caused by heat and cold, but the pressure on the rails caused by the same agencies seems to have been entirely forgotten. The first cold snap of winter brought any quantity of trouble to the company. It froze the rain and snow water which had been allowed to settle in the spaces between the paving stones lying between the rails and the iron forming the slot through which the grips pass.

The stones spread farther and farther apart, and, pressing against the ironwork, closed up the slot so effectually that the grips were gripped firmer than they ever grasped the cable, and the road was blocked completely until gangs of men tore up the pavement at various points and pried the slot open with crowbars.

The company are now busily engaged relaying the pavement between the tracks, leaving considerable space between the stones. These spaces are first filled with gravel and finally run as full of hot pitch as possible, in the hope that water will find no space to lodge and freeze in this winter.—New York Evening Sun.

MAKE HENS LAY

NOTHING ON EARTH WILL MAKE HENS LAY LIKE SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER.

WE SEND BY MAIL A LARGE 2¼ POUND CAN FOR $1.20, TWO SMALL PACKS 50 CTS. POST PAID.

Sheridan's Condition Powder

is absolutely pure and highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other kind. Strictly a medicine, to be given in the food, once daily, in small doses. Prevents and cures all diseases of hens. Worth its weight in gold when hens are moulting, and to keep them healthy. Testimonials sent free by mail. Ask your druggist, grocer, general store, or feed dealer for it. If you can't get it, send once to us. Take no other kind. We will send, postpaid, by mail, as follows: A new, elegantly illustrated copy of the "FARMERS' POULTRY RAISING GUIDE" (price 25 cents, tells how to make money with a few hens), and two small packages of Powder for 40 cents; or, one large 2½ pound can and Guide, $1.20. Sample package of Powder, 25 cents, five for $1.00. Six large cans express prepaid, for $5.00. Send stamps or cash. L. S. JOHNSON & CO., 23 Custom-House St., Boston, Mass.

My Poor Back!

That "poor back" is held responsible for more than its share of the sufferings of mankind. If your dog bites a man who kicks it, do you blame the dog? On the same principle the kidneys utter their protest against nervousness, impure blood, and resulting constipation. These force them to do extraordinary work in ridding the system of the poisons which are the result of effete matter retained in the blood. Then the sufferer says the back aches; the kidneys are diseased. "Not yet;" but they will be unless the nerves are strengthened, the blood purified, and the constipation removed. These are the causes of kidney troubles, and Paine's Celery Compound removes them quickly. With its tonic, purifying, and laxative effect, it also strengthens the weak kidneys, making it almost infallible in curing all diseases of the nerves and kidneys. If your hopes of cure have not been realized, try Paine's Celery Compound; it gives perfect health to all who complain of "their poor backs." Price $1.00.

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS. SEND FOR ILLUSTRATED PAPER.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Proprietors, BURLINGTON, VERMONT.

POSITIVELY No Cure, No Pay!

CONSTITUTIONAL COUGH SYRUP

--- TRY IT! ---

The proprietor of this remedy has such confidence in its curative powers that he makes the following

Generous Offer!

Any person buying a bottle is given the privilege of returning it and receiving their MONEY BACK, if after using two-thirds of its contents, they have derived no benefit from it

PRICE 25 AND 50 CENTS.

— SOLD BY —

David Kimball & Co., 36 Market Street.

S. Philbrick & Co.,

— MANUFACTURERS OF —

Marble and Granite Work

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION

GRANITE POLISHING A SPECIALTY.

OFFICE AND WORKS.

No 2 Water Street, Portsmouth

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Best and Purest Medicine EVER MADE.

It will drive the Humor from your system, and make your skin clean and smooth. Those Pimples and Blotches which mar your beauty are caused by impure blood, and can be removed in a short time, if you are wise and use the great blood purifier, SULPHUR BITTERS. Why suffer with Boils? Why try and buy rare with that terrible Headache? Why lay up for years with Rheumatism? What makes you feemble so? Your nerves are all unstrung, and need a gentle soothing tonic to assist nature to repair the damage which your excesses have caused. SULPHUR BITTERS is not a Rum or Whiskey drink, but a medicine, which will cure you where all others fail. Remember, they will cure you when others fail. You have failed to receive any benefit from other medicines or doctors, do not despair, but try SULPHUR BITTERS. They will cure you when others fail. No person can remain long sick who uses SULPHUR BITTERS. They never fail to cure.

The Dose is small—only a teaspoonful. It is the best and cheapest medicine. Try it, and you will be satisfied. Get it of your Druggist. DON'T WAIT. GET IT AT ONCE

If you are suffering from Kidney Disease, and wish to live to old age, use SULPHUR BITTERS. They never fail to cure.

Send 2 2-cent stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., for 64 page medical work on Health.

ADAMSON'S BOTANIC COUGH BALSAM

More than twenty years ago Adamson's Botanic Balsam was introduced generally throughout New England as a remedy for Coughs, Colds and Pulmonary complaints. Since its introduction it has constantly won its way into public favor, until now it is the universal decision that ADAMSON'S BOTANIC BALSAM is the best remedy for curing Coughs, Colds and Asthma.

Made only by F. W. KINSMAN & CO., (Established 1850.) Druggists and Dispensing Chemists, 343 4th ave., corner 25th st., N. Y. FOR SALE AT ALL DRUG STORES.

SEND FOR

Miller's Camecock,

THE KING OF ALL WHISKIES.

JOHN MILLER & CO.,

298 and 300 Hanover St., Boston,

Sole Proprietors.

☞ SEND FOR PRICE LIST. ☜

COAL! COAL!

Finest Grades, well prepared for Domestic Purposes, constantly Arriving and for Sale at Lowest Prices.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

J. ALBERT WALKER

Portsmouth Coal Pockets.

The WONDERFUL LUBURG CHAIR

Combining a Parlor, Library, Easy-Rocking, Reclining, Invalids' Chair, Couch, etc. Price $7.00 and up. We make the largest variety of Adjustable, Reclining, Physicians' and Invalids' Specialty. Invalids' Rolling, Hammock, Office, Library, Easy Chairs, Folding Beds and Rattan CHAIRS and ROCKERS, BICYCLES, TRICYCLES, VELOCIPEDES and SELF PROPELLERS. ALL KINDS OF APPLIANCES FOR INVALIDS. BABY COACHES. Over 100 different designs. Our Patent Automatic Brake on all Carriages. We have discontinued wholesaling; by placing your orders direct with the makers you can save several profits. Our stocking prices and special Bargains will astonish you. Goods sold under a guarantee and delivered free to any point in United States. ☞ Send stamp for Catalogue, and state class of goods you wish it for.

LUBURG MFG. CO.

145 North Eighth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

COLD WEATHER MUSIC BOOKS.

New Music Books.

These new books are every day more in favor:

Classical Pianist, Piano Classics, Song Classics, Song Classics for Low Voices, Classic Tenor Songs, Classic Baritone and Bass Songs. Each $1.

Praise in Song (40 cts., $4.20 per doz.) is the best new Sacred Music Book for Home and Vestry singing.

Let the Children sing from Menard's Songs for Kindergartens and Primary Schools (30 cts.) or Jenk's Songs and Games for Little Ones ($2) or Children's School Songs (35 cts., $3.60 per doz.) All have very sweet child's songs.

Give your aid in getting up a rousing good evening singing Class to use Song Harmony (60 cts., $6 per doz.) Full of most interesting music, sacred and secular. Song Manual, Book 3 (50 cts., $4.80 per doz.) is also a good collection, mostly secular.

Tell the Temperance People that no better Temperance Song Book has appeared than Bells of Victory (35 cts., $3.60 per doz.)

Xmas is coming. Send for lists of Christmas Cantatas and Carols.

ANY BOOK MAILED FOR RETAIL PRICE.

Oliver Ditson & Co., Boston.

AN EXTRA LOT OF SPONGES, CHAMOIS SKINS AND WHIPS.

At Reasonable Prices at

John S. Tilton's

Harness and Trunk Repairer

NO. 18 CONGRESS STREET

Embalmer and Funeral Director

NO. 60 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH

SAMUEL S. FLETCHER

(SUCCESSOR TO FLETCHER & TANTON,)

COFFINS, ROBES & CASKETS

Always on hand or made to order

Orders by night may be left at No. 42 Daniel St. or with A. L. Rice, No. 15 Hill St., or O. W. Hanson, No 12 Russell St.

THE JOB PRINTING

Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD J. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line. Give him a trial and you will be more than pleased.

FINZER'S OLD HONESTY

FINZER'S OLD HONESTY

IF YOU TRY TO USE THE SAME TOBACCO FOR BOTH CHEWING AND SMOKING, YOU'LL HAVE EITHER A POOR CHEW OR A POOR SMOKE.

IF YOU CHEW,

TRY FINZER'S OLD HONESTY

WHICH IS NOT ONLY THE — BEST — BUT CONTAINS 20 PER CENT. MORE TOBACCO THAN ANY OTHER BRAND OF SIMILAR QUALITY, and is THEREFORE the CHEAPEST IN THE MARKET. EVERY PLUG IS STAMPED "FINZER'S OLD HONESTY" AND HAS A RED TIN TAG. GET THE GENUINE.

DON'T TAKE ANY OTHER.

THE TRANSPORTAION.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

Eastern Division.

TRAINS LEAVE PORTSMOUTH FOR BOSTON, 4.05, 7.25, 8.20, 11.05 a. m., 2.55, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4.00 p. m. Returning, 7.30, 9.00, 10.40 a. m. 12.30, 3.20, 4.40, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.20 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

PORTLAND, 9.55, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m. Returning, 7.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.00, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 7.00 a. m.

BANGOR, ST. JOHN AND HALIFAX, 10.55 a. m., 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.00 p. m.

GREAT FALLS AND WOLFEBORO JUNC., 9.55 a. m., 2.45, 5.30 p. m.

WOLFEBORO, 9.55, a. m., 5.30 p. m.

NORTH CONWAY, 9.55 a. m., 2.45 p. m.

DOVER, 4.50, 9.45, a. m., 12.25, 2.38, 5.22 p. m.

YORK HARBOR AND BEACH R. R.

YORK BEACH AND WAY STATIONS, (via York Harbor and Beach R. R.) 8.30, 11.10 a. m., 3.45 p. m. Returning, leave York Beach 6.40, 10.00 a. m., 1.40, p. m. Connecting with trains leaving Portsmouth for Boston.

JAS T. FURBER, Gen'l Manager. D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l Passenger Agent.

Concord & Portsmouth Railroad.

PASSENGER TRAINS leave Eastern Railroad Station for North Adams, Manchester, Concord and upper railroads, as follows:

UP TRAINS.

Leave	A. M.	P. M.	P. M.
Portsmouth	7.55	1 05	5.15
Greenland	8.03	1 05	5.22
Newmarket Junction	8.25	1 21	5.38
East Epping		1 31
Epping	8.43	1 37	6.11
West Epping	8.49		6.17
Raymond	9.00	1 55	6.28
Candia	9.13	2 05	6.40
Auburn	9.22		6.35
Massabesic	9.30	2 20	7.00
Arrive Manchester	9.42	2 30	7.15
" Concord	10.30	3 12	8.07

DOWN TRAINS.

Leave	A. M.	A. M.	P. M.
Concord	7.50	10 20	3.25
Manchester	8.35	11 15	4.20
Massabesic	8.27	11 22	4.30
Auburn	8.36		4.44
Candia	8.44	11 46	4.54
Raymond	8.55	11 56	5.04
West Epping	9.03	P. M.	5.12
Epping	9.10	12 08	5.17
East Epping		12 14
Newmarket Junction	9.46	12 24	5.40
Greenland	10.01	12 38	5.55
Arrive Portsmouth	10.30	12 45	6.30

☞ Trains connect at Newmarket Junction with trains of the Boston & Maine Railroad for Exeter, Haverhill, Lawrence and Boston; and for Dover, Great Falls and Portland; at Concord with trains to and from all the upper Railroads.

H. E. CHAMBERLIN, Supt.

C. E. BOYNTON,

Manufacturer and Wholesale Dealer in

Soda Water, Root, Tonic, Vanilla, Orange and Strawberry Beer, Crab Apple Lemonette, Cream Ginger and Ginger Ale.

EXTRACT OF NERVE FOOD!

For Brain and Nervous Exhaustion. Good for the Appetite.

Soda Water in Syphons for Hotel and Family Use. Fountains Charged at Short Notice.

Bottler of Eldredge and Milwaukee Lager, Porter and Refined Cider.

☞ The Summer Beverages manufactured and bottled by me having been before the public of this city and vicinity for the past seventeen years, need no endorsement as being of the very highest standard.

EDWARD D. COFFIN,

SHERIFF ROCKINGHAM CO. AND U. S. DEPUTY MARSHAL.

Office at No. 3 Market Square, And at the Jail.

With Messrs. Staley & Moore's Bus. Office at 9 A. M. and 6 o'clock P. M.

(TELEPHONE AT THE JAIL.)

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

POST OFFICE RULES.

MAILS CLOSE

	A. M.	P. M.
Boston, N. Y., south, west,	6:00	10:30	2:30	4:30 6:45
Boston and way stations,		10:30	2:30	6:45
Portland,	9:25		4:30	6:45
Portland and way stations,	9:25		4:30
East (beyond Portland)	9:25			6:45
Great Falls, Rochester, Wolfeboro' Union Milton,	9:25			4:30
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,	9:25
Concord & Manchester,	7:40	10:30		4:30
Concord, Manchester and north,	7:40		4:30
Exeter and B. & M. way, west of Newmarket,	7:40		4:30
Dover,	9:25		2:30	4:30 6:45
North Conway,	9:25			6:45
York and Cape Neddick,		9:25
Newcastle,		10:30
Newington,		10:30
Boston, N. Y. and south, Sunday,				1:00

MAILS ARRIVE.

	A. M.	P. M.
Boston, south and west,	10:05	3:10	5:40	7:00 9:00
New York,		10:05		5:40 7:00
Boston and way stations,		10:05		5:40
Portland and east,	7:20	11:00		5:00
Great Falls, Rochester, Milton, Milton,	8:20	11:00
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,		11:00
Concord, Manchester and north,		10:20		6:20
Dover,	7:30	10:20		5:00 5:40
Newcastle,		9:30
Newington,		9:30
York and Cape Neddick,		11:00
B. & M. R. R., west of Newmarket,		10:20		6:20

S. J. GERRISH, P. M.

MINATURE ALMANAC NOV. 17.

SUN RISES.....6:36 | MOON SETS 3:35 P. M.
SUN SETS.....4:23 | FULL SEA 9:15 A. M.
LENGTH OF DAY.. 9:46 | 9:45 P. M.

Weather Indications.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

Threatening weather and rain, warmer easterly winds, shifting to southerly. Cautionary signals from Wilmington section to Wood's Hole section.

The Trial of James Palmer,

For The Murder of Henry T. Whitehouse.

SATURDAY FORENOON, Nov. 17th.

James Palmer, cross examined by Attorney General Barnard. Carried tools when I went to Electric Light station. Engineers usually have their own tools. Don't know whether those there before me carried theirs or not. I had a box full. This hammer was one. Box was 2x1-2 feet. All hands used the hammer for most any purpose. I put the handle in it. First went to Electric Light station 30th of March, 1887. Same company then as now. Changed machines. Company kept buying tools. Remember two large cans of oil spoken of; one gallon each, of sperm and lard oil. Given me after I left the station by a drummer. Stayed at the Rockingham house with him a week. He paid my board. Went around with him for company. He sold oil. Can't tell his name. Can't tell what house he represented. Knew him at Lawrence. Got him a chance to sell oil there. Had seen him at Boston. Don't remember his name. He did not pay me at Lawrence. Can't say how the cans were delivered at my house. I found them there when I got home Don't know just when. He had promised them to me for wagon grease. That is the only use. Used some of the lard oil. Not very much. Kept carriage and horse all summer at home. Used them considerable. Used some of the oil for carriage. Can't say when oil came, but think in spring. Don't know what makes me think so. Found it at my home. Don't know whether paid express on it or not. Can't say when it came, or how. Cans never used at Electric Light station. Did not take them home myself. Began to carry my tools away before I left the station. Carried few at a time, as it was easier. Perhaps three or four days before I left. Company carried my box home nearly full, after I had carried some tools home. Did not hear of trouble about tools until after I got through. Had missed tools and put them in drawer under lock. Some one pulled lock off. No one knew who did it. Did not ask Supt. Palmer and Coffin not to go to house on account of mother. Palmer told me to come into the office. Coffin opened the door and sat outside. I went to house with Palmer and Newmarch. They examined box and pulled out things, claiming them. Said if they were mine I'd got to prove. This was soon after I left.

Nothing else until a few months after. Coffin, Palmer and some one else went to the house; mother was there; she knew some of them; she described them; did not know third person; mother gave me list of things to be returned; gave it to me at noon; did not tell me when things were to be delivered; this was Wednesday before murder; went to Coffin's that night; did not see him; neither did I find him in Thursday or Friday; saw him Saturday night down town; did not see him at railroad station; don't know James Rowe; positive I was not there; Coffin did not say a word about advice or warrant; no such words ever passed between Coffin and me; did not tell Coffin that Whitehouse and Palmer were trying to ruin me; know Walter Raitt; did not have talk with him; saw him in baggage room there; did not tell him they had blowed on me, and I'd fix them; would not advertise myself that way; remember Supt. Palmer asked me to fix engine the morning I left; did not tell me that if I did not fix it he would put me behind the bars; I fixed the engine; don't believe he had given me notice to quit in two weeks; I left with good feeling to the company, but not toward Palmer; when he told me to fix engine I went to the station, and waited an hour for him, to show him how to fix it; he did not come, and I fixed it; key was all right; trouble was with babbit; ran engine an hour to satisfy him; did not look to see if there was any trouble when I left, but could not turn the wheel next day; I tried; Superintendent's brother helped me; babbitt melted, and shaft stuck to it; did not put in new box or babbitt; Palmer said key had been driven; showed him it had not; struck key to show it was loose; ran the engine an hour to satisfy him; no occasion to do so; did not charge for it; repaired it because it was required for street lights did; not ask him for pay; this was in afternoon; I and Whitehouse had charge of the engine the night before up to one o'clock; Whitehouse had to clean it afterward; he did not tell me there was anything wrong with engine; Palmer was the first to do it: used knives; (shown knives taken from his pockets at jail) used those sometimes; had a larger one; lost it a month before I left; sometimes borrowed the Superintendent's; lost mine a month before I left, and have not seen it since; knew Whitehouse used to go to Kittery on Tuesday nights; Sunday forenoons he used to go; he was never there after 6:30 when I was at station; I used to go off at that hour Sunday nights; he came to allow me to go; wore some cuffs Sunday night; they were at my house last time I saw them; buttons in them; ordinary cuffs; don't know whether mother had seen them; never asked her; was arrested Monday by Coffin; did not know where I was going; didn't ask him; had idea about tools, and asked him, going through the gate, did he get the tools; that's all I asked him; took me into sitting room and asked me if I knew Whitehouse was killed; I asked him if that was what they had got me for; he said yes; did not mention hammer then; positive of that; went into corridor of jail; saw some one playing cards; they asked me to play, and I did so; played pitho; probably ten minutes; was occasionally at the inquest; was treated civilly; took me to answer to accusation; read my testimony as taken down; changes made in it that I desired; made properly; the clothing is mine; my ulster; put it on at inquest; can't give any explanation of coat being wet.

By Mr. Page: Don't know whether any one put it on at station, or not; think it had been worn by others; not sure; pay at brewery was $1 per day; ten hours a day, six days in the week.

To Mr. Barnard: Bought coat first of winter; can't say what month; wore it after the big storm; last time to my recollection; never met Whitehouse with Miss Fernald on the street in my life; seen them at Electric light station; she was employed at Shoe factory.

At this point the defence rested their case.

James H. Rowe, to Mr. Emery: Live at Brentwood; wheel and carriage works; was in Portsmouth in May; saw Mr. Coffin at railroad station, on Friday night; saw man talk with Coffin there; should say that is the man (indicating prisoner;) he looks familiar to me.

To Mr. Page: Was not acquainted with Palmer; had seen him at the light station; saw several men on business that day; possibly took a drink at the Rockingham; did if you was there; (laughter;) none of your business how many drinks I took; was not drunk.

Fred S. Palmer, recalled; to Mr. Emery: Think we began to change systems in December; some of the hardest work then; the prisoner and myself were engaged in it; never saw Palmer bleed at the nose; don't know what he did at station the forenoon I told him to fix engine; in the afternoon he said he had fixed it; am positive that key had been changed.

To Mr. Page: Think coat has been worn by trimmers; force consisted of six; up to 1st of February was superintendent; after that, manager; in September, October and November was there as late as ten or eleven o'clock; sometimes until two in the morning; am a practical engineer; had eight years experience as such.

To Mr. Emery: Think Newmarch, the trimmer, wore the coat once.

To Mr. Page: Don't think my brother could get the coat on.

Dennis Reagan, recalled; to Mr. Emery: Worked with prisoner from August 1st until he left; remember change of machines; never saw him have nosebleed there; don't know how engine was fixed; know it was fixed; key was driven further than it should be; never saw any one but Palmer wear the ulster.

To Mr. Page: Am not an engineer; my work is in boiler room; separate from engine room.

To Mr. Emery; Palmer was in boiler room often.

After a recess of five minutes—

Chauncy B. Hoyt was called by Mr. Emery, and testified that he was employed to take notes before the coroner's jury; read from Mss. Rutter's testimony thus: "James didn't eat anything; went right to bed; told me it was quarter of eleven; just gone up stairs; cork flew out of bottle of dandelion beer; got up and struck a match; after putting cork in, it was five minutes of eleven; after thinking house quiet, went to sleep."

To Mr. Page: Think the solicitor and attorney general explained to her. Was instructed to take notes as fully as possible. Had taken testimony before. Took down her words.

Jerome C. Butler. By Mr. Emery; Identified his signature, and that of Mrs. Rutter affixed to statement of her evidence before coroner's inquest. It was read to her before signing. (The solicitor offered Mrs. Rutter's evidence before the coroner's inquest, and read it to the jury.)

Miss Cora Fernald, being called, was escorted from an ante-room by Deputy Sheriff Whidden. She was crying bitterly, and it was with difficulty that she controlled herself sufficiently to give her evidence.

To Mr. Emery: Live at Kittery. Henry Whitehouse was at my house Sunday evening, May 27th last. He left at 10:30. Was on street with Henry once and we met Palmer. Think it was the night after Palmer was discharged. They talked together, but I did not hear what was said. Henry had a silver watch, with chain and charm.

Thomas Flannagan. To Mr. Emery: Live in Portsmouth; worked at light station with Palmer; don't remember about his having nose bleed.

To Mr. Page: I left last February; was there last winter; don't know that any one wore Palmer's coat; could not say whether Palmer brought any tools; customary for engineers to bring tools of their own.

Howard Newmarch. To Mr. Emery: Employed by Electric Light company over a year; know the ulster; may have worn it; quite sure I did not; never got any blood on it.

To Mr. Page: Don't know whether Palmer had any tools there; I took his box home after he left, with team; don't think it was tool box; don't know what it contained; never saw any tool-box of his there.

Sheriff Coffin. To Mr. Emery: Saw Jas. Rowe; met him at railroad station; he walked three feet from Palmer; he was just as sober as I am now; saw Palmer Sunday night before the murder; said to him, "Jim, you didn't get away yesterday;" had nosebleed but once in jail to my knowledge; all I know about it is what Allen, the turnkey, told me.

The Chief Justice then declared a recess until nine o'clock Monday morning.

THE CELEBRATION TO-NIGHT.

HEADQUARTERS
REPUBLICAN TORCHLIGHT PROCESSION,
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.,
Nov. 19, 1888.

GEN. ORDER NO. 4.

Marshals of Divisions and Aids will report to the chief of staff on Market square at 7:15 p. m. sharp.

The first division will form on Congress street, its right resting on Pleasant street.

Second division will form on Pleasant street, its right resting on City Building.

Third division will form on Court street, right resting on Pleasant. As this division will be composed of barges and other carriages, those intending to ride therein will report to the marshal of this division.

The Portsmouth Cornet Band and the Kearsarge Flute and Drum Corps will report to the chief of staff for assignment at 7:15 p. m.

All visiting organizations will report to the chief of staff immediately upon their arrival, for assignment.

Each person taking part in the procession must provide himself with a dipper for coffee.

The procession will move at eight o'clock, or as soon thereafter as possible.

S. R. MARSTON, Chief Marshal.
M. T. BETTON, Chief of Staff.

Order of Procession.

Platoon of Police.
Col. S. R. Marston, Chief Marshal.
Lt. Col. M. T. Betton, Chief of Staff.
Col. T. E. O. Marvin, Marshal 1st Div'n.

AIDS,

Wm. H. Preston,	H. P. Kent,
Capt. C. F. Duncan,	Frank J. Philbrick,
J. M. Salter,	C. H. Gray,
J. Y. DeMerrett,	Albert E. Rand,
W. S. Blair,	E. C. Matthews,
W. A. Bragdon,	Warren Davis,
E. E. Sides,	J. D. Randall,
J. A. Borthwick,	Chester Pike,
Horace Mitchell,	A. G. Brewster,
John Jellison,	W. C. Pooler,
F. W. Lydston,	W. W. Nash,
E. E. Green,	Fred Woods,
Carroll Bartlett,	Horace Whidden,
Newton Elwell,	Harry G. Marvin.

FIRST DIVISION.

Cavalcade, Capt. Mason, commanding.
Portsmouth Cornet Band, W. E. Cate, Leader.
Winchester Cadets, Major Brown, commanding.
Fire Wagon.
Wentworth Cadets, Kittery.
Kittery Delegation.
Winchester Drum Corps, H. Marden, leader.
Portsmouth Machine Co. Battalion, Capt. Charles Lydston, commanding.
Spear's Cornet Band, Rye.
Rye Delegation, Capt. Charles Whidden, commanding.
Newcastle Delegation.
Portsmouth Delegation, Capt. M. E. Long, commanding.
Newington and Greenland Delegations.

SECOND DIVISION.

M. C. Foye, Marshal.
Kearsarge Flute and Drum Band, Abram Kay, leader.
Dover Battalion, Maj. J. S. Abbott, commanding, with staff.
Fire Wagon.
Biddeford and Saco Battalion.
Farmington and Wolfboro' Delegation.
Hampton Delegation.
North Hampton Delegation.
Newburyport Delegation.

THIRD DIVISION.

Maj. M. C Moore, Marshal.
Landaus and Barges filled with young misses in charge of Elvin Newton, Esq.
Independent Democrats, in Barges.
Fire Wagon.
Veteran Republicans, in Barges.
Decorated Canoe.
Tippecanoe Veterans, in Carriages.
Landau with fireworks.
Fire Wagon.
Landaus, carriages, etc.

All persons intending to take part in the parade, not included in the above organizations, will report to Chief of Staff at M. C. Foye's store, at any time previous to the parade, and will be assigned positions in line.

S. R. MARSTON, Chief Marshal.
M. T. BETTON, Chief of Staff.

The following is the route of the procession:

Form on Congress and Pleasant streets, and move through Market, Hanover, High, Deer, Vaughan, New Vaughan, Maplewood avenue to Dennett street, returning through Maplewood avenue, Vaughan, Deer, Bridge, Hanover, Vaughan, Islington, Rockingham, McDonough, Cabot, Islington, Cass, Middle to residence of C. H. Merdum, returning through Middle, Wibird, to residence of A. J. McIntire, returning through Wibird, Hawthorne, Union, State, Cabot, Middle, Richards avenue, Rockland, Miller avenue, Highland, Middle, Cabot-Austin, Middle, Court, Pleasant, South, Newcastle avenue, Water, State, Summer, Islington and Congress streets to Market square, thence through Pleasant to State street to collation.

Notice—Cavalcade.

The members of the Portsmouth Cavalcade Company, and all persons intending to parade with the same are requested to meet on Haymarket square at 7:30 o'clock this (Monday) evening. The uniform will consist of a red, white and blue sash from shoulder to waist, black silk hat and white gloves. Sash can be obtained of Morris C. Foye.

Harrison Veterans—Notice.

The Harrison veterans, who voted for William Henry Harrison in 1840 and for Benjamin Harrison in 1888, are requested to be at the Kearsarge house this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Among these veterans are the following:

Capt. R. C. Bartlett, Marcellus Bufford, Oliver Frye, Robert Sides, John Moran, Thomas M. Lang, Meshach Bell, Joseph Stickney, Frederick W. Rogers, Samuel Adams, George W. Pendexter.

Warning.

All persons are requested to refrain from firing crackers and fire-arms along the route of the procession during the march this evening.

JEFF C. ROWE, City Marshal.

The warning of City Marshal Rowe against the use of fire-arms and crackers on the route of the procession to-night is timely.

Illuminations this evening will be so general and numerous, it will be hardly possible to mention all in our Tuesday's issue. If persons intending to illuminate will kindly send in their names to this office, and the location of the places to be illuminated, we will be pleased to make use of the information.

The Dover, Saco and Biddeford delegations are expected to arrive at 8:30 this evening.

The display of fire works will occur on Market square, between nine and ten o'clock.

The Dover Cornet band was engaged by telephone last night, to report to the chief marshal here this evening.

Chief of staff M. T. Betton estimates the time of march over the route advertised this morning, at less than two hours.

There will be five or more bands and four or more drum corps in to-night's procession. The bands include the Portsmouth, Rye, Dover, Saco and Biddeford. The Wolfeboro' delegation will probably bring a drum corps.

Bonfires will be lighted on Market square and at other localities, during the march.

There has been a most liberal response from the ladies to the call for provisions for the use of the marchers, and the republican larder will be overflowing by nightfall with eatables. The visiting delegations will be especially cared for, and the chief marshal will be merciful to the visitors. The Winchester Guards, bearing in mind the long march at Dover, have stipulated that no unnecessary ground be gone over. The chief marshal deems the route longer on paper than on the streets.

SOCIETY NEWS AND PERSONAL NOTES.

—The hospitable mansion of Captain and Mrs. Bradford on the navy yard was filled with guests last Saturday evening, the occasion being a progressive euchre party given by Miss Pauline Bradford to her guest, Miss Jackson. The prizes were particularly handsome, and among the fortunate ones to capture them were Miss Lillie Hebb, Miss Helen Langdon, Miss Thompson and Lieut. Doyen. Some of the others present were Miss Morgan, Mrs. Cogswell, Miss Hatch, Miss Treadwell, Miss Chamberlain, Miss Julia Bell, Miss Burbank, Miss Elizabeth Foster, Miss Carrie Treadwell, Miss Chase, Miss Margaret Wildes, Miss DuBois, the Misses Miller, Mr. T. F. Carter, Mr. Frank Cosby, Mr. Langdon, Mr. Bradford and Mr. Higbee.

—Miss Emma Sise, who has been kept in the house for over a month now, on account of a sprained knee, is able to walk around her room, but as yet she has not been allowed to venture out. Her friends hope it will not be long before she will be entirely well.

—Lieut. Jas. K. Cogswell, navigating officer of the U. S. S. Kearsarge, writes home that that ship arrived at Hampton Roads on Wednesday afternoon, the 14th, having made the run from here in three days, which is considered very good time.

—Mrs. Delano, who has been confined by sickness to her room at the Rockingham for a few days, is now able to be out. She is expecting her husband, Lieut. F. H. Delano, of the U. S. S. Ossipee, some time this week, he having been granted two weeks leave of absence from his ship, which is at the Norfolk navy yard.

—The Army and Navy Journal says: "Mrs. Beaumont, widow of the late Admiral John C Beaumont, U. S. N., will shortly be married to the mayor of Haggerstown, Md."

—The same paper says: "Lieutenant W. I. Moore has successfully passed his examination for promotion to the grade of lieutenant-commander. He left Washington, Nov. 15th, for his station at Newport, R. I."

— Mrs. Moulton, of Laconia, Past President of the Women's Relief Corps, Dept. of New Hampshire, is passing a few days in this city as the guest of Mrs. Adaline P. Kent, at No. 9 Islington street.

A noticeable feature in the republican procession at York on Friday evening was the nine-seated carriage of Putnam's Express Co., decorated with flags, Japanese lanterns and brooms, and carrying four torches; a live rooster was perched on the top. The team was driven by "Lon" Odion, of Rye, and was occupied by G. W. S. Putnam and other veteran republicans. A. A. Hayes, of Kittery, missed the return train and enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Marshall, to whose residence he was escorted at midnight in a snow storm by the Uncle Sam club.

Saturday evening shortly before five o'clock a horse attached to a two-seated wagon started from in front of Staples' store, knocked down and ran over the owner, who attempted to stop him, hit the wagon againt a post in front of H. C. Locke's store, and smashed it, sheered across toward French's store, cleared himself from the wreck, and ran away up Market street toward the north end. The team was said to belong in Newington.

It is reported that Ward's distillery at Christian Shore, after having been shut down for about six months, will start up again soon.

Colored Fire at Benj. Green's, apothecary.

Hood's Tooth Powder at Globe Grocery company.

Use Green's Saponaceous tooth powder.

There were not many country teams in the city Saturday, and those that were in reported the roads in a shocking state with mud and water.

Quick Stop—sure cure for headache; warranted, at Benjamin Green's apothecary.

Mr. Henry T. Ridge has nearly completed a large and nice looking barn at his place on Spring street, in place of the one burned there some months ago.

The agents of the Metropolitan Life Ins, Co. on Saturday paid a claim on the death of Mary E. Cate of Hanover street, who died on the 11th inst.

The streets were in a very muddy condition on Saturday.

It is said that last Saturday was the 19th consecutive one on which rain has fallen during some part of the day.

Hundred of English sparrows were on the streets of this city on Sunday. The English sparrow makes a most excellent pot-pie. "First catch your sparrow," etc.

BURGLARS CAUGHT.

Samuel F. Bolser and Henry Carter, of Lynn, were brought before Trial Justice G. W. S. Putnam, at York, Me., on Thursday last, charged with breaking and entering in the night time, a cottage belonging to Jeremiah Donnell, at Long Beach. They pleaded guilty, and were bound over to the January term of the Supreme Judicial court to be holden at Saco, in the sum of $100, and failing to obtain security were conveyed to Alfred jail by Deputy Sheriff J. C. Stewart and E. Herbert Banks. S. G. Donnell and C. A. Grant recognized as witnesses.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Sold only in cans, full weight.

CLEVELAND BROTHERS, ALBANY, N. Y.

DIED.

TREDICK. In this city, Nov. 18th, Mr. Thomas Tredick, aged 88 years, 10 months and 21 days.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO. 106 Wall Street, New York.

MUSIC HALL, PORTSMOUTH.

STAR LECTURE COURSE.

Nov. 20th,

CAMBRIDGE ORCHESTRA, (15 PIECES,)

PROF. W. E. THOMAS, Director;

MISS NELLIE SALOME THOMAS, Soprano Soloist;

MR. J. FRANCIS GILDER, Pianist.

Tickets: 75, 50 and 35 cents. For Sale at Goodrich's Saturday morning.

FRANKLIN THEATRE.

Wednesday Evening, November 21

A NIGHT WITH THE SPIRITS.

PROF. W. W. DAYTON'S

- - GRAND - -

Spiritualistic Exposition

New and Startling Wonders. You had better go.

Nothing like it ever known, seen or heard of.

Wonder treads on the heels of wonder.

Admission 15 cents. Reserved seats 20 cents. Doors open at 7 o'clock. Commence at 8 o'clock.

A LARGE LOT OF LEAF SAGE Just Received and for Sale by the Pound or less quantity. Come early before it is sold.
JAMES R. YEATON & CO., 55 Congress St.

To Let.

THE middle Tenement, No. 23, in the Kenney Block on Pleasant Street. Apply to
J. P. HART.

New Store. New Goods.

JOHN S. RAND,

No. 11 Market Street.

Would respectfully announce that he will resume business on

Wednesday Next, Nov. 21st,

His store having been remodelled and refitted, making it one of the most attractive and best lighted in the city. In addition to his former stock he has added a large assortment of

FALL & WINTER

Dry and Fancy Goods!

purchased with a desire to suit the wants of customers, and which will be offered at prices that cannot fail to please.

Our present space enables us to add materially to our variety, and we shall therefore keep a good assortment of

Ladies' Small Wares

which will be sold at the lowest prices. Thanking friends and the public for their former patronage we would most respectfully solicit a continuance of the same.

JOHN S. RAND,
11 MARKET STREET.

Scissors

AND

Pocket Knives.

PRYOR & MATTHEWS,

16 Market St.

Colored Fire

FOR

CELEBRATION

NOV. 19, 1888,

AT

BENJ. GREEN'S,

APOTHECARY,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

Dwelling House for Sale.

THE residence of the late Mrs. Daniel Libbey, No. 126 State Street, can be purchased on application to
JOHN SISE,
JOSEPH SISE, } Executor

FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

RED FIRE!

QUALITY GUARANTEED.

ANDREW P. PRESTON,

Apothecary, - Portsmouth, N. H.

A PERFECT BLEND

MOCHA AND JAVA COFFEE

FULL WEIGHT, 2 POUND CANS, PRICE 70 CENTS

CHARLES E. LAICHTON & SO,

Exchange Building, Opp. Post-Office.

THE OLDEST AND ONLY Republican Morning Paper IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

IF YOU WANT TO BUY OR SELL ANYTHING AD VERTISE IN THE Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 24, 1852. | PORTSMOUTH, N. H., TUESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 20, 1888. | $5 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE. TWO CENTS PER COPY.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1888

The News!

ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES.

Fatal Accident

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

SACO, ME., Nov. 19.—Amasa Green was seriously, perhaps fatally, injured, by a falling elevator at York mills today. He is fifty years old, and unmarried.

The Bible in Public Schools.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle

JANESVILLE, WIS., Nov. 19.—A case in which suit was brought by Catholic tax payers, to prevent the reading of King James' version of the bible in the public schools, was decided today. Judge Bennett held that such reading was not sectarian.

A Newburyport Centenarian.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEWBURYPORT, MASS., Nov. 19.—Elizabeth Worth White today celebrated the 100th anniversary of her birth. She is the mother of nine children, six of whom are living. She has 41 grandchildren, 65 great-grand-children, and one great-great-grand child of 13 months.

It Will be Governor Goff.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WHEELING, W. VA., Nov. 19.—Gen. Goff, Republican candidate for governor telegraphed the state committee that his majority in McDowell county is 174, and in Wyoming 122. Gen. Goff also telegraphed to Editor E. B. Hart, of the Intelligencer, that he is elected governor. This is the first time he has made any claim.

Unanimous for Harvard.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 19.—Harvard beat the university of Pennsylvania at foot-ball, this afternoon, 48 to 0

A Valuable Season's Catch.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle

GLOUCESTER, MASS., Nov. 19.—The last four vessels have arrived from North Bay, bringing the mackerel season to a close. Last year the Gloucester catch was 44,762 barrels, against 53,861 in 1886. The present season's catch is 22,683 sea packed barrels, being the least for fifty years. High prices are tendered to compensate the successful vessels.

Umbria Beats The Record.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Cunarder Umbria, which arrived at Queenstown last evening, made the fastest run eastward on record. The corrected time was six days, two hours, 55 minutes. The best previous eastward run was by the Etruria in six day, four hours and four minutes, made in April last.

The Irish-Americans Celebrate.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—The Irish-American protectionists celebrated at Cooper Union, tonight, the republican victory.

A Section Hand Killed on the D. & W. R. R

Associated Press to Daily Caronicle.

DOVER, N. H., Nov. 19.—Engineer Chesley found the dead body of Patrick Mooney, of Rochester, on the cow catcher of his engine when the train stopped here this evening. The man was struck during a heavy fog, and brought ten miles. Mooney was a section man on the Dover and Winnipisogee road, was 40 years old, and leaves a family.

A Missing Postmaster.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 19.—Denis H. Devent, postmaster at Centreville, has disappeared. His bondsmen have attached the stock of his village store.

The Southern Plague.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

GAINESVILLE, FLA., Nov. 19.—Five new cases of yellow fever. Great destitution prevails, and business is entirely suspended.

JACKSONVILL, FLA., Nov. 19.—Eight new cases, four deaths. Total cases 4621, deaths 402. At McClenney, there were two new cases and one death.

Snow in Virginia.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

STAUNTON, VA., Nov. 19.—Snow fell in this vicinity last night to the depth of two inches, followed by sleet and drenching rain.

DOVER.

MONDAY, Nov. 19th

Well, well; what a muss this investigation business is raising, to be sure. There's no doubt the city government will get a great overhauling at the next election. Older heads must now take the reins in hand, and drive the council team a little straighter. No more "young blood" in ours, please.

Many hundreds took advantage of the fine weather yesterday and climbed Garrison hill. The White mountains were plainly visible, as were also the ocean, and Hotel Wentworth at Newcastle. The new reservoir came in for its share of attention also. It is a wonderful piece of work and well worth the big climb up there.

The funeral of the late Fred N. Tibbetts took place from his late home on Dover street yesterday afternoon, and was largely attended by friends and shop mates. The remains were escorted to the grave by the Dover Cornet band, of which he was an honored member.

Extensive improvements are being made at the armory of the Sawyer Rifles in American hall. A new cupboard is being built for the uniforms and overcoats, and the officers' room will be changed from the north side of the building to the south side.

Moses W. Sterns and wife, and Mayer M. Sterns, left for New York this morning.

The funeral of the late Thos. Trainor occurred from the Catholic church this morning. St. Mary's C. T. A. & B. society, headed by the band, escorted the remains to the new Catholic cemetery.

Mr. J. D. Montgomery is teaching a very successful class in penmanship at the Y. M. C. A rooms.

The Jolly Ten have a dance in American hall to morrow night.

Col. G. M. L Land and other prominent military officers have accepted invitation to the Strafford Guards' Thanksgiving ball.

Will Fernald, formerly with the Globe Grocery company at York beach, has entered the Boston Branch store.

Everybody should have their "phiz" photographed. Drew and Foss are doing cabinet size now for $2 per dozen.

Ed. Wentworth is clerking at the postoffice. He is a nice fellow, and popular everywhere.

"Bubbling Over," a musical comedy by Dumont, will be presented at the Opera house next Thursday evening. We hope the house will be "bubbling over."

Miss Annie Mahoney, the popular cashier at Sterns', is confined to her home with a severe cold.

And still the Italians refuse to work. They keep the policeman's eye on the alert however.

More investigation business at the council rooms to-night. MAC.

HEADQUARTERS DOVER BATTALION.

DOVER, N. H., Nov. 19, 1888.

The Dover Battalion is hereby ordered to report to the Colonel on Central square, Dover, this (Tuesday) evening at 7:30 o'clock, prepared to go to Portsmouth to attend their demonstration. Companies will report at their several armories at 7 o'clock. Special train will leave at 7:45.

All uniformed members of the several companies are earnestly requested to report; if however, any cannot, they are requested to bring their uniforms to their respective armories that they may be filled.

This is the closing demonstration of the campaign clubs, and we want to give Portsmouth a rousing send off.

"Rally 'round the flag boys,
Rally once again."

JOSEPH S. ABBOTT, Col.

Inspector-General Farnsworth Dead.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—Major Farnsworth, Inspector-General, U. S. A., died today at Fortress Monroe. He was appointed to the army from New York in July, 1864, as captain and assistant quartermaster.

The British Government and Ireland's Necessities.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—In the House of Commons, this evening, Mr. Madden, solicitor general for Ireland, in the absence of Balfour, chief secretary for Ireland, who is ill, brought in a bill to further facilitate the purchase by tenants of land in Ireland, by adding £5,000,000 to the amount applicable under the Ashburne act.

Stormy Weather.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LONDON, Dec. 19.—Heavy and destructive storms are reported at ports in the North and Black Seas.

Ringing Noises

In the ears, sometimes a roaring buzzing sound are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smelling or hearing also result from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood. If you suffer from catarrh, try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the peculiar medicine.

JACKETS

Reduced From

$4.00	TO	$2.98
5.00	"	3.25
7.50	"	4.98
8.25	"	4.98
9.00	"	6.25

This will be a Great Opportunity to Buy this Class of Goods Cheap.

M. C. FOYE,

No. 4 Market Square.

To Let.

THE middle Tenement, No. 23, in the Kenney Block on Pleasant Street. Apply to J. F. HART.

GOLD MEDAL, PARIS, 1878.

BAKER'S Breakfast Cocoa.

Warranted absolutely pure Cocoa, from which the excess of Oil has been removed. It has three times the strength of Cocoa mixed with Starch, Arrowroot or Sugar, and is therefore far more economical, costing less than one cent a cup. It is delicious, nourishing, strengthening, easily digested, and admirably adapted for invalids as well as for persons in health.

Sold by Grocers everywhere.

W. BAKER & CO., Dorchester, Mass.

If You Have

No appetite, Indigestion, Flatulence, Sick Headache, "all run down," losing flesh, you will find the remedy you need. They tone up the weak stomach and build up the flagging energies. Sufferers from mental or physical overwork will find relief from them. Nicely sugar coated.

Tutt's Pills

SOLD EVERYWHERE.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

Distress After Eating

Sick Headache

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." GEORGE A. PAGE, Watertown, Mass.

Heart-burn

Sour Stomach

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

MUSIC HALL.

Saturday Evening, Nov. 25th.

THATCHER, PRIMROSE & WEST'S

MILLIONAIRE MINSTRELS

Under the management of D. W. TRUSS.

"It is doubtful if their equals ever existed."—New York Herald. "Take it for all in all we shall not look upon its like again."—Detroit Free Press. "Always the leaders, they have this season surpassed all previous efforts"—Chicago Tribune.

Unique, Brilliant, Costly Shakesperan FIRST PART. William H. Wenrich Rounds The following noted characters of Shakesperan drama: Touchstone, Dromios of Ephesus, Dromios of Syracuse, Romeo, Sir John Falstaff, Macbeth, King John, Othello, Benedict, Malvolio, Mercutio, Hotspur, Timon of Athens, Julius Cæsar, Hamlet, and Heralds of the Fifteenth Century.

GEO. THATCHER, Entirely New Monologue. GEO. H. PRIMROSE'S "English Swell."

The Greatest of All European Wonders, the BROTHERS BRYNE.

THE CLIPPER QUARTETTE Barney Fagan's $1,000 Challenge Grand Revival.

Johnson, Powers and Le Mack's Original Sketch OUR BALLADISTS. Frederick Oakland, Al Hart, J. P. Carron, W. Henry White, Julian Jordan, Jas Dalton.

NEW FEATURES THOUGHOUT.

Prices: 35, 50 and 75 cents. Seats on sale Wednesday, Nov. 21st, at Goodwin's.

WANTED SALESMEN to sell Nursery Stock. All Goods Warranted FIRST-CLASS. Permanent, pleasant, profitable positions for the right men. Good salaries and expenses paid weekly. Liberal inducements to beginners. No previous experience necessary. Outfit free. Write for terms, giving age. CHARLES H. CHASE, Nurseryman, Rochester, N. Y. Mention this Paper. *thoi

Marigold Ointment!

Remember is Warranted for External Piles, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Nettle Rash, Hives, and all Diseases of the Skin and Scalp, Old Sores, Chilblains, Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Chapped Hands, Cold Sores, Cracks in Hands and Lips, Ingrowing Nails, Inflamed Joints, and everything else for which an Ointment is required

Call for Circular and Simple Box Free.

SOLE AGENT FOR ROCKINGHAM COUNTY

William D. Grace, - - - Apothecary.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE BEST BONDS ARE POLICIES

IN THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York

THE LARGEST, CHEAPEST AND BEST IN THE WORLD.

Assets - - over $120,000,000.

RICHARD A. MCCURDY, - PRESIDENT.

PROTECTION FOR THE AGED!

At Age of 78 $1000 will purchase an Annuity of $159.06, and other ages in proportion.

Those Desiring Reliable Insurance Should Apply to the Undersigned,

C. M. GIGNOUX, - - GENERAL AGENT,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

CAUTION

Beware of Fraud, as my name and the price are stamped on the bottom of all my advertised shoes before leaving the factory, which protect the wearers against high prices and inferior goods. If a dealer offers W. L. Douglas shoes at a reduced price, or says he has them without my name and price stamped on the bottom, put him down as a fraud

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE. FOR GENTLEMEN.

The only calf $3 SEAMLESS Shoe smooth inside. NO TACKS or WAX THREAD to hurt the feet, easy as hand-sewed and WILL NOT RIP.

W. L. DOUGLAS $4 SHOE, the original and only hand-sewed welt $4 shoe. Equals custom-made shoes costing from $6 to $8.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.50 POLICE SHOE. Railroad Men and Letter Carriers all wear them. Smooth inside as a Hand-Sewed Shoe. No Tacks or Wax Thread to hurt the feet.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.50 SHOE is unexcelled for heavy wear. Best Calf Shoe for the price.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.25 WORKINGMAN'S SHOE is the best in the world for rough wear; one pair ought to wear a man a year.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2 SHOE FOR BOYS is the best School Shoe in the world.

W. L. DOUGLAS $1.75 YOUTH'S School Shoe gives the small Boys a chance to wear the best shoes to the world.

All made in Congress, Button and Lace. If not sold by your dealer, write

W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

FOR SALE BY

OREN BRAGDON & SON

NO. 24 MARKET STREET

EAT QUAKER MILLS

TRADE MARK.

ROLLED WHITE OATS

FOR BREAKFAST.

SOLD BY ALL GROCERS.

Quaker Mill Co., Ravenna, Ohio.

AT

No. 63 Pleasant St

may be found a full and carefully selected stock of

FINE FANCY AND STAPLE

GROCERIES.

—ALSO—

BOOTS & SHOES

As at any Store east of Boston.

—VERMONT AND CREAMERY—

BUTTER & CHEESE.

Lard Sugar,
Molasses Syrup Oils.
Beans Peas Pickles Crackers,
Salt Pork Salt Fish, Sage Maccaroni.

-COFFEES-

Old Government Java and Rio, ground as sold

-TEAS-

Best Qualities Formosa and Japan.

—A FULL LINE—

CANNED AND SHELF GOODS.

Pure Spices, Raisins, Currants Citron, Cocoa, Chocolate, Candied Lemon Peel, and all other Fine Groceries

TOBACCO AND CIGARS.

Brooms, Brushes, Pails, Crockery and Glassware, and a Large

Assortment of Miscellaneous Articles.

Boots and Shoes!

Men's Calf Button Boots,
Men's Calf Balmoral Boots,
Men's Calf French Ties,
Ladies' Kid Button Boots.
Misses' and Children's, Youth's and Boys'.
All Sizes and Kinds.

We make the best selections possible, buying for Cash; and for Cash will sell as low as the lowest.

Orders filled with care and delivered free to any part of the city.

JOHN J. LASKEY,

FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

RED FIRE!

QUALITY GUARANTEED.

ANDREW P. PRESTON,

Apothecary, - Portsmouth, N. H.

"1888" OPENING OF "1888"

FALL AND WINTER DRY GOODS

At the Well-Known Store,

NOS. 30 and 32 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH.

Ayers & Locke, Proprietors,

Can be found the Largest Assortment of

SEASONABLE DRY GOODS MERCHANDISE.

LARGEST ASSORTMENT OF OUTSIDE GARMENTS.

For Ladies, Misses and Children,

New Goods of this Season's Manufacture.

All are Invited to Examine

OUR STOCK OF CLOAKS!

Before Purchasing Elsewhere.

Silk and Gloria RAIN UMBRELLAS! Ladies' Gossamers.

THE F. P. ROBINSON CO. BLACK STOCKINGS.

TRADE MARK. TRADE MARK.

"CLEANFAST" NONE ARE GENUINE WITHOUT THIS TRADE MARK ON EACH PAIR

Mohair and Gloria RAIN UMBRELLAS! Children's Gossamers.

Largest Assortment of Dress Goods in Portsmouth.

In fact, the Best Assortment in their Line of everything pertaining to a

FIRST-CLASS STOCK OF DRY GOODS.

NEW CARPETS! NEW CARPETS!

HOUSEKEEPING GOODS! &C.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS IN OUR UNDEWEARR DEPARTMENT,

Small Wares, Trimmings, Ribbons, Gloves Yarns, Knitting Silks, &c. Corsets, Bustles, &

Largest Assortment of Fall and Winter Skirts in all the Desirable Fabrics

Which they are desirous of exchanging for Cash on a basis for values that will compare favorably with Boston and New York prices.

AYERS & LOCKE.

A PERFECT BLEND

MOCHA AND JAVA COFFEE

FULL WEIGHT, 2 POUND CANS, PRICE 70 CENTS

CHARLES E. LAICHTON & SO,

Exchange Building, Congress St.

The Portsmouth Daily Chronicle,

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 3, 1852.

Published every morning, except Sunday, at No. 7 Exchange Building, Pleasant Street.

By mail, postage prepaid, $5 a year. Single Copies, Two Cents.

THE CHRONICLE is served to subscribers in Portsmouth, Kittery, Dover, Rochester and Farmington at 50 Cents per month, hours in advance of any other paper containing the Associated Press Despatches.

The New Hampshire Gazette,

ESTABLISHED OCT. 7, 1756.

The Oldest Newspaper in America. Published every Thursday.

Terms, $1.50 a year in advance.

[Entered at the Post Office at Portsmouth as second class matter.]

W. SCOTT SMITH,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

☞ Rates of advertising made known on application.

Agents for the Daily Chronicle:

MOSES BROS.....PORTSMOUTH.
ROBERTS & AVERY.....FARMINGTON
WORCESTER & GREENFIELD..ROCHESTER
BROWNE BROS.....DOVER.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

TUESDAY, NOV. 20, 1888.

New York Correspondence.

NEW YORK CITY, Nov. 18, 1888.

The recent defeat of the Democracy has its compensations, chief among these being the good that should come to individuals who have stood out against the blandishments of power.

The enthusiasm in New York during the campaign was all on the Republican side. They did the shouting and marching, and had the best parades and the best weather. On their part, it was more anti-Cleveland than pro-Harrison, just as four years ago, the Democratic parades were aimed at Blaine rather than enthusiastic for Cleveland. The result was a surprise to me, but I am not one of the many who are cursing Cleveland. On the contrary, I think him honest, but not practical. He is a man one cannot hurrah for, and looking back over the local campaign, I can see how hollow and heart-lacking were the Democratic cheers and marching cries. The songs and the watch-words were with the other side. When I was east, last summer, the defection of some of my old and staunch Democratic associates made a profound impression on me, and I can see now how they reasoned, and realize how much happier they are than the rear guard.

ALWOOD.

They Will Not Knock in Vain For Admission.

The Concord People and Patriot says "it may be set down as settled that the next House of Representatives will be Republican by a narrow margin, but their majority will not be large enough to carry out any outrageous partisan scheme."

But it will be large enough to admit to the States of the Union, territories containing a million or more inhabitants, whose voting force was practically disfranchised in the late presidential election, which was the result of a Democratic "outrageous partisan scheme." The majority will also be enough to effectually block any entering wedge, like the Mills bill, tending to free trade. It will be large enough for all practical purposes.

The Free Traders are But Fault-Finders.

The woe-begone followers of free-trade are in bad humor over the prospect that republicans are likely to make reductions in the tariff. The free-traders wanted to make such reductions in their own way, that manufacturing in the North should be discouraged, while their pets who branched off into rebellion should be encouraged to raise sugar and rice under the protection of enormous tariff duties. If ever a contest was purely sectional, it was this of 1888. The Cleveland message, and the Mills bills were the aggressive features which the free-traders advocated. They knew that free-trade would not be fair trade. Those who sympathized with the confederates from 1861 to 1865, were earnest helpers in a cause which they were more than willing should ruin Northern industry and build up for the South a system of sectional enrichment at the expense of the victors in the great civil war. During Ex-President Arthur's administration, great reductions were made in the tariff laws, but the principle of protection was maintained. Republicans asserted the same principles in the contest just ended, and having come off victorious, will assert their right to make such reductions in the revenue as may be necessary, without thought of punishing these foes of the country's prosperity by a resort to unreasonable, unwise or sectional tariff legislation.

We are astonished at parties who introduce new remedies for coughs when they should know the people will have Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

"Kings are like stars, they rise and set." They have headaches, cuts, and hurts like meaner men, and are just as sure to call for Salvation Oil.

—Political orator (furiously)—"Now, fellow-citizens, if this man is elected what will be the result?" A voice—"His opponent will be defeated."

Catarrh originates in scrofulous taint. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and thus permanently cures catarrh.

LIFE OF A SURGEON.

A Terrible Operation—A Worried and Exhausted Doctor—A Crisis.

I have always maintained that it is impossible for any man to be a great surgeon if he is destitute, even in a considerable degree, of the finer feelings of our nature. I have often lain awake for hours the night before an important operation, and suffered great mental distress for days after it was over, until I was certain that my patient was out of danger. I do not think that it is possible for a criminal to feel much worse the night before his execution than a surgeon, when he knows that upon his skill and attention must depend the fate of a valuable citizen, husband, father, mother or child. Surgery under such circumstances is a terrible taskmaster, feeding like a vulture upon a man's vitals. It is surprising that any surgeon in large practice should ever attain to a respectable old age, so great are the wear and tear of mind and body.

The world has seen many a sad picture. I will draw one of the surgeon. It is midday; the sun is bright and beautiful; all nature is redolent of joy; men and women crowd the street, arrayed in their best, and all apparently is peace and happiness within and without. In a large house almost overhanging this street so full of life and gayety lies upon a couch an emaciated figure, once one of the sweetest and loveliest of her sex, a confiding and affectionate wife and the adored mother of numerous children, the subject of a frightful disease of one of her limbs, or, it may be, of her jaw, if not a still more important part of her body. In an adjoining room is the surgeon, with his assistants, spreading out his instruments and getting things in readiness for the impending operation. He assigns to each his appropriate place. One administers chloroform; another takes charge of the limb; one screws down the tourniquet upon the principal artery, and another holds himself in readiness to follow the knife with his sponge. The flaps are soon formed, the bone severed, the vessels tied and the huge wound approximated. The woman is pale and ghastly, the pulse hardly perceptible, the skin wet with clammy perspiration, the voice husky, the sight indistinct. Some one whispers in the ear of the busy surgeon; "The patient, I fear, is dying." Restoratives are administered, the pulse gradually rises, and after a few hours of hard work and terrible anxiety reaction occurs. The poor woman was only faint from the joint influence of the anæsthetic, shock and loss of blood. An assistant, a kind of sentinel, is placed as a guard over her, with instructions to watch her with the closest care and to send word the moment the slightest change for the worse is perceived.

The surgeon goes about his business, visits other patients on the way, and at length, long after the usual hour, he sits down, worried and exhausted, to his cold and comfortless meal, with a mouth almost as dry and a voice as husky as his patient's. He eats mechanically, exchanges hardly a word with any member of his family, and sullenly retires to his study, to prescribe for his patients—never, during all this time, forgetting the poor mutilated object he left a few hours ago. He is about to lie down to get a moment's repose after the severe toil of the day, when suddenly he hears a loud ring of the bell, and a servant, breathless with excitement, begs his immediate presence at the sick chamber with the exclamation, "They think Mrs. —— is dying." He hurries to the scene with rapid pace and anxious feeling. The stump is of a crimson color, and the patient lies in a profound swoon. An artery has suddenly given way; the exhaustion is extreme; cordials and stimulants are at once brought into requisition; the dressings are removed, and the recusant vessel is promptly secured.

The vital current ebbs and flows, reaction is still more tardy than before, and it is not until a late hour of the night that the surgeon, literally worn out in mind and body, retires to his home in search of repose. Does he sleep? He tries, but he cannot close his eyes. His mind is with his patient; he hears every footstep upon the pavement under his window, and is in momentary expectation of the ringing of the night bell. He is disturbed by the wildest fancies, he sees the most terrific objects, and as he rises early in the morning to hasten to his patient's chamber, he feels that he has been cheated of the rest of which he stood so much in need. Is this picture overdrawn? I have sat for it a thousand times, and there is not an educated, conscientious surgeon that will not certify to its accuracy.—From the Autobiography of Dr. Gross.

NEW JEWELRY

AND

SILVER GOODS

AT

HUTCHINSON'S.

C-O-A-L-!

All Kinds and Sizes Delivered Well Screened.

E. F. SISE & CO.

First Quality Wood!

Liverpool and Turks Island

S-A-L-T-S.

In Bulk and Sacks. Salt in Boxes. Boston and Portia Brands.

TELEPHONE.

HILSLEY & MOORE,

Fire Life and Accident Insurance Agents and Brokers No. 3 Pleasant St., Portsmouth N. H.

NOTICE:—The undersigned gives notice to all whom it may concern, that he has purchased from the senior member of the old firm of MORSE & HILSLEY, all rights to the Fire Insurance Business heretofore carried on by that firm, and is duly authorized by all the Companies represented by them to receive and hold all their records.

WINGATE N. HILSLEY.

Facilities for placing the largest lines of Fire Insurance in the best Companies.

Agents for the Equitable Life Ins. Society of the U. S., New England Mutual Life Ins. Co. of Boston, Mass., and the Fidelity & Casualty Ins. Co., of New York.

The reason why small money-lenders do not, all of them, send their money west to be lent is because they do not know how to do so safely.

There is no more danger than in crossing the street, if you know your bank. But be careful about your lender.

Send for a primer on western lending; free.

THE KANSAS CITY INVESTMENT COMPANY, Kansas City, Missouri; or Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

$100,000

Janesville, Wis., Water Co.

First Mortgage 6% Bonds.

DUE AUGUST 1, 1907.

Secured by a Sinking Fund. Descriptive Circulars furnished on application.

Brewster, Cobb & Estabrook,

35 Congress St., Boston.

LOOK AT THIS

Heavy, Substantial Cooking Range,

"THE ALMONER."

Plain for $16.00, Worth $25.00

To anyone in need of a First Class Range. Examine this before purchasing elsewhere.

—— ALSO A FULL LINE OF ——

MAGEE FURNACES,

RANGES & STOVES.

Plumbing, Gas Fitting, Tin and Sheet Iron Work of All Kinds.

C. W. TAYLOR.

42 & 44 MARKET STREET.

USE NETTEZZA!

FOR THE TEETH.

PREPARED BY E. C BLAISDELL, D. M. D.

Price 25 Cents.

—— FOR SALE BY ——

A. P. PRESTON, D. KIMBALL & CO., W. D. GRACE, F. B. COLEMAN AND BENJ. GREEN.

BURNETT'S

PERFECTLY PURE HIGHLY CONCENTRATED

Standard Flavoring EXTRACTS

The superiority of these Extracts consist in their

Perfect Purity and Great Strength.

JOHN H. BROUHTON,

No. 66 Daniel St., Portsmouth, N. H.

—— DEALER IN ——

EASTERN AND WESTERN

LUMBER!

Shingles, Clapboards and Laths.

—— ALSO ——

Best Newark Hydraulic Cement, Best Extra and No. 1 Lime

FOR SALE AT LOWEST PRICES.

JOSIAH F. ADAMS

Embalmer and Funeral Director,

WAREROOMS: NO. 5 DANIEL ST.

Coffins, Caskets and Robes Always on Hand. Hearse and Carriages Furnished. Cemetery Lots Cared For, &c.

☞ Orders by day or night left at No. 27 Washington St., or with Mr. Robert King, No. 5 Hill St., will receive prompt attention.

FALL AND WINTER OF 1888-89.

Our Assortment of Tailoring Goods is superior in many respects to any of previous years, embracing a Full Line of Goods suitable for

Fall and Winter Overcoatings.

Also, a Fine Assortment of the Best

IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC GOODS FOR SUITINGS,

Consisting of Stripes, Checks, Plain and Fancy Woollens and Worsteds in Great Variety.

CHECKS AND STRIPES FOR TROWSERS.

FANCY PATTERNS FOR VESTING.

Prices Reasonable for Fine Work.

WM. P. WALKER, - - MERCHANT TAILOR,

NO. 8 MARKET SQUARE.

EASTERN OFFICE OF

Kansas City Investment Co.,

OVER FIRST NATIONAL BANK, PORTSMOUTH.

CITY MORTGAGES, FARM MORTGAGES, DEBENTURE BONDS, REAL ESTATE NOTES.

☞ INTEREST PAYABLE HERE AT MATURITY. ☜

W. G. MYERS V. P.

CORTICELLI Wash Silk.

The colors are warranted not to stain the most delicate fabric in washing with warm water and Castile soap. Sold in four distinct sizes:—G., extra coarse, called Rope;—EE, coarse, called Embroidery;—No. 500, medium, called Outline,—and a fine size called Floss. This last is sometimes known as Filo Floss, and is sold in the Corticelli brand on spools only.

NONOTUCK SILK CO., Sole Makers, 18 Summer Street, Boston.

Insurance Notice.

THE OLD INSURANCE AGENCY,

AT THE OLD STAND,

No. 13 Pleasant Street,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

JOSEPH P. MORSE,

25 CORDS

DRY PINE LIMBS!

At $3.50 Per Cord.

☞ The Very Best of Fuel at a Low Price.

O. F. PHILBRICK & CO.,

COAL AND WOOD DEALERS,

4 Water Street.

WOOD AND COAL!

A Good Assortment of all kinds of Wood and Coal.

Kindling Wood Split to Order.

—— ALSO ——

Akron Drain and Sewer Pipe.

NO. 13 GREEN STREET,

DANIEL LITTLEFIELD

STEPHEN D. SCRIGGINS,

Carriage Painter,

NO. 16 Vaughan Street, Portsmouth, N. H.

Having spacious and good accommodations and long and large experience he solicits a share of the business.

Look in at Conn's

—— AND SEE THE ——

BUTTER!

From the very best Dairies in Vermont and New York. Creameries are of no account compared with these Dairies. Also,

Cheese, Pork, Lard, Hams, Beans Etc

No Oleo or Second-Hand Stuff kept.

☞ The very best quality of LARD bought by the car load, which I am selling less than the Boston prices.

DR. S. F. HAM,

Of Hotel Bristol, Boston, will receive patients

Monday and Tuesday

FROM MAY 1st TO NOV. 1st,

And the remainder of the year every Monday.

Office and Residence, 13 CURT ST., Portsmouth, N. H.

CITY OF PORTSMOUTH.

PROPOSALS FOR LOAN.

THE City of Portsmouth, N. H., will issue bonds of the par value of about $40 000 dated January 1, 1889, payable January 1, 1909, with interest at four per cent payable semi-annually.

Proposals will be received for the purchase of said bonds, until Saturday, December 1st, at 12 o'clock m. GEORGE E. HODGDON, Mayor. no16dlecl

J. L.

Thanksgiving, '88.

500 lbs. Layer Figs.
2,000 lbs. Malaga Grapes.
100 boxes Fancy New Raisins.
500 lbs. New Citron.
500 lbs. New Currants.
50 doz. boxes New Sardines.
New Nuts of all Kinds.
New Cider. Bottled Cider. Wines, etc.

The largest and best stock in the city.

JOHN LAIGHTON,

No. 1 Market Square.

Always on Time.

NEW YORK & NEW ENGLAND,

Trains for New York.

Leave Portsmouth, via Boston & Maine R. R. at 11:05 a. m. 7:40 p. m. Arrive at Boston 1:15, 9:30 p. m.

Leave Boston, ‡12:00 noon, §*3 00, 11:30 p. m. Ar. New York, 6 30, *9 00 p. m., 6 35 a. m. Parlor and Sleeping Cars through without change.

‡Dining Car between Boston and Hartford.

§Dining Car between Boston and Willimantic.

*3:00 p. m. runs daily, including Sundays.

Through tickets at offices, North and East.

Baggage checked through.

Ticket offices—322 Washington St., and Depot foot of Summer St., Boston. eadtf

BOOK BINDING

Of Every Desciption,

—— DONE AT ——

NO. 5 CONGRESS STREET,

(OVER FAY'S STORE.)

Magazines and other Periodicals Bound in Styles to Suit Patrons; Especial Attention given to

REBINDING OLD BOOKS!

For Libraries or Individuals; in short, any work of the kind promptly attended to, and satisfaction guaranteed. ☞ Prices reasonable.

JOHN D. RANDALL.

E. C. BLAISDELL, D. M. D.,

(SUCCESSOR TO DR. F. J. BONNEY,)

Dental Rooms 1 1-2 Market Street.

HUNT'S REMEDY

RELIEVES the Kidneys;
RELIEVES the Liver;
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS UNIVERSALLY.

COMFORT

—— FOR ——

COLD AND TENDER FEET!

Persons troubled with cold or tender feet will find warmth and ease in the use of

DOLGE'S ALL WOOL FELT

Slippers and Shoes

For which the undersigned is agent in this City and Vicinity.

--- AT THE STORE ---

No. 34 Market Street

Can be found a Full Line of these Goods, in many patterns of Slippers, Shoes and Boots, and several colors, for house, office or street wear,

Of Men and Boys, Women and Girls.

☞ Please examine our Stock.

J. C. CARR.

Furnaces, Ranges & Stoves.

We are now ready to show the Finest Line of

RANGES AND PARLOR STOVES

Ever offered in this city, at Prices within the reach of all. Call and See Them Before Buying, it will Pay You.

LAMPS!

LAMPS!

Our Stock of Lamps is Complete, the

Lux Dux, Rochester, Banner, Duplex,

All First-Class, and will be Sold at the Lowest Prices.

PLUMBING, GAS PIPING, COPPER AND SHEET IRONWORK, AT

John P. Sweetser's,

46 MARKET STREET.

Now is the Time to Look Over Your Wardrobe and See What You Need for Winter, and

SIMPSON'S CORNER STORE

Is the place where you can find everything you need in Gentlemen's Wear, at Remarkably Low Prices, for Cash.

—— WE HAVE A FULL LINE OF ——

OVERCOATS!

Ranging in Prices from $5 to $25.

—— A NEW LOT OF ——

ULSTERS!

From $6 to $20.

—— A FINE ASSORTMENT OF ——

FURNISHING GOODS.

☞ Headquarters for OIL and RUBBER CLOTHING, Wholesale and Retail.

Come and See for Yourselves at the Old Stand,

Corner Market and Bow Streets,

CHARLES E. SIMPSON.

NOTICE!

FALL

—— AND ——

WINTER

STYLES

NOW READY!

—— AT ——

MRS. TEBBETTS',

NO. 14 MARKET STREET.

THIS PAPER is on file in Philadelphia at the Newspaper Advertising Agency of Messrs. N. W. AYER & SON, our authorized agents.

RAYMOND'S VACATION EXCURSIONS.

All Travelling Expenses Included.

A party will leave Boston Monday, January 14, 1889, for a

Grand Tour of 82 Days,

THROUGH THE SOUTHERN STATES,

MEXICO,

AND —

CALIFORNIA.

The outward route is via Buffalo, Suspension Bridge, Detroit, Toledo, Cincinnati, New Orleans, etc.

The entire round of travel through the South and Mexico to be made in a Special Train of Magnificent Vestibuled Pullman Palace Cars, inclusive of Pullman Palace Dining-Car. All the leading cities and places of historic and picturesque interest to be visited, including Guadalajara and the City of Mexico (where ten days will be passed). A Six Days' Trip over the Mexican Railway. Also a Complete Round of California, with special trains returning through the grand scenic sections of Utah, Colorado, etc. The time in California will be extended at pleasure, with seven different dates of return under special escort. The tickets also good on any train until July.

Second and Last Tour through the Southern States, Mexico and California.—February 11.

Grand Tour of 47 Days through the Southern States and Mexico (omitting California).—March 11.

California Excursions.—December 6; January 7 and 10; February 7, 11, and 25; March 7 and 11.

Washington Excursions (the only ones this season).—January 18 and February 15.

W. RAYMOND. I. A. WHITCOMB.

☞ Send for descriptive circulars, designating the tour desired.

W. RAYMOND,

296 Washington St. (opposite School St.), BOSTON, MASS. no19

GRATEFUL---COMFORTING.

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in half pound tins, by Grocers, labelled thus:

JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England.

1ee5

WE WANT A GOOD ENERGETIC SALESMAN in every town and city TO SOLICIT ORDERS FOR FRAMING PICTURES. BEST OUTFIT IN THE WORLD and a permanent situation. Address H. B. WARDWELL, Lewiston, Me.

POSITIVELY CLOSING WEEKS

GRAND CYCLORAMA

BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG,

541 Tremont St., Boston.

Don't fail to see this great battle scene at once.

A new subject now being painted will take its place in this building January 1st.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, the great Medical Work of the age on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline, Errors of Youth, and the untold miseries consequent thereon, 300 pages 8 vo., 125 prescriptions for all diseases. Cloth, full gilt, only $1.00, by mail, sealed. Illustrative sample free to all young and middle-aged men. Send now. The Gold and Jewelled Medal awarded to the author by the National Medical Association. Address P.O. Box 1895, Boston, Mass., or Dr. W. H. PARKER, graduate of Harvard Medical College, 25 years' practice in Boston, who may be consulted confidentially. Office, No. 4 Bulfinch St. Specialty, Diseases of Man. ☞ Cut this out. You may never see it again.

MARVELOUS

MEMORY

DISCOVERY.

Any book learned in one reading
Mind wandering cured.
Speaking without notes.
Piracy condemned by Supreme Court.
Great inducements to correspondence classes

Prospectus, with opinions of Dr. Wm. A. Hammond, the world famed Specialist in Mind diseases, Daniel Greenleaf Thompson, the great Psychologist, J. M. Buckley, D. D., Editor of the Christian Advocate, Richard Proctor, the Scientist, Hons. Judge Gibson, Judah P. Benjamin, and others, sent post free by

Prof. A. LOISETTE, 237 Fifth Ave., New York.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling. 50c and $1.00 at Druggists.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

The three-story (above the grade floor)

BRICK STORE BUILDING

NO. 16 BOW STREET,

Running back over the wharf to the river, occupied for a long time by the late Charles Robinson as a wholesale corn and flour store. Sold to close up an estate. Enquire of

J. P. MORSE, Real Estate Broker.

GRANITE STATE

Fire Insurance Company,

OF PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

PAID-UP CAPITAL, - $200,000

OFFICERS:

President, FRANK JONES.
Vice President, JOHN W. SANBORN.
Secretary, ALFRED F. HOWARD.
Treasurer, JOHN LAIGHTON.
Executive Committee, FRANK JONES, JOHN W. SANBORN, CHARLES A. SINCLAIR, EDWIN WALLACE and E. H. WINCHESTER.

TRAVELLER'S GUIDE.

TRAINS LEAVE

Portsmouth for Boston, 4.05, 7.25, 8.20, 11.05 a. m., 2.55, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4.00 p. m.

Boston for Portsmouth, 7.30, 9.00, 10.30 a. m., 12.45, 3.30, 4.40, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.00 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

Portsmouth for Portland, 9.55, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 5.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m.

Portland for Portsmouth, 7.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.05, 5.00 p. m. Sundays, 9.00 a. m.

Portsmouth for Dover, 4.20, 9.45 a. m., 12.25, 3.45, 5.22 p. m.

Dover for Portsmouth, 6.55, 10.30 a. m., 1.55, 4.30, 6.40 p. m.

Portsmouth for York Beach, 5.30, 11.10 a. m. 3.35 p. m.

York Beach for Portsmouth, 6.40, 10.00 a. m., 1.40 p. m.

Portsmouth for Concord, 7.55 a. m., 1.00, 5.15 p. m.

Concord for Portsmouth, 7.30, 10.20 a. m., 3.35 p. m.

Portsmouth for Manchester, 7.55 a. m., 1.00, 5.15 p. m.

Manchester for Portsmouth, 8.35, 11.15 a. m., 4.25 p. m.

TRAINS ARRIVE

In Boston from Portsmouth, 6.20, 9.10, 10.25 a. m., 1.15, 4.45, 7.10, 9.30 p. m. Sundays, 6.30 a. m., 4.30 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Boston, 9.45, 10.45 a. m., 12.45, 5.20, 6.45, 8.37 p. m. Sundays, 10.40 a. m., 8.37 p. m.

In Portland from Portsmouth, 12.00 m., 12.35, 6.40, 11.00 p. m. Sundays, 11.00 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Portland, 8.55, 10.44 a. m., 3.00, 7.11 p. m. Sundays, 3.55 a. m.

In Dover from Portsmouth, 8.40, 10.10 a. m., 12.50, 3.03, 5.47 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Dover, 7.20, 10.44 a. m., 3.20, 4.55, 7.11 p. m.

In Concord from Portsmouth, 10.30 a. m., 3.12, 6.25 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Concord, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

In Manchester from Portsmouth, 9.42 a. m., 2.30, 7.20 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Manchester, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

KITTERY AND PORTSMOUTH.

STEAMER MYSTIC.

Leave Bartlett's wharf, Kittery, 6.35, 7.50, 8.45, 10.0, 11.45 a. m., 2.00, 3.15, 4.45, 6.00 p. m. Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 6.30, Saturday evening, 6.30, 8.00.

Leave Broughton's wharf, foot Daniel street, Portsmouth, 7.30, 8.00, 9.30, 11.00 a. m., 12.45, 3.00, 4.00, 5.15, 6.15 p. m., Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7.30, Saturday evenings, 7.30, 9.00.

Fare five cents each way.

A TRIAL SAMPLE OF 40 SWORN CASES OF THE VALUE OF

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND

THE RADICAL BLOOD PURIFIER.

DIPHTHERIA. SCROFULA.

Miss Lena Judkins, a daughter (17 years old) of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Judkins, 677 Boston St., Lynn, CURED by Dr. Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of very severe case of Scrofula, with Malignant Ulcers of eight years' standing, after 11 Physicians had failed. Almost a miracle. Now in perfect health. Sworn to before HARMON HALL, Justice of the Peace.

SCROFULOUS HUMOR.

Miss Mary Etta Leighton, a daughter (16 yrs. old) of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison G. Leighton, 16 Bickford Court, Lynn, CURED by Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of a deep seated Scrofulous Humor, with discharging eruptions, which had baffled eight physicians and the combined forces of two prominent hospitals. Perfectly cured and without a blemish. Sworn to before CALVIN B. TUTTLE, Justice of the Peace.

Send for circular of 40 Sworn cases. They are solid facts and carry conviction.

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND.

is absolutely the greatest known Remedy for the Radical cure of Scrofula, Cancerous Humors, Diphtheritic or Mineral Blood-Poisoning, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Dropsy and Liver Complaint.

$1. per Bottle (6 for 5). At Druggists.

Lougee Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Laxador An infallible regulator of the Human System. Cures Liver Complaint, Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Giddiness, &c. Sold by druggists. Laxador Cures Bilious Affections &c. Laxador Price 25 Cts. Laxador

The Leading Perfume. DREXEL'S BELL COLOGNE Fragrant! Lasting! PRICE 25 CENTS. AT ALL DEALERS.

DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP CURES COUGHS & COLDS FOR 25 ¢

SALVATION OIL Price only 25 cts. Sold by all druggists. Will relieve Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Swellings, Bruises, Lumbago, Sprains, Headache, Toothache, Sores, Burns, Wounds, Cuts, Scalds, Backache, Gout, or any bodily pain or ailment.

CHEW LANG'S PLUG. The Great Tobacco Antidote!—Price 10 Cts. At all druggists.

Cure Your Corns, BY USING SCHLOTTERBECK'S CORN, WART AND BUNION SOLVENT IS GUARANTEED.

Hayes Excelsior and Wm. B. Stone Celt Resist GUITARS, $10 to $40. Violin BOWS, 50 cents to $300. Solo Bb CORNET, $10. Hayes VIOLINS, Orchestra, $25; Solo, $35. Special Snare DRUMS, $6. Cymbal FIFES, $2. Drum Corps and Bands send for Estimates. Catalogues free. J. C. HAYNES & Co., 33 Court St., Boston, Mass.

WATERS OF THE SPRINGS.

Principal Constituents of the Different Classes of Mineral Waters.

The water of many springs holds in solution saline, earthy and metallic ingredients. Such springs are found in most parts of the earth, each differing from the other, more or less, in the character, quantity and combination of the constituents. Indeed, as at Saratoga, there may be essential differences in the waters of springs at but a short distance from each other.

The principal constituents are soda, magnesia, lime, iron and lithium, combined with various acids. In some there is free carbonic acid, so that the water resembles the manufactured carbonated water of our so called "soda fountains." There may be, also, in smaller quantities, one or more of a dozen other minerals. Some springs are hot and their temperature increases their value, especially for bathing purposes.

The springs generally contain a mixture of several mineral constituents, but they are classified according to the predominant one, which, in the main, determines the class of cases to which the water is suited, though its action is modified by that of the lesser ingredients.

In one class, the chief ingredient is common salt—chloride of sodium. Since salt enters into the tissues of the body, and largely into the gastric juice, it must have important therapeutical uses. It stimulates the action of the stomach and bowels and the general circulation. In this class of springs, the action of the salt is usually modified by carbonic acid, which is also found in them.

The water of a second class of springs is alkaline, and has carbonate of soda—which differs not greatly from our cooking soda—for its chief ingredient. This, too, is a constituent of the body, and the water aids in digestion, corrects acidity, favors the action of the kidneys, and helps to promote vital changes in the system. The doses of all alkalies should be small.

In a third class iron predominates. This favors the formation of good blood, the production of heat and general nutrition.

In a fourth class the special constituent is sulphur, which is sought, among other ailments, for numerous cutaneous affections.

In a fifth, the chief constituents are carbonate and sulphate of lime, and carbonate of magnesia, and are of use to persons having digestive troubles, with a tendency to acidity, diarrhœa, and irritability of the mucous membrane.

These waters, as bottled up at the springs, and sold by druggists, are in themselves equally potent, but a large part of the benefit of a visit, say to Saratoga Springs, is in the change of scene, surroundings, etc. Much, also, is due to copious drinking, which washes out the stomach, and variously relieves the system. But to have the full benefit of mineral waters, one should be guided by the advice of an intelligent physician. Without it, harm may result, instead of health.—Youth's Companion.

Arsenic as a Medicine.

Arsenic is extremely useful in a narrow line of cases. In chronic malarial poisoning it usually acts as a real antidote after quinine, and all the principles derived from Peruvian bark have done all they can to rid the organism of the enemy. It is in the obstinate and obscure forms of malarial poisoning that arsenic is of such great value. In ordinary chills and fever, it is too slow to take the place of quinine, but in neuralgias, headaches and obscure nervous troubles showing a tendency to appear and disappear with regularity, there is no substitute for arsenic. In cases of this kind the drug appears to be simply an anti-malarial remedy, with no show of its so called alterative qualities. In certain skin diseases, especially those showing a tendency to sluggishness, with no sharp, acute symptoms, arsenic is supposed to act as an alterative. The scaly, skin affections, those connected in some way with the rheumatic constitution, are of this character. How it performs the service of increasing the circulation, hastening the activity of the removal of old tissues and the adding of new materials where they are most needed, is still practically unknown.—Globe-Democrat.

Novel Use for the Scriptures.

Bible readings in parlors will be a feature in society—a diversion shall it be said?—this winter, and will take the place among some of the intellectual that Browning recitals occupied last year. Readers who may conclude from this preface that society is becoming pious will be disappointed when they learn that the new movement finds its support among the agnostics, and that the old Bible will be selected solely with the rhetorical and oratorical possibilities of its stately language in view. It is understood that a young society man who quite distinguished himself as an amateur reader of Browning has studied the Psalms this summer for the purpose of reading them to ears sated with the "Flight of the Duchess" and "Rabbi Ben Ezra," and is very eager for the opening of the reading season, which usually dates from Nov. 15. From the Psalms he hopes to progress to the book of Job, should society graciously smile upon the bold experiment in its final phase. Perhaps to a portion of his hearers the Rig Veda is more familiar than the holy Scriptures.—Boston Transcript.

The German Voice.

I think if Germans who compare the German and American singing, to the advantage of their own nation, knew the opinion their own great countryman, Richard Wagner, had of their voices, they would be disposed to search for the reasons of his conclusions before they flattered their own vocal powers. Wagner believed that the German voice is too harsh and too little susceptible of modulation for true melody, and I have in my pocketbook a statement of his reflecting particularly upon the coarse tones of Prussian singers.—Lester Crawford in Globe-Democrat.

Master of the Hawks.

The Duke of St. Albans receives £965 per year as master of the hawks, £200 for four falconers, £600 for provision of hawks, and £182 10s. for pigeons, hen and other meats. The office was given by James II in 1684 to the ancestors of the duke, and the family has kept it ever since.—Chicago News.

A NEW PHOTOGRAPHIC LIGHT.

Fine Pictures Taken by a Flash of Gun Cotton.

At the last meeting of the Society of Amateur Photographers Dr. H. G. Piffard, of this city, exhibited a new method of taking photographs by artificial light, to take the place of the unsatisfactory method of burning a ribbon of magnesium tape that has been used for a long time. Before the meeting the young gentlemen who don't know much about the business and the gray beards who know it all stood about in little groups excitedly discussing the new invention.

The routine business was disposed of in a hurry, and then Dr. Piffard was introduced. He is a tall, well built gentleman, with a head of thick, wavy brown hair, a heavy mustache and strongly marked features. Liberal applause greeted him. He read a short address on the difficulties experienced in producing successfully an artificial light that would do for taking pictures. He illustrated several of the unsuccessful attempts that had been made, and dwelt particularly upon the failure of the magnesium light. He lit a ribbon of magnesium tape, and showed how apt it was to flare up and then subside and suddenly to go out before the picture was taken.

A big camera was rolled out into the room, and a table, whose top came up even with the lens, was placed beside it. A brick was placed upon the table, and upon this brick the doctor put about six grains of gun cotton, and sprinkled over it from ten to fifteen grains of magnesium powder. A chair was placed in front of the camera about ten feet away, and Mr. H. J. Newton seated himself in this chair. A wax taper was lit and handed to Mr. Newton, who held it close to his face. He was focused in this position, and then the lights were turned down until the room was dark. A dry plate was placed in the camera, and then Dr. Piffard lit a match and applied it to the compound. There was a flash of light that made the entire room as bright as noonday for a second. Then the gas was turned up.

Mr. Robert Roosevelt was photographed in the same way. The pictures developed in a few minutes, and negatives were handed around. Ehey were perfect, and a burst of applause greeted the experiment.

All manner of dark places can be photographed by this method, such as thick woodland scenes and dark caves. It will enable amateur photographers to take pictures in their homes at night, and will prolong the hours of work for the professionals, and correspondingly increase their incomes.

An entirely original use to which it can be put was referred to by Dr. Piffard. He explained that a small wad of the compound could be placed in the barrel of a pistol and exploded by concussion. He did this, and the flash was just as bright as when it was ignited in the loose state. The idea is the construction of a small camera made so that it can be fastened to the barrel of a pistol. It is claimed that the uses to which this can be put are manifold. Among them is the avoidance of any more struggles at police headquarters when a picture is wanted for the Rogues' gallery. The rogue can be photographed in a cell so dark that he will not be able to see the photographer. The flash is so quick that he will be given no time to distort his features, to close his eyes, or to disguise himself in any way. It will also make a handy weapon for a man to have by his bedside. For instance, a man can have a self cocking revolver with a camera fastened on the barrel. One of the chambers can be loaded with this compound and the other chambers with bullets. When a burglar appears, the citizen can point his revolver toward him and take his photograph first. The flash will enable him to see if there is more than one burglar around, and if there is not, then he can fire a bullet at the one whose photograph he has. If the man escapes, his photograph can be handed to the police. If there is more than one burglar, the wisest thing to do would be to shoot the one who hasn't been photographed, for the other one can be caught at any time by means of his picture. Suppose a desperate burglar enters a house, and the house owner has only time to photograph him before he is murdered. In the morning, providing the burglar hasn't stolen the camera, as he surely will if he happens to read this story, the police develop the picture and there is evidence enough to hang him.

The ingredients in Dr. Piffard's compound are said to be absolutely safe. Among other things exhibited was a new developer known as "hydrochinon." Several pictures that had been developed by it were so perfect that the hair on a man's hand could be distinctly seen. A film, upon which negatives can be taken, created much favorable comment. These can be carried conveniently, and are not only much lighter than glass, but they are also less fragile.

Dr. Higgins produced what he termed a "finder." This is to be used for the purpose of rapidly locating any moving object, so that it can be photographed before it can get beyond the range of the camera. The "finder" is a small square box with a ground glass top and a small lens in one end. If you want to photograph a running deer or a savage animal in the act of springing upon a victim, a moving steamboat, a bird flying through the air, or anything else that hasn't got time to wait, you just place the "finder" on top of your camera, push the camera in or out, as the case may be, until the object is seen in the ground glass, and then you are sure the focus is all right.—New York Sun.

Why People Have Poor Teeth.

Dr. Julius Pohlmann, in an interesting article on "The Human Teeth Viewed in the Light of Evolution," shows the inadequacy of many of the explanations of the poor teeth of modern times. He believes that people have poor teeth as they have poor muscles, because they are not used enough. The food of the present day is cooked, softened, and hard particles removed, children are brought up on soft foods, and in general there is a tendency to allow the teeth to lapse into a harmful desuetude.—Boston Journal of Health.

Metal Ropes for Mines.

Signal ropes for mines are on the Continent made of ditta metal, for the reason that this metal resists corrosion. It is said to have a tensile strength of more than fifty tons per square inch of section.

CHINAMEN STARTING HOME.

Odd Scenes Witnessed in San Francisco Celestials Departing for Cathay.

When the city slept and nothing disturbed the stillness of the hour save an occasional milk wagon rattling over the cobbles, and only a police officer, night worker or carouser was strolling through the streets, or, perhaps, a quiet newspaper man going wearily to his home, wagon after wagon loaded with Chinese and their luggage were arriving at Brannan street, opposite the wharf of the Pacific Mail Steamship company, San Francisco. It may seem strange why they should be there so soon, as the wharf is not opened for them till 7 o'clock. They were there, however, each one wishing his wagon was first at the gate so that he could secure what he considered the best berth in the steerage. Shortly after 4 a. m. a load of sever coolies, sitting high on top of a large quantity of luggage, drove up to the gate and had first place. During the next hour a few arrivals lengthened the line of teams; but about 5 o'clock a gray light stole softly over the listless undulating water of the bay, and from the dark fog that lay off in the distance a hazy purple came and dissolved into a silvery gray that spread over the eastern sky, dimming the stars and rendering the lights on the ship useless.

This heralded the arrival of express and freight wagons loaded with all kinds of conceivable luggage—bundles of clothes, matting bags, strange looking boxes, tin vessels, Saratoga trunks, "Melican" tools, and, with the Chinese, the ubiquitous round baskets that are carried on each end of a strong pole over the shoulder—all containing good things for the Flowery Kingdom. On top of all this were huddled four or five, or perhaps more, Chinamen bound for home.

The hoarse, warning voice of the fog horn and the steady measured beats of the fog bell coming dolefully across the water ceased after sunrise, but the wharves were alive with the hum of a coming day's toil, and the din of the Chinese jabbering and yelling ere the work of the day was commenced. A reporter, who was there in time to see the first arrival, tried to converse with many of the Chinese, but "Me no sabe," they would say, fearing perhaps that it might not be just right for their wellfare.

For two or three hours the coolies gathered outside the wharf gate, anxiously waiting to be admitted. At last the time came when the door was opened, about 7 o'clock, and a wild rush was made toward the steamer. Sometimes, indeed, the rush from the Oakland ferry on landing at the mole is like it, but a band of restless cattle let loose would be the closest possible resemblance to the race of Chinese down the wharf. They were stopped about half way by officers and workmen on the wharf, but the coolies would try every scheme to get beyond the line, only to be driven back as a steer would when running off from a pen. At this time the gentlemanly freight clerk of the steamer asked the reporter to come to the front, adding: "Now the fun commences; keep in front where the crush is, and their attempts at crossing the line will be amusing."

It certainly was. Two men were stationed before the Chinese, one armed with a heavy broom that often came down unmercifully on the back or head or shoulders of some coolie as he tried to make a break. When one of the men would turn his back for a moment another break would be made, but the unfortunate would be hurled back with a cuff or shake, and very often a little stronger language than "Get up there," "Come in here," or "Get back," with the accent on the back, and something else on the coolie's. The men who tried to preserve an unbroken front cut a funny figure as their mates joked over their task; indeed, every time a Mongol would be put back a fresh sally of laughter would be made and something funny said, much to the discomfort of the Chinese. A Chinaman carrying a live duck went boldly to the ship, but the duck's quacking attracted the attention of the broom armed guard, who was told by an officer close by that the ducks wanted to "walk, walk," but John carried them. This was a pun the guard enjoyed, still he thought John had better walk back, too, but on attempting to turn him back was answered with "belong ship," which evidently was a password for the Chinese deck hands.

After a long wait the ship was ready, and the word was given to let the Chinese aboard. The line was broken like a flash, and a tremendous sally made for the gang plank, one coolie battling with the other for precedence; in fact, a scramble amounting almost to a free fight ensued; hats, bundles, baskets, sticks, tin vessels and "pig tails" were flying over the heads of the crowd, and at the end of the gang plank prostrate and fighting forms rendered the plank impassable. At last two stalwart officers seized the nearest coolie and threw him toward the ship along the plank. This cleared the way a little, and, between boxing, pushing and the combined efforts of four men, a kind of wild order was preserved ashore and the gang plank kept clear; but in their quarters, where every one was looking for the best bunk, a scene of indescribable tumult was witnessed. Every Chinese seemed full of an eager desire to push his way through the narrow passages between the bunks and up and down the stairs, elbowing every one else, only thinking of himself, and roaring, jabbering, fighting, hauling loads of luggage and securing his berth.

For some hours they kept coming in, increasing the din. Later in the forenoon detachments from the country arrived, and as the day advanced the wharf looked like a street in Chinatown—loads of the luggage with at least 500 men, women and children sitting between them and drinking tea or smoking. Their faces wore a happy, anxious and excited appearance. All the time Chinese money changers walked among the crowd with handfuls of Mexican dollars, which they changed for American coin with a profit of twenty cents on the dollar. But the traveler loses little or nothing by the change, as Mexican money is current in Hong Kong and is equal in value to American there.

At noon the ship was cleared of the Chinese to prevent stowaways and to issue customs certificates, which, when once in receipt of, the Mongols went peacefully aboard, and with goodbys that sounded like "ya-yas" they parted with their friends ashore.—San Francisco Call.

Wheat as a Food.

Dr. Calvin Cutter, the physiologist, who has made a careful study of this matter, says: "The history of the Roman empire in the time of Julius Cæsar shows that wheat as an article of food, combined with fresh outdoor air life, is capable of producing and sustaining the highest type of physical manhood the world ever saw. The empire was built up and maintained by soldiers whose main article of food was wheat. There is every probability that the present prevalence of late erupting and easily decaying teeth is due, for one cause, to the use of flour (white) as food. In 880 of the school children in Woburn, Lexington and Bedford, Mass., in 1874, under 12 years of age, two-thirds had decayed teeth. (See Reports State Health Board of Massachusetts, 1875.) There is every probability that grayness or premature baldness is partly due to the present exclusive and universal use of white flour." Then the doctor proceeds to give scientific reasons why this is the case.

Rev. J. F. Clymer, Auburn, N. Y., thinks that one reason why children fed chiefly on white bread are so often hungry, and demand so much food between meals, is because their bodies are insufficiently nourished. "Their bones and nerves do not receive the nitrates and phosphates they need and are suffering from hunger."—Susanna W. Dodds, M. D., in Demorest's Monthly.

An official report upon the Chinese quarters of San Francisco, made about two years ago by a committee of the board of supervisors, after several months of careful survey and investigation, presented probably in a clearer light than ever before the true phases of Chinese colonial life. Thirteen Joss houses were found; Christian churches were turned into Chinese lodging houses and brothels. Missionary work, in nearly forty years of effort and labor, had not brought a dozen converts into the field who could be properly vouched for as such. In the contest between idolatry and Christianity, the former was in full and undisputed possession of the field.—Forum.

MAKE HENS LAY

WE SEND BY MAIL A LARGE 2¼ POUND CAN FOR $1.20, TWO SMALL PACKS 50 CTS POST PAID.

NOTHING ON EARTH WILL MAKE HENS LAY LIKE SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER.

Sheridan's Condition Powder

is absolutely pure and highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other kind. Strictly medicine, to be given in the food, once daily, in small doses. Prevents and cures all diseases of hens. Worth its weight in gold when hens are moulting, and to keep them healthy. Testimonials sent free by mail. Ask your druggist, grocer, general store, or feed dealer for it. If you can't get it, send once to us. Take no other kind. We will send postpaid by mail as follows: A handsome elegantly illustrated copy of the "FARMERS' POULTRY RAISING GUIDE" (1[illegible] pages) containing a receipt so make money with a few hens, and two small packages of Powder for 60 cents; one can and one pound can and Guide, $1.20. Sample package of Powder, 25 cents, five for $1.00. [illegible] pounds, $5.00. Send stamps or cash. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., 22 Custom-House St., Boston.

My Poor Back!

That "poor back" is held responsible for more than its share of the sufferings of mankind. If your dog bites a man who kicks it, do you blame the dog? On the same principle the kidneys utter their protest against nervousness, impure blood, and resulting constipation. These force them to do extraordinary work in ridding the system of the poisons which are the result of effete matter retained in the blood. Then the sufferer says the back aches; the kidneys are diseased. "Not yet;" but they will be unless the nerves are strengthened, the blood purified, and the constipation removed. These are the causes of kidney troubles, and Paine's Celery Compound removes them quickly. With its tonic, purifying, and laxative effect, it also strengthens the weak kidneys, making it almost infallible in curing all diseases of the nerves and kidneys. If your hopes of cure have not been realized, try Paine's Celery Compound; it gives perfect health to all who complain of "their poor backs." Price $1.00.

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS. SEND FOR ILLUSTRATED PAPER.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Proprietors, BURLINGTON, VERMONT.

POSITIVELY No Cure, No Pay! CONSTITUTIONAL COUGH SYRUP --- TRY IT! ---

The proprietor of this remedy has such confidence in its curative powers that he makes the following

Generous Offer!

Any person buying a bottle is given the privilege of returning it and receiving their MONEY BACK, if after using two-thirds of its contents, they have derived no benefit from it.

PRICE 25 AND 50 CENTS. — SOLD BY — David Kimball & Co., 36 Market Street.

S. Philbrick & Co., — MANUFACTURERS OF — Marble and Granite Work OF EVERY DESCRIPTION. GRANITE POLISHING A SPECIALTY. OFFICE AND WORKS. No 2 Water Street Portsmouth

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Best and Purest Medicine EVER MADE.

It will drive the Humor from your system, and make your skin clean and smooth. Those Pimples and Blotches which mar your beauty are caused by Impure blood, and can be removed in a short time, if you are wise and use the great blood purifier, SULPHUR BITTERS.

Why suffer with Boils? Why have Salt Rheum? Why let your blood become so impure? What makes you so miserable? Your nerves are all unstrung. Your blood is feeble and poisoned. Sulphur Bitters will make it pure and rich, and will repair the damage which your excesses have caused. Sulphur Bitters is not a cheap Rum or poor Whiskey mixture, but a medicine made from the best and purest drugs. Try SULPHUR BITTERS. They will cure you where all others fail. No person can remain long sick who uses SULPHUR BITTERS. No doctors do not despair. Try SULPHUR BITTERS. They will cure you where all others fail.

SULPHUR Bitters

The Dose is small—only a teaspoonful. It is the best and cheapest medicine. Try it, and you will be satisfied. Get it of your Druggist. DON'T WAIT. GET IT AT ONCE.

If you are suffering from Kidney Disease, and wish to live to old age, use SULPHUR BITTERS. They never fail to cure.

Send 3 2-cent stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., for 64-page medical work on disease.

ADAMSON'S BOTANIC COUGH BALSAM

More than twenty years ago Adamson's Botanic Balsam was introduced generally throughout New England as a remedy for Coughs, Colds and Pulmonary complaints. Since its introduction it has constantly won its way into public favor, until now it is the universal decision that ADAMSON'S BOTANIC BALSAM is the best remedy for curing Coughs, Colds and Asthma.

Made only by F. W. KINSMAN & CO., (Established 1850). Druggists and Dispensing Chemists, 343 4th ave., corner 25th st., N. Y. FOR SALE AT ALL DRUG STORES.

SEND FOR Miller's Gamecock, THE KING OF ALL WHISKIES. JOHN MILLER & CO., 298 and 300 Hanover St., Boston, Sole Proprietors. SEND FOR PRICE LIST. eod1dec13

COAL! COAL! Finest Grades, well prepared for Domestic Purposes, constantly Arriving and for Sale at Lowest Price. WHOLESALE AND RETAIL. J. ALBERT WALKER Portsmouth Coal Pockets.

50 Changes The WONDERFUL LUBURG CHAIR Combining a Parlor, Library, Sleeping, Reclining, or Invalid CHAIR or COUCH. Price $7.00 up. Over 1000 Testimonials. Fancy Carpet Folding, Reed and Rattan CHAIRS and ROCKERS, BICYCLES, TRICYCLES, VELOCIPEDES and SELF PROPELLERS! ALL KINDS OF APPLIANCES FOR INVALIDS. BABY COACHES Over 100 different designs. Our Patent Automatic Brake on all Carriages. Free. We have discontinued wholesaling; by placing your orders direct with the makers you can save several profits. Our clothing prices and special Bargains will astonish you. Goods sold under a guarantee and delivered free to any point in the United States. Send stamp for Catalogue, and state class of goods you wish to see. LUBURG MFG. CO. 145 North Eighth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

COLD WEATHER MUSIC BOOKS. New Music Books. These new books are every day more in favor: Classical Pianist, Piano Classics, Song Classics, Song Classics for Low Voices, Classic Tenor Songs, Classic Baritone and Bass Songs. Each $1. Praise in Song (40 cts., $4.20 per doz.) is the best new Sacred Music Book for Home and Vestry singing. Let the Children sing from Menard's Songs for Kindergarten and Primary Schools (30 cts.) or Jenk's Songs and Games for Little Ones ($2) or Children's School Songs (35 cts, $3 60 per doz.) All have very sweet child's songs. Give your aid in getting up a rousing good evening singing Class to use Song Harmony (60 cts., $6 60 per doz.) Full of most interesting music, sacred and secular. Song Manual, Book 3 (50 cts., $4.80 per doz.) is also a good collection, mostly secular. Tell the Temperance People that no better Temperance Song Book has appeared than Bells of Victory (35 cts., $3.60 per doz.) Xmas is coming. Send for lists of Christmas Cantatas and Carols. ANY BOOK MAILED FOR RETAIL PRICE. Oliver Ditson & Co., Boston.

AN EXTRA LOT OF SPONGES, CHAMOIS SKINS AND WHIPS, At Reasonable Prices at John S. Tilton's Harness and Trunk Repairer NO. 18 CONGRESS STREET

Embalmer and Funeral Director NO. 60 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH SAMUEL S. FLETCHER (SUCCESSOR TO FLETCHER & TANTON.) COFFINS, ROBES & CASKETS Always on hand or made to order. Orders by night may be left at No. 43 Daniel St. or with A. L. Rice, No. 15 Hill St. or G. W. Rand, No 12 Russell St.

THE JOB PRINTING

Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD L. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line. Give him a trial and you will be more than pleased.

FINZER'S OLD HONESTY

IF YOU TRY TO USE THE SAME TOBACCO FOR BOTH CHEWING AND SMOKING, YOU'LL HAVE EITHER A POOR CHEW OR A POOR SMOKE.

IF YOU CHEW, TRY FINZER'S OLD HONESTY WHICH IS NOT ONLY THE — BEST — BUT CONTAINS 20 PER CENT. MORE TOBACCO THAN ANY OTHER BRAND OF SIMILAR QUALITY, and is THEREFORE the CHEAPEST IN THE MARKET. EVERY PLUG IS STAMPED "FINZER'S OLD HONESTY" AND HAS A RED TIN TAG. GET THE GENUINE. DON'T TAKE ANY OTHER.

TRANSPORTAION.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

Eastern Division.

TRAINS LEAVE PORTSMOUTH FOR BOSTON, 4.05, 7.25, 8.20, 11.05 a. m., 2.55, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4.00 p. m. Returning, 7.30, 9.00, 10.00 a. m. 12.30, 3.20, 4.40, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.20 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

PORTLAND, 9.55, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m. Returning, 7.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.05, 5.00 p. m. Sundays, 5.00 a. m.

BANGOR, ST. JOHN AND HALIFAX, 10.55 a. m., 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.00 p. m.

GREAT FALLS AND WOLFEBORO JUNC., 9.55 a. m., 2.45, 5.30 p. m.

WOLFEBORO, 9.55, a. m., 5.30 p. m.

NORTH CONWAY, 9.55 a. m., 2.45 p. m.

DOVER, 4.50, 9.45, a. m., 12.25, 3.38, 5.22 p. m.

YORK HARBOR AND BEACH R. R.

YORK BEACH AND WAY STATIONS, (via York Harbor and Beach R. R.) 8.30, 11.10 a. m., 5.35 p. m. Returning, leave York Beach 6.40, 10.00 a. m., 1.40, p. m. Connecting with trains leaving Portsmouth for Boston.

J. E. WOODBURY, Gen'l Manager. D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l Passenger Agent.

Concord & Portsmouth Railroad.

PASSENGER STATIONS leave Eastern station for North Market Junction, Manchester, Concord and upper branches, as follows:

UP TRAINS.

Leave	A. M.	P. M.	P. M.
Portsmouth	7.55	1.00	5.15
Greenland	8.05	1.09	5.24
Newmarket Junction	8.25	1.21	5.36
East Epping		1.37
Epping	8.43	1.37	5.51
West Epping	8.49		5.57
Raymond	9.00	1.53	6.08
Candia	9.18	2.05	6.46
Auburn	9.22		6.50
Manchester	9.30	2.20	7.00
Arrive Manchester	9.42	2.36	7.12
" Concord	10.30	3.12	8.2[illegible]

DOWN TRAINS.

Leave	A. M.	A. M.	P. M.
Ar. Concord	7.30	10.30	3.25
" Manchester	8.15	11.15	4.25
" Massabesic	8.27	11.28	4.36
Auburn	8.35		4.44
Candia	8.44	11.46	4.54
Raymond	9.05	11.56	5.11
West Epping	9.13	P. M.	5.20
Epping	9.20	12.08	5.27
East Epping		12.14
Newmarket Junction	9.46	12.24	5.49
Greenland	10.01	12.36	6.00
Arrive Portsmouth	10.10	12.45	6.10

Trains connect at Newmarket Junction with trains of the Boston & Maine Railroad to Exeter, Haverhill, Lawrence and Boston; and for Dover, Great Falls and Portland, and at Concord with trains to and from all the upper Railroads.

H. E. CHAMBERLIN, Supt.

C. E. BOYNTON, Manufacturer and Wholesale Dealer in Soda Water, Root, Tonic, Vanilla, Orange and Strawberry Beer, Crab Apple Lemonette, Cream Ginger and Ginger Ale.

EXTRACT OF NERVE FOOD!

For Brain and Nervous Exhaustion. Good for the Appetite.

Soda Water in Syphons for Hotel and Family Use. Fountains Charged at Short Notice.

Bottler of Eldredge and Milwaukee Lager, Porter and Refined Cider.

The Summer Beverages manufactured and bottled by me having been before the public of this city and vicinity for the past seventeen years, need no endorsement as being of the very highest standard.

EDWARD D. COFFIN, SHERIFF ROCKINGHAM CO. AND U. S. DEPUTY MARSHAL. Office at No. 3 Market Square, And at the Jail. Will be at Conley & Moore's Exp. Office at 9 A. M. and 4 o'clock P. M. (TELEPHONE AT THE JAIL).

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

[POST OFFICE RULES.

MAILS CLOSE

	A. M.			P. M.
Boston, N. Y., south, west,	8:00	10:20	2:20	4:30	6:45
Boston and way stations,		10:20	2:20		6:45
Portland,	9:30		4:30		6:45
Portland and way stations,	9:25		4:30
East (beyond Portland)	9:30				6:45
Great Falls, Rochester, Wolfeboro' Union Milton,	9:25				4:30
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,	9:25
Concord & Manchester,	7:40	10:20			4:30
Concord, Manchester and north,	7:40		4:30
Exeter and B. & M. way, west of Newmarket,	7:40		4:30,
Dover,	9:25		2:20	4:30	6:45
North Conway,	9:25				6:45
York and Cape Neddick,		9:25
Newcastle,		10:20
Newington,		10:20
Boston, N. Y. and south, Sunday,					1:00

MAILS ARRIVE.

	A. M.		P. M.
Boston, south and west,	10:05	2:20	5:40	7:00 {9:00
New York,	10:05		5:40	7:00
Boston and way stations,	10:05		5:40
Portland and east,	7:30	11:00	3:00
Great Falls, Rochester, Milton, Milton,	8:30	11:00
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,		11:00
Concord, Manchester and north,		10:30	5:30
Dover,	7:30	10:30	3:30	5:40
Newcastle,		9:30
Newington,		9:30
York and Cape Neddick,		11:30
B. & M. R. R., west of Newmarket,		10:30	6:30

6. J. GERRISH, P. M.

MINATURE ALMANAC NOV. 20.

SUN RISES	6:49	MOON RISES	5:57 P. M
SUN SETS	4:16	HIGH WATER	12:30 A. M
LENGTH OF DAY	9:30	FULL SEA	12:15 P. M

Weather Indications.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

Threatening weather and rain or snow, clearing during the afternoon or evening. Colder, northerly winds.

Cautionary signals are displayed at stations on the Atlantic coast from Norfolk section to Eastport.

GUILTY!

Of Murder in the First Degree.

James Palmer to Die Dec. 10, '89.

MONDAY FORENOON, Nov. 19th.

The first witness called was Edgar D. Stoddard of Portsmouth, who testified that he drove to Mrs. Rutter's with Sheriff Coffin on Monday, May 28th last; waited there for him about twenty minutes; did not know what he went for; it was about half-past nine.

To Mr. Page: Don't know what the sheriff went there for.

A. C. Hoyt was recalled, and drew two additional streets in, on the map for Mr. Barnard.

Cornelius Murphy, called by defence: a year ago hauled coal to the electric light station for J. Albert Walker; went there frequently; saw Palmer there, and saw him have nose-bleed; have seen him have it two or three times, and talked with him about it.

John C. Allen, called by state, testified that he was turnkey at jail, and had care of cells there; did not know that Palmer had nose-bleed while there.

To Mr. Page: Might have had nose-bleed without my knowing it; think there have been six different prisoners in the cell with him; Livingston died in jail; doctor did not arrive before he died; did not know there had been fight in cell, and that he was badly beaten; Davis not in with Palmer; didn't know Smith went down town and got drunk; think liquor was passed over the fence.

Barnard Harvey to Mr. Page: Been in jail since Oct. 9th; in Palmer's cell all the time; saw blood on his face, hand and wrist a week ago last Saturday.

To Mr. Emery; Saw mice in the cell; did not talk with Palmer about catching one for him.

This closed the testimony and Gen. Marston then began his argument for the prisoner.

Gen. Marston said that on May 27th Henry T. Whitehouse was murdered and robbed on Noble's island, and the presumption was that he was murdered for the purpose of robbery. Palmer's hammer was found not far away, but that could have been taken by some person from where Mrs. Rutter put it, and carried there. The men who saw the man in the ulster and soft hat did not identify Palmer as that man, yet that ulster was all there was to identify him. Palmer was at home at quarter to eleven; unless he could get to the place of the murder at five or eight minutes past eleven, the case falls. The salt on Palmer's coat was accounted for by the fact of his crossing the pond in winter when the ice was covered with water, and the blood on his clothing from his nose-bleed; had he cut Whitehouse's throat, as charged, he would have been covered with blood, instead of having only small spots on his clothes. He was friendly with Whitehouse; it was Fred S. Palmer who had injured him, and whom he disliked in consequence. Gen. Marston alluded to the improbability of a man who had passed the evening in social pleasure, as Palmer had passed that Sunday evening, committing so great a crime so soon afterward. Would he have worn, as a disguise, a coat he had worn all winter? He would not have played cards had he been guilty. Give his testimony, and his mother's, the weight it deserves, and he must be acquitted. He could not have got to the scene of the murder at the time it was committed.

It was about quarter past twelve oclock when Gen. Marston finished his plea, and a recess was taken until two, when Attorney General Barnard began his argument in behalf of the State, and continued speaking for two hours. He paid a merited compliment to County Solicitor Emery for the care and method with which he had prepared the case for trial, and said Gen. Marston had made the strongest plea on the prisoner's behalf that could be made. Mr. Barnard reviewed the evidence in a masterly manner, calling the jury's special attention to the fact that the man with the ulster was seen, after the murder was committed, coming from the Dover railroad "fill." At one point in Mr. Barnard's argument, when he told the jury that he believed the State had shown beyond a reasonable doubt that James Palmer was the murderer of Henry T. Whitehouse, the spectators broke into applause, which was at once suppressed, the court announcing that on any repetition the room would be cleared.

The attorney general closed his argument at four o'clock, having spoken just two hours. The Chief Justice at once instructed the jury, occupying thirty minutes. His remarks were explanatory of their line of duty, to consider the questions of fact. They were not to consider the opinions of the judges who were sitting on the case, or of the "hearsay" of the street. They had no right but to the evidence produced. Concluding, he directed the sheriff to clear the room, and the jury went out, at four thirty, and in a few minutes there were very few people remaining.

The reporters waited for some word indicative of the proceedings in the jury room, but when at a quarter past five the jury called for the evidence of Mrs. Rutter, they went out for supper, it being evident that the jury would not come in for some little time.

Soon after six o'clock people began to gather again, and it was not long before there were fully two hundred in the room, anxiously awaiting any sign from the jury. At no time during the trial has there been such a suppression of voices during the recess, as at this hour.

At precisely twenty-five minutes of eight an ominous rap was heard coming from the door on which all eyes were cast, and the face of Deputy Sheriff Harvey bore an expression when he turned from responding to the knock, which told all present that the end of this celebrated case was drawing near. "They have agreed" said one to another, and the word quickly passed through the throng.

Sheriff Coffin at once dispatched hasty messengers for the officials, and Deputies Moore and Whidden for the prisoner. Solicitor Emery had already arrived.

Hon. Calvin Page was the first to arrive at 7:45, accompanied by a few personal friends; Judge Carpenter was only a minute later, followed by Gen. Marston. Eight minutes afterward Chief Justice Doe entered, preceding Attorney General Barnard and Clerk Conner.

Palmer was brought in at eight o'clock, and took his seat in the pen, when Mr. Page entered into conversation with him. None of his relatives were present.

The jury were conducted to their chairs, and Mr. Page again leaned over the rail and spoke a word to his client. What passed between them no one knew, but it is safe to presume that it was a call to be prepared for the worst.

Clerk Conner arose and called on the prisoner to rise. He then turned to Foreman Eaton of the jury, and asked if they had agreed upon a verdict; and the reply came distinct that they had.

"What find you, guilty or not guilty?"

"Guilty."

"Guilty of what?"

"Of murder—in the first degree."

The foreman hesitated after the word murder, as if fully aware that his definition of the degree either doomed Palmer to death or saved his life.

Every word was uttered clear and distinct, and was heard by every one present. Palmer stood a few seconds, gazing directly in front of him, as it appeared to the observers, into distance. His face was blanched and pinched, lips set tight and straight, but not a muscle moved or trembled. He sat down at a nod from Mr. Page, who again spoke some kind word to him.

The attorney general at once moved that sentence be pronounced, and the fact that no objection was raised, or word spoken for the prisoner, shows that he has had a fair trial, and that no stone has been left unturned that might help him.

In ten minutes Chief Justice Doe handed a paper down to Clerk Conner, and the latter called on James Palmer to rise, and the sentence was read to him—that he be confined at the State prison at Concord until the first Tuesday of December, 1889, and then and there be hanged by the neck until he be dead.

Palmer's face did not change an atom. He quietly allowed the handcuffs to be placed on his wrists, and was led away by the officers; and one of the most absorbing trials ever known in this city was ended.

We regret that we are unable to give more space to the eloquent remarks of Att'y Gen'l Barnard for the State, and Gen. Marston for Palmer. Both gentlemen made strong, impressive arguments, and they were followed by the court and spectators in close attention. Neither Palmer or his friends can say that he has not had every chance possible to clear himself.

We are indebted to the clerk, Mr. C. G. Conner, and Sheriff Coffin and his deputies, for many courtesies extended during the trial.

THE CELEBRATION TO-NIGHT.

HEADQUARTERS
REPUBLICAN TORCHLIGHT PROCESSION,
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.,
Nov. 19, 1888.

GEN. ORDER NO. 4.

Marshals of Divisions and Aids will report to the chief of staff on Market square at 7:15 p. m. sharp.

The first division will form on Congress street, its right resting on Pleasant street.

Second division will form on Pleasant street, its right resting on City Building.

Third division will form on Court street, right resting on Pleasant. As this division will be composed of barges and other carriages, those intending to ride therein will report to the marshal of this division.

The Portsmouth Cornet Band and the Kearsarge Flute and Drum Corps will report to the chief of staff for assignment at 7:15 p. m.

All visiting organizations will report to the chief of staff immediately upon their arrival, for assignment.

Each person taking part in the procession must provide himself with a dipper for coffee.

The procession will move at eight o'clock, or as soon thereafter as possible.

S. R. MARSTON, Chief Marshal.
M. T. BETTON, Chief of Staff.

Order of Procession.

Platoon of Police.
Col. S. R. Marston, Chief Marshal.
Lt. Col. M. T. Betton, Chief of Staff.
Col. T. E. O. Marvin, Marshal 1st Div'n.

AIDS.

Wm. H. Preston,	H. P. Kent,
Capt. C. F. Duncan,	Frank J. Philbrick,
J. M. Salter,	C. H. Gray,
J. Y. DeMerrett,	Albert E. Rand,
W. S. Blair,	E. C. Matthews,
W. A. Bragdon,	Warren Davis,
E. E. Sides,	J. D. Randall,
J. A. Borthwick,	Chester Pike,
Horace Mitchell,	A. G. Brewster,
John Jellison,	W. C. Pooler,
F. W. Lydston,	W. W. Nash,
E. E. Green,	Fred Woods,
Carroll Bartlett,	Horace Whidden,
Newton Elwell,	Harry G. Marvin.

FIRST DIVISION.

Cavalcade, Capt. Mason, commanding.
Portsmouth Cornet Band, W. E. Cate, Leader.
Winchester Cadets, Major Brown, commanding.
Fire Wagon.
Wentworth Cadets, Kittery.
Kittery Delegation.
Winchester Drum Corps, H. Marden, leader.
Portsmouth Machine Co. Battalion, Capt. Charles Lydston, commanding.
Spear's Cornet Band, Rye.
Rye Delegation, Capt. Charles Whidden, commanding.
Newcastle Delegation.
Portsmouth Delegation, Capt. M. E. Long, commanding.
Newington and Greenland Delegations.

SECOND DIVISION.

M. C. Foye, Marshal.
Kearsarge Flute and Drum Band, Abram Kay, leader.
Dover Battalion, Maj. J. S. Abbott, commanding, with staff.
Fire Wagon.
Biddeford and Saco Battalion.
Farmington and Wolfboro' Delegation.
Hampton Delegation.
North Hampton Delegation.
Newburyport Delegation.

THIRD DIVISION.

Maj. M. C. Moore, Marshal.
Landaus and Barges filled with young misses in charge of Elvin Newton, Esq. Independent Democrats, in Barges.
Fire Wagon.
Veteran Republicans, in Barges.
Decorated Canoe.
Tippecanoe Veterans, in Carriages.
Landau with fireworks.
Fire Wagon.
Landaus, carriages, etc.

All persons intending to take part in the parade, not included in the above organizations, will report to Chief of Staff at M. C. Foye's store, at any time previous to the parade, and will be assigned positions in line.

S. R. MARSTON, Chief Marshal.
M. T. BETTON, Chief of Staff.

The following is the route of the procession:

Form on Congress and Pleasant streets, and move through Market, Hanover, High, Deer, Vaughan, New Vaughan, Maplewood avenue to Dennett street, returning through Maplewood avenue, Vaughan, Deer, Bridge, Hanover, Vaughan, Islington, Rockingham, McDonough, Cabot, Islington, Cass, Middle to residence of C. H. Merdum, returning through Middle, Wibird, to residence of A. J. McIntire, returning through Wibird, Hawthorne, Union, State, Cabot, Middle, Richards avenue, Rockland, Miller avenue, Highland, Middle, Cabot, Austin, Middle, Court, Pleasant, South, Newcastle avenue, Water, State, Summer, Islington and Congress streets to Market square, thence through Pleasant to State street to collation.

Harrison Veterans—Notice.

The Harrison veterans, who voted for William Henry Harrison in 1840 and for Benjamin Harrison in 1888, are requested to be at the Kearsarge house this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Notice—Cavalcade.

The members of the Portsmouth Cavalcade Company, and all persons intending to parade with the same are requested to meet on Haymarket square at 7:30 o'clock this (Tuesday) evening; the uniform will consist of a red, white and blue sash from shoulder to waist, black silk hat and white gloves. Sash can be obtained of Morris C. Foye.

Warning.

All persons are requested to refrain from firing crackers and fire arms along the route of the procession during the march this evening.

JEFF C. ROWE, City Marshal.

The Citizens' Corps.

All persons who wish to parade, this evening, and are not members of any of the regular organizations, are requested to meet at Republican headquarters between 7 o'clock and 7:30, where flags to be borne in the procession may be obtained. Per Order Committee.

M. E. LONG, Captain.

The postponement of the parade was telephoned, yesterday afternoon, to Col. Abbott, commander of the Dover Battalion, who immediately replied: "All right! We will be on hand, Tuesday evening, with 350 men."

A telephone message from Newburyport received last evening, conveyed the information that the Republican organizations of that city will come to Portsmouth 300 strong, and with two bands of music and a drum corps.

Word from Biddeford, last evening, announced the coming of a hundred paraders, this evening, with two bands of music.

Capt. Edward E. McIntire is forming a company of tin-men for to-night's parade, and a company of fishermen have been organized for the same purpose.

Special attention is called to the notice of Capt. M. E. Long, in another column, inviting undetached Republicans willing to parade to join the corps which will carry brooms and flags in to-night's procession.

Now, let all illuminate and decorate for the parade, Col. Marston, chief marshal, states that the enforced postponement will result in an unexpectedly large number of paraders from other cities and towns, much greater than would have appeared had the exhibition occurred last night.

The collectors of edibles secured between 1300 and 1400 bags' full yesterday, and will conclude their labors to-day.

It did rain all day yesterday, but it "poured" doughnuts, sandwiches and apples into the food repository. This evening it will pour eager Republicans into the city from all adjacent towns. A veteran caterer declares he never saw anything equal to the prompt response of the ladies who furnish the collation.

Fireworks will be let off at all points on the route of the procession, each of the divisions being furnished with a fire wagon. The closing march of the night will be from the Middle street church through State, Summer, Islington, Congress, Fleet, and State streets, to the collation on State street near Pleasant, where the members of each organization while marching in single file will be handed their rations in bags, after which the march will continue to the coffee-table near the St. John's chapel, where coffee will be abundantly served. After the collation there will be a brilliant display of fireworks on Market square, probably shortly after ten o'clock.

The Biddeford and Saco organizations will start from their homes in a special train at six p. m. The special train from Dover will leave that city at seven p. m.

Among the organizations from Dover expected to appear here this evening, are the Harrison and Morton Guards, Union Jacks, Fourth Ward Coons, Ben-Levi Club and others.

Chief Marshal Marston expects to be able to start the procession as early as eight o'clock.

One of the chief attractions of the procession will be a large number of young misses in two barges, who will enliven the occasion with singing. This feature will be in charge of Elvin Newton, who managed the day demonstration which convulsed the community on the morning after election. He never does things by the halves.

Many residences in all sections of the city were being decorated by the ladies from dawn to sunset, yesterday. Such a general interest in a political demonstration, joined in by sympathizers of all parties, was never before known here.

Salmon Falls Republicans notified the marshal last evening that they should probably be present with a delegation.

The arrangements for feeding the procession on State street this evening seem to have been made with a great deal of care to enable a crowd to be rapidly fed, and the line should move as rapidly as may be possible. Each man should have his dipper in hand as he goes along the rail, dip his coffee and go out into the street.

The Electric Light company will put twelve lights near the collation stand on State street.

Nearly fifteen hundred bags were sent in Monday afternoon with rations, and if every man who receives one of the six pound bags full of the good things which the republican ladies have put in them don't get enough, then we are no prophet.

JAMES PALMER'S CONVICTION.

James Palmer, accused of the murder of Henry T. Whitehouse, has after a long and impartial trial in which he was aided by counsel of high ability and long experience, been adjudged guilty by twelve intelligent and reputable citizens of the county acting as jurors, and has been sentenced to die the death of a felon.

The verdict and sentence unquestionably meet with general approval, as being just. The demoniac savagery of the crime sent a thrill of horror through the community, and the chain of circumstances which tended to connect Palmer with its commission, and the trivial reason for the atrocious crime, created a strong public opinion against him. This feeling was increased from day to day of the trial, by his bearing in court; he won no friends, and if there was at the start any sympathy for him on the part of the throngs of spectators, there was no sign of any at its close.

Aside from the question of his connection with the murder of young Whitehouse, a man much his inferior in size and strength, Palmer's conduct and testimony proved him to be totally devoid of a spark of human feeling. This was shown by his unembarrassed appearance when Miss Cora Fernald, Whitehouse's fiancee, was brought into his presence. No more concern marked his features when this lady was giving her testimony on Saturday, with hot tears fast following each other down her cheeks and heavy sobs almost choking her utterance, than when Mr. Hoyt was giving his evidence as to certain measurements.

No man unless utterly heartless could within an hour after being arrested on a charge of having brutally murdered a man with whom he had worked and to whom he professed to be friendly, sit down to a game of cards; to the man of ordinary human feelings the mere statement that a friend or acquaintance had been so murdered would be a shock, even without any suspicion of his complicity in the deed; but to sit there as Palmer did, when Miss Fernald was assisted into the court room, with his features as calm as though trouble had never been his, was enough to stamp demon on his brow, and completely shut him out from the pity of any sympathizing heart.

Notes.

Gen. Marston said in his closing argument for the prisoner, "Did he put on a coat for a disguise that he had worn all winter? He could not have had time, before some one came along, to commit murder in such a place. This involves such uncertainties as were never heard of in any other case in the world!" How about the Whitechapel murders, in London?

Said a prominent business man, after the verdict: "This means protection to our lives! Who knows what man or woman might have been the next victim?"

Said another: "I cannot say from reading the evidence closely that, if a juror, I could vote 'guilty;' it occurs to me, however, that this jury of thinking men scanned the prisoner's conduct closely, throughout, and his utter want of apparent sympathy for the bereaved lady, Miss Fernald, may have satisfied them of his capability of commiting such a crime. His coolness was phenomenal all through the trial, and was too perfect an exhibition for his own welfare."

It was reported on the street that certain evidence was withheld by the prosecution on account of the timidity of witnesses who could have been summoned, but feared the consequences in case Palmer should be acquitted.

The general feeling on the street after the verdict was announced was that it was a just one—of relief that a jury had been found who would not let mercy interfere with justice to the dead and the living.

Palmer will probably be taken to State prison to-day to be confined until the first Tuesday in December, 1889.

POLICE COURT—BATCHELDER J.

MONDAY, Nov. 19th.

Patrick Sheehan, drunk, fine $5, costs $6 90; county farm in default of payment.

Grand Tour Through Mexico and California.

One of the most elaborate and comprehensive of the Raymond & Whitcomb tours is the Mexico and California excursion. A party of limited size goes through the southern States, Mexico and to the Pacific coast in a magnificent Pullman vestibuled train, which includes a dining car, barber shop, bathroom and library,—in short, a complete "hotel on wheels." The cars are used as lodging places only where first-class hotel accommodations are lacking, but this must frequently be the case in Mexico. With such facilities for comfort at command the party can visit many out-of-the-way points. Not one tourist in a thousand sees half the places that are visited by a Raymond & Whitcomb excursionist. New and important additions have been made to the route this year, both in Mexico and California. One of the new points to be seen is the quaint and interesting city of Guadalajara, which has just been placed in railway communication with the outside world. A corps of guides and interpreters accompanies the sight-seers everywhere, and many special facilities for observation and study are afforded the visitors; high Mexican officials, and the people of the country generally, looking with great favor upon a scheme that brings into their midst travellers of the most intelligent class. There will be three tours through Mexico the coming season,—two including California and one omitting it,—Monday January 14, being the date of departure of the first party. Full details may be learned from a circular which will be mailed free by W. Raymond, 296 Washington street, opposite School street, Boston. The second and third parties will leave February 11 and March 11. There are to be several California excursions in December, January, February and March, and two trips to Washington (the only ones this season) are announced for January 18 and February 15.

The schooner Agnes E. Downs, of this port, Levi Downs master, went into Boston last Saturday with 24,000 lbs. of fresh fish,—an first late since hauling off from the mackerel fishery,—and sold her take at a satisfactory price. The schooner arrived in Portsmouth lower harbor on Monday, there being five Independent Democrats among her crew who wanted to take part in the Harrison and Morton jollification assigned to take place that evening. They came up to the city for that purpose, but the rain and consequent postponement of the celebration to the following evening disappointed them.

There will be a Harrison and Morton supper in Newington town hall on Thursday evening, the 22d inst.

Mr. John S. Rand, dry goods merchant of Market street, whose store has been closed for some time past on account of remodelling, announces in another column that he will resume business on Wednesday, Nov. 21st.

The Army and Navy Journal of last week says: "The order issued last week appointing John Costello a boatswain in the United States navy will give great satisfaction to his old shipmates on board the U. S. S. Saratoga, where during the last few years he ably filled the rate as chief boatswain's mate. Those of the old Saratoga men who, since the old training ship was laid up at Portsmouth, N. H., have been sent on board the United States receiving ship Wabash, made up a subscription, and at quarters, in presence of Lieut. Comdr. Farenholt, presented the new warrant officer with a handsome sword as a token of the affection and esteem of his old shipmates."

The Governor Wentworth Associates are requested to meet at their hall on Friday evening, Nov. 23d, at 7:30. The grand officers will be present.

Prof. W. W. Dayton will appear in Franklin hall to-morrow evening, in an entertainment which is said to be as astonishing as pleasing.

Most men, otherwise strong in body and mind, will become unhappy and break down when afflicted with rheumatism. If they would only try Salvation Oil they would find relief at once. Price 25 cents.

Thousands of bottles of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup have been sold by W. H. Brown & Bro., Baltimore, Md.

Hood's Tooth Powder at Globe Grocery company.

—Nature is a great deal like the manipulators of the stock market. She has her regular times of trying to freeze out everybody.

—Some are born great, some think they are great, and others thrust greatness upon themselves.

MARINE CHRONICLE.

PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

SAILED Nov. 17th.
Sch B Frank Nealley, Oliver, Philadelphia.

ARRIVED Nov. 18th.
Sch Red Jacket, Arey, Rondout.
Sch Richard S Leaming, Norton, Baltimore.
Sch Estella, Barter, Boston.
Sch Hattie Lewis, Lowe, Boston.

SAILED Nov. 18th.
Sch James Ives, Blake, Philadelphia.
Sch Charles E Balch, Crocker, Newport News.

IN LOWER HARBOR Nov. 19th.
Schs Emily I White, Coloney, Sand River, N S, for New Haven; Mary Jane, Morton, Port Gilbert, N S, for Lynn; Clara, Bishop, Millbridge for Boston; Wascano, Wallace, Hillsboro, N S, for Providence; Sarah, Tolman, Annapolis for Boston; James A Gray, Coleman, and Emily C Dennison, Garland, Saco for Boston; Moses Eddie, Dow; Harbinger, Phillips, and Cicero, Keith, Bangor for Boston; Airsto, Elwell, and Lake, Johnson, Rockland for Boston; Alastian, Slowman, Kennebec for Boston; James A Brown, Thorndyke, Thomaston for New York; Kate L Pray, Pray, Deer Isle for Boston; Allen Green, Nickerson, Portland for Philadelphia; Onward, Lowell, Bangor for Salem; Good Templar, Tarlton, Boston for Portland.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER
THE PUREST AND BEST
Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.
It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.
Sold only in cans. Full weight.
CLEVELAND BROTHERS, ALBANY, N. Y.

Scissors
AND
Pocket Knives.
PRYOR & MATTHEWS,
16 Market St.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.
This powder never varies. A marvel of purity trength and wholesomeness. More economical han the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall Street, New York.

Colored Fire
FOR CELEBRATION
NOV. 19, 1888,
AT
BENJ. GREEN'S,
APOTHECARY,
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

New Store. New Goods.
JOHN S. RAND,
No. 11 Market Street.
Would respectfully announce that he will resume business on Wednesday Next, Nov. 21st,
His store having been remodelled and refitted, making it one of the most attractive and best lighted in the city. In addition to his former stock he has added a large assortment of
FALL & WINTER
Dry and Fancy Goods!
purchased with a desire to suit the wants of customers, and which will be offered at prices that cannot fail to please.
Our present space enables us to add materially to our variety, and we shall therefore keep a good assortment of
Ladies' Small Wares
which will be sold at the lowest prices. Thanking friends and the public for their former patronage we would most respectfully solicit a continuance of the same.
JOHN S. RAND,
11 MARKET STREET.

MUSIC HALL, PORTSMOUTH.
STAR LECTURE COURSE.
Nov. 20th,
CAMBRIDGE ORCHESTRA, (15 PIECES,)
PROF. W. E. THOMAS, Director;
MISS NELLIE SALOME THOMAS, Soprano Soloist;
MR. J. FRANCIS GILDER, Pianist.
Tickets: 75, 50 and 35 cents. For Sale at Goodrich's Saturday morning.

FRANKLIN THEATRE.
Wednesday Evening, November 21
A NIGHT WITH THE SPIRITS.
PROF. W. W. DAYTON'S
- - GRAND - -
Spiritualistic Exposition
New and Startling Wonders. You had better go.
Nothing like it ever known, seen or heard of.
Wonder treads on the heels of wonder.
Admission 15 cents. Reserved seats 20 cents. Doors open at 7 o'clock. Commence at 8 o'clock.

A LARGE LOT OF LEAF SAGE Just received and for sale by the Pound or less quantity. Come early before it is sold.
JAMES R. YEATON & CO., 55 Congress St.

Dwelling House for Sale.
THE residence of the late Mrs. Daniel Libbey, No. 126 State Street, can be purchased on application to JOHN SISE,
Executor

THE OLDEST AND ONLY Republican Morning Paper IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

IF YOU WANT TO BUY OR SELL ANYTHING AD VERTISE IN THE Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 24, 1882. | PORTSMOUTH, N. H., WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 21, 1888. | $6 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE. TWO CENTS PER COPY.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

The News!

ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES.

Prominent Men Convicted of Murder.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle,

FORT SMITH, ARK., Nov. 20.—The most interesting sensational murder in the federal court for years terminated to-night in a verdict of guilty as to Henry W. Miller and Wm. Woods, two prominent citizens of Donovan county. On the 25th of last November Woods left home with an old schoolmate and friend named Johnny Hanty, to hunt in the Indian territory. They subsequently picked up a companion, a stranger named Miller. They were gone three months, were seen in various parts of the Choctaw nation, and when they returned home Hanty was missing. A searching party found his body in Vendergras river, face down, with a bullet hole through his head. His watch was found in Miller's pocket.

Ice Houses Burned.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

BEVERLY, MASS., Nov. 20.—B. N. Dodge's eight ice houses were burned to-night. Loss several thousand dollars.

Hay Barns Burned.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

ST. JOHNSBURY, VT., Nov. 20.—Samuel Esterbrook's three barns, containing sixty tons of hay and farming tools, were burned this morning. Loss $3000; insured $1300; undoubtedly incendiary.

Graduating Exercises at Dartmouth

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

HANOVER, N. H., Nov 20.—The annual graduating exercises of Dartmouth Medical college occurred to-night.

A Family Burned.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

BOWLING GREEN, KY., Nov. 20.—A messenger from Louisville says the house of Jack Gregg was burned last night, and the family of five persons perished, except Gregg, who was away.

Senator Colquitt Re-elected.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

ATLANTA, GA., Nov. 20.—Alfred H. Colquitt was to-day re-elected United States senator, receiving every vote cast in the senate and house, except two.

A Base For Four Called Balls.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The joint committee of the National League and American Association this afternoon, adopted a proposition to give the striker a base on four called balls instead of five as now.

The Sioux Anxious to See Gen. Ben.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

BISMARK, DAK., Nov. 20—The Indians on the Sioux reservation are anxious to form the acquaintance of Gen Harrison, and present their claims regarding the opening of the reservation, before inauguration; and agents will be greatly annoyed by their importunities unless their request is granted.

Samuel J. Randall Very Ill.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—A special to the Mail and Express from Washington says: There is no prospect that Randall will take his seat at the session of Congress in December. information from his physicians states privately that his condition is most critical.

Daniel Isn't a Candidate.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 20.—Col. Lamont denies fully the report that he is to be made judge-advocate-general of the army.

Robbed a Railway Station.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, Nov. 20.—Burglars raided the Bee Line station at Hartwell early this morning.

Stable Fire.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW HAVEN, CONN, Nov. 20.—Fire this afternoon destroyed the stables of the Standard Cab company, causing a loss of $15,000.

Will Not Stand Reduction.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

PATERSON, N. J., Nov. 20.—The silk ribbon weavers employed by Slay and Grocock, about forty in number, left their looms to-day, owing to a reduction of wages. The firm made the reduction on the ground that they were paying higher prices than others in the same line of business.

Must Write His Message.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 20.—President Cleveland went to Oak View this evening, determined to remain until he has completed his annual message, which he has not yet begun. He has most of the topics well in hand, but finds it utterly impossible to prepare it before Congress meets if he does not escape from unavoidable interruptions by visitors which beset him at the White House.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 29.—James Nolan, an unemployed expressman, shot and killed his mistress, Emma Buck, today, at her lodgings on Second street, because she had, on account of his penniless condition, taken up with another man. Nolan was arrested.

Sackville's Successor.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The government is considering the advisability of appointing a successor to Lord Sackville before President Cleveland vacates his office.

Russia Abandons Its Bulgarian Policy.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

MOSCOW, Nov. 20.—Viedomasti says the Russian government has informed a number of the Bulgarian refugees that Russia renounces all interest in Bulgaria, and this decision dates from the time of Emperor William's visit to Vienna, Russia having abandoned all hope of German mediation.

DOVER.

TUESDAY, Nov. 20th..

Popular sentiment seems to be drifting toward John J. Hanson for mayor. It is not known whether Mr. Hanson will accept the nomination if given him or not, but if pushed hard by his friends he in all probability would. Mr. Hanscom is a silent partner in the firm of Lothrop, Farnham & Co., a man well acquainted with municipal affairs, a man of strict integrity, level headed, and a thorough gentleman.

Mr. Dennis Cash is spoken of among prominent democrats as their possible candidate. Mr. Cash is a well known figure in local politics, and alderman from ward five. For members of the city government of '89 we make the following predictions:

From ward one, aldermen, H. M. Shaw, Benj Brierley; councilmen, Freeman Babb, Geo. H. Hanson, Ralph Hough.

Watd two, aldermen, D. A. Nute, W. B. Walker; councilmen, Oliver J. Clark, H. C. Wentworth, Walter D Foss.

Ward three, aldermen, A. R. Towle, C. A. Davis; councilmen, Chas. E. Burnham, C. C. Bunce, H. P. Glidden.

Ward four, aldermen, Chas. M. Corsen, V. H. Caverly; councilmen, B. D. Stewart, C. H. Prime, Jas. Wilkinson.

Ward five, conundrum.

The board of supervisors will be at their rooms on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, to revise and correct checklists. Now is the time for the ladies to register and cast their votes for school committees.

Mr. Joshua Ham, the well known farmer on the Tolend road, died yesterday at his home of typhoid fever. Mr. Ham had been sick but a week, and his death was a great shock to his family.

Cards have been received in this city announcing the marriage of Miss Romie Ellis, formerly of the Kellogg Opera Co, and well known in this city, to Mr. Chas. Bowden of York Beach, Me., at that place next Saturday.

Chas. W. Otis of this city is advance agent of the Mora Comedy Co., now en route through New England.

People were on hand early this morning for the CHRONICLE to get the latest from the murder trial.

Geo. Danforth, city bill poster, has entered Lothrop, Farnham & Co.'s clothing store.

At the coming G. A. R. fair a gold watch will be given to the most popular foreman in the shoe shops; also one to the most popular overseer in the mills.

Sawyer Rifles meet tomorrow night, when arrangements will be made for their new year's ball.

Ward four caucus next Thursday evening at the ward house.

Peter Laughlin has lost his valuable pointer dog.

Wymen E. Brown left for the wilds of Maine yesterday on a gunning trip. A letter received from him this morning announces a big fall of snow down there.

John H. Pingree, sheriff elect of Strafford county, was in town today.

Seventeen tramps took lodgings at the police station last night.

The police have donned their new heavy winter overcoats.

Supt. Burgett of the Electric Light Co. has conceived the idea of running the Shoe shops by electricity as soon as the new station at Great Falls is finished.

Capt. Symonds' steam tug "Luke Hoyt" came up the river this afternoon for the first time.

Dr. Harry Stackpole intends sailing for Europe on Saturday next. While gone his time will be occupied mostly in study.

James Kay Applebee has been obliged to cancel his date here on account of sickness. He will be here later in the season. MAC.

JACKETS

Reduced From

$4.00	TO	$2.98
5.00	"	3.25
7.50	"	4.98
8.25	"	4.98
9.00	"	6.25

This will be a Great Opportunity to Buy this Class of Goods Cheap.

M. C. FOYE,

No. 4 Market Square.

To Let.

THE middle Tenement, No. 23, in the Kenney Block on Pleasant Street. Apply to J. P. HART.

GOLD MEDAL, PARIS, 1878.

BAKER'S Breakfast Cocoa.

Warranted absolutely pure Cocoa, from which the excess of Oil has been removed. It has three times the strength of Cocoa mixed with Starch, Arrowroot or Sugar, and is therefore far more economical, costing less than one cent a cup. It is delicious, nourishing, strengthening, easily digested, and admirably adapted for invalids as well as for persons in health.

Sold by Grocers everywhere.

W. BAKER & CO., Dorchester, Mass.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

Distress After Eating Sick Headache

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." GEORGE A. PAGE, Watertown, Mass.

Heart-burn Sour Stomach

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

MUSIC HALL.

Saturday Evening, Nov. 25th.

THATCHER, PRIMROSE & WEST'S

MILLIONAIRE MINSTRELS

Under the management of D. W. TRUSS.

"It is doubtful if their equals ever existed."—New York Herald. "Take it for all in all we shall not look upon its like again."—Detroit Free Press. "Always the leaders, they have this season surpassed all previous efforts."—Chicago Tribune.

Unique, Brilliant, Costly Shakesperan FIRST PART. William H. West as Romeo. The following noted characters of Shakesperan drama: Touchstone, Dromios of Ephesus, Dromios of Syracuse, Romeo, Sir John Falstaff, Macbeth, King John, Othello, Benedict, Malvolio, Mercutio, Holspur, Timon of Athens, Julius Cæsar, Hamlet, and Heralds of the Fourteenth Century

GEO. THATCHER, Entirely New Monologue. GEO. H. PRIMROSE'S "English Swell."

The Greatest of All European Wonders, the BROTHERS BRYNE.

THE CLIPPER QUARTETTE Barney Fagan's $5000 Challenge Grand Review.

Johnson, Powers and LeMack's Original Sketch OUR BALLADISTS. Frederick Ockland, Al Hart, J. P. Curran, W. Henry Whyte, Julius Jordan, Jas. Dalton.

NEW FEATURES THOUGHOUT.

Prices: 35, 50 and 75 cents. Seats on sale Wednesday, Nov. 21st, at Goodrich's.

WANTED SALESMEN to sell Nursery Stock All Goods Warranted FIRST-CLASS Permanent, pleasant, profitable positions for the right men. Good salaries and expenses paid weekly. Liberal inducements to beginners. No previous experience necessary Outfit free. Write for terms, giving age. CHARLES H CHASE, Nurseryman, Rochester, N. Y. Mention this Paper. 8mo

Marigold Ointment!

Remember is Warranted for External Piles, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Nettle Rash, Hives, and all Diseases of the Skin and Scalp, Old Sores, Chilblains, Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Chapped Hands, Cold Sores, Cracks in Hands and Lips, Ingrowing Nails, Inflamed Joints, and everything else for which an Ointment is required

Call for Circular and Sample Box Free.

SOLE AGENT FOR ROCKINGHAM COUNTY

William D. Grace, - - - Apothecary.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE BEST BONDS ARE POLICIES

IN THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York

THE LARGEST, CHEAPEST AND BEST IN THE WORLD.

Assets - - over $120,000,000.

RICHARD A. MCCURDY, - PRESIDENT.

PROTECTION FOR THE AGED!

At Age of 75 $1000 will purchase an Annuity of $159.06, and other ages in proportion.

Those Desiring Reliable Insurance Should Apply to the Undersigned,

C. M. GIGNOUX, - - GENERAL AGENT,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

CAUTION

Beware of Fraud, as my name and the price are stamped on the bottom of all my advertised shoes before leaving the factory, which protect the wearers against high prices and inferior goods. If a dealer offers W. L. Douglas shoes at a reduced price, or says he has them without my name and price stamped on the bottom, put him down as a fraud

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE FOR GENTLEMEN.

The only calf $3 SEAMLESS Shoe smooth inside. NO TACKS or WAX THREAD to hurt the feet, easy as hand-sewed and WILL NOT RIP.

W. L. DOUGLAS $4 SHOE, the original and only hand-sewed welt $4 shoe. Equals custom-made shoes costing from $6 to $8.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.50 POLICE SHOE. Railroad Men and Letter Carriers all wear them. Smooth inside as a Hand-Sewed Shoe. No Tacks or Wax Thread to hurt the feet.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.50 SHOE is unexcelled for heavy wear. Best Calf Shoe for the price.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.25 WORKINGMAN'S SHOE is the best in the world for rough wear; one pair ought to wear a man a year.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2 SHOE FOR BOYS is the best School Shoe in the world.

W. L. DOUGLAS $1.75 YOUTH'S School Shoe gives the small Boys a chance to wear the best shoes in the world.

All made in Congress, Button and Lace. If not sold by your dealer, write

W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

FOR SALE BY

OREN BRAGDON & SON

NO. 24 MARKET STREET.

EAT

FOR BREAKFAST.

SOLD BY ALL GROCERS.

Quaker Mill Co., Ravenna, Ohio.

AT

No. 63 Pleasant St

may be found as full and carefully selected a stock of

FINE FANCY AND STAPLE

GROCERIES.

—ALSO—

BOOTS & SHOES

As at any Store east of Boston.

—VERMONT AND CREAMERY—

BUTTER & CHEESE.

Lard Sugar,
Molasses Syrup Oils.
Beans Peas Pickles Crackers.
Salt Pork Salt Fish, Sage Maccaroni.

-COFFEES-

Old Government Java and Rio, ground as sold

-TEAS-

Best Qualities Formosa and Japan.

—A FULL LINE—

CANNED AND SHELF GOODS.

Pure Spices, Raisins, Currants Cotton, Cocoa, Chocolate, Candied Lemon Peel, and all other Fine Groceries

TOBACCO AND CIGARS.

Brooms, Brushes, Pails, Crockery and Glassware, and a Large

Assortment of Miscellaneous Articles.

Boots and Shoes!

Men's Calf Button Boots,
Men's Calf Balmoral Boots,
Men's Calf French Ties,
Ladies' Kid Button Boots.
Misses' and Children's, Youth's and Boys',
All Sizes and Kinds.

We make the best selections possible, paying Cash; and for Cash will sell as low as the lowest

Orders filled with care and delivered free to any part of the city.

JOHN J. LASKEY,

NO. 63 PLEASANT STREET.

FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

RED FIRE!

QUALITY GUARANTEED.

ANDREW P. PRESTON,

Apothecary, - Portsmouth, N. H.

"1888" OPENING OF "1888"

FALL AND WINTER DRY GOODS

At the Well-Known Store,

NOS. 30 and 32 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH.

Ayers & Locke, Proprietors,

Can be found the Largest Assortment of

SEASONABLE DRY GOODS MERCHANDISE.

LARGEST ASSORTMENT OF OUTSIDE GARMENTS.

For Ladies, Misses and Children,

New Goods of this Season's Manufacture.

All are Invited to Examine

OUR STOCK OF CLOAKS!

Before Purchasing Elsewhere.

Silk and Gloria RAIN UMBRELLAS! Ladies' Gossamers.

THE F. P. ROBINSON CO. BLACK STOCKINGS.

"CLEAN FAST" NONE ARE GENUINE WITHOUT THIS TRADE MARK ON EACH PAIR

Mohair and Gingham RAIN UMBRELLAS! Children's Gossamers.

Largest Assortment of Dress Goods in Portsmouth.

In fact, the Best Assortment in their Line of everything pertaining to a

FIRST-CLASS STOCK OF DRY GOODS.

NEW CARPETS! NEW CARPETS! HOUSEKEEPING GOODS! &C.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS IN OUR UNDEWEARR DEPARTMENT.

Small Wares, Trimmings, Ribbons, Gloves, Yarns, Knitting Silks, &c. Corsets, Bustles, &c.

Largest Assortment of Fall and Winter Skirts in all the Desirable Fabrics

Which they are desirous of exchanging for Cash on a basis for goods that will compare favorably with Boston and New York prices

AYERS & LOCKE.

A PERFECT BLEND

MOCHA AND JAVA COFFEE

FULL WEIGHT, 2 POUND CANS, PRICE 70 CENTS

CHARLES E. LAICHTON & SON,

Exchange Building, Opp. Post-Office.

The Portsmouth Daily Chronicle,

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 2, 1862.

Published every morning, (except Sunday, at No. 7 Exchange Building, Pleasant Street.

By mail, postage prepaid, $5 a year. Single Copies, Two Cents.

THE CHRONICLE is served to subscribers in Portsmouth, Kittery, Dover, Rochester and Farmington at 50 Cents per month, hours in advance of any other paper containing the Associated Press Despatches.

The New Hampshire Gazette,

ESTABLISHED OCT. 7, 1756.

The Oldest Newspaper in America. Published every Thursday.

Terms, $1.50 a year in advance.

[Entered at the Post Office at Portsmouth as second class matter.]

W. SCOTT SMITH,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

☞ Rates of advertising made known on application.

Agents for the Daily Chronicle:

MOSES BROS.....PORTSMOUTH.
ROBERTS & AVERY.....FARMINGTON
WORCESTER & GREENFIELD..ROCHESTER
BROWNE BROS.....DOVER.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 21, 1888.

A Doubtful State Which Does Not Affect The Result.

It seems somewhat out of the usual course that the only really "doubtful State," about which both parties are hopeful, is West Virginia, one of the reliable Cleveland States of 1884, and this "doubtfulness" lingers about it more than a fortnight after the votes were supposed to have been polled. Gen. Goff, the republican candidate for governor, has not felt sufficiently confident to claim his own election until within the past twenty-four hours, although his friends and the friends of his opponent have persistently declared their belief in the State having gone their way. New York's firm stand for Protection took it out of all possibility for a national democratic claim before dawn of the day succeeding the election, thus settling the contest in favor of Harrison and Morton. The calm that then settled on the country has been in remarkable comparison to that which attended the delayed counting of the New York vote during the ten days succeeding the election of 1884. Had Cleveland carried his own State, the country would now be in a condition of incertitude, and perhaps business paralysis over the returns from West Virginia, which would have decided the issue. It was a happy escape from suspense that placed the result beyond the influence of West Virginia.

Solid Vestibuled Trains

Now run through daily, over the great Rock Island route, between Chicago and Colorado Springs, Denver and Pueblo. Similar fast vestibule express trains, between Chicago and Council Bluffs, (Omaha) and between Chicago and Kansas City and St. Joseph. These trains are equipped with new and elegant day coaches, reclining-chair cars, dining cars (east of the Missouri river) and Pullman palace sleeping cars, heated throughout by steam and having all the modern improvements. West of Kansas city and St. Joseph, splendid dining hotels are located at convenient stations. The completion of the Colorado extension of the Rock Island system affords the most direct, desirable and only line from Chicago through Kansas and Nebraska to Colorado Springs, Denver and Pueblo, giving choice of routes to and from Salt Lake city, Portland, Los Angeles, San Francisco and the Pacific coast.

Tickets via this popular route are on sale at all railway coupon ticket offices in the United States and Canada, where time tables, folders, etc., can be procured, or address E. A. Holbrook, G. T. & P. A., Chicago.

Grand Tour Through Mexico and California.

One of the most elaborate and comprehensive of the Raymond & Whitcomb tours is the Mexico and California excursion. A party of limited size goes through the southern States, Mexico and to the Pacific coast in a magnificent Pullman vestibuled train, which includes a dining car, barber shop, bathroom and library,—in short, a complete "hotel on wheels." The cars are used as lodging places only where first-class hotel accommodations are lacking, but this must frequently be the case in Mexico. With such facilities for comfort at command the party can visit many out-of-the-way points. Not one tourist in a thousand sees half the places that are visited by a Raymond & Whitcomb excursionist. New and important additions have been made to the route this year, both in Mexico and California. One of the new points to be seen is the quaint and interesting city of Guadalajara, which has just been placed in railway communication with the outside world. A corps of guides and interpreters accompanies the sight-seers everywhere, and many special facilities for observation and study are afforded the visitors; high Mexican officials, and the people of the country generally, looking with great favor upon a scheme that brings into their midst travellers of the most intelligent class. There will be three tours through Mexico the coming season,—two including California and one omitting it.—Monday January 14, being the date of departure of the first party. Full details may be ington street, opposite School street, Boston. The second and third parties will leave February 11 and March 11. There are to be several California excursions in December, January, February and March, and two trips to Washington (the only ones this season) are announced for January 18 and February 15.

We are astonished at parties who introduce new remedies for coughs when they should know the people will have Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

"Kings are like stars, they rise and set." They have headaches, cuts, and hurts like meaner men, and are just as sure to call for Salvation Oil.

—Political orator (furiously)—"Now, fellow-citizens, if this man is elected what will be the result?" A voice—"His opponent will be defeated."

Catarrh originates in scrofulous taint. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and thus permanently cures catarrh.

"For twenty years I have suffered with a severe bronchial cough, never lying down without a severe attack of the same. After much pursuasion, I was induced to try Adamson's Balsam, and its good effects for six months are certainly marvellous. Please use this truthful testimony for the advantage of all sufferers like myself.
Mrs. Wm. Alden, Duxbury, Mass., Feb. 21, 1887.

—Children shrink from being washed. The same may be said of socks.

Be Your Own Doctor.

It won't cost you half as much. Do not delay. Send three 2-cent stamps for postage, and we will send you Dr. Kaufmann's great work, fine colored plates from life, on disease, its causes, and home cure. Address A. P. Ordway, & Co., Boston, Mass.

—The average pullet takes her eggsit in the spring.

Hundreds of letters from those using Hall's Hair Vigor attest its value as a restorer of gray hair to its natural color. As a stimulant and tonic, preventing and curing baldness, and cleansing the scalp, its use cannot be too strongly recommended.

—"Physician, heal thyself!" is an injuction promulgated centuries ago, and now some of the older practitioners are pretty well heeled.

Trial proves that honesty is the best policy in medicine as well as in other things. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a genuine preparation, an unequalled blood purifier, decidedly superior to all others.

To-Night and To-Morrow Night,

And each day and night during this week you can get at all druggists Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, acknowledged to be the most successful remedy ever sold for the cure of Coughs, Croup, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption. Get a bottle to-day and keep it always in the house, so you can check your cold at once. Price 50c and $1.00. Sample bottles free.

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam, for Coughs and Colds, does it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles at 50c and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all Throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. NOYES, 149 Power's Block, Rochester. eeowtjan89

Eczema, Itchy, Scaly, Skin Tortures.

The simple application of "SWAYNE'S OINTMENT," without any internal medicine, will cure any case of Tetter, Salt Rheum, Ringworm, Piles, Itch, Sores, Pimples, Eczema, all Scaly, Itchy Skin Eruptions, no matter how obstinate or long standing. It is potent, effective, and costs but a trifle. eu1ed9

—Nature is a great deal like the manipulators of the stock market. She has her regular times of trying to freeze out everybody.

—Some are born great, some think they are great, and others thrust greatness upon themselves.

NEW JEWELRY
— AND —
SILVER GOODS
— AT —
HUTCHINSON'S.

C-O-A-L-!
All Kinds and Sizes Delivered Well Screened.
E. F. SISE & CO.

First Quality Wood!
Liverpool and Turks Island
S-A-L-T-.
In Bulk and Sacks. Salt in Boxes. Boston and Portland Brands.
TELEPHONE.

ILSLEY & MOORE,
Fire Life and Accident Insurance Agents and Brokers No. 3 Pleasant St., Portsmouth N. H.

NOTICE—The undersigned gives notice to all whom it may concern, that he has purchased from the senior member of the old firm of MORSE & ILSLEY, all rights to the Fire Insurance Business heretofore carried on by that firm, and is duly authorized by all the Companies represented by them to have and hold all their records. WINGATE N. ILSLEY.
Facilities for placing the largest lines of Fire Insurance in the best Companies.

The reason why small money-lenders do not, all of them, send their money west to be lent is because they do not know how to do so safely.

There is no more danger than in crossing the street, if you know your bank. But be careful about your lender.

Send for a primer on western lending; free.

THE KANSAS CITY INVESTMENT COMPANY, Kansas City, Missouri; or Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

$100,000
Janesville, Wis., Water Co.
First Mortgage 6% Bonds.
DUE AUGUST 1, 1907.
Secured by a Sinking Fund. Descriptive Circulars furnished on application.
Brewster, Cobb & Estabrook,
35 Congress St., Boston.

LOOK AT THIS
Heavy, Substantial Cooking Range,

"THE ALMONER."
Plain for $16.00, Worth $25.00
To anyone in need of a First Class Range. Examine this before purchasing elsewhere.
— ALSO A FULL LINE OF —
MAGEE FURNACES, RANGES & STOVES.
Plumbing, Gas Fitting, Tin and Sheet Iron Work of All Kinds.
C. W. TAYLOR.
42 & 44 MARKET STREET.

USE NETTEZZA!
FOR THE TEETH.
PREPARED BY E. C. BLAISDELL, D. M. D.
Price 25 Cents.
— FOR SALE BY —
A. P. PRESTON, D. KIMBALL & CO., W. D. GRACE, F. B. COLEMAN AND BENJ. GREEN.

BURNETT'S
PERFECTLY PURE HIGHLY CONCENTRATED
Standard Flavoring
EXTRACTS
The superiority of these Extracts consist in their
Perfect Purity and Great Strength.

JOHN H. BROUHTON,
No. 66 Daniel St., Portsmouth, N. H.
— DEALER IN —
EASTERN AND WESTERN
LUMBER!
Shingles, Clapboards and Laths.
— ALSO —
Best Newark Hydraulic Cement, Best Extra and No. 1 Lime
FOR SALE AT LOWEST PRICES.

JOSIAH F. ADAMS
Embalmer and Funeral Director,
WAREROOMS: NO. 5 DANIEL ST.
Coffins, Caskets and Robes Always on Hand. Hearse and Carriages Furnished. Cemetery Lots Cared For, &c.

FALL AND WINTER OF 1888-89.
Our Assortment of Tailoring Goods is superior in many respects to any of previous years, embracing a Full Line of Goods suitable for
Fall and Winter Overcoatings.
Aslo, a Fine Assortment of the Best
IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC GOODS FOR SUITINGS,
Consisting of Stripes, Checks, Plain and Fancy Woollens and Worsteds in Great Variety.
CHECKS AND STRIPES FOR TROWSERS.
FANCY PATTERNS FOR VESTING.
Prices Reasonable for Fine Work.
WM. P. WALKER, - - MERCHANT TAILOR,
NO. 8 MARKET SQUARE.

EASTERN OFFICE OF
Kansas City Investment Co.,
OVER FIRST NATIONAL BANK, PORTSMOUTH.
CITY MORTGAGES, FARM MORTGAGES, DEBENTURE BONDS, REAL ESTATE NOTES
☞ INTEREST PAYABLE HERE AT MATURITY. ☜
W. G. MYERS V. P.

CORTICELLI Wash Silk.

The colors are warranted not to stain the most delicate fabric in washing with warm water and Castile soap. Sold in four distinct sizes:—G, extra coarse, called Rope;—EE coarse, called Embroidery;—No. 50G, medium, called Outline,—and a fine size called Floss. This last is sometimes known as Filo Floss, and is sold in the Corticelli brand on spools only.
NONOTUCK SILK CO., Sole Makers, 18 Summer Street, Boston.

Insurance Notice.
THE OLD INSURANCE AGENCY,
AT THE OLD STAND,
No. 13 Pleasant Street,
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.
JOSEPH P. MORSE,

25 CORDS
DRY PINE LIMBS!
At $3.50 Per Cord.
☞ The Very Best of Fuel at a Low Price.
O. F. PHILBRICK & CO.,
COAL AND WOOD DEALERS,
4 Water Street.

WOOD AND COAL!
A Good Assortment of all kinds of Wood and Coal.
Kindling Wood Split to Order.
— ALSO —
Akron Drain and Sewer Pipe.
NO. 13 GREEN STREET,
DANIEL LITTLEFIEL

STEPHEN D. SCRIGGINS,
Carriage Painter,
NO. 16 Vaughan Street, Portsmouth, N. H.
Having spacious and good accommodations and one and large experience he solicits patronage in his line.

Look in at Conn's
— AND SEE THE —
BUTTER!
From the very best Dairies in Vermont and New York. Creameries are of no account compared with these Dairies. Also,
Cheese Pork, Lard, Hams, Beans Etc
No Oleo or Second-Hand Stuff kept.
☞ The very best quality of LARD bought by the car load, which I am selling less than the Boston prices.

DR. S. F. HAM,
Of Hotel Bristol, Boston, will receive patients
Monday and Tuesday
FROM MAY 1st TO NOV. 1st,
And the remainder of the year every Monday.
Office and Residence. 13 COURT ST. Portsmouth, N. H.

CITY OF PORTSMOUTH,

PROPOSALS FOR LOAN.

THE City of Portsmouth, N. H., will issue bonds of the par value of about $40,000 dated January 1, 1889, payable January 1, 1909, with interest at four per cent payable semi-annually.

HUNT'S REMEDY
RELIEVES the Kidneys; REVIVES the Liver; SOLD UNIVERSALLY. cod&g

COMFORT
— FOR —
COLD AND TENDER FEET!
Persons troubled with cold or tender feet will find warmth and ease in the use of
DOLGE'S ALL WOOL FELT
Slipners and Shoes
For which the undersigned is agent in this City and Vicinity.
--- AT THE STORE ---
No. 34 Market Street
Can be found a Full Line of these Goods, in many patterns of Slippers, Shoes and Boots, and several colors, for house, office or street wear,
Of Men and Boys, Women and Girls.
☞ Please examine our Stock.
J. C. CARR.

Furnaces, Ranges & Stoves.
We are now ready to show the Finest Line of
RANGES AND PARLOR STOVES
Ever offered in this city, at Prices within the reach of all. Call and See Them Before Buying, it will Pay You.

LAMPS! LAMPS!
Our Stock of Lamps is Complete, the
Lux Dux, Rochester, Banner, Duplex,
All First-Class, and will be Sold at the Lowest Prices.
PLUMBING, GAS PIPING, COPPER AND SHEET IRON WORK, AT
John P. Sweetser's,
46 MARKET STREET.

Now is the Time to Look Over Your Wardrobe and See What You Need for Winter, and
SIMPSON'S CORNER STORE
Is the place where you can find everything you need in Gentlemen's Wear, at Remarkably Low Prices, for Cash.
— WE HAVE A FULL LINE OF —
OVERCOATS!
Ranging in Prices from $5 to $25.
— A NEW LOT OF —
ULSTERS!
From $6 to $20.
— A FINE ASSORTMENT OF —
FURNISHING GOODS.
☞ Headquarters for OIL and RUBBER CLOTHING, Wholesale and Retail.
Come and See for Yourselves at the Old Stand,
Corner Market and Bow Streets,
CHARLES E. SIMPSON.

NOTICE!
FALL
— AND —
WINTER STYLES
NOW READY!
— AT —
MRS. TEBBETTS',
NO. 14 MARKET STREET.

Insertion Notice.
THE OLD INSURANCE AGENCY,
AT THE OLD STAND,
No. 13 Pleasant Street,
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.
JOSEPH P. MORSE,

J. L.
Thanksgiving, '88.
500 lbs. Layer Figs.
2,000 lbs. Malaga Grapes.
100 boxes Fancy New Raisins.
500 lbs. New Citron.
500 lbs. New Currants.
50 doz. boxes New Sardines.
New Nuts of all Kinds.
New Cider. Bottled Cider. Wines, etc.
The largest and best stock in the city.
JOHN LAIGHTON,
No. 1 Market Square.

Always on Time.
NEW YORK & NEW ENGLAND.
Trains for New York.
Leave Portsmouth, via Boston & Maine R. R. at 11:05 a. m. 7:40 p. m. Arrive at Boston 1:15, 9:30 p. m.
Leave Boston, ¶12:00 noon, §*3 00, 11:30 p. m. Ar. New York, 6:30, *9 00 p. m., 6:35 a. m. Parlor and Sleeping Cars through without change.
¶ Dining Car between Boston and Hartford. § Dining Car between Boston and Willimantic. *3 00 p. m. runs daily, including Sundays. Through tickets at offices, North and East. Baggage checked through.
Ticket offices—322 Washington St., and Depot foot of Summer St., Boston. eadtd17

BOOK BINDING
Of Every Desciption,
— DONE AT —
NO. 5 CONGRESS STREET,
(OVER FAYS STORE.)
Magazines and other Periodicals Bound in Styles to Suit Patrons; Especial Attention given to
REBINDING OLD BOOKS!
For Libraries or Individuals; in short, any work of the kind promptly attended to, and satisfaction guaranteed. ☞ Prices reasonable.
JOHN D. RANDALL.

E. C. BLAISDELL, D. M. D.,
(SUCCESSOR TO DR. F. J. BONNEY,)

RAYMOND'S VACATION EXCURSIONS.
All Travelling Expenses Included.
A party will leave Boston Monday, January 14, 1889, for a
Grand Tour of 62 Days,
THROUGH THE SOUTHERN STATES,
MEXICO,
— AND —
CALIFORNIA.
The outward route is via Buffalo, Suspension Bridge, Detroit, Toledo, Cincinnati, New Orleans, etc.
The entire round of travel through the South and Mexico to be made in a Special Train of Magnificent Vestibuled Pullman Palace Cars, inclusive of Pullman Palace Dining-Car. All the leading cities and places of historic and picturesque interest to be visited, including Guadalajara and the City of Mexico (where ten days will be passed). A Six Days' Trip over the Mexican Railway. Also a Complete Round of California, with special trains returning through the grand scenic sections of Utah, Colorado, etc. The time in California will be extended at pleasure, with seven different dates of return under special escort. The tickets also good on any train until July.
Second and Last Tour through the Southern States, Mexico and California.—February 11.
Grand Tour of 47 Days through the Southern States and Mexico (omitting California).—March 11.
California Excursions.—December 6; January 7 and 10; February 7, 11, and 25; March 7 and 11.
Washington Excursions (the only ones this season).—January 18 and February 15.
W. RAYMOND. I. A. WHITCOMB.
☞ Send for descriptive circulars, designating the tour desired.
W. RAYMOND,
236 Washington St. (opposite School St.), BOSTON, MASS. no19

GRATEFUL---COMFORTING.
EPPS'S COCOA.
BREAKFAST.
"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame.—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in half-pound tins, by Grocers, labelled thus:
JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England.
1ec5

WE WANT A GOOD ENERGETIC SALESMAN in every town and city TO SOLICIT ORDERS FOR FRAMING PICTURES. BEST OUTFIT IN THE WORLD and a permanent situation. Address H. B. WARDWELL, Lewiston, Me.

POSITIVELY CLOSING WEEKS
GRAND CYCLORAMA,
BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG,
541 Tremont St., Boston.
Don't fail to see this great battle scene at once.
A new subject now being painted will take its place in this building January 1st.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, the great Medical Work of the age on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline, Errors of Youth, and the untold miseries consequent thereon. 300 pages 6 vo., 125 prescriptions for all diseases. Cloth, full gilt, only $1.00, by mail, sealed. Illustrative sample free to all young and middle-aged men. Send now. The Gold and Jewelled Medal awarded to the author by the National Medical Association. Address P.O. Box 1895, Boston, Mass., or Dr. W. H. PARKER, graduate of Harvard Medical College, 25 years' practice in Boston, who may be consulted confidentially. Office, No. 4 Bulfinch St. Specialty, Diseases of Man.
KNOW THYSELF.
Cut this out. You may never see it again.

MARVELOUS
MEMORY DISCOVERY.
Any book learned in one reading
Mind wandering cured.
Speaking without notes.
Piracy condemned by Supreme Court.
Great inducements to correspondence classes
Prospectus, with opinions of Dr. Wm. A. Hammond, the world-famed Specialist in Mind diseases, Daniel Greenleaf Thompson, the great Psychologist, J. M. Buckley, D. D., Editor of the Christian Advocate, Richard Proctor, the Scientist, Hons. Judge Gibson, Judah P. Benjamin, and others, sent post free by
Prof. A. LOISETTE, 237 Fifth Ave., New York.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE
The three-story (above the grade floor)
BRICK STORE BUILDING
NO. 16 BOW STREET,
Running back over the wharf to the river, occupied for a long time by the late Charles Robinson as a wholesale corn and flour store. Sold to close up an estate Enquire of
J. P. MORSE, Real Estate Broker,

GRANITE STATE Fire Insurance Company,
OF PORTSMOUTH, N. H.
PAID-UP CAPITAL, - $200,000
OFFICERS:
President, FRANK JONES.
Vice President, JOHN W. SANBORN.
Secretary, ALFRED F. HOWARD.
Treasurer, JOHN LAIGHTON.
Executive Committee, FRANK JONES, JOHN W. SANBORN, CHARLES A. SINN.

TRAVELLER'S GUIDE.

TRAINS LEAVE

Portsmouth for Boston, 4.05, 7.25, 8.20, 11.05 a. m., 2.55, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4.00 p. m.

Boston for Portsmouth, 7.30, 9.00, 10.00 a. m., 12.30, 3.30, 6.40, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.20 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

Portsmouth for Portland, 9.55, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m.

Portland for Portsmouth, 2.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.05, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 2.00 a. m.

Portsmouth for Dover, 4.05, 9.45 a. m., 12.25, 2.38, 5.22 p. m.

Dover for Portsmouth, 6.55, 10.20 a. m., 1.05, 4.30, 6.40 p. m.

Portsmouth for York Beach, 8.30, 11.10 a. m. 5.35 p. m.

York Beach for Portsmouth, 6.40, 10.00 a. m., 1.40 p. m.

Portsmouth for Concord, 7.55 a. m., 1.00, 5.15 p. m.

Concord for Portsmouth, 7.20, 10.20 a. m., 3.35 p. m.

Portsmouth for Manchester, 7.55 a. m., 1.00, 5.15 p. m.

Manchester for Portsmouth, 8.15, 11.15 a. m., 4.25 p. m.

TRAINS ARRIVE

In Boston from Portsmouth, 6.20, 9.10, 10.25 a. m., 1.15, 4.45, 7.10, 9.30 p. m. Sundays, 6.30 a. m., 8.30 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Boston, 9.45, 10.45 a. m., 2.30, 5.55, 8.20, 6.45, 8.57 p. m. Sundays, 10.40 a. m., 8.57 p. m.

In Portland from Portsmouth, 12.00 m., 12.35, 4.40, 11.00 p. m. Sundays, 11.00 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Portland, 8.55, 10.44 a. m., 2.30, 7.15 p. m. Sundays, 3.55 a. m.

In Dover from Portsmouth, 8.40, 10.10 a. m., 12.50, 3.03, 5.47 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Dover, 7.30, 10.44 a. m., 2.20, 4.55, 7.15 p. m.

In Concord from Portsmouth, 10.30 a. m., 3.12, 8.25 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Concord, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

In Manchester from Portsmouth, 9.42 a. m., 2.30, 7.00 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Manchester, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

KITTERY AND PORTSMOUTH.

STEAMER MYSTIC.

Leave Bartlett's wharf, Kittery, 6.35, 7.50, 8.45, 10.0, 11.45 a. m., 2.00, 3.15, 4.45, 6.00 p. m. Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 6.30, Saturday evening, 8.30, 8.00.

Leave Broughton's wharf, foot Daniel street, Portsmouth, 7.30, 8.00, 9.30, 11.00 a. m., 12.45, 3.00, 4.00, 5.15, 6.15 p. m., Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7.30, Saturday evenings, 7.30, 9.00.

Fare five cents each way.

A FAIR SAMPLE OF
40 SWORN CASES
OF THE VALUE OF
DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND

THE RADICAL BLOOD PURIFIER.

DIPHTHERIA. SCROFULA.

Miss Lena Judkins, a daughter (17 years old) of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Judkins, 677 Boston St., Lynn, CURED by Dr. Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of very severe case of Scrofula, with Malignant Ulcers of eight years' standing, after 11 Physicians had failed. Almost a miracle. Now in perfect health. Sworn to before HARMON HALL, Justice of the Peace.

SCROFULOUS HUMOR.

Miss Mary Etta Leighton, a daughter (16 yrs. old) of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison G. Leighton, 16 Bickford Court, Lynn, CURED by Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of a deep seated Scrofulous Humor, with discharging eruptions, which had baffled eight physicians and the combined forces of two prominent hospitals. Perfectly cured and without a blemish. Sworn to before CALVIN B. TUTTLE, Justice of the Peace.

Send for circular of 40 Sworn cases. They are solid facts and carry conviction.

DR. LOUGEE'S
VITALIZING COMPOUND.

is absolutely the greatest known Remedy for the Radical cure of Scrofula, Cancerous Humors, Diphtheritic or Mineral Blood Poisoning, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Dropsy and Liver Complaint.

$1. per Bottle (6 for 5). At Druggists.
Lougee Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Laxador An infallible regulator of the Human System. Cures Liver Complaint, Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Giddiness, &c. Sold by druggists. Laxador Cures Bilious Affections &c. Laxador Price 25 Cts.

The Leading Perfume.
DREXEL'S BELL COLOGNE
Fragrant! Lasting!
PRICE 25 CENTS. AT ALL DEALERS.

DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP
CURES COUGHS & COLDS FOR 25 ¢

SALVATION OIL
Price only 25 cts. Sold by all druggists.
Will relieve Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Swellings, Bruises, Lumbago, Sprains, Headache, Toothache, Sores, Burns, Wounds, Cuts, Scalds, Backache, Gout, or any bodily pain or ailment.

CHEW LANGE'S PLUGS, The Great Tobacco Antidote!—Price 10 Cts. At all druggists.

Cure Your Corns,
BY USING
SCHLOTTERBECK'S
CORN, WART AND BUNION SOLVENT
IS GUARANTEED.

Any State, Haynes Excelsior and Wm. B. Tilton Gold Medal GUITARS, $10 to $40. MUSIC BOXES, 50 cents to $300. Solo BB CORNET, $10. Haynes VIOLINS, Orchestra, $25; Solo, $35. Special Snare DRUMS, $6.

The Phonograph in the Army.

A distinguished officer said to me, after we had inspected Edison's phonograph at the Press club by favor of Col. Gouraud, "I wonder can that be adapted to naval and military use?" Subsequent conversation with him developed these ideas. There is hardly a campaign of which we have a complete record; there is hardly an accident at sea of which we have ever heard, or that did not give rise to the question of the exact wording and precise emphasis on the wording of an order. The most conspicuous instance in modern times of a misunderstanding was perhaps the case of the charge at Balaklava, but the ceaseless flow of battle papers in the American magazines goes to show that what happened in the case of our Light brigade happened in substance pretty often in your great war. Now, if there were a portable form of the phonograph there could be a record of the orders given, whether in case of an action ashore or an accident afloat. Perhaps Mr. Edison will condescend to give the subject his attention.

But meanwhile I have "spotted" a use for the phonograph that probably has occurred to no one else. It has been my lot in days gone by to attend perhaps a greater number of artillery experiments than any one else not an artillery officer, and I can see how if a number of phonographs, synchronized, were placed along a range there would be a better and clearer record of the path of a shot or shell than there is at present where the use of screens inevitably causes some deflection and some loss of energy, however light. But in applying the phonograph to military and naval purposes it does seem to be necessary that there should be found some more durable, even if less sensitive, material than the wax cylinder as the receiver of the vibrations. That such a material exists can hardly be doubted; but it may interest Mr. Edison to know that already some of the smartest military minds in England are considering his invention with a view to its adoption for, or adaptation to, military purposes. I do not feel at liberty to say more on the matter at present.—London Cor. New York Times.

Swimming Examinations for Schoolboys.

One of the most sensible of school regulations is that at Eton which specifies that only those boys who know how to swim shall engage in boating. At one time the school authorities did not interfere at all in overseeing the oarsmen, and accidents on the water were not at all unusual.

In 1840, however, when a boy was drowned, the law was made that no boy should be allowed to enter a boat who had not passed an examination in swimming. One or two teachers were appointed river masters, bathing places were specified, and watermen were engaged, both to teach swimming, and to be at hand with punts, in order to prevent accident.

Bathing is permitted as soon after the Easter holidays as the weather will allow, and twice a week the river masters are present at Cuckoo weir to conduct the swimming examination. "Boating," of the Badminton library, describes the ceremony:

"A number of the boys thought by the watermen to be sufficiently proficient, appear, undressed, in a punt. About thirty yards off a pole is stuck up in the water. The master stands on a high place called the acropolis, and as he calls one name after another each pupil takes a header and swims once or twice round the pole. It is not sufficient merely to take the header and accomplish the specified distance; he must swim in approved form, so as to be capable of swimming in his clothes."

Since these formalities have been established only one boy has been drowned at Eton, though many boats are swamped under all sorts of circumstances. Those who have not passed belong to the class called "non nant."—Youth's Companion.

A Good Kind of Face.

Memory of Events.—This is shown by a wide, full forehead in the center.

Reasoning Power.—A high, long and well defined nose and a broad face exhibits this great faculty.

Moral Courage.—This faculty manifests itself by wide nostrils, short neck and eyes set directly in front.

Language.—This faculty is exhibited in many parts of the face, particularly by a large mouth and large, full eyes, opened wide.

Self Esteem.—This faculty shows itself in a long or deep upper lip. Large self esteem gives one dignity, self control and perfect independence.

Firmness.—The presence of this faculty, when very large is indicated by a long, broad chin. Firmness is synonymous with willfulness, perseverance and stability.

Perception of Character.—This is indicated by a long, high nose at the lower end or tip. This faculty is very useful, if not indispensable, to a judge in the exercise of the functions of his office.

Power of Observation.—The situation of this faculty is in the face just above the top of the nose, filling out the forehead to a level with the parts on each side of the nose. It is a faculty which enables one to concentrate the mind upon the subject being discussed.

Conscientiousness—This is shown in the face by a square jaw, a bony chin, prominent cheek bones and a general squareness of the features of the entire face. To be conscientious means that one has a sense of justice, honesty of purpose, rectitude of character and moral courage.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

True to Her Promise.

As illustrative of the average negro character a gentleman said that an old negro woman made application for the loan of $5. He lent her the money and, true to her promise, she returned it. That was several years since, and nearly every time she has seen him since she would accost him with the salutation: "Mr. Blank, you loaned me $5, didn't you?" "Yes." "Well, I paid it back, didn't I?" "That you did." "Well, don't you think you oughter give me a quarter?" The gentleman said he generally thought so, and that he had responded to her calls cheerfully.—Albany (Ga.) News.

The ordinary is the necessary; the extraordinary we can do without. Yet, by a strange paradox, men value most what they least need.

A NEW PHOTOGRAPHIC LIGHT.

Fine Pictures Taken by a Flash of Gun Cotton.

At the last meeting of the Society of Amateur Photographers Dr. H. G. Piffard, of this city, exhibited a new method of taking photographs by artificial light, to take the place of the unsatisfactory method of burning a ribbon of magnesium tape that has been used for a long time. Before the meeting the young gentlemen who don't know much about the business and the gray beards who know it all stood about in little groups excitedly discussing the new invention.

The new method is the discovery of a man, with a head of thick, wavy brown hair, a heavy mustache and strongly marked features. Liberal applause greeted him. He read a short address on the difficulties experienced in producing successfully an artificial light that would do for taking pictures. He illustrated several of the unsuccessful attempts that had been made, and dwelt particularly upon the failure of the magnesium light. He lit a ribbon of magnesium tape, and showed how apt it was to flare up and then subside and suddenly to go out before the picture was taken.

A big camera was rolled out into the room, and a table, whose top came up even with the lens, was placed beside it. A brick was placed upon the table, and upon this brick the doctor put about six grains of gun cotton, and sprinkled over it from ten to fifteen grains of magnesium powder. A chair was placed in front of the camera about ten feet away, and Mr. H. J. Newton seated himself in this chair. A wax taper was lit and handed to Mr. Newton, who held it close to his face. He was focused in this position, and then the lights were turned down until the room was dark. A dry plate was placed in the camera, and then Dr. Piffard lit a match and applied it to the compound. There was a flash of of light that made the entire room as bright as noonday for a second. Then the gas was turned up.

Mr. Robert Roosevelt was photographed in the same way. The pictures developed in a few minutes, and negatives were handed around. Ehey were perfect, and a burst of applause greeted the experiment.

All manner of dark places can be photographed by this method, such as thick woodland scenes and dark caves. It will enable amateur photographers to take pictures in their homes at night, and will prolong the hours of work for the professionals, and correspondingly increase their incomes.

An entirely original use to which it can be put was referred to by Dr. Piffard. He explained that a small wad of the compound could be placed in the barrel of a pistol and exploded by concussion. He did this, and the flash was just as bright as when it was ignited in the loose state. The idea is the construction of a small camera made so that it can be fastened to the barrel of a pistol. It is claimed that the uses to which this can be put are manifold. Among them is the avoidance of any more struggles at police headquarters when a picture is wanted for the Rogues' gallery. The rogue can be photographed in a cell so dark that he will not be able to see the photographer. The flash is so quick that he will be given no time to distort his features, to close his eyes, or to disguise himself in any way. It will also make a handy weapon for a man to have by his bedside. For instance, a man can have a self cocking revolver with a camera fastened on the barrel. One of the chambers can be loaded with this compound and the other chambers with bullets. When a burglar appears, the citizen can point his revolver toward him and take his photograph first. The flash will enable him to see if there is more than one burglar around, and if there is not, then he can fire a bullet at the one whose photograph he has. If the man escapes, his photograph can be handed to the police. If there is more than one burglar, the wisest thing to do would be to shoot the one who hasn't been photographed, for the other one can be caught at any time by means of the picture. Suppose a desperate burglar enters a house, and the house owner has only time to photograph him before he is murdered. In the morning, providing the burglar hasn't stolen the camera, as he surely will if he happens to read this story, the police develop the picture and there is evidence enough to hang him.

The ingredients in Dr. Piffard's compound are said to be absolutely safe. Among other things exhibited was a new developer known as "hydrochinon." Several pictures that had been developed by it were so perfect that the hair on a man's hand could be distinctly seen. A film, upon which negatives can be taken, created much favorable comment. These can be carried conveniently, and are not only much lighter than glass, but they are also less fragile.

Dr. Higgins produced what he termed a "finder." This is to be used for the purpose of rapidly locating any moving object, so that it can be photographed before it can get beyond the range of the camera. The "finder" is a small square box with a ground glass top and a small lens in one end. If you want to photograph a running deer or a savage animal in the act of springing upon a victim, a moving steamboat, a bird flying through the air, or anything else that hasn't got time to wait, you just place the "finder" on top of your camera, push the camera in or out, as the case may be, until the object is seen in the ground glass, and then you are sure the focus is all right.—New York Sun.

Why People Have Poor Teeth.

Dr. Julius Pohlmann, in an interesting article on "The Human Teeth Viewed in the Light of Evolution," shows the inadequacy of many of the explanations of the poor teeth of modern times. He believes that people have poor teeth as they have poor muscles, because they are not used enough. The food of the present day is cooked, softened, and hard particles removed, children are brought up on soft foods, and in general there is a tendency to allow the teeth to lapse into a harmful desuetude.—Boston Journal of Health.

Metal Ropes for Mines.

Signal ropes for mines are on the Continent made of ditta metal, for the reason that this metal resists corrosion. It is said to have a tensile strength of more than fifty tons per square inch of section.

CHINAMEN STARTING HOME.

Odd Scenes Witnessed in San Francisco Celestials Departing for Cathay.

When the city slept and nothing disturbed the stillness of the hour save an occasional milk wagon rattling over the cobbles, and only a police officer, night worker or carouser was strolling through the streets, or, perhaps, a quiet newspaper man going wearily to his home, wagon after wagon loaded with Chinese and their luggage were arriving at Brannan street, opposite the wharf of the Pacific Mail Steamship company, San Francisco. It may seem strange why they should be there so soon, as the wharf is not opened for them till 7 o'clock. They were there, however, each one wishing his wagon was first at the gate so that he could secure what he considered the best berth in the steerage. Shortly after 4 a. m. a load of seven coolies, sitting high on top of a large quantity of luggage, drove up to the gate and had first place. During the next hour a few arrivals lengthened the line of teams; but about 5 o'clock a gray light stole softly over the listless undulating water of the bay, and from the dark fog that lay off in the distance a hazy purple came and dissolved into a silvery gray that spread over the eastern sky, dimming the stars and rendering the lights on the ship useless.

The scene now changed. Hundreds of Chinese came down the wharf, some carrying matting bags, strange looking boxes, tin vessels, Saratoga trunks, "Melican" tools, and, with the Chinese, the ubiquitous round baskets that are carried on each end of a strong pole over the shoulder—all containing good things for the Flowery Kingdom. On top of all this were huddled four or five, or perhaps more, Chinamen bound for home.

The hoarse, warning voice of the fog horn and the steady measured beats of the fog bell coming dolefully across the water ceased after sunrise, but the wharves were alive with the hum of a coming day's toil, and the din of the Chinese jabbering and yelling ere the work of the day was commenced. A weight, who was there in time to see the first arrival, tried to converse with many of the Chinese, but "Me no sabe," they would say, fearing perhaps that it might not be just right for their welfare.

For two or three hours the coolies gathered outside the wharf gate, anxiously waiting to be admitted. At last the time came when the door was opened, about 7 o'clock, and a wild rush was made toward the steamer. Sometimes, indeed, the rush from the Oakland ferry on landing at the mole is like it, but a band of restless cattle let loose would be the closest possible resemblance to the race of Chinese down the wharf. They were stopped about half way by officers and workmen on the wharf, but the coolies would try every scheme to get beyond the line, only to be driven back as a steer would when running off from a pen. At this time the gentlemanly freight clerk of the steamer asked the reporter to come to the front, adding: "Now the fun commences; keep in front where the crush is, and their attempts at crossing the line will be amusing."

It certainly was. Two men were stationed before the Chinese, one armed with a heavy broom that often came down unmercifully on the back or head or shoulders of some coolie as he tried to make a break. When one of the men would turn his back for a moment another break would be made, but the unfortunate would be hurled back with a cuff or shake, and very often a little stronger language than "Get up there," "Come in here," or "Get back," with the accent on the back, and something else on the coolie's. The men who tried to preserve an unbroken front cut a funny figure as their mates joked over their task; indeed, every time a Mongol would be put back a fresh sally of laughter would be made and something funny said, much to the discomfort of the Chinese. A Chinaman carrying a live duck went boldly to the ship, but the duck's quacking attracted the attention of the broom armed guard, who was told by an officer close by that the ducks wanted to "walk, walk," but John carried them. This was a pun the guard enjoyed, still he thought John had better walk back, too, but on attempting to turn him back was answered with "belong ship," which evidently was a password for the Chinese deck hands.

After a long wait the ship was ready, and the word was given to let the Chinese aboard. The line was broken like a flash, and a tremendous sally made for the gang plank, one coolie battling with the other for precedence; in fact, a scramble amounting almost to a free fight ensued; hats, bundles, baskets, sticks, tin vessels and "pig tails" were flying over the heads of the crowd, and at the end of the gang plank prostrate and fighting forms rendered the plank impassable. At last two stalwart officers seized the nearest coolie and threw him toward the ship along the plank. This cleared the way a little, and, between boxing, pushing and the combined efforts of four men, a kind of wild order was preserved ashore and the gang plank kept clear; but in their quarters, where every one was looking for the best bunk, a scene of indescribable tumult was witnessed. Every Chinese seemed full of an eager desire to push his way through the narrow passages between the bunks and up and down the stairs, elbowing every one else, only thinking of himself, and roaring, jabbering, fighting, hauling loads of luggage and securing his berth.

For some hours they kept coming in, increasing the din. Later in the forenoon detachments from the country arrived, and as the day advanced the wharf looked like a street in Chinatown—loads of the luggage with at least 500 men, women and children sitting between them and drinking tea or smoking. Their faces wore a happy, anxious and excited appearance. All the time money changers walked among the crowd with handfuls of Mexican dollars, which they changed for American coin with a profit of twenty cents on the dollar. But the traveler loses little or nothing by the change, as Mexican money is current in Hong Kong and is equal in value to American there.

At noon the ship was cleared of the Chinese to prevent stowaways and to issue customs certificates, which, when once in receipt of, the Mongols went peacefully aboard, and with goodbys that sounded like "ya-yas" they parted with their friends ashore.—San Francisco Call.

Wheat as a Food.

Dr. Calvin Cutter, the physiologist, who has made a careful study of this matter, says: "The history of the Roman empire in the time of Julius Cæsar shows that wheat as an article of food, combined with fresh outdoor air life, is capable of producing and sustaining the highest type of physical manhood the world ever saw. The empire was built up and maintained by soldiers whose main article of food was wheat. There is every probability that the present prevalence of late erupting and easily decaying teeth is due, for one cause, to the use of flour (white) as food. In 880 of the school children in Woburn, Lexington and Bedford, Mass., in 1874, under 12 years of age, two-thirds had decayed teeth. (See Reports State Health Board of Massachusetts, 1875.) There is every probability that grayness or premature baldness is partly due to the present exclusive and universal use of white flour." Then the doctor proceeds to give scientific reasons why this is the case.

Rev. J. F. Clymer, Auburn, N. Y., thinks that one reason why children fed chiefly on white bread are so often hungry, and demand so much food between meals, is because their bodies are insufficiently nourished. "Their bones and nerves do not receive the nitrates and phosphates they need and are suffering from a hunger."—Susanna W. Dodds, M. D., in Demorest's Monthly.

An official report upon the Chinese quarters of San Francisco, made about two years ago by a committee of the board of supervisors, after several months of careful survey and investigation, presented probably in a clearer light than ever before the true phases of Chinese colonial life. Thirteen Joss houses were found; Christian churches were turned into Chinese lodging houses and brothels. Missionary work, in nearly forty years of effort and labor, had not brought a dozen converts into the field who could be properly vouched for as such. In the

MAKE HENS LAY
NOTHING ON EARTH WILL MAKE HENS LAY LIKE SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER.
WE SEND BY MAIL A LARGE 2¼ POUND CAN FOR $1.20, TWO $
SMALL PACKS 50 CTS POST PAID.
Sheridan's Condition Powder
is absolutely pure and highly concentrated. One ounce [illegible] pound of any other kind. Strictly a medicine, to be given in the food, once daily, in small doses. [illegible] prevents and cures all diseases of hens. Worth its weight in gold when hens are moulting, and [illegible] them healthy. Testimonials sent free for stamp. Ask your druggist, grocer, general store, or feed dealer for it. If you can't get it, send to us. Take no other kind. We will send prepaid, by mail as follows: [illegible] handsomely illustrated copy of the "FARMERS' POULTRY RAISER AND GUIDE" given away free to those making money with a few hens, and two small packages of Powder for 50 cts. [illegible] and Guide, $1.25. Sample package of Powder, 25 cts. Five for $1.00. [illegible] $5.00. Send stamps or cash. L. S. JOHNSON & CO., 43 Custom-House St., Providence, R. I.

My Poor Back!
That "poor back" is held responsible for more than its share of the sufferings of mankind. If your dog bites a man who kicks it, do you blame the dog? On the same principle the kidneys utter their protest against nervousness, impure blood, and resulting constipation. These force them to do extraordinary work in ridding the system of the poisons which are the result of effete matter retained in the blood. Then the sufferer says the back aches; the kidneys are diseased. "Not yet;" but they will be unless the nerves are strengthened, the blood purified, and the constipation removed. These are the causes of kidney troubles, and Paine's Celery Compound removes them quickly. With its tonic, purifying, and laxative effect, it also strengthens the weak kidneys, making it almost infallible in curing all diseases of the nerves and kidneys. If your hopes of cure have not been realized, try Paine's Celery Compound; it gives perfect health to all who complain of "their poor backs." Price $1.00.
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS. SEND FOR ILLUSTRATED PAPER.
WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Proprietors,
BURLINGTON, VERMONT.

POSITIVELY
No Cure, No Pay!
CONSTITUTIONAL COUGH SYRUP
--- TRY IT! ---
The proprietor of this remedy has such confidence in its curative powers that he makes the following
Generous Offer!
Any person buying a bottle is given the privilege of returning it and receiving their MONEY BACK, if after using two-thirds of its contents, they have derived no benefit from it.
PRICE 25 AND 50 CENTS.
— SOLD BY —
David Kimball & Co., 36 Market Street.

S. Philbrick & Co.,
— MANUFACTURERS OF —
Marble and Granite Work
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.
GRANITE POLISHING A SPECIALTY.
OFFICE AND WORKS,
No 2 Water Street, Portsmouth

SULPHUR BITTERS
The Best and Purest Medicine EVER MADE.
It will drive the Humor from your system, and make your skin clean and smooth. Those Pimples and Blotches which mar your beauty are caused by impure blood, and can be removed in a short time, if you are willing to use the great blood purifier, SULPHUR BITTERS. Why suffer with Boils? Why fret with Rheumatism? What pleasure will that terrible Headache give you? Why lay and groan with that bad of pain, with Rheumatism? What good can you expect from your nerves and stomach, if you make your meals and need rumble so? Your nerves are all unstrung, repair the damage which your excesses have caused, Sulphur Bitters will do it. Sulphur Bitters is not a cheap Rum or Poor Whiskey drink to be taken by the gallon like the other preparations which are made only to DESTROY. If you have failed to eliminate any lands from either end, or class of doctors do not despair. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will cure you where all others fail. No person can remain long sick who uses SULPHUR BITTERS.
SULPHUR Bitters
The Dose is small—only a teaspoonful. It is the best and cheapest medicine. Try it, and you will be satisfied. Get it of your Druggist.
DON'T WAIT. GET IT AT ONCE
If you are suffering from Kidney Disease, and wish to live to old age, use SULPHUR BITTERS. They never fail to cure.
Send 3 2-cent stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., for best medical work published!

ADAMSON'S BOTANIC COUGH BALSAM
More than twenty years ago Adamson's Botanic Balsam was introduced generally throughout New England as a remedy for Coughs, Colds and Pulmonary complaints. Since its introduction it has constantly won its way into public favor, until now it is the universal decision that ADAMSON'S BOTANIC BALSAM is the best remedy for curing Coughs, Colds and Asthma.
Made only by F. W. KINSMAN & CO.,

SEND FOR
Miller's Gamecock,
THE KING OF ALL WHISKIES.
JOHN MILLER & CO.,
298 and 300 Hanover St., Boston,
Sole Proprietors.
SEND FOR PRICE LIST.
coltdec15

COAL! COAL!
Finest Grades, well prepared for Domestic Purposes, constantly Arriving and for Sale at Lowest Prices.
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.
J. ALBERT WALKER
Portsmouth Coal Pockets.

The WONDERFUL LUBURG CHAIR
Combination Parlor, Library, Smoking, Reclining, or Invalid Chair, Lounge, Bed, or COUCH. Price $7.00 and up.
We make the largest variety of Adjustable, Reclining, Physicians and Surgeons' Chairs, Revolving, Rocking, Nursing, Office, Library, Fancy Large Folding, Reed and Rattan CHAIRS and ROCKERS, BICYCLES, TRICYCLES, VELOCIPEDES and SELF PROPELLERS.
ALL KINDS OF APPLIANCES FOR INVALIDS.
BABY COACHES
Over 100 different designs.
Our Patent Automatic Brake on all Carriages, Free. We have discontinued wholesaling; by placing your orders direct with the makers you can save several profits. Our absolute prices and special Bargains will astonish you. Goods sold under a guarantee and delivered free to any point in United States. Send stamp for Catalogue, and state class of goods you wish it for.
LUBURG MFG. CO.
145 North Eighth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

COLD WEATHER MUSIC BOOKS,
New Music Books.
These new books are every day more in favor:
Classical Pianist, Piano Classics, Song Classics, Song Classics for Low Voices, Classic Tenor Songs, Classic Baritone and Bass Songs. Each $1.
Praise in Song (40 cts., $4.20 per doz.) is the best new Sacred Music Book for Home and Vestry singing.
Let the Children sing from Menard's Songs for Kindergarten and Primary Schools (30 cts.) or Jenk's Songs and Games for Little Ones ($2) or Children's School Songs (35 cts., $3.60 per doz.) All have very sweet child's songs.
Give your aid in getting up a rousing good evening singing Class to use Song Harmony (50 cts., $6 per doz.) Full of most interesting music, sacred and secular. Song Manual, Book 3 (50 cts., $4.80 per doz.) is also a good collection, mostly secular.
Tell the Temperance People that no better Temperance Song Book has appeared than Bells of Victory (35 cts., $3.60 per doz.)
Xmas is coming. Send for Sets of Christmas Cantatas and Carols.
ANY BOOK MAILED FOR RETAIL PRICE.
Oliver Ditson & Co., Boston.

AN EXTRA LOT OF SPONGES, CHAMOIS SKINS AND WHIPS.
At Reasonable Prices at
John S. Tilton's
Harness and Trunk Repairer
NO. 18 CONGRESS STREET

Embalmer and Funeral Director
NO. 60 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH
SAMUEL S. FLETCHER
(SUCCESSOR TO FLETCHER & TANTON.)
COFFINS, ROBES & CASKETS
Always on hand or made to order
Orders by night may be left at No. 42 Daniel St or with A. L. Rice, No. 15 Hill St. or O. V. Haw No 12 Russell St.

THE JOB PRINTING
Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD I. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line.

FINZER'S OLD HONESTY
FINZER'S OLD HONESTY
IF YOU TRY TO USE THE SAME TOBACCO FOR BOTH CHEWING AND SMOKING, YOU'LL HAVE EITHER A POOR CHEW OR A POOR SMOKE.
IF YOU CHEW,
TRY FINZER'S OLD HONESTY
WHICH IS NOT ONLY THE — BEST — BUT CONTAINS 20 PER CENT. MORE TOBACCO THAN ANY OTHER BRAND OF SIMILAR QUALITY, and is THEREFORE the CHEAPEST IN THE MARKET. EVERY PLUG IS STAMPED "FINZER'S OLD HONESTY" AND HAS A RED TIN TAG. GET THE GENUINE.
DON'T TAKE ANY OTHER.

TRANSPORTAION.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

Eastern Division.

TRAINS LEAVE PORTSMOUTH FOR BOSTON, 4.05, 7.25, 8.20, 11.05 a. m., 2.55, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4.00 p. m. Returning, 7.30, 9.00, 10.00 a. m. 12.30, 3.30, 4.40, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.20 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

PORTLAND, 9.55, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m. Returning, 2.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.05, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 2.00 a. m.

BANGOR, ST. JOHN AND HALIFAX, 10.55 a. m. 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.00 p. m.

GREAT FALLS AND WOLFEBORO JUNC., 9.55 a. m., 2.45, 5.50 p. m.

WOLFEBORO, 9.55, a. m., 5.50 p. m.

NORTH CONWAY, 9.55 a. m., 2.45 p. m.

DOVER, 4.50, 9.45, a. m., 12.25, 2.38, 5.22 p. m.

YORK HARBOR AND BEACH R. R.

YORK BEACH AND WAY STATIONS, (via York Harbor and Beach R. R.) 8.30, 11.10 a. m., 5.35 p. m. Returning, leave York Beach 6.40, 10.00 a. m., 1.40, p. m. Connecting with trains leaving Portsmouth for Boston.

JAS. T. FURBER, Gen'l Manager. D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l Passenger Agent.

Concord & Portsmouth Railroad.

PASSENGER TRAINS leave Eastern Division Station for Newmarket Junction, Manchester, Concord and upper railroads, as follows:

UP TRAINS.

Leave	A. M.	P. M.	P. M.
Portsmouth	7.55	1 00	5.15
Greenland	8.05	1 09	5.25
Newmarket Junction	8.25	1 21	5.36
East Epping		1 31
Epping	8.42	1 37	6.1
West Epping	8.49		6.1
Raymond	9.00	1 56	6.3
Candia	9.15	2 05	6.46
Auburn	9.22		6.55
Massabesic	9.29	2 24	7.00
Arrive Manchester	9.42	2 36	7.15
" Concord	10.30	3 12	8.0

DOWN TRAINS.

Leave	A. M.	P. M.	P. M.
Concord	7.30	10 20	1.05
Manchester	8.15	11 15	2.25
Massabesic	8.27	11 28	2.36
Auburn	8.35		2.44
Candia	8.44	11 46	2.54
Raymond	9.05	11 58	3.11
West Epping	9.13	12 06	3.19
Epping	9.20	12 08	3.2
East Epping		12 14
Newmarket Junction	9.46	12 34	3.48
Greenland	10.01	12 38	3.53
Arrive Portsmouth	10.10	12 45	4.0

Trains connect at Newmarket Junction with trains of the Boston & Maine Railroad for Exeter, Haverhill, Lawrence and Boston; and for Dover, Great Falls and Portland; at Concord with trains to and from all the upper Railroads.

H. E. CHAMBERLIN, Supt.

C. E. BOYNTON,
Manufacturer and Wholesale Dealer in
Soda Water, Root, Tonic, Vanilla, Orange and Strawberry Beer, Crab Apple Lemonette, Cream Ginger and Ginger Ale.
EXTRACT OF NERVE FOOD!
For Brain and Nervous Exhaustion. Good for the Appetite.
Soda Water in Syphons for Hotel and Family Use. Fountains Charged at Short Notice.
Bottler of Eldredge and Milwaukee Lager, Porter and Refined Cider.
The Summer Beverages manufactured and bottled by me having been before the public of this city and vicinity for the past seventeen years, need no endorsement as being of the very highest standard.

EDWARD D. COFFIN,
SHERIFF ROCKINGHAM CO. AND U. S. DEPUTY MARSHAL.
Office at No. 3 Market Square, And at the Jail.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

POST OFFICE RULES.

MAILS CLOSE

	A. M.		P. M.
Boston, N. Y., south, west, &	8:00	10:20	2:20	4:50	6:45
Boston and way stations,		10:20	2:20		6:45
Portland,	9:25		4:50		6:45
Portland and way stations,	9:25		4:50
East [beyond Portland]	9:25				6:45
Great Falls, Rochester, Wolfeboro' Union Milton, &	9:25				4:50
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,	9:25
Concord & Manchester,	7:40	10:20			4:50
Concord, Manchester and north,	7:40		4:50
Exeter and B. & M. way, west of Newmarket,	7:40		4:50,
Dover,	9:25		2:20	4:50	6:45
North Conway,	9:25				6:45
York and Cape Neddick,		9:25
Newcastle,		10:20
Newington,		10:20
Boston, N. Y. and south, Sunday,					1:00

MAILS ARRIVE.

	A. M.		P. M.
Boston, south and west,	10:05	3:10	5:40	7:00 [9:00]
New York,		10:05		5:40	7:00
Boston and way stations,		10:05		5:40
Portland and east,	7:30	11:00		3:00
Great Falls, Rochester, Union, Milton,	8:30	11:00
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,		11:00
Concord, Manchester and north,		10:30		6:30
Dover,	7:30	10:30		3:00	5:40
Newcastle,		9:30
Newington,		9:30
York and Cape Neddick,		11:00
B. & M. R. R., west of Newmarket,		10:30		6:30

S. J. GERRISH, P. M.

MINATURE ALMANAC NOV. 21.

SUN RISES.....6:49 | MOON RISES 5:57 P. M.
SUN SETS.....4:18 | FULL SEA { 13:30 A. M. / 13:18 P. M.
LENGTH OF DAY.. 9:26

Weather Indications.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

Fair, southeasterly winds, slowly rising temperature on Wednesday, warmer on Thursday.

THE CELEBRATION.

The much-postponed and long-delayed celebration of the Republican victory of Nov. 6th came off in fine style Tuesday evening. The drizzly rain of Monday, which necessitated the second postponement, left the streets in the worst possible condition for marching, but strong northerly winds and a crisp atmosphere which prevailed from early dawn of Tuesday until the procession moved, changed the thoroughfares into hard and dry marching ground, which the energetic and enthusiastic Harrison men of this city and visiting brethren from near and from far availed themselves of promptly. Of the procession itself, it would be merely justice to say it was a royal success, which did itself and its cause all honor. Illuminations of dwellings all along the route were general, in many cases citizens of opposing political faith uniting cordially in the demonstration.

The procession got under way about 8:30 o'clock, and marched over the advertised route, with much cheering and music. A huge bonfire was started on the parade when the march began, and was kept up until the long tramp ended at the collation place on State street about half-past eleven o'clock, when the chilled marchers were glad to get their hot coffee and lunch, of which there was abundance for all. The night was uncomfortably cold, with a searching northwest wind blowing, yet the streets were thronged with spectators until a late hour; but when the firewosks display took place on Market square at half-past twelve o'clock there were very few lookers-on, those who had not frozen to death during the evening having gone home and cuddled down under the blankets long before. The show was a very fine one, but not equal to that of the democrats just previous to the election.

Among the pets of the procession were the Winchester Guards, this being the first time they have paraded so that a majority of the citizens could see them, although they have marched repeatedly to the depot to join in the parades elsewhere. Their fine evolutions excited the admiration of all, and won the deserved plaudits of the thousands of spectators.

During the march of the procession it was noticed by people on the street that a Japanese lantern in an upper window of house No. 23 Islington street had set fire to the curtain. Mr. Richmond, local editor of the Dover Democrat, and another gentleman, burst in the door, there being no one at home, and extinguished the fire, which did no harm beyond destroying the curtain, and scorching a couple of chairs and the woodwork around the window. But for their prompt action the house might have fared much worse.

Amesbury sent a wide-awake delegation, and that sterling trio of Republicans, J. Elmer Brierly and Fred A. Brown of the Amesbury News, and Eben Courier, made a most welcome call on the night force of the CHRONICLE.

A salute of 100 guns was fired on Christian Shore during the evening, under direction of Mr. M. H. Gregg.

The Harrison Guards of Rye, with the accompanying band and prominent citizens of the town, were finely entertained after the march by Mr. Lowell Jenness at his house on Union street, which was very handsomely decorated.

A salute was fired on the tanyard wharf at Christian Shore during the passage of the procession by George Hoyt and George R. Palfrey. Henry Rogers and Everett Trefethen had an illuminated boat afloat in the north millpond.

That proud bird "Jingo" looked down becomingly from his perch opposite the Penny Post office, on electric lamps of red, white and blue glass, brilliantly lighted. It is said of "Jingo" he could not be induced to come down to terra firma to don a fresh coat of paint, having the memory of four years ago in mind, when some wicked democrat visited him and turned him upside down. So he remained aloft, proudly treasuring up the cheers which went up to him from the friends who marched the streets, his trials, his suffering and his final triumph. Long live "Jingo!"

We started out early in the evening to make a list of the illuminations, with the following result: On Daniel street we noticed that Wm. G. Billings and Cushing Lydston had handsomely dressed their houses, though the procession was not to pass near them.

On Market street, stores of H. C. Locke, J. C. Carr, John P. Sweetser and F. L. Howe.

Hanover street, residences of James M. Dow, Mrs. B. B. Swasey, Benj. Cheever (Harrison veteran — voted for both Harrisons,) Elder Harrington and others.

High street, Charles W. Kimball, Mrs. Hannah S. Dixon, Havilah Deering, John Perkins, Martin Hoyt.

Deer street, John L. O. Coleman, Wm. D. Fernald, Charles W. Shannon, Mrs. Joseph K. Dupray, Miss Lucy M. Smith, George L. Harriman, Mesbach H. Bell, Joshua B. Marston, Henry J. Eaton, John E. Quinn, Augustus Ham, (very fine,) Samuel A. Hawkes, Harry Tanton.

Vaughan street, Frank L. Marks and George B. Wallace, (very handsome,) B. F. Powell, Mrs. Eleanor Raynes.

Christian shore, Jesse N. Wilson, Hanson Hoyt, John Shannon, Miss Lizzie Wood, Jos. R. Curtis, Wm. F. Fernald, (house of latter, on Freeman's point, very brilliant.)

Maplewood avenue, Capt. Moses, Wm. B. Cooley, Mr. Rugg, Mr. Davis, Mr. Foye, Jos. Hett, Portsmouth house.

Hill street, Stacy G. Moran, Chas. A. Wendell.

Bridge street, George Knight, George M. Hanscom, Mrs. Thomas J. Mitchell, Wm. Critchley, Jacob B. Burns.

Langdon street, John H. Locke.

Rockingham street, Charles E. Fernald, Henry M. Tucker, Thomas Crompton.

Cabot street, Mrs. McDonough, O. J. Goldsmith, Thomas Entwistle, Mrs. John Teague, John H. Mahoney, Z. M. Cushman, Mrs. John Stokell, H. C. Locke.

So far we went ahead of the procession, and then gave it up (having missed not a few,) as it was impossible for us to print the whole city directory. We afterward did make note, on Islington street, of the house of John P. Hart, Gustave Peyser, (democrat, very handsome decorations,) Jos. H. Berry, Louis Schwartz, (democrat,) Miss Sarah Dame, L. E. Martin, Miss Charlotte Martin, Mrs. Augustus Shackley, Wm. S. Blair.

On Cass street, Samuel Frye, D. J. Norton, Herbert Philbrick, E. A. Horton.

Then we stopped, wholly discouraged, and chilled to the marrow.

Other illuminations reported to us as being worthy of note were those of Arthur W. Walker, Judge Batchelder and Mr. Meloon on Middle street; Charles W. Coleman, Howard Anderson, George B. Foss, Miss Caroline Q. Wendell, (very handsome,) Samuel Adams and Howe Call, on Pleasant street; H. A. Tarlton and Wm. Currier, on Court street; Job Woodsum, on Water street. We do not give half the illuminations, even in the streets named, for the sufficient reason that it is impossible.

The illuminations in the "new part" of the city were very fine; particularly showy were those of Mr. B. F. Webster, Mr. John H. Hutchinson and Lincoln Hill cottage, the elevation of the buildings making them very conspicuous.

There were three large tubs of coffee and several hundred bags of lunch left untouched. Empty lunch bags litter Market Square and the vicinity of St. John's chapel on State street.

At daylight, this morning, the sound of exploding dynamite crackers, and the smouldering remains of the big bonfire, told a faint tale of the night's racket. A solitary Roman candle was sending forth vari-colored inflammable fruit on Warren street, and the moon was gazing complacently on.

The campaign is over at last, and if anybody is more pleased over that fact than we are, he is a happy man.

Order of Procession.

Platoon of Police.
Col. S. R. Marston, Chief Marshal.
Lt. Col. M. T. Betton, Chief of Staff.
Col. T. E. O. Marvin, Marshal 1st Div'n.

AIDS,

Wm. H. Preston,	H. P. Kent,
Capt. C. F. Duncan,	Frank J. Philbrick,
J. M. Salter,	C. H. Gray,
J. Y. DeMerrett,	Albert E. Rand,
W. S. Blair,	E. C. Matthews,
W. A. Bragdon,	Warren Davis,
E. E. Sides,	J. D. Randall,
J. A. Borthwick,	Chester Pike,
Horace Mitchell,	A. G. Brewster,
John Jellison,	W. C. Pooler,
F. W. Lydston,	W. W. Nash,
E. E. Green,	Fred Woods,
Carroll Bartlett,	Horace Whidden,
Newton Elwell,	Harry G. Marvin.

FIRST DIVISION.

Cavalcade, Capt. Mason, commanding, fifty men.
Portsmouth Cornet Band, W. E. Cate, Leader.
Winchester Cadets, Major Brown, commanding, 100 men.
Fire Wagon.
Carriages, containing Citizens.
Wentworth Cadets, Kittery, 150 persons.
Winchester Drum Corps, H. Marden, leader.
Portsmouth Machine Co. Battallon, Capt. Charles Lydston, commanding, thirty men.
The Tinkers, twenty-five men, Capt. Ed. E. McIntire.
The Painters, twenty-five men, Capt. Willard Sampson.
Spear's Cornet Band, Rye
Rye Delegation, Capt. Rand, commanding, fifty men.
Kearsarge Flute and Drum Band, Abram Kay, leader.
Portsmouth Delegation, Capt. M. E. Long, commanding, fifty men.

SECOND DIVISION.

M. C. Foye, Marshal.
Dover Brass Band, Geo. Rodgers, leader.
Dover Battalion, Maj. J. S. Abbott, commanding, with staff.
Uncle Sams, fifty men.
Dover Drum Corps.
Union Jacks, twenty-five men.
Fire Wagon.
Stackpole's Drum Corps.
Ward Four Coons, seventy-five men.
Newburyport Delegation.
Newburyport Band.
Harrison and Morton Battalion, 100 men.
Newburyport Cadet Band.
Newburyport Silversmiths, seventy-five men.
Mother Hubbards, forty men.
1840 Veterans, in Barges.
Canoe 100 years old, decorated.
Carriages, containing Citizens.
Fire Wagon.
Independent Democrats, in Barges.

HAMPTON JOTTINGS.

HAMPTON, Nov. 19th.

Last Friday evening the victory was celebrated here by a march of four miles, and the illuminations were very fine and extensive. From a team ahead of the procession, there were fireworks in profusion, and red fires all along the route; the log cabin was adorned with torches and flags, and the hemlock broom was quite conspicuous. The team was driven by Mr. W. Drake. For supper, the committee purchased 400 lbs. of turkey, 200 lbs. of corned beef, 50 lbs. of tongue; roast chickens and geese were contributed; all kinds of pies, cake, etc., were provided in abundance; 100 gallons of coffee were sent from Boston; loaves of frosted cake with names of Harrison and Morton were ornaments to the dining hall. After supper dancing was indulged in, until early in the morning. The Newburyport band furnished music.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mason have moved to their new residence. Last week as Mr. Mason was loading a car of apples, one barrel rolled on one of his feet, nearly crushing it; he is now obliged to use crutches. His grocery business is increasing fast.

Mr. Curtis DeLancy has returned from his gunning excursion down east, and is sudplying his friends with fine sea-fowl.

Mr. and Mrs. Elias Perkins have a silver wedding this evening; over one hundred invitations have been issued; they are a happy couple and a merry time is expected.

On Saturday night about eleven o'clock the democrats were quite noisy, firing guns because this county had gone solidly democratic.

On election day an old gentlemen of eighty years was obout to deposit a republican vote, when a man took it from him and destroyed it; another was handed him, and he succeeded at last in voting as he wished.

DARTMOUTH ITEMS.

HANOVER, Nov. 19th.

The services of Mr. Willis Clark have been secured to give musical instructions to the Glee Club, and the college at large.

Enough money has been secured to warrant the success of the base ball cage. Plans have been drawn up, and work will begin soon.

The efforts to obtain money for a Young Men's Christian Association building here, have thus far met with great success.

Dartmouth has defeated Williams college and the Institute of Technology at foot-ball. These are the strongest teams in the league, and by defeating either Amherst or Stephens Institute in the games which will be played this week, Dartmouth will certainly secure the championship. This will make the third championship in athletic sports that has come to Dartmouth in the last three years.

The system of reporting the scholarship of the student has been changed. Now instead of giving out the general average of a student as formerly, it will be kept secret, and the class divided into groups. Those whose general average is between ninety and 100 per cent will be reported as "Excellent;" between eighty-two and ninety "Good;" between seventy and eighty-two "Fair;" and between fifty and seventy "Poor." No reason for this change has yet been made public, nor is any good reason for it apparent to the students. The vagueness of this system, however, will allow the clerk of the faculty to cover up his clerical errors which have frequently occurred in the past. B.

Since the Boston fire, there has been no such demand for the CHRONICLE as that of Tuesday morning, containing the closing account of the Palmer trial, and the details of the preparations for the grand Republican jubilee on Tuesday night. The orders from Dover and intermediate towns were far in advance of the usual supply, and the large extra edition printed for Portsmouth readers necessitated the running of our electric-motor press far into the hours of the forenoon. To all who were unable to obtain copies, we would suggest that we shall be pleased to increase the regular list of subscribers at $5.00 per annum. The CHRONICLE will continue to have the best descriptive reports obtainable of current events, and the earliest, latest and most reliable news by wire and telephone. Dealers will find it most convenient to wire their orders from other places direct to this office before two o'clock A. M. The Western Union office in this city will be open until that hour regularly, as an operator is engaged to receive the Associated Press reports and specials especially for the CHRONICLE.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

The following criminal cases were disposed of Tuesday forenoon by Judge Carpenter, who sentenced three unfortunates to the State prison:

Charles Whitney, two years, for forgery; John F. Fowler, one year and one day, for breaking and entering; Thomas R. Gannon, eighteen months, for breaking and entering.

To the county jail, Frank Blake, three months, for larceny; Henry Ahern, two months, for assaulting an officer; Daniel Stevens, alias Matthew Murphy, for aggravated assault, one day, and $50 fine.

John Jones pleaded guilty to attempt to commit larceny from the person, and was ordered to leave the State forthwith.

FIRE IN KITTERY.

About 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon fire was discovered in the Traipe block in Kittery, near the navy yard bridge, in the part occupied by Mr. Ira Dunbar. It caught by the chimney, over the kitchen stove, and ran pretty well through the interior of the house, between the floors and partitions. The steamer Cataract, from the navy yard, extinguished the fire, which not break through to the outside of the building. Mr. Dunbor's furniture was considerably injured by water; no insurance. The building is insured. Mr. Dunbar moved his goods on Tuesday into one part of the Trefethen house, opposite Mr. Paul's store; his loss is very considerable.

Mr. W. K. Langley, watchman on the Concord & Portsmouth railroad, was found dead in bed on Tuesday forenoon at his boarding house on Cornwall street.

Prof. W. W. Dayton gives his wonderful "expose of Spiritualism" at Franklin theatre this evening.

It is matter of comment to those who attended or have read of the Palmer trial, that nothing was said to the convicted man by the kind-hearted chief justice. The sentence, dooming him to death very closely on the expiration of the time allowed him by the statutes to live, was handed to the clerk to read, and that was all. Evidently Judge Doe considered the verdict a just one, and was impressed as every one else was by Palmer's bearing in court.

The building corner of Ladd and Market streets, in which is J. M. Tebbetts' store, is having a new roof put on.

The excellent reports made of the Palmer trial for this paper, by Mr. Horace P. Kent, have been generally commended for their truth and descriptive interest.

In the case of Campbell against the city of New York, for damages for the use of the Knibbs patent valve, testimony will begin on Monday, at Manchester, this state, before Wm. H. Hackett Esq., special examiner appointed by the Circuit court for the southern district of New York, in which court the action is pending.

The Worcester, Nashua & Rochester railroad shows a deficit of $21,036 for the year ending Sept. 30th. This comes out of the treasury of the Boston & Maine railroad, and diminishes the chances of a dividend on the Eastern stock.

A milk wagon was overturned and smashed on State street, near Penhallow street, Tuesday forenoon, through the horse running away and striking it against a tree.

It is doubtful if there ever was a trial in this city for a capital crime, when the sympathy of the public was so universally withheld from the accused as during the trial of James Palmer. Not a word of pity for his certain fate could be heard on the streets after his conviction and sentence were announced.

PERSONAL NOTES.

—Mr. John Thompson, assistant in the office of Dr Potter, leaves here next Sunday for Norfolk, Va., where he is to take passage in the U. S. S. Kearsarge for South America, where he is to join the side-wheeler Tallapoosa as ship's apothecary.

—The cheery presence of Ex-Governor Benj. F. Prescott on our streets, Tuesday, brought pleasure to many of his old time friends. The governor has no more cordial friends than those of Strawberry Bank.

—William S. Peirce, Esq., of Great Falls, has been in this city this week, with a view of locating here for the practice of his profession.

—Ex-Alderman Orville D. Bryant, now of Biddeford, was in town Tuesday.

ACROSS THE RIVER.

Mrs Dr. Johnson, of Washington, D. C., who has for several seasons past boarded at the Pepperrell house at Kittery Point, has bought Preble's island in the lower harbor, and Mr. Joseph Keen of the Lower Foreside is repairing and modernizing the old house thereon for a summer residence for that lady.

Mr. Jessie Patch of Kittery Point is to build a summer cottage in the Whitham field at the Lower Foreside, near the house of George Whitham, for friends of J. Langdon Ward, Esq.

A gang of men under direction of Mr. Hodgdon, contractor and builder, are engaged in raising the stable on Hanover street formerly occupied by Nathan Jones, and putting a new bottom on it—sills and floor. The alterations and improvements on the former hack office have been completed.

The republicans of Kittery will celebrate on Thursday evening, the 22d. J. H. Sweet received on Tuesday a large invoice of fireworks for the occasion. The Ladies' Republican club of the Foreside propose to have a supper at a later date.

Dr. Ed. S. Appleton of Kittery Foreside loaned his campaign flag, which flew for Cleveland and Thurman, and was the first democratic flag raised in Kittery during the late campaign, to the republicans for display in the procession in Portsmouth on Tuesday evening.

Charles A. Grant of Sea Cottage, York beach, brought into Portsmouth on Tuesday a dressed hog of his own raising, which weighed 466 pounds. Mr. Grant is making some improvements to the kitchen of his house, and getting ready for the annual New England supper to be held there soon.

R. Bedford Melcher, formerly for several years principal of the Saco high school, and afterward for two years supervisor of schools in that city, died in Cambridgeport, Mass., Nov. 16th.

The mooring buoy above the draw of Portsmouth bridge, which has been unserviceable on account of having become water-logged, has had its flotative power increased, and on Tuesday workmen were engaged in replacing it in position.

The steamer Mystic underwent her regular inspection by the United States officials on Monday, and was found in satisfactory condition. The awnings have been taken off, and the boat put in trim for winter weather.

The gentlemen of the Methodist Episcopal society will serve a variety supper, together with a musical entertainment, in the vestry of their church this evening. Admission 10 cents, supper 15 cents; ice-cream extra. Ladies, come; and bring the gentlemen with you.

Hood's Sarsaparilla at the Globe Grocery Co.

Ringing Noises

In the ears, sometimes a roaring buzzing sound are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smelling or hearing also result from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood. If you suffer from catarrh, try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the peculiar medicine.

Sawyer's Sick Headache powders at Benjamin Green's apothecary.

Most men, otherwise strong in body and mind, will become unhappy and break down when afflicted with rheumatism. If they would only try Salvation Oil they would find relief at once. Price 25 cents.

Thousands of bottles of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup have been sold by W. H. Brown & Bro., Baltimore, Md.

BORN.

FERNALD. In Boston, Nov. 14th, to Dr. Walter E. Fernald, superintendent of the Home for Feeble Minded Children, a son.

MARRIED.

BUSHNELL—DAVIS. In this city, Nov. 20th, at the Universalist parsonage, by Rev. Lee H. Fisher, Leon P. Bushnell of Thompsonville, Conn., and Florence L. Davis of Worcester, Mass.

DIED.

TREDICK. In this city, Nov. 18th, Thomas Tredick, aged 88 years, 10 months and 29 days.

☞ Funeral services at his late residence, No. 88 State street, to-day, at 12:30 o'clock P. M.

MARINE CHRONICLE.

PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

SAILED Nov. 20th.

Sch Josiah Whitehouse, Hart, St George, Me.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Sold only in cans, full weight.

CLEVELAND BROTHERS, ALBANY, N. Y.

Colored Fire

— FOR —

CELEBRATION

NOV. 19, 1888,

— AT —

BENJ. GREEN'S,

APOTHECARY,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

Dwelling House for Sale.

THE residence of the late Mrs. Daniel Libbey, No. 126 State Street, can be purchased on application to JOHN BISE, JOSEPH BISE, } Executors.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO. 106 Wall Street, New York.

New Store. New Goods.

JOHN S. RAND,

No. 11 Market Street.

Would respectfully announce that he will resume business on

Wednesday Next, Nov. 21st,

His store having been remodelled and refitted, making it one of the most attractive and best lighted in the city. In addition to his former stock he has added a large assortment of

FALL & WINTER

Dry and Fancy Goods!

purchased with a desire to suit the wants of customers, and which will be offered at prices that cannot fail to please.

Our present space enables us to add materially to our variety, and we shall therefore keep a good assortment of which will be sold at the lowest prices. Thanking friends and the public for their former patronage we would most respectfully solicit a continuance of the same.

Ladies' Small Wares

JOHN S. RAND,

11 MARKET STREET.

MUSIC HALL, PORTSMOUTH.

STAR LECTURE COURSE.

Nov. 20th,

CAMBRIDGE ORCHESTRA, (15 PIECES,)

PROF. W. E. THOMAS, Director;

MISS NELLIE SALOME THOMAS, Soprano Soloist;

MR. J. FRANCIS GILDER, Pianist.

Tickets: 75, 50 and 35 cents. For Sale at Goodrich's Saturday morning.

FRANKLIN THEATRE.

Wednesday Evening, November 21

A NIGHT WITH THE SPIRITS.

PROF. W. W. DAYTON'S

- - GRAND - -

Spiritualistic Exposition

New and Startling Wonders. You had better go.

Nothing like it ever known, seen or heard of.

Wonder treads on the heels of wonder.

Admission 15 cents. Reserved seats 20 cents. Doors open at 7 o'clock. Commence at 8 o'clock.

A LARGE LOT OF LEAF SAGE Just Received and for Sale by the Pound or less quantity. Come early before it is sold.

JAMES H. YEATON & CO., 55 Congress St.

Scissors

— AND —

Pocket Knives.

PRYOR & MATTHEWS,

16 Market St.

Tutt's Pills

FOR TORPID LIVER.

A torpid liver deranges the whole system, and produces

Sick Headache,

Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Rheumatism, Sallow Skin and Piles.

There is no better remedy for those common diseases than Tutt's Liver Pills, as a trial will prove. Price, 25c.

Sold Everywhere.

PAST ALL PRECEDENT!
OVER TWO MILLIONS DISTRIBUTED.

L. S. L.

Louisiana State Lottery Company.

Incorporated by the Legislature in 1868, for Educational and Charitable purposes, and its franchise made a part of the present State Constitution, in 1879, by an overwhelming popularity.

Its GRAND EXTRAORDINARY DRAWINGS take place Semi-Annually, (June and December), and its GRAND SINGLE NUMBER DRAWINGS take place on each of the other ten months in the year, and are all drawn in public, at the Academy of Music, New Orleans, La.

"We do hereby certify that we supervise the arrangements for all the Monthly and Quarterly Drawings of The Louisiana State Lottery Company, and in person manage and control the drawings themselves, and that the same are conducted with honesty, fairness, and in good faith toward all parties, and we authorize the Company to use this certificate, with fac-similes of our signatures attached, in its advertisement."

G. T. Beauregard
J. A. Early
Commissioners.

We the undersigned Banks and Bankers will pay all Prizes drawn in The Louisiana State Lotteries which may be presented at our counters.

R. M. WALMSLEY, Pres. Louisiana Nat. Bk.
PIERRE LANAUX, Pres. State Nat'l Bank.
A. BALDWIN, Pres. New Orleans Nat'l Bk.
CARL KOHN, Pres. Union National Bank.

MAMMOTH DRAWING

In the Academy of Music, New Orleans, Tuesday, December 18, 1888.

CAPITAL PRIZE, $600,000.

LIST OF PRIZES.

1 PRIZE OF $600,000 is	$600,000
1 PRIZE OF 200,000 is	200,000
1 PRIZE OF 100,000 is	100,000
1 PRIZE OF 50,000 is	50,000
2 PRIZES OF 25,000 is	50,000
5 PRIZES OF 10,000 are	50,000
12 PRIZES OF 5,000 are	60,000
25 PRIZES OF 2,000 are	50,000
100 PRIZES OF 800 are	80,000
200 PRIZES OF 400 are	80,000
500 PRIZES OF 200 are	100,000

APPOXIMATION PRIZES.

100 Prizes of $1,00 are	$100,000
100 Prizes of 800 are	80,000
100 Prizes of 400 are	40,000

THREE NUMBER TERMINALS.

99 Prizes of $800 are	$79,200
99 Prizes of 400 are	39,600

TWO NUMBER TERMINALS.

900 Prizes of $200 are	$180,000
900 Prizes of 200 are	180,000
3,146 Prizes amounting to	$2,118,800

☞ FOR CLUB RATES, or any further information desired, write legibly to the undersigned, clearly stating your residence, with State, County, Street and Number. More rapid return mail delivery will be assured by your enclosing an Envelope bearing your full address.

Send POSTAL NOTES, Express Money Orders, or New York Exchange in ordinary letter. Currency by Express (at our expense) addressed to

M. A. DAUPHIN, New Orleans, La.,
or M. A. DAUPHIN, Washington, D. C.

Address Registered Letters to
NEW ORLEANS NATIONAL BANK, New Orleans, La.

REMEMBER That the presence of Generals Beauregard and Early, who are in charge of the drawings, is a guarantee of absolute fairness and integrity, that the chances are all equal, and that no one can possibly divine what number will draw a Prize.

"REMEMBER, also, that the payment of all Prizes is GUARANTEED BY FOUR NATIONAL BANKS of New Orleans, and the Tickets are signed by the President of an Institution, whose chartered rights are recognized in the highest Courts; therefore, beware of any imitations or anonymous schemes."

FOOTE & FRENCH

BANKERS,

— AND —

DEALERS IN GOVERNMENT BONDS,

OFFER FOR SALE

Or. R'y & Nav. Co. Con. M'ge Gold 6s, due.....1925
No. Pacific 2d M'ge Gold 6s, due.....1933
St. Jos. & Gr. Isl. 1st. M'ge Gold 6s, due.....1925
Oregon Sho. Line 1st. Gold 6s, due.....1922

Commission Orders in Bonds and Stocks executed. 6dec1

48 CONGRESS STREET, - - BOSTON

A MAN

UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THE COUNTRY WILL OBTAIN MUCH INFORMATION FROM A STUDY OF THIS MAP OF THE

GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE

(C., R. I. & P. and C., K. & N. R'ys.)

West, Northwest and Southwest. It includes CHICAGO, JOLIET, ROCK ISLAND, DAVENPORT, DES MOINES, COUNCIL BLUFFS, WATERTOWN, SIOUX FALLS, MINNEAPOLIS, ST. PAUL, ST. JOSEPH, ATCHISON, LEAVENWORTH, KANSAS CITY, TOPEKA, COLORADO SPRINGS, DENVER, PUEBLO, and hundreds of prosperous cities and towns—traversing vast areas of the richest farming lands in the west.

SOLID VESTIBULE EXPRESS TRAINS

Leading all competitors in splendor and luxury of accommodations (daily) between CHICAGO and COLORADO SPRINGS, DENVER and PUEBLO. Similar magnificent VESTIBULE TRAIN service (daily) between CHICAGO and COUNCIL BLUFFS (OMAHA), and between CHICAGO and KANSAS CITY. Modern Day Coaches, elegant Dining Cars (serving delicious meals at moderate prices), restful Reclining Chair Cars (seats FREE) and Palace Sleeping Cars. The direct line to NELSON, HORTON, HUTCHINSON, WICHITA, ABILENE, CALDWELL, and all points in Southern Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, the Indian Territory and Texas. California Excursions daily. Choice of routes to the Pacific coast.

The Famous Albert Lea Route

Runs superbly equipped Express Trains, daily, between Chicago, St. Joseph, Atchison, Leavenworth, Kansas City, and Minneapolis and St. Paul. The popular route to the iconic resorts and hunting and fishing grounds of the northwest. Its Watertown and Sioux Falls branch traverses the great "WHEAT AND DAIRY BELT" of Northern Iowa, Southwestern Minnesota and East Central Dakota.

The Short Line via Seneca and Kankakee offers facilities to travel to and from Indianapolis, Cincinnati and other Southern points.

For Tickets, Maps, Folders, or desired information, apply at any Coupon Ticket Office, or address

E. ST. JOHN, Gen'l Manager. E. A. HOLBROOK, Genl Tkt. & Pass. Agt.
CHICAGO, ILL.

The west is a wonderful borrower; but it pledges good security.

Lending here involves no thought, no care, no doubt, when you choose your lender wisely. There is no occasion to guess.

We send a pamphlet.

THE KANSAS CITY INVESTMENT COMPANY, Kansas City, Missouri; or Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

THE OLDEST AND ONLY Republican Morning Paper IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

IF YOU WANT TO BUY OR SELL ANYTHING AD VERTISE IN THE Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 24, 1852. | PORTSMOUTH, N. H., THURSDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 22, 1888. | $5 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE. TWO CENTS PER COPY.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

The News!

ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES.

Breakdown at Dover; Will Come on the Bondsmen.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

DOVER, N. H., Nov., 21.—Daniel Dacey of Boston, who was awarded the contracts for putting in pipes for the new water works for $32,039, and to build a reservoir for $15,013, today threw up his contracts for want of ready money to enable him to finish them. The contracts provide that ten per cent of the first named amount and twenty per cent of the reservoir contract money be kept back for one year to guarantee faithful work. The laborers have received no money since October first, and boarding-house people are also losers of money to the amount of several hundred dollars each. Mike Russo, Italian shanty keeper, claims there is $1200 due him for keeping boarders. The water commissioners will make arrangements for the completion of the work, and will look to Dacey's bondsmen for any money they may have to expend in finishing the work, above the contract prices Dacey was to have received. His bondsmen are Frank Jones of Portsmouth and Messrs. Gay and Fuller of Boston.

Blaine Not Nursing Animosity.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—It has been said that Blaine will use his influence to prevent the confirmation of Perry Belmont as minister to Spain. A gentleman familiar with the facts connected with the famous controversy between Blaine and Belmont, some years ago, is quoted by the Evening Star as saying that neither had cherished any such ill-will toward the other as would result in a desire for revenge or retaliation. Both, he said, had since regretted the great publicity given to the affair, and have carefully avoided speaking disrespectfully of each other. From what he knew of Blaine, personally, and particularly as to his feelings in this matter, he was confident that Blaine would not by word or action oppose Belmont's confirmation.

A Seaman Who Can Well Claim Salvage.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

VINEYARD HAVEN, MASS., Nov. 21.—Schooner Grampus was towed into Wood's Hole this afternoon by tug Elsie. She is tight and in perfect condition. When found, the Grampus was in charge of an Irish sailor, reported to be from the British schooner Juan, from St. Martin's for Boston, with salt, which vessel sighted the Grampus on the morning of the 18th, about forty miles southeast of Chatham. The mate and himself boarded her, intending to work her in, but the mate gave up the idea and returned to the Juan, leaving the seaman on board. He was determined to get the vessel into port, and could not be induced to leave her. She had been drifting about the south sides of Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard islands for the past three days, and finally reached a point off Gay Head this morning. The Grampus belonged to the U. S. Fish Commission.

No Yellow Fever Refugee Wanted.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 21.—William Spencer, a Jacksonville refugee, turned up today, asking for assistance. He was somewhat under the weather, and as a precautionary measure is isolated for a few days.

Virginia Official.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

RICHMOND, VA., Nov. 21.—Following are the official returns of the vote of Virginia: Cleveland 151,977, Harrison 150,442; Cleveland's plurality, 1535.

Gen. Sheridan's Memoirs.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—Mrs. Gen. Sheridan, accompanied by Col. Sheridan, left Washington this afternoon for Canada by way of New York, for the purpose of securing a copyright to the memoirs of her husband, to be printed in London, November 26th, when her New York publishers will issue the American edition.

Counting Out In Tennessee.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., Nov. 21.—It is asserted that evidence has been submitted to the state canvassing board at Nashville, today, showing enough illegal voting in the counties of Rhea and Meigs to overcome the majority of H. Clay Evans, republican candidate for congress in the third congressional district, and elect Creed F. Bates, democrat, by 101 majority. Both parties appeared before the board today and presented their case. The board will determine tomorrow to whom the certificate shall be issued.

Hewitt Remembers the Ladies.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Mayor Hewitt appointed seven school commissioners today, among the number being one woman, Mrs. William G. Rice. This is the third woman appointed to the office. Two of the present women members will retire January 1st.

Anti-Saloon Republicans.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The anti-saloon republican national committee met today, and after discussing plans for the future campaign work appointed a subcommittee to report a plan to the full committee at a meeting next Tuesday.

Jones Freezes to the Plunder.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The suit of R. W. Milbanks against Ex-Congressman Jones, to recover $5000 paid Jones for his influence in getting a gas franchise through the board of aldermen, was decided today in favor of defendant, Rejoicing Over the Redemption of Belknap County.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LACONIA, N. H., Nov. 21.—A banquet was held at the Eagle hotel tonight by the Belknap county Harrison club, in honor of the recent republican victories. Covers were laid for 60. Senator Chandler, Hon. Alonzo Nute, and Hon. O. C. Moore, Congressmen-elect, Hon. F. D. Currier, Col. T. P. Cheney and others were present.

The New President's Private Secretary.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 21.—Gen. Harrison has tendered Elijah W. Halford, managing editor of the Indianapolis Journal, the position of private secretary. Halford is 43 years old, and came from England when a child with his parents, who settled in Cincinnati. He began his newspaper career as reporter on the Indianapolis Journal 25 years ago, was for a time managing editor of the Chicago Inter-Ocean, was a few years private secretary of the late Senator Morton, and was delegate to the late Chicago convention, representing Indiana on the committee on platform.

The Atlanta Will Cruise Around The World.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASAINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—It is stated at the navy department that the U. S. S. Atlanta, now fitting for sea at New York, will be sent for a three or four years cruise around the world, by way of the Pacific ocean.

Official Figures.

(Special to Daily Chronicle.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The finished recount in the Fourth Congressional district in West Virginia shows that C. B. Smith, Republican, is elected by 13 majority.

Gen. Goff's majority, officially given yesterday, remains unshaken.

By the recount up to the present time, three Republican congressmen-elect still have majorities on the face of the returns.

It is still possible that West Virginia's electoral vote will be cast for Harrison and Morton.

Cleveland's plurality in Connecticut is 336. The republicans have elected three of the four congressmen.

Mississippi's official count gives Cleveland 85,477, Harrison 30,096, Fisk 218. The seven congressmen elected are democrats.

Alabama's vote for president was counted yesterday by the governor and secretary of state; Cleveland received 117,310, Harrison 51,197, Fisk 583. Cleveland's plurality, 60,113.

The vote of New York state, official for all counties but New York and Kings, gives a total of 1,279,639, of which Harrison had 646,716, Cleveland 632,928; Harrison's plurality, 13,793. For governor, Hill had 646,772, Miller 630,065.

Arkansas gave Harrison 58,752 votes, Cleveland 85,962, Fisk 614, Streeter 10,613. Four democrats and one republican elected to Congress.

The republican plurality in Indiana on the congressional vote is 4571. The prohibition vote is much larger than any one expected, being 9252, against 4646 in 1886.

In Iowa the official returns from every county in the state give Harrison 211,592, Cleveland 179,899. Harrison's plurality, 31,693.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain returned to the city to-night from "Chevy Chase," and are now guests of the Secretary and Mrs. Endicott. They will sail for Europe on Saturday.

MACON, Ga., Nov. 21.—O. F. Adams, city treasurer, is reported to be $20,000 short. He was suspended to-night.

DOVER.

WEDNESDAY, Nov. 21st.

What a noise you fellows did make down Portsmouth way last night! The earth fairly trembled around here.

The boys arrived home about one o'clock and report a grand old time. They say the way the "Coons" got away with the turkey was a caution. Thanksgiving was nowhere.

Through the courtesy of Marshal Fogerty your reporter was yesterday shown through the now famous police station, and like the force, found it "one of the finest." Barring Manchester, we do not think there is so convenient and well regulated a place in the state. On entering, we first step into the waiting room, very handsomely finished. From this, a door leads to the officers' room, a good sized, well lighted and well ventilated apartment. On one side of the room is the officers' cupboard, large and nicely finished. A fine mirror, wash stand, writing stand and many other necessary articles are well arranged. Leading from this room is the marshal's private office, an elegantly furnished room with everything that could be desired. The office is connected by telephone, every room is heated by steam, and the sanitary arrangements are unsurpassed. The cells, ten in number, are arranged in the form of a square, with patent self-locking doors. There is a separate cell for women, and a large, well ventilated room called the "tramp's parlor." In fact, every thing is handily arranged, and it is a model station. To be sure, a little more money has been laid out than was absolutely necessary, but on the whole is there much ground for "kicking?"

Washington Anderton is to build a double tenement house on Second street.

At the coming G. A. R. fair an elegant officer's sword will be presented to the most popular military officer in the two military companies here. There will be a lively contest between Messrs. Demeritt, Brown, Clifford, Scott, Rollins and McDuffee.

Wm. Sterns lost a valuable driving horse by lockjaw last night.

V. Mathes moved a large building from Waldron street to-day.

The Jolly Ten had a dance in American hall last night.

John M. Staples is a candidate for alderman from ward four.

The so-called investigation of the purchase of Garrison hill by the finance committee, last night, was a complete farce. A fair price was paid for the land Wonder what they'll investigate next?

The sword to be given away at the G. A. R. fair will be on exhibition in Brown Bros.' window to-morrow.

Ned Howes, the banjo player, has several very promising pupils who will make their first appearance this winter.

John S. Stackpole is the new gate-tender at the Third street crossing.

The new pumping station is nearly completed. The recent trouble among the Italians has delayed the work greatly.

A few things we would like to see:
John J. Hanson, mayor;
A bran-new city government;
The "investigation" business over;
Jonas D. Townsend, postmaster;
The water works completed;
The Dagoes get out of town;
City Marshal Fogerty re-elected;
Ditto the whole police force;
Capt. Brown get the G. A. R. sword;
The original bill for that brass rail;
A new fire-engine house;
The horse railroad extended up Washington street;
Whiskers on Chin Kim, the laundryman.

MAC.

No Better Friends Than Old Friends.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Nov. 21.—The Evening News says:

"It is the confident belief of intimates friends of Chairman Huston of the Republican state committee that he will be the Indiana representative in the Cabinet, and they offer many reasons for their hope. The most important of course is the service he rendered the President-elect. It is claimed that he did more than any other person to secure Harrison's nomination, and no one man in Indiana did so much to carry the state for the republicans. Besides, it is asserted hat Gen. Harrison has indicated a warmer friendship for him than for any other prominent Republican of the state.

The announcement that Capt Wm. M. Meredith, of Chicago, is likely to be the next public printer, will be no surprise to those who know him. He was captain of a colored company under Gen. Harrison's command, and they have continued warm friends since. When Capt. Meredith was a candidate for the position of public printer, at the time S. P. Rounds was appointed, Gen. Harrison, then a member of the senate, strongly supported him. Capt. Meredith seeks the position simply as a man who has practical experience that qualifies him to properly discharge its duties. He has had charge of large printing establishments for twenty-five years or more."

Preparing for the Second Session of the 50th Congress.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHIONTON, D. C., Nov 21. The members of the appropriation committee held their first meeting today, preliminary to the assembling of the 50th congress in second session. Chairman Randall was absent.

Telegraphic Notes.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov 21.—A fire in a tenement in East 110th street this evening, caused a panic among ten families. All escaped except Mrs. Mary Leddy, aged 40, who was overcome by the smoke and burned to death.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., Nov. 21.—New cases 3, deaths 2.

NORTH ADAMS, MASS., Nov. 21.—Last night James H. Wheaton came home, burst in the door, dragged his wife down two flights of stairs to the street, and beat and kicked her until she was apparently dead, and probably will die. He is under arrest.

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 21.—The Republicans celebrated tonight with a torchlight procession, fireworks, illuminations, etc.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 21.—Frank W. Palmer, a carriage maker, committed suicide by shooting himself this afternoon.

FOREIGN.

Lowell Comes Home.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 24.—James Russell Lowell leaves for New York tomorrow.

The Latest Whitechapel Sensation.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Investigation made by police show that the Whitechapel woman reported this morning as attacked by a man, is a woman of the lowest order and suffered only a slight abrasion of the skin on her throat. The police place no credit in her story of the attack, and believe she inflicted the injury herself while drunk.

Gladstone Goes Home.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Gladstone will leave London on Saturday for Hawarden, and will not return during the present session of parliament.

MARRIED.

BRIGGS—BUXTON. In this city, Nov. 20th, by Rev. O. S. Baketel, David E. Briggs and Miss Alice M. Buxton, all of this city.

PLAISIED—LEWIS. In Dover, Nov. 14th, by Rev. James Thurston, Ernest E. Plaisted and Miss Jennie May Lewis, both of York, Me.

MARINE CHRONICLE

PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

ARRIVED Nov. 20th.

Sch Lizzie Guptill, Pinkham, Rockland, with lime to Concord railroad.

SAILED Nov. 20th.

Sch John J Hanson, Stevens, Philadelphia.
Sch John Bracewell, Munro, New York.

SAILED Nov. 21st.

Sch Anna Currier, Welsh, St John, N B.
Sch Fannie Butler, Robinson, Bangor.
Sch Estella, Barter, Boston.

THACHER'S ELIXIR
CALISAYA & IRON
The Best Tonic. Appetizer and Blood Purifier Known.
PRICE, $1.00 A BOTTLE.
Manufactured and Sold Only By
BENJAMIN GREEN,
APOTHECARY,
(Successor to J. H. Thacher,)
No. 12 Market Square
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

The west is a wonderful borrower; but it pledges good security.
Lending here involves no thought, no care, no doubt, when you choose your lender wisely. There is no occasion to guess.
We send a pamphlet.
THE KANSAS CITY INVESTMENT COMPANY, Kansas City, Missouri; or Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

Furnaces, Ranges & Stoves.
We are now ready to show the Finest Line of
RANGES AND PARLOR STOVES
Ever offered in this city, at Prices within the reach of all. Call and See Them Before Buying, it will Pay You.
LAMPS!
LAMPS!
Our Stock of Lamps is Complete, the
Lux Dux, Rochester, Banner, Duplex,
All First-Class, and will be Sold at the Lowest Prices.
PLUMBING, GAS PIPING, COPPER AND SHEET IRONWORK, AT
John P. Sweetser's,
46 MARKET STREET.

Now is the Time to Look Over Your Wardrobe and See What You Need for Winter, and
SIMPSON'S CORNER STORE
Is the place where you can find everything you need in Gentlemen's Wear, at Remarkably Low Prices, for Cash.
— WE HAVE A FULL LINE OF —
OVERCOATS!
Ranging in Prices from $5 to $25.
— A NEW LOT OF —
ULSTERS!
From $6 to $20.
— A FINE ASSORTMENT OF —
FURNISHING GOODS.
Headquarters for OIL and RUBBER CLOTHING, Wholesale and Retail.
Come and See for Yourselves at the Old Stand,
Corner Market and Bow Streets,
CHARLES E. SIMPSON.

JACKETS
Reduced From

$4.00	TO	$2.98
5.00	"	3.25
7.50	"	4.98
8.25	"	4.98
9.00	"	6.25

This will be a Great Opportunity to Buy this Class of Goods Cheap.
M. C. FOYE,
No. 4 Market Square.

THIS PAPER is on file in Philadelphia at the Newspaper Advertising Agency of Messrs. N. W. Ayer & Son, Times Building.

"1888" OPENING OF "1888"
FALL AND WINTER DRY GOODS
At the Well-Known Store,
NOS. 30 and 32 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH.
Ayers & Locke, Proprietors.
Can be found the Largest Assortment of
SEASONABLE DRY GOODS MERCHANDISE.
LARGEST ASSORTMENT OF OUTSIDE GARMENTS.
For Ladies, Misses and Children.
New Goods of this Season's Manufacture.
All are Invited to Examine
OUR STOCK OF CLOAKS!
Before Purchasing Elsewhere.
Silk and Gloria RAIN UMBRELLAS! Ladies' Gossamers.
THE F. P. ROBINSON CO. BLACK STOCKINGS.
TRADE MARK. "CLEANFAST" NONE ARE GENUINE WITHOUT THIS TRADE MARK ON EACH PAIR
Mohair and Gingham RAIN UMBRELLAS! Children's Gossamers.
Largest Assortment of Dress Goods in Portsmouth.
In fact, the Best Assortment in their Line of everything pertaining to a
FIRST-CLASS STOCK OF DRY GOODS.
NEW CARPETS! NEW CARPETS!
HOUSEKEEPING GOODS! &C.
SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS IN OUR UNDEWEARR DEPARTMENT.
Small Wares, Trimmings, Ribbons, Gloves.
Yarns, Knitting Silks, &c.
Corsets, Bustles, &c.
Largest Assortment of Fall and Winter Skirts in all the Desirable Fabrics.
Which they are desirous of exchanging for Cash on a basis for value that will compare favorably with Boston and New York prices.
AYERS & LOCKE.

Insurance Notice.
THE OLD INSURANCE AGENCY,
AT THE OLD STAND,
No. 13 Pleasant Street,
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.
JOSEPH P. MORSE,

25 CORDS
DRY PINE LIMBS!
At $3.50 Per Cord.
The Very Best of Fuel at a Low Price.
O. F. PHILBRICK & CO.,
COAL AND WOOD DEALERS,
4 Water Street.

WOOD AND COAL!
A Good Assortment of all kinds of Wood and Coal.
Kindling Wood Split to Order.
— ALSO —
Akron Drain and Sewer Pipe.
NO. 13 GREEN STREET,
DANIEL LITTLEFIEL

Look in at Conn's
— AND SEE THE —
BUTTER!
From the very best Dairies in Vermont and New York. Creameries are of no account compared with these Dairies. Also,
Cheese Pork. Lard. Hams, Beans Etc
No Oleo or Second-Hand Stuff kept.
The very best quality of LARD bought by the car-load, which I am selling less than the

COMFORT
— FOR —
COLD AND TENDER FEET!
Persons troubled with cold or tender feet will find warmth and ease in the use of
DOLGE'S ALL WOOL FELT
Slipners and Shoes
For which the undersigned is agent in this City and Vicinity.
--- AT THE STORE ---
No. 34 Market Street
Can be found a Full Line of these Goods, in many patterns of Slippers, Shoes and Boots, and several colors, for house, office or street wear,
Of Men and Boys, Women and Girls.
Please examine our Stock.
J. C. CARR.

JOHN H. BROUHTON,
No. 68 Daniel St., Portsmouth, N. H.
— DEALER IN —
EASTERN AND WESTERN
LUMBER!
Shingles, Clapboards and Laths.
— ALSO —
Best Newark Hydraulic Cement, Best Extra and No. 1 Lime
FOR SALE AT LOWEST PRICES.

To Let.
THE middle Tenement, No. 23, in the Kenney Block on Pleasant Street. Apply to

The Portsmouth Daily Chronicle,

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 2, 1862.

Published every morning, except Sunday, at No. 7 Exchange Building, Pleasant Street.

By mail, postage prepaid, $5 a year. Single Copies, Two Cents.

THE CHRONICLE is served to subscribers in Portsmouth, Kittery, Dover, Rochester and Farmington at 50 Cents per month, hours in advance of any other paper containing the Associated Press Despatches.

The New Hampshire Gazette,

ESTABLISHED OCT. 7, 1756.

The Oldest Newspaper in America. Published every Thursday.

Terms, $1.50 a year in advance.

[Entered at the Post Office at Portsmouth as second class matter.]

W. SCOTT SMITH,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

Rates of advertising made known on application.

Agents for the Daily Chronicle:
MOSES BROS.....PORTSMOUTH.
ROBERTS & AVERY.....FARMINGTON
WORCESTER & GREENFIELD..ROCHESTER
BROWNE BROS.....DOVER.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

THURSDAY, NOV. 22, 1888.

The Partisan Outrage on Dakota.

Many persons are unaware of the extent of the injustice done the people of Dakota by the present "reform" administration, for partisan reasons only. In area the territory has more square miles than are included in the united areas of all the New England states, with New York, New Jersey and Maryland added; while in population Dakota has more than either Maine, or Connecticut, or West Virgina, or Nebraska, or New Hampshire, or Vermont, or Rhode Island, or Florida, or Colorado, or Oregon, or Delaware or Nevada. The population numbers 650,000, and is composed of the very best class of settlers from the northern states; few of the southern states have so many daily and weekly papers as Dakota, and no town of any size is without its church and school houses. There has never been any pretence that the population of the territory was not sufficient to entitle it to admission as a state, nor that the people were unfit in any respect to take part in the government of the nation. The only objection has been that if admitted as a state, Dakota's vote would be given against the democratic party; and for this reason, and no other, the pretended "reformers" have kept nearly three-quarters of a million of people, occupying 150,000 square miles of fertile territory, out of their just rights for years.

The Haytian Trouble.

The department of state at Washington has received official confirmation of the reported condemnation by the Haytian prize court of the American steamship Haytian Republic. The condemnation was pronounced Friday, November 3d. On the Saturday following the United States minister protested against the proceedings, alleging that the prize court was illegally constituted, and appealed to a higher court. He also advised the captain of the seized vessel to refuse to surrender the craft. The United States man-of-war Boston arrived on the scene the same day, to support the protest of the United States minister. The charge against the Haytian Republic is that she was attempting to land arms and ammunition at the port of St. Marc, for the insurgents, the port being blockaded; but international law requires notice of a blockade to be given by the blockading power to neutrals, and no such notice has been given to our government by Hayti.

The Ashburne Act.

The Ashburne act, better known as the Irish land-purchase bill, the scope of which the British government proposes to extend, and the bill for which extension Mr. Gladstone antagonized with an amendment when it was introduced this week, was passed by Parliament in 1885, and was an attempt to appease the discontent of the Irish tenantry by offering them state aid to buy out their landlords and become owners themselves. The national treasury was to advance the purchase money, under certain conditions, and the tenant was to repay it in installments. The total amount to be advanced in any single year was limited to $25,000,000. It is said that under the provisions of this act a tenant, if prosperous, may hope to own his holding in about fifty years. A gleam of light, even though fifty years away, is better than no chance of hope at all.

The Manchester Press remarks that "there is one good feature at least to New Hampshire criminal law, and that is that convicted murderers, while given every chance to prove their innocence, are inevitably hung in the end, with neatness if not dispatch."

The wise free-traders who sneered at the Republican canvass of New York state, just before election, have become convinced at last that whatever inaccuracy there was in the canvass came of making an underestimate of the Republican majority for President. It turns out to be larger by 300 than was expected.

We are astonished at parties who introduce new remedies for coughs when they should know the people will have Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

"Kings are like stars, they rise and set." They have headaches, cuts, and hurts like meaner men, and are just as sure to call for Salvation Oil.

—Political orator (furiously)—"Now, fellow-citizens, if this man is elected what will be the result?" A voice—"His opponent will be defeated."

Catarrh originates in scrofulous taint. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and thus permanently cures catarrh.

"For twenty years I have suffered with a severe bronchial cough, never lying down without a severe attack of the same. After much pursuasion, I was induced to try Adamson's Balsam, and its good effects for six months are certainly marvellous. Please use this truthful testimony for the advantage of all sufferers like myself.
Mrs. Wm. Alden, Duxbury, Mass., Feb. 21, 1887.

—Children shrink from being washed. The same may be said of socks.

Be Your Own Doctor.

It won't cost you half as much. Do not delay. Send three 2-cent stamps for postage, and we will send you Dr. Kaufmann's great work, fine colored plates from life, on disease, its causes, and home cure. Address A. P. Ordway, & Co., Boston, Mass.

—The average pullet takes her eggsit in the spring.

Hundreds of letters from those using Hall's Hair Vigor attest its value as a restorer of gray hair to its natural color. As a stimulant and tonic, preventing and curing baldness, and cleansing the scalp, its use cannot be too strongly recommended.

—"Physician, heal thyself!" is an injuction promulgated centuries ago, and now some of the older practitioners are pretty well healed.

Trial proves that honesty is the best policy in medicine as well as in other things. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a genuine preparation, an unequalled blood purifier, decidedly superior to all others.

—The sparrow who has lost her mate takes a sort of bird-sigh view of the world.

She Blushed

Awfully when I told her what to do for those horrid pimples, with which her face was covered. She now says if you want a pink and white complexion with a clear, smooth skin, you must use that best of all blood purifiers, Sulphur Bitters.

—Nature is a great deal like the manipulators of the stock market. She has her regular times of trying to freeze out everybody.

Happy and Hungry.

For over five years I was a constant sufferer with that most terrible and annoying disease, dyspepsia. After paying out hundreds of dollars, the only medicine I found that would do me any good was Sulphur Bitters. Six bottles cured me. Now I can eat will and am happy and hungry.—Editor.

To-Night and To-Morrow Night,
And each day and night during this week you can get at all druggists Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, acknowledged to be the most successful remedy ever sold for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption. Get a bottle to-day and keep it always in the house, so you can check your cold at once. Price 50c and $1.00. Sample bottles free.

Interested People.
Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam, for Coughs and Colds, does it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles at 50c and $1.. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

CONSUMPTION CURED.
An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all Throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. NOYES, 149 Power's Block, Rochester.
eeowtjan29

Eczema, Itchy, Scaly, Skin Tortures.
The simple application of "SWAYNE'S OINTMENT," without any internal medicine, will cure any case of Tetter, Salt Rheum, Ringworm, Piles, Itch, Sores, Pimples, Eczema, all Scaly, Itchy Skin Eruptions, no matter how obstinate or long standing. It is potent, effective, and costs but a trifle. eu6e9

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

—Some are born great, some think they are great, and others thrust greatness upon themselves.

There is a money subject in the air that every one wants to know about.

How it is that eastern people are sending their money west to be lent to strangers by strangers.

The long and short of it is be got from a primer published as an advertisement by the Kansas City Investment Company.

THE KANSAS CITY INVESTMENT COMPANY, Kansas City, Missouri; or Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

$100,000
Janesville, Wis., Water Co.
First Mortgage 6% Bonds.
DUE AUGUST 1, 1907.
Secured by a Sinking Fund. Descriptive Circulars furnished on application.

Brewster, Cobb & Estabrook,
35 Congress St., Boston.

CAUTION
Beware of Fraud, as my name and the price are stamped on the bottom of all my advertised shoes before leaving the factory, which protect the wearers against high prices and inferior goods. If a dealer offers W. L. Douglas shoes at a reduced price, or says he has them without my name and price stamped on the bottom, put him down as a fraud.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE. FOR GENTLEMEN.
The only calf $3 SEAMLESS Shoe smooth inside. NO TACKS or WAX THREAD to hurt the feet, carries hand-sewed and WILL NOT RIP.
W. L. DOUGLAS $4 SHOE, the original and only hand-sewed welt $4 shoe. Equals custom-made shoes costing from $6 to $8.
W. L. DOUGLAS $3.50 POLICE SHOE. Railroad Men and Letter Carriers all wear them. Smooth inside as a Hand-Sewed Shoe. No Tacks or Wax Thread to hurt the feet.
W. L. DOUGLAS $2.50 SHOE is unexcelled for heavy wear. Best Calf Shoe for the price.
W. L. DOUGLAS $2.25 WORKINGMAN'S SHOE is the best in the world for rough wear; one pair ought to wear a man a year.
W. L. DOUGLAS $2 SHOE FOR BOYS is the best School Shoe in the world.
W. L. DOUGLAS $1.75 YOUTH'S School Shoe gives the small Boys a chance to wear the best shoe in the world.
All made in Congress, Button and Lace. If not sold by your dealer, write
W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.
FOR SALE BY
OREN BRAGDON & SON
NO. 24 MARKET STREET.

BURNETT'S PERFECTLY PURE Standard HIGHLY CONCENTRATED Flavoring EXTRACTS
The superiority of these Extracts consist in their
Perfect Purity and Great Strength

STEPHEN D. SCRIGGINS,
Carriage Painter,
NO. 16 Vaughan Street, Portsmouth, N. H.
Having spacious and good accommodations and long and large experience he solicits patronage in his line.

Always on Time.
NEW YORK & NEW ENGLAND.
Trains for New York.
Leave Portsmouth, via Boston & Maine R. R. at 11:05 a. m. 7:40 p. m. Arrive at Boston 1:15, 9:30 p. m.
Leave Boston, ‖12:00 noon, §*8 00, 11:30 p. m. Ar. New York, 6 30, *9 00 p. m., 6 35 a. m. Parlor and Sleeping Cars through without change.
‖Dining Car between Boston and Hartford.
§Dining Car between Boston and Willimantic.
*3:00 p. m. runs daily, including Sundays.
Through tickets at offices, North and East. Baggage checked through.
Ticket offices—322 Washington St., and Depot foot of Summer St., Boston. eadtf

DR. S. F. HAM,
Of Hotel Bristol, Boston, will receive patients
Monday and Tuesday
FROM MAY 1st TO NOV. 1st,
And the remainder of the year every Monday.
Office and Residence, 13 COURT ST., Portsmouth N. H.

E. C. BLAISDELL, D. M. D.,
(SUCCESSOR TO DR. F. J. BONNEY,)
Dental Rooms 1 1-2 Market Street.

WANTED SALESMEN to sell Nursery Stock. All Goods Warranted FIRST-CLASS. Permanent, pleasant, profitable positions for the right men. Good salaries and expenses paid weekly. Liberal inducements to beginners. No previous experience necessary. Outfit free. Write for terms, giving age.
CHARLES H. CHASE, Nurserymen, Rochester, N. Y.

THE KANSAS CITY INVESTMENT COMPANY, Kansas City, Missouri; or Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

EAT QUAKER MILLS TRADE MARK. ROLLED WHITE OATS FOR BREAKFAST.
SOLD BY ALL GROCERS.
Quaker Mill Co., Ravenna, Ohio.

IF YOU WANT
To Save Two Dollars
ON EVERY BARREL OF FLOUR, USE
Horsford's Bread Preparation.
It costs less than one cent to raise a pound of flour with Horsford's, while with common baking powders the cost is two cents.

EASTERN OFFICE OF
Kansas City Investment Co.,
OVER FIRST NATIONAL BANK, PORTSMOUTH.
CITY MORTGAGES, FARM MORTGAGES, DEBENTURE BONDS, REAL ESTATE NOTES
INTEREST PAYABLE HERE AT MATURITY.
W. G. MYERS, V. P.

CORTICELLI Wash Silk.

The colors are warranted not to stain the most delicate fabric in washing with warm water and Castile soap. Sold in four distinct sizes—G., extra coarse, called Rope;—EE, coarse, called Embroidery;—No. 500, medium, called Outline,—and a fine size called Floss. This last is sometimes known as Filo Floss, and is sold in the Corticelli brand on spools only.
NONOTUCK SILK CO., Sole Makers, 18 Summer Street, Boston.

LOOK AT THIS
Heavy, Substantial Cooking Range,

"THE ALMONER."
Plain for $16.00, Worth $25.00
To anyone in need of a First Class Range. Examine this before purchasing elsewhere.

— ALSO A FULL LINE OF —
MAGEE FURNACES, RANGES & STOVES.
Plumbing, Gas Fitting, Tin and Sheet Iron Work of All Kinds.
C. W. TAYLOR,
42 & 44 MARKET STREET.

Dwelling House for Sale.
THE residence of the late Mrs. Daniel Libbey, No. 126 State Street, can be purchased on application to JOHN SISE, JOSEPH SISE, } Executors.

NOTICE!
FALL
— AND — WINTER
STYLES
NOW READY!
— AT —
MRS. TEBBETTS',
NO. 14 MARKET STREET.

C-O-A-L-!
All Kinds and Sizes Delivered Well Screened.
E. F. SISE & CO.
First Quality Wood!
Liverpool and Turkelsland
SALT
in Bulk and Sacks. Salt in Boxes. Boston and Portland Brands.
TELEPHONE.

JOSIAH F. ADAMS
Embalmer and Funeral Director,
WAREROOMS: NO. 5 DANIEL ST.
Coffins, Caskets and Robes Always on Hand. Hearse and Carriages Furnished. Cemetery Lots Cared For, &c.
Orders by day or night left at No. 37 Washington St., or with Mr. Rogers Kimball, No. 8 Hill St., will receive prompt attention.

AT
No. 63 Pleasant St
may be found a full and carefully selected stock of
FINE FANCY AND STAPLE
GROCERIES.
—ALSO—
BOOTS & SHOES
As at any Store east of Boston.
—VERMONT AND CREAMERY—
BUTTER & CHEESE.
Lard Sugar,
Molasses Syrup Oils.
Beans Peas Pickles Crackers.
Salt Pork Salt Fish, Sage Maccaroni.
-COFFEES-
Old Government Java and Rio, ground as sold
-TEAS-
Best Qualities Formosa and Japan.
— A FULL LINE —
CANNED AND SHELF GOODS.
Pure Spices, Raisins, Currants Citron, Cocoa, Chocolate, Candied Lemon Peel, and all other Fine Groceries
TOBACCO AND CIGARS.
Brooms, Brushes, Pails, Crockery and Glassware, and a Large
Assortment of Miscellaneous Articles.
Boots and Shoes
Men's Calf Button Boots,
Men's Calf Balmoral Boots,
Men's Calf French Ties,
Ladies' Kid Button Boots.
Misses' and Children's, Youth's and Boys',
All Sizes and Kinds.
We make the best selections possible, paying Cash; and for Cash will sell as low as the lowest.
Orders filled with care and delivered free to any part of the city.
JOHN J. LASKEY,
NO. 63 PLEASANT STREET.

ILSLEY & MOORE,
Fire Life and Accident Insurance Agents and Brokers No. 3 Pleasant St., Portsmouth N. H.
NOTICE:—The undersigned gives notice to all whom it may concern, that he has purchased from the senior member of the old firm of MORSE & ILSLEY, all rights to the Fire Insurance Business heretofore carried on by that firm, and is duly authorized by all the Companies represented by them to have and hold all their records. WINGATE N. ILSLEY.
Facilities for placing the largest lines of Fire Insurance in the best Companies.
Agents for the Equitable Life Ins. Soc. of the U. S. New England Mutual Life Ins. Co. of Boston, Mass., and the Fidelity & Casualty Ins. Co., of New York. eeot

FOOTE & FRENCH
BANKERS,
— AND —
DEALERS IN GOVERNMENT BONDS,
OFFER FOR SALE
Gr. B'y & Nav. Co. Con. M'ge Gold 5s, due.....1925
No. Pacific 2d M'ge Gold 6s, due.....1933
St. Jos. & Gr. Isl. 1st. M'ge Gold 6s, due.....1925
Oregon Short Line 1st. Gold 6s, due.....1922
Commission Orders in Bonds and Stocks executed. edecl

HOLT'S REMEDY
RELIEVES the Kidneys;
REVIVES the Liver;
SOLD UNIVERSALLY.

PAST ALL PRECEDENT! OVER TWO MILLIONS DISTRIBUTED.
L. S. L.
Louisiana State Lottery Company.
Incorporated by the Legislature in 1868, for educational and Charitable purposes, and its franchise made a part of the present State Constitution, in 1879, by an overwhelming popular vote.
Its GRAND EXTRAORDINARY DRAWINGS take place Semi-Annually, (June and December), and its GRAND SINGLE NUMBER DRAWINGS take place on each of the other ten months in the year, and are all drawn in public, at the Academy of Music, New Orleans.
"We do hereby certify that we supervise the arrangements for all the Monthly and Quarterly Drawings of The Louisiana State Lottery Company, and in person manage and control the drawings themselves, and that the same are conducted with honesty, fairness, and in good faith toward all parties, and we authorize the Company to use this certificate, with fac-similes of our signatures attached, in its advertisement."
G. T. Beauregard
J. A. Early
Commissioners.
We the undersigned Banks and Bankers will pay all Prizes drawn in The Louisiana State Lotteries which may be presented at our counters.
R. M. WALMSLEY, Pres. Louisiana Nat. Bk.
PIERRE LANAUX, Pres. State Nat'l Bank.
A. BALDWIN, Pres. New Orleans Nat'l Bk.
CARL KOHN, Pres. Union National Bank.

MAMMOTH DRAWING
In the Academy of Music, New Orleans,
Tuesday, December 18, 1888.
CAPITAL PRIZE, $600,000.

LIST OF PRIZES.

1 PRIZE OF $600,000 is	$600,000
1 PRIZE OF 200,000 is	200,000
1 PRIZE OF 100,000 is	100,000
1 PRIZE OF 50,000 is	50,000
2 PRIZES OF 25,000 is	50,000
5 PRIZES OF 10,000 are	50,000
12 PRIZES OF 5,000 are	60,000
25 PRIZES OF 2,000 are	50,000
100 PRIZES OF 800 are	80,000
200 PRIZES OF 400 are	80,000
500 PRIZES OF 200 are	100,000
APPROXIMATION PRIZES.
100 Prizes of $1,000 are	$100,000
100 Prizes of 800 are	80,000
100 Prizes of 400 are	40,000
THREE NUMBER TERMINALS.
99 Prizes of $800 are	$79,200
99 Prizes of 400 are	39,600
TWO NUMBER TERMINALS.
100 Prizes of $200 are	$180,000
900 Prizes of 200 are	180,000
3,146 Prizes amounting to	$2,118,800

FOR CLUB RATES, or any further information desired, write legibly to the undersigned, clearly stating your residence, with State, County, Street and Number. More rapid return mail delivery will be assured by your enclosing an Envelope bearing your full address.
Send POSTAL NOTES, Express Money Orders, or New York Exchange in ordinary letter. Currency by Express (at our expense) addressed to
M. A. DAUPHIN,
New Orleans, La.,
or M. A. DAUPHIN,
Washington, D. C.
Address Registered Letters to
NEW ORLEANS NATIONAL BANK,
New Orleans, La.
REMEMBER That the presence of Generals Beauregard and Early, who are in charge of the drawings, is a guarantee of absolute fairness and integrity, that the chances are all equal, and that no one can possibly divine what number will draw a Prize.
"REMEMBER, also, that the payment of all Prizes is GUARANTEED BY FOUR NATIONAL BANKS of New Orleans, and the Tickets are signed by the President of an Institution, whose chartered rights are recognized in the highest Courts; therefore, beware of any imitations or anonymous schemes."

GOLD MEDAL, PARIS, 1878.
BAKER'S Breakfast Cocoa.

Warranted absolutely pure Cocoa, from which the excess of Oil has been removed. It has three times the strength of Cocoa mixed with Starch, Arrowroot or Sugar, and is therefore far more economical, costing less than one cent a cup. It is delicious, nourishing, strengthening, easily digested, and admirably adapted for invalids as well as for persons in health.
Sold by Grocers everywhere.
W. BAKER & CO., Dorchester, Mass.

IN MAN
UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THE COUNTRY WILL OBTAIN MUCH INFORMATION FROM A STUDY OF THIS MAP OF THE

GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE
(C., R. I. & P. and C., K. & N. Rys.)
West, Northwest and Southwest. It includes CHICAGO, JOLIET, ROCK ISLAND, DAVENPORT, DES MOINES, COUNCIL BLUFFS, WATERTOWN, SIOUX FALLS, MINNEAPOLIS, ST. PAUL, ST. JOSEPH, ATCHISON, LEAVENWORTH, KANSAS CITY, TOPEKA, COLORADO SPRINGS, DENVER, PUEBLO, and hundreds of prosperous cities and towns—traversing vast areas of the richest farming lands in the west.
SOLID VESTIBULE EXPRESS TRAINS
Leading all competitors in splendor and luxury of accommodations (daily) between CHICAGO and COLORADO SPRINGS, DENVER and PUEBLO. Similar magnificent VESTIBULE TRAIN service (daily) between CHICAGO and COUNCIL BLUFFS (OMAHA), and between CHICAGO and KANSAS CITY. Modern Day Coaches, elegant Dining Cars (serving delicious meals at moderate prices), cheerful Reclining Chair Cars (seats FREE) and Palace Sleeping Cars. The direct line to NELSON, HORTON, HUTCHINSON, WICHITA, ABILENE, CALDWELL, and all points in Southern Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, the Indian Territory and Texas. California Excursions daily. Choice of routes to the Pacific coast.
The Famous Albert Lea Route
Runs superbly equipped Express Trains, daily, between Chicago, St. Joseph, Atchison, Leavenworth, Kansas City, and Minneapolis and St. Paul. The popular tourist line to the scenic resorts and hunting and fishing grounds of the northwest. Its Watertown and Sioux Falls branch traverses the great WHEAT AND DAIRY BELT of Northern Iowa, Southwestern Minnesota and East Central Dakota.
The Short Line via Seneca and Kankakee offers facilities to travel to and from Indianapolis, Cincinnati and other Southern points.
For Tickets, Maps, Folders, or desired information, apply at any Coupon Ticket Office, or address
E. ST. JOHN, Gen'l Manager. E. A. HOLBROOK, Gen'l Ticket & Pass. Agt.

RAYMOND'S VACATION EXCURSIONS.
All Travelling Expenses Included.
A party will leave Boston Monday, January 14, 1889, for a
Grand Tour of 82 Days,
THROUGH THE SOUTHERN STATES, MEXICO,
AND
CALIFORNIA.
The outward route is via Buffalo, Suspension Bridge, Detroit, Toledo, Cincinnati, New Orleans, etc.
The entire round of travel through the South and Mexico to be made in a Special Train of Magnificent Vestibuled Pullman Palace Cars, inclusive of Pullman Palace Dining-Car. All the leading cities and places of historic and picture-que interest to be visited, including Guadalajara and the City of Mexico (where ten days will be passed). A Six Days' Trip over the Mexican Railway. Also a Complete Round of California, with special trains traversing through the grand scenic sections of Utah, Colorado, etc. The time in California will be extended at pleasure, with seven different dates of return under special escort. The tickets also good on any train until July.
Second and Last Tour through the Southern States, Mexico and California.—February 11.
Grand Tour of 47 Days through the Southern States and Mexico (omitting California).—March 11.
California Excursions.—December 6; January 7 and 10; February 7, 11, and 25; March 7 and 11.
Washington Excursions (the only ones this season).—January 18 and February 15.
W. RAYMOND. I. A. WHITCOMB.
Send for descriptive circulars, designating the tour desired.
W. RAYMOND,
296 Washington St. (opposite School St.),
BOSTON, MASS. no19

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.
EPPS'S COCOA.
BREAKFAST.
"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack whenever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame.—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in half pound tins, by Grocers, labelled thus:
JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England.
f1ec5

WE WANT A GOOD ENERGETIC SALESMAN in every town and city TO SOLICIT ORDERS FOR FRAMING PICTURES. BEST OUTFIT IN THE WORLD and a permanent situation. Address H. S. WARDWELL, Lewiston, Me.

POSITIVELY CLOSING WEEKS
GRAND CYCLORAMA
BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG,
541 Tremont St., Boston.
Don't fail to see this great battle scene at once.
A new subject now being painted will take its place in this building January 1st.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, the great Medical Work of the age on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline, Errors of Youth, and the untold miseries consequent thereon, 300 pages 8 vo, 125 prescriptions for all diseases. Cloth, full gilt, only $1.00, by mail, sealed. Illustrative sample free to all young and middle-aged men. Send now. The Gold and Jeweled Medal awarded to the author by the National Medical Association. Address P.O. Box 1895, Boston, Mass., or Dr. W. H. PARK 618, graduate of Harvard Medical College, 25 years' practice in Boston, who may be consulted confidentially. Office, No. Bulfinch St. Specialty, Diseases of Man. Cut this out. You may never see it again.

MARVELOUS MEMORY DISCOVERY.
Any book learned in one reading.
Mind wandering cured.
Speaking without notes.
Piracy condemned by Supreme Court.
Great inducements to correspondence classes.
Prospectus, with opinions of Dr. Wm. A. Hammond, the world famed Specialist in Mind diseases, Daniel Greenleaf Thompson, the great Psychologist, J. M. Buckley, D. D., Editor of the Christian Advocate, Richard Proctor, the Scientist, Hons. Judge Gibson, Judah P. Benjamin, and others, sent post free by
Prof. A. LOISETTE, 237 Fifth Ave., New York.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE
The three-story (above the grade floor)
BRICK STORE BUILDING
NO. 18 ROW STREET,
running back over the wharf to the river, occupied for a long time by the late Charles Robinson as a wholesale corn and flour store. Sold to close up an estate. Enquire of
J. P. MORSE, Real Estate Broker.

GRANITE STATE Fire Insurance Company,
OF PORTSMOUTH, N. H.
PAID-UP CAPITAL, - $200,000
OFFICERS.
President, FRANK JONES.
Vice President, JOHN W. SANBORN.
Secretary, ALFRED F. HOWARD.
Treasurer, JOHN LAIGHTON.
Executive Committee, FRANK JONES, JOHN W. SANBORN, CHARLES A. SINCLAIR, EDWIN WALLACE and E. H.

TRAVELLER'S GUIDE.

TRAINS LEAVE

Portsmouth for Boston, 4.05, 7.25, 8.20, 11.05 a. m., 1.35, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4.00 p. m.

Boston for Portsmouth, 7.30, 9.00, 10.00 a. m., 12.30, 3.30, 4.45, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.00 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

Portsmouth for Portland, 9.55, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m.

Portland for Portsmouth, 8.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.05, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 2.00 a. m.

Portsmouth for Dover, 4.05, 8.45 a. m., 12.25, 3.25, 5.22 p. m.

Dover for Portsmouth, 6.55, 10.20 a. m., 1.05, 4.40, 6.40 p. m.

Portsmouth for York Beach, 8.50, 11.10 a. m. 5.35 p. m.

York Beach for Portsmouth, 8.40, 10.00 a. m., 4.40 p. m.

Portsmouth for Concord, 7.55 a. m., 1.00, 5.15 p. m.

Concord for Portsmouth, 7.20, 10.20 a. m., 3.25 p. m.

Portsmouth for Manchester, 7.55 a. m., 1.00, 5.15 p. m.

Manchester for Portsmouth, 8.15, 11.15 a. m., 4.25 p. m.

TRAINS ARRIVE

In Boston from Portsmouth, 6.20, 9.10, 10.25 a. m., 1.15, 4.45, 7.10, 9.30 p. m. Sundays, 8.30 a. m., 6.30 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Boston, 9.45, 10.45 a. m., 12.20, 3.35, 5.20, 6.45, 8.57 p. m. Sundays, 10.40 a. m., 8.57 p. m.

In Portland from Portsmouth, 12.00 m., 12.35, 4.40, 11.00 p. m. Sundays, 11.00 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Portland, 8.55, 10.44 a. m., 2.20, 7.14 p. m. Sundays, 3.55 a. m.

In Dover from Portsmouth, 8.40, 10.10 a. m., 12.50, 5.02, 8.47 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Dover, 7.26, 10.44 a. m., 2.20, 4.55, 7.14 p. m.

In Concord from Portsmouth, 10.20 a. m., 3.12, 8.15 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Concord, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

In Manchester from Portsmouth, 9.42 a. m., 3.30, 7.20 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Manchester, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

KITTERY AND PORTSMOUTH.

STEAMER MYSTIC.

Leave Bartlett's wharf, Kittery, 6.35, 7.50, 8.45, 10.0, 1.45 a. m., 3.00, 3.15, 4.45, 6.00 p. m. Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 6.30, Saturday evening, 6.30, 8.00

Leave Broughton's wharf, foot Daniel street, Portsmouth, 7.30, 8.00, 9.30, 11.00 a. m., 12.45, 3.00, 4.00, 5.15, 6.15 p. m., Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7.30, Saturday evenings, 7.30, 9.00.

☞ Fare five cents each way.

A FAIR SAMPLE OF 40 SWORN CASES OF THE VALUE OF

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND

THE RADICAL BLOOD PURIFIER.

DIPHTHERIA. SCROFULA.

Miss Lena Judkins, a daughter (17 years old) of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Judkins, 577 Boston St., Lynn, CURED by Dr. Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of very severe case of Scrofula, with Malignant Ulcers of eight years' standing, after 11 Physicians had failed. Almost a miracle. Now in perfect health. Sworn to before HARMON HALL, Justice of the Peace.

SCROFULOUS HUMOR.

Miss Mary Etta Leighton, a daughter (16 yrs. old) of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison G. Leighton, 16 Bickford Court, Lynn, CURED by Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of a deep seated Scrofulous Humor, with discharging eruptions, which had baffled eight physicians and the combined forces of two prominent hospitals. Perfectly cured and without a blemish. Sworn to before CALVIN B. TUTTLE, Justice of the Peace.

Send for circular of 40 Sworn cases. They are solid facts and carry conviction.

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND,

is absolutely the greatest known Remedy for the Radical cure of Scrofula, Cancerous Humors, Diphtheritic or Mineral Blood-Poisoning, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Dropsy and Liver Complaint.

$1. per Bottle (6 for 5). At Druggists.

Lougee Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Laxador An infallible regulator of the Human System. Cures Liver Complaint, Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, &c. Sold by druggists. Laxador Cures Bilious Affections &c. Laxador Price 25 Cts.

The Leading Perfume.

DREXEL'S BELL COLOGNE

Fragrant! Lasting!

PRICE 25 CENTS. AT ALL DEALERS.

DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP

CURES COUGHS & COLDS FOR 25 ¢

SALVATION OIL

Price only 25 cts. Sold by all druggists.

Will relieve Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Swellings, Bruises, Lumbago, Sprains, Headache, Toothache, Sores, Burns, Wounds, Cuts, Scalds, Backache, Gout, or any bodily pain or ailment.

CHEW LINDER'S PLUGS. The Great Tobacco Antidote!—Price 10 Cts. At all druggists.

Cure Your Corns,

BY USING

SCHLOTTERBECK'S

CORN, WART AND BUNION SOLVENT

IS GUARANTEED.

July 7 '83, Haynes Excelsior and Wm. B. Tilton Gold Medal GUITARS, $10 to $40. Music BOXES, 50 cents to $300. Solo Bb CORNET, $10. Haynes VIOLINS, Orchestra, $25; Solo, $35. Special Snare DRUMS, $6. Cowboy FIFES, $2. Drum Corps and Bands send for Estimates. Catalogues free. J. C.

STRANGE SCENES IN JAPAN.

First Impressions—The Common People. A Strange Festival—Japanese Women.

In Yokohama is a long boulevard called the "Bund," bounded at each end by a jetty or pier called the "Hatoba," with a pleasant wooded hill to the left known as the "Bluff," dotted with white houses. The harbor or bay itself is a circle of water perhaps three miles wide—big enough at any rate to be so rough in windy weather that the ships have to get up steam and go to sea for safety.

To come now to "first impressions;" there are, of course, two kinds of these. There are the mere sense impressions, the things which strike the eye and ear as strange, and there are the "first impressions," which mean the conclusions springing to the mind when the externals are first understood. The former class of these "first impressions" generally attach themselves to very trivial matters, but they are often not the less entertaining for all this. The first thing, for instance, that I noticed in Japan was the enormous hats of the coolies, and next the ludicrous combinations of European and foreign dress worn by many young members of the middle class. A pot hat, a cotton wrapper or bath gown—the yukata—a pair of long stockings and boots—that was a common mixture, the wearer evidently and rightly thinking that he had adopted the best points of both systems. An hour after landing, too, a remark made to me by an educated Japanese gentleman on the Belgic recurred to me. I had asked him if the coming constitution for Japan was likely to include trial by jury. "After you have seen Japan," he replied, with a smile, "you won't ask that question." I mean by this that I was struck with the fact that the common people of Japan, courteous and clever and civilized as they are in many ways—the hewers of wood and drawers of water and pullers of jerinkishas—are upon a different plane from the common people at home. One might say that they live in two dimensions, whereas trial by jury, not in its origin, but in its significance today, is a three dimension idea. Moreover, the rulers of Japan see that trial by jury is often a failure or a farce with us, and they have no wish to educate the people up to it.

In Japan there are almost as many religious festivals as in Spain, and one of these—matsuri is their generic name—was being celebrated the other day in the Japanese town. I went to look for it with my detective camera, and when I met it I could hardly believe my eyes—it corresponded more to one's idea of New Guinea than of Japan. Upon an ordinary bullock cart a raised platform and scaffolding twenty feet high had been constructed, and bullock and all covered with paper decorations and green boughs and artificial flowers. In front a girl with a grotesque mask danced and postured, while half a dozen musicians twanged impossible instruments and kept up an incessant tattoo on drums. Children will with delight crowded up among the performers and clung like flies all over the cart, and only that Providence which takes care of them, together with drunkards and the United States of America, preserved them from making a Juggernaut of it. On foot around the bashi, as the whole structure is called, were twenty or thirty men, naked as to their legs, their faces chalked, with straw hats a yard wide, many colored tunics, in which scarlet predominated, decked out with paper streamers and flowers enough to make a Sioux chief despair of himself, dancing along to a very rude chant and at every step banging upon the ground a long iron bar fitted with loose rings.

The colors, the song, the dance, the music and the clanging iron formed together a spectacle as barbarous in taste as possible, something wholly different from what one had supposed the gentle culture of the Japanese to be. At the time I was greatly puzzled, but subsequently I learned that this matsuri is not so barbarous as it looks. I took it to be a serious religious ceremony. I found that it had just as much to do with religion as an Italian carnival has—that is, it was born of religious feeling and has entirely forgotten its ancestry. Buddhism, which is the religion of the common people, has always played to the gallery, so to speak, and the priests of today make money out of the matsuri, partly in the shape of the coins which are thrown into the temple ponds and partly from their share of the subscriptions of the well to do people of the neighborhood, by whom the festival is supported. The affair is thus a Japanese carnival, where people drink sake and play the fool themselves or watch others doing so, exactly as at Nice or Venice.

No account of "first impressions," too, would be complete without an illusion to the grace and charm of the Japanese women. The first time one sees a couple of pretty and prettily dressed Japanese girls walking abroad under their huge variegated paper umbrella, with their elaborately dressed black hair, their perfect tiny hands and feet, their large brown eyes—set obliquely if they are "beauties;" with their delicate, soft toned crape garments, and the heavy flat silk obi twisted round and round their waist and ending in a colossal bow behind; with their funny motion on their clip-clapping pattens, half waddling run and half waddle, and their merry laughter and chatter—when one sees them for the first time, I say, one is usually delighted enough to follow them up and down for half an hour under a fine pretense of losing one's way or looking into the shops. At least I did, till I succeeded in getting a snap photograph of them.—Yokohama Cor. New York World.

An Exercise for Health.

If you are troubled with too much blood in the head, the best thing you can do for a simple remedy is to take the twisting movements of the trunk at the waist. Keep the feet firm, turn the trunk as far as possible to the right—till you face right—four times; the same to the left; then alternate the movements. Next, bend the body strongly and slowly to the right, from the waist, then to the left. Again bend forward as strongly as possible, from the waist, then slightly back, at first, increasing on the back movement later, as you are able.—Mary E. Allen in Youth's Companion.

SYSTEMS OF "CHECKAGE."

Joe Howard Thinks They Are a Nuisance. Policy of Honesty.

Are we a nation of liars, thieves, cheats? If not, what is the meaning of the universal suspicion which poisons every brother's cup? Why these checks in street cars, these mechanical contrivances in barrooms, these private detective agencies? You remember what a hubbub was created years ago when conductors were compelled to wear massive medallions, with intricate mechanism, supposed to show correctly the number of fares taken. They looked like so many Japanese gods with bungling, onerous, burdensome ornaments about them. The idea was that these conductors were stealing, and every time the conductor pulled the spring that rang the bell he challenged public scrutiny, and the suggestion came to every mind, "the company suspects this man to be a thief," and so they did suspect every man to be a thief, and they doubted the accuracy of their mechanism as well, because covertly and secretly they sent spotters, old men, young ladies, tender children, workingmen in every possible disguise, to keep tally of the number of people who rode upon the cars and paid fare for the privilege. As it was in Boston so it was in New York and in all the great centers. The system of checkage in use upon our railways today is not only expensive to the companies and an intolerable nuisance to the traveling public, but a direct impugning of the integrity of every man in the employ.

I buy a ticket from here to Boston, and pay in advance. I pay $5 for my ticket, and $1.50, or whatever, for a seat in a drawing room car. It should be quite sufficient for me to give up my ticket to a gateman as I enter the depot, and my other ticket to the porter in charge of the drawing room car, as I enter the car. Instead of which, I am stopped at the gate as I enter the depot, in order that a gateman may punch the ticket. I take my seat in the car. In comes a train conductor, who takes my ticket and punches it in three or four different places. I settle down to read my paper or my book, and along comes the drawing room conductor, who takes my ticket and gives me another in its place, on which he punches the year, the month, the day of the month, the number of the train, the number of the car, the number of the seat, my destination and the amount paid, all of which takes my time and gives him unnecessary labor. We pass beyond New Haven, and another conductor comes, and he has to punch my ticket, and another conductor comes at Worcester, and he has to punch the ticket. Then they come along again and take up the tickets.

Come with me into any of our barrooms, our restaurants, our cafes. Time was when a man could go with his friend into a cafe, order his lemonade or whatever he wanted, generally the latter, throw his money on the counter and walk out. Now he has to perform the service of a waiter. Having taken his refreshment he waits while the attendant turns to a machine at the back of the inclosure, from which he draws a card, on which is stamped the amount to be paid, which amount is shown in glaring letters upon the machine as the impression is made. This the customer is compelled to carry sometimes a distance of a hundred feet. At all events he must carry it wherever the cashier chances to be seated. He hands the check and the money to the cashier, wipes his mouth and walks away. In other words, the barkeeper is distinctly informed by this procedure that his employer has no faith in him, and both he and the cashier is informed by this mechanism, which registers the amount, that their employer trusts neither of them.

And, after all, do checks check?

Thieving conductors were supplied by ingenious mechanics with little arrangements by which, while pretending to register, they in reality pocketed the fare without registering. Barkeepers, by collusion with cashiers, can, if they wish, defraud their employers. This very week one of our railroad auditors tumbled over a plan by which fares collected on steam railways were retained by conductors, they having duplicate slips furnished them by the accountant in the office. Human ingenuity is certain to be met by human ingenuity. In the long run, taking age after age, accumulated facts have crystallized themselves into a proverb, "Honesty is the best policy," and dishonest men know just as well as the good and true that the path to success lies in that direction, and that leaving all question of morals out of consideration, the best "policy," the truest way in which to serve one's selfish purpose, is to be honest.

There must be responsibility somewhere. Somebody must be trusted, and all this intricate system of checkage doesn't amount to shucks. If a man is dishonest and has not brains enough to know that, in spite of his dishonest tendency, success can be obtained by honest means alone, no power this side of heaven can keep him from cheating, and cheating for a while without detection.—Joe Howard in Boston Globe.

A Very Curious Case.

A highly intelligent lady known to one doctor related to him that one day she was walking past a public institution and observed a child, in whom she was particularly interested, coming out through an iron gate. She saw that he let go the gate after opening it, and that it seemed likely to close upon him, and concluded that it would do so with such force as to crush his ankle; however, this did not happen. "It was impossible," she said, "by word or act to be quick enough to meet the supposed emergency; and, in fact, I found I could not move, for such intense pain came on in the ankle, corresponding to the one which I thought the boy would have injured, that I could only put my hand on it to lessen its extreme painfulness. I am sure I did not move so as to strain or sprain it. The walk home, a distance of about a quarter of a mile, was very laborious, and on taking off my stocking I found a circle round the ankle, as if it had been painted with red currant jelly, with a large spot of the same on the outer part. By morning the whole foot was inflamed, and I was a prisoner to my bed many days." W. H. Hawley in Boston Globe.

Study well the human body, the mind is not far off.—Carmen Sylva.

THE TURTLE AT HOME.

How the Bahama Negroes Harvest the Crop—Capture of a Prize.

The green turtle of the metropolitan restaurant, when it does not come from the remnants of the roast veal and fried chicken of the day before, comes chiefly from the Bahamas and from Nassau, the only city of the Bahamas. They are harvested also in Cuba, Hayti and at many points on the southern coast, but in the Bahama Islands they seem to find the richest feeding grounds. Circuit Justice L. D. Fowles, of Bahama Island, whose experience has been ample, telling how the amiable and luscious beast is captured in his neighborhood, says:

"These families who live in the out islands and do all the turtle fishing that is not done by the strictly business schooners and men from Nassau, have for a home a house whose walls are built of coral limestone, roughly plastered together and roofed with palmetto thatch. There are probably twelve or fourteen in the family, and they all live in one little room, pretty nearly bare of furniture. Nobody but papa and mamma rise to the dignity of a bed. The rest can sleep anywhere. When not asleep, nearly all their lives are spent out of doors. Behind the house is some big tree, where mother cooks and washes and father whacks her and the children by turns, unless, as occasionally happens, she is boss, and does the whacking herself. They have not enough of utensils or furniture to cover a cent. Their food is fish, turtle, conch, oranges, bananas and other tropical fruits in plenty, with corn and sweet potatoes, and fish is to be had for the catching. But the out-islander stands sometimes in need of clothes and groceries, which have to be paid for. As turtles will either produce cash or its substitute, he occasionally goes off on a turtling expedition. After days of postponing and putting off, he finally pulls himself together, and off he goes, pressing all his family into the service. There is not much need to close up the house, for there are no robbers, and no probable intruder except the hogs, which don't count. Still he probably shuts it up, for 'de look of de ting,' for the darky is very punctilious about certain matters.

"The turtle beach may be many miles away, but most likely he has a boat, in which he manages to reach it in the course of a few hours. All the party have bare feet, but otherwise are dressed much the same as civilized people. External decency is one of those matters on which the Bahamian negro is most scrupulous.

"Arrived at the turtle beach, he puts one of the boys in the boat and lets him row along it, while the rest of the party walk along a sharp lookout for turtles. Sometimes the beach is ten miles long, and perhaps the party draw the whole of it blank, in which case they beach the boat and camp out for the night. Perhaps they have the luck to see a monster green turtle before they have measured half the distance. If the party is in luck and sights a monster female turtle of 500 pounds, laying her eggs in the hot sand a little ahead, the party divides at once and the chattering ceases—silence is a necessary element of success. One-half of the party make for the water to cut off her retreat; the other half steal noiselessly upon and turn her on her back—a tough job in the case of a turtle as big as 500 pounds. Once on her back she is helpless, and some of the other party go off in search of palmetto leaves or tough grass with which to tie her fins, while the others stand round and talk to her, jeering and making game of her forlorn condition, taking care, however, to give her as much a wide berth, for she is still able to hite with considerable effect. When the others return they cut slits in her fins and tie them back tightly together. Thus secured, she is carried on board the boat and given in charge of the boy, while the land contingent start on their road rejoicing, in search of another victim. Before going on, though, they will lunch on the eggs their prisoner has left behind her. These eggs are a delicacy much prized in Nassau, but probably by the time they get there they will have gone bad, and it is only on rare occasions, when turtles are caught in New Providence or its immediate neighborhood, that they are found in the market.

"The eggs disposed of, the party moves on once more, and perhaps, just at the close of the day, catches a hawksbill, a good deal smaller in size, but quite as valuable, for sometimes the value is in the shell, not in the weight. This is a good day's work; the family row home contented, and place their turtles in a cool place to await the chance of a ship to carry them up to Nassau."

Another way of catching turtles is the pegging of them in shoal water—that is, striking them with a grain or two pronged spear. This way is adopted by vessels engaged in the turtle fisheries, but it can only be used in the case of green turtles, as it damages the shell.

Besides the green turtles and hawksbills, there is another species called the loggerhead, which is of no practical use at all. The flesh of both the latter species is considered valueless, but the natives manage to make substantial meals out of them all the same.

Most of the turtles taken are females, for it is the females only that come ashore for the purpose of laying their eggs, the males remaining usually in much deeper water. The female is easily distinguished from the male by her tail, which is so short as to be absolutely nominal, while his usually averages six or eight inches in length.—New York Sun.

The Camels of Texas.

In 1852 the United States government sent a small herd of camels into Texas with the idea of using them and their get to cross the so-called Great American Desert. The camels prospered and multiplied; but when the war came they were scattered through the state and in Arizona, and many of became wild. Railroads have solved the Great American Desert problem, and the camels have fallen into innocuous desuetude.—New York Sun.

Riding for Exercise.

Riding gives the whole system a shaking up and is therefore a first class exercise. It draws people out into the pure air and gives them something besides routine business and troubles of life to think about for the time being. Ride at a good, brisk pace and take a good rub down and a shower bath afterward and it is better than any medicine.—"J. A. McK." in Brooklyn Eagle.

There (at Cayenne) when a convict dies the body is borne to the sea and a great bell is tolled. And then is the viscous, glaucous sea surface furrowed suddenly by fins innumerable, swart, sharp, triangular—the legions of the sharks rushing to the hideous funeral. They know the bell!—Harper's.

Knowledge of Human Nature.

"And so your nice clergyman is going to be married, Mrs. Marigold! I hope you'll like his wife as well as you like him."

"Well, ma'am, I'm sure I hope so—but we generally find that when the gentleman is haffable, the lady's 'aughty!"—London Punch.

Chiefs as Top Spinners.

An independent state in the Malay Peninsula is Pahang. It has just been examined from the outskirts by some Englishmen, who report it capable of supporting a large poulation if the rulers would cease from spending their time chiefly in top spinning.—New York Sun.

The Ideal Battle Ship.

The ideal battle ship, according to Admiral Sir George Elliott, possesses qualifications ranking in this order: 1. Seaworthiness; 2. Guns and armor; 3. Handiness; 4. Coal endurance; 5. Speed 6. Light draught of water.—New York Sun.

On a Peace Footing.

At 260 yards the Lepel rifle would go through two men. The French arsenals have enough ammunition to supply each soldier with 2,500 cartridges.—New York Sun.

Better Than Soap.

It is asserted that, under certain conditions, the bark of the quilla tree of Chili possesses cleansing properties superior to those of the best soap.—Arkansaw Traveler.

It is generally understood that Lord Tennyson composes much of his poetry during his rural rambles.

To do so no more is the truest repentance.

MAKE HENS LAY

NOTHING ON EARTH WILL MAKE HENS LAY LIKE SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER

WE SEND BY MAIL A LARGE 2¼ POUND CAN FOR $1.20, TWO SMALL PACKS 50 CTS POST PAID.

Sheridan's Condition Powder

is absolutely pure and highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other kind. Strictly a medicine, to be given in the food, once daily, in small doses. Prevents and cures all diseases of hens. Worth its weight in gold when hens are moulting, and to keep them healthy. Testimonials sent free by mail. Ask your druggist, grocer, general store, or feed dealer for it. If you can't get it, send once to us. Take no other kind. We will send postpaid by mail as follows:—A new and elegantly illustrated copy of the "FARMERS' POULTRY RAISING" (with receipts showing how to make money with a few hens, and I hens small, 25c. Poultry and Guides, $1.00. Send a package of Powder for a sick hen! Send stamps or cash. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

My Poor Back!

That "poor back" is held responsible for more than its share of the sufferings of mankind. If your dog bites a man who offends you, do you blame the dog? On the same principle the kidneys utter their protest against nervous ills, impure blood, and resulting constipation. These force them to do extraordinary work in ridding the system of the poisons which are the result of effete matter retained in the blood. Then the sufferer says the back aches, the kidneys are diseased. "Not yet;" but they will be if careless the nerves are strengthened, the blood purified, and the constipation removed. These are the uses of kidney troubles, and Paine's Celery Compound effectually remove them quickly. With its tonic, purifying, and laxative effect it also strengthens the weak kidneys, making it almost impossible for coming diseases of the nerves and kidneys. If your hopes of cure have not been realized, try Paine's Celery Compound; it gives perfect health to all who use it. "Dose $1.00.

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Proprietors, BURLINGTON, VT.

POSITIVELY No Cure, No Pay!

CONSTITUTIONAL COUGH SYRUP

--- TRY IT! ---

The proprietor of this valuable remedy has such confidence in its curative powers that he makes the following:

Generous Offer!

Any person buying a bottle is given the privilege of returning it and receiving their MONEY BACK, if after using two-thirds of its contents they have derived no benefit from it.

PRICE 25 AND 50 CENTS

— SOLD BY —

David Kimball & Co., 36 Market Street.

S. Philbrick & Co.,

— MANUFACTURERS OF —

Marble and Granite Work

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

GRANITE POLISHING A SPECIALTY.

OFFICE AND WORKS,

No. 2 Water Street, Portsmouth

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Best and Purest Medicine EVER MADE.

It will strike the Humor from your system, and make your skin clean and smooth. Those Pimples and Blotches which mar your beauty are caused by impure Blood, and can be removed in short time, if you are wise and use the great blood purifier, SULPHUR BITTERS. Who suffers with Rheumatism? Who suffers with Neuralgia? Who suffers with Headache? Who suffers with Dyspepsia? Who suffers with Nervousness? Who suffers with Kidney Complaint? Who suffers with Liver Complaint? Who suffers with Blood Disease? Who suffers with Female Complaints? Who suffers with Chills and Fever? Who suffers with Boils, Blotches, Pimples? Who suffers with Ague? Who suffers with Sick Headache? Who suffers with Costiveness? Who suffers with Piles? Who suffers with Nervous Debility? Who suffers with Sleeplessness? Who suffers with Loss of Appetite? Who suffers with Mental Depression? Who suffers with Lack of Energy? Who suffers with Want of Strength? Who suffers with Want of Ambition? Who suffers with Want of Vitality? Who suffers with Want of Blood? Who suffers with Want of Flesh? Who suffers with Want of Sleep? Who suffers with Want of Rest? Who suffers with Want of Comfort? Who suffers with Want of Cheerfulness? Who suffers with Want of Good Spirits? Who suffers with Want of Good Health? Who suffers with Want of Good Nature? Who suffers with Want of Good Blood? Who suffers with Want of Good Flesh? Who suffers with Want of Good Sleep? Who suffers with Want of Good Rest? Who suffers with Want of Good Comfort? Who suffers with Want of Good

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

POST OFFICE RULES.

MAILS CLOSE

	A. M.		P. M.
Boston, N. Y., south, west,	8:00	10:30	2:20	4:50	6:45
Boston and way stations,		10:30	2:20		6:45
Portland,	9:25		4:50		6:45
Portland and way stations,	9:25		4:50
East [beyond Portland]	9:25				6:45
Great Falls, Rochester, Wolfeboro' Union Milton,	9:25				4:50
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,	9:25
Concord & Manchester,	7:40	10:20			4:50
Concord, Manchester and north,	7:40		4:50
Exeter and B. & M. way, west of Newmarket,	7:40		4:50
Dover,	9:25		2:20	4:50	6:45
North Conway,	9:25				6:45
York and Cape Neddick,		9:25
Newcastle,		10:20
Newington,		10:20
Boston, N. Y. and south, Sunday,					1:00

MAILS ARRIVE.

	A. M.		P. M.
Boston, south and west,	10:05	3:16	5:45	7:00	[9:00]
New York,	10:05		5:40	7:00
Boston and way stations,	10:05		5:40
Portland and east,	7:30	11:00	3:00
Great Falls, Rochester, Union, Milton,	8:30	11:00
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,		11:00
Concord, Manchester and north,		10:30		6:30
Dover,	7:20	10:30		3:00	5:40
Newcastle,		9:30
Newington,		9:30
York and Cape Neddick,		11:00
B. & M. R. R., west of Newmarket,		10:30		6:30

S. J. GERRISH, P. M.

PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Open Monday, Tuesday, Friday and Saturday evenings from 7:30 to 9:00 P. M., and Wednesday and Saturday afternoons from 3:00 to 6:00 o'clock

Weather Indications.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

Fair; slight rise in temperature, easterly winds.

MINATURE ALMANAC NOV. 22

SUN RISES.....6 45 | MOON RISES 7:21 P. M.
SUN SETS.....4:7 | HIGH SEA 1:30 A. M
LENGTH OF DAY.. 9 32 | FULL SEA 1:30 P. M

CORPORATION MEETING.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Portsmouth Brewing Co. was held at the office of the company on the afternoon of the 21st inst., and the following-named gentlemen elected directors for the ensuing year:

Arthur Harris of New York, P. Harrington of Manchester, George Scott, Mark A. Scott, George A. Mudge, George E. Hodgdon and Herman A. Tarlton of Portsmouth.

Subsequently Arthur Harris was re-elected president, George Scott vice president, Mark A. Scott treasurer, and Herman A. Tarlton clerk.

The meeting then adjourned to the new "Langdon" hotel, where the stockholders partook of the annual dinner.

OUR VISITORS.

Referring to the Republican celebration in this city, Foster's (Dover) Democrat says:

"From Greenland's icy mountains to Kittery, from Newington to Newcastle, in Portsmouth last night, tramped the Republican campaigners."

"They had to march or freeze."

"Talk about Greely's Arctic expedition, if the boys who went to Portsmouth last night are not entitled to a reception for escaping without being frozen, then no one is."

"Many of the Dover boys took the wrong train, and came back from Newburyport this morning."

"Was there a house in Portsmouth, Kittery or Newcastle not visited?"

"The man who laid out the march got blessed. Portsmouth, you are square with Dover."

The Republican says:

"The hot coffee and bountiful rations were highly appreciated at the end of the journey."

"It was a grand wind-up."

POLICE COURT—BATCHELDER J.

WEDNESDAY, Nov. 21st.

George Laskey, charged with being a common drunkard, was ordered to sober off at Brentwood for ninety days, and to pay $7.67 costs.

TOO SUCCESSFUL BY HALF.

Mr. Charles E. Gray, proprietor of Four Tree island, decorated and brilliantly lighted his buildings on the night of the 20th inst., in honor of the republican national vistory, and of the celebration that night; and from the position of the island, and the reflection of the lights in the water, the display was a very pretty one. Mr. Gray also thought he would fire a bang-up salute during the march of the procession, as he had a lot of dynamite cartridges left over from some blasting operations which he some time ago carried on upon several large boulders which formerly obstructed the approach of boats to the landing; and about the time for the procession to start he fired the first shot. The result was all that was expected, and a good deal more. The report was as loud as that made by one of the old-fashioned 32-pounder smoothbores, was heard all over the city, and so far the experiment was a grand success; but the concussion extinguished every light on the island at the same instant, and broke nineteen panes of glass in the windows of the house. Mr. Gray concluded to defer the remainder of the salute until a more convenient season.

PERSONAL.

—Mrs. Charlotte Haven Mason, of San Jose, Cal., is the guest of her sister, Miss Harriet H. Haven of Daniel street.

—Mr. S. Horace Jenness, who has been passing several weeks in New York, arrived in this city Wednesday.

—Paymaster Edwin Putnam, U. S. N., of this city, has been ordered to the Atlanta.

AFFAIRS IN KITTERY.

KITTERY, ME., Nov. 21st.

The fourth quarterly session of York District lodge, I. O. G. T., was held with Old York lodge at York on Wednesday last. There was a fair attendance, and would have been more had the York trains made better connections. There was a small delegation from the lodges in this town, who report the session as interesting. It was decided to hold the annual session, which comes in February next, with Whipple lodge at the Foreside.

Mr. D. M. Shapleigh commenced the winter term of school in district No. 3 on Monday last.

Mrs. Dennis Manson and daughter, Miss Lucy H. Manson, of Spruce Creek North Kittery, have been quite sick of late, but we are glad to say they are both now on the mending hand.

The fire on Monday afternoon in the Traipe block did considerable damage to the household goods of Mr. Ira Dunbar, and without any insurance makes quite a loss for him.

We correct the statement made last week that Mrs. Dr. Johnson of Boston had bought a lot of land at the Lower Foreside. She is from Washington, D. C., and has bought Preble's island, where she will have a summer residence. Another party has bought the lot of land at the Lower Foreside.

Two heifers about a year old came into the enclosure of Mrs. R. M. Fernald of North Kittery about the first of November. One of them is red, and the other a dark color. Mr. J. H. Spinney, who lives there, has advertised them, and tried to find the owner, but has failed up to date. He has taken good care of them.

Oscar E. Blaney, who is confined in the Maine state prison at Thomaston, is reported to be looking finely, and apparently is making the best of his lot. He is engaged in the bakery, and has charge of all the bread baked for the prisoners; and is said to be an expert at the art. The officials speak in praise of him.

We give the programme of the Christian Conference which will be held in the Second Christian church at the Foreside, commencing Thursday evening, the 22d:

Thursday evening, 7:00 o'clock, prayer meeting led by Rev. E. R. Phillips; 7:45, sermon by Rev. E. K. Amazeen.

Friday, 2:30, "Efficient Methods of Sunday School Instruction," opened by Rev. J. H. Rhodes; 7:00, prayer meeting, led by Rev. J. A. Hainer; 7:45, sermon by Rev. W. B. Flanders.

Saturday, 10:00 A. M., business session; 2:30 P. M., fellowship meeting, led by Rev. L. W. Phillips; 7:00, prayer meeting; 7:30, preaching by Rev. E. R. Phillips.

Sunday services, 9:30 A. M., prayer meeting, led by Bro. John Williams; 10:30, sermon by Rev. Harry J. Rhodes; 2:00 P. M., sermon by Rev. L. W. Phillips; 7:00, prayer meeting; 7:30, sermon by Rev. John A. Hainer. Rev. E. E. Colburn, supt. SUB ROSA.

KITTERY POINT, ME., Nov. 20th.

The schooner Flora Temple, owned and now commanded by Mr. Jesse E. Frisbee, left here recently with a load of apples for the eastern part of this state. Mr. Frisbee talks of bringing back a load of herring.

The schooner Triton, Capt. Wm. Amee, left Portsmouth bridge about four o'clock on a recent Wednesday afternoon for Boston, arrived there Thursday morning, hauled through seven bridges and half a mile of canal in the forenoon, discharged 61,900 bricks by 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, hauled down through the bridges that night, laid still Saturday, left anchorage Sunday morning at six o'clock, and at 12:15 P. M. passed Whale's-back lighthouse. Did well, cap'n; wish you always might have such luck.

The schools in district No. 5 have begun, Mr. Edward Shapleigh of North Kittery teaching the grammar school, and Miss Edith L. Amee the primary. The school in district No. 6 began on Monday, with Mr. Jefferson Lewis of North Kittery as teacher. UNCLE MOSES.

MATTERS IN YORK.

YORK, ME., Nov. 20th.

Wednesday was quite a day for accidents in this town.

Mrs. Wm. H. Chase was thrown from a carriage, and quite severely injured about the head and neck.

Mr. Orrin Trafton fell from a building, and was considerably shaken up, though no bones were broken.

A Mr. Knox of New York, who has been passing the season here and intended returning home on Thursday, was out for a drive when the horse became unmanageable, and Mr. Knox jumped from the carriage and struck on a barbed wire fence, cutting his head and neck badly.

All three of these were attended by Dr. Hazen.

The torch-light procession which was postponed from Thursday evening on account of the severe storm took place last Friday evening, and although the weather was drizzly and travelling bad, it was a perfect success. The mounted brigade of forty-six horses made a fine show. The broom brigade from the Union Bluff district, with various colored lanterns, also presented a very respectable appearance.

The line of march was from the town hall to Norwood farm, returning via Y. H. & B. R. R. station to the village again, thence by Jail hill to Sewall's bridge, thence to York Corner to Christian church, and return to town hall, where a collation was served. The South Berwick band furnished excellent music for the entire occasion. A salute was fired at Centre hill.

The majority of the houses on the entire march (as we are most all republicans in this part of the town, dontcherknow,) were handsomely decorated with lights, red fires, Chinese lanterns, etc. Even that democratic postmaster at York Corner (Plaisted) had his store illuminated!

All in all it was the boss racket for this town for lo! these many years. One old veteran, a rheumatic, marched the entire distance through mud and water, showing more courage, ardor and patriotism than judgment. P.

On the night of the Republican celebration a laughable transparency, filling the doorway at No. 5 Hanover street, was displayed by Mr. James H. Dow. The design was a gamecock, evidently in fighting trim and all ready for business, with the legend "This is the kind of a crow we believe in."

The Flying Yankee was half an hour late in arriving at this city on Tuesday evening, the 20th inst., owing to the breaking apart of the train between Eliot and Kittery Junction.

An exchange says: "A a minstrel entertainment Thatcher, Primrose & West's company grow better and more worthy of continuous patronage every season. It is evident there is a persistant and intelligent effort on the part of the managers to make such a show as they present the best that has ever been organized. As it now exists it is a combination that would have astonished the minstrel in the days of the Christys and John Bryant." At Music hall Saturday evening, Nov. 24th.

There were a number of loads of hay on the Parade from York and Kittery on Wednesday.

The thermometer stood at nine above zero at eleven o'clock Tuesday evening, the 20th inst., during the march of the republican procession, and a stiff northwest wind was blowing, at the same time. No wonder the marchers dropped out of the ranks, and the noses of those in the carriages looked blue. The members of the Independent Democratic club stuck to their barge about as well as any of the paraders.

W. S. Cleveland, proprietor of the Haverly Minstrels, is proud of the Japanese wing of his enterprise, and never wearies of watching and admiring the antipodean antics of the Orientalists. Norcross, the interlocutor of the company, also takes great stock in the Japs, and the other day remarked (while watching one of the most skillful at practice) in his down-in-his-boots-basso-profundo: "That fellow's got a wonderful balance, Mr. Cleveland!" "No he hasn't," returned the manager, the matter of finances popping up in his mind; "he has no balance; his salary is overdrawn."

Wm. S. Pierce of Great Falls and E. L. Guptill of Berwick, Me., have formed a partnership for the practice of law, and will open an office in the Peirce block on Market square in this city, in the office of Sheriff Coffin. Mr. Pierce is senior member of the law firm of W. S. & D. Pierce of Great Falls, and Mr. Guptill, who recently passed a highly creditable examination for admission to the bar at Alfred, Me., has read law with them. The office at Great Falls will be continued and connected by telephone with the office in this city.

The friends of Col. William O. Sides, M. Wentworth Ayers, John H. Locke, John H. Hutchinson and Col. John Pender are pressing the names of their respective candidates for postmaster.

The Unitarians will have a sale of fancy articles and refreshments at their chapel on Court street this (Thursday) evening. Supper will be served at six o'clock; all are cordially invited.

One of the most effective illuminations on the night of the Republican celebration was that of the residence of Capt. John Stewart, near the Newcastle toll gate. It consisted of festoons of Chinese lanterns, which spanned the street from tops of high poles, and a magnificent display of colored lights. The reflection in the water produced a gorgeous effect.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE, just published, contains the full report of the Palmer trial, (twelve columns,) of the celebration, and all the general news of the past week.

Thacher's Elixir Calisaya and Iron is the best tonic and blood purifier.

Bromo Caffeine at Globe Grocery Co.

The visiting silversmiths of Newburyport, who appeared here in the republican procession on the night of the 20th inst., were a credit to our neighbor city, which cannot be said of some of the Mother Hubbards of the same place, whose manners, as displayed on that occasion, need a prolonged rest.

The agent of the Metropolitan Life Ins. Co. was in this city on the 21st inst., to pay a claim on the death of Ella F. Cronin, child of Mrs. Kate Cronin.

Col. Thos. E. O. Marvin, Col. Wm. H. Sise and Michael E. Long were the committee having the charge of the Republican salute of 100 guns on Tuesday evening last, which was heard clearly at Newburyport, eighteen miles away in an air line.

L. A. Hyatt of Suncook is an example of the Democratic betting man who has had no imitator in this city so far as we have heard, for the losers of election bets here have all paid them without any "squealing." Mr. Hyatt bet $500 on Cleveland, tried to bet $500 more, and claimed he had brow-beaten the town, but since election has had a writ served to prevent the payment of the money.

As a purifier, Ayer's Sarsaparilla acts directly and promptly. A single bottle will prove its merits. Many thousands of people are yearly saved from dangerous fevers by the exercise of a little timely care in cleansing the system by the use of this remedy.

The latest story is of the small boy who refused to eat soup at dinner "because Grover's in it."

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity trength and wholesomeness. More economical han the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in ompetition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO. 106 Wall Street, New York.

New Store. New Goods.

JOHN S. RAND,

No. 11 Market Street.

Would respectfully announce that he will resume business on

Wednesday Next, Nov. 21st,

His store having been remodelled and refitted, making it one of the most attractive and best lighted in the city. In addition to his former stock he has added a large assortment of

FALL & WINTER

Dry and Fancy Goods!

purchased with a desire to suit the wants of customers, and which will be offered at prices that cannot fail to please.

Our present space enables us to add materially to our variety, and we shall therefore keep a good assortment of which will be sold at the lowest prices. Thanking friends and the public for their former patronage we would most respectfully solicit a continuance of the same.

Ladies' Small Wares

JOHN S. RAND,

11 MARKET STREET.

NEW JEWELRY

AND

SILVER GOODS

AT

HUTCHINSON'S.

USE NETTEZZA!

FOR THE TEETH.

PREPARED BY E. C BLAISDELL, D. M. D.

Price 25 Cents.

FOR SALE BY

A. P. PRESTON, D. KIMBALL & CO., W. D. GRACE, F. B. COLEMAN AND BENJ. GREEN.

A LARGE LOT OF LEAF SAGE Just Received and for sale by the Pound or less

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Sold only in cans, full weight.

CLEVELAND BROTHERS, ALBANY, N. Y.

MUSIC HALL.

ONE NIGHT ONLY

Wednesday, Nov. 28th.

SPECIAL ENGAGEMENT!

Arthur Rehan's Co. of Comedians

IN THE COMEDY SUCCESS

NANCY & CO.!

From Daly's Theatre, New York.

An Evening of Delightful Comedy and Undeclayed Merriment.

Prices, 35, 50, 75 Cents, and $1.00.

Seats on Sale Monday, Nov. 26th, at Goodrich's.

Scissors

AND

Pocket Knives.

PRYOR & MATTHEWS,

16 Market St.

Colored Fire

FOR

CELEBRATION

NOV. 19, 1888,

AT

BENJ. GREEN'S,

APOTHECARY,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

J. L.

Thanksgiving, '88.

500 lbs. Layer Figs.
2,000 lbs. Malaga Grapes.
100 boxes Fancy New Raisins.
500 lbs. New Citron.
500 lbs. New Currants.
50 doz. boxes New Sardines.
New Nuts of all Kinds.
New Cider. Bottled Cider. Wines, etc.

The largest and best stock in the city.

JOHN LAIGHTON,

No. 1 Market Square.

MUSIC HALL.

Saturday Evening, Nov. 25th.

THATCHER, PRIMROSE & WEST'S

MILLIONAIRE MINSTRELS

Under the management of D. W. TRUSS.

"It is doubtful if their equals ever existed."—New York Herald. "Take it for all in all we shall not look upon its like again."—Detroit Free Press. "Always the leaders, they have this season surpassed all previous efforts."—Chicago Tribune.

Unique, Brilliant, Costly Shakesperean FIRST PART. William H. West as Romeo. The following noted characters of Shakesperean drama: Touchstone, Dromios of Ephesus, Dromios of Syracuse, Romeo, Sir John Falstaff, Macbeth, King John, Othello, Benedict, Malvolio, Mercutio, Hotspur, Timon of Athens, Julius Cæsar, Hamlet, and Heralds of the Fourteenth Century.

GEO. THATCHER, Entirely New Monologue. GEO. H. PRIMROSE'S "English Swell."

The Greatest of All European Wonders, the BROTHERS BRYNE.

THE CLIPPER QUARTETTE, Barney Fagan's $5000 Challenge Grand Review.

Johnson, Powers and LeMack's Original Sketch OUR BALLADISTS. Frederick Oakland, Al Hart, J. P. Curran, W. Henry Whyte, Julian Jordan, Jas. Dalton.

NEW FEATURES THOUGHOUT.

Prices: 35, 50 and 75 cents. Seats on sale Wednesday, Nov. 21st, at Goodrich's.

BOOK BINDING

Of Every Desciption,

DONE AT

NO. 5 CONGRESS STREET,

(OVER FAYS STORE.)

Magazines and other Periodicals Bound in Styles to Suit Patrons; Especial Attention given to

REBINDING OLD BOOKS!

For Libraries or Individuals; in short, any work of the kind promptly attended to, and satisfaction guaranteed. Prices reasonable.

FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

RED FIRE!

QUALITY GUARANTEED.

ANDREW P. PRESTON,

Apothecary, - Portsmouth, N. H.

Marigold Ointment!

Remember is Warranted for External Piles, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Nettle Rash, Hives, and all Diseases of the Skin and Scalp, Old Sores, Chilblains, Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Chapped Hands, Cold Sores, Cracks in Hands and Lips, Ingrowing Nails, Inflamed Joints, and everything else for which an Ointment is required.

Call for Circular and Sample Box Free.

SOLE AGENT FOR ROCKINGHAM COUNTY

William D. Grace, - - - Apothecary.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE BEST BONDS ARE POLICIES

IN THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York

THE LARGEST, CHEAPEST AND BEST IN THE WORLD.

Assets - - over $120,000,000.

RICHARD A. MCCURDY, - PRESIDENT.

PROTECTION FOR THE AGED!

At Age of 75 $1000 will purchase an Annuity of $159.06, and other ages in proportion.

Those Desiring Reliable Insurance Should Apply to the Undersigned,

C. M. GIGNOUX, - - GENERAL AGENT,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

FALL AND WINTER OF 1888-89.

Our Assortment of Tailoring Goods is superior in many respect to any of previous years, embracing a Full Line of Goods suitable for

Fall and Winter Overcoatings.

Aslo, a Fine Assortment of the Best

IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC GOODS FOR SUITINGS,

Consisting of Stripes, Checks, Plain and Fancy Woollens and Worsteds in Great Variety.

CHECKS AND STRIPES FOR TROWSERS.

FANCY PATTERNS FOR VESTING.

Prices Reasonable for Fine Work.

WM. P. WALKER, - - MERCHANT TAILOR,

NO. 8 MARKET SQUARE.

A PERFECT BLEND

MOCHA AND JAVA COFFEE

FULL WEIGHT, 2 POUND CANS, PRICE 70 CENTS

CHARLES E. LAICHTON & SON,

THE OLDEST AND ONLY Republican Morning Paper IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

IF YOU WANT TO BUY OR SELL ANYTHING ADVERTISE IN THE Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 24, 1852.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., FRIDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 23, 1888.

$6 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE. TWO CENTS PER COPY.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

The News!

ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES.

"Don't Give Up The Ship."

Special Despatch to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22.—The Navy Department is considering the advisability of transferring to the Washington Navy Yark the U. S. S. Constitution, Receiving Ship at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, to be used here as a floating Naval Museum. The proposition under contemplation is to mount a gun of each type and calibre on carriages of the various patterns used since the existence of the Republic, and also to have life-sized figures clothed in the uniforms which have been worn from time to time. If the project is carried out an officer of the ordnance bureau will be detailed to look after the guns, and to explain them to the thousands of visitors, and an officer of the bureau of provisions and clothing to see that the figures are clad in a representative manner.

The National Sabbath Union Convention.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—The National Sabbath Union held a meeting here this morning, and decided to hold a national convention in the interest of Sabbath observances at Washington, Dec. 11th to 13th. Themes to be presented by eminent men are: "The Sunday Rest bill of the Senate;" "The Sabbath as related to civil liberty;" "The Sabbath and the foreign populations;" "The Sabbath in relation to the labor problem;" "The Sabbath and the press;" "The Sabbath and the church." Chief Arthur of the Locomotive Engineers, General Master Workman Powderly of the Knights of Labor, and Senators Blain and Colquitt, have been invited to make addresses.

Caught in the Act.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LANCASTER, N. H., Nov. 22d.—Last night one of the National Bank clerks went into the postoffice and opened the lock box and sorted over 30 or 40 letters, putting them back in the box which he closed. The operation was witnessed by a Frenchman nrmed Henry Woods, who thinking the letters contained money pried upon the box door with a pocket knife, and took the letters and left without being noticed. The letters did not contain money, but a number of checks, one of which signed by Hon. David H. Beattie, he endorsed and attempted to get cashed at the bank this morning. He was detected and arrested. U. S. Marshall Baker, of Lebanon, and a postoffice inspector are expected tonight to take charge of the matter.

Legal Appeal for Justice in Virginia.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22.—As a result of the recent conference between Gen. Mahone and Senator Quay, it is announced that proceedings will be begun in Virginia State Courts and United States District Court for Virginia, attacking the right of Democratic electors of that State to cast votes for President in electoral college.

Failure of Ice Dealers.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22d.—Despatches from Norfolk, Va., say that Rawlings, Whitehurst & Co., ice dealers, have assigned. The Haynee and Dewitt Ice Company of Augusta, Me., is said to have a one-third interest in the concern, and James G. Blaine was currently reported to have an interest in the Haynes and Dewitt Company, through his son Emmons.

Was He The Braintree Fiend?

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

AUGUSTA, ME., Nov. 22.—Five men applied at the Augusta police station, Tuesday night, for lodgings, and were sent to jail next morning for vagrancy. In most respects except height, one who gives the name of James Price tallies with the description of the Braintree murderer. He says he hails from Springfield, was in Lynn on election day, and from there came to Waterville, Me. He claims to be a tramp cobbler. Massachusetts officers have been notified, and Emery of the Massachusetts district police arrived on the evening train. He declared the prisoner was not Thompson, though bearing a close resemblance.

A Family Killed on the Rail.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WELLINGTON, KANSAS, Nov. 22d.—Last evening, Levi Meeker, wife and eight years old daughter, who lived in Oxford, were killed by a train on the Southern Kansas railroad.

Government Asked to Detain a British Steamer.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—British steamship Samaria, for the detention of which the Haytian consul yesterday asked Collector Magone, on the the ground that she had contraband goods on board, sailed for Hayti to-day. The Haytian consul to-day told a reporter that he had positive information that the brig Mary C. Dana was at City island with contraband goods on board ready to transfer them to the Samaria outside of Sandy Hook. The Dana is the vessel which a week ago arrived at Boston and reported while off Hayti, that she was boarded 3 times by a Haytien man of war which insisted on inspecting her papers. They were found all right and the man-of-war permitted the Dana to resume her voyage.

The Base Ball Solons.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The committee on rules decided to restore the error column to the summaries; also decided that sacrifice hits be placed in the stolen base column.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The most sensational feature of to-day's session of the national league gathering was the arrival of A. G. Christie, manager of the Young Americans, the leading amateur club of Philadelphia, representing a syndicate willing to give $50,000 for the Philadelphia league club. Al Reach said they would sell if they could get their price, but it would take over $200,000.

The committee on revision of rules met and ratified the amendments and classifications for the season of 1889. These amendments provide that all contracts between clubs and players shall be executed by the secretary of the league; that compensations shall be limited by classification, to which such players may be assigned by the secretary of the league after the termination of the championship season as follows:

Class A, Compensations $2500,
Class B, $2250,
Class C, $2000,
Class D, $1750,
Class E, (maximum compensation) $1500. This section does not prohibit the payment of extra compensation for services of one person to each club as fixed by the captain or team manager.

Odd Fellows Lay Corner Stone.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 22.—The corner stone of the new Odd Fellows building was laid with appropriate ceremonies this afternoon.

The Congregational church at Penacook was rededicated with interesting exercises this afternoon.

Counting New Hampshire's Vote.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 22d. — The governor and council met today to canvass the returns for presidential electors. There will be no change from result already announced. The law of the state providing for the meeting of the electors being in conflict with U. S. law as regards the date, the matter was fully discussed. The preponderance of opinion was in favor of considering the state law void, as the electors would be obliged to meet at the time designated by the United States statute. It was suggested they could overcome the difficulty by meeting on both days, and they will probably do so.

Serious Panic in a Large Retail Store. A Large Number Of Persons Injured.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 22.—A man on the top floor of the Boston store was caught in the act of stealing a purse today and a foolish salesman yelled "fire." A panic was precipitated, the place being jammed with shoppers, mostly ladies. On the five floors were probably not less than a thousand human beings, packed tightly together. The floor walker turned in an alarm of fire, which frightened the women and children, and the shop girls made a rush for the stair-ways which were soon jammed, and some of the weaker began to go down; some more cool-headed endeavored to stop the panic, but before they succeeded a number of people were seriously hurt. Many more were nearly dead from fright.

A York County Suspect Arrested.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

BIDDEFORD, ME., Nov. 22.—Biddeford officers have under arrest a fellow whom they suspect as being implicated in the recent burglaries in York county. He has been about here two days, stopping at George Green's in Saco. He gives his name as Bob Tale, of Boston, and says he is a brother of Billy Tate, who was connected with the recent Brattle street burglaries in Boston. He denies having been in Maine before Tuesday night, and claims to know nothing of the burglaries here. Baggage master Mayberry, at Old Orchard, identifies the prisoner as one of the men who were seen at Old Orchard, the night the post-office safe was robbed. Inspector Howard, of Boston, was here tonight, and recognized the fellow as Bob Tate. City Marshal Chadbourne will hold the prisoner till all obtainable evidence can be procured against him. [Mr. Geo. T. Fogg, the expert night operator for the Western Union line in Portsmouth, has been summoned to identify the prisoner.]

Schooner Launched at Bath.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

BATH, ME., Nov. 22.—There was launched this afternoon by Kelly & Spear the schooner Frank S. Warren, 568 tons, owned by the builders and Biddeford parties. Capt. Nathaniel Falker, of Saco, is to command her.

An Esteemed Citizen Found Dead.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WINTHROP, ME., Nov. 22.—Nelson Packard, aged about eighty-six, was found dead today. He was a resident of Winthrop many years, was well and favorably known, and highly esteemed as an excellent citizen.

Annual Report of the Treasurer of the United States.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22.—United States treasurer Hyatt's annual report gives the net revenue of the government for the last fiscal year as $379,266,074, net expenditures $267,924,801; surplus available for reduction of the public debt, $111,341,273, an increase of $7,870,175 over the year before.

They Sail the Seas Over To-day.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22.—Lord Sackville and the Misses Sackville-West will leave Washington Friday next for New York, and on the following day will sail for Havre in LaBourgegne, the vessel which will take Mr. Chamberlin and bride to France.

Death of a Veteran.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 22.—Major Lyman Bissell, U. S. A., retired, died tonight of fatty degeneration of the heart, in his 75th year. He served in the Mexican war, as a lieutenant in the ninth U. S. Infantry. In 1855 he was stationed in Oregon during the Indian disturbance, and was surgeon of the fifth Connecticut volunteers during the rebellion. He was in Libby prison twice as a prisoner.

A Stone Fell Into a Pit and Killed Him.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

BANGOR, ME, Nov. 22.—A man named Englestrom, a Swede, employed in a slate quarry at Monson, was instantly killed today by a stone falling into the pit and striking him on the head. He had been married but two months.

New Principal for the Maine Normal School.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

AUGUSTA, ME., Nov. 22.—A. F. Richardson, principal of the Freyeburg academy, was elected principal of the Eastern State Normal school at Castine this afternoon. He will accept.

Honoring Warner Miller.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—A reception was given to Hon. Warner Miller by the Union League club, tonight. The address of welcome was made by Chauncey M. Depew. A collation followed.

They Escaped From the Waiting Lobsters.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

PORTLAND, Nov. 22. — This evening the lobster schooner Nellie Florence was capsized off Cape Elizabeth by a squall, and sunk. The crew of five men escaped in a dory. The schooner was owned by W. T. Studley and J. A. Fowler, et. als, of Portland.

But It's of no Use to Grover.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 22.—The official count gives Cleveland 13,118 plurality in this state.

Michigan Makes It 22,966.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

DETROIT, MICH, Nov. 22.—The official canvass of Michigan gives Harrison a plurality of 22,966.

Searching for the Braintree Murderer.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

BANGOR, ME, Nov. 22.—Two detectives from Boston passed through here tonight on their way to the Provinces in search of the Braintree murderer. Seeing that a trunk answering the description of the one supposed to belong to the murderer, was checked through here Monday, it is said that the man at the station can identify the person who checked it.

A Belt for a Belter.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Jack McAuliffe, light-weight champion, was tendered a reception by three hundred sporting men tonight and was presented with a diamond belt in behalf of Richard K. Fox, as a token of his achievements and evidence of championship.

FOREIGN.

Important Testimony Before the Parnell Commisson.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—The examination of witnesses from County Kerry was continued at the sitting of the Parnell commission to-day. Leonard, the agent of the estates of the Earl of Kenmare, said the league was as active as ever. He thoroughly disagreed with the statements of Balfour that the league was a thing of the past. In this part of Kerry the fight the league was making was at its hottest. Its plan of campaign was all powerful. Formerly a writ could be executed by the sheriff with the aid of four policemen: now, 400 soldiers were required. Members of the league met every Sunday after mass, to arrange the week's progress of rent resistance and intimidation. This resistance came from well-to-do people. Until the year 1881 tenants had been friendly, but after the league was formed they scoffed at him, his landlord. The witness admitted that in 1880 it was necessary to give the tenants assistance, as some were blue with hunger. There were 2,000 tenants on the Kenmare estates, 200 of whom, though very poor, always tried to pay their rents. Since 1850, the Earl of Kenmare had expended £173,000 in the improvement of his estates. His bill for labor now amounts to £300 weekly. Only such rent was taken from the poor tenants as they could afford to give. The witness did not try to collect rent from persons blue with hunger. The law was never enforced against tenants of that class.

Edward Harrington refuses to pay the fine of £500 which the court imposed for contempt, and intends to question the right of the commission to enforce it.

A Proposed Canadian-Australian Cable.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—At a conference of influential Australians and Canadians today, the question of laying a cable from Vancouver to Australia, to touch at Hawaii, Fanning Island, Samoa, Fiji and New Zealand was approved, and it was voted to urge the Imperial Government to support the project.

Will They Make a Martyr of Boulanger?

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

PARIS, Nov. 22.—It is rumored in Boulangist circles that the government intends to expel Boulanger, also to charge him with conspiring to overthrow the existing regime.

Fishermen Drowned.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 22.—Michael McDonald, of Whitehaven, and two sons were drowned while fishing off Canseau today.

He Is Coming.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LONDON, Nov. 22. — James Russell Lowell is a passenger on the steamer Pavonia, which sailed from Liverpool yesterday for Boston.

Parnell On The Purchase Bill.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle

LONDON, ENGLAND, Nov. 22.—The debate on the land purchase bill was resumed in the House of Commons tonight by Parnell. He declared emphatically that he approved of the bill, but believed it so designed that under present circumstances it would be impossible to put it into effective operation. His own bill simply asked that church tenants be allowed to acquire land by paying the church a commission annually for 49 years rent equal to four per cent on the capitalized value of holdings. That would have created no risk to the Imperial exchequer. Conservatives opposed that proposal, but the time would come when they would find it needful to go further. The Irish party were always ready and eager to assist in the settlement of the land question. In was calumny to say any one of their members tried to make political capital out of the question or opposed the bill because it would make the Government of Ireland easier. (Cheers.)

Lord Randolph Churchill said he trusted but the Government would bring up the arrears question early in the future. The financial operation of the present bill certainly was not good enough security for advances, was totally insufficient, and it would never do to make the state immediate landlord of the Irish tenantry. The present measure would not apply to more than 25,000 holdings. It was not likely to be a danger to the state, and would not, probably could not, be safely extended. (Hear! Hear!) The bill passed to its second reading, 299 to 224.

Furnaces, Ranges & Stoves.

We are now ready to show the Finest Line of

RANGES AND PARLOR STOVES

Ever offered in this city, at Prices within the reach of all. Call and See Them Before Buying, it will Pay You.

LAMPS! LAMPS!

Our Stock of Lamps is Complete, the

Lux Dux, Rochester, Banner, Duplex,

All First-Class, and will be Sold at the Lowest Prices.

PLUMBING, GAS PIPING, COPPER AND SHEET IRONWORK, AT

John P. Sweetser's,

46 MARKET STREET.

NEW JEWELRY — AND — SILVER GOODS — AT — HUTCHINSON'S.

USE NETTEZZA!

FOR THE TEETH.

PREPARED BY E. C BLAISDELL, D. M. D.

Price 25 Cents.

— FOR SALE BY —

A. P. PRESTON, D. KIMBALL & CO., W. D. GRACE, F. B. COLEMAN AND BENJ. GREEN.

Now is the Time to Look Over Your Wardrobe and See What You Need for Winter, and

SIMPSON'S CORNER STORE

Is the place where you can find everything you need in Gentlemen's Wear, at Remarkably Low Prices, for Cash.

— WE HAVE A FULL LINE OF —

OVERCOATS!

Ranging in Prices from $5 to $25.

— A NEW LOT OF —

ULSTERS!

From $6 to $20.

— A FINE ASSORTMENT OF —

FURNISHING GOODS.

Headquarters for OIL and RUBBER CLOTHING, Wholesale and Retail.

Come and See for Yourselves at the Old Stand,

Corner Market and Bow Streets,

CHARLES E. SIMPSON.

"1888" OPENING OF "1888"

FALL AND WINTER DRY GOODS

At the Well-Known Store,

NOS. 30 and 32 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH.

Ayers & Locke, Proprietors,

Can be found the Largest Assortment of

SEASONABLE DRY GOODS MERCHANDISE.

LARGEST ASSORTMENT OF OUTSIDE GARMENTS.

For Ladies, Misses and Children,

New Goods of this Season's Manufacture.

All are Invited to Examine

OUR STOCK OF CLOAKS!

Before Purchasing Elsewhere.

Silk and Gloria RAIN UMBRELLAS! Ladies' Gossamers.

THE F. P. ROBINSON CO. BLACK STOCKINGS.

"CLEANFAST" NONE ARE GENUINE WITHOUT THIS TRADE MARK ON EACH PAIR

Mohair and Gingham RAIN UMBRELLAS! Children's Gossamers.

Largest Assortment of Dress Goods in Portsmouth.

In fact, the Best Assortment in their Line of everything pertaining to a

FIRST-CLASS STOCK OF DRY GOODS.

NEW CARPETS! NEW CARPETS!

HOUSEKEEPING GOODS! &C.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS IN OUR UNDEWEARR DEPARTMENT,

Small Wares, Trimmings, Ribbons, Gloves.

Yarns, Knitting Silks, &c.

Corsets, Bustles, &c.

Largest Assortment of Fall and Winter Skirts in all the Desirable Fabrics

Which they are desirous of exchanging for Cash on a basis for cash that will compare favorably with Boston and New York prices.

AYERS & LOCKE.

Insurance Notice.

THE OLD INSURANCE AGENCY, AT THE OLD STAND,

No. 13 Pleasant Street, PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

JOSEPH P. MORSE,

25 CORDS DRY PINE LIMBS!

At $3.50 Per Cord.

The Very Best of Fuel at a Low Price.

O. F. PHILBRICK & CO., COAL AND WOOD DEALERS, 4 Water Street.

WOOD AND COAL!

A Good Assortment of all kinds of Wood and Coal.

Kindling Wood Split to Order.

— ALSO —

Akron Drain and Sewer Pipe.

NO. 13 GREEN STREET,

DANIEL LITTLEFIEL

Look in at Conn's — AND SEE THE — BUTTER!

From the very best Dairies in Vermont and New York. Creameries are of no account compared with these Dairies. Also,

Cheese Pork, Lard, Hams, Beans Etc

No Glue or Second-Hand Stuff kept.

The very best quality of LARD bought by the car load, which I am selling less than the Boston prices.

COMFORT — FOR — COLD AND TENDER FEET!

Persons troubled with cold or tender feet will find warmth and ease in the use of

DOLGE'S ALL WOOL FELT Slipners and Shoes

For which the undersigned is agent in this City and Vicinity.

--- AT THE STORE ---

No. 34 Market Street

Can be found a Full Line of these Goods, in many patterns of Slippers, Shoes and Boots, and several colors, for house, office or street wear,

Of Men and Boys, Women and Girls.

Please examine our Stock.

J. C. CARR.

JOHN H. BROUHTON,

No. 63 Daniel St., Portsmouth, N. H.

— DEALER IN —

EASTERN AND WESTERN LUMBER!

Shingles, Clapboards and Laths.

— ALSO —

Best Newark Hydraulic Cement, Best Extra and No. 1 Lime

FOR SALE AT LOWEST PRICES.

To Let.

THE middle Tenement, No. 23, in the Kenney Block on Pleasant Street. Apply to J. P. HART

The Portsmouth Daily Chronicle,

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 2, 1862.

Published every morning, (except Sunday, at No. 7 Exchange Building, Pleasant Street.

By mail, postage prepaid, $5 a year. Single Copies, Two Cents.

THE CHRONICLE is served to subscribers in Portsmouth, Kittery, Dover, Rochester and Farmington at 50 Cents per month, hours in advance of any other paper containing the Associated Press Despatches.

The New Hampshire Gazette,

ESTABLISHED OCT. 7, 1756.

The Oldest Newspaper in America. Published every Thursday.

Terms, $1.50 a year in advance.

[Entered at the Post Office at Portsmouth as second class matter.]

W. SCOTT SMITH,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

Rates of advertising made known on application.

Agents for the Daily Chronicle:

MOSES BROS.....PORTSMOUTH.
ROBERTS & AVERY.....FARMINGTON
WORCESTER & GREENFIELD..ROCHESTER
BROWNE BROS.....DOVER.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

FRIDAY, NOV. 23, 1888.

A Word of Advice.

In a recent conversation Gen. Harrison is quoted as saying that he deprecated the activity of a class of republicans who could not wait until the official votes were counted before entering upon the work of securing endorsements and recommendations on petitions asking for their appointment to this or that public office. While it was desirable that at the proper time the wishes of the republicans of the several sections of the country should be known regarding the filling of the federal offices, the president-elect did not approve of undue haste, and intimated pretty plainly that he should not regard with favor the candidates who by their zeal showed that their support of the party was due solely to a desire to obtain offices.

We think Gen. Harrison has struck the right key if he is correctly reported, and as a republican newspaper with only the good of the party at heart and with no favors to ask, the CHRONICLE cannot but regard the scramble now going on for offices, nearly four months prior to the inauguration of Gen. Harrison as disgraceful in the extreme. If the republicans of New Hampshire and of Portsmouth in particular want to stand in good favor with Gen. Harrison and the in-coming administration, we can assure them they are not taking the proper course to accomplish that end. It is an open secret that the party in this section of the state has been and is now in a disorganized condition, and that during the late campaign it simply drifted along without any leadership. This is not as it should be, and we cannot understand how so-called republican leaders can have the effrontery to go to Washington with petitions for offices in their pockets while the party at home is all at sea. If they do we hope to see Gen. Harrison give them all appointments to go to Alaska and there to remain until the end of his administration. But there is one way by which this unseemly scramble can be effectively stopped, and that is for all republicans who look only to the good of the party to refuse to sign at this time any petitions looking for appointments to office under the next administration. This is advice which we earnestly press home to our republican readers. There will be few who sign such petitions now, who will not in our judgment have occasion to regret committing themselves before any of the federal offices here can possibly be filled. The time has not yet arrived when it is desirable to press the candidacy of any person, and it is political wisdom on the part of good republicans to abstain from committing themselves until such occasion arises. Stop all this talk about who shall fill this or that office, and let the republicans come together with a thought only for the continued success of the party and effect a thoroughly aggressive organization. They can then go to Washington next March or April with clean hands and clear consciences of having done their full duty, and present their requests to President Harrison. What say you, gentlemen?

Cleveland's Free-Trade Message.

The Washington correspondent of the New York World gives what he alleges is the inside history of President Cleveland's famous—and to him fatal—free trade message. The correspondent says it was the production of Manton Marble, formerly managing editor of the World, and that Henry Watterson, inventor of the star-eyed goddess of reform, joined with Mr. Marble in urging that it be submitted to Congress and made the main issue of the campaign of 1888. The cabinet officials all agreed to the wisdom of this, excepting Mr. Whitney, and it was owing to his earnest protest that some very important modifications were made in the message as practically drawn up by Mr. Marble. This, if true, shows that Mr. Whitney would have been much more of a success as a confidential adviser of the president than he has been as secretary of the navy.

A Certain

The telegraphic returns, the morning after the late election, reported that "Smith, democratic and labor candidate for Congress, has undoubtedly defeated Van Schaick, republican, in the fourth (Milwaukee) district of Wisconsin," and that the republican plurality in the state would be about 15,000. Mr. W. A. Nowell of Milwaukee, formerly of this city and of course a subscriber to our paper, writes us that "Van Schaick, republican, was elected to Congress in the Milwaukee district by 1530 majority, over a combination which two years ago was 12,000 against us. The writer had personal charge of his campaign this fall, and feels just as good over it as Old Van himself. Wisconsin gave 22,000 plurality for Harrison; Milwaukee county, 4,200 plurality. I rather enjoy living in a 'doubtful' state."

While the President and Mrs. Cleveland are at their country home, "Oak View,"—a few miles outside of Washington, reflecting upon the verdict of the American people, we think the former will recall vividly a scene which occurred in the White House a week before the election. A delegation of the locomotive engineers, the association of which was holding its annual meeting in Washington, called upon the President to pay their respects. As they passed by the President greeted each with a shake of the hand. One stalwart engineer gave the President's hand such a grip that he winced, but recovering himself exclaimed "That's a good shake!" "Ah! Mr. Cleveland," replied the engineer, "It's not half as good a shake as the people will give you next Tuesday." And they shook him.

A special despatch to the CHRONICLE from Washington says the authorities are seriously considering the advisability of transferring the old and famous frigate Constitution, now at the Navy Yard here, to Washington to be used as a Naval Museum. We hope this will not be done. Why should this old battleship, with all the memories of the heroic past which cluster around her, be taken from here at all? If she is destined to become a floating museum why not let her remain here. The National Government is giving away its old war ships to the several states for training and school ships, and what good reason exists why the Constitution should not be given to the State of New Hampshire. If the Government will fit her up as a museum, all the better, providing she remains here.

Lord Sackville, late British minister at Washington, having no further use for his household effects in his residence at Washington, has had the same sold at auction, and the scramble among "society" people there to get possession of some article made sacred by the ownership of My Lord, has been ludicrous in the extreme. Some of the papers call it disgraceful, and humiliating to the American people; but we cannot see that it is especially wrong, however silly it may be, for these Anglo-maniacs to hug to their bosoms old worn-out tin pans for the reason that they have been used in a British aristocrat's kitchen, nor can sixty millions of people be very seriously humiliated by the absurd antics of a few feeble-minded persons.

WE TAKE OUR HAT.

The purchase of the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle and the weekly New Hampshire Gazette of that city by W. Scott Smith of Washington, so long the Traveller's special correspondent at the national capital, is a notable event in New Hampshire journalism. Mr. Smith will bring to these two papers—the Gazette claiming the honor of being the oldest newspaper in the United States—the qualities of a trained journalist, and having an Associated Press franchise will make the Chronicle a first-class morning paper. It need not be said that it will be thoroughly republican in politics, and as the only republican morning paper in the State will become a marked power in Granite State politics. Mr. Smith deserves and will achieve success in his new venture.—Boston Traveller, 22nd.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

The three-story (above the grade floor)

BRICK STORE BUILDING

NO. 18 BOW STREET,

Running back over the wharf to the river, occupied for a long time by the late Charles Robinson as a wholesale corn and flour store. Sold to close up an estate. Enquire of

J. P. MORSE, Real Estate Broker.

SEND FOR

Miller's Gamecock,

THE KING OF ALL WHISKIES.

JOHN MILLER & CO.,

298 and 300 Hanover St., Boston,

Sole Proprietors.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST.

coltdec15

EAT QUAKER MILLS ROLLED WHITE OATS FOR BREAKFAST.

TRADE MARK.

SOLD BY ALL GROCERS.

Quaker Mill Co., Ravenna, Ohio.

There is a money subject in the air that every one wants to know about.

How it is that eastern people are sending their money west to be lent to strangers by strangers.

The long and short of it is to be got from a primer published as an advertisement by the Kansas City Investment Company.

THE KANSAS CITY INVESTMENT COMPANY, Kansas City, Missouri; or Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

$100,000

Janesville, Wis., Water Co.

First Mortgage 6% Bonds.

DUE AUGUST 1, 1907.

Secured by a Sinking Fund. Descriptive Circulars furnished on application.

Brewster, Cobb & Estabrook,

35 Congress St., Boston.

FOOTE & FRENCH

BANKERS,

— AND —

DEALERS IN GOVERNMENT BONDS,

OFFER FOR SALE

Or. R'y & Nav. Co. Con. M'ge Gold 5s, due.....1925
No. Pacific 2d M'ge Gold 6s, due.....1933
St. Jos. & Gr. Isl. 1st. M'ge Gold 6s, due.....1925
Oregon Short Line 1st. Gold 6s, due.....1922

Commission Orders in Bonds and Stocks executed. 6dec1

42 CONGRESS STREET, - - BOSTON

BURNETT'S

PERFECTLY PURE HIGHLY CONCENTRATED

Standard Flavoring

EXTRACTS

The superiority of these Extracts consist in their

Perfect Purity and Great Strength.

GRANITE STATE Fire Insurance Company,

OF PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

PAID-UP CAPITAL, - $200,000

OFFICERS:

President, FRANK JONES.
Vice President, JOHN W. SANBORN.
Secretary, ALFRED P. HOWARD.
Treasurer, JOHN LAIGHTON.

Executive Committee, FRANK JONES, JOHN W. SANBORN, CHARLES A. SINCLAIR, EDWIN WALLACE and E. H. WINCHESTER.

Always on Time.

NEW YORK & NEW ENGLAND.

Trains for New York.

Leave Portsmouth, via Boston & Maine R. R. at 11:05 a. m. 7:40 p. m. Arrive at Boston 1:15, 9:30 p. m.

Leave Boston, †12:00 noon, §*2:00, 11:30 p. m. Ar. New York, 6:30, *9:00 p. m., 6:35 a. m. Parlor and Sleeping Cars through without change.

†Dining Car between Boston and Hartford.
§Dining Car between Boston and Williamsatic.
*3:00 p. m. runs daily, including Sundays. Through tickets at offices, North and East. Baggage checked through.

Ticket offices—323 Washington St., and Depot foot of Summer St., Boston. eadtf17

RAYMOND'S VACATION EXCURSIONS.

All Travelling Expenses Included.

A party will leave Boston Monday, January 14, 1889, for a

Grand Tour of 82 Days,

THROUGH THE SOUTHERN STATES,

MEXICO,

— AND —

CALIFORNIA.

The outward route is via Buffalo, Suspension Bridge, Detroit, Toledo, Cincinnati, New Orleans, etc.

The entire round of travel through the South and Mexico to be made in a Special Train of Magnificent Vestibuled Pullman Palace Cars, inclusive of Pullman Palace Dining-Car. All the leading cities and places of historic and picturesque interest to be visited, including Guadalajara and the City of Mexico (where ten days will be passed). A Six Days' Trip over the Mexican Railway. Also a Complete Round of California, with special trains returning through the grand scenic sections of Utah, Colorado, etc. The time in California will be extended at pleasure, with seven different dates of return under special escort. The tickets also good on any train until July.

Second and Last Tour through the Southern States, Mexico and California.—February 11.

Grand Tour of 47 Days through the Southern States and Mexico (omitting California).—March 11.

California Excursions.—December 6; January 7 and 10; February 7, 11, and 26; March 7 and 11.

Washington Excursions (the only ones this season).—January 15 and February 15.

W. RAYMOND. I. A. WHITCOMB.

Send for descriptive circulars, designating the tour desired.

W. RAYMOND,

296 Washington St. (opposite School St.), BOSTON, MASS. 2oct9

IF YOU WANT

To Save Two Dollars

ON EVERY BARREL OF FLOUR, USE

Horsford's Bread Preparation.

It costs less than one cent to raise a pound of flour with Horsford's, while with common baking powders the cost is two cents.

EASTERN OFFICE OF

Kansas City Investment Co.,

OVER FIRST NATIONAL BANK, PORTSMOUTH.

CITY MORTGAGES, FARM MORTGAGES, DEBENTURE BONDS, REAL ESTATE NOTES

INTEREST PAYABLE HERE AT MATURITY.

W. G. MYERS V. P.

CORTICELLI Wash Silk.

The colors are warranted not to stain the most delicate fabric in washing with warm water and Castile soap. Sold in four distinct sizes:—G., extra coarse, called Rope;—EE, coarse, called Embroidery;—No. 500, medium, called Outline,—and a fine size called Floss. This last is sometimes known as Filo Floss, and is sold in the Corticelli brand on spools only.

NONOTUCK SILK CO., Sole Makers, 18 Summer Street, Boston.

LOOK AT THIS

Heavy, Substantial Cooking Range,

"THE ALMONER."

Plain for $16.00, Worth $25.00

To anyone in need of a First Class Range. Examine this before purchasing elsewhere.

— ALSO A FULL LINE OF —

MAGEE FURNACES, RANGES & STOVES.

Plumbing, Gas Fitting, Tin and Sheet Iron Work of All Kinds.

C. W. TAYLOR.

42 & 44 MARKET STREET.

C-O-A-L-!

All Kinds and Sizes Delivered Well Screened.

E. F. SISE & CO.

First Quality Wood!

Liverpool and Turks Island

S-A-L-T-,

In Bulk and Sacks. Salt in Boxes. Boston and Portland Brands.

TELEPHONE.

NOTICE!

FALL

— AND —

WINTER

STYLES

NOW READY!

— AT —

MRS. TEBBETTS',

NO. 14 MARKET STREET.

COAL! COAL!

Finest Grades, well prepared for Domestic Purposes, constantly Arriving and for Sale at Lowest Prices.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

J. ALBERT WALKER

Portsmouth Coal Pockets.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE, Rockingham, ss.

Supreme Court for the County of Rockingham.

OCTOBER TERM, 1888.

Petition for the dissolution of the Elevator Safety Attachment Company.

RESPECTFULLY REPRESENTS the undersigned, subscribers that they are a majority in number and interest of the members of the Elevator Safety Attachment Company, a voluntary corporation, duly established by the Laws of the State of New Hampshire, on or about June 10, 1880; that said Company was incorporated and organized for the purpose of manufacturing the Wasell and Littlefield Elevator Attachment, and for selling the same; that the office of the clerk is in the town of Rye, in said County of Rockingham; that the manufacture or sale of said Safety Attachment has ceased to be desirable or profitable to said corporation; and it is desired by the subscribers aforesaid to close its concerns; to discontinue the manufacture and the transaction of any further business, and to have the corporation dissolved; that the said corporation has not manufactured any of said attachments or transacted any business for the period of about two years, and it is free from debt.

Therefore, the said members hereby petition this Honorable Court to decree a dissolution of said corporation, in the manner by law provided.

THOS. J. WILLIAMS, CHAS. F. WYMAN, D. M. BISSELL, FRANCIS H. BROWN, F. R. AMMIDON, F. M. BISSELL, FRANCIS BROWN, C. W. WELINGTON, ADELAIDE W. LITTLEFIELD, A. F. SHEPHERD, CHARLES F. WYMAN, Trustee, E. G. LUCAS, E. G. LUCAS, Executor Estate, LYDIA A. LUCAS, MARY S. BROWN, CHARLES ALLEN TABER, CHAS. W. JENNESS, GEO. D. WILDES, SAMUEL C. HARVEY, F. C. BILL, RUFUS ESTABROOK, GEO. W. CHIPMAN.

IN THE SUPREME COURT, Rockingham, ss.

OCTOBER TERM, 1888.

THIS PETITION having been filed in said Court, It Is Ordered, that said petitioners notify all persons interested in the subject matter of said petition to appear at the next Term of said Court, to be holden at Exeter, on the third Tuesday of January next; then and there to show cause, if any they have, why the prayer thereof should not be granted, by causing a true and attested copy of said petition and this order thereon to be published once a week for three weeks successively in the PORTSMOUTH DAILY CHRONICLE, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth, in said County of Rockingham, the last publication whereof to be at least thirty days before said term. Attest, C. C. CONNER, Clerk.

A true copy of the original petition and of the original order thereon.

no23,30,dc7 Attest, C. G. CONNER, Clerk.

COLD WEATHER MUSIC BOOKS.

New Music Books.

These new books are every day more in favor:

Classical Pianist, Piano Classics, Song Classics, Song Classics for Low Voices, Classic Tenor Songs, Classic Baritone and Bass Songs. Each $1.

Praise in Song (40 cts., $4.20 per doz.) is the best new Sacred Music Book for Home and Vestry singing.

Let the Children sing from Menard's Songs for Kindergarten and Primary Schools (30 cts.) or Jenk's Songs and Games for Little Ones (25) or Children's School Songs (35 cts., $3.60 per doz.) All have very sweet child's songs.

Give your aid in getting up a rousing good evening singing Class to use Song Harmony (60 cts., $6 per doz.) Full of most interesting music, sacred and secular. Song Manual, Book 3 (50 cts., $4.80 per doz.) is also a good collection, mostly secular.

Tell the Temperance People that no better Temperance Song Book has appeared than Bells of Victory (35 cts., $3.60 per doz.)

Xmas is coming. Send for lists of Christmas Cantatas and Carols.

ANY BOOK MAILED FOR RETAIL PRICE.

Oliver Ditson & Co., Boston.

E. C. BLAISDELL, D. M. D.,

(SUCCESSOR TO DR. F. J. BONNEY,)

Dental Rooms 1 1-2 Market Street.

50 Cents The WONDERFUL LUBURG CHAIR

Combining a Parlor, Library, Smoking, Reclining, or Invalid CHAIR, COUNCIL SEAT, ROCKER and CRUCK. Price $7.00 up. We make the largest variety of Adjustable, Reclining, Physicians' and Surgeons' Operating, Invalid Rolling, Hammock, Office, Library, Fancy Carpet Folding, Reed and Rattan CHAIRS and ROCKERS, BICYCLES, TRICYCLES, VELOCIPEDES and SELF PROPELLERS. ALL KINDS OF APPLIANCES FOR INVALIDS.

BABY COACHES

Over 100 different designs.

Our Patent Automatic Brake on all Carriages, free. We have discontinued wholesaling; by placing your orders direct with the makers you can save several profits. Our starting prices and special Bargains will astonish you. Goods sold under a guarantee and delivered free to any point in the United States. Send stamp for Catalogue, and state class of goods you want it for.

LUBURG MFG. CO.,

145 North Eighth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

THE JOB PRINTING

Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD I. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line. Give him a trial and you will be more than pleased.

A MAN

UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THE COUNTRY WILL OBTAIN MUCH INFORMATION FROM A STUDY OF THIS MAP OF THE

GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE

(C., R. I. & P. and C., K. & N. R'ys.)

West, Northwest and Southwest. It includes CHICAGO, JOLIET, ROCK ISLAND, DAVENPORT, DES MOINES, COUNCIL BLUFFS, WATERTOWN, SIOUX FALLS, MINNEAPOLIS, ST. PAUL, ST. JOSEPH, ATCHISON, LEAVENWORTH, KANSAS CITY, TOPEKA, COLORADO SPRINGS, DENVER, PUEBLO, and hundreds of prosperous cities and towns—traversing vast areas of the richest farming lands in the west.

SOLID VESTIBULE EXPRESS TRAINS

Leading all competitors in splendor and luxury of accommodations daily, between CHICAGO and COLORADO SPRINGS, DENVER and PUEBLO. Similar magnificent VESTIBULE TRAIN service daily between CHICAGO and COUNCIL BLUFFS (OMAHA), and between CHICAGO and KANSAS CITY. Modern Day Coaches, elegant Dining Cars serving delicious meals at moderate prices, restful Reclining Chair Cars (seats FREE) and Free Sleeping Cars. Also direct line to NELSON, HORTON, HUTCHINSON, WICHITA, ABILENE, CALDWELL, and all points in Southern Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, the Indian Territory and Texas. California Excursions daily. Choice of routes to the Pacific coast.

The Famous Albert Lea Route

Runs superbly equipped Express Trains, daily, between Chicago, St. Joseph, Atchison, Leavenworth, Kansas City, and Minneapolis and St. Paul. The popular journey lies through the scenic resorts and hunting and fishing grounds of the northwest. Its Watertown and Sioux Falls branch traverses the great "WHEAT AND DAIRY BELT" of Northern Iowa, Southwestern Minnesota and East Central Dakota.

The Short Line via Seneca and Kankakee offers facilities to travel to and from Indianapolis, Cincinnati and other Southern points.

For Tickets, Maps, Folders, or desired information, apply at any Coupon Ticket Office, or address

E. ST. JOHN, Gen'l Manager. E. A. HOLBROOK, Gen'l Tkt. & Pass. Agt.

CHICAGO, ILL.

THIS PAPER is on file in Philadelphia at the Newspaper Advertising Agency of Messrs. N. W. Ayer & Son, Advertising Agents.

GOLD MEDAL, PARIS, 1878.

BAKER'S Breakfast Cocoa.

Warranted absolutely pure cocoa, from which the excess of Oil has been removed. It has three times the strength of Cocoa mixed with Starch, Arrowroot or Sugar, and is therefore far more economical, costing less than one cent a cup. It is delicious, nourishing, strengthening, easily digested, and admirably adapted for invalids as well as for persons in health.

Sold by Grocers everywhere.

W. BAKER & CO., Dorchester, Mass.

CAUTION

Beware of Fraud, as my name and the price are stamped on the bottom of all my advertised shoes before leaving the factory, which protect the wearers against high prices and inferior goods. If a dealer offers W. L. Douglas shoes at a reduced price, or says he has them without my name and price stamped on the bottom, put him down as a fraud

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE. FOR GENTLEMEN.

The only calf $3 SEAMLESS Shoe smooth inside. NO TACKS or WAX THREAD to hurt the feet, easy as hand-sewed and WILL NOT RIP.

W. L. DOUGLAS $4 SHOE, the original and only hand-sewed welt $4 shoe. Equals custom-made shoes costing from $6 to $8.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.50 POLICE SHOE. Railroad Men and Letter Carriers all wear them. Smooth inside as a Hand-Sewed Shoe. No Tacks or Wax Thread to hurt the feet.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.50 SHOE is unexcelled for heavy wear. Best Calf Shoe for the price.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.25 WORKINGMAN'S SHOE is the best in the world for rough wear; one pair ought to wear a man a year.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2 SHOE FOR BOYS is the best School Shoe in the world.

W. L. DOUGLAS $1.75 YOUTH'S School Shoe gives the small Boys a chance to wear the best shoes in the world.

All made in Congress, Button and Lace. If not sold by your dealer, write

W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

— FOR SALE BY —

OREN BRAGDON & SON

NO. 24 MARKET STREET.

GRATEFUL---COMFORTING.

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame.—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in half pound tins, by Grocers, labelled thus:

JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England.

1ec5

WE WANT A GOOD ENERGETIC SALESMAN in every town and city TO SOLICIT ORDERS FOR FRAMING PICTURES. BEST OUTFIT IN THE WORLD and a permanent situation. Address H. B. WARDWELL, Lewiston, Me.

POSITIVELY CLOSING WEEKS

GRAND CYCLORAMA

BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG,

541 Tremont St., Boston.

Don't fail to see this great battle scene at once.

A new subject now being painted will take its place in this building January 1st.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, the great Medical Work of the age on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline, Errors of Youth, and the untold miseries consequent thereon. 300 pages 8 vo. 125 prescriptions for all diseases. Cloth, full gilt, only $1.00, by mail, sealed. Illustrative sample free to all young and middle-aged men. Send now. The Gold and Jewelled Medal awarded to the author by the National Medical Association. Address P.O. Box 1895, Boston, Mass., or Dr. W. H. Parkis, M.D., graduate of Harvard Medical College, 36 years practice in Boston, who may be consulted confidentially. Office, No. 4 Bulfinch St. Specialty, Diseases of Man.

Cut this out. You may never see it again.

MARVELOUS MEMORY DISCOVERY.

Any book learned in one reading
Mind wandering cured.
Speaking without notes.
Piracy condemned by Supreme Court.
Great inducements to correspondence classes

Prospectus, with opinions of Dr. Wm. A. Hammond, the world famed Specialist in Mind diseases; Daniel Greenleaf Thompson, the great Psychologist, J. M. Buckley, D. D., Editor of the Christian Advocate, Richard Proctor, the Scientist, Hons. Judge Gibson, Judah P. Benjamin, and others, sent post free by

Prof. A. LOISETTE, 237 Fifth Ave., New York.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair-falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

JOSIAH F. ADAMS

Embalmer and Funeral Director,

WAREROOMS: NO. 5 DANIEL

Coffins, Caskets and Robes Always on Hand. Hearse and Carriages Furnished. Cemetery Lots Cared For, &c.

Orders by day or night left at No. 27 Washington St., or with Mr. Robert King, No. 6 Hill, will receive prompt attention.

DR. S. F. HAM

Of Hotel Bristol, Boston, will receive patients

Monday and Tuesday

FROM MAY 1st TO NOV. 1st,

And the remainder of the year every Monday.

Office and Residence, 13 CURT ST., Portsmouth, N. H.

STEPHEN D. SCRIGGINS,

Carriage Painter,

NO. 16 Vaughan Street, Portsmouth, N. H.

Having spacious and good accommodations and long and large experience he solicits patronage in

TRAVELLER'S GUIDE.

TRAINS LEAVE

Portsmouth for Boston, 4.05, 7.25, 8.20, 11.05 a. m., 2.55, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4.40 p. m.

Boston for Portsmouth, 7.30, 9.00, 10.00 a. m., 12.30, 3.20, 4.40, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.20 a. m., 2.00 p. m.

Portsmouth for Portland, 9.55, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m.

Portland for Portsmouth, 2.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.00, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 2.00 a. m.

Portsmouth for Dover, 4.20, 9.45 a. m., 12.25, 5.33, 5.22 p. m.

Dover for Portsmouth, 6.55, 10.20 a. m., 1.05, 6.50, 6.40 p. m.

Portsmouth for York Beach, 8.30, 11.10 a. m. 3.35 p. m.

York Beach for Portsmouth, 6.40, 10.00 a. m., 3.40 p. m.

Portsmouth for Concord, 7.55 a. m., 1.00, 5.15 p. m.

Concord for Portsmouth, 7.20, 10.20 a. m., 3.20 p. m.

Portsmouth for Manchester, 7.55 a. m., 1.00, 5.15 p. m.

Manchester for Portsmouth, 6.15, 11.15 a. m., 4.35 p. m.

TRAINS ARRIVE

In Boston from Portsmouth, 6.20, 9.10, 10.25 a. m., 1.15, 4.45, 7.10, 9.30 p. m. Sundays, 6.20 a. m., 8.30 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Boston, 9.45, 10.45 a. m., 12.20, 2.35, 5.20, 6.45, 8.57 p. m. Sundays, 10.40 a. m., 8.57 p. m.

In Portland from Portsmouth, 12.00 m., 12.35, 4.40, 11.00 p. m. Sundays, 11.00 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Portland, 3.55, 10.44 a. m., 3.20, 7.15 p. m. Sundays, 3.55 a. m.

In Dover from Portsmouth, 5.40, 10.10 a. m., 12.50, 3.03, 5.47 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Dover, 7.32, 10.44 a. m., 3.20, 4.35, 7.15 p. m.

In Concord from Portsmouth, 10.30 a. m., 3.15, 8.25 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Concord, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

In Manchester from Portsmouth, 9.42 a. m., 3.34, 8.20 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Manchester, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

KITTERY AND PORTSMOUTH.

STEAMER MYSTIC.

Leave Bartlett's wharf, Kittery, 6.35, 7.50, 8.45, 10.50, 11.45 a. m., 2.00, 3.15, 4.45, 6.00 p. m. Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 6.30, Saturday evening, 6.30, 8.00.

Leave Broughton's wharf, foot Daniel street, Portsmouth, 7.30, 8.00, 9.30, 11.00 a. m., 12.45, 3.00, 4.00, 5.15, 6.15 p. m., Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7.30, Saturday evenings, 7.30, 9.00.

Fare five cents each way.

A FAIR SAMPLE OF
40 SWORN CASES
OF THE VALUE OF

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND

THE RADICAL BLOOD PURIFIER.

DIPHTHERIA. SCROFULA.

Miss Lena Judkins, a daughter (17 years old) of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Judkins, 677 Boston St., Lynn, CURED by Dr. Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of very severe case of Scrofula, with Malignant Disease of eight years' standing, after 11 physicians had failed. Almost a miracle. Now in perfect health. Sworn to before
HARMON HALL, Justice of the Peace.

SCROFULOUS HUMOR.

Miss Mary Etta Leighton, a daughter (16 yrs. old) of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison G. Leighton, 16 Bickford Court, Lynn, CURED by Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of a deep seated Scrofulous Humor, with discharging eruptions, which had baffled eight physicians and the combined forces of two prominent hospitals. Perfectly cured and without a blemish.
Sworn to before
CALVIN B. TUTTLE, Justice of the Peace.

Send for circular of 40 Sworn cases. They are solid facts and carry conviction.

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND.

is absolutely the greatest known Remedy for the Radical cure of Scrofula, Cancerous Humors, Diphtheritic or Mineral Blood-Poisoning, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Dropsy and Liver Complaint.

$1. per Bottle (6 for 5). At Druggists.
Lougee Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Laxador An infallible regulator of the Human System. Cures Laxador Cures Bilious Liver Affections &c. Complaint, Laxador Price Costiveness, 25 Cts. Dyspepsia, Giddiness, Laxador &c. Sold by druggists.

The Leading Perfume.
DREXEL'S BELL COLOGNE
Fragrant! Lasting!
PRICE 25 CENTS. AT ALL DEALERS.

DR BULL'S COUGH SYRUP
CURES COUGHS & COLDS FOR 25 C

SALVATION OIL
Price only 25 cts. Sold by all druggists.
Will relieve Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Swellings, Bruises, Lumbago, Sprains, Headache, Toothache, Sores, Burns, Wounds, Cuts, Scalds, Backache, Gout, or any bodily pain or ailment.

CHEW LANGE'S PLUGS. The Great Tobacco Antidote!—Price 10 Cts. At all druggists.

Cure Your Corns,
BY USING
SCHLOTTERBECK'S
CORN, WART AND BUNION SOLVENT
A CURE IS GUARANTEED.

SOY BEAN, Haynes Excelsior and Wm. B. Tilton Gold Medal GUITARS, $10 to $40. MUSIC BOXES, 50 cents to $300. Solo BB CORNET, $10. Haynes VIOLINS, Orchestra, $25; Solo, $35. Special Snare DRUMS, $6. Crosby FIFES, $2. Drum Corps and Bands send for Estimates. Catalogues free. J. C.

METHODS OF SHOPLIFTERS.

Stealing as a Means of Livelihood—The Amateur Kleptomaniac.

"Not one-tenth of the people caught surreptitiously appropriating our goods are ever brought to justice," said the superintendent of a large dry goods establishment. "We have our own private detectives, some of whom are women, to protect our property, but shoplifting is so prevalent that not a day passes without the detection of one or more thieves. The professional thieves, adroit as they are, give us less trouble than the new hands. All the notorious shoplifters are well known to our detectives, and the moment one shows her face in the doorway she is warned away. As soon as a professional finds herself spotted she takes to the road and works the principal cities in regular order. It takes her several months to work the circuit, at the end of which time she can start all over again without much fear of being recognized. The expert shoplifter doesn't resort to disguises as much as the uninitiated would suppose. She takes a pride in her profession and looks upon stealing merely as a means of livelihood. She is courageous to the extreme and steals with an audacity that is startling. When detected she becomes dogged, acts with the indifference of a woman of the world, looks upon the matter as one of the fortunes of war and never tries to crawl out of the hole by adding a lie to her other crime. There is some satisfaction in outwitting a foe like this, whose life is tinged with romance, and who will wage as fair a warfare against you as the dishonesty of her practices will admit.

"On the other hand, the amateur thief or kleptomaniac, or whatever you like to call her, will resort to the meanest and most contemptible plans to steal your goods. If detected in the act, she will vilify you, say she is insulted, threaten to sue, and lie like a Digger Indian. There is not a person on earth so dear—a father, a mother, a brother or a sister—whom she would not betray in order to secure immunity for herself. Often these new hands travel in pairs. When caught they disgust you with human nature by their mutual recriminations.

"As for the excuses offered by shoplifters when brought to bay most of them have become so threadbare as to be known as chestnuts. Once in a while an ingenious crook will spring a new fake story on us, some of which would be convincing enough if it wasn't for the tangible evidence. I have kept a record of all these excuses, and will enumerate a few of the common and curious ones.

"First, there is the fashionably dressed woman, well connected and of undoubted respectability. Pilfering with her is, no doubt, more of a disease than a crime. She never steals anything very valuable, but packs up little odds and ends that take her fancy, such as a tape measure, a spool of cotton, a match safe, an odd glove, a single garter, etc. You will notice that some of these things are of no possible use or value to her. As far as possible we avoid bringing her failing to her notice. The trifles she has stolen are added to her bill and she pays it without being conscious of having been detected. Sometimes the friends of this class of shoplifters will find out where she has been shopping and return all the things she brought home to see if they have all been paid for.

"The richly dressed woman, who passes as respectable, is the one who gives us the most trouble. She always goes in for a big haul, and haunts the lace and silk counters. Her stealings are of such magnitude, and her work is done in such a bungling manner, that she is sure to be detected almost at once. When caught and requested to step into the examining room she bursts out in loud and vulgar remonstrance. After getting our goods back we generally have her locked up. Then there is sure to be a hue and cry about an outrage and that sort of thing until she is tried and heavily fined. There are always plenty of shyster lawyers to induce her to bring a suit for damages against us on the whack up plan. These vampires try to blackmail us into compromising the suit, but we know enough to remain firm.

"A very common type of the shoplifter comes from the middle walk of life. She is generally a foolish woman whose husband's salary is not large enough to supply her with the finery she longs for, so she determines to steal it. At first her pilferings are very small, but in time she becomes emboldened by success and there is nothing too rich for her to slip under her dress. When discovered she is full of excuses. She was just taking the article over to the light, or she wanted to buy something at another counter and unconsciously kept it in her hand, or she wished to obtain the opinion of a friend whom she thought she saw at the other end of the store, or the thing got caught in her dress in some unaccountable manner. A woman of this kind is anxious to avoid publicity, and as she is ready enough to pay the full value of the article, we let her go scot free, after the detectives have scrutinized her so that she would be readily recognized again.

"The child shoplifters are hard to detect. They are precious little tots, and become wonderfully proficient in a short time. As they are unable to secrete many articles on their persons, they employ most of their time in picking the sachels of the shoppers. You would think that a little 10-year-old girl would break down and confess everything upon being arrested, but they remain perfectly self possessed and go through the trying ordeal of a searching examination with the easy indifference of a professional. These children are taught to steal by female Fagins, who confiscate everything and whip them unmercifully when they are unsuccessful.

"Most of these children are visions of loveliness and innocence. A woman once told me that she saw a little girl deliberately steal her pocketbook, but there was such an imploring look in the little one's marvelous eyes that she had not the heart to accuse her.

"The contrivances for carrying stolen goods on the person are models of ingenuity. A long bag sewed to the inside of the dress, with a pocket two feet wide, is the most common receptacle, but a large hollow bustle, easy of access, is much used. I don't know how women can store things in such out of the way places in a public store, but valuables have been found stuffed away in their hats, corsets, shoes and stockings."—New York Evening Sun.

An official report upon the Chinese quarters of San Francisco, made about two years ago by a committee of the board of supervisors, after several months of careful survey and investigation, presented probably in a clearer light than ever before the true phases of Chinese colonial life. Thirteen Joss houses were found; Christian churches were turned into Chinese lodging houses and brothels. Missionary work, in nearly forty years of effort and labor, had not brought a dozen converts into the field who could be properly vouched for as such. In the contest between idolatry and Christianity, the former was in full and undis-

We are astonished at parties who introduce new remedies for coughs when they should know the people will have Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

"Kings are like stars, they rise and set." They have headaches, cuts, and hurts like meaner men, and are just as sure to call for Salvation Oil.

—Political orator (furiously)—"Now, fellow-citizens, if this man is elected what will be the result?" A voice—"His opponent will be defeated."

Catarrh originates in scrofulous taint. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and thus permanently cures catarrh.

"For twenty years I have suffered with a severe bronchial cough, never lying down without a severe attack of the same. After much pursuasion, I was induced to try Adamson's Balsam, and its good effects for six months are certainly marvellous. Please use this truthful testimony for the advantage of all sufferers like myself.
Mrs. Wm. Alden, Duxbury, Mass., Feb. 21, 1887.

—Children shrink from being washed. The same may be said of socks.

Be Your Own Doctor.

It won't cost you half as much. Do not delay. Send three 2-cent stamps for postage, and we will send you Dr. Kaufmann's great work, fine colored plates from life, on disease, its causes, and home cure. Address A. P. Ordway, & Co., Boston, Mass.

—The average pullet takes her eggsit in the spring.

Hundreds of letters from those using Hall's Hair Vigor attest its value as a restorer of gray hair to its natural color. As a stimulant and tonic, preventing and curing baldness, and cleansing the scalp, its use cannot be too strongly recommended.

—"Physician, heal thyself!" is an injunction promulgated centuries ago, and now some of the older practitioners are pretty well heeled.

Trial proves that honesty is the best policy in medicine as well as in other things. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a genuine preparation, an unequalled blood purifier, decidedly superior to all others.

—The sparrow who has lost her mate takes a sort of bird-sigh view of the world.

She Blushed

Awfully when I told her what to do for those horrid pimples, with which her face was covered. She now says if you want a pink and white complexion with a clear, smooth skin, you must use that best of all blood purifiers, Sulphur Bitters.

—Nature is a great deal like the manipulators of the stock market. She has her regular times of trying to freeze out everybody.

Avoid the harsh, irritating, griping compounds so often sold as purgative medicines, and correct the irregularities of the bowels by the use of Ayer's Cathartic Pills, which are gentle, yet searching, in their action.

To-Night and To-Morrow Night,

And each day and night during this week you can get at all druggists Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, acknowledged to be the most successful remedy ever sold for the cure of Coughs, Croup, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption. Get a bottle to-day and keep it always in the house, so you can check your cold at once. Price 50c and $1.00. Sample bottles free.

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam, for Coughs and Colds, does it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles at 50c and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all Throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. NOYES, 149 Power's Block, Rochester. Geow1ym89

Eczema, Itchy, Scaly, Skin Tortures.

The simple application of "SWAYNE'S OINTMENT," without any internal medicine, will cure any case of Tetter, Salt Rheum, Ringworm, Piles, Itch, Scres, Pimples, Eczema, all Scaly, Itchy Skin Eruptions, no matter how obstinate or long standing. It is potent, effective, and costs but a trifle. 07c69

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Some are born great, some think they are great, and others thrust greatness upon themselves.

A SCIENTIST'S WARNING.

Extracts From a Remarkable Lecture Delivered by Dr. R. E. Hammond, Before the National Scientist's Convention.

"We are startled constantly by the sudden death of some man who seemed the picture of health. He thought he was well. He had felt strange pains shooting through his body, but as they did not remain, he forgot them. His head pained him periodically, he was somewhat paler than common and unaccountably tired, but he felt comparatively well and vigorous. And yet, he suddenly died! It is a shame to our boasted civilization."

"Look at the list of women who die in childbirth, and why is it? Simply because their maternal organs have been so weakened by the most terrible of diseases that they cannot withstand the fearful, sudden strain that is brought to bear upon them. How many women escape monthly agonies? And yet nature never intended that pain or inconvenience should attend the operation of her natural laws. The solemn and terrible fact is, that men and women drag along, die, and are buried, and their friends and the doctors say heart disease, apoplexy, pneumonia, congestion, convulsions, when the cause lay far back of all these things. The truth is that weakened kidneys are the cause of most of our troubles. The great question, therefore, is, 'How shall I preserve my kidneys, or, if diseased, how can they be restored?' I have seen numbers of cases and learned from unquestionable witnesses of many others, where the preparation, Hunt's Remedy, has been almost remarkable in its results. I use it freely among my patients, and shall continue to do so. It is a wonderful and invaluable remedy."

The remarks of the learned doctor should be carefully considered, and acted upon by all who desire long life, and freedom from pain and the dangers

AMONG THE SWEETS.

How Sugar is Handled on the Spacious Levee at New Orleans.

Now that the busy season is opening, the levee will soon become the scene of bustle and activity. The whistle of steamboats, the yelling of boss stevedores, the whooping of drivers as they back up to load and unload freight, cracking their whips about the ears of the mules or raising welts along their sides with the lash, the jam of carts, wagons and floats always heralds the approach of winter on the levee and the resuscitation of trade. From the middle of October until the balmy breezes of spring are about softening into the airs of summer the work on the levee is almost continuous.

The principal commodities handled are the staple products of the state—cotton, sugar and molasses. A hogshead of sugar is a huge arrangement of staves, hoops and heads, weighing, when filled with sugar, from 1,100 to 1,500 pounds. The cooper shop and the plantation together produce the hogshead of sugar. When the cane has been cut and pressed and the juice boiled into sugar the sweet stuff is packed into the hogshead, put on board a steamboat and shipped to this city, consigned to the factor representing the planter. On arriving at the landing the sugar is unloaded on the wharf, where it is allowed to remain for twenty-four hours, and even longer when room is plentiful. Then, if not hauled away, it is rolled into the sugar sheds at the expense of the owner.

Open kettle sugar is sold to the dealer on the levee. The factor is the seller, whether he employs a broker or not. The majority of factors have the services of a broker to attend to the sales on the landing. The first hand factor or broker only sells in lots, and the bids are either made openly, as the buyers gather around the hogsheads, or the sugar is sold on private offers if the price proffered is the highest.

The party selling the sugar generally does the sampling, either in person or through a clerk or other employe. This is done by means of a long steel instrument known as the gimlet, which is run through the bunghole down into the sugar, twisted about, and drawn out full of the saccharine matter. This operation is performed several times, until a sufficient quantity is obtained to clearly show the quality of the article. These samples are generally piled up for the time on the hogshead they are taken out of for the critical examination of the buyer. After they have answered the purpose they are put into little paper bags and kept by the broker or dealer as a type for reference, or sent to the consignee.

It is while the sampling process is going on that the buyers gather round, each in his turn making his offer. The buyer generally attends the sales to personally inspect his purchase, but sometimes sends for samples, and then, on receipt of his goods, compares them with the samples furnished him.

Although the first hand broker sells but round lots, in case of damage of any portion of a lot or it showing up as an inferior grade, he takes a reduced price for it; still the buyer must take the entire lot. Second hand brokers sell in any way, by the whole or broken lots. Clarified sugar is sold by sample in the Sugar Exchange. The supplies are collected and taken to the exchange, where they are spread out on the table for the inspection of buyers.

After the sugar is sold it is weighed and gauged and is then ready for shipment after the first cooperage. It is swung from the scales by means of large hooks that catch on the chimes of the hogshead so that when the beam is pulled down the hogshead is lifted from the ground and the weight ascertained. Four men usually constitute the weighing gang, together with the clerk taking the records of the weights. These hogsheads as a general thing run from 1,100 to 1,500 pounds, but in weighing open kettle sugar the figures give the five and ten pounds. Thus, if a hogshead weighs 1,214 pounds it goes down as 1,210 pounds. Then 12 per cent. is knocked off from the gross weight. In clarified sugar the actual weight goes.

When the hogsheads have been coopered the boss drayman or his clerk, with his teams, appears on the scene. The sugar is marked, rolled on the floats, and hauled to its destination in the city or to the point of shipment, in case it is being forwarded to some other port, domestic or foreign. The low float is driven up close to the lots to be handled, a skid is hooked into the iron brackets on the side of the float, and the teamsters strain themselves in rolling up the great hogsheads on to the bottom of the wagon. After this handling the sugar soon comes into use on the table or in the pantry.

Molasses is disposed of in the same way as sugar. The brokers always come down to the levee to see the samples of molasses, as they are not taken to the exchange. Immediately on their arrival the barrels of molasses are coopered by the first hand cooper, so as to keep them tight and prevent leakage.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A Strange Phenomenon.

There is a strange phenomenon connected with the Upper Red river. I have several times been stranded by low water in the Upper Red, say 600 miles below the source, lying with a steamboat for weeks awaiting rain and a rise. Without any rain in the vicinity of where the boat was I have seen the river come up twenty feet or more in one night. I figure out the phenomenon in this way: The sources of the Red river are in the Llano Estacado of New Mexico, and the rains falling upon these great plains pour down into the head waters of the river, and the water comes rushing down many hundreds of miles, where there have been no rains for weeks, and thus result in the unlooked for swell in the water.—Globe-Democrat.

Water Power in a Mine.

At the Comstock silver mines in Virginia City mining science has reached its highest point, according to a San Francisco newspaper, which says that there they carry water down a vertical shaft to the depth of 1,700 feet, and then gear it back to the surface, running the gigantic mills by the 1,700 foot pressure. When the plan was suggested to engineers of Europe they laughed at it; but now it's a proved success, and furnishes a power immeasurably greater and cheaper than anything hitherto applied in mining.—New York Sun.

There (at Cayenne) when a convict dies the body is borne to the sea and a great bell is tolled. And then is the vicious, glaucous sea surface furrowed suddenly by fins innumerable, swart, sharp, triangular—the legions of the sharks rushing to the hideous funeral. They know the bell!—Harper's.

Knowledge of Human Nature.

"And so your nice clergyman is going to be married, Mrs. Marigold! I hope you'll like his wife as well as you like him."

"Well, ma'am, I'm sure I hope so—but we generally find that when the gentleman is baffable, the lady's naughty!"—London Punch.

MAKE HENS LAY
NOTHING ON EARTH WILL MAKE HENS LAY LIKE SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER.
WE SEND BY MAIL A LARGE 2¼ POUND CAN FOR $1.20, TWO SMALL PACKS 50 CTS. POST PAID.
Sheridan's Condition Powder
is absolutely pure and highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other kind. Saves medicine, to be given in the food, once daily, in small doses. Prevents and cures all diseases of Fowl. Worth its weight in gold when hens are moulting, and to keep them healthy. Testimonials sent by mail. Ask your druggist, grocer, general store, or feed dealer for it. If you can't get it, send once to us. Take no other kind. We will send prepaid by mail as follows: A new, enlarged, elegantly illustrated 2 cent edition of the "FARMERS' POULTRY RAISING GUIDE" (price 25 cents) tells how to make money with a few hens, and two small packages of Powder for 30 cents; or, the large 2½ pound can and Guide, $1.20. Sample package of Powder, 25 cents, five for $1.00. Six large cans, express prepaid, for $5.00. Send stamps or cash. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., 22 Custom-House St., Boston, Mass.

My Poor Back!

That "poor back" is held responsible for more than its share of the sufferings of mankind. If your dog bites a man who kicks it, do you blame the dog? On the same principle the kidneys utter their protest against nervousness, impure blood, and resulting constipation. These force them to do extraordinary work in ridding the system of the poisons which are the result of effete matter retained in the blood. Then the sufferer says the back aches; the kidneys are diseased. "Not yet;" but they will be unless the nerves are strengthened, the blood purified, and the constipation removed. These are the causes of kidney troubles, and Paine's Celery Compound removes them quickly. With its tonic, purifying, and laxative effect, it also strengthens the weak kidneys, making it almost infallible in curing all diseases of the nerves and kidneys. If your hopes of cure have not been realized, try Paine's Celery Compound; it gives perfect health to all who complain of "their poor backs." Price $1.00.

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS. SEND FOR ILLUSTRATED PAPER.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Proprietors,
BURLINGTON, VERMONT.

POSITIVELY
No Cure, No Pay!
CONSTITUTIONAL COUGH SYRUP
--- TRY IT! ---

The proprietor of this remedy has such confidence in its curative powers that he makes the following

Generous Offer!

Any person buying a bottle is given the privilege of returning it and receiving their MONEY BACK, if after using two-thirds of its contents, they have derived no benefit from it.

PRICE 25 AND 50 CENTS.
— SOLD BY —
David Kimball & Co., 36 Market Street.

S. Philbrick & Co.,
— MANUFACTURERS OF —
Marble and Granite Work
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.
GRANITE POLISHING A SPECIALTY.
OFFICE AND WORKS,
No. 2 Water Street, Portsmouth

SULPHUR BITTERS
The Best and Purest Medicine EVER MADE.
It will drive the Humor from your system, and make your skin clean and smooth. Those Pimples and Blotches which mar your beauty are caused by impure blood, and can be removed in a short time. If you are wise and use the great blood purifier, Sulphur Bitters.
Why suffer with boils, Carbuncles, Blotches, Pimples and Eruptions? Why let your blood become so foul and impure? Why suffer with Rheumatism? Why groan with the agony of Gout? Why have aches and pains in every part of your system? Why have Dyspepsia, Constipation, Liver Complaint, Dizziness, Headache, Heartburn, Sour Stomach, Nervous Prostration, Sleeplessness, Dull Feelings, Low Spirits, Loss of Appetite, Want of Energy, Want of Ambition, Want of Flesh, Want of Sleep, Want of Strength, Want of Vitality, Want of Life? Why? Because your blood is impure, your system is out of order, your liver is torpid, your stomach is disordered, your nerves are unstrung, your kidneys are inactive, your blood is poisoned, your system is poisoned, you need a gentle quickening tonic to assist nature to repair the damage which your excessive labor or exposure has caused. Sulphur Bitters is such a tonic. It is a cheap rum drink, made by the glass, like other Whiskey drinks, to sell at $1 per gallon, and to stimulate only. DESTROY, not repair. Sulphur Bitters is not a cheap rum drink, made from alcohol and poisonous drugs, like other so-called bitters, but is a medicine, made from the purest and most valuable medicinal roots and herbs known to the pharmacist, and is warranted to cure any disease or ailment that can be cured by any medicine, if the directions and rules for diet, printed around each bottle, are strictly observed and followed. Sulphur Bitters is not a cure-all, but is a medicine, and will do what we claim it will do, when the directions are followed. Sulphur Bitters is not a drink, but a medicine, and should be taken when you feel like you need a good medicine, to prevent sickness, when you feel low-spirited, when your blood is impure, when your system is out of order, when you have taken cold, when you have a cough, when you have a pain anywhere, when you have dyspepsia, when you have a bad appetite, when you have a bad taste in your mouth, when you have a bad complexion, when you have a bad cough, when you have a bad cold, when you have a bad liver, when you have a bad kidney, when you have a bad stomach, when you have a bad system, when you have a bad blood, when you have a bad feeling, when you have a bad anything, when you have a bad everything, when you have a bad nothing, when you have a bad something, when you have a bad anything or something, when you have a bad everything or nothing, when you have a bad something or anything, when you have a bad everything or something, when you have a bad something or everything, when you have a bad something or everything or something, when you have a bad something or everything or something or everything, when you have a bad something or everything or something or everything or something, when you have a bad something or everything or something or everything or something or everything, when you have a bad something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something, when you have a bad something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything, when you have a bad something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something, when you have a bad something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything, when you have a bad something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something, when you have a bad something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything, when you have a bad something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something, when you have a bad something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything, when you have a bad something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something, when you have a bad something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything, when you have a bad something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something, when you have a bad something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything, when you have a bad something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or something or everything or

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

POST OFFICE RULES.

MAILS CLOSE

	A.M.	P.M.
Boston, N. Y., south, west,	6:00	10:20	2:30	4:30 6:45
Boston and way stations,		10:20	2:30	6:45
Portland,	9:25		4:50	6:45
Portland and way stations,	9:25		4:50
East [beyond Portland]	9:25			6:45
Great Falls, Rochester,	9:20			4:50
Wolfeboro' Union Milton,
E. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,	9:25
Concord & Manchester,	7:40	10:20		4:50
Concord, Manchester and north,	7:40		4:50
Exeter and B. & M. way, west of Newmarket,	7:40		4:50
Dover,	9:25		2:30	4:50 6:45
North Conway,	9:25			6:45
York and Cape Neddick,		9:25
Newcastle,		10:20
Kittery,		10:20
Boston, N. Y. and south, Sunday,				1:00

MAILS ARRIVE.

	A.M.	P.M.
Boston, south and west,	10:05	3:10	5:40	7:00 (9:00)
New York,	10:05		5:40	7:00
Boston and way stations,	10:05		5:40
Portland and east,	7:20	11:50	3:00
Great Falls, Rochester, Milton,	8:20	11:20
E. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,		11:20
Concord, Manchester and north,		10:20		6:20
Dover,	7:20	10:20		3:00 5:40
Newcastle,		9:20
Kittery,		9:20
York and Cape Neddick,		11:20
E. & M. R. R., west of Newmarket,		10:20		6:20

S. J. GERRISH, P. M.

PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Open Monday, Tuesday, Friday and Saturday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30 P. M., and Wednesday and Saturday afternoons from 2:00 to 6:00 o'clock

Weather Indications.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

Fair, colder Friday morning, followed by slowly rising temperature, warmer on Saturday, winds shifting to easterly.

MINIATURE ALMANAC NOV. 23

SUN RISES	6:45	MOON RISES	8:26 P. M
SUN SETS	4:16	FULL SEA	2:15 A. M
LENGTH OF DAY	9:30		2:15 P. M

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, Nov. 22d, Mayor Hodgdon in the chair:

Request of Stover Whidden for abatement of taxes for 1887 was referred to the committee on claims.

Committee on accounts reported bills to the amount of $2300, which were ordered to be paid.

Adjourned for two weeks.

POLICE COURT—BATCHELDER J.

THURSDAY, Nov. 22d.

Lizzie Murphy, common vagrant, sixty days at Brentwood, costs $6.90.

George Alton, common vagrant, sixty days at Brentwood, costs $7.67.

Atwood Gammen, selling spirituous liquors, case continued to Saturday, 24th, at ten o'clock in the forenoon; bail $200.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

THURSDAY, Nov. 22d.

The case of Ryan vs. Boston & Maine railroad, which was commenced Wednesday morning, was finished Thursday, the jury failing to find a verdict for the plaintiff.

This was an action to recover damages for injuries due to alleged carelessness on the part of the defendant corporation. The accident on which the suit was based occurred last winter, when Mrs. Ryan and a gentleman named Giles were overturned in a sleigh at the Russell street crossing of the railroad, owing it is claimed to snow having been improperly piled up by the railroad's employees. Mr. Giles had one shoulder dislocated, and Mrs Ryan was cut and bruised about the head, and otherwise injured.

J. W. Emery and Samuel W. Emery for plff.; Frink for railroad.

It is said the Boston & Maine offered Ryan $1000 to settle, which was refused.

At the close of this case the jurors were dismissed, and Judge Carpenter announced that all court cases were in order for trial.

FUN FOR THE BOYS.

The was good skating on the north pond, Thursday, and quite a number of boys took advantage of it, skimming about where the pond is widest. Just how safe a sport this was we are not prepared to say, the ice being less than two inches thick, formed during and since the night of the republican parade on the previous Tuesday evening, when the pond was all open water, and two young men had an illuminated boat afloat on it during the passage of the procession. The south pond, though shallower and smaller than the north one, was only partially frozen over on Thursday, the quantity of fresh water flowing into it being much less than the north pond receives, and salt water freezing less readily.

WAS NOT THINKING OF THE PENALTY.

A Maine paper, referring to the fact that it has been said that the abolition of capital punishment in Maine increases the number of murders there, while the fear of an ignoble death would have a deterring effect, asks why, if this be so, did not James Palmer kill Henry T. Whitehouse on Maine soil, just across Portsmouth bridge, and so escape hanging! The answer to this may be that the murderer was nearer home on this side of the river, and probably thought he could escape detection more easily if he committed the crime with no long bridge between him and his home. The remarkable coolness of a James Palmer, even, might have evaporated before the idea that by taking greater chance of discovery, a life sentence of confinement might be his. It is safe to say that he had no desire for any kind of punishment.

SOCIETY NEWS AND PERSONAL NOTES.

—The card party given by Doctor and Mrs. Potter last Wednesday evening was a very enjoyable affair, and one not soon to be forgotten. Everybody regrets exceedingly that they are to pass the winter away from here, for they are noted for their hospitality, and the social gatherings in their large and handsomely furnished house, which have so greatly helped to relieve the monotony of a long and dreary winter, will be seriously missed.

—The reception given last Wednesday afternoon by Miss Margaret Foster to Miss Bessie Gerry, who has just returned from abroad, was a delightful little social event attended by ladies only. Card playing was indulged in between the serving of coffee and the more substantial refreshments, and among the honored guests were Mrs. Richter, Mrs. Tredick, Mrs. May, Mrs. Everett, Mrs. Delano, Mrs. Gooding, Mrs. Decatur, the Misses Ball, Miss Morgan, Miss Morison, Miss Thompson and Miss Treadwell.

—Dr. M. H. Simons, U. S. N., recently ordered to duty at this naval station, to attend naval officers and their families, and as the relief of Dr. A. C. Heffenger at the naval hospital at Widow's island, Me., has taken apartments at No. 43 State street. The latter officer having been ordered to duty on the U. S. S. Kearsarge, expects to join that ship at Hampton Roads on the 27th inst.

—Capt. John A. Howell, U. S. N., so well and pleasantly remembered while on duty at the navy yard here, has been ordered to command the new cruiser Atlanta, now fitting out for a trip around the world at the New York navy yard.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Hill and Miss Florence returned yesterday from a two weeks visit in New York, and are settled in their comfortable quarters at the Rockingham for the winter.

—Passed Asst. Surgeon Arthur C. Heffenger, of the navy, leaves this city Sunday for Norfolk, Va., to join the U. S. S. Kearsarge at that place for a passage to Montevideo, Uruguay, where he will join the U. S. S. Tallapoosa, flagship of the South Atlantic squadron, to which vessel he will be attached as surgeon.

—Doctor and Mrs. Fred E. Potter will close their residence on Islington street Dec 1st, and pass the winter season in Boston. The doctor will visit his office in this city on certain specified days of each week during the winter.

—Mr. George H. Yeaton and daughter, of Hansport, Nova Scotia, arrived in this city on Tuesday evening, the 20th inst., on a visit to Mr. Yeaton's sister, Miss Sarah C. Yeaton of Richards avenue.

—Mrs. Clara M. Gardner and daughter, Miss Lizzie Gardner, of Water street, left for Boston on Thursday last for a week's stay.

—Geo. B. Wilson of Kittery Foreside, formerly hospital steward at the navy yard, arrived home from college on the 21st inst. on a brief visit to his parents, Mr. John B. Wilson and wife.

—Mrs. Chauncey Morris is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Steele, of Kittery Foreside. Mrs. Steele, her mother, is very sick.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Nov. 22d.

Editor Chronicle:—Please permit me through the columns of your paper and in behalf of the executive committee, to thank the republican ladies of Portsmouth for the abundant supply of excellent rations they so cheerfully provided, and for their untiring efforts to make the demonstration of Tuesday evening a success. The various sub-committees are to be congratulated upon the result of their efforts in the same direction. I wish also to thank his Honor Mayor Hodgdon for the abundant police service he so kindly placed at my disposal. To everyone who in any way contributed to the celebration, I extend the thanks of the executive committee. S. R. MARSTON,

Chairman Ex. Com., Chief Marshal.

It has been suggested that a permanent republican club be formed in this city. The headquarters for the campaign having been given up by the committee, a refusal of the room has been obtained for one week, and it is suggested that those republicans interested meet this evening at half-past seven for the purpose of taking some action in the matter.

The concert given on Tuesday evening, the 20th, at Music hall, being the first entertainment in the Star course, was rather slimly attended, owing to the interest in the republican celebration, but the fortunate ones were given a rare treat in the musical line. The soloist of the evening, Miss Thomas, has a lovely soprano voice, and was deservedly encored. Mr. Gilder, the pianist, was excellent, and the orchestral rendering of Al Fresco and the waltz La Gitana was particularly fine.

Frank Gray, of the brass shop at the Portsmouth Machine Works, wore in the republican procession on the evening of the 20th inst. a sword which was carried through the war of the rebellion by Mr. John W. Stott. Twelve years ago the sword was worn on a similar occasion by the late John Moore. It was at the capture of Morris island, Fort Sumpter, Battery Wagner, Fort Fisher, Howlitt House battery, and the seige of the forts on the James river at the end of the war, the day before Richmond was taken by the Union forces.

Thatcher, Primrose & West's Minstrels at Music hall to-morrow evening The "Kings of minstrelsy" need no commendation here, where they are so well known. Tickets at Goodrich's.

Steamer Valora, Capt. Hoyt, left this port on Wednesday, the 21st inst., at one o'clock P. M., and arrived in Portland at nine o'clock that evening, after a very rough passage. She is to have new tubes put in her boiler.

One Fact

Is worth a column of rhetoric, said an American statesman. It is a fact, established by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from impure state or low condition of the blood. It also overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

The workmen in the department of construction and repair at the navy yard will be paid to-day.

A "square meal, three times a day," is your privilege if you judiciously use Laxador, whenever your digestive organs need a toning up.

Nothing better than Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup can be used for the diseases of babyhood. Price only 25 cents. Sold by all druggists.

The Cocheco Mfg. Co. at Dover will pay a dividend of ten dollars a share, Dec. 1st.

As a purifier, Ayer's Sarsaparilla acts directly and promptly. A single bottle will prove its merits. Many thousands of people are yearly saved from dangerous fevers by the exercise of a little timely care in cleansing the system by the use of this remedy.

The new board of inspectors of checklists met in the city rooms on Thursday evening, and organized by the choice of Daniel J. Ayers as chairman, and Samuel R. Gardner as clerk.

Happy and Hungry.

For over five years I was a constant sufferer with that most terrible and annoying disease, dyspepsia. After paying out hundreds of dollars, the only medicine I found that would do me any good was Sulphur Bitters. Six bottles cured me. Now I can eat will and am happy and hungry.—Editor.

Another of the burglars who has been raiding York county stores, post offices and railroad stations of late has been captured in Gorham. A. H. Barnes, the West Buxton jeweler who lost about $2000 worth of goods, has recovered a small part of the stolen jewelry. It was found in the burglar's possession.

Bromo Soda at Globe Grocery Co.

Hind's Honey and Almond cream; sample bottles at Benj. Green's apothecary.

DOVER.

THURSDAY, Nov. 22d.

What came near being a small-sized riot occurred on Garrison Hill, where the water pipes are being laid, this morning. It seems a number of Italians were engaged in digging a trench and one of them accidentally hit another with a heavy stone. The others, thinking he had done it on purpose, immediately set on the poor fellow and for a few moments a general melee ensued, which resulted in a number of black eyes and bruised faces. Clubs and stones were freely used, and one Dagoe was quite severely injured. Quiet was at last restored, and the men went to work.

Capt. Symonds has finished the work of dredging the lower river from the steam mill wharf to Trickey's coal sheds. Many thousand yards of dirt and rocks have been removed, and the river widened some twenty feet. Mr. Symonds' floating apparatus will at once be taken to Portsmouth for the winter.

The failure of Contractor Dacey has not caused much surprise about town. The "I told you so's" are getting in their work. Engineer Blake has taken the contract to finish the digging, although it has already been delayed so much that fears are entertained that the cement which covers the inside of the reservoir will be affected by the cold weather before the work is finished. Many workmen and teamsters are out of pocket a good sum owing to the failure of Dacey. The water commissioners say, however, they shall be given some percentage of their bills.

Supreme Chief J. D. Barnes will be the guest of Couer De Lion Castle, No. 2, K. G. E., of this city, Saturday evening next. A banquet will take place at their hall after the exercises are over.

The concert given by the children at the Methodist church last evening was largely attended, and a long and interesting programme was enjoyed.

A horse hitched to one of the Cocheco Mfg. Co.'s heavy drays, fell near the watering trough on Franklin Square this morning and badly damaged the harness.

The funeral of the late Miss Lizzie Clark took place from the Catholic church this forenoon. Deceased was a worthy young lady, loved and respected among those who knew her.

The Ada Gilman Co. arrived in town on the 10:00 A. M. train. Their play, "Bubbling Over," was presented at the Opera House tonight to a fair-sized audience.

The gold watch to be given to the most popular foreman in the shoe shops, is on exhibition in Browne Bros.' window.

At a meeting of the Sawyer Rifles last evening, Walter W. Scott was elected treasurer for the ensuing year. The treasurer's report shows the company to be in good condition financially.

The Strafford Guards believe in patronizing home talent, and have consequently engaged Taylor & Tasker's orchestra for their ball. The orchestra will be augmented by five out of town musicians, and good music may be looked for.

Mr. W. S. Reynolds is to open a jewelry store in the lower half of B. F. Estes' shoe store in Morrill's block.

A number will go to Portsmouth from here Saturday night to see Thatcher, Primrose and West's minstrels.

A slight fire in Hanson's saw mill yesterday did about $50 worth of damage. No alarm was given.

A few more things we would like to know:

Why all good shows give Dover the "go by?"

Why Contracter Dacey failed?

Why Alderman Walker doesn't run for mayor.

Why the building of the jail is not investigated?

Why the "snap shots" do not snap?

Why some of the "clerks" do not clerk?

Why Messrs. Ham & Haley sold Garrison Hill so cheap (?) MAC.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Sold only in cans, full weight.

CLEVELAND BROTHERS, ALBANY, N. Y.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO. 106 Wall Street, New York.

Pierce & Guptill,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW.

No. 3 Market Square, Portsmouth, N. H.

☞ Special attention given to Collecting.

Scissors

— AND —

Pocket Knives.

PRYOR & MATTHEWS,

16 Market St.

New Store. New Goods.

JOHN S. RAND,

No. 11 Market Street.

Would respectfully announce that he will resume business on

Wednesday Next, Nov. 21st,

His store having been remodelled and refitted, making it one of the most attractive and best lighted in the city. In addition to his former stock he has added a large assortment of

FALL & WINTER

Dry and Fancy Goods!

purchased with a desire to suit the wants of customers, and which will be offered at prices that cannot fail to please.

Our present space enables us to add materially to our variety, and we shall therefore keep a good assortment of which will be sold at the lowest prices. Thanking friends and the public for their former patronage we would most respectfully solicit a continuance of the same.

Ladies' Small Wares

JOHN S. RAND,

11 MARKET STREET.

A LARGE LOT OF LEAF SAGE Just Received and for Sale by the Pound or less quantity. Come early before it is sold.

JAMES R. TEATON & CO., 55 Congress St.

THACHER'S ELIXIR

CALISAYA & IRON,

The Best Tonic. Appetizer and Blood Purifier Known.

PRICE, $1.00 A BOTTLE.

Manufactured and Sold Only By

BENJAMIN GREEN,

APOTHECARY,

(Successor to J. H. Thacher,)

No. 12 Market Square

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

J. L.

Thanksgiving, '88.

500 lbs. Layer Figs.

2,000 lbs. Malaga Grapes.

100 boxes Fancy New Raisins.

500 lbs. New Citron.

500 lbs. New Currants.

50 doz. boxes New Sardines.

New Nuts of all Kinds.

New Cider. Bottled Cider. Wines, etc.

The largest and best stock in the city.

JOHN LAIGHTON,

No. 1 Market Square.

MUSIC HALL.

Saturday Evening, Nov. 26th.

THATCHER, PRIMROSE & WEST'S

MILLIONAIRE MINSTRELS

Under the management of D. W. TRUSS.

"It is doubtful if their equals ever existed."—New York Herald. "Take it for all in all we shall not look upon its like again."—Detroit Free Press. "Always the leaders, they have this season surpassed all previous efforts."—Chicago Tribune.

Unique, Brilliant, Costly Shakesperean FIRST PART. William H. West as Romeo. The following noted characters of Shakespearean drama: Touchstone, Dromios of Ephesus, Dromios of Syracuse, Romeo, Sir John Falstaff, Macbeth, King John, Othello, Benedict, Malvolio, Mercutio, Hotspur, Timon of Athens, Julius Cæsar, Hamlet, and Heralds of the Fifteenth Century.

GEO. THATCHER, Entirely New Monologue. GEO. H. PRIMROSE'S "English Swell."

The Greatest of All European Wonders, the BROTHERS BRYNE.

THE CLIPPER QUARTETTE, Barney Fagan's $5000 Challenge Grand Review.

Johnson, Powers and LeMack's Original Sketch OUR BALLADISTS. Frederick Oakland, Al Hart, J. P. Curran, W. Henry Whyte, Julian Jordan, Jas. Dalton.

NEW FEATURES THOUGHOUT.

Prices: 35, 50 and 75 cents. Seats on sale Wednesday, Nov. 21st, at Goodrich's.

MUSIC HALL.

— ONE NIGHT ONLY —

Wednesday, Nov. 28th.

SPECIAL ENGAGEMENT!

Arthur Rehan's Co. of Comedians

— IN THE COMEDY SUCCESS —

NANCY & CO.!

From Daly's Theatre, New York.

An Evening of Delightful Comedy and Undelayed Merriment.

Prices, 35, 50, 75 Cents, and $1.00.

Seats on Sale Monday, Nov. 26th, at Goodrich's Book Store.

BOOK BINDING

Of Every Desciption,

— DONE AT —

NO. 5 CONGRESS STREET,

(OVER FAY'S STORE.)

Magazines and other Periodicals Bound in Styles to Suit Patrons; Especial Attention given to

REBINDING OLD BOOKS!

for Libraries or Individuals; in short, any work of the kind promptly attended to, and satisfaction guaranteed. ☞ Prices reasonable.

JOHN D. RANDALL.

FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

RED FIRE!

QUALITY GUARANTEED.

ANDREW P. PRESTON,

Apothecary, - Portsmouth, N. H.

Marigold Ointment!

Remember is Warranted for External Piles, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Nettle Rash, Hives, and all Diseases of the Skin and Scalp, Old Sores, Chilblains, Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Chapped Hands, Cold Sores, Cracks in Hands and Lips, Ingrowing Nails, Inflamed Joints, and everything else for which an Ointment is required.

Call for Circular and Sample Box Free.

— SOLE AGENT FOR ROCKINGHAM COUNTY —

William D. Grace, - - - Apothecary.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE BEST BONDS ARE POLICIES

— IN THE —

Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York

THE LARGEST, CHEAPEST AND BEST IN THE WORLD.

Assets - - over $120,000,000.

RICHARD A. MCCURDY, - PRESIDENT.

PROTECTION FOR THE AGED!

At Age of 75 $1000 will purchase an Annuity of $159.06, and other ages in proportion.

Those Desiring Reliable Insurance Should Apply to the Undersigned,

C. M. GIGNOUX, - - GENERAL AGENT,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

FALL AND WINTER OF 1888-89.

Our Assortment of Tailoring Goods is superior in many respects to any of previous years, embracing a Full Line of Goods suitable for

Fall and Winter Overcoatings.

Aslo, a Fine Assortment of the Best

IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC GOODS FOR SUITINGS,

Consisting of Stripes, Checks, Plain and Fancy Woollens and Worsteds in Great Variety.

CHECKS AND STRIPES FOR TROWSERS.

FANCY PATTERNS FOR VESTING.

Prices Reasonable for Fine Work.

WM. P. WALKER, - - MERCHANT TAILOR,

NO. 8 MARKET SQUARE.

A PERFECT BLEND

MOCHA AND JAVA COFFEE

FULL WEIGHT, 2 POUND CANS, PRICE 70 CENTS

CHARLES E. LAICHTON & SON,

Exchange Building, Opp. Post-Office.

THE OLDEST AND ONLY Republican Morning Paper IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

IF YOU WANT TO BUY OR SELL ANYTHING ADVERTISE IN THE Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 24, 1852. | PORTSMOUTH, N. H., SATURDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 24, 1888. | $5 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE. TWO CENTS PER COPY.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

The News!

ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES.

Engineers and Firemen Join in the Switchmen's Strike.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Nov. 23. — The strike of the railroad switchmen is taking on an ugly phase. Not a single switch engine in the city was moved today. In the freight yards everything was in confusion. The morning trains were abandoned, half made up, or not made up at all. In several places the engineers and firemen or other employees of the roads pressed into the service tried to go on with the work, but the strikers interfered, and prevented the departure of the trains. Although some disposition to blockade the tracks and obstruct the progress of the men who desired to work was exhibited, only one instance of positive violence is known. The serious phase of the strike is that the engineers and firemen are in close sympathy with the switchmen. In nearly every instance they have quit work, run the engines into the round houses and drawn the fires when the switchmen requested it. This adds much to the complication of the matter. The switchmen may be replaced by inexperienced men and traffic resumed in a short time, providing the engineers and firemen will work; but without the latter nothing can be done. Mr. Sweeney, grand master of the Union, has returned to Chicago. All this forenoon the strikers went from one yard to another warning applicants for work that if they undertook to handle the switch engines they would be handled roughly. The officers of the roads have called for police protection. Efforts will be made to start out some new crews this evening.

The I. D. & W. Switchmen Win.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

This afternoon the managers of the Indianapolis, Decatur & Western company cenceded the demands of the striking switchmen, and the men returned to work. The strike continues on the other railroads.

Taxing the Bell Telephone Business.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The general term of the supreme court to-day decided that the Bell Telephone Co., of Boston, is liable to a tax upon the business it does in this state. Tax is claimed upon the business transacted in the state from 1883 to 1886. Judgment is given against the company for $34,478.

A Bad Example to Follow.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 23.—News comes from across the water to the effect that the stern of the English gunboat "Scout" has sunk considerably, and the rear frames show signs of weakening. The new gunboats Yorktown, Bennington and others, recently built for the U. S. navy, are patterned closely upon the English model which now shows signs of failure.

Chief of the Tuscaroras Dead.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Nov. 23.— Chief William Printup, grand sachem of the Tuscaroras Indians. has died on the reservation, aged 76 years.

He Will Have American Citizens Only.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Nov. 23.—"Deacon" Richardson has given notice that hereafter only American citizens, native or naturalized, will be employed on his street-car lines as conductors or drivers.

Foster, Missing Bookkeeper, Shoots Himself.

Associated Press to Daily Caronicle.

KEENE, N. H., Nov. 23.—Sumner C. Foster committed suicide at the Fabyan house, last night, by shooting. He was the bookkeeper who has been missing since Sept. 6th. His widow resides in Charlestown, N. H. He was partially deranged.

South Carolina's Official Vote.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 23.—The official canvass of South Carolina's vote gives Cleveland 65,822, Harrison 13,740; democratic majority 52,085. Democratic congressmen are elected in all seven of the districts. In the seventh or "Black" district, Col. William Elliott, present incumbent, is re-elected by a vote of 8358 to 7000 for Miller, his colored competitor.

Dropped Dead.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

SKOWHEGAN, ME., Nov. 23.—Mrs. J. F. Osborne, landlady of the Quinnebosset house, Norridgewock, dropped dead this afternoon in the dining room, of heart disease.

Powderly Re-elected.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Nov. 23.—The general assembly of Knights of Labor today re-elected F. V. Powderly president, Powderly receiving 114 votes to 28 for all others.

Eureka Springs, Dakota, Destroyed.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

EUREKA SPRINGS, DAK., Nov. 23.—A fire this morning, starting in a dentist's office, burned the greater part of the business portion of the city. Loss estimated at $200,000; very little insurance.

A Newspaper Cashier's Embezzlement.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—O. Carleton Sunde, cashier of the New York News, is reported as having absconded with at least $10,000.

Harrison Has over 80,000 in Kansas.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

TOPEKA, Nov. 23.—Official figures today show Harrison's plurality in Kansas to be 80,176.

Cave-in and Flood.

WILKESBARRE, PA., Nov. 23.—A cave-in covering a tract half a mile square, occurred this afternoon at Parsons Station, between the Mineral Spring colliery and the Laurel Run colliery. It is about six feet deep. Both water mains, each sixteen inches in diameter, of the water company, which extend under the caved district, were snapped off, and an immense volume of water from the reservoir rushed into the mines. Work at both collieries had to be abandoned until repairs can be made and the water pumped out.

Gets a Foothold in Chicago.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CHICAGO, ILL., Nov. 23.—The Canadian Pacific road has made arrangements to run trains into Chicago over the Wabash tracks, and will have terminal facilities here in connection with that system.

A Syndicate Absorbs Four Horse Railroads.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

ST. LOUIS, MO., Nov. 23.—On December 15th it is said that a Chicago syndicate will secure control of four St. Louis street railways, the Citizens, the Cass Avenue, the Union Line and the Fair Grounds line.

Gen. Ramsay Vindicated.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Nov. 23.—General John Ramsay, manager of the New Jersey republican general committee, who was charged with having induced a man to falsely register in place of a sick voter, was honorably discharged to-day in the supreme court.

Didn't Know It Was Loaded.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

ALTOONA, PA., Nov. 23.—Albert Shultz, a boy af 15, returned this evening from a hunting expedition, and thoughtlessly pointed his gun at his nephew, a prattling baby eight months old, pulled the trigger and the charge knocked half of the infant's head off.

Soft Coal Smoke a Nuisance.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Nov. 22.—The Hudson county grand jury made presentment today, to Judge Lippincott, that they find the use of soft coal on locomotives running in Hudson county a nuisance, "causing dense volumes of black smoke to arise, and offensive and suffocating smells which penetrate the houses of the people, creating discomfort and suffering." The jury also object to blowing of locomotive whistles.

Ex-Senator Rollins Unconscious From a Fall.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

BOSTON, Nov. 23,— midnight. — Ex-Senator E. H. Rollins, who was stricken with vertigo on Milk street this afternoon, still lies unconscious at the hospital. His wife and son are with him.

City Wiped Out.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

POCOMOKE CITY, MD., Nov. 23.—The aggregated loss by fire last night is figured at $253,600; insurance $153,000. Nearly all the public business buildings were burned, and the greater portion of 2500 inhabitants are homeless.

New York's Official Vote At Last.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 24.—The electoral vote of New York State as canvassed by the State board is as follows: Highest and lowest number of votes received by any elector given. Electoral, republican highest 650,337, lowest 648,759; democratic highest 635,965, lowest 635,800; Prohibition, highest 30,231, lowest 30,222; Socialist, highest 2068, lowest 2022; Union Labor, highest 626, lowest 581; United Labor, electors at large, Redpath 2658, Wilder 2,447; Harrison's plurality, highest 14,372; lowest 12,794; average 13,665.

A New Mayor For Providence.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

PROVIDENCE, R. I.,—Nov. 23.—The republican city convention this afternoon, nominated Hanry R. Barker for mayor on the third ballot, defeating the present incumbent, Mayor Gilbert F. Robbins. Barker is president of the Providence Mutual Fire Insurance company, a man of sterling character, and a genial disposition.

Celebrating the Manchester Martyrs' Anniversary.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The Irish revolutionary brotherhood in this city celebrated tonight the 21st anniversary of the execution of Allen, Harkin and O'Brien, the "Manchester Martyrs," for killing Constable Brett in the streets of Manchester, Eng.

The Gate City Guards' Compliment.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

HARTFORD, CONN., Nov. 23. — The Gate City Guards of Atlanta have sent a handsome bale of new cotton to the Governor's Fort Guard of Hartford for the benefit of their armory fair.

To Be Re-Elected.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., Nov. 23.—At a joint caucus of Democratic senators and representatives of the Alabama legislature, today, Senator Morgan was re-nominated by acclamation, to be his own successor.

Assumed Command.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—Brigadier General Miles assumed command of the division of the Pacific this morning. Gen. Howard and Lieut. Greble started today for New York.

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 23.—New cases 6, deaths 2; total cases, 4665, total deaths, 407. The city council has passed an ordinance that a fine of from $50 to $500 or imprisonment from 30 to 90 days be imposed on any person found concealing infected articles.

FOREIGN.

Debate on the Irish Land-Purchase Bill.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—In the House of Commons, this evening, Seaton asked whether it was true that seven Irish members were about to be prosecuted, and if so, whether there was any relation between the prosecution and the delay in debate on the Irish estimates. If not, he asked if Smith, the government leader, would give assurance that members would not be withdrawn from their parliamentary duties until the estimates were settled.

Smith denied having any knowledge of such prosecution. He moved that the rule compelling adjournment at midnight be again suspended to enable the house to conclude the debate on the Irish land-purchase bill. The motion was carried, 195 to 191.

On a motion to go into committee on the bill, Parnell proposed an amendment giving government the power to instruct the land commission to deal with arrears when fixing judicial rents. He urged that in view of the fact that it was agreed on all sides that the arrears question must necessarily be settled, it ought to be dealt with without delay, in conjunction with the question of land purchase. This done, it would place tenants in a position to contract freely with landlords, protect the exchequer against loss, and the Ashburne act the best possible chance to work with smoothness.

Smith contended that the course Parnell proposed would place the tenants in a distinctly worse condition than before, by recognizing the arrears as charges that might continue to hang around their necks even after the contract for purchase had been agreed upon.

Parnell's motion was rejected, 182 to 148.

A True Kilkenny Fight.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

DUBLIN, Nov. 23.—Meetings announced throughout Ireland to-day in memory of the "Manchester Martyrs" were proclaimed by the government. Few conflicts occurred; the most serious disturbance was at Kilkenny. A despatch late to-night says the police were charging in all directions, and the magistrate threatened to give orders to fire upon the mob.

Gladstone's Outing.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LONDON, Nov. 23. — Gladstone will start for Florence Dec. 18th, and will visit Rome and Naples.

The Emin Bey Expedition.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

BERLIN, Nov. 23.—At a meeting of the Colonial company today, Dr. Peters moved that the Emin relief expedition be delayed until German authority in East Africa is restored. Lieut. Wissman declared he was prepared to make an immediate attempt with a small expedition.

A Celestial Rebellion.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—The steamer Rio De Janeiro arrived today from Hong Kong and Yokohama, and reports an uprising in Formosa on account of the registration and re-measurement in the rice and sugar districts in the south and west of the island, which has been in progress for some time with a view of increased taxation. This caused great ill-will against the authorities, and Chinese settlers aided by the natives took possession of the large walled town of Ching Hoa, received recruits, and took another large town, Hagia. It was thought Fai was in danger but the British consul telegraphed for a gunboat. The district is much disturbed.

Bands of robbers are plundering people on the roads. A conspiracy has been discovered at Madison, Java. Forty-two of the ringleaders who refused to surrender were shot dead.

DUBLIN, Nov. 23. — The murder of Daly is supposed to be due to family feuds. At the inquest, a boy deposed that he had brought the first news of the murder to Daly's wife; she declared she was glad, as she would now have land for herself, and the matter had cost her many tears the past year. During the taking of evidence the wife cried loudly.

BELGRADE, SERVIA, Nov. 23.—Seventy radicals were arrested in connection with the election riots here, Wednesday last.

OTTAWA, ONT., Nov. 23.—Word has reached here of a fire in progress at Aylmer village, nine miles from here. Several buildings are ablaze, and the flames are spreading rapidly.

ROME, Nov. 23. — Signor Ingami, a Roman advocate, who died recently, left 1,000,000 francs to the Pope.

DOVER.

FRIDAY, Nov. 23d.

An entertainment will be given by the Lotus Glee club of Boston and Miss Jesse Eldredge, at the Opera house, Dec. 6th, under the management of the Y. M. C. Association.

Mr. Dennis Cash declines the democratic nomination for mayor. He thinks it bad enough to be an alderman.

James W. Henderson left for his winter home in St. Augustine, Fla., this morning.

At the republican caucus in ward three last night the following nominations were made: For aldermen, C. A. Davis, and A. R. Towle; for councilmen, Finley D. McIntyre, Chas. C. Bunce, and Chas. E. Burnham.

In ward four after a lively contest, the following result was obtained: For aldermen, John M. Staples, and C. M. Corson; for councilmen, James Wilkinson, John Scott, Jr., and B. D. Stewart. All but three are new men,.

Master Ben F. Frye, son of Mr. Moses Frye, recently celebrated his fifth birthday. Among many gifts was $50 in gold from his grandfather, Wm. Sterns.

Mr. Augustus T. Coleman is now spoken of as the probable democratic nominee for mayor. Mr. Coleman served two years as alderman from ward two, and is very popular with his own party and would poll a heavy vote. It is understood he will accept the nomination, if made.

Dr. C. H. Horsh has gone to Chicago, where he will remain during the winter.

The Sawyer Rifles intend having a Thanksgiving shoot on the city farm.

Dr. Harry Stackpole leaves for Europe tomorrow.

City Democratic caucus to-morrow night.

Wm. Sterns is better. MAC.

USE NETTEZZA!

FOR THE TEETH.

PREPARED BY E. C BLAISDELL, D. M. D.

Price 25 Cents.

— FOR SALE BY —

A. P. PRESTON, D. KIMBALL & CO., W. D. GRACE, F. B. COLEMAN AND BENJ. GREEN.

THE LARGEST CIRCULATION EVER REACHED

By Any Newspaper in New England

WAS ATTAINED BY THE

BOSTON HERALD

ON NOV. 7, 1888,

The Day Following the Presidential Election,

441,738.

441,738

COPIES OF THE

BOSTON HERALD

Were printed and sold on that day. The public demanded accurate reports of the great struggle, and to get them had to buy the HERALD. The mighty presses thundered from midnight to early dawn, and from dawn to sunset. Miles on miles of white paper changed to thousands on thousands of HERALDS. Newsdealer after newsdealer sold out his stock and rushed back for more. It was a splendid tribute to the

Brains, Push and Energy

That have carried the HARALD to the front of American journalism, and hold it there far in the lead.

The publishers look forward with confidence to the time when the daily circulation will equal, if not exceed, 441,738.

Insurance Notice.

THE OLD INSURANCE AGENCY,

AT THE OLD STAND,

No. 13 Pleasant Street,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

JOSEPH P. MORSE,

25 CORDS

DRY PINE LIMBS!

At $3.50 Per Cord.

The Very Best of Fuel at a Low Price.

O. F. PHILBRICK & CO.,

COAL AND WOOD DEALERS,

4 Water Street.

WOOD AND COAL!

A Good Assortment of all kinds of Wood and Coal.

Kindling Wood Split to Order.

— ALSO —

Akron Drain and Sewer Pipe.

NO. 13 GREEN STREET,

DANIEL LITTLEFIEL

Look in at Conn's

— AND SEE THE —

BUTTER!

From the very best Dairies in Vermont and New York. Creameries are of no account compared with these Dairies. Also,

Cheese Pork. Lard. Hams, Beans Etc

No Oleo or Second-Hand Stuff kept.

The very best quality of LARD bought by the car-load, which I am selling less than the Boston prices.

COMFORT

— FOR —

COLD AND TENDER FEET!

Persons troubled with cold or tender feet will find warmth and ease in the use of

DOLGE'S ALL WOOL FELT

Slippers and Shoes

For which the undersigned is agent in this City and Vicinity.

--- AT THE STORE ---

No. 34 Market Street

Can be found a Full Line of these Goods, in many patterns of Slippers, Shoes and Boots, and several colors, for house, office or street wear,

Of Men and Boys, Women and Girls.

Please examine our Stock.

J. C. CARR.

JOHN H. BROUHTON,

No. 69 Daniel St., Portsmouth, N. H.

— DEALER IN —

EASTERN AND WESTERN

LUMBER!

Shingles,

Clapboards

and Laths.

— ALSO —

Best Newark Hydraulic Cement,

Best Extra and No. 1 Lime

FOR SALE AT LOWEST PRICES.

To Let.

THE middle Tenement, No. 30, in the Keniston Block on Pleasant Street. Apply to

J. W. HAM

NEW JEWELRY

— AND —

SILVER GOODS

— AT —

HUTCHINSON'S.

Now is the Time to Look Over Your Wardrobe and See What You Need for Winter, and

SIMPSON'S CORNER STORE

Is the place where you can find everything you need in Gentlemen's Wear, at Remarkably Low Prices, for Cash.

— WE HAVE A FULL LINE OF —

OVERCOATS!

Ranging in Prices from $5 to $25.

— A NEW LOT OF —

ULSTERS!

From $6 to $20.

— A FINE ASSORTMENT OF —

UNDERWEAR,

Including the Celebrated CAMEL'S HAIR for the Health.

Cardigan Jackets,

Blue and Fancy Over-Shirts.

(In these Goods we can Fit the Largest Man.)

— A FINE ASSORTMENT OF —

FURNISHING GOODS.

Headquarters for OIL and RUBBER CLOTHING, Wholesale and Retail.

Come and See for Yourselves at the Old Stand,

Corner Market and Bow Streets,

CHARLES E. SIMPSON.

GRANITE STATE

Fire Insurance Company,

OF PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

PAID-UP CAPITAL, - $200,000

OFFICERS:

President, FRANK JONES.

Vice President, JOHN W. SANBORN.

Secretary, ALFRED F. HOWARD.

Treasurer, JOHN LAIGHTON.

Executive Committee, FRANK JONES, JOHN W. SANBORN, CHARLES A. SINCLAIR, EDWIN WALLACE and E. H. WINCHESTER.

BURNETT'S

PERFECTLY PURE

STANDARD FLAVORING

HIGHLY CONCENTRATED

EXTRACTS

BURNETT'S FLAVORING EXTRACTS are pure and of great strength.

HOUSEKEEPERS who study their interests will demand of their grocers BURNETT'S FLAVORING EXTRACTS, and will find them the most economical as well as the most delicious of flavors.

The superiority of these extracts consists in their

Perfect Purity and Great Strength.

They are warranted free from the poisonous oils and acids which enter into the composition of many of the factitious fruit flavors now in the market.

They are not only true to their names, but are prepared from fruit of the best quality, and are so highly concentrated that a comparatively small quantity only need to be used.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

The three-story (above the grade floor)

BRICK STORE BUILDING

NO. 16 BOW STREET,

Running back over the wharf to the river, occupied for a long time by the late Charles Robinson as a wholesale corn and flour store. Sold to close up an estate. Enquire of

J. F. McNAMARA, Real Estate Broker.

The Portsmouth Daily Chronicle,

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 2, 1852.

Published every morning, except Sunday, at No. 7 Exchange Building, Pleasant Street.

By mail, postage prepaid, $5 a year. Single Copies, Two Cents.

THE CHRONICLE is served to subscribers in Portsmouth, Kittery, Dover, Rochester and Farmington at 15 Cents per month, hours in advance of any other paper containing the Associated Press Despatches.

The New Hampshire Gazette,

ESTABLISHED OCT. 7, 1756.

The Oldest Newspaper in America. Published every Thursday.

Terms, $1.50 a year in advance.

[Entered at the Post Office at Portsmouth as second class matter.]

W. SCOTT SMITH,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

☞ Rates of advertising made known on application.

Agents for the Daily Chronicle:

MOSES BROS.....PORTSMOUTH.
ROBERTS & AVERY.....FARMINGTON
WORCESTER & GREENFIELD..ROCHESTER
BROWNE BROS.....DOVER.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

SATURDAY, NOV. 24, 1888.

Harrison as a Statesman.

The general policy likely to be pursued by President-Elect Harrison is now naturally a subject of great interest to all the people of the United States. What view is he likely to have on this and that important question, and what will be his action on the great matters concerning the welfare, the prosperity and happiness of our people. These questions can only be answered by a look at his past record, especially the record of his six years term in the United States Senate, and we can truthfully say that, as has been the case during the campaign just closed, every word publicly spoken in debate in that august body redounds to his credit as a statesman of large heart and honest feeling, and a man fully abreast of the best and most progressive principles of the great party to which he belongs.

That General Harrison believes in pensioning the brave soldiers who saved the Union, the following brief extract will show:

"We are not to be alarmed at the amount of money that may be involved in doing an act of justice to the soldiers of the country. We are not in the least frightened by this parade of figures.

For one, I would as soon barter with a man who had rescued my child from the grave.

I do not like the idea of compelling a pensioner, when he comes to the Government for his pension, to be put to the necessity of exposing his poverty, and basing his claim upon his necessitous condition."

On a proposition of the ultra reformers to prohibit all officers and employees of the Government from exercising their rights as citizens, in acting with and supporting the party of their choice, he said:

"I insist that it is a common principle, applicable as well to the service of the United States and its employees as to the service of corporations and individuals and their employees, that when a man has once earned the salary stipulated by law or fixed by contract, has earned it by the stipulated hours of work, it is his, absolutely his; and the principle sought to be introduced here is that the Government may follow that money in his control and dictate the use of it to him. The Government of the United States cannot prohibit any man from using money that is his for any legitimate purpose."

President Harrison will favor the prompt admission to the Union of all duly qualified Territories. On this question he said:

"As there were thirteen original States and Dakota will be thirty-nine, it will be so appropriate in the centennial year of the Constitution to multiply the thirteen by three and show that each grandmother has a child by her knee."

On the great important race question in the South, and the cowardly and brutal outrages on the colored citizens throughout that law-abiding (?) section, General Harrison has spoken and undoubtedly will speak again, and let us hope act as well. In the Senate he said:

"I am one of those who feel that the colored race in the South since the war has been subjected to indignities, cruelties, outrages, and a repression of rights such as find no parallel in the history of civilization. I have read with horror the authenticated stories of the cruelties which have been visited upon this docile, kindly, and inoffensive race."

The wide difference between the preaching and the practice of President Cleveland as a civil service reformer, moved him to say, (in 1886:)

"The President of the United States repeatedly put himself under pledge, not simply in his public utterances but in private letters, voluntarily written, in favor of such a policy. It went through all the land to those Republicans in office who had a fragment, small or large, of a legal term to serve, that if they discharged their duties faithfully and honestly they would not be disturbed in serving out the remainder of their term. It has turned out that it was a deceptive feast to which these gentlemen were invited. It was almost as full of deception and as fatal in its results as some of those feasts of old story to which men were invited for purpose of assassination."

In view of Cleveland's utter abandonment since the above words were spoken of all his fine pretences, and the shamelessness with which his hordes of officials took part in his campaign for reelection, General Harrison's frequent views on this subject would be interesting reading.

Finally, it may be said that those busy gentlemen who are making cabinet slates may as well suspend. General Harrison is not a "previous" man. Witness the following:

"I am not one of those who usually attempt to cross a bridge before I reach it."

The Boston Herald is justly proud of its immense circulation on election day, and it seeks to keep the fact well before the people of New Hampshire and to extend it still further by advertising in the CHRONICLE as will be seen elsewhere. It is now the Boston Globe's turn to come to the front. Our advertising columns are open to the Globe on the same terms given to the Herald. Send along your advertisement, Col. Taylor, and it will be given as good a position as our local advertising will admit.

In the event of Senator Sherman being called into the cabinet of President Harrison there will be a very lively fight in Ohio over the senatorship. A republican congressman from Ohio in a letter to the Editor of the CHRONICLE says that in his opinion the contest will be between Representative McKinley and Governor Foraker, with the chances in favor of the latter. Representative Butterworth has also been mentioned, but it is generally believed that he is holding himself in reserve for the speakership contest and that he will throw his influence in favor of the election of Mr. McKinley. Mr. Butterworth would make a model speaker. He is clear-headed, a man of good presence, and the equal of any man in the House in ability. He is popular and for his own good much too modest, but would make one of the best speakers the country has ever known.

They raise some very fine specimens of Republicans in Minneapolis, and Portsmouth has contributed no small number to the ranks. The Minnesota Republicans carried the State with a clean sweep, and in Hennepin county, which includes Minneapolis, they elected every officer in the country towns, and thirty-six of the thirty-seven aldermen in the city.

The previous democratic board removed all the old soldiers from office, and the friends of the veterans defeated every one of these aldermen when they came up for re-election. It was a sweet revenge, and the Minneapolitan republicans are still shouting themselves hoarse, and are so happy, in fact, that they can hardly settle down to the full realization of what their great victory fully implies.

When eastern republicans transplant themselves west, their faith and vigor increase, and their enthusiasm never falters. The richness of their reward fills their hearts with joy unspeakable.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE CHRONICLE:

There is a current report about the city that I was one of a party of gentlemen who advised the circulation of petitions for the appointment of postmaster and collector of internal revenue. Will you be kind enough to deny this report? and furthermore I have declined to sign petitions for any person, thinking there is no haste in the matter. I hope, at the proper time, some worthy republicans, who may be active politicians, and not loaded down with lucrative business, may be selected, thinking the persons who occupy these, the most important offices in the gift of the party in this vicinity, should give their whole services for the salary received.

Yours Respectfully,
J. ALBERT WALKER.

Portsmouth, Nov. 23, 1888.

The Kansas City Investment Company, which makes a business of lending the money entrusted to it, has published a primer on the details of the business.

Where the money comes from, where it goes to, how the lending is managed and paid for, what the security is, how blunders and frauds are committed, the safeguards, also the life of Kansas City itself, appear.

It can be read in an hour; and will never be forgotten.

Sent free.

THE KANSAS CITY INVESTMENT COMPANY, Kansas City, Missouri; or Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

$100,000
Janesville, Wis., Water Co.
First Mortgage 6% Bonds.
DUE AUGUST 1, 1907.

Secured by a Sinking Fund. Descriptive Circulars furnished on application.

Brewster, Cobb & Estabrook,
35 Congress St., Boston.

BURNETT'S PERFECTLY PURE HIGHLY CONCENTRATED Standard Flavoring EXTRACTS

The superiority of these Extracts consist in their

Perfect Purity and Great Strength.

Always on Time.
NEW YORK & NEW ENGLAND,
Trains for New York.

Leave Portsmouth, via Boston & Maine R. R. at 11:05 a. m. 7:40 p. m. Arrive at Boston 1:15, 9:30 p. m.

Leave Boston, †12:00 noon; *3:00, 11:30 p. m. Ar. New York, 6.30, *9.30 p. m., 6.35 a. m. Parlor and Sleeping Cars through without change.
†Dining Car between Boston and Hartford.
‡Dining Car between Boston and Williamantic.
*3.00 p. m. runs daily, including Sundays.
Through tickets at offices, North and East.
Baggage checked through.
Ticket offices—232 Washington St., and Depot foot of Summer St., Boston. endtdf

Furnaces, Ranges & Stoves.

We are now ready to show the Finest Line of

RANGES AND PARLOR STOVES

Ever offered in this city, at Prices within the reach of all. Call and See Them Before Buying, it will Pay You.

LAMPS!
LAMPS!

Our Stock of Lamps is Complete, the

Lux Dux, Rochester, Banner, Duplex,

All First-Class, and will be Sold at the Lowest Prices.

PLUMBING, GAS PIPING, COPPER AND SHEET IRON WORK, AT

John P. Sweetser's,
46 MARKET STREET.

Be Sure

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing, by virtue of its peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation, curative power superior to any other article. A Boston lady who knew what she wanted, and whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

To Get

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I knew what Hood's Sarsaparilla was. I had taken it, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other.

Hood's

When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable, suffering a great deal with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked, and had for some time, like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it." MRS. ELLA A. GOFF, 61 Terrace Street, Boston.

Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

EAT QUAKER MILLS TRADE MARK. ROLLED WHITE OATS FOR BREAKFAST.
SOLD BY ALL GROCERS.
Quaker Mill Co., Ravenna, Ohio.

COLD WEATHER MUSIC BOOKS.

New Music Books.

These new books are every day more in favor:
Classical Pianist, Piano Classics, Song Classics, Song Classics for Low Voices, Classic Tenor Songs, Classic Baritone and Bass Songs. Each $1.
Praise in Song (40 cts., $4.20 per doz.) is the best new Sacred Music Book for Home and Vestry singing.
Let the Children sing from Menard's Songs for Kindergarten and Primary Schools (30 cts.) or Jenk's Songs and Games for Little Ones ($3) or Children's School Songs (35 cts., $3.60 per doz.) All have very sweet child's songs.
Give your aid in getting up a rousing good evening Singing Class to use Song Harmony (60 cts., $6 per doz.) Full of most interesting music, sacred and secular. Song Manual, Book 3 (50 cts., $4.80 per doz.) is also a good collection, mostly secular.
Tell the Temperance People that no better Temperance Song Book has appeared than Bells of Victory (35 cts., $3.60 per doz.)
Xmas is coming. Send for lists of Christmas Cantatas and Carols.

ANY BOOK MAILED FOR RETAIL PRICE.

Oliver Ditson & Co., Boston.

Better Far than the many Medals and Diplomas awarded to Pearline Washing Compound by Expositions, State and County Fairs throughout this land, is the one great laurel it wears—Success. Many millions of packages are required every year to supply the demand created by intelligence. Give PEARLINE a fair trial—you don't have to be over-bright to see that it saves time and labor, and wear and tear of both body and clothes. It takes the drudgery out of washing and cleaning—does this work better than anything known, and withal is perfectly harmless. Every grocer sells PEARLINE. Beware of the many imitations which are pushed on the public by prizes and peddling—they're dangerous. JAMES PYLE, New York.

"1888" OPENING OF "1888"

FALL AND WINTER DRY GOODS

At the Well-Known Store,

NOS. 30 and 32 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH.

Ayers & Locke, Proprietors,

Can be found the Largest Assortment of

SEASONABLE DRY GOODS MERCHANDISE.
LARGEST ASSORTMENT OF OUTSIDE GARMENTS.

For Ladies, Misses and Children,

New Goods of this Season's Manufacture.

All are Invited to Examine

OUR STOCK OF CLOAKS!

Before Purchasing Elsewhere.

Silk and Gloria RAIN UMBRELLAS! Ladies' Gossamers.

THE F. P. ROBINSON CO. BLACK STOCKINGS. TRADE MARK. "CLEANFAST" NONE ARE GENUINE WITHOUT THIS TRADE MARK ON EACH PAIR

Mohair and Gingham RAIN UMBRELLAS! Children's Gossamers.

Largest Assortment of Dress Goods in Portsmouth.

In fact, the Best Assortment in their Line of everything pertaining to a

FIRST-CLASS STOCK OF DRY GOODS.

NEW CARPETS! NEW CARPETS!
HOUSEKEEPING GOODS! &C.
SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS IN OUR UNDEWEARR DEPARTMENT,
Small Wares, Trimmings, Ribbons, Gloves Yarns, Knitting Silks, &c. Corsets, Bustles, &c.

Largest Assortment of Fall and Winter Skirts in all the Desirable Fabrics

Which they are desirous of exchanging for Cash on a basis for value that will compare favorably with Boston and New York prices.

AYERS & LOCKE.

EASTERN OFFICE OF
Kansas City Investment Co.,
OVER FIRST NATIONAL BANK, PORTSMOUTH.
CITY MORTGAGES, FARM MORTGAGES, DEBENTURE BONDS, REAL ESTATE NOTES.
☞ INTEREST PAYABLE HERE AT MATURITY. ☜
W. G. MYERS V. P.

CORTICELLI Wash Silk.

The colors are warranted not to stain the most delicate fabrics in washing with warm water and Castile soap. Sold in four distinct sizes—G., extra coarse, called Rope——F., coarse, called Embroidery——No. 500, medium, called Outline,—and a Spool containing Floss. This last is sometimes known as Flo Floss, and is sold in the Corticelli brand on spools only. NONOTUCK SILK CO., Sole Makers, 18 Summer Street, Boston.

LOOK AT THIS

Heavy, Substantial Cooking Range,

"THE ALMONER."
Plain for $16.00, Worth $25.00

To anyone in need of a First Class Range. Examine this before purchasing elsewhere.

— ALSO A FULL LINE OF —
MAGEE FURNACES, RANGES & STOVES.

Plumbing, Gas Fitting, Tin and Sheet Iron Work of All Kinds.

C. W. TAYLOR.
42 & 44 MARKET STREET.

NOTICE!
FALL
— AND — WINTER
STYLES
NOW READY!
— AT —
MRS. TEBBETTS',
NO. 14 MARKET STREET.

E. C. BLAISDELL, D. M. D.,
(SUCCESSOR TO DR. F. J. BONNEY,)
Dental Rooms 1 1-2 Market Street.

The WONDERFUL LUBURG CHAIR Combining a Parlor, Library, Knitting, Reclining, or Invalid CHAIR; LOUNGE, Bed, Lounge or COUCH. Price $7.00 up. We make the largest variety of Adjustable, Reclining, Physicians' and Surgeons' Operating, Invalid Rolling, Hammock, Office, Library, Fancy Carpet Folding, Reed and Rattan CHAIRS and ROCKERS, BICYCLES, TRICYCLES, VELOCIPEDES and SELF PROPELLERS. ALL KINDS OF APPLIANCES FOR INVALIDS. BABY COACHES. Over 100 different designs. Our Patent Automatic Brake on all Carriages, free. We have discontinued wholesaling, by placing your orders direct with the makers you can save several profits. Our selling prices and special Bargains will astonish the Trade. Goods sold under a guarantee and delivered free to any point in United States. ☞ Send stamp for Catalogue, and state class of goods you wish it for. LUBURG MFG. CO. 145 North Eighth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

C-O-A-L-!
All Kinds and Sizes Delivered Well Screened.
E. F. SISE & CO.
First Quality Wood!
Liverpool and Turks Island
SALT
in Bulk and Sacks. Salt in Boxes. Boston and Portland Brands.
TELEPHONE.

COAL! COAL!
Finest Grades, well prepared for Domestic Purposes, constantly Arriving and for Sale at Lowest Prices.
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.
J. ALBERT WALKER
Portsmouth Coal Pockets.

ILSLEY & MOORE,
Fire Life and Accident Insurance Agents and Brokers No. 3 Pleasant St., Portsmouth N. H.

NOTICE!—The undersigned gives notice to all whom it may concern, that he has purchased from the senior member of the old firm of MORSE & ILSLEY, all rights to the Fire Insurance Business heretofore carried on by that firm, and is duly authorized by all the Companies represented by them to have and hold all their records. WINGATE N. ILSLEY.

Facilities for placing the largest lines of Fire Insurance in the best Companies.

Agents for the Equitable Life Ins. Society of the U. S. New England Mutual Life Ins. Co., Boston, Mass., and the Fidelity & Casualty Ins. Co., of New York. 4sept

THIS PAPER is on file in Philadelphia at the Newspaper Advertising Agency of Messrs. N. W. AYER & SON, our authorized agents.

CAUTION

Beware of Fraud, as my name and the price are stamped on the bottom of all my advertised shoes before leaving the factory, which protect the wearers against high prices and inferior goods. If a dealer offers W. L. Douglas shoes at a reduced price, or says he has them without my name and price stamped on the bottom, put him down as a fraud

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE. FOR GENTLEMEN.

The only calf $3 SEAMLESS Shoe smooth inside. NO TACKS or WAX THREAD to hurt the feet, easy as hand-sewed and WILL NOT RIP. W. L. DOUGLAS $4 SHOE, the original and only hand-sewed welt $4 shoe. Equals custom-made shoes costing from $6 to $8.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.50 POLICE SHOE. Railroad Men and Letter Carriers all wear them. Smooth inside as a Hand-Sewed Shoe. No Tacks or Wax Thread to hurt the feet.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.50 SHOE is unexcelled for heavy wear. Best Calf Shoe for the price.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.25 WORKINGMAN'S SHOE is the best in the world for rough wear; one pair ought to wear a man a year.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2 SHOE FOR BOYS is the best School Shoe in the world.

W. L. DOUGLAS $1.75 YOUTH'S School Shoe gives the small Boys a chance to wear the best shoes in the world.

All made in Congress, Button and Lace. If not sold by your dealer, write

W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

— FOR SALE BY —
OREN BRAGDON & SON
NO. 24 MARKET STREET.

GRATEFUL---COMFORTING.
EPPS'S COCOA.
BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame.—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in half-pound tins, by Grocers, labelled thus: JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England. †lec5

WE WANT A GOOD ENERGETIC SALESMAN in every town and city TO SOLICIT ORDERS FOR FRAMING PICTURES. BEST OUTFIT IN THE WORLD and a permanent situation. Address H. S. WARDWELL, Lewiston, Me.

POSITIVELY CLOSING WEEKS
GRAND CYCLORAMA
BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG,
541 Tremont St., Boston.
Don't fail to see this great battle scene at once.

A new subject now being painted will take its place in this building January 1st.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, the great Medical Work of the age on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline, Errors of Youth, and the untold miseries consequent thereon. 300 pages 8 vo., 125 prescriptions for all diseases. Cloth, full gilt, only $1.00, by mail, sealed. Illustrative sample free to all young and middle-aged men. Send now. The Gold and Jewelled Medal awarded to the author by the National Medical Association. Address P.O. Box 1895, Boston, Mass., or Dr. W. H. PARKER, graduate of Harvard Medical College, 23 years practice in Boston, who may be consulted confidentially. Office, No. 4 Bulfinch St. Specialty, Diseases of Man. ☞ Cut this out. You may never see it again.

MARVELOUS
MEMORY DISCOVERY.
Any book learned in one reading
Mind wandering cured.
Speaking without notes.
Piracy condemned by Supreme Court.
Great inducements to correspondence classes.
Prospectus, with opinions of Dr. Wm. A. Hammond, the world-famed Specialist in Mind diseases, Daniel Greenleaf Thompson, the great Psychologist, J. M. Buckley, D. D., Editor of the Christian Advocate, Richard Proctor, the Scientist, Hons. Judge Gibson, Judah P. Benjamin, and others, sent post free by
Prof. A. LOISETTE, 237 Fifth Ave., New York.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

JOSIAH F. ADAMS
Embalmer and Funeral Director,
WAREROOMS: NO. 5 DANIEL ST,
Coffins, Caskets and Robes Always on Hand. Hearse and Carriages Furnished. Cemetery Lots Cared For, &c.
☞ Orders by day or night left at No. 27 Washington St., or with Mr. Robert King, No. 6 Hill St., will receive prompt attention.

DR. S. F. HAM,
Of Hotel Bristol, Boston, will receive patients
Monday and Tuesday
FROM MAY 1st TO NOV. 1st,
And the remainder of the year every Monday.
Office and Residence, 13 COURT ST., Portsmouth, N. H.

STEPHEN D. SCRIGGINS,
Carriage Painter,
NO. 16 Vaughan Street, Portsmouth, N. H.
Having spacious and good accommodations and shop and large experience he solicits patronage in his line.

TRAVELLER'S GUIDE.

TRAINS LEAVE

Portsmouth for Boston, 4.05, 7.25, 8.20, 11.05 a. m., 2.55, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4.00 p. m.

Boston for Portsmouth, 6.15, 8.00, 10.00 a. m., 12.30, 3.30, 4.40, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.00 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

Portsmouth for Portland, 9.55, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 6.25 p. m. Sundays, 9.27 p. m.

Portland for Portsmouth, 8.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.05, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.00 a. m.

Portsmouth for Dover, 4.30, 9.45 a. m., 12.35, 2.38, 5.22 p. m.

Dover for Portsmouth, 6.55, 10.20 a. m., 1.25, 4.30, 6.40 p. m.

Portsmouth for York Beach, 8.3[illegible], 11.10 a. m. 3.35 p. m.

York Beach for Portsmouth, 6.40, 10.00 a. m., 1.40 p. m.

Portsmouth for Concord, 7.55 a. m., 1.00, 5.18 p. m.

Concord for Portsmouth, 7.30, 10.20 a. m., 3.35 p. m.

Portsmouth for Manchester, 7.55 a. m., 1.00, 5.18 p. m.

Manchester for Portsmouth, 8.15, 11.[illegible] a. m., 4.35 p. m.

TRAINS ARRIVE

In Boston from Portsmouth, 6.20, 9.10, 10.35 a. m., 1.15, 4.45, 7.10, 9.30 p. m. Sundays, 6.20 a. m., 6.30 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Boston, 9.45, 10.45 a. m., 12.20, 2.55, 5.20, 6.45, 8.57 p. m. Sundays, 10.40 a. m., 8.57 p. m.

In Portland from Portsmouth, 12.00 m., 12.35, 4.40, 11.20 p. m. Sundays, 11.00 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Portland, 7.55, 10.44 a. m., 2.20, 7.15 p. m. Sundays, 3.55 a. m.

In Dover from Portsmouth, 8.40, 10.10 a. m., 12.50, 3.03, 5.47 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Dover, 7.20, 10.14 a. m., 2.20, 4.55, 7.15 p. m.

In Concord from Portsmouth, 10.20 a. m., 3.12, 8.25 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Concord, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

In Manchester from Portsmouth, 9.42 a. m., 2.30, 7.20 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Manchester, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

KITTERY AND PORTSMOUTH.

STEAMER MYSTIC.

Leave Hartlett's wharf, Kittery, 6.35, 7.50, 8.45, 10.30, 11.45 a. m., 2.00, 3.15, 4.45, 6.00 p. m. Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 6.30, Saturday evening, 6.30, 8.00.

Leave Broughton's wharf, foot Daniel street, Portsmouth, 7.30, 8.30, 9.30, 11.00 a. m., 12.45, 3.00, 4.00, 5.15, 6.15 p. m., Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7.30, Saturday evenings, 7.30, 9.00.

☞ Fare five cents each way.

A FAIR SAMPLE OF
40 SWORN CASES
OF THE VALUE OF

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND

THE RADICAL BLOOD PURIFIER.

DIPHTHERIA. SCROFULA.

Miss Lena Judkins, a daughter (17 years old) of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Judkins, 677 Boston St., Lynn, CURED by Dr. Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of very severe case of Scrofula, with Malignant Ulcers of eight years' standing, after 11 Physicians had failed. Almost a miracle. Now in perfect health. Sworn to before
HARMON HALL, Justice of the Peace.

SCROFULOUS HUMOR.

Miss Mary Etta Leighton, a daughter (16 yrs. old) of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison C. Leighton, 16 Bickford Court, Lynn, CURED by Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of a deep seated Scrofulous Humor, with discharging eruptions, which had baffled eight physicians and the combined forces of two prominent hospitals. Perfectly cured and without a blemish. Sworn to before
CALVIN B. TUTTLE, Justice of the Peace.

Send for circular of 40 Sworn cases. They are solid facts and carry conviction.

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND,

is absolutely the greatest known Remedy for the Radical cure of Scrofula, Cancerous Humors, Diphtheritic or Mineral Blood-Poisoning, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Dropsy and Liver Complaint.

$1. per Bottle (6 for 5). At Druggists.
Lougee Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Laxador An infallible regulator of the Human System.
Cures Liver Complaint, Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Giddiness, &c. Sold by druggists. Laxador Cures Bilious Affections &c. Laxador Price 25 Cts.

The Leading Perfume.
DREXEL'S BELL COLOGNE
Fragrant! Lasting!
PRICE 25 CENTS. AT ALL DEALERS.

DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP
CURES COUGHS & COLDS FOR 25¢

SALVATION OIL
Price only 25 cts. Sold by all druggists.
Will relieve Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Swellings, Bruises, Lumbago, Sprains, Headache, Toothache, Sores, Burns, Wounds, Cuts, Scalds, Backache, Gout, or any bodily pain or ailment.

CHEW LONGE'S PLUGS, The Great Tobacco Antidote!—Price 10 Cts. At all druggists.

Cure Your Corns,
BY USING
SCHLOTTERBECK'S
CORN, WART AND BUNION SOLVENT
THERE IS GUARANTEED.

Any Style, Haynes Excelsior and Wm. B. Tilton Gold Medal GUITARS, $10 to $40. MUSIC BOXES, 50 cents to $300. Solo BB CORNET, $10. Haynes VIOLINS, Orchestra, $25; Solo, $35. Special Snare DRUMS, $6. Crosby FIFES, $2. Drum Corps and Bands send for Estimates. Catalogues free. J. C. HAYNES & Co., 30 Court St., Boston, Mass.

UNUSUAL ACQUIREMENTS IN TRADE.

Knowledge of Foreign Languages Needed in Commerce—The German Merchant.

Every large town in the midland region of America—in truth, every large town throughout the entire country—has a large percentage of German citizens, varying from 10 to 40 per cent, and in many cities the school commissioners have made a concession to the German element by including the German language among the branches taught in the public schools. By this course the fact has been established that not only the children of German parents have derived a benefit, but that the studious boys and girls of other nationalities have profited by this opportunity for acquiring German. Experience has shown that this twofold acquisition of language, by practical use, is of very decided utility to the children who embrace it, and the latter make much more rapid progress than such as are taught by means of one language exclusively. In many countries they would esteem themselves peculiarly fortunate in possessing such an advantage—that is to say, a majority of the pupils bringing with them into the school at least a superficial knowledge of two languages. Such an opportunity would be sedulously cultivated, just as the French has been cultivated in the French and Walloon provinces for fully 200 years.

Not so, however, in our own country. Here, the German tongue has had to contend constantly against prejudice or direct hostility. If one takes into consideration the fact that a considerable proportion of the boys instructed in the two tongues later in life enter commercial vocations, this aversion to German will be regarded as unwise and suicidal. The German language is the second most widely spoken on the face of the globe, and a man who understands it well, together with the English, can today engage in business as a commercial traveler in any country that is not European. The trade, for example, of Mexico and Central America is in the hands of German firms, whose members were educated from their boyhood for their future profession, by being compelled to acquire Spanish, at the same time with their mother tongue, and often English and French besides. If an American commercial traveler should enter into conversation with such a merchant, in Guatemala or San Salvador, in his mother tongue, a bond of fellowship is at once established, which is very likely to bear fruits.

A nation that in our day wishes to enjoy consideration in the markets of the world must possess polyglot acquirements. For this reason Germans succeed in all parts of the world, whilst Englishmen or Frenchmen are complaining of stagnation in business. The German imperial government encourages these efforts in all directions, and last winter the permanent establishment of an oriental department in the Berlin university was decided upon, not less as a measure for the promotion of commerce than as a facility for learned investigation. The German trade's organ, Export, thus expresses itself upon this subject: "Today it is no longer sufficient to understand English and French; the period in which the German merchant supposed he had acquired a knowledge sufficient of foreign languages, in possessing these two, is long past." At present a large and active commerce throughout the whole globe has been established. The long locked up countries of Africa have been thrown open to the world—Asia is everywhere accessible. Now, for the first time, our minds fully realize how numerous is mankind—how multiform are nations and how many tongued likewise. Even in India, whose sovereignty resides in the hands of Great Britain, there is only a very small minority that can speak more than a word or two of English.

The merchant of modern times must, to be successful, understand foreign tongues—the more the better, and the school authorities, instead of acting as the dog in the manger, should afford to the rising generation every opportunity to acquire them, especially where this can be done at the expenditure of so little time and cost as is attached to the acquisition of German in most of our cities, by the system indicated.—Translated for Public Opinion from the Baltimore Correspondent.

An Opium Eater's Face.

The effect of the drug on the physique of a person varies somewhat. Sometimes he will become dreadfully emaciated; but if the appetite keeps good he will not decrease in weight. There is always, however, a peculiar color about an opium eater's face, and by that he can be known; the complexion assumes the color of old brass, having a peculiar death like hue, but it is seldom that the digestion is impaired.

Opium affects the spinal cord and brain principally. The nerve power of the opium eater is very much lessened without the opium, and it is very much increased with the drug until the end comes. The death of the opium eater is not marked by any particular scenes of horror. I have seen several opium eaters die a very pleasant death, and I do not know that I ever saw a very bad death among such patients.—E. N. Carpenter, M. D., in The Epoch.

Principles of Insurance.

It is surprising that the public know so little about insurance, when more people are interested in it than in anything else. There is scarcely a family in the land in which there is not one or more persons interested in either life, fire, marine, accident or live stock insurance—in fact, insurance is something that is of vital interest in every household; is more talked about and more thought of than anything else. Nevertheless the great mass of mankind are as ignorant of its principles as they are of the component parts of the sun.—Insurance Agent in Globe-Democrat.

Negroes' Poetical Superstition.

The country negroes in South Carolina, Georgia and portions of Florida have a very pretty and somewhat poetical superstition. During the stillness of the night, when the gentle swaying pine trees are singing their weird requiems, whole families will sit about their cabin doors and listen intently to this music of the forest. In its changing melody they hear the voices of dead friends predicting good or evil for the future or revealing secrets of the tomb.—Brooklyn Citizen.

The Mother in China.

In motherhood alone does the Chinese woman find protection and honor. Yet even here Chinese customs and laws are peculiar, and even grotesque. A mother can claim absolute obedience from her children, even when they are gray headed and themselves fathers of families, but she is still only a servant and a drudge to her husband. In the event of her death, her sons must, by Chinese law, wear mourning, and go about with unshaven heads for a hundred days; but her husband would render himself an object of ridicule among his friends if he put on mourning for her.—Chester Holcombe in Youth's Companion.

We are astonished at parties who introduce remedies for coughs when they should know that Pectoline will have Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Kings are like stars, they rise and set. They have their adherents, and have their mean men, and are just as sure to call for Salvation Oil.

—Politician (furiously)—Now, fellow-citizens, if this man is elected what will be the result? A voice—"His opponent will be defeated."

Children of original sin, scrofulous taint. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and thus permanently cures catarrh.

—Children shrink from being washed. The same may be said of so ks.

Be Your Own Doctor.

It won't cost you half as much. Do not delay. Send three 2-cent stamps for postage, and we will send you Dr. Kaufmann's great work, fine colored plates from life, on disease, its causes, and home cure. Address P. P. Ordway, & Co., Boston, Mass.

—The average pullet takes her eggsit in the spring.

Hundreds of letters from those using Hall's Hair Vigor attest its value as a restorer of gray hair to its natural color. As a stimulant and tonic, preventing and curing baldness, and cleansing the scalp, its use cannot be too strongly recommended.

—"Physician, heal thyself!" is an injection promulgated centuries ago, and now some of the older practitioners are pretty well heeled.

Trial proves that honesty is the best policy in medicine as well as in other things. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a genuine preparation, an unequalled blood purifier, decidedly superior to all others.

—The sparrow who has lost her mate takes a sort of bird-sigh view of the world.

She Blushed

Awfully when I told her what to do for those horrid pimples, with which her face was covered. She now says if you want a pink and white complexion with a clear, smooth skin, you must use that best of all blood purifiers, Sulphur Bitters.

—Nature is a great deal like the manipulators of the stock market. She has her regular times of trying to freeze out everybody.

Avoid the harsh, irritating, griping compounds so often sold as purgative medicines, and correct the irregularities of the bowels by the use of Ayer's Cathartic Pills, which are gentle, yet searching, in their action.

To-Night and To-Morrow Night,

And each day and night during this week you can get at all druggists Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, acknowledged to be the most successful remedy ever sold for the cure of Coughs, Croup, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption. Get a bottle to-day and keep it always in the house, so you can check your cold at once. Price 50c and $1.00. Sample bottles free.

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam, for Coughs and Colds, does it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles at 50c and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all Throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-sufferers. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. NOYES, 149 Power's Block, Rochester, N. Y. ocow1an89

Eczema, Itchy, Scaly, Skin Tortures.

The simple application of "SWAYNE'S OINTMENT," without any internal medicine, will cure any case of Tetter, Salt Rheum, Ringworm, Piles, Itch, Sores, Pimples, Eczema, all Scaly, Itchy Skin Eruptions, no matter how obstinate or long standing. It is potent, effective, and costs but a trifle. oj[illegible]

Some are born great, some think they are great, and others thrust greatness upon themselves.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

A SCIENTIST'S WARNING.

Extracts From a Remarkable Lecture Delivered by Dr. E. E. Hammond, Before the National Scientists' Convention.

"We are startled constantly by the sudden death of some man who seemed the picture of health. He thought he was well. He had felt strange pains shooting through his body, but as they did not remain, he forgot them. His head pained him periodically, he was somewhat paler than common and unaccountably tired, but he felt comparatively well and vigorous. And yet, he suddenly died! His a shame to our boasted civilization."

"Look at the list of women who die in childbirth, and why is it? Simply because their maternal organs have been so weakened by the most terrible of diseases that they cannot withstand the fearful, sudden strain that is brought to bear upon them. How many women escape monthly agonies? And yet nature never intended that pain or inconvenience should attend the operation of her natural laws. The solemn and terrible fact is, that men and women drag along, die, and are buried, and their friends and the doctors say heart disease, apoplexy, pneumonia, congestion, convulsions, when the cause lay far back of all these things. The truth is that weakened kidneys are the cause of most of our troubles. The great question, therefore, is: 'How shall I preserve my kidneys, or, if diseased, how can they be restored?' I have seen numbers of cases and learned from unquestionable sources of many others, where the preparation, Hunt's Remedy, has been almost remarkable in its results. I use it freely among my patients, and shall continue to do so. It is a wonderful and invaluable remedy."

The remarks of the learned doctor should be carefully considered, and acted upon by all who desire long life, and freedom from pain and the danger of sudden death.

THE JOB PRINTING

Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD I. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line. Give him a trial and you will be more than pleased.

GRAMMAR'S BROKEN LAWS.

Foibles of Speech in Refined Social Circles—A Brief List.

The strangest of all the curious circumstances attendant upon the habitual disregard of grammatical laws is the unconsciousness of the offender. Our self-made man and the wife he has tinkered into "a match article," court, as ornaments to their drawing room, eminent scholars and literary lights, domestic and foreign; admire intensely in them the facile propriety of expression in which they are themselves deficient, and never suspect the effect of the contrast they offer. Does the inability to discern the difference lie in the ear or the intellect?

I have called this insensibility the most singular of the paradoxes connected with our subject. May I retract the statement and substitute the anomaly of people, born well and bred well, educated according to the most approved methods, and moving in refined social circles, whose foibles of speech approach in number and rival in heinousness the direct lingual faults of illiteracy?

People who drop the final g from participles, and other words ending in "ing," with the constancy the cockney exhibits in misplacing h.

People who say "he don't like it," without a suspicion that the conjoined abbreviation stands for "he do not like it."

People who inquire "you ready?" "you going?" and sometimes "where you been?"

People who never by any chance say "between you and me," but with the steadfastness of a holy purpose, "between you and I!"

People who pride themselves upon the elegant accuracy of every sentence formed by their lips, and tell you in cultivated euphoniousness of accent, "I have traveled some in" England, Russia, Turkey, or Australia, and "I have not coughed any all night."

People who have been on intimate terms with Lindley Murray and his colleagues for forty years, and not learned that ain't is not tolerated by any of them, being an un-parsable word.

People who consider the fact that they were born south of Mason's and Dixson's line warrant for ignoring the dictum, "After the words like and unlike, the preposition to or unto is understood," and crucify our ears by telling us on all possible occasions "I feel like I should do," so-and-so, and "He looked like he meant it." Who as musically and audaciously say, "I am a head better," or "a heap worse."

I heard a D.D. F. F. V. say in a sermon, "It does seem like the Lord has some great and gracious purpose to fulfill in," etc. And a few minutes thereafter, "I expect that this is the proper interpretation of this passage."

There are people, on the other hand, who, born and brought up in the shadow of Yale, roll the phrase: "I want that you should," like a choicy and insoluble morsel under their tongues, and not a few, who, as Mr. Howells' Minister Sewell regrets, will—albeit they are Harvard graduates—say, to the close of well spent lives, "I don't know as."

People—this final count is written with groanings unutterable—who, with the best intentions conceivable (benevolent and syntaxical), never let slip an opportunity of using the pronoun "they" when the antecedent noun is in the singular number. "If a person thinks they can do that." "If anybody has lost anything, they can apply at the desk." "I was talking with some one the other day, and they said," etc., etc.

None of the phrases cited as foibles of speech trench upon the debatable ground of language. One and all, they are glaring defects, flaws in gems which lessen their value instrinsically. The critical inspector instantly discounts the intelligence or conscientiousness of him who tenders them.

That those who are guilty of lapses of this sort know better, does not exculpate them or relieve the listener who respects his noble vernacular too truly to condone the unseemly familiarities that approximate insult. When the delinquents are those who assume to instruct others, the foible becomes guilt.

A distinguished author, at a reception given in honor of her visit to a certain town, pressed the hand of a sister writer who was introduced to her, with the cordial—"You and I had ought to have met before."

An eminent lecturer upon scientific subjects remarked at a dinner party, "The hall was not sufficiently het today."

The principal of a collegiate institute announced during the commencement exercises that the presentation to himself of a memorial from the pupils was a "change in the programme made entirely unbeknownst to himself."

He was taken by surprise by the testimonial, and the luckless phrase escaped him when off his guard. It should have been impossible for him to make use of it in any circumstances. If he had never said it before he would not have said it then.—Marion Harland in Once a Week.

Mourning Costume of Corean.

Mourning in Corea is a most burdensome duty. When a father dies, for instance, the sons must dress themselves in a suit of sackcloth, with a rope girdle about the waist. On the head is worn an enormous hat, about the size of a rain umbrella, and made of basket work. This hides the whole upper portion of the body, and for further protection against obtrusion the mourner carries a large fan before his face. It was in this disguise that the Jesuits were enabled to enter the country and carry on their work. They have but recently laid it aside. Even the pipe is wrapped with white paper and white shoes are worn. The mourner is not expected to do any work, but at stated times he has duties to perform at his ancestor's tomb. All this is very hard for some to bear, as the whole resources of a fairly prosperous family may thus be exhausted. In the case of useful officials whom the king cannot spare from duty, the period of mourning may be shortened by royal decree.—Cor. San Francisco Chronicle.

Balance of power, to assure the independency of states and control the ambitions of sovereigns, was first laid down as a principle by Italian politicians of the Fifteenth century, on the invasion of Charles VIII of France, A. D. 1494.—Boston Budget.

The Population of Russia.

According to the Russian census taken in 1884 and 1885 the population of the empire at that time was 108,767,000. These figures are regarded as only approximative, since over a large portion of the field it is not possible to obtain exact data.—Chicago Herald.

One sinner destroyeth much good; if so disposed, and he does not need to be a very great sinner either.—Bar-Homan.

Nature is more exquisite than art, but art is more appreciated by reason of its scarcity.—Chicago Ledger.

MAKE HENS LAY
NOTHING ON EARTH WILL MAKE HENS LAY LIKE SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER.
WE SEND BY MAIL A LARGE 2¼ POUND CAN FOR $1.20, TWO SMALL PACKS 50 CTS. POST PAID.
Sheridan's Condition Powder
is absolutely pure and highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other kind of condition medicine, to be given in the food, once daily, in small doses. It positively cures and cures all diseases of poultry. Worth its weight in gold when hens are moulting, and by so doing make hens lay. Testimonials and 25 by mail. Ask your druggist, grocer, general store, or feed dealer for it. If you can't get it, send once to us. Take no other kind. We will send, prepaid, by mail as follows: A New, 32-page, elegantly illustrated and descriptive book of the poultry business, containing valuable receipts to make money with a few hens, and two small packages of Powder for 85 cents, or one large 2¼ pound can and Guide, $1.20. Sample package of Powder, 25 cents, or five for $1.00, postpaid. Send stamps or cash. L. S. JOHNSON & CO., Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

My Poor Back!

That "poor back" is held responsible for more than its share of the sufferings of mankind. If your dog bites a man who kicks it, do you blame the dog? On the same principle the kidneys utter their protest against nervousness, impure blood, and resulting constipation. These force them to do extraordinary work in ridding the system of the poisons which are the result of effete matter retained in the blood. Then the sufferer says the back aches; the kidneys are diseased. "Not yet;" but they will be unless the nerves are strengthened, the blood purified, and the constipation removed. These are the causes of kidney troubles, and Paine's Celery Compound removes them quickly. With its tonic, purifying, and laxative effect, it also strengthens the weak kidneys, making it almost infallible in curing all diseases of the nerves and kidneys. If your hopes of cure have not been realized, try Paine's Celery Compound; it gives perfect health to all who complain of "their poor backs." Price $1.00.
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS. SEND FOR ILLUSTRATED PAPER.
WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Proprietors,
BURLINGTON, VERMONT.

POSITIVELY
No Cure, No Pay!
CONSTITUTIONAL COUGH SYRUP
--- TRY IT! ---
The proprietor of this remedy has such confidence in its curative powers that he makes the following
Generous Offer!
Any person buying a bottle is given the privilege of returning it and receiving their MONEY BACK, if after using two-thirds of its contents they have derived no benefit from it.
PRICE 25 AND 50 CENTS.
— SOLD BY —
David Kimball & Co., 36 Market Street.

S. Philbrick & Co.,
— MANUFACTURERS OF —
Marble and Granite Work
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.
GRANITE POLISHING A SPECIALTY.
OFFICE AND WORKS,
No. 2 Water Street, Portsmouth

SULPHUR BITTERS
The Best and Purest Medicine EVER MADE.
It will drive the Humor from your system, and make your skin clean and smooth. Those Pimples and Blotches which mar your beauty are caused by impure blood, and can be removed in a short time, if you are wise and use the great blood-purifier, SULPHUR BITTERS. Why suffer with Boils? Why fret and fume with Rheumatism? Why rave with the terrible Headache? Why groan with the terrible Dyspepsia? What makes you look so pale? Your nerves are unstrung, and feel as weak as a cracked bell. Why are you troubled with those annoying sounds in your ears? Why are you troubled with those annoying sores and eruptions? Why are you troubled with Nervous Prostration? Why are you troubled with Kidney Complaint? Why are you troubled with Liver Complaint? Why are you troubled with Constipation? Why are you troubled with Dyspepsia? Why are you troubled with Sick Headache? Why are you troubled with Female Complaints? Why are you troubled with Rheumatism? Why are you troubled with Neuralgia? Why are you troubled with Nervous Debility? Why are you troubled with Nervous Prostration? Why are you troubled with Nervousness? Why are you troubled with Sleeplessness? Why are you troubled with Dizziness? Why are you troubled with Coldness of the Extremities? Why are you troubled with Dyspepsia? Why are you troubled with Sick Headache? Why are you troubled with Female Complaints? Why are you troubled with Rheumatism? Why are you troubled with Neuralgia? Why are you troubled with Nervous Debility? Why are you troubled with Nervous Prostration? Why are you troubled with Nervousness? Why are you troubled with Sleeplessness? Why are you troubled with Dizziness? Why are you troubled with Coldness of the Extremities? Why? Because your blood is impure, and you need SULPHUR BITTERS to purify it.

AFFAIRS.

POST OFFICE RULES.

MAILS CLOSE

	A. M.	P. M.
Boston, N. Y., south, west,	6:00 10:30	2:30 4:50 6:45
Boston and way stations,	10:30	2:30 6:45
Portland,	9:25	4:50 6:45
Portland and way stations,	9:25	4:50
East (beyond Portland)	9:25	6:45
Great Falls, Rochester, Wolfeboro Union Milton,	9:25	4:50
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,	9:25
Concord & Manchester,	7:40 10:30	4:50
Concord, Manchester and north,	7:40	6:30
Exeter and B. & M. way, west of Newmarket,	7:40	4:50
Dover,	9:25	2:30 4:50 6:45
North Conway,	9:25	6:45
York and Cape Neddick,	9:25
Newcastle,	10:30
Newington,	10:30
Boston, N. Y. and south, Sunday,		1:00

MAILS ARRIVE.

	A. M.	P. M.
Boston, south and west,	10:35 11:15 5:40	7:00 9:00
New York,	10:05	5:40 7:00
Boston and way stations,	10:05	5:40
Portland and east,	7:30 11:00	3:00
Great Falls, Rochester, Union, Milton,	8:30 11:00
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.	11:00
Concord, Manchester and north,	10:30	6:30
Dover,	7:30 10:30	3:00 5:40
Newcastle,	9:30
Newington,	9:30
York and Cape Neddick,	11:00
B. & M. R. R., west of Newmarket,	10:30	6:30

S. J. GERRISH, P. M.

PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Open Monday, Tuesday, Friday and Saturday evenings from 7:30 to 9:00 P. M., and Wednesday and Saturday afternoons from 3:00 to 6:00 o'clock

Weather Indications.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

Warmer, fair weather, winds shifting to southeasterly.

MINATURE ALMANAC NOV. 24.

SUN RISES	6:47	MOON RISES	9:36 P. M
SUN SETS	4:35	FULL SEA	2:46 A. M
LENGTH OF DAY	9:22		3 P. M

IS IT WHITEHOUSE'S WATCH?

It was reported on Friday evening that a number of persons, late that afternoon, saw on the bottom of the north pond, near the bridge, a watch with a piece of chain attached. As Palmer would have to cross the north millbridge on his way home by the shortest route from the locality of the Whitehouse murder, the watch in the pond was supposed to be the one matched from the body by the murderer to give the impression that the crime was committed for the sake of robbery, and thrown overboard as he hastened across the bridge. It will probably be recovered to-day.

UNITED STATES COMMISSIONER'S COURT.

FRIDAY, Nov. 23d.; Hackett Com.

James Randall was brought before Commissioner Hackett on Friday evening, charged with stealing a letter directed to the Laconia national bank of Laconia, in this state. Post-office Inspector Bario showed a check for $100 on the bank, which had been sent for collection on account of the State Capitol bank of Concord. This check the respondent was unwise enough to present the morning after the bank's post-office box was robbed on the night of the 22d. The presentation of the check of course disclosed the identity of the robber. He was held in default of bail to answer at the May term of the United States Circuit court. United States Attorney Frink appeared for the government.

A PERMANENT REPUBLICAN CLUB.

In response to the call in the CHRONICLE, a hundred or more earnest republicans met at the recent headquarters of the campaign club on Congress street, for the purpose of forming a permanent organization to act aggressively at coming elections. After remarks by Hon. Thomas E. O. Marvin, Thomas Entwistle and others, the organization of the Republican Club of the City of Portsmouth was perfected by the choice of Willard J. Sampson as president, and Jno. E. Moore, secretary. The president was authorized to appoint himself and four others, one from each ward, as an executive committee. The club then adjourned for one week.

KITTERY CELEBRATES.

The republicans of Kittery on Thursday evening celebrated the national victory by a torchlight procession of which John H. Swett was marshal, with Horace Mitchell, Will Spinney, Henry Stimpson and Carroll Bartlett as aids. The line was formed as follows:

Cavalcade.
Portsmouth Band.
Portsmouth Guards, Capt. Frank Donnell.
Portsmouth Cadets, Capt. Geo. Dinsmore.
Rochester Cadets of Portsmouth, Capt. Kingsbury.
Kittery Point delegation.

The procession marched to Kittery bridge, where the Point delegation joined in the rear, and after a march through the Kittery Point village returned over the same route to Hayes' corner, thence by way of Remick's corner and the Post road to the Depot post-office, and through Rice's hollow to the Foreside, where a collation was served in Trefethen hall, the band being entertained at the Whipple house. All through the march fireworks were sent off from a wagon at the rear of the procession.

The illuminations were many and very pretty, among those who decorated being Paul S. Appleton of the Point, and Joseph Jackson of the Foreside, both of Kittery. Our reporter made a list of the houses that were illuminated, but gave it up, the long tramp and weather being too much for his participation in the campaign. Glad indeed, as the list he made is crowded,

There were many pretty displays of fire along the route, Capt. Trefethen having an especially fine show. Capt. Trefethen also transported the band both ways in the Mystic free.

This was probably the last tramp of the campaign of '88, in this vicinity, and we could stand it not to hear a drum again for four years to come.

ORDINATION.

KITTERY POINT, ME., Nov. 22d.

One of the most impressive ordination services ever witnessed in this village took place at the Christian chapel last evening. The candidate was Mr. E. R. Phillips, who had charge of the church since June. The peculiarly interesting part was that the services were conducted by the brother of the candidate, Rev. L. W. Phillips, president of the Rockingham Christian Conference, and the prayer of ordination was offered by their father, Rev. Lewis Phillips of Wolfeborough, N. H. The programme was as follows:

Organ voluntary, Miss Allie Collins, organist.
Anthem, by the choir,
Reading of scriptures, Rev. Joel Wilson.
Prayer, Rev. W. B. Flanders.
Reading of hymn, Rev. H. J. Rhodes.
Sermon, Rev. E. E. Colburn.
Reading of hymn, Rev. E. A. Wakeley.
Introduction of candidate, Rev. W. B. Flanders.
Examination of candidate, Rev. L. W. Phillips.
Prayer of ordination, Rev. Lewis Phillips.
Charge to candidate, Rev. J. H. Mugridge.
Right hand of fellowship, Rev. Joel Wilson.
Charge to the church, Rev. John A. Goss.
Hymn, Rev. L. W. Phillips.
Benediction, Rev. E. R. Phillips.

Many of those present will carry with them through life that scene, when the white haired father on one side, and the brother, strong in the vigor of manhood, on the other, laid their hands upon the head of the younger son and brother, and consecrated him to the service of the Lord. Mr. Phillips and his young wife have already found a place in the hearts of the people, and we wish for them a long and prosperous life journey.

AUNT MOLLY.

PERSONAL.

—Hon. Henry H. Hughes, the efficient Insurance Commissioner of this state, was in the city yesterday attending to some court matters.

POLICE COURT—BATCHELDER J.

FRIDAY, Nov. 23d.

Edward P. Philbrook pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness, and was sentenced to thirty days at the county farm, and to pay $6:90 costs.

PALMER REBELS.

Palmer, the convicted murderer, was making things lively in the jail at midnight last night. He says he will never go to Concord alive.

CELEBRATION AT RYE.

"Perhaps Rye was last, but not lest—not much." So said the crowd that filled the town hall on Wednesday evening of this week.

The old town was painted red from Breakfast hill to Wallis' sands. It was a little the biggest thing within the memory of the oldest inhabitant. The night was perfect, with the exception of its being a bit too cold for the musicians to use their instruments to the best advantage.

The first thing in order was the parade. The torch bearers, consisting of the Harrison Guards, the local company, with their invited guests, the Gallinger Guards of North Hampton, and the Republican Club of Hampton, formed at the residence of Capt. Whidden, and headed by Spear's Brass band and marshalled by Col. Con. O. Philbrick and Major John Jellison, marched out to Breakfast hill, and from there to Rye Centre, to Foss' beach, across to Wallis' sands, and from there to the town hall, a distance of about six miles. The republicans on the route one and all illuminated their residences, and so did one prominent democrat. A fire wagon accompanied the procession and let off fireworks along the route, and this, in addition to those set off by citizens, was a brilliant scene.

At about eleven o'clock the companies marched to the town hall, which was profusely illuminated and decorated, and where a large crowd had already assembled, composed of citizens from this and adjoining towns, among them being many ladies. In fact, as far as Rye was concerned, every republican who was able to be out was there, and his wife and children came also.

The exercises in the hall were of an entirely informal character, and everybody was expected to, and seemingly did, make themselves at home. The supper was simply immense. Plates were laid for 125, which was the utmost capacity of the room, and three times was it filled. Between 400 and 500 must have partaken. In addition to the supply which the committee bought, which consisted of 200 pounds of turkey, fifty lbs. of chicken, fifty of corned beef, fifty of ham and 1000 rolls, the ladies went to work and cooked over a hundred pounds more of chicken, and the multitude of cakes and doughnuts they sent in was positively enormous, so that after all had eaten all they could, there was enough left to have satisfied about as many more. In addition, hot coffee, bananas, grapes and apples were served in profusion. What was left was distributed among deserving people the following day. The jubilee wound up with a dance in the hall, and it was three A. M. when the last light was extinguised.

The following are the names of those who illuminated:

Chas. A. Drake, Joseph G. Jenness, Samuel Jenness, L. J. & G. T. Bunker, Ruel G. Shapley, Geo. H. Brown, John H. Brown, Freeman J. Locke, W. C. & L. E. Walker, Isaac D. Rand, Capt. Jedediah Rand, Thomas W. Rand, Dr. Warren Parsons, Samuel Marden, John T. Marden, Levi W. Marden, Augustus Y. Rand, John O. Foss, Robert S. Foss, Thomas J. Varrell, Brewster Caswell, John I. Rand, Samuel F. Berry, Joseph W. Berry, John O. Berry, Gilman C. Berry, Albert and Gilman Rand, J. Jenness Rand and John S. Lear.

If it had been possible for the march to have extended all over the town, every house occupied by a republican would have been illuminated. A. Y. Rand had a comical device—a transparancy called "Cleveland's last kick." It was a huge jumping jack, and when the cord was pulled, the point was immediately made apparent.

Among the visitors from Portsmouth were Col. John Pender, D. C. Borthwick, Morris C. Foye and Herman I. Oxford.

The Harrison Guards were very enthusiastic over the fine reception and bountiful collation they received from Mr. Lowell Jenness of Portsmouth, formerly of Rye, on Tuesday night. Quite a number of Rye ladies and gentlemen in addition, were most hospitably entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Jenness. NAT.

OUR HAT IS STILL OFF.

W. Scott Smith, Esq., who has purchased and will hereafter conduct the Portsmouth CHRONICLE, is a newspaper man of large experience. He was for many years correspondent in Washington of the Boston Traveller, and several other Eastern and Western metropolitan papers. He is able in the performance of duty; is a most genial and courteous gentleman, and popular with all who know him. He has been for several years an inhabitant of our state, having a cottage at Foss' beach; and with his family will be a valuable addition to the business and social life of New Hampshire's only sea port. We welcome Mr. Smith to his new field of labor and wish and predict success to his management of the Portsmouth CHRONICLE.—Concord Monitor.

As the schooner Gertie Freeman, Charles O. Johnson master, was going into Pigeon Cove, Cape Ann, during a squall on the evening of the 23d inst., she went ashore and became a total loss. She was owned by Oscar Johnson (three-quarters,) and A. K. W. Green (one-quarter,) and was valued at $1200; no insurance. Her sails, ground tackle, etc., were sold at the scene of the wreck. She was built at Newburyport in 1878, and registered about sixteen tons.

Portsmouth parties on Friday bought in a Maine port a schooner of about seventy-five tons register, to be commanded this winter by Capt. Thomas Jameson, and employed in winter fishing out of this port.

A team belonging to J. O. Downs & Co. went off of Railway wharf into the dock, Friday afternoon, the horse backing the wagon overboard while attempting to turn around without guidance, and following it. The harness was cut, and the horse got on shore after being three-quarters of an hour in the water; the wagon was left in the dock for a time longer.

Mr. Joseph P. Morse dislocated a shoulder on the evening of the 20th inst., by a fall caused by a small patch of ice on Middle street.

The republicans of Newington had an election jollification last Thursday evening in the town hall, in the shape of a choice turkey supper, followed by a dance. About twenty-five gentlemen attended from this city, and report a most enjoyable time.

All the men recently "laid off" in the department of construction and repair at the navy yard, about 200 in number, were taken on again Friday. Good; hope they'll stay on all winter.

Thatcher, Primrose & West's Minstrels at Music hall to-night, with the best entertainment ever offered by them. Tickets at Goodrich's.

As a purifier, Ayer's Sarsaparilla acts directly and promptly. A single bottle will prove its merits. Many thousands of people are yearly saved from dangerous fevers by the exercise of a little timely care in cleansing the system by the use of this remedy.

It is proposed to charge $10 each for tickets to the inauguration ball at Washington.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Sold only in cans, full weight.

CLEVELAND BROTHERS, ALBANY, N. Y.

Sunday evening, Nov. 25th, Miss Jessica Morgan of Ohio will lecture on Young Woman's Temperance Work, in the Methodist church. A cordial invitation is extended to all interested in the work, both old and young. A collection will be taken to defray expenses. Miss Morgan comes highly recommended as a worker; she is filled with her theme, and is ready to open her lips when opportunity offers.

Rev. W. S. Gage, D. D., who will be remembered by our citizens as a former pastor of the North church, will lecture in the Congregational chapel on Middle street, Tuesday evening, Dec. 4th, on "Berlin and the Imperial Family."

One Fact

Is worth a column of rhetoric, said an American statesman. It is a fact, established by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from impure state or low condition of the blood. It also overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

Two below zero at Hanover, N. H., Nov. 23d.

A "square meal, three times a day," is your privilege if you judiciously use Laxador, whenever your digestive organs need a toning up.

Nothing better than Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup can be used for the diseases of babyhood. Price only 25 cents. Sold by all druggists.

Zero at Concord on the morning of the 23d inst.

Happy and Hungry.

For over five years I was a constant sufferer with that most terrible and annoying disease, dyspepsia. After paying out hundreds of dollars, the only medicine I found that would do me any good was Sulphur Bitters. Six bottles cured me. Now I can eat will and am happy and hungry.—Editor.

Beef Peptonoids at Globe Grocery Co.

MARINE CHRONICLE.

PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

SAILED Nov. 22d.
Sch Erastus Wilman, Bennett, Baltimore.

SAILED Nov. 23d.
Sch Red Jacket, Arey, New York.
Sch Richard S Leaming, Norton, Philadelphia.
Sch Clara B Kennard, Freeman, Boston.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO. 106 Wall Street, New York.

Pierce & Guptill,
ATTORNEYS AT LAW.
No. 3 Market Square, Portsmouth, N. H.
Special attention given to Collecting.

Scissors
AND
Pocket Knives.
PRYOR & MATTHEWS,
16 Market St.

New Store. New Goods.
JOHN S. RAND,
No. 11 Market Street.
Would respectfully announce that he will resume business on Wednesday Next, Nov. 21st,
His store having been remodelled and refitted, making it one of the most attractive and best lighted in the city. In addition to his former stock he has added a large assortment of
FALL & WINTER
Dry and Fancy Goods!
purchased with a desire to suit the wants of customers, and which will be offered at prices that cannot fail to please.
Our present space enables us to add materially to our variety, and we shall therefore keep a good assortment of
Ladies' Small Wares
which will be sold at the lowest prices. Thanking friends and the public for their former patronage we would most respectfully solicit a continuance of the same.
JOHN S. RAND,
11 MARKET STREET.

A LARGE LOT OF LEAF SAGE Just Received and for Sale by the Pound or less quantity. Come early before it is sold.
JAMES R. TEATON & CO., 55 Congress St.

THACHER'S ELIXIR
CALISAYA & IRON,
The Best Tonic, Appetizer and Blood Purifier Known.
PRICE, $1.00 A BOTTLE.
Manufactured and Sold Only By
BENJAMIN GREEN,
APOTHECARY,
(Successor to J. H. Thacher,)
No. 12 Market Square
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

J. L.
Thanksgiving, '88.
500 lbs. Layer Figs.
2,000 lbs. Malaga Grapes.
100 boxes Fancy New Raisins.
500 lbs. New Citron.
500 lbs. New Currants.
50 doz. boxes New Sardines.
New Nuts of all Kinds.
New Cider. Bottled Cider. Wines, etc.
The largest and best stock in the city.
JOHN LAIGHTON,
No. 1 Market Square.

MUSIC HALL.
Saturday Evening, Nov. 25th.
THATCHER, PRIMROSE & WEST'S
MILLIONAIRE MINSTRELS
Under the management of D. W. TRUSS.
"It is doubtful if their equals ever existed."—New York Herald. "Take it for all in all we shall not look upon its like again."—Detroit Free Press. "Always the leaders, they have this season surpassed all previous efforts."—Chicago Tribune.
Unique, Brilliant, Costly Shakesperean FIRST PART. William H. West as Romeo. The following noted characters of Shakesperean drama: Touchstone, Dromios of Ephesus, Dromios of Syracuse, Romeo, Sir John Falstaff, Macbeth, King John, Othello, Benedick, Malvolio, Mercutio, Hotspur, Timon of Athens, Julius Cæsar, Hamlet, and Heralds of the Fifteenth Century.
GEO. THATCHER, Entirely New Monologue. GEO. H. PRIMROSE'S "English Swell."
The Greatest of All European Wonders, the BROTHERS BEYNE.
THE CLIPPER QUARTETTE, Barney Fagan's $5000 Challenge Grand Review.
Johnson, Powers and LeMack's Original Sketch OUR BALLADISTS. Frederick Oakland, Al Hart, J. P. Curran, W. Henry Whyte, Julian Jordan, Jas. Dalton.
NEW FEATURES THOUGHOUT.
Prices: 35, 50 and 75 cents. Seats on sale Wednesday, Nov. 21st, at Goodrich's.

MUSIC HALL.
ONE NIGHT ONLY
Wednesday, Nov. 28th.
SPECIAL ENGAGEMENT!
Arthur Rehan's Co. of Comedians
IN THE COMEDY SUCCESS
NANCY & CO.!
From Daly's Theatre, New York.
An Evening of Delightful Comedy and Undelayed Merriment.
Prices, 35, 50, 75 Cents, and $1.00.
Seats on Sale Monday, Nov. 26th, at Goodrich's Book Store.

BOOK BINDING
Of Every Desciption,
DONE AT
NO. 5 CONGRESS STREET,
(OVER FAY'S STORE.)
Magazines and other Periodicals Bound in Styles to Suit Patrons; Especial Attention given to
REBINDING OLD BOOKS!
For Libraries or Individuals; in short, any work of the kind promptly attended to, and satisfaction guaranteed. Prices reasonable.
JOHN D. RANDALL.

FOR THE CAMPAIGN.
RED FIRE!
QUALITY GUARANTEED.
ANDREW P. PRESTON,
Apothecary, - Portsmouth, N. H.

Marigold Ointment!
Remember is Warranted for External Piles, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Nettle Rash, Hives, and all Diseases of the Skin and Scalp, Old Sores, Chilblains, Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Chapped Hands, Cold Sores, Cracks in Hands and Lips, Ingrowing Nails, Inflamed Joints, and everything else for which an Ointment is required.
Call for Circular and Sample Box Free.
SOLE AGENT FOR ROCKINGHAM COUNTY
William D. Grace, - - - Apothecary.
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE BEST BONDS ARE POLICIES
IN THE
Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York
THE LARGEST, CHEAPEST AND BEST IN THE WORLD.
Assets - - over $120,000,000.
RICHARD A. MCCURDY, - PRESIDENT.
PROTECTION FOR THE AGED!
At Age of 75 $1000 will purchase an Annuity of $159.06, and other ages in proportion.
Those Desiring Reliable Insurance Should Apply to the Undersigned,
C. M. GIGNOUX, - - GENERAL AGENT,
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

FALL AND WINTER OF 1888-89.
Our Assortment of Tailoring Goods is superior in many respects to any of previous years, embracing a Full Line of Goods suitable for
Fall and Winter Overcoatings.
Aslo, a Fine Assortment of the Best
IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC GOODS FOR SUITINGS,
Consisting of Stripes, Checks, Plain and Fancy Woollens and Worsteds in Great Variety.
CHECKS AND STRIPES FOR TROWSERS.
FANCY PATTERNS FOR VESTING.
Prices Reasonable for Fine Work.
WM. P. WALKER, - - MERCHANT TAILOR,
NO. 8 MARKET SQUARE.

A PERFECT BLEND
MOCHA AND JAVA COFFEE

FULL WEIGHT, 2 POUND CANS, PRICE 70 CENTS
CHARLES E. LAIGHTON & SON,
Exchange Building, Opp. Post-Office.

THE OLDEST AND ONLY Republican Morning Paper IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

SELL ANYTHING AND VERTISE IN THE Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 24, 1852.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., MONDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 26, 1888.

$8 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE. TWO CENTS PER COPY.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

The News!

ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES.

A GREAT STORM

It Extends from Maine to Mexico.

UNUSUALLY SEVERE!

Telegraph Wires Prostrated in all Directions, Cutting Off all the News.

[Owing to the severity of the storm which has prevailed very generally all over the country, prostrating the telegraphic wires and cutting off communication with many cities, we are without our usual Associated Press despatches. Such despatches as have come to hand are very meagre and only show that the country has been visited by a storm which has extended from Canada to Mexico.]

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle

BOSTON, Nov. 25.—Snow began falling here about six o'clock this morning, and continued up to seven in the evening, when the weather moderated somewhat and the snow turned to rain. In the middle of the day the wind was very strong, the snow was thick, and one could see but a few feet ahead. The streets were nearly deserted by pedestrans, and the horsecars, which were running on four horse time and were impeded by the damp and heavy fall of snow, carried light freights, everybody preferring to remain indoors and talk of the severity of the first snow storm of the season, rather than brave it outside.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The first snow of the season fell today, covering the ground to depth of one inch. The day was windy and raw. Hail followed the snow, and tonight there is a gale blowing from the north. At five A. M. the steamer Bordentown, with a number of coal barges in tow, belonging to the Pennsylvania Railroad company, was caught in a squall and about 17 barges lost, going ashore at Starin's place, along Staten island, and the Long island coast. One barge, coal laden, went to pieces below Fort Wadsworth, and another on West Bank. A number of deck hatches of canal boats drifted ashore on Staten island beach. The ship George, which was lying at anchor off Stapleton, has dragged her anchors and gone ashore about 200 yards north of the quarantine station, and lies on hard bottom. Over 100 sail of eastern-bound vessels are anchored at City Island, on account of head winds.

MEXICO, Nov. 25.—Heavy rains have been reported throughout the country during the last three days causing considerable damage. A heavy norther is blowing at Vera Cruz. A party of 170 American editors en route to the City of Mexico arrived at Saltillo today and were received by the Governor. The Gallaneme press association of this city is making extensive preparations to give the visitors a hearty welcome.

NYACK, N. Y., Nov. 25.—A snow storm, the first of this season, accompanied by a high wind, has prevailed along the lower Hudson today. In some parts of Rockland county the snow was blown into drifts.

BRATTLEBORO, VT., Nov. 25.—A severe northeast snow storm began here at ten o'clock this morning, and gradually increased in force through the day, until at three o'clock it became a perfect blizzard. The wind varied from thirty to forty miles an hour. The mean temperature throughout the day was about 20 degrees. Several inches of snow has fallen. The night will be severe.

NASHUA, N. H., Nov. 23.—A terrific snow storm set in this morning, the first of the winter, and continued through the day. About three inches of snow has fallen, and probabilities of more. The mercury is 27 degress above zero.

CLAREMONT, N. H., Nov. 25.—The first snow storm of the season is raging, and five inches of snow has already fallen.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The steamers Celtic and City of Richmond, from Liverpool, and the Champagne, from Havre, which arrived yesterday, report very rough voyages. Henry Salmons of Brooklyn, passenger on the Celtic, was thrown down a stairway and seriously injured in the spine. He was taken to the hospital on arriving here.

RONDOUT, N. Y., Nov. 25.—High winds prevailed along the Hudson today, and fine snow has fallen since noon. It is feared that the boats in the Doleware & Hudson canal will be frozen in.

CANAJOHARIE, N. Y., Nov. 25.—At seven o'clock tonight the Mohawk valley was four inches under snow, and the storm still prevailing. The Erie canal is filled with boats, stalled or fearing to move.

BANGOR, ME., Nov. 25.—Snow commenced falling about three o'clock this afternoon, increasing in volume toward night. The wind is blowing a gale. Six or eight inches had fallen up to ten o'clock, when the force of the storm somewhat abated. No further damage from the ice occurred in the river today. The ice went out of the river last night, and today tow boats have been busy taking vessels down.

It Was Evacuation Day, Nevertheless.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—At the Block house, Central Park, today, the veterans of 1812 went through its annual ceremony of raising the American flag in celebration of the evacuation of New York by the British troops 105 years ago today.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—The Washington Base ball club have paid the New York club $12,000 for John Ward, the noted short stop. Ward will captain the Washington team. The Washington's have also signed Aleck Ferson, the crack pitcher of the Manchester club.

Naval Intelligence.

Lieut. Charles A. Adams has been ordered to the receiving ship Vermont.

Boatswain Patrick Haley is ordered to the New Hampshire, relieving Boatswain Xavier Perrimond, who is ordered to the New York navy yard.

Ensign F. W. Jenkins is detached from the Galena, and ordered to the Kearsarge.

Surgeon Frank B. Stephenson is ordered from the Boston navy yard to the Wabash.

The orders of Ensign H. B. Ashmore to the Tallapoosa have been revoked and he has been detached from the Pensacola, and ordered to the Yantic.

Leave of absence for one year from December 1st has been granted Civil Engineer F. C. Prindle.

Admiral Gillis has reported the arrival of the Swatara at Maidonada, to relieve the Tallapoosa as flagship of the South Atlantic squadron.

Capt. F. M. Bunce is detached from command of the Atlanta, Dec. 1st, and placed on waiting orders.

Paymaster A. W. Bacon is detached from the Atlanta, ordered to settle accounts, and await orders.

The U. S. S. Boston, at New York from Port-au-Prince, Hayti, has had four deaths on board from yellow fever—two apprentices and two marines. Surgeon Simon and two seamen are still sick with the disease.

The Kennebec river was closed by ice Nov. 24th, ten days earlier than last year. A number of vessels were caught and will have to winter in the river, and several coal-laden vessels bound in will have to go elsewhere to discharge.

Fred Mills, while working at a forge in Dover on Saturday, was struck in the head by a sledge hammer which flew off its handle, and fatally injured,

Hon. E. H. Rollins recovered consciousness Saturday morning, and was able to converse with his wife and son, who are with him in Boston. The attending physician looks for his speedy recovery. His trouble was concussion of the brain, owing to a fall.

Two Chinese seamen who arrived at Boston last week in a ship from Manila, are not allowed to land.

A sardine packing factory and contents were burned at Ellsworth, Me., Nov. 23d.

Mrs. Berenice Choteau, the first white woman to settle at Kansas City, Mo., is dead.

The Kansas City Investment Company, which makes a business of lending the money entrusted to it, has published a primer on the details of the business.

Where the money comes from, where it goes to, how the lending is managed and paid for, what the security is, how blunders and frauds are committed, the safeguards, also the life of Kansas City itself, appear.

It can be read in an hour; and will never be forgotten.

Sent free.

THE KANSAS CITY INVESTMENT COMPANY, Kansas City, Missouri; or Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

$100,000 Janesville, Wis., Water Co.

First Mortgage 6% Bonds.

DUE AUGUST 1, 1907.

Secured by a Sinking Fund. Descriptive Circulars furnished on application.

Brewster, Cobb & Estabrook,

35 Congress St., Boston.

Insurance Notice.

THE OLD INSURANCE AGENCY,

AT THE OLD STAND,

No. 13 Pleasant Street,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

JOSEPH P. MORSE.

25 CORDS

DRY PINE LIMBS!

At $3.50 Per Cord.

☞ The Very Best of Fuel at a Low Price.

O. F. PHILBRICK & CO.,

COAL AND WOOD DEALERS,

4 Water Street.

WOOD AND COAL!

A Good Assortment of all kinds of Wood and Coal.

Kindling Wood Split to Order.

ALSO

Akron Drain and Sewer Pipe.

NO. 13 GREEN STREET,

DANIEL LITTLEFIEL

Look in at Conn's

AND SEE THE

BUTTER!

From the very best Dairies in Vermont and New York. Creameries are of no account compared with these Dairies. Also,

Cheese Pork, Lard, Hams, Beans Etc

No Oleo or Second-Hand Stuff Kept.

☞ The very best quality of LARD bought by the car-load, which I am selling less than the Boston prices.

COMFORT

FOR

COLD AND TENDER FEET!

Persons troubled with cold or tender feet will find warmth and ease in the use of

DOLGE'S ALL WOOL FELT

Slipners and Shoes

For which the undersigned is agent in this City and Vicinity.

--- AT THE STORE ---

No. 34 Market Street

Can be found a Full Line of these Goods, in many patterns of Slippers, Shoes and Boots, and several colors, for house, office or street wear,

Of Men and Boys, Women and Girls.

☞ Please examine our Stock.

J. C. CARR.

A LARGE LOT OF LEAF SAGE Just Received and for Sale by the Pound or less quantity. Come early before it is sold.

JAMES R. TEATON & CO., 50 Congress St.

We are Sole Agents in Portsmouth for the Celebrated

DEW DROP!

CANNED GOODS.

Whole Solid Packed

TOMATOES!

(ALSO IN GLASS.)

First Quality

SUGAR CORN!

Early June and Sifted

PEAS!

Lima Beans.

Sliced Sugared, White and Extra Yellow and Extra White Heath Table

PEACHES.

The Above Goods are Full Weight, are Very Carefully Packed and of Superior Quality.

OUR STOCK OF

THANKSGIVING

Goods is Complete, and those in quest of FINE Goods are Invited to Examine the Same.

CHARLES E. LAIGHTON & SON,

5 EXCHANGE BUILDINGS,

OPPOSITE POST-OFFICE.

JOHN H. BROUHTON,

No. 68 Daniel St., Portsmouth, N. H.

DEALER IN

EASTERN AND WESTERN

LUMBER!

Shingles, Clapboards and Laths.

ALSO

Best Newark Hydraulic Cement, Best Extra and No. 1 Lime

FOR SALE AT LOWEST PRICES.

BURNETT'S

PERFECTLY PURE HIGHLY CONCENTRATED

Standard Flavoring

EXTRACTS

The superiority of these Extracts consist in their

Perfect Purity and Great Strength.

NOTICE!

FALL

AND

WINTER STYLES

NOW READY!

AT

MRS. TEBBETTS',

NO. 14 MARKET STREET.

Furnaces, Ranges & Stoves.

We are now ready to show the Finest Line of

RANGES AND PARLOR STOVES

Ever offered in this city, at Prices within the reach of all. Call and See Them Before Buying, it will Pay You.

LAMPS!

LAMPS!

Our Stock of Lamps is Complete, the

LUX DUX, Rochester, Banner, Duplex,

All First-Class, and will be Sold at the Lowest Prices.

PLUMBING, GAS PIPING, COPPER AND SHEET IRONWORK, AT

John P. Sweetser's,

46 MARKET STREET.

LOOK AT THIS

Heavy, Substantial Cooking Range,

"THE ALMONER."

Plain for $16.00, Worth $25.00

To anyone in need of a First Class Range. Examine this before purchasing elsewhere.

ALSO A FULL LINE OF

MAGEE FURNACES, RANGES & STOVES.

Plumbing, Gas Fitting, Tin and Sheet Iron Work of All Kinds.

C. W. TAYLOR.

42 & 44 MARKET STREET.

USE NETTEZZA!

FOR THE TEETH.

PREPARED BY E. C BLAISDELL, D. M. D.

Price 25 Cents.

FOR SALE BY

A. P. PRESTON, D. KIMBALL & CO., W. D. GRACE, F. B. COLEMAN AND BENJ. GREEN.

C-O-A-L-!

All Kinds and Sizes Delivered Well Screened.

E. F. SISE & CO.

First Quality Wood:

Liverpool and Turks Island

S-A-L-T-,

in Bulk and Sacks. Salt in Boxes. Boston and Portland Brands.

TELEPHONE.

COAL! COAL!

Finest Grades, well prepared for Domestic Purposes, constantly Arriving and for Sale at Lowest Prices.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

J. ALBERT WALKER

Portsmouth Coal Pockets.

POSITIVELY

No Cure, No Pay!

CONSTITUTIONAL COUGH SYRUP

--- TRY IT! ---

The proprietor of this remedy has such confidence in its curative powers that he makes the following

Generous Offer!

Any person buying a bottle is given the privilege of returning it and receiving their MONEY BACK, if after using two-thirds of its contents they have derived no benefit from it.

PRICE 25 AND 50 CENTS.

SOLD BY

David Kimball & Co., 36 Market Street.

AT

No. 63 Pleasant St

may be our as full and carefully selected a stock of

FINE FANCY AND STAPLE

GROCERIES.

ALSO

BOOTS & SHOES

As many Stores east of Boston.

VERMONT AND CREAMERY

BUTTER & CHEESE.

Lard Sugar, Molasses Syrup Oils. Beans Peas Pickles Crackers. Salt Pork Salt Fish. Sage Maccaroni.

-COFFEES-

Old Government Java and Rio, ground as cold.

-TEAS-

Best Qualities Formosa and Japan.

A FULL LINE

CANNED AND SHELF GOODS.

Pure Spices, Raisins, Currants, Cocoa, Chocolate, Candied Lemon Peel, and all other Fine Groceries

TOBACCO AND CIGARS.

Brooms, Brushes, Pails, Crockery and Glassware, and a Large Assortment of Miscellaneous Articles.

Boots and Shoes!

Men's Calf Button Boots, Men's Calf Balmoral Boots. Men's Calf French Ties, Ladies' Kid Button Boots. Misses' and Children's, Youth's and Boys', All Sizes and Kinds.

We make the best selections possible, paying Cash; and for Cash will sell as low as the lowest.

☞ Orders filled with care and delivered free to any part of the city.

JOHN J. LASKEY,

NO. 63 PLEASANT STREET.

SEND FOR

Miller's Gamecock,

THE KING OF ALL WHISKIES.

JOHN MILLER & CO.,

298 and 300 Hanover St., Boston, Sole Proprietors.

☞ SEND FOR PRICE LIST. ☜

eod1dec15

S. Philbrick & Co.,

MANUFACTURERS OF

Marble and Granite Work

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

GRANITE POLISHING A SPECIALTY.

OFFICE AND WORKS,

No. 2 Water Street, Portsmouth

To Let.

THE middle Tenement, No. 23, in the Kearsarge Block on Pleasant Street. Apply to

J. P. HANE

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

The three-story (above the grade floor)

BRICK STORE BUILDING

NO. 15 BOW STREET,

Running back over the wharf to the river, occupied for a long time by the late Charles Robinson as a wholesale corn and flour store. Sold to close up an estate. Enquire of J. P. Hanes, Real Estate Broker.

NEW JEWELRY

AND

SILVER GOODS

AT

HUTCHINSON'S.

Now is the Time to Look Over Your Wardrobe and See What You Need for Winter, and

SIMPSON'S CORNER STORE

is the place where you can find everything you need in Gentlemen's Wear, at Remarkably Low Prices, for Cash.

WE HAVE A FULL LINE OF

OVERCOATS!

Ranging in Prices from $5 to $25.

A NEW LOT OF

ULSTERS!

From $6 to $20

A FINE ASSORTMENT OF

UNDERWEAR,

Including the Celebrated CAMEL'S HAIR for the Health.

Cardigan Jackets, Blue and Fancy Over-Shirts.

(In these Goods we can Fit the Largest Man.)

A FINE ASSORTMENT OF

FURNISHING GOODS.

☞ Headquarters for OIL and RUBBER CLOTHING, Wholesale and Retail.

Come and See for Yourselves at the Old Stand.

Corner Market and Bow Streets,

CHARLES E. SIMPSON.

GRANITE STATE Fire Insurance Company,

OF PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

PAID-UP CAPITAL, - $200,000

OFFICERS:

President, FRANK JONES.

Vice President, JOHN W. SANBORN.

Secretary, ALFRED F. HOWARD.

Treasurer, JOHN LAIGHTON.

Executive Committee, FRANK JONES, JOHN W. SANBORN, CHARLES A. SANBORN, EDWIN WALLACE and E. H. WINCHESTER.

C. E. BOYNTON,

Manufacturer and Wholesale Dealer in

Soda Water, Root, Tonic, Vanilla, Orange and Strawberry Beer, Crab Apple Lemonette, Cream Ginger and Ginger Ale.

EXTRACT OF NERVE FOOD!

For Brain and Nervous Exhaustion. Good for the Appetite.

Soda Water in Syphons for Hotel and Family Use. Fountains Charged at Short Notice.

Bottler of Kidredge and Milwaukee Lager, Porter and Refined Cider.

☞ The Summer Beverage manufactured and bottled by me having been before the public of this city and vicinity for the past seventeen years, need no endorsement as being of the very highest standard.

EDWARD D. COFFIN,

SHERIFF ROCKINGHAM CO. AND U. S. DEPUTY MARSHAL.

Office at No. 3 Market Square, And at the Jail.

With Merrill & Moore's Inn, Office at 7 A. M. and 6 o'clock P. M.

(TELEPHONE AT THE JAIL.)

The Portsmouth Daily Chronicle,

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 2, 1852.

Published every morning, except Sunday, at No. 7 Exchange Building, Pleasant Street.

By mail, postage prepaid, $5 a year. Single Copies, Two Cents.

THE CHRONICLE is served to subscribers in Portsmouth, Kittery, Dover, Rochester and Farmington at 50 Cents per month, hours in advance of any other paper containing the Associated Press Despatches.

The New Hampshire Gazette,

ESTABLISHED OCT. 7, 1756.

The Oldest Newspaper in America. Published every Thursday.

Terms, $1.50 a year in advance.

[Entered at the Post Office at Portsmouth as second class matter.]

W. SCOTT SMITH,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

☞ Rates of advertising made known on application.

Agents for the Daily Chronicle:

MOSES BROS.....PORTSMOUTH.
ROBERTS & AVERY.....FARMINGTON
WORCESTER & GREENFIELD..ROCHESTER
BROWNE BROS.....DOVER.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

MONDAY, NOV. 26, 1888.

What is Our Jail For?

Whether Palmer, the convicted murderer, lives or dies as the result of his attempt at suicide Friday night at the jail, the fact that he had a knife in his possession makes a very ugly case for Sheriff Coffin, and one which he will be fortunate if he can explain away to the satisfaction of the public. That a prisoner under sentence of death, and supposed to be closely guarded, could obtain a knife and inflict what he supposed would be deadly wounds, upon himself, presents to say the least, such a condition of affairs in the management of the jail as to call for prompt action on the part of our state authorities. If this had happened three weeks ago, Sheriff Coffin would not have been re-elected to his present office.

Why should the people be put to the expense of trying murderers and other criminals, if upon conviction they can go from court to the jail and there be allowed such liberty as will enable them to cheat justice. In the present case the jail authorities had been forewarned by Palmer, who had repeatedly declared that he would never go to the State prison at Concord alive, and yet despite this warning they permitted him to obtain control of a knife and inflict wounds which may terminate fatally.

The attempt of the jail authorities to hush the matter up and even to deny the story, suggests that there is something damaging connected with the case not yet made public. To Sheriff Coffin we say in all kindness that the sooner he clears this mystery up, and demonstrates that he has not been derelict in his duty, the better it will be for his official reputation. This affair is too serious to be hushed up. A satisfactory explanation must be made speedily, or an official investigation must of necessity follow in order to establish where the blame lies, and provide against such occurrences in the future.

We believe in saying this we but give expression to the sentiments of all good citizens of Portsmouth.

General Harrison and the Churches.

Every four years there is a scramble among the churches in Washington as to which one will have the honor of securing the new President as a pew holder, and thereby increasing its attendance and adding several thousand dollars annually to the church income. The church which the President attends never has any vacant pews; in Washington it has been the custom from time immemorial to take up with regularity a Sunday collection, and the amount thus realized annually, especially in the church attended by the President, will very nearly pay the pastor's salary. Thus it is there is a struggle to secure the attendance of each new President.

President Grant had a pew in the Metropolitan Methodist church for the eight years he occupied the White House, and his presence contributed very materially towards building that church up.

President Hayes attended the Foundry Methodist church, and during the four years he remained in Washington that church was the fashionable place of worship.

Gen. Garfield had a pew in and was an active member of the Christian church (Campbellite,) which at the time he was elected President, had only a small frame building. By reason of his connection the church was enabled to raise enough money to build a very handsome edifice in the fashionable part of the city.

President Arthur was an Episcopalian, and had a pew at St. John's church, which was not large enough to contain all the people who flocked there, many of them out of mere idle curiosity to see the President.

President Cleveland took a pew at the First Presbyterian church, presided over by Dr. Sunderland, and the society, which had become very small, has had nearly four years of prosperity.

Since the election of Gen. Harrison, church circles have been wrought up over his probable selection of a church to attend divine service. He has had tendered pews in several churches, and so anxious have some of the societies been to secure him, that special messengers were sent to Indianapolis for this purpose.

The President-elect was quick to com-

[illegible] considerations very largely entered into the matter, and he solved the problem in a way which cannot fail to commend him to the people by saying that he "would not confine his patronage to one congregation, but would rent pews in three or four Presbyterian churches, any one of which he could attend as he saw fit, and thus avoid the unseemly exhibitions which follow Presidential preferences for one place of worship."

The Republicans of Washington have come to the conclusion that the interests of the party demanded the establishing of a party newspaper there. They have been without one now for nearly six months, Mr. Stillson Hutchings having secured control of the National Republican and consolidated it with his own paper, the Post, and endeavored to run the latter so as to suit both political parties, but as the result shows, satisfying neither. The Post controls the morning Associated Press franchise, and the new Republican paper will probably have to depend upon specials entirely for its news. We hope it may have success.

Senator Ingalls of Kansas does not mince words in expressing his opinion as th the policy which he wants Gen. Harrison to pursue regarding Democratic officeholders. In a letter just published he says:

"If there will be 'more than forty thousand Democrats in office on the 4th of March next,' about which I know nothing, they should all be removed before the going down of the sun on that day, and more than forty thousand Republicans appointed in their stead."

This frank utterance commends itself to the New York Sun, and Mr. Dana, with that exquisite delight which has characterized his support of the administraton for some time past, avails himself of the opportunity to deal President Cleveland a rap over the knuckles. Alluding to Mr. Ingalls' letter the Sun says:

"His manly words will find an echo in every Republican or Democratic heart that is sick of humbug.

For Mr. Ingalls is right, not only from the Republican but from the Democratic point of view. The offices belong to the victors. That is the American system, and it is the Democratic system.

There should be a clean sweep, four months hence, by the Republican administration, without fear or favor. At the appointed time we shall have another clean sweep, with the besom in different hands."

Congress last session appropriated $150,000 for a new post-office at Bridgeport, Conn., and the question of a site has stirred up much excitement among her citizens, especially as it seems probable that the wishes of the citizens are to be ignored in the interests of a real estate ring. The veteran showman P. T. Barnum is taking a hand in the matter, and expresses himself very freely and in very forcible language. He says that there is strong proof that one of the parties in the ring is an intimate friend of Secretary Fairchild of the Treasury Department, "and that a conspiracy was formed weeks ago when the property was decided on and fixed by the parties with the sanction of the powers that be in Washington." And this is a reform administration.

The state of New York has 5,063 Indians living within its borders, and the government agent whose duty it is to look after the welfare of these semi-civilized red man informs the Commissioner of Indian Affairs at Washington that an impediment to civilization is the hard cider which the thrifty farmers furnish to the Indians in large quantities. Most of the farmers pay the Indians who work for them in hard cider, and they cheerfully furnish all Indians who come to them with money, with all they can pay for. Exactly how this practice is to be stopped is not explained, but the agent suggests legislation to meet it.

WHAT IS

SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which developes ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors;" which fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Every spring my wife and children have been troubled with scrofula, sores breaking out on them in various places. My little boy, three years old, has been a terrible sufferer. Last spring he was one mass of sores from head to feet. I was advised to use Hood's Sarsaparilla, and we have all taken it. The result is that all have been cured of the scrofula, my little boy being entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy." W. B. ATHERTON, Passaic City, N. J.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

Always on Time.

NEW YORK & NEW ENGLAND.

Trains for New York.

Leave Portsmouth, via Boston & Maine R. R. at 11:05 a. m. 7:40 p. m. Arrive at Boston 1:15, 9:30 p. m.

Leave Boston, ¶12.00 noon, §*3.00, 11.30 p. m. Ar. New York, ‡ 3.30, *9.00 p. m., § 6.25 a. m. Parlor and Sleeping Cars through without change.

¶ Dining Car between Boston and Hartford.
§ Dining Car between Boston and Willimantic.
*3.00 p. m. runs daily, including Sundays.
Through tickets at offices, North and East. Baggage checked through.

Ticket offices—289 Washington St., and Depot foot of Summer St., Boston. [illegible]

IN DARKNESS.

I will be still;
The terror drawing nigh
Shall startle from my lips no coward cry;
Nay, though the night my deadliest dread fulfill,
I will be still.

For oh! I know,
Though suffering hours delay,
Yet to Eternity they pass away,
Carrying something onward as they flow,
Outlasting woe!

Yes, something won;
The harvest of our tears—
Something unfading, plucked from fading years;
Something to blossom on beyond the sun,
From Sorrow won.

The agony,
So hopeless now of balm,
Shall sleep at last, in light as pure and calm
As that wherewith the stars look down on thee,
Gethsemane.

—Florence Earle Coates in Harper's Magazine.

New System of Telegraphy.

Dr. J. Harris Rogers, of Washington, is responsible for a new telegraph invention, which will be known as visual synchronism. The discovery consists of a method by which two wheels, thousands of miles apart, may be kept revolving in perfect unison, and the application consists in the ability to print and transmit from one wheel to another about 150 words a minute. By means of a small instrument with ten keys a message is first perforated on a tape. This tape runs through a telegraphic instrument, and the perforations permit small steel fingers to make electrical connections with an ordinary telegraph wire, which in its turn connects with the receiver on the other distant wheel, and influences ten magness provided with curves and strokes, which combine to form Roman letters in accordance with the original perforations.

The two indicators or wheels which actually form the visual synchronism give 900 revolutions a minute, and each revolution forms a letter. This gives about 150 words a minute. The Morse characters have to be interpreted, but as visual synchronomic messages come out in Roman letters, much labor is saved. "Autographic telegraphy," said Mr. Rogers, "invented by the famous electrician, Bakewell, about thirty years ago, and afterward improved upon by Father Secchi, Edison, Gray and Sawyer, failed in practical applications for want of the rapid synchronism now introduced by me. With the aid of the new discovery it may now be utilized."—New York Tribune.

A German Anti-Tipping Society.

The question of tips is at length to be seriously grappled with. A German psychologist has taken it in hand, and has constructed an elaborate plan for its solution. Tipping, in the view of this acute person, is a human weakness, a deficiency of moral courage very similar to tippling, and should be dealt with in the same way. Accordingly he has projected an association of anti-tippers, a kind of union of total abstainers from tipping, the members of which will be required to sign a pledge promising to give no more tips to waiters, servants and other persons of this class. The headquarters of the association are at Chemnitz, and although its constitution is not yet finally settled, a badge for its members has been resolved on. This is not to be worn, like the temperance badge, where it can be readily seen, but is to be produced from the pocket whenever waiters show a tendency to linger.—Boston True Flag.

Good Fishing in Alaska.

Fishing in Alaska is good if a Canadian gentlemen recently visiting there tells the truth. He says that at Tongass Narrows he saw a creek so crowded with salmon that the surface was actually blackened with their backs and dorsal fins. In some places they were crowded so closely that they could hardly move and could be picked out of the water by hand. At a canning establishment he saw 8,000 fish just taken, waiting treatment, and in one case one draught of a seine brought to shore 2,500 salmon.—New York Sun.

Too Many School Books.

Education has been carried to such an extent in Germany that the government has felt itself forced to step in and compel a lightening of the weight of school books carried by the children. German children carry their books in a knapsack. The police are now ordered to stop children weighted too heavily, get their address and bring their fathers to court to be fined for overloading.—New York Sun.

How Wood Is "Metallized."

A method of giving a brilliant metallic surface to wood has been brought out in Germany. The wood is first treated in a bath of caustic alkali, then in a bath of hyposulphite of calcium to which sulphur has been added, and finally in a bath of acetate of lead. In each of these baths the wood remains for several hours. It is then dried and may be given a very high polish.—Arkansaw Traveler.

A Big Day's Work.

At Central City, Colo., the other day, a retort containing $40,000 in gold was placed in a bank for safe keeping. The gold was all produced in a single day by one mine. The amount is the greatest ever taken from any mine in the same length of time.—Chicago Herald.

Oldest Poplar in France.

The citizens of Dijon boast that they have the oldest poplar in France, but just how old it is no one knows. It is 122 feet high, forty-five feet in circumference at the base, and twenty-three feet in circumference fifteen feet from the base.—Foreign Letter.

Short Essay on Wrinkles.

It is customary to say that wrinkles come from worrying, but the truth is most of them come from laughing. To know how to laugh is just as important as to know when to do it. If you laugh with the sides of your face the skin will work loose in time and wrinkles will form in exact accordance with what kind of laugh you have. The man who always wears a smirk will have a series of semi-circular wrinkles covering his cheeks.

When a gambler, who has been accustomed to suppressing his feelings, laughs, a deep line forms on each side of his nose and runs to the upper corner of his mouth. In time this line extends to his chin and assumes the shape of a half moon. A cadaverous person with a waxlike skin is very apt to have two broadly marked wrinkles, one running up from the jaw and the other under the eye. These meet at right angles at the cheekbone and look as though they formed a knot at the spot. The scholar's wrinkles form on his brow, while the scheming politician's come round his eyes, where they look for all the world like the spokes of a wheel.

LONDON'S WINE VAULTS.

Choice Liquors Preserved in the Cellars of the Metropolis—Grape Juice and Brandy.

The total floor area at the vaults at the London docks is a million superficial feet, and in this space 88,000 pipes of wine can easily be stored, and then room found for 75,000 casks of brandy. The various vaults are built in the form of a crypt. The largest of these—the east vault—covers four acres of ground, and as we take our light, a small oil lamp fixed to the end of a piece of wood some eighteen inches long, our guide informs us that there are in this cellar alone twenty-one miles of scantling wire, or miniature railway lines, over which the barrels are rolled.

The roof for yards and yards is covered with a beautiful species of fungus, the growth of which is due to the fumes of the wine, a peculiarity which is all the more noticeable, as where no barrels find a temporary resting place no fungus grows aloft. It is as light as feathers, and takes the most elaborate and artistic forms. Small hillocks, gigantic bunches of grapes, long ropes, which a puff of the breath will snap in two, while such delicate designs are to be found here as to make the lover of lace envy the patterns. In the midst of all this mushrooms grow, and in the season a good crop is always secured.

"The Drawing Room" covers nearly an acre. This is a private vault, scrupulously clean, the sawdust carpet unspotted. It is rented from the company by a well known firm of wine merchants, and as we examine a cask marked "The Duke," we learn how testing is managed. The bung of a barrel is never removed for testing purposes, but the attendant has to bore a small hole in the cask, and the wine flows into the "dock" glass. The taster having satisfied himself as to strength, the flow is stopped by the insertion of a small stick of wood. Every hole has to be accounted for, and the total must correspond with the number of "tasting orders" issued from the owner's office. Sometimes a whole barrel runs away in tasting.

The brandy cellar covers about seven acres of ground and some 21,000 casks are resting there just now; but during the Franco-German war the authorities contrived to provide accommodation for 72,000 casks. All the brandy was driven out of France; its value was $15,000,000, and an official who helped to receive the barrels at the time has made the interesting calculation that if they had been placed in a line they would have stretched for thirty-four miles. There are casks of brandy here—profusely decorated with cobwebs—over twenty years old. One of the gangways is nearly a quarter of a mile long, and in the midst of this huge cellar runs the snow tank, into which all the sluice, snow and mud of winter is poured.

The "vatting floor," where brandy is improved by mixing one quality with another, contains some of the largest spirit receptacles in the world, gigantic yellow tubs symmetrically made, on each of which is painted its holding capabilities. Here is one which requires 10,000 gallons of liquor to fill it, another takes 3,000, others 2,440, 1,450, 1,500 and 530, something like a thousand gallons of brandy running through the taps every day.

The mixing process has ceased at the moment of our visit, but it is whispered that in another corner of the docks a large quantity of gin is about to be converted into "sweetened." The "sweetening" barrel, holding the modest quantity of 5,070 gallons—into which the gin in its unsweetened state is to be poured—is on one floor. Above it, immediately over its huge mouth, is an opening some yards in length and four inches deep by nine inches wide, and into this a rivulet of gin is flowing from the interior of five large casks which are emptying themselves into the barrel below. As soon as these are empty others take their place, and the "vat" filled, the sugar in a liquid state is added, the whole mixed together, and shortly afterward it is bottled, sent abroad and approved of as the choicest "Cream of the Valley."

A word about the bottling department. As fast as the wine is put into bottle it goes out for export, the average number of dozens, sealed, labeled, capsuled and packed in cases every day being 400. A good packer can case a hundred dozen bottles between 8 and 11 o'clock in the morning. In the cellar below the bottling room—where, by-the-bye, 600 dozen bottles can be placed side by side of the floor—the barrels are kept and although the cellar is lighted with gas, fifty-four lamps are needed for dark days, nine of these being "Davy's." Here in one corner are the wax pans, the merchants not only having to provide their own bottles and labels, but wax into the bargain. It takes five minutes to melt a pan of wax. It is placed in a copper pan, heated over a gas stove, and when melted is placed in a receptacle containing a small spirit lamp, which keeps the wax in a liquid state, and finally the case is locked.—London Tid-Bits.

The Many Climates of Japan.

Japan is a land of mountains and valleys, and it has as many different climates as the United States. You may find your Minnesota in Yezo, your Florida about Nagasaki, and over all you will find the green of old Ireland. Surrounded by the sea, the air is ever full of moisture, and even in winter the land is green. It is a land of flowers. I saw camellia hedges like trees near Yokohama. There are acres and quarter sections of water about Tokio covered with lotus flowers as big as a round 5 cent loaf of American bread and surrounded by green discs, each of which is as big as a palmleaf fan. The wisteria here grows wild and Japan is the land of the chrysanthemum. This flower forms the crest of the mikado, and the poetic nature of the Japanese people is shown in their love for flowers. They have their flower shows three times a month and when the trees blossom the whole nation goes wild. Flower peddlers are everywhere and Tokio is a city of gardens.—Frank G. Carpenter's Letter.

How Wives Are Killed.

Of course all good husbandmen have provided suitable conveniences to save their wives extra labor and "vexation of spirit," but perhaps this little item, from an Eastern paper, ought to be read as a sort of riot act to some of their neighbors: "See that skeleton of a woman tugging two pails of water up that hill to the house, while at a cost of $30 an aqueduct would bring water into every building. That man (her husband) has $5,000 at interest, and three wives of blessed memory in yonder yard. The fourth will soon be beside them, after which there will be an eager contest for the dead woman's harness."—Herald of Health.

IF YOU WANT
To Save Two Dollars
ON EVERY BARREL OF FLOUR, USE
Horsford's Bread Preparation.
It costs less than one cent to raise a pound of flour with Horsford's, while with common baking powders the cost is two cents.

"1888" OPENING OF "1888"

FALL AND WINTER DRY GOODS

At the Well-Known Store,

NOS. 30 and 32 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH.

Ayers & Locke, Proprietors,

Can be found the Largest Assortment of

SEASONABLE DRY GOODS MERCHANDISE.
LARGEST ASSORTMENT OF OUTSIDE GARMENTS.

For Ladies, Misses and Children,

New Goods of this Season's Manufacture.

All are Invited to Examine

OUR STOCK OF CLOAKS !

Before Purchasing Elsewhere.

Silk and Gloria RAIN UMBRELLAS! Ladies' Gossamers.

THE F. P. ROBINSON CO. BLACK STOCKINGS.

"CLEANFAST" NONE ARE GENUINE WITHOUT THIS TRADE MARK ON EACH PAIR

Mohair and Gingham RAIN UMBRELLAS! Children's Gossamers.

Largest Assortment of Dress Goods in Portsmouth.

In fact, the Best Assortment in their Line of everytning pertaining to a

FIRST-CLASS STOCK OF DRY GOODS.

NEW CARPETS! NEW CARPETS!
HOUSEKEEPING GOODS! &C.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS IN OUR UNDEWEARR DEPARTMENT.

Small Wares, Trimmings, Ribbons, Gloves
Yarns, Knitting Silks, &c.
Corsets, Bustles, &c.

Largest Assortment of Fall and Winter Skirts in all the Desirable Fabrics

Which they are desirous of exchanging for Cash on a basis for value that will compare favorably with Boston and New York prices.

AYERS & LOCKE.

EASTERN OFFICE OF
Kansas City Investment Co.,
OVER FIRST NATIONAL BANK, PORTSMOUTH.
CITY MORTGAGES, FARM MORTGAGES,
DEBENTURE BONDS, REAL ESTATE NOTES
☞ INTEREST PAYABLE HERE AT MATURITY. ☜
W. G. MYERS V. P.

FALL AND WINTER OF 1888-89.

Our Assortment of Tailoring Goods is superior in many respects to any of previous years, embracing a Full Line of Goods suitable for

Fall and Winter Overcoatings.

Aslo, a Fine Assortment of the Best

IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC GOODS FOR SUITINGS,

Consisting of Stripes, Checks, Plain and Fancy Woollens and Worsteds in Great Variety.

CHECKS AND STRIPES FOR TROWSERS.
FANCY PATTERNS FOR VESTING.

Prices Reasonable for Fine Work.

WM. P. WALKER, - - MERCHANT TAILOR,
NO. 8 MARKET SQUARE.

CAUTION

Beware of Fraud, as my name and the price are stamped on the bottom of all my advertised shoes before leaving the factory, which protect the wearers against high prices and inferior goods. If a dealer offers W. L. Douglas shoes at a reduced price, or says he has them without my name and price stamped on the bottom, put him down as a fraud

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE. FOR GENTLEMEN.

The only calf $3 SEAMLESS Shoe smooth inside. NO TACKS or WAX THREAD to hurt the feet, easy as hand-sewed, and WILL NOT RIP.

W. L. DOUGLAS $4 SHOE, the original and only hand-sewed welt $4 shoe. Equals custom-made shoes costing from $6 to $8.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.50 POLICE SHOE. Railroad Men and Letter Carriers all wear them. Smooth inside as a Hand-Sewed Shoe. No Tacks or Wax Thread to hurt the feet.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.50 SHOE is unexcelled for heavy wear. Best Calf Shoe for the price.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.25 WORKINGMAN'S SHOE is the best in the world for rough wear; one pair ought to wear a man a year.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2 SHOE FOR BOYS is the best School Shoe in the world.

W. L. DOUGLAS $1.75 YOUTH'S School Shoe gives the small Boys a chance to wear the best shoes in the world.

All made in Congress, Button and Lace. If not sold by your dealer, write

W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

FOR SALE BY

OREN BRAGDON & SON
NO. 24 MARKET STREET

GRATEFUL---COMFORTING.

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in half-pound tins, by Grocers, labelled thus:

JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England.

1ec5

WE WANT A GOOD ENERGETIC SALESMAN in every town and city TO SOLICIT ORDERS FOR FRAMING PICTURES. BEST OUTFIT IN THE WORLD and a permanent situation. Address H. B. WARDWELL, Lewiston, Me.

POSITIVELY CLOSING WEEKS

GRAND CYCLORAMA

BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG,

541 Tremont St., Boston.

Don't fail to see this great [illegible] scene at once.

A new subject now being painted will take its place in this building January 1st.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, the great Medical Work of the age on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline, Errors of Youth, and the untold miseries consequent thereon. 700 pages 8 vo., 125 prescriptions for all diseases. Cloth, full gilt, only $1.00, by mail, sealed. Illustrative sample free to all young and middle-aged men. Send now. The Gold and Jeweled Medal awarded to the author by the National Medical Association. Address P.O. Box 1895, Boston, Mass., or Dr. W. H. PARKER, graduate of Harvard Medical College, years of practice in Boston, who may be consulted confidentially. Office, No. 4 Bulfinch St. Specialty, Diseases of Man. ☞ Shut this out. You may never see it again.

MARVELOUS MEMORY DISCOVERY.

Any book learned in one reading
Mind wandering cured.
Speaking without notes.
Piracy condemned by Supreme Court.
Greatest endorsements to correspondence classes

Prospectus, with opinions of Dr. Wm. A. Hammond, the world famed Specialist in Mind diseases, Daniel Greenleaf Thompson, the great Psychologist, J. M. Buckley, D. D., Editor of the Christian Advocate, Richard Proctor, the Scientist, Hons. Judge Gibson, Judah P. Benjamin, and others, sent post free by

Prof. A. LOISETTE, 237 Fifth Ave., New York.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

JOSIAH F. ADAMS

Embalmer and Funeral Director,

WAREROOMS: NO. 5 DANIEL ST.

Coffins, Caskets and Robes Always on Hand. Hearse and Carriages Furnished. Cemetery Lots Cared For, &c.

☞ Orders by day or night left at No. 37 Washington St., or with Mr. Robert King, No. 6 [illegible] will receive prompt attention.

DR. S. F. HAM,

Of Hotel Bristol, Boston, will receive patients

Monday and Tuesday

FROM MAY 1st TO NOV. 1st,

And the remainder of the year every Monday.

Office and Residence, 13 CHURCH ST., Portsmouth, N. H.

Cure Your Corns,

BY USING

SCHLOTTERBECK'S

CORN, WART AND BUNION SOLVENT

A CURE IS GUARANTEED!

BOSTON & MAINE R.R.

Eastern Division.

TRAINS LEAVE PORTSMOUTH FOR

Boston, 4.05, 7.37, 8.20, 11.05 a. m., 2.55, 5.30, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4.00 p. m. Returning, 7.30, 9.00, 10.00 a. m., 12.30, 3.30, 4.40, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.30 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

Portland, 7.38, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m. Returning, 7.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.00, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 7.00 a. m.

Bangor, St. John and Halifax, 10.55 a. m., 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.00 p. m.

Great Falls and Wolfeboro Junc., 9.55 a. m., 2.45, 5.30 p. m.

Wolfeboro, 9.55, a. m., 5.40 p. m.

North Conway, 9.55 a. m., 2.45 p. m.

Dover, 4.50, 9.45, a. m., 12.35, 2.35, 5.22 p. m.

YORK HARBOR AND BEACH R. R.

York Beach and Way Stations, (via York Harbor and Beach R. R.) 8.20, 11.10 a. m., 3.35 p. m. Returning, leave York Beach 8.40, 10.00 a. m., 1.40, p. m. Connecting with trains leaving Portsmouth for Boston.

Jas T. Furber, Gen'l Manager. D. J. Flanders, Gen'l Passenger Agent.

Concord & Portsmouth Railroad.

Passenger trains leave Eastern Railroad Station for Newmarket Junction, Manchester, Concord and upper Railroads, as follows:

UP TRAINS.

Leave	M.	P. M.	P. M
Portsmouth	7.55	1 00	7 15
Greenland	8 03	1 09	7 24
Newmarket Junction	8 23	1 21	7 50
East Epping		1 31
Epping	8 43	1 37	8 10
West Epping	8 49		8 17
Raymond	9 00	1 53	8 36
Candia	9 13	2 05	8 46
Auburn	9 22		8 57
Massabesic	9 30	2 20	7 08
Arrive Manchester	9 42	2 30	7 22
" Concord	10 30	3 12	8 34

DOWN TRAINS.

Leave	A. M.	A. M.	P. M
Concord	7 30	10 40	4 35
Manchester	8 15	11 15	5 23
Massabesic	8 27	11 25	5 36
Auburn	8 35		5 44
Candia	8 44	11 46	5 54
Raymond	9 05	11 58	6 13
West Epping	9 18	P. M.	6 26
Epping	9 30	12 08	6 37
East Epping		12 14
Newmarket Junction	9 46	12 24	6 48
Greenland	10 01	12 36	6 59
Arrive Portsmouth	10 10	12 45	7 10

☞ Trains connect at Newmarket Junction with trains of the Boston & Maine Railroad for Exeter, Haverhill, Lawrence and Boston; and for Dover, Great Falls and Portland, at Concord with trains to and from all the upper Railroads.

H. E. CHAMBERLIN, Supt.

TRAVELLER'S GUIDE.

TRAINS LEAVE

Portsmouth for Boston, 4.05, 7.25, 8.20, 11.05 a. m., 2.55, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4.00 p. m.

Boston for Portsmouth, 7.30, 9.00, 10.00 a. m., 12.30, 3.30, 4.40, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.20 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

Portsmouth for Portland, 9.55, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m.

Portland for Portsmouth, 7.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.00, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 7.00 a. m.

Portsmouth for Dover, 4.05, 9.45 a. m., 12.35, 2.35, 5.22 p. m.

Dover for Portsmouth, 6.55, 10.20 a. m., 1.55, 4.30, 6.10 p. m.

Portsmouth for York Beach, 8.30, 11.10 a. m. 3.35 p. m.

York Beach for Portsmouth, 6.40, 10 00 a. m., 1.40 p. m.

Portsmouth for Concord, 7.55 a. m., 1.00, 5.15 p. m.

Concord for Portsmouth, 7.30, 10 20 a. m., 2.35 p. m.

Portsmouth for Manchester, 7.55 a. m., 1.00, 5.15 p. m.

Manchester for Portsmouth, 8.15, 11.55 a. m., 4.25 p. m.

TRAINS ARRIVE

In Boston from Portsmouth, 6.20, 9.10, 10.25 a. m., 1.15, 4.45, 7.10, 9.30 p. m. Sundays, 6.20 a. m., 6.36 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Boston, 9.45, 10.45 a. m., 12.20, 2.35, 5.00, 6.45, 8.37 p. m. Sundays, 10.40 a. m., 8.37 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Portsmouth, 12.00 m., 12.35, 5.40, 11.00 p. m. Sundays, 11.00 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Portland, 3.55, 10.44 a. m., 5.40, 7.15 p. m. Sundays, 3.55 a. m.

In Dover from Portsmouth, 5.40, 10.10 a. m., 1.50, 3.03, 5.47 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Dover, 7.20, 10.44 a. m., 1.20, 4.55, 7.15 p. m.

In Concord from Portsmouth, 10.30 a. m., 3.12, 7.25 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Concord, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 5.10 p. m.

In Manchester from Portsmouth, 9.42 a. m., 2.30, 6.20 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Manchester, 10.10 a. m., 2.45, 6.10 p. m.

KITTERY AND PORTSMOUTH.

STEAMER MYSTIC.

Leave Bartlett's wharf, Kittery, 6.35, 7.50, 8.45, 10.30, 11.45 a. m., 2.00, 3.15, 4.45, 6.00 p. m. Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 6.30, Saturday evening, 6.30, 8.00.

Leave Broughton's wharf, foot Daniel street, Portsmouth, 7.30, 8.00, 9.20, 11.00 a. m., 12.45, 3.00, 4.00, 5.15, 6.15 p. m., Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7.30, Saturday evenings, 7.30, 9.00.

☞ Fare five cents each way.

A FAIR SAMPLE OF
40 SWORN CASES
OF THE VALUE OF

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND

THE RADICAL BLOOD PURIFIER.

DIPHTHERIA. SCROFULA.

Miss Lena Judkins, a daughter (17 years old) of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Judkins, 677 Boston St., Lynn, CURED by Dr. Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of very severe cases of Scrofula, with Malignant Ulcers of eight years' standing, all Physicians had failed. Almost a miracle. Now perfect health. Sworn to before HARMON HALL, Justice of the Peace.

SCROFULOUS HUMOR.

Mary Etta Leighton, a daughter (16 yrs. old) of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison G. Leighton, 16 Bickford St., Lynn, CURED by Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of a large seated Scrofulous Humor with varying eruptions, which had baffled eight physicians, the combined forces of two prominent families. Perfectly cured and without a blemish. Sworn to before ALVIN B. TUTTLE, Justice of the Peace.

for circular of 40 Sworn cases. They are solid facts and carry conviction.

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND.

Absolutely the greatest known Remedy for Radical cure of Scrofula, Cancerous Humor, Diphtheritic or Mineral Blood-Poison, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Dropsy and Liver Complaint.

Large Bottle (6 for $5). At Druggists.

Dr. Lougee Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

ADVERTISING PAPER in the City of Philadelphia may be found at the Newspaper Advertising Agency of Messrs. N. W. AYER & SON, our authorized agents.

KINDERGARTENS.

Professor Adler Explains the Froebelian Method—Interesting Work.

There are so many mothers who do not really know what the method of the kindergarten is that I shall quote Professor Felix Adler, an acknowledged authority on the subject, whose explanation should serve to convince them of the desirability, even the necessity, of this training for children.

"What is the system of the kindergarten?" I asked.

"It is a means of developing children through three different channels. First, knowledge; second, duty; third, social life—and all in the form of play. There is a serious meaning underlying the games. Knowledge is given in the following manner: Through blocks and squares and tablets the children are taught to recognize all the different geometrical forms. They soon know the shape of a rectangle and sphere and so forth. They never have any exercises in counting, but are incidentally taught to count. Excellent training in the color sense is given by matching colors in their weaving lessons and by the use of the color chart. In all their occupations special attention is given to educating their taste for the beautiful.

"Of special importance to children is the influence upon them of social life. Froebel, the founder of the kindergarten, recognized the fact that association is a powerful instrument toward shaping the character of children. The children are taught at an early age to observe politeness to each other. The kindergartners themselves are especially trained to avoid all harshness. Even the most selfish are conquered by gentle means. An atmosphere of refinement pervades the whole kindergarten. Special importance attaches to games. By means of games children are taught kindness to animals. They represent different animals themselves. They are also taught to respect the different trades. The scissors grinder is one of the heroes of kindergartens. The song of the shoemaker never fails to awake the joyfulest echoes. But especially the love of the children toward their parents is developed. Songs about mother's love and father's kindness are great favorites, and their theme is harped upon in endless variations.

As to the free kindergartens, they are especially helpful to the poor. Children of the well to do are cared for, if not by their mothers at least by their nurses, but children of the tenement house poor are too often left to play in the hallways or on filthy streets, where they are exposed to the worst examples. The kindergarten system means really organized play. The good it does, considered in the negative form, is in keeping children out of mischief and from being a drag upon their mothers.

To the question as to what first gave him the idea of establishing free kindergartens, Professor Adler answered:

"My interest in seeing the elevation of the working people. It was a plan of new education as a means to that end."

"Have free kindergartens been established in other cities?"

"When I was in San Francisco, several years ago," replied the professor, "I delivered an address on the subject of the free kindergarten, and the idea was taken up very quickly. One was established almost immediately, and since then others have been started. In Rochester a short time ago I also talked on the same subject, and five free kindergartens have been opened there."

"Do you find any difficulty in obtaining the support you need to carry on the schools?"

"No," answered Professor Adler, "although it takes about $20,000 a year."

One might happen to meet Professor Adler in that large, bright room in Cherry street, where the children assemble every day, for it is through his endeavors that the class has been formed, and he looks in there sometimes to see how the work is progressing. That the children came there last year for the first time one may learn from Miss Gordon, the young lady who, with a pleasant smile, starts them in at their morning work. But during a few minutes' stay in the room it will be discovered that those of the children who are 5 and 6 years old have received more than a few mornings' lessons in the little work they are already engaged upon. Small boxes about three inches square have been given them, and before being allowed to open them they have been placed in symmetrical positions on the table. One thing after another is talked about—the shape of the boxes, how many corners they have, and so on, and then, following the direction of the teacher, they are opened, the blocks which they contain are taken out and placed in different positions on the table, till finally thirty minutes have passed and they are gathered up and put away.

"We change the occupation every half hour," said Miss Gordon, "for that is as long as the children can be interested in a thing. We are in session from 9 to 12. In addition to these hours afternoon classes have just been started for the same children. It was found that the morning classes relieved the mothers very much, but not enough, so two hours in the afternoon are to be occupied in what is called a 'play school.' The kindergarten games will take up the time."

Turning to the children, Miss Gordon said: "Several nationalities are represented here. There are Polish Jews, Germans and Irish. We expect the classes will increase. We can accommodate sixty or seventy children. I have two assistants besides the help of two other young ladies, who will come for the purpose of gaining experience as kindergarteners."—New York Press.

The Salvation Army's Decline.

The decline of the Salvation Army in New York is shown by the fact that there are now only six barracks in New York and Brooklyn, and none of which are flourishing. A few years ago there were thirteen barracks, all prospering.—Frank Leslie's.

The Mother in China.

In motherhood alone does the Chinese woman find protection and honor. Yet even here Chinese customs and laws are peculiar, and even grotesque. A mother can claim absolute obedience from her children, even when they are gray headed and themselves fathers of families, but she is still only a servant and a drudge to her husband. In the event of her death, her sons must, by Chinese law, wear mourning, and go about with unshaven heads for a hundred days; but her husband would render himself an object of ridicule among his friends if he put on mourning for her.—Chester Holcombe in Youth's Companion.

—Political orator (furiously)—"Now, fellow-citizens, if this man is elected what will be the result?" A voice—"His opponent will be defeated."

"I'm something of a liar myself, but you take the cake," can never be said to the man who is extolling the merits of Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam. It is a wonderful remedy, and the man who praises it knows what he is talking about. Every druggist sells it.

—Children shrink from being washed. The same may be said of socks.

Be Your Own Doctor.

It won't cost you half as much. Do not delay. Send three 2-cent stamps for postage, and we will send you Dr. Kaufmann's great work, fine colored plates from life, on disease, its causes, and home cure. Address P. P. Ordway, & Co., Boston, Mass.

—The average pullet takes her eggs in the spring.

Hundreds of letters from those using Hall's Hair Vigor attest its value as a restorer of gray hair to its natural color. As a stimulant and tonic, preventing and curing baldness, and cleansing the scalp, its use cannot be too strongly recommended.

—"Physician, heal thyself!" is an injuction promulgated centuries ago, and now some of the older practitioners are pretty well heeled.

Trial proves that honesty is the best policy in medicine as well as in other things. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a genuine preparation, an unequalled blood purifier, decidedly superior to all others.

—The sparrow who has lost her mate takes a sort of bird-sigh view of the world.

She Blushed

Awfully when I told her what to do for those horrid pimples, with which her face was covered. She now says if you want a pink and white complexion with a clear, smooth skin, you must use that best of all blood purifiers, Sulphur Bitters.

—Nature is a great deal like the manipulators of the stock market. She has her regular times of trying to freeze out everybody.

Avoid the harsh, irritating, griping compounds so often sold as purgative medicines, and correct the irregularities of the bowels by the use of Ayer's Cathartic Pills, which are gentle, yet searching, in their action.

To-Night and To-Morrow Night,

And each day and night during this week you can get at all druggists Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, acknowledged to be the most successful remedy ever sold for the cure of Coughs, Croup, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption. Get a bottle to-day and keep it always in the house, so you can check your cold at once. Price 50c and $1.00. Sample bottles free.

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds, does it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give away samples to all persons who call for them, who are in need of such a remedy, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles at 50c and $1.00. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all Throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail, by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. A. Noyes, 149 Power's Block, Rochester, N. Y. decwjlans9

Eczema, Itchy, Scaly, Skin Tortures.

The simple application of "SWAYNE'S OINTMENT," without internal medicine, will cure any case of Tetter, Salt Rheum, Ringworm, Piles, Itch, Sores, Pimples, Eczema, Red, Scaly, Itchy Skin Eruptions, no matter how obstinate or long standing. It is potent, effective, and costs but a trifle. 6jlen9

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

Some are born great, some think they are great, and others thrust greatness upon them. Lives

A SCIENTIST'S WARNING.

Extracts From a Remarkable Lecture Delivered by Dr. R. E. Hammond, Before the National Scientist's Convention.

"We are startled constantly by the sudden death of some man who seemed the picture of health. He thought he was well. He had felt strange pains shooting through his body, but as they did not remain, he forgot them. His head pained him periodically, he was somewhat paler than common and unaccountably tired, but he felt comparatively well and vigorous. And yet, he suddenly died! Its a shame to our boasted civilization."

"Look at the list of women who die in childbirth, and why is it? Simply because their maternal organs have been so weakened by the most terrible of diseases that they cannot withstand the fearful, sudden strain that is brought to bear upon them. How many women seem a monthly agonies? And yet nature never intended that pain or inconvenience should attend the operation of her natural laws. The solemn and fearful fact is, that pain and women drag along, die, and are buried, and their friends and the doctors say heart disease, apoplexy, pneumonia, congestion, convulsions, when the cause lay far back of all these things. The truth is that weakened kidneys are the cause of most of our troubles. The great question, therefore, is 'How shall I preserve my kidneys, or, if diseased, how can they be restored?' I have seen numbers of cases and learned from unquestionable sources of many others, where the preparation, Hunt's Remedy, has been almost remarkable in its results. I use it freely among my patients, and shall continue to do so. It is a wonderful and invaluable remedy."

The remarks of the learned doctor should be carefully considered, and acted upon by all who desire long life, and freedom from pain and the danger of sudden death.

THE JOB PRINTING

Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD I. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line. Give him a trial and you will be more than pleased.

I doubt if many Americans ever go to the dog orphanage at Battersea. We went there to buy a dog for a little black haired maiden who in lieu of her Buffalo cousins was promised a poodle as a winter playmate. The institution is endowed, and has a long list of subscribers, headed by her majesty the queen. To it are sent all the stray dogs and cats picked up by the London policemen. Do not suppose, as I did, however, that it is a sort of canine home where orphan or friendless dogs are petted and coddled to a green old age. It is really a pound. For if the luckless dog is not claimed within a given period he is sold or killed. All the curs are packed into a car and go sliding off together into eternity. That is, they find themselves in an air tight chamber which this car exactly fits. As it is charged with noxious gas, the dog, in the euphuistic language of one of the keepers—whose face was scarcely above that of the brute creation around him—"goes to sleep," by which he meant to imply that the death is instantaneous and painless.

The sounds that smote upon our ears as we entered the pound were like those of an orchestra tuning up behind the scenes. All the human instinct there is in the dog is developed when he is thrown on the charity of Battersea, for he stands on his hind legs behind his prison bars, wags his head, paws the air and asks your sympathy in the most melting tones. If you pet one dog in the kennel the whole pack are instantly upon you, brushing their noses against your glove, and if you throw in a morsel of food, they fight like tigers for it. When a kennel becomes too uproarious the keeper quiets it with one lash of the whip. The most touching sight of all is to see the poor little orphaned poodles or pugs—used to the softest cushions and daintiest food—shut up alone in the cold, comfortless pen of Battersea or with a half dozen companions, all equally homesick. Their dejected, limp and seemingly lifeless forms reminded me of nothing so much as myself the day I recrossed the British channel and sang my sorrows to the sea.—Cor. Buffalo Courier.

Work of Insect Undertakers.

Nearly every one is familiar with the burying beetle, and many have, perhaps, watched its operations. Noticing that dead moles and other small animals laid on the loose ground soon disappeared, Professor Gleditsch concluded to investigate the cause. Accordingly, he placed a mole in the garden, and on the morning of the third day found it buried some three inches below the surface. Though wondering why this service was performed for the dead mole, yet, as he saw only four beetles under the carcass, he reburied it and in six days found it overrun with maggots. It was not until then that the thought struck him that these maggots were the offspring of the beetles he had seen, and that they performed the burial rites in order to provide a place to deposit their eggs, where the newly hatched young might have food for their nourishment.

Continuing his observations, Mr. Gleditsch placed four of these beetles under a glass case, with two dead frogs. One pair buried the first frog in twelve hours, and on the third day the second one was similarly disposed of. The professor then gave them a dead linnet, and a pair of the beetles set to work to bury it. They pushed out the dirt from beneath the body; then the male drove the female away and worked alone for about five hours, turning the linnet around in a more convenient position, and occasionally mounting the body to tread it down. After resting for an hour it proceeded as before, alternately excavating and pulling the bird from below, and then treading it down from above. It was buried by the end of the third day. In fifty days the four beetles had buried four frogs, three small birds, two fishes, one mole, two grasshoppers, the entrails of a fish and two morsels of the lungs of an ox.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

New York city has 427 miles of street sewers.

The Glory of St. Petersburg.

The Neva is the glory of St Petersburg. It is the soul of the city, the cause of its being and the secret of its greatness. Every one knows that St. Petersburg stands on the Neva. But no one who has not lived in the city can imagine what the Neva is to St. Petersburg. Even the Russians themselves do scant justice to their magnificent river. What the Adriatic is to Venice, that the Neva is to St. Petersburg. The city is as if built on the river, and seems almost to float on the water.

One-third of St. Petersburg is built upon the islands which lie in the bed of the Neva, and which are united with the mainland by several bridges, opened for an hour or two in the early morning for the passage of ships. Ocean going steamers can therefore steam through the heart of St. Petersburg, and the sight of these great ships, anchored opposite the palaces on the Quai de la Cour, is almost like that of the funnels of the steamers amid the foliage of the trees that line the canals at Rotterdam. Many of the most fashionable houses are built along the canals, and the views of the Fontanka from the bridge between the Anitchkoff palace and that of the Grand Duke Serge is one of the most beautiful city scenes I have ever beheld—W. T. Stead in Contemporary Review.

Experiences of the Druggist.

I suppose there is no one, not even a physician, who holds life so peculiarly in his hands as a druggist. There is no prescription brought us that has not a life hanging in the balance—by our mistake or correct filling. Errors by drug clerks are not common, and if one is made it is heralded throughout the country. But people are exceedingly nervous, nevertheless, especially ladies. They send a prescription we have filled sometimes three or four times to us to know if we are "sure it is all right." We have repeatedly to assure them, but often they refuse to take the doses. They imagine the coloring is not just so, or the paste is a trifle different from the last. They are difficult to satisfy.

With men patrons, unless with more serious cases, it is only a question of cigars or quinine. They drop in and take quinine in all imaginable quantities from two grains to fourteen, either in capsules or soda. What customer do we like best to see? Why, the girl who has the craze for toilet articles. She spends more money than a dozen hypochondriacs or genuine sick people. Yes, for financial results give us the dainty girl.—Druggist in Globe-Democrat.

COMPARATIVE TEST OF PURE CREAM OF TARTAR POWDERS.

ROYAL (Cream of Tartar Pure)
GRANT'S (Alum Powder) *
RUMFORD'S, when fresh
HANFORD'S, when fresh
REDHEAD'S
CHARM (Alum Powder) *
AMAZON (Alum Powder) *
CLEVELAND'S (short wt. 1 oz.)
PIONEER (San Francisco)
CZAR
DR. PRICE'S
SNOW FLAKE (Groff's)
LEWIS'
PEARL (Andrews & Co.)
HECKER'S
GILLET'S
ANDREWS & CO. "Regal" (Hiwalton, contains Alum)
BULK (Powder sold loose)
RUMFORD'S, when not fresh

REPORTS OF GOVERNMENT CHEMISTS

As to Purity and Wholesomeness of the Royal Baking Powder.

"I have tested a package of Royal Baking Powder, which I purchased in the open market, and find it compared of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder of a high degree of merit, and does not contain either alum or phosphates, or other injurious substances. E. G. Love, Ph.D."

"It is a scientific fact that the Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure. "H. A. Mott, Ph.D."

"I have examined a package of Royal Baking Powder, purchased by myself in the market. I find it entirely free from alum, terra alba, or any other injurious substance. Henry Morton, Ph.D., President of Stevens Institute of Technology."

"I have analyzed a package of Royal Baking Powder. The materials of which it is composed are pure and wholesome. S. Dana Hayes, State Assayer, Mass."

The Royal Baking Powder received the highest award over all competitors at the Vienna World's Exposition, 1873; at the Centennial, Philadelphia, 1876; at the American Institute, New York, and at State Fairs throughout the country.

No other article of human food has ever received such high, emphatic, and universal endorsement from eminent chemists, physicians, scientists, and Boards of Health all over the world.

Note—The above Diagram illustrates the comparative worth of various Baking Powders, as shown by Chemical Analysis and experiments made by Prof. Schedler. A pound can of each powder was taken, the total leavening power or volume in each can calculated, the result being as indicated. This practical test for worth by Prof. Schedler only proves what every observant consumer of the Royal Baking Powder knows by practical experience, that, while it costs a few cents per pound more than ordinary kinds, it is far more economical, and, besides, affords the advantage of better work. A single trial of the Royal Baking Powder will convince any fair-minded person of these facts.

* While the diagram shows some of the alum powders to be of a higher degree of strength than other powders ranked below them, it is not to be taken as indicating that they have any value. All alum powders, no matter how high their strength, are to be avoided as dangerous.

MAKE HENS LAY

NOTHING ON EARTH WILL MAKE HENS LAY LIKE SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER.

WE SEND BY MAIL A LARGE 2½ POUND CAN FOR $1.20, TWO SMALL PACKS 50 CTS POST PAID.

Sheridan's Condition Powder

is absolutely pure and highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other kind. Strictly a medicine, to be given in the food, once daily, in small doses. Prevents and cures all diseases of hens. Worth its weight in gold when hens are moulting, and to keep them healthy. Testimonials sent free by mail. Ask your druggist, grocer, general store, or feed dealer for it. If you can't get it, send once to us. Take no other kind. We will send postpaid by mail as follows: A new, elegantly illustrated copy of the "FARMERS' POULTRY RAISING GUIDE" (price 25 cts.) telling how to make money with a few hens, and two small packages of Powder for 60 cents, or one large 1 pound can and Guide, $1.20. Sample package of Powder, 25 cents, five for $1.00. Agents wanted. Sent prepaid, for $5.00. Send stamps or cash. L. S. JOHNSON & CO., 22 Custom-House Street, Boston, Mass.

My Poor Back!

That "poor back" is held responsible for more than its share of the sufferings of mankind. If your dog bites a man who kicks it, do you blame the dog? On the same principle the kidneys utter their protest against nervousness, impure blood, and resulting constipation. These force them to do extraordinary work in ridding the system of the poisons which are the result of effete matter retained in the blood. Then the sufferer says the back aches; the kidneys are diseased. "Not yet;" but they will be unless the nerves are strengthened, the blood purified, and the constipation removed. These are the causes of kidney troubles, and Paine's Celery Compound removes them quickly. With its tonic, purifying, and laxative effect, it also strengthens the weak kidneys, making it almost infallible in curing all diseases of the nerves and kidneys. If your hopes of cure have not been realized, try Paine's Celery Compound; it gives perfect health to all who complain of "their poor backs." Price $1.00.

Sold by Druggists. Send for Illustrated Paper.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Proprietors,
BURLINGTON, VERMONT.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Best and Purest Medicine EVER MADE.

SULPHUR BITTERS. Why suffer with Boils, Blotches, Pimples and Eruptions? Why pay out your money for Quack Nostrums? Why be racked with Rheumatism? Why have Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Nervous Headache? Why be bilious? Why let your blood become impure, thick and sluggish? Why let your system become clogged up with poisonous matter? Why let your skin become covered with Blotches, Pimples, Boils, Tetter, Ringworm, Scurvy, Itch, Scaldhead, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Erysipelas? Why let your Kidneys become deranged? Why let your Liver become torpid? Why let your Blood become impure? Why let your Nerves become shattered? Why let your Stomach become foul? Why let your Bowels become costive? Why let your Blood become poisoned? Why let your Constitution become broken down? Why let your Spirits become depressed? Why let your Appetite become impaired? Why let your Nerves become deranged? Why let your Sleep become disturbed? Why let your Vitality become exhausted? Why let your Life become a burden? Why let your Health become impaired? Why let your Strength become prostrated? Why let your Blood become thick, sluggish, impure? Why let your Liver become torpid? Why let your Kidneys become deranged

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

POST OFFICE RULES.

MAILS CLOSE

	A. M.		P. M.
Boston, N. Y., south, west,	8:00	10:20	2:20	4:30 6:45
Boston and way stations,		10:20	2:20	6:45
Portland,	9:25		4:30
Portland and way stations,	9:25		4:30
East (beyond Portland)	9:25			6:45
Great Falls, Rochester,	9:25			4:30
Wolfeboro' Union Milton,
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,	9:25
Concord & Manchester,	7:40	10:20		4:30
Concord, Manchester and north,	7:40		4:30
Exeter and B. & M. way, west of Newmarket,	7:40		4:30
Dover,	9:25		2:20	4:30 6:45
North Conway,	9:25			6:45
York and Cape Neddick,		9:25
Newcastle,		10:20
Newington,		10:20
Boston, N. Y. and south, Sunday,				1:00

MAILS ARRIVE.

	A. M.		P. M.
Boston, south and west,	10:25	3:10	5:40	7:00 9:00
New York,	10:25		5:40	7:00
Boston and way stations,	10:25		5:40
Portland and east,	7:30	11:00	3:00
Great Falls, Rochester, Union, Milton,	9:30	11:00
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,		11:00
Concord, Manchester and north,		10:20	6:20
Dover,	7:30	10:20	3:00	5:40
Newcastle,		9:20
Newington,		9:20
York and Cape Neddick,		11:30
B. & M. R. R., west of Newmarket,		10:20	6:20

S. J. GERRISH, P. M.

PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Opens Monday, Tuesday, Friday and Saturday evenings from 7:30 to 9:00 P. M., and Wednesday and Saturday afternoons from 2:00 to 5:00 o'clock

Weather Indications.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

Threatening weather and snow, dangerous northerly winds, stationary temperature. Cautionaay signals all along the Atlantic coast.

MINATURE ALMANAC NOV. 26.

SUN RISES	6:47	MOON RISES	9:26 P. M
SUN SETS	4:15	HIGH SEA	2:45 A. M / 3 P. M
LENGTH OF DAY	9:28

PALMER'S ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE.

In our issue of last Saturday morning we announced that Palmer, the condemned murderer, had been making things lively at the jail the night previous, and since that time all sorts of rumors have been afloat.

A charge of secrecy seems to have been imposed upon all persons connected with the jail, or exercising any legal authority over the prisoner, and they are consequently very reticent over the matter, and it is extremely difficult to get at the true state of affairs.

Early Saturday morning rumors were current that Palmer had made an attempt on his own life. They spread over the city rapidly, and caused great excitement wherever discussed. No official could be found who would venture any information, but everybody appeared satisfied that something had occurred at the jail, which gave a semblance of truth to the fast flying reports.

A call was made at the jail soon after noon, and inquiry made after Palmer's health. The reply was that he was pretty well, and was playing cards but a short time before. Two deputy sheriffs who were seen there, and who were supposed to be guarding Palmer, did not appear to exhibit any particular anxiety regarding him.

Sheriff Coffin, who was reported to be in Dover, was seen hardly an hour later, and there was nothing about him to indicate any serious trouble on his mind regarding Palmer's condition, and he failed to drop a word giving any light on the subject.

The most we can gather is that about nine or ten o'clock Friday night, Palmer made an attempt at suicide by thrusting or pounding some sort of a knife into his breast in the region of the heart. Dr. Potter was at once called and examined the wounds, which were found not to be fatal, the knife failing to reach its mark, and it was evident that with proper care and attention, and a thorough vigilance to prevent a repetition of the attempt, that Palmer would mend quickly, and soon be in condition to join his escort on the journey to the State prison, where the chances are entirely against him, should he still desire to cheat the gallows.

He will, we are informed, be taken to Concord this (Monday) morning, unless unlooked for complications arise to prevent. It is denied that his condition is as dangerous as has been stated, but on the contrary that there is every probability of his recovery.

Rumors were flying about the city yesterday that he was dying, but these were found upon investigation to be untrue.

NOT WHITEHOUSE'S WATCH.

The watch seen at the bottom of the north mill pond last Friday, and conjectured to be the one stolen from young Whitehouse at the time of his murder, was brought to the surface on Saturday by two young men with a dip net, and handed to the police. It is a hunting-case watch, and apparently a cheap affair, whereas Whitehouse's watch is said to have been a nice one, and open faced. It was possibly thrown into the pond by some pickpocket who stole it from its legitimate owner, and then found it not worth retaining possession of.

THE HORSE KNEW WHAT HE WANTED.

One afternoon last week a young man left a team standing in front of Fay's store on Congress street, blanketing but not fastening the horse. The afternoon was blustering and chilly, and the animal, taking a notion to find a warmer locality, walked into High street and collided with a post. He was put into Dr. Fay's stable and remained there until evening, when he was delivered up to the drive, who meantime had been to the police authorities, who had, in turn, wired the surrounding towns to look out for a stolen horse. The horse had succeeded in finding a warm place.

POLICE COURT—BATCHELDER J.

SATURDAY, Nov. 24th.

Atwood Gammon, charged with selling spirituous liquor to William T. Moles, (case continued from the 22d,) was dismissed.

Charles Woods, Frank Woods and Charles Clark, three boys, were charged with throwing stones in South street at the house of Langdon M. Perkins, and breaking glass. Clark was found not guilty, and dismissed; the Woods boys were found guilty, and let off on probation on payment of costs.

SOCIETY ITEMS AND PERSONAL NOTES.

—The marriage of Mr. William Lee of the publishing house of Messrs Lee & Shepard and Mrs. S. L. White-Saunders of New York takes place tomorrow at the Berkeley. Rev. L. T. Townsend, D. D., is to perform the ceremony. The affair will be very quietly conducted, owing to the serious illness of Mr. Shepard in the same house. Mrs. White-Saunders is prominent in the best literary circles in New York, and is a young and very attractive woman. They will live at the Brunswick for the winter.

The above is taken from the Boston Globe's Table Gossip of Sunday last. Mr. Lee, and his daughter Miss Alice Lee, have many friends in Portsmouth, all of whom join in extending hearty congratulations in the happy event which occurs today.

—Another wedding of interest to New Hampshire people, is announced to take place at the church of the Redeemer, Hartford, Conn., on Dec. 5th, the contracting parties being Miss Mary, daughter of Mrs. Helen M. Pendleton of Hartford, and Hon. James W. Remick of Littleton, a prominent member of the New Hampshire bar.

—Mrs. William C. Ham is in this city and will pass the Thanksgiving holidays at the residence of her father, Mr. Theodore H. Deverson, No. 12 Newcastle avenue. Her husband, ever and popularly known as "Billy," will join her on Wednesday and remain in Portsmouth until the 3d proximo.

—Mr. Appleton Tredick, who was called home by the death of his father, the late Thomas Tredick, returns to his western home this morning. He holds a responsible position with the Amazeen Vinegar & Pickle company of Davenport, Iowa, and resides in that city. He is very enthusiastic over Davenport, and says it is certain to become one of the leading cities of the great west in a few years. While in this city he has called on his old friends, who were glad to welcome him, though regretting the occasion which demanded his presence.

—Sheriff William K. Norton of Concord passed Saturday in this city, the guest of Sheriff Coffin.

Mrs. Moore, wife of Congressman-elect Moore of Nashua, passed a few hours in Portsmouth on Friday last, on her return home from Hampton, where she inspected the Woman's Relief Corps the evening previous.

—Mr. E. Scott Owen and wife left town Saturday, on a visit to Vermont.

—Capt. B. F. Jacobs, late master of the ship Grandee, has arrived at his home on Middle street from New York, where he has been in the hospital since his arrival in that port from Hong Kong. Capt. Jacobs is in better health than when he landed, though still by no means so robust as his friends would be pleased to see him.

The cold, dry snow of Sunday was not particularly pleasant to be out in, as it was whirled along the streets and around corners by a howling northerly gale, but it was very agreeable in comparison with the blinding clouds of dust, gravel and small rocks which filled the air from daylight until the snow commenced to fall. No dust-storm for a year previous was so disagreeable as that of Sunday morning.

The governor's proclamation appointing Thursday, Nov. 29th, as a day of Thanksgiving and Praise, was read in the several churches on Sunday morning to very small congregations, the cold, high wind and driving snowstorm being sufficient to overcome the devotional inclinations of most people. Evening services were not attempted to be held.

Several hundred boys enjoyed the excellent skating on the north millpond Saturday. Lucky they did; the storm of Sunday spoiled it.

The first ball in the new town hall at Hampton will be given on Thanksgiving night. The Music hall orchestra of this city will furnish music for the occasion.

Stephen W. Paul, one of the oldest residents of Newington, died suddenly at his home on the night of Wednesday, Nov. 21st, and was buried on Sunday.

The ladies of the Unitarian society had a very successful supper and sale of fancy articles at the South Parish chapel on Court street last Thursday evening.

The Bennett & Moulton Opera Co. will open for a week at Music hall on Monday evening, Dec. 3d.

Eben F. Doibier of Charleston, Mass., was before the court in Newburyport on Saturday last to answer to a charge of enticing away Gertrude Blake, the young girl who was recently arrested in this city, where she had been abandoned, and sent home. Doibier waived examination and his bail was increased from $3,000 to [illegible] bonds.

Fifteen or twenty [illegible] from Phillips academy, Exeter, came to this city Saturday evening to attend the minstrel show in Music hall. Half of them got here all right, but the rest, who were in another conveyance, turned to the right at Greenland parade, and though they had a nice drive down through Rye did not arrive here until eleven o'clock, after the show was out. They then went in for a good time, however, and apparently managed to have it.

Winter seems to have arrived, butt end foremost; reached here Sunday afternoon.

Flocks of wild geese were flying southward on Saturday, a sure sign of an early winter. They left just in time to escape the big snow storm of yesterday.

The Rogers Mission circle of the Congregational church will have a Thanksgiving evening with music and reading at the chapel on Middle street this (Monday) evening; admission ten cents. Supper of oysters, with cake, ice-cream and coffee, will be served during the evening, after half-past six.

Mr. Charles Roberts of Ashland street, Boston, who died last week and was interred on Saturday, was well known in this city; his wife was a Newcastle lady.

The New York Graphic, speaking of "Nancy & Co.," which is to be played in Music hall next Wednesday evening, says "Every situation and almost every line is provocative of laughter."

Union services on Thanksgiving day will be held in the Pearl street Free Baptist church at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, and a cordial invitation to attend is extended to everyone. The ministers of the various churches will be present; sermon by Rev. J. S. Harrington, pastor of the Pearl street church.

Parties from Haverhill, Mass., have hired B. F. Russell's wharf, formerly the Railway wharf, and will go into the wood and coal business there.

One Fact

Is worth a column of rhetoric, said an American statesman. It is a fact, established by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from impure state or low condition of the blood. It also overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

The Christmas Harper's will contain poems by E. C. Stedman and T. B. Aldrich.

As a purifier, Ayer's Sarsaparilla acts directly and promptly. A single bottle will prove its merits. Many thousands of people are yearly saved from dangerous fevers by the exercise of a little timely care in cleansing the system by the use of this remedy.

Franklin Hoyt, who was taken to the insane asylum at Brentwood from this city several weeks ago, has had a paralytic shock.

A "square meal, three times a day," is your privilege if you judiciously use Laxador, whenever your digestive organs need a toning up.

Nothing better than Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup can be used for the diseases of babyhood. Price only 25 cents. Sold by all druggists.

Mrs. Thomas Rutter of Stark street, mother of James Palmer, is reported to be suffering from cancer, and is not likely to live very much longer.

Happy and Hungry.

For over five years I was a constant sufferer with that most terrible and annoying disease, dyspepsia. After paying out hundreds of dollars, the only medicine I found that would do me any good was Sulphur Bitters. Six bottles cured me. Now I can eat will and am happy and hungry.—Editor.

Larookah Syrup at Globe Grocery Co.

MARRIED.

HALL—DAVIDSON. In Newcastle, Nov. 17th, by Rev. J. H. Mugridge, John E. S. Hall and Miss Fannie L. Davidson, both of Farmington.

DIED.

PAUL. In Newington, Nov. 21st, Stephen W. Paul, aged 82 years.

MARINE CHRONICLE.

PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

SAILED Nov. 23d.

Sch Lizzie Guptill, Pinkham, Rockland.
Sch Ruth Darling, Lowell, New York.

SAILED Nov. 24th.

Sch Seventy Six, Rivers, New York.

Sch Lizzie C Rich, Rich, from Bangor arr at Quincy, Mass, 23d.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Sold only in cans, full weight.

CLEVELAND BROTHERS, ALBANY, N. Y.

The October term of the supreme court for the county of Rockingham came to an end on Friday evening, Nov. 23d.

The best and freshest of Thanksgiving supplies, such as Jordan Shelled Almonds, Naples Walnuts, Shellbarks, etc., Table and Cooking Raisins, Glace Fruits, Malaga Grapes, Figs, Washed Currants, Citron, New Cider, Fine Wines, etc., are to be had of John Laighton, No. 1 Market Square.

Thacher, Primrose & West's minstrels made a fine street show during their parade at noon on Saturday, and in the evening gave a first-class variety entertainment to a large audience.

Zion's Herald, the leading Methodist newspaper of America, in its issue of Nov. 21st says: "It is proposed to celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of the death of Charles Wesley on the second Sunday in December, by singing in all Protestant churches some of his well known hyms, and having sermons or addresses on 'Christian song.'"

E. Newton & Co. and Edw. Jameson, on Commercial wharf, Randall & Caswell at the wharf they have so many years occupied, and Robinson & Woodbury at Union wharf, are now all ready for the purchase and shipment of fresh fish during the winter.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity trength and wholesomeness. More economical han the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO. 106 Wall Street, New York.

Pierce & Guptill,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW.

No. 3 Market Square, Portsmouth, N. H.

☞ Special attention given to Collecting.

THACHER'S ELIXIR

CALISAYA & IRON,

The Best Tonic, Appetizer and Blood Purifier Known.

PRICE, $1.00 A BOTTLE.

Manufactured and Sold Only By

BENJAMIN GREEN,

APOTHECARY,

(Successor to J. H. Thacher,)

No. 12 Market Square

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. eo

Scissors

AND

Pocket Knives.

PRYOR & MATTHEWS,

16 Market St.

New Store. New Goods.

JOHN S. RAND,

No. 11 Market Street.

Would respectfully announce that he will resume business on

Wednesday Next, Nov. 21st,

His store having been remodelled and refitted, making it one of the most attractive and best lighted in the city. In addition to his former stock he has added a large assortment of

FALL & WINTER

Dry and Fancy Goods!

purchased with a desire to suit the wants of customers, and which will be offered at prices that cannot fail to please.

Our present space enables us to add materially to our variety, and we shall therefore keep a good assortment of which will be sold at the lowest prices. Thanking friends and the public for their former patronage we would most respectfully solicit a continuance of the same.

Ladies' Small Wares

JOHN S. RAND,

11 MARKET STREET

Help for Deserving People.

The board of associated charities aids families almost exclusively, and very material aid it is. As soon as the agent of the society starts out he makes inquiries in reliable circles as to the habits and characteristics of the people—applying about the head of the family, if one exists, about the children, how many, if any, are at work, and if they, singly and collectively, are honest and industrious, or if they would be industrious if they had the opportunity. The society naturally will want to know about the revenues of the family and of their expenses and debts, and if these answers are all right his report to the board will be a favorable one, and in a short time the necessaries of life, usually flour, meal, coal and wood in bulk, will be forthcoming. It does take time, however, to do this, and if the family were in distress and needed immediate aid there are several individual means by which they might tide over their wants temporarily.

This is one form of charity which, if it is slow, is certainly sure and substantial once it is secured. It takes care exclusively of those who have lodgings, who live in tenements somewhere in the city and receive charity in that way. These are usually very deserving people and their histories are often sad and pathetic. Those who are invariably the most deserving of charity are always the most reluctant about asking for it. Poor but proud, they will often sell every piece of furniture and household effects that sometimes have tender and pleasant recollections in order to keep the wolf from the door, and defer, if not permanently dispense with, the necessity of asking aid.—McGrath in Boston Globe.

The Values of Diamonds.

Values of diamonds never change. Like pure gold they have a fixed value. Their prices change with the dealer and his opportunity for their sale. Then again the price of diamonds is largely affected by their quality and color. A stone that shows sand cracks is rated low. A diamond, however perfect, if of a yellowish hue, is not highly priced. There are stones of a reddish tint which are very beautiful, but the pure white diamond outranks them all. The test of the white diamond is that it shall be perfectly invisible when immersed in a vial of chemically pure water, such as is collected from condensed steam. A diamond is perfectly indestructible and is seldom, if ever, lost to the world. If the owner should lose a stone another person finds it, and the quantity of gems goes on steadily increasing.—Diamond Broker in Globe-Democrat.

The Baby King of Spain.

Stories of the eccentricities of the baby king of Spain continue to amuse Europe. The continent is laughing at his latest escapade, which came near to involving his country in serious trouble. A newly appointed minister to Spain from an influential European country reached Madrid, and after a time was presented to the young potentate. The minister is bald headed, but wears a long, flowing beard. "Oh, mother!" exclaimed Alfonso when he caught sight of the diplomat, "he's combed his hair the wrong way." The relations between Spain and the minister's country are somewhat strained at present, but a settlement of the misunderstanding is hoped for.—New York World.

An Odd Dining Organization.

A very odd dining organization in Philadelphia is known as the Ishmaelites. The apartment in which the feast is held is always decorated in the oriental fashion, some of the features introduced being very luxurious and striking. During each season there is a muezzin who presides and rules the feast, and who also delivers a mock prayer and has a peculiar song. All wear turbans or fez caps, with long robes and ornaments around their necks.—Chicago Herald.

Subtle Influences at Work.

Scientists maintain, and generally succeed in proving, that the germs of an epidemic exist in the air which passes into human lungs. Will science ever be able to discover the locality and the nature of the germs that make possible such epidemics as crimes, railroad wrecks, fires and the like? It is beyond peradventure that the death dealing railroad wreck assumes an epidemic form, and that the advent of one such is almost certain to be followed by another even though the breadth of an ocean lies between the spots where derailment spreads death. So, too, is it with great fires that for fuel have human bodies, and with subterranean explosions that convert coal mines into hecatombs. They appear in epidemic form oftener than as isolated cases. There would seem to be subtle influences at work in a realm as yet unfathomed by science, and in this place of unknown influences shall human skill and science ever enter? Who knows?—Pittsburg Bulletin.

PRESTON'S TOOTH WASH

Valuable in cases of Canker, Ulcerated Gums, and Sore Throat.

PRESTON'S GLYCERINE LOTION.

The reliable preparation for Chapped Hands, Sore Lips, and all Roughness of the Skin caused by exposure to the elements.

PRESTON'S TOOTH ACHE DROPS.

A bottle should be in every household.

PRESTON'S KLENZINE

Will readily cleanse the most delicate fabric.

ANDREW P. PRESTON,

Apothecary, - - Portsmouth, N. H.

Marigold Ointment!

Remember is Warranted for External Piles, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Nettle Rash, Hives, and all Diseases of the Skin and Scalp, Old Sores, Chilblains, Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Chapped Hands, Cold Sores, Cracks in Hands and Lips, Ingrowing Nails, Inflamed Joints, and everything else for which an Ointment is required.

Call for Circular and Sample Box Free.

SOLE AGENT FOR ROCKINGHAM COUNTY

William D. Grace, - - - Apothecary.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE BEST BONDS ARE POLICIES

IN THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York

THE LARGEST, CHEAPEST AND BEST IN THE WORLD.

Assets - - over $120,000,000.

RICHARD A. MCCURDY, - PRESIDENT.

PROTECTION FOR THE AGED!

At Age of 75 $1000 will purchase an Annuity of $159.06, and other ages in proportion.

Those Desiring Reliable Insurance Should Apply to the Undersigned,

C. M. GIGNOUX, - - GENERAL AGENT,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

MUSIC HALL.

ONE NIGHT ONLY

Wednesday, Nov. 28th.

SPECIAL ENGAGEMENT!

Arthur Rehan's Co. of Comedians

IN THE COMEDY SUCCESS

NANCY & CO.!

From Daly's Theatre, New York.

An Evening of Delightful Comedy and Undelayed Merriment.

Prices, 35, 50, 75 Cents, and $1.00.

Seats on Sale Monday, Nov. 26th, at Goodrich's Book Store.

BOOK BINDING

Of Every Desciption,

DONE AT

NO. 5 CONGRESS STREET,

(OVER FAY'S STORE.)

Magazines and other Periodicals Bound in Styles to Suit Patrons; Especial Attention given to

REBINDING OLD BOOKS!

For Libraries or Individuals; in short, any work of the kind promptly attended to, and satisfaction guaranteed. ☞ Prices reasonable.

JOHN D. RANDALL.

COLD WEATHER MUSIC BOOKS.

New Music Books.

These new books are every day more in favor:

Classical Pianist, Piano Classics, Song Classics, Song Classics for Low Voices, Classic Tenor Songs, Classic Baritone and Bass Songs. Each $1.

Praise in Song (40 cts., $4.20 per doz.) is the best new Sacred Music Book for Home and Vestry singing.

Let the Children sing from Menard's Songs for Kindergartens and Primary Schools (30 cts.) or Jenk's Songs and Games for Little Ones ($2) or Children's School Songs (35 cts., $3.60 per doz.) All have very sweet child's songs.

Give your aid in getting up a rousing good evening singing Class to use Song Harmony (60 cts., $6 per doz.) Full of most interesting music, sacred and secular. Song Manual, Book 2 (50 cts., $4.80 per doz.) is also a good collection, mostly secular.

Tell the Temperance People that no better Temperance Song Book has appeared than Bells of Victory (35 cts., $3.60 per doz.)

Xmas is coming. Send for lists of Christmas Cantatas and Carols.

ANY BOOK MAILED FOR RETAIL PRICE.

Oliver Ditson & Co., Boston.

J. L.

Thanksgiving, '88.

500 lbs. Layer Figs.
2,000 lbs. Malaga Grapes.
100 boxes Fancy New Raisins.
500 lbs. New Citron.
500 lbs. New Currants.
50 doz. boxes New Sardines.
New Nuts of all Kinds.
New Cider. Bottled Cider. Wines, etc.

The largest and best stock in the city.

JOHN LAIGHTON,

No. 1 Market Square

ILSLEY & MOORE

Fire Life and Accident Insurance Agts and Brokers No. 3 Pleasant St Portsmouth N. H.

NOTICE:—The undersigned gives notice to all whom it may concern, that he has purchased from the senior member of the old firm of Ilsley & Ilsley, all rights to the Fire Insurance Business heretofore carried on by said firm, and is duly authorized by all the Companies represented by them to have and hold the records. WINGATE S. ILSLEY.

Facilities for placing the largest lines of Insurance in the best Companies.

Agents for the Equitable Life Insurance Co. of the U. S., New England Mutual Life Ins. Co. of Boston, Mass., and the Fidelity & Casualty Co., of New York.

THE OLDEST AND ONLY Republican Morning Paper IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

IF YOU WANT TO BUY OR SELL ANYTHING ADVERTISE IN THE Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 24, 1862.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., TUESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 27, 1888.

$6 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE. TWO CENTS PER COPY.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

The News!

ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES.

No Let Up in the Great Storm.

Wires Prostrated and Communication Cut Off Almost Entirely, North and South.

GREAT DAMAGE TO PROPERTY.

Many Vessels Wrecked and Great Loss of Life.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NANTASKET BEACH, MASS., Nov. 26.—The terrible effects of the storm are everywhere manifest along this coast, and the loss of life would have been greater but for the brave efforts of Capt. Joshua James and his volunteer life saving crew of Hull. They are credited with saving 28 persons from various disabled vessels. On Sunday afternoon a large three-masted schooner went broad side on the beach at Hull. Capt. James and his men rushed for the Hunt gun, breeches buoy and life-boat, of the Massachusetts Humane Society at Stony Beach. After strenuous efforts they succeeded in bringing ashore the crew of nine men from the schooner, which proved to be the Cox and Green from Philadelphia for Chelsea loaded with coal. The vessel is now fast breaking up.

Hardly had the band of rescuers completed their work at this point, before another vessel was discovered on the rocks about an eighth of a mile farther up the beach, but farther from the shore than the Cox and Green. Hurredly rushing their apparatus to the nearest available location, they found the distance was too great to allow them to use the breeches buoy, and the surf boat was quickly manned. The waves were tremendous, and it was only after a hard and persistent struggle that the vessel was reached, their boat twice swamping in the attempt. The boat was at last brought under the vessel's bow, and the crew of eight men swung themselves into it. The return to the shore was a perilous trip, the boat filling several times, but it was finally thrown upon the beach among the rocks by a huge wave, and entirely smashed. Fortunately the water was shallow at this point, and the occupants easily waded ashore. This vessel was the Gertrude Abbott, Capt. Henry Thompson, from Philadelphia for Boston, with cargo of coal. The vessel is in good condition, her sails well fitted and everything standing, and she will probably be saved when the storm abates. The volunteer life-savers, after seeing the rescued men well provided for, continued their patrol of the beach, and at daybreak sighted a third vessel ashore about half a mile north of the Abbott. She could not be reached by the breeches buoy, and as their surf boat had been demolished, the tireless men went to Strawberry Hill station, four miles away, and returned with the Hurricane Society's new boat, built by Burgess, after a model by Capt. James. With this, which marvellously withstood the huge breakers, a crew of nine men was landed on the beach.

This schooner was the three-master Bertha F. Walker, from Philadelphia for Boston, also coal laden. The crew were in the rigging several hours before they were rescued. Captain Westgate and Mate Thomas were swept overboard and drowned by a heavy sea. Capt. Westgate belonged in Berkely, Mass., and Mate Thomas in Ilesboro, Me. The crew were taken to Boston by the tug Wesley A. Gove. The Walker will be a total wreck. Not satisfied with the work already accomplished, Capt. James and his noble band of twelve started for Atlantic hill, seven miles down the beach, where two vessels were reported ashore. Here they were joined by Capt. James Anderson of the Humane society's station at Crescent Beach, and Capt. George H. Brown of the government life saving station at North Scituate Beach, and all efforts were directed to the rescue of five men who could be seen clinging to the rigging of one vessel.

The sea was running higher than ever known before at this point, and it was thought impossible to reach the wreck with the surf boat. The Hunt guns were brought into use, and two lines were almost simultaneously fired across her foretops by Captains Anderson and Brown. The men in the rigging eagerly seized the line, and a hawser was pulled aboard, but just as the buoy was about to be sent out the line became fouled and the buoy was rendered useless. At this critical moment, three young men of Cohasset, named Ainslee, Antoine and Salvador, manned a small dory and at great peril attempted to clear the line. They were unsuccessful, and a surf boat was then put out upon its third perilous journey. The waves were enormous, at times lifting the boat as high as the maintop of the schooner, but the brave crew never faltered, and at last they reached the vessel's stern. As quick as they were within hailing distance, the nearly exhausted seamen crawled out from under sails on mizzentop and came cautiously down the shrouds.

Capt. James threw a line which he fastened around his body and jumped into the sea, and was rapidly drawn into the boat. A desperate attempt was then made to force the surf boat forward to the foremast, but the waves would beat it back and for nearly an hour they struggled before succeeding in reaching and holding their desired position. The men in the rigging were terribly exhausted, but one after another, four descended in safety and jumped overboard, and like the first were drawn into the boat. It was then discovered that the fifth sailor was a corpse and his body was left in its icy resting place. The surf boat then headed for shore and a safe landing was effected amid the cheers of spectators. These sailors belonged to the schooner H. C. Higginson, Capt. Fales, from Hillsboro, N. B., with plaster for Newburgh, N. Y. When the storm struck the vessel Capt. Fales and one seaman refused to go aloft and were swept overboard.

Others took to the rigging, where Steward L. Brems of East Boston, being unable to withstand the cold died early Sunday morning, and was lashed to the mast by his companions. If the vessel rides out the storm as it now seems likely the body will probably be removed tomorrow.

About 1000 feet northeast of the Higginson, high and dry upon the sandy beach, within reaching distance of Damon's pavilion, lies the three master, Mattie E. Eaton, 589 tons, Capt. Gamage, Boston, for a port in Spain with a general cargo. The Capt. and crew were in the rigging or nearly eight hours before she struck but then succeeded in reaching shore in safety in the boat. A young son of Rev. Dr. Plumb of Boston, who was on board for a pleasure trip, was also saved. The Eaton is not badly damaged and will probably be saved.

Still another vessel, a brigantine, was soon drifting about by the untiring band of rescuers, and getting no response to their attempts to place a life line, the vessel was boarded by the gallant crew, but no one found on board. This was the brigantine Alice, abandoned. The crew returned to the shore and their noble work was done. The names of the men who suffered untold hardships in their work of rescue are: Capt. Joshua James, Eben T. Pope, Osceola James, George Pope, Eugene Mitchell, Eugene Mitchell Jr., Geo. Augustin, Alonzo L. Mitchell, John L. Mitchell, Alfred, Joseph and Louis Galiano, Frank, James and Wm. B. Mitchell.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

SCITUATE, MASS., Nov. 26.—Schooner Edward Norton, Capt. Frank Curran, owned by Stubbles & Co., of T wharf, Boston, was found bottom up off First cliff point at 6:30 last night by the life saving crew. She left Boston a week ago Saturday and was returning from Georges. She had a crew of 16 men of whom one only, named Lawrence Allen, escaped. He says they came by Peaked Hill bars, Sunday morning, and had a terrible day. When the vessel struck he was below. She capsized and went ashore. He was under her hull up to his neck in the water all night. He crawled out after the sea had left her. One body was taken out this morning and one washed ashore, but none of the rest have been found. Lost are the captain, Frank Curran and son, 14 years old, Michael McDonough, Patrick Mullally, Michael Curran, James Brown, Dominick Hafey, Lawrence Haherty, John Hernish, Lawrence Bennett (colored) Archie Campbell. They were probably all of Boston. There were four or five others on board, supposed to be Nova Scotians or French Canadians whose names are not ascertained.

A New Bridge Across the Mississippi.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

MEMPHIS, TENN., Nov. 26.—Work has begun on the new bridge across the Mississippi river here. It is to be 34 feet wide, and strong enough to carry two railroad tracks. The bridge proper will be on the cantilever plan, and will consist of a channel span 770 feet long. It will be 75 feet high, and will cost $2,200,000.

New York Jottings.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The young man Dougherty, who has been annoying Miss Mary Anderson, has been adjudged insane and has been ordered sent to the Flatbush insane asylum.

Paymaster's clerk F. G. Dearborn, of the U. S. S. Galena, is missing.

Gen. Sberidan's memoirs will be published tomorrow.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—A special despatch to the Herald from Indianapolis says that General Harrison has concluded to give the old service-worn office holders a rest, and proposes to fill the offices with new timber. It is true, however, that most of the old stagers are hustling for their old positions, and they will feel very much incensed if they are not "vindicated."

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Surgeon Simons of the U. S. S. Boston, who is ill with yellow fever, is not expected to recover. He has Bright's disease as well as yellow fever.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—As a result of last night's storm the telegraph wires are prostrated in all directions today, and nothing had been received from Washington or the west up to noon. The Western Union officials say that the damage done to their lines will not be fully repaired for two days, but that they expect to have several wires in working order to the south and west tonight. Incoming through trains are all two and three hours late. No reports of shipwrecks along the Jersey coast have yet been received.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Lowben Smith has been appoinled commissioner of Public Works vice Gen. Newton.

Made Their Last Voyage.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

SCITUATE, MASS., Nov. 26.—A terrible loss of life is reported here by a wreck this morning. The large fishing schooner Edward Norton, of and from Boston, went ashore on First Cliff point at 6:30 last night, and immediately went to pieces. Her crew consisted of 16 men, and 15 of them have perished. One man, Allen by name, clung to the wreck, and when the tide left her this morning he succeeded in reaching the shore. The vessel was discovered by the midnight patrol of the life-saving station, but too late to render assistance. She lies bottom up and is a complete wreck. She is owned by Stubbs & Co., T wharf, Boston.

Terrible Affliction.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 26.—Typhoid fever of a remarkably malignant type appeared in the family of John Hawkins, the leading florist of this city, a month or six weeks ago. A son and partner with him in business was first attacked, and died. Since then, his wife and eldest daughter and another son have died, the latter this morning. A daughter and son are probably fatally ill with the same disease at the City hospital, and a daughter-in-law is convalescing at the same place.

Washington Gossip.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—An enterprising member of the British Legation thought the auction sale of Lord Sackville's effects a good opportunity for him to get rid of a buggy he no longer fancied, so it formed a part of the stable array on the day of the sale. The same evening the young diplomat gave a dinner party of no mean dimensions, with a mental calculation that it would about cost the difference between the price he had set on the trap and the top-lofical amount it brought at the auction. To his great astonishment the next day he found that the purchaser did not come after the buggy, and he still has it and the dinner besides to pay for.

Invitations are out for the marriage on the evening of December 5th of Miss Rose de Chine Gouverneur, of this city, to the Rev. R. R. Hoes, chaplain of the United States receiving ship Vermont, now stationed at the Brooklyn navy yard. The ceremony takes place at the New York Avenue church. Miss Gouverneur is a great granddaughter of President Monroe, her father, Mr. Gouverneur, being the son of Maria Monroe Gouverneur, the only daughter of President Monroe.

Senate Will Pass a Bill.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

DES MOINES, Nov. 26. — Senator Allison started for Washington today. He said that the republican tariff policy will be that of the Senate bill, and that such a bill will pass the Senate this session if there is a prospect of it passing the House.

Base Ball; the New Schedule of Salaries.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The Sun says today, speaking of the new salary contract adjusting and fixing the amount to be paid: "When the new League rules are understood it will be found that ball players' salaries are not to be reduced, and that the new rule will only affect new players. Every year there has been a big rush for the players of the minor leagues and the prices for these men have been run up to such an extent that it has become something frightful. It is these men that it will affect, and as long as a player now under contract or reservation to a club remains with that club, he will never get anything less than he now gets. Many ball players have become frightened, but there is not the slightest cause for it."

Republican Legislation in Connecticut.

Special Despatch to Daily Chronicle.

HARTFORD, CONN., Nov. 26.—The republicans have fifty-three majority in the lower House and ten in the senate, so feel entirely satisfied that they can carry through the legislature such measures as they deem proper. The important measures which will come before the legislature of a political nature will be a ballot reform bill, and such temperance legislation as shall accord with the pledges of the republican party to render more effective the operations of the local option license law; and probably the second step toward submitting a prohibitory amendment to the people will be taken.

Senator Rollins' Condition.

The Traveller of last evening says: "Ex-Senator E. H. Rollins of New Hampshire, whose accident last week caused such universal regret, is regarded as being in a decidedly more favorable condition this morning. He is now conscious and manifests interest in all that is going on about him. Mr. Rollins has had another similar attack of heart trouble within two years, though there was no accident connected with it such as the fall of last week. Mr. Rollins, Jr., considers his father's condition favorable enough to warrant his leaving him to go to Concord, N. H., on business today. The patient is to remain at the Massachusetts General hospital.

Cheap Potatoes.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

EVANSVILLE, IND., Nov. 26.—The potato crop in this section is the largest ever known here, and prices are ruling from twenty-five to thirty cents a bushel, while in southern Illinois they are selling as low as fifteen cents per bushel. In view of the failure of the crops in the northwest, the farmers are not alarmed at the decline, but the most of them will hold their product for better prices.

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 26.—White frost last night. 2 new cases, no deaths.

FOREIGN.

Mr. Bright Worse.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—John Bright passed a restless night. His lungs are in worse condition this morning, and his temperature is higher. The queen and Empress Frederick have sent telegrams inquiring about his condition. Mr. Bright's son, who was summoned from Cardiff, arrived last night.

Newspaper Offices Burned.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Nov. 26.—The offices of the Australian Town and Country Journal have been destroyed by fire. They were the finest newspaper offices in Australia. The loss is estimated to be £100,000.

House of Commons.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—In the House of Commons tonight in consideration of the land purchase bill, Parnell's amendment was lost by a vote of 154 to 111.

QUEBEC, Nov. 26.—Navigation completely stopped by ice.

The Boston papers on Monday were bare of telegraphic news, owing to the storm, and had to skirmish 'round to "fill up."

In Bangor, Me., on the morning of Nov. 26th, a huge buck was seen caught in a board fence on Hancock street. C. J. Gallagher went gunning for him with an axe, and killed him.

We are Sole Agents in Portsmouth for the Celebrated

DEW DROP!

CANNED GOODS.

Whole Solid Packed

TOMATOES!

(ALSO IN GLASS.)

First Quality

SUGAR CORN!

Early June and Sifted

PEAS!

Lima Beans.

Sliced Sugared, White and Extra Yellow and Extra White Heath Table

PEACHES.

The Above Goods are Full Weight, are Very Carefully Packed and of Superior Quality.

OUR STOCK OF

THANKSGIVING

Goods is Complete, and those in quest of FINE Goods are Invited to Examine the Same.

CHARLES E. LAIGHTON & SON,

5 EXCHANGE BUILDINGS,

OPPOSITE POST-OFFICE.

LOOK AT THIS

Heavy, Substantial Cooking Range,

"THE ALMONER."

Plain for $16.00, Worth $25.00

To anyone in need of a First-Class Range it will pay to examine this before purchasing elsewhere.

ALSO A FULL LINE OF

MAGEE FURNACES, RANGES & STOVES.

Plumbing, Gas Fitting, Tin and Sheet Iron Work of All Kinds.

C. W. TAYLOR.

42 & 44 MARKET STREET.

ILSLEY & MOORE,

Fire Life and Accident Insurance Agents and Brokers No. 3 Pleasant St., Portsmouth N. H.

NOTICE:—The undersigned gives notice to all whom it may concern, that he has purchased from the senior member of the old firm of MORSE & ILSLEY, all rights to the Fire Insurance Business heretofore carried on by that firm, and is duly authorized by all the Companies represented by them to have and hold all their records. WINGATE N. ILSLEY.

Facilities for placing the largest lines of Fire Insurance in the best Companies.

Agents for the Equitable Life Ins. Society of the U. S., New England Mutual Life Ins. Co. of Boston, Mass., and the Fidelity & Casualty Ins. Co. of New York.

PRESTON'S SORE MOUTH WASH.

Valuable in cases of Canker, Ulcerated Gums, and Sore Throat.

PRESTON'S GLYCERINE LOTION.

The reliable preparation for Chapped Hands, Sore Lips, and all Roughness of the Skin caused by exposure to the elements.

PRESTON'S TOOTH ACHE DROPS.

A bottle should be in every household.

PRESTON'S KLENZINE

Will readily cleanse the most delicate fabric.

ANDREW P. PRESTON,

Apothecary, - - Portsmouth, N. H.

Marigold Ointment!

Remember is Warranted for External Piles, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Nettle Rash, Hives, and all Diseases of the Skin and Scalp, Old Sores, Chilblains, Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Chapped Hands, Cold Sores, Cracks in Hands and Lips, Ingrowing Nails, Inflamed Joints, and everything else for which an Ointment is required.

Call for Circular and Sample Box Free.

SOLE AGENT FOR ROCKINGHAM COUNTY

William D. Grace, - - - Apothecary.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE BEST BONDS ARE POLICIES

IN THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York

THE LARGEST, CHEAPEST AND BEST IN THE WORLD.

Assets - - over $120,000,000.

RICHARD A. MCCURDY, - PRESIDENT.

PROTECTION FOR THE AGED!

At Age of 75 $1000 will purchase an Annuity of $159.06, and other ages in proportion.

Those Desiring Reliable Insurance Should Apply to the Undersigned,

C. M. GIGNOUX, - - GENERAL AGENT,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

NEW JEWELRY

AND

SILVER GOODS

AT

HUTCHINSON'S.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

The three-story (above the grade floor)

BRICK STORE BUILDING

NO. 18 BOW STREET,

Running back over the wharf to the river, occupied for a long time by the late Charles Robinson as a wholesale corn and flour store. Sold to close up an estate. Enquire of

J. P. MORSE, Real Estate Broker.

New Store. New Goods.

JOHN S. RAND,

No. 11 Market Street.

Would respectfully announce that he will resume business on

Wednesday Next, Nov. 21st,

His store having been remodelled and refitted, making it one of the most attractive and best lighted in the city. In addition to his former stock he has added a large assortment of

FALL & WINTER

Dry and Fancy Goods!

purchased with a desire to suit the wants of customers, and which will be offered at prices that cannot fail to please.

Our present space enables us to add materially to our variety, and we shall therefore keep a good assortment of which will be sold at the lowest prices. Thanking friends and the public for their former patronage we would most respectfully solicit a continuance of the same.

Ladies' Small Wares

JOHN S. RAND,

11 MARKET STREET

BURNETT'S

Standard PERFECTLY PURE HIGHLY CONCENTRATED Flavoring

EXTRACTS

The superiority of these Extracts consist in their

Perfect Purity and Great Strength.

NOTICE!

FALL

AND WINTER

STYLES

NOW READY!

AT

MRS. TEBBETTS',

NO. 14 MARKET STREET.

USE NETTEZZA!

FOR THE TEETH.

PREPARED BY E. C. BLAISDELL, D. M. D.

Price 25 Cents.

FOR SALE BY

A. P. PRESTON, D. KIMBALL & CO., W. D. GRACE, F. B. COLEMAN AND BENJ. GREEN.

The Portsmouth Daily Chronicle,

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 2, 1852.

Published every morning, except Sunday, at No. 7 Exchange Building, Pleasant Street.

By mail, postage prepaid, $5 a year. Single Copies, Two Cents.

THE CHRONICLE is served to subscribers in Portsmouth, Kittery, Dover, Rochester and Farmington at 50 Cents per month, hours in advance of any other paper containing the Associated Press Despatches.

The New Hampshire Gazette,

ESTABLISHED OCT. 7, 1756.

The Oldest Newspaper in America. Published every Thursday.

Terms, $1.50 a year in advance.

[Entered at the Post Office at Portsmouth as second class matter.]

W. SCOTT SMITH,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

Rates of advertising made known on application.

Agents for the Daily Chronicle:

MOSES BROS.....PORTSMOUTH.
ROBERTS & AVERY.....FARMINGTON
WORCESTER & GREENFIELD..ROCHESTER
BROWNE BROS.....DOVER.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

TUESDAY, NOV. 27, 1888.

Let There be an Extra Session.

We note that some of our republican friends doubt the propriety of having an extra session of the LIst Congress. We think that a few moments calm review of the conditions which will confront the nation on the fourth of March next will convince them that the prosperity and welfare of the country imperatively demand that the new Congress should not only meet and organize, but should enact certain wise and necessary legislation as soon as possible.

Perhaps the most important duty which will rest upon the LIst Congress is the proper reform and regulation of the tariff, and the re-adjustment of internal taxation. With a revenue largely exceeding the ordinary demands of the government, it would be in our opinion a most unwise mistake to rest supinely until December, 1889, before initiating measures for relieving the situation. It has always been the policy of the republican party to alter and amend the revenue laws from time to time so as to meet the best interests of our people, always bearing in mind of course that cardinal principle of protection to our industries and our workingmen which is one of its foundation stones. Shall this imperative duty be neglected until the regular meeting of Congress in December, 1889? We unhesitatingly answer that there would be great danger in such prorastination. The reform and re-adjustment of the tariff laws must be at once proceeded with and prosecuted to a successful end. At the same time the obnoxious internal revenue laws must be entirely revised. They embody a system of war taxation which has long been unnecessary, and which would long since have been judiciously amended or done away with altogether but for the determined efforts of the democratic party, which, animated by a desire to break down the protective tariff, has resorted to every means to maintain them. The republican Congress can be trusted to properly handle these important questions, but they should be met at once. Even now our friends, the enemy, are calculating upon such an accumulation of money in the treasury before the new Congress can fairly get under way in the winter of next year as will create a marked stringency in the money markets of the country, and give rise to disturbances in business affairs which will discredit the party soon to be in power.

Another question which should be promptly met is the fulfillment of our pledges to the great territorial empires so long unjustly kept waiting at the door of the Union. The process of making new states is one that consumes time, and Congress should pass the necessary enabling acts for the Dakotas and Washington and Montana early next year, so that the people in those territories can act upon them. Other reasons could be given to show the almost imperative necessity of an early called session of the Congress which the people have elected to take the place of the present Congress which they have no use for, but we have outlined sufficient.

Let the people's latest choice come together as soon as possible.

The Atlanta Going Abroad.

So! the United States ship Atlanta is to be sent on a three-years cruise around the world, to show the American flag in ports and places where it is rarely or never displayed by national vessels on ordinary cruises.

The Atlanta is one of the "Roach ships" about which so much was said as soon as Hon. William C. Whitney superceded that energetic and efficient secretary of the navy, Hon. William E. Chandler. From the acts and statements of Secretary Whitney, and the assertions and denunciations of the democratic press and orators, a considerable portion of our people were led to believe that the national ships built by contract by John Roach, according to plans and specification furnished by the government and under the rigid supervision of government officials, were the most miserable naval abortions the world had ever seen—wretched tubs, of such ridiculous models that they would neither steer, stay, wear or lay at anchor; built of scrap iron stuck together with ten-penny nails, so that they would dissolve into chaos if hit by a six-pound shot or a moderate sea; and without steam power enough to get out of their own way. This onslaught of the United States was too much for even sturdy John Roach; he saw the vast business he had built up practically destroyed by a power against which private energy and honorable dealing were powerless to contend, and the brave old man, who for twenty years had been doing more than all the rest of the nation put together—including the government—to keep up the American ship-building industry, and who had built scores of iron steamships which a board of naval experts have since pronounced superior in excellence of material and thoroughness of construction to any of the loudly-vaunted foreign-built steamships entering our ports, went broken-hearted to his grave. But then there was some excellent political capital made out of the attacks which broke him and his business down.

And now the Atlanta, one of the John Roach "failures," is selected by Secretary Whitney to show the American flag in distant ports where it is seldom seen. We should think he would want to keep such a miserable iron pot at home, and not let any foreign nation get a look at her.

Not a Plurality of Votes as Cast, But as Counted.

The story is going the rounds of the papers that an addition of the votes returned in the several states show that Cleveland has a plurality of about fifty thousand votes over Harrison. This may be comforting to our democratic friends, who do nant to look back of the returns. It is a notorious fact, however, that in many of the southern states thousands of votes cast for Harrison were not counted at all. Particularly was this true as regards Virginia, South Carolina, Maryland and Mississippi. In the former state great frauds were perpetrated, and not less than ten thousand Harrison votes were not counted. In South Carolina, where the negroes are overwhelmingly in the majority—at least five to one—in two congressional districts, the democratic election officers simply cast out thousands of votes, and counted their own candidates in. We do not doubt but there were fully twenty thousand votes cast for Harrison in that state which were never counted; and in Mississippi the election was not much better than a farce. To talk about Cleveland having a plurality of votes in face of such a condition of affairs is simply absurd. In the states where honest elections were held, and where every man could vote as he desired and feel assured that his vote would be counted as cast, Cleveland was, as the boys express it, completely snowed under by the majority given to Harrison.

Will the Proper Authorities Answer?

BOSTON, Nov. 24th, 1888.

ED. CHRONICLE—Dear Sir: Will you kindly allow me to ask through the columns of your paper why Gladden has not been arrested and the extreme penalty of the law visited upon him for giving Palmer a razor?

Also if any steps are being taken to discover who gave Palmer the knife? It shows on the face of it that the employees at the jail are very trustworthy and extremely watchful.

Of what use is capital punishment if persons can be bribed to help defraud the gallows of their just due. Will some one please wake up? Y. P. W.

Laxador An infallible regulator of the Human System. Cures Liver Complaint, Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Giddiness, &c. Sold by druggists. Laxador Cures Bilious Affections &c. Laxador Price 25 Cts. Laxador

The Leading Perfume.
DREXEL'S BELL COLOGNE
Fragrant! Lasting!
PRICE 25 CENTS. AT ALL DEALERS.

DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP
CURES COUGHS & COLDS FOR 25 C

SALVATION OIL
Price only 25 cts. Sold by all druggists.
Will relieve Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Swellings, Bruises, Lumbago, Sprains, Headache, Toothache, Sores, Burns, Wounds, Cuts, Scalds, Backache, Gout, or any bodily pain or ailment.

CHEW LANGE'S PLUG, The Great Tobacco Antidote!—Price 10 Cts. At all druggists.

Always on Time.
NEW YORK & NEW ENGLAND.
Trains for New York.
Leave Portsmouth, via Boston & Maine R.R. at 11:05 a.m. 7:40 p.m. Arrive at Boston 1:15, 9:30 p.m.
Leave Boston, ¶12:00 noon, §*3:00, 11:30 p.m. Ar. New York, 6:30, *9:00 p.m., 6:35 a.m. Parlor and Sleeping Cars through without change.
¶Dining Car between Boston and Hartford.
‡Dining Car between Boston and Willimantic.
*3:00 p.m. runs daily, including Sundays. Through tickets at offices, North and East. Baggage checked through.
Ticket offices—232 Washington St., and Depot foot of Summer St., Boston. eod6ff

IF YOU WANT
To Save Two Dollars
ON EVERY BARREL OF FLOUR, USE
Horsford's Bread Preparation.
It costs less than one cent to raise a pound of flour with Horsford's, while with common baking powders the cost is two cents.

"1888" OPENING OF "1888"
FALL AND WINTER DRY GOODS
At the Well-Known Store,
NOS. 30 and 32 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH.
Ayers & Locke, Proprietors,
Can be found the Largest Assortment of
SEASONABLE DRY GOODS MERCHANDISE.
LARGEST ASSORTMENT OF OUTSIDE GARMENTS.
For Ladies, Misses and Children,
New Goods of this Season's Manufacture.
All are Invited to Examine
OUR STOCK OF CLOAKS!
Before Purchasing Elsewhere.
Silk and Gloria RAIN UMBRELLAS! Ladies' Gossamers.
THE F. P. ROBINSON CO. BLACK STOCKINGS.
TRADE MARK
"CLEANFAST" NONE ARE GENUINE WITHOUT THIS TRADE MARK ON EACH PAIR
Mohair and Gingham RAIN UMBRELLAS! Children's Gossamers.
Largest Assortment of Dress Goods in Portsmouth.
In fact, the Best Assortment in their Line of everything pertaining to a
FIRST-CLASS STOCK OF DRY GOODS.
NEW CARPETS! NEW CARPETS!
HOUSEKEEPING GOODS! &C.
SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS IN OUR UNDEWEARR DEPARTMENT.
Small Wares, Trimmings, Ribbons, Gloves.
Yarns, Knitting Silks, &c.
Corsets, Bustles, &c.
Largest Assortment of Fall and Winter Skirts in all the Desirable Fabrics
Which they are desirous of exchanging for Cash on a basis for value that will compare favorably with Boston and New York prices.
AYERS & LOCKE.

EASTERN OFFICE OF
Kansas City Investment Co.,
OVER FIRST NATIONAL BANK, PORTSMOUTH.
CITY MORTGAGES, FARM MORTGAGES,
DEBENTURE BONDS, REAL ESTATE SECURITIES.
INTEREST PAYABLE HERE AT MATURITY.
W. G. MYERS V. P.

FALL AND WINTER OF 1888-89.
Our Assortment of Tailoring Goods is superior in many respects to any of previous years, embracing a Full Line of Goods suitable for
Fall and Winter Overcoatings.
Aslo, a Fine Assortment of the Best
IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC GOODS FOR SUITINGS,
Consisting of Stripes, Checks, Plain and Fancy Woollens and Worsteds in Great Variety.
CHECKS AND STRIPES FOR TROWSERS.
FANCY PATTERNS FOR VESTING.
Prices Reasonable for Fine Work.
WM. P. WALKER, - - MERCHANT TAILOR,
NO. 8 MARKET SQUARE.

The Kansas City Investment Company, which makes a business of lending the money entrusted to it, has published a primer on the details of the business.
Where the money comes from, where it goes to, how the lending is managed and paid for, what the security is, how blunders and frauds are committed, the safeguards, also the life of Kansas City itself, appear.
It can be read in an hour; and will never be forgotten.
Sent free.
THE KANSAS CITY INVESTMENT COMPANY, Kansas City, Missouri; or Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

$100,000
Janesville, Wis., Water Co.
First Mortgage 6% Bonds.
DUE AUGUST 1, 1907.
Secured by a Sinking Fund. Descriptive Circulars furnished on application.
Brewster, Cobb & Estabrook,
35 Congress St., Boston.

Insurance Notice.
THE OLD INSURANCE AGENCY,
AT THE OLD STAND,
No. 13 Pleasant Street,
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.
JOSEPH P. MORSE,

25 CORDS
DRY PINE LIMBS!
At $3.50 Per Cord.
The Very Best of Fuel at a Low Price.
O. F. PHILBRICK & CO.,
COAL AND WOOD DEALERS,
4 Water Street.

WOOD AND COAL!
A Good Assortment of all kinds of Wood and Coal.
Kindling Wood Split to Order.
ALSO
Akron Drain and Sewer Pipe.
NO. 13 GREEN STREET,
DANIEL LITTLEFIEL

Look in at Conn's
AND SEE THE
BUTTER!
From the very best Dairies in Vermont and New York. Creameries are of no account compared with these Dairies. Also,
Cheese Pork, Lard, Hams, Beans Etc
No Oleo or Second-Hand Stuff kept.
The very best quality of LARD bought by the car-load, which I am selling less than the Boston prices.

COMFORT
FOR
COLD AND TENDER FEET!
Persons troubled with cold or tender feet will find warmth and ease in the use of
DOLGE'S ALL WOOL FELT
Slipners and Shoes
For which the undersigned is agent in this City and Vicinity.
--- AT THE STORE ---
No. 34 Market Street
Can be found a Full Line of these Goods, in many patterns of Slippers, Shoes and Boots, and several colors, for house, office or street wear,
Of Men and Boys, Women and Girls.
Please examine our Stock.
J. C. CARR.

COAL! COAL!
Finest Grades, well prepared for Domestic Purposes, constantly Arriving and for Sale at Lowest Prices.
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.
J. ALBERT WALKER
Portsmouth Coal Pockets.

POSITIVELY
No Cure, No Pay!
CONSTITUTIONAL COUGH SYRUP
--- TRY IT! ---
The proprietor of this remedy has such confidence in its curative powers that he makes the following
Generous Offer!
Any person buying a bottle is given the privilege of returning it and receiving their MONEY BACK, if after using two-thirds of its contents, they have derived no benefit from it.
PRICE 25 AND 50 CENTS.
—— SOLD BY ——
David Kimball & Co., 36 Market Street.

AT
No. 63 Pleasant St
May be seen as full and carefully selected a stock of
FINE FANCY AND STAPLE
GROCERIES.
—ALSO—
BOOTS & SHOES
As at any Store east of Boston.
—VERMONT AND CREAMERY—
BUTTER & CHEESE.
Lard Sugar,
Molasses Syrup Oils.
Beans Peas Pickles Crackers.
Salt Pork Salt Fish, Sage Maccaroni.
-COFFEES-
Old Government Java and Rio, ground as sold
-TEAS-
Best Qualities Formosa and Japan.
—A FULL LINE—
CANNED AND SHELF GOODS.
Pure Spices, Raisins, Currants, Cut ron, Cocoa, Chocolate, Candied Lemon Peel, and all other Fine Groceries
TOBACCO AND CIGARS.
Brooms, Brushes, Pails, Crockery and Glassware, and a Large
Assortment of Miscellaneous Articles.
Boots and Shoes!
Men's Calf Button Boots,
Men's Calf Balmoral Boots.
Men's Calf French Ties,
Ladies' Kid Button Boots.
Misses' and Children's, Youth's and Boys',
All Sizes and Kindr.
We make the best selections possible, paying Cash; and for Cash will sell as low as the lowest
Orders filled with care and delivered free to any part of the city.
JOHN J. LASKEY,
NO. 63 PLEASANT STREET.

S. Philbrick & Co.,
MANUFACTURERS OF
Marble and Granite Work
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.
GRANITE POLISHING A SPECIALTY.
OFFICE AND WORKS,
No. 2 Water Street, Portsmouth

GRANITE STATE
Fire Insurance Company,
OF PORTSMOUTH, N. H.
PAID-UP CAPITAL, - $200,000
OFFICERS:
President, FRANK JONES.
Vice President, JOHN W. SANBORN.
Secretary, ALFRED F. HOWARD.
Treasurer, JOHN LAIGHTON.
Executive Committee, FRANK JONES, JOHN W. SANBORN, CHARLES A. SINCLAIR, EDWIN WALLACE and E. H. WINCHESTER.

C-O-A-L-!
All Kinds and Sizes Delivered Well Screened.
E. F. SISE & CO.
First Quality Wood!
Liverpool and Turks Island
S-A-L-T-,
In Bulk and Sacks. Salt in Boxes. Boston and Portland Brands.
TELEPHONE.

A LARGE LOT OF LEAF SAGE Just Received and for Sale by the Pound or less quantity. Come early before it is sold.
JAMES R. HEATON & CO., 40 Congress St.

Do You Chew?
Then get the BEST which is FINZER'S OLD HONESTY
Genuine has a RED H tin tag on every plug.
OLD HONESTY is acknowledged to be the purest and most lasting piece of Standard Chewing Tobacco on the market. Trying it is a better test than any talk about it. Give it a fair trial. Your dealer has it.

BURNETT'S
PERFECTLY PURE
STANDARD FLAVORING
HIGHLY CONCENTRATED
EXTRACTS
BURNETT'S FLAVORING EXTRACTS are pure and of great strength.
HOUSEKEEPERS who study their interests will demand of their grocers BURNETT'S FLAVORING EXTRACTS, and will find them the most economical as well as the most delicious of flavors.
The superiority of these extracts consists in their
Perfect Purity and Great Strength.
They are warranted free from the poisonous oils and acids which enter into the composition of many of the factitious fruit flavors now in the market.
They are not only true to their names, but are prepared from fruit of the best quality, and are so highly concentrated that a comparatively small quantity only need to be used.

C. E. BOYNTON,
Manufacturer and Wholesale Dealer in
Soda Water, Root, Tonic, Vanilla, Orange and Strawberry Beer, Crab Apple Lemonette, Cream Ginger and Ginger Ale.
EXTRACT OF NERVE FOOD!
For Brain and Nervous Exhaustion. Good for the Appetite.
Soda Water in Syphons for Hotel and Family Use. Fountains Charged at Short Notice.
Bottler of Eldredge and Milwaukee Lager, Porter and Refined Cider.
The Summer Beverages manufactured and bottled by me having been before the public of this city and vicinity for the past seventeen years, need no endorsement as being of the very highest standard.

JOHN H. BROUHTON,
No. 68 Daniel St., Portsmouth, N. H.
—DEALER IN—
EASTERN AND WESTERN
LUMBER!
Shingles, Clapboards and Laths.
—ALSO—
Best Newark Hydraulic Cement, Best Extra and No. 1 Lime
FOR SALE AT LOWEST PRICES.

To Let.
THE middle Tenement, No. 25, in the Kenney Block on Pleasant Street. Apply to
J. P. HART

TRANSPORTAION.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

Eastern Division.

TRAINS LEAVE PORTSMOUTH FOR

BOSTON, 4.05, 7.25, 8.30, 11.05 a. m., 2.55, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4.00 p. m. Returning, 7.30, 9.00, 10.00 a. m., 12.30, 3.20, 4.40, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.20 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

PORTLAND, 4.05, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m. Returning, 2.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.00, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 2.00 a. m.

RANGOR, ST. JOHN AND HALIFAX, 10.55 a. m. 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.60 p. m.

GREAT FALLS AND WOLFEBORO JUNC., 9.55 a. m., 2.45, 5.30 p. m.

WOLFEBORO, 9.55, a. m., 5.30 p. m.

NORTH CONWAY, 9.55 a. m., 2.45 p. m.

DOVER, 4.50, 9.45, a. m., 12.25, 2.38, 5.22 p. m.

YORK HARBOR AND BEACH R. R.

YORK BEACH AND WAY STATIONS, (via York Harbor and Beach R. R.) 8.30, 11.10 a. m., 5.35 p. m. Returning, leave York Beach 6.40, 10.00 a. m., 1.40, p. m. Connecting with trains leaving Portsmouth for Boston.

JAS. T. FURBER, Gen'l Manager. D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l Passenger Agent.

Concord & Portsmouth Railroad.

PASSENGER TRAINS leave Eastern Railroad Station for N[illegible] market Junction, Manchester, Concord and app[illegible] branches, as follows:

UP TRAINS.

Leave	A. M.	P. M.	P. M
Portsmouth	7.55	1 00	5.15
Greenland	8.05	1 09	5.24
Newmarket Junction	8.25	1 31	5.50
East Epping		1 41
Epping	8.43	1 57	6.15
West Epping	8.49		6.17
Raymond	9.00	1 53	6.26
Candia	9.13	2 05	6.46
Auburn	9.22		6.57
Manchester	9.30	2 20	7.08
Arrive Manchester	9.42	2 36	7.20
" Concord	10.30	3 12	8.21

DOWN TRAINS.

Leave	A. M.	A. M.	P. M
Concord	7.50	10 20	3.35
Manchester	8.15	11 15	4.23
Massabesic	8.27	11 28	4.36
Auburn	8.35		4.44
Candia	8.44	11 40	4.54
Raymond	9.05	11 56	5.13
West Epping	9.23	P. M.	5.30
Epping	9.30	12 08	5.37
East Epping		12 14
Newmarket Junction	9.46	12 24	5.48
Greenland	10.01	12 36	6.01
Arrive Portsmouth	10.10	12 45	6.10

☞ Trains connect at Newmarket Junction with trains of the Boston & Maine Railroad for Exeter, Haverhill, Lawrence and Boston; and for Dover, Great Falls and Portland; at Concord with trains to and from all the upper Railroads.

H. E. CRAMBERLIN, Supt.

TRAVELLER'S GUIDE.

TRAINS LEAVE

Portsmouth for Boston, 4.05, 7.25, 8.20, 11.05 a. m., 2.55, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4.00 p. m.

Boston for Portsmouth, 7.30, 9.00, 10.00 a. m., 12.30, 3.20, 4.40, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.20 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

Portsmouth for Portland, 9.55, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 9.20, p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m.

Portland for Portsmouth, 2.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.05, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 2.00 a. m.

Portsmouth for Dover, 4.50, 9.45 a. m., 12.25, 2.38, 5.22 p. m.

Dover for Portsmouth, 6.55, 10.20 a. m., 1.55, 4.30, 6.40 p. m.

Portsmouth for York Beach, 8.30, 11.10 a. m. 3.35 p. m.

York Beach for Portsmouth, 6.40, 10.00 a. m., 1.40 p. m.

Portsmouth for Concord, 7.55 a. m., 1.00, 5.15 p. m.

Concord for Portsmouth, 7.30, 10.20 a. m., 3.25 p. m.

Portsmouth for Manchester, 7.55 a. m., 1.00, 5.15 p. m.

Manchester for Portsmouth, 8.15, 11.15 a. m., 4.45 p. m.

TRAINS ARRIVE

In Boston from Portsmouth, 6.20, 9.10, 10.25 a. m., 1.15, 4.45, 7.10, 9.30 p. m. Sundays, 6.20 a. m., 6.30 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Boston, 9.45, 10.45 a. m., 12.20, 2.35, 5.20, 6.45, 8.57 p. m. Sundays, 10.40 a. m., 8.57 p. m.

In Portland from Portsmouth, 12.00 m., 12.35, 4.40, 11.00 p. m. Sundays, 11.00 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Portland, 9.55, 10.44 a. m., 2.20, 7.15 p. m. Sundays, 3.55 a. m.

In Dover from Portsmouth, 5.40, 10.10 a. m., 12.50, 3.03, 5.47 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Dover, 7.20, 10.44 a. m., 2.20, 4.55, 7.15 p. m.

In Concord from Portsmouth, 10.30 a. m., 3.12, 8.25 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Concord, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

In Manchester from Portsmouth, 9.42 a. m., 2.30, 7.20 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Manchester, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

KITTERY AND PORTSMOUTH.

STEAMER MYSTIC.

Leave Bartlett's wharf, Kittery, 6.35, 7.50, 8.45, 10.00, 11.45 a. m., 2.00, 3.15, 4.45, 6.00 p. m. Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 6.30, Saturday evening, 6.30, 8.00.

Leave Broughton's wharf, foot Daniel street, Portsmouth, 7.30, 8.00, 9.30, 11.00 a.m., 12.45, 3.00, 4.00, 5.15, 6.15 p. m., Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7.30, Saturday evenings, 7.30, 9.00.

☞ Fare five cents each way.

A FAIR SAMPLE OF
40 SWORN CASES
OF THE VALUE OF

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND

THE RADICAL BLOOD PURIFIER.

DIPHTHERIA. SCROFULA.

Miss Lena Judkins, a daughter (17 years old) of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Judkins, 677 Boston St., Lynn, CURED by Dr. Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of a very severe case of Scrofula, with Malignant Ulcers of eight years' standing, after 11 Physicians had failed. Almost a miracle. Now in perfect health. Sworn to before HARMON HALL, Justice of the Peace.

SCROFULOUS HUMOR.

Miss Mary Etta Leighton, a daughter (16 yrs. old) of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison G. Leighton, 16 Bickford Court, Lynn, CURED by Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of a deep seated Scrofulous Humor, with discharging eruptions, which had baffled eight physicians and the combined forces of two prominent hospitals. Perfectly cured and without a blemish. Sworn to before CALVIN B. TUTTLE, Justice of the Peace.

Send for circular of 40 Sworn cases. They are solid facts and carry conviction.

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND.

is absolutely the greatest known Remedy for the Radical cure of Scrofula, Cancerous Humors, Diphtheritic or Mineral Blood-Poisoning, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Dropsy and Liver Complaint.

$1. per Bottle (6 for 5). At Druggists.

Lougee Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

THIS PAPER is on file in Philadelphia at the Newspaper Advertising Bureau (10 Spruce St.) where contracts may be made for it in New York.

ATTAR OF ROSES.

A subtile odor from the east
Is wafted along the room;
A penetrating scent—a feast
Of delicate, sweet perfume.
My vagrant fancies wing such flights,
Such wonderful scenes disclose,
A page from out th' Arabian Nights
On a whiff of attar of rose.

Hear the plash of fountains play
Over tessellated floors:
And music steals from far away
Through curtained and latticed doors.
Your couch's a divan soft, whereon
You lie in voluptuous pose—
Strange such fancies should float upon
A whiff of attar of rose.

Sequins shine in your dusky hair
And jewels swing at your ears,
And glist'ning on your bosom bare
There are pearls that gleam like tears.
I'm transformed to a swarthy Turk,
My pipe a margarita rose—
Strange what curious fancies lurk
In a whiff of attar of rose.

With a muffled, stealthy, catlike tread,
A eunuch creeps through the gloom.
His bowstring does its work! and dead
You lie in your fresh young bloom.
I watch revengeful, cruel, dumb,
The horrid scene to its close—
Strange what hideous fancies come
With a whiff of attar of rose.

—Edith Sessions Tupper in Frank Leslie's.

CASTING REFLECTIONS.

Yes, I'm as bright as ever, though I've had some hard rubs in my day—particularly from the hands of domestics. No wonder I am called cold and hard, but nevertheless I am the most sympathetic creature in the world. I smile with those that smile and weep with those that weep. At times it is difficult, for no matter how dull I may be feeling I am expected to reflect the look of the most casual passerby, however, I always manage to present a smooth surface, and am acknowledged by all to be highly polished. And though I have met reverses I have never yet had a fall. With ladies I am, and always have been, a great favorite. They consult me on all occasions—it seems as if they could never tire of me—and I am not slighted by the men either, but some of them do dread to look at me in the face in the morning after a late supper at the club.

An artist strolling through "Le Temple" in Paris threw a glance my way; I reflected his look of appreciation, and he at once purchased me. I served him faithfully, but never flattered, assisting him almost daily in criticising his sketches; in fact, I could reverse anything for him, except his luck. We had been together some time, when one day she came into our studio.

Now, I'm a keen observer when people are in front of me, and am accustomed to study faces, but she rather puzzled me. She impressed me as an actress, but still her general appearance was almost too artistic for that. She came accompanied by a literary friend, who had persuaded her to pose as the heroine for a novel which the artist was to illustrate.

While all this was under discussion her eye fell on me, and I realized Miss Swansdown was what would be called in simple parlance "a society beauty."

And the effect she was producing on Brown Lake made my heart ache for his peace of mind. Naturally, in looking around the studio she took me up, and I will acknowledge it was a mutual pleasure, and as she laid me down with evident regret on leaving I felt that I had been to her what she had been to the illustrator—a bright spot in that dull room.

Well, they came more or less regularly to the studio, and the posing began. It was a long MS., and some of the situations were rather pleasing. At times she had to stand as if in a conservatory with the hero of the novel whispering in her ear. Then she was placed at the piano as if he was turning the music. Again he was supposed to be holding her hand as she stood on the stairs. All these positions she took with grace and ease. It was then that I learned she was celebrated as an amateur actress, which explained the impression she at first made on me.

Brown Lake often found it necessary to pose with her in order that she might get the right action; then he'd leave her and rush at his pencil to make the sketch, but in some of the scenes he took much more time, it seemed to me, than was really required in posing her, particularly when the situation allowed him to assume a tender attitude. On some occasions he used his friend Roberts, who was a regular visitor, to assist in the grouping. During the "rest," she devoted herself with commendable zeal to playing the banjo and depleting the bonbon box. I learned she was deep in rehearsing one of Gilbert's comedies, "The Wedding March," in which Lake was persuaded to take a minor part; so besides the meeting at the studio they saw each other at the rehearsals.

Now, though I have seen a great deal of life, and consequently a great deal of acting, I had never been present at a play—and so was delighted when taken the first night to the Club theatre.

It was entirely a new world to me. There was only one small looking glass in our dressing room, and it was flattering to me to be so much in demand; it was also a revelation to see with how much eagerness the ambitious amateur looked into my tell tale face. I had always been accustomed to this from the "gentler sex," but to be so sought after and consulted by the men was a new and amusing experience.

Afterward I was taken into the make up room, where two busy decorators were making the peachy cheeks, the jetty eyebrows, the cherry lips and the alabaster arms for the stage; and though there were two large mirrors in the room, they were so crowded about, that, without my presence became known, I was nearly crushed by the general eagerness to get one look into my clear face.

The room was as bright and pretty as a bed of flowers in full bloom. The costumes were picturesque and becoming to the young ladies, who wore any dress that suited their particular style, while the men, according to the play, were obliged to don the "Directoire" costume.

As one after another of the girls looked into my face, I realized that the report in regard to the beauty in the cast was not exaggerated.

In one corner was a little maiden in robin's egg blue satin, reading her lines and devouring caramels with equal earnestness, while near by a fat young dude made up as an old village innkeeper, with a lady on each hand, was struggling with a new step for the march. Near the stairs a young man in a magnificent scarlet uniform was rehearsing his part to a sweet little girl robed in black velvet and yellow satin, while sitting from the dressing rooms to the stage was a constant stream of excited, nervous, laughing amateurs, looking for a lost bouquet, a missing glove or a forgotten fan. A gorgeous beflowered, antique gown, surmounted by an artistic black bonnet, partly concealed one of the graceful amateurs who was lamenting the non-arrival of her bouquet. Around her were grouped several sympathetic directoire costumed companions, whose attention seemed about equally divided between looking into her eyes and into my face, for my popularity did not diminish.

I was bright enough to see all that was going on, and I observed Brown Lake sketching Miss Swansdown, who, in a sleeveless costume of antique cut, looked, if possible, more charming than ever. Mr. Roberts, who had been so often in the studio, was also hovering around in evening dress, which was useful for contrast with the bright costumes. It seems to me he had improved his acquaintance with Miss Swansdown very rapidly since their first meeting in the studio. And I fancied Lake didn't welcome him with the old time cordiality.

Roberts had rather an important part to play in connection with Miss Swansdown, and naturally she would have considerable interest in him for the time being, at least.

While Lake was drawing Miss Swansdown, he was also carrying on a lively conversation with Miss Carson, a charming, black eyed girl, dressed in the "village beauty" style, in which costume she was sufficiently attractive to fascinate any one—excepting, perhaps, some of her own sex; for I'm sure I heard Miss Swansdown unfavorably criticise her becoming attire.

Now, I make no pretense of great depth—I'll acknowledge I'm shallow; most of my observations are on the surface, but still I felt sure that it was jealousy—yes, jealousy and pique—that made Lake so attentive to the little black eyed "village beauty" whenever Roberts was near Miss Swansdown.

Suddenly I heard the ring of a bell, followed by a commanding voice; then there was a grand rush—yes, every one, dudes, officers, Directoire costumed gentlemen and maidens fair, rushed for the stage stairs—I—I who had been so much sought after, so coveted, so fondled, was as suddenly dropped as if I had been a last year's fashion. However, I'm always treated this way—the moment there is an excitement I'm forgotten, but I was more than usually disappointed this time, as I had anticipated going into the rear of the stage where I could see the play. If Miss Swansdown had only seen me, I felt that I would not have been thus neglected.

Brown Lake himself had never seen the whole play, though he had rehearsed parts of it many times.

For a few moments there was a great hustling of feet over my head, and half suppressed, excited talking; then again the commanding voice, next the ring of a bell, the orchestra opened fire, the curtain rolled up and the play began.

But my loneliness was not of long duration; down came Lake. I read his face at a glance—he was not yellow; he was white, but it was jealousy.

Now, according to all the heroes in stories, he should have bit his lip till drops of gore ran down his "firm but delicate jaw;" he should have clenched his nails in his hands till nothing but his wrists were visible; he should have paced the room like a man that was very angry at something, and, above all, he should have talked aloud; then I should have learned the cause of it all.

But he did nothing of the kind. He simply walked to the fire, bit a lead pencil into small pieces, then, his eyes falling on me, he snatched me up, feeling sure of meeting a friendly face. I noticed his hand trembled as, looking me straight in the eye, I heard him mutter, "Am I a fool?" The room filled again as the curtain dropped on the first act.

Miss Swansdown and Lake were soon deep in an animated conversation. I heard his jealousy was caused by the first scene in the play, when Roberts is supposed to meet Miss Swansdown in a garden—a garden made resplendent by the shopworn verdure of six potted plants, a canvas back stone wall and graceful card board vines. Here the noble knight in a modern dress suit kisses the hand of the lovely maiden, which part Miss Swansdown, in her artistic antique garb, filled with ease.

This was the scene which caused the scene that was now going on between Miss Swansdown and Mr. Lake. The former was opening her big, brown eyes till the white showed above the pupil, a habit with her when she affected surprise or pretended indignation. He turned abruptly as Roberts joined them, and touching the messenger call gave an order for a bouquet. Then I felt easier. Again the commanding voice, the rush, the bell and the play continued. At the next intermission Lake took me to the gentlemen's dressing room, and was about placing me in his overcoat pocket when a piece of paper on the floor attracted his eyes. Picking it up he stood motionless—speechless—holding me in one hand and the paper in the other. And this is what he read:

"I love you—I love you with my whole heart. Without you the world would be"——

Miss Swansdown's handwriting, which he so well knew, looked to him as if the letters were a foot in length. Just at this moment in rushed Roberts in a state of great excitement (an excitement which only an amateur can feel when the stage is waiting). In his hand were several sheets of paper on which the handwriting was easily recognized at a glance. Lake collected himself and handed the missing page to the newcomer, which was received with a relieved look and hearty thanks as he hurried out.

In the meantime the bouquet arrived by a pert little messenger boy, and you can imagine my feelings when Lake sent it round the front to be thrown, not to Miss Swansdown, but to Miss Carson.

At the next instant, fortunately for me, I was taken up behind the scenes, and found myself in great demand by those not on the stage. I was trying to keep my eye on Lake, who was devoting himself to any lady who came in his way, excepting the writer of the fatal letter. His avoidance of her it was evident she observed. I had known her too long not to read the slight quiver of the corner of her mouth. She would never seek an explanation, but if something would only happen to break the ice, I felt that everything could be explained.

When the last act was in progress, having nothing more to do on the stage, Lake stood around in an undecided manner for a time, then suddenly prepared to depart, placed me in his overcoat pocket and started. Then again he hesitated, and finally paced the dressing room nervously till the play ended. Then hurrying to the foot of the stage stairs he began a lively conversation with Miss Carson while the others were rushing back and forth. Miss Swansdown passed without his apparently observing her, but I, peering from his pocket, detected her half glance at him, and I felt the quickened beating of his heart.

Days and weeks passed, but the studio was not again brightened by the presence of Miss Swansdown, and the theatrical season being over I was not again taken out; consequently what was going on I had to learn by studying the face of Lake and listening to the conversation of callers. Even when he held long consultations with me in regard to the arrangement of his front hair, I only knew that he was going to some reception, party or dance.

How I used to wish he would be like other heroes in novels or on the stage, and talk aloud when alone! Then I should have been thoroughly posted, instead of having to surmise and worry. How could I tell what he might be planning to do! Suppose he should lose heart on account of his love affair, and, like the impetuous hero in the novel, suddenly start for foreign lands!

Then what would become of me! I've always had a nameless dread of auctioneers. Think of me in a second hand store, in a dusty window mixed up with a lot of common cutlery, cheap jewelry and old furniture! The thought sends a cold chill down my back. No wonder I was anxious for his affairs to run smoothly.

I watched to see him become thin, melancholy, morbid, neglect his work and write poetry, but he did nothing of the kind; he seemed more energetic and industrious than ever, but how ugly he was, and how he used to kick the furniture around!

Finally the June days came; he packed his traps, entirely ignoring me, and was off for the summer vacation.

How the dust gathered! How quiet it seemed! Even the janitor neglected us, and my vision became quite obscure. My neighbors, the brass sconces, the Chinese feather duster, the Spanish knife, the bronze lizard, and the rest of us became too dull to shine in our own society.

Finally a brush with the janitor rubbed us up a bit, and the next day in stalked Brown Lake. In looking over his accumulated mail among the recent letters I noticed one from the secretary of the Amateur Dramatic club asking him to join in a repetition of the play given the preceding season. Holding the letter in one hand, he took a lovely photograph of Miss Swansdown from a cabinet and looked at it in a discouraged sort of way; then he answered the letter, politely, but firmly declining to again participate, saying he had never yet seen the whole of the play, and he counted on the pleasure of being in the audience on this occasion.

A month later the night of the play came. Fortunately for me, one of the amateurs, seeing me in the studio and remembering how useful I had made myself, borrowed me for the evening, much to my gratification. Brown Lake, on a front seat, was watching the play with rather languid interest till Roberts, coming upon the stage with Miss Swansdown, seized her hand and opened the love scene with the familiar words of the fatal letter:

"I love you. I love you with my whole heart."

Lake realized in an instant how he had misinterpreted it all—it was simply Roberts' part in the play which Miss Swansdown had copied off for him!

The moment the act ended Lake was behind the scenes. As Miss Swansdown came down the stairs he grasped her hand—both hands—and spoke to her, as he did so, in such a low voice that I could not hear what he said, but I could see through the open door of the dressing room where I was. She blushed and smiled. He cast a quick glance around to see that no one was looking, and then put his arms around her and kissed her. Then a noise of coming steps disturbed what I regarded as the prettiest group that I had ever seen. As she passed on down stairs he popped into the room. "She's mine!" he said, picking me up as he said so, but he did not mean me.—Will P. Hooper in Pittsburg Bulletin.

What Dyspeptics Should Remember.

One thing which all dyspeptics should bear in mind is this: without strong, healthy, wholesome blood in their veins they cannot be either well or happy, and it is from the food we eat that blood is made. About the most that medicine can do for you is to regulate the bowels and secretions, increase the appetite, and supply any constituent that may be absent from the blood, such as iron, etc. Over eating is the most fruitful source of the dreadful mischief of indigestion. Young growing people need substantial diet to build up their frames; hard out door workers require good and abundant food; middle aged people who do not work should eat most sparingly, and of a diet not too much mixed; the old need still less to sustain the system.—Cassell's Family Magazine.

A New Textile Plant.

Consul Williams, of Rouen, reports that M. J. De Turck, of Lille, a manager of spinning mills, has brought to light a textile plant of Chinese origin which he has called "exotic flax." It is only about half the price of ordinary flax, and the finest lace or the strongest cord can be made from it, as well as a great variety of intermediate fabrics—such as tablecloths, napkins, etc. The material can be spun without combing, and worked by the ordinary flax machinery. The refuse fiber resembles cotton, and can be worked in the same manner. The exotic flax plant is the "dolichos catgang" of Cochin China, called "dau" in Tonquin, and bears the doliquo or Tonquin bean. It is cultivated on lands near the rivers or the sea.—Cassell's Magazine.

A Garden in the Desert.

Maj. Mills is now stationed at Fort Grant, A. T., and his engineering skill has changed that post from a desert to a garden. He has put in a system of water works there, piping the water several miles with entire success. Seven fountains and a small lake adorn the grounds and a luxuriant growth of grass covers the sand. One benefit derived from the water works system is a noticeable lowering of the temperature.—El Paso (Tex.) Times.

Marriage Among Russian Peasants.

Marriage must be a failure among the Russian peasantry. Upon a convict ship conveying women only to Sagalien, 75 per cent. of the prisoners had been convicted of killing their husbands.—New York Sun.

We are astonished at parties who introduce new remedies for coughs when they should know the people will have Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

"Kings are like stars, they rise and set." They have headaches, cuts, and hurts like meaner men, and are just as sure to call for Salvation Oil.

—Political orator (furiously)—"Now, fellow-citizens, if this man is elected what will be the result?" A voice—"His opponent will be defeated."

"I'm something of a liar myself, but you take the cake," can never be said to the man who is extolling the merits of Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam. It is a wonderful remedy, and the man who praises it knows what he is talking about. Every druggist sells it.

—Children shrink from being washed. The same may be said of socks.

Be Your Own Doctor.

It won't cost you half as much. Do not delay. Send three 2-cent stamps for postage, and we will send you Dr. Kaufmann's great work, fine colored plates from life, on disease, its causes, and home cure. Address A. P. Ordway, & Co., Boston, Mass.

—The average pullet takes her egg at in the spring.

Hundreds of letters from those using Hall's Hair Vigor attest its value as a restorer of gray hair to its natural color. As a stimulant and tonic, preventing and curing baldness, and cleansing the scalp, its use cannot be too strongly recommended.

—"Physician, heal thyself!" is an injuction promulgated centuries ago, and now some of the older practitioners are pretty well heeled.

Trial proves that honesty is the best policy in medicine as well as in other things. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a genuine preparation, an unequalled blood purifier, decidedly superior to all others.

—The sparrow who has lost her mate takes a sort of bird-sigh view of the world.

She Blushed

Awfully when I told her what to do for those horrid pimples, with which her face was covered. She now says if you want a pink and white complexion with a clear, smooth skin, you must use that best of all blood purifiers, Sulphur Bitters.

—Nature is a great deal like the manipulators of the stock market. She has her regular times of trying to freeze out everybody.

Avoid the harsh, irritating, griping compounds so often sold as purgative medicines, and correct the irregularities of the bowels by the use of Ayer's Cathartic Pills, which are gentle, yet searching, in their action.

To-Night and To-Morrow Night,

And each day and night during this week you can get at all druggists Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, acknowledged to be the most successful remedy ever sold for the cure of Coughs, Croup, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption. Get a bottle to-day and keep it always in the house, so you can check your cold at once. Price 50c and $1.00. Sample bottles free.

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam, for Coughs and Colds, does it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles at 50c and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all Throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. A. NOYES, 149 Power's Block, Rochester, N. Y. eowyanes

Eczema, Itchy, Scaly, Skin Tortures.

The simple application of "SWAYNE'S OINTMENT," without any internal medicine, will cure any case of Tetter, Salt Rheum, Ringworm, Pimples, Itch, Sores, Eczema, all Scaly, Itchy Skin Eruptions, no matter how obstinate or long standing. It is potent, effective, and costs but a trifle. eow29

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

—Some are born great, some think they are great, and others thrust greatness upon themselves.

A SCIENTIST'S WARNING.

Extracts From a Remarkable Lecture Delivered by Dr. R. R. Hammond, Before the National Scientific Convention.

"We are startled constantly by the sudden death of some man who seemed the picture of health. He thought he was well. He had felt strange pains shooting through his body, but they did not return, and he forgot them. He had pained him periodically, he was somewhat pale, than common and seemed easily wearied, but he felt comparatively well and vigorous. And yet, he suddenly died! Life a shame to our boasted civilization.

"Look at the list of women who die in childbirth, and why is it? Simply because their maternal organs have been so weakened by the most terrible of diseases that they cannot withstand the fearful, sudden strain that is brought to bear upon them. How many women escape monthly agonies? And yet nature never intended that pains and penalties should shadow the operation of her natural laws. The solemn and terrible fact is, that men and women drag along, die, and are buried, and their friends and relatives say heart disease, apoplexy, pneumonia, congestion, convulsions, when the cause lay far back of all these things. The truth is that weakened kidneys are the cause of most of our troubles. The great question, therefore, is 'How shall I preserve my kidneys, or, if diseased, how can they be restored?' I have seen numbers of cases and learned from unquestionable sources of others, that Hunt's Remedy, this preparation, has been almost remarkable in its results. I use it freely among my patients, and shall continue to do so. It is a wonderful and invaluable remedy.

"The remarks of the learned doctor should be carefully considered, and acted upon by all who desire long life, and freedom from pain and the danger of sudden death."

THE JOB PRINTING

Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD I. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line. Give him a trial and you will be more than pleased.

MAKE HENS LAY

NOTHING ON EARTH WILL MAKE HENS LAY LIKE SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER.

WE SEND BY MAIL A LARGE 2¼ POUND CAN FOR $1.20, TWO $1. SMALL PACKS 50 CTS. POST PAID.

Sheridan's Condition Powder

is absolutely pure and highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other kind. Strictly medicinal, to be given in the food, once daily, in small doses. Prevents and cures all diseases of hens. Worth its weight in gold when hens are moulting, and to keep them healthy. Testimonials sent free by mail. Ask your druggist, grocer, general store, or feed dealer for it. If you can't get it, send to us. Take no other kind. We will send postpaid by mail on receipt of price. Our elegantly illustrated copy of the "FARMERS' POULTRY RAISING GUIDE" (price 25 cents; tells how to make money with a few hens), and two small packages of Powder for 50 cents; or, one large 2½ pound can and Guide, $1.00. Sample package of Powder, 25 cents, five for $1.00. Six large cans, express prepaid, for $5.00. Send stamps or cash. L. S. JOHNSON & CO., 22 Custom-House St., Boston, Mass.

My Poor Back!

That "poor back" is held responsible for more than its share of the sufferings of mankind. If your dog bites a man who kicks it, do you blame the dog? On the same principle the kidneys utter their protest against nervousness, impure blood, and resulting constipation. These force them to do extraordinary work in ridding the system of the poisons which are the result of effete matter retained in the blood. Then the sufferer says the back aches; the kidneys are diseased. Why not? but they will be unless the nerves are strengthened, the blood purified, and the constipation removed. These are the causes of kidney troubles, and Paine's Celery Compound removes them quickly. With its tonic, purifying, and laxative effect, it also strengthens the weak kidneys, making it almost impossible for diseases to develop. In curing all diseases of the nerves and kidneys, if your hopes of cure have not been realized, try Paine's Celery Compound; it gives perfect health to all who complain of "their poor backs." Price $1.00.

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS. SEND FOR ILLUSTRATED PAPER.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Proprietors, BURLINGTON, VERMONT.

E. C. BLAISDELL, D. M. D.,

(SUCCESSOR TO DR. F. J. BONNEY.)

Dental Rooms 1 1-2 Market Street.

Embalmer and Funeral Director

NO. 60 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH

SAMUEL S. FLETCHER

(SUCCESSOR TO FLETCHER & TANTON.)

COFFINS ROBES & CASKETS

Always on hand or made to order

Orders by night may be left at No. 43 Daniel St. or with A. L. Ring, No. 15 Hill St. or C. W. Ham No. 2 Russell St.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame.—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in half-pound tins by Grocers, labelled thus:

JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England.

†1eo5

WE WANT A GOOD ENERGETIC SALESMAN in every town to TAKE ORDERS FOR FRAMING PICTURES. BEST OUTFIT IN THE WORLD and a permanent situation. Address H. B. WARDWELL, Lewiston, Me.

POSITIVELY CLOSING WEEKS

GRAND CYCLORAMA

BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG,

541 Tremont St., Boston.

Don't fail to see this great battle scene at once.

A new subject now being painted will take its place in this building January 1st.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, the great Medical Work of the age on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline, Errors of Youth, and the untold miseries consequent thereon, 300 pages 8-vo., 125 prescriptions for all diseases. Cloth, full gilt, only $1.00, by mail, sealed. Illustrative sample free to all young and middle-aged men. Send now. The Gold and Jewelled Medal awarded to the author by the National Medical Association. Address P.O. Box 1895, Boston, Mass., or Dr. W. H. PARKER, graduate of Harvard Medical College, 25 years' practice in Boston, who may be consulted confidentially. Office, No. 4 Bulfinch St. Specialty, Diseases of Man. Cut this out. You may never see it again.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Best and Purest Medicine EVER MADE.

It will drive the Humor from your system, and make your skin clean and smooth. Those Pimples and Blotches which mar your beauty are caused by impure blood, and can be removed in a short time, if you are wise and use the great blood purifier, SULPHUR BITTERS. Why suffer with Boils? Why fret and scratch with Eczema? Why suffer with Rheumatism? Why groan with Neuralgia? Why have Headache? Why be constipated? Why let the liver get torpid? Why let the blood become impure, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your nerves get unstrung? Why let your system become a prey to fever and ague, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your kidneys become deranged, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Dyspepsia, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Liver Complaint, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Fever and Ague, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Scrofula, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Blood Poison, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Mercurial Disease, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Ulcers, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Tetter, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Salt Rheum, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Boils, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Carbuncles, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Erysipelas, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Swelling, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Gout, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Dropsy, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Consumption, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Scurvy, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Rheumatism, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Neuralgia, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Headache, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Dizziness, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Sleeplessness, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Nervousness, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Nervous Prostration, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Nervous Debility, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Nervous Weakness, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Nervous Exhaustion, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Nervous Irritability, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel like a new person? Why let your system become a prey to Nervous Dyspeps

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

POST OFFICE RULES.

MAILS CLOSE

	A. M.		P. M.
Boston, N. Y., south, west,	5:00	10:20	2:20	4:50 8:45
Boston and way stations,		10:20	2:20	6:45
Portland,	9:25		4:50	6:45
Portland and way stations,	9:25		4:50
East [beyond Portland]	9:25			6:45
Great Falls, Rochester, Wolfeboro' Union Mills, B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,	9:25			4:50
Concord & Manchester,	7:40	10:20		4:50
Concord, Manchester and north,	7:40		4:50
Exeter and B. & M. way, west of Newmarket,	7:40		4:50
Dover,	9:25		2:20	4:50 6:45
North Conway,	9:25			6:45
York and Cape Neddick,		9:25
Newcastle,		10:20
Newington,		10:20
Boston, N. Y. and south, Sunday,				1:00

MAILS ARRIVE.

	A. M.		P. M.
Boston, south and west,	10:05	3:10	5:40	7:00 [9:00]
New York,	10:05		5:40	7:00
Boston and way stations,	10:05		5:40
Portland and east,	7:30	11:00	3:00
Great Falls, Rochester, Union, Milton,	8:30	11:00
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,		11:00
Concord, Manchester and north,		10:38	6:30
Dover,	7:30	10:30	3:00	5:40
Newcastle,		9:30
Newington,		9:30
York and Cape Neddick,		11:00
B. & M. R. R., west of Newmarket,		10:38	6:30

S. J. GERRISH, P. M.

PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Opens Monday, Tuesday, Friday and Saturday evenings from 7:30 to 9:00 P. M., and Wednesday and Saturday afternoons from 3:00 to 5:00 o'clock

MINATURE ALMANAC NOV. 27.

SUN RISES	6:47	MOON RISES	9:26 P. M.
SUN SETS	4:15	FULL SEA	2:45 A. M.
LENGTH OF DAY	9:28		3 P. M.

Weather Indications.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

Threatening and rain or snow, slightly colder, brisk to high northerly winds. Storm signals from Morehead City to Eastport. Storm continues central off Middle Atlantic and south New England coasts with apparent tendency to move northeasterly. Light snows prevailing in region as far west as Toledo and in northern New England, New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio. Threatening weather, rain with strong northerly gales continue on New England coast and middle Atlantic states. Fair weather prevails in all other sections except Texas, where rains are reported. Warmer than usual in the northwest. Temperature rose ten degrees throughout New England and western New York during past 24 hours.

TUESDAY, NOV. 27, 1888.

PALMER OFF FOR CONCORD.

James Palmer has probably looked on Portsmouth for the last time, for at one o'clock Monday afternoon he started for the State prison at Concord in company with three other prisoners, and guarded by Sheriff Coffin and Deputies Moore, Whidden, Griffin and Harvey.

The party made its exit from the sheriff's residence soon after half-past twelve, and Palmer was quickly recognized by a few who were waiting to catch a glimpse of him. He was handcuffed to Deputy Sheriff Moore, and was smoking a cigar. His face bore the same defiant expression which has made him notorious, although he was pale and his eyes were a little sunken.

They were conveyed to the station by one of Stoddard's barges, where quite a crowd had gathered to see the murderer off. Asst. Marshal Hurley cleared a way for them, and they took their seats in the car which was to bear Palmer to Concord. Long before this is read by the public Palmer will have listened to a lecture from the lips of one of the State prison officials as to his conduct while he is an inmate of that institution, and will have donned the prison garb, consisting of trousers, one leg red and the other black, a jacket of the same colors, the red side of it being above the black leg of the trowsers, and a cap made of four pieces of the same material, the red and black alternating. That is, he will have submitted to the above, if he does not make a second (and successful) attempt to carry out his threat that he would never be taken to Concord alive.

We are glad that he has gone from our midst, for while there is always a curiosity on the part of a certain portion of the community regarding every word or movement of a monster like Palmer, which demands satisfaction, there is to us nothing pleasant or entertaining in following such cases, and we believe our readers will say amen to our sentiments. He has gone from us, and let us now forget him until that day shall come when the dastardly murder of Henry T. Whitehouse shall have been legally avenged.

(Special to Daily Chronicle.)

CONCORD, Nov. 26.—James Palmer of Portsmouth, under sentence of death for killing Henry T. Whitehouse in May last, arrived here this afternoon under the charge of Sheriff Coffin of Rockingham county, and a small posse of deputies. Palmer gave the officers no trouble on the way up, beyond that caused by nausea, from which he suffered.

He was placed in a hack and driven to the prison at once, quietly following the directions of the sheriff. He has failed to keep his word, and has strengthened his reputation as a liar. He arrived here alive.

THE NEW LIFE-SAVING STATION AT WALLIS' SANDS.

As yet the government has not been enabled to obtain a site for the erection of a new life-saving station at Wallis' Sands, Rye, in accordance with the appropriation made by Congress at the last session. Negotiations were had with Prof. Parsons for a lot 200 feet square at Dow's point, but finally he declined to let the government have the land desired. Then application was made to Col. Jerome C. Butler for a lot not far from his house there, but the price asked was more than the chief of the service at Washington felt justified in paying, so nothing came of it; and there the matter rests. If a lot suitable for the purpose can be had the new station will be built early next spring, and will cost between four and five thousand dollars, and will be quite an ornament to that part of Rye.

An arrangement has been made with Col. Eastman whereby his stable at Odiorne's point is to be used by the life-saving service this winter to store their apparatus and gun, so that it can be had readily if any wreck should occur between Odiorne's point and Rye harbor. As this part of the coast is regularly patrolled it has been arranged that the life-saving crew at Jerry's point shall be signalled from Odiorne's point in case their services are needed. As soon as the new station at Wallis' Sands is built the apparatus now stored in Col. Eastman's stable will be taken there.

POLICE COURT—BATCHELDER J.

MONDAY, Nov. 26th.

Frank Burns, charged with vagrancy and begging, was given thirty days at Brentwood, and $6.90 costs.

Lawrence Frazer, for drunkenness, was fined $3, costs $6.90; county farm in default of payment.

SOCIETY ITEMS AND PERSONAL NOTES.

—The wedding of Mr. Wm. Lee of the firm of Lee & Shepard, and Mrs. S. L. White-Saunders, which occurred yesterday in Boston, attracted much attention in literary and social circles. The bride's dress was formed of a delicate French blue Henrietta cloth combined with ivory and white crape, and ornamented with gold and white bands of oriental embroidery, which was of a graceful design. A fillet of gold bands was worn upon the head, and the hair was worn in a Psyche knot at the back of the head. The bridal bouquet was composed of white bride roses. Mrs. Saunders' mother and sister, Mrs. and Miss White, Miss Lee, Mr. Adams (Oliver Optic,) Mr. Dillingham, a former partner in the firm, Mr. Shepherd and one or two of the immediate friends of the family only were attendant upon the ceremony.

—Col. Charles R. Littlefield, for many years and up to the advent of the Cleveland administration chief clerk in the navigation department at this navy yard, has been appointed cashier of the Ocean national bank of Kennebunk, Me., succeeding his father, who recently resigned after having held the position from 1854, when the bank was organized.

—Ex-Gov. Benj. F. Prescott of Epping was in this city on Monday.

—The many friends of Mr. Walter F. Stearns, formerly of this city, who has been in failing health for the past four years, will be pleased to learn that his condition is improved, and that he contemplates a visit east next summer. For the past three years he has been living at Colorado Springs with his sister, Miss Alice Stearns. The climate there agrees with him, and it is to be hoped that its beneficial effects may bring about entire recovery.

—Mr. Clarence Clough, formerly of Portsmouth, now residing at Malden, Mass., is in this city, his visit being occasioned by the death of his brother, Mr. Edward B. Clough.

THE STORM.

The storm which raged from the British provinces to Mexico on Sunday, destroying property and lives and almost wholly stopping telegraphic communication, was in this section the most violent and disastrous for many months. Commencing during Saturday night with a stiff breeze, it developed before daylight to a heavy gale from the north and east; a cold, dry, powdery snow fell from Sunday forenoon about ten o'clock, turning to rain on Monday morning, the gale continuing with varying force through the day, and up to the time of our going to press.

It is seldom that the streets and sidewalks of Portsmouth are in such a wretched condition, generally, as they were on Monday. The fierce gale of Sunday piled the snow in drifts on the northerly sides of the streets, and the swiftly following rain of Monday deterred many from shovelling the snow from their walks. Wayfarers stepped into these drifts to find the foundations but imprisoned water, while the southerly sidewalks were glazed with frozen rain, rendering locomotion both difficult and dangerous. Very sensibly, the "no-school" signal, "2-2," was sounded at eight o'clock and 11:30 A. M., and the pupils of the city will remember with no small degree of pleasure that during Thanksgiving week of the year 1888, they had two holidays. And the returns are not all in, yet!

No great damage is reported as being done by the gale in this city. A few shutters were torn off, loose bricks blown from chimney tops, and branches twisted from trees here and there; and this was about all. In the lower harbor the result of the blow was more serious, one life being lost and one schooner wrecked, with the prospect late on Tuesday afternoon that at least two other vessels would also be totally lost.

The schooner Oliver Dyer, Emerson master, of and for Saco from New York, with coal to F. Goldthwaite, anchored in midchannel about half-way between Whale's-back and Fort Point lights on Saturday night, and hung on until early Monday morning, laboring hard, when she parted her chains and went ashore on Jerry's point, Newcastle, beating over the outer rocks, and getting so near the shore that the life-saving crew were able to throw a handline on board, by means of which the captain and three seaman were hauled on shore, safe, but greatly exhausted from exposure and anxiety for so many hours. The cook, Guiseppe Peres, an Austrian aged about twenty-two years, was washed overboard when the schooner struck, and drowned. Vessel and cargo a total loss; the vessel was seventeen years old, owned by the master and parties in Saco, and uninsured; the cargo was insured.

Later in the day on Monday two other vessels went ashore on Jerry's point, within a few feet of each other, and less than a hundred yards north of the spot where the Mystery was wrecked about a year ago. One of them was the James H. Deputy, Snowman master, 126 tons register, of and for Bath, Me., from Boston, light; the other was the Mollie Phillips, Mitchell master, forty-five tons register, hailing from Machias, Me., and bound from Millbridge for Boston with a load of wood. The Deputy was reported late in the afternoon to have bilged, while the Phillips appeared to be but little injured; but both vessels were in a very bad position, and were expected to go to pieces at high water. Their crews got safely ashore without difficulty.

Just before nightfall it was reported that a large three-master was at anchor off the life-saving station, riding very hard, and it was feared that unless the wind and sea abated she must come on shore before morning.

The fishing schooner Edith Conley, of Gloucester, went on Clark's island, below the narrows, Monday afternoon, and was there at last reports.

From all along the New England coast, so far as heard from, the shipping suffered greatly, and in some instances there was a terrible loss of life.

The proceeds of the lecture by Rev. Dr. Gage at the North church chapel Tuesday evening, Dec. 4th, will go to the building fund for the chapel at the Creek. Dr. Gage has had exceptional opportunities to acquire knowledge of the imperial family of Germany, the Emperor Frederick being a class-mate of his at the university. The lecture will be largely of personal reminiscences of life in Berlin, and cannot fail to be interesting.

The attention of all desiring first-class groceries and Thanksgiving dainties is invited to the advertisement of C. E. Laighton & Son, who are sole agents in this city for the sale of the celebrated Dew Drop canned goods. Whole solid-packed tomatoes, sugar corn, green peas, Lima beans, extra fine peaches all ready for the table, and everything to be found in a first-class grocery. The reputation of this house, earned many years ago, of dealing in the best goods and representing every article exactly as it is, is being fully maintained.

Coal freights to this port from Philadelphia were reported at the close of last week to be $1.60 to $1.70 per ton. Schooner E. & A. Hooper (to go to Dover for discharge) gets $2.25. At Baltimore, freights to this port were quoted at $1.65 to $1.70.

The oyster supper at the North church chapel advertised for last night, was postponed to this (Tuesday) evening.

The New York Herald says "the new play 'Nancy & Co.', produced at Daly's theatre, has made a decided hit. From the rise of the curtain till its final fall there is a bustling, rapid succession of humorous incidents. The plot is just enough complicated to hold the attention of the audience without calling for any mental effort to follow it. The acting is so well distributed among the various characters that each has something clever to do, and everybody in the cast makes the most of his or her opportunities. It would be impossible in brief space to mention the myriad incidents of the piece. The audience was large, and the laughter elicited was literally incessant." At Music hall tomorrow evening; see advertisement. Ticket's at Goodrich's.

The Howard Benevolent society held a meeting last Saturday night and re-elected their old officers for the ensuing year. The society is in a satisfactory financial condition; E. P. Kimball is president, Lewis W. Brewster secretary, and Geo. Annable treasurer.

One Fact

Is worth a column of rhetoric, said an American statesman. It is a fact, established by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from impure state or low condition of the blood. It also overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

The New Brunswick railway has forwarded the past month 85,000 bushels of potatoes to points west of Bangor. Most of them are from Aroostook. The Boston price for Aroostook potatoes is from fifty-five to sixty-five cents. The prices paid to the farmers are $1.00 and $1.25 per barrel.

As a purifier, Ayer's Sarsaparilla acts directly and promptly. A single bottle will prove its merits. Many thousands of people are yearly saved from dangerous fevers by the exercise of a little timely care in cleansing the system by the use of this remedy.

Mrs. William B. Ogden of New York has recently given $25 to the Cottage Hospital.

Happy and Hungry.

For over five years I was a constant sufferer with that most terrible and annoying disease, dyspepsia. After paying out hundreds of dollars, the only medicine I found that would do me any good was Sulphur Bitters. Six bottles cured me. Now I can eat will and am happy and hungry.—Editor.

The taking of testimony on Monday at Manchester before William H. Hackett, Esq., of this city, as special examiner, to be used in the suit of C. C. Campbell against the mayor, aldermen and commonwealth of New York, was continued to Friday, the 30th inst.

A "square meal, three times a day," is your privilege if you judiciously use Laxador, whenever your digestive organs need a toning up.

Nothing better than Dr. Bull's Baby Sytup can be used for the diseases of babyhood. Price only 25 cents. Sold by all druggists.

The Portland company will deliver to the Boston & Maine railroad this week, a very handsome and powerful forty-six ton locomotive. It is numbered 260 and named "Charlestown."

The best and freshest of Thanksgiving supplies, such as Jordan Shelled Almonds, Naples Walnuts, Shellbarks, etc., Table and Cooking Raisins, Glace Fruits, Malaga Grapes, Figs, Washed Currants, Citron, New Cider, Fine Wines, etc., are to be had of John Laighton, No. 1 Market Square.

Alcock's Plasters at Globe Grocery Co.

How to Make $100.

BOSTON, Nov. 26.—Every man woman, boy and girl in New England can have a chance to make $100 by securing a copy of the Boston Daily Globe of next Saturday, Dec. 1st. Order it of your newsdealer today.

Two Hundred Dollars in Gold.

We are authorized by advice received from I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, to say that they have for three years offered poultry raisers, premiums payable in gold coin, for the best results obtained from using Sheridan's Powder to make hens lay. Their object has been to satisfy themselves beyond the shadow of a doubt, that the claim made by them that "Nothing on earth will make hens lay like Sheridan's Powder," was positively true. The hundreds of testimonials sent them from people who have used the powder, prove the statement; so that it seems folly to again offer premiums; but so many persons, especially women who kept a few hens, have made such good showing in former trials, and been beaten by some one else by a slight fraction in average, that in justice they ought to have another trial.

Johnson & Co. have devised a plan this year, to overcome that trouble in a measure, by offering twice as much cash and six times as many gold coin premiums as last year. The larger premium is $50.00. It is well worth trying for. If you miss that, there are twenty-three more chances for some other premium.

But supposing a competitor did not get any premium, they would still have the satisfaction of getting a lot of eggs to sell at a good round price. The retail price for eggs in Boston and New York last year reached as high as 50 to 60 cents per dozen. It pays to use Sheridan's Powder when eggs sell for even 10 cents. One of the competitors last year wrote as follows: "I am well paid in eggs without a premium. I will cheerfully recommend Sheridan's Condition Powder to poultry raisers generally for egg production, and all diseases of hens. I can now say confidently that it will beat anything I ever tried to make hens lay. I was surprised at the end of the eight weeks trial." He was evidently satisfied, and well he might have been; for during eight weeks he got from 30 hens, 1420 eggs, which at the average of prices above would amount to $65.08.

Any person can compete. Johnson & Co. will send full particulars free to anyone, whether they order powder or not.

For 50 cents in stamps, I. S. Johnson & Co., 22 Custom House street, Boston, Mass., will send to any P. O. address two 25-cent packs, five packs for $1.00; or, for $1.20, a 2 1-4 pound can of powder sent postpaid; six cans for $5.00, express prepaid. Send for full particulars.

A Recipe for Sweeping Carpets.

I think I hear the reader making fun of the above heading, and exclaiming "The idea of a recipe for sweeping a carpet!" But that is just what I mean to say. If there is an abomination of domestic life it is the hired girl who will not sweep clean. Of the four girls that I have employed in the last twelve years, only one knew how to sweep well. At the three I was always getting provoked for just this reason; and indeed, one of them gave her notice because I found fault with her for this one thing. After she went I purchased a carpet sweeper and used it myself, until maiden number four was engaged. She was a Yankee, a Vermonter, tall, tough, and terrible as an army with dish cloths. Her name was Celestra, but she pronounced it like "Slasher," and a slasher she was, and is, for still she reigns among us. I did not fancy her at first, and in my heart of hearts, determined that she would never suit me in the world. She came on Monday and washed well, she ironed on Tuesday and magnified the flat irons. Wednesday I sent her into the parlor to sweep, and in a few minutes I went down to oversee her; she had set the carpet sweeper on the mantle-shelf, and was sprinkling my carpet with water that looked as if it had come out of the mop-pail. O, how angry I was. My elegant carpet doused with slops! "O, git out!" Celestra exclaimed, coolly, that'ar won't hurt your floor river!" That was too much, and I told her to consider herself discharged. "Wal!" she said, and went to her room, while I went to mine. At noon when I went to show John where the damage was done, to my suprise I found that that part of the carpet which had been swept was brighter than it had been for months. "What wuz it?" Celestra said when I called on her for an explanation. "Why, nothin', only I put Fearline in the water to lay the dust, jedgin' it wud clean out of the wash tub as well as in it!" And dear reader, she was right, and that is the recipe. It works like a charm, injures no carpet, and is fine—just try it. L. C. M.

Hon. J. F. Briggs of Manchester announces himself a candidate to succeed Hon. Wm. E. Chandler.

DOVER.

MONDAY, Nov. 26th.

The storm which set in early yesterday morning has been one of unusual severity about here. Sidewalks are in almost an impassable condition, the streets are a mixture of snow, ice and water, and it is neither wheeling nor sleighing. Telegraph and telephone poles and wires have suffered greatly. The telephone wires between here and Great Falls are reported to be all down. A small pleasure yacht anchored in the lower river was blown ashore last night, and almost entirely wrecked. At this hour the rain is still falling and the streets nearly deserted. The horse car tracks were cleared off this morning, and cars are now running on time. Much damage to buildings, trees, etc., is reported on the outskirts of the city.

At the republican city caucus held Saturday night B. Frank Nealley was chosen candidate for mayor. There were only two candidates, Mr. Nealley and Mr. Theo. Woodman. The friends of Woodman worked hard, but the majority favored Nealley, and he ran ahead of his opponent some 200 votes.

At the democratic caucus held the same evening, Mr. Aaron Pinkham received the majority of votes cast, and was declared the nominee. The election occurs tomorrow, and much interest is manifested in the result. Mr. Nealley was one of the signers of the famous "nuisance" petition during the recent temperance movement, and it is claimed that this will work against him badly. However, the city is so strongly republican that it will be hard work to defeat him, and we predict his election by a good vote. Mr. Pinkham is a man but little known to most of our citizens.

Eddie Markey, a member of Thatcher, Primrose & West's minstrels, and a resident of this city, was in town yesterday.

Coeur de Lion Castle, No. 2, K. G. E., entertained Supreme Chief J. D. Burns and members of Ivanhoe Castle of Rochester at their hall on Saturday evening. A banquet was given the visitors at the close of the degree work.

Twenty-three ladies have registered, and will vote for the first time tomorrow.

Mr. Joshua Varney still lies very ill at his home on Washington street.

The Daly sisters, in Muldoon's Latest Picnic, are booked at the Opera house Dec. 7th.

Miss Jesse Cauthane, assisted by local talent, will give an entertainment at the Washington street church Dec. 3d.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Rogers took place this forenoon.

Harrison Haley has given a good stove to be set up in the Italian shanty, and the poor fellows are very grateful. Others should follow Mr. Haley's example in aiding them.

Quite a number of sleighs were out this morning. It was good sleighing for a while.

Owing the storm the "No school" signal was given on the fire alarm this morning, and again this afternoon.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Joseph Wentworth took place from her late home this forenoon.

The water commissioners are having trouble with the Irish laborers employed on the water works. The men decline to work until they receive their back pay.

Special Thanksgiving services will be held in nearly all the churches.

What's the matter with—
The Dover Board of Trade?
B. Frank Nealley for mayor?
The Dover police station?
Jonas D. Townsend, Jr., for P. M.?
The present mail carriers?
The most popular military officer?
New hotel on Garrison hill?
Dover B. B. Association?
Dover Toboggan Association?
Chas. E. Stevens for policeman?
New government building?
Avon Dramatic Club? or
The CHRONICLE?
Oh, they're all right. MAC.

Naval Intelligence.

Passed Asst. Engr. J. A. B. Smith and Asst. Engr. W. B. Day are detached from the Atlanta, and placed on waiting orders.

Passed Asst. Engr. W. F. Worthington is ordered from the naval academy to the Atlanta.

Passed Asst. Surgeon W. A. McClurg is detached from the Tallapoosa on the reporting of his relief, and ordered to the Kearsarge.

Asst. Engr. Charles G. Talcott is ordered from the bureau of steam engineering to the Atlanta.

Lieut. Seaton Schroeder is detached from the Richmond, and ordered to special duty connected with the dynamite gun cruiser Vesuvius.

Lieut. Nathan E. Niles is detached from the torpedo station, and ordered to the Atlanta.

Lieuts. J. K. Cogswell, C. P. Rees and A. W. Dodd, Ensigns N. J. L. T. Hall, pine and H. B. Ashmore and Passed Asst. Surgeon Arthur C. Heffenger, are detached from the Kearsarge on her arrival at Montevideo, and ordered to the Tallapoosa.

Lieuts. C. F. Norton, F. H. Sherman and J. N. Jordan, and Ensign A. L. Hall, are detached from the Tallapoosa on the arrival of the Kearsarge, and ordered to the latter vessel.

Lieut. Nathan Sargent is detached from the Lancaster, European station, and ordered to special duty as naval attache to the American legations at Rome and Vienna.

Two bankers of Valaparaiso, Neb., have run away with pretty much the whole bank, and more.

Carl Rankin, a well known minstrel, formerly with Thatcher, Primrose & West, died in Philadelphia the 25th inst.

MARRIED.

NUTTER—BROWN. In Farmington, Nov. 23d, J. [illegible] Nutter and Ella M. Brown.

BERRY—WORKS. In Farmington, Nov. 23d, George H. Berry and Emma L. Works.

DIED.

CLOUGH. In this city, Nov. 24th, of consumption, Edward B. Clough, son of Elijah and Azuba Clough, aged 29 years, 7 months and 21 days.

☞ Funeral Wednesday, Nov. 28th, at 12 o'clock noon, at the residence of his father on Middle road.

KILHAM. At Hotel Westland, Boston, Nov. 22d, A. D. Kilham, aged 48 years and 15 days, brother of Mrs. Olive P. Hatch and Mrs. J. L. Martin of this city.

JACKSON. In Boston, Nov. 24th, Howard L. Jackson, Jr., aged 12 years and 4 months.

LOWELL. In Boston, Nov. 20th, Thomas S Lowell, aged 42 years.

MARINE CHRONICLE.

PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

ARRIVED Nov. 25th.

Sch Viking, Church, Baltimore, coal.

Schs W F Miller, Donnell, from Cape Neddick, and Clara B Kennard, Freeman, from this port, arr at Boston 24th.

Sch Chas E Balch, ——, hence arr at Newport News 23d.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Sold only in cans, full weight.

CLEVELAND BROTHERS, ALBANY, N. Y.

THACHER'S ELIXIR

CALISAYA & IRON,

The Best Tonic, Appetizer and Blood Purifier Known.

PRICE, $1.00 A BOTTLE.

Manufactured and Sold Only By

BENJAMIN GREEN,

APOTHECARY,

(Successor to J. H. Thacher,)

No. 12 Market Square

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. 6s

INVESTMENTS!

Real Estate First Mortgage Bonds,

Both City and Farm, Bearing Interest at the Rate of

6%, 7% and 8%,

Principal and Interest Guaranteed.

Debenture Bonds of the New Hampshire Trust Co. of Manchester, 6%.

Debenture Bonds of the Dakota Loan & Trust Co. of Watertown, Dakota, 6%.

Municipal, County and School Bonds, 6%.

Short Time Paper, Endorsed by the Com. State Bank, Minneapolis, Kansas, 8%.

Not one single Security that I have placed is, or has been, in default. Every dollar of principal and interest has been paid promptly, and many thousand dollars of Farm and City Loans and Short Time Paper has been paid before the principal and interest became due.

☞ Any information desired will be furnished by circular, pamphlet or personally.

JOHN LAIGHTON,

No. 1 Market Square.

Skates

AND

Sleigh Bells.

PRYOR & MATTHEWS,

16 Market St.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO. 106 Wall Street, New York.

Pierce & Guptill,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW.

No. 3 Market Square, Portsmouth, N. H.

☞ Special attention given to Collecting.

MUSIC HALL.

ONE NIGHT ONLY

Wednesday, Nov. 28th.

SPECIAL ENGAGEMENT!

Arthur Rehan's Co. of Comedians

IN THE COMEDY SUCCESS

NANCY & CO.!

From Daly's Theatre, New York.

An Evening of Delightful Comedy and Undeclared Merriment.

Prices, 35, 50, 75 Cents, and $1.00.

Seats on Sale Monday, Nov. 26th, at Goodrich's Book Store.

Now is the Time to Look Over Your Wardrobe and See What You Need for Winter, and

SIMPSON'S CORNER STORE

Is the place where you can find everything you need in Gentlemen's Wear, at Remarkably Low Prices, for Cash.

WE HAVE A FULL LINE OF

OVERCOATS!

Ranging in Prices from $5 to $25.

A NEW LOT OF

ULSTERS!

From $6 to $20.

A FINE ASSORTMENT OF

UNDERWEAR,

Including the Celebrated CAMEL'S HAIR for the Health.

Cardigan Jackets,

Blue and Fancy Over-Shirts.

(In these Goods we can Fit the Largest Man.)

A FINE ASSORTMENT OF

FURNISHING GOODS,

☞ Headquarters for OIL and RUBBER CLOTHING, Wholesale and Retail.

Come and See for Yourselves at the Old Stand,

Corner Market and Bow Streets,

CHARLES E. SIMPSON.

EDWARD D. COFFIN,

SHERIFF ROCKINGHAM CO. AND U. S. DEPUTY MARSHAL.

Office at No. 3 Market Square, And at the Jail.

Will be at Insley & Moore's Ins. Office at 9 A. M and 4 o'clock P. M.

(TELEPHONE AT THE JAIL).

BOOK BINDING

Of Every Desciption,

DONE AT

NO. 5 CONGRESS STREET,

(OVER FAY'S STORE.)

Magazines and other Periodicals Bound in Styles to Suit Patrons; Especial Attention given to

REBINDING OLD BOOKS!

For Libraries or Individuals; in short, any work of the kind promptly attended to, and satisfaction guaranteed. ☞ Prices reasonable.

JOHN D. RANDALL.

THE OLDEST AND ONLY Republican Morning Paper IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

IF YOU WANT TO BUY OR SELL ANYTHING ADVERTISE IN THE Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 24, 1852. | PORTSMOUTH, N. H., WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 28, 1888. | $5 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE. TWO CENTS PER COPY.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

The News!

ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES.

A Letter From Gen. Harrison. Not Unfriendly to the South. Some Good Advice.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

GREENVILLE, S. C., Nov. 27.—The Greenville Daily News today prints a letter recently received by its editor from General Harrison, and published by his permission. It was written in reply to a letter urging that the southern commercial interests would be free from obstruction caused by doubts and fears regarding the southern policy of the coming administration, if General Harrison would make some general assurances of his purpose to follow a conservative course toward the south, and is as follows:

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Nov. 14.—To A. B. Williams, Esq., Greenville, S. C. My Dear Sir.—Your letter of Nov. 10 has been received. I am not ready to make any public utterances upon any public question. Every day I am solicited by special correspondents of the press to speak upon this subject or that, but I have invariably declined, and to your appeal for some expression upon the question that interests you, I must, for the present, make the same answer.

I understand that you have yourself been satisfied with the expressions made by me in my public utterances to visiting delegations during the campaign. When the surprise and disappointment which some of your people have felt over the result has passed away, and they give some calm thought to the situation, I think they will be as much surprised as I am that they should in thought, or speech, impute to me unfriendliness toward the south. The policies in legislation advised by the republican party, I believe, are wholesome for the whole country, and if those who in their hearts believe with us upon these questions, would act with us, some other questions that give you local concern would settle themselves.

Very truly yours,
BENJ. HARRISON.

A Break In the Grand Army.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Nov. 27.—About 1200 democratic veterans, members of the G. A. R. posts scattered over this state held a meeting at the Capital building last night, at which it was resolved that every democratic member of the G. A. R. should abandon the order, and all present pledged themselves to withdraw from their posts. Adjutant General Koontz presided. A name and constitution for the new order were proposed by democratic veterans, and adopted. The new order is to be charitable and non-political. Similar meetings are to be held all over the states. Letters received from men in eight states indicate that the movement is national.

What's the Matter With Dover!

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

DOVER, N. H., Nov. 27.—Hon. B. Frank Nealley (rep.) was elected mayor today by 71 plurality over Aaron Pinkham, (dem.) The republicans elect eight out of ten aldermen.

Dartmouth College.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 27.—S. C. Bartlett, president of Dartmouth college, and wife, leave for California immediately for his health. He is expected to return next June. Prof. H. E. Parker, who takes his place while he is absent, as Hardy professor of mathematics, sails soon for Europe for an indefinite stay.

Turkey for Dinner.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—In accordance with his usual custom, Secretary Whitney today presented each of the four hundred employees of the navy department with a large turkey for their Thanksgiving dinner.

Suit for Big Damages.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27th.—A suit to recover $350,000 damages from the Gatling Gun company of Hartford, Conn., was begun in the U. S. Circuit court today by Charles Colne and Edward H. Carmicke of this city, for alleged loss by breach of contract by the company.

The U. S. S. Boston.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Although every effort was made to save the life of Surgeon Simon of the U. S. S. Boston, he succumbed to the attack of yellow fever, and died last night. He was visited by Surgeon Ayres of the Galena, and Surgeon Alcott of the U. S. S. Atlanta, who with Surgeon Lumsden did everything to save Surgeon Simon's life. The officers of the Boston do not know yet what disposition will be made of the ship. She will not be sent to sea again this winter, and it is believed that the Navy Department will order the Boston to some northern port, to freeze out, if possible, all germs of yellow fever. The talk is that she may go to the Portsmouth navy yard.

Official Count of Indiana.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 27.—The official canvass of the presidential vote of Indiana, completed tonight, shows Harrison's plurality to be 2348. Gen. Hovey's plurality for governor is 2200.

Re-Elected.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 27.—Henry R. Becker, rep., was re-elected mayor today by 2552 majority.

A "Clean Bill."

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA, Nov. 27.—For the first time in 112 days, a clean bill; "no new cases, no deaths."

Duel in Central Park.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YOYK, Nov. 27.—The police have proof that a duel was fought with pistols in Central park Thursday night, about a lady, and one man wounded.

The Next British Minister.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The Tribune has the following special:

LONDON, Nov. 27.—It is now definitely settled Mr. Edwardes does not return to the post of first secretary of the Washington legation. Mr. Herbert will remain as charge d'affaires until after General Harrison's inauguration, when, it is all but certain, Sir Francis Clare Ford will go out as minister. Lord Sackville's name is mentioned in connection with a colonial governorship.

Bad For Mulverhill.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

AUGUSTA, ME., Nov. 27.—The verdict in the coroner's inquest held today over the case of C. A. Luce, who was knocked down by a young rough named Mulverhill, alias "Muldoon," last Sunday, from the effects of which he died Monday afternoon, is that Luce came to his death from the injuries received at the hands of Mulverhill.

Union Men Locked Out.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The boss ale and porter brewers of New York and New Jersey have decided to lock out all union men, and employ only non-union men, tomorrow, because of the continued boycott on Stevenson's brewery in this city.

A Significant Conversation with the Pope.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—The Daily News says it learns from official sources that in the recent interview between the Pope and Count Herbert Bismarck the former remarked: "If the events of 1870 had depended upon me everything would have been speedily arranged. Now, after the lapse of so much time, it is more difficult, but I shall regain the time lost." Count Herbert replied: "God has not made it possible for a man to recall a single moment of his existence, and your Holiness wishes to recall 18 years."

A Blow Up.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 27.—A queer accident occurred here yesterday. Two negro draymen attempted to load a carboy of vitrol, from the New York steamship, upon their dray. They got the package upon the dray, when it exploded, enveloping in flames the two draymen and the mule's tail and hind legs, scattering the fire in every direction. The men and the mule jumped into the water, and were fished out after the salt water had extinguished the flames. The men are dangerously injured, and the mule lost all the hair off his tail.

Trains Delayed.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

AUGUSTA, ME., Nov. 27.—There was a landslide on the Maine Central track near Riverside this evening, which delayed the night trains an hour.

Maine Republicans Enjoy Themselves.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

PORTLAND, Nov. 27. — The Portland club gave a supper at their rooms tonight, to Governor-elect Burleigh. One hundred and fifty persons were present, including the members of the club and their guests. Among those who spoke were Mr. Burleigh, Hon. Thomas B. Reed, Hon. Nelson Dingley, Jr., and Hon. Charles A. Boutelle. The speakers referred prominently to incidents of the late campaign, and congratulations on the great republican victory were frequent.

Inspecting the Records.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

THOMASTON, ME., Nov. 27.—Messrs. Hunt, Carter and Rand, the committee on pardons, etc., of the Governor's council, are visiting the Maine State prison and looking over the books of the institution. McGillicuddy, the Lewiston homicide, is in very feeble health; he is an old man, 72 years of age, and is in the prison hospital.

A Noted Mechanic Drowned.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

ST. JOHNSBURY, VT., Nov. 27.—John Belknapp, aged 48, was drowned in the Passumpsic river about five o'clock tonight. Belknapp was one of the company engaged in building a dam across the Passumpsic river about two miles below here. The dam was completed, and water let into it today. Belknapp went out in a boat to secure timbers and was capsized and carried over the dam. Belknapp was one of the most skillful mechanics in this section, and was known from Vermont to California. He leaves a widow and one son.

Gigantic Railway Scheme.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CHICAGO, ILL., Nov. 27.—The morning papers say the result of the conferences held at New York during several weeks past between Jay Gould, C. P. Huntington, Charles Francis Adams, W. B. Strong, Chairman Midgeley of the Southwestern Railway Association, and other railroad magnates interested in Western roads, is the formation of a gigantic railroad "trust," comprising all roads between points west of Chicago and Milwaukee, east of St. Paul and Minneapolis, north of Colorado, New Mexico and Wyoming. All existing freight and passenger arrangements within the limits named are to be abolished, and merged in the new trust. There will be an executive board of three to manage the affairs of the scheme. It is understood that the chairman will be Midgeley, who under the terms of agreement will be a greater man than Commissioner Fink, virtually having full control and management as far as office affairs are concerned, of all roads between Chicago and the Rocky mountains.

Fires.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LANCASTER, N. H., Nov. 27.—Last night three barns belonging to Ben. Moulton were burned, with their contents; cause unknown. Loss, $2,200; insured for $1,000.

At Jefferson Meadows last night the dwelling house of George Berry was burned, together with all household goods, etc. Loss, $1,200; insured for $700.

Notes of the Great Storm.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

BOSTON, Nov. 27.—Boston's telephone service is in a bad condition. Only about 600 Boston wires of the New England Telephone Company out of 3000 are now working.

The Long Distance Telephone Company has only one wire in order—that which extends to New York.

This morning the Western Union Telegraph Company obtained several more wires to New York, besides a clear wire to Chicago and another to St. John. It has no wires to Cape Cod, and the southern system is in a poor condition. The lines are being rapidly repaired.

The United Line Company claims that all its lines are in good working order.

ROCKLAND, ME., Nov. 27.—The schooner Golden Eagle went ashore near Owl's Head on Monday afternoon, and is a total loss. She was bound from here to Gouldsboro. The wreckage was sold for $25.

BLOCK ISLAND, R. I., Nov. 27.—Barkentine Alexander Campbell sank six miles off here today; mastheads fifteen feet out of water; crew landed in boats.

BOSTON, Nov. 27.—Steamer Scythian, from Liverpool, this morning passed in Boston bay schooner A. L. Morrison of Newburyport, wrecked, sinking and abandoned.

ROCKLAND, ME., Nov. 27.—The schooner Willie Martin, loaded with lumber from Bangor, went ashore on Dix island, near Whitehead, this morning. The cargo will be discharged, and she will probably come off but slightly damaged.

FOREIGN.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Nov. 27.—William Beach and Edward Hanlon rowed a race on the Paramatta river today for £500. Beach won.

LONDON, Nov. 27th.—A despach from Whitby says a life-boat upset there at three o'clock today, and twelve persons were drowned.

ROME, Nov. 27.—The Senate today rejected by a vote of 75 to 28 a proposal to give illiterate persons the right to vote at elections for local administrative officials.

DOVER.

TUESDAY, Nov. 27th.

And still it rains and still it blows, and still we paddle around in the mud,—and there's no mud like Dover mud. A cold, drizzling rain has been falling all day, with good prospects of "a night of it." Much further damage is reported all over the city. Trees, and in many places sheds and outbuildings have been blown down, and travelling is almost an impossibility. The globes on the electric street lights were blown off last night in many places, and demolished. Linemen have had a hard time of it to keep the telephone wires in condition. No such storm has been known here for years. Even the "oldest inhabitant" jobs up serenely and says he can't recollect anything like it. Verily Mr. Greely is "letting 'er go" in good shape.

Well, hasn't this been a tough one for election day? All day long at the voting places has been very quiet, and a small vote has been polled. Nealley, the republican candidate, is elected mayor, although the rainy weather was very favorable for democratic success.

In wards one, two, three and four, both republican aldermen and councilmen are elected. In ward five the contest for aldermen has been very warm, but Messrs. Cash and McDonough have probably got there. Much scratching has been done on the republican ticket, owing to Mr. Nealley's views on the temperance question. Altogether it has been a remarkably quiet town meeting.

Mr. John S. Stackpole, gate tender at the depot, had a very narrow escape from instant death last evening. While engaged in shovelling snow from the crossing he failed to notice the approach of an engine, and was struck by the cowcatcher and thrown a number of feet, and fell, breaking two ribs. He was conveyed to his home on Orchard street, and is resting comfortably today.

Mr. Jos. Pierce has severed his connection with the Republican as city editor. He will be succeeded by Mr. D. L. Pinkham, a bright young newspaper writer.

A number of young men about town are arranging for a dance and sunlight party in Walker hall on Thanksgiving afternoon. Messrs. H. N. Hilliard, Abe. N. Bernstein and Jas. F. Gallagher have the matter in charge.

Col. A. T. Pierce will entertain a number of the Amoskeag Veterans of Manchester, who are coming down to take in the Strafford Guards' Ball Thanksgiving eve.

Prof. Fred D. Smart is clerking at the new electric light office.

A drunken man fell through Sterns' dry goods store window this afternoon.

This has been a bad day for the lady voters. But four of them got out.

A son of Officer Wilkinson fell through the ice at Sawyer's yesterday, and narrowly escaped drowning.

The Manchester police have collected $600 for the purpose of buying turkeys for the poor on Thanksgiving. Now let the Dover "cops" follow suit.

Sawyer Rifles have an important meeting tonight.

John H. Moulton has gone to North Carolina for the benefit of his health.

Who said that some one tampered with the ward two count at the recent caucus?

Pinkham would be our next mayor?

Rev. F. K. Chase would be the next city marshal?

It would clear off today? MAC.

AFFAIRS IN KITERY.

KITTERY, ME., Nov. 27th.

The republican celebration which took place last Thursday evening was not so well attended as it would have been had it come off earlier. Every one was tired of waiting, and then it was too cold a night to walk fifteen miles over rough roads. How much better satisfied all would have been if the managers of the affair had arranged for a ball and supper in the hall.

The repairs on the navy yard bridge are nearly completed, and will be finished before the ides of March, in season for the republicans to "go on."

Mr. John B. Trefethen will open the first assembly in Trefethen hall on Thursday evening, the 29th; music by Medcalf's orchestra.

A company of ladies from Portsmouth, members of Storer Relief Corps, G. A. R., visited Mrs. Samuel Caban, one of their members, at her home in North Kittery on Thursday evening last, going over and back in barges; they all report a first class time.

And now some of the democrats are saying that they were "intending to leave the yard in the spring, anyway!"

Rev. J. B. Lapham will deliver a lecture on the origin of Thanksgiving at the Second Christian church Thursday evening; it will be a union service.

The Rice Public library building is fast being completed; from the top of its tower a good view of the surrounding country may be obtained. SUE ROSA.

We are Sole Agents in Portsmouth for the Celebrated

DEW DROP!

CANNED GOODS.

Whole Solid Packed

TOMATOES!

(ALSO IN GLASS.)

First Quality

SUGAR CORN!

Early June and Sifted

PEAS!

Lima Beans.

Sliced Sugared, White and Extra Yellow and Extra White Heath Table

PEACES.

The Above Goods are Full Weight, are Very Carefully Packed and of Superior Quality.

— OUR STOCK OF —

THANKSGIVING

Goods is Complete, and those in quest of FINE Goods are Invited to Examine the Same.

CHARLES E. LAIGHTON & SON,
5 EXCHANGE BUILDINGS,
OPPOSITE POST-OFFICE.

LOOK AT THIS

Heavy, Substantial Cooking Range,

"THE ALMONER."

Plain for $16.00, Worth $25.00

To anyone in need of a First Class Range this name this before purchasing elsewhere.

— ALSO A FULL LINE OF —

MAGEE FURNACES, RANGES & STOVES.

Plumbing, Gas Fitting, Tin and Sheet Iron Work of All Kinds.

C. W. TAYLOR.
42 & 44 MARKET STREET.

ILSLEY & MOORE,

Fire Life and Accident Insurance Agents and Brokers No. 3 Pleasant St., Portsmouth N. H.

NOTICE:—The undersigned gives notice to all whom it may concern, that he has purchased from the senior member of the old firm of MORSE & ILSLEY, all rights to the Fire Insurance Business heretofore carried on by that firm, and is duly authorized by all the Companies represented by them to have and hold all their records. WINGATE N. ILSLEY.

Facilities for placing the largest lines of Fire Insurance in the best Companies.

Agents for the Equitable Life Ins. Society of the U. S. New England Mutual Life Ins. Co. of Boston, Mass., and the Fidelity & Casualty Ins. Co., of New York.

PRESTON'S SORE MOUTH WASH.
Valuable in cases of Canker, Ulcerated Gums, and Sore Throat.

PRESTON'S GLYCERINE LOTION.
The reliable preparation for Chapped Hands, Sore Lips, and all Roughness of the Skin caused by exposure to the elements.

PRESTON'S TOOTH ACHE DROPS.
A bottle should be in every household.

PRESTON'S KLENZINE
Will readily cleanse the most delicate fabric.

ANDREW P. PRESTON,
Apothecary, - - Portsmouth, N. H.

Marigold Ointment!

Remember is Warranted for External Piles, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Nettle Rash, Hives, and all Diseases of the Skin and Scalp, Old Sores, Chilblains, Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Chapped Hands, Cold Sores, Cracks in Hands and Lips, Ingrowing Nails, Inflamed Joints, and everything else for which an Ointment is required.

Call for Circular and Sample Box Free.

— SOLE AGENT FOR ROCKINGHAM COUNTY —

William D. Grace, - - - Apothecary.
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE BEST BONDS ARE POLICIES

— IN THE —

Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York

THE LARGEST, CHEAPEST AND BEST IN THE WORLD.

Assets - - over $120,000,000.

RICHARD A. MCCURDY, - PRESIDENT.

PROTECTION FOR THE AGED!

At Age of 75 $1000 will purchase an Annuity of $159.06, and other ages in proportion.

These Desiring Reliable Insurance Should Apply to the Undersigned,

C. M. GIGNOUX, - - GENERAL AGENT,
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

NEW JEWELRY

— AND —

SILVER GOODS

— AT —

HUTCHINSON'S.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE
The three-story (above the grade floor)
BRICK STORE BUILDING
NO. 16 BOW STREET,
Running back over the wharf to the river, occupied for a long time by the late Charles Robinson as a wholesale corn and flour store. Sold to close up an estate. Enquire of
J. F. MORSE, Real Estate Broker.

New Store. New Goods.

JOHN S. RAND,
No. 11 Market Street.

Would respectfully announce that he will resume business on

Wednesday Next, Nov. 21st,

His store having been remodelled and refitted, making it one of the most attractive and best lighted in the city. In addition to his former stock he has added a large assortment of

FALL & WINTER

Dry and Fancy Goods!

purchased with a desire to suit the wants of customers, and which will be offered at prices that cannot fail to please.

Our present space enables us to add materially to our variety, and we shall therefore keep a good assortment of which will be sold at the lowest prices. Thanking friends and the public for their former patronage we would most respectfully solicit a continuance of the same.

Ladies' Small Wares

JOHN S. RAND,
11 MARKET STREET

BURNETT'S
PERFECTLY PURE HIGHLY CONCENTRATED
Standard Flavoring
EXTRACTS

The superiority of these Extracts consist in their

Perfect Purity and Great Strength.

NOTICE!

FALL

— AND —

WINTER STYLES

NOW READY!

— AT —

MRS. TEBBETTS',
NO. 14 MARKET STREET.

USE NETTEZZA!

FOR THE TEETH.

PREPARED BY E. C. BLAISDELL, D. M. D.

Price 25 Cents.

— FOR SALE BY —

A. P. PRESTON, D. KIMBALL & CO., W. D. GRACE, F. B. COLEMAN AND BENJ. GREEN.

The Portsmouth Daily Chronicle,

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 2, 1862.

Published every morning, except Sunday, at No. 7 Exchange Building, Pleasant Street.

☞ By mail, postage prepaid, $5 a year. Single Copies, Two Cents.

THE CHRONICLE is served to subscribers in Portsmouth, Kittery, Dover, Rochester and Farmington at 50 Cents per month, hours in advance of any other paper containing the Associated Press Despatches.

The New Hampshire Gazette,

ESTABLISHED OCT. 7, 1756.

The Oldest Newspaper in America. Published every Thursday.

Terms, $1.50 a year in advance.]

[Entered at the Post Office at Portsmouth as second class matter.]

W. SCOTT SMITH,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

☞ Rates of advertising made known on application.

Agents for the Daily Chronicle:

MOSES BROS.....PORTSMOUTH.
ROBERTS & AVERY.....FARMINGTON
WORCESTER & GREENFIELD..ROCHESTER
BROWNE BROS.....DOVER.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 28, 1888.

Reports from all along the Atlantic coast tell of the bravery and heroism exhibited by the crews of the life-saving service on Sunday and Monday. Never was the efficiency of this splendid service more strongly shown than during these two awful days, when so many gallant sailors went to watery graves, and the country owes a debt of lasting gratitude to Mr. Sumner I. Kimball, the present chief and founder of this humane work, for the splendid results of his hard labors. In no single case yet reported, was there any loss of life when it was possible for the life saving crews to establish communication with the wrecked vessels. In all they saved from drowning nearly if not quite two hundred lives, and the brave men took their lives in their hands as they with alacrity entered upon their work. The good accomplished in these two days more than pays for all the money required to keep the service in operation.

The Kansas legislature has inaugurated a measure of reform which sooner or later the legislatures of other states must take up and enact into law, and that is legislation looking to the abolition of fees to the sleeping car porters. The Pullman Sleeping Car company is as big and oppressive a monopoly as exists in the United States to-day. Its charges for the service performed are simply extortion, and then when it compels the travellers to pay the wages of its porters it is adding insult to injury. If the state has the right to regulate the fares charged on the railroads, it certainly possesses the same legal power to put its hand on the Pullman monopoly and stop its blackmailing, for such it amounts to.

Gen. Greely, chief signal officer, comes in just now for some very sharp criticism on the part of the fault finding public, for failing to give any prediction of the recent severe storm. Instead of the "warmer fair weather" which the probabilities gave us for Saturday and Sunday, we had one of the severest storms known on the Atlantic coast for many years. Yet we are not disposed to carp and assert that this signal service business is a failure. In the main the probabilities are usually very correct, and we think it but justice that Gen. Greely should not be held to accountability for every mistake made by his subordinates.

It is not generally known that Congress at the late session passed a law to remedy a defect in the U. S. law of Feb. 3, 1887, regarding the time of meeting of electors in the several States. The new law, which of course supercedes all State laws, directs that the electors of the several States shall meet and cast their votes on the second Monday in January and transmit the certificates and lists forthwith thereafter to the President of the Senate.

An election in New York city costs $220,000 and this fact makes New Yorkers hesitate about holding their city election in the spring, as some of the newspapers are advocating should be done in order to divest it from national politics.

President Cleveland will eat his Thanksgiving turkey at "Oak View." It will be a grim Thanksgiving to him, and when he thinks of November 6th, he will be puzzled to decide what he has to be thankful for

The effects of the Murchison letter were not included in the recent sale of Lord Sackville's effects.—Boston Traveller.

A correspondent says that while deer stalking with the Emperor of Austria in Styria, the Prince of Wales missed five stags, at which His Imperial Majesty, who is a dead shot, nearly wept. After the Prince had gone to Hungary, a keeper was sent to him with a set of antlers belonging to a stag which the Prince was supposed to have shot, but H. R. H. laughed, and said good-numoredly: "No, it's of no use telling me I shot anything, for I didn't. But I'll keep the antlers as a souvenir of the Emperor's prowess.' So the story goes.

THE DANGER OF OVERDOING THE CHRISTMAS PRESENTS.—It would be the pity of the world to destroy it, because it would be next to impossible to make another holiday as good as Christmas. Perhaps there is no danger, but the American people have developed an unexpected capacity for destroying things; they can destroy anything. They have even invented a phrase for it—running a thing into the ground. They have perfected the art of making so much of a thing as to kill it; they can magnify a man or a recreation or an institution to death. And they do it with such a hearty good-will and enjoyment. Their motto is that you cannot have too much of a good thing. They almost made funerals unpopular by over-elaboration and display, especially what are called public funerals, in which an effort is made to confer great distinction on the dead. So far has it been carried often that there has been a reaction of popular sentiment, and people have wished the man were alive. We prosecute everything so vigorously that we speedily either wear it out or wear ourselves out on it, whether it is a game, or a festival, or a holiday. We can use up any sport or game ever invented quicker than any other people. We can practice anything, like vegetable diet, for instance, to an absurd conclusion with more vim than any other nation. This trait has its advantages; nowhere else will a delusion run so fast, and so soon run up a tree—another one of our happy phrases. There is a largeness and exuberance about us which run even into our ordinary phraseology. The sympathetic clergyman, coming from the bedside of a parishioner dying of dropsy, says, with a heavy sigh, "The poor fellow is just swelling away."

Is Christmas swelling away? If it is not, it is scarcely our fault. Since the American nation fairly got hold of the holiday—in some parts of the country, as New England, it has been universal only about fifty years—we have made it hum, as we like to say. We have appropriated the English conviviality, the German simplicity, the Roman pomp, and we have added to it an element of expense in keeping with our own greatness. Is anybody beginning to feel it a burden, this sweet festival of charity and good-will, and to look forward to it with apprehension? Is the time approaching when we shall want to get somebody to play it for us, like base-ball? Anything that interrupts the ordinary flow of life, introduces into it, in short, a social cyclone that upsets everything for a fortnight, may in time be as hard to bear as that festival of housewives called house-cleaning, that riot of cleanliness which men fear as they do a panic in business. Taking into account the present preparations for Christmas, and the time it takes to recover from it, we are beginning—are we not?—to consider it one of the most serious events of modern life.

The Drawer is led into these observations out of its love for Christmas. It is impossible to conceive of any holiday that could take its place, nor indeed would it seem that human wit could invent another so adapted to humanity. The obvious intention of it is to bring together, for a season at least, all men in the exercise of a common charity and a feeling of good-will, the poor and the rich, the successful and the unfortunate, that all the world may feel that in the time called the Truce of God the thing common to all men is the best thing in life. How will it suit this intention, then, if in our way of exaggerated ostentation of charity the distinction between the rich and poor is made to appear more marked than on ordinary days? Blessed are those that expect nothing. But are there not an increasing multitude of persons in the United States who have the most exaggerated expectations of personal profit on Christmas day? Perhaps it is not quite so bad as this, but it is safe to say that what the children alone expect to receive, in money value, would absorb the national surplus, about which so much fuss is made. There is really no objection to this—the terror of the surplus is a sort of nightmare in the country—except that it destroys the simplicity of the festival, and belittles small offerings that have their chief value in affection. And it points inevitably to the creation of a sort of Christmas "Trust"—the modern escape out of ruinous competition. When the expense of our annual charity becomes so great that the poor are discouraged from sharing in it, and the rich even feel it a burden, there would seem to be no way but the establishment of neighborhood "Trusts," in order to equalize both cost and distribution. Each family could buy a share according to its means, and the division on Christmas day would create a universal satisfaction in profit sharing—that is, the rich would get as much as the poor, and the rivalry of ostentation would be quieted. Perhaps with the money question a little subdued, and the female anxieties of the festival allayed, there should be more room for the development of that sweet spirit of brotherly kindness, or all-embracing charity, which we know underlies this best festival of all the ages. Is this an old sermon? The Drawer trusts that it is, for there can be nothing new in the preaching of simplicity.—CHARLES DUDLEY WARNER, in Harper's Magazine for December.

The Governor of Florida in referring to the Thanksgiving proclamation speaks also of the munificent charity shown by the people of this great brotherhood of States, that has served to knit the bonds of unity in our common country. "We have all sympathized with the sufferers in the Flowery State, whose gratitude for relief from the plague is so well expressed by Governor Perry.

The New York Sun refers to the "humiliating results of Mr. Bayard's policy with regard to the affairs" of Samoan politics.

IF YOU WANT
To Save Two Dollars
ON EVERY BARREL OF FLOUR, USE
Horsford's Bread Preparation.
It costs less than one cent to raise a pound of flour with Horsford's, while with common baking powders the cost is two cents.

"1888" OPENING OF "1888"

FALL AND WINTER DRY GOODS

At the Well-Known Store,

NOS. 30 and 32 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH.

Ayers & Locke, Proprietors,

Can be found the Largest Assortment of
SEASONABLE DRY GOODS MERCHANDISE.
LARGEST ASSORTMENT OF OUTSIDE GARMENTS.
For Ladies, Misses and Children,
New Goods of this Season's Manufacture.
All are Invited to Examine
OUR STOCK OF CLOAKS !
BeforePurchasing Elsewhere.

Silk and Gloria RAIN UMBRELLAS! Ladies' Gossamers.

THE F. P. ROBINSON CO. BLACK STOCKINGS.

"CLEANFAST" NONE ARE GENUINE WITHOUT THIS TRADE MARK ON EACH PAIR.

Mohair and Gingham RAIN UMBRELLAS! Children's Gossamers.

Largest Assortment of Dress Goods in Portsmouth.

In fact, the Best Assortment in their Line of everything pertaining to a
FIRST-CLASS STOCK OF DRY GOODS.
NEW CARPETS! NEW CARPETS!
HOUSEKEEPING GOODS! &C.
SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS IN OUR UNDEWEARR DEPARTMENT.
Small Wares, Trimmings, Ribbons, Gloves.
Yarns, Knitting Silks, &c.
Corsets, Bustles, &c.
Largest Assortment of Fall and Winter Skirts in all the Desirable Fabrics
Which they are desirous of exchanging for Cash on a basis for value that will compare favorably with Boston and New York prices.

AYERS & LOCKE.

EASTERN OFFICE OF
Kansas City Investment Co.,
OVER FIRST NATIONAL BANK, PORTSMOUTH.
CITY MORTGAGES, FARM MORTGAGES,
DEBENTURE BONDS, REAL ESTATE LOANS.
☞ INTEREST PAYABLE FREE AT MATURITY. ☜
W. G. MYERS V. P.

FALL AND WINTER OF 1888-89.

Our Assortment of Tailoring Goods is superior in many respects to any of previous years, embracing a Full Line of Goods suitable for
Fall and Winter Overcoatings.
Aslo, a Fine Assortment of the Best
IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC GOODS FOR SUITINGS,
Consisting of Stripes, Checks, Plain and Fancy Woollens and Worsteds in Great Variety.
CHECKS AND STRIPES FOR TROWSERS.
FANCY PATTERNS FOR VESTING.
Prices Reasonable for Fine Work.

WM. P. WALKER, - - MERCHANT TAILOR,
NO. 8 MARKET SQUARE.

You can lend a hundred dollars at seven per cent and have about as secure an investment as any; and have no care of it.
You can lend a million, if you have so much, in little bits; and have no trouble with it.
Write for particulars.
THE KANSAS CITY INVESTMENT COMPANY, Kansas City, Missouri; or Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

$100,000
Janesville, Wis., Water Co.
First Mortgage 6% Bonds.
DUE AUGUST 1, 1907.
Secured by a Sinking Fund. Descriptive Circulars furnished on application.
Brewster, Cobb & Estabrook,
35 Congress St., Boston.

Insurance Notice.
THE OLD INSURANCE AGENCY,
AT THE OLD STAND,
No. 13 Pleasant Street,
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.
JOSEPH P. MORSE,

25 CORDS
DRY PINE LIMBS!
At $3.50 Per Cord.
☞ The Very Best of Fuel at a Low Price.
O. F. PHILBRICK & CO.,
COAL AND WOOD DEALERS,
4 Water Street.

WOOD AND COAL!
A Good Assortment of all kinds of Wood and Coal.
Kindling Wood Split to Order.
ALSO
Akron Drain and Sewer Pipe.
NO. 13 GREEN STREET,
DANIEL LITTLEFIEL

Furnaces, Ranges & Stoves.
We are now ready to show the Finest Line of
RANGES AND PARLOR STOVES
Ever offered in this city, at Prices within the reach of all. Call and See Them Before Buying, it will Pay You.
LAMPS!
LAMPS!
Our Stock of Lamps is Complete, the
Lux Dux, Rochester, Banner, Duplex,
All First-Class, and will be Sold at the Lowest Prices.
PLUMBING, GAS PIPING, COPPER AND SHEET IRONWORK, AT
John P. Sweetser's,
46 MARKET STREET.

COAL! COAL!
Finest Grades, well prepared for Domestic Purposes, constantly Arriving and for Sale at Lowest Prices.
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.
J. ALBERT WALKER
Portsmouth Coal Pockets.

PAST ALL PRECEDENT!
OVER TWO MILLIONS DISTRIBUTED.
L. S. L.
Louisiana State Lottery Company.
Incorporated by the Legislature in 1868, for Educational and Charitable purposes, and its franchise made a part of the present State Constitution, in 1879, by an overwhelming popular vote.
Its GRAND EXTRAORDINARY DRAWINGS take place Semi-Annually, (June and December), and its GRAND SINGLE NUMBER DRAWINGS take place on each of the other ten months in the year, and are all drawn in public, at the Academy of Music, New Orleans, La.
"We do hereby certify that we supervise the arrangements for all the Monthly and Quarterly Drawings of The Louisiana State Lottery Company, and in person manage and control the drawings themselves, and that the same are conducted with honesty, fairness, and in good faith toward all parties, and we authorize the Company to use this certificate, with fac-similes of our signatures attached, in its advertisement."
G. T. Beauregard
J. A. Early
Commissioners.
We the undersigned Banks and Bankers will pay all Prizes drawn in The Louisiana State Lotteries which may be presented at our counters.
R. M. WALMSLEY, Pres. Louisiana Nat. Bk.
PIERRE LANAUX, Pres. State Nat'l Bank.
A. BALDWIN, Pres. New Orleans Nat'l Bk.
CARL KOHN, Pres. Union National Bank.

MAMMOTH DRAWING
In the Academy of Music, New Orleans, Tuesday, December 18, 1888.
CAPITAL PRIZE, $600,000.

LIST OF PRIZES.

1 PRIZE OF $600,000 is	$600,000
1 PRIZE OF 200,000 is	200,000
1 PRIZE OF 100,000 is	100,000
1 PRIZE OF 50,000 is	50,000
2 PRIZE OF 25,000 is	50,000
5 PRIZES OF 10,000 are	50,000
12 PRIZES OF 5,000 are	60,000
25 PRIZES OF 2,000 are	50,000
100 PRIZES OF 800 are	80,000
200 PRIZES OF 400 are	80,000
500 PRIZES OF 200 are	100,000
APPROXIMATION PRIZES.
100 Prizes of $1,000 are	$100,000
100 Prizes of 800 are	80,000
100 Prizes of 400 are	40,000
THREE NUMBER TERMINALS.
99 Prizes of $800 are	$79,200
99 Prizes of 400 are	39,500
TWO NUMBER TERMINALS.
900 Prizes of $200 are	$180,000
900 Prizes of 200 are	180,000
3,146 Prizes amounting to	$2,118,800

☞ FOR CLUB RATES, or any further information desired, write legibly to the undersigned, clearly stating your residence, with State, County, Street and Number. More rapid return mail delivery will be assured by your enclosing an Envelope bearing your full address.
Send POSTAL NOTES, Express Money Orders, or New York Exchange in ordinary letter. Currency by Express (at our expense) addressed to
M. A. DAUPHIN, New Orleans, La.,
or M. A. DAUPHIN, Washington, D. C.
Address Registered Letters to
NEW ORLEANS NATIONAL BANK, New Orleans, La.
REMEMBER That the presence of Generals Beauregard and Early, who are in charge of the drawings, is a guarantee of absolute fairness and integrity, that the chances are all equal, and that no one can possibly divine what number will draw a Prize.
"REMEMBER, also, that the payment of all Prizes is GUARANTEED BY FOUR NATIONAL BANKS of New Orleans, and the Tickets are signed by the President of an Institution, whose chartered rights are recognised in the highest Courts; therefore, beware of any imitations or anonymous schemes."

COLD WEATHER MUSIC BOOKS.
New Music Books.
These new books are every day more in favor:
Classical Pianist, Piano Classics, Song Classics, Song Classics for Low Voices, Classic Tenor Songs, Classic Baritone and Bass Songs. Each $1.
Praise in Song (40 cts., $4.20 per doz.) is the best new Sacred Music Book for Home and Vestry singing.
Let the Children sing from Menard's Songs for Kindergarten and Primary Schools (30 cts.) or Jenk's Songs and Games for Little Ones ($2) or Children's School Songs (35 cts., $3.60 per doz.) All have very sweet child's songs.
Give your aid in getting up a rousing good evening singing Class to use Song Harmony (50 cts., $6 per doz.) Full of most interesting music, sacred and secular. Song Manual, Book 3 (50 cts., $4.80 per doz.) is also a good collection, mostly secular.
Tell the Temperance People that no better Temperance Song Book has appeared than Bells of Victory (35 cts., $3.60 per doz.)
Xmas is coming. Send for lists of Christmas Cantatas and Carols.
ANY BOOK MAILED FOR RETAIL PRICE.
Oliver Ditson & Co., Boston.

GRANITE STATE Fire Insurance Company,
OF PORTSMOUTH, N. H.
PAID-UP CAPITAL, - $200,000
OFFICERS:
President, FRANK JONES.
Vice President, JOHN W. SANBORN.
Secretary, ALFRED F. HOWARD.
Treasurer, JOHN LAIGHTON.
Executive Committee, FRANK JONES, JOHN W. SANBORN, CHARLES A. SINCLAIR, EDWIN WALLACE and E. H. WINCHESTER.

C-O-A-L-!
All Kinds and Sizes Delivered Well Screened.
E. F. SISE & CO.
First Quality Wood:
Liverpool and Turks Island
S-A-L-T
In Bulk and Sacks. Salt in Boxes. Boston and Portis Brands.
TELEPHONE.

A FINE PIECE OF
CHEWING TOBACCO
IS INDEED A LUXURY
FINZER'S Old Honesty
COMES AS NEAR BEING A FINE PIECE OF PLUG TOBACCO

IF YOU CHEW YOU WANT THE BEST.
AS IT IS POSSIBLE TO MAKE IT
TRY FINZER'S OLD HONESTY
WHICH IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST
AS IT CONTAINS MORE TOBACCO THAN ANY OTHER. GOOD CHEWING TOBACCO CAN NOT BE GOOD FOR SMOKING.
"OLD HONESTY" IS SOLD BY YOUR DEALER.
FINZER'S OLD HONESTY
LOOK FOR THIS TAG ON EACH PLUG
JNO. FINZER & BROS., LOUISVILLE, KY.

S. Philbrick & Co.,
MANUFACTURERS OF
Marble and Granite Work
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.
GRANITE POLISHING A SPECIALTY.
OFFICE AND WORKS,
No. 2 Water Street, Portsmouth

POSITIVELY
No Cure, No Pay!
CONSTITUTIONAL COUGH SYRUP
--- TRY IT! ---
The proprietor of this remedy has such confidence in its curative powers that he makes the following
Generous Offer!
Any person buying a bottle is given the privilege of returning it and receiving their MONEY BACK, if after using two-thirds of its contents, they have derived no benefit from it.
PRICE 25 AND 50 CENTS.
SOLD BY
David Kimball & Co., 36 Market Street.

C. E. BOYNTON,
Manufacturer and Wholesale Dealer in
Soda Water, Root, Tonic, Vanilla, Orange and Strawberry Beer, Crab Apple Lemonette, Cream Ginger and Ginger Ale.
EXTRACT OF NERVE FOOD!
For Brain and Nervous Exhaustion. Good for the Appetite.
Soda Water in Syphons for Hotel and Family Use. Fountains Charged at Short Notice.
Bottler of Eldredge and Milwaukee Lager, Porter and Refined Cider.
☞ The Summer Beverages manufactured and bottled by me having been before the public of this city and vicinity for the past seventeen years, need no endorsement as being of the very highest standard.

JOHN H. BROUHTON,
No. 68 Daniel St., Portsmouth, N. H.
DEALER IN
EASTERN AND WESTERN
LUMBER!
Shingles, Clapboards and Laths.
ALSO
Best Newark Hydraulic Cement, Best Extra and No. 1 Lime
FOR SALE AT LOWEST PRICES.

TRANSPORTAION.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

Eastern Division.

TRAINS LEAVE PORTSMOUTH FOR

BOSTON, 4.05, 7.25, 8.20, 11.05 a. m., 2.55, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4.00 p. m. Returning, 7.30, 9.00, 10.00 a. m., 12.30, 3.30, 4.40, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.20 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

PORTLAND, 8.55, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m. Returning, 7.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.00, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 7.30 a. m.

BANGOR, ST. JOHN AND HALIFAX, 10.55 a. m. 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.50 p. m.

GREAT FALLS AND WOLFEBORO JUNC., 9.55 a. m., 2.45, 5.30 p. m.

WOLFEBORO, 9.35, a. m., 5.30 p. m.

NORTH CONWAY, 9.35 a. m., 2.45 p. m.

DOVER, 4.50, 9.45, a. m., 12.25, 2.35, 5.22 p. m.

YORK HARBOR AND BEACH R. R.

YORK BEACH AND WAY STATIONS, (via York Harbor and Beach R. R.) 8.30, 11.10 a. m., 5.35 p. m. Returning, leave York Beach 6.40, 10.00 a. m., 1.40, p. m. Connecting with trains leaving Portsmouth for Boston.

JAS. T. FURBER, Gen'l Manager. D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l Passenger Agent.

Concord & Portsmouth Railroad.

PASSENGER TRAINS leave Eastern Railroad Station for North Berwick Junction, Manchester, Concord and upper Railroads, as follows:

UP TRAINS.

Leave	M.	P. M.	P. M
Portsmouth	7.55	1 00	5.15
Greenland	8.05	1 09	5.24
Newmarket Junction	8.25	1 30	5.36
East Epping		1 31
Epping	8.43	1 37	6.15
West Epping	8.49		6.17
Raymond	9.00	1 53	6.36
Candia	9.13	2 05	6.46
Auburn	9.22		6.57
Manchester	9.30	2 20	7.06
Arrive Manchester	9.42	2 30	7.20
" Concord	10.30	3 12	8.21

DOWN TRAINS.

Leave	A. M.	A. M.	P. M
Concord	7.30	10 20	3.55
Manchester	8.15	11 15	4.25
Massabesic	8.27	11 25	4.36
Auburn	8.35		4.44
Candia	8.44	11 40	4.54
Raymond	9.05	11 58	5.13
West Epping	9.13	P. M.	5.20
Epping	9.20	12 05	5.27
East Epping		12 14
Newmarket Junction	9.46	12 24	5.48
Greenland	10.01	12 36	6.01
Arrive Portsmouth	10.10	12 45	6.10

☞ Trains connect at Newmarket Junction with trains of the Boston & Maine Railroad for Exeter, Haverhill, Lawrence and Boston; and for Dover, Great Falls and Portland; at Concord with trains to and from all the upper Railroads.

H. E. CHAMBERLIN, Supt.

TRAVELLER'S GUIDE.

TRAINS LEAVE

Portsmouth for Boston, 4.05, 7.25, 8.20, 11.05 a. m., 2.55, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4.00 p. m.

Boston for Portsmouth, 7.30, 9.00, 10.00 a. m., 12.30, 3.30, 4.40, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.20 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

Portland, 8.55, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m. Returning, 9.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.00, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 7.30 a. m.

Bangor, St. John and Halifax, 10.55 a. m. 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.50 p. m.

Great Falls and Wolfeboro Junc., 9.55 a. m., 2.45, 5.30 p. m.

Wolfeboro, 9.35, a. m., 5.30 p. m.

North Conway, 9.35 a. m., 2.45 p. m.

Dover, 4.50, 9.45, a. m., 12.25, 2.35, 5.22 p. m.

TRAINS ARRIVE

In Boston from Portsmouth, 6.20, 9.10, 10.25 a. m., 1.15, 4.45, 7.10, 9.30 p. m. Sundays, 8.20 a. m., 6.30 p. m.

Portsmouth from Boston, 9.45, 10.45 a. m., 12.20, 2.35, 5.20, 6.45, 8.37 p. m. Sundays, 10.40 a. m., 8.37 p. m.

In Portland from Portsmouth, 12.00 m., 12.35, 4.40, 11.00 p. m. Sundays, 11.00 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Portland, 3.55, 10.44 a. m., 2.20, 7.15 p. m. Sundays, 3.55 a. m.

In Dover from Portsmouth, 5.40, 10.10 a. m., 12.50, 3.35, 5.47 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Dover, 7.20, 10.44 a. m., 2.20, 4.35, 7.15 p. m.

In Concord from Portsmouth, 10.30 a. m., 3.12, 6.25 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Concord, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

In Manchester from Portsmouth, 9.42 a. m., 2.30, 7.20 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Manchester, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

KITTERY AND PORTSMOUTH.

STEAMER MYSTIC.

Leave Bartlett's wharf, Kittery, 6.35, 7.50, 8.45, 10.0, 11.45 a. m., 2.00, 3.15, 4.45, 6.00 p. m. Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 6.30, Saturday evening, 8.00.

Leave Broughton's wharf, foot Daniel street, Portsmouth, 7.30, 8.00, 9.30, 11.00 a. m., 12.45, 3.00, 4.00, 5.15, 6.15 p. m., Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7.50, Saturday evenings, 7.50, 9.00.

☞ Fare five cents each way.

Always on Time.

NEW YORK & NEW ENGLAND,

Trains for New York.

Leave Portsmouth, via Boston & Maine R. R. at 11:05 a. m. 7:40 p. m. Arrive at Boston 1:15, 9:30 p. m.

Leave Boston, ¶12:00 noon, §*3.00, 11.30 p. m. Ar. New York, 6.30, *9.00 p. m., 6.35 a. m. Parlor and Sleeping Cars through without change.

¶ Dining Car between Boston and Hartford.

§ Dining Car between Boston and Willimantic.

*3.00 p. m. runs daily, including Sundays.

Through tickets at offices, North and East. Baggage checked through.

Ticket offices—323 Washington St, and Depot foot of Summer St., Boston. eadd17

COMFORT

— FOR —

COLD AND TENDER FEET!

Persons troubled with cold or tender feet will find warmth and ease in the use of

DOLGE'S ALL WOOL FELT

Slippers and Shoes

For which the undersigned is agent in this City and Vicinity.

--- AT THE STORE ---

No. 34 Market Street

Can be found a Full Line of these Goods, in many patterns of Slippers, Shoes and Boots, and several colors, for house, office or street wear,

Of Men and Boys, Women and Girls.

☞ Please examine our Stock.

J. C. CARR.

Hundreds of letters from those using Hall's Hair Vigor attest its value as a restorer of gray hair to its natural color. As a stimulant and tonic, preventing and curing baldness, and cleansing the scalp, its use cannot be too strongly recommended.

A women's educational and industrial union has been organized in San Francisco, with about seventy-five members.

As a purifier, Ayer's Sarsaparilla acts directly and promptly. A single bottle will prove its merits. Many thousands of people are yearly saved from dangerous fevers by the exercise of a little timely care in cleansing the system by the use of this remedy.

More than sixty per cent of adult English women, married and unmarried, are working for daily subsistence, and the number multiplies each year.

She Blushed

Awfully when I told her what to do for those horrid pimples, with which her face was covered. She now says if you want a pink and white complexion with a clear, smooth skin, you must use that best of all blood purifiers, Sulphur Bitters.

The whistling buoy off Gurnet point is out of order; mariners will take heed.

We are astonished at parties who introduce new remedies for coughs when they should know the people will have Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

"Kings are like stars, they rise and set." They have headaches, cuts, and hurts like meaner men, and are just as sure to call for Salvation Oil.

John Bright, the British statesman, is failing fast.

"I'm something of a liar myself, but you take the cake," can never be said to the man who is extolling the merits of Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam. It is a wonderful remedy, and the man who praises it knows what he is talking about. Every druggist sells it.

Donn Piatt says the trouble with the democratic national campaign was that Barnum was at the head of it.

Be Your Own Doctor.

It won't cost you half as much. Do not delay. Send three 2-cent stamps for postage, and we will send you Dr. Kaufmann's great work, fine colored plates from life, on disease, its causes, and home cure. Address J. P. Ordway, & Co., Boston, Mass.

The Pocasset Mfg. Co. of Fall River, Mass., propose to put 10,000 more spindles in.

Avoid the harsh, irritating, griping compounds so often sold as purgative medicines, and correct the irregularities of the bowels by the use of Ayer's Cathartic Pills, which are gentle, yet searching, in their action.

To-Night and To-Morrow Night,

And each day and night during this week you can get at all druggists Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, acknowledged to be the most successful remedy ever sold for all forms of Coughs, Croup, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption. Get a bottle to-day and keep it always in the house, so you can check your cold at once. Price 50c and $1.00. Sample bottles free.

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam, for Coughs and Colds, does it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles at 50c and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

Eczema, Itchy, Scaly, Skin Tortures.

The simple application of "SWAYNE'S OINTMENT," without any internal medicine, will cure any case of Tetter, Salt Rheum, Ringworm, Piles, Itch, Sores, Pimples, Eczema, all Scaly, Itchy Skin Eruptions, no matter how obstinate or long standing. It is potent, effective, and costs but trifle. oj269

A SCIENTIST'S WARNING.

Extracts From a Remarkable Lecture Delivered by Dr. R. E. Hammond, Before the National Scientist's Convention.

"We are startled constantly by the sudden death of some man who seemed the picture of health. He thought he was well. He had felt strange pains shooting through his body, but as they did not remain, he forgot them. His head pained him periodically, he was somewhat paler than common and unaccountably tired, but he felt remarkably well and vigorous. And yet, he suddenly died! It is a shame to our boasted civilization."

"Look at the list of women who die in childbirth, and why is it? Simply because their maternal organs have been so weakened by the most terrible of diseases that they cannot withstand the fearful, sudden strain that is brought to bear upon them. How many women escape off monthly agonies? And yet nature never intended that pain or inconvenience should attend the operation of her natural laws. The solemn and terrible fact is, that men and women drag along, die, and are buried, and their friends and the doctors say heart disease, apoplexy, pneumonia, congestion, convulsions, when the real cause lay far back of all these things. The truth is that weakened kidneys are the cause of most of our troubles. The great question, therefore, has 'How shall I preserve my kidneys, or, if diseased, how can they be restored?' I have seen numbers of cases and learned from unquestionable sources of many others, where the preparation, Hunt's Remedy, has been almost remarkable in its results. I use it freely among my patients, and shall continue to do so. It is a wonderful and invaluable remedy."

The remarks of the learned doctor should be carefully considered, and acted upon by all who desire long life, and freedom from pain and the danger of sudden death.

ADAMSONS

DAMSON'S BALSAM

Breaks up a cold and stops a cough more speedily, certainly and surely than any other medicine.

DELAYS ARE DANGEROUS.

It cures all lung and throat diseases that can be reached by human aid.

DAMSON'S BALSAM prevents the growth to serious illness of a dangerous class of diseases that begin as mere trivial ailments, and are not to be neglected as such.

ANY persons have tested the efficacy of Adamson's Balsam. It allays inflammation and puts a stop to tickling in the throat.

SOTHES to natural and refreshing slumber during which nature regains strength to combat disease.

THEN remedies may be shown you and recommended as being "just as good" as Adamson's but remember the genuine is the best.

ONE need ever die unless by accident or old age if the resources of the healing art are completely, judiciously and timely applied.

INCE its introduction throughout New England, during the thirty-five years ago, it has constantly won its way into public favor until now it is the universal decision that it is the best remedy for curing coughs, colds and pulmonary complaints including asthma.

25c. & 75c. Total Size 10c.

Genuine made by F. W. Kinsman & Co. 3d Fourth Ave., New York. At all druggists.

TRADING WITH JAPAN.

Some Figures Showing How Much of It We Do—Imports and Exports.

Governor Hubbard tells me that we buy more from Japan than any other foreign nation. "Last year," said he, "our imports from this country amounted to 21,000,000 Japanese dollars, or about 16,000,000 American dollars. We bought $11,000,000 worth of her raw silk, and nearly $7,000,000 worth of her tea. The fair cheeks of our ladies were cooled last year with $97,000 worth of Japanese fans, and our noses were wiped with $816,000 worth of Japanese silk handkerchiefs. We buy nearly $300,000 worth of porcelain every year, and our imports of bamboo ware amount to $102,000 of Japanese money. We buy more than twice as much off Japan as any other country, and our imports are increasing every year. In 1887 we bought $1,500,000 more goods than in 1886, and the United States will probably continue to be Japan's best customer."

"What are the chief articles of export from the United States to Japan?" I asked.

"Kerosene oil leads the list," was the reply. "Half of the Japanese nation lights its houses with our coal oil lamps, and we sold in 1886 over $2,000,000 worth of coal oil to Japan. There has been a falling off this year in this, but the export is still large. Then the American clock is popular in Japan, and you may see thousands of them in Tokio. The common office clock, which hangs upon the wall, is very popular, and one sale of clocks here amounts to 160,000 Japanese dollars a year. Many a Japanese baby is now brought up on American condensed milk, and $55,000 worth was sold last year. We sell sole leather, books, machinery and provisions, and Japan bought $94,000 worth of our flour last year. Their figures are small, but American foreign trade is in its infancy, and it has a world yet to conquer. Here in the east there are 800,000,000 of people who require more or less of some kinds of goods, which American brains, push and capital can furnish at a profit, and in Japan there are 38,000,000 of people who are ready to take from America what she has to sell that fits her needs, whenever they can buy it as cheaply of her as of other nations. We sell to north China $6,000,000 worth of cotton sheetings a year, and this in the teeth of the manufacturing nations of Europe. Japan is much more accessible to us. Why should we not sell to her?"

"How much do we sell?" I asked.

"None," replied Governor Hubbard. "The American cottons do not enter the Japanese markets. We do not make the cheap and light article of cotton required by the Japanese. A slight change in the factories, however, would adapt them to this class of goods, and there is no doubt but that our American mills can get a limited market here when they are forced to look abroad for foreign trade. They will then have to sell their goods in close competition with England. We are Japan's nearest foreign neighbor. We have the cotton at our doors, and our factories are in operation. Japan raises some cotton, but it is of an inferior quality. It seems to me that foreign trade offers the solution of many of the labor and capital troubles of the United States. When the home markets are glutted and factories closed for want of demand, this foreign trade could eat up some of the surplus and keep the mills from resting.

"Japan buys," Governor Hubbard went on, "$51,000,000 worth of goods a year from foreign nations. It sells in round $52,000,000 worth of goods abroad, and its imports are thus nearly $1,000,000 less than its exports. The needs of the nation will grow with the new civilization, and an increased demand for our productions will be the result. Among the chief things it now buys are steam engines, clocks, watches, hats and caps, iron, steel, window glass, sugar, woolen and cotton yarns. Its importations of cotton yarns last year were $8,000,000, and it bought $500,000 worth of wines. It sells abroad about forty different articles, and some of these will be new to you. In camphor there is an export of $1,000,000, and in cuttle fish a like amount. Japan sells $2,000,000 worth of copper a year, and it has one of the largest copper mines in the world. It sells $1,000,000 worth of porcelain, $1,000,000 worth of silk handkerchiefs, and $7,000,000 worth of tea. We buy nearly all of the Japan tea that goes abroad. The sales of raw silk amount to $19,000,000 a year, and of cocoons to $200,000 a year. It sells $400,000 worth of mushrooms, and $2,000,000 worth of rice. The trade of the country is susceptible of increase, and Japan is by no means at the end of its material development."—Frank G. Carpenter's Letter.

One Cause of Rain Storms.

A correspondent of the Northwestern railroad advances a curious theory for the increasing prevalence of floods and rain storms. He says that there are over 30,000 locomotives in use in North America, and estimates that from them alone over 53,000,000,000 cubic yards of vapor are sent into the atmosphere every week, to be returned in the form of rain, or over 7,000,000,000 cubic yards a day—"quite enough," he says, "to produce a good rainfall" every twenty-four hours. Estimating the number of other non-condensing engines in use as eight times the number of locomotives, the total vapor thus projected into the air every week in this country amounts to 479,000,000,000 cubic yards. "Is this not," he asks, "sufficient for the floods of terror? Is there any reason to wonder why our storms are so damaging?"—Frank Leslie's Newspaper.

Reads Their Names Publicly,

One of the most successful ministers of our whole connection has inaugurated the following practice in taking the benevolent collections: He reports by name from the pulpit every donor, with the amount given. He also designates the names of his membership specifically, and those who have not made any subscription are fully reported by name with a cipher appended.—Boston Zion's Herald.

The Poor of Mexico.

The peon laborer who earns 37 cents will not grudge a third of his pay to some unfortunate comrade. What rich man with an income of $100 a day will with equal readiness hand out $33 to a poor fellow mortal?

I know a case where a poor serving woman took her little bed and gave it to a sick woman, and herself slept on the hard floor for weeks thereafter. A poor paralytic comes to my door every week and gets alms; it is hard to keep a silver quarter in the pocket when a deformed man crawls by on his hands and knees. How many of these poor wretches one sees on rainy afternoons crawling along through the mud and dirt of the streets. Many say, carelessly, that these poor people should be in the hospitals, but they prefer, when able to do so, to get out into the world of their fellows and trust to the charity of the fortunate who have legs to walk on, for a few bits of money to keep them from starvation. I know a poor woman, paralyzed from the knees down, who, with her babe in her arms, kneels in one of the public gardens and receives the charity people bestow on her. If she gets twenty-five cents in a day, she lives well and has a little meat and possibly a drop of coffee. If she gets but six cents she lives on that, and thanks heaven. In the lottery of life some of us draw prizes—sound limbs, good lungs and clear heads, while others, equally worthy, get the blanks. I cannot help thinking, as I walk the streets of Mexico, that it is good for the prosperous, the comfortably off, to see these poor cripples, these blind men and women, these strange beings, half human, who crawl at your feet. Shut them up in hospitals, and one forgets that they exist. The charity which one puts into a plate at church goes only indirectly to the afflicted. Half the pleasure of doing good is lost.

For years there was seen around the streets here a dog faced half, who walked on his hands and feet like an animal. I have not seen him for months, and perhaps he is dead. The story went that this strange, fantastic freak of nature was born the son of well to do parents, who, disgusted at his horrid shape, turned him into the streets. On chilly winter mornings he went about in cotton, for he was decently covered, but his expression of sadness and hunger and weariness went straight to the heart. To see this poor fellow made one ashamed of being able to walk upright. Those of us who gave him small coins now and then do not, I fancy, regret it, now that he has gone from sight. For the student of human development this lad would have been a treasure. He was human, but he was also brutish. Sights such as these make the blood run chill in the veins, but they also prompt little acts of charity which make giver and recipient feel their common humanity.—City of Mexico Cor. Boston Herald.

Causes of Cancer.

Dr. Mackenzie in his little book about the crown prince and his treatment has a few pertinent words about the causes of cancer. He says:

"There can be no question that the determining cause of its appearance is in many cases an injury, such as a blow, or a condition resulting from an injury, such as a scar, or the persistent application to a particular spot of something that keeps the tissue inflamed and angry, such as a jagged tooth which chafes the tongue. Workers in paraffine and petroleum are peculiarly liable to cancer of the parts which are habitually exposed to the action of these substances. It is well known that a particular form of cancer which formerly was common enough in England is now almost extinct, simply owing to the fact that the cause which produced it has ceased to exist. Then soot commands a good price if it has to undergo this operation naturally involved much of friction against the skin, whereby irritating particles were rubbed into it, and chimney sweep's cancer was a frequent result. Nowadays it does not pay to sift the soot, and the disease to which it gave rise has disappeared.

"Among the causes of local irritation heat is certainly one of the most active. By far the most common seat of the malignant disease in men is the mouth, which is more exposed than any other part of the body to irritation by hot substances. Every surgeon is familiar with this fact. Whether it be a lower lip, on which the hot stem of a clay pipe or the smoldering paper of a cigarette has rested day after day, or a tongue exasperated by the frequent contact of acrid tobacco smoke, or the mouthpiece of a foul pipe, or made raw by ardent liquors, or stung and blistered by fiery condiments, the cause is essentially the same—viz., the searing of the superficial covering by prolonged heat. In some places, where hot brasiers are often applied to the abdomen and thigh, cancer of these parts is not uncommon, though all but unknown in either of these situations elsewhere."—M. L. Holbrook, M. D., in Herald of Health.

The Biggest Man in the World.

During this trip I have been over a large part of this state, and find Iowa has the largest and best corn crop that has ever been raised in the state. Iowa does not only stand at the head of the list as a corn state, but stands at the head, also, for large men. I was one of the two largest men on a train last week, and the two of us weighed just two pounds over a half ton. I weighed 210 pounds, and the other fellow weighed just 292 pounds. His name was J. H. Craig. He is 6 feet 4½ inches long, and was born in Iowa City thirty-two years ago. He is said to be the largest man in the world at the present time. He is well proportioned, full of fun and as playful as a kitten. He told me that when he went to church he put $1 in the collection basket and took a whole seat for himself. He has weighed 833 pounds, but uses tobacco now to keep his weight down below 800.—Davenport Tribune.

Ice was artificially manufactured by the use of chemical mixtures as early as 1763.

What Cigarettes Are Made of.

For some time past The Chicago Journal and The Evening News have been waging vigorous warfare against cigarettes. The Journal has printed a series of articles showing the large number of cigarettes that were sold by small shopkeepers to the public school pupils, and has had interviews with the principals of the various schools and with physicians, showing the extent and injury of the cigarette practice among young boys. The News has been investigating the composition and effect of cigarettes generally. With this end in view a number of packages of each brand commonly used were purchased and stripped of the boxes, cards and every distinguishing mark. Each kind was put into a pasteboard box, the lid of which was inscribed with a letter. These were taken for analysis to Professor Delafontaine, a well known chemist.

He found that the cigarettes he tested were generally made of tobacco "imperfectly fermented," which means that an unusually large amount of nicotine was present in them. He found that nearly all had an unnatural proportion of insoluble ash, that several kinds were steeped in an injurious substance, and were impregnated with dirt in varying proportions.—New York Tribune.

Intellectual Wives.

Do intellectual women make the best partners of life? Emerson says: "It is not beauty that inspires the deepest passion," and Jean Paul Richter declared that he would not lead a woman into the matrimonial noose whom it would not delight to hear him read the learned reviews of Gottingen or the universal German library when they sounded his praise, though it might be in some degree exaggerated. John Stuart Mill regarded the institution of marriage in its highest aim and aspect as "union of two persons of cultivated faculties, indentical in opinion and purposes, between whom there exists that best kind of equality, similarity of powers with reciprocal superiority in them, so that one can enjoy the luxury of looking up to the other and can have alternately the pleasure of leading and being led in the path of davelopment."

But other men of genius have thought differently on the subject. It is an oft quoted saying of Dr. Johnson that "a man is better pleased when he has a good dinner on the table than when his wife talks Greek." Racine had an illiterate wife and was accustomed to boastfully declare that she could not read any of his tragedies. Dufresny married his washerwoman. Goethe's wife was a woman of mediocre capacity. Heine said of the woman he loved, "She has never read a line of my writings and does not even know what a poet is." Therese Lavasseur, the last flame of Rousseau, could not tell the time of day.

"How many of the wise and learned," says Thackeray, "have married their cooks! Did not Lord Eldon, himself the most prudent of men, make a runaway match? Were not Achilles and Ajax both in love with their servant maids? Seven hundred people sat up all night to see the beautiful Duchess of Hamilton get into her carriage, but would one in a thousand lose a wink of sleep to get a glimpse of the learned wife of the pundit Yainavalka, who discoursed with the Indian in Sanskrit on the vexed problems of life?"—The Interior.

A FAIR SAMPLE OF

40 SWORN CASES

OF THE VALUE OF

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND

THE RADICAL BLOOD PURIFIER.

DIPHTHERIA, SCROFULA.

Miss Lena Judkins, a daughter (17 years old) of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Judkins, 977 Boston St., Lynn, CURED by Dr. Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of very severe case of Scrofula, with Malignant Ulcers of eight years' standing, after 11 Physicians had failed. Almost a miracle. Now in perfect health. Sworn to before

HARMON HALE, Justice of the Peace.

SCROFULOUS HUMOR.

Miss Mary Etta Leighton, a daughter (16 yrs. old) of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison G. Leighton, 16 Bickford Court, Lynn, CURED by Lougee's Vitalizing Compound of a deep seated Scrofulous Humor, with discharging eruptions, which had baffled eight physicians and the combined forces of two prominent hospitals. Perfectly cured and without a blemish. Sworn to before

CALVIN B. TUTTLE, Justice of the Peace.

Send for circular of 40 Sworn cases. They are solid facts and carry conviction.

DR. LOUGEE'S VITALIZING COMPOUND.

is absolutely the greatest known Remedy for the Radical cure of Scrofula, Cancerous Humors, Diphtheritic or Mineral Blood-Poisoning, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Dropsy and Liver Complaint.

$1. per Bottle (6 for 5). At Druggists. Lougee Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

EAT QUAKER MILLS ROLLED WHITE OATS FOR BREAKFAST. TRADE MARK. SOLD BY ALL GROCERS. Quaker Mill Co., Ravenna, Ohio.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Best and Purest Medicine EVER MADE.

Will Drive the Humor from your system, and make your skin clean and smooth. Those Pimples and Blotches which mar your beauty are caused by impure blood, and can be removed in a short time. If you are wise and use the great blood purifier, SULPHUR BITTERS. Why suffer with Boils? Why suffer with Pimples? Why suffer with Blotches? Why suffer with Humors? What do you want a good skin for? Your heirs are all waiting for the change. Another tooth to assist nature to masticate food with. Another appetite to relish food. Another digestion to digest food. Another liver to secrete the bile. Another kidney to filter the poisons from your blood. Another bladder to act as a receiver for the urine. Another pair of legs to carry you about. Another heart to pump the blood. Another set of lungs to breathe with. Another set of nerves to feel with. Another set of muscles to move with. Another set of bones to support the body. Another set of joints to move on. Another set of glands to secrete the various secretions. Another set of veins to carry the impure blood back to the heart. Another set of arteries to carry the purified blood to the extremities. Another set of capillaries to connect the veins with the arteries. Another set of nerves to connect the brain with the other parts of the body. Another set of muscles to move the various parts of the body

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

POST OFFICE RULES.

MAILS CLOSE

	A. M.	P. M.
Boston, N. Y., south, west,	8:00	10:30 2:30 4:30 6:45
Boston and way stations,		10:30 2:30 6:45
Portland,	9:25	4:50 6:45
Portland and way stations,	9:25	4:50
East (beyond Portland)	9:25	6:45
Great Falls, Rochester, Wolfeboro' Union Milton,	9:25	4:50
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,	9:25
Concord & Manchester,	7:40	10:20 1:50
Concord, Manchester and North,	7:40	4:50
Exeter and B. & M. way, west of Newmarket,	7:40	4:50
Dover,	9:25	2:20 4:50 6:45
North Conway,	9:25	6:45
York and Cape Neddick,	9:25
Newcastle,	10:30
Newington,	10:30
Weston, N. Y. and south, Sunday,		1:00

MAILS ARRIVE.

	A. M.	P. M.
Boston, south and west,	10:05	3:10 5:40 7:00 (9:00)
New York,	10:05	5:40 7:00
Boston and way stations,	10:05	5:40
Portland and east,	7:20 11:00	3:00
Great Falls, Rochester, Union, Milton,	8:20 11:00
B. & M. R. R., nor'n div.,	11:00
Concord, Manchester and north,	10:20	6:20
Dover,	7:20 10:20	3:00 5:40
Newcastle,	9:20
Newington,	9:20
York and Cape Neddick,	11:00
B. & M. R. R., west of Newmarket,	10:20	6:20

S. J. GERRISH, P. M.

PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Opens Monday, Tuesday, Friday and Saturday evenings from 7:30 to 9:00 P. M., and Wednesday and Saturday afternoons from 2:30 to 5:00 o'clock

MINATURE ALMANAC NOV. 28.

SUN RISES	6:22	MOON RISES	12:42 P. M
SUN SETS	4:14	FULL SEA	6:15 A. M
LENGTH OF DAY	9:22		6:45 P. M

Weather Indications.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 27, Midnight. — Light rains, clearing during Wednesday, slightly cooler, northwesterly winds. Storm signals continue at stations on Atlantic coast from Boston section to Eastport, and at Sanday Hook.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 28, 1888.

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

Nov. 27th; Colt J.

A motion was filed by Ruel Philbrook to have the order entered in the suits against the city of Portsmouth and the cities of Concord, Manchester and Dover at the present term, vacated, and a new order made as to the judgment. The question related solely as to the manner of entering the judgment; that is, if the agreement for judgment was made by persons who had proper authority in the premises. The court allowed the motion of Mr. Philbrook, and the first order was vacated. Judgment was then ordered for the defendants on their third plea (the release of August, 1883,) without costs. Hadlock for piff.; Fales for defts.

In Goff vs. Prescott, replevin for a quantity of liquors attached at Manchester by a deputy sheriff as the property of an insolvent debtor, an agreement for judgment in favor of the defendant for $400 damages was filed. Osgood for pliff.; Warren and Branders for deft.

THE PORTSMOUTH CADETS.

An operetta entitled "The Court of King Jollyboy" will be produced in Music hall on the evenings of Tuesday and Wednesday, January 2d and 3d, by a company made up of about eighty young boys and girls of Portsmouth. The receipts will go to the treasury of the Portsmouth Cadets, and be used to pay for guns recently received by them, and to perpetuate the organization.

The company of Portsmouth Cadets was formed by the young gentlemen who took part in the "Cadets' Picnic," which was first given in the interest of the Unity Club last winter, and subsequently repeated in aid of the Cottage Hospital, Seamen's Home, Children's Home, and Old Ladies' Home. In rehearsing for the Cadets' Picnic the boys became very much interested in military exercises, and with the advice and assistance of several ladies and gentlemen who had been prominent in the charitable entertainments, formed the company of Cadets, and have attended a weekly drill ever since, procured uniforms, and made rapid progress as a military organization. Their zeal is commendable, and it is hoped that they will meet with financial success in their new production. Parties noted for their skill and taste are training the young company.

POLICE COURT—BATCHELDER J.

TUESDAY, Nov. 27th.

Thomas Philbrook, drunk, thirty days at Brentwood, costs $5.76. Mr. Philbrook came down from Brentwood the day before election, having resided there for some time previous; he says he voted the republican ticket, but that was not the purpose for which he was released from the county institution, and we guess that if he had voted that ticket he would long ago have returned to his regular place of abode, and not have had so long and agreeable (to him) a vacation.

NOTES OF THE STORM.

Capt. Samuel Emerson of the schooner Oliver Dyer, which dragged her anchor and was blown ashore at Jerry's Point, called at the CHRONICLE office Tuesday afternoon, and describes his experience in the recent storm as one of the roughest of his life. After the vessel struck on the rocks, he and his crew took to the rigging, and remained there until rescued by the Life Saving crew, whose endeavors to release them from their perilous position, and attentions to them at the station, are highly praised by Capt. Emerson and his men. Capt. Emerson was in the fore-rigging, and as the Dyer pounded on the rocks had hard work to retain his hold, the blisters on his hands and bruises on his body being ample evidence of the terrible ordeal through which he passed.

The seaman, Guiseppe Peres, who was lost, had taken to the after-rigging, and was not seen by Capt. Emerson at the time he was thrown into the sea. Search was made along the shore in the morning for the body, but up to the time that Capt. Emerson left for this city it had not been recovered.

The survivors still remain at the Life Saving station, where they are made as comfortable as possible.

There was a bad washout on the line of the York Harbor & Beach railroad near the westerly end of the Kittery Point bridge on Monday.

The "no-school" signal was again sounded on Tuesday, at eight and 11:30 o'clock, A. M. The weather was bad enough to justify it.

The new sidewalk which was built on Newcastle avenue last summer was badly washed out in several places by the rain of Monday. The street commissioner and a gang of men remedied it the best they could Monday evening and then placed lights to warn pedestrians of the dangerous places.

The school children are in high glee over the storm, for it has caused the "no-school" signal to be sounded the past two days, which with the Thanksgiving recess gives them a full week's vacation.

The Gloucester fishing schooner Edith Conley had a rough experience during the gale. She dragged ashore on Clark's island, below the narrows, Sunday afternoon, but was hauled off Monday morning, only to be blown ashore again. About four o'clock Monday afternoon her crew succeeded in getting her once more afloat. She had a fare of 13,000 lbs. of fish, which was sold to the Kittery Fish company.

The schooner Seth W. Smith, of Calais, Me., about 200 tons register, anchored between Whale's-back and Portsmouth harbor lights, dragged her anchors Monday night, and the captain and crew abandoned her and landed at Newcastle. The vessel after dragging a short distance was brought up by her anchors, and was boarded again by her crew Tuesday morning.

The large three-masted collier reported as anchored in a dangerous position off Jerry's point Monday afternoon, rode the gale out apparently unharmed.

The schooner Chilion, Brewster master, from this port for Boston, parted her chains on Sunday near Gloucester, and was for a time in a very dangerous situation, but was towed into the harbor by the tug L. A. Belknap.

The schooners James H. Deputy and Mollie Phillips were still ashore on Great island Tuesday, but did not go to pieces Monday night, as it was feared they would do. The former lies stern to the beach, with a hole stove in one side, part of her keel gone, and badly strained. The Mollie Phillips is bilged, has her sternpost knocked away and keel split. Both vessels may be saved.

The ocean beaches in this vicinity, and the rocky shores of the islets near the mouth of the harbor, are covered with thousands upon thousands of mussels, crabs and small lobsters, thrown up from the bottom by the heavy sea during the gale.

The sails, rigging, blocks, etc., from the wreck of schooner Oliver Dyer, have been disposed of at private sale.

Many of our citizens, donning proper wraps to protect them from the storm, visited different points along our shore Tuesday to witness the sea in its grand fury. They returned elated over the scene, and reported the waves as dashing against the rocks and sending the spray high over Whale's-back light. The view from Bald Head Cliff, York, was magnificent, and the sea from York Nubble to Boon island was one sheet of high-breaking waves.

It is feared that one of the victims of the gale is the Philadelphia & Reading Co.'s steam collier Allentown, Capt. Paul, well known for many years past as a frequent visitor at this port. She left Philadelphia on the 21st inst. for Salem with 1650 tons of coal, and is supposed to have been lost with all hands on Sunday afternoon, on some of the ledges off Cohasset, Mass. About two o'clock Sunday afternoon many people in Cohasset heard the sound of a steamer's whistle off shore, and Monday night an immense amount of wreckage came on the beach, evidently from a steamer, and including life buoys and other articles marked "Allentown." She was an iron steamer of 1283 tons register.

PERSONAL.

Hon. E. W. Smith, republican representative-elect from Alstead, was in this city yesterday.

The friends of Mr. Frank P. Downing will be grieved to learn of the death of Mrs. Downing, which occurred Tuesday morning in this city.

The engagement of Dr. B. D. Peaslee of Concord and Miss Dutton of Malden, Mass., daughter of B. F. Dutton of the well-known firm of Houghton & Dutton, Boston, is announced.

Col. Aaron Young and family, who have been passing the summer and fall at their summer house at Madbury, returned to Portsmouth for the winter, on Tuesday.

The ladies of the Universalist Social circle have in preparation one of the enjoyable entertainments for which they are famous. A sale of aprons, fancy work, ice-cream, oysters, cake and coffee will be followed by a literary and musical treat unsurpassed by any of their previous brilliant efforts. Mrs. Fisher, a talented lady of College Hill, Mass., will participate in the literary and dramatic portion of the programme. The entertainment will be held Thursday evening, December 6th, in the Universalist vestry.

The local market was but moderately supplied with Thanksgiving poultry, or poultry for Thanksgiving consumption, on Tuesday, the amount displayed being much less than the average for a number of years past. Extra turkeys, from Vermont or raised in this immediate vicinity, could not be had under twenty-five cents a pound; good turkeys, but not first-class, brought twenty-three cents; ducks, twenty-four cents; not geese enough in market to make a price; celery, extra fine, twenty-two cents a bunch.

For the first time in the history of this country, it is said, the Roman Catholic church on Thursday of this week will take formal cognizance of Thanksgiving day. Archbishop Gibbons of Baltimore has requested the priests of that archdiocese to recite the prayers for the authorities after the late mass on that day, and requests the faithful to assist at the service. This excellent example is not unlikely to be imitated by the prelates of the church in other states.

On Saturday night last, hen thieves robbed the roosts of the Samuel Langdon farm on Middle road, getting twenty fine fowls, and evidently carried them off in bags. Messrs. E. G. & George Ramsdell, who occupy and carry on the farm, offer a reward of $20 for the recovery of the poultry and conviction of the thieves. A night or two preceding the robbery at the Langdon place, the roosts at the Keyes farm on Lafayette road were robbed of a dozen hens, the thieves getting off without discovery.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

Uneasiness of the Macedonians, Who Aspire to Become Free.

We have lately heard a great about Macedonia. It is a name which always seems to trouble the despots and the diplomatists; for it is a name not to their credit, any more than the name of Armenia. Without going into minute geographical questions, Macedonia is just now a convenient name for certain lands which in 1877–8 Russia set free from bondage to the Turk, but which Europe, at the treaty of Berlin, thrust back into bondage. But when "Europe" gave Macedonia back to the Turk, it did at least make him promise that he would give the land "institutions" of some kind or other which were to make everybody there happy. How very simple "Europe" must have been if it thought that the Turk would keep his word. Plain people who looked to facts and not to formula, knew that the Turk had made this kind of promise over and over again, and had always broken it. Of course the Turk broke his word this time, too; Macedonia is cruelly oppressed, like Armenia or any other land that the Turk has got hold of. And "Europe," which gave him the power to do wrong, has in no way stepped in to hinder him, or even to rebuke him, for this wrong doing. "Europe" is very angry when a people asserts its rights against a despot—it looks on very calmly when a despot breaks his word to a people. But the Macedonian people, on whom the rub comes, are less calm; they know that the Turk will never do them any good; so they wish to get rid of the Turk. They wish to join their free brethren, all the more so since the half free have been joined on to the free. For this they are called names in well informed circles, and their free brethren have to walk very warily lest they should be called names too. In no well informed circle is the grand Turk ever called names for breaking his word or doing any act of oppression. For the grand Turk is an imperial majesty, and an imperial majesty must not be called names. But the enslaved Bulgarian who seeks for freedom can at any moment be called a "turbulent conspirator," and the free Bulgarian who tries to help him can at any moment be called a "foreign intriguer." Thus, as we all know, "The Eastern Question" is still "awaiting its solution." It has been awaiting it ever since the beginning of recorded history. Plain people, who look at the facts, are apt to say that the solution will never come till the Turk is got rid of; sometimes they are tempted to say that it will not come till the "will of Europe" is got rid of too. That means till the sovereigns of Russia and Austria can be taught to mind their own business, a process which is likely to take a good while. Meanwhile The Times of a recent date has assured us that "the treaty of Berlin is a very good example of what a treaty ought not to be." It is something to be told that from a well informed quarter. To be sure, we are also told that "there is a tendency in Macedonia to resort to insurrections, which would produce awkward complications." No doubt there is such a tendency in Macedonia, but it is not peculiar to Macedonia; it is common to all countries in all ages of the world which has been so treated as to make insurrections needful. And no doubt the "complications" produced by such insurrections have often been "awkward" for those against whom the insurrection has been made. The tendency to insurrection has been at different times shown very conspicuously both in Old England and in New. Something of the kind was done at Naseby, something at Bunker Hill. Whether the general results at Naseby and Bunker Hill down to our own day are to be looked on merely as "awkward complications" or as anything else must be left to well informed circles to determine.—Edward A. Freeman in Kansas City Journal.

A Venerable Toad.

Local antiquarians and zoologists are enchanted at present with a live toad found in the course of railway excavations at Greenock, Scotland. The toad is from 20,000 to 30,000 years old, as the stratum of clay in which it was found certainly dates from the glacial period. Its mouth is sealed up. It breathes slightly through the nostrils, and though the eyes are quite extraordinary it does not seem to see.—Bel.

Two Hundred Dollars in Gold.

We are authorized by advice received from I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, to say that they have for three years offered poultry raisers, premiums payable in gold coin, for the best results obtained from using Sheridan's Powder to make hens lay. Their object has been to satisfy themselves beyond the shadow of a doubt, that the claim made by them that "Nothing on earth will make hens lay like Sheridan's Powder," was positively true. The hundreds of testimonials sent them from people who have used the powder, prove the statement; so that it seems folly to again offer premiums; but so many persons, especially women who kept a few hens, have made such good showing in former trials, and been beaten by some one else by a slight fraction in average, that in justice they ought to have another trial.

Johnson & Co. have devised a plan this year, to overcome that trouble in a measure, by offering twice as much cash and six times as many gold coin premiums as last year. The larger premium is $50.00. It is well worth trying for. If you miss that, there are twenty-three more chances for some other premium.

But supposing a competitor did not get any premium, they would still have the satisfaction of getting a lot of eggs to sell at a good round price. The retail price for eggs in Boston and New York last year reached as high as 50 to 60 cents per dozen. It pays to use Sheridan's Powder when eggs sell for even 10 cents. One of the competitors last year wrote as follows: "I am well paid in eggs without a premium. I will cheerfully recommend Sheridan's Condition Powder to poultry raisers generally for egg production, and all diseases of hens. I can now say confidently that it will beat anything I ever tried to make hens lay. I was surprised at the end of the eight weeks trial." He was evidently satisfied, and well he might have been; for during eight weeks he got from 30 hens, 1420 eggs, which at the average of prices above would amount to $65.08.

Any person can compete. Johnson & Co. will send full particulars free to anyone, whether they order powder or not.

For 50 cents in stamps, I. S. Johnson & Co., 22 Custom House street, Boston, Mass., will send to any P. O. address two 25-cent packs, five packs for $1.00; or, for $1.20, a 2 1-4 pound can of powder sent postpaid; six cans for $5.00, express prepaid. Send for full particulars.

The best and freshest of Thanksgiving supplies, such as Jordan Shelled Almonds, Naples Walnuts, Shellbarks, etc., Table and Cooking Raisins, Glace Fruits, Malaga Grapes, Figs, Washed Currants, Citron, New Cider, Fine Wines, etc., are to be had of John Laighton, No. 1 Market Square.

Do You Want $100?

BOSTON, Nov. 27.—If any man or woman, boy or girl in Portsmouth wants a chance to secure a $100 simply by guessing, just pay two cents for a Boston Daily Globe next Saturday, Dec. 1st, and that paper will tell how to do it. As there will be a rush for the paper, order it of your newsdealer today.

Miss Mary Butterworth, daughter of Hon. Benjamin Butterworth of Ohio, will be one of the attractive debutantes in Washington society this winter.

Avoid the harsh, irritating, griping compounds so often sold as purgative medicines, and correct the irregularities of the bowels by the use of Ayer's Cathartic Pills, which are gentle, yet searching in their action.

Hon. Thomas B. Reed, who has been on a trip to the Pacific coast, arrived home on Monday.

THACHER'S ELIXIR

CALISAYA & IRON,

The Best Tonic. Appetizer and Blood Purifier Known.

PRICE, $1.00 A BOTTLE.

Manufactured and Sold Only By

BENJAMIN GREEN,

APOTHECARY,

(Successor to J. H. Thacher,)

No. 12 Market Square

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. 6

Skates

AND

Sleigh Bells.

PRYOR & MATTHEWS,

16 Market St.

Pierce & Guptill,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW.

No. 3 Market Square, Portsmouth, N. H.

Special attention given to Collecting.

Ringing Noises

In the ears, sometimes a roaring buzzing sound are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smelling or hearing also result from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood. If you suffer from catarrh, try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the peculiar medicine.

Frank Hoyt of this city, who was taken to the insane asylum at Brentwood several weeks ago, died on Monday from a shock of paralysis.

Happy and Hungry.

For over five years I was a constant sufferer with that most terrible and annoying disease, dyspepsia. After paying out hundreds of dollars, the only medicine I found that would do me any good was Sulphur Bitters. Six bottles cured me. Now I can eat will and am happy and hungry.—Editor.

Supt. C. H. Morss gives notice that there will be no sessions of the public schools today, by order of the Board of Instruction.

The Bull Dog and Young ——.

Young Featherly on the way home from seeing his best girl, encountered a bull dog and set on the limb of an apple tree until morning. The resultant cold was speedily cured by Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam however, and he is again around.

The horse shoers of the city are overrun with business just now, reshoeing or "sharpening" horses.

St. Mary's Catholic Benevolent society's annual Thanksgiving ball will be given in Franklin hall this evening.

Washington Chapter of Royal Arch Masons conferred the degree of past master on two candidates last evening.

Another one of our young men is soon to leave this city for the west, making either Chicago or Minneapolis his stopping place. The young man is well and favorably known in business life as well as in the social circle, and will be very much missed by his many friends and acquaintances, who are sorry to have him leave, as well as his employer. We wish him the best of success in the far west.

Colonel Calvin Brice has at last been heard from. He says that he is out of politics, but forgets to state that he took the democratic party out with him.—Boston Traveller.

HOOD'S

COMPOUND EXTRACT OF

SARSAPARILLA

TRADE MARK

The importance of purifying the blood cannot be overestimated, for without pure blood you cannot enjoy good health.

At this season nearly every one needs a good medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, and we ask you to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. It strengthens and builds up the system, creates an appetite, and tones the digestion, while it eradicates disease. The peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation of the vegetable remedies used give to Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiar curative powers. No other medicine has such a record of wonderful cures. If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other instead. It is a Peculiar Medicine, and is worthy your confidence.

Peculiar To Itself

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

INVESTMENTS!

Real Estate First Mortgage Bonds,

Both City and Farm, Bearing Interest at the Rate of

6%, 7% and 8%,

Principal and Interest Guaranteed.

Debenture Bonds of the New Hampshire Trust Co. of Manchester, 6%.

Debenture Bonds of the Dakota Loan & Trust Co. of Watertown, Dakota, 6%.

Municipal, County and School Bonds, 6%,

Short Time Paper, Endorsed by the Com. State Bank, Minneapolis, Kansas, 8%,

Not one single Security that I have placed is, or has been, in default. Every dollar of principal and interest has been paid promptly, and many thousand dollars of Farm and City Loans and Short Time Paper has been paid before the principal and interest became due.

Any information desired will be furnished by circular, pamphlet or personally.

JOHN LAIGHTON,

No. 1 Market Square.

SEND FOR

Miller's Gamecock,

THE KING OF ALL WHISKIES.

JOHN MILLER & CO.,

298 and 300 Hanover St., Boston,

Sole Proprietors.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST.

The rain has at last accomplished what the city authorities made no efforts to do, and that is, clear some of the crosswalks which are travelled most, of the snow which fell Sunday. It is not to be expected that every crossing can be cleared in a minute, but it certainly does not speak well for those having such work in their charge, to allow some of them to remain in the disgraceful condition which made them conspicuous all day Monday.

A "square meal, three times a day," is your privilege if you judiciously use Laxador, whenever your digestive organs need a toning up.

Nothing better than Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup can be used for the diseases of babyhood. Price only 25 cents. Sold by all druggists.

Alcock's Plasters at Globe Grocery Co.

MARRIED.

PHILBRICK—HURST. In Portland, Me., Nov. 22d, by Rev. J. M. Frost, Mr. Robert S. Philbrick and Miss Carrie E. Hurst, both of Kittery, Me.

GOTHAM—O'HARE. In Newburyport, Mass., Nov. 14th, by Rev. S. J. Spaulding, Charles W. Gotham and Alice M. O'Hare, both of Newburyport.

CLEVELAND'S

SUPERIOR

BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Sold only in cans, full weight.

CLEVELAND BROTHERS, ALBANY, N. Y.

AT

No. 63 Pleasant St

May be our as full and carefully selected a stock of

FINE FANCY AND STAPLE

GROCERIES.

—ALSO—

BOOTS & SHOES

As any Store east of Boston.

—VERMONT AND CREAMERY—

BUTTER & CHEESE.

Lard Sugar,

Molasses Syrup Oils.

Beans Peas Pickles Crackers.

Salt Pork Salt Fish. Sage Maccaroni.

-COFFEES-

Old Government Java and Rio, ground as sold.

-TEAS-

Best Qualities Formosa and Japan.

—A FULL LINE—

CANNED AND SHELF GOODS.

Pure Spices, Raisins, Currants, Citron, Cocoa, Chocolate, Candied Lemon Peel, and all other Fine Groceries

TOBACCO AND CIGARS.

Brooms, Brushes, Pails, Crockery and Glassware, and a Large

Assortment of Miscellaneous Articles.

Boots and Shoes!

Men's Calf Button Boots,

Men's Calf Balmoral Boots.

Men's Calf French Ties,

Ladies' Kid Button Boots.

Misses' and Childrens', Youth's and Boys',

All Sizes and Kinds.

We make the best selections possible, paying Cash; and for Cash will sell as low as the lowest

Orders filled with care and delivered free to any part of the city.

JOHN J. LASKEY,

NO. 63 PLEASANT STREET.

Look in at Conn's

—AND SEE THE—

BUTTER!

From the very best Dairies in Vermont and New York. Creameries are of no account compared with these Dairies. Also,

Cheese Pork. Lard. Hams, Beans Etc

No Oleo or Second-Hand Stuff kept.

The very best quality of LARD bought by the car-load, which I am selling less than the Boston prices.

To Let.

THE middle Tenement, No. 32, in the Keaney Block on Pleasant Street. Apply to

J. T. RAFF

ROYAL

BAKING

POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall Street, New York.

DAY'S HORSE POWDER

Prevents Lung Fever and cures Distemper, Heaves, Fevers, &c., &c.

1 pound in each package. Sold by all dealers.

DR. BULL'S BABY SYRUP

Facilitates Teething! Sold at druggists

Price 25 Cts. Regulates the Bowels!

25¢ A BOTTLE

SALVATION OIL

KILLS PAIN

BULL'S COUGH SYRUP

For the cure of Coughs, Colds, Croup, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Incipient Consumption and for the relief of Consumptive persons

PRICE 25 CTS.

For sale by all druggists.

SMOKE LANGE'S CUBEB CIGARETTES for Catarrh! Price 10 Cts. At all druggists.

MUSIC HALL.

— ONE NIGHT ONLY —

Wednesday, Nov. 28th.

SPECIAL ENGAGEMENT!

Arthur Rehan's Co. of Comedians

— IN THE COMEDY SUCCESS —

NANCY & CO.!

From Daly's Theatre, New York.

An Evening of Delightful Comedy and Unalloyed Merriment.

Prices, 35, 50, 75 Cents, and $1.00.

Seats on Sale Monday, Nov. 26th, at Goodrich's Book Store.

Now is the Time to Look Over Your Wardrobe and See What You Need for Winter, and

SIMPSON'S CORNER STORE

Is the place where you can find everything you need in Gentlemen's Wear, at Remarkably Low Prices, for Cash.

— WE HAVE A FULL LINE OF —

OVERCOATS!

Ranging in Prices from $5 to $25.

— A NEW LOT OF —

ULSTERS!

From $6 to $20.

— A FINE ASSORTMENT OF —

UNDERWEAR,

Including the Celebrated CAMEL'S HAIR for the Health.

Cardigan Jackets,

Blue and Fancy Over-Shirts.

(In these Goods we can Fit the Largest Man.)

— A FINE ASSORTMENT OF —

FURNISHING GOODS.

Headquarters for OIL and RUBBER CLOTHING, Wholesale and Retail.

Come and See for Yourselves at the Old Stand,

Corner Market and Bow Streets,

CHARLES E. SIMPSON.

A LARGE LOT OF LEAF SAGE Just Received and for sale by the Pound or less quantity. Come early before it is sold.

JAMES R. TEATON & CO., 85 Congress St.

THE OLDEST AND ONLY Republican Morning Paper IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

IF YOU WANT TO BUY, OR SELL ANYTHING ADVERTISE IN THE Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 26, 1862.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., THURSDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 29, 1888.

$5 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE. TWO CENTS PER COPY.

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle.

The News!

ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES.

Military Display at Gen Harrison's Inauguration.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 28.—Indications are that the coming inaugural procession will exceed in numbers and display anything of the kind ever witnessed here. Gen. Ayling, adjutant general of the Ohio national guard, Col. Gettney and other officers of the Ohio militia, are in the city looking for headquarters for their troops. The Ohio national guard have never been represented heretofore at an inauguration, but it is proposed to send a brigade of 2500 men, composed of every arm of the service, to Gen. Harrison's inauguration. Gen. G. M. Hastings, adjutant general, and Gen. J. P. S. Gobin of the third Pennsylvania regiment, are in the city, and say that in addition to as large a number of infantry as was sent here from Pennsylvania four years ago, the state would this year be represented by a number of mounted men and artillery. It is expected that a large number of Indiana troops will come on, including Gen. Harrison's old regiment, which will act as escort to the president-elect.

Echoes From the McGlynn Episode.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The effects of the McGlynn episode are continually being felt among the Catholic clergy of this diocese. Dr. Bursell's testimony in the Maguire burial case, which will probably cause him to be summoned to Rome, is hardly out of mind, when today trouble breaks out in another quarter. It appears that the venerable priest, Sylvester Malone of St. Peter's and St. Paul's church, Brooklyn, who was to have officiated at the wedding of two young personal friends of his in New York, received orders from Archbishop Corrigan on the eve of the wedding, that he would not be allowed to perform any priestly function in this diocese until he apologized to the archbishop. The subject of the desired apology was not stated, but it is well understood that Father Malone's expression of sympathy with Dr. McGlynn at the time of the latter's rupture with the archbishop is the cause of the present difficulty. The marriage ceremony was performed by Mgr. Ducry. The wedding was that of Eugene Varet and Annie Berry, the bride being a member of an old Brooklyn family who have been under Father Malone's ministrations nearly 50 years. The members of Father Malone's church are said to be much agitated over the matter.

Going to Sea again.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

HIGHLAND LIGHT, Mass., Nov. 28.—A large fleet of schooners which have been storm bound for ports below, are passing the cape tonight.

For Speaker, Fremont Cole.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—This evening's Post says, it is learned on unquestionable authority that Mr. Fremont Cole has 47 assembly men pledged to vote for him as speaker, and his election is therefore assured. Gen. Husted has been promised only eleven votes.

Great fears for the Safety of Steamer Worcester, with large number of passengers.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 28.—The Dominion Line steamer Vancouver, from Liverpool, arrived here today. She has been off the coast since Sunday, waiting for the weather to moderate, and reports the gales of Sunday and Monday the worst in ten years. Grave fears are entertained regarding the safety of the steamer Worcester, from Boston, due here Monday morning, as she has not been heard from since she sailed, and it is believed some accident has befallen her. She had on board a large number of passengers for Halifax, Port Hawkesbury and Prince Edward Island.

Set-Back for West Virginia Democrats.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CHARLESTOWN, W. VA., Nov. 28.—The supreme court today refused the attorneys for Fleming, democratic candidate for governor, a writ prohibiting the county court from counting Lewiston precinct, in which it was said the election officers were not sworn according to law. This decision was not expected by the [illegible] portant step in securing a recount of the county.

The Grand Army War.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28. — The Grand Army men in this city seem to recognize the importance of the movement begun in Indianapolis yesterday, and admit that a split in the organization is inevitable. Joseph A. Joel, editor of The Grand Army Gazette, says the movement will be national in extent.

Swept From a Bridge and was Drowned.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

FORESTVILLE, CONN., Nov. 28.—Minnie McCarty and Mary Maloney, employed in the Burner shop, were swept by the storm from a foot bridge into the Pequabuck river while going home last night. Miss Maloney was rescued by men from the shop, but Miss McCarty, who was nineteen years old, was carried into the millpond and was drowned. Her body was recovered this morning.

President Bartlett Not Ill.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 28.—The report sent last night to the effect that President Bartlett of Dartmouth College was going to California on account of ill health, is incorrect. He is perfectly well, and goes on Mrs. Bartlett's account.

Not Going to Sleep.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle

AUGUSTA, ME., Nov. 28.—At a full meeting of the Republican State committee, Joseph H. Manley was unanimously elected chairman, and Willis H. Wing secretary. The committee voted to keep the headquarters open continuously, and to keep the organization intact, although no election will occur until September, 1890.

Death of Mrs. Sherman.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28. — Mrs. Sherman, wife of Gen. W. T. Sherman, died this morning, aged 64 years.

Congressman Matson Denies Certain Stories Regarding the G. A. R.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 28.—Referring to the published statement that Congressman Matson is believed to be at the head of the movement to organize a democratic G. A. R., that gentleman says he knows nothing of it except what he has read in the newspapers, and is not at the head of or any other part of the affair. The statement that his friends expect him to follow Gen. Palmer's course and withdraw from the G. A. R., he says is also without foundation. He never was a member of the organization, and therefore cannot withdraw. During the campaign Matson and Myers regiments of veterans were formed, in every county in Indiana, and it is probable that these organizations form the basis of the new movement in that state; but of this he cannot speak by authority.

A Big Fall of Rock.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

ROCKLAND, ME., Nov. 28.—Early this morning the western bank of McLoon's lime rock quarry caved in, burying the engines, boiler and house, doing $2500 damage. The bridge to the quarry also fell in. One quarryman had left the house a few minutes before. The crash was heard for miles.

Surgeon Simon's Body Sent to Philadelphia.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK.—The body of Surgeon Simon of the United States cruiser Boston, who died from yellow fever, was taken from Swinburne island today to Philadelphia, for interment. The body was placed in a hermetically sealed casket. The officers and crew of the Boston are well today. The work of disinfecting and cleansing the ship goes on steadily. The two patients removed to Swinburne island hospital are recovering.

Suspected Murderer.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CHERRYFIELD, ME., Nov. 28.—A man suspected of being Thompson, the Braintree murderer, has been, in this vicinity several days, and the local officers have been in communication with the Massachusetts state police in regard to him. Today in accordance with a telegram from Chief Wade of Boston it was decided to arrest him, but the officers failed to find him.

Bust of McCullough Unveiled.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28.—A bronze bust of John McCullough, the tragedian, in the character of Virginius, was unveiled [illegible] guished company. William Winter read a paper, and Steele Mackay delivered an oration.

No Lockout of Brewery Workmen.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The Brewers Association announces that nearly all their employees have signed an agreement today not to support the boycott on Stevenson's ale, and no lockout is expected.

Weary and Alone.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

BANGOR, ME., Nov. 28.—Burton S. Patten, a respected citizen aged 75 years, committed suicide by shooting through the heart after retiring to bed tonight; ill health and despondency are supposed to be the cause, his wife having died a year ago. He leaves no children.

A School Panic. Number of Children Injured.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

ST. LOUIS, MO., Nov. 28.—At the Blair school today the steam heating apparatus got out of order, and the rattling in the coils, coupled with the escaping steam, alarmed the children, who fearing an explosion started for the door. Miss Bettina Krebb, the teacher in charge, got to the door first and prevented a stampede. Scarce had order been restored when the noise in the steam pipes was repeated with increased violence, and before Miss Krebb could reach the door a second time the terror-stricken children gained the hall. The faithful teacher was borne to the floor and tramped upon, sustaining serious injuries. The excitement spread to room No 10, just opposite and presided over by Miss Clara Sickle, and the children became unmanageable there; the shuffling of feet and hissing of escaping steam spread the panic into room 14, Miss Mary P. Miller teacher, and she too was thrown from her feet and trampled upon. The janitor appeared and did rough but heroic work in preventing the children from trampling each other to death. The two teachers, Miss Miller and Miss Krebb, are badly hurt, and seven pupils were severely injured.

Yellow Jack.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., Nov. 28.—New cases three, deaths none.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28th. — Raphael Delano arrived here from Jacksonville with his wife and two children today, and was taken sick soon after. Soon after noon black vomit began, and Dr. Wilson at once notified the police and board of health, who had Delano removed to the reception hospital. Delano told the doctor that he had been in Jacksonville during the epidemic, and had nursed several patients, but never caught the fever himself. As the man and family at once went to the densely populated Italian quarter, fears are entertained that the germs of the disease may have spread widely.

Attempted Murder and Suicide.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

PORTLAND, CONN., Nov. 28.—Nicholas Dienestergber a well-to-do German farmer in the southern part of Colchester, attempted to shoot his wife with a revolver this morning, but was prevented by his son. He then took a large dose of paris green, and will probably die.

Death of a Missionary.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

HARTFORD, CONN., Nov. 18.—H. D. J. Gardner, a graduate of Amherst and of Hartford Theological seminary, recently appointed a missionary of the A. B. C. F. N. to the Zulus, died at his father's residence in Glastonbury this morning, after an illness of four days. He was to have been married in a short time, and his personal effects had already been shipped to Africa.

Another Steamer Missing.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 28.—Steamer Gulf Stream, which sailed from New York for Charleston on Friday last, has not yet been heard from. She was an extra boat, and is believed to have had no passengers. She was about 1000 tons register, and was owned by the United States during the war.

Alabama's Senator.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

MONTGOMERY, ALA, Nov. 28. — The legislature today met in joint session, and declared John T. Morgan elected U. S. Senator from Alabama for the term beginning March 4th, 1889.

The Switchmen's Strike.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 28.—The switchmen's strike has assumed a new and threatening phase. The strikers called [illegible] men was manifested. The officials at once had a secret conference at union station, the result of which is not known. No threats of striking have been made by the engineers, firemen and brakemen, but today's action is considered ominous.

FOREIGN.

The Debate on the Land Bill at an End. The Government Makes Concessions.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—The debate on the Irish land-purchase bill was resumed in the House of Commons this evening. Mr. Mahoney's motion to insert in the bill a new clause to the effect that the land commission shall take as security for payment by tenants of their instalments, improvements executed by the tenant or his predecessor in his title, was rejected, 139 to 64. Mr. Smith, the government leader, appealed to the house to assist in closing the discussion on the bill. The government, he said, was desirous of meeting the opportunity as far as possible, and would accept the series of amendments proposed by Healy relating to subletting to laborers, and also a provision that the land commission shall not sanction any advance of money to tenants unless they are certion that the applications of tenants are not made under duress. The government also intended to promote a bill dealing with registration of titles Morley and Shaw Lefevre both expressed themselves satisfied with these concessions. Smith then moved that the purchase bill be read a third time. Healy objected, on account of undue haste, and the house adjourned.

Testimony Before the Parnell Commission.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—Several witnesses were examined before the Parnell commission today in relation to the outrages in Castle Island district, County of Kerry. Maurice Kennedy, a farmer, reluctantly gave evidence regarding the proceedings of the local league, of which he himself was a member. He had heard the word "Roaster" used at meetings of the league, but did not know its meaning. Shannon, the Dublin solicitor who is assisting the Times, denies that Kennedy had told him that the local league had a list of roasters hung up in its office. Roaster meant turnspit, for roasting or boycotting landlords. The people were forbidden to work for men whose names were on the list of roasters. Court then adjourned.

A Noble Gift.

Associated Press to Daily Chronicle.

VIENNA, AUSTRIA, Nov 28. -- Baron Hirsch has made a donation of 5,000,000 florins for schools for Jews in Galicia and Bukovina.

John Mulverhill, alias "Muldoon," the young rough who kicked a peaceable elderly man to death in Augusta, Me., Nov. 26th, has been held for murder.

Gen. Boulanger has resigned the position of member of the French chamber of deputies, to which he was recently elected.

The New York Graphic has been bought by a syndicate, and will be made republican in politics.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE, Rockingham, ss.

Supreme Court for the County of Rockingham.

OCTOBER TERM, 1888.

Petition for the dissolution of the Elevator Safety Attachment Company.

RESPECTFULLY REPRESENTS the undersigned, subscribers, that they are a majority in number and interest of the members of the Elevator Safety Attachment Company, a voluntary corporation, duly established by the Laws of the State of New Hampshire, on or about June 10, 1880; that said Company was incorporated and organized for the purposes of manufacturing the Bissell and Littlefield Elevator Attachment, and for selling the same; that the office of the clerk is in the town of Rye, in said County of Rockingham; that the manufacture or sale of said Safety Attachment has ceased to be desirable or profitable to said corporation; and it is desired by the subscribers aforesaid to close its concerns; to discontinue the manufacture and the transaction of any further business, and to have the corporation dissolved; that the said corporation has not manufactured any of said attachments or transacted any business for the period of about two years, and it is free from debt.

Therefore, the said members hereby petition this Honorable Court to decree a dissolution of said corporation, in the manner by law provided.

THOS. J. WHIDDEN, CHAS. F. WYMAN, D. M. BISSELL, FRANCIS H. BROWN, F. R. AMMIDON, F. M. BISSELL, FRANCIS BROWN, C. W. WELLINGTON, ADELAIDE W. LITTLEFIELD, A. F. SHEPHERD, CHARLES F. WYMAN, Trustee, E. G. LUCAS, E. G. LUCAS, Executor Estate, LYDIA A. LUCAS, MARY S. BROWN, CHARLES ALLENTABEE, CHAS. W. JENNESS, GEO. D. WILDES, SAMUEL C. HARVEY, F. C. BILL, RUFUS ESTABROOK, GEO. W. CHIPMAN.

IN THE SUPREME COURT, Rockingham, ss.

OCTOBER TERM, 1888.

THIS PETITION having been filed in said Court, It is Ordered, that said petitioners notify all persons interested in the subject matter of said petition to appear at the next Term of said Court, to be holden at Exeter, on the third Tuesday of January next; then and there to show cause, if any they have, why the prayer thereof should not be granted, by causing a true and attested copy of said petition and this order thereon to be published once a week for three weeks successively in the PORTSMOUTH DAILY CHRONICLE, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth, in said County of Rockingham, the last publication [illegible]

We are Sole Agents in Portsmouth for the Celebrated

DEW DROP!

CANNED GOODS.

Whole Solid Packed

TOMATOES!

(ALSO IN GLASS.)

First Quality

SUGAR CORN!

Early June and Sifted

PEAS!

Lima Beans.

Sliced Sugared, White and Extra Yellow and Extra White Heath Table

PEACHES.

The Above Goods are Full Weight, are Very Carefully Packed and of Superior Quality.

— OUR STOCK OF —

THANKSGIVING

Goods is Complete, and those in quest of FINE Goods are Invited to Examine the Same.

CHARLES E. LAIGHTON & SON,

5 EXCHANGE BUILDINGS,

OPPOSITE POST-OFFICE.

LOOK AT THIS

Heavy, Substantial Cooking Range,

"THE ALMONER."

Plain for $16.00, Worth $25.00

To anyone in need of a First-Class Range. Examine this before purchasing elsewhere.

— ALSO A FULL LINE OF —

MAGEE FURNACES, RANGES & STOVES.

Plumbing, Gas Fitting, Tin and Sheet Iron Work of All Kinds.

C. W. TAYLOR.

42 & 44 MARKET STREET.

ILSLEY & MOORE,

Fire Life and Accident Insurance Agents and Brokers No. 3 Pleasant St., Portsmouth N. H.

NOTICE!—The undersigned gives notice to all whom it may concern, that he has purchased from the senior member of the old firm of MORSE & ILSLEY, all rights to the Fire Insurance Business heretofore carried on by that firm, and is duly authorized by all the Companies represented by them to have and hold all their records. WINGATE N. ILSLEY.

PRESTON'S SORE MOUTH WASH.

Valuable in cases of Canker, Ulcerated Gums, and Sore Throat.

PRESTON'S GLYCERINE LOTION.

The reliable preparation for Chapped Hands, Sore Lips, and all Roughness of the Skin caused by exposure to the elements.

PRESTON'S TOOTH ACHE DROPS.

A bottle should be in every household.

PRESTON'S KLENZINE

Will readily cleanse the most delicate fabric.

ANDREW P. PRESTON,

Apothecary, - - Portsmouth, N. H.

Marigold Ointment

Remember is Warranted for External Piles, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Nettle Rash, Hives, and all Diseases of the Skin and Scalp, Old Sores, Chilblains, Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Chapped Hands, Cold Sores, Cracks in Hands and Lips, Ingrowing Nails, Inflamed Joints, and everything else for which an Ointment is required.

Call for Circular and Sample Box Free.

— SOLE AGENT FOR ROCKINGHAM COUNTY —

William D. Grace, - - - Apothecary

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE BEST BONDS ARE POLICIES

— IN THE —

Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York

THE LARGEST, CHEAPEST AND BEST IN THE WORLD.

Assets - - over $120,000,000

RICHARD A. MCCURDY, - PRESIDENT.

PROTECTION FOR THE AGED!

At Age of 75 $1000 will purchase an Annuity of $159.06, and other ages in proportion.

Those Desiring Reliable Insurance Should Apply to the Undersigned,

C. M. GIGNOUX, - - GENERAL AGENT

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

NEW JEWELRY

— AND —

SILVER GOODS

— AT —

HUTCHINSON'S.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

The three-story (above the grade floor)

BRICK STORE BUILDING

NO. 15 BOW STREET,

Running back over the wharf to the river, occupied for a long time by the late Charles Robinson as a wholesale corn and flour store. Sold to close up an estate. Enquire of

J. F. MORSE, Real Estate Broker.

New Store. New Goods.

JOHN S. RAND,

No. 11 Market Street.

Would respectfully announce that he will resume business on

Wednesday Next, Nov. 21st,

His store having been remodelled and refitted, making it one of the most attractive and best lighted in the city. In addition to his former stock he has added a large assortment of

FALL & WINTER

Dry and Fancy Goods!

purchased with a desire to suit the wants of customers, and which will be offered at prices that cannot fail to please.

Our present space enables us to add materially to our variety, and we shall therefore keep a good assortment of which will be sold at the lowest prices. Thanking friends and the public for their former patronage we would respectfully [illegible]

Ladies' Small Wares

BURNETT'S

Standard PERFECTLY PURE HIGHLY CONCENTRATED Flavoring EXTRACTS

The superiority of these Extracts consist in their

Perfect Purity and Great Strength.

NOTICE!

FALL

— AND —

WINTER

STYLES

NOW READY!

— AT —

MRS. TEBBETTS'

NO. 14 MARKET STREET.

USE NETTEZA

FOR THE TEETH

PREPARED BY E. C. BLAISDELL,

Price 25 Cents

Portsmouth Daily Chronicle,

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 2, 1852.

ublished every morning, except Sunday, at 7 Exchange Building, Pleasant Street.

y mail, postage prepaid, $5 a year. Single ies, Two Cents.

E CHRONICLE is served to subscribers in smouth, Kittery, Dover, Rochester and Farton at 50 Cents per month, hours in advance ny other paper containing the Associated ss Despatches.

he New Hampshire Gazette,

ESTABLISHED OCT. 7, 1756.

he Oldest Newspaper in America. Published ery Thursday.

erms, $1.50 a year in advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Portsmouth as nd class matter.]

W. SCOTT SMITH,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

Rates of advertising made known on apcation.

Agents for the Daily Chronicle:

SES BROS.....PORTSMOUTH.
BERTS & AVERY.....FARMINGTON
ORCESTER & GREENFIELD..ROCHESTER
OWNE BROS.....DOVER.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

THURSDAY, NOV. 29, 1888.

To-day being a legal holiday, no pa- will be issued from this office to-row.

Thanksgiving.

To-day, Thursday, Nov. 29th, is the set apart by President Cleveland as ational, and by Governor Sawyer as a e, day of Thanksgiving and Praise. h recurring year sees this ancient and t admirable New England home festl more and more widely observed, l now it has become firmly estabed as a national holiday, in place of sectional one which it was, up to in a comparatively recent period.—h though New England people who ettled the western states took the festial along with them, it had no hold at all the south, but was rather contemned s a Puritanic institution.

And as a nation, how much we have to thankful for. In what other nation, ancient or modern times, could a polit- contest which resulted in a change the government of sixty millions of eople have been carried to its end with uch order, and such total absence of usiness and social disturbance, as the e just concluded here? True, many a ome circle that was unbroken last year, s a vacant chair to-day; accidents and astrous storms, floods and droughts ve occurred during the past year, as ey always have and always will, but as whole the nation has enjoyed a season prosperity greatly in advance of any her people.

Then let us to-day, in the language of ov. Sawyer's proclamation, as we asemble in our homes and accustomed laces of worship, return thanks and raise to Almighty God in grateful acowledgement for the health, peace, and rosperity which so generally prevail roughout the land, and for the bountiul harvests and manifold other blessings hich we have enjoyed through His mery and goodness.

The Next House.

Advices from Washington say that 'the lk indulged in at one time by some of e democratic leaders there, of their rty organizing the House, has wholly bsided, but whether because they nd it would be impossible to count enough republicans elected by the ple, to give the organization to the ocrats, or they concluded that the e of the country would not stand eversal of the verdict rendered at olls, is not clear. In either case, it ceded by both parties that the reans will organize the House, and a majority sufficient to carry ugh any proper political or econo measure,—which is all the republi party needs or asks.

Quite a number of the democratic emes in aid of their plan to steal the nization of the House, have failed se somewhere between the ballot nd the congressman's certificate of on there was a democratic official sense of honor and honesty was er than his devotion to party. In sees, the republican candidate for ess in the third district, Henry Evans, had 700 majority on the ce of the returns; the democrats proed to throw out two strongly repubn precincts, and then have the govnor issue his certificate of election to e democratic candidate; but the govnor, Taylor, whose fiddling campaign ainst his brother, the republican candate for governor, amused the country years ago, refuses to be a party to ch piece of business, and will issue the rtificate to the man elected by the peoe. The secretary of state of Tennes-, who with the governor forms the vassing board, wishes to steal the reblican's seat; this makes a tie in the but the governor is the one to certificate!

siana the governor has signed ate of a republican who had a rity for Congress, but whom the s proposed to keep out of his in Maryland the governor has certificate to Stockbridge, rep.,

The Knights of Labor.

The national assembly of the Knights of Labor has adjourned, after re-electing Mr. T. V. Powderly as Grand Master Workman, and granting him powers never before delegated to him by the organization. The reports submitted to the national assembly showed an immense decrease in the membership of the order, the extinction of a large number of local assemblies, and a consequent marked decrease in the contributions for the support of the organization. This is anything but a flattering exhibit, and augurs ill for the continued existence of this, the most widely extended and powerful labor union ever known. Whether the supremacy of Mr. Powderly's ideas as to its management and conduct will give it a renewed lease of life and power, is problematical. The causes which contributed to its rapid decline from the position it held but few years ago, are easy to discern. Ill advised and causeless strikes; the bad management of strikes that were made with apparent good reason; the antagonism displayed toward other workingmen, not members of the order, often amounting to the most cruel oppression, for no other reason than that the men thus oppressed were not members of the order; the adoption of the illegal and frequently outrageously wrongful "boycott;" and the assumption on the part of many local and district assemblies that the worst enemy of the laboring man was the man who gave him employment, are among the principal agencies which have so reduced the great order which a few years ago apparently proposed (and for a time seemed likely to carry out its proposal) to regulate the entire business and industrial interests of the country as to it seemed best. This vast organization might have been a mighty agency for good to the working men and women of the country; possibly it may be yet; but up to the present time it is doubtful if the balance sheet, were it possible to strike it fairly, would not make a heavy showing on the wrong side against the interests of those who hailed it at the start as a boon from Heaven.

The Split in the Grand Army.

How serious a blow to the Grand Army of the Republic the movement against the organization by the democratic members in Indiana may prove to be, we shall have to wait for time to show. Nor is the reason for this revolt quite clear to us, at this writing. The chief engineer of this movement seems to be Adjutant General Koontz, who says that "few Indiana democrats have attended the Grand Army meetings since the election, because the posts have been holding meetings ratifying the election of Harrison and Hovey," for president of the United States and governor of Indiana respectively. However this may be, it is certain that the people ratified their election previously; and while it may not be proper for Grand Army posts to ratify the will of the people as expressed at the polls, it would certainly be very improper for them to take the opposite action. The engineer of the movement in Pennsylvania is the secretary of the democratic societies, who promises that every democratic member of the order in that state shall leave it—something of a large contract for one man to take, it would seem; but the real leader of the schism in Pennsylvania is the president of the democratic societies, who ran for governor against Gen. Beaver, and was defeated. Mr. Koontz says he has letters from democratic Grand Army men in eight states, showing that the movement is national; but eight states are only about one-fifth of the nation.

Whatever the motives of the leaders in this movement; whatever the causes which led to their action; whatever the result of the movement may be to the organization—whether or not it will result in its destruction as a charitable agency, or end in smoke, we of course cannot say; but we can assert with all confidence that the statement made by Mr. Koontz, to the effect that "the new organization is to be charitable and non-political," is simply absurd. The assertion that a secret organization, a prerequisite for joining which is that the candidate must belong to a certain political party, is to be non-political, is pure bosh; it must be a political machine, first, last and all the time, and no argument is needed to prove this.

Be Sure

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing, by virtue of its peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation, curative power superior to any other article. A Boston lady who knew what she wanted, and whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

To Get

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I knew what Hood's Sarsaparilla was. I had taken it, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other.

Hood's

When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable, suffering a great deal with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked, and had for some time, like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it." MRS. ELIZA GOFF, 61 Terrace Street, Boston.

IF YOU WANT
To Save Two Dollars
ON EVERY BARREL OF FLOUR, USE
Horsford's Bread Preparation.
It costs less than one cent to raise a pound of flour with Horsford's, while with common baking powders the cost is two cents.

"1888" OPENING OF "1888"

FALL AND WINTER DRY GOODS

At the Well-Known Store,

NOS. 30 and 32 MARKET STREET, PORTSMOUTH.

Ayers & Locke, Proprietors,

Can be found the Largest Assortment of
SEASONABLE DRY GOODS MERCHANDISE.
LARGEST ASSORTMENT OF OUTSIDE GARMENTS
For Ladies, Misses and Children,
New Goods of this Season's Manufacture.
All are Invited to Examine
OUR STOCK OF CLOAKS !
BeforePurchasing Elsewhere.

Silk and Gloria RAIN UMBRELLAS! Ladies' Gossamers.

THE F. P. ROBINSON CO. BLACK STOCKINGS.

"CLEANFAST" NONE ARE GENUINE WITHOUT THIS TRADE MARK ON EACH PAIR

Mohair and Gingham RAIN UMBRELLAS! Children's Gossamers.

Largest Assortment of Dress Goods in Portsmouth.

In fact, the Best Assortment in their Line of everything pertaining to a
FIRST-CLASS STOCK OF DRY GOODS.
NEW CARPETS! NEW CARPETS!
HOUSEKEEPING GOODS! &C.
SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS IN OUR UNDEWEARR DEPARTMENT,
Small Wares, Trimmings, Ribbons, Gloves.
Yarns, Knitting Silks, &c.
Corsets, Bustles, &c.
Largest Assortment of Fall and Winter Skirts in all the Desirable Fabrics
Which they are desirous of exchanging for Cash on a basis for value that will compare favorably with Boston and New York prices.

AYERS & LOCKE.

EASTERN OFFICE OF
Kansas City Investment Co.,
OVER FIRST NATIONAL BANK, PORTSMOUTH.
CITY MORTGAGES, FARM MORTGAGES,
DEBENTURE BONDS, REAL ESTATE
INTEREST PAYABLE HERE AT MATURITY.
W. G. MYERS

FALL AND WINTER OF 1888-89.

Our Assortment of Tailoring Goods is superior in many respects to any of previous years, embracing a Full Line of Goods suitable for
Fall and Winter Overcoatings.
Aslo, a Fine Assortment of the Best
IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC GOODS FOR SUITINGS,
Consisting of Stripes, Checks, Plain and Fancy Woollens and Worsteds in Great Variety.
CHECKS AND STRIPES FOR TROWSERS.
FANCY PATTERNS FOR VESTING.
Prices Reasonable for Fine Work.

You can lend a hundred dollars at seven per cent and have about as secure an investment as any; and have no care of it.
You can lend a million, if you have so much, in little bits; and have no trouble with it.
Write for particulars.
THE KANSAS CITY INVESTMENT COMPANY, Kansas City, Missouri; or Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

$100,000
Janesville, Wis., Water Co.
First Mortgage 6% Bonds.
DUE AUGUST 1, 1907.
Secured by a Sinking Fund. Descriptive Circulars furnished on application.
Brewster, Cobb & Estabrook,
35 Congress St., Boston.

Insurance Notice.
THE OLD INSURANCE AGENCY,
AT THE OLD STAND,
No. 13 Pleasant Street,
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.
JOSEPH P. MORSE,

25 CORDS
DRY PINE LIMBS!
At $3.50 Per Cord.
The Very Best of Fuel at a Low Price.
O. F. PHILBRICK & CO.,
COAL AND WOOD DEALERS,
4 Water Street.

WOOD AND COAL!
A Good Assortment of all kinds of Wood and Coal.
Kindling Wood Split to Order.
ALSO
Akron Drain and Sewer Pipe,
NO. 13 GREEN STREET,
DANIEL LITTLEFIEL

CAUTION
Beware of Fraud, as my name and the price are stamped on the bottom of all my advertised shoes before leaving the factory, which protect the wearers against high prices and inferior goods. If a dealer offers W. L. Douglas shoes at a reduced price, or says he has them without my name and price stamped on the bottom, put him down as a fraud.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE. FOR GENTLEMEN.
The only calf $3 SEAMLESS Shoe smooth inside. NO TACKS or WAX THREAD to hurt the feet, easy as hand-sewed, and WILL NOT RIP.
W. L. DOUGLAS $4 SHOE, the original and only hand-sewed welt $4 shoe. Equals custom-made shoes costing from $5 to $6.
W. L. DOUGLAS $3.50 POLICE SHOE. Railroad Men and Letter Carriers all wear them. Smooth inside as a Hand-Sewed Shoe. No Tacks or Wax Thread to hurt the feet.
W. L. DOUGLAS $2.50 SHOE is unexcelled for heavy wear. Best Calf Shoe for the price.
W. L. DOUGLAS $2.25 WORKINGMAN'S SHOE is the best in the world for rough wear; one pair ought to wear a man a year.
W. L. DOUGLAS $2 SHOE FOR BOYS is the best School Shoe in the world.
W. L. DOUGLAS $1.75 YOUTH'S School Shoe gives the small Boys a chance to wear the best shoes in the world.
All made in Congress, Button and Lace. If not sold by your dealer, write
W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.
FOR SALE BY
OREN BRAGDON & SON
NO. 124 MARKET STREET

COAL! COAL!
Finest Grades, well prepared for Domestic Purposes, constantly Arriving and for Sale at Lowest Prices.
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.
J. ALBERT WALKER
Portsmouth Coal Pockets.

PARKER'S

PAST ALL PRECEDENT!
OVER TWO MILLIONS DISTRIBUTED.
L. S. L.
Louisiana State Lottery Company.
Incorporated by the Legislature in 1868, for Educational and Charitable purposes, and its franchise made a part of the present State Constitution in 1879, by an overwhelming popular vote.
THE GRAND EXTRAORDINARY DRAWINGS take place Semi-Annually, (June and December), and its GRAND SINGLE NUMBER DRAWINGS take place on each of the other ten months in the year, and are all drawn in public, at the Academy of Music, New Orleans, La.
"We do hereby certify that we supervise the arrangements for all the Monthly and Quarterly Drawings of The Louisiana State Lottery Company, and in person manage and control the drawings themselves, and that the same are conducted with honesty, fairness, and in good faith toward all parties, and we authorize the Company to use this certificate, with fac-similes of our signatures attached, in its advertisement."
G. T. Beauregard
J. A. Early
Commissioners.
We the undersigned Banks and Bankers will pay all Prizes drawn in The Louisiana State Lotteries which may be presented at our counters.
R. M. WALMSLEY, Pres. Louisiana Nat. Bk.
PIERRE LANAUX, Pres. State Nat'l Bank.
A. BALDWIN, Pres. New Orleans Nat'l Bk.
CARL KOHN, Pres. Union National Bank.

MAMMOTH DRAWING
In the Academy of Music, New Orleans,
Tuesday, December 18, 1888.
CAPITAL PRIZE, $600,000.

LIST OF PRIZES.

1 PRIZE OF $600,000 is	$600,000
1 PRIZE OF 200,000 is	200,000
1 PRIZE OF 100,000 is	100,000
1 PRIZE OF 50,000 is	50,000
2 PRIZE OF 25,000 is	50,000
5 PRIZES OF 10,000 are	50,000
12 PRIZES OF 5,000 are	60,000
25 PRIZES OF 2,000 are	50,000
100 PRIZES OF 800 are	80,000
200 PRIZES OF 400 are	80,000
500 PRIZES OF 200 are	100,000
APPROXIMATION PRIZES.
100 Prizes of $1,000 are	$100,000
100 Prizes of 800 are	80,000
100 Prizes of 400 are	40,000
THREE NUMBER TERMINALS.
99 Prizes of $800 are	$79,200
99 Prizes of 400 are	39,600
TWO NUMBER TERMINALS.
900 Prizes of $200 are	$180,000
900 Prizes of 200 are	180,000
3,146 Prizes amounting to	$2,118,800

FOR CLUB RATES, or any further information desired, write legibly to the undersigned, clearly stating your residence, with State, County, Street and Number. More rapid return mail delivery will be assured by your enclosing an Envelope bearing your full address.
Send POSTAL NOTES, Express Money Orders, or New York Exchange in ordinary letter. Currency by Express (at our expense) addressed to
M. A. DAUPHIN, New Orleans, La.,
or M. A. DAUPHIN, Washington, D. C.
Address Registered Letters to
NEW ORLEANS NATIONAL BANK, New Orleans, La.
REMEMBER That the presence of Generals Beauregard and Early, who are in charge of the drawings, is a guarantee of absolute fairness and integrity, that the chances are all equal, and that no one can possibly divine what number will draw a Prize!
"REMEMBER, also, that the payment of all Prizes is GUARANTEED BY FOUR NATIONAL BANKS of New Orleans, and the Tickets are signed by the President of an Institution, whose chartered rights are recognized in the highest Courts; therefore, beware of any imitations or anonymous schemes."

COLD WEATHER MUSIC BOOKS,
New Music Books.
These new books are every day more in favor:
Classical Pianist, Piano Classics, Song Classics, Song Classics for Low Voices, Classic Tenor Songs, Classic Baritone and Bass Songs. Each $1.
Praise in Song (40 cts., $4.20 per doz.) is the best new Sacred Music Book for Home and Vestry singing.
Let the Children sing from Menard's Songs for Kindergarten and Primary Schools (30 cts.) or Jenk's Songs and Games for Little Ones ($3) or Children's School Songs (35 cts., $3.60 per doz.) All have very sweet child's songs.
Give your aid in getting up a rousing good evening singing Class to use Song Harmony (60 cts., $6 per doz.) Full of most interesting music, sacred and secular. Song Manual, Book 3 (50 cts., $4.80 per doz.) is also a good collection, mostly secular.
Tell the Temperance People that no better Temperance Song Book has appeared than Bells of Victory (35 cts., $3.60 per doz.)
Xmas is coming. Send for lists of Christmas Cantatas and Carols.
ANY BOOK MAILED FOR RETAIL PRICE.
Oliver Ditson & Co., Boston.

GRANITE STATE
Fire Insurance Company,
OF PORTSMOUTH, N. H.
PAID-UP CAPITAL, - $200,000
OFFICERS:
President, FRANK JONES.
Vice President, JOHN W. SANBORN.
Secretary, ALFRED F. HOWARD.
Treasurer, JOHN LAIGHTON.
Executive Committee, FRANK JONES, JOHN W. SANBORN, CHARLES A. SINCLAIR, EDWIN WALLACE and E. N. WINCHESTER.

C-O-A-L-!
All Kinds and Sizes Delivered Well Screened.
E. F. SISE & CO.
First Quality Wood
Liverpool and Turks Island

A FINE PIECE OF
CHEWING TOBACCO
IS INDEED A LUXURY
FINZER'S
Old Honesty
COMES AS NEAR BEING A FINE PIECE OF PLUG TOBACCO

IF YOU CHEW YOU WANT THE BEST.
AS IT IS POSSIBLE TO MAKE IT
TRY FINZER'S
OLD HONESTY WHICH IS THE
BEST AND CHEAPEST
AS IT CONTAINS MORE TOBACCO THAN ANY OTHER. GOOD CHEWING TOBACCO CAN NOT BE GOOD FOR SMOKING.
"OLD HONESTY"
IS SOLD BY YOUR DEALER.
FINZER'S OLD HONESTY
LOOK FOR THIS TAG ON EACH PLUG.
JNO. FINZER & BROS., LOUISVILLE, KY.

S. Philbrick & Co.,
MANUFACTURERS OF
Marble and Granite Work
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.
GRANITE POLISHING A SPECIALTY.
OFFICE AND WORKS,
No. 2 Water Street, Portsmouth

POSITIVELY
No Cure, No Pay!
CONSTITUTIONAL COUGH SYRUP
--- TRY IT! ---
The proprietor of this remedy has such confidence in its curative powers that he makes the following
Cenerous Offer!
Any person buying a bottle is given the privilege of returning it and receiving their MONEY BACK, if after using two-thirds of its contents, they have derived no benefit from it.
PRICE 25 AND 50 CENTS.
SOLD BY
David Kimball & Co., 36 Market Street.

C. E. BOYNTON,
Manufacturer and Wholesale Dealer in
Soda Water, Root, Tonic, Vanilla, Orange and Strawberry Beer, Crab Apple Lemonette, Cream Ginger and Ginger Ale.

EXTRACT OF NERVE FOOD!
For Brain and Nervous Exhaustion. Good for the Appetite.

Soda Water in Syphons for Hotel and Family Use. Fountains Charged at Short Notice.

Bottler of Eldridge and Milwaukee Lager, Porter and Refined Cider.

The Summer Beverages manufactured and bottled by me having been before the public of this city and vicinity for the past seventeen years, need no endorsement as being of the very highest standard.

JOHN H. BROUHTON,
No. 68 Daniel St., Portsmouth, N. H.
DEALER IN
EASTERN AND WESTERN
LUMBER!
Shingles, Clapboards and Laths.
ALSO

TRANSPORTAION.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

Eastern Division.

TRAINS LEAVE PORTSMOUTH FOR

BOSTON, 4.05, 7.25, 8.20, 11.05 a. m., 2.05, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4.00 p. m. Returning, 7.30, 9.00, 10.00 a. m., 12.30, 3.20, 4.40, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.20 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

PORTLAND, 8.25, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m. Returning, 2.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.00, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 7.00 a. m.

BANGOR, ST. JOHN AND HALIFAX, 10.55 a. m. 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.00 p. m.

GREAT FALLS AND WOLFEBORO JUNC., 8.55 a. m., 2.45, 5.30 p. m.

WOLFEBORO, 9.55, a. m., 5.30 p. m.

NORTH CONWAY, 9.55 a. m., 2.45 p. m.

DOVER, 4.20, 9.45, a. m., 12.25, 2.38, 5.22 p. m.

YORK HARBOR AND BEACH R. R.

YORK BEACH AND WAY STATIONS, (Via York Harbor and Beach R. R.) 8.30, 11.38 a. m., 5.38 p. m. Returning, leave York Beach 6.40, 10.00 a. m., 1.40, p. m. Connecting with trains leaving Portsmouth for Boston.

JAS. T. FURBER, General Manager. D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l Passenger Agent.

Concord & Portsmouth Railroad.

PASSENGER TRAINS leave Eastern Railroad Station for Salisbury, Newburyport, Newmarket Junction, Manchester, Concord and upper stations, as follows:

UP TRAINS.

Leave	A. M.	P. M.	P. M.
Portsmouth	7.35	1 00	7 35
Greenland	8 05	1 30	8 04
Newmarket Junction	8 23	1 21	5 20
East Epping		1 31
Epping	8 43	1 37	6 45
West Epping	8 53		6 17
Raymond	9 00	1 53	6 36
Candia	9 13	2 03	6 46
Auburn	9 22		6 57
Massabesic	9 30	2 20	7 06
Arrive Manchester	9 42	2 30	7 20
" Concord	10 30	3 12	8 22

DOWN TRAINS.

Leave	A. M.	A. M.	P. M
Concord	7 30	10 20	1 25
Manchester	8 15	11 15	4 25
Massabesic	8 27	11 25	4 36
Auburn	8 35		4 44
Candia	8 44	11 40	4 54
Raymond	9 05	11 56	5 13
West Epping	9 13	P. M.	5 20
Epping	9 20	12 08	5 27
East Epping		12 14
Newmarket Junction	9 46	12 24	5 48
Greenland	10 01	12 38	6 01
Arrive Portsmouth	10 10	12 45	6 10

☞ Trains connect at Newmarket Junction with trains of the Boston & Maine Railroad for Exeter, Haverhill, Lawrence and Boston; and for Dover, Great Falls and Portland; at Concord with trains to and from all the upper Railroads.

H. E. CHAMBERLIN, Supt.

TRAVELLER'S GUIDE.

TRAINS LEAVE

Portsmouth for Boston, 4.05, 7.25, 8.20, 11.05 a. m., 2.05, 5.00, 7.40 p. m. Sundays, 4.05 a. m., 4.00 p. m.

Boston for Portsmouth, 7.30, 9.00, 10.00 a. m., 12.30, 3.20, 4.40, 7.00 p. m. Sundays, 8.20 a. m., 7.00 p. m.

Portsmouth for Portland, 9.55, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 9.07 p. m. Sundays, 9.07 p. m.

Portland for Portsmouth, 7.00, 9.00 a. m., 1.05, 6.00 p. m. Sundays, 7.00 a. m.

Portsmouth for Dover, 4.20, 9.45 a. m., 12.25, 2.38, 5.22 p. m.

Dover for Portsmouth, 8.55, 10.20 a. m., 1.55, 4.30, 6.40 p. m.

Portsmouth for York Beach, 8.30, 11.10 a. m. 3.33 p. m.

York Beach for Portsmouth, 6.40, 10.00 a. m., 1.40 p. m.

Portsmouth for Concord, 7.35 a. m., 1.00, 5.15 p. m.

Concord for Portsmouth, 7.30, 10.20 a. m., 3.25 p. m.

Portsmouth for Manchester, 7.35 a. m., 1.00, 5.15 p. m.

Manchester for Portsmouth, 8.15, 11.15 a. m., 4.25 p. m.

TRAINS ARRIVE

In Boston from Portsmouth, 6.20, 9.10, 10.25 a. m., 1.15, 4.45, 7.10, 9.30 p. m. Sundays, 8.30 a. m., 6.30 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Boston, 9.45, 10.45 a. m., 12.20, 2.45, 5.20, 8.45, 8.57 p. m. Sundays, 10.40 a. m., 8.37 p. m.

In Portland from Portsmouth, 12.00 m., 12.35, 4.40, 11.00 p. m. Sundays, 11.00 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Portland, 3.55, 10.44 a. m., 1.20, 7.15 p. m. Sundays, 8.55 a. m.

In Dover from Portsmouth, 5.40, 10.10 a. m., 12.50, 3.03, 5.47 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Dover, 7.20, 10.44 a. m., 2.20, 4.55, 7.15 p. m.

In Concord from Portsmouth, 10.30 a. m., 3.15, 8.25 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Concord, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

In Manchester from Portsmouth, 9.42 a. m., 2.30, 7.20 p. m.

In Portsmouth from Manchester, 10.10 a. m., 12.45, 6.10 p. m.

KITTERY AND PORTSMOUTH.

STEAMER MYSTIC.

